Wedding Vows Solemnized For Miss Leah Miller and W. G. Bedford Jr.

Dr. Woodson Armes, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked with candelabras holding white tapers and baskets of white lilies, carnations and gaidiolus.

Rhealene Stewart of Fort Worth, organist, presented traditional wedding music and accompanied James Featherston of Wichita Falls, brother-in-law of the bride, soloist, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candlelighters were Darlene Ballard of Fort Worth and Janie Miller of Smithfield, cousin of the bride.

John B. Bedford of Abilene, uncle of the bridegroom, served as best man and groomsmen were David Bedford, Abilene, uncle of the bridegroom, Captain Don Bedford of Fort Worth, cousin of the groom, Aaron Miller and Joe Miller, both of Fort Worth and brothers of the bride. Ushers were Tommy Carter and Harry Flair, both of Fort Worth.

Mrs. James B. Featherston of Wichita Falls, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Russell Bedford, Winters, sister of the bridegroom, Teresa Carter, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Aaron Miller, sister-in-law of the bride, and Anita Mashburn, all of Fort Worth.

They wore identical street length dresses of blue crystalline designed with a fitted bodice, round neck, long sleeves and bouffant skirt. They wore matching shoes, short white gloves and their headresses were blue veil of illusion attached with a single flower at the back. They carried a nosegay of feathered carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length wedding gown of chantilly lace and slipper satin fashioned with an empired bodice, round neck, long sleeves extending to a point at the wrist and a bouffant skirt. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a tier tiara studded with seed pearls and rhinestones and she carried a white orchid encircled with lilies of the valley atop a white lace Bible.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church. The bride's table, laid with dasmask was centered with bride's bouquet surrounded with the bridesmaid's nosegays. Mrs. Dalvin Awalt, Mrs. David Carroll and Mrs. David Carroll punch from a crystal punch bowl and Mrs. David Carroll of Winters served the three tiered wedding cake of white confection decorated with blue flowers. Table appointments were of crystal. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Glynn Hill of Killeen, Mrs. Willie Keith and Mrs. Joe Miller, both of Fort Worth.

For a wedding trip to South Texas, the bride wore a blue embroidered linen sheath with white accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Polytechnic High School, received her B. S. Degree from Howard Payne College in Brownwood. She has taught speech and English at Winters High School for the past two years. The bridegroom, attended Winters High School, entered the Air Force in 1950. He served one year in Labrador and several months in Denver, Colorado before being transferred to Dyess Air Force Base where he is a staff sergeant.

The couple will reside at 2742 Russell Avenue in Abilene.

adopt necessary legislation to enable the farmer to achieve 100 per cent parity income."

This is one of the resolutions which was forwarded to Rep. Chester A. Bowles (D-Conn), chairman of the platform committee for the 1960 Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles, to Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), and to other national leaders for their consideration. Both the chairman of the platform committee and Senator Johnson had expressed interest in receiving a full report of the deliberations and decisions of the Southern Commissioners reached at San Antonio.

Another notable resolution adopted by the Commissioners observed that "credit is a necessary implement in helping small family-sized farms, and interest rates to the farmer are too high." It was resolved that Congress be urged to "appoint a committee to study the needs of small farmers for credit and that appropriate legislation be enacted."

The Texas Commissioner of Agriculture was elected president of the Southern Commissioners, succeeding Agriculture Commissioner S. E. (Si) Corley of Mississippi.

Co. Commissioners Raise Pay $720

Runnels County Commissioners have voted to raise their own salaries by 12 1-2 percent.

Commissioners were paid $5,600 a year before the raise, which was dated effective June 15. The increase will mean an additional $720 to make a salary total of $6,320 for each commissioner.

The district court clerk and the county treasurer were also included in the 12 1-2 percent salary increase. Their salaries were $4600 each.

The commissioners court also passed an order of intention to issue road and bridge warrants for relocation of U. S. Highway 83, not to exceed $80,000. The warrants will be issued at a public hearing, at a time to be announced, County Judge W. H. Rampsy said.

Half the money will be used to buy right-of-way land on U. S. 83 between Ballinger and Hatchel, and the other half will be used to purchase 12 dump trucks for construction work.

Explains Difference Between SCD, SCS

"There is a big difference between Soil Conservation Districts and the Soil Conservation Service," states Bill Minzenmayer, supervisor of Runnels S.C.D. He said that sometimes people get confused about the two organizations.

Soil Conservation Districts are subdivisions of the state, Minzenmayer stated. They are self-governed and enjoy about the same privileges as a county, independent school district, or an incorporated city. These Districts cannot float bonds or levy taxes. They are responsible for promoting soil and water conservation within their territory.

The business of the district is direct by a Board of five supervisors. These supervisors are resident landowners who are elected to serve for five year terms by the local landowners.

The first job after organization of the district is to work up a District Program and plan of action. This plan describes the conditions and problems affecting land resources in the district. It states the district's soil and water conservation goals and tells what it will do about them.

This Program and Plan is used as a basis for entering into working agreements with other agencies. The district arranges for assistance from public or private sources to get its program into effect.

Cecil Drake of the Soil Conservation Service said that the SCS is one of the agencies which may enter into an agreement with the district to assist it in getting conservation on the ground. The SCS is an agency of the Department of Agriculture. Under this agreement, the SCS provides, without charge, the services of professional conservationists to help the farmer plan and apply a conservation program to his land.

Some of the services available from the Soil Conservation Service, through the district, are:

A detailed soil land land capability map of farmland. Or, a range site and condition map on range-land.

Local and specific information about the safe uses and adapted crops for each kind of soil on the farm or ranch.

Information about the conservation practices needed on each kind of soil, with each of the possible systems of use.

Consultation service from a professional soil conservationist to assist farmers and ranchers develop a basic conservation plan for their land.

Technical services, as needed, to design, lay out and check the construction of dams, terraces, or other engineering structures.

Information on the varieties, seeding methods, rates, and cultural practices to use in establishing grass as planned. Answers to technical questions that arise in managing pastures, woodlands, or wildlife areas.

IN COMPTON HOME

Sergeant and Mrs. C. L. Compton and family left Thursday for their home in El Paso after spending a ten day leave visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. E. W. Compton and Darrell. Sunday visitors in the Compton home were Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Compton and girls, Mrs. A. O. Merck and girls, Mrs. W. D. Compton and sons of Kerrville, Mrs. Bea McDonald and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brown and daughter, all of Big Spring. Mrs. McDonald and Linda remained for a visit in the Compton home.

VISITED IN PREMONT

Mrs. Fred Frost and sons of Odessa and Mrs. J. C. Martin spent a week visiting in Premont in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Gebert. They also visited the A. N. Crownovers in Alice, former residents of Winters. Mrs. Frost and sons returned to Odessa Wednesday after spending the week end visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martin.

Work On Terraces After Grain Is Out

Now is a good time for maintenance of terraces on land where small grain has been harvested, reports Glen Green of the local Soil Conservation Service. Green stated terrace ends and closures are usually weakened by farm equipment during the season's operation.

Water going over these low places may gather and break the other terraces below.

After the small grain crop is harvested the terrace systems should be inspected. All low places can be repaired with a dozer, scraper or farm equipment.

After the low places have been filled, all low terraces should be built up. This can be done by back furrowing toward the terrace ridge.

The width of the plow land should be varied each year so the dead furrow does not fall in the same place year after year. Sometimes this may require plowing in two lands.

A few of the cooperators of the Runnels Soil Conservation District who practice terrace maintenance are: Edward Gottschalk, Rt. 2, Ballinger; Walter Andrae, Rt. 1, Winters; Mitchell Blackwood, Rt. 1, Winters and Frank Gully, Rt. 1, Rowena.

One of the greatest social assets is the knack of making other people feel inferior.

An old railroad touring car belonging to Jay Gould, the railroad magnate, now stands as a museum in Jefferson, Texas, in the northeast corner of the state.

When the town council refused him a right-of-way for his railroad through the city, in the mid-1900's Gould noted in the hotel register, "This is the end of Jefferson."

But Jefferson still stands, and so does the railroad car!

Northeast of Crowell, Texas, at the cradle of the Panhandle, is the Pease River Battlefield. It is best known as the spot where a band of Texas Rangers recaptured Cynthia Ann Parker twenty five years after she was kidnapped by the Comanche Indians in 1836.

Holland Coffee's Trading Post was established in 1837 to barter with the Indians. One of the frequent items the Indians brought in to trade was a white man captive.

The site of this early-day trading post is just 12 miles northwest of Denison, Texas, near the Red River and the Texas-Oklahoma border.

FB Plans "Talent Find" for October

Thirty-three persons attended the meeting of the board of directors of the Runnels County Farm Bureau Thursday held in the office in Ballinger.

A committee report was heard from Alfred Multer, membership chairman, who encouraged each director to do his part in seeing that delinquent members are reinstated prior to the fiscal year 1960.

The directors voted to sponsor a "talent find" to be held as a part of the county convention in October. The talent show will be on a county level with prizes for the winners. Contestants must be between the ages 17-30 inclusive as of December 1, must be Farm Bureau members or Farm Bureau families and amateurs.

Contest numbers may be of any style of individual talent and if the winner of the county contest is sent to the state contest and should win in state competition, the winner will receive $250.00. The state winner will provide entertainment at the state convention to be held in Dallas this year.

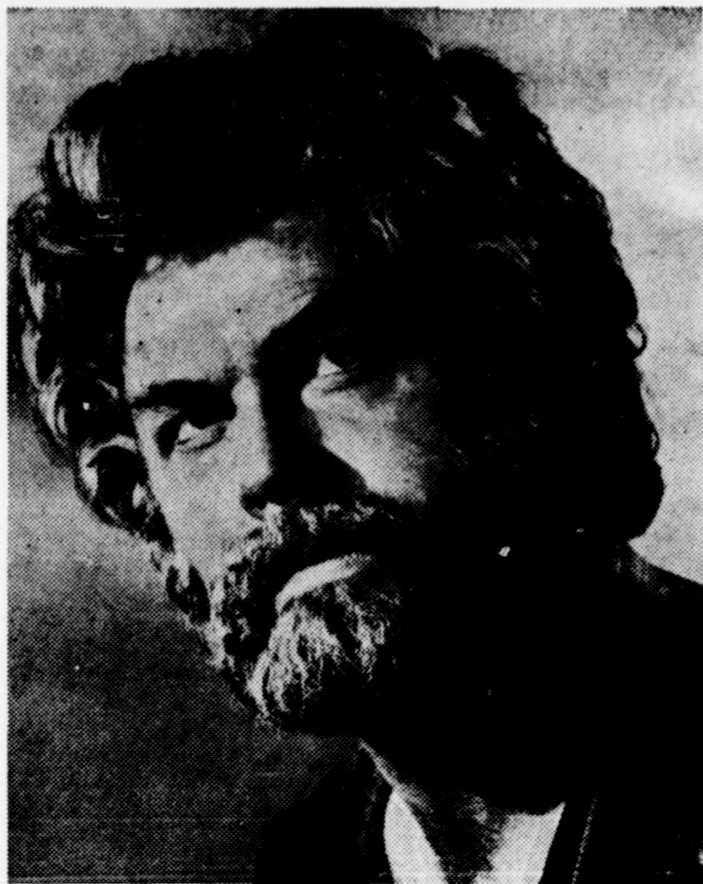

The first elimination will be in October and the directors of the Farm Bureau urge all young people eligible to enter to start working now on a single number, or a group selection. If any one is eligible to compete in the talent show, or if you know of some individual or group of individuals, please contact the secretary at the Ballinger office for further details.

Highlight of the meeting was the discussion and amending of the county convention minutes. It was decided not to purchase or build a new office building this year, and that the annual barbecue will be held.

Date for the barbecue has been set for August 25, due to the conflict with the annual firemen's banquet which is annually set for the third Thursday in August. Chairman of the barbecue will be C. L. Howell, second vice president of the Farm Bureau.

With the barbecue is the selection of a 1960 Farm Bureau queen who will represent Runnels County at the district and possibly the state levels. The out-going queen, Dixie Wilbanks, who has represented the Farm Bureau during 1959, will forfeit her crown at the barbecue to the girl who wins first in the county contest.

The contestants must be between 16-22, Farm Bureau members, members of FB families and not a previous winner of the con-

An informal lawn party honoring Sandy Lowe and Jimmie Hoppe, who will be married June 30, was held Sunday evening in the back yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roach.

Mrs. Frances Campbell and Mrs. J. W. Dunn shared hostess duties with Mrs. Roach.

The refreshment table, laid with white linen, was centered with a pineapple porcupine with tidbits of cheese, pineapple and olives. Fresh peaches and plums surrounded the centerpiece. An arrangement of shasta daisies was at one end of the table.

Pictures were made and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to approximately 15 school friends.

test. State winner in the contest will receive $500.00 toward her expenses to the National Convention which will be held in Denver, Colorado in December, 1960.

Mrs. M. L. Dobbins will act as chairman of the queen contest committee which consists of Miss Patti McDaniel, county secretary, Mrs. Ben Frerich of Rowena, Mrs. Alfred Multer of Olfen and Mrs. Marion Hays of Ballinger. All entries should be submitted to the county Farm Bureau office in Ballinger and each girl will receive a set of rules pertaining to the contest.

Congress Pushing For Convention Adjournment

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

The drive for pre-convention adjournment began in earnest last week, with early and late sessions of both the House and Senate getting under way.

Foreign aid, minimum wage increase and expansion, a medicare bill, topped the agendas. The House-approved Diablo Dam bill was being pushed in the Senate by Senator Johnson, with likelihood of early approval in that that body.

Election-year housing legislation was almost sure of approval in Congress. Totalling more than a billion dollars, this proposal faces a probable veto. Actually this measure smacks of budget-busting proportions because it contains so much that is admittedly non-essential.

The present $1 minimum wage law would be increased to $1.25 an hour and an additional 4 million employees covered, by pending bills being advanced in both the House and Senate. Even sponsors of this legislation admit this proposal is inflationary, but it is attempted to be justified on other grounds.

Actually, according to many experts, this ambitious expansion of the wage and hour law would not only be inflationary but would put a good many fringe-type employees out of jobs and onto relief rolls. And small businessmen from over the nation indicate that the increase in the minimum will result in screening of employees and thousands being released.

On paper, this attempt to force higher wages sounds good. But in application it would, according to an avalanche of testimony, be harmful to a lot of people and probably result in the actual closing of a good many small business enterprises.

But sponsors insist the increase will mean prosperity because it will require higher wages in many industries. If so, then perhaps the minimum should be upped to $2 an hour and thereby increase prosperity accordingly.

In the final analysis, under our free enterprise system an employee cannot be paid more than his productive capacity justifies. Otherwise, the business must fail. And while average going wage levels are today rather high, to set a high arbitrary minimum would result in wages above that minimum being inevitably pushed

It seems she got out the other day and started chasing coons and maybe rabbits, and hurt a foot and a judge spotted it.

The Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention probably will not be bothered by DOTs before their eyes when they reach Los Angeles next month.

The fight for survival and success in this ever-deepening stream of life called civilization is truly a battle of wits. It's unfortunate that so many of us leap into the fray unarmed.

Two lions escaped from the zoo in Washington, D. C., and didn't meet again for three months. One was fat, the other nothing but skin and bones. When they finally met, the skinny one said, "I've never seen you looking better. How in the world do you manage to be so well fed?"

The fat lion replied, "I've been hiding in the Pentagon eating a colonel a day. So far, nobody's noticed it."

Winters Scouts Spent Week At Camp Tonkawa

Eight Boy Scouts of Troop 49 under the supervision of Jim Burnett, scoutmaster, Collier Randall, junior assistant scoutmaster and Bill Armstrong, spent last week at Camp Tonkawa.

The boys participated in an extensive Scout training program with a planned campfire ceremony held each night with all troops attending. There were 150 Scouts at Camp Tonkawa during the week. One of the highlights of the camp was the Order of the Arrow Induction Ceremonies held Thursday night. Parents of the Scouts, Joe Cortez, assistant scoutmaster and his wife, Explorers and Advisors of Post 49 and other friends of scouting attended this ceremony.

Elzie Cox, advancement chairman, and Jimmie Randolph, Southern District Chairman, conducted a Board of Review Friday night.

The training program at Camp Tonkawa is set up in six one-hour periods with additional free periods. Instructions were given for Scout skills, good deeds, and instructions in scouting. The camp is provided with an excellent staff. The local Scouts attending received 29 awards and the entire troop received a special A plus rating in hiking. This was a 14 mile overnight hike conducted under the supervision of Gene Swinson, Scoutcraft instructor.

Those from Winters who received awards were Jimmy Armstrong, cooking merit and junior yeoman archery badges; Jimmy Burnett, swimming merit and junior bowman archery badges; Jackie Bean, Order of the Arrow candidate, and cooking merit badge; Edwin Carwile, second
