HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

The Little League Association, now preparing for the spring and summer session of baseball in Winters, is still short adult help. They need managers and umpires, and others who will help with the program.

Working with these kids could be one of the most rewarding and invigorating experiences for someone who could find the time to devote to it.

Bill Miller, 18-year-old McMurry College freshman, and a product of Winters High School, keeps racking up records in track meets. Wednesday, in a dual meet with Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, he broad jumped farther than any other collegian in the nation, clearing 25 feet 2 inches. The previous best was 24 feet 10 1/2 inches by a student from Southern California. The all-time record, 26 feet 8 inches, was understood, was set by Jesse Owens about 20 years ago.

As we understand it, this new mark set by the Winters boy entitles him to try out for the Olympics in July, if such is his desire. Believe a 24 feet 7 inch jump is required by Olympics before try-outs are permitted.

While a student in Winters High School, Miller set several records in broad jump, both in high school and Junior Olympics meets.

We've got a mystery out in our neighborhood. Late Tuesday night we checked the rain gauge to make certain that lawn sprinklers had not filled it up—it was empty. Later in the night, we had a light shower—just enough to settle the dust, and drip off the roof. Early Wednesday morning, we checked the rain gauge, and found 6 inch of water in it. Can't figure it out, because usually half an inch of rain will leave puddles in the street—there were none. Was a 6 inch rain confined to our back yard?

WHS Tracksters Third In 7-AA Track Standing

Cisco High School copped the District 7-AA track title Wednesday afternoon, but speedsters from Winters High School racked up three first places in the competition to place third in the district. Ballinger was second in the meet. The meet was held at the McMurry field in Abilene.

Joel Butts won first place in two events, and was on the mile relay team winning first place. He ran the 100-yard dash in 10.4, the 220-yard dash in 23.7. The Winters High School mile relay team placed first with a time of 3:41.4. The team is composed of Kraatz, Crow, Clark and Butts.

Other places won by Winters High School tracksters in the district meet were:

Shot Put, Williams, 6; Discus, Williams, 3; High Jump, Pope; 440-yard Run, Winters, 4; 880-Yard Run, Kraatz, 2; Crow, 4; 120-Yard High Hurdles, Grissom, 2; 440-Yard Dash, Clark, 2; Marks, 5; Mile Run, Mitchell, 2; Johnston, 6.

Crews Cemetery Association Elects New Officers Sat.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Traylor were elected president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, at the annual meeting of the Crews Cemetery Association held Saturday.

The attendance was small and only a few graves were worked, according to Mrs. McBeth, retiring Secretary. She stated, "If you visit the cemetery and find the grave of your loved one has been worked, please work another."

This work is carried on through the year entirely by donations and funds are needed. Donations should be sent to the new treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Traylor, Route 2, Winters.

LEFT WEDNESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bedford, Jr., and children, left Wednesday morning for their home in Arlington Heights, Ill., after spending a few days visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bedford and other relatives.

IN GREGORY HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Gregory of Amarillo spent the week-end visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. C. W. Gregory.

LITTLEST LEAGUER — Brandon Hambright, 11-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hambright, may be a little on the small side to make the team, but what he lacks in size he'll probably make up in enthusiasm. If he does make the lineup, he's going to be the batter, because, you see, it's his bat. (Photo by Eddie Little)

Work To Start Soon On New Housing Addition

Four homes are in the planning stage, and work will begin within a few days on streets in Winters' newest residential addition, according to Harvey D. Jones, one of the promoters of what is presently known as the Jones-Lloyd Addition.
The new addition, located east of Parkview Addition on the northeast edge corner of Winters, will have space for approximately 30 homes, Jones said. The addition is being improved by Jones and Ralph Lloyd.
Jones said this week he expects to have all paper work completed, and begin construction on the streets with a week or ten days.

Jones said four parties have already begun preliminary work for the construction of four homes in the addition.

At 9 a. m. Sunday, the Sunday School classes will study the Gospel accounts of the resurrection of Christ from the dead, under the theme, "Jesus Lives." The worship service at 10:10 will also be a communion service. The choir anthem will be, "God So Loved the World," and the sermon topic from Matthew 28:6 will be, "He Rose From the Dead."

One of twelve Atlas ICBM launching sites for Dyess AFB will be located near Winters, according to an announcement made Tuesday by the Air Force.

Exact location of the firing site had not been made public, but Winters city officials said representatives of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division will arrive within a few days probably to work out plans with the city for water service to the site.

The launching pad for the Winters vicinity is one of three added to the nine originally planned by the Air Force for this area. The other two additional sites will be near Albany and Oplin.

No information was available this week on the size of the force required to man the sites.

According to the announcement, Site No. 10 will be 1 1/2 miles south of Albany in Shackelford county on U. S. 283, Site No. 11 will be 25 miles southeast of Dyess near Oplin in Callahan County, and site No. 12 will be 31 miles southwest of Dyess near Winters.

It is expected that personnel from the Army Corps of Engineers and officials of the Air Force will begin arriving in the Abilene area this week-end to begin work on final planning stages and obtaining land and bids for construction. About 150 men will be included in the total force, which will supervise and inspect construction during the two years of building before the sites are turned over to the Air Force.

Construction is expected to begin in early June. Total cost for the original nine launching sites was said to be $44 million, and the additional sites would add about $15 million to the original figure.

Sites for the original nine Atlas sites, in relation to Dyess AFB, are: 17 miles northeast, near Lake Phantom Hill; 25 miles east-southeast, near Baird; 21 miles southeast, near Denton Valley; 21 miles south-southeast near Lawn; 22 miles south, near Bradshaw, about 10 miles north of Winters; 19 miles south-southwest, near Shep; 20 miles west-southwest, near Nolan; 2 miles north-northwest, near Anson; and 35 miles north, near Corinth.

Coleman Electric Co-Op To Distribute Refund to Members

Coleman County Electric Co-operative will distribute over $50,000 in patronage refunds to the members who were on the system during those years of capital gains before January 1, 1951. The payments will be made within the next month.

The capital credits plan is a system whereby the cooperative and its members agree that all amounts paid for electric service in excess of the operating cost and expenses are furnished as capital.

The amounts so furnished are credited to the account of each member of a patronage basis. Each year the members receive a notice of the amount credited. All such amounts credited to the capital account of members are to be retired when the board of directors of the cooperative feel that the financial condition of the cooperative is in good condition and can meet all future obligations.

The cooperative may use the capital to be invested in plant, applied toward debt payment, or set up a reserve for emergencies.

At the present time there is a cash reserve of $316,000 set aside for emergencies such as ice storms and tornadoes and a cash reserve of $350,000 for renewal and replacement of lines when needed. The cooperative has made payment of nearly $1.8 million to REA. About $676,000 of this amount represents payment made ahead of schedule, over $300,000 represents interest paid, and $760,000 on principal. The cooperative has grown rapidly in recent years and is in splendid financial condition.

Roger Babson Discusses:

Highlights of the Outlook For The Farm Situation in General

Babson Park, Mass. — Outstanding in the early 1960 crop outlook is the fact that the government's recent report on prospective plantings shows six increases and ten decreases, with the total for the sixteen crops covered only moderately under a year ago. Here are some highlights of the outlook for the farm situation in general.

Feed Grains

Farmers intend to plant only slightly more acreage to corn than a year ago, when a record crop of 4,361,000,000 bushels was harvested. A lot of this old-crop corn is still hanging around. Thus, barring severe damage to the 1960 crop, there should be plenty for 1960-1961 needs. Sorghum grain also should be in generous supply, since planting intentions are down only 0.4 percent from the 1959 acreage, which produced a whopping 579,000,000 bushels.

Indicated acreages for barley and oats are down 3.7 percent and 5.2 percent respectively, from a year ago. However, this is no cause for alarm, at least in the case of barley. Last year's crop was 32 percent above average, and total stocks recently were well over the five-year average. In the case of oats, the 1959 crop was the smallest since 1939, and total stocks are sharply under a year ago and the five-year average. Crop progress of this grain should be watched closely this year, since any extensive damage could result in a tight supply situation.

Food Grains, Beans and Potatoes

Intended plantings of all spring wheat are down 4.6 percent from a year ago. Including acreage planted to winter wheat last fall, total acreage will be down less than 1,000,000 acres from that planted for the 1959 crop, which was well under the 1958 outturn, but somewhat above average. Given favorable weather, the 1960 crop, plus the carryover next July 1, should provide ample total supplies for 1960-1961. Growers intend to plant a little more acreage to rice than a year ago. Any production increase should certainly not glut the market.

There should be no dearth of dry beans next season, even though growers plan to cut acreage 1.3 percent. Last year's crop

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

Real Significance Of Presidential Primaries Doubtful

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

The Wisconsin Presidential preference primary was top news in Washington last week, as political experts sought to read signs in the returns. A variety of opinions tried to figure out the extent of religious motivation, party cross-overs, etc.

More of such primaries are in the offing. Indiana has one scheduled for May 3, followed by West Virginia on May 10, Maryland on May 17, and Oregon on May 20.

The real significance of these primaries is doubtful, but in any event they do provide a forum for candidates to flex their political muscles and show their vote-getting capacities. Many candidates decline to involve themselves in such elections.

The first primary that will attract several Presidential hopefuls will be the one in Oregon on May 20. Five Democratic Senators will participate—Wayne Morse, Symington, Humphrey, Kennedy, and Senator Lyndon Johnson.

Meantime, wasting no time, Senator Kennedy, with his well-financed organization, courted the Hoosiers in Indiana, looking to that State's primary on May 3. Viewing with alarm the country's economic ills and decrying the Government's failure to better provide for its people, he said "17 million Americans go to bed hungry every night."

Faced with a public debt of nearly $290 billion, we wonder where some of these promising candidates, who have a cure for every ill, plan to get the money. They don't like to talk about that.

was large and competition from other protein foods will continue keen. Summer and fall potato acreage, which accounts for the bulk of the total crop, may be upped 1 percent over 1959. Potatoes, however, will retail higher.

Flaxseed Down—Soybeans Up

The acreage trend in U. S. flaxseed has been steadily downward since 1956. The indicated cut this year is a negligible 0.4 percent. However, since the 1959 crop was relatively small and remaining stocks recently were only about 50 percent of the five-year average for the date, supplies for 1960-61 should cause higher prices.

The star performer, as far as planting intentions go, is the versatile soybean, with an increase of 6.4 percent; this would be the second highest acreage on record. Soybean growers evidently have faith in their product, despite cuts in the price-support level. Even though a record crop could be produced on this acreage, it probably need not prove burdensome. The longer-term trend of total consumption still appears to be upward.

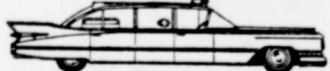

Cattle and Hog Situation

The number of cattle and calves on farms hits a record high of 101,520,000 head — up 13 percent from the 1949-1958 average. Consumers should buy beef for less during 1960, although no runaway liquidation is likely this year. Outstanding in the hog situation is an indicated 11 percent cut in the 1960 spring pig crop compared with a year earlier. This could mean higher pork prices.

I realize, of course, that acreages actually planted may turn out to be larger or smaller than indicated in this report; but 1960 could be a fairly good year for U. S. farmers. One thing readers may count on is lower gasoline prices, tax excluded. This is owing to a surplus of oil and the increased demand for small "compact" foreign and domestic cars which can operate 35 miles to the gallon.

CHEVY! YOU CAN'T BUY ANY CAR FOR LESS ...UNLESS IT'S A LOT LESS CAR!

Anyone who's looked around knows the majority of Chevrolet models—6's and V8's together—list for less than comparable models of other low-priced cars. But the price tag alone is only one of a whole raft of reasons a Chevy does better by your dollars.

Nothing near Chevy's size and price can match the Full Coil cushioning of its ride, or the fine, finished workmanship of its Body by Fisher. That even applies to some cars that cost a lot more. You're up in the higher price brackets before you find a car that moves as quietly as a Chevrolet or offers the inner space that Chevrolet does.

Or look at the extras Chevy gives you —at no extra cost—that others in its class can't offer at any price. Shock-cushioned steering. Safety Plate Glass in every window. Keyless locking of all doors. Crank-operated vent windows. Chevrolet offers the widest choice of power teams, too. Drive a Chevy just once. You'll have a tough time settling for anything less.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of the Enterprise:

The debate over the "Connally Amendment" has been very much in the news lately. This amendment to a federal law says that the United States will be the sole judge of whether an issue is a domestic one or an international one in regard to the jurisdiction of the World Court, which is a part of the United Nations Organization. This amendment has been adopted by most of the nations of the world. In effect, this makes the World Court powerless in doing the job for which it has been established: that of settling disputes between nations by law rather than by force. No one is willing to submit to its jurisdiction as long as the U. S. A. and the other large nations hold aloof from it.

Today many people and organizations, including President Eisenhower, Vice-President Nixon, and the American Bar Association, want to repeal this amendment so as to allow the World Court to function. The main fear that opponents of repeal have is that the Court would begin to meddle in purely domestic affairs. Our senator in Austin from this district has said that the Court could come to Winters and tell us what school textbooks might be used.

Such a fear is completely groundless and unjustified because of the very structure of the United Nations Organization itself. Suppose that the World Court were to hail the U. S. A. before it in what we considered a purely domestic issue. And suppose, too, that the Court convicted us of some transgression of international law. The only way that the court could bring against us penalties that we would not be willing to pay would be by means of the Security Council of the United Nations Organization. And as you know, the U. S. A. is a permanent member of this Council with a right to veto any action of the Security Council. This means that, ultimately, we could defend ourselves against any meddling by the World Court in purely domestic affairs.

The obvious value of having a court to which nations could bring their grievances against other nations is that law rather than military force would become the basis for settling differences. To someone who says that such a concept is idealistic and unrealistic, I reply that it is no more idealistic and unrealistic than the dreams in the minds of the founders of the United States of America. Who would have thought that the plans of those men could ever have developed this land into the strong, free nation it is today?

Any person who says that force is the only way to settle disputes with other countries must be willing to assume the terrible responsibility of a nuclear holocaust on this planet. Narrow isolationism and narrow nationalism do not make for peace in this nervous world in which we suddenly find ourselves.

In all of the heat that is generated in debate over the Connally amendment repeal, let us consider calmly the real issues as well as alternatives which will inevitably come if we do not repeal this amendment soon.

Cordly,
Leslie Ellison
A City of Winters, Texas,

Water Conservation Stamp

The fact that water is a vital and limiting natural resource is dramatized by the latest in a series of conservation commemorative postage stamps — the 4-cent water conservation stamp to be issued in Washington, D. C., on April 18, 1960.

No other resource so directly affects the welfare, comfort, and happiness of all the people.

Our national and personal need for water for domestic use, for sanitation, for manufacture, and for agriculture is multiplied each year by our expanding population.

Without water, soil cannot produce the food and fiber needed to nourish and clothe our rapidly increasing population.

More and more people each year are turning to water and water sports for leisure-time enjoyment.

But there is just so much water. The earth's water supply remains constant. We can meet these vital and rising demands for water only by better use of what we have—by reducing needless waste and pollution—by protecting the water shed upon which our water falls as rain and snow—by finding more efficient ways for its use.

Most problems of water shortage, poor water, or floods trace back directly to the land.

Whether or not the land in each watershed is eroded or is mantled by protective cover of grass and trees — whether there are small dams and other flood-preventing structures along the channels — whether steps have been taken to reduce pollution — these determine in large measure whether water supplies are ample and reliable.

It is because of the dependence of water supply on watersheds that the commemorative stamp will be issued at the 7th National Watershed Congress in the Nation's capital on April 18th.

The new water resources commemorative stamp will be available in local post offices on April 19, the day following its official issuance.

The unique two-panel stamp portrays a closeup view of a drop of water falling from a leaf, which symbolizes watershed influences upon water supply. This design leads the eye to the right-hand panel depicting an actual watershed panorama. A town and farm in the foreground are dependent on the upstream watershed with its well managed farm and forest lands and small dams for flood prevention and water storage.

Christ's tomb was in a garden beside the place of execution, and students tell us that the three crosses, or at least the three upright beams, would still be standing on Calvary. The women would have to pass by these horrible reminders of the Crucifixion raised against the morning sky.

"And then came the glorious discovery that the tomb was empty and that Christ had risen. It was most appropriate that the disciples learned of the Resurrection at the beginning of a new day for the Resurrection of Christ was the beginning of a radiant new day for the followers of Jesus and for all humanity.

"By his Resurrection Christ triumphed over darkness, hatred, sin, and death. Easter means the victory of truth, kindness, forgiveness, and love."

Work of Census Enumerators Nearly Complete

The work of counting heads for the 1960 Census is nearing completion, according to W. G. Stacy, district supervisor for this district.

A preliminary check of the first week's work in compiling the Census has revealed a high degree of diligence and effectiveness on the part of the 17 crew leaders and 286 enumerators assigned to the 21st Congressional District, said Stacy.

Stacy said the response from citizens has been most cooperative. In only a few instances have the enumerators encountered reluctance to answer the questions involved. He said the cooperation of the press, radio and television has contributed mightily toward alerting the public and furthering general knowledge of the purpose of this census.

Because of the coverage that must be made with a limited number of enumerators, some people have not yet been contacted, the district supervisor said. They will be counted as soon as possible, he said.

How should fishermen handle fish to best preserve their good eating flavor?

After a survey of this question among veteran fishermen, Heddon research staff came up with these recommendations:

First—catch a fish. (Cool logic!)
Second—clean it as soon as possible after catching. Don't drag it around behind your boat until it turns stiff as a board (like which it will taste.)

Third—cook it as soon as possible after cleaning it. Flavor sags with age (so eat it young).

Fish gourmets prefer to clean each fish as soon as caught, place it temporarily in an ice-filled refrigerator bag or chest, then broil it on the nearest shore. They say it's amazing how a fish cooked this way will improve the taste of a pinch of salt!

If you must stash your fish away in the deep freeze, Heddon suggests that you put the fish sections in an air-tight container and fill with water. This prevents dehydrating and preserves flavor best.

Then when fish-hunger nudges you, thaw and cook—but never over-cook.

Season? If you use anything but salt and butter, you're admitting that you don't like to fish.

Save Outboard Fuel Slips

Ever wonder how many hours per year you run your outboard?

More important, do you have trouble estimating when your motor's maintenance checks are due?

An easy way to keep surprisingly accurate check on running hours is through gasoline sales slips. It's quite easy over an extended period to determine how much fuel your outboard burns in an hour of average operation.

Of course one must remember that extensive trolling or full-throttle operation can greatly alter your average mileage.

Anyway, having this information at hand makes it simple to add up your fuel purchases and arrive at the number of hours a motor must have been operated.

If, for example, your motor burns three gallons per hour and you bought 75 gallons of fuel in a given period, the motor will have run for about 25 hours. Obviously, then, any recommended 25-hour checks are due and should be taken care of promptly.

Naturally a few hours of over-time won't hurt a good motor, but this orderly time-keeping system will do more for your motor's well being than mere guess work.

If you do a great deal of motor boating, there is another advantage to saving fuel slips. You can obtain a tax refund on all gas purchased in Texas for your boat. Here's how it's done:

First, you must buy your gas from a licensed refund dealer. (Such licenses are obtained from the State Comptroller's office.) The dealer will give you an invoice of exemption, form 7065B, with each gasoline purchase for your boat. You, in turn, will write the comptroller's office for form 7065E, fill it out, and mail it back to him with all your invoices and he'll send you your refund.

This procedure probably will save you more than you expected. It might help buy that extra minnow bucket, anchor, cooler or tackle box. One important reminder—you must apply for the refund within six months of the date you purchased the gasoline.

One more tip on fuel slips. Even if you have no interest in a formal log of your outboard cruises, these sales slips constitute an information record for future reference, a record not only of your mileage and fuel consumption, but of your ports of call and the dates you made the trips.

Points On Refueling
Speaking of fuel, how's your outboard refueling technique?

The mark of an expert outboarder is his quick, certain, safe refueling procedure.

By far the best plan for all boats having portable fuel tanks is to take them out of the boat for filling. It is easier for the dock or service station attendant to add exactly the right amount of oil and to avoid over filling when he has the tank right at his feet. Furthermore it avoids messy and potentially hazardous spillage of fuel into the bilges.

Gasoline vapor is heavier than air and will collect in the lower levels of any confined space—such as inside a boat hull. Open outboards usually are well ventilated, but in some cases floor boards or bow lockers delay the dissipation of vapors long enough to create some fire hazard.

It is important to mix oil and gasoline thoroughly. If lubricant is poorly mixed with the gas, erratic running and poor lubrication may result. There have been cases when erratic motor operation, suggestive of the need for carburetor adjustment, has been traced to owner carelessness in the matter of maintaining a steady oil-gas ratio from one batch of fuel to the next.

To an empty tank, add the required amount of oil and approximately the same volume of gasoline. Slosh around to mix thoroughly. Then add the remainder of the gasoline. Too little oil creates a risk of mechanical damage; too much oil leads to irregular, smoky running and premature spark plug and carbon troubles.

Also, smart outboarders make a sure there is enough slack in the fuel line to allow the motor to tilt and turn without pulling on it, and that the heavy tank does not rest on a loop of hose and pinch it.

Fuel tanks should be secured against shifting. One which comes loose over rough water or on a sharp turn, can damage the boat, hurt a passenger, or tear the fuel line loose.

And needless to say, the "no smoking" rule should be strictly observed during all refueling operations.

Guam has the highest birth rate of any area of the world, with 58 births per year for each 1000 population. (U. S. average, 24.8) Monaco claims the low record of 14.2 per 1,000 population.)

All Boats Should Now Be Numbered; Main Purpose Of Law Is For Safety

By Vern Sanford
Got your boat numbers yet? Under the new water safety act passed by the 1959 Legislature, all boat owners, with a few exceptions, are required to number their boats. Deadline was March 1 of this year.

That date has passed, but if you are among those who forgot, you're in the majority.

Numbers must be obtained from the State Highway Department in Austin. Application forms may be secured from almost any dealer in marine supplies, or county tax offices.

All the state wants is the name and address of the owner of the boat, its serial number, make, model (year built) and length: Its construction (wood, plastic, etc.), whether it's an inboard or outboard, diesel or gasoline powered, and for what purpose it is being used (business of pleasure).

Application must be notarized, then forwarded to the Texas Highway Department (40th and Jackson) in Austin — along with a money order or cashier's check covering the fee.

Fees are based on the length of the boat. For those under sixteen feet the fee is $1; 16 to 26 feet, but not including 26 feet, $5; 26 to 40 feet, $10; 40 feet and over, $12.50.

License is good for three years.

Much beefing is heard over the instructions to pay by money order or cashier's check. This particularly from those who must pay only the $1 fee. Result is that most boat owners are sending in a check or cash and such payment is being accepted.

Licensing plan is similar to that of your car, except that the state doesn't provide the numbers — or charge as much — and the number is permanently assigned.

When you sell your boat, or it is destroyed, or abandoned, you must notify the Highway Department, and surrender your certificate number. Each new owner then must send in $1 for renewal of application. Purchaser of the boat is given a reasonable time to make application for a transfer of number.

This feature of the act will help greatly in returning stolen boats to their rightful owners. Ownership records are public records. All you need is the boat's number to determine its owner's name.

Any time you want the information the Highway Department is required by the act to supply it. For this reason, boat owners must notify the Highway Department of any change of address from that filed with the application.

Your certificate must be kept on your person or on your boat. If you lose your certificate you may obtain a duplicate for $1.

Within 90 days of the expiration of your license you must apply for a renewal. Boat numbers, however, will not be changed.

So much for licensing provisions. Now about the safety features—the main purpose of the bill.

All motor boats 16 to 26 feet in length must have a white light aft, visible from all directions. Also a bow light, green on the starboard and red on the port side.

Motor boats 26 feet and longer must have a bright white light fore and aft as well as the green light on the starboard and red light on the port side.

Sail boats under 40 feet in length must carry the red and green lantern, but not the white light. However, they are required to have a lantern or a flashlight aboard to be used in sufficient time to avert collision.

Every boat—regardless of size or make—shall have aboard one coast guard-approved life preserver, buoyant vest, ring buoy or buoyant cushion—for each person on boat. And it is the owner's responsibility to see that such equipment is in his boat.

This, regardless of who is operating the vessel.

There are several exemptions to the numbering provisions. However, for the most part the only exemptions for private boat owners is the one granted for boats powered by motors of 10 horsepower or less. You fellows don't need to be concerned one way or another—except for the safety requirements.

In your case the safety provisions applicable include a required life preserver for each occupant and a white light to exhibit between the hours of sunset and sunrise.

Under this new law, drinking boat drivers are subject to fines of from $50 to $500 and imprisonment up to six months, or both fine and imprisonment. Same applies to intoxicated skiers.

Boats towing skiers must be operated at a reasonable distance from persons and property so as not to endanger the life or property of another person. Fines for violations range from $10 to $50.

Who is to enforce the law? Any peace officer has the authority to make arrests and to board any vessel which does not have a proper identifying number or is being operated in a reckless manner.

He can issue you a "ticket" the same as a highway patrolman.

If properly administered and enforced, this law could prove to be a very valuable piece of legislation — in the interest of greater and safer boating pleasure.

Household Help Is Subject to Social Security Act

Housewives who hire household help by the day or by the week have until April 30 to file the quarterly social security tax returns on wages paid to their employees during the first three months of 1960, announced Floyd B. Ellington, District Manager of the San Angelo Social Security office this week.

A return must be filed with the District director of Internal Revenue for any household worker to whom an employer has paid cash wages of $50 or more during the three months of January, February and March. Wages of as little as $4 a week paid to a worker each week during this 3-month period will have amounted to more than $50, Ellington pointed out.

He indicated that many household employees are still not being reported for social security by their employers, although their cash wages from each employer may amount to well over $50 in a three-month period. This is especially true of "day workers," he said, who work for several employers during the course of a week. Each employer who pays such a worker a total of $50 cash wages during the calendar quarter is required by law to file a return showing the name and social security account number of the worker, the amount of her wages, and the social security taxes due.

Ellington added that the social security tax on wages paid in 1960 is 6 percent—3 percent to be deducted from the employee's wages, and a matching 3 percent to be contributed by the employer.

West Texas Utilities Elects Two New Vice Presidents

The election of two additional Vice Presidents of West Texas Utilities Company was announced by Cal Young, WTU President.

S. B. Phillips Jr., Executive Assistant, and Roff W. Hardy, Assistant Treasurer and Head of the Statistical Department were elected Vice Presidents at a meeting of the Board of Directors held Friday morning at 11:00. Both will continue with their present duties and will work on special assignments, reporting directly to the president.

S. B. Phillips Jr., executive Assistant since February, 1957, was employed by WTU in 1939 as a clerk in the San Angelo office. During the next two years, he worked in the laboratory at the Concho Power Plant and then returned to the District office as assistant cashier.

He served with the Air Force from 1941 to 1946. Phillips returned to San Angelo and rejoined the company in 1946 as assistant chief clerk in the San Angelo office. From 1947 to 1951, he worked as a company agricultural representative and in 1952 was named district manager of WTU's Big Bend District with headquarters in Marfa.

He was transferred from Marfa to the General Office in Abilene in 1957 to assume his new duties as Executive Assistant. In August, 1957, he was in Ann Arbor, Mich., for four weeks where he attended the Public Utilities Executive Program, conducted by the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Phillips is the former Frances Rau of San Angelo. They are the parents of three daughters and one son.

Roff W. Hardy, assistant treasurer since March, 1950, was employed by WTU in May, 1935, as a clerk in the Treasury Department. His entire service was in the Treasury Department until 1955 when he was made company statistician and assumed his additional duties in September of that year.

He served with the Air Force at Goodfellow Field in San Angelo for three years during World War II.

Born in Abilene in 1914, Hardy attended the Abilene Public School and following graduation from Abilene High School in 1931, entered Hardin Simmons University. After attending HSU for two years he entered an Abilene business college for special training in business administration.

In 1957, Hardy spent four weeks at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor where he attended the Public Utilities Executive Program.

Mrs. Hardy is the former Ora Fay Hefley of Abilene. They were married in 1939 and have one daughter and two sons.

30-Member Committee Will Meet On May 16 To Study State Tax Program

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

A 30-member committee appointed by Price Daniel will meet May 16 to begin work on a tall task.

Assignment of the State Finance Advisory Committee will be to suggest every possible economy in state government and recommend a tax program to put the state on a sound financial basis.

For the immediate future the tax program is to wipe out the general revenue fund deficit, which the governor estimates will be $40,000,000 at the end of this fiscal year, and provide $35,000,000 for teacher pay raises.

Committee is to be made up of leading citizens in both public and private life. Six already have been named. They are Secretary of State Zollie Steakley who will be chairman; Jess Irwin, the governor's budget director; Jon Ford, administrative assistant to the governor; Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research; John R. McKee of Dallas, Ford Motor Co. executive; and Hugo Lowenstern, Amarillo real estate man.

Gov. Daniel said he would ask the committee to search for revenue sources other than a general sales tax or state income tax.

He hopes, said the governor, that the committee will work out some recommendations soon so that a special session can be called this year to pass teacher pay raises. Under Texas' requirement for pay-as-you-go financing, the Legislature would have to pass taxes to wipe out the deficit before it could vote funds for the school improvement program.

some recommendations soon so that a special session can be called this year to pass teacher pay raises. Under Texas' requirement for pay-as-you-go financing, the Legislature would have to pass taxes to wipe out the deficit before it could vote funds for the school improvement program.

TEACHER RAISE ENDORSED
Nearly three-fourths of the candidates for the Legislature this year have told the Texas State Teachers Association they favor a pay raise for teachers.

Some qualified their statements to indicate that getting the pay raise might be an easier - said - than - done proposition.

Of 401 candidates for the Senate and House, 336 answered TSTA's questionnaire, and 293 said they approved the Hale-Aikin school program.

Asked if they would vote the necessary taxes for it, 252 promised support outright. Others added conditions on the kinds of taxes they would approve.

LOAN PLAN DISAPPROVED
Third Court of Civil Appeals has held the certificate plan used by some loan companies is unconstitutional.

Loan companies involved in the test case are expected to appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Under the certificate plan, the borrower of $100 would agree to repay his loan thru monthly payments on an investment certificate for $110. This, according to the Attorney General's Department, forces the borrower to pay more than the permitted 10 percent interest because the interest does not drop as he pays off the principal.

Loan companies, which won the first round in district court, contend that the same procedure is used by banks, saving and loan associations and other lending institutions.

Attorney General's Department replied that there is no specific provision prohibiting other institutions from computing interest in this manner.

SCHOOL BUYING CRITICIZED
Clothing purchases at the Texas Blind, Deaf and Orphan School for Colored in Austin were far in excess of use during the past 18 months, State Auditor C. H. Cavness reported.

Cavness said his audit turned up excessive clothing purchases totaling $3,824. In all, he said, 3,042 articles of clothing were bought, but only 75 articles were issued to the children.

He said he had received no "reasonable explanation" for the discrepancy. Cavness suggested that the Texas Youth Council which oversees state schools for needy and handicapped children, make an inventory and transfer surplus items to other schools.

CITIZEN INTEREST URGED
Texas Law Enforcement Foundation has called on individual citizens to feel responsible for the way the law is observed in their communities.

Citing no specific instances, the TLEF executive committee said that a "breakdown in citizen responsibility must precede a any breakdown in law enforcement."

Three new members have been elected to the TLEF executive committee. They are Neil Masterson Jr. of Houston, Weldon Jones of San Angelo and Radcliffe Killam of Laredo. Dolph Briscoe Jr. of Uvalde is new secretary of the committee.

Plans are under way to expand the foundation's board to include representation from every part of the state and to set up a program to assist families of law enforcement officers killed on duty.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT IV
State supreme Court has again refused to get involved in a dispute as to whether a Dallas district judge can hold a railway president in contempt of court because trains blocked a Dallas street.

However, the high court repeated, with emphasis, its belief that the district court order is

"The Gazebo" Metro-Goldwyn

Mayer's laugh-packed film version of the Broadway murder-mystery-comedy hit, reunites Glenn Ford and Debbie Reynolds, following their previous success, "It Started With A Kiss."

Co-starred in "The Gazebo" is television's popular Carl Reiner, with leading supporting roles played by John McGiver, Mabel Albertson, Doro Merande, Martin Landau, Bert Freed, Robert Ellenstein, Richard Wessell—and "Her-man," a pigeon, who is a scene stealer if there ever was one.

An Avon Production for MGM, the comedy was produced by Lawrence Weingarten, who produced "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof," one of last year's outstanding films; and was directed by George Marshall from the screen play by George Wells. It is in CinemaScope.

Ford is seen as Elliott Nash, who has a successful career as one of television's top mystery writers; an adoring actress wife, Nell (Miss Reynolds); a charming home in Connecticut—and a void and "no trial judge will attempt to enforce" it.

Dallas Dist. Judge Jack Thornton sentenced M-K-T President W. N. Deramus to 240 days in jail and levied a $4,000 fine because Katy trains blocked a street for more than five minutes at a time, against the judge's order. Since then, an underpass was begun.

Deramus, a St. Louis, Mo., resident, has sought to avoid coming to Texas to appear in Thornton's court despite the Supreme Court's reassurances. Thornton has declared he would put the railway executive in jail.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas permanent school fund now totals $413,231,236, according to a report to the State Board of Education. Fund is build up by revenue from mineral lease bonuses, rentals and oil and gas royalties on public lands set aside for schools. Only the income from investment of the fund can be spent. . . . A record number of Texans have qualified themselves to vote this year. State Comptroller Bob Calvert estimates that poll taxes plus exemptions will total 2,559,000. This compares to 2,410,000 in 1956. . . . Prices received for Texas farm and ranch products increased two percent last month, said the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, but were nine percent below a year ago.
