HOME TOWN Talk

Took a little drive around town Tuesday night, expecting to see many homes decorated with bright lights for the Christmas season. We were disappointed. Saw only two homes where Christmas trees had been decorated, with their brightly-colored lights shining thru the windows. And another window or two decorated with colored lights. Another yard had been decorated with a choral group. Outside of these few instances, though it was a pretty dreary, dark old town.

However, it is still a little early. The trouble was, we admit, we got our wires crossed and thought the judging to pick the best decorated homes, in yard lighting, was to be held Dec. 12, one week in advance of the actual date, Dec. 19.

There is evidence of preparation for the holidays, too. In the north part of town, the framework for a Nativity Scene has been installed; and other decorations are going up. We're sure there will be plenty of brightly-colored lights and decorations up within another week. There will be some handsome prizes offered by the Winters Chamber of Commerce for outside Christmas decorations this year. First place will receive $25 in cash; second, $15; and third, $10.

We do hope, too, that some of the high dry grass and weeds left on corners and vacant spots can be cut in time to add a little to the holiday atmosphere.

Speaking of dry grass and weeds, there are many places where a carelessly discarded cigarette or thrown firecracker can trigger a disastrous fire. Police Chief Lawrence Hennigan has warned that throwing firecrackers into combustible materials like grass and weeds can lead to trouble.

The Winters Chapter of the Future Farmers of America now are in the middle of their drive for members in the Junior Livestock Show Association. Funds gained from the sale of membership in the association are used to promote the annual Junior Livestock Show. This year, the show will be held at the FFA livestock barns on Jan. 9.

If you have a few used toys and books which can be mended or repaired, they probably would make some child very happy this Christmas. The library club of Winters High School will make repairs and repaint when possible, and distribute these toys and books among children who might otherwise have a bleak Christmas. Contact Mrs. Myrtle Frazier, school librarian. They would like to get the toys not later than Dec. 18.

Recent announcements say that within a short time, television will be used in place of classroom teachers to instruct thousands of students throughout the country. This possibility was being discussed over coffee the other morning, and our friend who used to be a muleskinner agrees that the medium already is educational. Says that any youngster can learn many methods in the main and murder career field by watching tv for a few days; and by paying attention to some of the programs aired these days, anyone can apply for a degree in the fine art of talking to mules persuasively.

It was bound to happen: On the day following the close of the elk season in Idaho, a couple out in the wilds were threatened by an elk. The newspaper item we read said the elk caught sight of the red hunting jacket worn by a lady, and charged. Evasive tactics saved the lady, and the elk finally went on his way, probably satisfied he'd at least defended his honor for this year.

According to another news item the other day, some professor has said that life on earth probably started from "garbage" dumped on this planet by space travelers billions of years ago. Since that article was published, a cynical friend, who called our attention to it, has been going around with an "I told you so" attitude.

Christmas Mail Expected To Hit Peak Next Week

"The time has passed to talk about 'Mailing Early for Christmas,'" Postmaster Rankin Pace said this week, "but our patrons can still help the Postal Service avoid a tremendous last-minute pile-up of Christmas mail by sending all packages and cards right now!"

To the inevitable last-minute mailers he suggests that Air Mail postage be used on all gifts and cards going to distant cities.

The Postmaster said that Regional postal officials were expecting the Christmas mail volume this year to break all previous records. And this mail load is expected to hit its peak next week.

He cautioned local post office patrons to make sure that all packages are addressed carefully and that zone numbers are included on mail going to large cities with zoned delivery.

"There is still time to mail cards for local delivery," Mr. Pace said, "but they should all be in the mail by the end of next week."

He recommended that cards going out of town be sent by first class mail (4 cents postage) in order that they may be returned or forwarded in case the addressee has moved. And he pointed out that it is quite proper to affix your return address on Christmas cards.

The Winters Post Office offers window service from 8:30 A.M. until 5:00 P.M.

Farm Census Half Completed In Area

The 1959 Census of Agriculture is about 50 percent completed in this area, it was announced today by Field Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas.

The Census official stated that he was well pleased with the cooperation the census takers are receiving from farmers in the area and has high hopes of completing the canvass within the next ten days. He pointed out that the field canvass of farms is one of the larger costs of the census and that cooperation of farmers in completing questionnaires promptly will be a vital factor in keeping down the final cost of the undertaking.

Blizzards Lose To Hamlin 49-37 In Cage Thriller

By BILLY LYNN LITTLE

A two-platoon system of high school basketball paid off for Coach Jerry English as his two units ran down the Hamlin Pied Pipers and closed to a ten point gap late in the fourth quarter. After trailing 38-19 at the end of the third period the Blue rallied bravely late in the period, and the full court press employed narrowed the score to a 49-37 loss before the final buzzer.

High for the night was Jerry Dunn, sophomore hot shot, with 12. Dunn blistered 6 of 8 free throws for a percentage of 75, and dropped 3 field goals of nine attempts for 33 percent.

The little sophomore dropped all the free throws and one field goal in the final surge.

Senior Sammy Albro ripped 4 of 6 field shots for 67 percent and eight points.

The Blizzards had nine boys in the scoring column. Team averages thus far show Jimmy Smith leading the scorers with an average of 9 points per game. Smith hit 14 at Lakeview, 11 at C-City, but dropped to 2 against Hamlin's tall defense. Right behind him is Dunn with 25 total points and an average of 8 per game.

Winters also dropped the "B" game, 39-28. Rodney Butts was high with 13.

Saturday night (Dec. 12) marks the Blizzards' first home outing—after three appearances before near-capacity crowds on the road. They will be seeking revenge from C-City's Wolves for a 51-28 licking taken at Colorado City last Friday.

The Blizzards will wear the traditional home team white jerseys against the Wolves. The line-up and numbers will be as follows: Jimmy Smith (7); Sammy Albro (33); Pee Wee (James) Williams (4); Gary Onken (3); Jerry Dunn (22); Jerry Dunn (11); William Grissom (25); Button Little (60); Johnny Caskey (13); Walter Kraatz (45); Roy John Clark (99); and Roger Stanford (55); or Jimmy Dunnam (66).

WHS Yearbook, "Glacier," Wins State Honors

The 1959 Glacier, Winters High School Yearbook, was awarded an All-Texas Honor Rating, given only to a select number of annuals in the state, at Denton on Saturday.

The event was the annual Texas High School Press Association's Convention, and Winters school one of four in this area receiving the award. Other schools whose annuals were rated All-Texas were Abilene, Sweetwater, and Snyder.

Only four of the staff which composed the award winning book are still in high school. These include Billy Lynn Little, who is serving his third year as photographer; Pat Patterson; Ernestine Scott, and Collier Randolph; each of whom is on the staff for their second term. Patterson was sports editor; Miss Scott, assistant business manager; and Randolph, feature editor.

The 1959 staff was headed by Judy Ledbetter and Ophelia Deitz, co-editors, who are now freshmen in McMurry College. Also on the roster were Gary Harter and Marc' Knox, now freshmen in Texas University. Harter was assistant editor, and Miss Knox, business manager.

Weldon Middleton has been year-book sponsor for the past ten years. This is the fourth time has staff has won the coveted honor. The 1953, 1954, and 1957 annuals were also rated All-Texas.

The float decorated by the Literary and Service Club won first place in the judging following the annual Christmas Parade last Thursday. Second place winner was the Sub Deb Club float, and third place was won by the Goal Diggers Club. Theme of the winning float was "Christmas Around The World." The Sub Deb float featured a Santa reading a Christmas list.

Other floats in the parade were prepared by the High School Spanish Club, the Luther League, Future Homemakers of America and the Quill and Scroll Club.

The Winters high school band led the parade, and the band from Jim Ned High School, Tuscola, took part in the parade. Santa Claus, rode a fire truck, and tossed candy to children along the parade route.

An estimated 2,000 people saw the parade.

Winners of the Best Decorated Business House contest were The Blossom Shop, first; Norman's Insurance Agency, second, and Main Drug Co., third.

Santa Claus is scheduled to be back in Winters Saturday for the annual Kiddies Christmas Parade, and again Dec. 19 and Dec. 24.

Library Club Seeks Toys For Children For Christmas

Members of the Blue Northern Library Club, of Winters High School, under the direction of Mrs. Myrl Frazier, librarian, are asking the public to contribute new or used toys and books to be distributed among the children of needy families in Winters.

They plan to mend all those needing repairs and to recondition them with a fresh coat of paint when possible to do so.

A survey will be made through the churches and the chamber of commerce to determine the number of families where there are children who might need a few toys for Christmas.

Mrs. Frazier stated that all toys should be brought to the library, not later than December 18, to give them plenty of time for repairs before delivery on Christmas eve.

Registration at any of the participating merchants in Winters is all that is necessary to be eligible for the drawing; no purchase of any kind is needed. However, it is necessary to be present at the drawing to win. Mrs. Jack Roe was the winner of the $100 drawing last week.

For the Kiddies' Parade, a total of $60 in cash prizes will be awarded entrants in five divisions. Divisions will be: best Christmas costume, individual; best decorated tricycle; best decorated bicycle; best decorated child's wagon (miniature float); and the most outstanding group. The Kiddies Christmas parade will form at 2:30 Saturday afternoon in the 100 block of West Parsonage Street. From there, the children will march south on Main Street for one block, and then west for one block on West Dale Street. At the end of the parade, Santa Claus will hand out candy to the children.

ROGER BABSON SAYS—

All Land Has Some Kind of Mineral Underneath; Don't Sell Too Cheap

Babson Park, Mass., Dec. 3. This week I want to write on the most exciting piece of news which I learned while visiting Moscow, Russia. It should interest every reader in every state wherever he may live.

What Russian Scientists Are Doing Today

While Mr. K has been feeding us with news about "flying to the moon," his scientists have been at work breaking open the crust of the earth and finding out what is under it. In fact, whenever Mr. K tells us what he is doing, it is not important. The things which are important Mr. K does not tell us about.

I have already told you about the one million scholars who are in Moscow's schools today. All are given equal opportunities, but the number is sifted and boiled down to about 5,000 who are trained to be scientists. These are given intensive training in mathematics, physics, and chemistry. About two-thirds of them are concentrating on rocketry and submarine missilery. They are told not to be content with hitting any one city, but to pinpoint a definite building in that city. The other third of these students study the crust of the earth and what is under it.

A Lesson In Geology

Originally the earth was a form of gas which, through millions of years, gradually turned into a solid mass. What is inside this mass is now one of the problems of the Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, New Hampshire. It is supposedly molten metals of various kinds. All we really know is that the core of the earth is covered with a shell of granite or other material. The oil that we use to heat our homes and the gasoline with which we operate our cars have been collecting on the outside of this crust. No one has known what was under the crust until the Russians recently cracked it 4,000 feet deep in the Ukraine.

Hearing of this work, the St. Joseph Lead Company and the Bethlehem Steel Company made a study of what was under the crust in this country. So far they have found that the crust is the thinnest about 26 miles from Salem, Missouri, where they broke through the shell which was about 16,000 feet thick. In accordance with borings previously made, they found a great bed of iron ore with copper, uranium, and even traces of silver and gold. Here I come to the exciting piece of news that I spoke of above.

What About The Crust?

The crust of the earth consists mostly of granite of various thicknesses, varying in depth below the surface of the ground. In New England the crust comes to the surface, while in Florida one must drill through an overlay of sand, etc. more than 10,000 feet before coming to the crust. There still may be valuable ore under the crust in Florida; but the process of getting it out would be very

Amusements Coming to Local Theatres

"THAT KIND OF WOMAN"

A daringly frank love story, as sophisticated as its ultra-smart, luxurious New York City background, is told in Paramount's romantic comedy-drama, "That Kind of Woman," starring Sophia Loren and Tab Hunter, which will bow into the State Theatre. The film, which was shot entirely in New York, also stars George Sanders, Jack Warden, Barbara Nichols and Keenan Wynn.

It is a modern story about an expensive and glamorous woman, portrayed by Miss Loren, whose "protector" (played by Sanders) gives her everything in the world a woman could want—except love and marriage. A chance encounter with a naive young man from Vermont (in the handsome person of Tab Hunter) causes an emotional crisis that changes all of their lives and leads to interesting and provocative complications.

The role filled by Sophia gives her a wonderful opportunity to show her many charms to great advantage. As the beloved of a multi-millionaire tycoon—a suave, handsome man-of-the-world—the lovely star is the recipient of the kind of gifts and attentions most women dream of (although under more conventional circumstances) and few attain. Believing herself to be a completely materialistic person who has achieved the success "That Kind of Woman" seeks, Miss Loren, as Kay, discovers a need within herself for something more. Since she cannot have both the material things she requires out of life and the intangible 'something more' from the same man, Kay is faced with the necessity to make a difficult decision.

"THE BIG OPERATOR"

The fight of honest unions to rid themselves of invidious racketeer elements is given forceful dramatic treatment in MGM's "The Big Operator," with Mickey Rooney cast as an unscrupulous hoodlum who has taken over a union and who, when he is called up before a Senate Investigating Committee, takes refuge behind the Fifth Amendment. It is a story which might have been lifted bodily from today's newspaper headlines.

The refusal of two honest union members to accept bribes from little Joe Braun, who is aware that their testimony can convict him of prejury, and his efforts to liquidate one of them (Mel Torme) and to persuade the other (Steve Cochran) to keep his mouth shut by kidnapping his small son, make for a drama of mounting suspense. Also playing stellar roles are Mamie Van Doren as a typical young wife and mother (a striking departure from the platinum-blond actress' previous seductive characterizations), Ray Danton, Jim Backus, Jackie Coogan, Ray Anthony and Ben Gage.

"THE SAD HORSE"

David Ladd, voted "best male juvenile actor of 1958" by the nation's critics, stars in the 20th Century-Fox release, "The Sad Horse," Saturday only at the State Theatre.

Co-starring with David in the associated Producers' CinemaScope and De Luxe Color production are Chill Wills, Rex Reason, and Patricia Wymore.

"The Sad Horse" marks the second screen roles for the talented eleven-year-old actor who made his debut with his father, Alan Ladd, in "The Proud Rebel," the role that won him the 1958 Critics' Award.

"I need as many movie roles as I can get," said David Ladd while filming "The Sad Horse." "You see I get 35 cents a day while I'm working in addition to my regular two dollar weekly allowance."

Of course David Ladd gets more than 35 cents a day for his second starring motion picture. All his movie salary is invested in a trust fund set up by his father, who "pays" David while he is working in a picture.

"GO, JOHNNY, GO!"

The funniest, most star-studded rock'n roller to hit rock tops with the hep crowd is "Go, Johnny, Go!" It combines the talents of five holders of the coveted Gold Record (for sale of over a million individual records) into a package deal hit parade of stars never before assembled in one movie. It stars at the State theatre on Saturday Mid-night.

The Hal Roach production proves that 50 million fans can't be wrong, and that rock'n roll is here to stay. Starring is Alan Freed, the disc jockey maestro responsible for the birth and mass acceptance of the medium around which controversy still rages.

With a double credit on "Go, Johnny, Go" as producer and star Alan Freed operates a personal rock'n roll dynamo producing films, acting in them, giving personal appearance shows, introducing new talent and music publishing as well as his regular radio programs which have earned him more than 4000 Alan Freed F an Clubs throughout the country. "Go, Johnny, Go!" his newest, best and goiest movies comes at the height of his spectacular success-story career.

Co-starring with Freed are names that have become household favorites to millions of movie goers and record fans.

FIRST NIGHT AT REFORM SCHOOL

What do you think of that first night at Reform School?
 . . . of the world outside, dark and crisp, and the guys who hang around the drug store!
 . . . of kids and cops, laws and judges, courtrooms and cells . . . the morbid adventures of the last lagging month.
 . . . of the home from which you came . . . and what it might have been!
 And you think of God . . . of days when church bells rang . . . and other kids went to Sunday School . . . and you had to be quiet so you didn't wake your parents!
 . . . of times when you might have prayed . . . but you didn't know how . . . and no one around you seemed to care!
 . . . of questions you once asked about God . . . but Dad was busy, and Mom hadn't time to explain.
 The first night in Reform School — what a tragic place for a boy to be confronted with those vital spiritual issues which wise parents should have faced in their children's infancy.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"This country will not be a really good place for any of us to live in if it is not a really good place for all of us to live in."—Theodore Roosevelt

The subject for next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson is: No Partiality With God. Meditation: "This is the time of year when we are happily preparing to celebrate the coming of Christ to earth as a child. We hang lights in doorways, put bright candles in windows, and decorate our Christmas trees with all the colors of the rainbow. We do not prefer one color above another but use them in a fascinating and joyous variety.

Did not God create the different races of men so that each would have his own special gift and contribution to the World? Though the bulbs on our trees are of different colors they all shine with equal light and beauty. So all men although they may differ in outward appearance, are persons for whom Christ died and are each equally precious in His sight. We all should share alike in the gift of the Christ child, for He came to earth "to all People."

Cotton Allotment Notices Now Being Mailed

Official notices of 1960 cotton farm allotments are being mailed from county ASC offices to cotton growers. The notices should reach all operators of "old" cotton farms well in advance of the December 15 cotton referendum, said Searcy Ferguson, chairman, Texas Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

As in 1959, two allotments for 1960 crop upland cotton will be established for each farm. If marketing quotas are in effect for the crop each farm operator will have an opportunity to choose between Choice A or B. Choice A will be the regular farm allotment and the grower under this plan will be eligible for price support at not less than 75 percent of parity. Under Choice B, the grower may plant 40 percent more cotton than the A allotment but the price support will be not less than 60 percent of parity.

If marketing quotas are not in effect for the 1960 crop of upland cotton, only the regular allotments will be available and price support to cooperators will be available at 50 percent of parity, as directed by law, said Ferguson.

Ferguson pointed out that farmers electing to take Plan B must register their choice at the county ASC office. If the referendum on December 15 favors marketing quotas for the 1960 upland crop, farmers have until March 16, 1960 to register for Plan B.

If the operator intends to grow his cotton under Plan A, no action need be taken. But, Ferguson said, failure to elect Plan B will automatically make Plan A effective on the farm for 1960.

Allotments are established for all farms on which cotton was planted or regarded as planted in any one of the past three years. The minimum farm allotment is the smaller of the farm's 1958 allotment or 10 acres.

Ferguson urges every eligible voter to cast a ballot in the December 15 referendum. Polling places for each county will be announced locally and details on any part of the ASC program can be obtained from the local ASC offices, he said.

Vitamin A Essential For Feeding Calves

Lightweight calves (250-400 lbs) being full fed in feedlots need vitamin A in their ration, according to U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. A deficiency could develop within 45-60 days unless this essential nutrient is supplied. The first and most recognizable symptom of the deficiency is night blindness.

Reserve sources of vitamin A are stored in the liver and fat of beef cattle, Thompson explained. However, lightweight calves do not have as much storage capacity as older animals.

Yellow corn is the only feed grain containing a source of this vitamin. However, don't rely on corn alone to furnish the requirement as there are commercial sources of the vitamin available which may be mixed with the ration. Alfalfa hay of good green color can be fed at the rate of one pound daily or mix five percent alfalfa meal or pellets with the ration to supply the requirement.

Mixtures which contain only ground ear corn and cottonseed meal or ground sorghum grain and cottonseed meal are most likely to cause deficiencies if fed lightweight calves. Rations of ground sorghum grain cottonseed meal and cottonseed hulls are also deficient in carotene or vitamin A potency. Baled hay, bundles and other cured roughages which do not have a pea green color should not be considered as good sources for the vitamin, the husbandman added.

Fertilizer On Pastures Means More Grazing Now and Later

Well fertilized pastures will furnish additional grazing this fall and will also provide better grazing for a longer period of time. Dr. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, says well fertilized pastures will furnish grazing two weeks later in the fall and will be ready to graze two weeks earlier in the spring.

Top dressing pastures now for fall grazing is a good idea. Whether fertilizing will help the pasture depends on several items. One is the soil itself. If the soil is deficient in certain elements, then these elements should be applied. In this case, a soil test is the best way to determine what needs to be applied.

Another item which should be considered, Bennett adds, is the available moisture. If adequate

Funeral Rites For Monroe Bain Held Thursday Morning

Funeral services for Monroe Bain, 59, were held Thursday morning at 10:30 in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor, officiating. Dr. Albert Lunday, Hardin-Simmons University professor, assisted. Burial was in the Goldsboro Cemetery.

Mr. Bain died Tuesday at 3 p. m. in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene where he had been a patient for the past two weeks. He had been in ill health two or three months.

He was born March 8, 1900 in Williamson County and moved to Winters in 1950 from Goldsboro where he had operated a grocery store. He had been in the grocery business since moving here.

Survivors include his wife; his mother, Mrs. Hettie Powell and one sister, Mrs. B. G. Graham, both of Ovalo; and a step-sister, Mrs. Walter Bouton of Abilene.

moisture is in the soil and if fall rains are usually good, the fertilization will not pay. Fertilization of pastures heavily infested with weeds means that a lot of plant nutrients will be lost due to the weed growth.

Bennett suggests that soil samples be taken now and tested. Then if the stand of grass in the pasture is good and if moisture is adequate, fertilization will pay with additional grazing this fall as well as earlier grazing next spring.

Every man who hunts hopes some day to take a trip to Mexico.

Many fabulous tales of hunting and fishing have come from south of the border. Perhaps it is because much of this million square miles of up and down country still is in a primitive state.

Certainly it offers one an opportunity to get a long way from everything—except good hunting and fishing.

Much of Mexico still is wilderness. The best way to get into some of the remote areas is via plane. Most of the roads, except the main traveled highways, are difficult to negotiate.

But there is good hunting to be had. It isn't even necessary to go too far south of the border, if you know where to go, or have connections. And it isn't difficult to get there. Mexican requirements are not severe either.

You pay $16 for a gun permit and $19.80 for a hunting license. You must have a letter from your police chief that you are a good citizen. Then you must list all your guns by serial number and caliber.

You can take along 100 rounds of ammunition for each gun.

You get the license and the permit from your Mexican consul, who will provide other pertinent information.

Most hunting trips into Mexico except those made by persons experienced in going in, are arranged through regular guide services.

There are good guides and bad ones.

Unfortunately some of the worst ones live on this side of the river. Some will make you promises that can't be fulfilled. So, before making your deal with a guide service, check references. A good one won't mind. The other type you don't want anyway.

In Mexico, the people are most friendly. Those who live in remote spots do very little hunting on their own. They kill only for food. And there always are natives around to help you with the skinning and cleaning of your kill.

These people will take over your surplus meat and dry it for future use. Venison and bear meat both make good "jerky," a favorite food of Mexicans in the back country.

Most of the hunters go to Mexico for deer and bear. Deer are fairly plentiful. So are the bear, in some places.

A group we know went there not too long ago and killed ten deer and two bear, plus an ample supply of ducks and quail—all in a five-day hunt.

There has been a great deal of hunting just across the border for white-winged doves, duck geese, and quail. Because of an international treaty, migratory birds have protection in Mexico. There also is a limit on imports into Texas.

Texans can enter Mexico at many points between El Paso and Brownsville. Customs offices are located at all ports of entry. And very little difficulty is encountered in free commerce between the two countries, when everything is legal.

There also is fantastic fishing in Mexico. This is true both for fresh water and salt water fish.

A number of large dams south of the border have impounded huge lakes which have been hot spots for Texas fishermen for a quarter of a century.

All along the coast from Brownsville south to the Yucatan Peninsula, you'll find excellent fishing. Some fine catches of tarpon, snook, reds and trout have been made all along the east coast. Here the coastline bends itself into a natural cove to hold fish brought up through the Yucatan channel from the equatorial waters below.

Mexico is a big country covering 760,000 miles of hill and gully area. It is 2,000 miles across the northern border and two-thirds of that distance marks the boundary between Texas and Mexico.

This boundary follows the meanderings of the Rio Grande from El Paso to Brownsville. The two states bordering Texas cover approximately one-third of the total land area of the republic. They are Chihuahua and Coahuila.

In these two areas the terrain is ideal for hunting. Most of it is mountainous. Even the desert land is slashed by foothills covered with yucca and cacti.

In the high country on the eastern slope of the Continental Divide there are huge forests of pine and hardwood, furnishing cover for the big game.

There are many old mines of all kinds in Northern Mexico. Some of the only roads to be found are roads that have been built in mining explorations.

The Mexican government has taken many steps for the permanent protection of its wildlife. Since it is a primitive area, and has proper controls, there will be hunting for a long, long time.

There is enough game to satisfy all Texans who want to hunt—and most of them do.

A cowboy who can keep in balance upon and with a horse, and who can ride long distances without retightening the cinches or galling the horse's back, is known as a "light rider."

There is plenty of church work to be done in every community, and nothing is more rewarding.

Ag. Economist Takes Look At Wheat Situation

The entire 1959 wheat crop will probably total about 23 percent less than the record 1958 crop, but this is still four percent above the 1948-1957 average. Yield per seeded acre in 1959 amounts to about 19 bushels compared to 26 bushels last year, but much above the average of 15 bushels.

The 1960 crop may exceed the 1959 crop, even with the minimum allotment in effect. It has been estimated that a little more than 53 million acres may be harvested. If yields based upon the 1956-59 average are obtained, a crop of about 1.2 billion bushels would be produced, 8 percent larger than the 1959 crop. With domestic disappearance and exports the same as estimated for 1959-60, the carryover on July 1, 1961 may be about 165 million bushels over the estimated carryover on July 1, 1960, according to John G. McHane, extension economist.

Wheat carryover on June 30, 1960 is expected to total about 1,368 million bushels, said McHane. This is about 91 million bushels larger than that of July 1, 1959 and is a new record. There is a very good possibility that the carryover on June 30, 1961 will be even larger, he added.

Wheat prices may be slightly higher in 1959-60. Much wheat is being withheld from the market due to adequate storage space as a result of new construction, and reduced production from last year's record level. Another reason is that the amount of wheat not eligible for price support, because of seedings in excess of allotments, is much less than those for the 1958 crop, which were above any previous year. Also, many farmers are withholding wheat from market until the new tax year because of large sales from the 1958 record production, the economist added.

A renegade rider in the Old West was one who was employed to visit distant ranches, gathering up any stock branded with his employer's brand and returning the stock home.

Every person should base his religious faith on his personal philosophy and principles, not on any individual.

Lime Gives Efficient Fertilizer Use

An application of limestone can mean more economical crop production and efficient use of fertilizer, says W. F. Bennett, soil chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Fertilizer applied on acid soils can give disappointing results. Production will continue low and the return for money invested in fertilizer also will be low, Bennett advises.

Where lime is needed, economic returns may range from two to five dollars for each dollar spent for limestone. Some farmers, points out the chemist, have received even higher returns. Others have received less, especially where limestone was applied on areas not deficient in lime. If lime is needed, it will increase plant growth by causing favorable chemical, physical and biological changes in the soil. These changes, continues Bennett, also result in a more efficient uptake and use of fertilizer nutrients by plants.

Neil Tarvin Sets Dates For Social Security Visits Here

Floyd B. Ellington, District Manager of the San Angelo Social Security office reports that Neil Tarvin, field representative will be in Winters, Texas at the Chamber of Commerce Bldg. on the following dates: January 13 and 27, February 10 and 24 and March 16 and 30.

Some farmers are losing social security credit by not reporting their earnings, according to Mr. Ellington. This may mean loss of benefits to a farmer's survivors if he dies or loss of his own retirement benefits.

Any farmer who has a profit of $400.00 or more in a year is required to file a tax return and pay social security taxes. This return must be filed even though the farmer has no income tax to pay. Even if a farmer does not have a $400.00 profit but has a gross farm income of $600.00 or more, he can elect to report his farm income for social security purposes.

Farmers who have neglected to report earnings for social security credit may still do so for 1956 or any later years. Ellington stated that any farmer who wants to re-ment should contact the internal revenue office for advice or if he prefers, he can see Neil Tarvin when he makes a trip to Winters on one of the dates shown above.

By Vern Sanford

This is a great quail year.

Never in the memory of living man has there been one quite so good. Every section of the state reports quail in great numbers.

Highways are lined with coveys of the birds. It is hard to drive a few miles in rural areas without hitting a bird with the car or having to slow down for a covey to cross the road.

Grain fields and brush piles seem to explode when a covey takes to flight.

Bobwhites and blues are mixing groups in many spots in West and Southwest Texas. There are blues in areas which have been mostly bob habitat for years. And there are bobs flying around in some of the territory where once only blues were plentiful.

It's a great year for the birds. The man with a dog will have his "cup running over." The man who kicks out his birds and takes them as he finds them should do well, too.

What is the cause for this tremendous increase in the quail population?

A number of good reasons can be advanced, but it is not likely that any one reason is the complete answer.

Perhaps as important as anything else is the fact that there have been at least two years when weather conditions were favorable at nesting time. This always means a great deal to feathered wildlife, especially ground nesters.

Perhaps the next most important factor is landowner assistance.

One of the heaviest blows to the quail population in the past has been the complete removal of cover and feed crops for the birds. Landowners cleaned out their fence rows. They chained down mesquite thickets. They set fire to brush patches. They plowed under good range. As a result, there were comparatively few places remaining for the bobs and the blues.

It was about that time that the Game and Fish Commission started its quail restocking program with birds raised by the state. These birds were produced by the thousands at the State Game Farm near Tyler. They were sold to landowners at about half the price of production.

This alone, however, wasn't the secret of the success of the quail comeback.

Before a landowner could buy these birds from the state he had to show that he had sufficient food and cover for them. Many ranchers, whose places had almost been denuded of worthwhile cover, were induced to plant multiflora roses along fence lines, in corners and in other places.

They were encouraged to leave brush at places within their fence lines, and to plant feed which would be conducive to good quail nourishment.

Sportsmen clubs throughout the state joined in this movement. Some conscientious shooters also helped.

There are a number of quail hunters in Texas who, each year, re-stock a range with as many pen-raised birds as they take off by gun each fall.

According to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, it requires in excess of 6,000,000 quail each year for the hunters. The quail season, which basically is December 1 to January 16, is hunted hard in some areas.

There was a time when shooters would take every bird in a covey. Now they are leaving a few for seed.

There is a factor, however, which works strongly against this wonderful little bird. It is hard hit in the winter by bad weather and predators.

Biologists who have spent years studying the ways and means of quail will tell you that the spring breeding season is entered with only 20 per cent of the quail available at the beginning of the harvest.

In other words, 80 percent of every year's average quail crop is gone by the beginning of a new breeding season. Only a small portion of them are taken by gunners.

Some just plain starve. This was the case in some of the areas south of Wichita Falls last year.

That is ideal quail country. There is a great deal of feed, including much small grain. Naturally, this also is an inducement to rats. Last year the rat population vitally affected the quail population. By mid-December the quail had become so poor that hunters quit taking them and thousands of birds died of starvation.

There was a strong rat infestation in other parts of the state, too. This year the rat crop hasn't been quite so bad. But there still are many predators.

One of the worst is the common house cat. It kills off thousands of quail each year. Some hunters shoot every house cat they see afraid, for this reason.

Shooting resorts also have had something to do with the increase in quail-shooting interest.

At first the shooting resorts had little acceptance among oldtime shooters. However, many fellows found they could go to shooting resorts and find advantageous hunting at a cost that would not exceed the total cost of quail hunting elsewhere. This would include the price of the lease, the dogs and the uncertainty.

Resort owners have released many birds. Some are not killed by the hunters. They find their way into other areas. . . and the total population of birds goes up.

So, there are many reasons why this is the quail hunting year for you. Get out and get your share!

New Army Enlistees Granted Holidays

Master Sergeant Leonard M. Evans, local US Army Recruiter, announced today the US Army's Christmas leave policy for men enlisting into the Service.

Men desiring to enter the Army during the Christmas-New Year Holiday period, December 10th through December 31st, 1959, may enlist and still remain at home over the Holidays. M-Sgt. Evans stated the Army started the Christmas Leave Policy two years ago and has found it to be an advantage to the enlistee and the Army during the Holidays.

The Christmas Leave Policy does not affect a man's choice of schooling or technical training. Enlistees may pick the specific course from 107 different courses in Motor Repair, Electronics, Communications, Medical, Aircraft Repair, Engineering, etc.

Men desiring to take advantage of this policy may contact M-Sgt. Evans at the local US Army Recruiting Station, 900 North Third Street or phone OR 2-5665. Men living outside the Abilene area may phone him collect.

State Capitol Highlights:

Texas High Courts Move Into New $3,000,000 Building in State Capitol

Texas Press Association
Texas high courts began a new era of stately splendor with a double barreled dedication of the massive granite Courts Building. Court of Criminal Appeals dedicated its chambers in the north wing, and the Supreme Court had State Bar leaders who began talking of a courts building back in 1940, the year of the Supreme Court's 100th anniversary. Supreme Court dates its origin to the days when Texas was still a republic and the first session was held Jan. 13, 1840, in a private home in Austin. Court of Criminal Appeals was established in 1891 and is the oldest of the only three courts in the world of its type. It has final, exclusive jurisdiction in criminal matters. In opening day addresses Bar leaders paid tribute to the courts and jurists through the years as guardians of the concept of government by law rather than by men. Justices of both courts wore for the first time the black robes that will be their court attire from now on. Robes, said Supreme Court Chief Justice J. E. Hickman, are "not to satisfy our own vanity, but in recognition of the fact that we are beginning a new era in the court's history. . . . These elegant surroundings call for it." Judge Hickman, who is planning to retire next year, had said some years ago when the building was still in the planning stage, that to reside in the new courts building was one of his most cherished hopes. When the day came, the elderly, revered jurist, admitted to having, among other emotions, a "nostalgic feeling" for the old courtroom where "the great jurists of the past had sat."

SURE, BUT
A majority of legislators, according to reports, have told Gov. Price Daniel they favor a pay raise for school teachers. But from there on their statements—at least those that have been made public—contain little to encourage either the governor or the teachers.

Some say they would favor the raise only if it did not mean passing this, that or the other kind of tax. Some point to what they call the "improbability of success." Almost all the lawmakers, it seems, would be more than willing to vote a teacher raise if the governor can come forward with a money-raising plan on which general agreement can be reached. But talk has been mostly of taxes, like the abandoned property tax and three-factor formula franchise tax, which ended in hopeless wrangling in the four sessions this year.

Some Capitol observers are predicting that Governor Daniel might pass up calling another session and put the blame on the legislators for not being willing to pitch in. This might be coupled with a challenge to the people to elect a different Legislature next time.

BOWING OUT

Announcements filtering in from over the state already indicate there'll be a number of new faces in the 57th Legislature when it meets in January, 1961. Aside from the four who have resigned and will be replaced in special elections Jan. 9, nearly a dozen representatives have said they will not ask re-election to the House.

In this group are Reps. Joe Ed Winfree, Houston; W. N. Woolsey, Corpus Christi; James S. Bates, Edinburg; Carl Conley, Raymondville; Ben D. Sudderth, Comanche; Oscar M. Laurel, Laredo; Zeke Zbrank, Daisetta; V. L. Ramsey, Beckville; Jerry Sadler, Palestine. Some of these will be running for other offices or are hoping to. Others are retiring to private life, at least for the time being.

Those whose places are to be filled in the special elections in January are Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton; Reps. Ted Myatt, Burleson; Bobby Bullock, Hillsboro; and Sam Bass, Freeport.

thus far registered his craft under the new Water Safety Act.

State Highway Department reports that only 1,747 Certificates of Number have been issued for an estimated 212,000 Texas motorboats.

Deadline for registration is March 1, 1960. After April 1, 1960, the boat cannot be operated unless the Certificate of Number has been placed on each side of the bow.

Highway Department is not authorized to grant an extension in time and has urged boat owners to register now to avoid a pile-up in March.

Law applies to all boats with more than 10 horsepower operating in public waters. Applications can be made with any boat dealer or county tax collector.

Certificates issued now will be good until March 31, 1963.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE
A "juke box" is not a phonograph insofar as the new state sales tax on phonographs is concerned.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that the 3 per cent sales tax on phonographs, record players and hi-fi equipment does not apply to the coin-operated machines.

Coin-operated players are, however, subject to an occupation tax that was in effect before the new tax bill was passed.

FIFTY MILLION IN F-M ROADS
State Highway Department has authorized the spending of $50,000,000 on farm-to-market roads in Texas.

Work is divided into three programs. First is designating county roads to become a part of the state F-M road system and providing funds for construction of these new roads.

Second project is the improvement of F-M roads built early in the farm road building program begun in 1949. Many of these, Commission Chairman Herbert C. Perry Jr. pointed out, were built narrow and light in order to get as many miles of new roads as possible built quickly. These roads are showing wear and tear and need re-working to protect the investment.

Third phase of the operation is the day-to-day maintenance in a system now totaling 33,143 miles.

To finance the program the Department will use the $30,000,000 appropriated every two years by the Colson-Briscoe Farm-to-Market Road Act and $20,000,000 from gasoline tax revenues available for the betterment of the state road system.
