

HOME TOWN

Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

For 15 days in a row, the Winters Volunteer Fire Department has made from one to three calls a day to extinguish grass and rubbish fires in the city and the surrounding countryside.

D. Waggoner, fire chief, said this week that the firemen are beginning to show signs of the strain, and that the situation is such that now when a report of a grass fire comes in the alarm is not sounded. Instead, a group of the firemen take the trucks out and extinguish the blaze, then return to wait for the next one.

Most of the fires are started by burning trash and weeds. There has not been much property damage, compared with the number of fires reported; however, one barn has been destroyed in the country and one chicken house in town. These could have just as easily been homes, the firemen said. They shudder to think of what could happen if a fire was not controlled in time and got loose near a residential or business area. Especially if a high wind is blowing.

People are cautioned about burning trash and weeds near fences, houses or any building. It's always a good idea, even when burning trash in a barrel or incinerator, to have a water hose nearby, preferably turned on. A spark from burning trash falling into dry grass and weeds, can cause an untold amount of damage—and could even cause a loss of life.

In fact, it might not be a bad idea to stop all trash burning, and have it hauled away instead. Especially during the summer months when things are so dry they create a ready-made tinderbox.

Up to Wednesday afternoon, 252 carloads of grain had been shipped from the railroad sidings in Winters. There are a few more loads to come, which will raise the total.

We've been informed by the chamber of commerce that several people who are connected with the construction of the Winters Atlas missile site have been inquiring about family housing accommodations in Winters. Here is a chance for the people of Winters to extend a hand of hospitality to newcomers. Anyone having information about housing is asked to make it known.

We note that television, which brings to the hearthstone of almost every family, tv's idea of "culture" in the form of shoot-'em-up Westerns, murder and mayhem stories, and gaggles of audience participating gigglers, has decided that most of their viewers need to be "re-cultured." So they're re-running most of the films which have been soothing the masses during the last several months.

We did notice one particularly interesting fact during one Western showing the other day: Some of the main characters of the other Westerns, such as "Laramie" and "Bonanza," showed up in another show, "Cimarron." We knew it was bound to happen; the good guys would be so overwhelmed by the bad guys they would have to call the other good guys to come help them shoot their way out.

All the show is not viewed by the audience at rodeos. For instance, during one performance at the rodeo last week, a chute-worker was standing on a gate, trying to adjust a strap on a fighting bull. The man had a cigar in his hand—the bull developed a liking for tobacco, and nipped at it. The man ended up with just the butt end.

City Council Publishes Budget For Fiscal Year

If all departments within the government of the City of Winters operate within their budgets for the fiscal year 1960-61, and if the amount of money estimated to be received actually is collected, the treasury of the City should show a surplus of $20,047.59 at the end of the year.

This estimate is made public this week by the publication of the budget for the City of Winters for the period beginning Oct. 1, 1960 and ending Sept. 31, 1961. The estimated budget was approved and adopted by the City Council several days ago.

The City estimates a collection of $359,638.00 during the fiscal year for all departments. They have estimated that it will take $339,590.00 to run the city during that period.

Only two of the four departments of the City are expected to wind up at the end of the fiscal year with a deficit. Council estimates a $3,500.00 loss in the waterworks department, and a $4,310 loss in the operation of the Winters Municipal Hospital. The general fund is expected to bring in $106,600.00, with an expense budgeted at $93,952.10. Estimated revenue for the city power plant is $136,272.57, with an outlay of $121,163.31.

Estimated cost for operation of the hospital for the period is $69,200.00; Council has figured to receive $64,890.00 for operation of the hospital.

A total of $55,375.00 has been estimated for operation of the city water department, with a revenue of $51,875.00. This includes payments for water taps and deposits.

The city owned power plant is expected to bring in a total of $136,272.57, with an operation cost of $121,163.31.

A new item which has made its appearance in the general fund column is the garbage collection fund. The Council recently adopted a resolution to charge residents for this service. Pickup in the residential area is being charged at $1.00 per residence per month; in the business area, this charge is $2.00 per month per business. Collections are scheduled to be made once a week in the residential area and once a day in the business section. Council expects this added revenue for the general fund to reach $13,000.00, with costs for operation budgeted at $9,800.00.

SCD Standard Soil
Survey Third
Completed

H. Giesecke, Jr., Supervisor of the Runnels Soil Conservation District, said that Standard Soil Survey in the District has passed the one-third mark.

According to James Barnhill of the local Soil Conservation Service, 235,350 acres have been mapped. He said that the standard soil survey was started in the Runnels SCD in 1957. Field work is expected to be completed in 1964.

Barnhill stated that a soil survey is the systematic examination of soils in the field to note the soil slope, texture, color, parent material and how fast it will take water. This data is then recorded on an aerial photograph.

This information is available to farmers and ranchers for their use in developing a conservation farm or ranch plan. Additional information and assistance is always available from the local Soil Conservation Service.

FROM MILANO

Mrs. Laura McMullum of Milano spent the first of the week visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brandon home.

Shoemaker
Writes From
S. America

The Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor of the Winters First Baptist Church, is on a tour of South America and attending the 10th Baptist World Congress in Rio De Janeiro, Brazil.

The following is a letter received by The Enterprise from Rev. Shoemaker, in which he gives some of the countries he has visited.

"After a busy day of sight-seeing in docile Mexico, we took a 2688-mile airline flight to Lima, Peru. The flight was comfortable, but lasted about nine hours considering one stop at Talera for about 45 minutes.

"Lima is a very impressive city. It has enough of the modern to make it comfortable, and enough of the ancient to make it interesting. Since this is rodeo week in Winters, the police guard, who came after two foreign ambassadors at our hotel, would fit well into our parade. The coaches, drawn by coal black horses, would add much to its purpose.

"The visit to the ancient Inca City was most interesting. The old city, built in the desert, had three gods with a temple to each. Seeing the avenue in front of our hotel come alive after the daily siesta was a sight for a country boy. The avenue was used as a Mall, without traffic and literally thousands of people on it.

"Santiago, Chile, is more like a modern metropolitan city. The rainy season had started. This season will last for six months. It had already rained too much for our jet to take off over the Andes, so we had to come to Buenos Aires in a DC-7. I had the privilege of discussing the Chilean earthquake with missionaries, army personnel, and Red Cross workers. It must be terrible. Whole villages were destroyed. At Concepcion 80,000 homes were destroyed. At Castro practically the whole city was leveled. At Fort Monette there was little left standing.

"Several tragedies accompanied the quakes. One was that they will continue for two or three months while the earth below settles. The second tragedy is how helpless even the American government and Red Cross are in the situation. The U. S. did get there first, which greatly impressed the Chilean people. The Chilean Ministry of the Interior is not too interested in giving the peasants (and that is the only word to describe them) very much clothing, food, and shelter for fear their desire to work will be destroyed. This may be true, but it breaks one's heart to see the long lines of poverty-stricken people, in almost freezing weather, with a few rags on their back, maybe no shoes, and being fed a bowl of soup (nourishing as it may be) out of a large kettle on a horse drawn cart. The white collar worker equally suffers. His salary is probably $99 a month, and he has lost everything. He has no savings. He is too proud to seek relief, and if he did the peasants would drive him out of the soup line.

"Yes, they have enough food, blankets, clothes, and shelter for them, but as yet they have not been permitted to distribute them. The rainy season has started there, and it will rain for six months and rain over a 100 inches in some places. Even in all this rain the Indian will take his daily siesta, and wait for someone to come along and help him. Our merchants might be interested in this example. The Red Cross went to a manufacturer to buy pots, pans, etc., to make a kit for the families. They bought all he had. But, he didn't have enough. After leaving, they learned he had that many more in a warehouse, but didn't bother to tell them. He had done all the business he wanted to do in one day.

"It is hard to conceive the poverty, yet the riches. Cars line the streets, and literally overflow them in traffic. The price of a Ford or Chevrolet in Mexico is (in our money) $3600 to $4000; in Peru about $7000; in Chile $13,000; and in Argentina around $25,000.

"Buenos Aires, where we are now, is a thriving city of over 5,000,000 people. Its many buildings of State, parks, and plazas make it a beautiful place. Merchandise is unusually high in price but there is surely no shortage.

"My heart is deeply grateful to our church and others who made this trip possible. I hope my pictures are good and when I return, I might be able to help others understand the world we live in just a little bit better."

Work Started On
Winters Atlas
Missile Site

Heavy equipment was moved onto the site of the Atlas missile installation east of Winters Wednesday of this week, and work on excavation was started.

D. V. Moore, project manager for the H. B. Zachry Co. and Brown and Root Co., contractors for the project, said field office buildings for his company and for the Army Corps of Engineers would be moved to the location within a few days.

The first, or open excavation, will be completed within ten days, Moore said, and then work on the excavation for the deep shaft for the Atlas silo will begin.

The surface excavation will be about the size of a football field, sloping to a depth of about 40 feet in diameter and 180 feet deep.

The Winters Atlas site is one of twelve such installations encircling Dyess Air Force Base at Abilene. Others are near Albany in Shackelford County; near Opalin in Callahan County; near Lake Fort Phantom Hill; near Baird; 21 miles southeast of Dyess; 22 miles south near Bradshaw; 19 miles southwest near Shep; 20 miles west, southwest near Nolan; 21 miles northwest near Anson; 35 miles north, near Corinth.

Completion of the twelve sites will take about a year, according to information.

He received a 4 year scholarship for ministerial students from the Lutheran Brotherhood of Texas while attending college.

He has enrolled in Luther Seminary at St. Paul, Minnesota for this fall, where he will begin his four years of theological studies preparatory for ordination into the Lutheran ministry.

SMSGT. James T. Stell Jr., 40th OM Sq. at Forbes Air Force Base at Topeka, Kansas, son of Mrs. J. T. Stell, was named Honorary Graduate of Class 60-D, at the graduating ceremonies of the Second Air Force NCO Ernest C. Price, Academy Commandant.

Sergeant Stell, flight line controller for section B, was presented the award and his diploma after the graduation address by Brig. Gen. Howard W. Moore, commander of the 816th Air Division, Altus AFB, Oklahoma.

Sergeant Stell entered the service in February 1943, and in May of 1945, he entered pilot training. He entered F-80 mechanics school in August of 1946.

During the Korean conflict, Sgt. Stell was recalled to his reserve rank of captain and served as a basic flying instructor at Goodfield Field in San Angelo.

He was stationed in England before being transferred to Forbes AFB.

Sergeant Stell is married and the couple have two children, Michael, 14, and Candae, 9.

City Will Conduct
Water Supply Study

The City Council Monday night authorized the mayor to begin a comprehensive study of the water situation in Winters, with special emphasis on present distribution and additional supply for future use.

Working with Mayor Harvey D. Jones will be Councilmen Buck Smith and O. B. Raper.

Although water supply for the city of Winters is adequate at the present time to meet industrial and domestic demands, there are problems which we must face in the foreseeable future if Winters continues to grow, it was pointed out.

The water study board will contact the state water authorities for assistance during their study.

Clean-Up Drive To Begin On July 11th

The week of July 11 to 15 has been designated as "Cleanup Week" by the Winters Chamber of Commerce and the City Council, who are working jointly on the project.

A special day during the designated week will be set aside for pickup of all trash and rubbish, Robert Everett, representing the chamber of commerce, said. Extra trucks and drivers and helpers will be furnished to haul the trash, he said.

The sponsors have asked that all residents clean up their premises and vacant lots, and stack rubbish and tree limbs in the alleys or other regular pickup areas so that trucks can haul it away with the least amount of trouble.

The special pick up of rubbish during cleanup week will be in addition to the regular routes now being made by the city sanitation unit, it was pointed out.

Warning was issued for residents to be careful about burning trash and then piling more trash on the supposedly cold ashes. To do so might cause a destructive fire during the special pickup, it was emphasized.

The pickup day has not been designated, but will be announced next week.

Working on the committee for this cleanup of Winters are, in addition to Everett, C. R. Kendrick, Joyce Wilkerson and Barney Bryant, for the chamber of commerce, and Councilman J. F. Richie.

City Delivery Plans
Are Being Made

As the starting date for city mail delivery draws nearer, post office officials are in the midst of planning routes for the new service.

City mail delivery will begin in Winters on July 23.

E. E. English, of San Angelo, post office inspector, was in Winters this week working with Postmaster Rankin Pace in drawing up delivery routes and setting up systems for sorting the mail.

New equipment has been installed in the post office for use when the delivery service begins. Three carriers will be used in delivering the mail, and the post office department will lease a panel truck to be used to deliver parcel post, Pace said.

The post office has announced invitations for bids on a panel truck with 150 foot capacity, to be used for two hours six days a week to deliver parcel post. Bids will be accepted at the post office until 2 p. m. July 11, Pace said.

The bids are to be taken on the basis of an hourly rate contract.

The postmaster again pointed out the importance of each resident desiring delivery service to have mail boxes or slotted doors to receive the mail. Mail will not be delivered if these conditions are not met, it was stated.

Also, residents were asked to notify publishers and correspondents of their change of address so that the necessary changes can be made prior to the starting date of the delivery service.

Pace said again this week that after July 23, mail will be delivered "as addressed." Post office patrons may continue to hold boxes in the post office, he said, and also receive mail at their homes or places of business, if the mail is so addressed. Or, he said, patrons may desire to receive their regular mail in the post office boxes and have their parcel post delivered. This will be permissible if the parcel post is addressed to their residence.

Will Organize Civil Defense Unit For North Runnels County Next Tuesday

First steps to organize a civil defense unit, to function in North Runnels County in the event of natural or man-made disasters, will be made next Tuesday night, July 5, at a meeting in the City Hall. The session is called for 8 p. m.

W. R. Bodine, Plans and Operations officer of the state civil defense department, will meet with members of the Winters City Council and civic organizations to map plans for a local organization.

All organizations and clubs are invited to attend the meeting and take part in the planning and receive information regarding the functions of a civil defense unit. The City Council recently passed an ordinance which laid the groundwork for organization of a unit here.

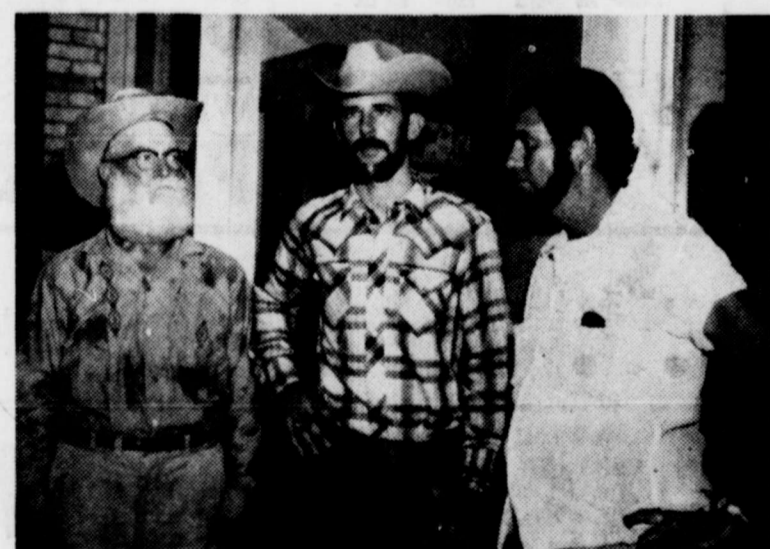

The Winters Lions Club is one of the sponsoring groups to begin study toward formation of a civil defense unit. A committee from the club, headed by Fred Young, has made all arrangements to hold the organization meeting.

In calling attention of the public to the need for such an organization, sponsors have pointed out that "citizens of every community should realize that no one community is exempt from natural disasters or the dangers which are inherent in an enemy attack." They said, "Texas holds the questionable honor of being first in the Nation in the number of all major disasters, first in tornadoes, second in hurricanes and first in devastating floods. The size of the state, with its great diversity of natural conditions, makes inevitable a wide variety of hazards and disaster potentialities. In three months of 1957, the state suffered the most widespread series of natural disasters in its history, which affected every section of the state, causing over $107,000,000 in damage and relief activities."

Sponsors further pointed out that "only through the existence of local civil defense organizations, which transmitted warnings to the public, engaged in relief activities, and furnished assistance to other affected areas, were these natural disasters prevented from inflicting additional destruction and deaths."

It was also stated that "for the first time in the history of our Nation, an enemy can attack the United States in a strong, swift display of strength. The threat of thermonuclear weapons, fallout, biological warfare, and other (Continued on last page)

State Capitol Highlights

Texas Governor Calls For "Crash Program" To Develop Water Plan

By VERN SANFORD

Amid the searing, summer weather, Texas are putting new emphasis on getting a statewide water plan.

Though Texas is supposed to be mid-way in a seven-year wet cycle now, unexpected harsh drought settled on parts of South and South Central Texas in late spring and early summer. As one scorching day followed another, crops were stunted and pasturage began to burn.

Though conditions were better elsewhere, the difficulties of the farmers in the areas around the Capitol City lent emphasis to Gov. Price Daniel's plea for a "crash program" to develop a water plan. If Texans don't do it, said the governor, the federal government will take over.

Target is to have a complete master plan for development of Texas' water ready by May 1, 1961. To help meet this deadline, the governor asked representatives of the river authorities and districts to file updated master plans for their areas with the Water Board by Nov. 1. He also asked the river authorities to lend engineers and technical personnel to help prepare the state plan.

Meanwhile, farmers, watching their corn burn up in the fields, took what comfort they could from the often-repeated statement that "Texas has plenty of water; it's just a matter of distribution."

STEEP GRADES AHEAD

Looking ahead 10 years at estimated costs of state government, the governor's State Finance Advisory Commission got a dizzying view of spiraling expenses.

Sub-committees of the commission will study the problem of future costs and how to meet them through the summer and make reports to the entire commission Sept. 10. Commission's report and recommendations to the governor are due Oct. 10.

Estimates of their future needs made by major state agencies for the Commission indicated a need for spending $29,000,000 more each year to meet growth needs.

Governor Daniel told the commission he hoped they could find ways to scale down the new money needs some and find revenue sources that would grow as population and demands for services increase.

FINANCE STUDY GROUPS

Making up the Finance Commission sub-committees which will work through the summer to find answers to Texas' worrisome money problems are a group of citizens with more than average experience in public affairs and finances.

The panels and their chairmen, as named by Commission Chairman John Redditt are:

Sources of Additional Revenue: Dr. George C. Hester of Georgetown.

Financing Law Enforcement, Welfare, Hospitals and the Industrial Commission: E. B. Germany of Dallas.

State's Fiscal System and Deficit Problems: Ben H. Wooten of Dallas.

Public Schools: Thomas B. Ramsey of Tyler.

Higher Education: Dr. Frank Connally of Waco.

Highways: Herbert C. Petry Jr. of Carrizo Springs.

MORE FROM FUNDS?

Facing a money-short future, a State Senate Committee is studying the possibility of earning higher returns from the investment of state trust funds.

Sen. Hubert Hudson heads the panel which is studying administration and investment of four funds totaling $1,200,000,000. They are the University Permanent Fund, the Permanent School Fund, the Teachers Retirement System Fund and the State Employees Retirement Fund.

Mortgage bankers suggested to the panel that the funds could earn a higher return without sacrifice of safety by investing in government - insured home mortgages. Some panel members observed that the funds now invested in federal bonds were not earning as much as was being lost through inflation.

For the past three years some of the University's Permanent Fund has been invested in corporate securities which has increased its earnings over what it had been from government bonds.

Senators also discussed the possibility of saving through a unified organization for administration and counseling on the four funds.

GAS DECISION AWAITED

State of Texas and the natural gas pipeline companies are waiting for a decision in the first round of a long series of court fights on the validity of the natural gas severance beneficiary tax.

A total of 108 lawsuits have been filed against the tax by pipeline companies. Their attorneys argue that it, like the old natural gas gathering tax that was knocked down by the courts, is unconstitutional because it constitutes a burden on interstate commerce.

Companies have paid the $6,363,878 in severance taxes under protest. If the law is struck down in the courts, the money will be refunded to the companies.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, arguing for the state, declared the law is not unfair to interstate commerce because it treats gas sold outside of Texas and gas sold within the state exactly the same.

WARNING FOR DRIVERS

This year's Fourth of July falls on a Monday, making a longer holiday for fun—and accidents.

Department of Public Safety has predicted 27 traffic deaths in Texas between 11:15 p.m. July 2 and 11:59 p.m. July 4.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS director, said all available patrolmen, including those from licensing and weights and inspection would be on the road.

"Their purpose is to render a service to the traveling public," said Garrison. "They need the full cooperation of all motorists in driving safely and sanely at all times."

SAUNDERS CASE ARGUED

Court of Criminal Appeals is to rule next fall in a case hinging on whether a witness can be convicted of perjury in connection with testimony before a legislative committee.

Defendant in the case is J. Byron Saunders, former chairman of the State Board of Insurance, who was convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment for lying to a legislative committee about funds received from ICT Insurance Co. while he was in office. Saunders' attorney contended that perjury is possible only before a judicial body, not before a legislative committee.

★ THE CHARTER of LIBERTY ★

Fundamental human desires never change. The right to "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness" is a principle for which men have always striven and have been ready to give their lives.

It has often been said that if this country ever departs from the system of government which has made it great, the forces of disintegration will not come from without — but from within.

There is no better way to observe the Fourth of July than to reflect upon the fact that Liberty is something ever to be safeguarded. The men of vision who penned the historic Declaration gave us freedom, but they also gave us a sacred trust.

Outcome of Some Bills in Doubt; Two Weeks To Go

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
With two weeks to go, the ultimate outcome of several important bills remain in doubt. Federal aid to education may or may not survive, with the likelihood a watered-down measure will be cleared. A big hike in the minimum wage, pushing it up to .25 an hour, is being pushed hard in a last minute drive by Senator Kennedy and Rep. Roosevelt, both self-styled liberals.

A sugar bill to extend the present sugar quota program beyond its expiration on next January 1, will be acted upon at the last minute. For years Cuba has enjoyed a preferred status in the orderly distribution of sugar to the world's markets, with the U. S. paying a premium for the large Cuba quota. But those lush days for Cuban sugar producers under the present Communist brigands appear to be numbered. A pending bill would allow the President to cut the amount and price, at his discretion.

An even more stringent bill may be the end result. Many of us oppose any legislation that would allow the pro-Communist regime at Havana to receive anything above the world price for their sugar that is sold in the U.S.A. Indeed, we would do well to look to other sugar-producing countries for more of our requirements. The Philippines, Brazil, and other anti-Communist countries, produce a lot of sugar.

Amistad dam on the Rio Grande is approaching reality, barring any developments which are always possible but which are not expected. The House-approved bill has cleared the Senate Committee and is now on the Senate calendar. And there is a good chance that an initial appropriation can at the last minute of the session be provided. If so, that would save a few months by clearing the deck for Col. L. H. Hewitt, the Water Commissioner, to proceed with preliminary plans and pre-construction details.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brady of Alpine spent the week end visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shipman.

Boat Safety Urged During Holidays

The Texas Highway Department, official boat-registering agency for the State of Texas, cautioned all motorboat operators to use common sense afloat at all times—not just during National Safe Boating Week, July 3-9.

The Texas Water Safety Act requires accident reports to be filed with the Texas Highway Department. Reports to date indicate inattention and unsafe conduct on the part of boat operators cause 63 per cent of motorboat accidents. Weather conditions account for 21 per cent. The Department points out, however, that some of the weather-caused accidents could have been avoided if the operators had checked local weather reports.

Department statistics indicate that 45 per cent of the operators involved in accidents have had more than 100 hours of experience—Shattering the popular belief that inexperienced boat operators have the most accidents.

The Highway Department urges a two-man crew when pulling a skier—one to operate the boat, and the other to keep an eye on the skier and give instructions to the operator. One of the most common accidents involves only one person in a boat pulling a skier. The boat operator, watching the skier, fails to watch the path of his boat and collides with another boat or object. More than half (53 per cent) of the reported accidents are classified as collision with another boat or object.

Miss Janice Colburn and John Craig Were Married In Candlelight Ceremony

Wedding vows were solemnized in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church for Vivian Janice Colburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Colburn, and John Aaron Craig, son of Mrs. J. T. Craig, 1150 Sycamore, Abilene.

The Rev. Kenneth Benson of Fort Worth officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked with tall baskets of white gladiolus and white graduated candelabras holding shrimp colored tapers.

Mrs. L. H. Henslee, organist, presented traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Bette Goldsby of Brownwood, soloist, who sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "The Lord's Prayer." Marlene Brown and Bob Colburn were candlelighters. Rae Brown was flower girl and Douglas Williams, ring bearer.

Miss Sherry Denton of Turkey was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Vilma Giese of Brownwood, Miss Pat Brown of Beville and Mrs. Ben Colburn of Dallas. They wore identical street length dresses of shrimp colored silk organza over taffeta designed with a fitted bodice, three-quarter length puffed sleeves and full skirts. They wore a band of bows in their hair and carried talisman roses attached to fans. The dresses of the candlelighter and flower girl were styled similar to those of the bride's attendants.

Jim Crawford of Texas City served as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Doyle Buchanan of Bradshaw, Clovis Hale of Austin and Ben Colburn of Dallas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length wedding gown of imported lace over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, sabrina neckline extending to a V in the back, fastened with tiny covered buttons. The bouffant skirt was accented in the back with satin roses giving a bustle effect. Her veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried white rose buds atop a white Bible, a gift from her parents.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table laid with white net featuring appliqued hearts was centered with a separated three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with shrimp colored roses. Tapers of corresponding color in crystal holders were at either side and the bridesmaids bouquets completed the table decorations. Mrs. Melvin Williams registered guests. Mrs. Bill Colburn ladeled punch from a crystal punch bowl and Mrs. Pyburn Brown served cake. Table appointments were of crystal. Other members of the house party were Miss Judy Calvert of Sweetwater, Miss Mary Taylor of Brownwood and Mrs. Alvin Benson.

For a wedding trip to South Texas, the bride wore a blue taffeloret suit with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School and Howard Payne. The bridegroom is a graduate of WHS and the University of Texas. He is employed with the Texaco Oil Company as a petroleum engineer at Sinton where the couple will reside.

Fishing is fun in Freeport. Texas newspaper publishers will testify to that fact.

Fifty of the editors were guests of Party Boats, Inc. following the Texas Press Association convention in Houston and had the time of their lives.

Everyone caught fish — Bonita, Kingfish or Red Snapper. Some caught many of each kind.

Raymond Muchowich, host to the group, took the editors out some 60 or 80 miles into the Gulf of Mexico. They boarded four different party boats — the Marilyn M., the Dorothy M., the Joe M. Jr., and the Sunrise.

All four boats returned to port loaded with fish. It was a beautiful day. The water was calm, the weather delightful.

Party Boats, as many of you know, make daily trips into the Gulf . . . spring, summer, fall and winter. Thousands of outdoorsmen (and women) make the expedition each year.

It was the first trip for many of the editors. However, judging by the fun they had, it will not be their last.

Ever make one of these jaunts? Well, let me tell you a little bit about it.

First step is to assemble at the Port Cafe in Freeport, for breakfast. The hour is 2 a.m.

You eat, pick up a box lunch — and maybe a few dramamine pills (in case you're afraid of seasickness—which you shouldn't be) — then head for the docks, some six blocks away.

Boats depart at 3 a.m. If you haven't finished your slumber, you can get in a few winks aloft before you reach the snapper banks about 8 a.m. Once you reach the general area of the banks the search begins for the most likely spot to let down anchor.

Your boat captain traverses the area several times, scanning the fathometer for "depressions" that tell him the "fishing hole" is right below.

When he is satisfied that he has found it, he tosses out a floating styrofoam buoy. Wrapped around the buoy and attached to it is a 50-foot length of rope, on the other end of which is a heavy weight.

As the buoy hits the water it begins to spin at a terrific rate, indicating that the rope is unwinding as the leaden weight begins to sink. Once the rope is completely unwound, the buoy comes to a standstill and marks one side of the area to be fished.

He repeats the process as he circles the area, to mark off the other extremity of the fishing hole.

Then he lets down anchor and the fun begins.

Everyone is given a short heavy rod equipped with about 60 lb. test line, and a sturdy, deep sea fishing reel.

To the end of the line is attached a sinker, heavy enough to make the line go straight to the bottom, as fast as possible.

About three feet above the sinker a stageon is attached, at the end of which is a large hook.

Three feet higher up is another stageon and hook.

Your bait usually consists of squid or some form of cut bait.

Now, you're ready to cast out. Usually, the water is about 150 feet deep at the snapper banks. This means that you have a long pull when you hook your fish. And occasionally you hook two fish at a time. That's when you're in for a real hard pull. Add to this the fact that your line may have drifted another fifty feet by strong undertow and brother, your fishing fun turns out to be work.

But it's a big thrill. A great sport. And it means fish on the table, the equal of which is mighty hard to find.

A half dozen fish on the deck and you're ready to crawl into a nearby bunk for a little bit of rest.

Then the urge comes to have at it again. And there you are, once more, alongside the rail, reeling in another catch.

A bit of lunch, then a few more tries with the rod and reel and the captain says, "Let's pull up anchor and try some trolling for Kings."

This is a bit easier on the tired old body. It is just a matter of dragging a jig on the line behind the boat.

When you get a trolling strike, everyone yells, the captain guns the power, and you reel in a long, slender, sharp-toothed Kingfish.

As you get closer to home the Bonita start hitting the same jig and the fun picks up again. The chubby Bonita, though not as big as the King, is much scrappier. He's a beauty that changes color the longer he's out of the water.

You have to subdue the King with a club — for your own safety. But the Bonita is as calm as a bass, if you can call it calm, especially when he is flip-flopping all over the deck.

Both are fine for the table and one can't help but speculate on the meals to come when the journey home begins.

You're back in port sometime between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m., just plain pooped. But you had a big day, loads of fun, lots of fish and you're longing most, at the moment, for a cool refreshing shower, a bit to eat, and at least eight hours of sound sleep.

It was a big day. One the edi-

Texas Livestock Production Up in '59

Texas' livestock production for 1959 showed a sizeable increase over 1958 production, according to Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist.

Mohair production in Texas set a new record in 1959. An increase in the average mohair price coupled with an increase in production resulted in this new record, the specialist explained. During 1959 Texas accounted for 97 percent of the U. S. mohair production.

Texas again outranked all other states in beef production. Although cash receipts and total poundage for Texas showed an increase in 1959, Iowa exceeded Texas in gross income from cattle and calves. Bergsma explained that Iowa's larger gross is the result of the intensive cattle-feeding industry in that state and in shipments of cattle and calves.

Hog, wool and sheep and lamb production in Texas all showed an increase in 1959 over 1958.

In commenting on the market outlook for 1960, Bergsma said heavy market supplies of most classes of cattle have forced the market lower, thus making for a delicate market which reacts quickly to adverse weather or other unfavorable factors. Marketings of stocker and feeder cattle will continue heavy, and this could reduce expected heavy runs this fall. Lower priced feeders will fill the feedlots, the specialist added.

Reduced hog slaughter will result in a strong seasonal price advance, and efficient producers will be in a good position to take advantage of this increase.

IN DONICA HOME

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Donica were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Middleton, Linda and Wayne of Clovis, New Mexico.

SOFTBALL GAME SATURDAY

A softball game will be played Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. at the old Little League Baseball park. Winters Jaycees team will play Winters Construction Company team. The public is invited to attend.

LEFT SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ramsey and Cindy left Sunday for Houston after visiting in the home of Mrs. D. B. Thornton. Judy Smith accompanied them home for a week's visit. Judy will also accompany them to Longview for a week's visit.

Men Who Speak for God is the subject for next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson. Meditation: "The high-fidelity fan strives for perfection and is never quite satisfied. He constantly adjusts his record player, tinkers with his amplifiers, and changes his speakers, hoping to overcome some slightest fault. His goal is to reproduce a musical masterpiece accurately, clearly, and without any trace of distortion.

Our own lives are the instruments on which are recorded the great teachings of the Bible. In one way or another we are all speakers of the Faith and must never be satisfied until we can reproduce these truths with complete integrity and devotion. ## A LETTER TO CHEVROLET OWNERS

I am in the business of helping you to enjoy fully the pleasure and convenience that an automobile offers. In addition to providing outstanding values in cars and the vital protection of "Guardian Maintenance" service, I am also supporting community efforts to help assure your safety in traffic.

In furtherance of this latter objective, I have joined other automobile dealers allied with the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee in making a special plea for careful driving during the holiday. Unfortunately, this happy time of the year is marred by the year's peak highway accident rate. However, with more alertness and courtesy behind the wheel, holiday traffic hazards can be sharply reduced.

I urge that you give your wholehearted personal support to a united effort to increase highway safety during this holiday season—and that you continue to do so.

Be sure you are always fit to drive with the alertness, skill, and judgment that modern traffic demands. Obey all traffic rules. Be courteous to other drivers and to pedestrians. And keep your car in safe condition.

This isn't asking much, but it's one of the most valuable contributions each of us can give to our family, friends, and fellow-motorists. Best Wishes for a Happy Holiday and a Happy Vacation!

Sincerely,
JOHN WADDELL

Amusements Coming to Local Theatres

"My Dog, Buddy"
London, called by Hollywood veterans the most amazing German shepherd in motion picture history, stars on the State Theatre screen Saturday only in Columbia Pictures' "My Dog, Buddy." The film, produced by B. R. and Gordon McLendon, marks the return of the handsome animal, dog star of "The Littlest Hobo," and it introduces ten-year-old Travis Lemon, an appealing youngster with a broad grin.

Together, this fresh boy-and-dog combination pool their talents into a motion picture continuing the great tradition of the Lassie pictures and "Old Yeller."

Written and directed by Hollywood veteran, Ray Kellogg, "My Dog, Buddy" is the story of the deep devotion which exists between a boy and his dog and their heartbreaking search for each other after a flaming car wreck separates them.

The picture, featuring Ken Curtis and Ken Knox, was filmed in Texas, with the city of Dallas as a living backdrop.

Special attention has been called by filmdom to the special effects camera work of chief cinematographer Ralph Hammeras, the musical score of Jack Marshall, and the film editing of Aaron Stell.

"Horrors of the Black Museum"

"Horrors of the Black Museum," a chilling new Cinemascope and color motion picture from American International, featuring "Hypnotist," will be seen locally Saturday only at the State Theatre.

Internationally famous hypnotist, Emile Franchel, first entered the "Horrors of the Black Museum" picture when an outstanding personality with the proper background was sought for the "Hypnotist" prologue. James H. Nicholson and Samuel Z. Arkoff, the top executives of American International Pictures, wanted to add a new dimension for the enjoyment on an outstanding science fiction movie. "Hypnotists" is the answer. Through it, the audience will feel the chilling fog, the piercing blade, the tightening noose. Franchel will demonstrate in "Hypnotist" with his techniques how a person's body can be pierced by an enormous needle without their even knowing it.

"Horrors of the Black Museum" in Cinemascope and color, is the latest in the long line of successful movies from talented young producer Herman Cohen. It tells the story of an internationally famous crime reporter, Michael Gough, who perpetrates atrocities to create material for his writing. He maintains a black museum featuring the terror devices used to create the crimes.

"Horrors of the Black Museum" also stars Graham Curnow, June Cunningham, and Shirley Ann Field. The Cinemascope and color production was directed by Arthur Crabtree.

"Please Don't Eat the Daisies"

"Please Don't Eat the Daisies," one of the nation's top best-sellers with an estimated reading audience of 51,850,000, has been brought to the screen by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with a cast headed by Doris Day and David Niven, and co-starring Janis Paige, Spring Byington and Richard Haydn.

Both the hilarity and warmth of Jean Kerr's book, dealing with the humor stemming from daily problems familiar to every American family, have been happily captured in the screen version, filmed in Cinemascope and color under the direction of Charles Walters. He is the director of such previous MGM hits as "Ask Any Girl," "Don't Go Near the Water" and "High Society."

"Please Don't Eat the Daisies" tells the story of happily married

Kate and Larry Mackay (Miss Day and Niven) and their four irrepressible sons, ranging from a nine-year-old (Charles Herbert) to seven-year-old twin (Stanley Livingston and Flip Mark) to a one-and-a-half-year-old (Baby Gellert).

Please don't Eat the Daisies" shows Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

"Killers of Kilimanjaro"

Starring Robert Taylor, as an engineer who ventures into the primitive interior of East Africa to survey and build a railroad from Mombasa to Lake Victoria, Columbia Pictures' "Killers of Kilimanjaro" opens Sunday and Monday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. Co-starred in the Warwick Production, filmed in Cinemascope and Eastman Color, are Anthony Newley and Anne Aubrey; Gregoire Aslan is featured.

Taylor, accompanied by Newley, his aide, and Miss Aubrey, who joins his dangerous enterprise to find her missing father and fiancé, pushes his survey through unexplored bush country infested with man-eating lions, killer rhinoceros and marauding savage tribes. Additionally, he is menaced by Aslan, a powerful Arab slave trader determined to stake a claim to the railway so that he can more speedily transport slaves from the interior.

"Killers of Kilimanjaro" was filmed on location in Tanganyika, in the area of the scorched bush country and the famous Kilimanjaro mountain range. Mombasa, the former slave-trading port, also was utilized for some of the film's exciting sequences.

"I Want to Live!"

There is no one who can see "I Want to Live!" the United Artists release which opens Tuesday and Wednesday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre, and remain unmoved by the drama that unfolds. Whether it be that the picture is based on a true-to-life story, or that the performance of its star, Susan Hayward represents one of the screen's greatest interpretations, or the script and direction was top notch, or a little of all these things, "I Want to Live!" is a picture that will never die.

The story is that of Barbara Graham, her wild, unconformist way of life, her alleged crime, (murder of a woman as an accomplice of two hardened criminals) her controversial trial and her subsequent harrowing execution in California's gas chamber. Susan Hayward plays Barbara, a most demanding role, with singular depth and understanding. She performs a masterful portrayal of a woman who could switch from arch cynicism and sarcasm one moment to a sentimental, loving, understanding mother, the next. As a matter of fact, all the characters, which are based upon real life counterparts, come through with stark, graphic and powerful portrayals.

Returned Recently From Vacation

Mrs. G. S. Long and daughter, Mary Lynn returned home recently from a week's vacation trip in Colorado. They accompanied her brother, Jack Smith and family of Midkiff.

They stopped in Santa Fe, New Mexico and then they went to Montrose, Colorado where they visited their brother, Ray Smith.

They went through the state prison at Colorado Springs and were quite impressed with the handcraft of the prisoners. They also visited Pikes Peak, the famous zoo in Colorado Springs, Royal Gorge and Fort Carson, where Mrs. Long's son, Roger received training before going overseas.

They also fished for trout in the springs of Colorado.

Weekend Driving Hazardous; July Holidays Will Add To Congestion

By VERN SANFORD
With school out and the summer holidays here, the number of persons enjoying the great outdoors is increasing tremendously. Week-end driving is especially hazardous. Add to the ever-present dangers of highway accidents a big holiday week-end, such as the upcoming Fourth of July vacation period, and you have an especially dangerous time for the motorist.

July Fourth, this year, falls on Monday.

That means Saturday, Sunday and Monday traffic will be heavy, very heavy. In fact, the greatest traffic load of the year—any year—is the July 4th week-end. And this one this year has an extra day!

That means you've got to be careful!

You must observe the speed warnings as well as all other safety traffic signs. These signs are placed on the highway as a warning for you . . . not to you. However, there will be patrolmen on every highway and in the greatest numbers ever, come July 2-3-4.

So, be careful and play it safe. It's your life, as well as the lives of others, that's at stake. Your property and their property, too. So don't let even one tiny black mark appear on your insurance record. That can prove costly too, you know.

Not more than two out of 10 outdoorsmen know that a motorist can be arrested if he drives more than 45 mph while pulling a boat.

Did you know that? Well, it will pay you to remember it—and especially so during the July 4th week-end.

A jackknifing trailer can do tremendous damage . . . to property and to people. So if you're trailering a boat, be sure that the trailer is well hitched. See that a safety chain is attached from trailer to car. Double-check to be certain that the cable pulls the boat snugly forward to balance your craft properly and seat it tightly.

See that the transom tie-downs are tight. Be sure that the tires are properly inflated and have no thin spots that may cause a blow-out, or lost traction. Either a red warning light must be on the rear of the trailer, or a red reflector attached to the stern of the boat, where it is clearly visible, when you're driving at night.

Equally important, be sure you have a 1960 trailer license . . . and that your boat is numbered in keeping with Texas laws.

Okay, you've launched your boat, and you're on your way. Do you have a coast-guard-approved life preserver aboard, for each passenger? If not you're violating the Federal and State laws regarding safety afloat. And you are violating the first rule of safety if you don't make the kiddies wear life vests.

Do you have at least two paddles aboard, just in case of motor failure?

And, speaking of motors, did you gas up properly—carefully? Outboarders should remove the tank from the boat and fill the tank either at the filling station pump or on the dock—not while the tank is in the boat. Inboarders should exercise even greater care.

Two inboards have exploded on Lake Austin, already, this very summer. Accumulated gas fumes in the bilge ignited when the ignition key was turned on.

Boating accidents are increasing. The Winslow Co. of Venice, Florida, reports that last year, in New York State, there were more fatalities from boating accidents than from cars. In New Jersey less than one per cent of the auto accidents proved fatal—as compared to a 14 per cent fatality rate for boating accidents.

The dangers of water are hidden ones. They develop suddenly and unexpectedly, and without any warning.

On the highways you often can see an accident coming. On the waterways an accident develops instantaneously. It can be caused by lighting a match, by a carelessly thrown cigarette, a safety belt that didn't hold, a ski that broke, a barrel that sank, a floating mattress or innertube that lost its air.

There are hundreds of different ways. Nearly all are due to carelessness. Some are from stupidity—like trying to carry eight passengers in a five passenger boat. Some are from pranksters who just must have their fun. But—ninety eight per cent of the accidents on our waterways could have been prevented—if the persons involved had been safety conscious.

Policing for safety in equipment is one thing. But policing the individual is equally important—and more difficult.

Take water skiing for example. There are more skiers this year than ever before. I've seen men, women and children, from 6 to 60 trying to ski—and most of them doing it, too. Truly it's becoming more and more popular as a family sport.

There is one dark blot on the enjoyment of water skiing, however. I refer to accidents. The distressing thing about it is that none of them are necessary. They seldom happen to the beginning skier. He or she usually is cautious and follows instructions to the letter, while trying to learn the sport.

Usually the man who gets hurt is the good skier. The man who thinks he is so good that he does not need to take even the normal precautions.

He's the guy who will go out without a life vest or belt-type preserver—and never come back alive.

He's the guy who will ski close to tree stumps and docks and other boats . . . and motors.

He's the guy who isn't with us any more. But as Barnum once said—there's one born every minute.

Popular Wildlife Publication Re-Issued

Almost three-fourths of Texas' 170 million acres of land are forests and grasslands. The soil vegetation, and climatic conditions vary in different regions of Texas, providing suitable habitat for a variety of native wildlife species, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

When drouth, intensive cultivation or overgrazing of ranges denudes an area of natural vegetation, wildlife populations usually diminish. Wise land use and water management, however, helps to preserve a bountiful wildlife population.

Wildlife biologists continually study the complex relationships between wild animals and their environment, including the effects of land management practices. If man would preserve and encourage the growth of natural food and cover plants essential to the various wildlife species, animals could defend themselves against the weather, diseases and predators as they did before the arrival of man, the specialist points out. Deer, pronghorn antelope, elk, bighorn sheep, bear, peccary or javelina and tree squirrels are considered game animals in Texas, Cooper continues. White-tailed deer and squirrels, more plentiful than any other game, are distributed more widely and are the most important game animals.

Customers who are hard to get are usually easy to keep, provided you do your part.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Lorell Cagle Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Lorell Cagle, 36, who was killed Sunday afternoon in a head-on collision 7 1/2 miles south of Winters, were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Ray Elliott, pastor, officiating. Graveside rites were held at 5 p.m. at Glen Rest Cemetery in Kerrville with Spill Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

The Cagle car was traveling south on U. S. Highway 83 when the collision occurred. Highway Patrolmen H. A. Anthony and Bob Young of Ballinger said that the car occupied by Domingo Ortiz and Lallo Castillo was attempting to pass another car at the time of the collision.

Mr. Cagle, 39, a pumper for Pan American Petroleum Company and his daughter, Betecile, 5, were dismissed Monday morning from Winters Municipal Hospital. Ortiz and Castillo were released Tuesday from Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene.

A native Texan, Mrs. Cagle was born January 3, 1924, at Kerrville and was married to Lorell Cagle August 16, 1947. The couple moved to Winters April 1, 1957, from Albany.

Mrs. Cagle was a member of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Kerrville but was a Sunday school teacher at the First Methodist Church in Winters. She also was a substitute teacher in the Winters school system.

Survivors include her husband and daughter, her mother, Mrs. Lucille Eldridge of Kerrville; two brothers, Everett Eldridge of Kerrville and William F. Eldridge of Dallas and one sister, Mrs. Eloise Henry of Raton, New Mexico.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful during the illness and at the death of our beloved little Jeanie Marilyn. Words cannot adequately express our deep appreciation for the beautiful floral offerings, cards, contributions to the library in her memory and to those who brought food to our home and assisted in serving. For all the acts of sympathy we are deeply grateful. One of the dearest gifts God has given us in time of sorrow and depression is our friends. May He graciously bless each of you in our prayer. ## THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Galatians	5	13-14
Monday	Psalms	36	7-9
Tuesday	II Timothy	2	19
Wednesday	Psalms	107	28-31
Thursday	Ephesians	2	12-18
Friday	Luke	1	77-79
Saturday	Psalms	89	5-8

Everyone recognizes the great Lady standing in New York harbor holding her flaming torch. She welcomes the tired, the poor, the homeless, to this land of freedom. She symbolizes hope.

Back of the Lady, back of the welcome, stands the Church. The words on the statue do not mention the Church, and many of us do not realize the role it plays, but the Church inspired the principles on which our nation was built. It is the spirit of Christianity which extends the welcome to our shores and makes our nation a haven.

On the anniversary of our independence, we are proud of our freedom and opportunity and hope.

No statue with flaming torch stands at the door of the Church. But the Church is the real guardian of our heritage.

Strengthen your nation and yourself. Join the Church.

Fruit Jams and Jellies Can Furnish Accent of Flavor and Color To Meals

Jellies and jams add variety and energy value to a meal. They can furnish needed accent of flavor and color to meats, vegetables and cereal foods. Ideal fruit jelly has the natural color of the fruit, is transparent, and palatable. It should quiver, not flow when removed from the mold. Jelly should be tender enough to cut easily with a spoon, yet so firm the angles thus produced retain their shape.

Jams, like jellies, should have the true color and flavor of the fruit; the juice should be thick or slightly jellied consistency.

Uncooked jams and jellies retain the fresh fruit flavor; use less sugar, and are easy to prepare.

Commercial pectins are used. Either powdered or liquid pectin is satisfactory. Powdered pectin will produce jams and jellies with slightly better color and flavor.

Proper preparation of the fruit is important. For jam the fruit should be finely mashed or ground. For a jelly that has the real fresh fruit flavor, press the juice out of the uncooked fruit and strain. For a larger quantity of juice heat the fruit with a very small amount of water, simmer until soft and strain through a jelly bag. Combine the ingredients at room temperature. It may take only a few minutes for it to thicken or it may take several hours.

Since yeast mold spores have not been destroyed, the jam or jelly will mold or ferment if allowed to stand very long at room temperature. After the jelly or jam is made and set, it is covered and kept in the refrigerator for immediate use, or it can be kept for a month or longer in the freezer compartment or home freezer. It will retain more flavor if kept cool.

If at the time of serving, uncooked jams are stiffer than desired, a small amount of stirring will soften them.

Strawberries, red and black raspberries, blackberries, plums, cherries, grapes, peaches and apricots are the fruits which have been found most satisfactory. Frozen fruit juice concentrate and frozen fresh fruit make excellent topping for ice cream. If too thick it may be thinned with white corn syrup.

Uncooked Orange Jelly
1 box (2 1-2 oz.) powdered pectin
2 cups cold water
1 6-ounce can frozen orange juice concentrate
1-4 cup strained fresh lemon juice
4 1-2 cups sugar

Dissolve the powdered pectin in cold water in a 1-quart bowl. (Add pectin slowly stirring constantly. It is important to have the pectin completely dissolved.) Allow to stand for 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Thaw orange juice concentrate by placing the can in cold water. Pour juice into a 1-quart bowl. Add lemon juice and 2 1-2 cups of the sugar. Mix well. (All of the sugar will not dissolve.)

Add the remaining 2 cups of sugar slowly to the dissolved pectin. Stir until all of the sugar has dissolved. No crystals should be visible.

Add the juice-sugar mixture to the pectin-sugar mixture. Stir constantly until all the sugar from the juice-sugar mixture has completely dissolved.

Pour into cooled, sterilized jelly glasses or freezer containers. The glasses can merely be covered with aluminum foil. Allow the jelly to stand at room temperature overnight or at least 6 hours. Jelly will not be quite so firm as cooked jelly. Makes 5 1-2 cups. The pectin solution may be made and stored, covered, in the refrigerator. It will then be immediately available for preparation of the jelly at any time.

Uncooked Grape Jelly
1 box (2 1-2 oz.) plus 2 tablespoons powdered pectin
2 cups cold water
1 6 oz. can frozen grape juice concentrate
3 3-4 cups sugar

Grape jelly is prepared in exactly the same way as the uncooked orange jelly, except that 1 3-4 cups of sugar are added to the thawed grape juice. The remaining 2 cups of sugar are added to the pectin solution. (The grape solution sets more quickly than the orange.) Makes about 5 1-2 cups.

New Veterans Pension Law In Effect July 1

The new veterans pension law approved by Congress and the President during 1959 goes into effect today.

The Veterans Administration said veterans and their dependents filing for pension from now on will do so under provisions of this new law known as a Public Law 86-211.

The new law increases both the maximum pension payments and the amount of permissible income from other sources and provides a sliding scale of payments based on need. At the same time, it provides for counting part of the wife's income as the veteran and for considering the net worth of the applicant.

The new law also puts pension eligibility requirements for widows and orphans of World War II and Korean conflict veterans on the same eligibility basis as those of World War I. It eliminates the previous requirement that a veteran of World War II or Korea have a service-connected disability at time of death.

Veterans and their dependents already on the pension rolls are allowed either to remain under the previous law or to elect to come under the new law. Such an election once made may not be revoked.

Pension is paid only in cases of veterans whose disabilities have no connection with their actual military service. Payments to veterans or their dependents for service-connected disabilities are called "Compensation" and are not affected by the pension laws.

Under the law becoming operative today, single veterans with annual income not exceeding $1800 who are permanently and totally disabled may be paid pension at a monthly rate ranging from $40 to $85, depending on the amount of other income they have. Similarly disabled veterans who have dependents can draw from $45 to $100 per month, and have a maximum income limitation of $3000. To each of these amounts, $70 will be added if the veteran requires constant aid and attendance.

Widows alone may be paid from $25 to $60 a month and the rate increase to from $40 to $75 per month for widows with one child. An extra monthly payment of $15 is allowed for each additional child. The maximum income limitation for a widow alone is $1800 and for a widow with children is $3000.

Under the old pension system veterans whether single or with dependents, were paid a flat rate of $66.15. This payment was increased to $78.75 per month after 10 years on the rolls or attainment of age 65. Income limitations were $1400 a year for single veterans, and $2700 for veterans with dependents. A payment of $135.45 was allowed a veteran needing constant aid and attendance.

The old law provided flat payments of $50.40 for a widow alone; $63.00 for a widow with one child, and $7.56 for each additional child.

Detailed information regarding the new pension law may be obtained from any of the following VA offices: Austin, Corsicana, Marlin, Temple, Waco.

Horn Flies Can Be Controlled

Hot weather is horn fly weather, and the insects will be one of the chief stock pests from now until fall, reports C. F. Garner, extension entomologist for the Texas A and M College System.

The horn fly, a close relative of the stable fly, pierces the skin of livestock to suck blood, the specialist explains. The pain and annoyance caused by these bites interferes with the animal's feeding and resting, resulting in a loss of weight, decreased milk yield and indigestion. Horn flies also have been suspected of carrying anthrax, Garner says.

Garner recommends the following methods for horn fly control: add to 100 gallons of water 3 1-3 quarts of toxaphene 60 percent emulsifiable concentrate, or 8 quarts of 25 percent methoxychlor or 16 pounds of 25 percent Korlan wettable powder, or 16 pounds of 25 percent wettable powder Co-Ral. The above insecticides should not be used on lactating dairy cattle, and Korlan and Co-Ral should not be used on dairy cattle under any circumstances, Garner cautions. The specialist also warns against using any insecticides other than those especially formulated for livestock.

For lactating dairy cattle the specialist recommends one heaping tablespoonful of 50 percent wettable methoxychlor powder per animal. Sprinkle on the poll, neck, back and upper sides then rub lightly by hand to carry powder beneath the hair.

The above controls last for about three weeks, Garner says.

Most women think at least three times before saying a kind word to a man, even their husband.

Funeral Rites For Miss Linda Jacob Held Thursday

Funeral rites for Miss Linda Jacob, 73, former resident of Winters and a sister of Ben Jacob of Winters, were held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in Spill Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Charles Boaz, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church in Abilene, officiating. Burial was in the Lutheran Cemetery.

Miss Jacob died at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday in a Kerrville hospital. She had been in ill health several years.

Born December 26, 1886, at Seguin, Miss Jacob came to Winters in 1906 where she lived until 1943, when she moved to Kerrville. She was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Other survivors include a number of nephews and nieces.

Civil Defense--

er equally disastrous weapons heighten the necessity for civil defense planning."

A community, although perhaps not a target itself, will be called upon as a support area or will be threatened with radioactive fallout in the event of man-made disasters and enemy attack, it was stated. Civil defense preparedness for this possibility must be recognized in these times.

14th Annual Rodeo Called Big Success

An estimated 7,500 fans witnessed three days of rip-roaring riding and roping last Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Winters' 14th Annual Rodeo. The annual event has been termed one of the most successful in the history of the big show.

Hundreds of people lined the streets of downtown Winters Thursday and again Saturday to watch the colorful western parades. The Country Club float, featuring a "Western Formal" scene, was first for its division. Next was the float of the Sub Deb Club, which featured a huge hat. Third place went to the Goal Digger club.

In the whiskers contest, J. D. Barnett of Novice was given an award for the heaviest beard. Carl Shott of Winters was judged as the man with the ugliest beard and Bob Hatcher of Winters received a cash prize for the noblest effort in growing a beard.

All events in the rodeo were filled to overflowing by contestants eager to try for prize money. The calf scramble, which has proved popular with the boys of the area in past shows, again was a number one attraction. Winners were awarded feeder lambs. Nine boys won feeder lambs for their efforts during the three nights of competition.

Only one serious accident marred the holiday spirit, when Jerry Beavers of Ballinger suffered a broken arm in the bareback bronc riding event.
