

HOME TOWN

Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

We hear much talk these days about the need and value of a summer recreation program to provide an outlet for the bottled-up energies of the young folk during the months they are not getting educated.

One summer program which has provided extra activity for a group of boys has been the training in preparation for the Junior Olympics. These boys scheduled workouts for track and field events voluntarily, and worked hard to get in shape for the various track meets. They took part in the Abilene track events, and this week were down in San Antonio competing with boys from all sections of the state.

As participation in workouts has been voluntary, so has supervision of the group been voluntary, and those who took time out to work with these boys are to be commended for their interest and efforts toward helping them.

But the program touches only a small portion of our youth, with many left without a program of any kind to keep them busy during the summer. So if we are to go along with the idea that a summer recreation program is needed, then we find that presently it is entirely inadequate.

It used to be that most of the boys and many of the girls of a community had jobs during the summer which kept them busy when they were not in school. Nowadays, it has been pointed out that where boys used to be able to find jobs on farms, this is no longer true, because of the modernization and mechanization on the farms. We won't argue with that, but we do believe that where there is a will to find something constructive to keep busy, there is a way to get started.

Perhaps we do need a summer recreation program in Winters for the youth of the community. At any rate, there is a field for study along that line, availability of employment or not. This could be a worthy project for a chamber of commerce or service organization.

All the trials and troubles connected with raising a garden have just about convinced us that we should have nothing whatever to do with the business end of a garden hoe. We don't mind the planting, then the weed chopping, and the watering. And we don't begrudge a few bites the bugs take out of the tomatoes and beans. But when the plants themselves start trying to escape, we think we've had enough.

A watermelon vine which we have watched grow from a sprout has taken to wandering, trying to climb the fence and trees, and escape from the garden. One stem of the vine climbed into a roll of fence wire, and a nice little melon has started to mature, out of reach behind its own protective wire entanglement. When the melon is ripe, about the only way we can figure to get at it is with a pair of wire cutters.

A group of local people are attempting to organize a Little Theatre group. They believe there is much undiscovered talent in Winters. Anyone interested is asked to contact Mrs. Robert Gans or Garner Young.

About that garden, we've been accused of never doing any of the actual gardening. We can say, proudly, that we have never refused to hold the lantern while the Better Half chops the weeds after the supper dishes are done.

During these hot summer days, it's hard to realize that in about six or seven weeks school will start and the football season will be underway. Coach W. T. Stapler said this week that a football camp is being planned, to start August 17, and last for two weeks. About 27 boys will be in camp the first week, with the B team and some Junior High boys participating in the second week of training.

MR. AND MRS. W. L. PORTER

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Porter Celebrated Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Porter celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, July 12, with open house at their home from 3 until 6 o'clock.

The couple's sons and wives served as hosts for the occasion. The tea table, laid with hand-painted linen, featured a five-tiered wedding cake decorated with an arch and the numerals "50" in gold. A cut glass punch bowl and an arrangement of gold mums completed the table decorations. Nieces of the couple were members of the house party.

Mrs. Porter, the former Lillie Bates, was born May 2, 1892, in Arkansas. The family sold their farm there and moved to Texas when she was nine years of age. They settled in Mills County near Goldthwaite where they lived for two years. In 1903, they moved to Runnels County and bought land in the Truitt Community.

Mrs. Porter is one of 15 children and eleven are still living. Sisters and brothers of Mrs. Porter are Mrs. R. D. Webb of Idalou; Mrs. A. A. Givens, Anton; Mrs. Burma Vick, Truth or Consequences, N. M.; Mrs. A. N. Coble, Las Vegas, New Mexico; Walter Bates, Roswell, N. M.; Mrs. Levi Coble, Littlefield; Charlie Bates, Silver Valley; Mrs. Olivia Wood, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. M. J. Wilson, Lubbock; Mrs. Ethel Jenkins, Colo.

Mr. Porter was born March 17, 1879 in Cass County, Atlanta, Texas and in 1891 the family moved to Milam County where they lived for seven years. They lived in Hamilton County one year before moving to Runnels County in 1900.

Wheat Marketing Quota Referendum Set For July 23

Wheat marketing referendum wheat farmers for 1960 will be held Thursday, July 23. Farmers in the territory surrounding Winters will go to the polls at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The polls will be open at 8:00 a. m. and close at 6: p. m. Voting boxes in Runnels County will be located at City Hall in Miles; Court House, Ballinger; Community Hall, Crews; Harley Garage & Service Station, Norton; Security State Bank, Wingate and the Chamber of Commerce, Winters.

Farmers eligible to vote will be anyone who will have an interest in the 1960 wheat crop on a farm on which more than 15 acres will be harvested as grain. If the husband is eligible to vote, the wife is also eligible; however, the husband cannot vote for the wife.

In order for marketing quotas to be effective, two-thirds of the farmers voting in the United States must approve the quotas. If the vote does not carry, there will be no marketing quota penalties. However, in either case, acreage allotments will continue in effect for the 1960 wheat crop.

Everyone is urged to go to the polls on Thursday July 23, and cast his ballot.

Two Latin American Youths Charged With Burglarizing Bank

Two Latin-American teenagers have had three charges of burglary filed against them for a Wingate bank burglary and two later attempted breakins, Sheriff Don Atkins said this week.

Reynaldo Balteras, 19, and Armando Balteras, 17, of Charlotte, in south Texas, have given statements admitting burglarizing the Security Bank at Wingate on July 4.

They also have confessed to attempted breakins last Thursday night at the Wingate Post Office and the locker plant of the Red and White Grocery.

The pair was arrested in Wingate after being traced through serial numbers on bills taken from the bank. The arrest followed the passing of the bills Saturday in Wingate.

Twenty-six dollars was taken from the bank, but nothing was taken in the other two attempts. Fifteen dollars of the $26 was in currency and $11 in pennies. Nothing was taken in the Thursday night attempts.

Atkins and Postal Inspector G. E. English of San Angelo recovered $8 in pennies Sunday. They were found buried 60 yards from the bank.

New Teachers Are Approved by Board At Recent Meeting

Two new teachers were approved for the 1959-60 school year at a recent meeting of the Winters Board of Trustees, it was announced this week by James B. Nevins, superintendent of the Winters Schools.

Miss Margurite Mathis of the Crews community will teach in junior high school and Homer Bruton in senior high school.

Miss Mathis has taught in Paducah, Eula and Norton and received her Bachelors degree from McMurry and a Masters degree from Hardin-Simmons University. She is the daughter of Will Mathis of Crews and a member of the Methodist Church.

Bruton received a Bachelors degree from Southwest Texas State and has taught in LaPryor and served three years in the Air Force in Alaska. At the present time he is attending the Science Summer Institute at Howard Payne College.

Resignations were accepted from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ward and Bill Sumpter. The total staff will number 62 teachers and be an increase of two over the 1958-59 school year. The increase is due to increased enrollment and the addition of shop courses.

Correction

In the article about the proposed utility rate increase in last week's Enterprise, it was erroneously reported that Mayor Harvey D. Jones had recommended to the City Council that "electrical rates be revised to effect approximately 20 percent additional revenue from the sale of electricity." The article should have read "That electrical rates be revised to effect 10 percent additional revenue from the sale of electricity."

Former Winters Man Named Head Of Houston Firm

Nelson D. Crockett, formerly of Winters, has been named president of the Houston-based Chemical Corporation of the Americas, according to the Houston Post. The company manufactures a crankcase additive for internal combustion engines.

Crockett is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crockett of Winters, and a graduate of Winters High School. He saw service with the Air Force for more than three years during World War II. He now owns and operates a beauty salon in Houston. He is married and has three daughters.

The Houston Post article said the company, which manufactures the engine additive under the trade name Jet Power, is preparing to launch a program of new products which will include transmission and marine engine additives and a series of wood and masonry resin coatings.

Its present plant capacity is only geared for the production of the Jet Power additive.

Officials of the company recently estimated sales for 1960 would be $1 million, a "substantial increase" over this year. The company is also planning to move into Central and South American markets for the first time.

Additions to the facilities of the Houston plant will include an automatic 5,000 pint per hour canning machine.

The new line of resin finishes is designed to protect woods not only from wear but from termites. Included in the line is a redwood preservative, a boat finish that is designed to protect against marine borers and other marine life and a masonry preservative.

A distributorship for some of the products has been organized in Winters.

With 1959 cotton and maize crops prospects the "best I've ever seen," County Agent C. T. Parker this week warned that to realize an abundant harvest, farmers must hold the line against the ever-increasing army of insects which presents a threat to the crops.

Parker hastened to point out that the bugs have not at this time "gotten out of hand," but he stressed that if there is a let-down in the watchfulness of all farmers, the insects could cause considerable damage.

Biggest threat to cotton farmers in the area has been the cabbage looper, the county agent said. Worst areas of infestation are in the Norton and Wilmeth communities. He said that if normal procedures are followed in eradication of the pests, they are not likely to get out of hand. However, in heavily infested fields, he recommended the use of endrine to kill the cabbage looper.

Parker estimated that there are about 100,000 acres of cotton in the county, and if weather conditions hold, he guessed that 50,000 bales of cotton would be produced this year. He was quick to point out that this was an "outside" guess, and that he was basing the estimate on the wonderful crop conditions he has found in all parts of the county.

The county should see a bumper maize crop, the county agent said. There are about 160,000 acres of maize in the county, and Parker estimated an average yield of 2,000 pounds per acre.

Considerable infestation of boll worms in the maize has been found especially in the south part of Runnels County, Parker said. The worms are not out of control yet, he said, and he recommended the use of endrine or toxophene in the maize to kill the boll worm.

The boll worm problem in the maize in the north part of the county has not reached serious proportions yet, he said, but he warned farmers to watch their fields. The boll worm starts work in the maize when the grain is in the soft dough stage. Maturity of maize in the north section is behind that of the southern half because of late rains.

County Agent Parker said his office stands ready to assist all farmers in working out their problems. He said he and his staff would like to visit each farm, but time would not permit such visits. He said that he would appreciate it if farmers would meet in groups to discuss their problems. In that way, more territory could be covered in a shorter period of time, he said. However, he said his staff would not refuse any call for help from any individual.

The county agent's office will sponsor a tour of maize fields in the Rowena-Miles area on July 30. On this tour, farmers will have a chance to see 35 different varieties of maize in the fields.

Another tour, for the north half of Runnels County, will be held in about three weeks, Parker said. He said his office had planned a county-wide tour, to cover the entire area at the same time, but the difference in crop maturity prevented that.

Plastic Bags Are One of Newest Hazards in Home

"Thin plastic coverings, such as laundry bags, vegetable bags and dry goods wrappings, were responsible for more than 20 deaths during the first quarter of this year," J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association made the above statement recently, as he discussed one of the newest hazards to appear in the American home.

Musick said that no accurate statistics have been compiled that would as yet give a true picture, but that a poll of 48 state health departments was recently made by the National Safety Council and revealed that as many as 100 children may die during 1959 in mishaps involving plastic coverings.

"News reports alone, in recent months, have given sufficient evidence that thin plastics are a menace when left within easy reach of small children," Musick said.

He explained that the danger lies in the fact that thin plastic will cling to the skin, sometimes causing infants to suffocate.

"Static electricity, similar to that on a comb after having been run through hair, in generated on the thin plastic in handling. A young child getting the bag close to his face is likely to have it literally grab him through an electrical attraction."

"Also, in at least two cases, children have died from chewing off bits of plastic which lodged in the windpipe."

"Another hazard, especially among older and stronger children, is created if the child puts the bag over his head. Before long he is breathing deadly carbon dioxide. The dizziness, inability to react promptly and muscle spasms occur with more rapid breathing. Before the victim realizes it, he is too weakened to tear the plastic from his face."

The safety expert said the remedy for such accidents is merely one of common sense and that once parents are told that these particular plastics are dangerous most of them will simply keep the plastics away from small children, just as they would a poisonous insecticide or medicine.

BY VERN SANFORD

All of us have a tendency to go to a distant spot to fish. When we get in our boats we rush across to the other side of the lake, knowing full well that fishing might be just as good right where we put in. The same is true when we head for the coast. We seem to think that the farther away we go, the better fishing will be. Certainly I would not want to take anything away from the southern tip of Texas, or for that matter, from the mouth of the Sabine.

In fact I go there myself and enjoy every minute of it. On the other hand, I had occasion recently to take a comparatively short drive from my Austin home, so I did a little fishing on Copano Bay. We put in first at Glenn's bait house at the south end of the bridge near Bayside.

Next day we joined with Pat Autrey, who also runs a motel at Bayside. At Glenn's we fished with J. D. Derrough, who has been working those waters for a number of years. He knows where all the reefs are, and what hits around them.

He took us out to some of these reefs at night, to fish by one of the flares from an oil well out in Copano. On this particular night the flare had been extinguished. But when the flare is burning, dozens of boats go there every night and load up on trout.

J. D. is a bait fisherman. He doesn't care particularly for live shrimp, and says he has much better luck with frozen bait. Personally, we like a good live, frisky shrimp, but after all, we can't catch them as well as he can, so perhaps he has a point. One thing for sure, he's there where he can have all of either kind he needs, and he prefers 'em frozen.

From Autrey's place we took a look at the new bird island sanctuary planned by the Copano Club, headed by Dr. J. D. Bauer of Refugio. There we saw hundreds of shore birds making their summer homes. We saw eggs, baby birds and grandparents. There were big roseate spoonbills, egrets and herons by the hundreds.

They were nesting in the scrub oak trees that cover this shell island. They brought in food for the baby birds from the surrounding wet lands.

This island, built of shell and thick with brush, is at the mouth of Mission Bay. The area is a wonderful spot for red fish. We caught several small ones and saw a number of large ones. Both Derrough and Autrey say that real red fishing in Mission Bay begins in October. Anyway, they've sold me and I plan to get back there in October.

There are other nearby spots on the Texas coast which also have been overlooked by many fishermen. They include Bay City, Palacios, Port Lavaca and Port Aransas. Incidentally, Port Aransas now has another modern motel. It is the Paradise Isle, managed by W. C. Price, who formerly lived in Dallas. It is modern in every respect, with refrigerated air conditioning, TV and a radio with a marine band so you can listen to boatmen talking to one another.

Such places as the Paradise Isle motel are badly needed all along the coast. For years accommodations on the coast were geared to fishermen only. Groups of men usually went there, hired a boat and didn't spend too much time in their cabins. They weren't particularly interested in comfort.

Now times have changed. Families go to the coast today and trail their own boats. They want a swimming pool for the kiddies as well as comfortable rooms and good eating places.

They launch their own boats, with a pair of 35 horsepower motors and the whole family goes fishing. Some of these boat owners don't fish. They like to ride around and look at the islands and the birds, or just leisurely play around.

As a result, business has picked up even for the commercial boatmen, who find they still have a-bout all the customers they can care for.

Right now most of the fishing on the coast is for kings, mackerel and trout. Of course, there are those who want the fighting bill fish or the big tarpon.

If you are just looking for tonnage, then go out for snapper. Raymond Muchowich, who operates the Party Boats at Freeport, says the hot weather hasn't affected deep sea fishing and that every day fishermen going out from Freeport come in with huge loads of red snapper and quite a few ling.

This is a trip that can give you more thrills and make you as tired as you've ever been in your life. You hook that big snapper down on the bottom, at about 150 feet. Then you hoist him to the top and over the side of the boat. By the time you've landed your third one you feel you have had enough punishment—but you can't quit. It's hard work—but it's fun, too!

Party boats leave the docks at 2 a. m. Some of the fishermen sleep on the way out. They are fortunate because they don't get quite so tired. Those who stay awake enroute to the banks and then catch a tub full of fish, usually are very quiet when the boat starts back in about noon. They are plenty tired, and usually are ready to "hit the sack."

Yes sir, the Texas coast is an ideal place to take your family for this year's vacation if you haven't already had one. Or you can run down there for a couple of days at the weekend. It is worth the trip whether you fish or not. And it's worth a lot more if you fish.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE REFLECTS BASIC AMERICAN PRINCIPLE

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 183 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."
 "He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."
 "He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: . . . For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences; . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; . . . For suspending our legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed dragging thru weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Some 5 years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Vets Should Apply Early For Benefits Of Korea GI Bill

"Apply now. Don't get caught in the rush."

This is the advice that P. J. Mims, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco gave to all Korea veterans planning to start school in the fall under the Korean GI Bill.

By applying now, a veteran can beat the rush and can eliminate any chance of a delay at the last minute, Mims said. To help veterans get started, he issued this check list:

1. Since the law allows a veteran to change his GI course only once, he should give plenty of thought in advance, to his goal.
2. If he is undecided about what to train for, he may ask for VA vocational counseling.
3. He should be sure that his course has been GI-approved by the state in which the school is located.
4. He should make all arrangements for gaining admission to his school before he even files his application with VA.
5. The GI training application should be completely filled out and signed. The veteran should send it, along with a photostat or certified copy of his separation paper, to

6. A veteran with dependents should have the necessary proof of dependency.
7. A veteran should take along enough money of his own to tide him over the first two months of training. It takes about that long, ordinarily, for his first monthly GI check to reach him.

Visits always give pleasure—if not the coming, then the going.

MEDALLION HOME

takes the guesswork out of Home Buying

In 1948, residential customers of WTU used an average of only 110 kilowatt hours per month.

EYES and VISION

By A. L. SPERRY, O. D.
Director Public Education
Texas Optometric Association

In discussion usually arising from complaints of new bifocal wearers that "the line bothers me," or "I feel like I'm standing in a hole," or "when I lie back on the sofa to watch TV the bifocal is in the way"—we find it necessary to remind the patient that, after all, bifocals or trifocals or just glasses are substitutes for loss of natural vision.

In the case of the young single vision lens wearer the lenses substitute for some essential quality or ability that his eyes lack. Wearing them may hinder some of his activities, especially sports, but on the other hand they will help him at his desk or in the shop where he is depending on his accuracy and ability to win the increases in income which will let him care properly for that young growing family of his. If his sports activities are important enough and he can't achieve at them without his glasses then he can have safety lenses installed in a special frame designed for athletes. Or better still, contact lenses which are excellent for athletes.

The "substitute eyes" needed for the person past forty are a little more complicated. The bifocal does have its peculiarities but millions of people take them in stride adjusting satisfactorily to the effects of the bifocal which are something new to them.

Certainly the bifocal or trifocal is a substitute. It makes up for the natural near focusing power of the eye lost through the normal processes of aging. The very use of the word "substitute" indicates that it will be in some respects inferior to the real thing—the normal young eye. However, since Ben Franklin invented the bifocal in 1784 there has been a constant stream of technical, design, and manufacturing improvements which have resulted in the many types of excellent multifocal lenses now available for varied purposes and job requirements. These wonders of modern visual science compare with Franklin's bifocals about like the wooden false teeth George Washington used compare with the products of the modern dental laboratory.

When it comes your turn to hear your optometrist advise bifocals or trifocals, just remember one thing Ben Franklin said about his invention of bifocals. He said "If all our other defects were as easily and cheaply remedied as the visual defects of old age, it would be worthwhile for friends to live a good deal longer . . ."

Runnels County SCD Cooperating In Farm Safety Week

H. Giesecke Jr., chairman of the Runnels Soil Conservation District, has announced that the Runnels Soil Conservation District is cooperating with the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture in promoting National Farm Safety Week, July 19-25.

Giesecke stated that National Farm Safety Week is a campaign to prevent accidents among farm families. This year's theme is "Safety Makes Sense." This theme is proven by the record in which accidental deaths among farm people have been reduced from 66 per 100,000 farm population in 1947 to 57 in 1957.

President Eisenhower issued a proclamation April 17 which in part states, "Now, Therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the people of the nation to observe the week beginning July 19, 1959, as National Farm Safety Week, and I urge farm families and persons allied with agriculture to join in their efforts in a continuing campaign to prevent accidents. I also request all persons and organizations concerned for the welfare of farm people to support and participate in National Farm Safety Week."

A farm accident survey report by A. V. Chambers, Controller of the Stewart Company, Dallas, shows that the three leading months for accidents by farm machinery are June, July and August. Accidents caused by animals are high for July, August and November. Fire arm accident leading months are January, August and December. Accidental cuts are high in July, August and December. Accidents resulting from falls are high in June, August and November. The three high months for accidental burns are July, November and December.

This report points out that these are just a few of the accidents that might occur and they might happen at anytime.

Farm people can help prevent accidents by making regular safety inspections of their homes, buildings, fields, machinery and equipment, work habits and attitudes with this thought in mind: "Safety Makes Sense."

The rewards for safety far outnumber any slight "advantage" of taking dangerous shortcuts.

Health Letter

"School days, school days. Good Ol' golden rule days!" Here they come again, and if you're a wise parent you'll get ready ahead of time.

There is lots to do—buy clothes, fit shoes—and if your child is entering the first grade, chances are you need a birth certificate copy.

School districts in Texas require that entering students be six years old before Sept. 1. Otherwise they must wait until the following year.

The best means of proving your child's age and birth date is to have a certified copy of his birth certificate.

In many areas of Texas, copies are available from local registrars of vital statistics in health departments or county court houses.

You may also obtain a birth certificate copy from the Division of Vital Statistics of the Texas State Department of Health in Austin.

To do so, you must send one dollar requesting a copy. Be sure to include the child's name, date and place of birth and the parent's name.

It is important that parents take care of this chore as early as possible.

During August and September the Division of Vital Statistics is swamped with literally thousands of requests each week for birth certificate copies.

If you want to be sure your child has his birth certificate when school starts, request it now.

Routh estimates place the number of upcoming first graders at about 250,000. That makes for a lot of birth certificate copies.

In addition to birth certificates, it would be wise to check with your school district regarding any vaccinations that may be required.

It would be a good idea—if you have not already done so—to get your child started on his series of three Salk polio shots before school starts.

Also, a fourth shot or "booster" is generally recommended for added protection a minimum of one year after the initial series.

Another smart idea that will pay off, is adjusting your child's schedule to approximate that of school time including bedtime, meals and especially waking time.

Winters Boys To Junior Olympics In San Antonio

After winning fourth place in the Junior Olympics events in Abilene last weekend, several Winters boys will go to San Antonio this weekend to participate in the State Little Olympics contests.

The group which took part in the Abilene events was competing against teams from about 30 towns. Place-wise, teams from Abilene, Andrews, Stamford and Winters were listed in that order for the track and field events.

Bill Miller won the broadjump event in his classification, jumping 22 feet. He placed third in the 100-yard dash, making the run in 10.1.

Gary Young, a 12-year-old, placed third in the softball throw, pitching 200 feet.

The Intermediate relay team marked a time of 51.2. The team is composed of Tommy Young, Ray Clark, Roger Stanford, Dan Roberts.

In the relays for 16- and 17-year olds, the team of J. B. Guy Jr., James Williams, William Grissom and Bill Miller made the distance in 47.

Dan Roberts, in the Intermediate group, ran the 100 in 11.1.

Although participation in the Abilene meet was not necessary for entering the San Antonio meet, the Winters boys used this meet as a qualifying event for the state meet. Coach W. T. Stapler, who has been working with the boys, said one boy who had been working out was unable to attend the Abilene events, but will qualify for the San Antonio meet this week.

Other boys who participated in the Abilene meet were Edward Pope, Intermediate high jump; Rodney Butts, Intermediate broad jump and shot put; Bernard Adams, Intermediate sprint; Steve Grissom, Intermediate sprint.

The team which will go to San Antonio this week for the State Junior Olympics is being sponsored by the Winters Chamber of Commerce, the Winters Lions Club and the Winters Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who are financing the trip. One individual made a sizeable contribution to the fund to take the boys to the Alamo City, Coach Stapler said. Stapler, in behalf of the boys who will make the trip, expressed thanks to those organizations and individuals who are helping to make the trip possible.

The Junior Olympics is not an official school project, Stapler said, but is under the sponsorship of the Amateur Athletic Union. Aim of the program is to keep boys and girls occupied during the summer months, and to further track and field events. Stapler said it is possible for boys to go to the Olympics from the Junior Olympics.

The program is entirely voluntary, and adult work with the boys is on a voluntary basis. The boys paid their own way to the Abilene events.

Owens, has a record, "Waterloo," which was destined to be one of the top hit records in the nation is now in the number four spot in the top hundred popular songs. The record's rating in Western Country songs is number two in the top ten.

As a reward for her record gaining national popularity, Mrs. Wilkin received a trip to Miami, Fla., as a guest of the Columbia recording convention held July 14 to 16.

The entire staff of Columbia attended the convention and Mrs. Wilkin will play the piano for the Country Show which they will present.

Mrs. Wilkin's record, "The Long Black Veil," is now number six among the top ten Western Country songs. Her latest release, an MGM record, "Grin and Bear It," sung by Jimmy Newman, did fair to break "pop" like "Waterloo" did.

State Capitol Highlights:

Many Legislators Fighting Tax Battle With Eye To Political Campaigns of '60

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Whatever the outcome of the summer tax battle, when the smoke has all cleared, the fire won't be out.

Like live coals banked in ashes, the tax issue will be ready to flame up again when new fuel is added.

Sources of new fuel are easily foreseeable.

Every member of this Legislature, by his voting record, expressed a tax viewpoint. Many of them will have to face opponents attacking this viewpoint in the 1960 elections. Since a new law moves primaries up by two months, campaigning will begin long before the dogwood is out . . . maybe while Christmas lights are up.

Many candidates may be wary of lighting into an issue on which it's almost impossible to take an all-around popular stand. But whoever gets elected and comes to Austin in 1961 will find the old tax monster waiting, bigger and fiercer than ever.

This Legislature will likely enact barely enough taxes, mostly on "old favorite" sources, to cover the budget. But the 1961 budget will have to be bigger. For some time population growth and other factors have kept budgets going up by about 10 percent every two years.

Additionally, there will be, as always, demand for new programs, new buildings, new spending. Hale-Aikin school improvement program alone would call for at least a

BATTLE LINES
Show-down fight of the second called session came on a $90,000,000-a-year tax bill based on about three-fourths selective sales taxes, one-fourth business taxes.

It was in line with expressed sentiments of the Senate, but many House members regarded it as "another insult." All the five Senators and five House members on the conference committee that worked out the bill signed the report and recommended adoption.

It was designed to get revenue from these sources over a 2-year period:

TOBACCO—Cigarettes up 3 cents a pack (for two years—then back to one cent) to raise $60,000,000. Other tobacco products, except snuff, a 25 percent tax to raise $13,500,000.

NATURAL GAS—Raise in the production tax from 7 to 8 percent to bring in $12,000,000.

CORPORATION FRANCHISES—Increase of 75 cents per $1,000 capital to May 1960, 50 cent increase thereafter, to raise $32,000,000.

UTILITIES—A 20 percent increase in gross receipts tax except for telephone and telegraph, for $3,000,000.

MOTOR VEHICLES—Increase in sales tax from 1.1 to 1.6 percent for $20,400,000.

BEVERAGES—Liquor up from $1408 to $1.68 a gallon, wine up 20 percent, for $6,000,000.

BOATS, MOTORS, AIRPLANES—A new 1.6 percent sales tax, for $3,250,000.

RADIOS, TELEVISIONS, PHONOGRAPHS—A 2.2 percent sales tax, for $6,000,000.

CAMERAS—Temporary 10 percent sales tax for $6,000,000.

Provisions for more vigorous tax collecting would bring an estimated $4,000,000 more.

NEW INSURANCE BILL
Out of the House-Senate conflict over the State Board of Insurance came a reorganization bill aimed at getting rid of at least some present officials.

Sen. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford introduced the bill calling for reorganization of a new three member, full-time Board of Insurance. One member would be designated Commissioner at a $20,000 salary. One would be the chairman at $15,000; another, a member at $15,000. Nothing in the bill says present members could not be appointed, but all appointments would be subject to Senate confirmation.

Senators tried to oust present Commissioner William A. Harrison two years ago, were balked by Board Chairman Penn Jackson and an Attorney General's ruling that they lacked this authority.

Since then Senate hostility toward Jackson and Harrison has been open and frank. Senate appropriation bill slashed salaries to one-third time for Board members. House held out for full-time Board.

Senate's counter-offer was the reorganization bill . . . with a full-time Board to please the House and a chance to name new members to please the Senate.

LET NATURE BE

A group of West Texas ranchers won another round in their court fight to force a cloud-seeding firm to leave the weather alone.

Texas Supreme Court upheld an injunction to stop a "weather modifying" program by Southwest Weather Research, Inc.

Weather Research had been hired by a group of Fort Stockton cotton farmers to drop silver iodide pellets into clouds that threatened to bring crop - destroying hail storms.

Water-loving ranchers brought suit. They contended the cloud seeding not only chased off the hail but moisture of all kinds.

INSURANCE CUT DUE
State Board of Insurance has ordered reductions in auto insurance rates ranging from 10 to 15 percent in some parts of the state.

Effective date is Aug. 1. Most of the cuts will stem from a reduction in expenses, such as agent commissions, rather than low accident rates. State-wide cuts will amount to about $226,000,000, saving some drivers a sum as much as $20 a year.

In some areas, mostly larger cities, the drop will be smaller, and in a few counties the rate will rise.

Board Chairman Penn Jackson said that a merit rating plan, setting lower rates for accident-free drivers, will be made later.

Housing Veto, Butler's Attack Take Spotlight

By CONG. O. C. FISHER

A Presidential veto of the housing bill, Democratic Chairman Paul Butler's attack on the Democratic leadership in Congress, and a substantial cut in foreign aid, produced headlines in the Capitol city last week.

The veto, which was expected, puts a quietus on an over-ambitious housing bill. The President properly labeled the measure as inflationary and entirely too costly. Proponents claimed the bill called for less than requested. But they never mentioned the fact that the bill also authorizes 190,000 additional public housing units which would cost the taxpayers $3.7 billion and which were not requested. And this despite the fact that more than 100,000 additional units are already authorized that have not been constructed.

Foreign aid may be reduced substantially this year as a result of the Senate action last week. The President had requested authorization for $3.9 billion. The House acted first and trimmed the budget figure down to $3.5 billion. The Senate approved an amount just a little higher than the House had provided. Actually there is and has always been a lot of fat in foreign aid, and much of it can and should be cut out or reduced even more.

Democratic Chairman Paul Butler's attack on Senator Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Rayburn seems to have backfired on the talkative chairman. Butler, who always plugs for more and more liberal and socialized legislation, was low-towing to the radicals in the party. But probably to his dismay the chief back-fire came from such moderates and liberals as Senator Green of Rhode Island and Assistant Senate Leader Mike Mansfield.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped ½-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

ROGER BABSON SAYS

"Utility Stocks Seem To Be Most Attractive On Investment Market"

Babson Park, Mass.—The Dow Jones Industrial Average is today about 660, compared with 350 five years ago and 170 ten years ago. Therefore, it is dangerous for one who does not have conservative recommendations from a long-established service, or from a trusted bank or brokerage official, to invest money today in common stocks. Like a trapeze artist in a circus, the higher up he gets, the more dangerous is his fall.

Bonds Versus Stocks
In view of the continued threat of inflation, I am not now advising my friends to have all of their funds in bonds—even though bonds now yield much more than stocks.

This applies not only to long-term bonds but also to short-term issues. Witness the recent issuance of one-year Treasury bills to yield 4 3/4 percent.

My father, who was a country banker in Gloucester, Mass., used to tell me that preferred stocks are neither "fish nor fowl," "hay nor grass." As a rule, such stocks are redeemed if the company is successful and wiped out if the company fails. This, however, was before President Franklin D. Roosevelt squeezed the water out of the utilities and when they were very competitive. Today, for income and safety, I believe that First Preferred Cumulative Utility

Stocks are worthy of purchase, especially if issued by the local company to which you pay a monthly bill. If by any chance you can find such a local stock which is also either convertible or non-callable, it is especially attractive.

Future of Electric Power
Whatever happens during the next few years, the output of electricity will continue to increase. This is due both to the fact that the cost of generating electricity is gradually decreasing and also to the fact that demand by municipalities, industries, and homes is constantly increasing.

Most readers of my column have seen house heating change from the use of coal to that of oil and gas. I believe that our grandchildren will see electricity take the place of oil and gas. This electricity will supply heat in the winter and air conditioning in the summer, as well as operate home appliances not yet invented.

We do not see much direct advertising of electric power; but the newspapers are full of ads for all kinds of electric appliances—often with no down payment required. This means that there are hundreds of thousands of dealers who are selling electric appliances which will use more electricity. No other industry is in such a favorable situation—with a monopoly, in addition. Although the rates of electric power are controlled by State Commissions, these Commissions allow rates which will pay the interest on bonds and the dividends on preferred stocks. Electric power companies are safest from labor troubles, which are destined to become more serious with all other industries. When going crazy about "electronics" stocks, remember that electronics always depends upon and uses electricity.

Stocks with Long Dividend Records
When a reader wants a stock for income, he is interested in the number of years that the company has paid dividends. As the electric utilities are young, they have not generally had a long record. Many insurance companies, gas companies, and the like have been paying dividends for about a hundred years. For instance, the New Haven Gas Company has been paying dividends for 110 years; the Travelers Insurance has been paying for 96 years; the New Haven Water Company 82 years; and the Home Insurance Company, in which I am a great believer, for 86 years.

Firemen's Auxiliary Held July Meeting In Whitlow Home

July meeting of the Winters Firemen's Auxiliary was held in the J. B. Whitlow home on Thursday, July 9. Mrs. D. Waggoner assisted Mrs. Whitlow with hostess duties.

Mrs. J. C. Jarrell presided for the business session with Mrs. A. B. Spill giving the opening prayer. Mrs. Martin Middlebrook called the roll with 15 members answering.

Treasurer's report was given by Mrs. E. E. Vaughan and Mrs. Whitlow expressed thanks from the finance committee for the cooperation given in the ice cream supper. Further projects were discussed.

On July 28 the auxiliary will entertain the firemen and families with a social at the city hall. Each member is asked to furnish cookies.

Mrs. E. E. Thormeyer will host the August meeting which will be a sunrise breakfast.

"The Stewardess," by Eleanor Backelman, was reviewed by Mrs. Henry Flathmann.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to Mesdames Jewel Allen, Buford Baldwin, Neal Chambliss, Carson Easterly, H. K. Flathmann, J. C. Jarrell, Martin Middlebrook, Floyd Sims, E. E. Thormeyer, Jerry B. Whitlow, J. C. Wilkerson, A. B. Spill and E. E. Vaughan.

Door prizes were presented to Mrs. Jerry B. Whitlow and Mrs. Chambliss.

What you dare not say aloud is whispered by someone else into the good ear of the gentleman at your left.

The following are a few other such companies coming to my memory. Their stocks are all common shares as preferreds did not exist so long ago. The Aetna (Fire) Insurance Company has paid dividends for 87 consecutive years; the Hartford Fire Insurance, 87 years; National Fire Insurance, 88 years; Phoenix Insurance, 86 years; Southern New England Telephone, 69 years; and the Security Insurance for 66 years.

Coleman Rodeo July 15-16-17-18

Coleman's 22nd Annual RCA Rodeo, a feature attraction on the great Southwest rodeo circuit, will be held in Coleman Wednesday through Saturday, July 15-16-17-18, with night performances only, beginning at 8 p. m. Afternoon parades will be held each day at 5 p. m., with a dance at the rodeo grounds following each rodeo performance.

Rodeo Producer Jiggs Beutler and Associates of Elk City, Okla., will furnish the livestock. This is a professional rodeo approved by the Rodeo Cowboys Association, and will feature the top cowboys and cowgirls of the Nation. In addition to the bareback bronc riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling and bull riding, stellar feature attractions are included on the program. Jimmy Murphy will present his daring roman-riding fire jump; Junior Meeks will thrill the crowd with his bull fighting; and Jay Sisler of Emmett, Idaho will put his Australian Shepherd dogs through their tricks.

Also, there will be a special matched calf roping each night between Lanham Riley and George Epperson, two of the Nation's top calf ropers. Another feature of the rodeo will be the Cowgirls Flag Race.

The Coleman Rodeo claims to have the biggest grand entry in the rodeo business, and those seeing several hundred horses in the arena at one time will witness a thrilling spectacle.
