

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Winters faces a serious health problem, according to local health authorities. They have pointed out that the condition of many of our streets, which collect dirt and other filth, constitute a health hazard against which a more rigid course of action should be taken.

Conditions have not been so bad during and shortly following the rains we have been receiving, but after a few hours of drying winds and sunshine, the hazard multiplies. After the streets have dried up, a gust of wind or the passing of a vehicle causes the dust and dirt to swirl into the air, invading homes and business places, filling the air, to enter the lungs of everyone who happens to be in the vicinity. Health officials have pointed out that serious consequences could result from these conditions.

Although street sweepers have been used, perhaps it would be advisable, healthwise, to redouble the efforts in keeping our streets cleaner, especially at the time when dirt and mud and filth is being brought in by traffic in wet weather.

Evidence that the pendulum is on the down-swing are the crates of onion sets being displayed and offered to gardeners by Winters' food stores.

We've been furthering our education, so to speak, these past few days, trying to teach a young dog old tricks. The way we understand it, a pup should be taught only one thing at a time, and it's got us worried just somewhat. We've got to the point of trying to teach our pup to "fetch," and bring objects to us. What's got us bothered is the possibility he'll get tired of this nonsense, and clamp down on a leg, before we get to the part where it says how to teach him to let go of the object he "fetches."

If you want to be present when the lucky polltix grab the brass rings on the Texas political merry-go-round, better get your ticket as soon as possible. A poll tax receipt will get you on board the wagon.

It is difficult, sometimes, to keep a bird dog on the job and prevent him from going astray after a rabbit. The same difficulty is apparently experienced with some of the golfers on the Winters Country Club pasture.

Jiggs Nichols, who probably was not so thrilled over a certain shot, (he shoots between 50 and 150), recently left his game to stalk a rabbit. He slipped up on the creature, swung at it with the handle end of his club, and is now in the market for a new putter. He killed his rabbit, but the golf club ended up in a half-circle.

In case you haven't noticed, Winters now has two blocks of one-way streets. Signs went up this past weekend, making one block on State Street and one block on Church Street one-way thoroughfares.

On State Street, the one block from Main to Church, is one-way, for west-bound traffic. On Church Street, from State to Dale Avenue, the one block is one-way, for north bound traffic.

In addition, four new two-hour parking meters have been installed next to the post office parking lot on Church Street, where heretofore there were no meters.

The new one-way regulations were implemented to relieve congestion around the new post office on West State Street, and to eliminate a dangerous traffic situation on State where it enters Main.

The situation is: motorists coming from the west are deprived of using the post office parking lot unless they go all around onto Main Street and drive back west to the post office. If there happens to be a parking space on the one-way block of Church street, convenient to the post office, motorists have to pay for the privilege, and now that the meters are up, and driving north on Church throws them into the heavy stream of traffic on West Dale.

Seems to us that if limited time parking were offered post office patrons, in place of the new meters, motorists would appreciate it and not take advantage of a few minutes parking privilege. The average motorist is a pretty sensible sort of fellow, after all.

Local Police Apprehend 3 Burglars

A chase, an auto accident, road blocks, apprehension of three suspected burglars, and the escape of a fourth, punctuated the otherwise quiet early morning hours in Winters Wednesday, and area police began to piece together a story of perhaps 30 burglaries which had been committed within the past few weeks in Ballinger and San Angelo.

Three youths were lodged in the county jail in Ballinger, and an area-wide hunt was on for the fourth man, said to be from San Angelo, who escaped officers in Winters Wednesday morning.

Ray Heathcott, on night patrol in Winters, became suspicious of a car, without lights, which drove up to Sims Service Station on South Main Street about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, and started to investigate. The car quickly left the station, fled up Main, and turned into Tinkle street, headed east. Heathcott gave chase, and curbed the car at the corner near the Buffalo Lodge. The right front wheel of the fleeing car came off. One person escaped Heathcott, but he apprehended three others, and took them to the police station. After questioning by Winters police, the trio was taken to Ballinger where they were jailed.

On being questioned, the three youths identified the escaped man as Johnny Jackson, 20, of San Angelo. Road blocks were immediately set up in the area, and a thorough search started, with county officers and highway patrolmen and game wardens taking part. An airplane was used in the daylight hours in the hunt.

According to Lawrence Hennigan, Winters Police Chief, subsequent questioning of the three youths revealed that the man who escaped was Monty Earl Bailey, 21, of San Angelo. Also, Hennigan said, police suspect the four of having been involved in about 30 burglaries in Ballinger and San Angelo.

Runnels County Sheriff Don Atkins said Wednesday night that the hunted man, Bailey, and Walter Massey, 17, also of San Angelo, had been charged on eight counts of burglary in Ballinger. Justice of the Peace Earl Cope set Massey's bond at $1,000.

Atkins said Massey and two other boys, both 14 years old, of San Angelo, had made statements in connection with 30 burglaries in Ballinger and San Angelo, over a period extending back to the first of December. He said the younger boys would be taken before County Judge W. H. Rumpy, juvenile judge, Thursday morning.

Massey and the two juveniles were being held in Runnels County jail, while a search is being made for Bailey. It was hoped by county officers that Bailey would be apprehended within a few days.

Atkins said the four are charged with the burglaries Tuesday night of the First Methodist Church, Carey Lumber Co., Faubion Implement Co., and the High School, in Ballinger. They also face charges.

Winters Girl Basketball Team Rated Third in State Class Double-A Teams

According to a publication of the Texas High School Girls' Basketball Coaches Association in December, the Winters girls' basketball team is rated third in the state in Class AA. The Blizardettes were selected as the feature team of the month by the association.

The article, in part, said: "Winters Blizardettes of District 7AA began this season with five returning starters, supported by four returning lettermen. Rita Walker and Dorretha King are the leading scorers, helped by Carolyn Faubion, a rebounding artist. Lou Awalt and Nancy Spill are fast improving forwards who are challenging for a starting position. The three starting forwards average 5'8" in height.

"On defense, Lavera Williams, Kay Byrd, Ruth Ann Spill and Jackie Powers are vying for starting positions. Macy Hejl is improving and is able to hold her own on the court. These guards have held their opponents to 31 points in six games, while the forwards of Winters have averaged 55 points.

"Winters Blizardettes use a single post offense, specializing in Dorretha King's long shot and Rita Walker's jump shot."

Their record for the season is 17-2.

The Blizardettes won District 7AA in 1958-59 and were defeated by Granbury for regional. Score 43-45.

Sheriff Don Atkins Seeks Re-Election; In Office 11 Years

Don Atkins, who has been sheriff of Runnels County for 11 years, formally announced his intention to seek re-election to that office last week.

Atkins, 45, has been sheriff of Runnels County since January, 1949.

The Runnels County officer was president of the Texas Sheriff's Association in 1959 and 1958. He was elected third vice president of the association in 1954 and served a year each as second vice president and first vice president before he was elected to head the organization.

In March 1958 he was named one of five outstanding sheriffs in Texas by the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation.

Atkins also has been vice chairman of the Federated Assn. of County, District and Precinct Officials of Texas; a major in the Texas National Guard; and a member of the board of directors of the Texas Safety Assn.

Atkins was born in the Wilmeth community near Winters and attended school at Wilmeth, Winters and Wingate, and was graduated from Wingate High School in 1933.

He joined the U. S. Marine Corps in 1934, and served until 1938. He returned to the Marine Corps in 1943, serving until after World War II.

After his discharge from the Marine Corps, Atkins went into the cafe business at Winters, but sold out because of illness. He ran for the office of sheriff and won in 1948.

Atkins is married to the former Terry Sykes. They have one daughter, Donna, and two sons, Randy and Gary.

To the Voters of Runnels County: I wish to announce to the people of Runnels County that I will be a candidate for reelection to the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the democratic primaries in May and June.

In the beginning I wish to express my appreciation to all the people for their kindness to me while I have served you as sheriff. Your cooperation and loyal support has made it possible for me to serve you better and to be a more efficient law enforcement officer. Serving you has also made it possible for me to make many fine new friends, a reward which I treasure very highly and something that has made my job more enjoyable.

During the years I have been your sheriff, I have stayed on the job to curb crime in my county and to try faithfully to protect the people and their property. I have cooperated with other officers of the area and state and have attended all meetings of law enforcement officers to learn everything that is being done to control crime in other areas. My cooperation with the Texas Sheriff's Association afforded me the pleasure of serving one year as their president, an honor of which I am national.

Tamala Gans Wins Place On All-State Band In Abilene

Tamala Ann Gans, freshman band student in Winters High School Saturday evening won a place on the all-state band, competing in the flute division. This is the highest honor which can be won by a high school band student, and is comparable to the all-state football and basketball selections made each year.

The competition took place at McMurry College in Abilene Saturday. About 75 schools in Region 2 were represented by 450 students. Band students were from Abilene, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Snyder, Breckenridge, Brownwood, and other cities in the area. Band students were competing for 106 eligible seats in the all-region band. Four Winters musicians won chairs on this band. They were Tamala, Ernestine Scott, Sue Lindsey and James Bryan.

In further competition Saturday, the 106 eligible students competed for 8 places in the all-state band. Tamala, one of the youngest band students to win a place on the region band, not only placed first in the flute competition, but also in the piccolo division. Certification was completed late Saturday evening, prior to the evening concert.

Tamala will go to Austin Feb. 4 to participate in a three-day clinic and grand concert. This is comparable to the all-state football and basketball games played in Austin each year. Climax of the three-day clinic will be the grand concert, to be held in the new municipal auditorium in Austin Feb. 6. It is at this concert that the stars of the high school band program perform. Bank Deposits Continue Upward

The continued growth and prosperity of Winters and North Runnels County is evidenced by the financial position of the community. An increasingly sound financial position is reflected in the reports of condition published this week by the two banks serving this area, the Winters State Bank and the Security State Bank of Wingate.

In their reports, required periodically by state banking authorities and the Federal Reserve System, the two banks show a total increase in deposits of $242,016.79 over the same time last year. The published reports show condition at the close of business on December 31, 1959.

The Winters State Bank reported a total deposit of $4,233,632.21; on Dec. 31, 1958, the bank reported $4,132,560.27 on deposit.

Total deposits in the Security State Bank, Wingate, passed the $1 million mark, with the report showing $1,016,328.77. Last year's report of condition showed total deposits to be $874,383.92.

The statements reflect a slight decrease in the amount of loans reported by the two banks, compared with one year ago.

The capital and surplus of the Winters State Bank was increased during 1959 from $100,000 to $200,000. Total capital accounts are now in excess of $440,000.

Valley Creek Watershed Flood Vote Set For Feb. 6; Property Owners Eligible

Owners of property located in the watershed comprising the Valley Creek Water Control and Improvement District will decide the fate of the proposed flood prevention plans for the district at an election Feb. 6.

The referendum proposals seek authority to levy a tax of 25 cents on the $100 evaluation for the issuance and retiring of an estimated $100,000 in bonds to handle engineering costs, title work and other expenses including maintenance of the planned structures.

Also, included is a separate five cents on the $100 tax for maintenance funds when bond money is depleted. This tax is required by law, but will not be collected until a need arises, according to Hugo Vogelsang, chairman of the board of directors of the district.

Also, included is a separate five cents on the $100 tax for maintenance funds when bond money is depleted. This tax is required by law, but will not be collected until a need arises, according to Hugo Vogelsang, chairman of the board of directors of the district.

The district was created by House Bill 944 in the 56th Legislature.

Since then district officials have collected data on flood damages along the creek and over the watershed. Vogelsang said the damages run in the thousands of dollars over the past few years. It has been estimated that for every thousand dollars spent by the government for detention dam construction, twice that much will be gained in savings from flood damage.

Directors of the district will meet at the Wingate school next Tuesday at 7 p. m. to make further plans.

In Nolan County, balloting will be at the Masonic building at Hyinton. In Taylor County, the voting box will be located at the community center at Shep.

Three boxes have been designated in Runnels County. One will be at the Legion Hall in Wineate, with Bill Harman, David Bryan and Carl Green in charge. At N. Norton, the box will be located at the Church of Christ with Kirby Robinson, Dave Compton and Joe Crockett in charge. The other box will be located at the Baptist Church at Valley View with Roy Tyree, Dave Forgey and A. C. Newsome in charge.

FFA 4-H Stock Show Termed Huge Success

The annual Winters FFA Junior Livestock Show here Saturday was termed a success by exhibitors, judges and viewers, even though the number of entries was below what had been anticipated.

A Poland China barrow exhibited by F. O. Dieke won the lightweight class. Second went to a Duroc owned by Stanley Bolden, another FFA member.

There were 41 swine entered in the show.

Two FFA members exhibited their animals to top placings in the gilt class. J. W. Aley had the grand champion, a Berkshire, and Carlton Parks showed the reserve, a Duroc.

ROGER BABSON SAYS—

Khrushchev: 'If U. S. Followed Jesus' Teachings, Reds Would Be No Threat'

I rather hesitate to write this column because some people may think that I am getting favorable toward Russia; but let me first assure you that I detest many things Russia is doing and was glad to get out of the country. Nevertheless, I can always learn something wherever I go, and from any nationality. Those who keep their eyes shut and their ears plugged are getting more ignorant every day and are only fooling themselves.

What Russians Mean By Saying They Are "Atheists"

Although I visited a church in Russia where, on the previous Sunday morning, there had been 4,000 people standing or on their knees (these churches have no seats), yet 95 per cent of the one million people in Moscow and the two million in its suburbs will tell you they are "atheists." Some of them say they do not believe in "God"; but the majority will tell you that they do not believe that Jesus was the "Son of God." They say that Jesus was the great leader and founder of Christianity, just as Buddha was the founder of Buddhism, Mohammed the founder of Mohammedanism, and Confucius the founder of Confucianism.

I am not acquainted with all the church denominations in this country; but I am told that the Unitarian branch and some of the Pacific Coast branches of the Protestant churches may feel about the same toward Jesus as the Russian leaders. (I cannot speaking authoritatively on Russia as a whole, as Moscow was the only city which I visited.)

Jesus' Sermon On The Mount

When I was talking with some prominent Communists in Moscow about Christianity, they first made the point that a very small portion of the Bible consists of Jesus' own words. They realize that the Old Testament is a history of the Jewish People and may be found in many Moscow libraries translated into Russian. They, however, would substitute the teachings of Nikolai Lenin, the founder of Communism, in place of the writings of St. Paul. When a Russian does this, he feels justified in calling himself an atheist, although this is not the description which Webster's Dictionary gives for an atheist.

I had no personal talk when in Moscow with Nikita Khrushchev, the Premier, he being in Peiping at the time; but I met people who claimed to know his thoughts. They told me that Mr. Khrushchev has said that if we Christians in the U. S. followed the teachings of Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount, Communism might have had no opportunity to develop. This is a very important statement to be remembered when we celebrate Christmas as Jesus' birthday.

The Big Difference Between

Seldom do I ask followers of my column to read anything; but I do ask you to read today Jesus' Sermon on the Mount (as found in the fifth chapter of Matthew) and relate it to our present mode of life. It agrees pretty well with the Communists' goal of taking care of their less fortunate people and seeing that all are fed, housed, and clothed, and that those who are qualified have a proper education, etc. Jesus also warned against wealth as a handicap to proper living. Certainly, Jesus would heartily approve the desire of President Eisenhower to help backward nations and unfortunate people.

But, Jesus insisted that these should come about voluntarily and not by force. The wicked massacres by the Communists in Hungary and other countries, merely to eliminate private property, would certainly be considered outright murder by Jesus. I repeat that Jesus would insist that the reforms be voluntary and that men should let God (who, He said, is a Spirit) do the punishing. In order for me to take Premier Khrushchev seriously in his purported "respect for the Sermon on the Mount," he would have to raise the iron curtain full length and stop persecuting any people.

HOWEVER, BECAUSE KRUSHCHEV IS NOT CONSISTENT IN HIS NO REASON WHY WE SHOULD

"HELP; MURDER"—Going as fast as his webbed feet will propel him, an eastern black-backed pelican from Australia dodges his pursuers. The bird was captured by keepers at New York's Bronx Zoo, for transfer to winter quarters.

CROSS-SECTION—Breathing space is at a premium as men, women and children get in the swim at the same place in Vienna, Austria. Ultra-high temperatures drove more than 35,000 Viennese into the city's largest open air bath.

Texas Squirrel Hunters Lead

By Vern Sanford

It may come as a surprise to many Texans to learn that the lowly squirrel leads all other mammals in small game popularity.

This popularity is largely due to recent regulatory laws that have materially increased the bushy-tail population.

Another factor in the squirrel's high rating is simply that squirrel hunting is fun. Squirrels are sharp and tricky, and offer a challenge to almost any hunter. It takes a lot of knowhow and marksmanship for a sportsman to bring home his bag limit.

Almost everyone who totes a gun hunts squirrels now and then. In fact, squirrel hunters' ages range from the gray-headed gentleman who has prowled the woods for years, to the blue-jeaned kid with his first .22.

Most squirrel hunters prefer the .22 rifle. Some like the single shot; others like the repeater or automatic.

One thing they do agree on. It should be loaded with longrifle cartridges for full striking power.

Shotgun gauge depends on where and how you hunt. For normal shooting conditions the 16-gauge and .410 are okay. But for really tall timber, most hunters use nothing smaller than a 12-gauge, with high velocity loads and No. 6 shot. Otherwise one is likely to miss often and leave a lot of cripples.

Full choke for all shotguns is best. With the .410, 3-inch shells are almost a necessity.

On windy days you might as well stay home. Few squirrels will be out.

Cloudy days encourage them to move around, so those are good hunting days.

But frosty, clear weather is even better, for on these days the squirrels are far more active.

There are three basic methods of hunting squirrels in Texas—still-hunting, stalking, and hunting with dogs.

Still-Hunting Is Tedious
Still-hunting takes patience and skill. You must creep into the woods at daylight, or late afternoon. Look for empty nut shells on the ground. These are sure signs of feeding. Then take up your stand.

You'll have better luck in woods, or groves of oak, hickory, pecan, or other nut-bearing trees. If the spot you have chosen has a view of a runway, grapevine or cornfield, so much the better.

Anyway, once you are located, keep still. Don't smoke. Don't even move, no matter how cold or cramped you become. Only your eyes should move, and they must scan the treetops constantly for movement.

Listen closely for squirrel noises rustling, barking (squirrel alarm signal), chattering, or cutting (eating nuts, etc.).

When you spy a target, make no sudden movement, but raise your gun slowly. Aim for his head, if you use a rifle, so you won't ruin good meat.

Practice will make you near-perfect in this precision shooting.

Stalking Is Harder
Stalking squirrels is more difficult. You may think you are creeping quietly through the woods, but to a bushy-tail you probably sound like a herd of billygoats.

Sneak from tree to tree. Experienced hunters prefer to hunt alone. If you are with companions, split up. Learn to look far ahead to spot movement among branches, because it's a good bet that nearby squirrels already have hidden.

Should you spot a squirrel darting behind a limb, or tree trunk

(a favorite squirrel trick), hang your jacket, hat, or even a handkerchief on a bush, then creep around to the other side of the tree.

Very likely he will scurry around to keep the tree or limb between you and himself. But when he sees the garment you left, and thinks it is you, he will turn back.

That's when you blast him. A shotgun, such as described, is best for stalking, because your target doubtlessly will be running and jumping. However, quite a few sportsmen, who consider themselves crack shots, prefer a .22 rifle.

Hunting With Dogs Exciting
For the nimrod who hasn't the patience to still-hunt or stalk, hunting with dogs is best.

This is fast, exciting sport. But it takes less know-how and skill than the two previous methods.

Then, too, hunting with dogs takes a lot of stamina, more than many of us have, for you must follow your dogs over miles of territory, often at a trot.

Almost any breed of dog will do for this sport, though a fox terrier cross is most popular. This type of dog is quick and active, and its nose is sharp enough to follow rank squirrel scent.

With dogs you can use either rifle or shotgun, according to your preference.

Whether you still-hunt, stalk, or hunt with dogs, squirrel hunting is real fun.

Anxious to try it?

World War I Vets, Auxiliary Met Monday At Legion Hall

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

ALL-PURPOSE INSECTICIDE FOR HOME GARDENERS

The home gardener wants a single chemical which will control any pest which attacks his flowers, fruits, or vegetables.

To supply this market the pesticide manufacturer has prepared general-purpose mixtures containing several insecticides and fungicides designed to combat a number of pests on many different plants.

These complex mixtures are retailed in small packages and differ from pesticides sold to commercial growers in that they may be left open and used repeatedly over a considerable period of time.

Malathion is one of the most common constituents of garden pesticides. It combines the unique properties of high toxicity toward a number of different insects with a relatively high degree of safety towards warm-blooded animals.

Malathion decomposes upon the plant surface to yield nontoxic residues within a few days. This desirable property in a residue introduces difficulties with the unused malathion remaining in the package.

Pure malathion is a pale yellow liquid sealed in glass ampoules to prevent its decomposition by atmospheric moisture. For effective use it must be diluted either impregnating onto a dry powder or by dissolving into a spray liquid.

Although two thirds of the deficient malathion samples examined in some test cases were dusts, emulsifiable spray concentrates also decompose in storage. The rate of loss has not been too serious the first year, but older samples have deteriorated more rapidly.

Aerosol formulations have been outstanding in quality. This is the only type of package in which admission of atmospheric moisture is prevented by vapor-proof walls and internal pressure on the closure. Although aerosols are still rather expensive, new developments may be expected.

The American Can Company reports that it will soon be making aerosol containers of extruded aluminum tubing. Plastic and metal foil packages need only a suitable closure to provide cheap moisture-proof packages for both dusts and liquids.

What can the consumer do to maintain quality in garden pesticides? He can help himself a great deal by selecting fresh packages from a reputable retailer, and then storing them tightly closed in a dry cool place.

If You Crossed $600 Last Year You Must File Income Report

Requirements for filing Federal income tax returns for 1959 were announced by Arthur E. Fogle Jr. of Internal Revenue Service.

To sum it up—"most people with $600 or more of gross income for 1959 must file a return with Uncle Sam," Fogle said.

Every citizen or resident of the U. S. A. whether adult or minor who had $600 or more gross income in 1959 must file; if 65 or over, $1,200 or more.

"However," Fogle continued, "if you're self-employed, you file a return if your self-employment income was $400 or more, even though your gross income was less than $600."

The Revenue representative added these potent points: A person with income of less than these amounts should file a '59 return to get a refund if tax was withheld. . . A married person with income less than her(his) own personal exemption (s) should file a joint return with husband or wife to get the smaller tax or larger refund for the couple. . . Members of Armed Forces should give name, service serial number, and permanent home address.

Area taxpayers are urged to file their returns for '59 with their IRS District Director as soon after January 1, 1960, as possible.

"Although the filing deadline is April 15, folks who wait until the last minute find it more difficult to get technical help the nearer the final day approaches."

"Also," Fogle said, "last minute filers make more costly errors in their returns."

Checks or money orders for any tax due should be clipped, not stapled, to the return and should be made payable to the "Internal Revenue Service."

Taxpayers with technical problems may have them solved by phoning IRS at OR-4-9146, or by visiting their office at 289 Pine St. Abilene.

Special taxpayer assistance day is every Monday 8:30-12:30.

If you aspire to the highest place, it is no disgrace to stop at the second, or even the third.

It's unfortunate that the symptoms of fatigue and of laziness are practically identical.

"Day of the Outlaw"

A western with many elements to distinguish it from the usual western screen fare will be unfolding on the screen on Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. It is Producer Sidney Harmon's production for United Artist release, "Day of the Outlaw," directed by Andre de Toth and against a background of snow and blizzards and starring Robert Ryan, Burl Ives and Tina Louise.

"Day of the Outlaw" tells a story of man against the elements, passion against reason.

It tells of the feuding between Robert Ryan, cattle king and his peaceful ranch neighbor Alan Marshal with Tina Louise standing in between until a sudden turn by the intrusion of a band of outlaws headed by Burl Ives.

The outlaws, the ornerist, the meanest set of critters that ever shot their way across the screen take over the town, terrorize the women and raise hell generally until Ryan, playing upon the greed of the men offers to lead the outlaw band to safety over a secret mountain pass. Ives agrees and they start on their trek in a raging blizzard. The production was filmed in the Oregon mountains, high above the clouds, where the weatherman cooperated gloriously, providing snow and sun and blizzards when needed.

"The Last Mile" starring Mickey Rooney, will open Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at the State Theatre through United Artists release.

Produced by Max J. Rosenberg and Milton Subotsky "The Last Mile" is based on the Broadway stage hit which launched Spencer Tracy on his way to stardom. The picture is Rooney's first big film since the highly successful "Baby Face Nelson," also released through United Artists.

The action-packed story of an attempted prison break, "The Last Mile" was inspired by a series of magazine articles, based on conversations with death house prisoners. The story has been read, or seen in play form, in almost every country in the world. The title of the famous Broadway play has also been incorporated into common English usage to mean the final march to the death chamber.

"The Wonderful Country"

"The Wonderful Country," which will open Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre, is a drama of violence and romance along the Texas-Mexico border. Filmed in Mexico in Technicolor, it stars Robert Mitchum and Julie London and co-stars Gary Merrill and Pedro Armendariz. Story of an American soldier-of-fortune forced to live in Mexico to avoid a murder indictment, the United Artists release was produced by Chester Erskine and directed by Robert Parrish from a screenplay by Robert Ardrey. "The Wonderful Country" is based on artist-author Tom Lea's best-selling novel of the same title and features a top supporting cast that includes Jack Oakie (his return to the screen), Albert Dekker, Charles McGraw and introduced the legendary baseball hurler Leroy "Satchel" Paige in his first screen role. Music for the film was composed and conducted by Alex North.

Blizzards Meet Bearcats In Second District Game

By Billy Lynn Little

The Sports Championship of Runnels County—which the Winters couldn't pry away from Ballinger's Bearcats in football—will be battled for again as the Blue plays host to the folks from down South here tonight (Friday), in game number 2 of a nip-and-tuck 7AA basketball race.

The Blizzards had a relatively easy time Tuesday as they dropped Ranger 53-36 in their district opener here. The Bearcats, on the other hand, were squeezed out 5-53 by ever-powerful Coleman in Ballinger.

Winters, with a 5-7 record thru their first non-district 12 games, won 4 of 5 games before entering Stamford's tournament, where they won 1 and lost 2, winding up in sixth place. They went into the tournament needing only one victory to even their record, and were first trampled into the dirt by Avoca, 67-44, came back to down Brechenridge 52-46, and then stood quietly while Cisco walked off with the consolation trophy, crushing Winters 70-48. All was not black at Stamford, however. William Grissom, Blizzard guard, was named to the all-tournament team.

In pre-season ratings, the Blizzards were picked to finish third in district, behind Cisco and Eastland. Cisco defeated the Mavericks 44-39 Tuesday, in other district competition.

In the Stamford "fiasco," Cisco hit the first 5 field goals they attempted, and the Blue couldn't catch up. But, the Lobos cannot rest easy—Lakeview stomped the Blizzards 62-47 in the season's opener, and the Blizzards came back to stop the Chiefs twice in later action. Another fact holding particular bearing on the case in that the Blizzards, trailing 17-4 at the end of the first period, closed the gap to 29-17 at half time, and moved only 7 points behind early in the third quarter, before Cisco finally pulled away. Jimmy Smith, Blizzard high scorer for the season, fouled out before the start of the fourth quarter.

Against the Bearcats, Coach Jerry English will probably send a starting lineup of Smith, Grissom, Sammy Albro, PeeWee Williams, and either Jerry Dunnam or Johnny Caskey. Smith, a captain, is already known to the home fans. Grissom, a brother to last year's hot-shot Rickey, has come on strong in the last 7 or 8 games. Albro, the other captain, has been consistent throughout the season. His shooting percentage is always, among the best, and he can hit well from the outside—when he shoots. Williams, going on his second year as a regular, has been very consistent on the boards, and managed to drop in 14 points in the Cisco outing. Dunnam and Caskey are the back court men. Jerry's ankle has been giving him some trouble of late, placing Caskey in the starting five. However, John has done a good job with the ball and both will probably be ready for the Ballinger game.

Finishing out the lineup will be Jerry Dunn, good hitting guard, Gary Onken, Walter Kraatz, and Buton Little and Roy John Clark. Kenneth Crowe, injured at the start of the season, is back in uniform, and working back into shape.

Leading the Bearcats will be Billy Jones and Johnny Bigby, who thus far lead district scorers with 25 and 17 respectively. Only James Henry of Ranger, who scored 19 against the Blizzards Tuesday, competes with the Ballinger duo.

The first game will begin at 6:30 p. m., with the "A" game starting around 7:45. School officials expect a good turnout from Ballinger, and hope for a capacity crowd from Winters.

A person with charm is one who can make another feel that, both of them are pretty wonderful people.

Janice Colburn Named Vice Prexy Of Social Club

Miss Janice Colburn of Winters has been elected vice president of Diana, one of three women's social clubs being organized on the Howard Payne College campus under the direction of Mrs. E. N. Elsey, dean of women.

Benjamin Franklin once said: "Doing an injury puts you below your enemy; revenging on e makes you but even with him; forgiving one sets you above him."

Blizzards Smashed Ranger Bulldogs 53-36 Monday Night

The Winters Blizzards put 9 men in the scoring column and scored 21 points in the second quarter as they over came a scant 2-point Ranger Bulldog first quarter lead and smashed the visitors 53-36 in the initial 7AA basketball game for both teams.

Ranger sank 9 points to the Blizzards' 7 in the first period, but the Blue came back to jump ahead to stay as they grabbed a 28-16 half-time lead.

In one of the year's finest defensive efforts, the Blizzards held

Ranger to no field goals from late in the first quarter, to midway in the 3rd period, when James Henry, high for the night with 19, dropped a crisp shot. This was the only field goal the Bulldogs made until the fourth period.

Coach Jerry English's second line played the entire final quarter, and dropped in 14 points.

The Blizzards' scoring was well spread out and only 3 boys of the "A" team failed to score. Jimmy Smith led the Blue with 14, followed by Sammy Albro with 10 and William Grissom with 8. Gary Onken, Jerry Dunn, PeeWee Williams and Button Little all had four, while Johnny Caskey had 3 and Jerry Dunnam 2.

Averages going into this first district game showed Smith leading in scoring with 107 total points in 12 games, with Grissom right behind with 102. Grissom has come on strong, not scoring less than 9 points in any one game, with 9 being his lowest output.

Coach Don Edwards found his winning combination as his "B" team stomped Ranger 38-30. Edwards team, led by Jimmy Johnson with 9, had 10 in the scoring bracket.

The Blizzards will meet Ballinger here tonight (Friday) in another district contest.

State Capitol Highlights:

January 31 Deadline For Poll Tax Payments; Safer To Do It Now

By—Vern Sanford

Most important date for the Texas voter this month is Jan. 31. After that it will be too late to get a poll tax receipt that will enable him to participate in this year's merry-go-round of political events.

Since 1960 is a presidential election year, lines will probably be long on the night of the 31st. Safest course is to do it now.

This year's poll tax receipts, for the first time, have a place for the owner's party affiliation to be stamped. But the voter doesn't have to decide this when he pays the tax.

Decision is made when the holder casts his primary vote. A person who votes in the Democratic primary will have his receipt stamped "Democrat." That means he can't go to a Republican convention that evening.

Also, if he fails to go to the Democratic primary to vote and doesn't have his receipt stamped at all, he can't get into a Democratic precinct convention.

As far as the general election in November is concerned, the new party registration law apparently makes little difference. There would be no way for anyone to know whether the holder of a receipt stamped for one party vote that party's straight ticket in the general election.

BLANKETS STATE

First goal of the Johnson-for-President organization in Texas has been reached.

Clubs have been organized in all 254 counties in the state, according to Director Larry Blackmon.

Goal was reached just about a month after the state headquarters was set up in Austin. In addition, there are about six other clubs in Texas and several out of state.

Supporters of Sen. Lyndon Johnson are expected to keep the state lively during the coming months.

OLD AND THE NEW—Helicopters of Britain's Royal Navy churn the air over an historic backdrop. St. Michael's Mount with its ancient castle off Cornwall.

RELOCATION PAYMENTS

City officials and private utilities are joyful over a State Supreme Court's decision that will save the cities and companies some $28,000,000.

High court ruled constitutional the law that provides for the state to reimburse cities and companies for the expense of moving utilities for interstate highway building projects.

Law was passed by the Legislature in 1957. It was challenged by the Attorney General's Department for the Highway Department of grounds it violated the constitutional prohibition of "donating" public funds to private firms.

Austin, Dallas and four utility companies were combined in the test case. Their attorneys contended the reimbursement was simply payment for work done for the state.

Austin city officials called the decision "a lifesaver." It will save the city $500,000 on one project. Dallas County will save an estimated $9,000,000.

Ninety per cent of the money the state spends on the interstate highway system comes from the federal government.

TRAFFIC TOLL CUT

Texans were more careful than expected in their year-end travel.

Department of Public Safety predicted that 111 would be killed on the roads during the Christmas-New Year period. Tentative total is only 91. There may be more if some of those seriously injured do not recover.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, thanked all the news organizations, official agencies and law enforcement officers who worked to make Texans safety conscious.

AUTO RATES BECOME ISSUE

Pros and cons of the new merit rating system for auto insurance are expected to be at issue in the 1960 campaign.

Some legislators have been highly critical of the plan to make drivers with accident and violation records pay more for insurance. Other lawmakers have defended it.

Gov. Price Daniel says he favors correction of any inequities that may exist in the program.

Industry is divided. A spokesman for the National Association of Independent Insurers has announced that his group will try to get the Insurance Board's plan replaced with a flexible rating law. Legislature has twice turned down flexible rating, which allows companies to set their own rates.

Other industry groups have endorsed the merit plan, some with statements that it may need adjustments, but should be given a fair trial.

THERMOMETERS "LEGALIZED"

All the people who have been unknowingly breaking the law in regard to possession of mercury are off the hook.

Court of Criminal Appeals has declared void an old, forgotten section of a law making it a felony offense to have mercury without a bill of sale or proof of legal ownership.

Law was aimed at preventing the stealing of mercury from pipeline meters.

Uncounted thousands of housewives and doctors have flouted it by buying thermometers and medicines containing mercury and throwing away the bill of sale.

TRINITY HEARING

Desirability of a new Trinity River Dam near Houston is still a point of controversy before the State Water Board.

Hearing began in November, recessed for the holidays, then began with all participants swinging hard.

Houston and the Trinity River Authority are asking a permit to build a dam and a salt water barrier. Project would supply an estimated 1,200,000,000 gallons of water daily, the better part to be used by Houston.

San Jacinto River Authority is opposing the dam. Its spokesmen contend Houston should develop the San Jacinto and leave Trinity water to the Trinity basin.

SHORT SNORTS

State cigarette taxes for December totaled $6,738,896, almost a 50 per cent increase from a year ago. Liquor tax collections also were up, said the state treasurer's office, from $900,318 in December, 1958, to $1,154,041 this year. . . . A statewide survey of the prob-

Importance Of Soil Structure Is Emphasized

The importance of soil structure in influencing soil productivity cannot be overemphasized, according to James Barnhill of the local Soil Conservation Service.

Soil structure refers to the arrangement of soil particles or aggregates. An individual aggregate is called a ped and is contrasted with a clod which is caused by disturbance such as plowing or digging.

The space, called pores, between the aggregate is importance because this is where air, moisture and plant nutrients are stored. In order for these supplies to be available to plants, the roots must penetrate the soil through these pores.

Under virgin conditions this was no problem, but now with heavy machinery, concentrated tillage, and the removal of crop residue, man has used up much of the organic matter and compacted the soil, squeezing the aggregates together. This plow pan restricts air, moisture and plant roots from entering the subsoil.

To maintain soil structure in the Runnels Soil Conservation District, as much crop residue as possible should be returned to the soil, says Barnhill. Also, tillage should be cut to a minimum and performed only when the soil is dry enough to work without puddling.

Nowadays men don't talk about women as much as they used to. Most of today's conversation is devoted to overtime and time-and-a-half.

President's State-of-the-Union Message Rosy: $200 Million Surplus

By Cong. O. C. Fisher

THE PRESIDENT'S state-of-the-Union message contained at least two rosy points that stood out: first, he announced that it now appears the budget for the current fiscal year, despite the steel strike, will be balanced with $200 million to spare. Secondly, he gave advance notice that the budget for the next fiscal year, which will be officially released later this month, will be balanced with $4 billion surplus.

In commenting on the general economic outlook, the President said with confidence that "1960 promises to be the most prosperous year in our history".

The prospective $4 billion surplus next year should, the President said, be applied to reduce the national debt. With this I agree. But the surplus is not certain. There is already a rash of brand new spending measures pending, and this is election year. But if the line can be held against non-essentials, the outlook is bright and encouraging.

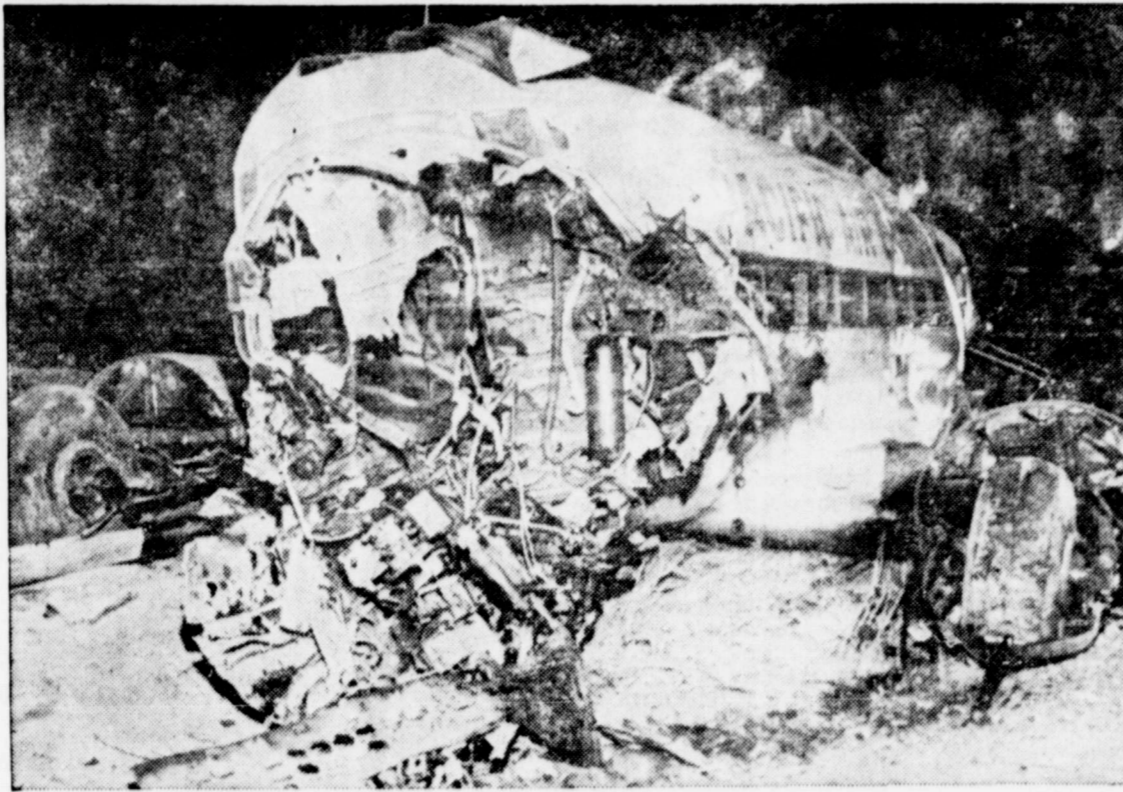

AS IS ALWAYS TRUE on Presidential election years, the Capitol Hill atmosphere is thick with politics. Already the highly vocal radical-liberal group in the Senate is threatening Senator Johnson's leadership. They have been joined by a new recruit—Senator Gore of Tennessee, who with certain reservations has joined hands with Douglas, Proxmire, Morse, Clark, and a few other extremists in a flight presumably for more state welfare and liberal legislation.

There are political overtones in such rumblings which could, if they become disgustingly vocal, redound to the benefits to Senator Johnson in advancing his Presidential prospects.

AMONG RECENT VISITORS have been Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Barnes of San Angelo; Mrs. Sayers Farmer and daughters Mrs. R. M. Spencer and Mrs. D. K. Akers, of Junction. Mrs. Spencer's husband, a graduate of the Naval Academy, is stationed in Washington and is assigned to an Atomic Energy research mission.

Science fiction is now getting so far ahead that working scientists won't be able to catch up with this year's comic books for another decade.

SEVENTEEN PASSENGERS LIVED—Although the nose of this airliner was demolished when it crashed in Santa Maria, Calif., 17 passengers were not injured. The pilot was killed.

Truck Owners Are Subject To Federal Highway Use Tax

Four thousand letters are being mailed to Texas truck owners, according to Mr. A. E. Fogle, Jr., Administrative Officer of the Abilene, Texas office.

A comparison of state registration records and the Internal Revenue Service records revealed that most of these taxpayers are delinquent in filing and paying the Federal highway use tax. Mr. Fogle explained that it appears that many truck owners did not seem to understand that they were subject to the Federal Highway use tax. He further explained that the letters to the truck owners contain full instructions on how to prepare a return and pay the tax. He invited truck owners, who have questions or who do not understand the letter of instruction, to visit the Internal Revenue Service office for further help.

Really now, isn't the most curious thing in the world a woman who isn't?

Mr. Barber, formally district attorney for Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry and Borden Counties, was found dead in the garage of his Corpus Christi home shortly after 3 p.m. Saturday. He had been shot with a .12 gauge shotgun, which was found next to the body. Justice of Peace W. A. Gilleland of Corpus Christi returned a verdict of suicide Sunday. Mr. Barber had been in ill health for the last year and was recently hospitalized for six weeks.

Mr. Barber was born in Monument, New Mexico and moved from Winters to Abilene in 1927 with his mother, the late Mrs. Bertha Barber. While in Winters, he played football at Winters High School. He played on the 1928 Abilene state championship football team and was named all state guard that year. In his senior year at Abilene High School, he won the state championship in news story writing contest, was chosen the most valuable student by the student body, was in the highest 10 percent in scholastic rating and received a scholarship to the University of Texas where he played guard on the freshman undefeated football team in 1929, and was on the varsity championship team in 1930.

In 1930, he married the former Dorothy Green, daughter of the late C. L. Green, in Winters. Mr. Barber continued in the university in 1931 and later studied law during his spare time while working as a road log supervisor with the accounting division of the State Highway Department. He received his license to practice law in 1934 following a special examination before the Supreme Court. After his admission to the bar, he was associated with his brother, Dell, former Mitchell County attorney, and Charles C. Thompson, former county judge, in private practice in Colorado City. He was a member of the Colorado City's Lions Club, Masonic Lodge and active in the Baptist Church.

He entered the district attorney's office in January 1939 and was re-elected twice without opposition. He served as treasurer, secretary, vice president and president of the Texas District and County Attorney's Association.

Mr. Barber served as a lieutenant (jg) in the Naval Reserve and was sent to Corpus Christi as an executive officer at Ward Island in 1943. Following World War II, Mr. Barber made his home in Corpus Christi where he was a member of the First Baptist Church, and past president of the Six Point Kiwanis Club. He recently opened a law office with his brother, Perry, Colorado City attorney. Mr. Barber was also a member of the Nueces County, Texas and American Bar Association.

Survivors include his wife; one son, J. Truett Jr. of Corpus Christi; one daughter, Mrs. Sam Amspoker of Corpus Christi; three brothers, Perry, whose family is still in Colorado City, Dell of Colorado City and Bob, an attorney in Tucson, Ariz; one sister, Mrs. D. W. Haralson, Abilene; and four grandchildren.

The Eastland girls basketball team received their first district defeat of the season Thursday night, crumbling before an onslaught by the Winters Blizzardettes. The Winters girls took the game 51-36.

Rita Walker led the way as Winters chalked up a 16-8 margin, and then doubled that figure 32-16 at intermission.

The girls' B team defeated the Ballinger B team 48-18 the same evening. Carolyn Rice was high with 18 points, followed by Sue Deaton with 12. The B team has lost only one game this season.

The Blizzardettes were scheduled to meet a non-district opponent Thursday night, after which they will go after their third district win when they meet the Ballinger girls Jan. 18 in the Winters school gym. Then on Jan. 21 they will play Coleman.

Coleman is tied with Winters in district competition, and that game will determine the leadership in the district. The two top teams are scheduled to meet again before the end of the season, on Feb. 8.

The Winters girls will meet Anson here on Jan. 25. Eastland here Feb. 1. Coleman, there, Feb. 8, and Cisco, here, Feb. 15. On Feb. 4, 5 and 6, they will participate in the Hardin-Simmons tournament.

About $55 was stolen from the Methodist Church Dec. 29 and about $50 Tuesday night. About $175 was missing from the lumber yard, $3-$4 from the implement company, and $5 from the wrecking yard, officers said.

Police said arrest of the four would clear up nearly all of the recent burglaries in Ballinger.

In San Angelo, police said they had obtained a copy of the statement made by the three and that court action probably would be taken sometime Thursday. They said the burglaries in San Angelo mostly involved small amounts, and added that the break-ins mainly were at schools and churches.
