greatest danger to this county is not necessarily the "Message Gap," but the "Message Gap" which exists, he said, somewhere down the years we have failed to give the pattern of the future to the growing generation of the nation which we have veered from the path of moral obligation by setting ourselves up as the worm of communalism which seeks the way of life and liv-

City Suit Is Postponed

First hearing of the damage suit filed in Runnels County District Court, 119th Judicial District, by A. L. Crockett against the City of Winters has been continued until November 9, it was announced this week. First hearing on the case had originally been set for Oct. 26.

Winters Mayor Harvey D. Jones announced this week that the law firm of Bryan, Maxwell, Wilson and Olson, of Waco, represent the City of Winters in this suit.

The law firm of Sonfield, Kin, Sonfield and Smith, of Houston, are acting for plaintiff.

In his petition, Crockett has charged that he has been damaged "in the sum of $2500" because of action taken by the City of Winters in disconnecting his water and electricity because he allegedly refused to pay for a pick-up fee. He further charges that the City is without legal authority to collect the sanitary service charge and is without legal authority to require him to pay same.

Plaintiff has asked for a temporary injunction and upon final trial a permanent injunction enjoining the City of Winters from levying and collecting or attempting to levy and collect any sanitary service charge or garbage pick-up charge.

Winters Students Get Certificates Of Development

Twenty-three students at Winters High School have received certificates for their outstanding performance on the National Education Development Tests, Robert Christian, principal, announced this week.

Certificates of Educational Development were awarded by Science Research Associates, a Chicago-based firm serving education, industry and government through applied behavioral sciences.

Students receiving certificates in Winters High School were Bernard Adams, Tommy Alfrey, Billie J. Briley, Jerrel D. Elliott, Johnny Fairry, Tamala Gans, Ginger Gardner, Lyndon McBeth, Eugene Mathis, Carolyn Scott, La-Ross Sheppard, and Jerry Sneed, all of the junior class.

Sophomores who received awards were Charles Bahlan, Barbara Baldwin, Russell Bedford, Allan Benson, Andrae Bishop, Ronald Colburn, Charlotte Dooley, Nicki Eoff, Ronald Kraatz, Bill Musick, and Ronnie Onken.

In March, 1961, according to Lyle M. Spencer, president of SRA, NEDT exams were administered to more than 366,000 students in the ninth and tenth grades across the nation.

The certificates are provided for students scoring in the top quarter of each state's participants, by grade, it was stated.

Prepared and administered by SRA, THE NEDT provided scores in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences and word usage. The evaluation of education strengths and weaknesses is particularly important at this stage of the student's scholastic career, Principal Christian explained, so that school authorities, parent, and the students themselves may make better decisions about future careers.

A special aim of the program, the principal added, is to enable parents and educators to provide realistic guidance and motivation for high school youngsters.

WILLIAM D. PARISH

Parish Named Cashier At Winters State Bank

Former Winters Man Member of 49th Division

A former Winters man, for whom a school was named and who was at one time a member of the Winters school board, is a sergeant-major in the 49th Armored Division, which has just been called to active duty.

W. W. Alder, now of Marshall, is a career soldier, but several years ago while he was living in Winters he was a member of the school board at the time the Negro school was built here. The school was named in his honor.

Alder recently was promoted to Sergeant-major. He is one of only five persons in Texas holding that rank. Before the callup of the 49th Armored in September, Alder had been serving as a full-time member of the division's staff in Marshall.

Activation of the 49th marks the second time Alder has participated in the mobilization of a National Guard unit. In 1940 he was a member of the famed Texas 36th Division called for duty in World War II. He was awarded the Silver Star at San Pietro, Italy, in 1943.

Sgt. Alder recalls his early days in the National Guard. "When I joined (in 1928) the pay was $1 per meeting, and I was a stable orderly. Those were the days when horses were used. Vehicles did not come along until 1934 and then there were very few."

Alder is married and the father of four children. He is a graduate of Dodd City High School and attended North Texas State University.

Dr. C. T. Rives Named To Fill Board Vacancy

Dr. C. T. Rives, local physician, was unanimously elected by the Winters School Board in regular session last week to fill the vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of Homer Hudgins. Mr. Hudgins moved recently to Alpine to make his home.

Dr. Rives will serve through the unexpired term to April 1963.

The son of Mrs. C. T. Rives, Sr. and the late Dr. Rives, he received his early education from the local schools, graduating with the class of 1930. He entered A and M College for his pre-med work and attended Texas University at Austin where he received his B. S. Degree. He received his Medical Degree from the Texas University School of Medicine at Galveston in 1937.

For his intern work Dr. Rives served at St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas before returning to Winters to be associated with his father in private practice.

He is a World War II veteran and was assigned to the medical branch as a First Lieutenant. For overseas duty in the Pacific Theatre, he was stationed in the Hawaiian Islands and on the Island of Guam and received his promotion as captain before going overseas.

After returning to the states he took special graduate work at Tulane University in New Orleans, Louisiana and Baylor Medical School in Houston before again opening his office in Winters for private practice.

He is married to the former Katherine Hill, daughter of Mrs. George C. Hill and the late Mr. Hill. The couple has three children, Larry, Terry and Kay Lynn.

Coleman Bluecats Here Friday Night

The Winters Blizzards will make their last 1961 appearance on home grounds Friday night when they meet the Coleman Bluecats here for their second conference game of the season.

Friday night's encounter also will be the last time the two teams meet as opponents in the same district. Next year, Winters will be moved to District 6 - AA, and Coleman will go to another district.

This game means a lot to both teams in the climb up the ladder toward the district crown. Each team has played 1 district game—Winters won their opener against Ranger, 27 - 6, two weeks ago, and then took last week off. Coleman lost their initial district game to Ballinger 19-0, last week.

In season play, Winters has a 4 - 3 record, against Coleman's record of 2 - 4 - 1. The Blizzards have wins over Lakeview, Hamlin, Colorado City and Ranger; they lost to Anson, Brady and Albany.

The Bluecats defeated Comanche, DeLeon, tied San Saba, and have lost to Anson, Brady, Albany and Ballinger.

For comparison, the Blizzards lost to Anson, 18 - 0; to Brady, 24 - 6; Albany, 14 - 0. The Bluecats lost to Anson 19 - 0; Brady, 28 - 0; Albany, 21 - 6. In play against common opponents, the two teams have scored only six points each; but Winters held their opponents' scores to 56 while the same teams ran 68 points against Coleman.

The Blizzards have been picked as one of the top Double - A teams of the area, and have been given a big chance to take the district title. They trail Ballinger in district standings because Ballinger has played — and won — two conference games, while Winters has played only one.

The last two games of the season for the Blizzards will be played out of town. They meet Cisco Nov. 4, and go to Ballinger for the finale Nov. 10.

Ballinger will go to Ranger for their third conference game Friday night. Cisco will have a week off.

Fans are reminded that all conference games will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Twenty - two states are represented in this year's Dixie Jubilee, an increase of two over 1960.

"Nurture your mind with great thoughts for you will never go any higher than you think." —Disraeli LaRoss Sheppard of Winters was a visitor Sunday morning at the Baptist Church.

Before Sunday School at the Methodist Church 3 birthdays were celebrated—Mrs. Sallie Smith and her great-granddaughters, Debby and Patty Saunders. The correct date was the 20th. As the three entered the Church they were greeted by the inside group singing Happy Birthday. The honorees were called to the small serving table which occupied the place in front of the pulpit. Eleven candles decorated the Angel Food Cake. The big white candle in the center of the cake was for Granny and the 10 small pink ones for the girls—3 for Debby and 5 for Patty. Pastor Norman Patton lit the candles and after the three blew them out the twins said a table grace followed by Granny slicing the cake and placing the slices on white paper napkins which were arranged on two serving trays by Lareta Bagwell and Kay Orr. The twins, each one with a tray, did the serving. Larry and Kenneth Bagwell also assisted in the celebration.

TELLING AMERICA ABOUT THE BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL ADVANTAGES OF THE ...

"Center of the Southwest"

We call our service area the CENTER OF THE SOUTHWEST, because that is a literal description of it.

In a two-gun campaign, our industrial development program capitalizes on this fact.

We tell expanding industry by mail and in our national advertising that the fast-growing Southwestern market can best be served from the heart of the region.

In addition, our area development representatives tell the same story in personal contacts with business executives in large industrial centers.

West Texas Utilities Company believes in the business and industrial advantages of the CENTER OF THE SOUTHWEST.

And, we are telling America about them.

Quail Season Early In Many Texas Counties

Quail hunters in Texas will get a break, with an early season in a number of additional counties this year for a Nov. 1 opening, according to Al Springs, wildlife coordinator of the Game and Fish Commission.

The Commission has approved November 1 to December 31 season in all of the counties of the trans-Pecos area, except Culberson, El Paso, and Hudspeth counties. The season on those counties will be November 1 to December 15 inclusive. The bag limit will be 12 per day or 24 in possession. Crockett County, which is in the Edwards Plateau regulatory area, is included in the trans-Pecos area for quail, with the November 1 opening date. The possession limit in Crockett, however, is 36.

In South-Central Texas, Dimmitt, Zavala, Frio, and Webb counties have been added to the November 1 opening date. The season will close there on January 16. McMullen and LaSalle counties are open November 1 to December 15, under a special law. The bag limit in that area will be 12 per day and 36 in possession.

In the Possum Kingdom area, which also will include Brown, Nolan, and Taylor counties, the season will be November 24 to January 20 inclusive, with a 15 per day, 45 possession limit. In the counties in the Southeast Texas regulatory area, the open season will be November 15 to January 16 inclusive, with the exception of Orange and Jefferson counties, where the season will be December 1 to Jan. 16 inclusive. Both these areas have a 12 daily, 36 possession limit. All of Northeast Texas regulatory counties will have an open season Dec. 1 to Jan. 16.

According to reports from wardens and biologists, the quail crop is in excellent condition in most of the Texas counties. The quail season is set by general law, except in approximately 125 counties which are under regulatory authority. In these counties, the season and bag limits are set on the basis of the crop of birds and the potential food supply.

LIFE HANGS ON SOME THREADS—These two boys in Chicago are thankful for a new gauze which forms its own blood clot. Tom Setina, left, 6, and Ken Carrano, 9, both hemophiliacs—"bleeders"—had teeth pulled with only slight loss of blood. Holding Tom is Charles Corrigan, president of the Midwest Chapter of the National Hemophilia Foundation.

Many People Losing Social Security Payments in Area

Many people may be losing social security benefits according to Floy B. Ellington, Manager of the San Angelo Social Security Office, because of failure to file an application for payment.

Most of them are aware of the $1200 yearly earnings restriction for social security beneficiaries, but may not realize that they are eligible for some benefits even if their earnings are more than $1200 per year.

An employee can receive a check for any month that his earnings are $100 or less regardless of his total earnings for the year. A self-employed person can receive a check for any month he does not render substantial services in the operation of his business, regardless of his net profit for the year.

Anyone who earns over $100 in every month, and over $1200 in the year as well, may still be eligible for some payments. Each two dollars earned between $1200 and $1700 a year, costs only one dollar in social security benefits; over $1700, each additional dollar reduces benefits one dollar.

Ellington said that anyone who has reached retirement age should inquire at his nearest social security office. He may be losing benefits by not applying now.

Satana, Stank and Big Tree were Kiowa and Comanche Indian Chiefs.

On May 18, 1871, these chiefs led their warriors in an attack, killing seven teamsters hauling forage between Jacksboro and Fort Griffin. The grave of these teamsters is now marked 20 miles east of Newcastle, Young County, in North Texas.

Miss Cooke Reviewed "Forty Odd" For the Junior Culture Club

Miss Mattie Cooke reviewed the book "Forty Odd" by Mary Bard when the Junior Culture Club met Thursday in the Methodist Church parlor for a Guest Tea.

The club project for the year is to help underprivileged grade school children, they gave $10 for the purchase of work books and the members voted to have a booth in the Halloween Carnival. They also voted to observe United Nations Day, Oct. 24.

The tea table was laid with white linen centered with an autumn arrangement. Mrs. Wendell Holmes poured coffee and Mrs. Douglas Cole served cookies, nuts, and mints.

Four guests attending the tea were Mesdames Tommy Russell, Robert Christian, H. M. Nichols, Dennis Rodgers, Miss Cooke, and members Mesdames Edward Bredemeyer, B. J. Colburn, James Colburn, Douglas Cole, Hal Dry, Cecil Hambright, Charles Hester, James Hinds, Wendell Holmes, Weldon Minzenmayer, Dennis Poe, Bobby Rogers, Melvin Ray Williams, and L. G. Wilson.

Packsaddle Mountain Battle
Packsaddle Mountain, southeast of Llano, in Central Texas, was the site of the last Indian battle in that region.

A highway marker nearby reads, "In a battle fought August 4, 1873, Captain J. R. Moss, Stephen B. Moss, William B. Moss, Eli Lloyd, Arch Martin, Pink Ayers, E. D. Harrington and Robert Brown routed a band of Indians thrice their number."

America needs not more law but more respect for law.

Former Resident Moro Community Died Tuesday

Andrew L. Colclazer, 84, of Abilene, formerly of the Moro Community, died in Anson General Hospital at 1 p. m. Tuesday. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Spill Memorial Chapel, with Tom Holland, minister of Winters Church of Christ, and the Rev. Virgil James, pastor of the South Side Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery.

Mr. Colclazer had been admitted to the hospital an hour before his death. Death was due to a heart attack.

He was born in Williamson County Aug. 16, 1877, and as a child moved with his parents to the Moro Community in south Taylor County.

Mr. Colclazer was married to Ollie Turner in August of 1905 in the Moro Community. The family farmed in Taylor County until 1947 when they moved to Young County, near Megargel. They lived there until 1959, when Mr. Colclazer retired from farming and moved to Abilene.

Survivors are his wife; one son, Bob, of Abilene; five daughters, Mrs. Ben Higgins of Anson; Mrs. J. E. Herron of Abilene; Mrs. Juanita Haynes of Fort Stockton; Mrs. Henry Ryan of Selma, Calif.; and Mrs. J. T. Lofin of Caruthers, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Maud Leu-Allen of Haskell; two brothers, Erven Colclazer of Sweetwater, and Robert Colclazer of Snyder; 13 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Bill Butler, Billy Talley, Milburn Shaffer, all of Moro, Pete Higgins, Bradshaw, John G. and Alec Neil, both of Abilene.

Treasure Hunters Beware

Jean LaFitte, the Creole Buccaneer, spent many wild years in free-booting on the Gulf Coast of Texas. That area abounds with legends of his many chests of gold and gems buried in the sands.

LaFitte knew the Texas Gulf Coast well, including the reefs, bays, inlets and sands. It was his knowledge that helped him escape the gunboats and continue his pirating.

It is said that the Ghost of Pirate Jean LaFitte still walks the sands to protect his buried treasures — so let treasure hunters beware.

It's hard to believe all the stories of the fabulous buried treasure but there's a treasure in pleasure to be had on the Gulf by all.

Make your next vacation "Gulf Holiday" and enjoy fishing, swimming, boating, or just relaxing in the year 'round vacation climate.

Treasure hunting, or just playing, on the fine sands of Padre Island is fun too. Who knows, you may be the one to discover that at least one buried treasure story isn't just a fable.

TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

By VERN SANFORD
Remember the first gun you ever owned? You tendered it with loving hands and cleaned it thoroughly after every hunt or session on the gun range.

But as time passed, you spent less and less time cleaning the weapon. Then, lo and behold, one day you took it down from the rack and discovered rust.

This sort of thing usually happens the week before hunting season, and then you have to hot-foot around and get the gun in condition for hunting.

There are two ways to clean a gun — the right way and the wrong way. So let's look at the right way.

First get a good nitro powder solvent, a can of gun oil, gun patches, and a rifle rod of the proper size and length.

Then disassemble the gun. Use screwdrivers of the proper size so as not to damage the heads of screws.

With the stock and bolt removed, examine the bore. Is it dusty? Does it appear to be filled with filth? Is it rusty?

If it appears too dark, some hard scrubbing with the powder solvent is in order. Insert a patch on the head of the rifle rod, soak it with solvent and insert it from the breech end of the gun.

If it can be avoided, never clean a gun from the muzzle.

The last few inches of a gun's barrel are the determinate factors of accuracy. Any damage here would ruin the performance of the gun.

After scrubbing the bore, run a dry patch down the barrel and check both the patch, and the barrel. If the barrel is bright and shining and the patch not too dirty, then all that is needed is several more dry patches followed by one soaked with gun oil.

But if the barrel is still dirty, repeat scrubbing with powder solvent.

Next, clean the action and the outside of the gun. An old toothbrush makes a good scrub brush for the hard to get to place. In the absence of powder solvent, use hot soapy water. Clean the grit and unburned powder grains from the action and wipe the outside of the gun free from dust and grime.

If spots of rust are found, the powder solvent, or kerosene applied to a ball of very fine steel wool will do the job and not damage the weapon's finish.

Inspect the stock and its finish. If it's dented slightly, a moistened cloth placed over the dent and then touched with a hot iron will steam the compressed wood fibers back to their natural position.

But if the stock is scratched, then more drastic measures must be taken. On small scratches the application of a good commercial gunstock finish will do wonders.

Don't try to repair a cracked stock unless you know what you are doing. With a cracked stock it's best to take it by the gun shop for repairs. Or it might even be cheaper in the long run to just buy a new stock.

Clean your gun at frequent intervals. Store it in a dry room. Never store it in the gun-case that is used to protect it while in transit. This is especially true if the case is lined with wool. Guns kept in such a case will sweat. And in the case of wool there are certain amino acids that will attack the steel.

Care should be given the weapon while you're in the field, too. Clean and dry the gun before standing it in the corner for the next days hunt. Naturally, if left overnight with moisture on it, the gun will rust.

And be sure to wipe any mud or dirt from the stock. If left unchecked, mud can stain the finish of the stock.

If you're hunting in a climate where there is a lot of salt in the atmosphere, wipe all metal parts with a silicone dressing. It will protect them.

The Department makes every effort to fulfill its responsibility to class the samples strictly in accordance with the official standards. The Department encourages producers, ginners or other interested persons to visit the classing office to become acquainted with how cotton is classed.

Proper Ration a Must To Profitable Calf Feeding

Drylot feeding of calves weighing from 250 to 400 pounds requires a much better understanding of feeding principles than does the feeding of heavier ones. It takes a better ration to achieve the desired results in the lighter animals because they do not have their mother's milk to balance their diet.

In the first place, their stomachs will not hold as much as those of heavier calves so the small amount of feed they do consume must contain enough nutrients to satisfy their needs, explains U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. Due to their small size, they have a small storage capacity for even those nutrients which they can hold in reserve in their bodies.

As an example of this storage capacity, consider vitamin A. If cattle have an adequate supply of this vitamin, they store the excess in their body fat and livers. As long as they have access to green grazing they get their vitamin A. When no green grazing is available, they use their stored supply to satisfy their needs. Here is where a calf's needs are taken care of by milk. When this calf is weaned and placed on drylot, he must be supplied these nutrients in his ration. In 250-400 pound calves vitamin A deficiency can develop within 45 to 60 days unless the ration takes care of his needs.

Either leafy green alfalfa hay, alfalfa leaf meal or pellets are good sources of vitamins, says Thompson. Calves nearly always do better on rations which contain alfalfa than on those which do not, he continues. Also, commercial synthetic vitamin A preparations are now available for mixing in rations. These may be used if good alfalfa is unavailable or expensive.

Calves do not have the ability to utilize large quantities of roughage. Their digestive system requires feeds high in food values. Shelled corn, sorghum grain, oats, barley and high protein feeds like cottonseed meal are full of some of the diet should consist mainly of these high protein feeds. A 300 pound calf on drylot, when on full feed, will need about 6 pounds of concentrates and 3 pounds of roughage daily, says Thompson. For more detailed information on feeding young calves, contact your local county agent and ask for a copy of "Vitamins for Beef Cattle" and "Rations for Fattening Cattle."

How Corsicana Got Its Name

Corsicana, Texas, in Navarro County, was named by the man for whom the county was named—Jose Antonio Navarro. Navarro named the town after the Isle of his father's birth—Corsica, off the coast of Italy.

Much could be written about Navarro, but a monument in Corsicana listing some of his positions will give you an idea of just how great he must have been.

This monument says, "Jose Antonio Navarro, lover of liberty, foe of despotism, born in San Antonio, Texas, February 27, 1795 — died January 13, 1871 and buried there—member of the Legislature of Coahuila and Texas 1821 — Land Commissioner of De Witt's Colony 1831 and of Bexar District 1834-1835 — member of the Congress of the Republic of Texas 1836-1839, a commissioner of the Santa Fe Expedition 1841 — Member of the Constitutional Convention of 1845. Senator of the Legislature of Texas 1846-1849."

State Board of Engineers Says Texas Should Get Busy On Water Projects

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

City officials in Texas got a warning from Chief Engineer John Vandertulp of the State Board of Engineers.

He said Texas had better get moving on its water projects.

Vandertulp's staff has just completed a water study outlining ways in which Texas cities and industries could meet their water needs for 1980. Half of the 14 reservoirs now under construction in Texas will be too small to supply their service areas by then.

It is going to take $1,000,000,000 to build the reservoirs, treatment plants and distribution systems to provide water the Texas of 1980 will need. It will also take planning and working—starting now—to get the 45 new reservoirs proposed by the Board of Water Engineers' plan built and full of water by or before 1980.

Plan is endorsed in most details by the U. S. Study Commission.

SALES TAX MODIFICATION

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert thinks it's time to change the oil tax plan just adopted by the Legislature.

Constitution allocates the new sales tax on motor oil to the State Highway fund for road building. Consequently the corner service station man must keep books on this tax separately from sales taxes he collects for the State's general fund.

Calvert plans to suggest to the Legislature that this oil tax be levied at the jobber level, same as gasoline sales taxes. This will simplify bookkeeping and collecting.

Speaker James A. Turman agreed that there are inequities in the new sales tax which the Legislature should correct.

First to talk openly about paying the tax under protest were the vending machine people. They can't collect sales tax on items selling for less than 25 cents, but they must pay sales tax on their gross sales.

Texas Merchandise Vending Association plans to ask for a court ruling.

LAST GO-ROUND

Sale of $25,000,000 in bonds for the Veterans Land Board completes the borrowing by the State government for that program. Voters authorized $200,000,000 to finance purchases of farms and ranches for veterans.

In the last year, about $37,500,000 has been invested inland since the program was revived after an increase in the authorized interest rate.

L. H. Page of Carthage, member of the Veterans Land Board, estimated that veterans will pay enough extra interest that the state will have made $100,000,000 profit on this program by 2005. That is when the last loan is supposed to be paid off.

MORE STUDY

Governor Price Daniel asked the Legislative Council to bring its 1958 study on loans and interest rates up to date.

Governor Daniel now seems likely to call the Legislature back into session in January. He wants up-to-date facts on the subject of regulation of interest rates and lenders. Regular session just could not reach agreement.

He will ask also for passage of a bill extending the new escheat enforcement procedures to unclaimed bank accounts in banks and savings institutions.

Speaker James A. Turman appointed a special House committee to make a follow-up study of escheat laws. Reps. Franklin Spears, San Antonio; Ted Springer, Amarillo; Richard C. Slack, Pecos; Paul Haring, Goliad; and Reed Quilliam, Lubbock, are its members.

They'll come back armed with arguments on why Texas needs juvenile parole officers in more than just the five biggest counties. That's extent of present program.

Governor Daniel is asking the Legislature to expand the five-man juvenile parole set-up it created this year. Kennard has sponsored juvenile parole legislation.

FIRST RUNNER

Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock became the first candidate for lieutenant governor in the Democratic primary next May 5.

Smith, who served three terms in the House of Representatives and five years in the Senate, ran third in the 1950 lieutenant governor's race. That was the year Ben Ramsey won the run-off and started the first of his six terms in the office.

Senator Smith, 49, is a theatre operator.

HIGHWAY SPEEDUP

Faster feeding of federal-aid money into highway construction is reflected by the State Highway Department's monthly report.

As a recession-trimmer, U. S. cash was sent out faster than had been scheduled. On October 1, there were $325,858,057 worth of highway construction contracts outstanding in Texas, averaging at just about 50 per cent completion.

During last month, highway contractors completed $18,684,270 worth of new construction. Figure doesn't include the maintenance work by Highway Department crews.

Railroad Commission again set November production of oil at eight days—the seventh straight month of 22 or 23-day shutdowns.

The Berliner Morgenpost of Berlin notified Governor Price Daniel that it is sending a check for 700,000 marks (about $200,000) which it raised from the people of Berlin, to be used to help victims of Hurricane Carla. Check is made out to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, a recent visitor in Berlin.

Fruitless Mulberry Trees Need Care

Does your fruitless mulberry tree turn yellow and lose its leaves? Certain leaf spot type diseases may be causing the trouble, says Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist.

The leaf diseases first appear in the spring, and will continue to build up and cause more trouble throughout the season if rainfall is plentiful. These spots may differ in size and color and they lower the aesthetic value and vigor of the tree, Smith explains. Trees damaged by leaf spot are also likely to be damaged more by drought, winter injury and pests than uninfected trees.

If the tree has a high value, Smith suggests a preventive spray program to reduce the damage from leaf spots. He suggests the use of 2 tablespoons of Zineb or Captan per gallon of water plus a spreader-sticker. A combination of the two may prove more effective and either material may be used with safety during any part of the year. It is more important, he says, to have the trees protected during times of above average rainfall or high humidity.

In the case of bacterial leaf spot it may be necessary to spray with streptomycin or fixed copper. A combination of the two may be more effective. The use of a spreader-sticker and avoidance of making applications during hot weather will tend to lessen the damage from fixed copper spray, Smith says.

The use of fertilizer and water when needed will help improve the health of mulberry as well as other trees, he says. Foliage should not be wet during the watering process for this tends to spread leaf spot diseases, the specialist says.

Speeding motorist should remember it's better to be a little late down here than too early up there.

Accepting good advice is but to increase one's own ability.

"Parrish"

Delmer Daves, who directed "A Summer Place" and is known as a maker of young stars, has a chance to hit the star jack pot with four players in his new Warner Bros. picture, "Parrish," now showing at the State Theatre.

Troy Donahue, whom Daves helped elevate to the top echelon through "A Summer Place," heads the young contingent in the "Parrish" cast and already has it made as far as stardom goes.

The quartet with star promise are Connie Stevens, Diane McBain, Sharon Huguely, and Hampton Fancher. Their roles in the drama, based on Mildred Savage's novel, all have the emotional tug, the light and shade, and the dramatic potential to push them into film eminence if they click.

"The Minotaur—The Wild Beast of Crete"

Heroes were kept astonishingly busy in Greek legend, as the thrilling Technicolor production of "The Minotaur—The Wild Beast of Crete" will prove, when this United Artists release thunders across the Totalscope screen Saturday only at the State Theatre. Bob Mathias, who has kept extraordinarily busy himself, winning two Olympic and four U. S. Decathlon championships, then going on to become one of the world's most honored athletes, stars in his third picture as fabled Theseus, whose job it was to slay the colossal Wild Beast of Crete, the half-man, half bull Minotaur in one of the oldest and best known hero-legends.

"David and Goliath"

Little did director Richard Pottier realize when he undertook to cinematically tell the story of "David and Goliath" what problems "he would have to face in this modern day world.

However, with the magical genius of some property men, set men and other film technicians, director Pottier has turned in a flawless reproduction of the ancient biblical city which shortly will be seen in "David and Goliath," Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre.

Through this ancient holy land now moves an international cast of thousands, headed by Orson Welles, as King Saul; Ivo Payer as David; Edward Hilton as the Prophet Samuel; Massimo Serato, Eleonora Rossi Drago, Giulia Rubini, Pierre Crosy and Kronos as the Giant Goliath.

Down through the ages no success story has ever captured the popular imagination as the biblical chronicle of young David, the Shepherd Boy who slew a giant and became the champion and king of his people.

"The Honeymoon Machine"

Metro Goldwyn Mayer's "The Honeymoon Machine" is a riotous farce in the tradition of "Don't Go Near the Water" and "Teahouse of the August Moon" starting Wednesday at the State Theatre.

Brimming with laughter and cheer, amusing dialogue and comic situations, it is a story of sailors on a spree in Venice, Italy, with two beautiful girls and a machine named "Max" that they hope will make them millionaires. "Max" is an electric computer by which a U. S. Navy lieutenant, an Ensign and their ship's civilian missile expert plan to break the bank at the Venice casino. What happens before this plot is brought close to realization makes for a laugh a minute!

The cast of Hollywood's young "new wave" players is headed by Steve McQueen, one of the screen's and TV's brightest newcomers; Brigid Bazlen, another new face who makes her film debut as Salome in "King of Kings"; Jim Hutton in "King of Kings"; Jim happy twosome of "Where the Boys Are," Dean Jagger, Jack Weston and Jack Mullaney.

"Journey to the Center of the Earth"

Jules Verne, the first and perhaps the greatest of all science fiction writers, was more than a century ahead of his time when in his nineteenth century writings he described the atomic submarines and the airships that have become the fare of modern warfare. Who knows how far ahead he was looking when in 1864 he wrote "Journey to the Center of the Earth," now a Twentieth Century Fox production Saturday only at the Fiesta Drive Inn Theatre, about man's first invasion of inner space?

Fox doesn't claim to answer the question in its forthcoming CinemaScope, De Luxe color film, but it will give you an excellent glimpse at the imagined marvels that are said to lie under the earth's crust.

GI Homes Not To Be Foreclosed On During Owner's Army Service

Owners of homes financed by GI mortgage loans who enter military service may be aided by the provisions of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act, P. J. Mims, Mznager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, said today.

This act makes it possible for the courts, upon proper application, to prevent foreclosure of a loan if the property was acquired prior to entry or re-entry into active military service, and if the serviceman is unable to meet his payments on his loan due to a reduction in income because of military service.

Here's the VA's advice to those entering service who may not be able to meet the entire amount of their home loan payments because of reduced income:

1. Upon receipt of notice to report for service, go or write to the holder of your mortgage (or the person to whom you make you payments), explain the situation, and make arrangements to pay as much as you can until you are released from service. A personal visit to the holder is desirable whenever possible.

2. The law does not give you the right to stop making payments while in military service; and the portion of the payment which is postponed by agreement with the holder must be paid later, so arrange to pay all you can while in service.

3. The act is a "Relief Act." Don't expect the holder to agree to a reduction in your payments unless you are unable to make the full payments because of military service.

4. While in service, be sure to make any payments agreed to by you and your mortgage-holder, and see him immediately following discharge to make arrangements for making up the back payments.

5. Keep the holder of your mortgage (or his agent) informed of changes in your military status affecting your ability to pay.

6. It is not necessary that you see the VA about your loan (unless it is a direct loan made to you by the VA). However, if you need assistance or advice, visit or write the Loan Guaranty Officer at the Dallas VA Regional Office which has jurisdiction over the Central Texas area.

Give him your loan number, your full name and present mailing address, your rank and military service unit, the address of your property, and the name and address of your lender or its agent to whom you make your payments.

DAVID (IVO PAYER) MEETS THE GIANT GOLIATH (KRONOS) in an uneven duel. When the giant's spears fail to touch the agile shepherd, David retaliates by hurling

Paula Prentiss, Brigid Bazlen, Steve McQueen and Jim Hutton cost of Jack Weston, a sailor who has imbibed too freely, in this scene from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Honeymoon Machine." The comedy revolves about U. S. Navy personnel stationed in Venice who use an electric computer in an attempt to break the bank at the local gambling casino. It's in CinemaScope and color.

Accidents Took Lives Of 81 School Children During Past Year

Accidents took the lives of 81 school-age children in Texas during the 1960-61 school year, 17 less than the 98 recorded during the 1959-60 school year, according to a report compiled by Lewis Spears, safety consultant, Texas Education Agency, Austin.

Forty nine of the 81 deaths in 1960-61 are listed as "out-of-school" and are not related to the school accident record; 32 of the deaths resulted from accidents in school or on the way to and from school.

Statically, the 32 in-school accidents are approximately .001563 of one per cent of the more than 2,046,000 children enrolled during that period in Texas elementary and secondary public schools.

During the same period, injuries (in or out of school) caused 60,733 students to miss 55,155 one-half days of school attendance, less than two-tenths of one per cent of the approximately 332,625, 000 days of aggregate daily attendance.

The statistics quoted do not include private and church-related schools.

Spears, in a recent annual safety report to school superintendents, suggested that accidents might be further reduced by placing more emphasis on the correct use of playground equipment, and by spending more time on directed play in the first three grades of school.

In grades 1-6 one of every three "in school" accidents occurred when children were "scuffling" and or using playground equipment.

In grades 7-12, the greatest number of injuries occurred in athletic activities. According to the report "This is understandable as athletic activities play a large role in secondary school training."

The number of these accidents can be reduced, no doubt, by the development of an improved physical conditioning program, better equipment, and rigid enforcement of playing rules.

Spears complimented Texas teachers on "an excellent job in safety education and general attention to students' physical welfare. Thousands of them devote much of their leisure time to training in accident prevention, civil defense, and first-aid. They are the front line of defense against accidents and disease. As they are in daily contact with every child in school, they are often the first to observe seeing and hearing difficulties, or that a child's physical appearance indicates impending illness."

First Ice In Texas

Ten cents per pound was the cost of ice in Texas in 1875. That's the year the first ice plant was established in Texas.

Site of this first ice plant is on the present Marion County Court House grounds in Jefferson, Texas in the North East part of the state.

Later, this ice plant was moved to Harrisburg. Had ice plants flourished more rapidly in Texas, who knows, we might be larger than Alaska today.

Mrs. Charles Chapman Hostess For Literary And Service Club

Members of the Literary and Service Club met on Oct. 19 in the home of Mrs. Charles Chapman, with Mrs. J. C. Jarrell serving as co-hostess.

Each member is asked to help with the Halloween Carnival, October 31, in the Farm Supply building, by baking three cakes (or pies, cookies, or candy). These things are to be brought downtown by 5:00 p. m. on the above date.

Mrs. Jerry English reported on the district workshop that she and Mrs. Loyd Roberson attended in San Saba earlier this month.

Mrs. Chapman introduced Jan Johnson and Glenda Sims who played a duet of "The Lord's Prayer." For the program, Mrs. Earl Dorsett spoke about "Women of Destiny in the Old Testament" and Mrs. Max Lewis discussed "The Marys of the New Testament."

Those present were Mesdames Earl Dorsett, L. E. Ellison, Jerry English, H. K. Flathmann, Sally Gray, J. C. Jarrell, Max Lewis, M. G. Middlebrook, Luther Minzenmayer, Loyd Roberson, Geo. Rosson, Floyd Sims, Claude Tatum, and Charles Chapman.

"Youth For Christ" Motto of Fifteen Year Girls Class

Fifteen Year Girl's Class of the First Baptist Church held their first meeting, Oct. 19, in the home of Mrs. Doyle Newcomb. Betty Jernigan presided for the business meeting and Kathy Shaw led the group in prayer.

The group discussed and planned the yearbooks, for the class. A class mother was elected and will be announced at a surprise party planned for her. "Youth For Christ" was selected as the class motto, and the name of the class is "Y. F. C." The class colors are purple and white, the aim of the class is Winning Youth and the watchword is "And We Know that All Things Work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose"—Romans 8-28.

Secret Pals were drawn and Betty Jernigan closed the meeting with prayer.

Refreshments of hot cocoa and assorted cookies were served to Ann Bean, Becky Brown, Debby Hight, Betty Jernigan, Zanette Moore, Yvonne Pierce, Linda Powers, Kathy Shaw, Betty Shoemaker, and Mrs. Doyle Newcomb, hostess.

Weds Should Build Up Credit

Good Will At Local Bank

Mass. My column addressed to young people, married, or to those to advise couples in life. Newlyweds at least a part of savings, after buying in straight life when they are young, such insurance with and at a moderate recommend building establishing good bank. It is wise move to rent a small safe-deposit box for jewelry and important papers, including wills. Don't forget to make wills, even if you haven't much capital.

Bank Accounts Valuable

It is important to keep a reasonable deposit in your local bank for emergencies,—and a portion for possible later investment when conditions are less clouded and you have more funds. After you put money in the bank, don't withdraw it until the proper time comes, and then only after careful consideration. Think of your bank account as sacred, not to be disturbed except for these pre-considered contingencies.

The young may think the idea unimportant, but there is no better way of building up a reputation for thrift, honesty, and hard work than by starting a bank account and making regular deposits. Become acquainted with an officer of the bank and speak to him every time you go in, so that he will come to know you and will be able to give you a good reference if you need one. Getting to know bank officials can be as valuable to you as your bank-account interest payments.

Banks Today Are Safe

During the bank-closing emergency in the 1930's practically all the weaker banks were done away with, so that financial institutions today are in a safe and profitable position. This brings me to the question of bank stocks, which I recommend as an investment—particularly the stock of your local bank with which you do business. Practically any local bank could be liquidated for more than its published assets, so that you as a stockholder would probably get more than you paid for your shares. Five or ten shares of such stock would probably be one of the very best investments for a young married couple.

Investing In Bank Stocks

If you are going to put more than a moderate sum into bank stocks, it would be wise to get the Annual Reports from at least two or three banks and go over them carefully. Any bank will give you an Annual Report, whether you are a customer or not, and in most states these reports must be published in the papers every year. After my father's death, I recall finding a scrapbook in which were pasted all the Annual Reports of our hometown Gloucester banks, clipped from the Gloucester Daily Times.

Most people look for the bank with the largest deposits, but let me give you a hint about this. When bankers talk to me about their "large deposits," I always say, "Will, you certainly owe a good deal of money!" Because it should be realized that a bank's

Home Demo Council Conference Held October 13th

Runnels County Home Demonstration Council held its regular monthly meeting in the conference room of the court house, October 13 with Mrs. M. R. Petrie, presiding.

Nine clubs were presented with 18 members attending the meeting. Miss Ollie Chenoweth, agent, was a guest.

Annual reports were given by all the council officers, committee chairmen of the council and the club president.

Approximately 185 women have attended club meetings as guests and 17 have been enrolled as active club members during the year.

The Texas Home Demonstration Association recommendations have been followed in the programs presented to the clubs. These include programs on family life, health and safety, citizenship, civil defense and recreation. Home management and foods programs have been presented directly to the clubs by Miss Chenoweth, or three club leaders. These include arranging furniture, setting out shrubs and roses, foods for the freezer, interesting ways to prepare vegetables, fancy sandwiches and cookies, a good breakfast and recreation for all. Other programs reported were upholstery, clothing and shoe-covering workshops, recreation in foods and various crafts. All clubs have adopted patients at the various state hospitals and schools located at Big Spring, Austin, Abilene, Mexia and Sanatorium and send gifts at Christmas and on special holidays. Donations deposits represent money that must be paid back to the depositors sooner or later. Therefore when appraising bank statements, be sure to subtract the deposits from the total assets to find out what would be left for the stockholders.

Look Behind The Scenes

Inconsidering bank stocks, always check up on the character, integrity, and ambition of the men in charge of the bank's operations. Be sure that the officials are in good health, and that their judgment is sound. It is a good sign if they are churchgoing men. It is, of course, an extremely bad sign if they are addicted to liquor or indulge in known excesses.

It is worth while to know the qualifications of the bank directors. Be sure, for instance, that these men have not taken their positions as a mark of distinction rather than as a responsibility. Of course, the bank's assets are under the constant supervision of the regular examiners, so there need be little worry on this score. Hence, if a depression strikes, I feel that bank stocks may be in a stronger position than perhaps any other category of stocks.

have been made to the March of Dimes, Heart Fund, Ballinger Memorial Hospital fund, and to the Salvation Army for victims of Hurricane Carla. Several club members have served as Girl Scout leaders and 4-H Club adult leaders. Other activities include making cancer bandages, providing postage for Sanatorium patients, donating new chairs to a club house, having blankets made from home grown wool and building curbs around a community cemetery.

Council officers elected for 1962 are: Mesdames J. L. Olhausen of the South Ballinger club, chairman; E. F. Vogelsang of the Ballinger club, vice chairman; J. D. Vinson of the Winters Club, secretary; Thomas Egan of the Rowena club, treasurer; and C. T. Moonen of the Friendly Neighbors club, reporter.

'62 CORVAIR MONZA

NEW FACE, SAME SPORTING HEART

We might as well tell you straight off: Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think what lets you out? Maybe. Maybe not. Until you've driven one, you really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land. The air-cooled rear engine sees to that. You swing around curves as you please. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Positraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, levelly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes. Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual sunshades and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper. So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we? If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.

A New World of Worth

And here's America's only thoroughbred sports car, the '62 CORVETTE. We warn you: if you drive a Corvette after your first sampling of a Corvair, you may well end up a two-car man. And who could blame you?

Cotton Quotas For 1962 Announced

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials have announced a national marketing quota of 15,714,000 bales and a national acreage allotment of 18,101,718 acres for the 1962 upland cotton crop. The acreage allotment includes an allocation of 100,000 acres from the national acreage reserve to take care of minimum farm allotments.

The referendum on marketing quotas is to be held December 12, and at least two-thirds of the upland cotton producers voting must approve them if they are to be effective.

Based on recent planting and yield trends, the 1962 allotment is expected to produce about as much cotton as will be used in the 1962-63 season, leaving the carryover on August 1, 1963 at about the same level as the carryover for August 1, 1962.

The national acreage allotment for 1962-crop upland cotton will be apportioned to states, state allotments to counties, and the county allotments to farms. Individual farm allotments will be made available to producers prior to the referendum, the USDA reported.

If marketing quotas are approved in the referendum, price support will be available to growers who comply with their farm allotments at such level as is determined appropriate by the Secretary. If marketing quotas are not in effect for the 1962 upland cotton crop the allotment program will remain in effect and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 percent of parity.

Under the 1962 quota program, growers who exceed their farm acreage allotments will be subject to penalties of 50 percent of the cotton parity price as of June 15, 1962 on the excess production. Also, none of the upland cotton produced on the farm will be eligible for price support.

The USDA also announced national marketing quotas and acreage allotments for the 1962 crop of extra long staple cotton. A referendum on these quotas will also be held on December 12th.

John Waddell Associate Director Of Texas ADA

John F. Waddell of Winters, has been appointed an Associate Director of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association.

Announcement of the appointment was made by TADA President C. C. Gunn of San Antonio.

"Membership of our organization includes 1,200 factory-authorized new car and truck dealers," Gunn stated. "Our purpose is to maintain a high plane of commercial integrity for those engaged in the new car and truck business."

"Waddell as one of our Associate Directors, will work closely with W. W. Mason of Ozona, Texas, who is the TADA Director for this area. We are extremely proud to have men of this calibre in responsible positions within our organization, and working together to provide maximum service to the motoring public," Gunn said.

Horsehead Crossing on Pecos

Horsehead Crossing is located south of Crane, in the far western part of the state.

An historical marker pays tribute to this important early day crossing and tells of how it was used.

It reads: "Well known to frontiersmen and used by emigrants for several years preceding, this crossing was an important point on the Southern Overland Mail (Butterfield Route) which linked St. Louis and San Francisco with a semi-weekly mail and stage service. 1856-1861."

It is hard for us today, with our massive freeways and immense bridges, to visualize the importance of these old crossings. They, and the routes that crossed them, were the food from which this nation grew.

Turkeys Head List Of Plentiful Foods

Grateful hearts have just reason to give thanks for the abundance of American agriculture this November, as throughout the year, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Huge supplies of any number of tasty, nutritious food items are available. What's more, at least 10 important foods are in supply that exceeds normal demand. They are called Plentiful Foods by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Two traditional Thanksgiving foods — turkeys and cranberries — head the list of November plentifuls, in Texas. Turkey marketings this month will be about 25 percent more than a year ago, and the 1961 cranberry crop is estimated at 15 percent above average.

Eight other highly mailable foods also will be plentiful all month. They are apple, potatoes, cabbage, pecans, almonds, pork, vegetable fats and oils, and dry beans, the Service advised.

Careful menu planners can take advantage of this abundance by serving these items often. Producers and the food industry often conduct special promotion activities on plentiful foods, in efforts to give consumers the advantage in price and quality, the Service said.

John Waddell Associate Director Of Texas ADA

John F. Waddell of Winters, has been appointed an Associate Director of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association.

Announcement of the appointment was made by TADA President C. C. Gunn of San Antonio.

"Membership of our organization includes 1,200 factory-authorized new car and truck dealers," Gunn stated. "Our purpose is to maintain a high plane of commercial integrity for those engaged in the new car and truck business."

"Waddell as one of our Associate Directors, will work closely with W. W. Mason of Ozona, Texas, who is the TADA Director for this area. We are extremely proud to have men of this calibre in responsible positions within our organization, and working together to provide maximum service to the motoring public," Gunn said.

Horsehead Crossing on Pecos

Horsehead Crossing is located south of Crane, in the far western part of the state.

An historical marker pays tribute to this important early day crossing and tells of how it was used.

It reads: "Well known to frontiersmen and used by emigrants for several years preceding, this crossing was an important point on the Southern Overland Mail (Butterfield Route) which linked St. Louis and San Francisco with a semi-weekly mail and stage service, 1858-1861."

It is hard for us today, with our massive freeways and immense bridges, to visualize the importance of these old crossings. They, and the routes that crossed them, were the food from which this nation grew.

Turkeys Head List Of Plentiful Foods

Grateful hearts have just reason to give thanks for the abundance of American agriculture this November, as throughout the year, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Huge supplies of any number of tasty, nutritious food items are available. What's more, at least 10 important foods are in supply that exceeds normal demand. They are called Plentiful Foods by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Two traditional Thanksgiving foods — turkeys and cranberries — head the list of November plentifuls, in Texas. Turkey marketings this month will be about 25 percent more than a year ago, and the 1961 cranberry crop is estimated at 15 percent above average.

Eight other highly mailable foods also will be plentiful all month. They are apple, potatoes, cabbage, pecans, almonds, pork, vegetable fats and oils, and dry beans, the Service advised.

Careful menu planners can take advantage of this abundance by serving these items often. Producers and the food industry often conduct special promotion activities on plentiful foods, in efforts to give consumers the advantage in price and quality, the Service said.

The Reserve Champion lamb, also a Southdown, was shown by Bob Kropp, of Plainview.
