Mrs. Robert Parramore and two children, Sally 2, and John 4, left Monday for Walsall, England where they will spend two months visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pinson. They flew from Dallas to New York then to London.

This is the first time she has been back to England since arriving in Winters in 1946 shortly after her marriage to Robert Parramore in 1945. Mrs. Parramore, the former Edna Pinson, was employed as a stenographer with a wholesale firm and was attending night school prior to her marriage.

Mrs. Parramore and children will also visit her sisters in Kent and Birmingham and her brother in Walsall.

Mr. Parramore and the couple's other two sons, Robert, Jr., 14, and Jim, 9, accompanied them to Dallas.

Rodeo-Time Only Two Weeks Away

With scarcely two weeks remaining before Winters' big 15th Annual Rodeo, June 22, 23 and 24, a few entries have already come in for several of the events, John Norman, who is president of the rodeo association said this week.

Also, contracts have been made with two rodeo clowns, from Henrietta, who will work during the three nights of the big show. Electric eye equipment, to be used for all time events, will be furnished by Mark Griffin of Albany, who has worked the Winters show in past years. The public address system will be furnished by Mrs. Baird's Bakeries.

Rex Felker, well-known rodeo announcer in this area, will again be the announcer for the Winters show.

Frederic Poe, formerly of Winters but now living in Midland, will come to Winters to act as rodeo secretary again this year. The secretary's office will be in the chamber of commerce building, and all entries will be made at that office.

Invitations have been extended to riding clubs throughout the area to attend the rodeo and take part in the two big parades and the grand entry each night of the show. Response from riding clubs has been enthusiastic, Norman said.

Parades will be staged on Fri-

Grain Harvest Stalled By Heavy Rains

Harvest of small grain in the Winters area was brought to a quick halt by heavy rainfall and hail over the past weekend. Hail Sunday night completely destroyed some of the grain in the area, and the rains kept the combines out of the field the first of the week.

Some of the grain was blown down, but damage was estimated as slight in the areas not hit by hail, and it was expected that most of it can be harvested.

It has been estimated that this year's grain crop is 75 percent out, with hail accounting for about 10 percent.

Winters elevators reported that 146,500 bushels of wheat, 32,000 bushels of barley, and 107,000 bushels of oats had been brought in.

Stormy Weather Causes Damage

Weather went on a rampage Sunday night, sending sheets of rain and hail, driven by hurricane force winds, to damage crops in the area, knock out power lines in Winters and leave a path of some destruction in its wake.

The storm, which lasted more than an hour, left broken tree limbs, uprooted trees and a few damaged buildings. Hail cut down crops in a strip from the Drasco community, east to the Crews community. Several fields of ripened grain were ruined in that area, and row crops which had been up and growing were slashed to the ground.

Recently-planted cotton and milo will have to be re-planted in most of the county, County Agent C. T. Parker said Wednesday, because of the heavy force of the rain. However, row crops which were up received a lesser amount of damage, in the areas where the hail did not fall.

Reports also indicate that the wheat which was not directly in the path of the hail received little damage, except perhaps to some fields of easily-shattered grain. Some sources had estimated that the grain was about 65 percent harvested in the entire area, and that the hail ruined about 10 percent of the year's crop of wheat.

Sunday night's rain measured 2.8 inches. This was on top of Saturday night's rainfall of .7 in. Winters was directly in the path of the high winds and rain, but received little if any hail. Tree limbs were broken off in all areas of town, and several large trees were blown down. One big tree in front of the city light plant was uprooted, and another tree on the first block west of the railroad on State Street was blown down. A big hackberry tree at the Jobe residence on South Church street was uprooted. The wind twisted the top of a big mesquite tree next to the driveway at the Roger Robinson residence, and numerous trees and big limbs all over town were blown down.

Part of the roof of the mill building at Alderman-Cave Milling and Grain Co. was blown off. The wind sent the tin and timber of the roof across the street where it hit another building, doing some damage. Part of the mill roof apparently hit a power pole on the south side of the street, snapping it.

No great amount of damage was done to power lines throughout Winters, but the power was off for several hours. West Texas Utilities Co. reported that no lines or poles were down, but that some of their transformer fuses had been blown. The City Light department reported that their lines received extensive damage where trees hit lines and the high winds sent the wires together.

Outside the city, there was some damage reported from the high winds. A tool shed was demolished on the Bill Minzenmayer farm west of Winters.

Although many farmers in the hail-stricken strip suffered complete losses of crops, the heavy rains sent much-needed water into stock tanks.

Both Winters lakes were filled, and water went over the spillways. No damage to either lake was reported. W. D. Waggoner, city water department engineer, said that the new Winters lake is filled to capacity, with 3057 acre feet of water.

Melvin Mapes, County Commissioner, said that very little damage was experienced on county roads in his precinct. There was some loss of gravel and caliche where creeks flowed over the roads, but that damage was light, he said.

County Agent Parker said that there was a good bit of flooding on Bluff and Elm Creeks, but that flooding damage on Valley Creek was minor.

ROGER BABSON SAYS

'Electronic Stocks' May Be Headed For Big Troubles for Some Companies

Babson Park, Mass. At one time electric light and power stocks were as popular as electronic stocks are today. The favorite was Electric Bond and Share, which shot way up in the stock-market boom of the 1920's and then plummeted down to practically nothing. There were so many similar cases that President Franklin Roosevelt had Congress pass legislation to take the "water" out of these stocks and dissolve electric utility holding companies.

Why Securities and Exchange Commission

It was at this time that the Securities and Exchange Commission was formed, with President Kennedy's father as Chairman. And it was as a result of this housecleaning that Electric Bond and Share dropped almost out of sight! In fact, instead of a "stock dividend" there was a "reverse split" which forced stock owners' shareholdings virtually out of existence. I fear that the present exaggerated craze over "electronics" may later run into similar troubles for some of the companies.

Electric light and power stocks have since become both safe and popular. This has been due to the growth in population and also to the numerous new uses for electricity in every home, store, and factory. Furthermore, such public plants as the Tennessee Valley Authority's and the semi-publically owned plants of the Northwest have served to keep rates from becoming too high and hence retarding growth. Electric rates are the lowest in history and consumption per family has increased 8 times. I believe that much more growth is ahead with the greatly expanded use of electricity for heating and air conditioning.

First Mortgage Bonds and Preferreds

The safest electric utility securities for the small or large investor to buy today are the first mortgage bonds of an electric light and power company. Your local bank will be glad to select such a bond for you. Otherwise, purchase from your broker such a bond issued by the company which sends you your bill each month! You should then get a yield of about 4 1/2 per cent. You must, of course, pay regular taxes on the income from the bonds and for other securities of an electric company (with a few exceptions).

In addition to the bonds, most electric companies issue both preferred and common stock. The preferred stock carries a fixed dividend, if earned, which usually yields over 5 per cent. Be sure that any preferred which you buy is "cumulative" and, if possible, "non-callable." A cumulative stock means that if the dividend is not paid in any year, it must later be made up and surely paid before the common stockholders get a penny. "Non-callable" means that the company cannot call in the stock and pay you off for it if money rates go down. A "callable" preferred is a case of "heads or tails"—with the odds in favor of the company. If the stock is "callable" and money rates go down, the company pays you off; but if money rates go up, the company leaves you "holding the bag," so to speak. Other things being equal, you can buy the preferred of your local company.

Electric Utility Common Stocks

If you are young and patient, the best investment may be in the common stock of your electric power company. This has no fixed or cumulative dividend; but you are entitled to all the earnings (less proper reserves) after the fixed interest is paid on the bonds and the accumulated interest is paid on the preferred stock. Such common stocks are "growth" stocks. They do not yield much income when you buy them; but the income should increase every year with the growth of the population and the prosperity of the country.

There is an exception to all rules, and it may now be too early to sell and take your profits on electronic stocks and reinvest in electric power stocks. Much depends upon the international situation. The chief present customer of the electronic companies is the U. S. Government. Electronic devices are an important part of every missile, and hence of our defense expenditures. But this wild spending race cannot contin-

■ Gee! ■ Little did we know when we introduced the Corvair Monza last year that we were starting a thing. We just thought it would be pleasant if you could buy a car that you, the driver, like to want to be treated. ■ Bucket seats, of course, the most obvious evidence of our desire to please. But they're not the most important thing. No. What's really vital is the a Monza handles—something nobody in the U.S. yet copied. Or can copy, because Corvair is the rear-engined car made in this country, and you know that means: steering light, thistledown. (You even get this one more easily, it's so briskly.) Beautifully paced braking—the car stays level even under panic braking, which we hope you never have to do. Traction and more traction, so you don't become a stick-in-the-mud. The kind of cornering that's sheer joy to experience. ■ You get more fully independent suspension that blots out road shocks before they can reach you. Clean, crisp styling. ### Anti-Communism Subject of Mayor's Talk To Auxiliary

Mayor Harvey Dale Jones spoke on anti-communism at the regular meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Monday evening at the post home. Miss Nevell Fisher, president, presided for the meeting.

In defining communism, Mayor Jones said "Communism is a social system that puts property, capital and industry under the control of a dictatorship." He also told the ladies that the Supreme Court dealt the American communist party a hard blow by the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act under which the U. S. Communist party was ordered to register with the Justice Department as a tool of Moscow, list its officers and members and give an annual financial accounting; the knowing membership clause of the 1940 Smith Anti-Communism Act makes it a crime to be a communist with awareness the party advocates overthrow of the government by force and violence. In conclusion, Mayor Jones conducted a quiz program for the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Aaron Wells, conductress, escorted Mayor Jones into the meeting.

Mrs. W. L. Collins gave a report on the Buddy Poppy Sale recently held by the VFW and Auxiliary and on community service. She also announced that the Senior Citizen program will meet each Thursday at 2 p.m.

The group voted to send the Veterans Hospital in Big Spring a check for $5.00 per month to be earmarked "fund for indigent veterans." A rehabilitation report was given with reports of clothing and food being given to needy families. A report was also given that eight dozen bandages had been stored at the chamber of commerce office for the Cancer Crusade in Winters.

Four Flexible Foods On Plentiful List

Flexibility, zest and nutrition are important attributes of the four food items on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's June list of plentiful foods, reports the Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A. and M. College.

Milk and all dairy foods head the list, co-starring with broiler-fryers. Other plentifuls include potatoes and a host of spring vegetables—especially sweetcorn, onions, cabbage, radishes, squash and tomatoes.

The supply situation may vary from market to market, the Service says, but these items are expected to be plentiful all month in most areas. Consumers usually find it to their advantage to shop the "Plentiful Foods Route." The foods are among those most likely to be featured in weekend specials at many grocery stores.

June Dairy Month is a good time to serve this delicious and nourishing family of foods often. Supplies are at their seasonal peak and any of the many dairy foods transform ordinary meals into delightful spring repasts. The whole run of dairy foods is plentiful—whole milk, evaporated, dry, condensed or skim milks, flavored milk, buttermilk; cheeses of all kinds; sour cream, table cream or whipping cream; butter, and ice cream.

The June supply of broiler-fryers is expected to be around 25 percent larger than a year ago. Prices are budget-low. Stocks of both new and old-crop potatoes invite wide use of this staple. And spring gardens are producing fresh vegetables in abundance these days. They're superb menu brighteners.

GUN CLEANING CAUTION

When coming in from a hunt on a cold day, don't sit down at once to clean, oil and put away your gun.

Wait until after supper so the gun will have time to warm up to room temperature. This will prevent moisture from collecting on the cold metal, causing it to rust later.

Joe has just received his degree from Texas A and M College and is one of 55 rural young people from 33 states leaving the U. S. this month for assignments under the International Farm Youth Exchange program. He was an outstanding Cottle county 4-H Club member for several years prior to his enrollment in college.

The orientation program which he has completed included lectures and discussions on the history and culture of his host country as well as briefings on American customs, traditions and policies. Officials of the U. S. Departments of Agriculture and State, the host countries' embassies, and the National 4-H Club Foundation conducted the orientation.

IFYE is a 4-H Club people-to-people program conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service. Recently it has attracted widespread attention as a pioneer youth exchange program, some phases of which have served as a model for the proposed U. S. Peace Corps. IFYE is not a government program but is privately financed by 4-H Clubs, business and industrial firms, foundations and individuals.

Exchanges from the countries

IT'S THE LAW—IN TEXAS

Sea law is one of the oldest branches of law. Venturing seamen have needed recorded rules to govern their affairs. For it's lonesome out at sea with no one around to hear your complaints.
This law became "admiralty" law, and it goes back to about 900 B. C. One of the early rules of the sea—dealing with jettison—is still part of today's laws: If one needs to save a ship in a storm by casting your cargo overboard, the ship and the remaining cargo owners all must chip in to pay the loss incurred for the common safety.

Nations needed uniformity in sea law since commerce is international. Seamen's customs from all the nations became written into laws. Nations have agreed to make the laws largely uniform. Only the federal courts can hear admiralty cases. Many American court decisions refer to sea law as the law of all nations. In this, admiralty differs from the land-lubber laws. For example:

When two ships collide both owners could be negligent and, if so, the damages will be apportioned depending on the degree of blame. But not on land. Here if you are even slightly negligent you lose your right to damages.
On the high seas seamen have long been subject to strict powers by the captain. An employer on land has far less power over his workers. In the early days employers often abused seamen until special federal laws were passed to protect seamen's wages, set standards for their employment, and to pay them if they were injured at sea.

Admiralty law also gives the ship its own personality. It becomes a legal entity something like a corporation.

A ship has rights. It takes with it the law of the flag it sails under.

Persons who go out to save a ship from peril are entitled to a

"salvage" award for their efforts. A special federal court sits for admiralty cases and has power over civil and criminal cases arising out of activities connected with the high seas. An admiralty court settles the disputes over contracts as well as personal injury cases that arise on the high seas, and on navigable inland waters, lakes and rivers, if connected with navigation.

A COLD WEATHER TRICK

Dawn hunters can, on a cold day, get their legs right wet walking through dewy grass. Not only are wet legs uncomfortable, but they're apt to give you a cold.
Next time, before venturing out, slip into a pair of old overalls, the legs of which have sometime previously been coated with house paint or varnish.

A Message To Parents

You may have noticed the announcements of our new School Savings Club. Many boys and girls have already taken advantage of this opportunity to learn how to save — and how to increase their savings by sound investment.

If junior members of your household have not yet joined this club, a word from you now may contribute much to their future success. The art of wise money management, if learned at an early age, will be helpful to any child throughout his, or her, entire lifetime.

Have your children learn the self-reliance which comes from saving. Come in with them, if you can — or have them come alone. It is an opportunity that they will some day be glad they did not miss.

"The Fiercest Heart"

With the eyes of the world focused on Africa and the seething changes taking place on the Dark Continent, public excitement is ready-made for "The Fiercest Heart," 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope DeLuxe Color release based on the best-selling novel by Stuart Cloete, opening Sunday at the Fiesta Drive In Theatre with Stuart Whitman, Juliet Prowse, Ken Scott, Raymond Massey and Rafer Johnson.

Adventure, sparked by the courage of men and women fierce-of-heart, who want freedom and a homeland more than anything else in the world, and are willing to trek across a wilderness of African jungle and mountain to reach their promised land... here is the stuff of this mighty drama and the powerful content of a film certain to create wide curiosity at this complex time in history.

"The Sundowners"

"The Sundowners," opening Tuesday at the Fiesta Drive In Theatre, is the creation of a new land, historically speaking. The Warner Bros. Technicolor production was conceived in Australia, and it was effected in Australia. And if it is anything less than an honest story of the Australian "outback," it is through no fault of Fred Zinnemann, who would rather make no picture at all than make an artificial one.

The Warner Bros. troupe for "The Sundowners," handpicked by the director, turned out to be a sort of United Nations road company: Deborah Kerr, Robert Mitchum, Peter Ustinov, Glynis Johns, Dina Merrill.

Miss Kerr comes from England via Hollywood. Robert Mitchum is as strictly a Hollywood character as you'll find west of East Los Angeles. Peter Ustinov - actor, playwright, director - holds a British passport, lives in Switzerland, is of Russian and French descent and works all over the world.

"Legions of the Nile"

"Legions of the Nile" an explosive chapter from the life of the famed beauty Cleopatra, breathtakingly filmed in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color, a Twentieth Century-Fox release starring Linda Cristal, Ettore Manni and Georges Marchal opens Saturday only at the State Theatre.

Boldly etched on the big screen this action-filled tale combines the warm and tender loves of the beauty called Cleopatra with the warring and jealous men who sought her affections. Headlining the stellar international cast is Linda Cristal, a stunning brunete who has captured the hearts of the Latin American movie public and recently crashed the American market in "The Perfect Furlough" and 20th Fox's "Rope Law." Her role as the tempestuous lover of the ages in "Legions of the Nile" marks her initial European film venture.

"Flame Over India"

One of the most spectacular and genuinely exciting films made in the past several years is a Rank Organization presentation "Flame Over India," a Twentieth Century-Fox release which will open Sunday at the State Theatre.

In addition to its slam-bang action and the exquisite panorama it offers of little-photographed India, the picture abounds in nail-biting suspense as a diverse group of seven people chug across the country in an antiquated train with danger from a dozen sources ready to leap at them at every turn of the tracks.

You can prevent this by placing a small piece of steel wool in the funnel.

The tape makes the canteen easier to handle, yet it will slip in and out of the cover easily.

Representatives May Check Public Pulse On Sales Tax Before July 10

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

From now until July 10 will be a period of testing how representative democracy works in Texas. Legislature is to re-convene July 10 to make a fresh stab at writing a tax bill to raise some $350,000,000 for the next two years. Gov. Price Daniel has urged Texans to give the legislators and him their views on how the matter should be handled.

Governor Daniel is strongly opposed to the adoption of any sales tax plan designed to raise the major portion of this needed revenue. He used his influence in the regular session to block a move in this direction.

"But" said the governor, "if this is really what a majority of the people want, I don't see how I can go on fighting it."

He believes, however, that a very limited sales tax, which he terms "selective excise taxes," on only more expensive items, with the balance to be raised from gas pipeline taxes and increased interstate corporation franchise taxes, would be more fair and more acceptable to most Texans.

Only bill which came close to passing the Legislature was one in which the main money-raising feature was a retail sales tax on items costing 25 cents and more, with food, medicine and farm necessities exempted. It also levied increased gas and corporation franchise taxes. Speaker James Turman cast the crucial vote that prevented the bill's being sent to the governor.

Actually, the difference between the governor and those voting for the sales tax "package" is mostly one of degree. Governor Daniel grants the need for some sales (or excise) taxes, but feels that they should be stringently limited. A majority of the Legislature cast votes indicating they felt Texas has reached the point where only a broad-based "growth" tax, such as the sales tax, can raise enough money to meet the state's increasing needs.

Now it is the people's turn to say what they think. If enough speak up, the legislature will have little difficulty in deciding what to do when it reconvenes July 10.

At that late hour, getting broad agreement in the Legislature will be more important than passing a bill that suits the governor. Bills passed by only a simple majority cannot become effective until 90 days after the session ends, but bills passed by a two-thirds majority of both houses can take effect immediately. That late in the summer, the legislature will need to get a two-thirds vote for immediate effect so there will be money and authorization to keep the state going after the new fiscal year begins September 1.

And a two-thirds majority is also sufficient to override a governor's veto.

OIL ON TROUBLED WATERS
A number of lawmakers had their "backs up" before the governor made his statewide "report to the people" after the regular session closed. But the governor's message smoothed some fevers. Many lawmakers expected Daniel to roast the Legislature for its failure to take care of money matters during the 140-day session. They had their hot replies all ready for press release.

Instead, Governor Daniel adroitly praised the lawmakers as one of the hardest working legislatures he had ever seen. He even singled out for kind words some leaders who had opposed his program.

It was those infernal lobbyists who were to blame, said the governor. He described hordes of lobbyists, choking the hallways and bothering members while they were in session.

Now it's the lobbyists who are riled.

Governor Daniel has announced that he will name a new citizen's committee to study the state's fiscal problems and make recommendations before the special session begins.

GRAND GESTURE
Before adjourning, the Senate gave approval to a $2,600,000,000 general appropriations bill for the two years beginning September 1. But without passage of a money-raising bill to back it up, appropriations had no meaning.

Senate adopted the appropriations conference committee report—a plan that called for spending $385,500,000 from general revenue, compared to the present $320,000,000 general revenue appropriation. Welfare programs, the state hospital system, junior colleges and the state senior college and university system would be among the main beneficiaries.

Senate also passed an equally ineffective $810 a year raise for school teachers before adjourning.

All was for naught, however, when the tax bill failed to pass.

14 AMENDMENTS PROPOSED
Texas voters can get ready for a bumper crop of 14 proposed constitutional amendments to be on the November ballot in 1962.

Some of the amendments are of major importance; some are only local in effect and application. Among them are proposals to:

1. Increase maximum possible yearly payments to the permanently disabled from $1,500,000 to $2,500,000.
2. Allow the state water development board to purchase water storage space in reservoirs constructed by other units of government, such as the federal government.
3. Permit the Veterans Land Board to sell forfeited land to non-veteran buyers to liquidate land the state is "stuck with."
4. Authorize the Legislature to provide for "trial de novo" (trial anew) in appeals from decisions of state agencies.
5. Allow the Legislature to name successors to officials knocked out by a major catastrophe such as enemy attack.
6. Raise the present $47,000,000 a year ceiling on public welfare payments to $52,000,000.
7. Allow the Legislature to set up hospital districts without a special constitutional amendment for each one.
8. Allow the Legislature to delegate to local government control of traffic, parking and sanitation on public beaches.

NEW POWER FOR PROBERS
Future witnesses before legislative investigating committees can be compelled to tell the truth or face perjury penalties under a measure that passed both houses. Last year the perjury conviction of former Insurance Commissioner J. Byron Saunders was voided by the courts on grounds the anti-perjury statute did not cover statements to legislative committees.

This bill spells out the right of legislative committees to make investigations and makes it a penal offense (two to ten years) to lie deliberately to such a committee.

RATLIFF IS PRO TEM
Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford was elected by his senate colleagues to serve as president pro tempore of the Senate for the interval between the regular session's end and the special session's beginning.

President of the Senate presides in the absence of the lieutenant governor and is second in line of succession to the governor. He usually serves as "governor for a day" when both the governor and the lieutenant governor are out of the state.

Ratliff, a radio station owner, has been in the Legislature since 1951, in the Senate since 1955.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Aeronautics Commission, which past Legislatures have threatened to abolish, fared much better this year. Bills were passed broadening the Commission's scope of activity and allocating to it a portion of the unclaimed tax refunds on aviation gasoline.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has called a meeting June 22 of those interested in working out small loan company regulation. Efforts to pass such a bill this past session bogged down completely.

State Treasurer Jesse James reported the deficit in the state's general revenue fund increased during the past month to $69,641,536. A shortage of $63,000,000 is generally expected for the end of the fiscal year August 31.

State Supreme Court sheared off some of the privileges of lawyer-legislators to get court cases in which they are involved postponed until after legislative business is complete. It said the law doesn't cover such preliminary activity as taking depositions before the actual trial.

State penitentiary would be practically empty, one lawyer predicted, if a plea presently before the Court of Criminal Appeals is granted. Defendant contends his conviction was illegal because the trial judge had not paid his dues in the State Bar of Texas. State's attorneys answer handouts. They feel they are entitled to "depressed area" aid because in some places the snow was not sufficient for successful skiing. Our farmer friend on Bluff Creek says he's watching this particular case. Says if they get the government money, he's going to ask for some, because his place is always a "depressed area," especially around income tax paying time, and when he receives his bureau-allotted cotton and grain acreage notices.
