Evidence that Winters is continuing to grow is contained in a release by A. J. Lacy, division manager for the Southwestern States Telephone Company this week.

In addition to the fact that the number of telephones installed in Winters has more than doubled in the past ten years, a 5.7 percent increase in the last twelve months is revealed. At the end of December, 1958, there were 1319 telephones here. That compares with 1394 at the end of December, 1959.

In comparing the number of telephones with past years, this is revealed: At the end of 1949, there were 617 telephones installed in Winters.

Just reading about an Old Timers vs. Young 'uns benefit basketball played in another city. The Old Timers' coach got his team to work out a few minutes before the game, and the game had to be postponed a week so they could rest up.

There hasn't been much tub-thumping about the record of the Winters High School basketball team has turned in this season, but that doesn't mean it has all gone unnoticed. At the start of the season, the Winters boys were picked to go to the finish line away behind some of the other teams in District 7AA, but Coach Jerry English's tutoring, has put them on the top shelf with Cisco, the pre-season favorites.

The locals have played several tight-fitting games this season — like the one Tuesday night against Eastland, 35-33 — during which they went into three overtimes.

Tonight (Friday), the Winters boys go to Cisco for their most important game. The two teams are tied for the top notch, each with a record of 8-1, and action should be outstanding. Cisco lost to Winters here—40-38—in the last game of the first round of play—their only loss. Winters lost to Coleman 52-46 in Coleman, in the first round.

Incidentally, if you plan to attend tonight's game in Cisco, and you have room for more passengers, contact the high school. Several interested fans have indicated they would like to see this last game — the championship event — and rides are needed.

There has been a touch of spring in the air for the past few days — and Tuesday it seemed that half of West Texas was in the air. The worst dust storm in several years hit this area about mid-day, along with high winds. We haven't heard of any serious damage done by the wind, outside of a lot of trash cans overturned. The winds did bring in a lot of tumbleweeds, though. Travis Jordan said he saw one tumbleweed which he figured had been blown all the way from Lamesa. Said by the time it got here it was worn down until nothing but the shadow rolled down the street.

The Enterprise is in receipt of a letter from the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce. It is reproduced herewith:

"To the People of Winters:
"The heading on a news article concerning two candidates for political office in the Friday, February 4th, edition of the San Angelo Standard Times said: 'Ballinger Opposes Winters'.

"The people as a whole in Ballinger resent this insinuation. If Ballinger is against Winters in any thing, it is news to us. As a city Ballinger has not entered anyone in any political race against anyone. We feel that the people of any political district should vote as they please and for whom they think is the best man regardless of where they live in the district. We believe that the people of Winters feel the same about this.

"We feel that both Ballinger and Winters resent the insinuation of this daily newspaper that these two good towns are having a brawl, or that either of these towns are against the other.

"The city of Winters and the people of Winters are our friends. Furthermore we feel that this feeling is returned in kind. Ballinger knows that there is no such thing as just one town growing. Both cities will grow as both cities promote this area. It can be no other way.

"We are ready and willing to help Winters at any time. Just let us know. As Winters grows, so will we.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) Edward L. Davis

Valley Creek Flood Control Program Approved By 165 Voters Saturday

Resident, qualified property tax paying voters Saturday authorized directors of the Valley Creek Water Control District to go ahead with plans for a $2,000,000 flood control program in the Valley Creek watershed. The area comprises parts of three counties, Taylor, Nolan and Runnels.

Official returns, according to Duncan Hensley, secretary of the board, were 167 for and 116 against the assessment of 5 cents on the $100 valuation to maintain flood detention structures when completed.

The board was also authorized by the same vote to issue a maximum bond amount not to exceed $100,000 to pay the district's share of the costs of constructing 15 to 20 flood detention structures in the watershed of Valley Creek.

The official vote for the assessment of the 5 cent tax and for the issuance of the revenue bonds was as follows:

	For	Against
Wingate	43	35
Shep	46	10
North Norton	38	43
Valley View	24	14
Hylton	16	14
Totals	167	116

The next step in the project, according to members of the board, is to proceed with the project as outlined by House Bill 944, passed by the 56th Legislature at its regular session in 1959, which created the water control district.

The voters' approval Saturday of the issuance of a maximum amount of $100,000 in tax bonds, to bear interest at 6 percent and mature in 25 years, provides the money necessary to:

"Purchase, construct, acquire, improve and repair dams or other structures or permanent improvements;

"To acquire land, easements, rights-of-way, property or equipment which may be needed to utilize, control and distribute any waters that may be impounded, diverted or controlled by the district;

"Or to cover other expenses incidental or in conjunction therewith."

When all legal aspects of the bond vote and maintenance tax are cleared up and money is available, the board of directors can proceed with obtaining engineering details of the proposed structures in the watershed, obtain necessary easements on all property involved.

When these are finalized, bids for construction of the flood detention structures may be advertised and

MOD Drive Completed

The March of Dimes fund campaign was completed last week, with a total of $781.64 collected in Winters. Homer Hudgins, campaign chairman for North Runnels County, said that all phases of the drive had been completed.

The balloon sale, conducted by the Sub Deb and Goal Diggers club girls, was held two weeks ago, and a total of $225.25 was collected. Rodney Cathey had charge of this phase of the drive.

The Mothers' March, held by members of the VFW Auxiliary, Garden Club, Junior Culture Club and the Literary and Service Club collected a total of $179.94.

Several business places in Winters donated the proceeds from one day's coffee sales to the drive collecting $60.86 for the March of Dimes fund. Businesses taking part in this phase of the campaign were Smith Drug, Main Drug, Pierce's Cafeteria, Chick-Inn, and the Cowboy Cafe.

Payne's Laundry donated one day's receipts to the fund, which amounted to $40.00. Organizations donating to the fund were the Dale Sewing Club, $5.00, and the Home Demonstration Club, $5.00.

Collection canisters were placed in several stores during the drive, and a total of $34.09 was received.

Downtown collections amounted to $231.50, Hudgins said.

Hudgins said that about 90 percent of the funds received in the campaign would remain in the county. Some of the funds will be forwarded to the National Foundation to be used in fighting the effects of polio, research on arthritis and birth defects. Hudgins pointed out that in the past this county had received more funds from the National Foundation to help local cases than had been collected in the county.

Hudgins has expressed his personal thanks to the many who contributed to this cause, and also his appreciation to those individuals and organizations who helped to make the campaign a success.

C. of C. Directors Met Tuesday For Regular Session

The board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce voted Tuesday night to help publicize Public School Week, Feb. 29-March 4, and a committee has been appointed to make announcements at the local churches Feb. 28 regarding the special week.

The board, in postponed session also discussed a possible date for the dedication for the new post office building. Postmaster Rankin Pace was a visitor at the meeting of the board, and suggested that Feb. 28 be selected as the date for the dedication of the post office, which was completed a while before Christmas, 1959.

A trade at home program will be started in the near future, headed by the Retail Trade committee of the chamber of commerce.

Suggested holidays for 1960 were discussed, but no action was taken during Tuesday night's meeting. There was a suggestion that merchants be polled by post card ballot on their preference of holidays during the year.

T. L. Hatler, head of the committee on numbering houses in Winters, reported that all residences are numbered. Business buildings are yet to be numbered, he reported, but numbers have been ordered and will be installed soon. The chamber of commerce purchased the house numbers and installed most of them, at no cost to residents.

The annual membership drive will begin Monday, Feb. 29.

Food Taken From Freezer In Eubanks Home Sunday Night

Burglars broke into the deep freeze in the Charlie Eubanks home nine miles southwest of Winters, Sunday night.

Items taken from the deep freeze included three dozen eggs six quarts of blackberries, four packages of ground meat, 2 1/2 pounds of butter, three chickens, and 11 dressed hens.

The Eubanks discovered that someone had entered the house while they were attending church. They found the butter churn knocked over but didn't find anything missing. Monday morning they checked the deep freeze and discovered the theft.

Deputy Sheriff Johnny Wilson of Winters, investigating officer said the deep freeze was damaged slightly when a lock was pried off to open it. He stated that the family had been keeping it locked in recent weeks.

Cancer Crusade To Begin In Near Future In Runnels County

State workers for the American Cancer Society were in Ballinger last week to make plans for the Cancer Crusade to be held in the near future. Mrs. E. H. Boelsche is county chairman and Dr. Z. I. Hale is chairman for Winters and the northern part of the county.

No definite plans have been made, however an attempt will be made to raise more money this year than has been raised in the past. Dr. Hale is serving as chairman in the northern part of the county and in Winters and Mrs. Harry Lynn of Ballinger is the memorial gifts chairman. Mrs. Lynn will be glad to accept memorial gifts and will send a card to those designated to be notified by the donor.

During the year a large number of these gifts are made and this money goes into the society funds to be used for research in the fight against cancer.

A special gifts chairman will be announced within a short time and they will contact large contributors to get the Crusade underway in this area. Later a door to door canvass will be planned and everyone given an opportunity to fight against cancer.

Olin Culberson is serving as the 1960 state Crusade chairman for Texas. A complete organization will be set up as fast as workers can be secured.

FROM LEVELLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Cooke of Levelland visited Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Mayhew.

Waggoner Carr, Speaker of the State House of Representatives, and a candidate for the office of attorney general, will be the principal speaker at the annual chamber of commerce banquet Thursday evening, February 18. The affair will be held in the school cafeteria, beginning at 7 o'clock. Carr, 40, who is serving his fourth consecutive term as a member of the Texas Legislature, is from Lubbock, where he is a partner in a law firm. He recently announced his plans to seek the post of attorney general, the office now being held by Will Wilson.

John W. Norman will be master of ceremonies, and the invocation will be given by the Rev. Leslie E. Ellison, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

A. W. Libbe president of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, will introduce the board of directors and will give the highlights of the year.

Winters Mayor Harvey Dale Jones will introduce the speaker. Entertainment for the evening will include vocal numbers by Mrs. J. N. Clark, Jr., accompanied at the piano by Robert Gans.

Decorations for the banquet will be arranged by the wives of the 1959 board of directors.

Incoming directors are Harry Herman, John Norman, Russell Mote, Bob Loyd, and Homer Hudgins. Holdover directors are A. W. Libbe, T. L. Hatler, Dr. John E. Griffin, Gus Voss, and Robert Everett.

Outgoing directors are John Waddell, J. W. Bahlman, James Hinds, C. P. Alfrey and Max Lewis.

Carr attended the University of Texas School of Law at Austin, and was in the army during World War II. After the war, he was appointed assistant district attorney for the 72nd Judicial District, and later was elected county attorney for Lubbock County and served one term, during which more criminal cases were brought to trial than in any previous two-year period.

Upon expiration of his term as county attorney, he was elected as a member of the 52nd Texas Legislature in 1950 as representative from the old 119th District.

He now represents the 97th District, created by re-districting the populous area. Carr has been elected to four subsequent terms as Representative, and has served as a member of the Revenue and Taxation Committee. As acting chairman of the Crime Investigation Committee, Carr spearheaded a probe in November, 1952, of bootlegging activities. He was commended following the close of the hearings on his "hard-hitting investigation of organized crime."

Carr is author of the Texas hot check law, the current legislative re-districting statute and the present small-claims court statute. He was unanimously elected by the members of the House of Representatives as Speaker of the House for the 55th Legislature in January, 1957, and again elected Speaker of the House of the 56th Legislature. He is the third man in history to be elected to serve a second consecutive term as Speaker of the Texas House.

Roger Babson Says

'Science Fairs' In High Schools May Discover Talented Young People

Babson Park, Mass., Feb. 11—When I was in Moscow, getting statistics relating to its public school system, I was asked what we are doing to teach science to our teenagers. By "science" the Moscow school authorities mean mathematics, physics, and chemistry.

What Are Science Fairs? For definite information I could think only of the work of William Guild of St. Petersburg, Fla. in developing Science Fairs, Science Clubs, and Previews-for-Teachers.

This work especially interests me as it discovers young people with exceptional natural talents. Any of these might easily become an Edison or a Steinmetz or some other great inventor if given individual attention when young.

Since my return, I have mailed back to Moscow clippings from newspapers describing this work. I have also mentioned the work of the Osborn Creative Educational Foundation of Buffalo, N. Y., which is endeavoring to awaken the creative possibilities in all people. Both of these are non-profit institutions supported by gifts from interested donors.

What Makes Grass Green? Guild's theory is that the true scientist is the one whose curiosity has led him to inquire into everything that 99 percent of the people take for granted. At an exhibit given by youngsters at Tampa, Fla., I noticed a boy with four saucers on his desk. One had peas, another yellow carrots, a third red beans, and a fourth white corn. When I asked him why they were on his desk, he replied: "To make me curious as to why the different colors from the same soil, same water, and same sunshine." He is much unlike a U. S. Secretary of Defense who is reported to have said: "I'm not interested in why the grass is green."

The primary intent of these Science Fairs is to stimulate a youngster's native curiosity into a lively desire to find out the reason

Funeral Rites For W. G. Bennett Held In Abilene

Funeral services for W. G. (Bill) Bennett, 81, former resident of Winters and brother-in-law of J. W. Adams Sr., were held Saturday afternoon in Elliot's Chapel of Memories in Abilene. Mr. Bennett died Thursday in the Morris Nursing Home in Roscoe.

The Rev. David Hamblin, pastor of Fair Park Methodist Church in Abilene, officiated and burial was in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

A long-time resident of Winters, Mr. Bennett for several years operated a horse-drawn freight line between Ballinger and Abilene.

Survivors include one son, Leonard of Abilene; one daughter, Mrs. Ida Mae Eckstine of Kerrville; one sister, Mrs. Hattie Davidson of Loraine and six grandchildren.

Those attending the funeral from Winters were J. W. Adams Sr., J. W. Adams Jr., Alice Adams, Mrs. J. E. Hill and Maudella.

United States and Russia Compared

Yet I am happy to say that this voluntary American program is already being used in fifty one cities of Florida alone, and I do not know how many are starting in other states; while the Moscow system is hunting for prospects in over 1,000 Russian cities. This is something that our Defense Department should take seriously. I would like to see the Guild Science Center given each year for this work the cost of one missile experiment. It would save our country a billion dollars a year as well as perhaps prevent World War III.

I hope this story will cause the superintendents of schools in the wide-awake cities to send for further information. There is no cost to any city for putting on a "Science Fair." It interests the teachers and parents greatly. In fact, these "Fairs" could help in selecting new teachers; the more useful teachers like to be in a city which operates a Science Fair once each year, and the kids certainly love it all.

World's Most Marvelous Machine

—The Human Brain

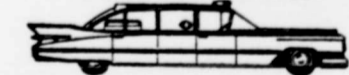

Once at a dinner in London I was so fortunate as to sit next to George Bernard Shaw. Among other questions he put to me was this: "Why is it that the most marvelous of all machines, possessed by everyone, is so seldom used and why does this especially apply to you Americans?" When I asked him the name of this most marvelous machine, he replied, "The human brain, used to less than five percent of capacity."

I then asked him how the use of the brain could be increased, and he replied, "By developing people's curiosity . . . 95 percent of what you Americans read or hear or hear actually goes in one ear and out the other. It is only when something heard or seen develops one's curiosity that this marvelous brain works for a few minutes." This is what the Science Center is trying to do. I wish William Guild would not be content to apply the work only to youngsters. Bankers and investors are especially guilty of acting upon "tips" instead of thinking about and studying the valuable facts which are available.

Amusements Coming to Local Theatres

AT THE STATE THEATRE

"Compulsion"
 "Compulsion," Darryl F. Zanuck Productions' Cinema Scope drama based on Meyer Levin's daringly realistic account of Chicago's infamous teen-age "thrill-killers," will open at the State Theatre Friday and Saturday. Starring Orson Welles, Diane Varsi, Dean Stockwell and Bradford Dillman. "Compulsion" marks the film-making debut of its producer, Richard D. Zanuck, and was directed by Robert Fleischer.

Set in 1924, the story concerns two young men of high intellect, both law students at a midwestern university. At first they appear to be above average young students, but it is soon evident that each suffers from a serious emotional disturbance. The latter leads them to plan and execute a senseless and brutal act, which the newspapers call "the crime of the century." Fast work by the state's attorney and the alertness of a young reporter brings forth a confession from the young criminals and the nation's foremost criminal lawyer is hired to plead their case.

"The Man Who Could Cheat Death"

Film fans who enjoy blood-chilling horror entertainment will have an opportunity to see the most in those departments when the Paramount release, "The Man Who Could Cheat Death" arrives Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre.

The Hammer production, in Technicolor, stars three excellent and attractive performers—Anton Diffring, gorgeous Hazel Court and Christopher Lee, all of whom have been seen on many top television shows. Miss Court will also be remembered as the heroine of an earlier Hammer thriller, "The Curse of Frankenstein."

 Jack Webb, the nation's most honored "cop," bids fair to become the nation's best-known newspaperman as a result of his motion picture —30—, coming to the State Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Filmed by his Mark VII Ltd. for Warner Bros. release, —30— is the first authentic glimpse into a news paper in a generation, Webb said. "Not since 'Front Page' has the Fourth Estate been given such extensive treatment in an entertainment vehicle. But in —30—, we remove the fourth wall of a big city newspaper for eight hours and lay bare its workings," said Webb. "We tell the truth about how newspapermen feel about the tragedy, despair and toil they meet everyday," he added.

February Is Month Of Importance To Girl Scout Program

Mrs. Clem Rozmen, community chairman of the Winters Girl Scout Association, in announcing February as International Month in Girl Scouting said this week, "Many activities in the Girl Scout program increase girls' interest in and understanding of people, and encourage a willing sharing in the chores of life as well as creative participation in the betterment of life."

"A service project is often the starting point for such widened experience outside a girl's own troop. While service is by no means the whole of citizenship training, it is an important aspect of it. More than that, it can be the gateway to many of the skills and individual qualities that make a good citizen. Thinking of service in terms of special credit or number of hours, or choosing the quick and easy way, defeats what we are trying to do," Mrs. Rozmen emphasized. "We want our girls to realize that the satisfaction of having carried a civic responsibility well is the real reward of service."

"We encourage creativeness when we give girls the opportunity to explore thoughtfully the different, the interesting, the most suitable way to carry out a project. Continuity and creativeness, common to all good programs, are especially important in service activities in order to keep them from lapsing into the routine and imitative. An imaginative touch on the part of the leader is necessary. Then, to open eyes, alert minds, and sensitive hearts, even the limited service project may open up a treasure of meaningful experience."

"The fourth law of the Girl Scout Saws says 'A Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout.' All of us need help in making this law a part of ourselves. All of us need to examine our hearts and our actions before we can share ourselves and the world with other people."

Crews Community Believes In Togetherness

By MRS. WALTER DIXON

Citizens of Crews believe in togetherness for the betterment of their community. In fact, since they have organized for that purpose it has paid off in many ways. The greatest satisfaction has come from the achievements which have won for them cash prizes in a statewide contest, sponsored by different organizations, one of which was the A. and M. Extension Service Department.

After their school became a part of the consolidation program they decided there must be a community center, so they chose the gymnasium and set the first Saturday night in each month to meet. Officers were elected and plans formulated for the meetings. They voted to have supper, a program and a business meeting each time. During these business meetings problems are presented and worked out, reports are heard on what should be done to improve the community as a whole, and when a decision is made they go into action. There is no pay, except a feeling of civic pride. It is all by volunteer services. There are no dues to be paid, but a chance to donate is given at each meeting. This money is used to keep up the gym and for other necessary expenses.

Last year they won first prize in the district improvement contest. The state is divided into 14 districts and $100.00 is awarded the first place winners, and then three district winners compete for first place in the state. That award is for $500. Year before last they won second place for $50 in the district. They have entered for the coming year and say they are going after the first place in the state. It means hard work as the rules must be followed explicitly. A record must be kept and a scrapbook showing pictures of what they have done. One year they staged a fair in the gym, and the judges gave them a high rating for their efforts in showing what they had done and were doing.

The women play a very important part in helping to keep the organization functioning. They are the hostesses for the Saturday night suppers and they also have charge of the programs. The Home Demonstration Club in the community works with the organization in the improvement. They took on the task of painting signs, which were erected on the highway. The signs have the names of the families who live on a certain farm road. Other projects include the upkeep of the cemetery. They have built a tool house and have set out shrubbery and planted flowers at the cemetery.

Both organizations have an interest in the gym. They have replaced windows, piped water in, and made it a comfortable place to meet. At these meetings a report is given on sick neighbors and announced if anyone needs help.

One of the projects for the coming year will be to get telephones in the homes.

Chester McBeth is president this year; S. D. Faubion, vice president; S. J. Brevard, secretary, and O. C. Fuller, treasurer.

At the monthly meeting Saturday night, the men staged a "Womanless Wedding." Taking part were Noble Faubion, Reed McMillan, Arthur Allcorn, L. C. Fuller, Robert Gerhart, L. C. Foster, Orville Pierce, Lyndon McBeth, Eugene Mathis, Clyde Brevard, Wilmer Gerhart, Eldon Mathis, Calvin Hoppe, Johnny Johnson, Therin Osborn, Johnny Mathis, Elwin Bridwell, M. R. Petree and Enoch Johnson.

Approximately 250 attended the affair, and immediately after the program a supper was served from a long table. Visitors were there from Ballinger, Winters, Talpa, Coleman, Novice, Glen Cove and other places.

Evans reported that in one history book recently printed only one paragraph was about World War I. He also stressed plans to keep alive the hospitalization program, after adoption of pension legislation; carry through with plans now in the making to build a memorial to veterans of World War I on twelve and one-half acre plot to be made available just over the line in Virginia, near the National Capitol.

Use More Lime-For More Alfalfa

Alfalfa needs a lot of lime to produce high yields and to live to a ripe old age. Recent experiments in other states have shown that farmers have not been applying as much lime as alfalfa needs, according to John Box, extension assistant agronomist.

In experiments where the soil pH was kept in the range 6.2-6.5, the alfalfa produced an average of 4 tons per acre for 5 years. When the pH was raised to 7.0-7.3 the average yield was nearly 5 tons of hay per acre for the five years. The total hay produced in five years was 20 tons for the regular lime treatment compared to 24 tons for the high lime plot.

Lime doesn't act fast and you need to put it on the land at least two to four months before seeding, the agronomist pointed out. If the soil is sour, lime should be spread a year before seeding alfalfa. You can't tell how much lime is needed just by looking at the soil. The soil testing laboratory can accurately judge how much lime is needed and how often to repeat the treatment.

Don't guess about lime needs for alfalfa, warns Box. Have your soil tested. It gives more tons of hay per acre, makes the phosphorus in the soil more available to the plants and sweetens the soil (raises pH), which means the stand will last longer.

Soil test information can be applied to your field for higher alfalfa yields, and more profit.

Statistics on the number of people who talk themselves out of jobs would be interesting, if available.

WCS Met Tuesday At Church For Regular Meeting

Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met Tuesday morning in the parlor of the First Methodist Church for their second session of the study "Luke's Portrait of Christ."

The opening song was "Jesus Calls Us," and Mrs. G. W. Comegys presided for the business session.

Mrs. W. W. Parramore, chairman, discussed the picture, "The Boy Jesus at the Temple," and Mrs. E. H. Baker read the scripture Luke 2:41-52. Mrs. W. J. Poe gave the devotional taken from Luke 14:12-14, and Mrs. M. E. Leeman reviewed the first three chapters of the study. Mrs. W. D. Sanders led the responsive reading, "The Magnificat," and Mrs. Jerry English sang "Jesus Shall Reign." Mrs. Parramore led the closing prayer.

Those present were Mesdames Sam Jones, Frank Mitchell, Hugh Baker, Thad Traylor, Paul Gerhardt, Jerry English, Carl Baldwin, George Rosson, C. E. Briley, W. T. Stanley, Elmo Mayhew, E. L. Crockett, W. D. Sanders, G. E. Shook, August Vater, D. A. Dobbins, Louisa Johnson, Ella Ritch, Lee Herman, M. E. Leeman, W. J. Poe, W. W. Parramore, G. W. Comegys, Gattis Neely, W. G. Holbert, E. L. Craig, J. D. Vinson, and Miss Hilda Bahman.

Depreciation On Livestock Should Be Considered

Farm and ranch operators should not overlook annual depreciation on purchased livestock. Depreciation is allowable on breeding animals used in the business, points out C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Observations show that most farm and ranch operators claim depreciation on buildings and equipment, but few take this deduction on livestock. Claims for allowable depreciation are of greater consequence when cost of the animals is well above their "salvage" value.

Generally, salvage value is the estimated market price of animals after they have passed normal "useful life" to the taxpayer, says Bates. Thus, replacement cows or bulls bought for relatively high prices would be entitled to greater depreciation allowance normally. Higher than average prices prevailed during late 1958 and through 1959, so this item is very important for animals bought in this period.

For example, let's assume that 10 young range cows were bought in January 1959 for $225 each and the operator plans to use them for six years, barring disease or accident. Let's use $75 per head salvage value for this group; therefore, $150 may be depreciated for each cow over the 6 years. This would mean $25 per cow or $250 annually for the 10 head. If greater numbers are involved, the depreciation deduction would be proportionately greater.

If allowable depreciation is not claimed each year, the operator loses the deduction. Every ranchman or livestock producer should discuss this question with whom ever makes his tax report. Many tax accountants have devised sheets for keeping continuous depreciation records on the same animals for a period of years, the specialist.

At a ripe age all any parent wants from his children is some credit for having tried to do his best.

Coke County Pays Bounty For Rattlers

Coke County paid $3,921 in bounty to rattlesnake hunters in 1959, according to Warden Raymond Taylor, stationed in that county. Some 5,842 snakes were captured. Bounties were paid as rattles were deposited at the County Clerk's office. Each hunter had to prove that the snakes were taken in Coke County.

Only 87 sets of rattles were turned in the first month. However, this number increased during the spring and summer, as snakes began coming out of their dens.

The biggest increase came later during the winter months, when hunters captured large numbers of snakes in their dens.

Many individuals have become snake-hunting professionals. Taylor reports that one hunter collected some $736.50 in snake bounties from October through December. This same hunter found and killed 62 rattlers under one rock. He took 253 sets of rattles one day, and 251 sets on another occasion.

"Our Fight Against Organized Evil" is the subject for next Sunday's Lesson. Illustration: "Where ever truth is preached vigorously, there is bound to be opposition. As the cause of God advances, Satan resists it. Persecution may have many apparent causes, but usually it is roused by those who resist the claims of Christ on their lives and who consequently hate His people."

"A recent bulletin from an evangelist in Europe tells how he conducted meetings in an Italian village with the cooperation of a grocer who took his vacation to preach in the services. The local priest ran opposition meetings and processions, and the evangelist was informed by the secret service that he had violated the laws of the country and would have to leave. Since the constitution guarantees freedom of speech and of religion, he appealed his case and was awaiting a verdict. His experience duplicates Paul's in our century."

Blizzards Cagers Go For Broke At Cisco Tonight

By Billy Lynn LITTLE
The cards are all on the table—it's been a long, hard road, but Coach Jerry English and his Blizzards have pounded out an 8-1 district record—but this is only good enough to tie them with Cisco's Lobos for the District 7AA lead.

The Blizzards, after having a pre-season record of 5-7, have played 5 games that were decided by 4 points or less in carving their niche in the basketball news.

Tonight (Friday) the Blizzards make the journey to far-off Loboland for the showdown.

Tonight's game will be the second meeting of the two clubs. At the first battle, in the Stamford tournament, the red-hot Lobos downed the Blue 70-48, after jumping to a 17-4 first quarter lead which the Blizzards never got back.

The story was a different one, however, when the Lobos battled the Blue on Winters' home court. The Blizzards took a 40-38 victory, as co-captain Sammy Albro made two free throws with only 4 seconds left to win the game. The Lobos had come back to tie it up after trailing all the way, but the Blizzards weren't to be denied a share of the district lead.

The only Blizzard casualty thus far is little Johnny Caskey, sophomore guard. Caskey injured his ankle in work-out Wednesday, but is expected to be ready for action Friday.

Probable starters will be Co-captains Jimmy Smith and Albro, James (PeeWee) Williams, William Grissom, and Jerry Dunnam. In the limelight at the moment is Walter Kraatz, senior center who dropped two game-winning points in a sudden-death overtime against Eastland here Tuesday night. Winding up the squad will be sophomore hot-shot Jerry Dunn, Gary Onken, Button Little, Roy John Clark and Kenneth Crowe.

Add 'em up—you'll come to an even dozen—throw in the Coach, trainer, and scorekeeper and you've got your representatives for the District 7AA crown.

Wingate Girls Won Own Tournament Last Week-end

The Wingate girls basketball team won its own tournament Saturday by defeating the Elmdale team 30 to 19. According to Coach Cowan the girls probably played their best game of the season. The Tye girls defeated the Blackwell girls in one of the best games of the tourney, 17-16, in the girls consolation finals. The Tye boys defeated the Wingate boys in the finals 33 to 29 in another thriller. Elmdale defeated the Blackwell crew in the boys consolation finals.

The Sportsmanship awards were presented to the Butterfield girls and the Miles boys. The All-Tourney girls team consisted of: Ginger Collinsworth and Charlotte Dooley of Wingate; Patsy Lidia and Charlotte Stevens of Elmdale; Judy Cates of Blackwell, and Horner of Miles.

The boys All-Tournament team consisted of Jimmy Adams of Wingate; Paul Moore of Tye, Brockman of Elmdale; Sawyer of Norton and Robbie Cook of Blackwell.

Health Letter

State health authorities are taking a long look at a vital amendment to the federal food, drug and cosmetic law which becomes effective in its entirety less than a month from now—March 6.

The amendment puts on manufacturers and producers the burden of proving that chemical additives to foods and drinks are safe for human consumption. Formerly the government, through its Food and Drug Administration, had to prove additives were injurious to health before the courts would issue cease and desist orders.

The use of additives to alter the taste or appearance or preservative qualities of foods has assumed major proportions over the years. Controlling the practice is an extremely involved process. The story will have to be told in several installments. Let's begin with why a food and drug law is necessary in the first place.

Don't be misled into thinking the snowy white color of flour in your canister is natural. It may have been bleached with nitrogen peroxide, nitrous oxide or chlorine. Flour absorbs such chemicals like a sponge absorbs water and becomes almost instantly white. Those luscious red tomatoes, those delectable-looking green peas and that juicy roast may have been chemically treated to give them that mouth-watering appearance.

Food processors know most shoppers buy on appearance, other things being equal. And, since there are additives available to enhance food flavor and color and texture, processors naturally use them to full advantage. There is nothing unwholesome or illegal in the practice when done in conformity with the laws governing pure foods and drink.

There are four classes of substances used to color foods: mineral dyes, vegetable dyes, aniline or coal-tar dyes and ethylene for ripening and coloring. Those dyes specifically permitted by law are harmless but since they create artificial appearance it is well for the public to realize their use is in vogue now as never before.

Coal-tar dyes are inexpensive, and since they create brilliant pigments in foods they have largely replaced mineral and vegetable dyes. They are used extensively in sausage, confections, jellies and jams, meats and flavoring extracts.

Most of these products, while not adding to food quality, are depended on grounds that they make foods more appetizing. The danger arises when additives are used to obscure inferior products, or when additives themselves are potentially hazardous.

The federal food and drug law amendment is wholesome in its implication of public health protection. After March 6, before the product is offered for sale, additives users will have to prove their safety.

BRUSH CONTROL — Photo illustrates control of mesquite by basal application of 2,4,5T, and

Area Farmers Are Participating In Brush Control

H. Giesecke Jr., board member of the Runnels Soil Conservation District, has announced that an estimated 5,000 acres of brush will be controlled this year by cooperators of the district. He said "The spread of brush is one of the biggest problems now facing many farmers and ranchers. Brush competition on our native rangeland is reducing yields."

James Glynn of the Soil Conservation Services states that brush competes with grass for moisture, plant food, and sunlight. With our limited rainfall, the fight between brush and grass for moisture is serious, usually resulting in weakened low producing plants.

He said that various methods of brush control are being used to prevent such losses. Some of the methods being used are basal oiling and spraying, mechanical and hand grubbing, root plowing and aerial spraying. Careful consideration should be taken of all conditions to determine the most practical method of use.

Mechanical means of brush control usually prepare a favorable seedbed for reseeding. A mixture of desirable native grasses should be used. A full growing season's deferment, after seeding, will allow grasses to make best recovery.

Cooperators who have included brush control, range seeding and deferment as a part of their complete conservation plan are Joe B. Wilson, Rt. Winters; Alva Berry, Crews; M. E. Mathis, Winters; Herbert Holland, Rt. 2, Bronte; E. H. Forgy, Rt. 2, Ballinger, and W. T. Billups, Rt. 2, Winters.

During the dove hunting season the wife of a friend of mine proudly displayed a new 20-gauge shotgun which her husband had given her for a birthday present.

That's an old trick. Many a husband has gotten a new gun or a new fishing rod of his special choice by the magnanimous gesture of giving it to a friend's wife for a present.

Sorta' like buying junior an electric train! Times are changing, however. If you don't believe it, go afield and note how many wives now are shooting.

There was a wonderful demonstration of this during the three-day white-winged dove season in the Valley. Here it was possible to see a congregation of hunters—thousands of them in fact. It seemed that about every third shooter was a woman. Some were wives, some were sweethearts, and some were unattached.

Women always have had a good eye for shooting. Whether at the trap or in the field, when they half try, women are just about as good shots as men. Some are far better.

Some women have come along slowly in gun-handling because they lack the natural aptitude of men for things mechanical. But when a woman understands the gun she is shooting, she becomes deadly with it. Game had better watch out.

Usually when a man presents his wife with a gun it is a good one. Perhaps it is the result of his own desires. But let's be charitable and say that he wants his wife to have the very best.

Usually this same man will put her in the best hunting spot and gallantly permit her to have the first shot. He's confident that if she misses he will kill the bird anyway. But, men find, very much to their surprise, that many of the birds failed to get through the pattern from the wife's gun.

A woman of my acquaintance who dearly loves the outdoors, had for a number of years shot a little single .410. She never had killed a dove on wing. She had developed a habit of closing her eyes every time she pointed the gun at a flying bird, then pulled the trigger.

This year she came into possession of a neat little 28-gauge automatic. She was given a long preparatory drill in its handling and warned against the habit of closing her eyes.

On the very first shot she knocked down her dove. She almost got her limit from the first box of shells. On the next trip she was shooting alongside her husband, matching him bird for bird.

This is typical, for across the entire field of participating sports, women are assuming their position side by side with the men, and getting just as much enjoyment. They are good sports too. And certainly they make for more business for the sporting goods dealers.

Women are good fishermen, too. Elaine Vickers, who lives at Buchanan Dam, won the Texas bass championship last June at Lake Belton. Since then her picture and stories of her prowess have appeared in hundreds of newspapers across the nation.

Every day she gets letters from other women who want to learn to fish. They tell her of their experiences and wish for other women the same enjoyment they now have on water.

Some die-hard men fishermen talked some about Elaine's victory being a fluke. They said it was just an accident that a woman could catch more and bigger fish than a man.

To show that it was no fluke she went to the coast with some top King fishermen. Around the oil rigs in the surf southeast of Corpus Christi she hung into more Kings than any of the men fishermen along.

Political Announcements

The Enterprise is authorized to announce the following candidates for office, subject to action of the Democratic Primary in May.

For Representative, 77th District: J. W. (Bill) MOORE A. J. BISHOP, JR. (Re-election)

For Sheriff: DON ATKINS (Re-election)

For Tax Assessor-Collector: PANNEL LEGG (Re-election)

For Commissioner, Precinct No. 3: BILL HARMAN (Re-election) PAT PRITCHARD

For Constable, Precinct 5: HERMAN A. BAKER

Before 11 a.m. she had loaded her boat with kings and headed for shore. By one o'clock that afternoon she was ready to go fishing again. But the men in the party wanted to rest a couple of more hours.

There is a big place in the outdoors world for women who want to hunt and fish, or who enjoy other brands of water sports.

Their children, too, will better appreciate the outdoors and the world will be better as a result.

Today when a man gives his wife a gun or a rod and reel, he might as well realize that she intends to use it. And she is beginning to learn the merchandise, too.

If you don't believe that, just drop into any sporting goods or marine store. You'll find plenty of women shoppers there.

Women today already are playing a very important part in boat buying. Very few good rigs are sold without the wife assisting in the selection, especially as to size, color, and price.

The one day you use a side street to escape recognition is the very day all your friends use the identical street.

Year's Feed Grain Outlook Analyzed

The total supply of feed grains and other concentrates for 1959-60 (Oct. 1 to Sept. 30, 1960) has increased to a record high of 265 million tons, seven percent larger than in 1958-59 and more than a third larger than the 1953-57 average.

Supplies have set new records for each of the past six years, according to John McHaney, extension economist. The supply this year (1959-60) will total about 18 million tons more than last year, making the seventh year of steadily increasing supplies. A major reason for the increase was the 1959 record feed crop of nearly 10 million tons larger than the 1958 crop and 38 million tons larger than the 1953-57 average. The increased yields per acre also added to the supply.

Oats supply is expected to be 1,459 million bushels, 17 percent below that of last year and the smallest supply since 1947. Barley is expected to total 622 million bushels, he said, down five percent from last year, but a fourth larger than the 1953-57 average. The record high corn crop of 1959 is expected to increase corn supplies to a record six billion bushels, 37 percent above the 1953-57 average.

The total supply of sorghum grain for 1959-60 is estimated at about 1,074 million bushels, 1.6 percent above last year and more than three times the 1953-57 average. The 1959 crop of 573 million bushels was 7 percent smaller than that of 1958, but more than double the 1953-57 average. McHaney said total utilization is expected to be substantially larger than in 1959-60 than the 423 million bushels used domestically and exported in 1958-59.

The Winters Enterprise, Winters, Texas, Friday, February 12, 1960

Feed grain prices are expected to average a little lower in 1959-60 due to the record 1959 crop and the large supplies. Expected lower livestock prices in 1960 and lower supports, especially for sorghum grain, will have a tendency to cause feed grain prices to be lower.

McHaney added that a further increase in feed grain utilization is expected because livestock numbers continue to increase, causing heavy feeding of grain and other concentrates. However, total utilization has not kept pace with production and supplies continue to mount.

Successful men are marked by their willingness to tackle the unpleasant tasks first.

A kind word in acknowledgment of a kind deed would be acceptable now and then.

When leaving for a vacation the promise least likely to be kept is to write soon and often.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I John	2	9-12
Monday	I John	4	20-21
Tuesday	Romans	12	9-10
Wednesday	Proverbs	17	17
Thursday	I Corinthians	16	13-14
Friday	John	10	9-10

A man's got to look after his brother. That's what Timmy said the other day, as he stood beside our baby. And I told him he was right. "You are so much stronger than this tiny, little creature," I said. "From now on, you've got a real responsibility!"

A man does have to look after his brother . . . especially when that brother is weak. But there are moments, too, when even the strongest man may need a brother!

In the eyes of the Church, all men are brothers, just as all men are equally beloved. As long as there is a church near you, you are not alone. You have only to open the door and walk in and you will be at one with your fellow man . . . and at home with your brothers.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, 1809-1865

An outstanding trait in the character of Lincoln was his self-reliance. He knew hardships and many disappointments but these only better fitted him for the later and greater work he was destined to perform.

More than any other American he symbolizes the freedom, equality and justice which are inherent in our democracy. His birthday anniversary gives us another opportunity to give careful thought for those basic elements in our way of life for which he stood — and which we should ever endeavor to preserve.

LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!

Softer, more silent ride with coil springs at all four wheels and new butyl rubber-cushioned body mounts.

Big brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.

More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission means more foot room.

Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.

Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.

Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.

Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.

Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."

Thriftest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.

Courts Will Decide Fate of New Gas Tax Passed By Legislature In 1959

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Here we go again! It seems as if a segment of Texas history is repeating itself as the state and numerous gas companies go to court to decide the constitutionality of a new gas tax.

Some 80 gas companies have filed suit asking the court to declare invalid the natural gas severance beneficiary tax passed by the Legislature last summer. Six of the suits are set for trial beginning Feb. 15.

They will be tried in the same Austin district court in which the contest over the old gas gathering tax was begun. This tax law was passed by the Legislature in 1951 and eventually declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Gas companies are attacking the new severance beneficiary tax on much the same grounds they did the gathering tax. They contend it is in violation of interstate commerce laws.

Passage of the severance tax came after one of the hardest battles of the stormy six month session. It places a 1.5 percent levy on the pipelines on the grounds that they benefit from the taking out of the gas.

Revenue-wise, the gas tax represents a rather modest portion of the overall tax program passed in 1959. It was estimated it would bring in about $15,000,000 of an overall $185,000,000.

SHORT BALLOT

In the 12 races for statewide office this year, there will be only 22 candidates.

Six state officials are seeking reelection unopposed.

Some years ago, there were almost as many candidates in the governor's race alone as there are now for all the statewide offices. In those days the filing fee was only $100. Today's price is killing off the competition.

Filing fees today are 5 percent of annual salary, which runs $1,250 for governor, $1,125 for U. S. Senator, $600 for lieutenant governor, etc.

WATCH THAT "FLU"

If you're one of those lucky Texans who hasn't yet been hit by influenza, State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy has advice for you.

"Don't take any chances." In several cities the flu has reached epidemic proportions. Dallas reported the highest flu-caused death toll since the 1918 siege.

Dr. Peavy said flu ordinarily lasts only three to five days but must be taken seriously because of the possibility of complications such as pneumonia.

He advised against self-treatment and urged victims to go to bed and call a doctor at the outset.

P-TA ENDORSES SESSION

Some 85 percent of local P-TA leaders in Texas favor a special session to raise teachers' salaries, according to a report made to Gov. Price Daniel.

Mrs. T. W. Whaley of Kosse, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, told the governor that executive committee members of 563 local P-TA units were polled.

She said 8,155 favored a special session, 847 were undecided and 563 were against it. There were no suggestions as to how to pay the bill.

Governor Daniel has held off calling a special session pending the development of enough public and legislative support to carry it through to success.

POLL TAX ASSAILED

Next Texas Legislature may be called upon to vote on whether the U. S. Constitution should be amended to outlaw the poll tax.

U. S. Senate has voted out a proposed amendment to void the tax. It goes next to the House, which has passed such a measure five times before.

If the House passes it, it will then have to be ratified within seven years by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Texas is one of five states which still have a poll tax. Others are Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas.

LICENSE PLATES ON SALE

Texas drivers have from now until midnight, April 1, to get new license plates for their cars.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer predicts that nearly 5,000,000 cars will be registered this year. This adds up to some long lines April 1 unless a lot of people buy early.

Greer emphasized the importance of each vehicle owner's registering his car or truck in his home county. When he goes to register, each owner should take his certificate of title and last year's registration receipt.

Penalty for an improper registration is $200.

This year's license plates are black with white letters.

CITY-COUNTY STUDY

Texas Commission on City and County Government plans to send a questionnaire to city and county officials and other interested persons on the possibility of combining some city and county functions.

Aim, according to the Commission, would not be to combine city and county governments, but to find ways to economize by eliminating duplicating services.

Seventeen Texas counties, it was pointed out, have 55 percent of the state's population. It is in these areas that city and county problems tend to overlap.

PRICE FIXING CHARGED

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has charged a Wisconsin manufacturer of drafting equipment with fixing the prices of goods sold to the state.

Suit was filed in an Austin district court against the Hamilton Manufacturing Co. of Two Rivers, Wisconsin.

Wilson contends the company, through "suggestions" to its distributors, set the prices on more than 200 different items totaling $100,000.00.

contracts let. If the project is carried to completion the federal government will spend about $2,000,000 in erection of dams and diversion terraces to control floods in the watershed.

Conservationists of the Runnels Soil Conservation District have said that a 10-year loss (1946 to 1955) due to flood damage on 350 farms in the watershed was estimated at $2,055,000.

In addition, damages to three major highways amounted to $35,000 over a ten-year period, and 40 county roads received damages estimated at $125,000 over the same period. Loss to the oil industry runs about $50,000 for a five-year period. Woodrow Hoffman, work unit technician for the Soil Conservation District, indicated.

It has been estimated that land owners in the district would be paying a tax of about $2.50 on 100 acres.

Formby Will Try For Governor's Office In 1962

Friends of Marshall Formby say he will run for Governor in 1962.

Formby, Plainview attorney and former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, had been a prospective candidate for Governor for 1960. Recently he announced that he would not run this year because he did not want to engage in the bitter, name-calling campaign it would take to win the race this year against the present Governor who is seeking his third term.

However, Formby has said that his decision not to run this year does not shut the door on the possibility of a race two years hence.

"It's something like the West Texas farmer who gets hailed out or the dry weather ruins his crop," Formby said. "He always says, 'There will be another year.'"

"I hope that most of our state's financial problems will be solved during the next two years," the Plainview attorney said. "Certainly so long as the Legislature has to spend its entire time trying to solve our financial mess, there will be little time to do anything else for the state.

"If I run in 1962, I shall have a tax program that will bring in sufficient revenue to finance our state, a tax program that will increase as the state grows so we will not have to have a tax fight every two years."

Formby stated that he regretted he and his friends did not deem it advisable to make the race in 1960. He said he and Daniel had many friends in common, and that many had received favors from the present Governor and naturally owe him their loyalty.

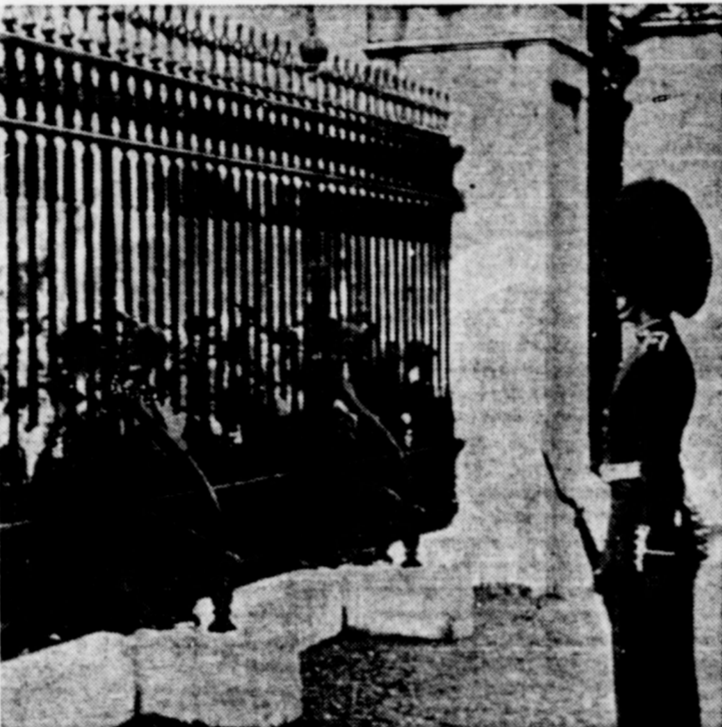

"And I don't like to put my friends on the spot. Besides a bitter campaign this year would have brought further division among the members of our Texas Democratic party. I believe we need more unity and harmony."

"Every time I've run for office I've had a hard-fought campaign. I expect 'hard' campaigns and don't ever expect to run any other kind. But to oust the present Governor from his office would have required the type of campaign that is not good for the individual or for the state."

Formby's views about the building of more Farm to Market roads in Texas are widely known. He contends that the state must build several thousand more miles of FM roads for the benefit of rural Texans and for school bus and mail routes.

Blizzards Whip Eastland 35-33 In 3rd Overtime

By Billy Lynn Little

It was a cold, windy, dirty night as the Winters Blizzards took on the Eastland Mavericks in Blizzard gym in what had probably the most exciting finish of any game played in the gym in recent years, winning in the third overtime, 35-33.

The gym, even as new and as weather-proof as it is, was filled with a visible cloud of dust thru-out the contest.

The locals led all the way until the fourth period, when the Mavericks managed to drop 8 points while holding the Blue to only three, thus tying the score 29-29 and sending the game into overtime. In the first extra period, James Lewis, Maverick high for the night with 12, sank a bucket to give the visitors a 31-29 lead. The Blizzards came back, and PeeWee (James) Williams, dropped a jump shot from just outside the free throw line to tie it up. Thus ended the first overtime.

Mickey Garner made the first field goal of the period, sending the Mavericks in front 33-31. The Blizzards brought the ball down, lost it, and with 30 seconds left fouled Garner.

His first free toss was off, and a gasp came up from Winters fans as his second one ripped the cords. Eastland would have had a three point lead, but the officials ruled that Garner stepped on the line, thus causing a violation, an nullifying the basket. The Blizzards still had to get 2 points to tie, and with five seconds left, Lewis fouled Williams.

Both of his free throws ripped through, and the Blizzards had another life. At the start of the third overtime, this being sudden death where the first team to score two points wins, Lewis was ruled jumping into Walter Kraatz, Blizzard senior reserve who was destined to be the salvation of the Blue. The time hadn't come for Walter just yet, and his free toss bounced off, with Eastland rebounding. Eastland's John Wilson cut loose with a medium range jump shot, but it was wide and big PeeWee came down with the rebound. The dust was thickening inside the big gym as the Blizzards came down court. They worked for the good shot—Sammy Albro finally jumped and shot—his shot being wide. In a split second things happened — Kraatz rebounded, went back up and pushed the Blizzards into the final showdown with Cisco Friday night.

The big guy had kept the Blizzards from a costly defeat, for while Winters was struggling with the Mavericks, Cisco, with whom they are tied for the District TAA lead, was polishing off Coleman at Coleman.

The Blizzards had another scare only 5 days before, when they slipped by the Bluecats from Coleman 37-34 here Friday. The Blizzards led all the way, until late in the fourth quarter, when Coleman closed the gap to 36-34. The Blizzards went into a stall, and iced things when with 3 seconds left, co-captain Albro dropped a free throw, giving Winters the 3 point lead, which was insurmountable.

Coach Don Edwards' B team took two victories in the contests, downing Coleman 48-44, and Eastland 44-33. Rodney and Joel Butts were high in the Coleman game with 15 and 10 respectively, and Jimmy Dunnam with 10, along with Roy Buchanan and Herman Russell with 9 each took honors in the Eastland affair.

The Blizzards go to Cisco tonight (Friday) to play for all the marbles — if they win, they are the District Champs, but if they lose, their season is over.

SON IS BORN

Mrs. W. H. Jennings received a telegram Saturday announcing the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walton of Fairbanks, Alaska. The baby, born February 4, weighed 8 pounds 2 1/4 ounces. She also received the information Wednesday that Mr. Jennings' cousin and her son were burned to death when their home was destroyed by fire in Knoxville, Tenn.

Girl Scout News

Brownie Troop No. 1 met Wednesday afternoon at the scout hut with their leaders. Roll was called and as each girl answered, they were given a Valentine box of candy. Mrs. Tatum talked to the girls about the cookie sale which begins Feb. 19, at 4 o'clock. The girls completed their wishing wells and potted some plants.

Nibbles were served by Cynthia Pinkerton to Gwen Wheeler, Babs Tatum, Shelia Kraatz, Mary Lou Wilkerson, Kilia Graves, Eileen Faubion, Sandra Crockett, Brenda Grissom, Kay Lynn Rives, Glenda Cooper, a new member, Elodia Launa and Becky Torres, visitors.
