

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Old King Cotton may have been dethroned by the coming of the synthetic fabrics and the era of controlled acreage, but the old fellow still has a strong seat on the board of directors. And for those whose memories hunger for long gone lines of wagons waiting for the suction pipe — they can feed that nostalgia with a visit to any of the gins in Winters just about now.

For the past few days the three Winters gins have been running "around the clock," and gin yards have been filled with trailers and trucks of cotton. With the weather holding, the 5,000-bale mark probably will be reached and passed sometime this week.

Because of the good weather, it may not be a long drawn-out season—but it's been a good year so far as the acreage and production limitations have permitted.

The nostalgist will not, in his search for the road back, find the streets clogged with horse- and mule-drawn wagons waiting their turn on the scales, a scene so common during the days when Winters boasted upwards of a dozen gins. Nor will be noticeable, in the day's dusk, the cotton farmer jouncing toward home in a cotton wagon empty except for perhaps the seed from a bale of ginned cotton, with overall pockets filled with favors for the kids who will be milking, feeding the stock or doing the other hundreds of chores expected of kids just a few short years ago. Nowadays, the kids would have long since returned from school, and settled down before a warm glowing television set.

Regardless of the many innovations which have changed the face of cotton farming during the last few short years, the limitations and controls, cotton still is the most important industry in many areas. And the risks of cotton farming rest just as heavily on the farmer in these days as they did 25-30 years ago.

The smoke of burning burrs, and the hum of activity at the gins throughout the night is evidence of addition to the economy of the area, and perhaps one of the most important facets, and is appreciated as such.

One of the other pictures which has faded from the farm scene—or nearly so—is that of the countryside dotted with fields of sorghum grain in the shock. There are some, no doubt, but not as many as a few short years ago.

One of the hardest farm jobs, in one opinion, was shocking feed in the fall. We remember one farm job we had, back in the dim past, following the old horse-drawn binder and shocking bundle cane. Didn't keep that job too long, through no fault of our own. The farmer we were working for didn't cotton to our idea of how it should be done. He asked, "How come you carry only one bundle, when the rest of the guys are carrying two?" He didn't understand that we were not too lazy to make two trips.

The second "great debate" between the two presidential candidates has been scheduled for Friday night. We figure that whoever picked that date forgot to take into account the fact that half the voters in the country will be watching high school football games that night. But perhaps it was planned that way, to keep the candidates from coming under the critical eyes of official-conscious football fans at this time of the year.

We're gaining, however slowly, in our right-wrong rating in the football game predictions each week. Last week we picked six winners out of ten, raising the percentage. Not so good, but we'll keep trying. For this week, they look like this:

- Okla. State over Tulsa.
- Rice over Florida.
- SMU over Navy.
- Texas over Oklahoma.
- Tex. A. and M. over Houston.
- Tex. Tech. over TCU.
- Texas Western over W. Tex. St.
- Air Force over Missouri.
- Baylor over Arkansas.
- Iowa over Mich. State.

Cotton production has been reported as being the best in several years, and gin yards have been filled with trailers and trucks. Yields up to one-half bale per acre have been reported.

Boy Scout Fund Drive Set For Tuesday, Oct. 11

A kick-off breakfast at Pierce's Cafeteria next Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 6:30 a. m., will open the annual drive for funds for the Winters Boy Scouts. All of the communities that make up the Chisholm Trail Council are now joining together to raise the council's operating budget for 1960-61.

Heading the campaign in Winters will be Jerry W. Ward, who will be assisted by Homer Hudgins, prospects chairman; Ted Meyer, arrangements; Earl Little, auditing; Elzie Cox, special gifts; Bob Loyd, general solicitation; R. C. Thomas, publicity; the Rev. H. K. Flathmann, the Rev. Ray Elliott and Lee Harrison. Several other persons will be added to this list of workers as the campaign progresses.

Independent Boy Scout finance campaigns are conducted in all other communities of the area.

Annual Girl Scout Fund Drive Now In Progress

This week the Winters Girl Scout Association is having its annual campaign to raise the funds that will help it to bring its program of citizenship training, service, and fun to more and more girls.

"By supporting this campaign," H. C. Satterwhite, who is in charge of the local drive, said, "We all affirm our belief in the future of this community and its young people."

"Girl Scouting is growing in our community and we want to keep it that way. We believe that the role Girl Scouting plays in our community is one of vital importance. Contributions to Girl Scouting help us offer that simple Girl Scout Promise and Laws to our own girls here and now. We believe that it is one of the most precious gifts we can give the youngsters growing up in our difficult challenging world," Satterwhite said.

"One out of every seven girls in the United States is a Girl Scout. In Winters this year, there will be five or six troops with approximately 15 girls and 4 to 6 adults registered with each troop," he said.

"There is no price tag on good citizenship," he continued. "No price can equal its value. It's part of the story of Girl Scouting that no request for help goes unanswered. These girls from seven to seventeen are learning to serve their family, community and country. Every contribution made to the Girl Scouts means informed citizenship for America tomorrow."

C-City Here Friday For Football Game

The Winters Blizzards, again on the upgrade after their victory over Hamlin last week, meet the Colorado City Wolves on Blizzard Field here Friday night.

The Hamlin game did take its toll, however, leaving a vacant spot on the Winters team for this week's game. Bruce Waggoner, who played defensive linebacker against Hamlin, will be laid up with an injury received Friday night, and will not play this week. His spot will be filled by Rodney Butts. Joel Butts still is out with a broken collar bone, too.

Not yet into District play, the Blizzards are still playing each game as they come to it, and will be out to add another win to their record book Friday night. They'll be going against a AAA team which has lost 3 and won 1 this season. The Wolves trampled Post, but lost to Ballinger, Monahans and Brownfield.

The Colorado City team is sparked by Quarterback McKay and Tailback Vest, and play a fast running game. They run wide and stay in the air a lot.

Following Friday night's game, the Blizzards go to Ranger Oct. 14 for the district opener.

Lineups for Friday night's encounter probably will be about the same as in last week's game, with a few changes because of injuries. Offense starters will be A. L. Mitchell and Kenneth Crowe, E; John Jackson and Eugene Mathis, T; Tommy Webb and James Williams, G; Kerwin Knapp, C; Johnny Caskey, QB; William Grissom, FB; Tommy Young, HB.

Defense starters probably will be Caskey and Young, HB; William Grissom and Steve Grissom and Rodney Butts, linebackers; Crowe and Mitchell, E; Knapp and Webb, T; Williams and John Jackson, G.

JOHNNY CASKEY

TOMMY YOUNG

OUTSTANDING BLIZZARDS — These two Blizzards distinguished themselves in play against Hamlin last Friday night when the Winters team defeated the Pied Pipers 8-6 at Hamlin. In the hard-fought game against the high-ranked Hamlin team, Tommy Young and Johnny Caskey made eleven tackles each.

Remodeling Work Being Done At Winters Hospital

An extensive remodeling project is underway at the Winters Municipal Hospital.

Workmen are installing a completely new circuit of wiring, and ceilings and floors will be refinished. Repair work has been done on the roof, also.

The hospital kitchen is being rebuilt, with new cabinets and sinks installed.

All floors, which now are covered with a dark tile, will be recovered with tile, and acoustical ceilings will be repaired. In the hallways, celotex will be installed on the walls, about three feet down from the ceiling. All walls, ceilings and woodwork will receive new paint.

The remodeling work is of necessity slow, because the hospital staff is maintaining a "business as usual" course. Mrs. Rose Lang, hospital superintendent said. After all the remodeling is completed, Mrs. Lang said, the public will be invited to visit.

Texas Democrats For Nixon Open State Headquarters

Texas Democrats for Nixon and Lodge opened state headquarters at Austin this week with Former Governor Allan Shivers as chair- man.

Emphasizing the vast differences between the National Democratic platform and the state platform, Shivers said he does not believe that the Los Angeles document is in Texas' best interests.

"As I said in 1952," Shivers remarked, "when it comes to de- ciding between a party label and what's good for our people, I will vote for Texas."

The former governor reported that response to his Dallas tele- vision broadcast last week has been very great and enthusiastic, and he has received thousands of letters, telephone calls and tele- grams from citizens endorsing his views.

Texas Democrats for Nixon and Lodge will conduct a vigorous campaign, Shivers said, prom- ising that he will make many speeches and personal appearan- ces throughout the state and in some other states.

Calling for the help of all who are interested, Shivers repeated from his television speech the thought that "the name under which you work and vote is not important. We will gladly work with Volunteers for Nixon, Texans for Nixon, Citizens for Nixon. We are all of these, and more—"

"We are Americans, exercising our right to stand for and vote for the leaders of our choice. Re- member, in spite of specious ar- guments, in spite of jibes and threats and synthetic appeals to party loyalty, you have that right. "You have that responsibility. "You have that high and solemn duty."

VOTE FOR TEXAS

RICHARD M. NIXON, candidate for President, is a Californian, but he thinks the Texas way. Richard Nixon stands for:

- A strong national economy and defense so that America will not have to apologize to Khrushchev for anything;
- A sensible farm program that will attack and solve the present problems.
- Texas retaining its tidelands, and a tax policy favorable to Texas.
- Local control of our schools.

If you will read and compare Nixon's platform to that of his opponent, you will agree that a vote for Nixon is a vote for the best interests of Texas.

Blizzards Upset Hamlin In 8 to 6 Battle Friday

In a game which had been destined, by the pollsters and perhaps the losers themselves, to be another victory for the unbeaten, untied Hamlin Pied Pipers Friday night, the Winters Blizzards cut short the string of wins for the District 6-AA leaders.

Before an estimated 4000 fans, turned out for Hamlin's Homecoming game, the Blizzards held the Pipers to only one TD, and wrote up a final record of 8-6.

Hamlin, rated as the fifth strongest double A school in the state, and unbeaten and untied this year, was unable to down the Blizzards when their running paid off and their line proved strong.

Winters received the kick-off on the 3, and William Grissom, Winters' 175-pound fullback, returned the ball to the 26, from which the Big Blue was able to move to Hamlin's 22 before a fumble gave the ball to the Pied Pipers.

The Pipers, taking the ball on their own 24, moved in three downs to Winters' 10, but were stopped when the Blue line turned into a brick wall. Winters' offensive bogged down, so Grissom was called on to kick out, and as the first quarter ended, with the score 0-0, Hamlin owned the ball on Winters' 27 with second down and 9 to go.

Three plays failed for the Pipers, and Winters again went on the offensive on their own 18. A hand-off by QB Johnny Caskey to Tommy Young made 3; another hand-off to Grissom was good for 6. Young, on another handoff made the first down. Another series of downs, with handoffs to William Grissom and Steve Grissom moved the ball to the 49, still in Winters' end of the field. After Young made 6, Caskey, on a keeper, moved wide to the left, and with a hard block by Kenneth Crowe, who seemed to come hurdling out of nowhere, was able to pick up 15 yards, and another first down, on Hamlin's 35. Five plays, a hand-off to Steve Grissom, and a draw, giving Young 9, then three runs by William Grissom, found Winters on Hamlin's 11, with first and 10. On the second down, William Grissom went around right end for the TD, a deception pass from Caskey, wide to the right, to Crowe, on the far side of the goal, and Winters led the Pied Pipers 8-0 with 3 minutes left in the half.

Mike Bond, Hamlin captain and quarterback, returned Rodney Butts' kickoff to the Hamlin 40. The Hamlin team then came alive and in six plays moved to Winters' 10. On the third down, from the 2, Frankie Lee took a hand-off and through right tackle called for the TD. The same play was used for the extra point try, but to no effect, leaving the score 8 for Winters and 6 for Hamlin, with 45 seconds left in the half.

Hamlin, after receiving the Winters kick, in five downs moved the ball from their own 33 to Winters' 12, in their first series of plays after the half. Here Jim Cooper tried for a field goal, in the hope of adding the few extra points to go ahead of the Big Blue. However, it was wide, so Winters took the ball on the 20.

Three tries to move the ball were futile and the fourth down was used to kick by Grissom. From Winters' 43 Hamlin took to the air with short, but effective passes, moving the ball again deep into Winters territory to the 13. With fourth down and about 2 needed, Bond was back to throw again when Steve Grissom shot through the line, throwing him for a 10-yard loss, and gaining the ball on Winters' 15.

Again, the first down was not made, and after a kick, by Grissom, Hamlin from their 46 took to the air. They had not counted on the heads-up playing of Winters tackle John Jackson, who intercepted a pass, and ran 15 yards to the Hamlin 37 before he was cut down. Then the Hamlin line closed up, and Winters was forced to kick, just as the third quarter ended.

The fourth quarter proved to be the most thrilling, at least from Winters' standpoint, as the Winters line held, allowing Hamlin not one first down during the last stanza. The Winters offensive in the last quarter was sparked by handoffs to William Grissom, Steve Grissom and Tommy Young, who made one 18 yard run to the 37 yard line of the Pipers, now desperate in their attempt to score. This desperation showed when from their own 18 with fourth and 6 yards needed, they used the option play instead of kicking out. Winters took the ball on Hamlin's 25 and held the ball for the last four minutes of the game.

The Boy Scout Story

In relation to the annual campaign to raise funds for the Boy Scouts, which begins next Tuesday, October 11, Jerry Ward, who will head the drive this year, has released the following information:

In these times of national and international tensions what could be more fitting than a complete program teaching Americanism? What better way to instill the feeling of loyalty to God and country in our young people than through the program so excellently followed by the Boy Scouts of America?

There are nearly four and one-half million members of the Boy Scouts of America in 15,000 troops, packs and explorer units. Cub Scouting is for boys 8, 9, and 10 years old. It is home centered with emphasis on the family participating as a unit. Boy Scouting is the program for boys 11, 12, and 13 years old. The boys meet weekly at the sponsoring institution under the leadership of a Scoutmaster. Exploring is a program for all young men 14 through 16 years of age. The Winters units operate under the Chisholm Trail Council.

The Chisholm Trail Council points with pride to its 196 acre Camp Tonkawa, located 5 miles southwest of Buffalo Gap. The camp is fitted with natural beauty for Scouts to enjoy and provides an excellent place for them to learn the skills of Scouting.

Camp Tonkawa was the scene of many highlights in the life of more than 700 Boy Scouts as they participated in the regular camping season last summer. In addition to the Boy Scouts who attended the camp with their troops, nearly 800 Cub Scouts and their dads camped together at the Cub Dad and Lad Days held at the camp for the third summer. During the past year approximately 35,000 users of Camp Tonkawa have been recorded. These users include Cub Scouts, Explorers, Boy Scouts, church groups, school groups, college groups, Scout leader training groups and civic groups. There were approximately 20 Scouts and Cubs who attended the regular session at Camp Tonkawa from Winters. They were under the leadership of Jim Burnett who served as their Scoutmaster.

While these Scouts were at Camp Tonkawa they were able to put into practice for 24 hours a day the principles of Scouting and the techniques of Scouting that they had been learning in their Troop meetings during the past year.

Camp Tonkawa is available to all local Scout units for use at any time.

Without the combined efforts of each unit making up the Chisholm Trail Council, it would be impossible to maintain a camp such as Camp Tonkawa. Winters alone could not support such a fine training area; the cost and operation runs into hundreds of thousands of dollars. In the upcoming camaign to raise funds the people of Winters can join their fellow citizens in one gigantic finance campaign and donate time and dollars to insure the continuation of Camp Tonkawa and other fine Scouting projects.

In running a business you not only have to be on the job yourself but you have to see that others are on the job—a most fatiguing occupation.

Fortunately we don't always get what we deserve.

Had we ourselves no faults we should find less pleasure discovering them in others.

Roger Babson Says

"United Nations Should Pursue Idea Of Adopting International Currency"

Barcelona, Spain—By the news from America, I judge that the United Nations has been the chief topic of discussion. Anyone who has traveled about this world must favor the idea of this world organization even though it is far from perfect. It is a seed which we all should nurture and help to grow and bloom even though this may take as long as it would an oak tree.

A Town Meeting Center

If it has accomplished little as yet, it has served as a center at which the representatives of many nations can meet and talk. This of itself is a great step forward; but in addition it has active committees with appropriations which are doing difficult work to improve the health, social, and economic conditions of the world. Hence, without any necessary votes, these Committees are doing much to eliminate economic causes of war. Considering that the U. S. refused to join the old League of Nations, we have made a great step forward.

It is good to have the headquarters in New York City and have the meeting now attended by the actual heads of the world's great governments. To have these men meet and talk with one another must result in some good, and at least delay World War III. We know that Russia is against us; but a majority of the total membership is with us. The great difficulty is China, with her 600,000,000 people. China's position now is unpredictable. She claims to be against us; but she may be preventing Russia from taking any fatal step. When China gets enough atom bombs, she will attack Russia via her "back door" if Russia should attack Germany and our allies from her "front door." Of course, if it were not for Chiang Kai-Shek and Formosa, it would probably be better to have Red China a member of the United Nations; but we must hold Formosa at all costs.

Difficulty of Different Languages and Currencies

From my experience traveling about the world, it seems as if the United Nations should work for one of the international languages such as "Esperanto." This however, is in the far-distant future and may require World War III to bring about. An international currency could be instituted at any time. Such a currency would greatly help foreign trade and benefit every country. This United Nations Money would have to be based upon a gold standard, but each nation could continue to have its own rate of exchange based upon its financial stability. Rate of exchange would be determined by the demand for and the supply of each nation's own currency. This means that it would take more French Francs to buy this United Nations money than it would take German marks or English pounds.

Such a situation could work toward world equalization of social and economic conditions. Without any international legislation by treaties, or otherwise, this could gradually result in more universal welfare legislation, wage standards, and various other changes which must come about before world peace is attained. For instance, Russia, Germany, China, and the United States could continue to compete; but "fight" with economic weapons rather than with military weapons. Either this will happen or else World War II will result in a one-world dictator who will force such equalizations.

I wish the United Nations would start a study of such an international currency.

New Military War

In conclusion, I must remind readers that even the missile will not be the last development in military weapons. The next step is an accurate anti-missile which can defend a nation against accurate missile attack. The fact that this has not yet been invented may deter any nation from starting a conflict. Then missiles may be used containing concentrated poison gas or destructive biological bacteria instead of nuclear bombs. The gossip which I hear over here is that the scientists are working on a ray with an invisible source which could be used to "read or black" out the minds of world leaders. This machine would be undetectable by police or other defenders and the source of it could not be found before or after using. In fact, I am told that these killing mental rays would pass through walls of buildings as do radio or TV waves today.

George Allcorn Guest Speaker For Mail Carriers

George Allcorn of Brownwood, retiring state president of the Rural Letter Carriers Association, was guest speaker for the bi-annual meeting of the 21st Congressional District of Rural Letter Carriers here Saturday night.

Allcorn urged the group, "Let us work together as good folk do, protecting what we have, and when we can move a step farther let us move together." He also stated that one thing to fear in the field of organization is the movement to organize all postal employees into one big union. "We have no quarrel with anyone but let us have the privilege of representing ourselves," he said.

John G. Loftin of Loving, state vice president, who was in charge of the program, told the group that state membership is now over 2,300. He discussed the bills that were passed in the last session of the legislature that either directly or indirectly benefit rural carriers.

R. D. Collins of Winters, district president, presided for the meeting and officers named for the new year were R. D. Collins, president; E. G. Gregory of Lometa, vice president; L. W. Murray of Ballinger, secretary.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all the people who were so kind and thoughtful while Ray was in the hospital after the accident. A special thanks for your prayers, to those who donated blood and those who offered. We are deeply grateful for the beautiful flowers, cards and other acts of kindness. May we be able to show our appreciation in some way. May God bless each and every one of you is our prayer. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gray. Itp

What a strange feeling it gave me, the first time Laura went to school! As I watched her, I realized that these were her first independent steps. From this day forward, she would be increasingly on her own.

I don't think I ever felt my responsibility as a mother as much as I did at that moment. Had I given her the proper foundation to meet the trials, the temptations and frustrations that are an inevitable part of even a school child's life? Had I done enough for her?

Being human, I probably hadn't. But there was one thing I had done. From the beginning, I had made the Church a part of Laura's life.

You can't shelter your children from harsh reality. But you can, through the teachings of the Church, help them face life with strength and faith, giving them the assurance that God is ever-present.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

433 Pay Fines for Illegal Fishing

Wardens will begin another crackdown on persons who fail to buy their hunting and fishing licenses, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. New licenses were required after Sept. 1.

Last month 433 persons paid fines for failure to have fishing licenses, according to the monthly report of the law enforcement division. There were 546 arrests for the month, with fines and costs amounting to $9,075.42. Five persons paid fines for "telephoning" electrical devices in shocking fish. Licenses were revoked on a dozen violators, including those who "telephoned" the fish. Others who killed deer out of season also got their licenses revoked.

"There is little excuse for a person to get caught without hunting or fishing license," the director said. "Everyone knows such a license is required. They think they can get by without one, and then get caught."

There's no fun in business or golf, unless we keep on trying to improve our record.

Quail Season In Some Areas Is Still Uncertain

There is still a big question as to how good the 1960 quail season will be, according to the assistant executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Biologists are now checking conditions in regulatory areas for recommendations at the October 7 meeting of the Game Commission.

At the July meeting it was suggested that quail season be opened Nov. 1 in most of the counties under regulatory authority. However, there was a strong protest on the part of dog owners and many others. It was decided to delay decision on the opening date.

Since then, there is evidence that the quail crop in some areas isn't up to expectations.

The general quail season in Texas is Dec. 1 - Jan. 16, inclusive. There are a few counties where the season opens two weeks earlier, and a few where it extends until Jan. 31.

Season for Texas shooting resorts will open Oct. 1, and continue through February on both quail and pheasant. These are pen-raised birds, released for shooting over dogs. Eight resorts this year also are offering duck shooting. Information on these resorts can be obtained from Joe B. Davidson representing the Sportsmen's Service Bureau, Box 661, Tyler.

All Hunters Must Have Tags for Deer

If you hunt deer you must have deer tags, even though you are entitled to exemption. This is the warning of the fiscal director of the Game and Fish Commission, whose job it is to provide hunting and fishing licenses.

For persons entitled to an exemption, the license is required only if you hunt deer or turkey. The exempt license is not required for other types of game.

The following are exempt from buying a hunting license: If you hunt entirely within your own county (except for deer and turkey); if you are over 65 or under 17 years of age. If you qualify for hunting without a license under these conditions you do not need a permit.

Tags are necessary, because it is illegal to possess a deer that does not have a tag. These tags must be securely attached to the deer immediately after it is killed. Just having the tag in your pocket is insufficient. As soon as you reach your deer, the tag, properly filled in, should be attached to the antlers, if a buck, or a leg if a doe, where does are legal. It can be securely wrapped with string, or fastened with adhesive tape. And the tag should be put on so it will not become loose with handling the carcass in either the icehouse or the automobile while in transit.

The deer tags are non-transferable and must bear the name of the shooter.

FB Convention Scheduled For October 20th

Final plans for the Runnels County Farm Bureau County Convention which is to be held in the City Hall in Ballinger October 20, at 7:30 o'clock are being made. The convention will be highlighted with a "Talent Find" for both junior and senior entries, and will provide entertainment for the convention. Ed Davis, manager of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce, will act as MC of the show. Judges will be from out of county.

A farm Bureau director is elected for a term of two years, but may serve two consecutive terms before being retired for one year. The directors up for re-election in 1960 are M. L. Dobbins, Freddie Bredemeyer, Alfred Multer, William Cervanka, Paul Gerhardt, C. L. Howell, Carl Gottschalk, and J. L. Roach.

The membership at the annual convention will also select eight voting delegates to the state convention which will afford Runnels County eight votes on all issues, some of which will include the policies or recommendations voted on at the county convention after being incorporated into the state policies.

Farm Bureau policies are built by the membership based on recommendations adopted by a majority vote. It is the process Farm Bureau has developed to make it possible for farmers everywhere, who produce any kind of commodity, a place to meet, study, debate and decide a sound solution to their problems. Farm Bureau members are searching constantly for answers to tough problems.

When recommendations by the membership become policy, the Farm Bureau will want to carry them out. That is why the recommendations need to be sound and good for the farmers, businessmen and workers.

Eleven Girl Scouts Attended Conference In Mineral Wells

Eleven Winters Girl Scouts attended the Girl Scout senior Conference held Saturday and Sunday in the Baker Hotel in Mineral Wells.

Those from Winters attending were Linda Hill, Judy Smith, Judy Matthews, Martha Hale, Donna Minzenmayer, Beth Spill, Betty Shoemaker, Becky Brown, Ann Bean, Vicki Satterwhite, and Mary Young. The girls were accompanied by Mrs. George R. Hill and Mrs. Z. I. Hale.

At the Conference, Senior Girl Scouts from throughout the Heart of Texas Council came together for fellowship discussion groups, and to plan for events that are available to Senior Girl Scouts. Approximately 125 girls and adults attended the two-day conference.

Highlighting the program were two featured speakers: Miss Sharon Rountree, a senior student from San Angelo, who was the Region IX Girl Scout representative to the "International Co-ed Career Conference," which was held July 31-August 8 at the National Girl Scout Camp at Rockwood, Maryland.

The other speaker was Mrs. Henry Gould of Fort Worth, who has been a Senior Girl Scout leader for 22 years. Mrs. Gould reminded the girls that if they carry out the Girl Scout motto of "Be Prepared" not only will they increase their individual capabilities but also they will be ready for opportunities as they arise. She said the older generation and the younger generation need each other — that together they can learn to serve the future — that knowledge is power and knowledge is essential to becoming a leader in any walk of life.

At the evening session of the conference a style show was presented and a song and game period followed.

The conference closed with a luncheon, after which the girls repeated in unison their Girl Scout Promise.

FROM ODESSA

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Hood of Odessa were in Winters a few days this week. They have been in Santa Barbara, California where they stayed with their grandchildren while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Logan, made a tour of Europe in June. Mrs. Logan will be remembered as Janell Hood.

New All-Time High In Nation's Mail Reached In 1960

A new all-time high in the nation's mail volume was reached during fiscal year 1960 ended June 30, which continued the steady upward trend of the past seven years at a rate which even exceeds the population growth, according to advance information from the Annual Report of the Post Office Department which has been made available to Postmaster Rankin Pace.

Although subject to last minute revisions, the year's total has been estimated as 63.6 billion pieces of mail which includes about one billion pieces of parcel post. It was stated that this would mean an increase of nearly 25 per cent over the corresponding figures for 1959 when the annual volume was 50.9 billion pieces.

During this same period, it was pointed out, the revenue of the Department also has shown an impressive gain with an increase from $2,091,714,000 in fiscal year 1953 to $3,276,800,000 for fiscal year 1960.

Here in Winters, receipts of the post office climbed from $28,651 in 1953 to $40,750 last year.

"There is not much we can do about how much mail we have to handle from day to day or how many people are making use of the Postal Service," Postmaster Pace stated, "but the whole Department keeps busy in devising ways and means for doing the job not only more efficiently but more economically. As I recall it, that was the way President Eisenhower outlined the principal objectives of the Department when Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield was being sworn in back in 1953, and that's the way we have been operating ever since."

We can't deny that we still make mistakes and that the human element still plays a vitally important part in daily operations, but the statistics in the Department's annual report offer positive proof that we are making progress on a nation-wide basis. As an example, while the mail volume showed an increase of 16 billion pieces handled annually, the employment increase during this same period amounted to only 11 per cent," Pace said.

October Plentifuls Feature Cheese

There is festive October eating in store for families that serve plentiful foods often, suggests the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

Cheese is the featured item. All varieties of cheese are in good supply. Also, October is national Cheese Festival time, when food markets will provide special displays and bargain buys on the many kinds of cheese.

Four meats are on the October list, as determined by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service in cooperation with producers and the food trade. Beef has become plentiful again. Lamb, too, is available in abundance. Prices of both are much lower than they were last Spring. Broiler-fryers and turkeys continue plentiful as price tags on both encourage frequent use.

With a record crop of cranberries being harvested, this colorful item takes its place among October plentifuls. Potatoes and rice are expected to be in greater-than-normal abundance so wise menu planners will do well to include these popular foods often.

Farm products are eligible for USDA's monthly plentiful foods list when supplies are estimated greater than expected trade needs.

Work Scheduled On Area F-M Roads

The Texas Highway Commission has taken the first step to inaugurate a new two year Farm-to-Market Road Program for Texas. Herbert C. Petry Jr., Chairman of the Highway Commission, stated that the funds for this 1961-1962 program are derived from federal aid highway funds, matched with state highway funds on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

J. A. Snell, District Engineer of the Texas Highway Department at San Angelo, has stated that the following farm-to-market road in Runnels County is scheduled for work under this program:

From FM Road 53, 4.6 miles east of Winters, south to FM Road 382, a distance of approximately 10.5 miles.

Snell stated that the Commission has authorized the development of some area roads which will serve the dual purpose of providing service to the adjacent land as well as aiding in the development of the entire state.

It was announced that work will begin on these projects as soon as final planning is completed and necessary right of way secured. Resident Engineer W. B. Hoppe will be in charge of the work in this county.

Colonel Davy Jones To Ohio AF Station

Colonel David M. Jones, Director of the B-58 Test Force at Carswell Air Force Base, Texas, has been named to succeed Colonel William R. Grohs as Vice Commander of the Air Research and Development Command's Wright Air Development Division.

Col. Jones and his family have recently moved to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, from Fort Worth. Mrs. Jones, the former Anita Maddox, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roy C. Maddox of Winters.

Col Grohs is retiring after more than 24 years of military service.

Colonel Jones comes from Carswell, where he has been B-58 Test Force Director since February 1958, when the Test Force was organized.

Highlights of his career in the Air Force include his participation in the Doolittle Raid on Tokyo in 1942 as a Flight Commander. He parachuted safely into China, returned to the United States and in September of that year was assigned as Group Commander of the 319th Bomb Group in North Africa, where his task was to develop low level bombing tactics.

On his fifth mission in Africa he was shot down over Bizerte and spent two and one-half years as a German POW at Stalag Luft III.

Colonel Jones has attended three major Armed Forces Schools: Command and General Staff School, Armed Forces Staff College and the National War College. In 1952, he became Commander, 47th Bombardment Group, Langley Air Force Base, Va. and continued as Commander when the 47th attained wing status at Langley Air Force Base and at Sculthorpe, England.

Kettler, Mrs. W. H. Burleson, and Joe May, owner. At the vegetable bins is Elmer Phillips, manager. In the meat department are Grady Dunnam and Joe Dunnam. (Little)

From 1951 to 1954 he was Deputy Commander of the Caribbean Air Command, Panama Canal Zone, and was responsible for the defense of the Panama Canal and the southern approaches to the United States.

From 1948 to 1951 he was a student and faculty member at the Air War College of the Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Alabama, and from 1946 to 1948 he was Deputy Commander of Headquarters Command, Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D. C.

During World War II he was with the 9th Air Force in Egypt, Libya and Tripoli, moving to England for the Normandy invasion. He was Commander of Advanced Headquarters, 9th Air Force Service Command.

From 1936 to 1942 he carried out assignments in engineering, maintenance and supply, and during the 1937-39 football seasons he was on temporary duty assignments as an assistant to Coach Gar Davidson and Darl Blaik at the Military Academy.

After learning the tricks of the trade, many of us think we know the trade.

When people ponder a menu for twenty minutes before ordering, they are trying to reduce either their weight or their expenses.

I have a friendly feeling for old women who behave themselves.

For some strange reason, most women think their husbands are infallibly attractive to other females.

Coming Attractions at Local Theatres

"13 GHOSTS"

It would be fair to say that Hollywood views with alarm whenever producer-director William Castle makes another picture; with alarm, with delight, and with happy applause.

Mr. Castle is the maker of such foreboding, fright-filled films as "The Tingler," "The House on Haunted Hill," "Macabre" and now opening Friday at the State Theatre, "13 Ghosts." Like its predecessors, "13 Ghosts" is a picture with an entertainment gimmick, a pleasant piece of cinematic magic which adds to the suspense and excitement of what is always a good picture anyway. What the gimmick is in "13 Ghosts" will be seen by its audiences; filmdom promises only that it's a beauty!

"HANNIBAL"

Making showmanship history with a re-enactment of one of the most fabulous exploits of military history, Warner Bros. will march an elephant from Carthage to Rome as a national news and contest event in connection with the release of the motion picture "Hannibal," coming Sunday to the State Theatre.

"LAST TRAIN FROM GUN HILL"

Kirk Douglas, three times nominated for Academy Awards ("The Champion," "The Bad and the Beautiful," "Lust for Life"), has come a long way since he made his film debut in the Hal Wallis production, "The Strange Love of Martha Ivers." Although he now has his own motion picture company, Bryna Productions, which recently made "The Vikings," Douglas still accepts top roles that he considers interesting enough to further his acting career.

Such a role is in the new production of film-maker Wallis, who discovered him. Paramount's

"Last Train From Gun Hill," which stars him with Anthony Quinn and which arrives Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. The Technicolor and VistaVision outdoor drama co-stars Carolyn Jones and Earl Holliman.

In this outstanding Western drama, Douglas portrays a bitter man whose best friend's son assaults and murders his Indian wife, and who is determined to avenge the despicable crime.

"IMITATION OF LIFE"

If you are Irish you are romantic, and if you are romantic you belong in the theatre or a kindred art, and according to Dan O'Herlihy, that's the reason he's in the movies now.

The handsome Irishman has one of the starring roles in the "Imitation of Life," which shows Sunday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. Other leading roles in Universal's modern version of the famous Fannie Hurst novel are played by Lana Turner, John Gavin, Sandra Dee, Robert Alda, Juanita Moore and Mahalia Jackson.

O'Herlihy was born at Wexford, Ireland, the son of a civil service official, the eldest of three children, and grandson of a former mayor. With a heritage of politics, he first headed towards law, then veered off to Architecture at the University of Ireland, but ended up, happily, in Dublin as a member of the famed Abbey Players group. He continued with a liberal arts education, however, going to college between stage layoffs, and has a B. A. degree to prove his persistence.

Eventually his stage work attracted the attention of Britain's noted film director, Carol Reed, and after appearing opposite James Mason in "Odd Man Out" and parts in other British films, O'Herlihy came to the U. S. to play MacDuff in Orson Welles' version of "Macbeth." Other roles followed, but nothing like his role in "The Adventures of Robinson Crusoe," where he was on the screen practically all the time. It won him an Academy Awards "best actor" nomination and he lost out to a worthy competitor—Marlon Brando.

Lana Turner has more than 30 wardrobe changes all designed by Jean Louis, and wears $1,000,000 worth of real jewels in her starring role in "Imitation of Life." The Universal-International production, in color, which is based on the famous Fannie Hurst novel, presents John Gavin, Sandra Dee, Dan O'Herlihy, Susan Kohner, Robert Alda, Juanita Moore and Mahalia Jackson in the remaining important roles.

"I, MOBSTER"

"I, Mobster" — The Life of a Gangster, currently screening at the State Theatre, is a brutally frank motion picture exposing the giant crime syndicates in America.

The Edward L. Alperson presentation, shot in panoramic CinemaScope, stars Steve Cochran and beautiful Lita Milan — winning plaudits as Hollywood's most exciting new romantic duo.

"I, Mobster" tells the amazing story of the national crime hierarchy that controls many major cities and exacts billions in tribute from our citizens every year.

But it also tells a memorable love story against its stirring background of violence and intrigue.

"I, Mobster" is achieving national attention for the courage and completeness with which it exposes underworld leaders and their gang of paid assassins, Murder Inc.

"HANNIBAL" — The thrilling adventures of Hannibal, mighty Carthaginian hero who led an elephant army over the Alps to battle half the world, are shown in this artist's conception and brought to life on the screen in Warner Bros.

"13 GHOSTS"—Jo Morrow encounters a spectral apparition in Columbia Pictures' "13 Ghosts." The film also stars Charles Herberger, Martin Milner, Rosemary DeCamp and Donald Woods.

Joint Military-Civilian Traffic Safety Council Formed To Reduce Accidents

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Neither Texas civilians nor the armed forces can afford the losses incurred through traffic accidents involving military personnel in the state.

On this note, the Texas Military-Civilian Traffic Safety Council was formed in Austin with a goal of reducing the accidents.

About 200 persons, civilian and military, attended the Council's first meeting, called at the behest of Gov. Price Daniel.

Servicemen have more auto accidents than any other population group in Texas, said Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety. Last year servicemen drivers were involved in 103 fatal accidents in which 130 persons were killed.

A great many of the servicemen in Texas are in the 18 to 25-year-old age bracket, said Gen. Edward T. Williams, Fourth Army commander. People in this age bracket generally are the most inclined to have auto accidents.

Gen. Williams urged vigorous enforcement of traffic regulations so that the driver knows he will be caught and punished if he breaks the law.

Brad Smith, director of the Governor's Highway Safety Commission, outlined the five-point program recommended by the governor to improve highway safety.

1. Driver education for all high school students.
2. A law to permit chemical tests to determine if a driver is intoxicated.
3. At least 200 additional highway patrolmen.
4. Revision of the drivers license law.
5. A system of traffic courts.

WATER PROGRAM STUDIED

Texas' 7-man Water Development Board is considering whether to ask the next Legislature to expand and liberalize its program of lending financial aid to local water projects.

Decision is to be made at the Board's Oct. 28 meeting.

Board presently has authority to issue $100,000,000 in bonds and use the money to make loans to local governments for water conservation projects. Loans are limited to one-third the cost of the project and cannot be more than $5,000,000 for any one project.

Under study is whether to ask the Legislature to step up the program by authorizing the Board to lend as much as $15,000,000 per project and to issue another $100,000,000 in bonds to purchase water storage space in federal reservoirs.

When the Board was created, the law provided that another $100,000,000 in bonds could be authorized by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature.

DANIEL HONORED

Governor Daniel is the newly-elected chairman of the 16-state Southern Governors Conference.

He is the second Texan in a decade to head the group. Former Gov. Allen Shivers was chairman in 1951-52.

Conferences are devoted to the study of problems which the member states have in common. This year the protection of home industries against ruinous competition from imports has been a prime issue.

Governor Daniel said he felt much could be accomplished by the conferring governors "if we stand together."

HURRY-UP HOSPITALS

With a long, long waiting list of mentally retarded patients, the State Hospital Board is studying short cuts toward providing housing for them.

Board has authorized getting an estimate of the cost of putting an automatic sprinkling system in the Confederate Home in Austin, now used for mental patients.

Home has been called a fire trap, but if it could be made safe, the cost of replacing it could be postponed.

Also voted by the Board was a policy of preventing tuberculosis patients, by force if necessary, from leaving state hospitals until they are well enough not to infect other people.

A recent attorney general's ruling held that the hospital system does have authority to make TB patients stay in the hospital until they are no longer contagious.

EDUCATION SUPPORT SOUGHT

Texans will be penny wise and pound foolish if they try to avoid the cost of establishing a top-notch system of higher education.

This was the theme at an Austin meeting of the members of governing boards of state colleges and universities. A series of regional meetings are planned during October and November to rally public support for better appropriations for state colleges.

Regrettably, the regents pegged Texas state-supported colleges as less than best. A survey was cited showing that 65 per cent of the top jobs in Texas industry are held by graduates of out-of-state colleges. Texas is training the hired hands; other states are training the bosses, said Reagan Houston III of San Antonio.

Texans will pay, said John Newton of Beaumont, whether they ante up for good education or not. In an age of electronics, automation and exotic fuels, good educational and research facilities are a prime attraction for new industries, said Newton.

"Cost of losing major opportunities for growth will be at least as great as the cost of providing what we really need," he said.

PRISON PROBLEMS CITED
Seventy-five per cent of the inmates of the Texas prison system are in "tanks" or dormitories which crowd impressionable young offenders in with hardened criminals, says the chairman of the Department of Corrections.

More housing to correct this situation is urgently needed, H. H. Coffield told an Austin audience. On the bright side, Coffield said the Texas system had pulled up from one of the worst to one of the best in the nation, in the past 10 years — a period when the prison population skyrocketed. Yet per-prisoner cost is far below the national average.

As an "ounce of prevention" Coffield urged citizen support of such local agencies as churches, Scouts and Salvation Army.

Complete New Body Styling Featured Chevrolet's 1961 Passenger Car Lines

Top seller of 1960 automobiles, Chevrolet promises to solidify its position in 1961 by significantly broadening its range of passenger cars.

Scheduled for display at dealer showrooms Friday, October 7, are 20 freshly styled conventional models, nine Corvairs including new passenger and commercial models, and the spirit two-place Corvette.

Complete new body styling, which provides easier loading for both passengers and baggage and establishes new heights in motorizing comfort and convenience, is featured in the regular line of passenger cars.

The entire body, from floor to roof and grille to rear bumper, is all new. Prime design emphasis has been placed on functionalism with thrift.

High on the list of advantages of the all-new body are:

1. Easier entrance to passenger compartments.
2. Large, more accessible luggage space, with the trunk loading level lowered as much as 10.5 inches.
3. Improved chair height and over-the-hood visibility which will increase the ease of parking and add to driving safety.
4. Other safety items include improved brakes, overlap electric windshield wipers, and a new placement for the fuel tank which protects it from road hazards such as hard bumps and flying stones. Although the conventional cars are shorter, narrower and slightly lower, the interior roominess remains about the same or better than comparable 1960 models. Riding comfort is improved.

From a styling standpoint, the new models feature gentle curves and smooth lines and a generally cleaner and airier appearance from all angles.

The Corvair models to be unveiled Friday also blossom out into a complete line of passenger and commercial vehicles. They include:

Passenger cars — Club coupes, four-door sedans and a new Lakewood Station Wagon in the "500" and "700" series, plus the deluxe Monza Sport Coupe and the new Greenbrier Sports Wagon.

Commercial — Corvan, Rampside and Loadside trucks.

Basic mechanical features of the Corvair—the air-cooled engine, combination of transmission and axle at the rear, and frame-body integration—are continued. So is the basic body styling, although exterior ornamentation provides a fresh appearance and the interiors are completely new.

Significant engineering improvements have been made, however, which will greatly improve luggage space, engine performance and fuel economy.

Other innovations include a 14-gallon fuel tank; a manual choke and more precise fuel metering to the carburetor; a new pattern of air circulation in the engine compartment to quicken warmup; an increase in engine displacement to 145 cubic inches; an optional 98-horsepower engine and a four-speed transmission.

The spotlight in the Corvair field is expected to center importantly on the new Lakewood Station Wagon and the Greenbrier Sports Wagon.

Equipped with six doors and rated for a 1,600-pound payload, the brand new 95-inch wheelbase Greenbrier can readily be converted from a nine-passenger bus to a wide assortment of duties. It can carry six passengers and a 700-pound cargo or, with an optional third seat, nine passengers and 250 pounds of cargo.

The Lakewood Station Wagon is a four-door, conventional type six-passenger model. But, with the second seat folded down, it offers

Chevy Beautifies, Expands Lines for '61

Three for the road—here are three smart new Chevrolet passenger cars which will make their bow to the public on October 7. Left—One of the newcomers in the Corvair line... the Greenbrier Sports Wagon designed for multiple cargo jobs and outdoor living with seats that may be repositioned to accommodate many varied arrangements. Center—The sleek Impala Convertible with its soft, graceful body lines converging into an entirely new styling motif. Right—Another new model is the challenging Corvair Lakewood Station Wagon with rear-engine and second folding seat. Front and rear compartments combined give the Lakewood an unusual amount of cargo space.

68 cubic feet of cargo capacity. One exclusive feature is the 10-cubic feet of lockable storage space under the hood.

Revised styling of the Corvette reflects the influence of Chevrolet's recently displayed XP-700 experimental vehicle, especially in its streamlined rear quarters. A new underbody which slims down the transmission hump, better engine cooling and use of an aluminum transmission case are some of the other features.

As in 1960, the lineup in the conventional-size passenger cars will be offered in the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series. But, they have been expanded to include an Impala two-door Sedan not previously available.

The station wagon series also has been expanded so that there is a choice of either six or nine-passenger accommodations in each of them—the Nomad, Parkwood and Brookwood.

Reversal of the trend to longer, wider bodies also is noticed in the fact that the new passenger cars are 1.5 inches shorter and 2.4 inches narrower. Overall length is 209.3 inches and overall width is 78.4 inches.

Distinctive design effects are achieved by matching exclusive roof contours of body types. Particularly noteworthy is the elimination of small, triangular windows at the rear of four-door sedans and station wagons. Also, the rear corner pillars of sport sedans have been widened to create a slightly hooded effect.

Texas, with 1,339 certified tree farms, ranks third in the nation in the number of these farms, says Bill Smith, extension forester. In acreage, the State ranks seventh.

Safety Council To Award Rural Heroes

Texans who exhibit exceptional bravery during a time of crisis or disaster are eligible for the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council's "Rural Heroism Awards."

Three properly engraved plaques will be presented to as many state winners during the annual meeting of the Texas Safety Association next March. Certificates with local presentations are planned for all nominees, according to the Council announcement.

Any heroic act involving personal danger or sacrifice to aid and assist others in time of crisis is eligible for entry in the program, provided the act was performed during 1960. Deadline for nominations is February 1, 1961. Nominations may be made by any person or groups and they should include complete information and substantiating evidence of the heroic act. This material will be used by the program judges to determine the three state winners.

Nominations should be sent to Heroism Award, Texas Safety Association, 830 Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas.

The Council's Award Committee with L. O. Tiedt of Houston as chairman said that last year's single state winner was J. Manuel Corral, a Mexican bracero laborer who was lowered into an abandoned irrigation well to rescue a three year old boy. This incident occurred in the Dell City area of Hudspeth county.

Acts of bravery occur in many Texas communities each year, and while they do not go unnoticed, the Council wants to express its appreciation to those responsible for making life more pleasant and enjoyable in Texas, especially the rural areas.

HERE! THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONE DERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10½ inches lower.

INTRODUCING THE '61 CHEVY BISCAYNE 6

the lowest priced full-sized Chevy with big-car comfort at small-car prices!

Chevy's new '61 Biscaynes—6 or V8—give you a full measure of Chevrolet quality, roominess and proved performance—yet they're priced down with many cars that give you a lot less! Now you can have economy and comfort, too!

IMPALA 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN—one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevies of all.

NOMAD 9-PASSENGER STATION WAGON. You have a choice of six Chevrolet wagons, each with a cave-sized cargo opening nearly 5 feet across.

BEL AIR 2-DOOR SEDAN, like all '61 Chevrolts, brings you Body by Fisher newness—more front seat leg room.

"Corvair 95", Chevrolet's Answer To Demand for Low Cost Transportation

To meet a growing demand for lower cost, efficient transportation in the local delivery and service fields, Chevrolet has introduced the "Corvair 95"—a new series of short wheelbase, rear powered, light-duty trucks.

The new line is designed for maximum utility of cargo space and load capacity in relation to overall dimension and weight. With a 95-in. wheelbase and short overall length of less than 15 ft., it has a short turning radius and is highly maneuverable.

Comprising a panel delivery and two pickup models, the "Corvair 95" line incorporates innovations for easy loading and cargo accessibility. One of the pickup models has a unique, swing-down, side-loading ramp.

For economy of operation, the new series is powered by the 80-hp, air-cooled Corvair six-cylinder engine and transaxle power unit at the rear. Other features are unit-frame construction for rigid-ity and light weight, independent coil spring suspension at all four wheels, and almost equal load distribution between front and rear wheels for excellent handling and ride.

"With this new line, we are able to meet a wide range of needs by truck users for a light-duty vehicle that is more economical to operate, much easier to drive and park in congested city traffic or in close quarters, and is considerably easier to load. Yet it makes no compromise with cargo space or load capacity," states James E. Conlan, assistant general sales manager for Chevrolet trucks.

The Corvan panel delivery is 70 inches wide with an overall height of 68.5 inches. Cargo space in 191 cubic feet with a payload rating of 1800 pounds for a maximum gross vehicle weight of 4600 pounds. The load area is easily accessible from the driver's seat and through double doors on the right hand side of the vehicle and

Rampside is inclined to save work

With an exclusive hinged side-loading ramp, the Chevrolet Corvair 95 light-duty truck offers economical operation, low loading height, easy handling and large cargo space for its size. It is powered by the rear-mounted 80-hp, air-cooled Corvair engine for low operating costs. On a 95-inch wheelbase, it has a loading height of 14 inches at the side gate and 26.5 inches at the rear.

at the rear. Additional left hand doors also are available as an option. A crate as large as 4 feet by 4 feet may be loaded through the double side doors.

The Loadside and Rampside pickup models are rated at 1900 pounds payload, and feature a grain-tight box of 80 cubic feet capacity. Identical in length and width to the Corvan panel delivery the pickup cabs are only 69 inches high. The pickup tailgate opening is 44.8 inches wide on both models while the ramp opening of the Rampside model is 47.5 inches.

Load floor height of Corvair 95 trucks at the side opening is less than 14 inches from the ground and rear door or tailgate loading height is only 26.5 inches. This reduced payload height also provides the vehicle a desirably low center of gravity for stability and safety. Step height at the front doors is only 17 inches for easy entry and exit.

Cab location at the extreme front of the vehicle affords superior visibility as well as good maneuverability. Benefits from rear engine location are a full width, flat cab floor and exceptionally good traction when the vehicle is empty or only partially loaded.

The horizontally-opposed, 145 cubic in., 80-horsepower, six-cylinder, air-cooled engine runs efficiently on regular grade gasoline. Access doors are provided for normal service and maintenance of engine components. For major servicing, the complete power package, including engine, transaxle and rear suspension, may be re-

Most European Countries Have An Abundance of Cheap Labor

London, England — Every young person should be "protected" until he or she is 14 to 16 years of age. If the youth shows any natural resources, he or she should be protected or "subsidized" through high school and perhaps in college but no longer.

United States Economics

The same economic principle should be applied by nations. The U. S. had nearly all the natural resources—including cheap labor — when it adopted a protective tariff. It had timber, oil, iron, gas, copper, water power, and the climate to raise cotton, cattle, and grains. A protective tariff was then justified in order to give industry a start.

But to give the U. S. protective tariffs now, when it no longer has cheap labor, would be foolish and in the end make conditions worse. The same applies to Great Britain and most of Europe. The formation of the six- and seven-nation European groups which have united to provide central markets for their products and eliminate trade barriers is a wonderful step forward which United States Manufacturers and labor should watch.

More About Ireland

Since my last article on Ireland, I have studied the Emerald Isle more intently. It has three basic natural resources: Good soil, plenty of rain, and fine pasture land for cattle and sheep. It, however lacks timber, coal, oil, gas and sunshine. It has no iron, only a trace of copper; but much cheap labor. Common labor is happy with $3.00 per day and skilled labor with $6.00 per day since living costs are very low.

The future of Ireland is agriculture, principally livestock. The main manufactured products which appear to pay are cement and sugar made from sugar beets. There are also great possibilities for further development of the tourist business, especially hunting, fishing, and mountain climbing. Yet the Irish government is making a serious effort to attract factories — with tax exemption to other helps. The most interesting experiment is being made 8 miles north of Killarney by the "H-C" Crane Works. This is a German concern which is importing its iron, making it into cranes and heavy machines and exporting all their products (selling none in Ireland) to all parts of the world. All Ireland hopes these Germans will succeed.

England, France, and Germany England has a small amount of iron and coal which, with good workers, has made this an industrial nation without the need of protective tariffs except as to luxuries. England's skilled labor and financial ability has made it bankers a power in world finance, insurance, and shipping.

The French people are not too well informed on economics, but Southern France has a fine climate for raising grapes and other fruits. Hence, it is leading the world in making fine wines, perfumes, fashions, and other luxuries. (Our California is fast catching up.)

Germany has steel and much cheap skilled labor; but Italy appeals most to me. It leads the world in plastics, and is fast developing a great business in automobiles and machines of all kinds.

Finally, just a word about leaving the U. S. A. and working in Europe. Except for young people who like farming and stock-raising, the opportunities in Ireland and France are slight. The clerks work from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. — for $8.00 to $12.00 per week. I visited a skilled carpenter, the father of a man in my office at Wellesley whom I pay $8,000 a year. This carpenter gets $4.28 per day.

But the living here is cheap for working people. Everyone has a good food and warm clothing and a good time. The weather is bad; but the people are healthy. A person in the U. S. who is retiring on a pension should think of coming here to live instead of going to California, Arizona or Florida.

With a pension check coming every month from the "good old U. S. A." he could live here like a millionaire and have a long, healthy, and happy life.

In West Germany and Italy there are more opportunities for young people, with progressive factories for making all kinds of machines, textiles, plastics, etc. But you must work; no coffee breaks or labor unions. Even the waitresses in the hotels run. Everyone is "on their toes." These European countries do not need protective tariffs.

Wheat Production In Texas Title of New Research Book

Wheat, the third ranking cash crop in Texas, has come a long way since the days of the oxen and the soddy. The first wheat production in Texas was centered around Sherman about 1833. Through the years, the production areas have shifted so that now the leading area is the Panhandle, with about 64 percent of the total acreage. Next in importance is the Rolling Plains area with approximately 24 percent of the acreage.

New varieties, irrigation, better insect controls and improved cultivation methods have all served to increase production from a few thousand bushels in 1833, to present production level of several million bushels annually.

Dignity does not consist in possessing honors, but in deserving them.

Attorney General Wilson Seeking New Law Regulating Sale of Pistols

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
Texas needs a law to regulate the sale of pistols so that irresponsible persons can neither sell nor buy them, says Atty. Gen. Will Wilson.

Wilson told Texas' prosecuting attorneys at an Austin meeting that murders in Texas were up by 10 percent last year. "One way to prevent these killings," he said, "is to keep pistols out of the hands of irresponsible persons."

Wilson recently held unconstitutional an old law requiring licensing of pistol dealers because of the way it was written, but said he believed there should be such a law.

A lot of money spent on catching and punishing law breakers might be saved, the attorney general suggested, if more were spent on prevention of crime.

Texas District and County Attorneys Association presented Wilson a life membership plaque during their meeting here in recognition of his "leadership in law enforcement." Earlier this year Wilson was named top state attorney general in the nation by the National Attorney Generals' organization.

HIGHWAY PATROL OPENINGS

Applications to fill 120 openings in the State Highway Patrol will be taken by the Department of Public Safety through Oct. 1. Applicants must be high school graduates or the equivalent and must pass a field service examination to be given in 16 different Texas towns. After acceptance, the prospective patrolmen will receive 16 weeks training at the Law Enforcement Academy in Austin.

Application forms may be obtained from any DPS field office or by writing DPS Headquarters, P. O. Box 4087, Austin.

DRIVER ED PLAN TOLD

Driver education in Texas public schools might be financed on a cooperative state-local plan similar to that used for the pre-school program for non-English speaking children.

This proposal was discussed in a recent speech by Brad H. Smith, director of the Governor's Highway Safety Commission. Driver education tied in with the public school system is one of the goals numerous safety groups have pushed toward for some time.

Smith noted that a local school system may secure state funds for teaching non-English speaking pre-schools if it puts up some local funds also.

"Since these plans seemed to work," Smith said, "we are looking at their success for possible application to the driver education program."

Smith noted that a special study committee of the State Board of Education had reported favorably on the idea of driver education and recommended a cooperative local-state effort.

OIL FLOW CUT

Texas Railroad Commission set the October oil allowable at 2,630,576 barrels a day on an eight-day producing pattern.

It will be the sixth straight month production has been limited to eight days. Since the production will be spread over 31 days in October compared to 30 Days in September, the daily allowable drops by 47,644 barrels a day.

Despite the continued low allowable, Texas independent oil-

Source of Stock Fish Important

Would a farmer sow a field of oats and then deliberately sow crabgrass in the same field? Of course not—this would be very poor management. Many farmers do, however, have their farm pond properly stocked, and then add fish from another pond, from a river or from the minnow bucket. This is also poor management, but Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says this practice is one of the main reasons why many farm ponds are worthless for fishing.

Cooper says that fish obtained from sources other than hatcheries usually contain undesirable species such as shad, carp, suckers, gar, mud-cat, etc. These undesirable species will compete with game fish for food, they will eat young game species, some will muddy the pond water, and all will be a general nuisance to the fisherman.

Another erroneous practice is to add grown fish to a freshly stocked pond, Cooper continues. This is usually done so that the owner can "catch some big fish while the small ones are growing up." The owner must remember that the grown fish have to eat, and in all probability they will eat the hatchery fingerlings. With this situation, it wouldn't be very long before the farmer had no fish, large or small, in his pond.

Pond owners are usually worried by the fact that the hatchery fish are very small when they arrive, and there doesn't seem to be enough of them. Cooper points out, if the pond is managed properly, these fingerlings will be reproducing the following year, and then the problem will be too many fish rather than not enough.

Hatcheries provide the right kinds and numbers of fish to the pond owner, and any other fish which are added will usually have a detrimental effect. Once a pond is properly stocked, there is no good reason to add more fish, Cooper concludes.

A man's job is his best friend. It clothes and feeds him, pays rent and supplies him with the necessities.

Control of hepatitis is complicated by the fact that (1) the virus has never been isolated, (2) exactly how it spreads from person to person is not known and (3) no specific treatment is available. Isolation of the patient and extremely careful sanitation measures for those who come in contact with him are usually recommended.

POLIO DOWN, HEPATITIS UP

Good news in the polio field, but a growing problem in infectious hepatitis is reported by the State Health Department.

For the first half of the year polio cases were down to 27, compared to 101 for the same period last year. But 1,191 cases of infectious hepatitis were reported, compared to a five-year average of 566.

AUTO INSURANCE RATES DISCUSSED

Proposals for changing Texas' auto insurance rates have brought forth new discussions on the subject by the State Insurance Board, insurance companies, and those who opposed the law in the first place.

Most of the several hundred insurance men present at the Texas Insurance Board hearings said they favor the merit rating plan. However, many stated that they felt that some changes definitely were needed.

One group, the Texas Association of Mutual Insurance Agents, headed by James K. Ruble of San Antonio, reported that while they originally opposed the plan, they now favor it.

But State Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, who fought the proposal from its inception, still considers the plan a "monstrosity" when it places such a penalty on a man for going 22 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone.

Hazlewood favors strengthening the penalties against persons convicted of hit-and-run driving, drunken driving, and assault with a motor vehicle.

"As it is," says Hazlewood, "we are just rewarding a bunch of uncaught drivers."

Penn Jackson, chairman of the Board, says that it is uncertain when the Board will decide on new rates.

Meditation: "Mysterious Easter Island lies in the Pacific Ocean in the midst of the blue rolling sea that stretches to far horizons to meet the limitless skies. Strangely enough the natives are not inspired to faith and courage by their serene and spacious world, but have a queer and warped tradition of ancient superstitions. For generations they have buried grotesque images of their gods in dismal caves deep under the smiling earth. Only at rare intervals do they secretly and fearfully visit these shabby treasures."

"We cannot worship God, the Creator of the world, in any such cramped or furtive way. As the far horizons and the depths of the heavens cannot contain His glory, so we cannot truly serve Him unless we reach upward and 'press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling.' ## Gin Yard Grouping Of Cotton Advised

The practice of ginning cotton in the order of arrival at the gin needs revision. The reason, says B. G. Reeves, extension cotton ginning and mechanization specialist is the ever-increasing number of machines used to harvest the fleecy staple.

Machine harvested cotton, he says, usually has a higher moisture and trash content than hand-picked cotton and different settings of gin machinery and drying equipment are required for each type. A modern gin can turn out a bale of cotton every 6 to 10 minutes and there isn't time to make the needed adjustments on an individual bale basis. The result, points out Reeves, somebody loses and it is usually both and grower and ginner.

The answer to the problem is the grouping of cotton on the gin yard according to the method of harvesting or moisture content. Reeves says that a number of gins in Texas have been using this plan and both the ginner and grower have profited. The grower has received a better selling price for his cotton and the ginner has been able to do a better ginning job. Reeves suggests that farmers and gidders get together and agree on a procedure for solving the problem locally. In some instances, hand-picked cotton has been ginned during the day and machine harvested cotton during the night. If machine harvested bales are in the majority, then ginning hours can be adjusted to take care of the local situation.

Lots of Money Required To Maintain Lakes, Streams, Wildlife Resources

By VERN SANFORD

Money may not talk, but it sure does swim, float, shoot, and roam the countryside.

Actually it doesn't do all these things. But it does take money, and lots of it, to maintain our lakes and streams and to preserve and restore our fish and wildlife resources.

Money you spend for your new fishing and hunting licenses, needed by Sept. 1 each year, is spent on improving our wildlife resources.

Uncle Sam helps out too. He collects an excise tax whenever you purchase a new gun, box of shells, fishing rod or reel, or those artificial lures.

A big portion of this money also goes for your benefit in hunting and fishing. Uncle Sam distributes these funds back to the states by means of a formula based on the state's area and the number of hunting and fishing license holders in the state.

Over $12,800,000 in federal aid, for fish and wildlife restoration programs, was distributed among the various states on July 1. These funds were allocated for the year ending July 1, 1961. They were designed to aid the states in programming their federal aid activities.

Texas fared quite well in the monetary apportionments. It was tops on the list in the allocations for fish ($123,500) and for wildlife restoration projects ($513,500).

California matched us in the appropriations for fish, but fell short on the wildlife allocations. None of the other states came close.

Under the federal aid program, the states expend their own funds on approved projects, then are reimbursed up to 75 percent of the cost. This money comes from you, Mr. and Mrs. Outdoorsman, and is spent for you, so that you may enjoy fish and wildlife for years to come.

Also in the federal picture are our water resources. The Senate Select Committee on National Water Resources is studying the potential quantity and quality of water that will be needed in the years 1980 and 2000.

That may sound like a long time off, but it will be here before many of us realize it. Certainly before we're prepared for it.

Committee reports indicate that in 1950 the manufacturing requirements for water will be 100 billion gallons daily in itself. That is one-sixth of the estimate available under the present water development techniques.

Theodore M. Schad, staff director of the committee, says, "The United States is rapidly approaching the time when we will need and use all the water we can possibly get from every conceivable source."

From these facts one can see that our water conservation problem goes much farther than the desire of the outdoorsman for the conservation of water resources . . . for the prolongation and sustenance of his favorite outdoor recreation.

This is a problem of survival and of health.

Of course the maintenance of water resources has the beneficial effect of improved recreation. That is one factor which caused the nation's outdoorsmen to take the lead in the fight for water conservation and against water pollution. For this work all outdoorsmen are to be congratulated.

As an outdoorsman you are closer to nature than perhaps any other citizen. Because of your hunting and fishing, and your participation in water sports, it was but natural that you would be the first to recognize the problem at hand.

And therefore the first to take one of the strongest stands in support of the improvement programs.

But your personal desires are secondary. The problem encompasses many things. Included not only are the pleasures of life, but life itself for our future generations.

So, keep up the good work. Encourage your local civic groups to become more conservation-minded. Urge them to take an active part in the preservation of wildlife areas and in the upkeep of our lakes and streams.

You can whet their interests quickly—and the public's interest greatly—if you'll include in your proposal not only a program for adequate water for homes and industries, but also for adequate hunting, boating and fishing facilities for the sportsman.

Wheat Growers Advised On Streak Mosaic Disease

The known presence of wheat streak mosaic virus in many Panhandle counties is causing concern among wheat growers. Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, reports that extensive surveys were made in the fall of 1959 and the spring of 1960 in northwest and north central producing areas to determine the extent of the virus disease.

He reports the disease was found to be widely distributed in the Panhandle but only scattered in Extension Districts 2 and 3, the South and Rolling Plains areas. It was not found in District 4, north central producing area.

Smith says the disease can only be a problem where the mite vector (carrier) and a reservoir of virus in native grasses or in volunteer wheat are found at the time winter wheat is planted; and when sufficient time is available for the infective mites to build up on planted wheat prior to the advent of cold weather. For the disease to be damaging to wheat, the plant must be infected in its early stage of development.

Early fall infection leads to severe yield reduction and results in the occurrence of much winter-kill-like, root-rot-like, and drought-like damage. Plants infected in the spring may show strong leaf symptoms of the disease but apparently suffer little or no loss in yielding abilities, Smith says.

Because of conditions, especially in northern and western Panhandle counties, Smith suggests that volunteer wheat be destroyed and that planting winter wheat be delayed for two or three weeks, or until the mid-part of the recommended planting season, September 20 to October 15. The mites which carry the disease must have green plants to live on and thus can be starved by destroying their food supply.

Smith suggests that wheat producers check with their local county agents for details on the survey findings and for more information on the disease and its control. In other major wheat states, the disease causes multi-million dollar losses. Smith says an estimated 47 million bushels of wheat were lost to the disease in Kansas last year.
