

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Like boys cautiously testing the temperature of the water at the swimming hole before making the plunge, farmers in this area have been making test runs in the maize fields, and will make the big plunge soon to harvest what is expected to be another bumper crop.

Some fields have been cut, but the big swing to the harvest has not begun. By the last of the week, if the weather holds, loads of grain should be coming into Winters elevators in an ever-increasing stream. J. C. Jarrell, agent for the Abilene Southern Railroad, said he had shipped out two cars by Wednesday morning. Railroad sidings have been filled with boxcars for several days—about 50 cars now are in the Winters yards, Jarrell said—and extra trains probably will be put to work moving the maize when harvest hits its peak.

Some observers have guessed that harvest should be in full swing for three weeks, but that because of some of the late-ripening fields, there will be "dribbles" for several weeks.

City mail delivery started in Winters last Saturday, and Postmaster Rankin Pace said that many people who have notified the post office to send their mail to their street addresses have not installed mail boxes. Unless the boxes are up, Pace said, the mail will not be delivered and will be returned to the post office, resulting in a delay in delivery.

Being by nature hard-headed and hard to convince on many subjects, it's unusual when we find something in the papers we will go along with one hundred percent. But we'll have to agree with the following item we swiped: "Three fourths of the earth's surface is water and one fourth is land. It's clear that the good Lord intended man should spend three times as much time fishing as he does mowing the lawn."

We've just read where some scientists are conducting experiments with cattle feed made from newspaper, which is supposed to be 90 percent cellulose and enriched with vitamins. Almost as good as hay, they say. With world and national events being what they are, however, we wouldn't recommend that cattlemen feed their livestock too many newspapers. Filled with the news of Mr. K's curses and lies, and the eye-wash flowing from the Republican convention, a diet of newspapers might cause a severe case of indigestion for old Bossy, and could clabber the milk.

Also just read that there's one thing that will give you more for your money that it would 10 years ago—the penny scale at the drug-store.

Fast the Old West has lost its cloak of tranquility; the dancing light of the mesquite chunk camp fire has given way to the fleeting sword of the automobile's headlights; the moaning lonesomeness of the old steam locomotive has been replaced by the million-decibels shriek of the diesel engine; horse-tail cloud streaks in the western sunset are forced to compete with the contrails of intercontinental jets. And now the cow is being shoved off the right-of-way by the automobile.

The Legislature passed a new law, which became effective July 1, which makes it illegal for a person knowingly to permit his livestock to roam at large and unattended on state and federal highways. It applies regardless of whether the highway right-of-way is fenced.

Farm-to-market roads are excepted from the law, which makes us wonder if the legislators think the cows know the difference.

HOLE IN THE GROUND — When the above picture was taken, last week, the Winters Atlas missile site appeared to be only a hole in the ground. However, this week, the silo hole, which will go down about 180 feet, was being dug. The concrete rim in the center of the photo will be the top edge of the silo, where the Atlas ICBM will rest, its dead-end load of destruction waiting until the day when and if an enemy nation decides to start a war. City Officials Working On Ordinance For Registration of Bicycles In Winters

Bicycle owners and riders in Winters will be required to register their bicycles and pass safety and operating examinations, if a proposed ordinance is adopted by the City Council.

A local women's club has recommended the passage of such an ordinance, and the City Council has tentatively agreed to do so, according to Mayor Harvey D. Jones. He said representatives of the club met with the council at its regular meeting Monday night, and received a promise from the city's governing body that the project would be studied and an ordinance prepared and passed. It was indicated that the registration requirement would become effective prior to the opening of school in September.

The Junior Culture Club has adopted the registration of bicycles and the instruction of children as its project of the year. Their plan would call for each bicycle to be licensed and children to be given instruction on the operation of bikes. Such registration and instruction is needed, it was pointed out, to promote the safe operation of bicycles by children. Registration would help to prevent theft of bicycles, it was indicated, but safety was stressed as the most important facet of the plan.

If and when the registration ordinance becomes effective, city officials said, a small fee will be charged for license tags.

Looking to the Future!

Council Studying Water Problem

The City of Winters will conduct a long range study of water and sewer requirements for Winters, according to Mayor Harvey D. Jones.

The City Council Monday night agreed to engage a water engineering firm to study the present water situation in Winters, and to present a long range plan for future development programs. The study would cover the anticipated demand for water within the next several years, and possible means of obtaining it.

A water engineering firm has been contacted and has met with the council, the mayor said, but no contract has been signed.

Jones said that the okay by the council to make the study "does not necessarily mean that immediate action would be taken on any recommendations the study produced." The study would cover only the present water and sewer requirements, and show the potential demand within the next few years. Any action might take as long as ten years to accomplish, he pointed out.

Although the water supply is adequate under present conditions, Jones said, potential growth of Winters would see a stepped up demand for water. These demands will have to be met, he said, if the town is to continue its present rate of growth and prosperity. Only by making a complete study at this time and anticipating the future demand can adequate provisions be made to supply the demand for water. If the town fails to look ahead and plan accordingly, there may come a time when growth will be stymied by the lack of sufficient water, officials pointed out.

Also being considered by the city governing body is a study of the street requirements in Winters. No definite plans have been made in the department Mayor Jones said.

Also at its Monday night meeting the council accepted the report of the tax equalization board. The rate will remain the same as in previous years, it was reported.

JIMMY SMITH

JOHN JACKSON

SAMMY ALBRO

Receive Lone Star Degrees

Jimmy Smith, John Jackson and Sammy Albro received their Lone Star Farmer Degrees July 21, at the state convention of the Future Farmers of America held in the coliseum in Houston.

This degree is the highest on state level that members of the FFA can obtain. The boys must earn $500.00 and have it in the bank or productively invested. Two-thirds of this money must come from a supervised farming program and the other one-third may be earned from an agricultural related job. Ten percent of the state FFA members may receive this degree each year.

Jimmy Smith, son of Mr. and

Mrs. Ernest Smith, earned most of his money in raising sheep. He fed numerous wethers that ranked high in many shows. He also had a flock of registered Corriedales. Presently he has several registered Hampshire sheep. He has been a member of the Winters FFA Chapter since 1956. He finished high school this year and plans to enter Texas Tech this fall with a major in animal husbandry.

John Jackson's primary program was registered angora goats which he has exhibited at numerous stock shows winning several prizes. He also fed several wethers that he raised during the three years he has been a member of the Winters FFA. He also has some stocker cows with which he raises beef calves. He will be a senior in high school this fall and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jackson.

Sammy Albro, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Albro, built his primary program around swine. He had registered Berkshires which he exhibited at various stock shows and won several prizes. He plans to enter Texas Tech this fall.

John Jackson and Alvis Jackson attended the state FFA convention July 20-22. They were accompanied by Leland Robinson, vocational agriculture advisor at Winters High School.

Roger Babson Says

Fears Of Further Drastic Inflation Have Temporarily Subsided In U. S.

Babson Park, Mass. Now that fears of further drastic price inflation in the U. S. appear to have temporarily subsided, this is an opportune time to check the overall situation with regard to wholesale commodity prices. I also venture a forecast on the outlook for a few selected groups.

Record of the Indexes

Although commodity prices as a whole are at a relatively high level, it is interesting to note that very little of this price inflation has occurred during the past two or three years. The Bureau of Labor's over-all price index recently stood at 119.5, compared with 119.7 a year ago, 119.2 two years ago, and 117.4 in June, 1957. Industrial prices also have been fairly stable, the 1960 June average of 128.2 comparing with 128.2 a year ago, 125.3 two years ago, and 125.2 for June, 1957. Farm products prices are slightly under the year-ago level.

Despite the over-all price stability of the past several years, there have been wide shifts up and down in prices of many individual commodities. I expect such shifts to continue. Hence, it is vitally important to buyers and sellers to study and appraise the supply-demand ratios prevailing, or likely to prevail, in individual items. These ratios will largely determine price action of group members, whichever way the group itself may be moving.

Industrials and Metals

I see nothing in the near-term picture, barring war, that could exert strong upward pressure on prices of industrial commodities. Supplies, for the most part, will easily suffice for requirements in the months ahead. However, allowance must be made for higher wage and transportation costs, not all of which can be absorbed by producers. Under the circumstances, I forecast moderately higher prices for industrial commodities sometime before the year is out.

Outstanding in the metals group is the fact that supplies, in almost all instances, are easily ample for prospective near-term requirements. Thus, a sustained price rise over the immediate future is unlikely. A fall pickup in business, and especially automobile production, could increase overall demand for metals but such an increase may not mature. The steel makers, however, face higher wage costs on December 1, and may have to pass a part of them along.

Farm Products, Cattle and Hogs

Some supply stringency is indicated in a few new-crop canned vegetables, particularly corn and peas. This could mean higher prices. Generally large plantings of feed and food grains last spring point to a sizable total output, barring serious crop damage. The new crops, plus generally big carryovers, should exert downward pressure on prices of most farm products over near-term months.

Prices of fed cattle may weaken further, owing to sizable marketings, but should recover moderately later in the summer. With pasture conditions generally good, ranchers are in no hurry to sell feeder cattle; but I forecast rather heavy runs by late summer or early fall, with some price weakness. Hog prices are working up to a summer peak—perhaps around $20 per cwt. The broad move should be downward, though the fall or early winter low should be above that of a year ago.

More Inflation Ahead

Despite the over-all price stability of the past few years, the issue of further inflation is by no means a dead duck. Should the Democrats win the forthcoming national election, the groundwork for further price inflation will have been laid. If the Republicans should win, inflation might be held in abeyance. In either case, a small Korean-type war would be inflationary.

In conclusion, on the basis of available statistics I see little in the near-term picture pointing to further general price increases. Supplies for the most part are ample, and productive capacity in many instances is excessive. Such conditions are now not conducive

Farm Bureau Institute In Austin Will Be Attended By Runnels County Members

Farm Bureau Institute to be held in Austin, July 31 to August 3, will be attended by Miss Paul McDaniel, County Secretary, D. E. Forgey, Ballinger, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hoppe of Winters, or Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Multer of Olten. As a guest of the Texas Farm Bureau, C. E. Harlow, Assistant Runnels County Agent, will also attend.

The Institute is a training school designed with the purpose of informing and training leaders who have specific responsibilities in the county Farm Bureau organizations that they might better serve the membership.

The theme of the institute is "New Horizons," and two areas in particular will be stressed in carrying this theme out. One, is in the field of increased marketing and bargaining power for agriculture, and the other, the great battle for the minds of men being waged between communism and the free world. These two programs alone would make a successful Institute, but this is just part of the things in store for the students who attend.

In addition to the basic Farm Bureau courses there will be two new ones. "The Power in the People course," which will explore the areas of the individual's involvement in party politics and will be taught by Claude de St. Paer of the American Farm Bureau staff. The other, "Development Perspectives and the Utilization of Motivation," will develop the area of what makes the individual tick, and its application to greater involvement of the individual in a voluntary organization, particularly at leadership level. This course will be taught by Dr. Bardin Nelson of the Texas A and M College staff.

A special added attraction as the result of the Institute being held in the Capitol City will be a two hour guided tour of the State Capitol, and other state office buildings. There will also be a period devoted to the demonstrations of various types of office machinery adaptable to county Farm Bureau offices.

Then for a fitting climax, Matt Trigg of the Washington legislative office of the Farm Bureau will give the students an account of the situation in Washington, at the wind up banquet to be held on Wednesday, August 3, in the Ballroom of the Stephen F. Austin Hotel.

Fishermen With No License Are Taken To Court

Despite warnings, fishermen still persist in going out without licenses. The June report of the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission showed 207 sports fishermen paid fines, and 24 in the commercial fishing industry went into court.

Game wardens also made it hard on "telephoners." They arrested 12 and charged them with illegal use of electrical devices on catching fish.

The game wardens during June made 319 arrests. The court collected $6621 in fines and costs.

New hunting and fishing licenses for the 1960-61 season will be mailed out of Austin August 19, to license deputies throughout the state. They will go on sale shortly thereafter. New licenses are required after Sept. 1. In the meantime, a license is required of anyone who fishes outside his home county, or fishes with a rod and reel if he is between the ages of 17 and 65.

By VERN SANFORD

According to a recent survey, two-thirds of the people who fish never eat fish.

When you stop to think about it, that's not too surprising. In the first place, fish is brain food. People who eat fish have large, well-developed brains. And people with large, well-developed brains don't fish.

It's that simple.

Kidding, of course. But we've gotta admit that we've wondered more than once what we were doing out in a boat on a hot, blistering, summer day, getting a whale of a burn and landing not one keeper.

But what about the fisherman who does catch them, and doesn't eat 'em? He has a problem too. But it's a different one.

His problem is how to get rid of them.

Our Pilgrim Fathers solved this problem by burying a dead fish in a hill of corn. It made good fertilizer and the corn grew—tall and bountiful.

But who's going to take time to hunt up a cornfield today?

Some fishermen try to palm off their catch on friends and neighbors.

However, it doesn't take most folks long to learn that a dead bass, lugged around all day on a stringer until it is as stiff as a board, is poor competition for a tantalizing T-bone steak.

So, fishermen who don't eat fish must find other ways to dispose of same.

ODD METHODS OF DISPOSAL
We heard about one fellow who stuffed his fish in a corner mailbox, when nobody was looking. But that's not a very satisfactory method. Besides, it's illegal.

Then there was the fellow who checked his in at a bus station—then threw his check away. That was in bad taste.

Read not so long ago about a fellow who couldn't get a loan from the local bank. It made him so mad he rented a safety deposit box, put a dead fish in a paper bag and deposited same in the bank box, then and there. He was a stinker. And so was the fish!

Don't know that he ever got his loan, but I do know that it wasn't but a few days until the bank started looking for him.

There are lots of fishermen, who don't eat fish, who just fish for the fun of fishing.

Any true sportsman, if he does not plan to make good use of his catch, turns them loose. He eases them gently into the water, after carefully removing the hook, so as not to injure them in the least. He sees to it that they are put back into the water, to grow larger, for other sportsmen to enjoy.

SAME APPLIES TO GULF FISHING

Just the other day I talked to a local fisherman who had been to the Gulf for the week-end. He and his party of four landed at least 50 King Mackerel. That's a lot of fish!

When we commented that he could look forward to some wonderful eating, he said, "Oh, we

Long Season, And 15 Limit Set On Doves

Hunters seem to be well pleased at the bonus dove shooting they will get during the 1960 season, according to the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The North Zone season this year will start at 12 noon, Sept. 1, and close at sunset October 30. The South Zone will open October 7 and close December 5, except in the counties where white-winged dove shooting will be permitted three days earlier.

The white-winged dove season will be for three days, September 9, 10 and 11. This season will be from 2 p.m. until sunset.

There also will be an increase in bag limit on mourning doves for the upcoming season. The shooter will be permitted to take 15 per day and have 30 in possession.

Whitewing shooters, who may also kill mourning doves at the same time, will be permitted to have 10 whitewings and 5 mourners for the first day of hunting. They may have 20 mourning doves and 10 whitewings in possession after the second day.

Generally, the Texas quail season will begin December 1, under the general laws. The commission will set the quail season in regulatory authority counties at its meeting October 7. At that time, biologists will know more about the supply of birds.

Another drastic change in the hunting laws will be legalizing spike bucks in counties under regulatory authority.

didn't bother to bring any back. When we got done fishing, we just dumped the entire lot back into the Gulf."

Each of those Kings had been gilled and subdued. Of course, all of them were dead.

What a waste of food!

A Kingfish, properly prepared, is one of the best eating fish in the Gulf.

Same is true of the Sailfish, especially when smoked. But it is seldom so considered.

A Ling is as good as a catfish, in our book. Some say it's better. So is the Warsaw—and the Jewfish.

Believe it or not, even the Ribbon Fish is regarded as good eating by some, especially when filleted, buttered and wrapped in dough—and cooked like Flounder.

There are lots of good eating fish in the Gulf of Mexico, besides Red Snapper, Redfish, Croaker, Pompano, Snook, Sheepshead, Speckled Trout and Flounder.

Just why didn't that fisherman bring those Kings back to land and give them to some tourists, or local sightseers? Why didn't he turn them to some ice house or locker plant, to be presented to some orphanage? He had enough fish to feed 100 kids.

The answer is that he was lazy, wasteful and inconsiderate of others.

We can poke fun at the various means of disposing of fish. But the true sportsman will see that his catch either is returned to the water, alive, or he will make sure that some good use is made of them.

In the final analysis it boils down to a lack of respect for nature.

Chat And Sew Club Met Tuesday In Easterly Home

Farm Safety Week Set For July 24-30

"The President of the United States has proclaimed July 24-30, 1960 as Farm Safety Week," states Bill Minzenmayer, supervisor of the Runnels Soil Conservation District.

"Recent surveys indicate that machinery accidents rank first, with drownings a close second in our area," continues Minzenmayer.

"The rapid increase in the development of farm ponds, reservoirs, and other water detention structures increases the exposure to the hazards of drowning," mentions Cecil L. Drake, with the Soil Conservation Service.

"It is the policy of the S.C.S. to advise farmers and ranchers of the safety hazards involved in the development of water resource projects. We advise farmers and ranchers to inform themselves of their liability under the law when they build a water resource project.

When designing such projects, we keep in mind such safety features as can economically be incorporated in the project. This includes such items as guards over conduits and proper fencing.

During construction of farm ponds, burrow pits should be evenly graded to avoid holes or steep slopes. Snags, big rocks, or trash which could be a hazard to swimmers should be removed, suggests Drake.

After the structure is completed and water is impounded, use it with judgment. Keep it free of trash such as logs, sticks, bottles, etc. These items can cause a diver serious injury. Learn to swim before entering deep water. Never go swimming alone. Rest for a time after eating before swimming. Swim with reason, do not allow yourself to become exhausted.

One Out of Four Texas Teachers Attending School

School is out, but Texas teachers still are in the classrooms. Most of them simply have switched roles—turning from being teachers to being students.

One out of four Texas public school teachers goes back to school each year, a survey by the Texas State Teachers Association shows. They need to brush up on new teaching techniques and to find out what has been happening in their field.

Just as a pharmacist must keep pace with new drug discoveries and physicians and dentists must keep up with new professional findings, so teachers must "hitch their wagon" to the fast-changing era of the satellite—not to a star.

Teachers in both the sciences and humanities are faced with the job of learning tremendous amounts of new material. Many textbooks are almost obsolete before they are published, and the teacher must supplement the textbook from other sources.

This back-to-school movement is at the teachers' expense, except to the extent that some secure scholarships or fellowships to help pay the bills. School children reap the rewards by having better teachers.

An estimated 25,000 Texas teachers—out of approximately 85,000 total—will be enrolled in college courses beginning this summer.

The figure is based on a survey of Texas junior and senior colleges by TSTA. The 58 colleges answering the survey, out of 88 queried, said 17,603 teachers were enrolled in their courses during 1959-60, and they expect 18,491 for the year 1960-61, beginning with summer school. Those attending the 30 schools not reporting would bring the estimated total up to 25,000.

Many other teachers must find summer jobs in order to enjoy the luxury of teaching next fall.

So, for most teachers, summer is work—not vacation.

Eligible Persons To Receive Pension Checks August 1

Several hundred widows and children of deceased veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict will receive their first pension checks from the Veterans Administration on August 1. These persons have not been entitled to assistance from Veterans Administration in the past, but became eligible for benefits beginning July 1, because of the passage of a new law, known as the Veterans Pension Act of 1959. This information was released today by D. G. Posey, Veterans County Service Officer in Winters, each Friday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

In addition to those who will receive their first checks on August 1, 1960, Posey said that many other widows and children in Texas are eligible for benefits. Neither the Veterans Administration nor the local Service officer knows who all these persons are, or where to find them.

Prior to passage of the new Pension Act, survivors of deceased World War II or Korean Conflict veterans were entitled to pension only if the veteran had disability resulting from service. According to D. G. Posey, the new Act removes this requirement, and makes the widows and dependent children of these veterans entitled to pension benefits if their income is within certain prescribed limits, and if they do not possess large estates.

Benefits under this new Act cannot be paid until such time as an application for the benefits is made to the Veterans Administration. Any persons who believe they might be eligible under this more liberal law should contact D. G. Posey, Service Officer, at his office in the Chamber of Commerce office Friday afternoon, or the nearest office of the Veterans Affairs Commission for additional information and assistance.

Posey stated that it is believed that less than one-half the persons who might be entitled to benefits under the new law have made application at this time.

We never know what ripples of healing we set in motion by simply smiling on one another.

Professional Grid Game In Abilene August 20th

Many familiar names to West Texas football fans will dot the rosters of the Dallas Texans and the New York Titans when the American Football League teams meet in Abilene Aug. 20 in the West Texas Shrine Bowl.

Prominent among the group will be former collegiate stars from McMurry College and Hardin-Simmons University. Other former Southwest and Border Conference players are also listed on the two teams' rosters.

The Titans and the Texans are currently working out daily in separate sections of the country getting ready for their exhibition games. The Titans, coached by Sammy Baugh, another name familiar to area football fans, are training in Durham, New Hampshire, while the Texans are working out in Roswell, N. M.

Their game here Aug. 20 will be played at Abilene Public School Stadium at 8 p.m. with the Abilene Shrine Club as sponsor. Reserved seat tickets are $5.00 each and are being sold in 30 West Texas cities as well as at Dyess Air Force Base and the Abilene ticket headquarters at Eagle Gym. Mail order requests may be made by sending check or money order to P. O. Box 2334 in Abilene.

Among the outstanding athletes on the Texan squad are fullback Jack Spikes and halfback Jim Swink of TCU, Chris Burford of Stanford, Marvin Terrell of Mississippi, Abner Haynes of North Texas State and Jim Baldwin of McMurry. Spikes is from Snyder and Baldwin from McMurry. He was recently traded from the Titans.

The Titans have several former Abilene collegiate stars. They include quarterback Ken Ford, halfback Dewey Bohling, fullback Pete Hart, tackle Buddy Cockrell and Joe Biggs of Hardin-Simmons and guard Charlie Baldwin, brother of Jim, and quarterback Terry O'Brien of McMurry. Also on the roster is Don Maynard of Texas Western.

The Texans have three exhibition games and the Titans two before coming into Abilene. Both squads are expected to arrive early in the week for workouts prior to the Aug. 20 contest.

Special halftime activities have been planned for the game. They include drill teams, clown, marching bands and girls' twirling and marching groups. The pro football game is the first ever to be played in Abilene.

Tickets for the game are now on sale in Winters at Smith Drug Store.

She had lived in Del Rio for eleven years and had served as president of the North Heights Parent Teachers Association for two years and was active in district work of the Texas Congress Parents and Teachers. She was a member of the Methodist Church and Beta Sigma Phi sorority. She was recently elected "Girl of the Year" of the sorority. She was also a member of the Elk's Auxiliary.

The nearly universal desire for quantity discourages the production of quality, and that goes for everything from soup to nuts.

State Water Board To Do Research On Increasing Water Supply

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

If the brackish, "hard as bricks" water common to many parts of West Texas can be made suitable for domestic use, Texas' available water supply would be materially increased.

To this end, the State Water Board has approved a de-mineralization research project to be carried out by the board, University of Dallas and Texas Electric Service Co. Board will put $20,000 into the work.

Board engineers say total de-mineralization is not necessary and that it is possible the process can be accomplished at an economically feasible cost.

In another move to increase available water, the Board has set a series of hearings on cancellation of water appropriation permits that have not been used. First 10 of the permits to be reviewed are scheduled for hearing Sept. 22. Some of the permits date back as far as 1918.

DPS ASKS BOOST
With more traffic to patrol and more crime to fight, the Department of Public Safety will ask the next Legislature for money to increase its staff.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, has presented a budget calling for $16,461,260 for 1962 and $17,720,166 for 1963. This compares to $12,420,490 allocated to DPS for this year and $13,353,272 for the new fiscal year beginning Sept. 1.

Requested increases would allow the addition of 200 new highway patrolmen, 10 Texas Rangers, four narcotics agents and four intelligence agents.

Supporting his request, Garrison made this grim forecast: 29,000 more major crimes will be committed in Texas in 1963 than in 1959. This is apparently a continuation of the trend which saw major crimes rise 45 per cent in the past five years, rising to 175,851 in 1959.

PAROLE EXPANSION SOUGHT
Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles has a plan for saving the state some money.

But to do so, the Board says it will need some more money to invest in enlarging the state's staff of parole supervisors. Since the paid parole system got under way in 1958, the Board says it has saved the state $3,000,000. It costs that much less to pay a supervisor to keep tab on a parolee than it costs to board and clothe a prisoner and make relief payments to his family.

The Board feels it needs a 70-man parole staff, rather than the present 40—to do the job. For this, the Board is asking an appropriation of $1,466,819 for the next two years. This is an increase of $480,863, or nearly a half-million dollars, over the present biennium's appropriation.

Board contends this extra investment will save the state $2,500,000 in prison costs, plus offering a better chance of returning more men to useful, law-abiding places in the community.

OIL FLOW UNCHANGED
Texas Railroad Commission has announced an eight-day producing pattern for the Texas oil industry in August—the same as for July. Daily allowable will be 2,630,069 barrels a day.

A majority of producers appearing before the Commission said there is still an oil glut in Texas and continued restriction is needed to protect the market.

Commission action came in the wake of a declaration by UT's Bureau of Business Research director that oil is no longer king in Texas. Even Dr. John Stockton, supply outruns demand so that production has had to be held down to 8 to 12 days a month for the past two years.

Stockton foresees no improvement. Texas, he said, must develop new industries to bolster its economy or lose out to more dynamic areas.

PARKS SURVEY SET
State Parks Board has announced the Texas Research League will make a study of its operations and report to the next Legislature.

League is a privately financed, non-profit government research organization which studies state agencies at their own request.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness has recommended the Parks Board hire an auditor to keep track of the receipts from concessions operated in the state parks. Cavness also urged that the next Legislature act on a Legislature Council report presented to the 1959 session making recommendations for the continuing, expanding and abandoning of various parks.

Parks Board has designated a new state park, to be known as San Marcos State Park to be located near the proposed Canyon Dam site on the Guadalupe River.

SCHOOL REPORT CARD
State Commission on School Accreditation has weighed Texas public schools against state standards and found 54 wanting.

Inspection teams recommended disciplinary action against 20 schools and warnings of a need for immediate improvement by 34 more.

If a school loses its accreditation, the work of its students cannot be transferred to accredited schools with full credit.

Commission recommendations will be reviewed by the State Board of Education at its September meeting.

TRAFFIC TOLL CUT
While nationally the drop in traffic deaths for this year is one per cent, Texas has improved by nine per cent.

Texas traffic deaths up to mid-July of this year totaled 1,049, compared to 1,152 for the same period last year.

A veteran highway patrol officer said he believes the new auto insurance rates, which jump sharply for motorists with accidents or violations on their records, have contributed substantially to the better record.

But radar, he said, had the same effect until people got used to it and became indifferent again.

CHEVROLET
Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route
That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 250 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr. Harry Hansen of Missoula, Montana. "With my previous truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty... I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."
Chevy rides nice, all right: takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torsion-spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too; get in more trips a day, make more money. Those facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups. Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.
"I'm getting close to 20 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."

Hints On Keeping Cattle Shrink Low

The heavy fall livestock marketing period is only a few months away, and producers are beginning to think about the returns they will get on their investments. Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist, points out that selling price alone does not determine whether or not the producer will show a profit. A combination of selling price and pounds sold determines how much money a producer can put in the bank—or how much he must borrow to continue operations for another year.

Cattle shrinkage can cut down on profits or, in some cases, it can even mean the difference between profit and loss.

Bergsma offers the following tips for keeping shrinkage low: Keep physical activity of cattle at a minimum during marketing. An overnight stand, or at least a few hours, off feed and water before loading results in less shipping shrink.

Make full use of the feed and rest stops for cattle shipped long distances. Plan the loading job so that there are no unnecessarily long delays.

Feed hay before shipping. Animals accustomed to hay will not only shrink less enroute, but will take hay at the sales yards or rest stops much quicker than those not used to hay. If you are shipping long distances, make sure your animals have a chance to feed and rest before sale time. It will pay to allow from 24 to 36 hours for a refill.

Plan your marketing job so that you can avoid conditions that increase shrinkage. Exposure to wet, cold weather and really hot weather, and improper bedding and footing increase shrinkage. Avoid excitement. Don't rush or crowd cattle into cars and through gates.

Don't overload or underload shipments. Attend your cattle at the market. Make sure they have fresh hay and plenty of clean water.

Green Grass Furnishes Vitamins For Cattle

The green in grass means greenbacks in the livestock producer's pocket. Green color in plants is caused by the presence of chlorophyll, the quantity of which is an index to the amount of carotene present. Carotene, which is formed only in plants, is an important source of vitamin A, an indispensable ingredient in beef production. Loss of green color in hays or fodders means that a large percent of the carotene is lost.

If cattle are not provided with green forage or a vitamin A fortified ration, vitamin A deficiency will occur. This deficiency is characterized by night blindness, watery eyes, swollen joints, rapid breathing, a staggering gait and a general loss of vigor. If the condition is not remedied, the cattle will become unmarketable and eventually will die. Time required for cattle to become deficient varies. Young animals, which have not had enough time to store up a supply, become deficient faster than older animals.

A sufficient supply of vitamins A, C, D, E, K and the B vitamins is as necessary for normal growth and reproduction as proteins, carbohydrates, fats and minerals. Vitamins A, D and E are normally found in natural feeds, and vitamins C, K and the B vitamins are produced inside the body. U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman for the Texas A and M College System, has prepared an interesting and informative publication in which "Vitamins for Beef Cattle" are discussed. This publication may be obtained from the local county agent, or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for MP-415.

Funeral Rites For Oliver H. Green, Sr. Held Thursday

Funeral services for Oliver H. Green Sr., 77, were held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in Spill Memorial Chapel with the Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. The Rev. Virgil James, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church, assisted. Burial was in the Crews Cemetery.

Mr. Green died Wednesday at 4:45 a.m. in Winters Municipal Hospital where he had been a patient since Friday. He had been in ill health since 1958.

He was born October 23, 1883 in Clarks Township, Missouri and in 1898, he and his brother, the late C. L. Green, came to Texas, settling near Gonzales. Shortly after the turn of the century he and his brother moved to Runnels County. Mr. Green farmed for several years before entering the hardware business which he operated for several years. He was also in the truck farming business for ten years.

He married the former Susie Branham in 1908 in Ballinger. She died in 1941.

Mr. Green was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include three sons, Walter of Wingate, Oliver of Winters and Eddie Green of San Antonio; three daughters, Mrs. Audolph Vialpando, of Espanola, New Mexico, Mrs. Lloyd King of Ballinger and Mrs. Ralph Went of Miami, Florida; 22 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren.

If a man expects to have any conversation with his grandchildren, he had better get busy before they turn into their middle teens, or he will be unheeded and unnoticed.

Your EYES and VISION

By A. L. SPERRY, O. D.
Director Public Education
Texas Optometric Association

It is interesting to watch the human parade through a professional office and observe the different reactions to the solutions offered by the professional man for the many and varied complaints and problems of the clientele.

What old Abe Lincoln said many years ago about its being possible "to fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time but not all of the people all of the time" can be paraphrased into the word "please" and adopted to the practice of any profession—not just to politics.

A prime example of this statement is the discussion surrounding a diagnosis for the need of bifocals. A frequent reaction of the patient is "Well Gee, Doc, isn't there SOME other way"?? And off we go.

It's then necessary to explain to the patient that if he is to be able to see clearly at his reading (and sewing) distance his eyes will have to have more help than the distance correction alone can provide. This means different lenses for near and far, therefore two pairs of glasses (assuming distance glasses necessary) "Well . . . Doc . . . don't see how I could keep up with TWO pair of specs—and also put up with switching back and forth from one pair to the other." Right! So we're back to two focuses in one lens—bifocals.

So the patient reluctantly agrees—especially if the boss has already warned him he mistakes a 7 for a 9 or a 3 for an 8 and fails to balance once more and . . . !!

The bifocals are made and the patient comes for them. We spend a little time showing him and explaining that the dividing line will probably "cut things in half" for a while. He may feel a little like he's "standing in a hole"—that is, through the bifocal the ground may look closer to him. But these are only temporary annoyances and the individual normally adjusts to them quickly.

There are two types of people who wear bifocals—men and women. Of the two, the women "enjoy" the most trouble adjusting to the line and floor blur. Some medical men will joshingly state that the ladies "enjoy" their aches, pains, and operations to a much greater extent than the men, so we'll put getting accustomed to bifocals in the same category as the aches and pains.

This, I think, results from definite reasons (1) The ladies like less to show their age and the bifocal is a mark of being past 40 (2) At this age, the children are away at school or busy with teen-age activities and the husband is away at work thus the ladies would have more leisure time than ever before to contemplate their aches and other annoyances. (3) The ladies often have other physical adjustments in progress common to the age and are annoyed more easily by the adjustments necessary to wearing bifocals.

In contrast, men are usually more wrapped up in their work than ever before, when they begin to need bifocals. The attention necessary for doing their work properly quickly takes their minds off minor annoyances like bifocals and before they know it—no problems.

Let me hasten to add that when a man DOES fight his first bifocals he raises more cane, he is more stubborn, and cause his doctor more ulcers than half a dozen of the ladies all put together.

Too Many Fatal Farm Accidents

Farm people have a slightly higher percentage of fatal accidents than do other population groups, reports the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. The rate of accidental deaths from work and recreational activities on farms is increasing slightly each year, as is the death rates associated with machinery, drownings, firearms and electricity. Accidental deaths due to animals, falls, lightning and burns are decreasing, however.

According to a recent survey made by the National Safety Council, Texas ranks in the top ten states in the number of deaths caused from drownings, firearms, burns and electricity. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council points out that a little care and caution on the part of rural dwellers could help remove Texas from these unpopular lists.

During the week of July 24, an intensive safety campaign will be conducted in Texas, and all over the nation. The Texas Council urges all rural residents to participate in the activities of National Farm Safety Week—not only for that week, but for the entire year. "A little bit of caution could prevent a lot of grief," reminds the Texas Council.

No business can offer proper service unless it makes a profit, and service is what a business has to sell.

Economy of Cotton Stripping Studied

Studies conducted recently by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station indicate that on the Blackland Prairies, harvesting cotton with mechanical strippers is more economical than hiring labor crews to pull or snap by hand.

These studies covered the growing seasons of 1952-56. This five year period included two good years and three "bad" years. During this period, the increased returns with machine stripping averaged $14 per bale, but varied from $10 to $25. The smaller return was received in seasons of poor crops and the larger return was realized in good crop seasons. In good and bad seasons alike, the growers who used improved production methods throughout the season obtained the best results.

If a grower has 50 or more acres of cotton that will average at least 1-2 bale per acre, he can afford to own his own stripper. This would be more economical than hiring custom stripping at $1.00 cwt. hauled to the gin.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has published a bulletin which contains a complete analysis of these studies. This bulletin, B-949, may be obtained from

"They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts."—Sir Philip Sidney.

"Seeds of National Decay" is the subject for next Sunday's Sunday School lesson. Meditation: "If a gardener deliberately planted seeds of poison ivy, thistles, ragweed, and other obnoxious weeds, we should call him insane. Yet in every land we see men who are doing things that are even worse. National leaders purposely plant the seeds of suspicion, intolerance, bigotry, and hatred. In our own land respectable people encourage graft, prejudice, dishonesty, and vice. The inevitable harvest of such planting can only be disaster."

Hosea urged his people to 'sow to yourselves in righteousness.' When a Christian faithfully plants seeds of understanding and loving-kindness, he can be certain of an abundant harvest that will richly bless him and his neighbors. He who sows to the Spirit will reap life everlasting."

36 Persons Attend Farm Bureau's Regular Meeting

Regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Runnels County Farm Bureau was held in the Ballinger office on July 21, 1960 with some 36 persons present.

Committee reports were heard from C. L. Howell who informed the board that the plans for the 1960 barbecue were almost completed and advised them that the bid for the preparation of the food this year was let to Cotton Koehler, owner of Lowake-Inn Steak House, who is famous for the barbecues he has catered over the state of Texas.

The directors of the Farm Bureau will serve the barbecue this year and will be assisted by the ladies in Farm Bureau. The barbecue committee will gather at the Farm Bureau office on August 25 at 1:30 to take care of last minute arrangements.

Mrs. M. L. Dobbins reported on the queen contest committee to the effect that all plans have been made for this year's event. The post of emcee will be handled by Bob McGarvey and special music will be furnished by Mrs. J. L. Roach of Miles. The crown bearer for the contest will be lovely little Miss Deana Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Smith of Ballinger.

Ed Davis of the Chamber of Commerce is responsible for the judges and it is the good fortune of the organization to once again have Gail Wigington of the Board of City Development in San Angelo as one of the judges, with the two remaining judges to be announced at a later date.

The Queen Contest committee and other members of the bureau were asked by Mrs. Dobbins to solicit more entries in this year's contest and to turn the name into the county office at such time that the girls have agreed to enter. Entries have begun to come in with the acceptance by Miss Francis Saunders of Winters and Shirley Ehrig of Miles, other names will be released as they are received in the county office.

Paul Newman and Alexis Smith are lovers in "The Young Philadelphians," Warner Bros. production coming Tuesday to the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. Barbara Rush, Brian Keith and Diane Brewster co-star in the film based on the best-seller.

Passions explode in Sam Spiegel's powerful production of Tennessee Williams' play, "Suddenly, Last Summer," starring Elizabeth Taylor (right), Montgomery Clift and Katharine Hepburn. The Columbia Pictures' release was directed by Joseph L. Mankiewicz.

Coming Attractions At Local Theatres

"Ten Seconds To Hell"

The men who perform the world's most dangerous occupation, against the starkly dramatic background of the ruins of West Berlin, are the central characters in the new suspense film, "Ten Seconds To Hell," opening on Saturday only at the State Theatre through United Artists release.

These men constitute Berlin's bomb squads, whose fantastically hazardous job it is to defuse the countless unexploded bombs, buried deep in the rubble of the city, which were dropped by the British and U. S. Air Forces during World War II.

Filed on actual location in Berlin, "Ten Seconds to Hell" stars Jack Palance, Jeff Chandler, and Martine Carol. The strong supporting cast is headed by such players as Virginia Baker, Wesley Addy and Robert Carmthwaite.

"Babette Goes to War"

Brigitte Bardot, celebrated the world over by millions of males as the Goddess of Love, reportedly reveals still another facet of her fascinating talent. In Raoul J. Levy's production of "Babette Goes to War," a Columbia picture arriving Sunday only at the State Theatre, Brigitte proves she also is one of the more talented comedienne around. Co-starred with the cuddly Gallic star in the comedy, filmed in CinemaScope and Eastman Color, are Jacques Charrier and Francis Blanche, Ronald Howard and Hannes Messemer. Charrier is Brigitte's real-life husband.

Awarded the Parents' Magazine Medal as an "extremely funny farce" with a "new and delightful Brigitte," "Babette Goes to War" tells how Miss Bardot is enlisted in an elaborate Allied plot to kidnap an important German general who is planning the invasion of England. Parachuted into occupied France, the saucy star drops right into the hands of the Gestapo.

"Suddenly, Last Summer"

A superb, star-laden cast topped by Elizabeth Taylor, Katharine Hepburn and Montgomery Clift has been assembled by Sam Spiegel for his powerful motion picture version of Tennessee Williams' play, "Suddenly, Last Summer." Opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre, the new drama is a Columbia Pictures' release, one of the year's 10 best according to the National Board of Review.

Seldom has such star power been gathered of the calibre of Miss Taylor, who has twice been nominated for Academy laurels, for her work in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" and "Raintree County," Clift and Miss Hepburn.

The film centers around the efforts of Clift, a brilliant neurosurgeon, to penetrate the miasma of terror and shock that has enshrouded the beautiful Miss Taylor and driven her to the precipice of insanity. The triggering event, that all but unhinges Miss Taylor's reason, is the sudden and violent, death of her young male cousin, Katharine Hepburn's son. Miss Hepburn, in her turn, presses Clift to perform a delicate brain operation on Miss Taylor. Clift delays, uncertain that Miss Taylor is, indeed, insane.

"The Young Philadelphians"

Richard Powell's powerful best-selling novel, "The Philadelphia," has been brought to the motion picture screen by Warner Bros. in the daring production, "The Young Philadelphians," which comes Tuesday and Wednesday to the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

An equally powerful cast, headed by Paul Newman, Barbara Rush, Alexis Smith, Brian Keith and Diane Brewster, enacts the story of a brilliant young lawyer who is forced to claw every inch of the way to the dizzy and precarious heights of wealth and power, against the handicap of poverty and the prejudice of Philadelphia's Main Line society.

For Paul Newman, the role of Anthony Lawrence, illegitimate son of Diane Brewster and Brian Keith, marks a move away from the rough and tough parts he has played in such pictures as "The Helen Morgan Story," "Somebody Up There Likes Me," and "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," for which his performance earned him an Academy Award nomination this year. In "The Young Philadelphians," Newman plays a Princeton graduate, an Army officer in the Korean War and finally an extremely successful corporation lawyer.

Hints Offered On Making Quality Hay

There's more to the production of a bale of top quality hay than just planting and mowing a field of forage. George McBee, extension pasture specialist, says that hay quality is affected by harvesting, curing, and fertilizing.

For good quality hay, the crop should be harvested before it reaches the mature stage. McBee says that, even though yield is reduced if the crop is cut young, quality is greatly enhanced. The specialist recommends that grass type crops be cut between the boot and dough stages, and that clovers and other legumes be cut between the 1-10 and 1-2 bloom stages. When plants go beyond these stages, palatability and feeding values are greatly reduced.

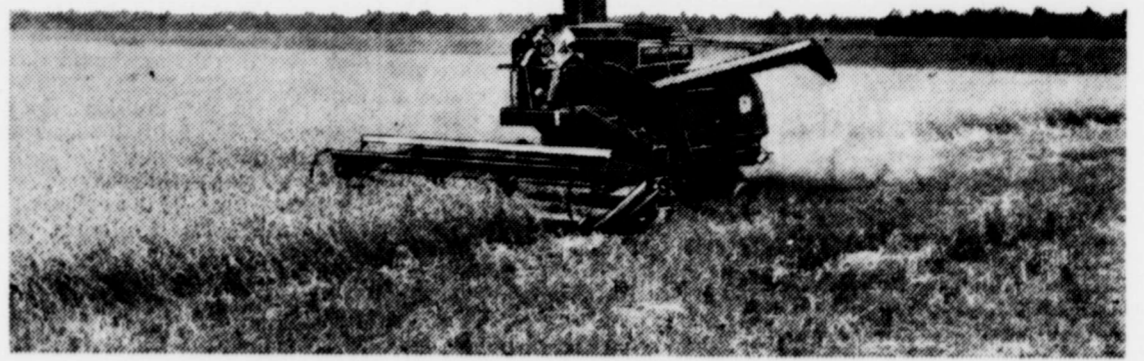

Growers often produce high yields of good quality plants, and then lose this quality through improper curing. Curing should be accomplished as rapidly as possible to prevent quality loss from sunlight, rain and dew. Overcuring, however, results in the loss of leaves, nutrients, dry matter and color, McBee continues.

The specialist concludes by pointing out that hay crops need fertilizer just the same as other crops. He says nitrogen is especially important to grasses for yield and protein content, but that the general type and amount of fertilizer to be applied should be determined by soil tests.

Widows Advised To Apply For Social Security At Age 62

"Widows should apply for social security benefits as soon as they are 62," Floyd B. Ellington, Social Security Manager advised today. "It would be even better if they applied a month before they are 62. Of course no one should delay, but widows in particular should be careful to apply for benefits promptly."

A woman's benefit based on her own account, or on the account of a living husband is reduced if she applies before age 65, but a widow's benefit is different. Widows' benefits are not reduced and the full amount is paid at age 62.

"So, if you are a widow," Ellington explained, "and we once paid you a lump-sum or monthly benefits, you should apply again when you are 62. In fact, you can speed your first check by applying a month before."

Two Volunteer Firemen Attended Training School

Community savings amounting from three to five percent key rate insurance credit will be earned by Texas cities and towns who have firemen attending the 31st Annual Texas Firemen's Training School, being conducted this week on the campus of Texas A. and M. College, according to Henry D. Smith, Chief of Firemen Training for the Engineering Extension Service, Texas A. and M. College System. These cities and towns will receive this credit if their firemen successfully pass the test for their selected course, Smith stated.

The school, sponsored by the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas and conducted by the Engineering Extension Service is now in its 31st year, and attendance at the school has increased from the 196 who attended the first school to the anticipated 1600 who will participate this year. More than 250 instructors and Administrative personnel will take an active part in conducting the school this year.

Over 35,000 gallons of gasoline, oil, butane and propane fuel, plus thousands of dollars worth of chemical extinguishing agents and equipment will be used during the week of training for the student firemen, in ten different courses.

The 1,600 students, instructors, administrative staff and visitors, representing city, county, state, industrial and armed services will come from 20 states other than Texas and registrations have been received from four foreign countries. The school, held from July 18-22, will be conducted on a new 26 acre training area, recently dedicated by Texas A. and M. College as a "Brayton Firemen Training Field" as a memorial to the late Col. H. R. Brayton who served as Director of the school from its inception until 1955.

Courses offered this year to the firemen include Basic Firefighting, Advanced Firefighting, Basic Fire Marshal, Advanced Fire Marshal, Firemen Instructor Training, Fire Department Officer Training, Industrial Fire Protection, Armed Service Fire Protection, Fire Department Pump Maintenance and for the first time a new 30 hour course, Fire Department Pump Operations.

Jesse R. Harris, Pioneer Resident, Died Wednesday

Jesse R. Harris, 83, pioneer resident of Runnels County and an active stock farmer, died Wednesday morning at 1:15 in Winters Municipal Hospital following a serious illness of one week. He had been in ill health for several years.

He was born May 26, 1877 in Bibb County, Alabama and came to Texas in 1896 settling in Milam County. He was married to Massie Myrtle Wilkerson February 10, 1901 in Milam County and in September 1905, the couple moved to Runnels County settling 2 miles north of Hatchell where they have lived since that time.

Mr. Harris was a veteran of the Spanish-American War and served as trustee for the former Hatchell School for several terms. He was Deputy Sheriff of Runnels County during the administration of Jim Flynt.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Spill Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Virgil James, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in the Old Runnels Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Gladys Cain of Midland, Mrs. Maudie Holt, and Mrs. Lillie Heath, both of Winters; two sisters, Mrs. W. D. Hollifield of Centerville, Alabama, Mrs. S. F. Verner of Ashville, North Carolina; three grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren. Two children preceded him in death.

IT'S THE LAW—IN TEXAS

The U. S. Supreme Court has to apply the "supreme law of the land"—the constitution and the treaties—in disputes before it, which often arise out of headaches of little people.

For example, our treaties with the Indian nations of this country rank with our constitution as the supreme law of the land. The Indians' rights may be set out in some treaty, and will determine whether or not they can be sued, by whom, and before what "forums."

For example, in January the U. S. Supreme Court wouldn't let a store keeper sue in Arizona courts to collect for goods he sold on an Indian reservation.

Under a treaty, the Indian claimed and the U. S. Supreme Court backed them up, that it was their tribal court, and not the Arizona state court, that could decide such claims.

The U. S. Supreme Court held: Unless Congress gives state courts jurisdiction, they have none over Indians on their reservations. Rather under the treaty between the Navajos and the United States, the "internal affairs of the Indians remained exclusively within the jurisdiction of whatever tribal government existed."

While Congress favors state control over Indians, the courts noted, the state legislature or the people would have to ask Congress for that jurisdiction.

Regardless of whether the storekeeper was an Indian or not (he wasn't), "He was on the reservation, and the transaction with an Indian took place there." Hence no state court had jurisdiction.

Few countries put their treaties on a par with the supreme law of their land. So instead of a "scrap of paper," a U. S. treaty stands high.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Turkeys And Peaches On Plentiful List

Turkeys and peaches will get feature support in all of the promotion efforts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture during August.

Here's why. Head-count marketings of turkeys during August are expected to run about a sixth larger than last year but tonnage will run even higher because of the increased proportion of heavy breed birds.

Also, cold storage holdings of turkeys are higher than average and last summer.

More states harvest peaches in August than in any other month, so supplies will run heavy as the largest crop since 1946 moves to market—76.8 million bushels.

Both watermelons and cantaloups remain on USDA's plentiful foods list for this region with retail prices low enough to attract heavy volume sales.

Onions and tomatoes are in the best supply of summer vegetables. Broilers and fryers return to USDA's plentiful list as August marketings promise to run 12 percent above a year ago.

Altus Ueckert Feted At Seated Tea Wednesday

A seated tea honoring Altus Ueckert, bride-elect of Harlan Aschen, was held in the parlors of St. John's Lutheran Church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Walter Kruse greeted the guests and presented the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Ellis Ueckert. Mrs. H. L. Frick registered guests in a white leather bride's book. The registry table laid with white hand drawn linen was decorated with a tiny vase filled with summer flowers.

The tea table laid with white cutwork linen was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli featuring a blue satin ribbon bow with the couple's names in gold. Mrs. Walter Kraatz ladeled punch and Mrs. Charlie Adami served cake. All table appointments were of crystal and silver.

Mrs. A. W. Stoecker directed guests to the table where gifts of china and silver were displayed on a white linen laid table centered with an arrangement of summer flowers. Other arrangements of flowers were used at vantage points throughout the party rooms.

Mrs. Robert Spill and Mrs. Robert Gerhart arranged gifts and Miss Eugenia Voss played popular music as the guests arrived.

Mrs. W. F. Minzenmayer presented Mrs. Walter Gerhart who read "Memo To A Bride." Mrs. Raymond Kurtz gave "Wedding News" and Mrs. Erwin Ueckert sang "True Love." Mrs. Minzenmayer also presented the gifts to the honoree.

Other hostesses were Mesdames Otto Turk, Calvin Hoppe and E. R. Wessels.

Approximately 80 attended.

You can't stay ahead of your bills if you allow them to do all the running.

Judging by the way some stores keep up their stocks, they need to erect a sign reading, "If it's to be had, we had it."

Accidents to farm residents claim more than 11,300 victims and injure about 950,000 persons annually, according to the National Safety Council.

Greatest number of accidents caused by tractors overturning occur while the tractors are being operated on level ground.

Age group having the greatest number of fatalities from accidents on farmland and around farm buildings is 5-14 years.

Today's farms are becoming more like small industrial plants and they have some of the same safety needs.
