Two Up For Re-Election

School Board Election Ordered For April 7th

Winters Schools Will Observe Public School Week

The Winters schools will observe Texas Public School Week, March 5 through March 9, it was announced by James Nevins, superintendent, this week.

An invitation has been extended to all citizens and parents to visit the Winters schools during the observance.

A schedule of visiting hours has been prepared due to the large number of visitors expected during school hours. In order to avoid the inconvenience of seating problems and crowded conditions, school officials have announced the following schedule:

Monday, March 5 through March 8—Visitation.

Tuesday, March 6—Lions Club will visit the cafeteria all day.

Tuesday, March 6—American Heritage program, Dr. Rex Kiker, speaker, at 2 p.m., for grades 7 through 12.

Friday, March 9—Student holiday and teachers' meeting.

All citizens have been urged to attend some session or all of the Winters schools. A special invitation has been extended for patrons to visit the high school since few have visited in past years, it was explained.

Several Dogs Have Been Poisoned Here Recently

Joe Stevens, Winters Chief of Police, said this week that several dogs and cats had been poisoned in Winters within the past few days.

Stevens said that bait, apparently spread for dogs and cats, had been found within the city, and had been analyzed. He said the bait showed signs of being doctored with cyanide, and was highly dangerous.

The chief of police pointed out that state law prohibits poisoning of animals. He said that the statute provides that whoever willfully scatters or deposits poison on lands or possessions of another and kills any domestic animal can be punished by imprisonment for as long as 10 years.

Stevens also said the act of putting poison to kill dogs and cats creates a danger for children who might accidentally get hold of some of it. He pointed out that even the fumes from cyanide might prove harmful to humans.

Airman Hord Received Promotion In USAF

Wesley Lee Hord, Jr., grandson of Mrs. W. R. Hord of Route 1, Winters, has recently been promoted to Airman Third Class in the United States Air Force at Lackland AFB, San Antonio.

Hord is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hord of Kress, former residents of Winters. He is a 1961 graduate of Kress High School.

Winters Blizzards Cop District 7-AA Cage Championship

The Winters High School Blizzard basketball team wrapped up the District 7-AA championship last Friday night by toppling Cisco's Lobos, 50-41.

The Blizzards wound up the season's district play with a 7-1 record.

Friday night's win places the Blizzards in competition for the bi-district crown.

Jerry Dunn and Herbie Russell paced the Blizzards with 21 points each. Danny Tipton also chalked up 21 points for Cisco.

Starting the game strong, the Blizzards raced to a 29-16 half-time lead and were never headed.

Winters also won the B game, 72-35. Adams hit for 22 points to pace the Blizzard B team.

In this last district tilt, scoring for the Blizzards was Dunn 10 1 2; Russell 8 5 2; Buchanan 0 6 6; Caskey 0 2 2; Clark 0 0 0; Totals 21-8 50.

"Good Response" In Screwworm Eradication Drive

Response has been described as "good" from Runnels County farmers and stockmen in the drive to raise money to help in the eradication of the screwworm.

C. T. Parker, county agent, who has been helping to push the program in the county, said this week that farmers and stockmen have contributed about $10,200.00 in the campaign to raise funds to start a program of complete eradication of the screwworm in the state. Goal for the county had been set at from $12,000 to $13,000. Contributions have been on a voluntary basis. Livestock producers were asked to contribute on the basis of 50 cents per head for adult cows, horses and steers, and ten cents per head for sheep, goats and swine. It had been the wish of the committee workers to end the drive by Feb. 1, Parker said. But contributions will still be welcomed.

The program is financed entirely through contributions from farmers and stockmen. It is being sponsored by the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation. Location of a laboratory and plant for work on the eradication of the screwworm has not been determined, but there is a possibility that it will be built at Kerrville, it was reported.

The program, as planned for Texas, is based on a similar program undertaken with much success in Florida. In that program, scientists raised screwworm flies, exposed the male flies to a cobalt chemical to sterilize them, and then they were turned loose. Within a short time, the flies were eradicated in that area, it is reported.

It has been reported that 216 counties in Texas now have organized committees and that other counties in the state are in the process of organizing. A board of trustees has been named to direct the work done in the eradication program. In a recent meeting of the trustees of the state-wide committee emphasized that every penny collected would be used solely to bring about screwworm eradication. It is the policy of the board of trustees "that all funds received from producers shall and will be held in escrow to be expended only in the event funds are available or authorized to initiate the program. In the event the efforts fail," it was pointed out, "such escrow accounts shall be returned to the individual or organization from which they were received."

The screwworm eradication program is literally one of self help, it has been pointed out, and one of the few programs of this sort to be run entirely by the people themselves. No person working on the program or no campaign worker will draw salaries, it was said. Scientists who will do the laboratory work are paid by the federal government, but no other help will be received, outside the contributions raised by the stockmen themselves.

"Runnels County stock raisers are to be congratulated on the way they have responded in this drive," Parker indicated.

Bill Miller Ace Jumper At McMurry

Having chalked up his fourth indoor broadjump victory in as many outings, McMurry College's ace jumper Bill Miller is fast becoming recognized as the outstanding broadjumper in the nation this season.

Miller, a wiry junior from Winters, has copped the broadjump crown at indoor meets in San Antonio, Houston, Lubbock, and Fort Worth. The Winters leaper's latest win occurred at the Will Rogers Indoor Games before a crowd of 6,200 in Fort Worth. Miller handily won the open division contest with a jump of 24 feet, breaking a record of 23 feet, 10 1-4 inches which he established last year in the same meet.

In a recent track and field meet in San Antonio, Miller stole the show with what McMurry coach Grant Teaff describes as an "inspired leap" of 24-10. Miller's best official jump came in 1960 at a dual meet with Hardin-Simmons University when the frog-legged McMurrin presented an astounding effort of 25-2. He is also a capable sprinter and is credited with a 9.8 clocking in the 100 yard dash.

on the north edge of the Lakeview Cemetery is believed to show the results of beautification and land reclamation. From a near-barren road-side, the cemetery is growing into a beauty spot. Of course, much remains to be done, but continued maintenance will be necessary. But long strides have been taken, and those results are due commendation.

City's street and water departments have done much to beautify the area. They have done a lot of grader work, and water pipes into the cemetery are being replaced. In addition, the city is being cared for.

Much of the credit must go to the Winters post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary. The two organizations have made the beautification projects. They've obtained shrubs, and set out shrubs, and done a lot of other work.

The project is being cared for by many in the community. They've donated 69 pennies no monetary return for dollar spent. Attention they've given this project is being cared for.

He was cleaning out a sunken silo when he lost control of the tractor and it overturned injuring him.

Romantic Setting For Young Love! Elvis Presley serenades Joan Blackman, with lush and lovely Honolulu lending beautiful assistance, in "Blue Hawaii," the Hal Wallis musical romance which arrives Tuesday at the State Theatre. Fourteen great tunes spark the Paramount picture, which co-stars Angela Lansbury and Nancy Walters.

Troy Donahue and Sharon Huguely are surrounded by an enthusiastic mob of students who have volunteered to work in his tobacco fields when he makes a determined bid to break her father's monopoly in this climactic scene from Warner Bros.' Technicolor production of "Parrish," showing Sunday only at the State Theatre.

MOVIES

"Hel, Let's Twist"

Friday and Saturday the State Theatre will have on its screen the fantastic story of how, almost overnight, New York's now-famous Peppermint Lounge came to be the newest, wildest dance rendezvous of society, the intelligentsia and the columnists. It's all told in "Hey, Let's Twist!" and told with the same headliners who perform nightly at the Lounge, Joey Dee and the Starlites, and the twisting Peppermint Loungers. In addition, there is a great supporting cast which includes pert and pretty Jo-Ann Campbell, recording star, who has appeared in many top TV shows; nightclub entertainer Teddy Randazzo; Zohra Lampert, currently featured in "Splendor in the Grass." Kay Armen and stage star Dino di Luca. "Hey, Let's Twist!" was actually filmed at the Lounge which has earned for itself the apt description, "The Temple of the Twist." The Lounge is a small place off Broadway on West 45th Street and it is filled nightly to capacity, with people waiting outside clamoring for admission. Society folk mingle with teen-agers, trying to out-dance them; many people just come to watch and many return home frustrated because they were among those who couldn't get into the Lounge. Now, with Paramount's release of "Hey, Let's Twist!" everybody who wants to get inside the Lounge will be able to do so simply by seeing the picture.

SEEN IN ACTION—Joey Dee and Jo Ann Campbell, two of the stars in "Hey, Let's Twist!" showing Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. In this new Paramount film they do The Twist, new dance craze that has captured the nation's frenzy.

of pretty schoolgirls on a tour of the islands. Co-starring with Elvis are Joan Blackman, Angela Lansbury and Nancy Walters.

The Paramount release was filmed in large part on location in Hawaii, with the islands of Oahu and Kauai the principal shooting sites. Among the wonders of Hawaii featured in the attraction are Waikiki Beach, Mount Tantalus, Diamond Head, Ala Wai Yacht Marina, Hanuana Bay, Punchbowl, Ala Moana Park, Anahola, the Wailua River, Lydgate Park and Coco Palms.

"Blue Hawaii" is Elvis' eighth film, and his fourth for Producer Wallis, to whom he owes his discovery as a screen star. His film debut was made in 1956 in "Loving You," after Wallis, who had seen Elvis on a TV show, signed him to a contract. After an absence of two years in the Army, Elvis returned to the screen last year in Wallis' "G.I. Blues." That film, like "Blue Hawaii," was directed by Norman Taurog.

Girl Scout Leaders Met Recently In Clem Rozman Home

Mrs. Clem Rozman, chairman of the Winters Girl Scout Association, presided for the meeting which was held in her home, Feb. 8.

Plans were completed for the Girl Scout Cookie Sale which began Feb. 15. Other plans were decided for commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of Girl Scouting.

Present for the association meeting were Mesdames W. J. Briley, Joyce Wilkerson, Noble Faubion, Jack Roe, Hubert Crenshaw, R. G. Cooper, James Brown, George R. Hill and Clem Rozman.

"Parrish" Centering on the romantic entanglements of a restless young man with three extremely different teenage girls against a background of bitter family rivalries, Warner Bros.' Technicolor production of "Parrish," starring Troy Donahue, Claudette Colbert, Karl Malden, Dean Jagger, Connie Stevens, Diane McBain and Sharon Huguely, showing Sunday only at the State Theatre.

Delmer Daves wrote, produced and directed the screen adaptation of Mildred Savage's best-selling novel, filming it on location in Connecticut's famous Tobacco Valley, against the historic setting of the 19th Century whaling village at Mystic and at the luxurious Terra Mar Boatel and yacht club at Old Saybrook.

Donahue is top-cast in the title role of "Parrish"—as the restless young aviator who displays all of the resourcefulness and determination of his pioneer forebears in setting out to conquer the crop blights and grower rivalries endemic to the verdant Tobacco Valley.

"Blue Hawaii" Elvis Presley shares starring honors with the natural wonders of the 50th state in Hal Wallis' "Blue Hawaii," the spectacular Panavision-Technicolor romantic comedy-with-music arriving Tuesday at the State Theatre.

Singing more songs than ever before in his screen career, Elvis portrays a ukulele-strumming tourist guide who takes a group

Mrs. Claude Simmons read a poem, "Take Time."

Twenty-six club women represented the 11 clubs of the county at the meeting.

Mrs. Thomas Egan, treasurer, reported that all of the clubs had cooperated in a successful operation of the Concessions at the Junior Stock Show, Jan. 19-20, and a letter of thanks will be sent to each firm and individual who helped to make it possible.

Dates were set for the March and April Exchange Meetings and invitations were extended among the clubs. The host clubs will present the program and the recreation to the visiting clubs.

Miss Decker announced Home Improvement leader-training on cleaning walls, woodwork, stone and brick fireplaces and storage in closets, Feb. 16, at 2 p. m. in the conference room at the courthouse.

Texas Vets Will Get $12.5 Million Insurance Dividend

Some 246,629 Texas veterans of World War I and World War II will receive $12,507,900 in 1962 annual dividend payments on GI insurance, P. J. Mims, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said.

The dividend checks will be paid on the anniversary date of the policies this year as is the usual custom, Mims said. VA last year speeded up the payments in an effort to aid the national economy at the request of the President.

The VA official explained that the anniversary date is the anniversary of the date each individual policy became effective. By consulting his policy, each veteran would be able to tell when to expect his dividend check.

Dividends will average $50 for World War II veterans and about $70 for veterans of World War I, Mims said.

The annual dividends are primarily a return to policyholders of part of the premiums they have paid since the death rate of veterans continues to be less than estimated in the mortality tables upon which the premium rates were set by law.

Nationwide, approximately $225-million will be divided among almost 4.5 million World War II veterans holding participating National Service Life Insurance policies. Some 228,000 World War I veterans who hold participating U. S. Government Life Insurance policies will receive approximately $16 million in dividends, Mims said.

Cotton Variety Very Important To Grower's Success

Several dozen named cotton varieties are offered for sale in Texas, and the cotton producer's success may be greatly influenced by the variety he selects.

To provide the producer with information that will help him make the best choice, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has been actively engaged in the testing of cotton varieties for the past 60 years. A recently released bulletin, the fourth in a series of 3-year summaries, summarizes the data obtained from tests conducted during 1957-59.

Because of the great diversity of soil types, climate and production practices in Texas, variety test sites have been established in practically all land resource areas of the state. The entries included in the various tests differed from year to year, although certain designated varieties were included in all years to provide a consistent basis for comparison.

Data reported in the new bulletin, B-983 "Performance of Cotton Varieties in Texas," include yield of lint per acre, lint percentage, boll size, staple length and fiber fineness.

In order to present a comprehensive summary of varietal performance, the data have been summarized for various cotton production areas in Texas. These areas are closely related to the land resource areas of the state, although certain production areas have been combined. The area summaries given include only those varieties which were grown at all locations.

For a complete report on these tests, see your local county agent and request a copy of this bulletin. Ask for it by name and number. It is also available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Farm Records Are Essential For Success

Good farm records are essential for a successful operation, says Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist. Records provide the proof of past performance, and they are an indication of the potential of a given farm manager and the technology used.

Proper records will allow the farmer to compare one enterprise with another and they are very important when the farmer wants to combine enterprises. An analysis of a good set of records will point out the strong and weak points of the business, and they are also handy to file around when it comes time to file income tax.

The type of record book or system you use depends on what you want your records to do for you, says Parker. The minimum record should include an inventory of land, buildings, equipment, livestock and supplies; all expenses grouped by kind; all income received; land use and production of crops and livestock; and a place to summarize the year's operation. The more details the record shows the more valuable it will be.

Parker says this is a good time to get your records for 1962 started, and it is also a good time to study last year's records to determine if any changes need to be made.

It is easier to keep good records if you have a special place to work. Entries should be made as soon as they occur or as soon thereafter as possible, Parker advises.

Automation Has Never Been Indication That Fewer Workers Will Be Needed

A few years ago automation was a little more than a trickle in the economy, but today it is a river and tomorrow it will be a flood. The great question is not its obvious benefits will be outweighed by the problems it raises—such as mass unemployment.

Automation's Problems Will Be Solved. I have said before and I will say again that there has never been any indication that more machinery means fewer workers. The secret is that the industrial back of this country, and you will find that there has been an unending outflow of more efficient machinery and yet employment soared from one new height to another simultaneously.

The sheer volume of machines in use today is almost unbelievable, and still employment is reaching ever higher. For the most part, our joblessness is due to an exploding population, a large group of people who would rather live on charity than work, and a reluctance to develop new programs to retrain and relocate workers displaced by the advance of technological improvements.

We Are Moving Rapidly. The influx of automation has so unexpectedly rapid that it has been badly frightened; think we are moving too fast for our own good. Some wish they were living back a hundred years so they would have fewer complications; others say they don't want to be around a hundred years from now with a labor movement—which some pretty fast-moving men frightened by automation, and laborites are crying aloud there may not be any jobs in a few years. Let them be assured there will be plenty of jobs,—many will be very different.

Facing Up To Changes. A change-over to automated production is going to spread on, and certainly nobody will be that great many workers have to move to other jobs. It is a fact and must be faced. Sighted experts have often said that, without automation, we would soon find we would not have a sufficiently large labor force to accomplish our work, in new products, and maintain our prosperous standard of living.

Notice that a good deal of human effort is still needed even in factories and offices where the completely automatic process has been installed. It is that a factory could be built that every step from raw material to final product could be pushed out by a handful of people. Human brains must still control the entire scheme, and men's hands must build, set up, tend, repair, and maintain and sometimes even stop!—these "automatic" machines.

Automation Means More Spare Time. It doesn't seem to me that we are going to have more leisure time. The fact is that the machinery and all forms of automation mean—and will continue to mean—steadily more spare time for workers. There will be a greater opportunity for enjoyment of the home and the family, for pleasant and healthy do-it-yourself pursuits. Even more important: Perhaps we can all employ some of this increasing spare time to cultivate the spiritual values which we may have been neglecting while building up purely material prosperity!

A student is lucky if he comes under the influence of one good teacher in his school and college years. To encounter a dozen good teachers would be most unlikely.

Freeze-Damaged Plants Should Be Pruned, Not Now

If you're like most other Texans you have some ornamental plants in your yard that were damaged by the recent hard freezes. The natural inclination is to remove the damaged growth, but Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist advises against being too hasty.

If there is any doubt that twigs and branches have been killed it is best to wait a few weeks until such damage can be easily seen says Smith. At that time prune the plant back to live wood by making the pruning cut several inches below the last sign of dead wood.

To find out how much of a shrub has been killed, use a knife or the thumbnail to scratch into the cambium layer, just beneath the bark says Smith. Discoloration of this layer is a sign that the plant needs cutting back below such damage. If any bark has been split or cracked, this area should also be cut out. Often the damage is to the outside twigs and branches, and the plant will need only a slight clipping back.

Pruning shears should be dipped in a disinfectant such as 70 percent denatured alcohol between cuts, the specialist advises.

With trees and large shrubs the cut end should be painted with shellac. After the shellac has dried, a wound dressing or disinfectant tree paint should be applied to the exposed area. You will get best results if you inspect the dressed surfaces periodically and recoat them once or twice a year. Before re-coating, clean the wound with a stiff wire brush to remove all blisters and loose flakes. Be careful not to cover the new growth with these additional applications of wound dressing.

Smith says one way to lessen damage in case of another freeze is to water the plants thoroughly as soon as pipes thaw. This prevents drying, which causes more damage than the cold.

W. A. (BILL) STROMAN

W. A. (Bill) Stroman of San Angelo has announced his candidacy for State Senator of the 25th Senatorial District of Texas. His announcement follows:

Native Texan, Mr. Stroman finished high school at Uvalde and attended business college. He worked in legal offices in court houses and abstract offices, including the abstract office of Vice President John Nance Garner at Uvalde. He married Elsie Clout, daughter of a pioneer ranchman at Rockspings.

Mr. and Mrs. Stroman have three children; Eileen, graduate of Texas University, who is married to Col. John Lemp, Army Reserve, Washington D.C.; Wm. J. Stroman, graduate of A & M College, ranchman, married to Cleo Lane of Concho County; Gusta Mae, graduate of Austin College, now Mrs. Fred O. Brewton who is a Presbyterian minister at Levelland.

Mr. Stroman studied law and was admitted to practice law in Texas in 1923; elected County Attorney of Tom Green County in 1924 and 1928; then elected District Attorney of the 119th Judicial District of Texas in 1934 and 1936. He was elected in 1951 to fill out the unexpired term of Hon. Peppy Blount, who resigned from the Legislature after the regular session that year. Was re-elected to the State Legislature as Representative from Tom Green County (which comprised the new 92nd District) in 1952, 1954, 1956 and 1958. He did not seek re-election to that post in 1960. He is now asking to be State Senator and consider it an honor, a promotion and a sacred trust. While an Attorney in good standing in the State of Texas, he is not engaged in the active practice of law, and did not engage in the practice of law while State Representative, directly or indirectly. "This policy will be continued as your State Senator," he stated.

"I do not have now, nor will I have, any outside interests or entangling alliances that might tend to influence my decisions adversely to the best interests of the people or interests of this District or to the State of Texas. I do not consider being a ranch owner in this district an adverse interest. On the contrary I consider it an advantage because it affords me practical first hand knowledge of the problems and needs of the Live Stock Industry. One pressing need now is to fully co-operate in the movement to eradicate the screwworm.

"This Senatorial District embraces twenty counties and the combined population, I believe, at the present time is around two hundred thousand and as your State Senator would always strive to give every part of the District the same consideration and diligent attention. As your Public Servant I will welcome and give close attention to all suggestions, requests and information communicated to me either by letter or personal calls—all of which would be welcome.

"The only legislation that I have promised to sponsor at this time is the measure to advance San Angelo College to a four-year status. I feel that this legislation will benefit this District. I consider it important that we have first class educational facilities from the first grade on up through Colleges make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said court at Ballinger, Texas, this the 6th day of February, 1962.

Funeral Services For Dan Cole, 85, Held Saturday

Funeral services for Dan Cole, 85, were held Saturday at 10 p.m. from Spill Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor of the Winters First Baptist Church, officiating.

Mr. Cole died in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Maebelle Kirby, in Houston, Wednesday at 8:45 p.m. following an illness of three months.

Native of Texas, Mr. Cole was born at Atlanta on October 27, 1876. On October 22, 1896 he married Kate Loughry at Jewel. "The State Board of Insurance was given unlimited powers as to rates and rules prior to the beginning of my tenure in the Legislature. I am in favor of the return of this control to the Legislature. I am specifically thinking of the unfair automobile rate.

"As your State Senator I would give the utmost attention and study to all Legislation coming before the Senate in order that I might be able to cast a vote thereon that would be in the interest of good and honest Government of the people, by the people and for the people.

At last count there were 1,499,927 Chevrolet trucks over 10 years old still working—424,381 more than any other make.

1962 CHEVROLET JOBMASTER TRUCKS

built better...work longer!

When Chevrolet builds a truck, it builds a quality truck. This policy makes sense. Chevrolet trucks work a long time . . . cost less than many other makes to operate and maintain over the years . . . consistently bring a higher trade-in price . . . and, as a result, are bought by more people.

We invite you to come in and examine this quality closely and to take a 1962 demonstrator out for a good long test drive. Note the cab comfort, the good visibility, the smooth ride, the solid feel of its quality. Compare Chevrolet truck features with those of other makes. Then decide which are your wisest investment. We're sure it will be Chevrolet's.

Here's how this Chevrolet cab roof is made of two sheets of metal, instead of one, with a layer of felt in between as insulation against cold, heat and noise.

A Chevrolet truck tailgate is sturdier because it has double-rail construction and strong steel chains in tough rubber casing to support it.

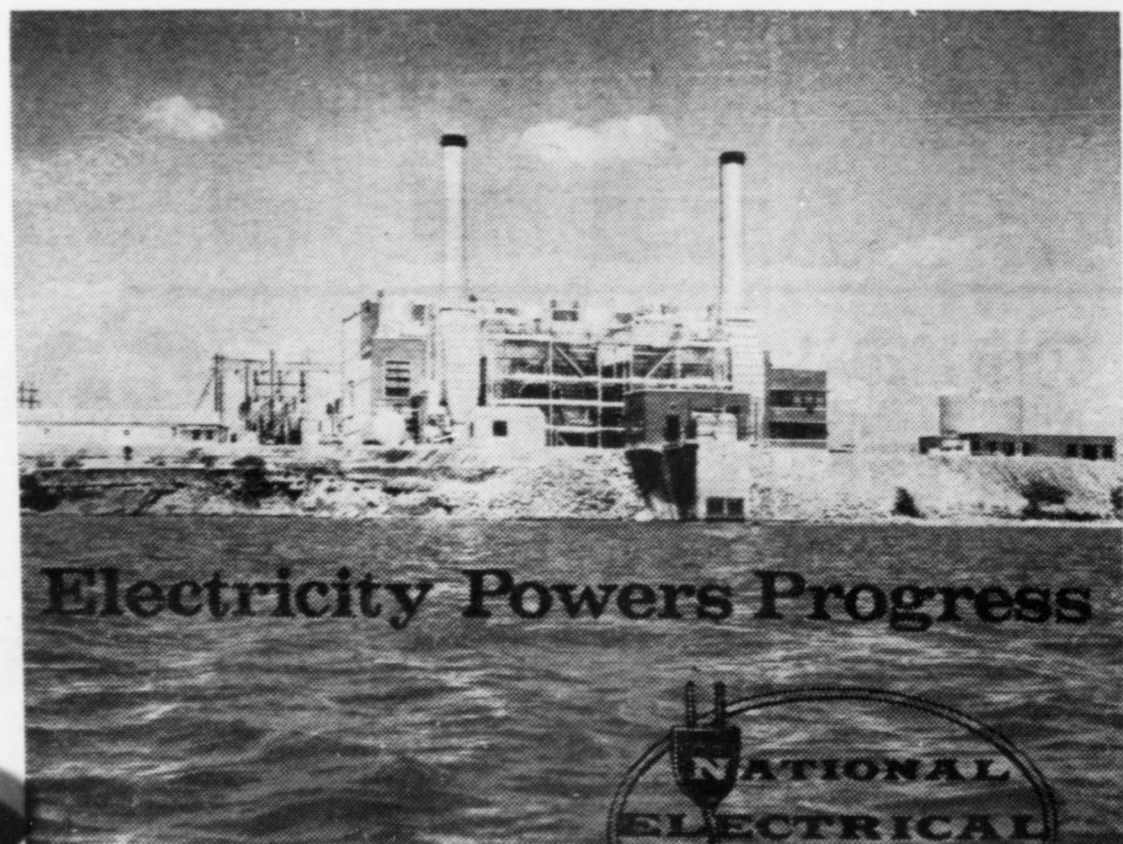

Quality independent front suspension fights road shock more effectively than other types—provides more protection for the truck, load and driver.

The standard 235-cu.-in. 6-cylinder Chevrolet truck engine has a worked more miles than any other. There are nine more engines to choose from.

TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

BY VERN SANFORD

silver spoon glittered in the air some 50 feet out from the end of a pier . . . and about 10 feet below the surface. Due to the height of the pier and clear of the Gulf water, the spoon easily be seen.

Idently a slender silvery torpedo bolted up from the depths. It hit the spoon solid and ed out to sea, peeling off line the spincast reel.

Idently the rod was a little lady Oklahoma. You could tell at once that she was an angler, ough it was her first taste of water fishing. She kept just tight tension on the drag and the rod high enough to let tip do the fighting.

The fish—a Spanish mackerel out three pounds—was a real er. But she had him hooked at fish was "meat in the pot" until she worked him up to the pier. Without a long-gaff, or a net, to reach fish, the little lady was forced to lift the fish out of the pier and on top of the pier.

u know what happened. Yep—fish made one final lunge and ed a pier piling. Sharp bars cut the monofilament line a knife.

Pier Fishing Is An Art

you can catch small fish a pier. But when it comes anding the large ones, there a art and technique involved. r pier fishing a long rod has cided advantage over a short You can use the long rod to e the fish away from the pil-

Furthermore, a long rod with a agy tip will cushion better st any sudden runs. It will tire the fish quicker than a r, stout rod.

er fishing also calls for longer usual leaders. With a long or eight foot plastic-coated leader there is less chance he line itself being chafed on barnacle encrusted pilings.

ae thing for sure—there's no on whatsoever for "horsing" sh from a pier.

e still has plenty of fight left n you get him to the point of ing and chances are, enough ngth to power under the pier around the piling. So, in pier ing, play the fish down while s still well away. Then work in when he starts showing his k or "bellies up."

can be catastrophic to hook big fish and then discover no f or landing net on the pier.

If the fish is thoroughly whip- , you might—just might—get n without a net.

The To Remember

ere's one way to do it. First, n as far over the rail as poss- e. Second, point the rod tip aight down at the fish. Next, d him up as far as possible. n try to swing him onto the k.

usually this procedure will work ith five or six pound fish.

best method, however, is to wly walk the length of the pier d load the fish back into shal- water where you can get n on the beach. If you're t fishing, this is a bit diffi- e, too.

Anyone who fishes from a pier n, really should have a long- ided gaff or net. Better yet— dng-net.

A drop-net with a three-foot dia- ter hoop and deep bag will suf- e for just about anything ex- pt a tarpon. Attach a stout bri- e to the hoop and tie the bridle a sufficient length of rope.

When the fish is whipped down, n the net overboard. Let it e below the depth of the fish. nck the fish in slowly . . . right over the net. Then haul the net in fast.

It's an easy operation that one man can perform. With a gaff hook it usually takes two people.

Study The Water First

Where to fish from a pier troubles many anglers. Tendency of most fishermen is to hurry to the end of the T-head, then cast out as far as possible.

Unless you know there are fish working in the deep water, casting from the T-head is a waste of time.

Instead, try reading the water for fish signs.

If there are several lines of breakers from the end of the pier, give that water a try. As the waves curl over and break, they churn up the bottom and free minute marine life.

It's in this wave break that, during the summer along the Gulf Coast, great numbers of speckled trout are taken. And in the fall, these same breakers yield redfish.

If you have a calm day when there are no waves breaking, look for signs of bait fish. Odds are heavy that game fish will be working right under the schools of bait.

There are two reasons for fishing from the side of the pier where the current is running away from it. First, you need less weight to keep the bait out from the pier. Second, the current will work in your favor in keeping the fish from swimming under the pier and around the pilings.

But remember this. When you hook your fish, you'll have more tension on your line since both the fish and the current will be pulling against you.

While this may initially stack the odds against you, in the end it will work in your favor. We say this because when a fish tires he will, invariably, try to swim with the current.

That way you're assured the fish will be well clear of the pilings. Furthermore, the current will keep the fish from drifting under the pier when you seek to gaff or net him.

To Preserve Your Catch

Keeping your fish fresh and edible can be a problem for the pier angler.

A fish will spoil fast if allowed to lie on the deck in the hot sun. So, if you have to keep him on deck, cover him with a wet tow-sack. Or put him in the sack, tie a rope around the neck of the sack and lower the whole works into the water.

If you don't have a sack, bring along a stringer that's long enough to reach the water.

But—whether you lower the fish in a sack or on a stringer, don't allow it to sink to the bottom. There the crabs will mutilate your catch in short order.

THE CALL FROM MOSCOW

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Of course, it was just a dream, Ed admits. (Too much pie at bedtime.)

And, thoughtfully, he adds—it shouldn't take a nightmare to make us realize what we believe—and how to preserve that Faith.

Stepped-Up Drive In Texas To Kill Off Blowfly

A sharply stepped-up drive to eradicate the deadly blowfly in Texas and the Southwest in under way. Spearheaded by voluntary donations from Texas livestock producers, the Federal Government now has a plan spelled out which, barring the unexpected, should get the job done.

Because the time element is so important, a transfer of $800,000 inside the Department of Agriculture has just been worked out, making that amount immediately available, along with the $1 and one-half million raised by Texas ranchers, which should shortly put the eradication plans into high gear.

This money will be supplemented by an emergency $3 million appropriation by the Congress, which we hope will be included in the session's first supplemental appropriation bill which will be acted upon right away. This will provide necessary financing through the first crucial year of the program. Producers in the southwest will be expected to make some additional contributions later on.

USDA's laboratory at Kerrville will hatch off the first sterile flies to be used in the drive. That plant can turn out 20 million a week, but a temporary facility, making use of an abandoned air force base, will soon be producing from 70 to 80 million of the sterile flies weekly—which scientists report will be adequate for the initial drive.

The extreme cold weather in the Rio Grande area, according to Dr. Frank J. Welch, assistant Secretary of Agriculture, made the eradication plan more certain of initial success.

The plan is to saturate the area paralleling the Rio Grande with the sterile male flies by plane drops, and keep it saturated during the wormy season. Based upon experience gained in Florida and the Southeast, where the blow fly was successfully eradicated, experts are eager to undertake the same mission in the southwest where, however, the problem will be much more difficult because of the infestation across the river in Mexico.

But experts now agree it can be done, through maximum use of all our efforts. It will take time and patience, but Dr. R. C. Bushland and his fellow scientists are on the warpath, and the deadly screw worm, which has plagued the livestock industry for generations may, as a major menace, be on its way out.
