"Outsider" Torpedoed City's Budget Hearing

The problem of adopting a budget for the operation of the City of Winters during the fiscal year 1961-62 this week was not much closer to solution, following a public meeting called by the City Council to discuss an estimated budget for the period.

The estimated budget, worked out by the mayor and heads of different City departments and members of the council, was to have been discussed fully, and interested citizens asked for suggestions regarding any possible changes. Following that, the revised estimated budget, if any revisions were made, was to have been reworked into a proposed budget for presentation to the City Council at a later date.

However, a word battle between Mayor Harvey Dale Jones and Henry Kellar of Fort Worth, a bond company representative, prevented full discussion and the meeting adjourned with members of the Council stating they wanted more time to study the estimated budget.

The skirmish began while Mayor Jones was reading the estimate of revenue and expenses for the Municipal Hospital. At this point Kellar interrupted the Mayor to begin discussion on the estimated budget for the Water Department. The mayor asked the bond company representative to hold his question on the water department until the proper time, when that section of the budget was under discussion. Thereafter followed a give-and-take of words between Mayor Jones and Kellar, with others in the group breaking in from time to time. Kellar insisted on discussing the city's bonded indebtedness, and brought up the subject of a $129,000 piece of equipment for the city-owned electric light department, against which his company holds bonds.

A heated discussion followed, during which Kellar stated to the group that the method used to finance the equipment by issuing time warrants and later converting to bonds, was "illegal but everybody does it." To this statement the mayor stated that he was "not about to do anything illegal." (The electric equipment was financed and purchased under a previous administration.)

Kellar was finally told by the mayor and some members of the council that he could be assured that the city's bond obligations will be met.

The mayor said the next meeting of the City Council will be held next Monday night, and that the budget probably will be adopted at that time.

The estimated budget, as presented to the Council and the public, indicated that additional revenue would have to be found to keep the budget in balance.

Estimated revenue and expenses for the different departments are as follows:

Municipal Hospital — Revenue, $67,100.00; expenses, $77,309.00.
Light Plant—Revenue, $138,544.00; operating expense, $94,106.00; non-operating expense, bonds and interest, $27,410.
Water Dept.—Revenue, $54,830; disbursements, $50,035; sinking fund, $10,800.
General Fund — Total estimated income, taxes and services, $109,493.35; total expense and transfers to sinking fund, $121,629.07.
Mayor Jones told the audience of interested citizens that the light plant, and water department is now being charged for administrative, such as billing and other office work, done by the City Hall administrative force, whose salaries (Continued on last page)

ROGER BABSON SAYS

Land Is Still the Best Hedge Against Inflation Due to Growth in Population

Babson Park, Mass.— Properly located acreage should be the best hedge against inflation, owing to its limited amount and the growth in population. I spent two months last fall studying land in Europe (I am making no report now on the Latin and South American Countries or Canada.) As there was little interest in tourist travel in Europe during the winter, I have held these notes until now.

Ireland—The Emerald Isle

Owing to Great Britain's desire to break up all unproductive estates of available acreage, I know of no bargains in acreage in England—although raw acreage can be purchased in Scotland and in Wales. However, I have traveled 900 miles by automobile in Ireland. There are few industries in Ireland due to the lack of natural resources. The people are healthy, happy, and willing to work. The youth of Ireland—outside of the few large cities—are happy living on farms which they expect to inherit from their parents. As a result, very little of the good farming land is for sale in Ireland, even at high prices. Land which sells in Kansas for $100 per acre cannot be bought in Ireland for less than $400 per acre.

The mountain land in the western portion, which is good only for grazing sheep, can be bought for $10 or so per acre, depending upon its accessibility. Lakes and rivers abound in Ireland, which makes it good for pasturing. In fact, the acreage in Ireland may be divided into three groups: (1) Good farm land in the "Golden Midlands"; (2) Pasture land with good green grass but with not much depth of soil, which sells for about $150 per acre; and (3) rocky mountain land good only for sure-footed sheep and cattle, but preferably in the southern part near the ocean.

France, Italy, and Other Countries

The above comments as to prices regarding Ireland apply also to France, Switzerland, and Italy. No good acreage is available in Belgium, Holland, or West Germany. Not only is the fertile land there in production, but the farmers control the politics, tariffs, and even prices.

Italy, however, is fast becoming an industrial nation with waterpower and other natural resources. U. S. manufacturers should watch Italy and Switzerland (and also Japan), although these countries now have much unemployment.

Europe has natural resources, including navigable rivers, iron, coal, chemicals, and waterpower. It also has a climate which encourages people to work. Wages are fairly low and there is no scarcity of labor in most localities. This explains why so many American manufacturers are buying or building plants in Europe. Labor unions exist, but with the exception of those in France, are not now much of a handicap.

What About Spain?

My comments regarding the three classes of land in Ireland also apply to Spain. Spain has waterpower, both developed and undeveloped. It has coal, oil, and chemicals. Wages are low and the cost of living is reasonable. Industries are springing up in Spain and the climate is fair, for both workers and tourists. Perhaps as a foreign hedge against inflation I would now advise the purchase of well-located land in Spain, especially in the suburbs of Madrid, Toledo, Barcelona, and Valencia. The big real estate profits in Spain will take place in "Suburbia"—which is now just starting.

Of course, no one should invest in any foreign country without spending a month therein and seeing the land personally. Spain has several different kinds of terrain and climate—dry and wet, mountainous and fertile, cold and warm. Most of what I say about Spain also applies to Portugal. I advise the southern coastal portion of Spain. The west coastal country is warm in winter and may be compared to our Florida. Southwest of Barcelona toward Gibraltar there are several very attractive places. Given the same altitude, the temperature should grow warmer as one travels southwest from Barcelona or Madrid. Malaga is supposed to have the best all-around climate of any city in Spain.

Let me describe in some detail the area from Barcelona eastward to the French Riviera. One can reach Barcelona by steamship, or plane, or railroad train. From Barcelona to the French Border is about 75 miles. One can make the trip in 3 hours by automobile or in one hour by electric train. The first town which interested me was San Pedro. This is about 20 miles east of Barcelona and has a good beach with medium-priced hotels. The next was Plana on the Sea, which is rapidly developing somewhat like our New York Coney Island. The next point of interest is Lloret de Mar. These places are old towns with very narrow streets, while the sandy beaches for sunning and bathing are superb. All these places have numerous hotels at all prices.

A fourth place of interest is Tossa by the Sea. This place is more expensive than the others and now appeals only to gay young people who want to bathe or lie in the sun all day and dance all night! Furthermore, the highway between Lloret and Tossa is very winding, with over 20 dangerous hairpin turns. Those going from Barcelona to Tossa or beyond should take the electric railway and avoid these hairpin curves with great high cliffs on one side and 1000-foot drops on the other.

What Land To Buy

Now for the final and most important reason why I think good money could be made east of Barcelona by those who are willing to go there and live for a month and look carefully about. Here are three simple rules to follow: (1) Buy well-drained farm land between the highway and the ocean even if it is bisected by the electric railway. Insist that your land go down to the ocean. (2) Buy land now cultivated so that the rent which some reliable farmer will pay you will take care of the taxes, which means buy it through some reliable local banker or real estate agent. These rules apply to buying land for speculation in all of the above countries.

You will soon realize that situations exist for profit which I have not found in the suburbs of any large city in the world. From the time you leave San Pedro you will find small farms located all along the line-adjointing good residences. I cannot give you prices per acre because equally good producing soil appears to sell at entirely different prices. You must check up on a large number of such farm plots and then buy the cheapest; but insist on the above three conditions and, of course, get your land in a good neighborhood with good neighbors. This you can do only by living for one month between San Pedro and Lloret by the Sea.

YERN SANFORD
Lure retrieve isn't always the best way to fill a stringer. The fellow who whips out the retrieve and then retrieves it at less than supersonic speed is a guy who winds up getting most of his fish at the fish.

Important thing about lure fishing is to remember everything you did on a retrieve that produced a fish. Then just repeat the action. One thing for sure — you can't daydream when you're lure fishing and expect to score any great amount of success.
Only A few Lures Needed
Another thing about lures. You don't need a tackle box full of lures to catch fish. For proof of this, go out with some experienced guides. Note the contents of their tackle boxes.
Usually they'll have a wide assortment of hardware. But notice how few of these lures they actually use. They stick with a few old standbys and they catch fish.
That big assortment of hardware in the guide's box is just part of his business. His client might be one who believes in switching lures every few minutes. So the guide carries along a wide assortment to please the tastes of the customer.
But if the customer is wise he'll follow the guide's advice and stick with the old standbys that are cinch fish-getters in that area.
Best way to learn how to fish an area is to hire a guide for your first few trips. Your money will be well spent for you'll learn many tips and secrets from him.
Remember that a guide makes his living by finding fish for his customers. He's going to do everything in his power and use every trick at his command to see that you score.
Absorb some of his knowledge, and you can cut your waterhaul fishing trips to a minimum.

How Deep To Fish
Suppose you're fishing in water 10 feet deep and you want to determine the depth at which the fish are working. Try some experimenting.
Start off by working the lure near the surface. If you get no results, then determine how fast the lure sinks in the water.
To do this, measure out five feet of line—then drop the lure into the water. Count the number of seconds it takes for the lure to reach the five-foot depth.
Unless a lure is unusually heavy it will sink at a rate of about a foot a second.
Start counting as soon as it hits the water. Work the lure at different depths. Give each depth a good try before going to a new level.
Then, when you get a strike, remember the count that you used. Cast out and use the same count again.
You'll find yourself doing a lot of counting, but you'll also find yourself catching a lot of fish.
How long does it take to fish out a cast?
That depends on the type of lure used.
I've watched many an expert top-water - lure fisherman in action. I've seen them take as long as five minutes to fish out a cast. It's interesting to note that these fellows fish the lure all the way to the boat. Often I've seen them get a strike just 10 or 12 feet from the boat. Sometimes closer.
A cast is fished out much faster with a sinking lure fished at a constant depth.
There are times when a sinking lure can be worked dead slow and it will catch fish. It's called bottom-bumping.
The lure is tossed out and allowed to sink to the bottom. Then the angler twitches the rod tip and takes a few turns on the reel handle. This makes the lure hop off the bottom and swim a few feet before it sinks back to the bottom.
Fish Plastic Worms Slowly
Slowest of all lures are the lead-head plastic worms and eels.
When you use these, you really fish slow. First you let the lure sink to the bottom. Then you wait 10 or 15 seconds, twitch the rod tip and move the lure just a foot or so. After another 10 or 15 seconds you twitch the rod and move the lure again.
On a long cast, it might take as much as 10 minutes to work the lure all the way back to the boat. This is time-taking, but it's a deadly method of fishing for black bass. Often it will produce a strike when nothing else will.

Hiway Department Begins Anti-Litter Campaign in Texas

The Texas Highway Department recently launched a new slogan in its anti-litter campaign: "Be a neatnik, not a litterbug."

This plea comes from Texas Highway Department maintenance crews all over the state as they haul mountains of cans, bottles, paper, decaying food, and other litter from Texas highway right of way.

"Spring houseclean our Texas highways all year long by fighting that urge to toss litter from your car," they recommend.

Throwing litter on highways and roadways is prohibited by law. Last year 281 cases against litterthrowing were completed in Texas courts. Of this number, 269 were found guilty and were fined or punished by other means.

Highway maintenance men point out that litter is local for the main part, coming from resident litterbugs and not from out-of-staters or from phantom travelers from "up the road." Surveys reveal that the litterbug is a local person, possibly a civic-minded citizen in all other phases of his life, but he fails to see the multiplication factor when he tosses out an empty cigarette package, wad of paper, or soft-drink bottle. He would not toss these objects down in his own yard, or in a friend's yard; but he will thoughtlessly take over the highway as his own private trashbasket.

Other evidence of the "resident litterbug" is sometimes a can-and-bottle trail. Maintenance foremen report that the biggest dead-soldier tossouts are about a drink away (by car) from the nearest local emporium. Cost of removal has been estimated at one-half cent per can. Maintenance crews join poet Richard Armour in his hurry-up order to science for an edible beer can.

Maintenance men point out: No machine can pick up litter. It has to be hand-picked. That makes it an expensive operation. Last year the clean-up and mowing bill for 57,500 maintained miles of Texas highways totaled more than $7,000,000. This included picking up, hauling, and unloading rubbish. Another chore for maintenance men is removal of dead animals. Removal of rocks and rock piles. Wrecked cars must be hauled off. Advertising signs in the right of way must be taken down. Maintenance crews are also responsible for mowing the grass, removing brush, and keeping vegetation from the highway markers and guard posts.

A maintenance foreman explained, "We could do our mowing job so much quicker and save money if we didn't have to pick up all the cans, bottles, and litter before we start. A heap of litter hidden in the grass can wreck an expensive machine or an automobile. Cutting grass is more than just trying to keep a neat highway yard. Mowing reduces fire hazard and prevents spreading of weed seed to nearby farms. Tall grass and brush can also distort sight distances and result in expensive and tragic automobile smashups."

Texas Feed Grain Situation Reviewed

Texas corn and grain sorghum producers will soon have an opportunity to signify their intentions on whether or not to participate in the 1961 feed grain program. Base acreages and productivity indexes have been released on both corn and grain sorghum for the counties and county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation personnel are busy breaking these county figures down into bases and indexes for individual farms.

Individual producers will soon be receiving the figures for their farms and then the decisions of whether to participate or not must be made. No closing date has yet been set for the signing of contracts but it is expected shortly.

Now that most producers have had an opportunity to hear and study the provisions of the feed grain program, John McHaney, extension economist, believes a review of the overall feed grain situation might be helpful.

He says the average annual acreage of the four major U. S. feed grains has increased by only 4 percent from the 1951-53 period to the 1958-60 period but that the annual production has climbed by 36 percent. Carryover of feed grain in the U. S. has increased from 20 million tons in 1952 to an expected 80 million tons plus for the beginning of the 1961 marketing year, a 300 percent increase.

In Texas, farmers harvested 6,289,000 acres of sorghum grain in 1950 compared with approximately 8 million acres in 1960, an increase of 27 percent in acreage but a 92 percent increase in production.

He cites several reasons for this tremendous increase in production in Texas. They included the introduction of hybrids; almost complete mechanization of production, harvesting and handling; shifts in acreages due to allotments on other crops; and more efficient use of fertilizers and irrigation to boost acre yields.

McHaney says the new program is aimed at preventing a further buildup of the feed grain surplus and to reduce it if possible and also to reduce the costs of feed grain programs.

General Aid Bill Pass In Session

Representative O. C. Fisher has introduced a bill to provide federal aid to education. The bill is expected to pass in the next few days.

ing the issue. A house committee has approved a bill, and it will soon be debated.

This raises two major issues: First, is this federal intervention necessary, and, secondly, will it likely lead to federal control?

It is claimed by proponents that 600,000 classrooms are needed in the next 10 years. Opponents answer by pointing out that 69,000 classrooms have been built each year for the past five years. At that rate 690,000 more will be built in the next 10 years—without federal aid.

It is contended that school expenditures must double in the next

Cowboy Reunion In Stamford Set For July 1, 3 and 4

Almost $6,000 in cash prizes and awards will go to the real cowboys and cowgirls who take part in the Texas Cowboy Reunion in Stamford, July 1, 3 and 4. The largest amount will be paid in rodeo prizes of around $3,000 in cash, plus $700 in saddles and spurs.

In addition to the rodeo events, cash and award prizes will be made to sponsors contest, quarter horse show and western parade, where more than a thousand horses are expected to crowd Stamford streets, to bring back the sounds and memories of years past.

Reunion President Eugene Swenson says, "The Cowboy Reunion has the distinction of being the largest show of its kind in America—where only actual working cowboys and cowgirls take part and professionals are barred. In 1961, on July 1, 3 and 4, we are expecting the biggest western show in the 32-year history of the cowboy reunion, with the largest number of riding cowhands, and the biggest crowds. West Texas' working cowhands are just as capable today as they were years past, and we expect several records to be broken this year."

10 years. Can this be done without federal aid? The fact is that state and local outlays for support of schools have increased 2 1/2 times since 1950.

It is maintained that teachers' salaries must increase. But without federal assistance such salaries have increased 72 percent since 1950.

It is also claimed that the pupil-teacher ratio must be reduced. The fact is that the pupil-teacher ratio dropped from 27-1 to 22-1 since 1938.

Thus, it appears very clearly that without Uncle Sam's help the states and local communities have been doing very well in financing their schools, and can be expected to continue to do so.

If the Federal government begins a program of subsidizing teachers' salaries and classroom construction, naturally less effort will be made to meet the problem locally. And, just as sure as night follows the day, once begun, a federal aid program will lead eventually to federal control. It will come in the form of riders attached to appropriation bills in the future.

SAMSON displays his phenomenal strength! Victor Mature as the Biblical hero in Cecil B. DeMille's Paramount production, "Samson and Delilah," bests the giant Philistine wrestler. The Technicolor spectacle co-starring Hedy Lamarr, George Sangers, Angela Lansbury, Henry Wilcoxon, starts its re-run Sunday at the State Theatre.

"ELMER GANTRY"—The fiery evangelist of Sinclair Lewis' controversial novel, "Elmer Gantry," is played by Burt Lancaster in the film version, written and directed by Richard Brooks. The picture, filmed in Eastmancolor, will open Tuesday at the State Theatre.

MOVIES

"Walk Like a Dragon"
A Western with the accent more on romance, of a most unusual kind, than on riding herd on the usual bad men, will be offered movie fans beginning Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre when Paramount's "Walk Like a Dragon" arrives in town. The film stars Jack Lord, who is for the first time a hero in motion pictures, although he played such roles on the stage before coming to Hollywood; Japanese beauty, Nobu McCarthy, who plays an Oriental slave girl; the Hawaiian singer, James Shigeta, who has a dramatic part as a Chinese immigrant, who vies with Lord for the love of the slave girl; and singer-actor Mel Torme, as a psalm-quoting gunman.

"Samson and Delilah"
One of the great motion picture achievements of all time, Cecil B. DeMille's spectacular Paramount production in Technicolor, "Samson and Delilah," starring Victor Mature and Hedy Lamarr in the title roles, will begin Sunday and Monday, once again light up the screen at the State Theatre. Into "Samson and Delilah," which represents one of the major accomplishments in a career crowned with a record number of film classics, the master showman poured in generous quantities all the entertainment ingredients for which he was—and always will remain—so justly famous. Bearing the unmistakable, inimitable stamp of DeMille are the many spectacular and awe-inspiring scenes, so rich in color and lush in costume, scenes that drew paens of praise from public and critics alike when this tremendous saga of the Bible was first released.

"Elmer Gantry"
The highly controversial film version of Sinclair Lewis' best-selling novel, "Elmer Gantry," will open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the State Theatre, through United Artists release. Burt Lancaster and Jean Simmons are starred in "Elmer Gantry" with Dean Jagger, Shirley Jones, Patti Page and Arthur Kennedy. The film is a Burt Lancaster-Richard Brooks production in Eastmancolor. Lancaster portrays Elmer Gantry, the itinerant evangelist minister. Miss Simmons co-stars as Sister Sharon Falconer.

DOWPON controls cattails and problem grasses along ditches

A regular spraying program with DOWPON* puts an end to the continual expense and hard work of burning, chopping or cultivating Johnson or Bermuda grass out of crop lands and cattails out of ditches. In headlands and along fence lines, too, Dowpon eliminates grass—for it kills the deep roots as well as tops. Through cumulative action, this program becomes less costly each year. You'll find Dowpon cheaper than chlorates or borates, less messy than oiling. Simply mix Dowpon with water, and spray.

MODERN HUCK FINNS ON CRUISE—Four youths built this craft from a 16-foot Navy raft. They made it to navigate down the Columbia River from Portland, Ore., to Astoria, on the Pacific coast.

BULL BY THE TAIL—It isn't that they have anything against taking the bull by the horns down Mexico way. It just isn't sporting. This rider has galloped up in back of the bull, lifted him off the ground by his tail, and thrown him to the sand. A "gentlemen's sport," the exercise developed from an ancient method of halting cattle stampedes by "grounding" the lead bulls.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

We would like to express our most sincere appreciation and thanks to those who brought gifts of housekeeping goods to the shower for us in Wingate last Saturday night. The fire at our home on Wingate Route 1 last Tuesday morning destroyed everything we had, and your gestures as good neighbors fills our hearts with gratitude. Harvey E. Little Will Receive Journalism Degree

Harvey Edward Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Little, will receive his Bachelor of Journalism degree from the University of Texas on June 3, according to an announcement by J. Alton Burdine, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and Dewitt C. Reddick, Director of the School of Journalism.

A member of Sigma Delta Chi, Little was one of the group from the School of Journalism recognized at the recent Honors Day ceremonies. He also won the second place monetary award for work done on the Daily Texan, university newspaper, this year, and received the bronze award for service on the paper. Both of these awards were presented by the Texas Students Publications, Inc., at final affairs for Texan and Student Publications staff members.

The Winters senior was the student selected to cover the De-nauer visit to Texas for the University paper and joined members of the press for the helicopter flight to the LBJ ranch and the trip to Fredericksburg, in addition to covering affairs in Austin.

During the summer of 1960, Little served as interne on The Stamford American. While in high school he covered sports and other events for The Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Little will go to Austin to attend commencement exercises, and will be joined there by their other son, Bill, who is a freshman in the University.

Pipe Line To Atlas Base Being Finished

Work on laying the water pipe line from Winters City Lake to the Atlas missile site east of town is being completed this week, according to word from city hall.

The pipe line will furnish water for use by the U. S. Air Force at the missile site. The Air Force will build and maintain its own purification system at the base.

The City of Winters entered into a contract with the Air Force to build the pipe line and furnish water to the fence. Cost of building the line will be more than $17,000, to be paid to the City by the Air Force.

When the line is in operation, the City will charge the Air Force for water drawn from the lake, at a rate of 30 cents per thousand gallons, with a monthly minimum of $50.00.

Daily requirements for the missile base has been estimated at about 14,000 gallons, with peak load reaching 15 gallons per minute, it was said.

WHIP IT UP!

To make egg-whites whip quicker, add a pinch of salt. Leukemia—cancer of the blood-forming tissues — has increased sharply in men over 60. The American Cancer Society is spending large sums of money for research on this still fatal form of the disease.

VD ON THE UPSWING

After a few years' decline, venereal disease has made a shocking comeback in this country, particularly among teen-agers, according to the March Readers' Digest. In the past two years alone, increases of up to 200 per cent have been reported in Boston, Houston, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago and Washington, D. C.; New Orleans had an 818 per cent increase in four years. There is evidence that wonder drugs may be losing their effectiveness against the venereal organisms.

life. The principle implied in His statement may be observed in every area of our living.

"When Fritz Kreisler, the Austrian musician, took up the violin with seriousness after having abandoned it for attempts at medicine and military life, he spent long hours in practice. When he reappeared on the stage, it was obvious that he was master of the violin. To achieve such mastery, Kreisler had to discard many delights and pursuits. There were rewards, of course, that made the effort worthwhile. Kreisler, as a would-be violinist, knew frustration; but as a master musician he played with great freedom and joy."

Legislature Nears Final Days With Tax Problem Far From Settled

VERN SANFORD
Press Association

There goes into the final session of the legislature with the hope of a photo finish. Legislators are expected to meet in the final days of the session.

Legislators are expected to meet in the final days of the session. Legislators are expected to meet in the final days of the session.

2 percent sales tax as the major revenue source. Gov. Price Daniel says, in effect, that he doesn't want to be hard to live with but he isn't going to back down now on his 25-year anti-sales tax stand.

Senators re-worked the two major tax bills sent them by the House — the 2 percent sales tax and the all-purpose "loophole bill" — into a combination package. In the package was a 2 percent sales tax on items of 25 cents and more (with exemptions on food, drugs, etc.) an increase in the natural gas production tax from 7 percent to 8 percent, and a hike in the corporate franchise tax. They also jacked up the driver's license fee from $2 to $3.

Senate sponsors estimate that it would raise $327,000,000 in the next two years.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris made an effort to get the senate to substitute a bill favored by the governor that would limit new general sales taxes to items costing $10 or more. It also would have levied selective taxes on motor tools, and appliances, building materials, stock sales, restaurant meals, etc.

Senate turned down the governor's substitute, 17 to 14, then gave final passage to its own bill, 19 to 12.

LOAN BILL DELAYED

Tax matters delayed Senate progress on legislation to regulate the small loan industry.

A re-worked version of the loan bill passed by the House was prepared by a special subcommittee of the Senate State Affairs Committee. In general, the Senate subcommittee's bill appears to allow for higher charges on smaller loans and lower charges on larger loans. It sets up a schedule of "service charges" that are not to be considered interest.

Whatever the outcome, hopes for passing a loan bill that will satisfy interested groups are nil. If charges are low, the bill will be criticized for "putting loan companies out of business so poor people can't borrow money." If rates are high, it "legalizes the sharks."

DRIVER LAW TIGHTENED

House passed on second reading a bill that would put more pressure on drivers who do not carry liability insurance or have the means to pay for an accident.

Reps. Ben Lewis of Dallas and Robert Fairchild of Center, sponsors, pointed out that only about 60 percent of Texas drivers carry insurance.

Among provisions of the proposed bill is one that would cause a driver to lose his license if convicted of two moving traffic violations within a year and he did not carry insurance.

REDISTRICTING APPROVED

Despite disappointments and conflicts, a legislative redistricting bill has passed both House and Senate.

Sen. Jep Fuller carried on a nine-hour filibuster against the Senate portion of the bill. Fuller protested that Jefferson County (Beaumont-Port Arthur) has more than enough population to be a one-county district. In the bill Jefferson is placed in a district with Orange County, as before.

Nor is all good cheer in the House where a number of members face the prospect of running against each other. Many rural areas with dwindling populations were enlarged or combined with other districts. Rep. Will Ehrle of Childress, who is placed in the same district with veteran Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah, has announced that he has given up the idea of running for speaker next term.

Rangeland when reseeded to adapted grasses like the bluestem shown will protect the soil from wind and water erosion and also produce large amounts of high quality grazing.

CLUB REGULATION PASSED

A bill to license and regulate private clubs serving liquor by the drink gained final House passage.

Rep. Tom James of Dallas, sponsor, declared it was a law enforcement measure needed by the Liquor Control Board in order to halt saloons operating in the guise of private clubs. Opponents declared it would legalize liquor by the drink.

Under the bill, clubs would pay annual license fees ranging from $500 to $10,000. James noted it would bring in some $2,500,000 a year.

"SIT-INS" ARE TARGET
A bill aimed at outlawing "sit-ins" and "stand-ins" has received preliminary House approval.

Rep. Lloyd Martin of Norman is author of the bill. It would provide a fine of $200 for persons who refuse to leave a business establishment after being asked to do so.

TAX REFUND ORDERED

State must return to several Dallas liquor stores $89,246 in liquor taxes paid under protest, says the State Supreme Court.

These are taxes paid by the stores on liquor in stock before the effective date of an increased tax passed by the Legislature in 1959.

Not involved in this suit is another $73,937 in liquor taxes paid under protest under the same circumstances.

DPS EXAMS ANNOUNCED

Young men between 21 and 35 may make application through June 9 to attend the next school for state highway patrolmen. Department of Public Safety has announced that men meeting the patrol's standards will take exams in several cities June 13, 14 and 15. Prospective applicants may write to the Department of Public Safety at Austin for information.

FLOOD OF BILLS

With the clock running out on this session, a large volume of bills is being moved at a swifter pace. Riding in the flood are bills that would:

1. Take the University of Houston into a state-supported college system. Bill finally passed the Senate after nearly a month of delays, but must be passed again in the House.

2. Provide up to $12 a month for medical, hospital and nursing care for persons on the state welfare rolls. Passed by Senate.

3. Recodify the school laws and cut the number of hours future teachers must spend in courses on how to teach. Passed by the House.

4. Allow for payment of state aid to school districts on the basis of the present year's attendance rather than the previous year's. Passed by the Senate.

5. Outlaw sale of obscene pictures, books, magazines or photograph records. Passed by House. Penalty for violation would be a fine up to $2,500, a prison term up to two years or both.

6. Increase the annual barber's license fee from $5 to $10 and set up higher requirements for barber colleges. Passed by House.

7. Allow the Veterans Land Board to sell forfeited lands to persons other than veterans. This is a constitutional amendment and would have to be voted on by the people. Sponsors said the measure was aimed at providing a way for the state to get back money involved in the "block deals" that erupted into the "land scandals." Passed by Senate.

8. Require registration of pest extermination services with the State Agriculture Commissioner. Given preliminary Senate passage.

9. Reorganize the State Water Board as the Texas Water Commission with a three-man board for policy making and a chief engineer to administer the department. Passed by the House.

10. Set filing fees for candidates for state office in general or special elections at 5 percent of a year's salary. Passed by House.

11. Require cities whose firemen are in the state pension plan to contribute more to the pension fund. Given preliminary House passage.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Railroad Commission has ordered the present eight-day production pattern for the oil industry continued through June. But since June has only 30 days, compared to 31 in May, the daily allowable for June will be up by 48,013 barrels a day for a daily flow of 2,702,699 barrels.

LEFT FRIDAY

Mrs. Tena Meek of Freeport, Ill., who has been spending the winter and spring months at 301-1-2 South Arlington in Winters, left Friday for Grand Canyon and Page, Ariz., to visit with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Meek and family before returning to her home in Illinois. She had been visiting with her brothers, the Wesleys, her sisters, Mrs. Dick Kruse and Mrs. Robert Gerhart, and other relatives and friends while in Winters.

TO RECEIVE DEGREE

Lloyd B. Hester of Winters is among 185 graduate and undergraduate students who will receive degrees at Hardin-Simmons University at commencement exercises at 10 a. m. May 29. Hester will receive a bachelor of arts degree.

Texas Employment Commission has launched a "hire now" drive in an effort to take up the slack in the Texas labor supply. Employment in Texas has increased in the past few weeks, says a TEC spokesman, but is still lagging behind this period last year.

Billy D. Vinson Recently Promoted To Specialist Four

HOW TO INVEST TEN MILLION DOLLARS

These recent photographs show construction progress on the new generating station at Oak Creek Lake, and some of the massive equipment to be used in it. Huge size of the equipment can be seen by comparison with the flat cars which transported it.

Symbol of the Future

Any way you look at it, an investment of $10 million in future growth is evidence that we are convinced this growth is coming.

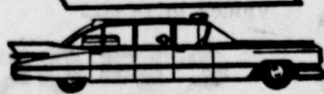

The new generating station at Oak Creek Lake—coming in excess of that figure—is showing rapid construction progress.

But it is only one phase of WTU's long range expansion plans. Still another such station is on the drawing boards, as well as major additions to our transmission and distribution system.

This is the way we are preparing for coming growth in our service area—from the Red River to the Rio Grande. It is a SYMBOL OF THE FUTURE in the Center of the Southwest.

Texas fishing clubs are gaining in popularity in Texas.

Seldom does a day pass without some new fishing club being formed in the Lone Star State. Being a "joiner" we're highly in favor of them. It's our contention that fellowship alone is worth the dues of any organization, not to mention the tips that one receives from fellow members.

Speaking of TIPS—the latest organization we have become affiliated with is known as TIPS. Spelled out it's Texas Invertebrate Piscatorial Sportsmen. Except for yours truly it is composed of real top-flight fishermen . . . every one of them.

Head man is Billy Disch of Austin. Billy earned quite a reputation from the Gulf Coast to the Red River and from Caddo Lake to the Rio Grande, for his bass catching abilities.

Second in command is Jim Roddie of Austin. If you think he's not good then just consider the fact that he has caught three eight pound black bass with jig and eel during the past twelve months. That's something few fishermen do once in a lifetime. In fact just one eight pound catch in a lifetime would thrill this scribe.

But I'm getting off the track. What I want to do is tell you about this bass fishing club that they call TIPS—namely Texas Invertebrate Piscatorial Sportsmen.

Top man is not called president. He's referred to as Large Mouth. Second in command is Small Mouth.

Other officers are a treasurer, better known as the Hook; and a secretary who is referred to as the Line.

TIP's sergeant at arms is designated as The Sinker.

All other members are Vice Presidents!

So if you want to be vice president of something, organize a fishing club like TIPS. In the case of TIPS it's the lowest office you can hold.

Kinda clever club, eh? But you haven't heard everything.

Five bucks gets you into the club. That's the application fee. But it takes even less to get you out. Members meet evenings, every other Wednesday. Miss three straight months of meetings, without an "excuse" and you're no longer a TIPster.

And by the way that's one of the main purposes of the organization—passing on your fishing tips to fellow members.

Dues? There are none. And there won't be any until and unless the club needs more money.

What do they do besides meet and talk shop, or hear specialists discuss bass, bass habitats, and bass catching methods? They hold contests!

With no dues income, how do they purchase prizes to award to the top fisherman and to the top fishing teams? They charge an entrance fee in each fishing contest. Such events are held every other month and on a different lake each time.

Entry fee is determined largely by the number who sign in. They just divide the cost of the plaques by the number of entrants. Works out fine! If a fellow signs up to fish and fails to show, he sacrifices his entry fee. If he doesn't sign up by a predetermined date he can't enter. It's that simple.

Like to know something about the constitution and by-laws of TIPS? Well, the Preamble reads like this:

"We the bass fishermen of Austin, Texas, in order to form a more perfect fishing club, establish fellowship, ensure conversation, provide a means of collaboration, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of bass fishing to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the Texas Invertebrate Piscatorial Sportsmen."

Sounds slightly familiar, doesn't it? Membership in the club is limited. Each charter member is permitted to sponsor another member; then each new member sponsors another new member until the maximum of 40 is reached.

Every candidate must be approved by the membership committee, then endorsed by the organization as a whole, at an official meeting of the group. When the full quota of members is reached no new member may be added until a regular member drops out or is dropped for non-payment of dues.

As a bass fisherman you will be interested in the fact that each member of TIPS is supplied with a record book in which he lists his catch. The record page calls not only for the size of his bass—its length and girth and weight—but also exactly where it was caught, on what specific lake, at what depth, and on what lure. Also requested is information as to the time of day, weather conditions, wind conditions, and the tempera-

EYES and VISION

By A. L. SPERRY, O. D.
Director Public Education
Texas Optometric Association

Did you know? That today's near-point tasks often are a cause of visual problems because your eyes were designed by nature for out-of-door distance seeing?

Many people consider their eyes as very common, ordinary, and simple bits of machinery—if you can judge by the care and treatment they give them.

This is true because we are prone to think too lightly of those things which we have always had—like the millionaire who shows his contempt for the money he inherited by lighting his cigar with a $100 bill.

It may come as a surprise to the reader to learn the fact that of all the complex organs forming and controlling his body his eyes are the most complicated.

Some of you may say that you don't believe this is true since you have always heard that the brain is the most complicated and least understood part of the body. And you are absolutely right! The eye is actually a part of the brain.

The Optic Nerve is actually not a true nerve at all but a brain fiber tract—a group of nerve fibers connecting one part of the brain with another.

There are many things not completely understood about the eye and its functions. To name a few: COLOR VISION—there are several theories on the causes but none proven and no generally effective treatment for color blindness.

NEAR SIGHTEDNESS—several theories on the causes but none proven and no proven treatment to stop its progression or cure it. Treatment with contact lenses is the latest and seemingly best method, but all the facts are still not known about this method of treatment and there is still much pro and con discussion among professional men.

SENILE CATARACT—we know what it is but not what causes it and there is no treatment other than surgical removal after it has been allowed to form.

GLAUCOMA—increased pressure inside the eyeball (glaucoma) is the largest single cause of permanent blindness. The exact cause of the condition is still largely unknown.

CROSS-EYES—anyone can see what happens, but there is still much speculation on why it happens at all and why to some people and not to others. It is not, in the majority of cases, a "muscle weakness" as is so commonly believed by the layman. It is usually found associated with either considerable farsightedness, nearsightedness, or astigmatism and correction of these conditions with proper glasses followed by orthoptics treatments (visual training) is usually successful if started as soon as condition is noticed. Surgery AND glasses AND orthoptics may all be necessary in some cases but surgery is usually will be able to advise you on the best course of treatment according to the individual case.

There are many other things about the eye which are not fully understood at the present. Research is constantly in progress so that all may have and keep the good vision which is so necessary to our daily living.

CHEMICAL SOLIDIFIES WATER

A new chemical, AM-9, transforms a glass of water into a rubbery, translucent plug, and a beaker of sand into what looks like a cylinder of cement. The water and sand molecules actually are trapped in a tangle of long, snake-like molecules of which AM-9 is composed. The developer of the compound, American Cyanamid, predicts that AM-9 will make mine or tunnel cave-ins, and unwanted water seepage phenomena of the past.

"Blue panic continues to be a highly desirable pasture plant in the Runnels Soil Conservation District," states Pete Giesecke, member of the board of the district.

In 1949 Hoffman graduated from Texas A. and M. College with a bachelor of science degree in range management. He went to work for the Soil Conservation Service at Fredericksburg as a Range Conservationist. He moved from Johnson City to Ballinger in July of 1951.

Cecil L. Drake, Soil Conservationist, started work with the Soil Conservation Service July 1, 1944. His job is to give technical assistance to farmers and ranchers in planning and applying a conservation program. Drake graduated from Texas A. and M. College in 1929 with a Bachelor of Science degree in animal husbandry. While working for the Soil Conservation Service, Drake has been located at Round Rock, Cotulla, Bandera and Mertzon. He has also worked in the capacity of Range Conservationist and Work Unit Conservationist.

James A. Glynn, Soil Conservationist, graduated from Sul Ross College in 1957 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Range Animal Husbandry. He started to work for the Soil Conservation Service at Mertzon and was transferred to Ballinger in March 1958. His job is to give technical assistance to farmers and ranchers in planning and applying a conservation program.

Lloyd J. Barnhill, soil scientist, received a Bachelor of Science degree from Texas A. and M. College January 17, 1958, in Agronomy. He started work with the Soil Conservation Service at Ballinger on January 27, 1958. Barnhill makes standard soil surveys. The surveys give the texture, depth, slope and erosion damage of the soil.

Glen Green, engineering aid, has been working for the Soil Conservation Service since February of 1943. While working for the Soil Conservation Service, Green has been located at Floydada, Amarillo and San Angelo. His job is to assist farmers and ranchers with the application of conservation practices.

Bob Pete Boothe, a part-time employee, assists farmers apply conservation practices. So these men can better serve you, the Service keeps them up-to-date by giving them frequent training by informing them on the latest scientific discoveries arising from soil, water and plant conservation research, and new developments learned by practical field experience.

turned to the soil, resulting in improved soil condition. Many farmers and ranchers are using this grass to supplement their native grassland.

Blue panic has proven highly successful on rootplowed areas. Three to four pounds per acre broadcast behind rootplows have resulted in good stands.

Where possible, blue panic should be seeded in a well prepared firm seedbed. Place seed on top of the bed and press into the soil with some type of press wheel. Mechanical covering is usually excessive and often results in poor stands. Two pounds of seed per acre in 40 inch rows will give good stands.

Waterways are often needed to conduct water to a safe outlet without erosion," says Kirby Robinson, Chairman of the Runnels Soil Conservation District.

These waterways are needed to carry outside water through cropland fields, or carry water discharging from diversion terraces, stated James Glynn of the local Soil Conservation Service. He says waterways should be established in protected vegetation before outside water is diverted into them. The type of vegetation used should depend upon the amount of runoff and the type of soil.

Glynn says that waterways are usually the most productive area of the field because of receiving extra water. Also waterways are usually located in natural depressions where the slope is flatter and the soil is deeper.

What you have said and forgotten is precisely what will be recalled next day by those who were present.

The mayor has indicated he would recommend that the tax valuation be increased 10 percent of their actual value to raise the money to budget.

Last year total property taxes here amounted to $1 million. The tax rate of $100 valuation is lowered by state law. It is estimated that the increase will bring the city between $8,000 in additional revenue.

The amount which the city is to raise to pay principal on bonds increases and it was pointed out, and it is not to be caught at a "without the money to pay obligations, money must come from somewhere."

A loafer sees to it that he gets out of practice.
