

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

According to Postmaster Rankin Pace the move to the new post office building on West State Street went off without a hitch. At 12 o'clock noon last Saturday, the front doors of the old post office around on Main Street were locked, and the doors to the new building opened.

There has been some confusion, Pace said, over the new combinations, but these things are being worked out. Because new boxes were late in arriving, it was necessary to put old boxes in Sections 4 and 5, but these will be changed next Monday night, the postmaster said. Instructions on the new boxes will be put into patrons' boxes this week, and they have been asked to watch for them.

The post office has asked that Winters residents notify their correspondents of the changes in their box numbers, if any. This will greatly expedite handling of mail. They also suggested that Christmas mailing be done soon, to avoid the seasonal rush.

Postmaster Pace and all the crew at the post office have said they appreciate the patience shown by the public during this move. Without their cooperation, the move could have caused a great deal of confusion.

There was only one unfortunate incident connected with the move to the new post office building. When the doors were opened and the flag was being raised, the rope on the flag pole broke. It will be necessary to thread a new rope through the pulley at the top of the pole, Pace said, and this will be done as soon as someone can shinny up the pole with a rope. When that is done, a new 49-star flag will be raised.

The limb broke last weekend, and left us up in the air on our football predictions. And we had such faith in some of those teams, too. They let us down, and we got only five right out of ten games predicted.

Only a few more games to predict, and if we go to the wire without missing every one of them some weekend, we'll consider the season's job successful.

Here's the way we see it for this weekend:

- Air Force over New Mexico.
- Arkansas over Texas Tech.
- Baylor over SMU.
- N. M. State over West Texas.
- North Texas over Drake.
- TCU over Rice.
- Tempe over Hardin-Simmons.
- Arizona over Texas Western.
- Iowa State over Oklahoma.
- Howard Payne over Sul Ross.

We've known quite a few newspaper people, and had never heard of one turning down an offer of a free meal until just the other day.

We read where an editor had to send his regrets to the Greater Columbus (S. C.) United Fund after the group invited him to a free dinner.

In an editorial in his newspaper, the editor noted that he was "unavoidably detained" by previous commitments. So we figured he'd just been fortunate enough to receive two invitations to eat on the same date, and chose the one offering the biggest meal.

However, reading further, we learned that the editorial was written by the editor of About Face, a weekly published by inmates of the South Carolina State Penitentiary.

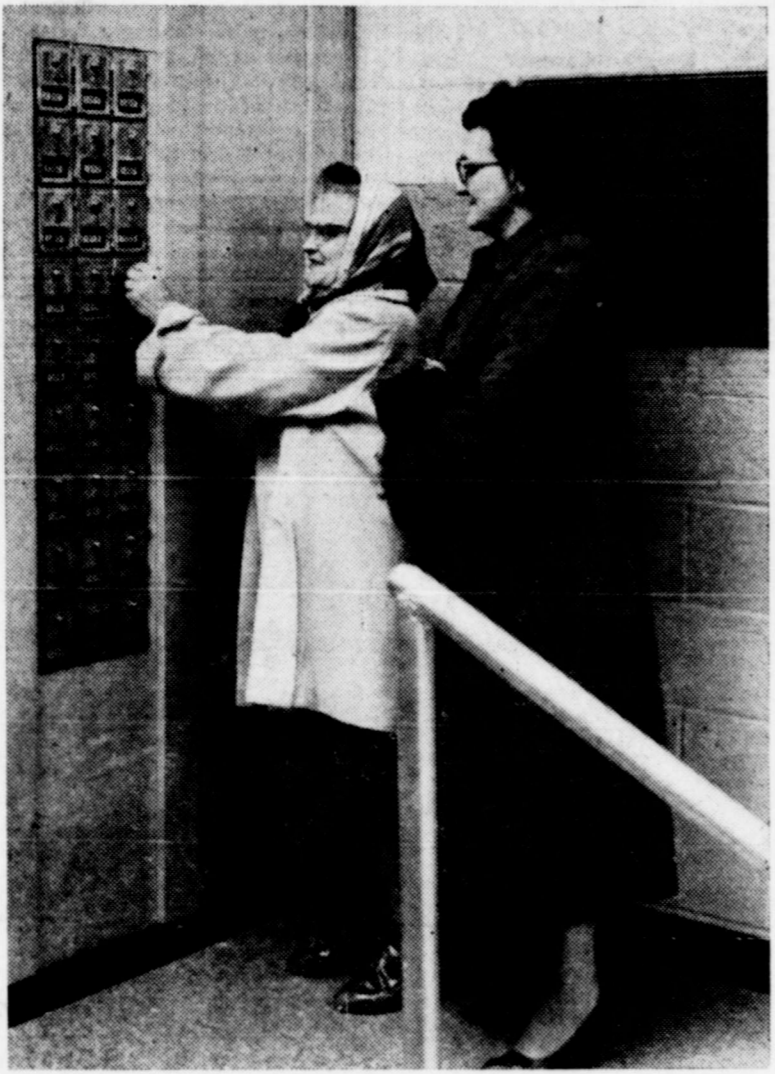

Newspapers are recipients of all kinds of junk mail, much of it in the way of handouts from companies seeking free publicity which they seem to expect to be printed as "news."

One publicity seeker, an air line, which realizes the value of the printed word enough to spend a lot of money employing public relations experts to write their handouts, never asks a quote on the advertising rates. We wonder what they would do if sometime we just walked up the steps of one of their airplanes and told them we did not want to "commercialize," but wanted to ride with them free just for the publicity.

IN BAKER HOME

Visitors in the E. H. Baker home was Mrs. Opal Slaton of National City, Calif. Other visitors in the Baker home Monday night were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. White of Ballinger, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brindwell of Crews, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simpson of Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cooper of Putnam and Mr. and Mrs. J. Baker. Mrs. Slaton left Wednesday for Phoenix, Arizona where she will visit a daughter enroute home.

Plans Being Made For Big Christmas Parade Dec. 3rd

BOX HOLDERS—Mrs. Sallie Gray, left, tries the combination on her new box at the post office building which opened for business Monday morning. With her is Mrs. Howard Baldwin. Two box sections had to be furnished with old boxes, but Postmaster Rankin Pace said the new boxes should be in Monday night, and instructions on combinations are being sent to box holders. Seven organizations have signed up to build floats for the big annual Christmas parade sponsored by the Winters Chamber of Commerce. The parade is scheduled for the afternoon of December 3. Deadline for registering with the chamber of commerce was Nov. 16.

Winters merchants will sponsor the floats, with the organizations building each entry. The organization will receive any prize money won for entry in the parade.

Each float will have two sponsors, who will furnish up to $40 each float.

Organizations entering floats are Literary and Service Club, Piggly Wiggly and Waddell Chevrolet Co.; Winters High School Spanish Club, for Winters Enterprise and Spill Bros. & Co.; Luther League, for Economy Food Store and Bahlman Jewelers; Goal Diggers Club, for West Texas Utilities Co. and Harrison Auto Parts; Winters High School Future Homemakers, for White Auto and a Crockett Ford Sales; Sub Deb Club, for Heidenheimer's and Westerman Auto; High School Quill and Scroll Club, for Smith Drug Co. and Alfreys Lumber Co.

The chamber of commerce committee in charge of the Christmas parade has pointed out that business wishing to enter floats in the parade, without the help of civic or social organizations, may do so. However, the rules governing decorating floats for the parade specify that no more than $40 may be used in decoration, if float is to be eligible for any of the prize money offered.

The parade on December 3 will open the Christmas season in Winters, with a program of several events planned by the chamber of commerce. The first of a series of four drawings for cash awards will be held immediately following the parade. The first drawing will be for $100.00 cash. Other drawings will be held on Dec. 12, Dec. 19 and Dec. 24.

Another event which should draw considerable interest will be the competition for the "Best Decorated Business House." Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded in this event. Judging will take place on December 3. Businesses are asked to register with the chamber of commerce not later than Dec. 2. Judging will be on window and interior Christmas theme decorations in the business houses.

The best decorated home contest will be held Dec. 19, with prizes of $25, $15 and $10 offered. Residents who desire to enter this contest are asked to register with the chamber of commerce not later than Dec. 18.

The Kiddies Christmas parade has been planned for Dec. 12.

L. Craig, of the First Methodist Church, will lead the prayer service. The Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor of the host church, will be in charge of the services.

Choir members of the participating churches will present musical numbers in a combined chorus under the direction of Lloyd Robinson.

Members of all participating churches have been urged to attend these union Thanksgiving services, and the public is invited to attend.

PAT VAUGHAN

Pat Vaughan To Attend Aviation Electrician School

Pat Vaughan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Vaughan, has been selected to attend Aviation Electrician Mate School in Jacksonville, Florida. He reported there Monday, November 16.

Vaughan enlisted in the Navy August 19, 1959 and has completed boot training in San Diego, California. He is now an Airman Apprentice.

Pat is a 1958 graduate of Winters High School and attended Abilene Christian College for one semester. He completed his freshman year at San Angelo College where he was a member of the football team.

New City Power Generator Soon Ready For Use

The recently installed generating unit in the city-owned light and power plant will be producing electricity "on the line" within a few days, E. Y. Buckner, superintendent of the Light and Power Plant said this week.

The addition to the power plant increases the capacity from 1900 kilowatts to 2800 kilowatts, Buckner said.

Installation of the new generating unit was started in the summer. The additional unit required an extension of the existing building housing the power plant. After the generator was on the concrete floor, walls were erected surrounding it, on the north side of the old building.

Cost of the new Fairbanks, Morse diesel fuel unit was approximately $129,000. The addition to the building cost about $6,250.

Eleanor Holland Had Leading Role In Play at Hobbs

Eleanor Holland of Hobbs, New Mexico, niece of Mrs. Raymond Henslee, played the leading role as "Laurey" in the Community Players smash hit presentation of "Oklahoma" given by the amateur group in the new Hobbs High School auditorium recently. Miss Holland has visited in Winters on numerous occasions and has many friends here.

Press reports from the Hobbs newspaper praised Miss Holland for her splendid singing performance and stated that she showed special vocal aptitude where her role called for special emphasis, such as some passages in the poignant number, "Poepie Will Say We're in Love." Given the breaks, and additional training she probably could attain some success on the professional stage, the writer commented.

Miss Holland has been teaching for the past three years in the Hobbs School and is director of music for the fifth grade.

Mrs. Henslee was in Hobbs to attend the Community Players production of "Oklahoma."

HUNTERS RETURN

One group of hunters who took advantage of the first day of the season returned with seven deer this week.

The group, E. E. Thormeyer, Walter Gerhart, E. R. Henniger and Marvin Onken, hunted on the Jordan Ranch south of Mason on the Llano River. They report they shot seven deer by 10 o'clock on the morning of the first day of the season.

R. V. HARDEGREE

R. V. Hardegree Nominated For All-America Award

R. V. Hardegree of Temple, former resident of Winters, was one of the five Texans among the 71 candidates nominated for 1959 Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-America. Hardegree was nominated by Abilene Christian College and the twenty-five winners are to be selected by judges for December announcement.

Colleges and universities across the country have studied their senior football players of the year 1934, and 71 of them have put forward candidates they deem worthy of honor on the Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-American roster this year. Prominent among the candidates, who number among them a Governor and three judges, as well as some famous coaches, are five Texans.

The Texas men are: Charles S. Coates of Chapel Hill, nominated by the University of Texas; Brigadier General Odell Maurice Conoley of Amarillo, nominated by the Agricultural and Mechanical College; Dave Wilcox of Tyler, nominated by Georgia Institute of Technology; and Major General Robert Morris Stillman, nominated by the U. S. Military Academy, now Deputy Commander of the 5th Allied Tactical Air Force in Lackland Air Force Base.

Since Silver Anniversary All-American awards are based on distinguished living during the twenty-five years intervening since college football, the slate of candidates is always an impressive one and designation to it, in itself, a high honor. The essential idea of the awards, that athletics and education are joined in "the pursuit of rounded human values," is illustrated most graphically by the impressive careers of the nominees and by the great variety of fields of endeavor in which they have excelled.

R. V. Hardegree lettered in football and basketball for three years and was Captain of the 1934 football team. Bitsy was also elected president of the 'C' Club, men's organization, and was a member of the Student Council, Trojan Social Club and ACC Chapter of Blue Key.

Following his graduation, Mr. Hardegree was associated with the public schools in Winters, Texas, as elementary school principal, high school coach, high school principal, and superintendent—the latter for three years just previous to his military service from 1944 to 1946. He was discharged from the United States (Continued on last page)

New Power Rates Are Announced

Effective with the January billing, for electricity used during the month of December, the cost of electricity to consumers in Winters will be increased by approximately 10 percent.

This increase in the cost of electrical power is in accordance with an ordinance recently passed by the Winters City Council. A public hearing was held on November 9, at which time the ordinance was read, and no protest was forthcoming on the proposed increase in electrical rates.

City officials have pointed out that the overall increase in rates will be approximately 20 percent. However, in some cases, the cost of power and lights will be reduced, they said.

The ordinance setting the electrical rates is divided into several sections, which include rates for organizations, the City of Winters, residential service, commercial lighting and small power, large light and power, general power, cotton gins, carnivals and skating rinks.

For organizations, the rate has been set at .033 cents per kilowatt hour, with no minimum monthly bill. This section will include schools, churches, fraternal organizations, Boy and Girl Scouts, and veterans organizations.

The City of Winters water department will pay $125.00 for the first 2500 KWH, and .018 cents per KWH over 2500. The minimum rate for residential service has been set at $125.00 per month.

Residential service rate begins at .07 cents per KWH for the first 30 KWH, with differentials to and above 500 KWH. The minimum rate for residential service will be $1.00. For residences with range or electric water heater, or both, the minimum has been set at $3.50. The rate for residential controlled water heating is set at .0125 cents per KWH.

For commercial lighting and small power, the new rate starts at .075 cents per KWH for the first 75 KWH, with several changes up to and over 450 KWH.

Consumers who come under the section for large light and power users will be charged $2.00 per KW for the first 50 KW, and $1.50 per KW for additional KW. This will be the demand charge. The energy charge will begin at .03 cents per KWH.

Carnivals and skating rinks will be charged .10 cents per KWH for the first 100 KWH, and will be required to make a deposit of not less than $25.00 upon being connected.

According to city officials, this increase is the first since 1941.

The new rates will be applicable to all companies or persons producing electricity for use within the City of Winters. West Texas Utilities Co. and the City of Winters are the only two producers at the present time.

The ordinance setting the rates will be published in The Winters Enterprise next week.

ROGER BABSON SAYS—

"Politics of Scandinavian Countries Does Not Resemble Communism"

Copenhagen, Denmark, Nov. 12. Let me first make an apology about Norway, Sweden, and Denmark.

Babson Apologizes

Prior to this trip, I had assumed from my reading that the Scandinavian countries followed a system of government and an economic way of life halfway between Communism and Capitalism. After three weeks of travel through Scandinavia, I have come to the conclusion that this representation is misleading.

These three Scandinavian countries can be called "Welfare States" owing to the fact that great consideration is given to free hospital and dental service, care of young mothers and their babies, and old-age pensions. These things are in addition to government operation of the railways, bus companies, telephones, municipal apartments, etc., and in addition to the great co-operative stores. But private ownership is encouraged and these countries are democratic in their conduct of all political elections. Nothing here resembles Communism in any way.

Copenhagen A Free City

Of the leading European countries, Denmark is the only one where the baggage of American tourists is not examined. Most goods are not taxed on entry; these nontaxable items include liquor, cigarettes, cameras, etc. Copenhagen (in which city is concentrated nearly one-third of the population of Denmark) is a "Free Port." Consequently, it is a great "Shopping Center" for all the women of the world! The women tell me that its goods are both the most beautiful and the lowest priced.—while goods are the highest priced in Paris. Denmark has no natural resources except fertile soil, industrious people, and a reputation for excellent character. All food products are raised here, living costs are low, most people live in apartments, and everyone rides a bicycle! The majority of the population are of Caucasian origin; the girls are beautiful with golden hair. I can appreciate Governor Rockefeller's son choosing to marry a Scandinavian girl!

The World's "Shopping Center"

All who read this column know and patronize some new "Shopping Center" which has recently been built near their towns. Well, my wife considers Copenhagen the leading "Shopping Center of the World." Moreover, it is easy to reach, since the beautiful and steady ocean liners of the Swedish-American line go directly from New York to Copenhagen as their first stop.

During World War II, Hitler took over Denmark and Norway; but Sweden remained neutral. Hitler, however, did not interfere with the economic life of Copenhagen, but was satisfied with the money and silverware he collected as a heavy tax. This city is a wonderful center for silversmiths, porcelain makers, and manufacturers of home electrical products. Shipping is also booming here.

Eliminating Economic Causes Of War

Following World War I a group of prominent Philadelphia businessmen—under the leadership of Mayor Vandergraph and of George Horace Lorimer, famous editor of the Saturday Evening Post—formed a society which interested me greatly. This society believed that war could be eliminated henceforth only by gradually eliminating tariffs and giving equal economic opportunities to all nations. Unfortunately, World War II broke up this society.

The Society is now being revived, and I am pleased to say that Copenhagen is being considered as its World Center. One reason for my being over here is to help with the rebirth of this Society. And I am interested in knowing how Germany, Poland, and Russia feel about the idea of low tariffs being considered as a part of any plan of general disarmament. Certainly the United States cannot safely reduce its tariff now without assurance of some satisfactory world wage stabilization. Disarmament is a very complicated problem, and Mr. K. knows it to be so.

Ladies Auxiliary Met Monday Night At Post Home

Ladies Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9193 held their regular meeting Monday evening at the post home with Mrs. Frank Brown, president, presiding. The group voted to send $5.00 per month to the Veterans Hospital in Big Spring and to send ten homemade cakes Christmas. A special request for pocket size books was made by Mrs. W. L. Collins, chairman of this project. Any member wishing to donate books are asked to phone PL4-4131 and they will be picked up.

The group also voted to purchase a record player, to assist them in floor work. A report sent in by Mrs. J. G. Emmert, rehabilitation chairman, stated that one box of clothing had been given to a needy family and another one was prepared at this meeting to be delivered Tuesday. The Thanksgiving baskets will be delivered at 2 p.m. November 25, and a member who wishes to donate food is asked to phone PL4-6225 before this time.

Mrs. D. W. Giles, cancer chairman, started the Cancer Drive and has set her goal as $1.00 per member. Mrs. C. C. Paske was appointed Honor Roll Chairman for the month of December and Mrs. Wayland Scott, Patriotic Instructor.

Mrs. Collins, membership chairman, asked that all members assist in the membership drive for the remainder of the month, so that the Auxiliary could reach its quota, which is 97 members by November 30.

Following the business session, Mrs. E. J. Bishop Jr. and committee on the bake sale contest, served pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee to those present.

Others present were Mesdames Martha Sellers, C. C. Paske, Wallace Watson, Deward Await, Ellis Wilson, D. W. Giles, Wayland Scott, W. L. Collins and Miss Nevel Fisher.

IN LINDLEY HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sawyer of Rotan were visitors Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lindley.

Lavera Williams Hostess for Sub Deb Club Meeting Monday

Lavera Williams served as hostess for the Sub Deb Club Monday evening in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Williams. Nancy Roberts presided for the business meeting and Toni Johnson called the roll. A treasurer's report was given and money for the Christmas cards was turned in. The group voted on the amendments presented to club last week.

Menu for the Thanksgiving banquet was presented and the date was set for Tuesday November 24. The group also discussed the Christmas float for the parade.

Scandal was read, the meeting adjourned and refreshments were served to Edna Mayfield, Martha Marks, Ginger Gardner, Naida Peacock, Evelyn Hudgins, Toni Johnson, Carol Smith, Linda Frazier, Frances Saunders, La Gatha Traylor, Bobbie Howard, Lavera Williams, Bettye Mayfield, Nancy Roberts, Tam Gans, Dorretha King, Rita Walker, Carolyn Faubion, Sharon Johnson, Nancy Benson, Mrs. W. T. Stapler and Mrs. Wes Hays.

Are You An Evangelist? is the subject for next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson. Meditation—"There is really no difference between evangelism and missions, although we usually make a distinction. As we use the terms, missions refers to our task away from home and evangelism to our task at home. This may be a useful distinction; but we must never forget that our field is the world. 'Evangelism' is the bringing of the gospel to men everywhere; and 'missions' is the task of those who are sent, for the word 'missionary' means 'one sent.' Our task includes both."

HAD MINOR SURGERY
Misses Elsie Lee Sanders and her sister, Mae Sanders of San Angelo, returned home Saturday from Temple where Mae had minor surgery at Scott White Hospital.

Brucellosis A Serious Threat To Livestock

An all out effort for the eradication of brucellosis is now underway throughout the United States. Twenty-one states and more than one-half the nation's counties are now modified certified free. Of the 254 counties in Texas, only three—Jeff Davis, Brewster and Presidio are modified certified areas, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

Cattle infected with brucellosis suffer a 20 percent reduction in milk production. They calve on the average every one and one-half years rather than yearly. In addition, notes Patterson, the resulting abortions, sterility and difficult breeders increase replacement needs by 30 percent. A beef cow that loses 20 percent of her milk production will wean a calf 10 percent lighter than normal, a substantial loss in these days of high beef prices.

Swine producers also lose from this disease. Infected sows abort or give birth to weak litters. Sows frequently become sterile following abortion. The disease damages the bones of the spine, with resulting paralysis in up to 20 percent of infected animals.

Brucellosis is the most common cause of fistula of the withers in horses. It frequently is responsible for waterbags forming on knees of both horses and cattle. In humans brucellosis is a lingering disease of the bloodstream, caused by handling livestock or drinking unpasteurized milk. Although seldom fatal, it causes feebleness, nervous disorders and other physical disturbances.

Less tangible losses occur in addition to the ones listed. Loss of markets for Texas breeding and stocker cattle has become a serious problem. The shortage of healthy replacement stock is commanding attention, emphasizing the veterinarian. There is a constant threat of this disease becoming established in the sheep and goat flocks of Texas.

Inconsistency is the only thing women are consistent about.

Simulated Hail Damage Experiments in Texas Cotton

Hailstorms do extensive damage in Texas. Crop-hail insurance claims have approached five million dollars in some years, although only about ten percent of the state's crops are insured. The annual damage from hail is much greater and far exceeds that caused by tornadoes.

Cotton grown on the High Plains and in the Trans-Pecos areas of Texas frequently is damaged by hail. The damage varies from a few punctured or destroyed leaves and fruiting structures to complete destruction of the stem and bark to ground level.

A number of experiments have been conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station to simulate hail injuries, according to Harry C. Lane, associate professor, Department of Plant Physiology and Pathology, Texas A & M College System. Spacing, De-foliation, various stalk cutoffs, stem bruises and combinations of injuries were inflicted by hand for the experiments. A special machine was made to simulate hail using cracked ice.

It was found that stands could be thinned substantially from the stand in the areas without reducing yield. An optimum stand was found to be two plants per foot of row.
Total defoliation retarded recovery and delayed maturity. The cotton plant, however, was not affected markedly by removal of one-third or two-thirds of its leaves. Furthermore, notes Lane, the cotton plant regenerated new leaves rapidly.
The terminal bud is not necessary for growth and fruiting of the cotton plant, so topping neither decreased or increased yields significantly. It was also found that early-season stem injuries did not affect growth and fruiting and that treated plants did not lodge after a boll crop was made.
The results of these treatments are explained in a new bulletin released by the experiment station, entitled "Simulated Hail Damage Experiments in Cotton." A copy of this bulletin can be had by writing the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for B-934.

D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, says they are available with varying protein content and in different forms, such as blocks, cubes, cakes, pellets, dry and liquid bulk. The form makes little to no difference in cattle performance.
There are, however, some factors which should receive attention, points out Thompson. Labor required for feeding the supplements is an important consideration and less is needed with some of the forms available. The cost per pound of protein should be considered. Cattle do well on a single source protein, says the specialist. Their protein requirements are available in the protein from cottonseed, soybean or linseed. Consideration should be given to the cost per pound instead of how many different sources of protein are in the supplement, advises Thompson.

The desire to see and be seen is expensive.

Blizzards Drop Year's Last Game To Ballinger 'Cats

By Billy Lynn Little
With Winters fans still wondering what happened to the safety first chalked up on the score board after Blizzard end Jimmy Smith smeared a Ballinger Bearcat back of the 'Cats goal line, and Ballinger fans still gloating over the 26-0 victory chalked up Friday night, Old Father Time has written "30" to another football season.

The Blizzards closed out the season with a 5-5 record. Judged by some last year as the worst prospects in years, the 1959 Blizzards chalked up the best football season record in the last three years. These weren't big boys — these weren't the "big league" material, but these were a bunch of boys who "came to play." They played because they loved the sport—and in many of those five defeats they played their hearts out.

Now that the season is over, the boys probably look back over the year and see mistakes that were made; things they would do a little differently if they had it to over again. And, yet, from the die-hard fan who went to Cisco to see the Blue fight the Lobos—to the non-partisan who happened to look in when they routed Ranger — the Blizzards would have to be judged as a team with more "Heart" than "Stuff".

And in the dressing room after the Ballinger game, twelve seniors hung up their sleet covered Blue Jerseys for the last time. Monday afternoon, as the boys turned in their equipment, one could almost see the same twelve as they first donned their uniforms as freshmen—standing only sixteen strong, and winning only one game. Some of the boys sat, as if in deep thought, recalling moments that are now only memories.

Jerry Dunnam, who quarterbacked the Blizzards both this year and last, will no doubt remember taking the football from sturdy center George Scott, then rolling out to pass, maybe to Smith, for instance, or handing it off to full-back Junior Guy, or rumbling full-back Dalton Attaway. For linemen like Louis Deitz, or David Burton, it will be the play that nobody ever remembers—that key block or timely tackle that either made or broke a play. Sammy Albro, Stanley Bolden, Tommy Cranford, and Elmer Nelson will remember the defensive plays—again the kind nobody recalls.

And little David Whitley will remember the men who hurt both his ankles, and a virus that kept him out for several weeks; these along with his outstanding defensive work.

Managers Lynn Traylor and Don McWright have memories, too—Traylor of the four years he has faithfully done his job, and McWright, of the liver ailment that forced him to watch from the sidelines the sport he loved so well.

For coaches Stapler, Cheek, English and Edwards, there are the expectations of another year, another football squad.

Winters may have better football teams—with material—weight, most the things that count in a football team, but, in reporting probably my last football game for The Enterprise, I'll venture to say that there will never be a team with more spirit.

At the outset of this season, I said in the first football story, that coach Stapler had a sign posted in the dressing room reading "It isn't the size of the dog in the fight—but the size of the fight in the dog." The Winters Blizzards of 1959 put meaning into those words during the season. For although they won only five games, the majority of them never quit trying.

And so it is fitting as I close this, my last football story, that I recall a statement made by one of the greatest sports writers of all time, and dedicate it to the '59 Blizzards and football players all over America "When the Great Scorer comes again to mark against your name, "He'll write not that you won or lost—but how you played the game."

National Farm-City Week Set For Nov. 20-26

Arthur Eggemeyer, chairman of the Runnels Soil Conservation District, announced that the Runnels Soil Conservation District is cooperating with the United States Department of Agriculture in promoting National Farm-City Week, November 20-26, 1959.

Eggemeyer stated that National Farm-City Week is to promote a better understanding between rural and urban people. Also, it provides an unusual opportunity for farm and city people to learn what is being done, or what needs to be done, to solve water problems for the common good.

He stated that nearly every community has a water problem—water shortage, poor water, floods, or some combination of these problems. Many rural and urban problems trace back to the land—to the local watershed where rain or snow falls.

Next to air, water is our most important resource for survival. You can live longer without food than you can without water.

The land is the great gathering place and storage reservoir of fresh water. Like food, water is a product of the land. Water in the clouds is useful to man only after it reaches the earth as rain or snow.

Property owners who control our farmlands, rangeland, woodlands, industrial and domestic areas control to an important degree the movement of the water that falls on their property.

Winters Woman Honored On 99th Birthday With Dinner Here Sunday

Mrs. Sarah Samantha Hardy, who has been a resident of Winters since 1945, was honored on the occasion of her 99th birthday with a family dinner Sunday at her home on South Melwood. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Gene Virden hosted the dinner to honor Mrs. Hardy and Marie Virden, 15, of Abilene.

The birthday cake, made by Mrs. Virden, was a decorated white angel food with the numerals "99" embossed in silver.

Mrs. Hardy, who has been bed-ridden for six years, has been a resident of West Texas for 60 years.

She and her son, John Hardy, make their home together. She has another son, Andrew Hardy of Kerman, California and one daughter, Mrs. W. E. Hudson, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Gene Virden. She also has 95 living descendants, but is the only member of her immediate family living, all her brothers and sisters are deceased.

Mrs. Hardy was born Sarah Samantha Kennedy, near Jacksonville, Mississippi and came to Texas with her parents when a child. The family settled near Mart, and it was there she was married to

T. M. Hardy in 1877. The couple came to Taylor County in 1899, settling in the Drasco community where Mr. Hardy farmed until his death in 1903.

A bachelor, John Hardy has cared for his mother all these years and with the assistance of a lady during the day, he cares for her at night.

Members of the family present were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Virden and their daughters, Marie and Betty, Mrs. W. E. Hudson, John Hardy and the honoree.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our sincerest appreciation to the Winters Fire Department for answering the call to our farm home which caught fire Sunday morning. HERCULES

Pietro Francisci, the outstanding Italian film director whose latest attraction, "Hercules," opens Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at the State Theatre, has long been hailed as the cinema's greatest re-creator of historical and legendary figures of ancient times.

In "Hercules," Francisci has brought to the screen all the glamour, romance, daring and heroism that characterized the love story of Hercules and the beautiful Princess Iole (portrayed by Steve Reeves and Sylvia Koscina). Before beginning work on the picture, which he directed and for which he wrote the script in collaboration with Ennio De Concini and Gaio Frattini, Francisci spent several years working with leading historians, architects and research specialists to make certain that every last detail would be absolutely authentic to the period.

In addition, there were many technical and artistic challenges that had to be met in the transposition from story to screen. Among the many fantastic incidents brought to life in "Hercules" are the hero's exploits in strangling the raging Nemean lion; the killing of the Cretan bull; and his fabulous voyage to the wild island of Colchis where a savage dragon guards the priceless Golden Fleece. All these have been thrillingly re-created, as have the famed Temple of Jolco which Hercules crumbles to dust, and the island of the Amazons where savage warrior women of surpassing beauty attempt to murder the hero and his companions.

"IT STARTED WITH A KISS"

"It Started With a Kiss" teams Glenn Ford and Debbie Reynolds for the first time in the laugh-loaded story of an Air Force sergeant who buys a raffle at a charity bazaar and wins both a fabulous luxury automobile-of-the-future—and a bride.

When he is sent to an Air Force base in Spain, he is followed first by the bride, then by the Lincoln Futura, and both provide hilarious complications. Showgirl Maggie, who had impetuously married G. I. Joe after a whirlwind courtship, when what she really was after was a millionaire, now begins to regret her impulsive action and insists that their marriage be given a month's trial on a platonic basis. And it seems the glamorous Lincoln Futura is going to set Joe back exactly $17,500 in taxes!

How Joe solves both his problems, with the added complication of a dashing Spanish bullfighter who admires both the car and Joe's wife, makes for a story that starts out not only with a kiss but a howling series of laughs and ends on a similarly hilarious note in a mad marital mix-up of bedrooms and beds.

"It Started With a Kiss" was filmed in CinemaScope and color on locations in Madrid, Granada, Barcelona, Segovia and Seville, marking the first time these Spanish backgrounds have been used for a contemporary film story. Playing co-starring roles with Ford and Miss Reynolds are Eva Gabor, Gustavo Rojo and Fred Clark.

Garland O'Dell Receives Discharge

SP-4 Garland D. O'Dell, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. O'Dell, who had been in the service for two years, received his discharge on November 4. He was serving with the 267th Signal Corps at Fort Riley, Kansas.

O'Dell received his basic training at Ft. Carson, Colorado and was sent to Fort Riley for a short period of time. He attended a three-months special school at Fort Gordon, Georgia and was then sent back to Fort Riley in March 1958.

He and his wife are at present visiting her relatives in Oklahoma.

HER HERO—Steve Reeves in the title role and Sylvia Koscina as his romantic interest in the mighty adventure drama, "Hercules," in Eastman Color by Pathe and widescreen Dyaliscope. A Joseph E. Levine presentation, this screen spectacle is being shown here at the State Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

It's time for the redfish to begin moving into the back bays along the Texas coast.

There has been good red fishing all summer, but October is the month when it begins to improve appreciably, with some really big bull reds being hauled in.

From now until January, you can expect some real catches. November and December should be especially good.

Redfish come in two classes. You either get the bull reds, which run upwards of three pounds; or the rat reds, those that are below three pounds. But don't kid yourself that the rat reds aren't just as good to eat.

Bulls and rats alike will hit lures. But they love shrimp!

Some fishermen who classify themselves as experts, will tell you that they had just as soon fish with dead shrimp as with live ones. I've tried 'em both. And I'll take the live shrimp any day.

However I must admit that I like lures best of all—when they hit them.

One thing is for certain, however. While the reds like to feed on the flats, they know where the channels and reefs are located. Hook one in shallow water and he heads immediately for a reef. Unless you have a good wire leader, or hold its head pretty high, those sharp shells will cut your line—and away he goes.

Then there is another way of getting reds—if you just want them for the freezer. You can set out trotlines.

Occasionally, you'll get other than reds on trotlines, but most of them will be edible fish.

Go into any flat and you'll see hundreds of poles sticking out of the water. They have been put there by trotline fishermen. Hooks are baited with small strips of bright plastic, usually red or yellow, which dangle in the water. Reds, drum and trout take these lures. It is not uncommon to find several large reds on one short trotline—caught overnight.

While this gets meat for table, it lacks the thrill of just plain sport fishing. It's lots more fun taking the reds by wading or by boats.

Many fishermen combine the two. They go by boat to the flats where the reds feed. One man stands in the boat and scans the water surface until he sees the backs of the reds working in the shallow areas. Then the boat is moved quietly into that water and fast and furious fishing begins.

Here again you can use either shrimp or lures.

What is the best lure? That is hard to say. Generally, a spoon is hard to beat. But some fishermen prefer jigs. Others will toss a top-water plug into a school and bring back a red.

Fishing with shrimp can be done in several ways. You can "free shrimp," simply by placing a shrimp on your hook and tossing it among the reds to float around. Or you add a sinker and a popping cork.

Either way is good. Free shrimp-ing is perhaps the most deadly of all salt-water fishing.

Of course, you can use frozen shrimp or just plain dead shrimp. My personal like is for live shrimp of fairly good size. A redfish or trout, hardly can pass one by. Neither can a hardhead.

Many fishermen wade all over the flats for redfish. Some of them use high rubber waders, especially in cool weather. Others just wear tennis shoes and khaki pants or blue jeans.

Wade fishermen usually equip themselves with spinning outfits, or with a good long popping rod, capable of sending the lure far out into the water ahead of them.

It is not a good idea to attempt wade fishing while wearing a bathing suit or shorts.

And it never should be tried barefooted. Too many fishermen toss their beverage bottles into the water. Sometimes these bottles are broken and the glass fragments are dangerous. Just as dangerous also are the thousands of shells and reefs that sometimes cut as badly as glass.

You see considerable wade fishing along the Texas coastline, but not nearly as much as is found on either the east or west coast.

Fortunately, Texas is blessed with numerous bays, lagoons and river mouths that afford wonderful fishing. They are accessible by boat, and fishermen don't find it necessary to wade as much.

Although many reds are caught occasionally, when fishing for other species, the man who catches the best reds is the one who knows where and how to fish for them.

Most certainly the man who gets the largest reds is the one who knows. Of course, there always is the lucky fluke where a man

Texas Will Have Nearly Half of 1960 Cotton Acreage

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has proclaimed a national marketing quota of 13,133,000 bales (standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight) and a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres for the 1960 upland cotton crop.

Texas' share will be 6,761,512 acres with an additional 55,965 acres for the national reserve. The Secretary also announced his determination that alternate—Choice (B)—farm allotments for the 1960 upland cotton crop will be 40 percent larger than the "regular" Choice (A) allotments for the same farms.

An acreage allotment of 22,243 acres will be in effect for the extra long staple cotton grown in Texas in 1960. The national marketing quota will be 66,590 bales with a 64,776 acre allotment.

December 15 was set as the date for a growers' referendum on marketing quotas for both upland and extra long staple cotton. At least two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas if they are to remain in effect.

If the quotas are approved, Choice (A) will include "regular" Choice (A) allotments for the same farms.

Mrs. Frank Mitchell was program leader and Mrs. Gattis Neely gave the devotional taken from Acts 8:4-12. Mrs. Clarence Hambricht gave "Christianity, Race, and Nationalism," Mrs. Mitchell, "Which Way Young Africa" and Mrs. Neely "First African Deacons, Ivy Mhlangé." Mrs. Crockett led the closing prayer.

Those present were Mesdames Frank Mitchell, E. L. Craig, Gattis Neely, Clarence Hambricht and the hostess.

farm allotments with price support at not less than 75 percent of parity available to growers who comply with their regular allotments. Choice (B) includes 40-percent-larger farm allotments and price support to growers who comply with their Choice (B) allotments at 15 percent of parity less than under Choice (A). Individual farm allotments under both Choice (A) and Choice (B) will be made available to producers prior to the referendum.

Benson added that if marketing quotas are not approved for the upland cotton crop, only the "regular" Choice (A) allotment program will be in effect and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 percent of parity, as provided by law. If quotas are turned down by extra long staple producers, support to eligible growers will drop to 50 percent of parity.

Weather Conditions Favorable For Wildlife Cover Crops

Seasonable weather conditions have favored grass and weed production this year, states Kirby Robinson, vice-chairman of the Runnels Soil Conservation District. These produce food and cover for wildlife and account for our large quail population at present time. To keep desirable numbers of quail and other wildlife, every effort should be made to develop odd areas on farms and ranches to produce food and cover.

Areas such as stream banks, gullies, turn rows, rocky or steep odd areas around farm ponds can provide adequate food and cover for wildlife if properly managed.

Greatest convenience of a Wife's time... A KITCHEN TELEPHONE

A kitchen telephone is the most time and labor saving convenience you can give your wife. There isn't a wife today who couldn't use the time and energy that's saved each day by a kitchen telephone. No more running to answer a ringing phone in another part of the house, and no missed calls either. Inexpensive too, only pennies a day.

State Capitol Highlights:

Governor Warns Crime Is Increasing Faster Than The State's Population

Austin, Tex.— Sometimes the law enforcement officer has the feeling of being alone.

This statement was made by Abilene Police Chief Warren Dodson at the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation's banquet in Austin. It pinpoints one of the reasons for TLEF's existence—to effect a better partnership between the public and the law enforcement agencies.

Public sympathy, it seems, is inclined to go out to the criminal, putting him in the role of "underdog," the hapless victim of hard-hearted policemen and prosecuting attorneys.

"Texas Legislature has a poor record for crime fighting," Gov. Price Daniel charged at the meeting.

"Of 27 law enforcement bills proposed last session, only three were passed—and these were partially crippled."

Governor Daniel warned that crime is increasing three times as fast as the population, and it is the state's most serious social problem. During the first six months of this year, lawlessness flourished at the rate of three murders, three rapes and 125 burglaries each day.

TLEF is a privately financed organization of outstanding citizens from over the state.

ALL THE WAY FOR LBJ
Governor Daniel announced he will support Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, not only for the presidential nomination, but for chairman of the Texas delegation to the Los Angeles national convention.

Senator Johnson and former Gov. Allan Shivers fell out over who should be state delegation chairman in 1956. Johnson won.

Daniel says he wants Johnson to be chairman, but that he (Daniel) will take an active role in working for the senator both here and in other states.

SAVE THE SEED
State Board of Education has gone on record as being unanimously opposed to spending anything but the income from the $400,000,000 Permanent School Fund.

Fund has been built up over the years, principally through sales of mineral rights on the school lands. It has been invested in government and municipal bonds which have an income of about $12,500,000 per year.

This investment income is used for school operating expenses. It is dipping into the principal—the $400,000,000—that the Board opposes.

es. Board resolution compared the school trust fund to seed corn which "our forefathers saved to plant instead of grinding it for use as food."

There has been some talk of tapping the permanent fund to meet current demands for a teacher pay raise.

Board of Education approved the holding of a county-wide election to see if Cooke County residents would be willing to support a junior college at Gainesville.

A study of the feasibility of establishing a junior college in Midland also was approved.

Textbooks in seven subjects were adopted by the Board, including, for the first time, journalism books.

RULE ITS 'CORPORATE OPTOMETRY'
Within the next few weeks Texas optometrists will vote on a proposed new rule prohibiting practice under any name except the name under which the optometrist is licensed.

Before polling the optometrists, the Board of Examiners in Optometry got a ruling from Attorney General Will Wilson stating that the regulation would be legal and valid.

While the board is not bound by the results of the balloting, it was predicted that a favorable response would almost certainly result in adoption of the rule. This, because there are hundreds of individuals engaged in optometry as compared with firms so engaged.

If adopted, the rule would prohibit practice "under an assumed name, corporate name, trade name or any name other than the name under which the optometrist is licensed."

This would mean the end of such firms as Texas State Optical, and Lee Optical where glasses are available at considerable savings to the general public.

HOSPITAL PROBLEMS STUDIED
State Hospital Board has under way studies aimed at three of its current problems.

One is to find a way, other than providing expensive mental hospital facilities, to care for some 2,700 patients whose only ailment at present is old age. Two plans are being considered. One is state assistance toward the cost of caring for the oldsters in private nursing homes. Other is providing for state nursing homes.

Under law, the state is not responsible for giving institutional care for the aged. But these patients were all admitted on court order as mental cases. Now they're too infirm to be "turned out."

Another problem under study is that of tuberculosis patients who go "awol" from TB hospitals before they are completely cured. Danger is not only that they will relapse, but that they will infect healthy outsiders.

Third matter under study is the facilities needed for present and future care of mentally retarded children under school age.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars . . . and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want . . . and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thunk of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.
