

HOME TOWN Talk

In the campaign for State Representative of the 77th District, which is made up of Concho, Coke, Coleman and Runnels counties, it is now apparent that politicians and lobbyists from some of the big cities are going to try to muscle in and swing their weight to get a person of THEIR choice into the office, instead of letting the people of the district decide for themselves by whom they wish to be represented at the State's Capitol.

According to news releases the past few days, a group of lobbyists, under a banner of "conservatism," has singled out candidates over the state to be "supported" or "defeated" in the upcoming primaries. One of those whose defeat is called for by this group is State Representative A. J. Bishop Jr., of Runnels County. The group is reported to be in favor of and campaigning for the election of Bishop's opponent in the race, J. W. (Bill) Moore, of Ballinger.

The group is reportedly headed by a Dallas attorney, Preston A. Weathered, who has been described as "the lobbyists' lobbyist." He has sent out a plea to other politicians and lobbyists over Texas who represent various associations, asking their help in defeating six incumbent representatives. The plea of the city group is that the rural areas must have what they term "conservative" representation, and the defeat of those named is the way to get it.

Apparently this group, representing who knows who or what, has many axes to grind at the State Capitol, and will undoubtedly go to great lengths and spend a lot of time and money in the attempt to unseat those candidates who have not fallen into their way of thinking—whatever that is.

Rep. Bishop said this week he "was surprised" to learn he had been listed in the liberal camp. He said he considers himself a conservative, but if the group is "going on the sales tax issue alone, they'd have to place me on the other side." "I've never favored one," Bishop said. "I voted against the sales tax every time it came up last session." Bishop said Weathered has "pushed" sales tax legislation in the past.

This move by big-city politicians and lobbyists is additional evidence of the ever-increasing habit of many people to stick their noses into someone else's business. We are not naive enough to believe that this sort of political maneuvering has not gone on before; however, we do believe it just might not jell this time. West Texans, traditionally, have always been more or less suspicious of big-city political methods, and we don't believe the people of the 77th District will take kindly to the idea of being told by the political machines the way they should vote.

The rain last week came at just about the right time and in the right amount, although there was some hail mixed in, and some slight damage was reported in some areas. About an inch of moisture was recorded locally; other communities received slightly more or less than that amount. Elvis Kirby, the "Mayor of Grassbur," said he received only about half an inch of rain—and he needs more to fill his stock tanks.

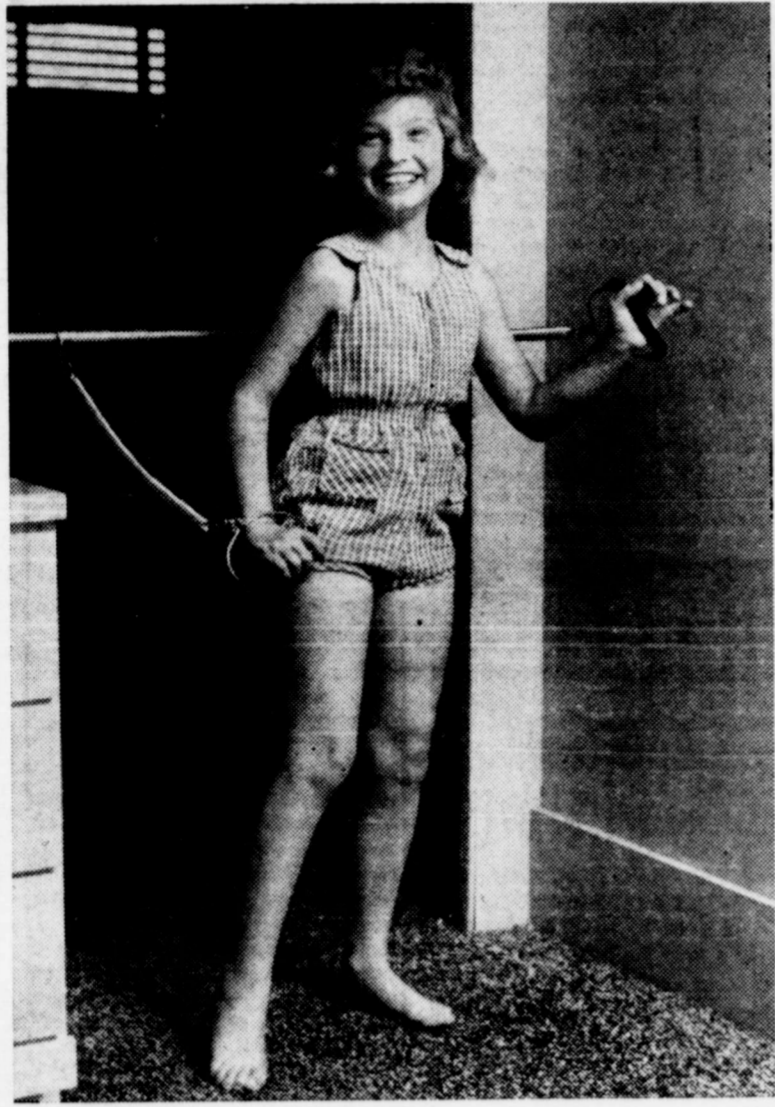

If you get a chance, drive over to San Angelo this weekend and visit the Industrial Exposition at the Coliseum. You'll find a big "Made In Winters" exhibit there, organized by Winters industries. This is a good idea, we believe, to let the rest of the country know just what a growing and progressive town Winters is, and home-grown at that. Perhaps when that exposition is over, all those exhibits could be put on display right here in Winters—there are many people here who do not fully realize the magnitude of what Winters has to offer.

CLUB MEETING POSTPONED

Regular meeting of the Winters Garden Club scheduled for Friday, April 1, has been postponed due to the workshop to be held in Coleman on that date, according to Mrs. Floyd Sims, president. The Garden Club will have their regular meeting April 8, at 3 o'clock at the city hall.

Door to Door Easter Seal Parade Slated For Tuesday, April 5th

Door to door delivery of Easter Seals will be made Tuesday, April 5, between the hours of 7:00 p. m. and 9:00 p. m., according to an announcement made by the Junior Culture Club, sponsors of the sale in Winters. The Lily Sale will be conducted Saturday, April 9.

Members of the various organizations of Winters who will assist in the drive are the Literary and Service Club, Winters Garden Club, the V. F. W. and Auxiliary and the Lions Club. The Goal Diggers Club and the Sub Debs will have charge of the Lily Sale and the Lions Club will solicit in the business section of the town.

Funds from the Easter Seals go to the support of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene, which serves the entire West Texas area by providing rehabilitation services for all handicapped regardless of race, creed or color, without charge. The center is supported by donations alone and has never received any government aid.

The budget of the Rehabilitation Center is $75,000. The center is affiliated with the Texas Society for Crippled Children and the National Society for Crippled Children.

Seventy-seven percent of the funds from the Easter Seals Sale stays in West Texas with 12.9 percent staying in Texas to assist unorganized areas; 10.3 percent goes to the National Crippled Children program with 2 percent of this 10 percent being used in a broad research program for crippled children and adults.

The Easter Seal organization is the only organization for crippled children and adults which treats all physical handicaps incurred at birth, through accidents or by disease.

Winters citizens have a personal interest in the Parade of Easter Seals since seven children from the local area are receiving treatment at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, all free of cost to their parents.

These children are Kathy Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Scott. Kathy has been going to WTRC for about two years. She takes both physical and occupational therapy for paralysis in her right side. Just recently she has become able to wiggle the fingers of her right hand.

Kathy Lang, little daughter of Mrs. Rose Lang, has also been taking treatments for about two years. At first she went to the WTRC twice each week, but now she goes every two or three weeks for physical therapy.

Myra Glover, librarian for the Winters Library, has recently started to the center for speech therapy once each month. John Spill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spill, has been taking speech therapy about one and a half years at the center.

Barbara Broadstreet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Broadstreet, began in January to take speech therapy.

City Approves Gas Company Request For Rate Increase; Effective May 1

The Winters City Council Monday night approved Lone Star Gas Company's application for a rate increase of 5.4 cents per thousand cubic feet in each step of its rates for residential and commercial gas service. The new rate will become effective May 1, 1960, the gas company announced.

This increase to the average residential user would amount to only slightly more than one cent per day, it was pointed out by Lone Star's local manager, J. C. Wilkerson.

On Feb. 15, the Railroad Commission of Texas authorized an increase in the city gate charge of 5.4 cents per MCF. The rate revision requested by Lone Star and authorized by the Winters City Council is the exact amount of the increase in the charge at the city gate ordered by the Commission. Wilkerson emphasized that "the approved increase will only offset the increased cost of gas to the Distribution Division at the city gate."

The rate in effect in Winters prior to the Council's action, Wilkerson said, was based "on our 1951 cost of service, yet the costs of serving our customers had increased continually since that year." In addition to the increase of 5.4 cents in the city gate charge the Winters manager said, pipe costing $100 in 1951 now costs $159.30; meters are up from $100 to $126.70; vehicles, $100 to $140.29 and payroll cost per employee, $100 to $151.60.

The increased cost of purchasing gas in the field is the primary cause for the increased expenses in delivering gas to the city gate, it was pointed out by the company manager. In recent years, numerous large gas pipe lines have been constructed from the gas producing areas of Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana to virtually every section of the United States; and these new lines have vigorously competed for all available supplies of gas. Progressively higher wellhead prices have been offered by these new buyers, and Lone Star has, of necessity, had to meet these higher competitive prices for both existing gas supplies and for the new reserves required to protect the present and future requirements of customers. Lone Star Gas Co. said.

"This modest increase will help to provide additional funds needed by the company to continue to acquire an adequate gas supply," Wilkerson said.

Mistake To Think Of The Railroads As A Whole; Some Losing Money

Babson Park, Mass.—The Railroad stocks have not been acting well recently. The Dow-Jones "rails," which sold at an average high of 155 at the beginning of the year, now sell at 145. The main point of this week's column is to emphasize that it is a mistake to think of the railroads as a whole. There are four distinct groups and these should be recognized by every investor.

"Commuter" and Short-Haul Railroads

Practically all railroads are losing money on passenger business; but the so-called commuter roads — which haul passengers from the suburbs to the big cities in the morning and take them home again at night, with their employees and equipment idle a good part of the day—are very unfortunates. A campaign is now on to eliminate this business and switch it to buses, giving the buses preferred terminal facilities and certain traffic preferences in order to increase their speed.

The second group consists of roads which operate less than two hundred miles of track. These are losing both passenger and freight business. The shipper can load his goods on trucks at his factory door and these trucks will deliver at the dealer's or customer's door. For this reason the securities of these short-haul roads — are not attractive to investors — with certain exceptions such as the coal roads of West Virginia. These I like to call the "gravity" roads because the loads from the mines go "downhill" to the seacoast with great saving in the use of power, and in fact some of them generate electric power enroute which helps the return of the empty cars.

Transcontinental Railroads

These are roads operating from Chicago to the Pacific Coast and, as yet, they are not affected by competition from trucks. Recently, on the Santa Fe Super Chief, I was a passenger on a beautiful train having eleven cars and two diesel engines and a total of only seventy-six passengers. The "piggy-back" experiments are successful in certain localities, while the automatic switching yards are helping such roads as the St. Louis-San Francisco. The transcontinental rails appear to be about the best holdings.

My favorite group of railroads, in fact, are those transcontinentals which also own large acreages

Bob Hope will be the master of ceremonies for the 32nd Academy Awards Program that will be presented on NBC-TV, NBC Radio, CBC (Canada) TV and CBC Radio at 9:30 p. m. Monday night, April 4.

Bob will be the only master of ceremonies for the year's biggest television program. It will be the eighth year that Hope has been a star for the Oscar show. Bob has often shared the honors with as many as a half-dozen of Hollywood's top personalities but this year he and he alone has been chosen.

containing forests and minerals. This especially is true of the Union Pacific, the Northern Pacific, the Canadian Pacific, and the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe. I have been told by the president of one of these roads that all passenger business and a proportion of the freight business could be eliminated and the road could continue to pay its present dividend from oil, mining, and forest royalties.

Future of the Railroads

I have not discussed competition from airplanes, which are a factor in the decline in long-haul passenger business. It will be a long time, however, before freight carrying airplanes will be severe competitors. The weather, moreover, is a factor and a great friend of the railroads. This means that comparatively few railroads will be given up, because of the fact that they are able to operate, while airplane travel is undependable. However, much duplicate track and some competing rail lines will be eliminated.

All of the above means that a large percentage of the railroads will become government owned and operated under the Department of Defense. I believe that the railroad bonds will be indirectly assumed by the government and that the preferred stocks will be treated fairly. As to the common stocks: The government will base prices for these on their average quotations during the preceding year.

I close by calling readers' attention to my opening paragraph — that railroads should not be considered as a whole, but that each railroad should be considered separately when deciding whether its stocks should be sold, or merely held for further developments, or, in a few cases, actually bought.

Amusements Coming to Local Theatres

AT THE STATE THEATRE
"Have Rocket, Will Travel" Scope and in color, comes to the State Theatre Sunday and Monday.

The mirthful story, set in New York City, opens with Rock and Doris becoming bitter enemies without ever meeting—all because they share a telephone party line. The first time Rock ever sees Doris, he learns that his best friend and wealthy show-backer, Tony Randall, is in love with her. Rock who writes songs, decides that, somehow he must meet this lovely interior decorator.

This poses somewhat of a problem in view of the bitter things they've said to each other on the phone. But Rock manages to swing it by masquerading as a big rancher from out of the West. Then the fun really starts! They—but perhaps it would be better not to tip off the rest of the zany situations.

One of the big—and most pleasant—surprises of "Pillow Talk" is the genuine comedy talent displayed by Hudson, whose popularity up to now has been gained in straight dramatic roles. However, it's a safe bet there will be a lot of comedy roles in his future, including a song now and then. He comes off mighty well in his first screen vocalizing with his performance of a romantic number titled "Inspiration."

Featured in support of the Three Stooges in "Have Rocket, Will Travel" are Jerome Cowan, Anna-Lisa and Bob Colbert.

"Edge of Eternity"

A king-size and awesomely beautiful locale, and three exciting stars in a story to match, are all said to be parlayed into a production with scope, suspense and vivid excitement in Columbia Pictures' "Edge of Eternity." The locale is the magnificent Grand Canyon, the story embodies the shattering suspense of a manhunt in and above that rugged locale. The stars are Cornel Wilde, Victoria Shaw and Mickey Shaughnessy, and the pictures comes to the State Theatre Friday and Saturday in CinemaScope and Eastman Color.

Wilde is cast as a modern-day deputy sheriff, in the Grand Canyon region, who is put on the spot when three brutal murders take place in his territory. Under pressure to solve the crimes, Wilde finds the first opening in what until then has been a towering wall of mystery when Miss Shaw tips him off to his first important clue. The film's shattering climax takes place high above the Canyon itself in a swaying miner's "bucket."

Long associated with action films, as well as romantic ones, Wilde is handsome, rugged and likable as the deputy sheriff who finally brings in his man. The girl in the case, the attractive Victoria Shaw, was previously seen in "The Eddy Duchin Story" and "The Crimson Kimono." Mickey Shaughnessy, hitherto noted for his comedy roles, is said to register powerfully in his first dramatic part. Edgar Buchanan and screen newcomer Rian Garrick are equally excellent in supporting roles.

Knut Swenson and Richard Collins penned the screenplay from a story by Ben Markson and Swenson. A Thunderbird production, "Edge of Eternity" was directed by Donald Siegel and produced by Kendrick Sweet.

"Pillow Talk"

Bringing together for the first time two of the nation's most popular screen stars, Rock Hudson and Doris Day, was a great idea, as evidenced by their pairing in "Pillow Talk," the most hilarious romantic comedy to hit the screen at the State Theatre in many, many a moon.

Taking its title from one of the songs sung by Miss Day — in a manner that is a cinch to land it high on the list of most popular tunes—the delightful new Universal-International-Arwin production, photographed in Cinema-

"PILLOW TALK" — With their romance approaching the sizzle stage, Doris Day and Rock Hudson toast each other in this scene from their new romantic comedy, "Pillow Talk." The Arwin production from Universal-International also stars Tony Randall and Thelma Ritter, and is in CinemaScope and color.

HAVE GREATER SECURITY

The American people now have 200 billion dollars in some form of savings — more than ever before. Much of the money is in bank deposits for ready accessibility. There seems to be a trend back to the self-reliance and thrift which made this country great and prosperous.

One purpose of savings is to take care of peak demands for cash. Items such as taxes and payments on fixed obligations are sure expenses for which it is wise to build a reserve. There will also be unexpected items; ready money in the bank enables you to meet any situation.

Have greater security by keeping your bank balance up to a figure to provide for known and unexpected needs. It's the safe way and you will be sure to profit.

House Passes Civil Right Bill

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

By a margin of 311 to 109 the House last week approved the election year civil rights bill. I joined with 16 other Texas members in voting against the measure, while 5 Texans voted with the Northerners.

The bill is now in the Senate committee where it will remain until March 29. Then the Senators will renew their month-long debate. And there is no telling what will happen after that.

One thing you can be sure of: Four years from now—on the next Presidential election year—the Congress will spend a few weeks on a Civil Rights bill. There seems to be no end to it, this wild scramble for the Negro vote. Maybe some day the people will rise up and demand that the Congress treat all Americans alike, without special laws to benefit any one group—racial, religious or otherwise.

Both Guam and the Virgin Islands are now asking for representation in the U. S. Congress. Puerto Rico has for years had a Delegate to the Congress, with all rights and powers except the right to vote on bills. The other two want the same, and may get it. It is looked upon as one of those initial steps toward eventual statehood.

A bill by the same Member who sponsored statehood for Alaska and Hawaii (Mr. O'Brien of N. Y.) is pushing for Guam and the Virgin Islands, with a bill to give them representation in Congress.

In the meantime, Statehood talk in Puerto Rico is boiling. Statehood is the Number One issue in the current election campaign going on down there.

It will be recalled that when the Congress broke precedent to go 2,000 miles into the Pacific to admit Hawaii, not contiguous to the continent, to statehood (rather than to give it self-government under a commonwealth status), warning was given then that such would eventually lead to admission of Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands. Such admissions would have a weakening effect upon the superstructure of our Republic.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

FARM INCOME DOWN 16 PERCENT IN 1959

This will certainly not come as news to many Texas farm families who have been well aware of the situation for months, but the U. S. Department of Agriculture has now officially confirmed that total farm income dropped 16 percent in 1959 below 1958.

The decline in the average farmer's spendable income was a little less, the USDA reported, falling 14.5 percent in 1959 below what the farmer had to spend in 1958. The average spendable income per farmer in 1959 was $2,364, being figured on the basis of what the farmer has left after paying all production expenses.

The 16 percent decline in total farm income showed a total of $11 billion in 1959, compared with $13.1 billion in 1958. The USDA attributed the drop to lower cash receipts and higher production costs, which are an old familiar problem to most Texas farmers.

Cash receipts went down in 32 states, including Texas, and crops showing the sharpest declines were hogs, eggs, wheat, broilers and soybeans. In contrast, production expenses were higher in 43 states, also including Texas. Most of the increase in production expenses was due to depreciation charges, cost of repairs and operations, live stock purchases, fertilizer, hired labor and taxes.

The per capita income of the entire farm population last year was $960, a decrease from the $1,043 of the previous year. This was considerably less than half of the per capita income of the non-farm population, which amounted to $2,202 in 1959.

But not all of the per capita farm income, the USDA pointed out, came from actual farming operations. Of the $960 realized, $643 came from farming and $317 from sources outside of the farm. In 1958, the $1,043 per capita realized showed $748 coming from the farm and $295 from outside sources.

The first months of 1960 have shown a slight regaining of some of the ground lost in total farm income, but the best opinion on the outlook as the year goes on is extremely cautious.

Outdoor Paragraphs!

New Equipment For Sportsmen

What's new?
Outdoorsmen are in for some pleasant surprises this year.

So much new merchandise has been developed for their convenience and enjoyment that no sportsman is overlooked. This, regardless of the size of his purse.

First, let's look at McCulloch's brand new and radically different motor for fishermen.

It's a 7.5 horsepower Scott that's only 30 inches high and weighs but 36 pounds. It's so compact that the hood rises only 7.5 inches above the boat transom.

Yet it can powerfully push a two-ton house boat 7 miles per hour. Secret is the 3 blade weedless power prop.

Fishermen will appreciate the fact that this little 2-cylinder Scott, with its pistol-grip carrying handle, cuts through weeds like a lawnmower.

Not only does the 7.5 hp Scott have full shift — with a Bail-A-Matic device that can remove 300 gallons of water an hour from your boat.

An accessory is a handsome fabric and leather carrying case that also protects the motor from dust and grime while stored or transported in the car trunk.

Spin-Rod Case is Handy
Speaking of carrying cases, the Boyt Company of Des Moines is producing a water-resistant fabric case for fishing rods.

This padded zipper case, complete with hanging strap and a shoulder-length carrying strap also has a handy inside pocket in which there is a six-compartment plastic lure box.

There's plenty of room inside the rod case for a two or three-piece spinning rod with reel attached, plus a fish scaler, fishing knife, stringer, and a half dozen extra boxes of swivels, split-leads, hooks, corks, or what have you.

Also there's a snap-down, sheepskin-lined lure holder so that you can leave your lure on your line while storing your equipment in the rod case.

Jim Boyt's spin-rod case for fishermen is destined to become even more popular than his famous hand-tooled leather gun cases. Not expensive either.

Strictly For Float-Fishermen
Ever tried float fishing?
We've seen it done — with an old innertube and a lot of courage — by good swimmers. But we've never had the nerve to try it.

Now comes an Oklahoma City product, specially designed for float fishermen. It's complete with paddle-pushers for the feet.

This durable, heavy canvas float is designed to support 250 pounds safely and comfortably. The custom tube cover has a zippered tackle pouch, adjustable seat and shoulder straps.

The maker, Fishmaster Mfg. Co., really has simplified the float fishing problem. Maybe enough to lure us into it.

You'll see more of these as the weather warms. Meanwhile, the brave and the warm-blooded will slip on waders, step into one of these ingenious devices, and "walk out" — paddle pushing style — to their favorite fishing spots.

Help For the Anchor Weary
Tired of dropping anchors by hand?
D. E. Rice Co. of South Bend, Indiana, has the answer.

Rice has come up with a mechanized anchor that suspends over the bow of the boat, or from the gunwale if your prefer. To lower anchor you merely release a lever. To up anchor you just crank 'er in.

Don't have to leave your seat for either operation.

Now Comes a Fish Caller
Game calls are common, but now there's a fish caller, too.

BirchKraft, Inc. of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has devised it.

'Tis reported that the idea came from a boy who put a bee in a jar and lowered it into the water. The bee's buzzing attracted the fish, said the youngster. Anyway, he caught them when others didn't.

So, the Krafty Fish Caller is designed to imitate the sound of a bee. Small fish are lured by the buzzer. Big fish go after the small ones. And your job, as a fisherman, is to teach the school of big ones a lesson.

It's a Larrapin-Lure
News from Heddon is that they have come up with the greatest surface action bait in years.

It's called the "Hi-Tail" and it's rightfully named, because of its high tail.

Heddon says that its frantic antics and gurgling motion make it do more tricks than a playful porpoise.

These are just a few of the latest inventions for outdoorsmen. We'll tell you about more of them in an upcoming column.

New Vet Pension Law Affects Many

A new pension law which will affect hundreds of thousands of veterans and their dependents goes into effect July 1.

This complex legislation changes the basic philosophy of non-service-connected pensions in many ways, the Veterans Administration reports.

All veterans of World War I, World War II and the Korean conflict and their dependents who qualify and begin to receive non-service pensions after June 30, will be under the new system.

Those already on the pension roles on June 30, will not be affected unless they choose to come under the new system.

They can make this choice at any time, but once the election is made, the pensioner can never revert to the old system, VA says.

The VA is now sending out information to veterans already receiving a pension which should help them determine which system will be best for them.

About March 1, these veterans received a form to fill out indicating their decision to transfer from the old system to the new.

This does not mean the decision must be made at once. It may be delayed and made anytime in the future, but once the veteran pensioner changes to the new system, he cannot return to the old system again.

It is important to note, VA explains, that those who wish to go under the new system on the effective date of July 1, should make their decisions as early as possible as the first checks under the new system will be mailed after August 1.

Those persons not now on the pension roles because they were not eligible under the present system but who may find they will become eligible under the new

VA representative or service representative.

The local representative can furnish information and assistance to those who wish to fill out application forms.

The new law does not affect benefits paid for service-connected disabilities and it does not affect service pensions paid to Indian War, Civil War and Spanish American War Veterans, VA says.

The new law does not basically change the eligibility requirement for pensions paid to veterans. Ninety days active wartime service and honorable type discharge are required.

The veteran must also be permanently and totally disabled. The degree of disability may vary according to the age of the veteran. Generally, he must have a disability which at his age prevents him from getting regular, full time employment. This disability must be such that doctors do not expect it to improve materially.

VA said there are important changes in the income limits under the new system as well as some changes in the methods employed to compute the pensioner's annual income. Under the new law, the veteran's estate or worth will become an eligibility factor.

But sometimes they are made flesh. They breathe upon us with warm breath; they are clothed in the living human soul. Then their presence is a power.' Abstract ideas have little influence over us. They have power only as they come to flower in the life of an individual person or group."

1960 Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects Available

At least six major changes have been made in the recommendations covering the control of cotton insects for 1960. C. F. Garner, associate extension entomologist, says these changes have been called to the attention of all county agricultural agents in Texas and suggests that cotton producers ask the agents about them when picking up a copy of the new guide.

The guide, L-218, is now available from the office of the local county agent or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Garner points out that all recommendations in the guide are based upon results of experiments conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Entomology Research Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

As has been in the case for several years, the control program for 1960 includes early and late season control phases and suggestions for an early stalk destruction and farm clean-up, a very important part of the cotton insect control program.

The entomologist has this final word of caution. All insecticides are poison and precautions given on the labels of containers should be followed to the letter. Special care should be taken in handling parathion, methyl parathion, demeton, Guthion and phorate (Thimet) to avoid prolonged contact with the skin or breathing the vapors or drift from either spray or dust.

Immigration Quota Election-Year Vote-Seeker

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

An election-year call for a break down in our traditional quota method of restricting immigration to this country was made in a special message to Congress last week by President Eisenhower. A similar request was made four years ago. And before that former President Truman called for a vast increase in immigration.

This dramatic action serves to remind us that political leaders will leave no stone unturned in an appeal for minority racial group votes in pivotal areas like New York, Chicago, Detroit, and others. The chances are both major parties will include about the same thing in the platforms when they are drafted this summer.

The President's proposal would allow nearly a half million immigrants to come in annually, and would probably lead to a greater influx. The limit under the quota system at present is 154,000.

As I view this, it is mostly politics. But with so many politicians joining in the clamor it may contain ominous implications. Indeed, once a break-down on restrictions is achieved, America may in the future become a dumping ground for Europe's and Asia's surplus population which in many areas already tax their economies severely. We should retain the present restrictions, and instead of opening the flood gates we would do well to seek means of closing present loopholes in existing laws.

A Washington meeting attended by 3300 AFL-CIO building trades unionists last week provided a forum for four Presidential hopefuls to plug for the union vote. In doing so they seemed to try to outdo each other. Senator Humphrey pointed with pride to his record of voting 213 out of 214 times ac-ording to labor's views. Senator Symington cited a record of consistent uniformity in his support. Senator Kennedy pointed to his record for labor and social justice as being about second to none. A fourth Senator, turn-coat Wayne Morse, bragged about voting against the Landrum-Griffin bill last year which cramps the style of the racketeers in the labor movement.

Not invited were Dick Nixon and Lyndon Johnson, reportedly too moderate for the extremist liberal union leaders.

Traffic Deaths in '59 Were Up 5 Percent

In closing the 1959 traffic statistical books at midnight March 15, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported a five percent increase in traffic deaths in Texas over the previous year.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas DPS, released the final 1959 figures saying there were 111 more motorcides in 1959 than in 1958. While traffic deaths increased five percent, Garrison said, "Driving increased five percent, thus the death rate—number of deaths per hundred-million miles of driving—remained the same as in 1958, 5.3."

The final count showed 2,453 persons killed in 340,158 traffic accidents during 1959. During the year Texans, aided by thousands of visitors to the state, drove more than 46-billion miles—an all time high in travel on Texas highways. The economic loss resulting from traffic accidents in Texas totaled an estimated $382,781,000, also a new high.

Miscellaneous

Artificial worms seem to be luring most of the big fish nowadays. As the worm's popularity as a fish attractor grows, more and more manufacturers produce more and more of these tempting baits. Makers of DeLong Lures have just perfected "The Witch Weedless." It is sliced across the back every half inch to give it more action. Its two large hooks are protected by weed guards. DeLong suggests that if you want more weight you add a split shot to shank of hooks. Also suggested are two ways of fishing—on the bottom, retrieving in slow jerks; and on top, retrieving slowly before sinking. Heddon is in Tune Too Heddon has come out with a worm which you can add to your own jig or spoon. It features a gold band around the body of the worm, about an inch and a half from the head. Special light flashing qualities of the "Gold Band" help fish to see it better, thus attracting more fish, says Heddon. This bait is extra buoyant, for lifelike action. Also it will not melt freeze or affect other plastics.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL WEEK

WHEREAS, Winters and Texas have been experiencing a tremendous industrial transformation with new industries and businesses being established and older industries expanding, and

WHEREAS, this rapid and continuing development has created for Texans additional opportunities for every citizen and another outlet for their initiative, energy and productiveness, and

WHEREAS, this development adds immeasurably to the economic well-being of all Texans and through its continuation will assure opportunities for Texas youth who will be leaders of tomorrow, and

WHEREAS, continuation of this industrial and business expansion is dependent in no small measure on the fair attitude of the public and the government which represents them toward business and industry, and

WHEREAS, it is imperative that every Texan have a thorough understanding of business and industry, and its problems, and

WHEREAS, the Honorable Price Daniel, Governor of Texas, has officially designated the first week of April, 1960, as the eleventh annual observance of TEXAS INDUSTRIAL WEEK in order to emphasize the part business and industry play in the well-being of all;

THEREFORE, I, as Mayor of Winters, do hereby proclaim the first week of April as TEXAS INDUSTRIAL WEEK and respectfully urge all organizations and citizens of Winters to join their fellow Texans in recognizing the industrial development of Winters, the Winters area, and Texas which has played such a vital role in this city's development.

PROCLAIMED this 22nd day of March, 1960, and in official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature and seal.

HARVEY D. JONES, Mayor of Winters

By Vern Sanford

Heddon suggests adding weights to get to the desired depth—and to move it very slowly.

Most worm and eel fishermen stress the great importance of working this type of lure very, very, very slowly. If there ever was a lure for the patient fisherman, this is it.

Evans Improves Shyster A new wrinkle has been added to the Shyster lure by the Glenn L. Evans Company.

Shyster's front end hitch now is made "off center." Purpose is to eliminate line twist.

This enables the fisherman to troll for hours and to fish in fast water without fear of a "spiral-spring" line-twist fouling the reel and ruining the disposition as well as the line, says Evans.

Paddle Is A Friend Indeed

Haven't you often thought how nice it would be to have a paddle—just any kind of paddle—tucked away under the bow of your boat—in case of sudden emergency?

Failure to remember to take along a paddle has caused many a small boat owner to have that empty feeling in the pit of his stomach.

Well, here's your answer. Boat Names Co. of Kansas City, Mo., now makes a collapsible paddle that is 51 inches long. This floating Port-A-Paddle folds down to 29 inches. It has a plywood blade and aluminum handle. Overall weight is a mere 2.5 pounds.

Much Needed Gas Can

For years we wondered why someone didn't make a portable gas can, especially for outboard motor enthusiasts—a can that held the proper amount of gas, plus the specified amount of oil required in the mixing process.

Our hat now is doffed to the Edward Can Company.

This Chicago firm now is making a 5-quart container. So, today, you can buy a gallon of gasoline and a pint of outboard motor oil—and mix it on the spot—without fear of having too much oil or overflowing a can.

A compact emergency container such as this should prove popular with the fishermen, especially. Edward calls it the Porta-can. It's a wide-based, rectangular shaped can, which means it's also easier to store in the car trunk, or on the boat, and less likely to tip over or slide about like the round-based cans do.

The Edward can also has a reversible, flexible pouring spout, with a fine mesh filter screen.

They're Game — Are You?

Like to play checkers while afloat? Evidently many do, because there's a new and novel boat cushion that has a full-sized checkerboard design on its cover—and its sold complete with a set of standard red and black checkers.

It's not merely a novelty playing either, for it meets U. S. Coast Guard Safety requirements as a life preserver.

Maker is the American Pad and Textile Co. of Greenfield, Ohio.

Schoolmaster Lures Take Fish Texas has a new bait factory. It makes lures that are designed to master schools of fish. Fact is, the product is called the Schoolmaster.

Robert P. Nelson is owner of the concern, known as the Schoolmaster Bait & Tackle Co., of San Antonio.

Featured are bottom dragging lures with two sets of treble hooks. Lures are heavily leaded, have a tadpole-like appearance, and are most colorful. Nelson gives each color of lure a name—such as Joe, Jim, Jack, Don, Paul, Herman, etc.—for roll-call purposes, I guess—so none will miss school.

Tests prove their fish-taking ability and distant casting advantages.

Little's Studio Had Nine Pictures On Display In Dallas

Eddie Little of Winters has been named co-chairman of the print committee for the state convention of the Texas Professional Photographers Association to be held in Dallas in July. Odell Poovey of Henderson, vice president of the association, is the other chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Little were also among the 300 photographers attending the Southwestern Photographers Association convention held at the Texas Hotel March 26-29.

Pictures from the Little Studio were again chosen for exhibition there. These pictures received the Gold Medal Award.

Nine of the ten prints submitted by the Littles were among the 200 displayed. These were chosen from approximately 2,000 submitted by top photographers from the states of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Texas.

Austin Getting Ready For Invasion of 5000 Democrats At Convention June 14

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Texas Democrats have marked June 14 on their calendars. Austinites have circled it in red.

June 14 is the day some 5,000 Texas Democrats will converge on the Capital City for their state convention.

It's expected to be many big days rolled into one.

It will be the first time in recent memory that the huge colorful gathering has come to Austin. A large new city auditorium and convention center makes it possible.

It's the day that comes only once every four years when Texans name delegates to a national presidential nominating convention.

But most excitement centers on the fact that Texas Democrats will be assuming what is usually a once-in-a-lifetime role — that of sponsoring a major contender for the presidential nomination.

Work is under way in every part of the state to insure that the delegates to Austin will give rousing support to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for favorite son nominee and chairman of the Texas delegation to Los Angeles.

Senator Johnson's chances of becoming president were re-emphasized by Gov. Price Daniel and cheered by the State Democratic Executive Committee when the party leaders met to plan the June convention.

Committee members selected Dallas for the second state Democratic convention on September 20. Their meeting also was made an occasion for honoring Mrs. Hilda Weinert of Sequin for a quarter century of loyal service to the Texas Democratic party.

COURT REJECTS VOTE HASSLE

Texas Supreme Court refused to consider a direct appeal from the City of Austin that it order a complete recount of votes in a hotly contested urban renewal election.

Issue has had Austinites in a stew for months. It was originally announced after the election in December that urban renewal had carried by a 52-vote margin. Eight property owners contested the election results on grounds that ballots were cast by persons not qualified to vote.

After 9 of 18 contest boxes had been opened, District Judge James K. Evetts of Belton declared the election Void. He said there were so many disqualified voters and improperly marked ballots that it was impossible to determine the election outcome.

Austin's city attorney petitioned the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Evetts to open and examine all the ballot boxes. He contended the qualified voters had a right to have their votes counted.

Having lost out on a direct plea to the Supreme Court, City Attorney Doren Eskew said he would go through the usual appeal route, going first to the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

COLLEGE HOME DELAYED

Governor Daniel's office and the Legislative Budget Board are to make a "full review" before plans to build an $87,000 home for the president of Sam Houston State Teachers College.

A number of legislators hit the ceiling last session over similarly costly homes built for presidents of Southwest Texas State College and Stephen F. Austin State College. Restrictions were written into the current appropriations bill aimed at preventing further expenditures on such a scale.

Rep. James M. Cotten, member of the House committee on saving taxes, wrote the governor to protest what he called a "tremendous waste."

Governor Daniel said he had been assured by the chairman of the Board of Regents for State Teachers' Colleges that no action would be taken until everyone interested had had his say. He pointed out, however, that the home was to be built from constitutionally allocated funds to which the legislative appropriation restrictions "have been held not to apply."

MORE JUDGES SUGGESTED

Larger metropolitan areas such as Houston, Dallas and San Antonio may soon need larger Courts of Civil Appeals. This observation was made by Associate Justice James R. Norvell of the Texas Supreme Court and others in a study made for the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Judge Norvell suggested that five judges, rather than three, may be needed soon for the courts in the city areas.

Supreme Court, the study also noted, may also soon need some further restrictions on cases it will handle to prevent too heavy dockets. Civil Appeals Courts were created to keep everything from going to the Supreme Court, but the high court is flooded with appeals from these courts.

Judge Norvell suggested limiting the Supreme Court to constitutional issues and cases where there is a conflict on judicial decisions.

OIL ALLOWABLE CUT

Railroad Commission cut the state's oil production for April after testimony that both crude oil and gasoline were in oversupply. April allowable will be 2,814,252 barrels a day, a cut of 123,029 barrels a day from March. Number of producing days was cut from 10 to 9.

Oilmen told the Commission that other states, such as Louisiana and Mississippi had not cut back production to offset the oversupply as Texas has. This state, said one Texas executive bitterly, is taking the "backlash" of the situation.

TIGHTER DRIVING LAW

Legislation that would crack down on the driver who does not even have a drivers license has been proposed for the next session.

Rep. Ben Lewis of Dallas said that under present law a person who drives without having a license can only be hauled before a city court and fined about $10.

By contrast, he said, a license holder who gets three tickets and has his license suspended can, if he drives during the suspension, be put in jail and fined as much as $500.

Lewis said he would propose a series of stiffer penalties for the people who cannot pass driver tests but drive anyway.

Must Report Home Help For SS Purposes

The San Angelo social security district office reported this week that many housewives in the area are not reporting household help for social security purposes.

"As little as $4 per week in cash earnings totals more than $50 a quarter and should be reported to the Director of Internal Revenue," Floyd B. Ellington, manager of the San Angelo district office said.

Ellington explained reporting is easier than many housewives think. Upon request, the Internal Revenue Service mails a report form each calendar quarter as a reminder. The report has the form of an envelope. The housewife enters the worker's name, social security number and total cash earnings. She puts a check or money order in the pocket to cover the social security tax and mails the sealed envelope to the address already printed on it.

The tax rate for 1960 is 3 percent for employee and 3 percent for employer. No detailed book-keeping is required. The fact that a household worker is also reported by another employer makes no difference in reporting responsibility.

If you have any questions, you may contact the Social Security representative on one of his visits to Winters during the next three months. He will be in the Chamber of Commerce Building at 10 a. m. until 12 noon on the following dates: April 13-27; May 11-25; June 15-29.

VISITED PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Williams, Douglas and Kimberly of Abilene spent the weekend visiting in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dunn of Wingate and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Williams of Drasco.

MRS. ROBERT L. HILL

Miss Merribelle Richards Married Robert L. Hill In Austin March 12

In an early afternoon ceremony Saturday, March 12, Miss Merribelle Richards became the bride of Robert Leon Hill in the chapel of the University Baptist Church in Austin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Richards of Ingleside, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hill of Winters.

The Rev. Blake Smith officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decked with an arrangement of white carnations and greenery with an open Bible placed in front of the flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a sheath dress of white embroidered linen with a matching short fitted jacket. The jacket was styled with a portrait collar accented with a flat bow in front. The sleeves were three-quarter length. She wore a close fitted hat of iridescent sequins and seed pearls and white accessories.

She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid with white satin streamers tied with love knots and white rose petals.

Mrs. Richards, mother of the bride, wore a toast two-piece suit of silk Shantung with light beige accessories and a hat of soft green straw and flowers. The groom's mother wore a navy silk crepe dress with a white pique collar. Her accessories were white. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Jamaica Room of the Terrace Motor Hotel in Austin. The bride's table was laid with white damask with a gathered skirt of white net extending to the floor. White satin bows were placed at intervals around the edge of the table. A tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom formed the centerpiece and tall branched candelabras with white burning tapers were placed at either side. Silver appointments were used for serving coffee and punch.

Mrs. Hazel Edwards ladeled the punch, Mrs. R. E. Hewlett poured coffee, and Mrs. C. V. Reid served the cake.

The couple is at home at 411 E. 30th street in Austin.

Mrs. Hill is a graduate of Ingleside High School and attended Texas A&I College in Kingsville. The groom is a graduate of Winters High School and attended Texas A&I College in Kingsville and at present is a journalism major at the University of Texas.

Families and friends attending the wedding were parents of the couple, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Maebelle Richards, and grandfather J. W. Jordan, and brother, Dick Richards, all of Ingleside; the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Ida Hill of Kingsville; and his brothers, Ronald, Gary, Stan and Mike, all of Winters. Others in the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Schindler, Reeves Hill, of Kingsville; Miss Janice Sue Patterson of Riviera; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hewlett, Billy Franklin, Mrs. Pearl Harris, Charlie Joe Harris, Mrs. Hazel Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reid, all of Ingleside; and W. E. Boehnke of Aransas Pass.

Census Takers Will Be Easy To Identify

Winters householders will not have any difficulty identifying the takers of the 1960 Census of Population and Housing when they start their rounds Friday, April 1, District Supervisor William G. Stacy has announced.

Each census taker will be provided with a red, white and blue identification card to be worn on the lapel. This card bears the seal of the Department of Commerce and the words "Census Enumerator, Official Credential" are printed across its face. Persons purporting to be Census takers who do not have this identification card should be reported immediately to the district Census office.

Census takers will be further identified by the portfolio containing their supplies. The portfolio is brown and bears the legend, "1960 Census of the United States," printed in green ink. In the portfolio, the census taker carries his supplies of report forms, maps, pencils and other tools of his trade.

Special steps are being taken in the 1960 Census to make sure that all transients are counted. Places such as hotels, motels, and other accommodations for transient guests will be canvassed under a different procedure than the one used for regular household dwelling units. Prior to March 31, census takers were to visit each of them and make a complete record of the rental units in these dwelling places. At the same time, they were to determine which of these units are occupied by permanent residents and which are for transients.

New Bulletin On Texas Cotton Production Out

Cotton is the most valuable cash crop in Texas, although it now ranks second in acreage to sorghum for grain. For the five years 1952-56, the Texas cotton crop, including lint and seed, had an average yearly value of more than $720,000,000. This was more than three times the combined value of wheat, sorghum grain and rice during the same period.

"Cotton Production In Texas," a new bulletin released jointly by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service, discusses in detail virtually everything cotton producers should know about this important crop. Production practices, varieties, soil and climatic adaptation, preparation of land and seedbed, planting, cultivation, weed and insect control, and irrigation are a few of the many topics covered.

Trends in cotton production in the State is one of the most interesting features. The bulletin points out that since 1933 cotton production in Texas has been shifting from certain areas to others. A remarkable shift has been made to the extreme western, northwestern and southern portion, or to the Trans-Pecos, High Plains and Rio Grande Plain of Texas. These areas accounted for about 12 percent of the acreage at the start of governmental control programs in 1933, but now have more than one-third of the acreage and more than half the total production. During the same period, the Black land, Grand and Coast Prairies, and the East Texas Timberlands experienced the greatest decline in percentage of planted acreage.
