is going to be hard to discard... like throwing away a pair of shoes which wore pretty well though they did pinch in a few places. The pinches which were during 1961 have become sores in a few places. They are like an itching on the back you reach to scratch—you're irritated for a while, but then as you become accustomed to them you forget them, and just sit and wait for another to show up in another spot.

The Abilene Reporter-News has been receiving applause from all over the nation for their action in removing from their mailing list the names of three top reds. Here's some positive action for you—that's something good that happened in 1961. It's not that the Reporter-News is naive enough to think that the reds would really be deprived of vital information which might be useful to them, if they did not get that newspaper; it's just the Reporter-News' way of saying, "Look, you commies, we don't like your kind of people, and we'll not bother to give you any kind of satisfaction, not even to the extent of sending you a paper to trap your fish in!" Perhaps more of us should join the parade with the Reporter-News and stand up and be counted.

All in all, though, 1961 has been a good year, and we're proud to have been around. We gained a lot of satisfaction and happiness at being in the right places at the right times.

So, Happy New Year to you all, and don't forget to pay your Poll Tax!

Funeral Services Here Saturday For Mrs. H. W. Hassie

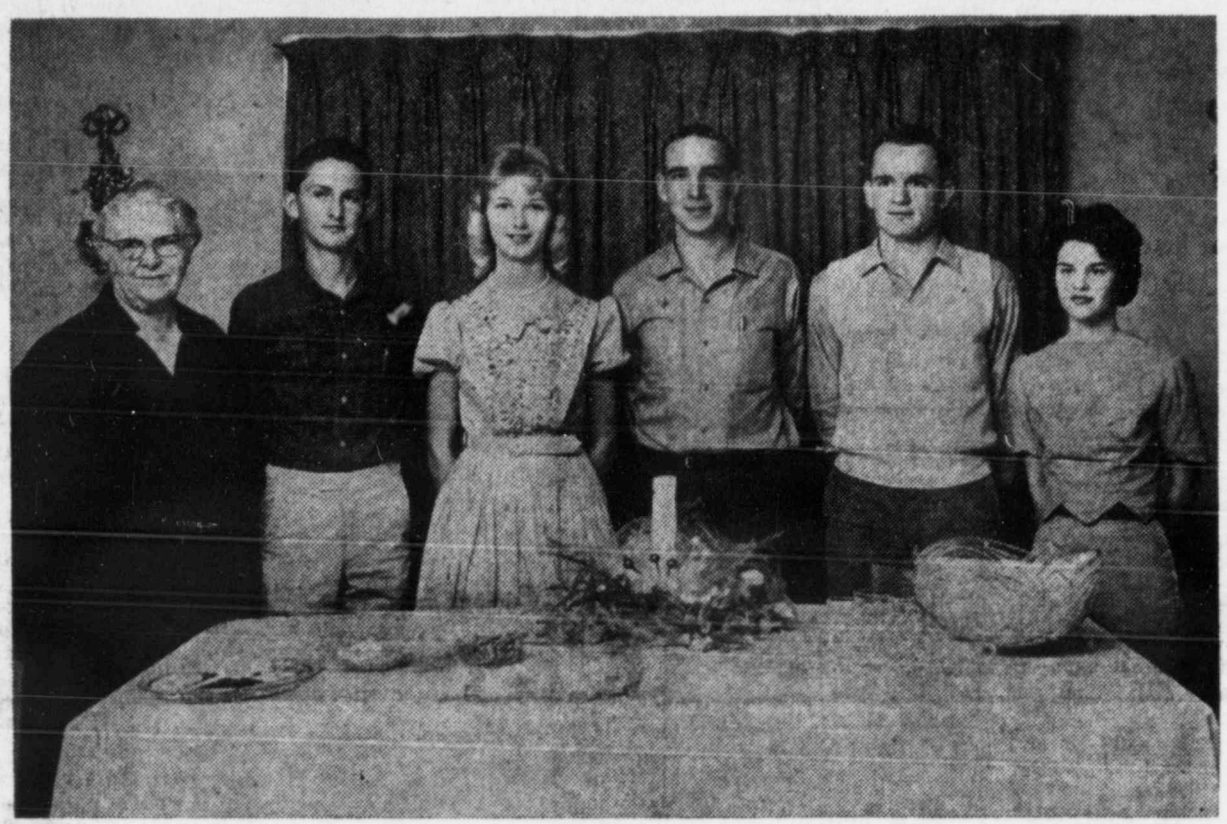

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at St. John Lutheran Church for Mrs. Herman W. Hassie, 85, who died at Winters Municipal Hospital at 5:15 p. m. Thursday. She had been in ill health three years and in the hospital six days. Officiating at the services were the Rev. Henry K. Flathmann, pastor of the church. Burial was in Northview Cemetery under direction of Spill Funeral Home. Mrs. Hassie was born Sophie Augusta Toppe in Oakland, Tex., May 5, 1876. It was there in the home of her parents she married Mr. Hassie on Dec. 15, 1898. In the fall of 1907 the family moved to Dale community in Runnels County. Mrs. Hassie died Nov. 30, 1944. In 1946 she and her daughter moved to Winters. She was a member of the St. John's Lutheran Church of Winters. Survivors are her daughter, Hermine of Winters; one brother, Helmut Toppe of Sublime; and one sister, Mrs. Gus Dahse of Weimert. Pallbearers were Ellis Zane Moore, Marvin Traylor, Wilbert Phelps, Herman Spill, Carl Gottschalk and Henry Vogler.

1961 ROUND-UP

The people of Winters have been busy during 1961. It would be impossible to present a complete review of events of the year, but below are a few of the highlights.

The year has been a good one, on the whole, with only a few adverse circumstances such as a shorter cotton crop than had been hoped for, and some destruction of crops by hail in some localities.

JANUARY 6 A. W. Libbe, president of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, has been re-elected to that office by members of the board of directors. Homer Hudgins was re-elected vice-president.

JANUARY 13 Tamala Gans and Russell Bedford, members of Winters High School Blizard Band, were named to places on the all-state and all-region bands.

JANUARY 13 Deposits in Winters State Bank increased during year. An increase of $135,176.08 over previous year.

JANUARY 13 J. C. Wilkerson elected president of Winters Volunteer Fire Department. Herman Baker Jr., elected vice president, Marvin Bedford, secretary-treasurer.

JANUARY 13 Henry Satterwhite resigned from school board, transferred to Kingsville by Humble Oil Co.

JANUARY 27 Three people, one incumbent and two former city officials, indicated they will be candidates for city office in elections set for April 4. Mayor Harvey Dale Jones, a former mayor, indicated he will file as candidate for alderman.

JANUARY 27 Twenty football players and two managers received Blizard letters for play in 1960 season. Portrait by Eddie Little won Blue Ribbon at Tyler convention of photographers.

FEBRUARY 3 February 27 target date for issuing license tags for bicycles in Winters, in compliance with ordinance passed by City Council in 1960.

FEBRUARY 10 Big snow closes schools two days. Upwards of 8 inches of snow was received in the immediate area, with some communities reporting 2, 4 and 6 inches.

FEBRUARY 10 Winters girls tied for district lead in girls' basketball play. Three candidates filed official certificates as candidates in city election April 4. Ralph Lloyd and Barney Bryant, incumbent councilmen, filed for re-election; T. A. Smith filed as candidate. Two places to be filled on the council.

FEBRUARY 17 Miss Sharon Johnson, sophomore at Winters High School, elected Glacier Queen for 1960-61. School Board election set for April 1. Terms expire for Raymon Lloyd and A. L. Mitchell. Both filed for re-election.

FEBRUARY 17 George Poe officially filed as candidate for mayor. Mayor Harvey D. Jones officially filed for re-election. John Griff Brown, newcomer to political scene, officially filed as candidate for alderman in April 4 election.

FEBRUARY 24 Winters High School Blizardettes beat Lake View Maidens 63-60 for District 7-AA girls' Basketball championship. Adolph C. Ernst filed as candidate for Alderman in April 4 city election.

MARCH 3 Announcement made that Alderman-Cave Milling and Grain Co. planned to open within a few weeks. This is a new firm in Winters. Ray Alderman and Charlie Cave have bought the milling and elevator property in a bankruptcy sale. The mill had been operating for many years under the name of C. L. Green Milling and Grain Co. Two hundred fifty attended Boy Scout Rifle Meet Sunday at the new Winters Lake.

ROGER BABSON PREDICTS

1962 Will Be Better Business Year Than '61

The Enterprise is again publishing Roger Babson's Business and Financial Forecast. Mr. Babson has become known throughout the business world for his timely articles on the financial fronts of the country, and for his accuracy in predicting the financial future. His forecasts have proved to be more than 86 percent correct during the past 20 years. A careful checking of the Babson Predictions for 1961 upholds the remarkable average of the past by being 83% correct.

- 1. I am hopeful for 1962; it should be a better year for my readers than 1961. Industrial production will exceed that of 1961.
2. There will be neither a nuclear war nor total disarmament in 1962. Considerable progress may be made toward a ban on atomic weapons.
3. Some thirty stocks may reach an average of 1000 during 1962, although these will not necessarily be the thirty Dow-Jones stocks.
4. Retail trade will make new records during 1962. Increased newspaper advertising, especially in colors, will be a great boon to merchandising.
5. Commodity prices will act erratic during 1962. Agricultural prices will be held up by legislation, but many metals will sell for less.
6. The official cost-of-living figure will rise slightly in 1962, but there may be a scandal in Washington over how this figure is calculated or adjusted. The real increase in the cost-of-living will be due to increased wages demanded.
7. The only certain shortages during 1962 will be in land suitable for parking places and waterfront property readily accessible to building lots; also for automobile "graveyards" near cities which have been zoned.
8. The building of shelters will look silly before the end of 1962. Certainly the Federal Government will not underwrite the building of private shelters for individual families.
9. Good real estate must rise in price as the population increases. Elementary mathematics determines the price of suburban real estate. This is notwithstanding the claim of the "space companies" which are said to be interested in selling rights on the moon. There probably are crazier speculations.
10. While the land on which your house now stands should increase in value during 1962, the building itself depreciates over the moment when it is first occupied. A possible exception would be certain very attractive ranch houses painted in color.
11. Automobile production will be the most important statistical indicator during 1962. This applies to both the number of automobiles and their sales value. We now have no reliable figures for the latter.
12. We will gradually approach an average of two cars for every family. The life of automobiles should gradually increase. The percentage of automobiles annually destroyed will decrease in 1962.
13. Automobiles and gasoline will be, increasingly, sources for raising money by taxation. These means will be extended to include an additional assessment on the manufacturers of automobiles.
14. Taxes, as a whole, will continue to increase in 1962 for every family. Business net taxes, however, will decrease in 1962, through the granting of depreciation refunds which can be done by Executive order. The manufacturer may greatly increase his deductions for past investments and new machinery, plant, and equipment. Douglas Dillon feels that such tax reductions will increase the purchase of new equipment, develop greater efficiency, and result in a net improvement in the employment situation. This is good news for 1962.
15. Speculation in real estate and securities will be active during 1962; but good children will gradually be recognized as the best investment. Young people will be married earlier and will want to have large families.
16. Public education will gradually be reorganized during the years ahead. Schoolhouses will be built as places to "park the kids" while the parents are at work. New schoolhouses will be built so as not to be over one story high, with lots of sunshine.
17. Owing to the lack of airport facilities and to inadequate equipment, there will be increasing airplane accidents during 1962.
18. With all the above changes, plus increased public improvements and longer vacation periods, families must save somehow and cut somewhere. I think it will begin in 1962 with clothing. This will gradually become cheaper and more attention will be paid to color.
19. The time is approaching when the weaving of cloth will be greatly curtailed. Clothes will be made like paper. Plastic coats are already on the market. These are produced by feeding the cellophane into a machine which cuts to desired sizes and bonds (not sews) the material into beautifully finished goods of different colors.
20. We will hear more about automation during 1962. But the cost of building automatic factories is so great that the change is coming slowly. Even electronics has been overemphasized.
21. There need be no unemployment among steel workers during 1962. But Government unemployment figures will remain high. Foreign competition, due to low wages abroad, will be an important factor. Women will prefer to work in air-conditioned factories and have their home pantries filled with precooked foods.
22. Labor unrest will grow in extent and power. The Kennedy Administration is friendly to union leaders and their demands. There will be demands for more "fringes" in 1962. A steel strike is possible.
23. This means that with increased taxes, prices of retail products will be higher. This will be blamed on "inflation" of money; but it will be due to inflation of living standards.
24. The real value of the dollar will decline slightly during 1962, due to the decrease in the productivity of labor. The electronics industry will temporarily suffer in 1962 if atomic warfare is outlawed, but otherwise the electronics industry will increase for some years to come and hold up the dollar value. Watch polymer chemicals and "epoxy" cements.
25. There will be enough money for mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration in 1962. Plenty of money will be available for mortgages guaranteed by the Veterans Administration, although this supply varies with different sections of the country. Interest rates on conventional loans not having any government guarantees will be a little higher. Real estate people will worry about the public's desire to build, rather than about their obtaining mortgage money.
26. The kilowatt hours of electricity produced in 1962 will exceed the total of any previous year. This is favorable to utility preferences.
27. Steel production in 1962 will exceed this year's 100 million tons, but the increase will come from producing steel in colors.
28. Cement production will be about the same in 1962 as in 1961, but the industry's capacity to produce is increasing too rapidly in view of the demand. The cement manufacturers must give more attention to colors.
29. Expenditures for plant and equipment in 1962 will increase, supplemented by large appropriations for repainting factories and offices in many colors.
30. Newsprint production depends upon the number of newspapers and the amount of advertising sold. of newsprint sold during 1962, but advertising receipts may increase through the better use of colors. This may result in the increased use of coated paper to better take color printing—with a 50 per cent increase in advertising rates.
31. Furniture manufacturers are marking up prices so that young couples will buy furniture in the raw and paint some themselves.
32. There will be some increases in color TV sales in 1962. In fact, I think the present TV market is far from being saturated.
33. First-class postage rates will not be increased during 1962. Hence, more money will be spent on direct mail selling. This should help job printers in 1962, as their present margin of profit is very small. Billboard advertising will increase during 1962, due to a new kind of paint.
34. Lumber will do well to hold its own in 1962 and much of it will be sold colored. Wall-to-wall carpeting will become even more popular, reducing the price of the best hardwood floors.
35. Fewer "scatter rugs" will be sold in 1962. Rug dealers must go to brighter colors, even for "orientals".
36. One of the greatest developments during 1962 will be the increased use of color in homes, offices, stores, and factories. This should increase both the demand for and the price of good paint.
37. Exports will probably increase during 1962, but the surplus of trade in favor of the United States will be smaller than in 1961. (Continued on last page)

Miss Ollie Chenoweth, Runnels County Home Demonstration Agent, Is Retiring

Miss Ollie Chenoweth, Runnels County Home Demonstration Agent, is retiring after many years with the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College. She has been County HD Agent for Runnels County for several years. Miss Chenoweth was reared in Snyder, and received her degree from Sul Ross College, Alpine. She was in the Sweetwater school system for 15 years prior to 1944 when she went into the Extension Service. She summed up her experience in the following manner: "Being a County Home Demonstration Agent has been a wonderful experience for me. I have enjoyed my work thoroughly and shall always treasure the friendship of the women of Runnels County.

"To me, my home demonstration work has been a way of life and not just a way of making a living. It has given me an opportunity for both service and happiness. I am on my own to a great extent and I enjoy the freedom, yet it is nice to know that the Extension Service of A.M. College is backing me up in my work. "I receive much pleasure and satisfaction in driving over the county and counting the homes in which I have had a part in planning some improvement or addition, or perhaps planning the landscape to frame the house. In many of these homes partitions have been removed to make more spacious rooms and many dark rooms have been made into attractive cheerful ones just by following the decorating principles recommended by the home demonstration agent. These improvements have resulted in more attractive, livable homes for many Runnels County families. "Also there are the communities I have helped in planning and carrying out extensive community improvement projects. Two of these communities are Crews and Maverick and they each won in the Community Improvement contests held in the state, however, their greatest reward, and mine, has been the pleasure of working together for the good of the entire community. "My rewards for my work have been many. Travel, friends, the pleasure of seeing plans put into actual practice, but more than anything else the happiness of the (Continued on last page)

Marion Roper and Charles Wetsel Wed In Twilight Ceremony Here December 23

A twilight ceremony Saturday, December 23, at the First Baptist Church, Diann Roberta Roper, daughter of Mrs. M. G. Roper, became the bride of Charles Arlee Wetsel. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wetsel of Wingate.

The Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor of the church, officiated for double ring ceremony, before altar decorated in white glads and lighted tapers where the couple stood to repeat their vows.

Organ music played by Mrs. Hollingshead was traditional numbers including "Because" and "Love You Truly".

Miss Sue Wessels of Winters and Virginia Broyles of Cisco were candle lighters and best man was Darrel Wetsel of Fort Worth. Ushers were Monty England and Samuel Folsom of Wingate and Groomsman was Cliff Watkins of Ballinger.

Mrs. Marion D. Roper of Irving was matron of honor and Miss Nancy Spill of Winters was bridesmaid. They wore dresses of peacock blue slipper satin, with bell skirt and bodice decorated with satin cabbage roses of the self material. They carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Given in marriage by her brother, Marion D. Roper, the bride was dressed in a white slipper satin wedding gown, fashioned with long sleeves, fitted bodice and sabrina neckline. The floor length skirt was designed with bell effect in the front and gathered fullness forming a bustle effect with white satin cabbage roses across the back. Her veil of illusion fell from a tiara studded with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses atop a white Bible.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church where the bride's table was decorated with the bridesmaids' bouquets and candles.

Members of the house party were Mrs. J. F. Priddy, Mrs. Paul Pruet, Mrs. R. W. Balke, Mrs. Hudon White, and Mrs. Darrell Wetsel who served.

For her wedding trip to Lubbock the bride changed to a blue wool suit with black feathered hat and black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School and is now attending Hardin-Simmons University. In high school she was valedictorian of the graduating class, a member of the student council

Installation of Officers For Study Circle Are Held

Wednesday Study Circle of St. John's Lutheran Church met Wednesday, for the day. The morning was spent decorating the church tree and putting lights on the outside trees.

In the afternoon the Circle held their regular monthly meeting with Mrs. R. C. Jr. Kurtz, presiding. The group sang "Joy to the World" and Mrs. H. K. Flathmann read the Christmas story.

The offering meditation was given by Mrs. Kurtz, Mrs. Delbert Kruse called the roll and members answered with Bible verses. The treasurers report was given by Mrs. George Pruser Jr. Installation services for the president, education secretary, and stewardship secretary, for the new year were held, and secret pals were drawn.

The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison by the members and the meeting adjourned.

Those present were Mesdames Delbert Kruse, R. C. Jr. Kurtz, H. K. Flathmann, Jerry Holly, Merle Wright, Fred Mabry, Edward Bredemeyer, Dick Dunlap, R. T. O'Dell, and J. A. Henderson. Hostesses were Mrs. Merle Wright and Mrs. R. C. Jr. Kurtz.

CARD OF THANKS

Our heartfelt thanks are extended to all the friends and neighbors for their comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow at the death of our loved one, Ollie Flowers. For the beautiful service, floral offerings, and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful. We especially wish to thank Dr. Rives, Dr. McCreight, the nurses at the hospital and Mr. Holland, minister of the Church of Christ for his kindness. Mrs. Ollie Flowers and Family.

As the New Year Dawns

The New Year is a time for reflection and at this season we are always especially mindful of how much our friends mean to us. It seems an appropriate occasion to express sincere appreciation for their loyalty and good-will — and for their thoughtfulness in recommending this bank to others.

To depositors who have long been with us — and to those who have recently come to us — we pledge a continuation of the sound policies and friendly service which have been responsible for this bank's steady and solid growth. In years ahead it will be our aim to be even more helpful.

We wish you a Happy New Year. May each day bring you more and richer blessings.

women and girls in the county when they see what they have accomplished in their homes.

"One of the major accomplishments in the county has been through Foods and Nutrition programs which have been carried out through the years. The diets of many families have been improved since learning about the food nutrients which are most important and should be included when planning meals. These programs have been interesting as well as helpful and have been very popular with both the women and the girls as they all enjoy planning and serving attractive, nutritive meals.

"In my seventeen years of home demonstration work there has been fun, excitement, and at times some worries, but it is an experience I would not have missed for anything. This is a doing rather than a telling occupation. It is helping people to help themselves and is primarily an individual performance with the women and the girls being the players. Every one must act her part and anyone can become a star in her role.

"The vital phase in the Extension Philosophy which makes it different from all others is that the people themselves must act before they can receive a large measure of benefit. The Extension Service is known for its high standards and ideals, and its service to the people. We who work under the Extension Service have an opportunity to influence the daily living of people and to help them to live better. Harriet Beecher Stowe once said that woman's mission in the world is to keep up the poetry of life, and to make life more beautiful. I think that is the crowning glory of the work of the home demonstration agent.

"Looking back on my work as a home demonstration agent I have much to be proud of, and much for which to be thankful. I have had the opportunity to do the work I like and am fitted for, and to associate with some of the finest people in the world. I would like to think that I have carried out the thought expressed in this little poem:
We must live our work to do it well,
We must dwell in its spirit and bow to its spell,
We must get from it comfort and pleasure and rest,
We must live in our work, if we'd do it the best."

Babson Predicts--

States is constantly decreasing.

38. President Kennedy is encouraged by the recent elections in New York, New Jersey, and Texas. This Democratic trend will continue during 1962, notwithstanding former President Eisenhower's campaign speeches.

39. President Kennedy will be more favorable to "big business" in 1962 only when he is able to use big business to increase employment. Profit margins will not improve during 1962, although most industries will do better in terms of gross and volume.

40. Bond prices will not change much during 1962, except in the case of "non-taxables". European investors are buying American stocks and bonds feeling that their money is safer in United States industries and real estate. Even the first mortgage bonds of transcontinental railroads are being bought by Europeans. The manufacturers of West Germany are making huge profits through the use of new machinery and low wages. They are sending their money to the United States to be invested. They seem to prefer suburban real estate, shopping centers, and electric utilities. I hope they are not buying into too many "fly-by-night" new electronic companies.

41. Buying of Mutual Funds will continue to exceed selling in 1962. Considering that brokers make much more profit by selling Mutual Funds than by selling shares of individual stocks—and considering the thousands of salesmen selling Mutual Funds—this should help stock prices during 1962. Remember that the Mutual Funds operators must go to the New York Stock Exchange to purchase stock to support these Mutual Funds which salesmen are selling in the field.

42. The so-called "service industries"—including education, beauty parlors, travel, entertainment, and government positions—should prosper in 1962.

43. Among the fastest growing industries in 1962 will be the plastics and glass industries. These materials will gradually take the place of wood, stone, cement, and even some metals,—except as these are colored. Plastics and glass will become more important building materials and perhaps be used much more for automobiles.

44. Some unexpected event or discovery will cause the Dow-Jones Industrial Average to sell much higher during the next few years. As an illustration of what one of these unexpected events will be, I mention the polymer developments in chemistry, including "DNA" and "RNA", which may provide the source of life and extend it—yes, perhaps restore it, in special cases.

45. I am bullish on Canada for safe investments during 1962. Canada has a small population of only about 18,000,000, but it is rich in natural resources and has a sound, progressive government. I do not expect a nuclear war to be started by Russia; but if it comes, Canada will be a good place to live and to have your money invested.

46. South and Central America also have great natural resources; but most of their countries are ruled by selfish dictators. I believe most of our southern neighbors will suffer from serious inflation during 1962 and become a great problem for the United States.

47. Although the countries of Europe could be the greatest sufferers in case of World War III, the people I meet in Europe fail to realize this. I forecast that they will look at the situation more realistically during 1962.

48. West Germany is very prosperous; East Germany is in terrible condition. Much unemployment exists in Italy, France, and even Great Britain. I advise against investing money in Europe during 1962.

49. I am uncertain how to advise about Africa. But it is very rich in natural resources—including gold, diamonds, and almost every metal—as well as having the greatest undeveloped waterpower in the world. Barclays Bank I am personally acquainted with and recommend. Both Barclays and the Standard Bank are owned in England and have a great many branches; the latter has over 850 branch offices in Africa. Readers who are interested in keeping in touch with Africa may secure free of charge the Standard Bank Monthly Review by writing the Standard Bank of South Africa, 10 Clement Lane, London, EC 4. The banking of Northern Africa is controlled by the French. I would advise against putting money into Northern Africa during 1962.

50. The final result of 1962—whether it will make us a stronger or a softer nation—spiritually, physically, and mentally—depends upon our parents, teachers, preachers, and newspaper publishers. These, and not Russia, hold the future of the United States in their hands.

After Christmas we shall know who our close friends are.

MOVIES

"THE YOUNG DOCTORS"

Men who hold life and death in their hands clash in the pulse-quicken drama Sunday only at the State Theatre. "The Young Doctors." Starring Fredric March, Ben Gazzara, Dick Clark, Ina Balin and Eddie Albert, this exciting United Artists release is a powerful story of what goes on behind the scenes at a great metropolitan hospital. It was filmed on location at three hospitals in New York, under the supervision of the chief pathologist of a fourth, and with both the endorsement and cooperation of the American Medical Association. Phil Karison directed from a screenplay by Joseph ("The Desperate Hours") Hayes, based on the best selling novel, "The Final Diagnosis," by Arthur Hailey.

In the film Fredric March is cast, for the third time in his forty year career, as a doctor: the elderly chief pathologist who comes into conflict with Ben Gazzara, playing a young doctor with new ideas and modern methods. Ina Balin is an attractive nurse about whom the principal story-line turns, for it is while on an ice-skating date with her that the young doctor first learns that she requires medical attention. It is the inability of Gazzara and March to agree on the final diagnosis of her disease that contributes to the dramatic crisis of the film.

"PARIS BLUES"

American jazz musicians began a migration to Paris before World War II which has persisted until now, and "Paris Blues," which opens Tuesday at the State Theatre, is the story of two of them. Starring Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward and Sidney Poitier, the United Artists release boasts a score by legendary Duke Ellington and the presence of the only true King of Jazz, Louis Armstrong, who plays a character very much like himself. Featured with "Satchmo" is Diahann Carroll, top-rated vocalist whose cameo appearance in "Goodbye Again" presaged this brilliant dramatic debut. She plays a tourist who meets jazzman Poitier in Paris when her friend Joanne Woodward meets his friend, played by Newman.

In the interests of authenticity, both Newman and Poitier began taking music lessons several months prior to the start of production. Famed jazzman Connie Janis loaned Newman his own trombone for use in the film and Murray MacEachern spent hours teaching the actor the "sliphorn's" fundamentals. Similarly, Doug Bridges worked with Poitier on the tenor saxophone. As a result of the intensive training, both actors were able to play the instruments themselves in a climactic "big bash" scene in which Armstrong visits them in the Left Bank bistro where they are employed as musicians.

HOME TOWN

Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

During the Christmas holidays past, half America was on highways—and the other half at the gas pump getting ready to pull out. At least that's the way it seemed to us. We've just completed a long trip, and the traffic was so heavy over the highways of the five states we covered that it was necessary to get in at the wayside service stations in order to get the oil changed under the windshield. And the stations which were doing the best were those where attendants had developed the knack of filling the tank with one hand, checking the oil and wiping off the dip stick with the handful of bills you hand in to pay for the gas, all the while waving with the other hand for the next car to move up in line. It's a relief to get back to personal service in the old home town.

Seriously, there was a lot of traffic on the highways during the holidays, and the stage was set perfectly for mass slaughter, and a miracle was that there were no more fatal highway accidents than actually occurred. We've traveled that same 2200 mile trail several times, but this year it seemed that the traffic was more regulated and more manageable than ever before—even though heavier—perhaps (and we like to think that this is the reason) as a result of the stepped-up and constant reminders to the driver of his life and the lives of many others depended on the way he conducted himself on the highway. We did witness many instances of outright disregard for the rules of safety, but it would seem that the percentage is getting smaller and smaller as more and more cars hit the roads.

We've heard that one of the old familiar sights along the highways, the Burma Shave sign, is headed for oblivion. Perhaps because of the high speeds which are becoming more popular on most highways. One we got a kick out of, though, went something like, "This will never come to pass—a back-seat driver out of gas." Their passing from the scene will mark the end of an era.

Speaking of speed, it is interesting to note the many different opinions in the several states regarding what constitutes safe speed on the highways. And it would seem that the condition of the roads has a thing to do with it. For instance, there were on one road in one state that was narrow and so crooked that a quarter-mile straight stretch was as welcome as a freeway; and yet the posted speed limit was 45 MPH. The states with the best roads have the highest maximum speed limits! Quite a difference from the 60 MPH we returned to on the wide straight highways of Texas. Makes one wonder if our local speed limits are not just a bit unrealistic—they're more often treated as a minimum rather than a maximum, and violation becomes a common and popularly accepted habit. Would it not be more realistic if speed limits were keyed to location and condition of the road and weather possibilities?

To many, the making of New Year's resolutions is half the fun of living—the other half is in breaking them.

Saw one sight on that trip that all has our hair standing on end: a giant cross-country truck, with the driver sitting about eight feet from the highway, tallgating a milkswagon!

A friend of ours bought his wife an orchid to wear on special occasions during the holidays. To preserve it between dates, instead of putting it in the refrigerator, he put it in the freezer. Within a few minutes after taking it out, it was black as coal.

There's an air of comradeship among drivers on the regular highways. Usually a word of greeting, at least a nod between strangers on the roadside diners, coffee stops and watering places. An exchange of road information, weather conditions or perhaps even a cup of coffee. Even an exchange of maps between drivers headed in opposite directions. America is a nation on wheels, and the natural friendliness seems to be a part of the travel pattern.

Not so on the super-roads, the Not-as-you-go turnpikes, for some (Continued on page 6)

Winters Students Will Take Part In Abilene Band Clinic

Members of the Winters High School band, and their director, Robert R. Gans, will be among the more than 350 high school band students and band instructors who will congregate on the McMurry College campus in Abilene January 6 for the annual Region II Band Clinic.

McMurry College, represented by Band Professor Raymond T. Bynum, is host for the clinic.

The all-day session will be attended by student musicians from 37 high schools ranging up to 150 miles distance from Abilene.

Highlight of the day will be at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in Radford Auditorium. Here the best band students, selected from rigorous competition and judging during the day, will form the "All-Region Band" and will present a formal public concert. There will be no charge. Admission to the concert.

Eight members of the 110-member All-Region Band will automatically become assigned members of the All-State Band which will hold its follow-up clinic in Dallas.

Throughout the morning the band students will perform "sight unseen" for experienced judges. Tryout materials for the students will consist of scales, sight reading and prepared works. The separate members of each of the 37 high school bands will try out for the honor of performing in the evening concert. A total of 23 band instruments will be involved.

Tryouts begin at 8:30 a. m. Announcement of All-Region and All-State Band members will be made in Radford Auditorium at 1:30 p. m. The newly-formed All-Region Band will then rehearse for the remainder of the afternoon, in preparation for the evening concert.

County Political Pot Beginning To Simmer

The Runnels County political pot has begun to simmer slowly, in view of an early Democratic Primary—May 5—and an earlier filing deadline—February 5—for candidates seeking office this year. But with several county officers to be elected or re-elected this year, the temperature probably will begin to rise rapidly as the deadline date draws nearer, according to seasoned observers.

Claude Mansell of Ballinger, the Runnels County Democratic Chairman, told The Enterprise Wednesday that only one candidate has thus far paid the filing fee, even though there are some who have made announcements. Mansell said that State Senator Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo had paid the fee and will be a candidate for re-election to that office.

Otis Jacob, Runnels County Treasurer, is formally announcing his candidacy for re-election this week. Also, Melvin Mapes, Commissioner from Precinct No. 2, is announcing his candidacy for re-election this week.

Other county officers whose terms expire this year, include County Judge W. H. Rampey, County Clerk Frankie Berryman, District Court Clerk Willie Stephens, County Superintendent W. E. Elkins, and Paul Gordon, Commissioner from Precinct 4, Miles.

Candidates for these offices probably will announce within the next few days, to meet the Feb. 5 deadline.

All these county offices are for a term of four years. Also, there probably are some Peace Justice offices in the county which will have to be filled again this year, it was reported from the county seat.

IN BRYAN HOME
Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bryan's daughter, Betty, and her husband, Lt. Raymond D. Allard, spent the holidays with the Bryans. Lt. Allard has just returned from Attwater, Calif. where he has spent three months. He was previously stationed in Great Falls, Montana. The couple left Tuesday for Blytheville, Arkansas where he is now stationed.

TO DENTON
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adami spent the holidays in the home of their son, Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Adami and children at Denton.

TO WACO
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Millorn spent the Christmas holidays in the home of their daughter, T-Sgt. and Mrs. Bob McClelland in Waco.

J. W. BAHLMAN
... C of C President

Bahlman Is New Head Of C. of C.

J. W. Bahlman, Winters jeweler, was elected president of the Winters Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning at a meeting of the board of directors at Pierce Cafeteria.

Mord Tucker was elected vice president, and William D. Parish was elected treasurer. Mrs. B. B. Bedford is secretary-manager of the organization.

Bahlman succeeds A. W. Libbe as president of the Chamber of Commerce. This is his second term as president; he was a member of the board in 1958 and 1959, and was president in 1958.

In other business discussed by the board of directors in Tuesday's meeting, the decision was made to continue meeting at 6:30 a. m. on the first Tuesday of each month.

Directors also discussed publication of the new City Directory, which will be out in the near future, and also discussed the Christmas decorations.

Poll Tax List Growing Longer

The list of otherwise qualified voters who have paid their poll tax is growing longer each day, with the approaching deadline of January 31 only a little more than three weeks away.

Close to a hundred people already have paid their poll taxes in the office of Deputy Tax Collector Travis Jordan on North Main Street. This sub-office has been open only a short time. Taxes paid in Winters are in addition to those poll taxes paid by people who got their receipts directly from the county tax collector's office in Ballinger.

Mrs. Joe V. Hinds of Plainview visited friends here during the Christmas holidays.

Annual Junior Livestock Show To Be Held Saturday; Over 135 Entries

More than 135 head of livestock are expected to be shown during the annual Junior FFA and 4-H Livestock Show set for Saturday, January 6, in the FFA stock barns. Stock is scheduled to be moved into the barns by Friday night and readied for the show which will begin at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Already signed up for the show are 70 head of sheep, 60 head of swine, and 6 fat calves.

The show is an annual affair sponsored by the Winters FFA Junior Livestock Association, and is open to bonafide members of the Winters Chapter, FFA, and to 4-H members who attend Winters and Wingate schools. Much of the livestock shown at this event will be taken to the Abilene Livestock Show at a later date, and to other shows. However, it was explained, winning places in this show will not necessarily be a requirement for the later shows.

This annual show is financed by the sale of memberships in the Junior Livestock Association.

SWINE SHOW DIVISION
T. C. Blankenship, vocational agriculture teacher at Hamlin, will be the judge in the swine show, which will be from 9 to 9:30 Saturday morning.

Runnels County FB Behind Screwworm Eradication Drive

The Runnels County Farm Bureau has gone on record for endorsement of the Screwworm Eradication program now in progress in the county and throughout the state.

At the regular monthly meeting of the FB board of directors, Elliott Kemp spoke on the screwworm eradication program. It was explained that checks for this drive to eradicate the screwworm in livestock will be accepted by any bank in the county, any FFA teacher, the committee in charge of the program, or the county agent. This is a voluntary program, with stockmen asked to donate funds with which to set up an eradication plan and construct laboratories.

Twenty-four members of the FB and two visitors were present for the meeting. Edward M. Cumbie of Bronte, Field Representative of the Texas Farm Bureau, was introduced by Hugo Vogelsang, president of the Runnels FB. Cumbie discussed and helped the directors plan a program for 1962.

President Vogelsang named two committees for 1962. Membership committee will be made up of Alfred Multer, Rowena, chairman, and S. S. Childers, Hatchell; D. E. Forgy, Ballinger; Edwin Urban, Miles; Sol Nichols, and M. L. Dobbins, both of Winters.

The policy execution committee will be made up of Marion Hays, Ballinger, chairman; Ben J. Erich, Rowena; S. S. Childers, Hatchell; M. L. Dobbins, Winters; and Leroy Pelzel, Miles.

Other committees for 1962 will be named at the next meeting which will be held the third Thursday night in January.

Cotton Is Almost Out; 8254 Bales Ginned In Winters

Warm, dry weather of the past several days has served to bring the harvest of the 1961 cotton crop nearer to an end. Local gins have been kept busy, and cotton trailers stacked up on ginyards, as a result of farmers taking advantage of the few days of good weather. Most of the cotton in this area has been picked, observers noted this week.

Prior to Christmas, cotton harvest had been anything but steady, delayed by wet weather.

Up to Wednesday, Winters gins had ginned 8254 bales. Other gins in the area have reported increase in processing during the past few days, also.

Some cotton was brought to Winters gins from the Divide area in Nolan County, where gins were reported to be "covered up" during the good weather.

BAND MOTHERS TO MEET

The Band Mothers Club will meet Tuesday, Jan. 9, at 4:15 p. m. in the Band Hall. All members are urged to be present for this meeting.

GREGORY B. THOMASSON
... Principal Speaker at C. of C. Banquet

Gregory B. Thomasson, communication representative of the Abilene office of General Dynamics/Astronautics, builders of the Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, will be the guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Winters Chamber of Commerce Thursday, Jan. 11.

The banquet will be held in the Winters school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m.

As has been the custom in the past, members and guests attending the annual banquet will register in the lobby of the school gymnasium, and following the invocation by Tom Holland, minister of the Winters Church of Christ, will go to the cafeteria for dinner and the program.

A. W. Libbe, outgoing president of the business organization, will preside, and R. C. Thomas will be master of ceremonies.

Included in the program for the annual event will be the singing of America by the group, led by J. W. Bahlman, and the Pledge of Allegiance, by the group, led by Mord Tucker.

Special entertainment for the evening will be provided by the Sno-Flakes, the girls' vocal group from Winters High School, accompanied by Robert Gans.

Thomasson is a native of Burlington, North Carolina, where he attended high school. He attended Northeast Mississippi Junior College, and graduated from Arkansas State College in 1957 with a B. A. degree in Biological Science.

In August of 1957 he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps, and after serving a tour of duty, was employed by General Dynamics-Astronautics. In March of 1961 he was sent to Abilene as their Public Relations Representative.

He is married to the former Miss Lauralee Young of Abilene. Tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet may be obtained from any member of the board of directors.

Mother of Three Children Who Died In Flames Remains In Local Hospital

Mrs. Johnnie Bankston, whose three children perished last Thursday morning in flames which swept through their home, remains in the Winters Municipal Hospital. Her condition was reported as satisfactory. She received first and second degree burns on her face and neck while attempting to rescue the children from the blazing two-room frame house.

Mrs. Bankston was unable to attend the funeral services for her three children. Services were held at 3 p. m. Friday at Northview Cemetery for Priscella and Loucella Bankston, four and one-half year-old twins, and their brother, Johnnie Bankston Jr., three and one-half.

The Rev. Virgil James, pastor of the South Side Baptist Church, officiated at the services. Spill funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

The fire Thursday morning, which brought a note of sadness to the community during the post-Christmas holidays, was believed to have started from a kerosene cook stove in the front room of the house. Fire Chief Dee Waggoner was reported to have said he was not certain whether the fire was triggered by an explosion of the stove.

Mrs. John Curry, who owns the house in which the Bankstons were living, said she was talking to Mrs. Bankston when they discovered the fire. The small house is directly behind the Curry home.

Mrs. Bankston had gone to get water in the back yard of the Curry home, it was reported. Mrs. Curry said, "I was hanging clothes on the line and offered her some meat for lunch. She stepped in the house to get it, and just as she came back out we heard the children screaming. Then we saw the smoke." That was at 10:30 a. m.

As Mrs. Bankston attempted to rush in the front door of the burning home, her hair caught fire. She screamed "Save my babies," and ran across the street to the house of Mrs. Ruby Lee Walker. Dinnie Holmes, who was visiting Mrs. Walker, pushed Mrs. Bankston back outside and smothered the flames in her hair.

Holmes said persons attracted by the fire attempted to enter the house to save the children, but heavy smoke drove them back. When it appeared entry to the house was impossible, a woman attempted to call the children to a window but got no response.

The back door of the house had been nailed shut. Neighbors who attempted to help the mother rescue her children said they could not find tools to open the nailed door in time to prevent their deaths.

Bodies of the Bankston children were found huddled near a bed which had been pushed across a side door in the rear room of the house.

They are survived by their mother and their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alek Grant of Winters.

Ginger Gardner Dist. Historian Of Future Teachers

Ginger Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner of Winters recently was named historian of District II of the Future Teachers of America. Miss Gardner was elected to office at the district meeting in Dublin.

Several members of the Winters chapter of the FTA attended the meeting. They were accompanied by Mrs. Charles Kruse and Mrs. E. Y. Buckner, sponsors.

Miss Gardner is a junior in Winters High School, and treasurer of the local FTA chapter. She is a member of the National Honor Society, and is active in girls' basketball and tennis. She was a finalist in the state tennis doubles competition last year. She has served in various offices in the school, and is vice president of the Sub Deb Club. She also is active in youth work in the Winters Presbyterian Church.

ROBERT GANS

Robert Gans Elected To American Band Directors Ass'n.

Robert R. Gans, band director at Winters High School, has been notified that he has been elected to the American School Band Directors Association. He was notified by telegram recently of his election to the association.

Membership in the ASBDA is by invitation only, and each candidate is voted on at the National Convention. Donald McCabe, chairman of the membership committee, wired Gans from Cleveland, Ohio, where the Convention was in session last week. The telegram reads, "May I extend heartfelt congratulations on your election to the American School Band Directors Association. You are welcome to attend the remainder of the Cleveland Convention . . . "Donald McCabe, chairman, membership committee."

Membership in the ASBDA is the most coveted of all music organizations among band directors. Each candidate must be nominated by a member of the association, and three other members must co-sign the nomination. Candidates' record of achievements are listed on the application, which is processed by a committee appointed by the chairman. Membership of the organization votes on the application after a report is given by the committee.

There are only twenty-six Texas band directors who are members of the ASBDA. Gans is the twenty-seventh member in the state. His (Continued on page 7)

"Escheat" Is A Word Texans Will Be Hearing More Frequently This Year

BY VERN SANFORD
 Texas Press Association

"Escheat" is a word you'll hear often during the next 30 days.

With the fourth session of the 57th Legislature under way the most important item on the agenda is "escheat". Governor Price Daniel called this third special session because he believes the more than 1,500 banks and savings and loan associations should be subject to escheat.

But just what is "escheat"? It's a process as ancient as Roman history; written in Old England's feudal law; described by Webster as, "Reversion of land to the crown, or to the state in the United States, by failure of persons legally entitled to hold the same."

Escheat provisions were incorporated in the constitution of the Republic of Texas, and enacted as a state statute in 1885.

Texas law always has stated that when anybody dies without heirs, or disappears and can't be found, his property shall be turned over to the state, after seven years. But the law has lacked a provision by which persons or institutions holding property of missing persons were required to report it.

Governor Daniel started pushing for a provision three years ago, and last summer the Legislature finally passed a report in provision. But the bankers have fought it long and successfully. They are still exempt from the reporting law, although all other businesses and public agencies must comply.

During the interim between legislative sessions, a special house committee has been investigating enforcement of escheat laws applicable to banking institutions. Committee discovered that much of the $4,000,000 escheatable accounts lying dormant in Texas banks is being dissipated through service charges and recommended that:

IT'S CATCHING ON—New self-serve store in Gdynia, Poland, bears a marked resemblance to stores long familiar in shopping centers throughout the United States.

1. The Legislature add banking institutions to the escheat enforcement law without delay, and require banks to advertise for lost owners after seven years.
2. That this matter receive prompt attention in the January session, because the committee estimates a year's delay would mean the loss of $1,000,000 through the procedure of service charges on accounts that don't require service.
3. That the committee keep on working to see if there are any other considerations which should be brought to the attention of the 58th Legislature.

LOAN SHARK LEGISLATION

Although the Governor hasn't said he'll introduce loan legislation at the special session, it's considered a safe bet that the uproar over "loan shark" practices of sky-high interest rates will prompt him to place this issue on the January agenda.

The Legislative Council had a heated debate, and voted 9-2 to commend a loan bill backed by Representative Criss Cole of Houston.

Cole's bill sets a 10 percent ceiling on interest to be charged on loans.

A lender would be able to charge more than 10 percent on loans under $1,500 only if he got a state license, paying $200 for investigation and $200 a year license fee. To get the license, he'd have to hold $15,000 in liquid assets for each loan office, and post a $20,000 surety bond, plus $5,000 for each branch, plus the $200 annual fee for each office.

Cole's bill calls for creation of a Consumer Finance Commission which would examine each lender's books annually, at the expense of the lender.

Interest charges would be limited to: 10 percent per annum on the amount of cash advance; plus a "service and availability charge" of three-fourths of one percent per month for each $1 of the first $400 of the loan on loans over $100.

On loans under $100, the charge would be $1 for each $5 borrowed, with at least 15 days to be allowed to repay each $5 of the loan.

If excessive charges are made, the lender would have no right to collect principal or charges, and would be fined from $100 to $1,000, and confined to the county jail as long as six months.

The dissenting votes in the Legislative Council were from Senator Charles Herring of Austin, who calculates the minimum rate on loans of $1,500 to be 45 percent, and Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth, who figures a $5 loan for 15 days would cost the borrower 464.4 percent interest under the Cole bill.

TOURIST BOOSTERS REACH 1,000

The 600 who decided to organize a Texas Tourist Council at the November "Texans for Tourists" conference here, have swollen to an estimated 1,000. They will gather in Austin on January 10 for the first Council meeting.

After the group approves a constitution and elects officers for the "nonpartisan, nonprofit" tourist promotion organization, it will host a "dutch lunch" for all representatives and senators.

Luncheon will feature a presentation urging that money be made available from the General Fund to the Texas Highway Department for tourist advertising purposes.

W. Price Jr., chairman of the Tourist Council's executive committee, writes, "We have every reason to believe that the Governor will submit in his call appropriations for the tourist attraction program before our meeting on January 10."

Earlier, the committee estimated that $3,000,000 would be needed from General Revenue to get the advertising program underway. The Council hopes to augment this amount with $2,000,000 in private subscriptions.

PRESIDENTIAL TASK FORCE

National interest in Texas' program of work with the mentally retarded resulted in the appointment of Charles S. Eskridge, director of the Division of Special Education of the Texas Education Agency, to the President's Task Force Committee on Education and Rehabilitation.

Eskridge will serve with physicians, scientists, educators and rehabilitation specialists selected from other sections of the country.

Approximately 5,000,000 Americans are mentally retarded, of whom four percent reside in institutions at an annual cost of almost $300,000,000.

The Texas Education Agency has been notably successful in a cooperative schoolwork program of local school education of mentally retarded children between the ages of six and 17.

HOUSING FOR THE AGED

In an effort to stimulate housing for those men and women among Texas' 745,000 old folks who need either specially-built small homes, apartments priced within their limited incomes or institutions that offer nursing care, the Governor's Committee on Aged has prepared a guide to federal building programs.

Guidebook outlines procedures and requirements for obtaining building loans from seven federal agencies, some of which are virtually unknown to the average citizen or organization.

Response has been so great that the original order of 3,000 copies is just about depleted. Committee Chairman Senator Crawford C. Martin has ordered a second printing.

SHORT SNORTS

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has asked the Attorney General to take "all necessary steps" to stop dredging of a deep water channel in Calhoun County until that county's navigation district returns 20,639 acres of unused underwater land to the state.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White says he will run for reelection. He's been undefeated since he first won the post in 1950.

Senator Ralph W. Yarborough announces that preliminary design work has started on a special commemorative stamp honoring the late Sam Rayburn.

Brigadier General Everett S. Simpson is encouraging Texas men to enlist in the Texas National Guard's 36th Infantry Division. The six-months active duty training program will be reinstated this month.

UT's Bureau of Business Research reports retail sales in the state for November rose 1.9 percent above October, and six percent over November, 1960. . . . 7.7 percent more building permits were issued during the first 11 months of 1961, than in the same period last year.

Texas Highway Department reports a total of 61,979 miles of roads in the state network—far more than any other state's.

The giver makes the precious gift.

Outline Methods For Overcoming Radioactive 131

Radioactive iodine 131 can be one of the most hazardous problems of food contamination during the first 60 days following a nuclear attack, but at the same time much can be done to overcome the hazard it presents, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist.

Iodine 131 fallout could contaminate almost all fresh foods, says Meekma, however, because radioactivity in the material is so short-lived, several courses would be open to remove or reduce the danger to humans. Dairy men, for example, could confine milk cows to the barn and feed them safely on forage and feed that had been stored for 60 days. Also, ensilage that had been stored for this length of time could be safely fed to dairy cows.

Should iodine 131 get into fluid milk, there are also precautions that will protect users of fresh milk, Meekma says. For example, milk containing relatively low amounts of radioactivity could simply be stored until the radio-activity decayed. This, the specialist points out, is possible because today's commercial pasteurized, homogenized milk can maintain good quality for long periods of time at usual refrigeration temperatures.

Should the iodine 131 level be high enough to require 30 to 60 days storage before the radioactivity is dissipated, acceptable means of holding milk for such periods would include freezing, holding for the required time, and thawing and distributing to consumers or processing it into dried milk, canned milk, cheese or butter. In any case there should be no disposal or destruction of milk contaminated with 131, Meekma says.

Riding Club Met Tuesday Night At Scott's Cafe

Members of the Winters Riding Club met Tuesday night at Scott's Cafe for their annual meeting and election of officers.

Pat Sawyer was re-elected president; Mrs. Floyd Sims, secretary; and Jim Williams, parade chairman.

An announcement was made that the Riding Club had leased a block of land to be used as a practice arena. Work of clearing and grading the land will start soon. The arena will also be fenced and lighted.

The club is accepting new members and anyone interested in becoming a member should contact one of the members.

Regular meetings are held on the first and third Thursday night each month. Next meeting will be Jan. 16 at 8 p.m. at Scott's Cafe.

The new constitution and by-laws were read and accepted. Members on the constitution committee are Pat Sawyer, Mrs. Bill Graham, James Williams and James West.

A committee composed of Welton Minzenmayer, Bud Eoff, James Buxkemper, Arthur Clark and C. B. Huckaby was appointed to see about building the arena and making the rules for the use of it.

Discussion was held on purchasing chaps, breast harness, blankets and vests for the group.

Members attending the meeting were Messrs and Mesdames Bill Graham, Press Edwards, J. E. Cooper, R. D. Hudson, C. B. Huckaby, Mrs. Floyd Sims, John Sims, H. H. McCreight, Pat Sawyer, Charles Sawyer, Jim Williams, James West, Guy Seals, Arthur Clark, Wayland Scott, John E. Adoo, Weldon Minzenmayer, Bud Eoff, James Buxkemper and Floyd Grant.

Patsy Jean Williams and Bobby James Staggs United In Marriage Dec. 24

The First Assembly of God Church was the scene, Sunday, Dec. 24, of the wedding of Miss Patsy Jean Williams and Bobby James Staggs.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Williams and parents of the bridegroom are John Staggs of Abilene and Mrs. Armitie Miles of Brentwood, California.

The Rev. William Covey, pastor of the Bethel Pentecostal Church of God, officiated, before an altar flanked by baskets of red gladiolus, white chrysanthemums and lighted wedding tapers.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a floor length gown of white chantilly lace over net and silk designed with a fitted bolero and sleeves which tapered to a point over the hands. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and white rosebuds. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom and carried a bouquet of carnations with satin streamers tied in love knots, atop a white Bible, a gift of the bride's mother.

Mrs. Jack Davis, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a red lace dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Flower girls were Teresa Gann and Shirley Staggs, sister of the bridegroom.

Best man was Jack Davis Sr., brother-in-law of the bride.

Andy Gann and Jack Davis Jr., nephew of the bride, were candlelighters.

A reception was held in the American Legion Hall, hosted by the bride's parents. Mrs. Robert Kraatz Sr. served the wedding cake and punch. Miss Carolyn White of Abilene was at the register.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to Brady. The bride attended Winters and Norton Schools and the groom attended schools in California.

Chancel Guild of Lutheran Church Met December 28

The Chancel Guild of St. John's Lutheran Church met in the parsonage on Dec. 28th at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. A. W. Stoecker, president, presided and opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Bill Hoppe then gave the topic "Building the Flower Arrangement for the Church". Then a discussion was held on "Things to Avoid in Church Flower Arrangements".

Committee reports were given. The revised constitution of the Guild was accepted.

The members answered roll call with scripture quotations. The meeting was closed by the group praying the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Mrs. A. W. Stoecker and Mrs. A. B. Spill served refreshments.

Members present were Mesdames H. K. Flathman, J. J. Wesels, Charles Adami, W. M. Hoppe, Albert Spill, Ellis Ueckert, T. F. Hantsche, Miss Emma Henniger, two visitors, Margie and Dan Smith of San Angelo.

Nearly every American thinks he is a writer except the men and women who have to make their living writing.

Melvin Mapes Announces For Re-Election As Commissioner of Precinct No. 2

To the Voters of Precinct No. 2: I would like to thank each of you personally for your fine cooperation and loyalty during my term as your Commissioner. It has been indeed a great pleasure to serve in this office, all of which is due to your loyalty and support.

In making my announcement for a second term I sincerely hope this relation shall continue, and we can work together in the future as we have in the past. I shall continue with the same untiring interest in the duties of this office and will not be interested in the things that are not for the good of the people of this precinct. It may be impossible for me to contact each of you personally but please consider my past years of experience in county work and let me have your vote, for I need the job.

David C. Fritz, 83, Died December 22 In Local Hospital

David Clayton Fritz, 83, died at 10:40 p.m. Friday, December 22, in the Winters Municipal Hospital after an illness of three months. He had surgery recently in Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene.

Services were held Sunday, Dec. 24 at 2 p.m. from the local Church of Christ with Dr. Walter Adams of Abilene Christian College, officiating, assisted by R. W. Grimley, also of ACC, and Tom Holland, minister of the Winters church. Arrangements were by Spill Funeral Home.

Native of Texas, Mr. Fritz was born Feb. 26, 1878, in Celeste, and lived with his parents until he accepted employment with the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad as a telegrapher. He worked in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, and in 1907 moved to Munday where he remained until his retirement in 1923. He had acquired considerable amounts of land and following his retirement spent his time looking after farming interests.

While in Munday, he was a trustee of the Munday schools for several years, and was one of the seven original directors of the Knox County Hospital, serving as secretary of the board for several years.

He was married to Docia Allen Bray on Nov. 11, 1903 at White-wright. She preceded him in death in 1957.

In 1933 the family moved to Abilene and built a home near Abilene Christian College. He and his wife moved to Winters in 1956.

On August 24, 1961, he was married to Mrs. Joanna Bell of Abilene.

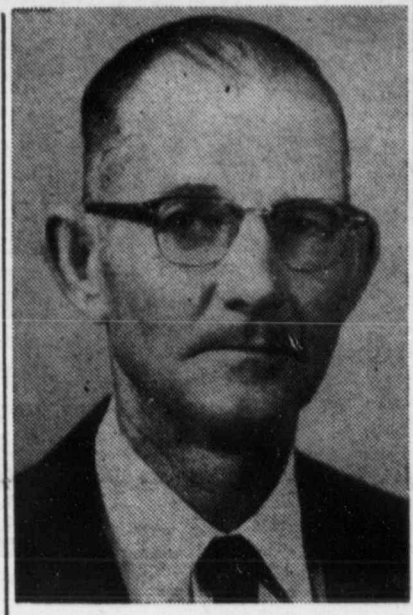

Mr. Fritz was a member of the Church of Christ, and a former Mason and Shriner.

Survivors include the wife; one son, W. C. Fritz of Midland; two daughters, Mrs. Earl Pruitt of Munday and Mrs. J. P. (Pete) Davidson of Winters; thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild; two sisters, Mrs. Leon Maloney of Wolf City and Mrs. Harry Saunders of Denison; three stepchildren, Gaston Bell of Abilene, Dean Bell of San Angelo, and Mrs. Marguerite Fain of Billings, Mont.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery. Pallbearers were Ercel Vaughan, Bill Wilson, Jess Wetzel, Eddie Little, B. G. Owens, Guy Seals, all of Winters, and G. A. Scruggs and Penn Gilbreth of Abilene.

IN BURTON HOME

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burton during the holidays were: Mr. and Mrs. Willis Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hilton, Mike and Vickie of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kirkland and girls, Mrs. Laura Nelms of Abilene, and Mrs. James Torrence and daughter of Merkel.

Funeral Services In Amarillo For Mrs. D. B. Roberson

Funeral rites were held in Amarillo for Mrs. D. B. Roberson, 83, who died unexpectedly Tuesday at 8:45 p.m. at the home of her son, Loyd, here. Mrs. Roberson suffered a stroke shortly before her death.

Mrs. Roberson had lived in Amarillo 25 years before moving to Winters two years ago.

Born Fannie Boulware on Feb. 10, 1878, in Farmersville, she moved to Cleburne with her parents and married D. B. Roberson there in December, 1897.

Mr. Roberson, a realtor and insurance man, died in Amarillo in 1937.

Mrs. Roberson was a member of the First Baptist Church in Amarillo.

Survivors include three sons, Loyd of Winters, Howard of Amarillo and Deward of Hereford; one daughter, Mrs. Curtis McCafferty of Ramstein, Germany; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; two brothers, Tom Boulware of Hillsboro, and Mart Boulware of Cleburne; four sisters, Mrs. Harvey Bratton of Cleburne, Mrs. O. C. Sawyer of Fort Worth, Mrs. Ray Stine of Petrolia, and Mrs. T. F. Wright of Odessa.

VFW and Auxiliary Set Out Shrubs At Cemetery

Winters Post 9193, Veterans of foreign Wars, and its Auxiliary, have completed another phase of their "Beautification" project for Lakeview Cemetery. They recently set out 108 Blue Cone shrubs. This has been their main community project for 1961-62.

Mrs. W. L. Collins, Community Service Chairman for the group, expressed appreciation on behalf of the organization to those who donated shrubbery and to those who did other work on the project. Helping to clean up the cemetery and planting the shrubs were W. D. Waggoner, Raymond Ueckert, Johnny Gann, Monroe Dodd, Van Whittenburg, Fletcher Campbell, C. C. Paske, Harvey D. Jones, W. L. Collins and Terry Collins.

The group has also curbed Baby Land section at the cemetery and plans to set the angels in February, it was announced.

Deadline Near For Disabled Veterans To Report Income

The VA issued a reminder today that the time is near for disabled veterans and dependents of deceased veterans to submit their annual income reports.

A tabulating card type of questionnaire form will be enclosed with these checks about January 1, 1962. If such a questionnaire is not received with this check, the VA should be notified at once.

This income questionnaire must be filled out completely—every blank—signed and returned to the VA Regional Office who has the claims file. The VA warns that if the income report is not received within 30 days, regulations require that further payments be stopped.

Otis Jacob Seeking Reelection To Office of County Treasurer of Runnels County

The Voters of Runnels County: I wish to announce that I will be a candidate for re-election to the office of County Treasurer in the Democratic primaries this year. It has been a deep privilege to serve you in this office. I feel that I have done my work well and I have been on the job at all times, performing the duties of the position to meet the requirements of the office. I am grateful to the voters of the county for having placed their trust in me for this position. By electing me to this office you have made it possible for me to provide for my family and to take my place in the civic life of the community. I will appreciate your vote and support for re-election to the office and I promise that I will use the experience of the past years to serve you even better in the future. Sincerely, Otis Jacob.

Successful Business Man Must Be Able To Deal Successfully With Help

In the last weekly column which I shall write you before my "BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL FORECAST for 1962" appears in this newspaper, I wish to say an important word to you. In short, your success as an investor or businessman, especially as a manufacturer or retailer—depends upon the intangibles which cannot be reduced to statistics. Let me mention four of these.

airplanes, all can subscribe to Dun Bradstreet or Moody's reports or any other business aids. Hence, it all comes down to the fact that it is the one having the best judgment plus the best courage who will be the successful man.

RELIGION AND PRAYER

By religion, I do not mean theology. It does not interest me how old a denomination is, or how large is its membership. Many religious people do not attend Church, except at Christmas and Easter. Throughout history, people have been religious and non-religious. I even feel that some who call themselves atheists may be truly religious.

On the wall surrounding the Great World Globe on the campus of the Babson Institute are these words in large letters, "FOR WHAT IS A MAN PROFITED, IF HE SHALL GAIN THE WHOLE WORLD AND LOSE HIS OWN SOUL?" The greatest intangible of all is a sane religion. A man may accumulate property without religion; but he is successful only as he is happy and his children turn out well. I believe in sane prayer. I read my Bible every day. Those who know me probably feel I am a hypocrite because I make so many mistakes. However, I would be of much less value to myself and everyone else if I did not have a sane religion.

IMPORTANCE OF JUDGEMENT

In studying the history of a corporation—in terms of employment or the purchase or sale of stock—you cannot depend on statistics or on any of the other sides which I have mentioned in earlier columns. People succeed and failed in business because there were any such things as statistics, or credit reports, or any other form of printed information. My grandfather actually got his accounts on his shirtsleeve during the week and they were copied by one of his daughters in a rough notebook on Sundays. The various manuals and financial services now available are of help, but you must determine how they are to be used.

Employees Wage Reports For SS Due January 31

Area employers are reminded that their reports of employees wages are due by Jan. 31. Floyd B. Ellington, manager of the San Angelo social security office, reminded area residents.

COURAGE MOST IMPORTANT

Going back to the days of Venice and Athens, when trading started, courage was the asset a successful man had. This applied to trading on sea in small vessels without port or compass, and by pack caravans which went over the mountains with valuable goods. Courage was indispensable, and still is. Today, the businessman has the advantage of telephones, airplanes, and even stockbrokers' tickers; but none of these things take the place of courage. The reason is obvious; namely, that all his competitors have the same advantages. He has telephones; all can use

Funeral Services Held Saturday For Francisco Rendon

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Francisco Rendon Jr., 61. Mr. Rendon died Friday afternoon in a local doctor's office after suffering a heart attack at 3 o'clock that afternoon.

Mr. Rendon had come to Winters from Skidmore, in October to pick cotton with his two neeces. He was born Jan. 22, 1900 at Gonzales, and was reared near Sinton. He had lived in Skidmore since 1949. He was a member of the Catholic Church.

The Rev. Robert Kneselsburger, pastor of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church in Winters, was in charge of the funeral services, held at Spill Memorial Chapel. Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery. Surviving are the two nieces, Mrs. Manuel Lopez and Mrs. Tiofilo Lopez, both of Winters.

Ingrid Bergman enjoys a brief romantic interlude with Anthony Perkins, who plays the younger brother of Miss Bergman's two suitors in the film, won the award for Best Actor when it was shown at the Cannes Film Festival.

Rock Hudson and Gina Lollobrigida are teamed on the screen for the first time as they mix warm romance with frolicsome comedy in "Come September." Sandra Dee, Bobby Darin and Walter Slezak also star in the Technicolor picture filmed on the Italian Riviera and in Rome. The 7 Pictures Corporation-Raoul Walsh Enterprises, Inc., production is a Universal-International release.

MOVIES

"Goodbye Again"
Bergman is back! In "Goodbye Again," which opens Sunday at the State Theatre, through United Artists release, Ingrid Bergman stars with Yves Montand and Anthony Perkins in the dramatic study of loneliness, frustration and love which made Francoise Sagan's novel, "Aimez-vous Brahms" a best-selling book both here and abroad. In this story of how love is, and always will be, Miss Bergman plays a woman of forty who, tired of being stood up by a lover her own age, becomes involved with a young man fifteen years her junior. Yves Montand plays the sophisticated and restless older man and Anthony Perkins, who won the "Best Actor" award for his role in "Goodbye Again" when it was shown at the Cannes Film Festival, is the younger man.
This marks the third book by Miss Sagan to be translated into English and into motion pictures. Earlier, her "Bonjour Tristesse" and "A Certain Smile," were successfully adapted for the screen. Now Samuel Taylor has written a tender and exciting screenplay for "Goodbye Again" retaining the subtle nuances of complex human emotions, vividly portrayed by this most excellent cast.

"Come September"
For those who seek the utmost in zany fun, the utmost zest in romance—double romance, at that—and excitement bursting with hilarity there is one immediate prescription—a quick visit to the State theatre, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, to see Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida, Sandra Dee, Bobby Darin and Walter Slezak in "Come September," the year's brightest, most carefree new motion picture.
This handsomely mounted Technicolor and Panavision movie abounds in romance and humor. Recommendation enough is that the story was written for the screen by the same famed comedy-writing team, Stanley Shapiro and Maurice Richlin, who put the laughter in Hudson's first comedy, "Pillow Talk."

"The Long Rope"
In pulse-pounding tempo, API's hard-riding, fast shooting outdoor adventure, "The Long Rope" opens Friday at the State Theatre, a 20th Century - Fox Cinema-Scope release starring the talents of an outstanding cast, Hugh Marlowe, Alan Hale, Robert Wilke and Lisa Montell.
Suspense-laden outdoor drama on the frontier in the early days of the West, packed with rough-and-tumble battling of decent men versus outlaws... this is the stuff of which "The Long Rope" is made. It's the story of Jonas Stone (Hugh Marlowe), a federal court judge who arrives in the smouldering town of Tularosa to try a Mexican for murder. The community is hag-ridden by a ruthless dictator with an iron fist, Rancher Ben Matthews (Robert

Norton P-TA Met Monday Night

The Norton Parent-Teachers Association met in regular session Monday night, and heard a report on the financial status of the organization. hTe treasurer, Lewis Burleson, stated that basketball suits for the grade school girls had been purchased and that $400 remained in the treasury to defray expense of a tape recorder and the scholastic awards for the school.

The superintendent, Harry Porter, announced basketball games for both grade school and high school teams this week. He displayed a sportsmanship trophy won by the high school boys at the recent Paint Rock tournament.

Mrs. Paul Pruitt reported a paid membership of 58, and Mrs. Joe B. Lee asked for volunteers to help with refreshments for the next meeting.

Guest speaker for the evening was Harvey Porter of Abilene, brother of the Norton superintendent. His topic was "Effective Learning for Wisdom and Stature." The school feature was presented by the program chairman, Mrs. Willard Renfro. It was a group of seasonal songs and skits done by pupils of the first four grades. Donna Hope, John David Terry and Linda Hamilton represented Spring. Sandra Lee and Doyle Lane were Summer; Beverly Schwertner and Randy Fiveash were Fall; and Madelyn Bryan and Mitt Lloyd represented Winters, in a skit called "Every Season Has A Reason." Teachers for this group are Mrs. Renfro and Mrs. Roy Roper.

Following the program, cookies and coffee and punch were served to the crowd of nearly 200. Next meeting will be the first Monday night in February. All school patrons are urged to attend this meeting.

Walter R. Dry, 75, died Wednesday, General Thursday

Walter R. Dry, 75, died at 6 a.m. Wednesday at his home here. He had been in ill health for a number of years, and had been bed-ridden since last August.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Leslie Allison, assistant pastor of the church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Winters.

Mr. Dry, who had been a Winters resident for nearly 50 years, was born Aug. 21, 1886, in Watauga County, N. C., and attended the U. S. Navy in 1908 and until 1912. He moved to Winters following his discharge, and on Sept. 8, 1912, he married Elizabeth Williamson here.

Mr. Dry then entered the grocery business with his brother, W. A. Dry, in 1918. Mr. Dry then entered a farm north of Winters in 1920 and his brother-in-law, Harold Wilson, entered the grocery business and remained in Winters until 1938. From 1938 until 1947 Mr. Dry operated a cabinet-making shop.

In 1947 he and his four sons entered the air conditioner manufacturing business. The firm started making 5,000 units annually and reached a peak of more than 100 evaporative type air conditioners annually. The units were made from home size to large commercial units.

In 1955 the firm was sold, and Mr. Dry retired. His sons then formed the Dry Manufacturing Co., manufacturing heating and cooling registers and diffusers, which they are still operating.

Mr. Dry was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife; four sons, Johnny, Cherry, Hal and Arlee; a daughter, Mrs. Luther Prince; two granddaughters, Mrs. Blance Lawrence of Clayton; a brother, Alvin of Joaquin; four grandchildren, Rickey, Gary, Mike and Betty; and a grandniece, Mrs. Ed Graham.

W Auxiliary Reports

Members of the Auxiliary of the Veterans Post met in regular session Monday, Jan. 1, and heard reports from various committees.

Miss Nevell Fish, president, presided for the meeting.

The committee reported that $76 in groceries and toys was distributed to unfortunate families during the holidays, and Mrs. W. L. Fisher reported on the shrub project for the cemetery.

Three new members were enrolled in the organization, Mrs. Ed Arnold, Mrs. Tib McCusker and Mrs. Ed Graham.

It was also reported that the Auxiliary has completed the graves registration project. The list includes all deceased veterans who are buried in Runnels County cemeteries, and information will be made available to the public.

Robert Gans were Homer Anderson, Angelo, Russell Griep, Abilene, Patterson, Sweetwater, and Aransas, San Antonio.

Gans is a member of the Texas Masters Association, Texas Teachers Association, the Winters Education Survey, and the Runnels County division of the A. He has taught in public schools for eleven years; this is his seventh year in Winters.

Under his direction the Winters School Band has made an enviable record. The band has won six sweepstakes awards, and members have won a total of 34 individual first division awards, including awards won at Inter-School League Contests and music festivals. Individuals in the band have won a total of more than 150 first division awards in solo and ensemble contests.

All of the Winters High School band members have won first division awards.

Gans was unable to attend the convention of the ASBDA in Cleburne this year, but plans to attend the National Convention in Chicago next year.

Library Begins Ninth Year Of Operation Here

January marks the beginning of the ninth year for the operation of the Winters Public Library. When the library was first opened several years ago, only 200 donated books were put on the shelves as a starter. Today, there are 3,340 books available to the reading public in this community.

The library has continued to be supported by the Diversity Club, Literary and Service Club, Home Demonstration Club, donations from individuals, family membership fees and a small charge on overdue books. All proceeds are used for buying new books, library supplies, rent and other necessary expenses.

During 1961, 297 books were added to the library, with 49 of these being memorial books. Each memorial book has printed inside the cover the name of the person donating the book, and the name of the person in whose memory it is given. Each year many of the new books added to the shelves of the library are given in memory of persons who have lived in the community before their deaths.

Memorial books have become a special item in the operation of the library. Most recent gifts were made in memory of Mrs. John W. Reid, by Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Holmes; O. L. Broyles, by Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Holmes; Homer Briley, by Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Roberson; W. I. Lamar, by Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Rives; Ben J. Williams, by Mr. and Mrs. James Glenn; Sam Polk, by Merrick Spill and Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner; Mrs. D. B. Roberson, by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Milliron.

More than 6,000 books were checked out by Winters residents during 1961. During the summer months, about 1,000 books were read each month.

Some of the most read books recently have included, "Dr. Jeremy's Wife," "To Kill A Mockingbird," "Winters of Our Discontent," "Mile 18," "Galloway Case," "Since You Ask Me," and the Dr. Seuss books for children.

Library hours are from 2 until 5 p.m. Wednesday and Saturday. Every family has been invited to take advantage of the wide selection of books available in the Winters Public Library.

IN WILSON HOME

Those visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson Christmas Day were Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Harville and family of Tye, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin King and Lynn of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilson and family of Del Rio, Mr. and Mrs. Vaskelle Harville and Shirley of Bakersfield, California; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Eoff, Mr. and Mrs. Winford Reel and family of Winters, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chism and Jo Nell of Abilene.

BRADSHAW NEWS

"Good resolutions are a pleasant crop to sow."—L. Malet.
LaRoss and Skippy Sheppard of Winters were visitors Sunday morning at the Baptist Church. Larry Webb and Floyd Wayne McMillan of Moro were night visitors.

Morning visitors at the Moro Baptist Church were Mrs. Ervin Hicks of Guion and Mrs. Kenneth Handley and daughter of Abilene. The morning special was "Let Others see Jesus in You" sung by Clyde Reid with Mrs. J. W. Allmand at the piano. Pastor Jack Bedford sang the special for the night services which was "The Way Faring Stranger", with Mrs. Harris at the piano. Visitors at the services were Mr. and Mrs. Harris of Midland and the Bud Hicks of Abilene.

Barbara Sneed from Lubbock Tech., Bertalene Lewis from Hendrick Nursing School and Ray Adams of Texas AM., attended the morning services at the Drasco Baptist Church. Others attending for the services were the Verlon Reids of Big Spring, Gayland Robinson of Abilene, Mike and Susan Wood of Waco, Rev. and Mrs. Bill Bearden and daughter of near Bonham. Bill delivered the message. Carl Nowlin sang "His Way With Thee" with Barbara Sneed at the piano for the morning special. Carl sang for the night special "The Lily of The Valley", and Barbara at the piano. The monthly singing was held at the Church in the afternoon.

On the night of Dec. 21, the intermediates and young people of the Drasco Church put on a Christmas program. The following featured in it: Mickey and Claudia Browne, Donna England, Jeannett and Clifford Lewis, Rhonda Sneed and Melba Lewis. After the program refreshments of candy, apples and oranges were served.

At the Baptist Church here on the night of Dec. 17 the program consisted of a film strip on the Nativity Scene. Pastor Jerry Henson was narrator for the film followed by the Christmas tree.

Friday night, Dec. 15, Mrs. Billie McCasland was hostess at her home to the Martha Sunday School Class party of the Baptist Church. Attending were Mrs. Wayne Hunt, teacher of the class, Mrs. Lovey Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Wagon and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Hudson, A. D. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Odas Claxton, Billie McCasland and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mayfield of Anson. Refreshments consisted of Christmas cakes, coffee and hot chocolate.

On the night of Dec. 15 at the Methodist Church here the young people of the church gave a playlet under the direction of Mrs. Frank Simpson who also featured in the playlet. Others were Don and Kay Orr, Lareta, Larry and Kenneth Bagwell. Following this part of the program the players and the audience gathered in the back Sunday School room where a Birthday cake for Jesus was served. The cake, an Angel Food, was iced in white and decorated with an iced small cake star in the center which represented the star which guided the Wise Men. A top the star was a pink plastic angel, representing the story of the Shepherds and 20 pink candles surrounded the cake representing the 20 centuries since the birth of Jesus. Pastor Norman Patton and Wayne Hunt lighted the candles and the children blew them out. Patty and Debby Saunders said the table grace and Mrs. C. W. Smith sliced the cake. Before Sunday School Dec. 24, Kenneth Bagwell was honored with the slicing of a birthday cake. He was 11 on the 25th. Frank Simpson lighted the candles and Kenneth blew them out. Following this Mrs. Simpson's class delivered a basket of food to our Mexican family here in town.

On the night of Dec. 22, featuring in a program at the Moro Baptist Church were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allmand, Brenda and Clifford Reid, Danny, Randy Carey, Mrs. Reed McMillan, Milburn Shaffer, Vera Aranda, Clyde Reid, Mrs. Harris of Midland and Lonnie Harris of Abilene. Pastor Jack Bedford recorded a film on the story of Christ. Russell Grun acted as Santa Claus for the tree. Larry Webb and Floyd Wayne McMillan delivered the gifts from the tree.

The subject of next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson is: Principles for Living. The key verse is: Think not that I have come to abolish the law and the prophets; I have come not to abolish them but to fulfill them.—Matthew 5:17.
Special days for this week and the next are for: Mrs. Fred Wood, Jerry Bredemeyer, Ann Gerlach Baldwin and Kenneth Wayne Reel the 31st; Hulie Webb, Mrs. J. B. Bailey, A. J. OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

During the past hunting season more than 2,400 permits to kill antelope were issued to Texas hunters. The permits were issued to Texas hunters who may not seem unusual to those unfamiliar with the antelope in Texas. But to those who know it is indeed remarkable.

In the early 1930's the antelope was threatening to become extinct in Texas. There were less than 100 roaming the range. Through concentrated conservation practices were antelope brought back to the numbers we enjoy today.

A bulk of the Texas antelope is found in the Trans-Pecos region of West Texas. Some also inhabit the prairies of the Panhandle.

Antelope deer, the antelope won't cross a fence. When ranching became a big business in Texas, wire fences were criss-crossed over the land, thus posing a man-made barrier to the antelope. Fences restricted the antelope's range.

But by trapping the antelope and moving them to areas where there were no fences, the Texas Game and Fish Commission expanded both the range of the antelope and the size of the herds.

In one instance, a few years back, a herd of antelope was causing some concern among pilots using the Marfa airport. The sleek animals gathered on the grassy runways to feed. Naturally the pilots had to do some fancy flying to dodge them.

But biologists took care of the problem. They simply trapped the antelope and found them a new home.

An antelope has horns branched like the antlers of a deer. But on an antelope they are true horns and not antlers. Antlers are solid bone.

The antelope is the only animal in the world with branched horns. Also, it's the only one which sheds the outer shell annually. It isn't kin to any other animal found in Texas.

The antelope is an animal of American vintage. It descended from a group of animals which couldn't, for some unknown reason, survive the climatic changes which the earth went through in the distant past.

Because the antelope lives out on the vast, bare plains where it is naked to the world, it must depend upon its legs and eyes for protection.

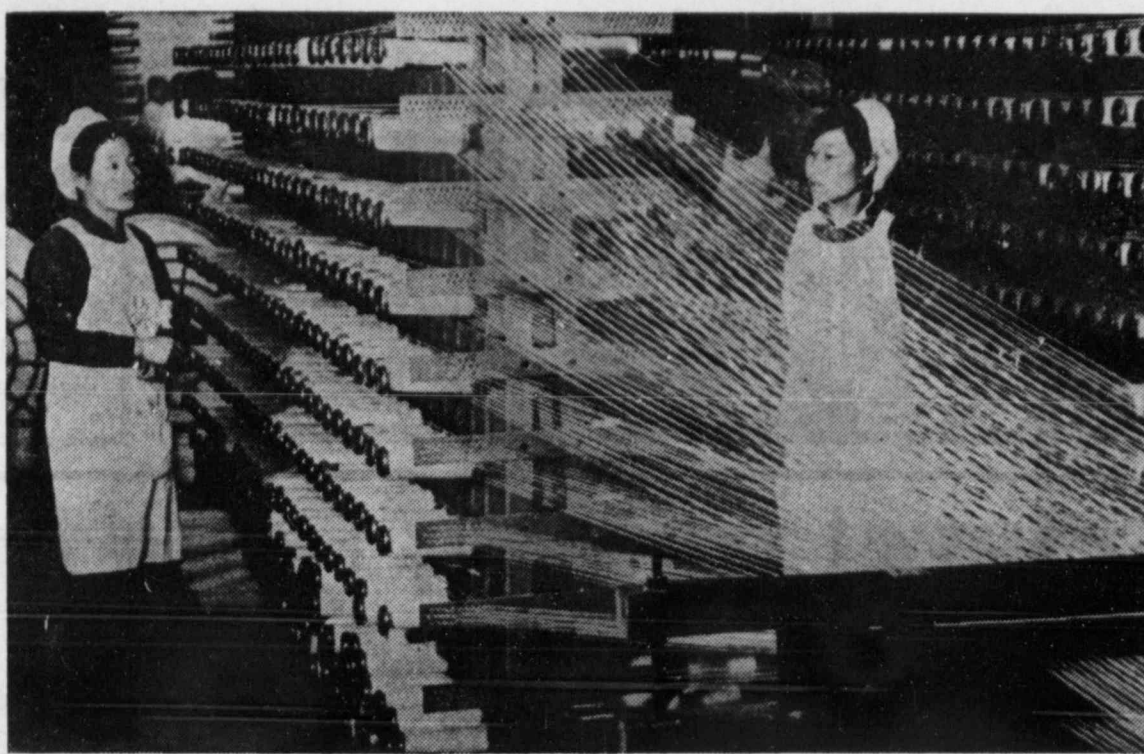

In these two respects the antelope is well blessed. It can detect something unnatural more than a mile away. Furthermore, it can run at a speed that will astonish those who have never seen one galloping away in a plume of dust.

But the antelope has one weakness that hunters exploit to advantage. It is a highly curious animal. Often it will come toward a hunter just to satisfy its own curiosity.

Because of its unmatched speed, hunters use fast flat-trajectory cartridges when seeking the antelope. Preferably something like the .243, .244 or .270.

It isn't unusual for a hunter to fire at an antelope fronting a pack of fleeing animals, only to see one farther back in the herd topple.

The antelope not only can run fast, it also has great stamina. It can cruise along for miles at speeds of 35 miles-per-hour, and faster. When it really gets stretched out, the antelope is probably moving somewhere in the ve-

IT'S THE LAW—IN TEXAS

As a rule, when you sell or lease your place, the new owner or lessee takes over responsibility for it. But you may have some continuing responsibilities.

In a recent case three small boys, playing in an old rifle range near home, found a grenade, took it home, and later exploded it, injuring themselves.

The U. S. government had leased the land to train armed forces, but later turned it back to the owner. The boys sued the government. It answered that it no longer controlled the land and should not be blamed for what happened after it gave up possession.

Still the court made the government pay the boys for the harm done.

As a rule, when a seller or lessor gives up his land, he is no longer to blame for defects in the land, buildings, or permanent fixtures.

But defects in things permanently part of the land differ from leaving dangerous things like a grenade about. It isn't a permanent part of the land. The federal government was at fault in not searching for dangerous grenades left by its employees. Besides, this single grenade still was government owned, and, therefore a U. S. responsibility.

Property owners or occupiers have special duties to small children. They may trespass on your land and get hurt by things that are especially attractive to them. Improperly locked explosives, an easy-to-climb power station, an unlocked turntable, or sometimes a pool of water left by a construction firm, are all "attractive nuisances." An owner of such things must take great care to keep trespassing children from getting hurt.

The law imposes one further duty on sellers or lessors of property: No seller can conceal highly dangerous defects that he knows of. If he does, and they hurt the buyer or tenant later, the seller may have to pay damages. Sometimes a landlord controls some of the leased property, such as halls, drive-ways, elevators, wall beds, or other appliances. The landlord must use care with such things.

The Constitution says only cases which affect ambassadors and the states can be started in the Supreme Court. As a rule, all other cases must come up from lower courts.

Two years before his term expired, Pres. John Adams named John Marshall to the U. S. Court.

Between the highest and the lowest judges, you can find out why the U. S. Supreme Court may hold a state or national law void.

Marshall swore in Thomas Jefferson as President. Once in office, Jefferson would not let his new Secretary of State James Madison give Marbury his commission. Marbury took his case to the Supreme Court, and Marshall's court held that Marbury should have his job.

This curb, Marshall held, meant that suits like Marbury's should not start in the Supreme Court. For Congress to give such cases to the court went against the Constitution. So the act of Congress was void.

Such was the first case where the Supreme Court overruled Congress. Said Marshall: The Constitution is supreme and is binding on all who act for the United States. It curbs and defines the citizen's rights.

Suppose Congress could trample the citizen's rights? Then, said Marshall, the Constitution would vanish, and Congress would rule supreme.

Hence the judges must uphold the Constitution over Congress. They must void all laws not grounded in the Constitution.

Said Marshall: "A law repugnant to the Constitution is void; and the courts, as well as other departments, are bound by that instrument."

Still the Supreme Court avoids constitutional questions where it can find other grounds for reaching a decision. For the court has a policy of trying to respect the power of the legislature (Congress) as well as the executive (the President) branches of government.

Basic Purpose of Soil Survey Is To Make Predictions

The basic purpose of a soil survey is to make predictions. According to James Barnhill of local Soil Conservation Service, soil surveys are being used in fields such as engineering, Farm and Home Administration, Extension Service and others.

The primary use of the soil survey is to determine the capabilities and limitations of the land. The survey shows types and phases of soils which have defined characteristics. From these characteristics, detailed predictions of the behavior of a soil under different management systems can be made. Using this information, the farm operator can make a farm plan with assistance from a planning technician. In planning, the farmer and his advisor consider the feasibility, and the resources and desires of the farm operator.

Soil surveys are being more widely used in engineering design. The basic facts needed to predict soil behavior in fields are valuable in prediction their behavior as foundation material for highways and airports.

The FHA and other loan agencies use the soil survey to make appraisals for loans. An accurate soil survey can be used to determine drop potentials, estimated yields, and long-time effects of alternative management systems.

The Extension Service uses the soil survey in research. Since all places in the world having the same combination of genetic factors have the same kind of soil,

Antelope in Texas don't grow as large as its cousins do in other parts of the United States, but every year some commendable trophies are bagged, especially in the Trans-Pecos region around Marfa and Alpine.

Any buck antelope which has horns measuring more than 14 inches in length is a fine trophy. Anything longer than 16 or 17 inches is truly something to brag about.

Plant Disease Handbook Revised

A revised edition of the Plant Disease Handbook for Texas, first published in 1957, is now available. The author of the original and also the revision is Dr. Harlan E. Smith plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, whose special field is the diseases of crops and ornamentals.

Common plant diseases, their symptoms and control, are discussed by the author under such headings as cereal crops, fiber, oil and other specialty crops, flowers, forage crops, small fruits, tree fruits, lawns, nuts, shrubs, trees and vegetables. The number of different plants covered has been increased from 147 to 171 along with the addition of discussions on many new diseases. A section on methods, materials and equipment for plant disease control is included in the revision.

Though the Handbook was written especially for professional agricultural workers and others who serve agriculture, producers and home owners have found the publication to be a valuable source of information. Sixty agricultural authorities from throughout Texas contributed information for Smith's use.

Research Aids In Developing Of House Plans

Extensive research has been done in recent years on Southern housing. Researchers have been trying to find out what people want in housing, why they want it, how much space it needed and how to plan for it. They have also considered the materials, type of construction, details of construction, soil, site and numerous other factors related to housing.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have begun a series of joint publications designed to give these research findings to homemakers and home builders.

First in this series is a plan for a moderate-sized home. Three bedrooms, living room and bath were planned around the needed storage units. Space in this house was planned for moderate clothing needs with two persons per bedroom. Central linen storage was placed at the end of the hall servicing the three bedrooms and a bath.

For the kitchen, a U-arrangement was selected. A dining area, laundry area and children's play area knowledge gained through research and experience in one area is useful in all like areas.

Other uses are by prospective farm buyers, realtors, city government, watershed planning parties, and other researchers.

were selected to go with the kitchen arrangement.

The purpose of the plan is to show the contractor or home builder how research data may be utilized in the development of a desirable floor plan. Working drawings for this study have not been developed by the researchers, but may be developed by any competent engineer or architect. Unlimited possibilities exist for adapting this plan to personal preferences.

A copy of this plan may be obtained from the local county agent. Ask for a copy of L-543, "Moderate Size House Plan for Southern Living."

"The Center of the Southwest faces Growth Unlimited"

We believe this to be a fact because the Southwest is growing 25% faster than the Nation, and our service area is the heart of the region.

What's more, we are convinced this growth will continue, because expansion of commercial, industrial and agricultural activities all point that way.

On our part we are backing up this belief in coming growth with a multi-million-dollar expansion program. Our service facilities are being increased today, to serve more people, more businesses, more industries tomorrow.

Yes, for all of us, there's GROWTH UNLIMITED ahead.
