Because the Blizzard Band and student section will move back to the east stands at the football field, reserved seat tickets for the five home games this year are going fast, according to Johnny Bob Smith, school business manager. They've been on sale all this week, and if you haven't picked up your tickets, better do so before they are all gone. The east stands probably will be full this year.

People of the Winters area who have pets they would like to have vaccinated against rabies are reminded that the Winters Chapter of the Future Farmers of America is sponsoring a "rabies shot day," Friday, Aug. 28. Pet owners are asked to bring their animals to the vocational agriculture building from 8:30 to noon, and from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. A veterinarian will give the rabies vaccinations. The fee will be $2.50 per animal.

This is an annual event sponsored by the Winters FFA and endorsed by the Winters Lions Club.

There was some concern here last week following the news of the earthquake in Montana, because it was known that Dr. and Mrs. T. V. Jennings were spending the summer in the area hit by the quake. They had been staying all summer at Ennis, Montana, the town which was ordered evacuated because of danger of inundation if the earthquake damaged dam up-river gave way. However, the day after last week's paper was out, word was received from them, and they are safe. They have written an account of the earthquake, which The Enterprise is publishing this week.

All summer long we have been reading accounts of family reunions, organizational gatherings, and the like, and there is one thing noticeable: in most every instance, the reunion has been held in some park or location out of town.

Winters has a nice lake, with lots of room, and there are picnic sites with tables and outdoor fire places. But the tables see little use, except as places to clean fish, and the fire places have become nothing but trash containers.

It would be nice if these picnic sites were cleaned up, grass planted, and the areas taken care of for the use of such gatherings.

According to Frederic Poe, who has been handling the business of purchasing the street signs, the signs should be received in Winters within the next few days. The signs are being purchased jointly by the City of Winters and the citizens of Winters who have contributed to the fund. The drive to buy and erect street signs for Winters is being spearheaded by the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

Just read where the British have bounced a radio signal off the moon, and it was received in Texas. And scientists have begun speculation about an inter-continental moon-bounce television network. We wonder if they're running out of Old English movies which are presently jamming the TV channels, and have decided to bombard us with some of their newer ones?

Boosters Host Annual Melon Feed Tuesday

The Winters Boosters held their annual watermelon feed for the Winters Blizzard football team and members of the Winters High School band at the school Tuesday evening.

Several numbers were played by the band under the direction of Robert Gans.

The next meeting of the organization will be Monday night, Aug. 31, at the school. All members of the Boosters and others interested in promoting athletic events in the Winters schools are urged to be present.

First Bale of Cotton Brought In Monday

First bale of cotton from the 1959 crop was brought in Monday evening at 6 o'clock by Robert Pruser, farms on the place of Mrs. Carrie Young, south of Winters.

The cotton weighed 2,140 pounds and produced a bale weighing 408 pounds. The cotton had 930 pounds of seed.

The cotton was planted in April and was ginned at Davidson Gin. A bonus of $50 was given by Pete Davidson, part owner of the gin, and Floyd Grant, cotton buyer. The Winters Chamber of Commerce gave Mr. Pruser $50 for the first bale.

This is the third year the Pruser family has gathered the first bale of cotton in this vicinity.

Maize Harvest Is Slowed by Weather

Although no appreciable amount of rain has fallen in this part of North Runnels County within several weeks, cool damp days have caused an increase in the moisture content of the maize, thereby slowing the harvest to a great extent.

For the past week, the mornings have been cloudy and damp, and harvesters have not cut as much grain as had been expected. One field was reported to have gained from 13 percent moisture content to 20 percent from Saturday to Sunday.

Grain buyers have already shipped 13 carloads of maize, but the bulk of the grain is yet to be harvested. Given a few days of hot weather, the cutting of maize will begin in earnest, according to local buyers and farmers.

Winters Blizzards Wind Up Two Weeks Camp and Training

The Winters High School Blizzard football team this week completes two weeks of camp and training, with a practice scrimmage against Stamford scheduled for 3:30 Saturday afternoon. The scrimmage will take place on McMurry College field in Abilene.

Earlier in the week, the Blizzards scrimmaged against Sonora and Lake View in San Angelo. With school starting Tuesday, Coach W. T. Stapler said daily practice will be held at 4:00 each afternoon.

The first game of the season will be against Crane, on Blizzards field, Saturday, Sept. 5.

Stapler said two members are out of action because of injuries. Robert Marks has a broken arm, and will be out three to four weeks. John Jackson will be out about a week because of an infected toe.

The September 5 game will be the only home game for the Blizzards during the first month of school. On Sept. 11 the team goes to Anson; on Sept. 18, they play at Brady; September 25 is an open date, with the next home game against Hamlin, Oct. 2.

Bill Nance and family of Midland spent the past weekend in the home of his mother, Mrs. W. Nance.

Martha Lloyd In WTF Sweetheart Contest In Abilene

Martha Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lloyd, and a 1959 graduate of Winters High School, has been added to the list of contestants for the title of Official Sweetheart of the 1959 West Texas Fair.

Winner of the contest will be named Sept. 3 at a dinner meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Texas Fair Association, in the Woman's Building at Abilene's Exposition Center. The lucky girl who cops the honor will receive a $300 scholarship to the Abilene college of her choice—Abilene Christian College, Hardin Simmons University, or McMurry College.

While a student at Winters High School, Miss Lloyd held such honors as being class favorite and class secretary her freshman year, "duchess" in the "Showboat Queen" contest her sophomore year, and also class treasurer that year.

In her junior year, she was Future Farmers of America queen, and runnerup in the "Miss Glacier Contest." Miss Lloyd, who maintained a grade average of 92.2, represents the Winters FFA Chapter.

During her senior year in high school, she was class reporter. In addition, she was a member of the Blizzard Band for five years, and awarded four first-place medals at solo and ensemble contest in 1958-59. Also, during her senior year, she was named band sweetheart.

An active member of the Future Homemakers of America for four years, Miss Lloyd in her sophomore year held the office of treasurer, in her junior year the office of historian, and in her senior year the office of secretary. She received a Junior Homemaking Degree in her sophomore year, and Chapter Homemaking Degree in her junior year.

She was business manager for the "Gale" (school newspaper) during her junior year, and editor her senior year.

Miss Lloyd also served as mistress of ceremonies for the Quill and Scroll "LaFiesta" talent show in 1959, and as a member of the National Honor Society for those two years. In 1958, she competed in the state UIL Journalism Contest, and in 1959 in the regional contest.

The person selected Official Sweetheart of the 1959 West Texas Fair will ride in her official capacity in the opening-day Fair parade Sept. 12, and will be introduced as Fair Sweetheart during several of the Fair's Free Midway Shows.

The 1959 West Texas Fair will be held at Abilene's Exposition Center Sept. 12-19.

Visiting in Winters with his parents and relatives is Kenneth Lloyd, a student in University of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Jennings Writes About Ennis, Montana, Earthquake

Editor's Note: Below we are printing a letter from Mrs. T. V. Jennings which gives information about the earthquake which struck the immediate vicinity in Montana where she and Dr. Jennings, a retired Winters physician, have spent the summer months for the past several years. Parts of the letter are personal mention to members of her family, but contain interesting first hand information as they exist at the present time in the vicinity of West Yellowstone, and Ennis, Montana.

"I hardly know where to begin to tell all that has occurred since the terrifying earthquake Monday night. I will say this, we are safe and living in Ralph Simes trailer house at the Art Simes front gate in shade of some lovely trees.

"Monday night at 11:40 we were awoken with a terrific roar, then the house seemed as if it would fall to pieces and how it did rock and roll. I thought a powerful truck was pushing it down. I bounced out of bed and ran to the front door but could see nothing. I was fully awake by that time and realized it was an earthquake. I held to the door facing until it was over. Volvie said his first waking sensation was that a huge dog was under the bed shaking a rat or something and bouncing against the bedsprings. We settled back in bed and another tremor came. Then another shake came that bounced me out of bed again. We got settled again, with more tremors that just shook the bed. Of course sleep was impossible.

"About 2 a.m. the fire alarm tore loose with 4 long blasts and did it 4 different times. We thought there must be a terrible fire so I went to the door to look for smoke or a glow. Could see nothing but lights on in every house and cars chasing all over town. In a few minutes Mrs. Evans came to the door and told us that word had come that the quake had taken Hebgan Dam out and for us to get out to high ground. For you that do not know, the dam is 50 miles up the Madison River from Ennis and the river runs through town.

"Words cannot describe the panic there was in the town. We started grabbing what we considered the most important things to get out with, putting them in boxes and sacks as we came to them. We quit when we got the wagon full and left the rest to fate. Of course, nothing was packed, just pitched in. After we got in the car and turned on the radio, we learned that it would be several hours before the water reached Ennis. But before that we did not know where to go.

"All of Ennis went up on Virginia City hill and some stayed on the school house hill. We knew all accommodations in that direction would be taken and thought best to come to Bozeman. But at first was afraid we could not beat the water to the lower Madison between Norris and Bozeman. But after turning on the radio we knew we could make it. Lawrence, J. D., Delma and Charles, all know where I am talking about.

"We did pull the boat trailer out to Mr. Lees as we came out. They had already evacuated. I almost had to whip Pop to keep him from going down and getting the boat. I won. We drove to the Simes and parked at their back gate and listened to the radio till they got up. The radio was giving reports constantly. When they found us there they sure fussed because we did not come on in. We had breakfast, then said we would go to Cottonwood Motel and get a cabin. While they were arguing that we would not do it, Ralph (their son) came to see how his mother and dad had survived the quake. It shook all Montana. Ralph settled it by saying he was going to bring his trailer house over for us to live in.

"We pondered all day before we decided to go home or stay on for awhile. But the Johnsons will be here in two weeks and we hate to run out on them. So if there are not too many more shakes we may stay. They had two more in West Yellowstone this morning. We have had tremors here several times every day, too. I am still in such a state of confusion that this letter may not make sense. I have not been able to get myself together enough to write any sooner.

"All day Tuesday we listened to the radio, also Wednesday. You can't imagine, unless you have been through it, what a sensation an earthquake gives you. It is such a helpless feeling. I was worried about Pop for fear the shock would do something to him, but he came out of it fine it seems. He kept very calm all through it. I still feel like everything inside me is churning. Sure takes ones appetite. But we are so thankful we are alive as many lost lives in the mountain slide in Madison Canyon.

"The reason they thought the dam had gone out, it seems the lake turned up just like tilting a saucer. The dam raised up pushing all the water up the stream, leaving it bare of water at the 90 foot dam. Then the dam lowered and the upper end raised and rushed this wall of water over the dam making them think the dam was gone. The dam is now several feet lower than it was. The upper end of the lake is bare and no water at the 4 mile bridge over the Madison where I make a picture every year when we first arrive. When day broke they found a mountain had slid across Madison canyon making a dam clear across the canyon, 300 feet high and half mile up and down the river.

"It came across just below Rock Creek Camp where we have picniced many times. Lawrence and Corine you remember the fish fry we had there? Part of the camp ground is under the slide. Also there are a lot of people and their trailers and tents under the slide that will never be gotten out. They will never know how many folks are under it, unless it is by tracing missing people. The ones that have been rescued have hair-raising tales to tell. The Simes daughter, Ester Matthews is a nurse and volunteered her services at the Bozeman hospital and she has told us some terrible things about the rescued ones.

"The Lords and we camped over night at Wade Lake and slept in our wagons just two weeks ago last Monday night. They had a slide there too and two people were killed. The picnic table and grill next to the one we had was covered by the slide. All folks were marooned in there as the roads went out. They say the water level has raised several feet in Wade Lake.

"The Lords went to West Yellowstone last Friday to stay till tomorrow before going to Connecticut. That place had it so badly we were worried about them. All phone connections were out and the only road into West Yellowstone was from Idaho. A slide in the Gallatin Canyon had that road torn up. This afternoon while we were resting in our trailer house I heard a car come by and when I looked out, it was the Lords. When I went out they came, both with open arms and grabbed me saying they had been so worried about us. They thought we might have gone back to Dillon. They knew we had spent the week end in Dillon with the Rodgers and got home Monday. We all nearly cried we were so glad to see each other. I made coffee and Martha cut a cake and we visited awhile before they went on their way toward Connecticut. I have never seen Art so upset. Really he is still in a state of shock. They were at Earsels. He said the floor went up and down so that when it came up it buckled his knees. When the first shock came they both got out of bed and were holding to something, but they were both knocked down in the floor. All the moose and elk heads that Earsel had in the office fell to the floor. Jan was hit on the head by something that nearly knocked her out.

"They wanted so to contact us (Continued on last page)

State Capitol Highlights:

"Government on Wheels" As Boards, Commissions Move to New Building

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Texas will have a virtual "government on wheels" for the last part of this month as 31 state agencies pick up their filing cabinets and move into the new State Office Building.

This is the second new headquarters building to be completed this year. First to be occupied was the new Texas Employment Commission building, completed only a few weeks ago.

Transferring into the new State Office Building undoubtedly will be the biggest move of state agencies since horse-drawn dray wagons moved the government into the present Capitol Building in 1888.

Later, probably October or November, another big move will take the Supreme Court, Court of Criminal Appeals, Attorney General's Department and Department and Supreme Court Library out of the Capitol into the new State Courts Building—third state building to be completed year.

It has been the dream for some time of the Supreme Court's elderly Chief Justice John E. Hickman to stay on the job until the day he could preside in the new Courts Building.

Built of granite similar to that in the Capitol, but with modern styling, the new buildings are to the north of the Capitol. Combined cost of the two buildings is some $7,000,000.

With all the happiness over the prospect of splendid new quarters, there are some regrets. Many employees are worrying about where they'll park their cars once all the scattered agencies move into one building.

Supreme Court jurists feel a touch of sadness at leaving behind the historic walnut bench, inscribed with the Latin phrase, "As God was to our Forefathers, so may He be unto us." It has been in use practically since the memory of man. Replacement is a handsome marble piece which the judges compare to a soda fountain.

PROGRESS AND PROSPEITY

A tingle of excitement, fear and hope runs through landowners and business people when they learn that a new super-highway is to come through their area.

Some residents fret over the prospect of losing the old home place. Others dream of wild profits. Businessmen worry whether the motorists will be able to get to their places.

As more and more expressways pierce the countryside, the State Highway Department is making every effort to explain the procedures for acquiring highway right of way.

Samples from recent official Department statements:

1. Although its first responsibility is to the public—the taxpayers and millions of highway users—the Highway Department "tries to create a minimum of private injury or inconvenience."

2. When private lands are needed for public roads, the law guarantees "adequate compensation" to the owner. Independent professional appraisers are hired, and an "approved value" figure determined.

3. Once the "approved value" is settled on, the Department negotiator can't "horse trade" with the landowner. This might reward the greedy and tough-minded at the expense of the timid or public spirited person. But a dissatisfied owner can have the matter settled in court.

When part of a piece of property is taken and the rest left isolated or of little value, the state will make payment for the loss of value.

5. Owners will be given ample time to move buildings to another site or find new buildings.

6. If an owner with a GI mortgage has to sell, the Veterans Administration will restore his GI loan privileges for getting a new piece of property.

7. An owner who sells property for more than he paid for it will not have to pay income tax on the profit, providing he uses the money to buy similar property within a year.

8. Controlled access highways cannot have an entrance and exit for every piece of property along the way. Real estate developers are urged by the Department to contact the local planning engineer before making any commitments based on access to the through lanes of a controlled access road.

WATER FIGHT DUE

State Board of Water Engineers has scheduled a hearing for Aug. 31 on the City of Houston's controversial bid for Trinity River water.

Houston seeks permission to build two reservoirs near the mouth of the Trinity, one near Livingston and one near Wallisville, and divert more than a billion gallons daily.

Trinity River Authority and a number of upstream cities—Dallas, Fort Worth, Huntsville, etc.—are protesting that Houston is trying to grab the water supply from the whole river.

SLOW UP FOR HOLIDAY
With Texas' 1959 traffic deaths running six per cent higher than last year, Gov. Price Daniel issued an urgent safety plea to Labor Day motorists.

He called on law enforcement agencies, civic organizations, safety councils and "most important of all, drivers, to help in this most important of all Texas efforts, the saving of human lives."

Department of Public Safety reported traffic deaths for the first half of 1959 at 1,097, compared to 1,032 for the same period in '58.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas range and pasture land is in the best condition since 1941 reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Good winter feed prospects for cattle are predicted.

Texas construction activity for the first half of 1959 totaled $1,123,332,000, an increase of 11 per cent over last year....A 1959 pecan crop of 27,000,000 pounds is forecast for Texas by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This would be slightly better than the 26,000,000-pound crop in 1958....Governor Daniel has appointed Otha F. Dent of Littlefield to a new six-year term on the Board of Water Engineers. Dent is a former Lamb County judge....J. T. Ellis Jr., former administrative assistant to Governor, Daniel, has been appointed the top non-medical administrator for the State Department of Health. Ellis is a one-time state representative from Weslaco.

Anger blows out the lamp of the mind.

Hoffa Calls For Defeat of Those Not Voting 'Right'

REFUGEES from behind the Iron Curtain have come to America as immigrants in vast numbers since World War II. Official records reveal that of the 1.8 million immigrants from Europe between 1946 and 1958, 456,000, or 25 per cent of them, came from behind the Curtain, chiefly from Poland which furnished 209,000.

During that same period, 282,000 immigrated from the United Kingdom, 377,000 from Germany, and 212,000 from Italy, etc.

These figures tell only a part of the total immigration story, however. Many have been admitted from Western Hemisphere countries, including an average of 50,000 annually during the past five years from Mexico. Puerto Ricans have literally swarmed in, at a rate of up to 100,000 a year.

THE RECENT PASSAGE of the Landrum-Griffin anti-racketeering bill was, according to observers, a classic example of the workings of American public opinion. Three months ago few thought even a moderate bill against racketeering and corruption in union activities had a ghost of a chance in the House. But the American people thought otherwise, and they became very articulate about it. It paid off. The people called the shots, and virtually dictated the writing of the bill.

In the meantime, James Hoffa, the Teamster boss, apparently

most m.p.g.* *miles per gallon

one of 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any car in its field

Proof that Chevy delivers the most miles from a gallon comes from an indisputable source: this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. For a pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide walked away with the first two places in their class—got top mileage, in fact, of any full-sized car. Over the Run's long, rugged course, over mountain and desert in the long, long haul from Los Angeles to Kansas City, the winning Chevrolet averaged a whopping 22.38 miles per gallon. That's the kind of economy-engineering that keeps you saving while you drive!

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCI-

ENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST BRAKES—In competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR**, Chevy outstopped both of the "other two." Naturally—Chevy brakes with bonded linings are far larger, built to lengthen brake life by up to 66%.

BEST TRADE-IN—Look at the record—the used car prices in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this abundantly clear. Chevy front seat hip room, for instance, is as much as 6.9 inches wider than in comparable cars.

BEST RIDE—MOTOR TREND magazine names Chevy "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But this is one Chevy feature you really should discover for yourself, at your Chevrolet dealer's. Stop by soon!

An illustration: "A speaker once said that, if he took out his watch and asked what made it run, many would say the spring. Others with more complete knowledge might describe the mechanism of the watch and something of the nature of steel. No matter how complete the description might be, in the final analysis no one could tell what makes a spring spring. But instead of steel would not serve this purpose. No one fully knows why one arrangement of molecules acts differently than another. The Christian sees God behind the unexplainable word."

An illustration: "A speaker once said that, if he took out his watch and asked what made it run, many would say the spring. Others with more complete knowledge might describe the mechanism of the watch and something of the nature of steel. No matter how complete the description might be, in the final analysis no one could tell what makes a spring spring. But instead of steel would not serve this purpose. No one fully knows why one arrangement of molecules acts differently than another. The Christian sees God behind the unexplainable world."

Delegates From FB Attended Meet In Brownwood Tues.

State Director of District 7, B. J. Cist, presided for the policy development meeting of the Farm Bureau which was held in Brownwood Tuesday. A delegation from the Runnels County Farm Bureau including Marion Hays, president of the county organization, B. E. Campbell and Chester McBeth attended the meeting.

Mrs. Marion Hays accompanied the group and attended a meeting for planning the district queens contest.

The purpose of the meeting was to prepare the policy development committee to be better prepared to develop the county policies which will be brought before the membership at the annual county convention when they will be adopted for presentation at the state convention to be held in November at San Antonio.

Referring to the Farm Bureau Legislative report recently published, it can readily be determined that Farm Bureau played a leading part in making some 14 bills the law of the land. This success was accomplished only through constant training on the part of the legislative committee which enables them to bring before the voting delegates at the State Convention the county problems to be a permanent law in the records of the Farm Bureau.

The county laws are derived through the voice of leaders and through the voice of the membership, ultimately the purpose of the county convention. The leaders can act only upon the ideals set forth by the membership in helping to further build and maintain the Democratic nation which we are a part of today.

The Farm Bureau maintains a permanent legislative staff in both Austin and Washington D. C.

'Many Changes Must Take Place To Put Railroads Back In Sound Condition'

The Boston, Albany (New York Central) and the Boston Maine railroads are asking to drop scores of trains and stations. Increased fares are not the solution. People simply will not ride the trains if fares are increased further. I have just returned from Arizona on the swankiest train—the Santa Fe's "Super-chief." There were 54 passengers in eight beautiful cars hauled by two engines and a crew of ten men. The passenger business will gradually decline to almost no riders. Now the riders are 90 per cent old people; the young people travel in automobiles, buses, and planes.

waiters, they will not bother with table linens; but will use only paper napkins and place mats. On these will be advertisements of the foods we are served! All stations and right-of-way will be sold for advertising space, although this income may gradually decline as passengers become fewer. Freight cars and freight yards, however, offer some advertising possibilities for both national and local products.

What More Can The Railroads Do To Get Income?

The railroads are the largest real estate owners in the United States. This is true not only of the Santa Fe, the Union Pacific, the Northern Pacific, and the Southern Pacific, but of every one of the 700 different railroads now operating. Land owned but not now used by the railroads could be sold to pay up all their bond issues. Selling this land would not only save them interest and taxes, but would benefit the communities in which these 700 railroads operate. The railroads should be allowed to consolidate and raise or lower their rates of fare and freight charges.

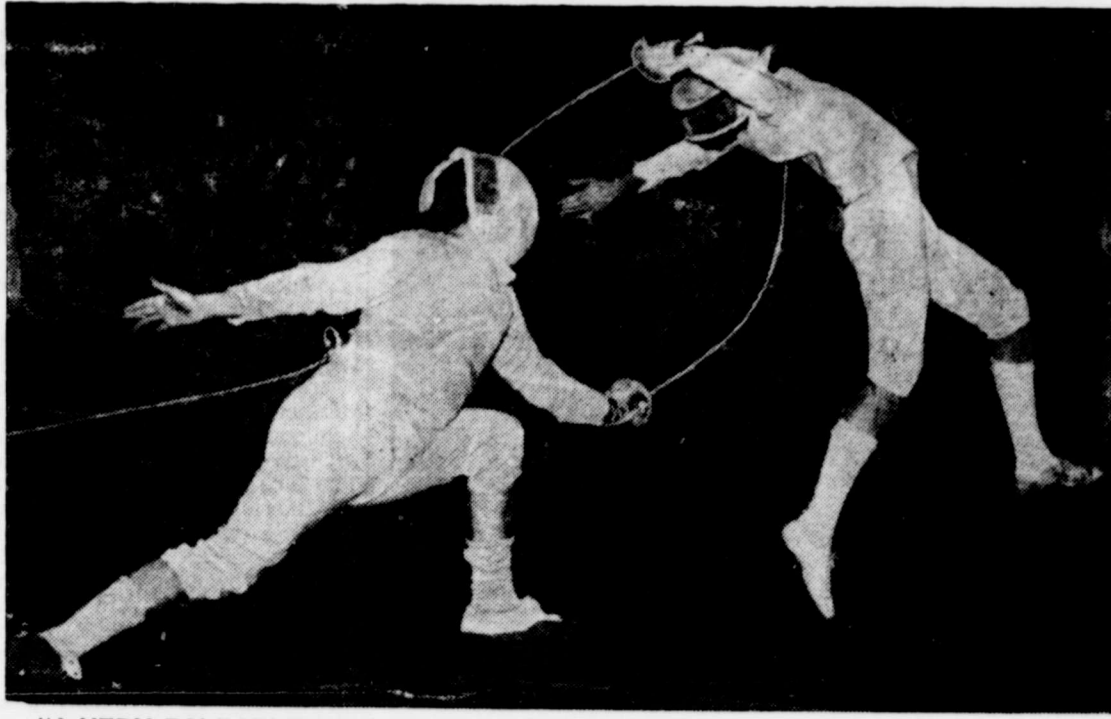

Railroads having large terminals will stop trains 1,000 feet further out than the present stops; hence, unless there are more "red caps," passengers will have to carry their bags further. This will give the railroads some wonderful property, however, to rent for supermarkets, drive-in theaters, bowling allies, etc. in the hearts of the cities, irrespective of the decrease in passengers. These, moreover, could be two-story buildings, if desired, which would be readily financed by insurance companies.

The railroads, however, will successfully compete with the newspapers, magazines, and billboards in selling advertising space. In dining cars, if there are any

Health Letter

How often have you asked yourself, after reading a newspaper account of the authorities swooping down on a narcotic den, what would prompt a person to willingly become a slave to the drug habit?

It seems unreasonable that any normal, healthy person would deliberately endanger his life, family and future by allowing himself to become enmeshed in a net from whence there is often no escape.

Yet, many thousands have developed the sleeping pill habit without considering the possibilities of becoming an addict to the drug. A habit of this type is a menace to health as well as the cause of an alarming number of deaths.

Sleeping pills, or "goff balls" as they are commonly referred to by addicts, belong to a group of drugs known as the barbiturates, which when properly used have a high medicinal value. The too frequent or indiscriminate use of the drug may lead to serious illness, mental crackups and death.

As an individual continues to use sleep-inducing medicines without consulting a physician, the dose required to relax and put him to sleep grows larger and larger. It is here that the grave danger lies—the tentacles of addiction have entangled him and he is unaware of the fact.

His tolerance to the drug has been so greatly increased that to be effective, the dose must necessarily be greater than a physician would ordinarily prescribe for a patient.

In severe cases, to overcome the habit of inducing sleep with these pills, the help of a physician is advisable. But in most cases good living habits, moderate exercise and sufficient rest will insure sleep.

Often drinking a glass of warm milk before going to bed and light reading to relax the mind will help produce sleep. Regardless of how the habit is broken, it should be broken before it causes serious damage.

by greater efficiency, fairer labor and tax laws, and by their being given freedom to run their own business as do the bus companies, trucking concerns, airplane companies, and taxis with which they must now compete.

Now a word in closing — to investors: In most instances you who hold railroad stocks might do well to sell them, putting the money in a bank until industrial stocks have their crash in price; then reinvest in good dividend-paying industrial stocks. You who hold railway bonds should probably keep them. When the railroads wake up to the advantages of getting into the real estate and advertising business, most of these railroad bonds should be paid off at par.

U.S. OIL

Indispensable in our way of life... vital to our national defense

In the 100 years since the drilling of the first oil well in the United States, the usefulness of petroleum has been often demonstrated in many ways . . . It is an economical and efficient source of energy and a raw resource convertible through petrochemistry into innumerable useful materials. . . . It is indispensable in our way of life, and vital to the national defense.

It is comforting to know that today's reserves are ample for today's needs. And if incentives to undergo the heavy risks involved are continued, there is no doubt that more oil will be discovered and produced to replace the oil we use . . .

The United States has found, produced, refined, and used more oil than any other nation. This has made petroleum products a feature of the abundant American life. Americans use more petroleum products than any other people on the globe.

The past is prologue to the future. During its second century, oil can serve you and your grandchildren, and the nation, as well or better than ever before.

HUMBLE

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

The Humble Company, incorporated in 1917, has participated in the development of new and better ways to find and produce oil, and in the research that has improved petroleum products and discovered countless new uses for oil and natural gas. Humble is a major producer of U. S. oil, with production extending all across the southern tier of states from Florida to California. Marketing operations are carried on in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Humble's Baytown refinery, near Houston, is one of the great refineries of the world. (Humble Pipe Line Company, a major transporter of crude oil and finished products, operates more than 9000 miles of pipe lines in Texas.)

They could not go out through the park as the West Gate is closed due to slides between Madison Junction and Faithful and the Junction and Norris. They said it would not be open till next year. So we will have to go out either by Billings or thru Idaho.

"Mike, Art said he would never tease you again. Never make any more prophecies about you. When I showed the article to Ralph he said Art had no idea how much of that would come true. Re-read the article. A cloud of gloom engulfed the Northwest. Madison River Valley designated as disaster area. Madison River drained. Fish wardens and rangers on 24 hour alert. All traffic re-routed by Bozeman, Livingston and Gardner. All of that has come true. Makes one feel spooky to think about it.

"Just below the slide the Madison River bed is dry as a bone. Further down the water seems to be seeping up through the ground. At Cliff and Wade Lake bridge the river is just a bare trickle. A small child could easily wade it all across. Even at Ennis it is so low any child could wade it anywhere.

"We went over yesterday to pick up the rest of our things and wind up other affairs. Mrs. Evans went with us and we drove up the river as far as they would let us. They stopped us just before we got to the snake pit. Tremors were still rolling huge boulders down the mountain sides. From Hutchins Bridge that road on up the valley is cracked and in waves.

"Ennis is still jittery. They still don't know what the dam will do, or what will happen to that slide. Every family has their clothes packed, food and bedding ready to take off at a moments notice. Those that had no business to operate have not returned. I would not stay there now at all.

"And the thing of it is, looks like fishing is ruined in Madison for several years. Our play ground has been torn up. When one experiences what we have it makes one realize how weak man is.

"Not even atomic power could have done what God did in a few moments Monday night. It makes one feel so humble and grateful for the blessings we have, and for the hand that protects us from day to day.

"Dr. Kloone is here and we are going to Rock Haven to hear him preach Sunday. Aunt Marion, he is the one that wrote the sermons I sent you.

"Madeline and Helen you remember what a good sermon you heard him preach two years ago. We are expecting to hear some beautiful words from him Sunday, since what we have all been through. I wish all of you could know him. He has been here every day since we have been here. They are going back to California Monday.

"Betty as soon as the Simes got up Tuesday morning and we got in the house I put in the call for you. I knew when you got it over the radio you would be worried about us and I was afraid all the circuits would be tied up for emergency calls but I got you in about 3 minutes. Martha said that was the first time she had ever seen me so upset.

"J. D., Art said he had written you. I don't know how he settled down enough to write. You know how very much he loves the mountains, and this country. He said this afternoon he did not think he could ever say again that a mountain was pretty. He has till September 10th to give the $500.00 check for the option on Lee's place. He says he is not going to take it now any way. Said if things looked good next spring he was sure he could get it. I am so glad he had not closed the deal and paid half down as he first considered. There is another time when his inner feelings took over, with no apparent reason. I sure hope he gets over the feeling he has.

"He and Lois had spent all day Monday in the canyon right where the slide was that night. That brought it so close to them. They both flew over the whole area yesterday. The north side of the lake where the road is, I mean the road has slid into the lake and the south side is up out of the water and a lot of dry land where the lake was. Some of the cabins on the north side are in the lake now. There are so many things I can't tell them all. We just have to wait till I see you.

"The air has been full of planes bringing in the ones rescued that were trapped between the dam and the slide. They got them out by helicopter. It will be a long time, and maybe never before a road is open between West Yellowstone and Ennis. They think it will have to go by Henry's Lake, Reynolds Pass and Cliff Lake to get to Ennis. I do feel sorry for all those valley people as they do not know if their stock and homes are safe.

"Mike we told Jerry and Harriett goodbye yesterday and Jerry said it looked like they might spend the winter in Texas as his business is about over now. Harriett is happy over the thought of going. They are expecting a baby in January. They said they might come by and spend the night with us. This is sure going to be tough on his dad with that lovely motel.

"Helen we told the Hickeys goodbye and had to take a rain check on a dinner invitation with them (I mean for them). Last week end they were on an outing in the mountains and Mike, the youngest boy, fell and broke his leg. When I went to the beauty shop to cancel my appointment for today, Vivien had her car packed for all the necessities for evacuating.

"Ralph Sims said when it hit here he heard the horses running, the cows lowing, the bull bellowing, the dog barking, the cat meowing and the chickens squaking like someone was pulling all their feathers out. I thought the chicken house had fallen in on them.

"You must be tired. I could go on and on but will let you go. I see I have mis-spelled several words, left out letters and even some words, but I hope you can get the meaning. All of you write us here. We are so thankful God was so good to spare us. We have a lovely trailer, connected with lights and water. Have twin beds, each with a reading light. Have propane cook stove with 4 burners and an oven and an icebox that uses ice. We have everything but a bathroom and we use the Simes. Also all the vegetables we want out of the garden. These dear people are so wonderful. I am mailing papers to some of you. Wish I had enough to go around!"

Bye and love to all.
Vera
P. S. Saturday morning. Four more light tremors last night.

The Rev. Robert Hearn officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar with a background of colored lights focused on the rising spray from an electric fountain in the center of the baptistry. Out from the fountain, decorations consisted of banked arrangements of palms, large white mums and candelabras holding cathedral tapers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the garden of the bride's parents in Lubbock. Gifts were displayed in the living room of the home and Bernie Howell's trio played music.
