"Foolish To Talk About Tax Reduction; Bound To Have Higher Federal Costs"

The direct debt of our Federal Government today, for which government bonds or short-term bills are issued, is approximately $240 billion.

When You Buy Government Bonds

This means that when you buy a government bond as the best possible security, you should realize that many billions in these bonds have been issued. They are looked upon by banks, educational institutions, and other investors like yourself as the safest place in which to have one's money, but it is not generally realized how many such bonds are outstanding. It is as if you were buying shares of stock in a corporation and looked only at the price without giving any attention to the number of shares issued.

In addition to these bonds, the government has also guaranteed billions of dollars in other fiscal obligations. These are known as "contingent liabilities," such as the guaranteed home mortgages, loans to farmers, aid to colleges, hospitals, veterans, etc. Although the U. S. is the greatest country in the world, it is very generous and extravagant. Furthermore, if we should go into a depression the Federal Government would take on some liabilities of states, municipalities, farmers, veterans, and many business concerns in order to prevent bankruptcies.

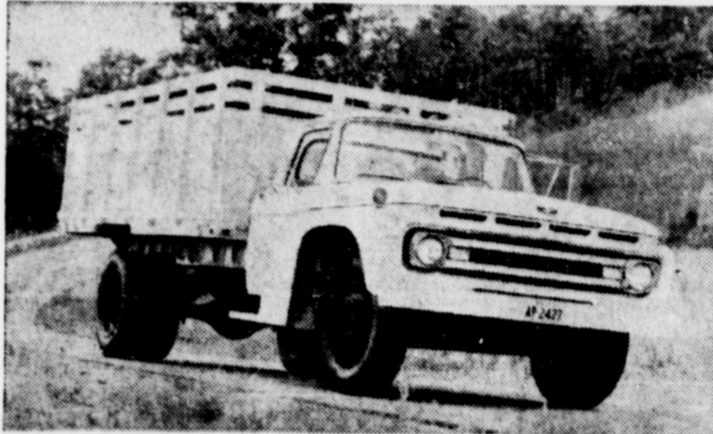

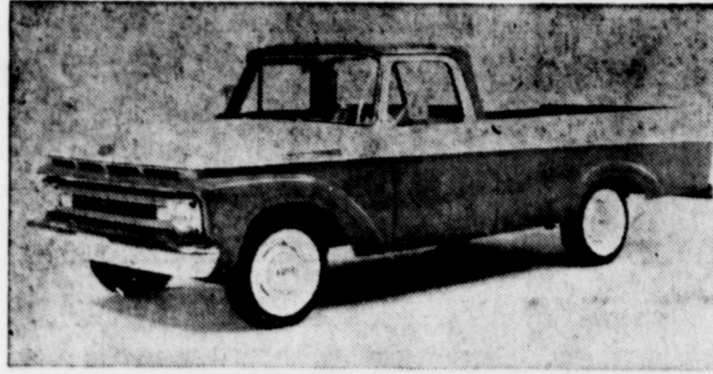

The U. S. Has Many Good Investments

All of the money being spent on armaments is not spent on missiles and other forms of explosives. When I visited Cape Canaveral in Florida and saw one of the missiles explode (all of us were in an underground vault watching via television), I saw a million dollars evaporate in a few seconds. This is not true of many military expenditures. The radar system which encircles this country to give us advance notice of enemy bombers is a good investment — as are also our nuclear submarines, airplane fields, highways, etc.

I recently visited Washington, D. C. and was astonished to find that our Federal Government is building the largest and best airfield in the world. It is primarily for jet planes, and has runways two to three miles in length. War or no war, this is surely a good investment. This airfield is about 20 miles from Washington and the government is building a new highway from the airfield to the center of Washington. But this is not all. Some 12 miles south of the airfield is planned a most elaborate electronic control center on 20 acres of land.

This control center will look like an ordinary two-story office building in front, with walls of glass and stainless steel. Behind it will be a high building which will look like a mammoth safe-deposit box with cement walls 16 inches thick. There will be emergency living accommodations in the basement for the workers. In addition to the cost of the land and the building, it is said that the electronic devices therein will run over $3 million. No structure will stand a direct hit from an atomic bomb. But while it is believed that a bomb from an airplane or a missile from some Russian satellite could destroy Washington, it would not necessarily harm these buildings or the people and machinery therein. The only danger would be the fallout. To eliminate this there will be tanks on the roof which will hold 100,000 gallons of water, which, in 2 hours, would clear the roof of any contamination from fallout. I understand that mammoth airfields and structures similar to this are planned for areas near all the largest cities.

Regardless of what is said in Congress or by Presidential candidates, we should realize that expenditures have to increase rather than decrease. A tremendous effort must be made to keep the budget in fair balance in order to protect our gold supply and our credit abroad. The U. S. dollar must be kept sound as a means of protection. It is foolish to talk about reduced taxes. With the exception of reducing foreign aid and help to farmers, veterans, and other large and politically strong groups, we are bound to have higher federal costs and higher direct and indirect taxation. Let us pay these increased taxes cheerfully and thank God we are living in the U. S. instead of anywhere else in the world.

Versatility and comfort are highlighted in Ford's 1961 trucks, with the greatest changes and most complete line ever presented. The light duty F-100 Styleline pickup (top) has a new type integral body and cab — with no separation between cab and box — for greater rigidity and longer life. The box is nine cubic feet larger and features a new non-rattling handle type tailgate latch. The F-100 is powered by Ford's "certified economy" 135-horsepower six or the 160-horsepower V-8. The heavy duty F-700 (bottom) now has Ford's 302 cubic inch Heavy Duty V-8 engine as standard equipment and longer wheelbases up to 212 inches. Medium trucks in the F-C-B-600 series have a husky new optional 152-horsepower, 262-cubic inch six cylinder power plant.

Coming Attractions at Local Theatres

"THE BELLBOY"
 Jerry Lewis, rated as one of the country's top comedians, isn't content to rest on those laurels. He has branched out into three additional—and the three most important—categories of film-making to become one of the few quadruple-threat motion picture men in the business. With the release of his newest Paramount comedy, "The Bellboy," which opens Sunday at the State Theatre, fans will have an opportunity to see not only Jerry Lewis, the comedian in the title role, but the work of Jerry Lewis the producer, Jerry Lewis the director, and Jerry Lewis the writer.

To make "The Bellboy," which is based on Jerry's own youthful experiences as bellboy-busboy at summer camp hotels in the east, the star went to Miami Beach and took over the facilities of the fabulous Fontainebleau Hotel where most of the picture was shot. In addition to seeing the luxury resort, people who see "The Bellboy" will also be treated to other points of interest in one of the world's most famous playgrounds.

"SIGN OF ZORRO"

In "The Sign of Zorro," the Walt Disney Studios preserve to the hilt the prowess and fabulous character which Johnston McCulley wrote into his slashing novel three generations of readers ago.

The romantic action drama will serve to rank the famous masked rider against evil doers of Spanish California securely among the all-time top fiction heroes of popular favor—the Robin Hoods, the Don Quixotes, the Monte Cristos, the D'Artagnans and all that honorable company.

Guy Williams, well known American star, plays the Zorro role with the dash and fire and romantic fervor required of the character. But he also has the sincerity which gives the avenger a credible human appeal and the story of his escapades believability instead of the theatrical swashbuckling often associated with the classic latter-day hero.

"LIL' ABNER"

America's favorite cartoon strip "Lil' Abner," which became one of Broadway's most successful musical comedies, has been adapted by the authors of the show, Melvin Frank and Norman Panama, into a big-screen, Technicolor extravaganza, which arrives Sunday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. The Paramount production goes a great deal further in recreating the wacky, wonderful world conceived by Al Capp, clever originator of the cartoon strip, than was possible by the limited confines of the stage. All the hilariously funny, off-beat characters whose many actions have held the interest of the nation's comics readers for years, will be seen in the flesh, twice as funny as their line-drawing counterparts, and in positively amazing action.

Mary Martha Circle Met Tuesday In J. D. Vinson Home

Mary Martha Circle of the Womans Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. J. D. Vinson.

Following a short business session, Mrs. D. A. Dobbins led the opening prayer and Mrs. Gattis Neely gave the devotional taken from Mark 1:9-15. Mrs. W. W. Parramore continued the study "One World, One Mission" and the group repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Those present were Mesdames Lee Herman, D. A. Dobbins, Garland Shook, W. W. Parramore, R. P. Weeks, Elmo Mayhew, Gattis Neely, George Rosson and J. D. Vinson.

Check Terraces For Leaks After Harvest

Kirby Robinson, vice chairman of the Runnels Soil Conservation District, says that when this harvest season is over it will be a good time to inspect terrace systems to see if there are any weak spots in the terraces. He said that there are many co-operators of the district who practice terrace maintenance. To name a few are Tom Herd, Rt. 1, Winters; Emil Urban, Rt. 1, Miles; Mitchell Blackwood, Rt. 3, Winters; Marvin Hays, Rt. 1, Ballinger; and Norval Alexander, Rt. 2, Winters.

Glen Green, of the local Soil Conservation Services, stated that the terrace maintenance is part of conservation farming. He said that for a terrace to hold the rain that it was designed for, it should be kept at the proper height and width. The terrace and end closures are usually weakened by farm equipment crossing them during the crop season.

Green said that if a terrace or end closure is found to be low, it should be built back to the proper height and width. He said that this can be done by back furrowing toward the ridge of the terrace or by filling the low spots with a buggy or maintainer or other similar equipment.

The width of the plowed land should be varied each year so that the dead furrow will not fall in the same place each year. He said that this may occasionally require the area between the terraces to be plowed in two lands.

Is there anything on this earth, from squalling triplets to fresh garbage, or from new-mown hay to barrels of beer, that hasn't been loaded into a station wagon and moved?

Ford Presenting Diesel Tilt-Cab Trucks for 1961

Ford, the sales leader in gasoline-powered tilt cab trucks, has announced it has entered the diesel field with a new line of tilt-cab diesel-powered tractors.

"The new 'H' series diesels are another step in Ford's program to meet every commercial trucking need with vehicles capable of offering the utmost in durability and economy," said Don F. Ball, heavy truck sales manager for Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. "They are tailored to fit the requirements of a majority of the operators of heavy, over-the-road diesel trucks in this country."

Ford's diesel tractors are powered by a selection of five popular Cummins diesel engines ranging from 180 to 220 horsepower. In addition, the "H" series is also available with Ford's own proven Super Duty gasoline V-8 engines ranging from 206 to 266 horsepower.

The "H" series highway tractors have a rugged appearance, distinctive from any other Ford trucks, yet utilizing the basic cab and over-engine body design which has given Ford leadership in tilt cab with its comfort, durability and reliable tilt mechanism. The new line uses a number of weight saving aluminum and fiber glass components.

"These units have been tested in on-the-job service since the early summer of 1959," Ball said. "The experience of such fleets as Pacific Intermountain Express, Specter-Midstates, Great Southern and Middle Atlantic Freight Lines has proven we have an outstanding vehicle ready to supplement the excellent reception accorded our gasoline-powered trucks since we entered the extra heavy duty market nearly three years ago."

"The diesel market is one of the fastest growing in the transportation business," he said. "In 1955, annual domestic factory sale of diesel trucks numbered just under 15,000. By 1958, sales had climbed to about 23,000, and in 1959 totaled 32,741."

Surveys have shown that approximately 90 percent of the diesel trucks in this country are used for long distance hauling where annual mileages in excess of 75,000 are common. Ford's new diesels are engineered for such operations.

At our house we never argue; we go to our separate rooms and sulk.

No angler likes to admit that he didn't catch fish on any of his fish hunting expeditions. In fact, no person likes to admit that he didn't do anything he set out to do, or that he should have done, or that he even wanted to do.

Sorta reminds me of the minister who announced that his sermon for the morning would be about liars. He asked how many had read the 69th chapter of Matthew. A great number of hands went up. "You're the ones I want to especially direct this sermon to," he said. "There is no 69th chapter of Matthew!"

Studies made by Heddon's research experts reveal that no angler likes to admit that he was skunked, blanked, or whitewashed. Yet it happens not once but often.

In fact, Heddon's surveys show that top-notch fishermen catch fish two-plus trips out of five. The other two-plus trips they get nothing but the enjoyment of being out-doors and "away from it all."

Of course, that's worthwhile in itself. But every fisherman goes fishing to catch fish. And to varying degrees he is disappointed when he catches none.

Actually the only man who never gets skunked is the one who never fishes. And if he does fish and says that he's never come home empty-handed, chances are he is one of those who swears he read the 69th chapter of Matthew.

Fortunately for mankind—a fellow remembers pleasures and successes more than he does unhappiness and defeat. Most every fisherman recalls the times when he makes the big catches and promptly forgets the trips when he draws the blanks.

Who was it who said — "Hope springs eternally. . . ?" Well, spring or fall, the fisherman's hopes never dim. He's a determined cuss. More power to him!

Worms Woo the Bass

Talked to Bill Norton the other day and he was telling me that 90 percent of the fish are caught by 10 per cent of the fishermen. Bill's one of those fishermen who ought to know, because he has fished for 40 years.

Besides that, he is manager of "THE BELLBOY" to end all bellboys is portrayed by none other than Jerry Lewis in the comedy of the same name which arrives Sunday at the State Theatre. A Paramount release, the film, produced, directed and written by Lewis, was filmed in and around the fabulous Hotel Fontainebleau in Miami.

Sportsman's Products, Inc., a Marion, Indiana, firm that makes plastic worms by the thousands.

Bill told me several interesting facts and I'd like to pass some of them on to you, to add to your own repertoire of tricks.

First, if you doubt the popularity of the plastic worm, just listen to this.

His firm, so far this year, has sold almost five million. That's a lot of worms! In fact, Bill says it's a world's record.

You and I know that fishermen don't buy lures, over and over again, unless they catch fish on them. So it's pretty evident from Bill's remarks that the artificial worm has turned out to be a mighty popular bait with the fishermen.

Hotter than hot is the way Bill describes them. And he sure has the figures to prove it.

Sportsman's Products makes the soft plastic "Catch-Em-Quick" lures. They are called bloodworms, gollywhompers, tad polys, and what have you.

Latest product, however, is their blue, floating plastic worm. It doesn't have a hook in it. To use it, Bill suggests that you mount a 2-0 weedless hook in the head of the worm. Then add a no. 7 split shot about 24 inches up the line.

Fish up and down the slopes, deep cliffs, and both sides of points. . . as well as the top of the ridge when you're fishing a point.

Now that he has told you where to do it — here's how to do it.

Drah the weight along the bottom so that the floating worm is suspended a foot or two above the bottom. Fish it slow. As the weight bounces along the bottom, or among the rocks or other underwater objects, it disturbs the sand or silt, thus attracting the fish.

For best results reel in three or four times slowly, then twist or bounce the weight lightly, just enough to attract attention. Repeat that procedure until retrieved. Allow two and one half minutes to retrieve 60 reet. Then cast out again.

If you want to get some real action, Bill suggests that you tie a loose knot in the tail of the worm. Then cast it out and follow the procedure outlined above. As the lure is retrieved the knot grad-

WINGATE CUB SCOUTS WILL HELP "GET OUT VOTE"

Barney Sheppard, Cubmaster of Pack 58 of Wingate, completed plans this week for the Cub Scouts to distribute doorknob hangers to every home in the community Saturday, Nov. 5, to remind every citizen of his heritage, his right to vote, and urging him to go to the polls Nov. 8.

This is a part of the nationwide support by the Boy Scouts in the program of "getting out the vote."

Which Democratic Platform?

Which do you prefer: the socialistic, anti-Texas platform of Kennedy — or the Nixon Platform that more nearly conforms with Texas principles and ideals as expressed in the State Democratic platform?

The Kennedy platform is against nearly everything Texans are for—it is for nearly everything Texans are against.

What will be your choice? It is between a party label and the best interest of Texas and the Nation.

Allan Shivers says:

"I'LL TAKE TEXAS. I accept the Texas Democratic platform and will work for it. I repudiate the other—the Kennedy platform. I will join with my fellow Democrats to work and vote for men of maturity, experience, responsibility, and a fearless dedication to this country's best interests.

"I will vote for Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge."

Blizzards Lost To Colorado City AAA Team Friday Night

The District 3-AAA Colorado City Wolves threw the Winters Blizzards for their third loss of the season here Friday night, before a near-capacity crowd. Colorado City racked up 16 points to Winters' 6.

Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Winters Football King and Queen. Crowned King was Kenneth Crowe, who plays an end spot on the Blizzard line-up; Queen was Evelyn Hudgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hudgins. Crowe is the son of Mrs. Kavanaugh Crowe.

Winters won the toss and elected to receive the opening kick-off. William Grissom, 175-lb. fullback, returned the ball to the Winters 18, with a ten-yard runback. The Blizzards started a march with a handoff to Grissom by QB Johnny Caskey, good for 33 yards. Three more handoffs, Steve Grissom for 5; Tommy Young for 4; and William Grissom for 7, moved the ball into C-City territory on the 43. After a five yard loss on the ground, Caskey took to the air, but was unable to hit Kenneth Crowe on his first attempt. The next pass, intended for Young, was intercepted by Wayne Reed of the Wolves for a 39 yard return to the Winters 32.

Three downs produced only 6 yards, and the Wolves' Donald Vest tried for a field goal from the 26, but it was wide.

After taking the ball on their 20, Winters used the quick kick artistry of William Grissom who put the ball on Colorado City's 29. With four first down plays, Colorado City moved the ball down the field to the Winters 6, before Vest, on a handoff from Jerry McKay, fumbled and the entire Blizzard team jumped on the ball. Again Grissom was called on to kick out, this time from the five—again giving the Wolves the ball on their own 49. They moved six yards on the ground, then after an incomplete pass try, QB McKay, back to kick, instead ran for a 29 yard pickup, just as the first quarter ended.

The second quarter exploded into action as the Wolves in 5 plays, moved from the 29 to the 18, deep in Blizzard territory. The Winters line closed up to hold for no yardage on two plays. McKay then threw a jump pass right over the heads of the Winters line to end William Newel for 18 yards needed for the TD. The try for extra point was no good, and the score, Winters 0, C-City 6.

Winters received the after-touch-down kick-off, ready to try to tie up or go ahead, from the 38, in their own end of the field. William Grissom made two on a handoff, then Young completed the first down with 11 through the center. A handoff to Steve Grissom was good for 4, and a jump pass, Caskey to Crowe, made the first down, to the 31. Three more handoffs, William Grissom for 1, Young for 9, and William again for 11, moved the ball to the 9 yard line with first and goal. Steve Grissom made 2, before William Grissom plunged through the center from the 7 for Winters first TD. Try for extra points was a handoff from Caskey to William Grissom, but was not good for the extra 2, leaving the score at a tie, 6-6.

On the second series of downs from scrimmage, the Wolves again took to the air, when McKay attempted to pass to Vest, but Johnny Caskey intercepted for Winters and ran 20 yards before he was pulled down, giving Winters the ball on their own 40. They were able to move it to C-City's 43 before Grissom used the fourth down to kick.

From their own 20, Colorado City, with only 53 seconds left in the first half, took to the air, and on their second attempted pass, Kenneth Crowe moved in for Winters' second interception. Winters moved to the Wolves 10 in five plays as the half ended.

After the impressive half-time ceremonies, Colorado City, taking the play after kick-off, moved nearly to the half-way marker before kicking. After several plays, and a kick, by the Winters Blizzards, Colorado City, from their own 11, went to the 34, and then dominated the third quarter. Grissom again kicked out from his own 5 yard line, and the quarter ended with a 13-yard gain by Reed to the Winters 11.

Wayne Reed received a pitch-out, for the first play in the fourth quarter, but was thrown for a two yard loss to Winters' 13. After a series of ineffective plays, plus a penalty, the Wolves tried for a field goal, with McKay kicking from the 23. A good kick put the Wolves ahead 9-6 early in the last quarter.

Again, Winters' offense was not effective, and Grissom kicked from his own 33. Colorado City, with the ball on their 36 yard line, gave Winters their big break of the game, as Gary Lightfoot became light fingered and lost the ball to the Winters line. Coming alive on C-City's 35, Caskey handed off to William Grissom for 5, another handoff to Young for 1, and William made 2. On the fourth down, the ball got loose and the Wolves charged in recovering on their own

30. They moved the ball to the 49 yard stripe, and from there, Donald Vest took a hand-off left guard and scampered 51 yards for a TD, with 5:32 left in the game. Vest kicked the extra point, giving C-City their final tally of 16 to Winters' 6.

William Grissom made 86 yards in 16 carries. Steve Grissom 36 yards in 10 tries. Tommy Young 38 in 8 tries. Caskey 10 yards on the last play of the game.

Special Guests Gave Demonstration At VFW District Meet

Members of the ritual drill team who were dressed in VFW uniforms were Jim Baugh, commander of the Abilene post, Belon Sedberry, Gene Prickett, Ray Tedford, Joe Black, Jimmy Milford, Joe Crutchfield, E. C. Crews, John Owen, Bill Bertram, District 8 Commander, Marc Lewis, Floyd Winters, Fred Slayden, Dave Brumbeau, Marvin Snelling, W. T. Brown and Virgil Cunningham.

L. N. Kirkpatrick of Eden, District 22 commander, presided for the joint meeting and introduced the district officers. He also introduced Mrs. L. N. Kirkpatrick, senior vice president of District 22, who presented the district officers for the Auxiliary.

Ted Meyer, commander of VFW Post 9193, introduced the post officers and Mrs. James Crockett, president of the local Auxiliary, the Auxiliary officers.

Mayor Harvey Dale Jones gave the welcome address and the Rev. H. K. Flathmann, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church and District 22 Chaplain, conducted the church services.

Carter Younts, of Sinton, junior vice commander and department community service chairman, represented the Department of Texas and Mrs. L. A. Marshall of San Angelo, department junior vice president, represented the Department of Texas for the Auxiliary.

Mr. Younts told the group, "We, as members of Veterans of Foreign Wars, have to teach the children of our great country loyalty to the flag of our country. This is one way we can defeat this terrible thing, communism. Americanism starts at home. To uphold our obligation to our disabled veterans, to the widows and orphans of our comrades, who gave their lives for this country, we, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and members of our fine Ladies Auxiliary, must stand united."

Other guests for the meeting were Mrs. Virgil Cunningham and Mrs. E. C. Crews of Abilene; Juno Brooks, Fred Stevenson and Ennis Hardgraves, all of Post 2479 of Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. William Reese, Post 301, Clovis, new Mexico.

Mrs. James Crockett, president of the local Auxiliary, presented a love gift to Mrs. L. A. Marshall.

Willie Kraatz Honored For Test Performance

One senior at Winters High School has been honored for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMSQT) given last spring. Each student who is endorsed by his school receives a formal Letter of Commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Rodney D. Cathey, the school's principal, has announced that the commended student is Willie Kraatz.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, stated: "Letters of Commendation are being awarded to some 28,000 students throughout the United States in recognition of their excellent performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

"While these bright youngsters did not reach the status of semifinalists in the 1960-61 Merit Program, they are so outstanding that we wish to single them out for special attention. The semifinalists and commended students together constitute less than three per cent of all high school seniors, and this certainly signifies noteworthy achievement."

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation gives recognition to two groups of students who achieve high scores on the NMSQT. The semifinalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and in United States territories. Some 10,000 semifinalists will take a second examination in December to establish further their eligibility to receive Merit Scholarships.

"The Letters of Commendation provide tangible recognition of the commended students' high ability," Mr. Stalnaker continued. "It is our earnest hope that the recipients will continue their education and thus benefit not only themselves but also the nation."

"The Merit Program has several objectives. One is the selection of Merit Scholars from among the semifinalists. However, we also strive to foster the pursuit of excellent among all highly able students. We urge the students honored today to make every effort to attend college, and to develop to the fullest their promise of achievement."

NOTICE
Winters Garden Club will have their regular meeting Oct. 14 at 2 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Henson. All members are urged to attend.
