

HOME TOWN

Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Next Thursday afternoon the city of Winters will put on her Christmas finery for the annual stroll across the calendar of December and the Christmas season. The coming-out party will be in the form of the annual Christmas parade which officially opens the Yule season. There'll be a lot of floats in the parade, which is only a part of the many events planned for the celebrants during the holiday season.

The Kiddies Parade will be held one week following the opening Christmas parade.

Several nice cash prizes are being offered for winning floats in this year's Christmas parade, which should be very tempting to organizations who are seeking to build up their treasuries. Firms wishing to be represented in the parade are putting up the money to build the floats, with civic and service organizations and clubs building and entering them in the parade. Any prize monies, we understand, will go to the organization building the floats. It's a good way for everybody to get in the act.

It seems that every tree in the town is getting ready for the Christmas and winter season, too. Just a few days ago, the leaves of only a few of the trees had started to turn — then, suddenly, without notice, the leaves all turned yellow, gold and red, and started falling. All of which may be beautiful to the painter, the color photographer and the romantic heart, but to the dyed-in-the-wool, fifteen-minutes-a-year gardener and yardman — like us — means additional drudgery and backache. To choose the least desirable between the two, mowing the green grass or raking the fallen leaves, would be a most difficult task indeed. Being responsible for only a two-tree yard, we do feel for the slaves of the multi-tree yards, however. It is a mystery, however, how the wind always blows from the direction of the tree yards to the untreed yards.

Hunters have been returning the past few days, with and without. Shorty Kirkham over at the locker plant, says he has received about 60-75 deer, and expects a good many more before it all ends. Most of the deer brought in are fat, he says, evidence of good grazing conditions in the hunting country. A good many have been brought in from adjoining counties where the season is open, too.

Also returning with the hunters are some pretty wild stories. One we favor, which has not received too much circulation—for obvious reasons—concerns a group of local hunters. Seems one hunter of the bunch was sitting in a tree blind while two of his companions patiently stalked their quarry thru the brush. He heard rifle shots, with accompanying bullet whines, coming from two sides of his location. Shots were being fired at a buck he located not too far from his hideout. At the first fusillade, he narrates, the buck raised his head and looked around, and saw no need to become excited, so resumed his grazing. The firing, the story-teller said, resembled the second battle of Bull Run, and he scurried from his perch in the tree to safer country—and still the buck paid no attention. After the firing died down, according to the story, the buck was still on his feet, unconcerned about the whole matter.

A West Texas jury heard the trial of a boy who was charged with stealing a car, and the verdict read: "We find the boy that stole the car not guilty."

A few days ago the chamber of commerce sent out post card ballots listing candidates for the board of directors for 1961. Only five candidates were to be elected. This week, many of the ballots had been returned, but about 20 were outstanding. A good percentage of returns, according to chamber of commerce officials, but there is one hitch: On counting the ballots it was discovered there was a tie between some of the candidates. So it is important that outstanding ballots be returned as quickly as possible so that the tie can be broken.

One group of deer hunters, who went to Colorado several weeks ago, witnessed a once-in-a-lifetime, never to be forgotten incident. On the first day out from Winters, heading toward Colorado, the group stopped a few miles west of Clovis, N. M. While they

Coin Machines Rifled Here and At Wingate

An empty French-fried potato carton and quick work on the part of local police this week led to the apprehension of two men accused of stealing chewing gum machines and breaking into soft drink machines in Winters and Wingate the first of this week.

Police reported that two chewing gum dispensing machines had been stolen from a laundry in Winters sometime Sunday night, and that a soft drink dispensing machine had been broken into in Wingate. About 3 a. m. Monday, farm residents east of Winters reported a disturbance in the vicinity. Upon investigation, police found the two gum machines, and an empty carton which had contained French-fried potatoes. Back-tracking to the source of the potatoes, police soon learned the identity of two suspects. By 5:30 p. m. Monday, according to Police Chief Lawrence Hennigan, two men had been arrested for the burglaries.

The suspects were turned over to the county sheriff's office and investigation was proceeding. Much of the money taken in the two burglaries had been recovered.

IN SAN ANTONIO

Mr. and Mrs. John Sowder of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yates and Sharon Kay of Ballinger and Mrs. W. J. Yates spent the week-end in San Antonio visiting in the home of Sgt. and Mrs. Dell Gunn, Ronnie, Debra, and Jana.

They were stopped they heard a loud crash from the direction of the railroad which paralleled the highway. They looked up in time to see railroad boxcars flying thru the air and to see steel rails being twisted into hairpin shapes. A long freight train, on a downhill grade, suddenly became a pile of twisted metal and wood. After the dust settled, they viewed the wreck for a while, and learning they could be of no assistance, continued on their way. Luckily, no one was injured in the accident.

Members of the group were Bill Bean, Jimmy Phillips, James Huddleston, and Wes Hays.

Think this'll be the last week we'll stick out our chopped-up and scarred neck predicting the outcome of college football games. We missed two of the nine games we picked last week—so far. The Texas U. and Texas A. and M. game we picked last week was scheduled for Nov. 24, so we still don't know—at this point—the outcome. We picked Texas to win.

This is the way we figure this week. If someone wants to go on from there, they're welcome to it. Baylor over Rice. Houston over Tulsa. Oklahoma over Oklahoma State. TCU over SMU. N. M. State over Texas Western.

Runnels Herds Will Get Bangs Tests Soon

Cattle herds of Runnels County will undergo tests for brucellosis in a program to start within a week or ten days, according to the County Agent's office. A team of specialists from the Texas Livestock Sanitation Commission will begin work a short time after December 1, County Agent C. T. Parker announced this week.

The program of testing for brucellosis in cattle is the result of a request by petition made by Runnels county farmers and ranchers some time ago.

Parker said that Dr. Jimmy Henderson and Dr. Jimmy Soares, both of the Livestock Sanitation Commission, and a crew of specialists will begin testing the herds in Runnels county as soon after December 1 as possible. The crew, consisting of seven to nine men, will visit each farm and ranch in the county and take blood samples for tests. They will have a portable laboratory, which will be set up in Ballinger to make the necessary tests.

Parker said that the county will be divided into blocks or sections, and the technicians will work one block at a time. Advance contact men from the testing crew will notify cattle owners far enough in advance so that they may pen their cattle, he said. The testing crew has requested that cattle owners have their cattle penned and have adequate help in order that testing may be done as rapidly as possible. The testing crew will have their own headgate, Parker said, but owners will be asked to provide chutes for the cattle. He said that the technicians have asked that owners, after being notified of the time for testing, keep their cattle penned and ready until the crew arrives, or they are notified. Plans are made on a time basis, the county agent said, but a hitch in plans or a little trouble at one ranch or farm may delay the crew at times.

There is no charge for the testing service, Parker said. He also said that if cattle owners desire information on the testing of their livestock, they will be permitted to bring the drawn blood in to the portable laboratory themselves. All herds in the county will be tested, regardless of the number. And all cattle will be tested, with the exception of steers, spayed heifers and calves under 8 months old. Farmers and ranchers will be notified when to pen their cattle for the testing crew.

WINTERS SCHOOLS WILL TURN OUT FOR BIG PARADE

Superintendent of Schools James B. Nevins said this week that the Winters schools will dismiss early Thursday, Dec. 1, in order for school children to attend the Christmas parade.

Classes will dismiss at 3 p. m. Buses will make regular runs at 3 o'clock, he said.

Farm Supply, Inc., Changed Hands This Week

Farm Supply, Inc., a Winters hardware and appliance store, which has been operated by Elzie Cox for several years, this week was sold to A. P. Wright, formerly of Corpus Christi. Mr. Wright took charge of the business Tuesday.

Mr. Wright is a former Civil Service employee, and retired last week after 17 years of service. He had been stationed in Corpus Christi for several years at the Naval Air Station where he worked in supply.

He is a veteran of World War II, and a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. Mr. and Mrs. Wright have two sons and four grandchildren. One son, Raymond, lives in Waco. The other son, M-Sgt. Allen A. Wright, Jr., is with the USAF Strategic Air Command, stationed in Madrid, Spain.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright are members of the Presbyterian Church. Elzie Cox has operated Farm Supply since April, 1952, coming here from Eden. While he has been a resident and businessman of Winters, he has been a member of the City Council, and was mayor pro tempore during his time in office, president of the Winters Lions Club, member of the board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, Master of the Winters Masonic Lodge, and president of the Baptist Brotherhood. At the present time he is president of the Runnels County Association of Brothhood of the Baptist Church, and is Sunday School Superintendent of the Winters Baptist Church. Mrs. Cox has been active in church organizations and is a Sunday school teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox have made no plans for the immediate future.

Miss Martha Lloyd Nominated "Beauty" At Abilene Christian

Martha Lloyd, Abilene Christian College sophomore from Winters, has been nominated by ACC students for the title of Beauty. The identities of those finally chosen will be kept secret until announcement is made in the year-book this spring.

Miss Lloyd is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lloyd, 507 State. She graduated from Winters High School in 1959.

At ACC, Miss Lloyd is a member of Delta Theta, women's social club.

A. C. BATES

A. C. Bates Will Preach at Revival Beginning Nov. 27

Evangelist A. C. Bates of Waxahachie will do the preaching for the revival beginning Sunday, November 27, at the Assembly of God Church. A singing will be held Saturday night, November 26, at 7:30, according to the Rev. J. C. Amburn, pastor.

Mr. Bates, formerly district superintendent for Assemblies of God Churches in Texas and district secretary for missions, is a well known camp meeting speaker throughout the United States.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30 with special singing nightly.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Wilmeth Baptist Church Begins Revival Sunday

A revival at the Wilmeth Baptist Church begins Sunday, Nov. 27, at 7 p. m. and will continue through Dec. 4, according to an announcement made by the Rev. Archie Hanagar, pastor.

The pastor will do the preaching and Kenny Sheppard, a student of Hardin - Simmons University, will conduct the singing.

Prayer meeting services will begin at 6:30 p. m. with preaching beginning at 7 o'clock. A booster band for the children will be held between 6:30 and 7 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

HERE THANKSGIVING

Elizabeth Mitchell, student of Baylor University and Marilyn Mitchell, student of Hardin-Simmons University are spending the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mitchell.

TO SONORA

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Caskey spent Sunday in Sonora visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Neville.

Winters will open the 1960 Christmas season next Thursday afternoon, December 1, with a big Christmas Parade and a visit from Santa Claus. Preparations are going ahead for one of the biggest Christmas parades and celebrations in a long series of annual events, according to the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the affair.

The big parade begins at 4 o'clock, and will include floats and displays prepared and exhibited by organizations and firms from this part of the county. The Winters High School Blizzard Band will lead the parade.

Three cash prizes are being offered for floats in the parade. Awards will be $75, $50, and $25. Merchants have been asked to sponsor the floats, with building and exhibition to be handled by civic and service organizations. The chamber of commerce office has reported that several floats have already been planned for the parade, but that there still is time for many more entries.

Because the parade comes during a rush business season, many merchants who would like to display floats do not have the time to prepare them. In view of this, the merchants have been asked to finance the floats with individual organizations to build and display them. Rules state that not more than $40 may be spent on each float; also, it is permissible for two or more merchants to sponsor one float, but the total cost of the single float remains the same, it was announced.

Judges from out of town will be asked to judge the floats in the parade. First prize to the winning float will be $75; second, $50; and third, $25.

The Christmas parade is only the beginning of a long list of events to brighten the Christmas holidays, it was announced. The Kiddies' Christmas Parade has been planned for Dec. 10, at 3 p. m. There will be five divisions in the kids' parade: Best decorated wagon (miniature float), best decorated tricycle, best decorated bicycle, costume and group entries. First, second and third prizes will be awarded in each division. Prizes are $6, $4, and $2. Deadline for the children to enter the parade is December 9 at 5 p. m., Mrs. B. B. Bedford, chamber of commerce secretary, said.

Another main event of the Christmas season will be the cash drawings to be held. The first will be on Dec. 10 at 4 o'clock, immediately following the Kiddies' Parade. The first day's drawings will be for $100, $50, and $25. Another drawing, for the same amounts, will be held Dec. 17, and the last drawings of the season will be on Dec. 24, when three names will be drawn for $100 each. All drawings will be held at the vacant lot south of the Gulf Service Station on North Main Street. Drawings will be held at 4 o'clock.

Tickets have been distributed to members of the chamber of commerce to be given to customers who will deposit them in available boxes. No purchase will be necessary to be eligible, according to the rules committee, and persons may register as many times as they please. However, it was announced, winners must be present.

Majorettes Won First Division In Twirling Contest

Majorettes of Winters High School Band won first division in both solo and ensemble twirling at the annual University Interscholastic League Twirling Contest held Saturday in San Angelo.

Dianne Buckner, Tamala Gans, Pamela Bedford, Russell Bedford and Barbara Baldwin received two gold medals, one for solo and one for ensemble. Marcene Matthews, who entered only the solo event because of her drum majoring position, received a gold medal.

The majorettes will receive their awards at the annual Christmas concert.

Next Legislature Faces Problem of Setting Us Congressional District

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Added to the list of lively topics for the next Legislature is the carving out of a new Congressional district.

Final figures in the national census show Texas entitled to a 23rd congressman. State's population rose 24.2 percent — to 9,379,677 — making it the sixth most populous state in the nation.

Even though population increase accounts for Texas' getting another representative to Congress, population will not be the sole consideration when lawmakers decide where to put the new district.

Population of Texas districts ranges widely, from about 227,000 to 614,000. It is highly unlikely that the legislature will undertake to rearrange the districts statewide so as to even out the differences. This would inconvenience too many incumbent congressmen, taking from their districts counties where they are popular and adding counties where they are unknown.

Nor is it expected that Dallas County, the state's most populous district, with 614,000, will get the extra congressman. Dallas now sends Texas' only Republican to Washington, and a Democratic legislature likely will not want to create an opportunity for another GOP'er to be elected.

Texas' biggest congressional district—and the nation's biggest—area-wise, is the 16th, stretching all the way from Ozona to El Paso. But if El Paso, the only metropolitan area, were taken out, what was left would be short on population for a district.

After the 1950 census, the Legislature ducked for awhile the question of what to do with the extra congressman by having him serve "at large" (the whole state). Later Harris County (Houston) was given the extra congressman.

OIL FLOW UPED

Texas Railroad Commission has set the December oil allowable at 2,819,379 barrels a day on a nine-day producing pattern.

For the past seven months the state has been limited to eight producing days.

Independent producers, most of whom have been strong for holding production to eight days in previous months, recommended nine for December.

Earlier, TIPRO (Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners) had asked the Commission to consider whether the sharp cut-back in Texas production during the past two years actually had improved the supply situation or enabled other producing areas to grab some of Texas' share of the market.

"CONTROVERSIAL" BOOKS ADOPTED

In the enormous and often touchy job of adopting textbooks for public schools, the State Board of Education rejected one and accepted two of three books against which protests had been raised.

Board asked the publishers of the history text, "Texas and Our Spanish Southwest," to correct errors before it reconsiders the book in January. Two other books criticized by J. Evetts Haley and a committee known as Texans for America were accepted by the Board.

These are "Language for Daily Use" for grades 7 and 8 and "The Stockmen's Handbook." Haley's committee said the language book was based on too limited a vocabulary and the stockmen's book was too welfare state-ish in its discussion of farm issues.

Seven books opposed by Texans for America already had been eliminated by a teacher-composed advisory committee which screens textbooks offerings before they are considered by the Board of Education.

LOCAL HELP TO AGED, ILL

A plan that would divide part of the responsibilities for care of the aged and mentally ill, between state and local government, may be proposed in the next legislature.

It would take a constitutional amendment approved by the people to put the plan into effect.

Legislative Budget Board has tentatively approved a recommendation whereby the state would split with a city, county or district the cost of such programs as outpatient care for mental patients and nursing home care for elderly patients.

It is felt that this approach might be more economical and effective for some patients. Nearly-recovered mental patients, for example, could be released from bed space at expensive state institutions and get treatment as needed from a nearby clinic.

PERJURY RULING REAFFIRMED

Court of Criminal Appeals refused to reconsider its 2-to-1 decision that former Insurance Commissioner J. Byron Saunders could not be convicted for perjury as a result of testimony before a legislative committee.

But it did not make the opinion final. Travis County District Attorney Les Procter is filing a second motion for re-hearing in hopes of keeping the issue alive until after the first of the year.

At that time one of the members holding in Saunders' favor,

Judge Lloyd Davidson, goes out of office. If incoming Judge W. T. McDonald took the other side, the scales would be tilted and Saunders' conviction upheld.

OUT-OF-STATE TAX DENIED

Texas cannot collect a tax on the premiums of an insurance policy sold to a company in Texas by an out-of-state firm not licensed to do business in Texas.

Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled that this would conflict with U. S. Supreme Court decisions now in effect. A Texas law requires purchasers of insurance from companies not licensed in Texas to pay a tax equal to 5 percent of the premiums. This is higher than the tax on companies licensed in the state.

Appeals Court suggested hopefully that the Supreme Court might reconsider its position so that the Texas law would become valid.

SHORT SNORTS

Secretary of State Zollie Steakley has issued a charter for Houston Baptist College to be built by Texas Baptists on a 200-acre site in Harris County. College is to open its doors by September, 1962. It already has a $3,000,000 endowment for buildings. . . . Department of Public Safety reports a 7 percent decrease in Texas traffic fatalities this year as compared with the same period last year.

Number of death-causing accidents dropped 9 percent. . . . Some parts of Texas had the wettest October on record, and all parts of the state except the southwest portion received above-average rainfall last month. State Board of Water Engineers reported that Corpus Christi and Victoria had the wettest October ever. Amarillo had rainfall 16.42 inches above normal by the first of October. . . . Unusually heavy moisture is blamed by Texas A. and M. experts for the state's generally poor pecan crop this year. Horticulture Professor Dr. Benton J. Store says why wet weather makes bad pecans is not fully understood. Most growers just call it "blight."

For ranchers, however, the rainy weather is mostly good news. U. S. Department of Agriculture says Texas ranges are going into the winter in "above average" condition.

Funeral Rites For Eraclio Alambar Held Sunday

Funeral services for Eraclio H. Alambar, 5-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Alambar, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Spill Memorial Chapel. Graveside rites were in Babyland of the Lakeview Cemetery. The infant, who had suffered a heart defect from birth, died at 9:45 a. m. Saturday in Winters Municipal Hospital.

Survivors include the parents; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tranatelo Alambar of Winters; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Maria Hernandez of Junction; two brothers, Eddie and Edward; and one sister, Esther Alambar, all of the home.

Billy Disch of Austin, Tells How to Catch "Lunker" Bass, if They Are In the Lake

By VERN SANFORD
Always something new. That's what makes fishing fascinating.

Just had an interesting chat with my good friend Billy Disch. Billy's a marine supply dealer in Austin. He is known among the anglers throughout the state as a top-notch fisherman. When he isn't peddling boats and motors, he's somewhere on the Highland lakes, or out in the gulf . . . fishing.

The other day he went out on Lake Travis and tied into a mess of lunker bass. How?

First thing he did was to sound out some skin divers. He asked the frog-men to find out where the fish were. They dived, scouted the area a bit, and reported that the bass were in water about 15 to 20 feet deep and the layer extended all the way across the big lake.

That was the answer Billy wanted. So he and his buddy fished that strata of water, if you can call it that, some 15 to 20 feet down. And they caught fish!

"If you don't have a frogman available to give you this information, go after the lunkers with a red, artificial worm, that floats," says Billy. "And here's how to do it."

First, buy some 3/0 gold-colored hooks. They are light in weight and have a long shank. Then, get some of those floating, plastic worms, the big red ones.

Stick the point of the hook into the very end of the artificial bait and "worm" it on the hook just like you would a big angle-worm. Work it clear to the eye of the hook. Then force the point through the body of the worm until the hook protrudes about a half inch. Just be sure the curved part of the hook is only partially exposed.

Your finished job won't look exactly right to you, because the tail of the worm will ride high and just seem to dangle off the barbed-end of the big hook.

Actually what you have is a stiff forward part of the worm, because the hook shank is inside; and a very flexible tail end of the worm, because there is nothing inside to make it rigid.

It's easy to see what happens in the water. Just move the fore-end of the worm, ever so slightly, and the tail wiggles vigorously.

Remember, this is a floating worm. It won't stay on or near the bottom, like most artificial worms do — unless you weight it down. In fact that is the secret of this trick.

But let's go on with the story. Once you have the worm threaded on the 3/0 hook, your next move is to tie on your line.

You do this by, first of all, running the line through the eye of the smallest size, double-swivel that you can find. That leaves this swivel free to move up and down the line.

Next move is to attach the end of the line to a snap-swivel, the smaller the better, then clamp the snap-swivel into the eye of the hook.

Better yet, pry open slightly the eye of the hook and slip on a real small and light weight double-swivel. Then force the eye closed and tie the end of the fishing line to the other end of the swivel.

Reason for this preference is the fact that the double-swivel is lighter in weight than the snap swivel and weight is important when attached to a floating worm.

Now, you're all ready to go—except—how are you going to get this floating worm to the bottom of the lake?

Billy's answer is to tie a two-foot leader onto the other end of the double-swivel that you passed the line through but did not tie down.

To the other end of the leader add a bell-weight — a real light one — just heavy enough to help you do a good casting job. The bell-weight is the one that is shaped like a bell and has an eye in its top, to tie to.

So, tie on, and you're in business.

As you cast out, the lead weight goes straight to the bottom. Inasmuch as the worm floats it will not drop as fast as the lead weight. So if you release plenty of line the floating worm will pull the line through the eye of the little free-swiveling swivel that has the leader and weight attached.

Looking at it underwater, you'd find the worm floating some three or four or five feet above the weight that carried it out into the lake when you made your cast.

Now, you're ready for action.

Let the worm float where it is for a minute or two. Then give the line a light tug. Let it rest, then twitch it again.

As you tug on the line the worm is of course going deeper into the lake, thanks to the lead and swivel arrangement that is pulling it down . . . Continue this action until you get a fish, at one level or another. Whatever the level you find them, the fish will be there throughout the day. So try to mark the depth in your mind.

If you have no luck and you pull the line until the lure jams up against the weighted leader (two feet off the bottom) — let the worm rest there for some time. Give it a little twitch once in a while to keep it "alive."

Finally, if no luck, try another spot. Billy says, "if there are fish in the lake, this worm will find them."

Okay, suppose you get a nibble. Give the fish plenty of line. Let him take it with him—ten, twenty, even fifty feet if necessary. Just wait him out until you feel a sharp pull of the line. Then, set your hook. Do it quickly, however, for even then you'll find him hooked just barely inside his mouth.

Evening Circle Met In Holle Home Monday Nite

Evening Circle of St. John's Lutheran Church met Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Holle.

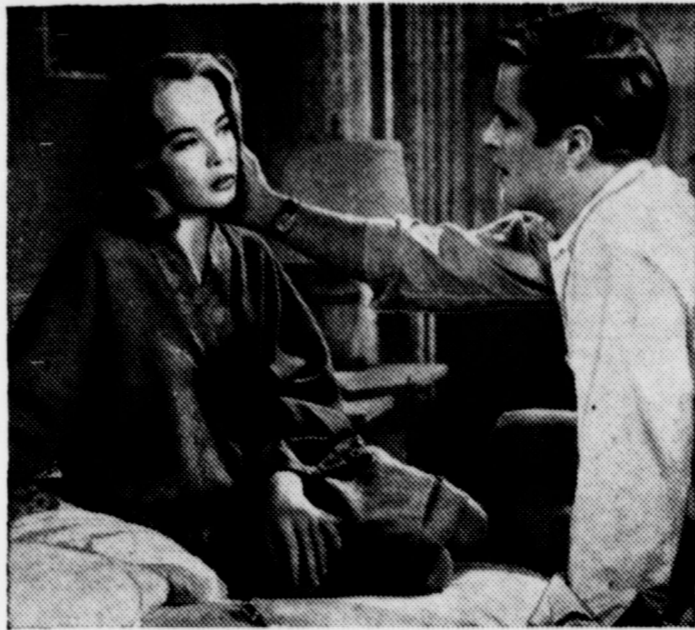

The opening hymn was "Now Thank We All Our God" and Miss Minnie Belitz led the devotions taken from Psalm 103. Mrs. A. N. Crowley, Mrs. Jerry Holle, Mrs. Henry Witte, and Mrs. Erwin Schroeder led the group in an interesting topic on the four weeks of advent.

The Thank-offering service was also held during the meeting with Miss Belitz reading an appropriate poem as members gave their Thank-offering boxes. Mrs. Johnnie Wilson was accepted as a new member and following the business session, "The Lord's Prayer" was repeated in unison.

Each member brought Thank-giving gifts which were presented to Mrs. Lydia Redman who was a special guest at the meeting.

Members present were Mmes. Holle, H. A. Minzenmayer, Geo. Pruser, Jr., A. N. Crowley, L. E. Jacob, L. R. Hoppe, Willis Whittenberg, H. K. Flathmann, Grady Byers, Charles Kruse, Jr., Henry Witte, Erwin Schroeder, Misses Minnie Belitz, and Estella Bredemeyer. Mrs. Redman and Mrs. Wilson were visitors.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. K. Flathmann.

George Peppard falls in love with a confused Leslie Caron in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Subterraneans," film version of Jack Kerouac's much discussed novel of today's "new bohemians," also starring Janice Rule and Roddy McDowall. The Arthur Freed Production, in CinemaScope and color, has a San Francisco background. A highlight of the picture is its authentic progressive jazz score played and sung by a number of America's top musical artists, including Gerry Mulligan, Carmen McRae and Andre Previn.

WINGATE

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Rodgers visited in Sweetwater Sunday with his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collins and two daughters of Corsicana were overnight visitors in the M. B. Folsom home recently. Collins and Folsom were army buddies in 1939-40, serving with the 77th Field Artillery.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bryan, Kay and girls visited over the week-end in Dallas with Mrs. Junior Hall and children. They also visited relatives of David's.

Barbara and Bobby Dunham of Graham were week end visitors in the Carl Green home.

The W. R. Murphy from San Angelo and brother to Mrs. Spann, spent Sunday with her and her mother. Mrs. Murphy went home with them for a visit.

Mrs. Stanley Harter and Jackie Bruce visited Mrs. Harter and Leila Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Laughter are visiting her mother, Mrs. M. T. Hensley.

Mrs. Claude Gooch and Mrs. J. W. Lindsey were visitors with her also.

Kathy Juanell Durham, 17-year-old daughter of Ira and Kathryn Durham, was killed in a car accident late Saturday. They lived near Buffalo Gap and funeral services were held from the Baptist church there and burial was in Wingate cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Troy Harter, Leila, and Mrs. Wheat attended the funeral. Other relatives and friends from out-of-town who attended were Bro. James and family of Winters, Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Cathey, Bob and Marie; and A. J. Dean of Colorado City. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Gannaway of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Turner of Norton also attended.

Girl Scout News

Brownie Troop No. 1 met Friday afternoon at the Scout Hut. The girls took a Thanksgiving greeting to Merrill Rest Home. They sang songs and played on their tonettes.

Patrol group No. 1 served nibbles to Mary Lou Wilkerson, Gwen Wheeler, Shelia Kraatz, Sandra Crockett, Myrlee Minzenmayer, Kay Lynn Rives, Glenda Cooper, Kilah Graves, Mary Fairey, Jean Mostad, Pauline Rozmen, Babs Tatum, and Cynthia Pinkerton.

As a dutiful television viewer, I think the political campaign was tougher on me than on the candidates; the latter looked fresh as daisies next day whereas I was beat.

What you would like most of all to conceal from your kids, the neighbors' children tell them.

Natalie Wood and Robert Wagner, two of the screen's most popular young stars, appear together for the first time in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "All the Fine Young Cannibals," a drama of today's youth and its search for happiness. Also starred in the CinemaScope and color production are Susan Kohner, George Hamilton and Pearl Bailey.

At Local Movies

"Stop! Look! And Laugh!"
The zaniest combination ever to hit the screen—The Original Three Stooges—returns to the State Theatre on Saturday only in Columbia Pictures' hectic new Harry Romm production, "Stop! Look! And Laugh!" Co-starred with Moe, Larry and Curly, the original Three Stooges, are ventriloquist Paul Winchell and his warden, wise-cracking friends, Jerry Mahoney and Knucklehead Smiff. And with them are the Marquis Chimps of TV fame, and Officer Joe Bolton.

"Stop! Look! And Laugh!" presents the Stooges in a series of slapstick sequences, according to Hollywood. These include one of the wildest Western passages of all time, a bull-fight which becomes a riot, a visit to New York City and, finally, one of the Stooges' irrepressible parties where mirth and mayhem are combined with chocolate cream pies—tossed, like the party, by the Stooges, of course! It's a tasty affair, and very hilarious, but is said to be a mite messy!

"All the Fine Young Cannibals"
The search of today's youth for happiness in an uncertain world provides the dramatic theme for "All the Fine Young Cannibals," a picture as provocative as its unusual title.

An Avon Picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in CinemaScope and color, it stars Natalie Wood and Robert Wagner, two of the screen's most popular young personalities, for the first time, with other top roles filled by Susan Kohner, George Hamilton (an overnight star after his performance in "Home From the Hill") and Pearl Bailey. Miss Bailey not only has a strong dramatic part but also sings two hit numbers.

The new picture was produced by Pandro S. Berman and was directed by Michael Anderson. Its action, painted on a broad canvas, moves from the poverty and squalor of a Texan hamlet to the college town of New Haven and from there to New York cafe society.

"The Subterraneans"
Jack Kerouac's widely-discussed novel, "The Subterraneans," has been made into an off-beat and absorbing film drama. Photographed in CinemaScope and color, it was produced by Arthur Freed, who has given the screen some of its top attractions.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture offers an exciting new romantic team in Leslie Caron and Geo. Peppard, who has become an overnight star as the result of his electric performance in "Home From the Hill." Other leading roles are played by Janice Rule and Roddy McDowall.

"The Subterraneans" deals with San Francisco's painters, writers and musicians, who have been termed today's "new Bohemians" and who rebel against the taboos of established society. Much of the picture was filmed on location in San Francisco against a backdrop of the actual haunts of these Bohemian non-conformists.

A highlight of the film is its progressive jazz score played and sung by a number of America's

"Be Strong in the Lord" is the subject for next Sunday's School lesson.

Illustration: "Needy miners and settlers in British Columbia, busily engaged in stripping abandoned Ft. Alcan of lumber, electrical appliances, and plumbing, made an amazing discovery. While dismantling the jail they found that the mighty locks were attached to the heavy doors, and two - inch steel bars covered the windows; but the walls of the prison were only painted wallboard of clay and paper, painted to resemble iron. A good old heave against the walls by a man who would not have to be as strong as a football tackle would have burst the wall out. Nobody ever tried it because nobody thought it possible.

"Many Christians are prisoners of fears that are nothing when pushed against. Satan cannot do anything against a child of God but he loves to put barriers of paper mache in the path of a believer to make him think that there is no progress in the direction of the will of the Lord. When by faith we push against it we will be free."

Special days next week are for: Lanham Bishop, Johnny Walker and Wayne Hunt, the 27th; Janice Bailey, Mrs. Dillard Wood, Walter Kerby and Bonnie Pat Angeley, the 28th; Mrs. J. C. Women of St. John's Lutheran Church Met Sunday

The women of St. John's Lutheran Church held an afternoon meeting Sunday, November 20, beginning at 1:45 p. m. Mrs. Walter Kraatz was in charge of registration, which continued until 2 p. m., when the meeting was called to order by the General Board President, Mrs. Chas. Kruse, Jr. A hymn singing was led by Miss Estella Bredemeyer, with Miss Emma Henniger at the organ. Mrs. Walter Gerhart presented the devotion "What Kind of Church Do I Belong To?" Mrs. Kruse then presented the purpose of the meeting to the assembly — that of hearing the various constitutions under which the group will function — and also the adoption of the local constitution. The General Constitution was read by Mrs. H. K. Flathmann, the District Constitution by Mrs. W. F. Minzenmayer, the Conference Constitution by Mrs. A. W. Stoeker, and the Local Constitution by Mrs. Herman Frick. This constitution applies to all the women of the congregation for whom there are three active circles, one of which they may join. After the adoption of the local constitution, the meeting adjourned with a closing prayer by Pastor H. K. Flathmann.

Winters Garden Club Met Thursday In Artie Shaw Home
Winters Garden Club held their regular meeting Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Artie Sharp with Mrs. Richard George and Mrs. Laurence Bryan serving as co-hostesses. Mrs. Sharp, president, presided, and Mrs. Bryan gave the club prayer. Members voted to donate $2.50 to the Salvation Army. Mrs. O. D. Bradford and Mrs. George gave a report on the district convention held recently in Ozona. How to Arrange and Dry Flowers was discussed by the group and Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. L. Ernst presented each member with flower plants. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Bryan.

Junior GA's Met Thursday At Church

Junior Girl's Auxiliary met Thursday afternoon in the basement of the First Baptist Church, with eight members present. "Girls for Christ" was the topic of the program and each member participated. Refreshments were served to Jeri Guy, Carla Sue Davis, Shirley Powers, Carolyn Blake, Rita Powers, Odessa Smith and Mrs. W. J. Yates, counselor.

Junior Lutherans Held Monthly Meeting Sunday

Junior Lutherans held their monthly meeting Sunday afternoon in the basement of St. John's Lutheran Church. The meeting opened with Alvin Gerhart leading the song service and Rhames Hoppe led in prayer. Mrs. Walter Spill gave the Bible study taken from Genesis 1 and Helen Simpson gave the offering prayer. The treasure chests were collected. Beth Spill called the meeting to order and Margie Kraatz called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. Sally Spill gave the treasurer's report. The group has received their Christmas cards for re-sale and Christmas napkins. They decided to have a Christmas gift exchange at the next meeting. The groups went to their classes with Mrs. Walter Spill, Misses Eugenia Voss and Minnie Belitz as teachers. Mrs. Walter Spill served refreshments to approximately 20 members and several visitors. Parts were assigned to members for the Christmas program in December. New Jersey has 800.2 people per square mile in the 1960 census, more than any other state. Alaska has fewest, 0.4. Manufacture of machinery in Japan has now reached a volume nearly two and one-half times greater than the peak wartime production in 1944.

WTU Drivers Win Safe Driving Award

National honors for an outstanding safe driving performance have been won by the employees of the West Texas Utilities Company in the Public Utilities Group 1 Division of the 29th National Fleet safety Contest conducted by the National Safety Council.

Group 1, in which West Texas Utilities was the first place winner, was composed of the motor vehicle fleets of 40 major American utility companies. In this group, which was the largest in the contest, the vehicles of each of the competing fleets operated 175,000 miles or more per month during the year ending June 30, 1960.

The WTU fleet averaged 321 vehicles and more than 330 drivers. They were awarded first place in the Public Utilities Group 1 Division at ceremonies held in Chicago last week as part of the 48th National Safety Congress and Exposition.

The award is based on the employees' safe driving record for the period July, 1959, through June, 1960. During that year, the WTU employees operated 5,125,395 miles with a rate of one-fourth of an accident per 100,000 miles of operation.

Winners were determined after an inspection of the records by an auditor representing the National Fleet Safety Contest Committee.

"Credit for this national recognition in safe driving goes to our employees who operate the company vehicles," state Cal Young, WTU President. "This is an honor of which we are very proud."

"We feel strongly that driving safely on our streets, roads and highways is one of our responsibilities to the people we serve. Ours is a service organization, and certainly the safe operation of the large number of automobiles, pickups and trucks which we operate in 49 counties is as much our responsibility as is good electric service to our customers."

"The WTU employees safety and traffic activities are directed by Doyle Gray, Safety Engineer, and George Clark Jr., manager of the company's Traffic Department."

Doyle Gray, WTU Safety Engineer, accepted the award for the employees at a Victory Luncheon in the La Salle Hotel's Grand Ballroom. More than 600 safety experts from the nation's motor transportation industry attended the luncheon.

In presenting the awards, H. Halbrooks, Director, Accident Prevention Division, National Automobile Transporters Association, congratulated the winners and participants for their outstanding performance.

Starving Boll Weevil Research Underway

Intensive research is now under way at U. S. Department of Agriculture research stations in Texas and elsewhere on a new approach toward eliminating insect pests which destroy cotton at the rate of millions of dollars every year.

Basis of the new idea is to remove from cotton plants the various substances which attract and nourish such pests as the boll weevil, the pink boll worm, and others. Cotton plants which will produce little or no nectar are indicated as at least a partial answer.

The boll weevil comes first on the research list. Intensive studies are now being made of the boll weevil's diet—what attracts it and what repels it. An opening for this study was achieved at Texas A. and M. College when a synthetic diet was developed. This permits researchers to raise weevils in the laboratory without having to depend on developing various types of cotton plants as a food supply.

These studies are expected to lead to basic knowledge about the boll weevil's vulnerability to diet changes, particularly to substances which are repellent to the pest.

The USDA announced that work is going forward on "the development of cotton varieties with reduced ability to produce nectar less attractive to such insect pests as pink bollworms, cotton leafworms, and cabbage loopers."

It was reported that "several selections of cotton have fewer nectar glands have already been developed. In one insect feeding test, the researchers found seven to 10 times as many leafworms and loopers on a popular commercial variety of cotton as on one of the new selections. And in another test, there were twice as many pink bollworms on the popular variety as on the research-developed selection."

It has long been regarded as a virtual impossibility to completely control the boll weevil, much greater progress having been achieved in pink boll worm control by means of cotton plow-up programs and other measures.

But, since the boll weevil feeds and reproduces naturally on the cotton plant, the new approach gives new hope. The ultimate goal is to identify the substance in the plant which attracts them, eliminate it through plant breeding, or control it chemically—and starve the weevil to death.

Effects of Fumigant On Seed Studied

Many seed men have had damage claims filed against them because of the failure of fumigated seed to germinate. This failure could have resulted from poor field conditions, or it could have been the result of fumigant damage. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station conducted a study to determine the effect that specific fumigants have on germination and vigor of seed and the conditions under which they may be most injurious.

For the tests, seven fumigants were used to treat seed of barley, oats, wheat, rice, cotton and two varieties of corn and sorghum. Because previous research has indicated that moisture content and temperature of seed during fumigation affects the possibility of fumigant injury, the seed for these tests were fumigated at three different moisture and temperature levels. It was found that high moisture content and high temperature usually interacted to produce extensive injury to seed.

The fumigants included in these tests were classified into three groups on the basis of their effect on seed germination. Hydrogen cyanide and carbon tetrachloride in the first group had relatively little effect on seed germination. Germination was not affected immediately after fumigation with these materials, but after 12 months' storage of fumigated seed reductions occurred in some crops without regard to temperature or seed moisture during fumigation. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has published a complete report on this test. This publication, MP-448, may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Wingate 4-H Met Monday Afternoon

Wingate 4-H Club held their regular meeting Monday afternoon with their leaders, Mrs. Pat Pritchard and Mrs. Raymond Dunn.

The president presided for the business meeting and the secretary read the minutes. Response to roll call was "my favorite food." The group discussed the Christmas party to be held December 20.

Members present were Cynthia Antilly, Candy Allen, Mary Pritchard, Brenda Robertson, Cynthia Robertson, Linda Tischler, Delores Folsom, Carla Walker, Kathy Dunn, Delores Ibarra, Kathy Lynch, Dora Valverde, Linda Lynch, Nita Cowan, Velma Bulard and Nancy Grisham. Mrs. Tischler, Nora Carpenter and Joyce Butman were visitors.

capital gains or losses. If so, the market may work up from now to the end of the year rather than continue to decline until the deadline of December 30, 1960.

Waiting Thirty Days
Most investors seem to feel that if they sell stocks to take a tax loss, they cannot buy this same stock back again. This, however, is perfectly possible if you will wait thirty days. If the stock is fundamentally good, I am inclined to buy the same stock back even though, due to some special non-recurring event, it may have advanced in price.

Roger Babson

Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Nixon Both Promised Greater Expenditures

Babson Park, Mass.—Readers who are clients of investment counselors, or who have active banking houses or brokers attending to their affairs, probably have already been notified of the possible advantage that can be secured by taking tax losses.

No Lower Taxes In 1961

Both Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Nixon promised greater expenditures, due to increased defense needs, larger welfare payments, and perhaps unemployment aid. We cannot now wait for the official statements of the winning candidate, Mr. Kennedy. But we can assume that anything he recommends will be to the interest of the many millions who hold no securities—funds for said payments to be raised through inflationary measures or increased taxes. Both could work a hardship on investors.

In deciding what to do, divide your 1960 sales of securities into two groups: (1) Those held longer than six months; (2) those held less than six months. Next, figure out what will be your net long-term gain or loss, and what will be your net short-term gain or loss. Then offset these net figures, remembering that one dollar of short-term loss can wipe out one dollar of long-term gain, and one dollar of long-term loss can offset one dollar gain.

More Details Regarding Long-Term Gains

Of course, to take advantage of losses one must sell the securities, and it may not pay to do this. If an excess of long-term capital gains results, you may reduce this gain by 50 per cent before figuring your tax; and if the tax on long-term gains should exceed 25 per cent of the gains, you may use an alternate method of computing and thus hold down your tax.

In the case of most readers, the capital gains tax will be under 25 per cent of the profits realized. The alternate tax method is used only for net taxable income of more than $18,000 for a single person, $24,000 for the head of a household, and $36,000 for a joint return.

What About Short-Term Gains?

The above advantages apply only to long-term gains; they do not apply to the short-term sales cited in stem no. 2 of the third paragraph of this column. Therefore, there may be a real tax advantage in letting your profits run over the six-months period, even if it brings you into another year. The government permits you to carry any unapplied capital gains losses forward for the next five years. Of course, securities should not be sold merely to take a tax loss. If the stock is one about which you are still optimistic, the improvement in price may later provide you with a greater gain than you could get by taking a tax loss now.

Disposing of Your Poorest Issues

Personally I give little attention to taking tax losses if I believe my securities are all good. On the other hand, here again one must decide whether we are in a bull market or in a bear market. If you believe we are in a bear market it is better to take tax losses than it would be if you believed we were still in a bull market. This is another reason for seeking the help of an investment counselor.

Certainly, this is a good time to clear up your list and eliminate the poorest investments. Keep your stocks in the order in which they are rated, and sell one or more of the poorest each year. Ordinarily, it is better to sell these in September or October before the crowd rushes to sell, as they may be doing this time of year. On the other hand, most investors may have already taken their

When we look at some of the TV westerns we get the idea that most of our grandfathers were gun slingers.

However, today there are perhaps more gun slingers than there were in the Eighties. And the guns are faster.

Gunslinging is a fad now. Every town has one or more persons who stand for hours practicing the quick draw and twirling a revolver.

It has meant lots of business for the arms manufacturers, too. Colt, High-Standard, Ruger, Western and some others, all have come out with frontier models especially adapted to the quick-draw trade.

There are numerous quick draw clubs scattered over the country. San Antonio has a big one. It is composed primarily of business men who practice before an electric timer.

But that isn't the unusual thing. Their wives have formed a similar organization.

San Antonio now has a bunch of quick draw girls who can pull a single action from its holster and fan off a shot in about 1-30th of a second. That's fast work.

They shoot twice a month in the basement of the Tiner Sporting Goods Store, at a cutout known as Pistol Pete.

Some are working girls. Others are housewives and mothers. All of them are as serious about their shooting as the men, if not more so.

Sure, there have been accidents. Some of these fast draw people have been careless. Accidents are decreasing, however, because most of the fans are using more care. Generally the practice shooting is done with .22 ammunition. Many of the guns now on the market are for .22 caliber. These include all the top brands.

There are many conversions. You can get inserts for the cylinder or a new cylinder for the .22 caliber to be used with the .38 special or the .45. These, however, are only good where you practice the quick draw and want to hear the reports. If you actually shoot at a mark, you need a barrel of the proper caliber.

Most of the quick draw work is done with the tied-down buscadero-type belt.

Philip Y. Hahn, president of the Crossmen Arms Co. has produced a gas-operated single action revolver, especially for the quick-draw enthusiasts. This CO2 pistol is made exactly like the old .45 single action. In fact, it is so good it is being used on some of the TV westerns.

If you are watching one of these pictures and you see a cowboy knock off 18 Indians in a row with a six gun, chances are it will be one of the Hahn BB guns. They fire 18 shots with BB pellets.

Hahn also did another piece of clever merchandising. He made a buscadero quick draw scabbard and belt to accompany the gun. Now you can buy a fast draw combination at your favorite gun store without being in violation of the law. And it is a precision gun, plenty good for target practice.

If you've never tried BB or pellet gun shooting, you've missed something. In the first place it is a great deal more economical than shooting a firearm. The guns themselves are precision made. You can get them in various types. Some are the pump-ups, others are lever action, and still others are gas powered.

They are wonderful for target practice and basement shooting. I like to shoot tin cans with them. Frequently I'll take a spree at saying small cans until I get a box full. I punch a hole in the end of these cans, then run a wire through the hole and suspend them from a tree limb—where there is a hill for a backdrop. Then I back off 30 or 40 feet and start to work on the cans.

It is more interesting if the wind is blowing. Then the cans begin to swing and they are harder to hit. With a little practice you can get them almost every shot. The real fun is to start one swinging and then plink it with one of these BB guns.

Gas powered guns, like the Crosman, are real effective. Once in awhile they'll cut small limbs off the trees. When they hit a can at a side glance they sound like

Mrs. Floyd Sims Gave Program At Junior Culture

Mrs. Floyd Sims presented the program "The Home Beautiful at Christmas Time," at the regular meeting of the Junior Culture Club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richardson. Mrs. Dennis Poe served as co-hostess.

A frozen fruit salad plate and coffee was served from a table laid with brown linen. Accenting the forthcoming Christmas season, a large gold candle surrounded with sprayed leaves and berries centered the serving table. Mrs. Poe poured coffee from a brass service.

Mrs. Sims discussed various decorations which may be used in the home at Christmas and demonstrated several different methods in making Christmas candles. She also showed the group how to make wreaths and centerpieces. She also showed several different Christmas decorations she had made for the holiday season.

Each member brought staple foods for the Thanksgiving basket which will be delivered to a needy family.

Mrs. Hal Dry, president, presided for the business session and Mrs. Glendon Presson called the roll which was answered with a "Christmas idea." Mrs. Richardson gave a treasurer's report and the group voted to send a letter to Senator Dorsey Hardeman and Bill Moore, representative - elect, endorsing the safety program proposed by Governor Price Daniel and the State Safety Committee.

A letter of resignation was read from Mrs. J. E. Royce.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 15, at 1 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Byrns. Members are asked to bring food for a Christmas basket and a gift to be exchanged among members.

Those present were Mesdames a .22 bullet on a flat surface. Don't underestimate the power of these guns, however, and be careful where you shoot them. They are excellent to take on camping trips. The gas powered gun is ample for killing small game animals and birds. They also are excellent for popping snakes.

Keep in mind though, that you are not to shoot song birds or game birds out of season. This is rather costly. Game wardens frown on it. Judges assess fines. It's a lot better to stick to tin cans.

VISITING PARENTS

Gray Gardner, student of the University of Texas in Austin, is spending the Thanksgiving holidays visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner.

TO VERNON

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Liddell spent the weekend in Vernon visiting in the home of their daughter, Lt. and Mrs. Sherwood McNelly.

Charles Hester, Weldon Minzenmayer, Billy Joe Colburn, James Colburn, Hal Dry, F. P. Graham, Wendell Holmes, Dennis Poe, Henry Richardson, Glendon Presson, Jerry Ward and L. G. Wilson, a new member.

Girl Scout News

Brownie Troop No. 5 held their weekly meeting Thursday afternoon at the Scout Hut. After roll call, the girls went on a hike. They visited the Lazy "N" Stables where the shetland ponies, baby goats and lambs were of special interest to the Brownies.

Those present were Shirley Jean Allen, Kei Bedford, Christine Cathey, Rebecca Gilbert, Kay Graham, Margaret Hernandez, Lynanne Hill, Linda Kay Talley, Opal Sue Waldrop, Melinda Wilson and Roxie Redman. Mrs. Charles Graham, Mrs. Clifford Hill and Mrs. Wayne Wilson accompanied the Brownies on the hike.

IN CHAPMAN HOME

Jackie Bruce student of Arlington State College, spent the weekend visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. Lawrence Chapman and Mr. Chapman. Lawrence Smith of Arlington and Mrs. Stanley Harter of Muleshoe also visited in the Chapman home.

Miss Jimmie Temple Guest Speaker At Literary, Service

Miss Jimmie Temple of San Angelo, home economist for the Lone Star Gas Company, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Literary and Service Club held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Roberson. Mrs. M. G. Middlebrook shared hostess duties with Mrs. Roberson.

Miss Temple gave recipes and showed samples of holiday foods in attractive wrappings. She suggested the use of cellophane, festive ribbons and felt in making Christmas packages attractive. In conclusion, Miss Temple said, "Let's keep our American Christmas traditions."

Following the program, Mrs. H. K. Flathmann presided for the business meeting and the club voted to send a letter to our senator and representative endorsing the state safety program. Members were reminded that the next meeting has been changed to December 8.

Members present were Mesdames J. W. Bahlman, L. E. Ellison, Jerry English, H. K. Flathmann, Sallie Gray, Joe May, Martin Middlebrook, J. T. Randolph, Loyd Roberson, George Rosson, W. D. Sanders, Floyd Sims and Claude Tatum. Mrs. Charles Kruse Jr., associate member, Mrs. Charles Chapman, honorary member, Mrs. Royce Pope, a guest, were also present.

Dale Sewing Club Held Meeting With Mrs. Reese Jones

Mrs. Reese Jones hosted the all-day meeting of the Dale Sewing Club in her home Thursday of last week. The group quilted for the club.

A covered dish luncheon was served to the members, Mesdames Charles Adams, Lloyd Compton, Clifton Davis, Clifford Lehman, Bill Mayo, Reese Jones, Walter Kruse, Tip McKnight, August Stoeker, Carroll Stoeker, Wilbur Phelps, Ernest Smith, W. I. Rogers, Marvin Traylor and Jack Whittenburg. Visitors were Mrs. V. E. Fisher, Mrs. E. M. Embry and Mrs. P. E. Goffery. The Christmas party was planned for December 13 at 6:30 o'clock at the club house. Secret pals will be revealed at the party.

Thanksgiving Dinner Thursday At Country Club

Thanksgiving motif was used in decorations at a dinner and game party held Thursday evening at Winters Country Club for members and their wives.

Hosts were Messrs and Mesdames Ralph Lloyd, M. E. Mathis, W. B. Williams Jr., W. B. McLeRoy, Max Lewis, Floyd Grant, Bill Craven, A. N. Crowley and W. O. Webb.

Dinner was served buffet style from a table laid with forest green linen. An antique round butter mold and a cornucopia filled with fruits and vegetables was featured at one end of the serving table. Foursome tables were laid with white linen and the mantel was decorated with greenery, red pyracantha berries and magnolia leaves.

Following dinner, games of bingo were played and prizes were awarded to Herman Baker Jr., Mrs. E. T. Patterson, Fred Young, E. T. Patterson and M. E. Mathis.

Those present were Mrs. George R. Hill, Mrs. James West, Mrs. Bob Best, Herman Baker Jr., Clyde Marquis, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Rives, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Maddox, Messrs and Mesdames H. M. Nichols, John Gardner, L. E. Goss, A. L. Kelly, E. T. Patterson, W. M. Bunger, Bill Robinson, Homer Hodge Jr., H. L. Way, Fred Young, Raymon Lloyd, R. M. Lilly, Bob Loyd and the hosts.

Mrs. L. B. Thetford Honored At Shower In Lutheran Church

A shower honoring Mrs. L. B. Thetford, the former Doris Gene Gerhart, was held recently in the parlors of St. John's Lutheran Church. Hostesses were Mesdames Otto Turk, Robert Gerhart, L. R. Hoppe, E. E. Thormeyer, Walter Gerhart, A. B. Spill Bill Hoppe, H. F. Bredemeyer, Bill Ahrens and F. O. Minzenmayer. Mrs. L. R. Hoppe greeted the guests and introduced the honoree, Mrs. W. F. Gerhart and Mrs. Anna Gerhart, grandmother of the bride.

The registry table was decorated with an arrangement of pink roses and Mrs. A. B. Spill registered guests.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of pink roses, Queen Wreath and white candles. Mrs. Otto Turk, Mrs. H. F. Bredemeyer, Mrs. Robert Gerhart and Mrs. Walter Gerhart alternated in serving white cake squares decorated with pink rosebuds, ladeling pink lemonade and pouring coffee from a silver service.

Mrs. E. E. Thormeyer furnished music during the afternoon and Mrs. Bill Ahrens gave a reading "How to Keep A Happy Husband." Mrs. Walter Gerhart presented gifts to the honoree from a table centered with a large white net heart featuring a miniature bride and groom and a white bow with streamers inscribed with L. B. and Doris Gene in silver. Approximately 40 attended.

MRS. SAMMY EDWIN ALBRO (Photo by Little)

Wedding Vows Solemnized Saturday Uniting Sammie Lou Jones, Sammy Albro

Wedding vows were solemnized at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church uniting Sammie Lou Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam D. Jones and Sammy Edwin Albro, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Albro of Wilmett.

The Rev. Ray Elliott, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of bronze spider mums, palms and candelabras entwined with greenery holding white tapers. Tamala Gans, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. J. N. Clark Jr. of Abilene, soloist, who sang "I Love You Truly," "My Wonderful One" and "The Lord's Prayer." Bob Jones, brother of the bride, lighted the candles and Sandi Gans was flower girl. Murry Gans was ring bearer.

Joe Frank Albro served his brother as best man and groomsmen were David Burton and Sam Tubbs of Wilmett.

Judy Ledbetter was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Nona Davidson, a student of the University of Texas in Austin and Mrs. Buddy Matthes of Abilene. They wore identical dresses of apricot silk organza over taffeta fashioned with rounded necklines, elbow length sleeves and full pleated skirts. Their head dresses were flat bands with organza petal bows and they carried colonial bouquets of bronze Fuji mums. The flower girl's dress was designed similar to the bride's attendants'.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white gown of imported Spanish lace over white satin. The sabrina neckline was edged with scallops of hand-clipped lace with a butterfly bow of gleaming white satin worked into the seams of the curving molded bodice. From a deeply pointed waistline, the skirt of row after row of wide gathered tiers formed the extremely full skirt. Each tier hemline was edged with hand-clipped scallops of lace. The fullness tapered to the back where a huge butterfly bow and chapel train of white satin flowed to the floor. A circular veil of imported French illusion fell from a Spanish Madonna cap of matching lace outlined with tiny seed pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of feathered carnations and a white orchid.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church and members of the houseparty were Sue Storey, Mrs. Joe Frank Albro, Mrs. Leon Adams, Beverly Bedford, Cynthia Davis, Mrs. R. R. Gans, Mrs. Clarence Ledbetter and Mrs. LaDell Davis.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the bride wore a blue wool suit, a blue feathered hat and black accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Winters High School, attended McMurry College where she was a member of T. I. P. social club. The groom, also a graduate of Winters High School will be a student of Texas Tech in Lubbock where the couple will make their home.

Bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening.

Directors Meeting Held At FB Office In Ballinger Thurs.

Directors of the Runnels County Farm Bureau met at the Ballinger office Thursday of last week, with about thirty persons present.

Speaker at the meeting, Ed Cumble, Texas Farm Bureau Fieldman and Area Supervisor of District VIII, told those attending the meeting that the Runnels County Farm Bureau had done an outstanding job in 1960, not only with the membership gain of 53 new members to put Runnels County seventh place in the state for membership gain, but the county organization has also been very instrumental in building good relations between rural and urban dwellers.

Cumble stated that the Runnels County Farm Bureau lacked two activities in 1960 to make it eligible for the Citizenship award, the entering of the Talk Meet and the Essay Contest. He encouraged the directors throughout 1961 to work toward this goal and the top award of the state.

Cumble cited the success of the county organization at the state convention where it was awarded for membership gain, service awards and the Public Relations award as well as the Talent Find number which was placed second to the winner. He informed the board of the counties topping the district in 1960 and encouraged membership workers to work throughout the year toward this goal.

The directors keeping in mind the county's potential of 1100 set the membership goal at 775 which would put Runnels County in top place in District VII. Membership workers subsequently to the meeting will canvass the county not only during the membership drive but daily for the enlisting of members during 1960.

Reports throughout the meeting were heard from the voting delegates who attended the state convention as well as the Service Agent, J. F. Droll, and county Secretary Patti McDaniel.

Hunting Season In Full Swing Throughout State

The Texas hunting season now is in full swing with practically all species available to the gun, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Deer and turkey seasons opened in most areas Nov. 16. Duck season previously had opened Nov. 11. Goose season had opened Oct. 26. Quail season also is in progress in all the Trans-Pecos counties, and in several others in the State. Quail season will open in the Possum Kingdom area Nov. 24, and in the remainder of the State Dec. 1.

Although the dove season in the North Zone ended Oct. 30, it will remain open in the South Zone through Dec. 5. Most of the South Zone area reports a bountiful supply, but with deer and turkey season open most of the shooters are turning to the larger game.

Although hunters report seeing many ducks and geese, warm weather has been a barrier to successful hunting in many areas. There hasn't been enough cold weather as yet to bring them down to decoys, and there is so much water on the ground both the ducks and geese are badly scattered.

A number of seasonal wardens have been added over the State, and every effort will be made to reduce illegal kills, according to Dodgen.

Solicitations In Behalf of Veterans Condemned By VA

Door-to-door solicitors implying they represent the Veterans Administration or have the endorsement of the VA for a product are acting without permission or authority.

This statement was issued today by O. J. Mims, manager of the VA Regional Office at Waco, Texas, in response to inquiries from individuals and groups seeking verification of verbal statements made by agents soliciting subscriptions or funds, or selling products in behalf of veterans.

"The VA does not endorse any product, project or commercial endeavor for the profit of individuals, organizations," Mims said.

Winters FFA Teams Place High In Dist. Leadership Contest

Winters FFA Chapter entered six teams in the Coleman District FFA Leadership contests held Tuesday. Lon McDonald and Leland Robinson accompanied the boys.

The Senior Chapter Conducting team was composed of John Jackson, Jeryl Priddy, Pat Pritchard, Connie Gibbs, Cecil Sudduth, Robert Marks, Jerry Frierson, Alvis Jackson and Eugene Mathis. This team won first place.

The Junior Chapter Conducting team, which also won first place, was made up of Rickey Boles, Mike Mitchell, Louis Simpson, Ronald Colburn, Scotty Belew, Steve Grissom, Tommy Burton and Joel Butts.

The Senior Farm Skills team, composed of Jim Shook, Carlton Parks and Donnie Gibbs won second. The Junior Farm Skills boys were Richard McMillan, Mike Briley, and Donald Fulton. This team placed third.

The Greenhand quiz team won third and was composed of Glen Awalt, Charles Kraatz, Neil Brown and Alton Butts. The Radio team, composed of Kenneth Crowe, William Grissom and Joe Yocham, won fifth place.

There are fifteen chapters in the Coleman district.

Senior and Junior Conducting teams will represent Winters FFA and the Coleman District in the Area 4 contest to be held in Stephenville December 2-3.

IN SAN ANGELO

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wetzel left Tuesday for San Angelo where they will spend the Thanksgiving holidays visiting in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zentner.

When Stalin died in 1953, 200 million Soviet citizens were speaking 125 different languages.

Grass Growing Season Over

"These frosty mornings should make us realize that our grass growing season is about over," states Bill Minenmayer, Supervisor for the Runnels Soil Conservation District. "Yes! it's a good time for ranchers to make range inventories," says Cecil Drake of the local Soil Conservation Service.

A range inventory is a means of gathering unbiased facts. These facts should cover: the range sites, the range condition, the range trend, and the degree of use of the range plants.

From this inventory the rancher can work up a sound plan of operations. He can determine the kind and number of stock the ranch will support. The needs of his land will become apparent. He may need brush control, pitting and range seeding. Often management practices such as deferred grazing, and proper use will do the job. The inventory will point out the need for cross fences and additional watering places. It will help the rancher determine the advisability of making improvements.

If you need help, call at your local SCS office. Technicians will be glad to assist you.
