Under John Glenn happened over this particular West Texas during his orbit Tuesday, he would be unable to see much of the sky over which he flew because of the heavy clouds. Most of us were paying attention to the tv or the radio when we were the clouds perhaps maybe chance to open up and give us a glimpse. They went away withing.

There is in need of a good rain right now. The fields and pasture lands are to the point of seriousness. It is told that there is a sub-moisture condition that the top crust is dry and water. About an inch and a half of rain right now would put everything in the green. It seems. Many of the sheep raisers, and some sheep raisers, are right now, we are cast long anxious looks at Saturday night's clouds. Little hope, but scudded before they could dump. Our gauge said one-tenth fell Saturday night, which is surprising, because it appears that that much had been in the air for some time. However.

Master Rankin Pace showed signs of new commemorative Wednesday, which had been to honor Project Mercury orbital flight by man. To Pace, this was the first of a previously unannounced project. A permit was issued to coincide with the completion of the event. Some of the stamps got the stamps to put them on sale immediately after the announcement of the successful orbit and landing of Col. John Glenn. They were late getting here, but they still arrived with excitement over Glenn's still white hot.

Plans of the designing, engraving and distribution stamps reads like a cloak tale. The whole business kept top secret until it came that Glenn had been retrieved from the ocean.

This to say about all the plans and programs: not calculated to let this huge food surplus go to waste.

Blizzards Drop Bi-District Game To Dublin Lions In Overtime Tuesday Night

Two minutes deep in the game, the Blizzards grabbed an 8-6 lead over the Lions, and were in control of the game until Dublin's last minute rally.

Co. Agent Parker Releases Results of Sorghum Grain Test

C. T. Parker, Runnels County Agent, has released the results of the grain sorghum demonstrations conducted in the county last year.

Test planting were on the Urban farm, Miles; Dobbins, Drasco; Gottschalk, Norton; Anderle, Norton and Schwertner, Miles.

Forty-one different varieties were tested in the Runnels County test plots, with pounds per acre yields running from 1144 to 6408.

Both the lowest yield and the highest yield, according to the records released by the county agent, were on irrigated land on the Schwertner test at Miles.

Highest yield on the Urban plot was 3630, and the lowest was 2220 pounds per acre.

On the Dobbins test at Drasco, highest yield was 3290, and the lowest 1670 pounds per acre.

The Gottschalk test plots at Norton yielded 3510 pounds for the top and 1670 for the low.

Top yield on the Anderle plot at Norton was 2802, with the lowest yield 1581 pounds.

These four test plots were on irrigated land.

Some varieties showed a high yield result on test plot, with a low yield on another plot.

Parker pointed out that some of the varieties which show the highest yield in the test results have only been tried out for one year, and added that "this is not conclusive enough to justify a large planting. To really tell what a variety will do requires several years of testing."

Parker said he would be glad to discuss the varieties and the results achieved with anyone who would like to learn more about them.

Gubernatorial Candidates Quizzed By Newsmen, Light Political Bonfires

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Texas newsmen quizzed seven candidates for governor at a session of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, and fanned early-season campaign sparks.

Gov. Price Daniel took the center position, weathering attacks from nearly all the other candidates, both democratic and republican. All candidates took part except John Connally and Edwin Walker.

A little fire even developed between the three republican candidates. Harry Diehl of Houston said Jack Cox of Breckenridge was "not a Republican—just a conservative candidate."

But two days later, Diehl withdrew from the race, leaving Roy Whittenburg as the only republican primary opponent for Cox.

Don Yarborough and Marshall Formby attacked the Daniel administration as "tired" and "lacking vigor". Daniel came back with a recital of his five-year accomplishments in education, industrialization and other fields.

Will Wilson's approach was that Daniel's entry collapsed the Connally bandwagon by splitting Vice Pres. Lyndon Johnson's organization, and that the only way to get an uncontrolled candidate was to elect Wilson.

Candidates got in more punches in answering tough questions posed by nine newsmen. All of Daniel's opponents made the Governor's unprecedented four-term try a central issue. In the course of questions, Daniel came out for a two-term limit, but with four-year terms for governor instead of the present two.

HORSE OF ANOTHER COLOR
Stamford oilman Keith Wheatley seemed to get off the track in his campaign for Railroad Commissioner when he told Austin pressmen that Texans should be able to cast a vote on the return of horse racing to the state.

Wheatley said he is neither for nor against racing, but believes "tax profits from horse racing could do much to aid the old people and the children of Texas."

Gubernatorial candidates are interested in regulating another kind of race. They think limitations should be set on the number of times a governor can run for re-election.

Marshall Formby based his objections to the present lack of limits on the fact that most state projects are operated by commissions whose members are appointed by the governor on a rotating basis. Formby figures that by the end of a second term, a two-time governor has made every state commission appointment and it's time for him to take a rest.

John Connally seconded the charge of commission domination and said that by the end of a third term, every one of the more than 800 commissioners have been appointed by a three-time governor. He promised that he would ask the Legislature to limit a governor's tenure to two terms if he's elected.

MIGRANT STUDY SET UP
State Board of Education appointed R. P. Ward of Edinburg to head a study on the education of children of migrant parents, after Commissioner J. W. Edgar called this "one of the critical problems facing the Texas public school system."

Ward, former president of Pan American College, will develop a guide for teaching these children, who form a large percentage of the enrollment in Rio Grande Valley schools.

TEACHERS' TIME TABULATED
State Board of Examiners for Teacher Education and the Texas Education Agency sent out about 80,000 questionnaires, asking Texas educators spend their time on curricular, co-curricular and extracurricular activities.

So far, more than 20,000 answers are in. Agency researchers are anxious for the other replies. They want to feed them to computing machines. Purpose is to get an analysis to help the Texas Legislative Council prepare a full report on teacher certification and the status of education in Texas.

Other facets of a report to be presented to the 58th Legislature in January will include the public view of education; a history of teacher education and certification in Texas, personal characteristics and social and economic data of teachers; a look at the current class of education majors and an analysis of their college course work.

When the "portrait of a Texas teacher" is completed, educators think it will represent the most comprehensive study of public education ever undertaken in this state.

A teachers' pay survey revealed that the West Texas towns of Crane and Kermit pay the highest salaries to new teachers—$4,900 a year, and that practically all districts with 2,500 or more students pay more than the $4,014 legal minimum.

GOP PRIMARIES UNDER FIRE

State democratic committeeman Walter Sterling opened another argument in the inter-party battle when he accused republicans of dodging their responsibility by not holding a primary in every precinct in the state.

Sterling and the State Democratic Executive Committee question the legality of a republican primary nominee who has not been voted on by every republican. Executive Director Clyde Johnson said, "The republicans should not be able to avoid legal and financial responsibility in these primary elections."

Republicans counter-charged that democrats failed to hold primaries in 24 counties during the 1960 special election. But Johnson promised the party will "follow the law as usual" and hold primaries in all 254 counties this May.

SHORT SNORTS
Governor Daniel has appointed Thomas H. Stillwell of Palestine as judge of the 3rd District Court, to succeed Judge V. M. Johnston.

A report from State Auditor C. H. Cavness showed the Board of Registration for Professional Engineers made a transfer of $225,000 to help pay for the new State Office Building No. 2, where it will office.

Board of Corrections and Highway Department have purchased more than $350,000 worth of steel, which state prison inmates will use to fashion auto license plates for 1963.

Republicans have appointed Mrs. Robert McCord of Dallas to handle publicity for the 10th Annual Republican Women's conference in Washington, D. C., on April 15.

Predator Bounty System Questioned

Many Texas counties are still using the bounty system in an attempt to control predators. Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says there is good evidence that this system is ineffective.

Under the bounty system, the county or perhaps a livestock association, offers a reward for killing animals which occasionally prey on livestock or crops, or otherwise create a problem. The reward ranges from as little as 10 cents per head for crows to as much as $75 for large animals such as wolves or coyotes.

Although nearly every wild animal has some definite positive values, control is sometimes necessary. The bounty system is not the way, however, says Cooper.

There are few, if any, recorded instances where the offering of a bounty reduced predator numbers to the point where the problem no longer existed. This in itself should discourage perpetuation of the bounty system.

It has also been found that those suffering losses will attempt a control program, regardless of whether or not a bounty is offered, points out Cooper.

Another weakness of the system is that dishonest practices usually occur. For example, people have been known to bring in coyotes killed in other counties to collect the bounty, and there is no way of disproving their claim. There are known cases where dog ears have been substituted for coyote or wolf ears where bounties are paid on the scalp alone. Another scheme which worked involved an individual who repeatedly retrieved the same scalp from the court house garbage cans and received payment several times. Another operator actually operated a coyote kennel where the animals were raised and then presented for bounty payment.

About all that can be said in favor of the bounty system is that people feel that something is being done about the predator problem, says Cooper. This is wasteful, however, because effective programs can be developed with the same money.

U. S. Civil Service Announces Exams

A new examination for Auditor has been announced by the U. S. Civil Service Commission for filling positions paying from $6,435 to $8,955 a year with audit agencies of the military services—the U. S. Army Audit Agency, the U. S. Navy Audit Organization, and the Auditor General Field Office, U. S. Air Force. Jobs will be filled at various locations throughout the country and in a few overseas areas.

To qualify for these positions, applicants must have had appropriate accounting and auditing experience including professional experience in making audits or examinations of commercial concerns or Government agencies, or in auditing cost accounting systems which required knowledge of the technical processes of production and cost distribution methods. Pertinent college study and possession of a CPA certificate may be substituted for part of the required experience.

Persons who have not completed 4 years of college study which included 24 semester hours in accounting subjects, or those who do not possess a CPA certificate obtained through written examination, will be required to take a written test.

Full information concerning requirements to be met and instructions on how to apply are given in civil service Announcement No. 275 B. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Announcements and application forms may be obtained from most post offices throughout the country or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Grasshopper May Be Bothersome In '62, Says USDA

Texas is included in the area where grasshoppers may be bothersome in 1962, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Federal-state surveys conducted last fall disclosed grasshoppers on nearly 13.5 million acres of rangeland in 15 states.

Texas, California, Colorado, New Mexico and Washington were found to have more than half a million grasshopper-infested acres.

Rangeland acreage infested with grasshoppers has more than tripled since 1960. An abnormally dry spring and a warm, dry fall in 1961, both favorable to insect survival, helped to increase the numbers, the USDA reported.

Ranchers, farmers and governmental agencies will need to keep a sharp lookout in these infested areas, where outbreaks may occur and require control efforts, the USDA advises.

In communitywide programs on rangeland, the Agricultural Research Service finances up to one-third of the cost of grasshopper control operations. Similar aid is available in countywide programs for controlling the pest on roadsides early in the season to prevent damaging outbreaks and migrations.

Senator Hardeman has been a member of the Senate since 1947 and has served as Chairman or member of all major Standing Committees of the Senate, as well as on many important special and interim Committees. He is presently Chairman of the powerful Senate General Investigating Committee, a position he has previously occupied, and is a member of the Legislative Budget Board on which he has served for ten years. He was elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate and served as Acting Governor of the State on December 3, 1954, during the absence of Governor Allan Shivers and Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey.

Senator Hardeman is recognized and respected by his colleagues as an authority on constitutional law and Texas and American history. He has been invited by his colleagues to address the Senate on constitutional questions and historical subjects on a number of occasions. He was made an honorary life member of the Texas State Historical Association for outstanding service rendered to Texas, which is the highest honor the Association bestows. Only five other persons currently hold this honor.

Mr. Hardeman is married to the former Geneva Moore, daughter of the late Lawrence Moore and Mrs. Moore, of Schleicher County, Texas. They have two young sons, Mark and Bryan, attending public school in San Angelo. Mr. and Mrs. Hardeman are members of the Church of Christ.

Senator Hardeman, a lawyer, is a partner with Earl W. Smith and Joe H. Foy in the law firm of Hardeman, Smith & Foy, in San Angelo.

Mr. Hardeman is a former Mayor of San Angelo, and former State Representative, which latter office he resigned and volunteered as a private in the Air Force in November, 1942. He attended Officer Candidate School, and, upon graduation, received a commission in the Judge Advocate General's Department and was assigned to the 2nd Air Force. He later was aide to Major U. G. Ent and was honorably discharged with the rank of Captain, February, 1946.

Senator Hardeman is a native of Tennessee, and came to San Angelo in 1932, where he has since resided. He holds membership in the Sons of the American Revolution, Sons of the Republic of Texas, Sons of Confederate Veterans, the American Legion and B.P.O.E.

In his announcement, Senator Hardeman said:

"As a candidate for re-election to the office of State Senator I respectfully solicit the support and votes of all the people of the 20 counties comprising the 25th Senatorial District. I shall try to see as many of the voters personally as I am able during the remaining weeks of the campaign. My record in the office has been

Ring Them Bells

Sounds of ringing bells are well known to students. But few have heard bells like those at the University of Texas, in Austin. Naturally, the UT bells are bigger and better.

UT's well known bell system is provided by a 40,000 pound carillon. This carillon, oft remembered for the holiday tunes played thereon, would of course have to have a bell tower superior to all.

That it does and it is known nationwide as "The Tower". The Tower is also the administrative building of the University, housing the school's offices and libraries.

America At An Economic Crossroads

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

No problem confronting America today is more serious than the imbalance of payments that result from the fact that in recent years we have been spending more American dollars overseas than we are getting back. Our gold reserves have dwindled steadily.

During the past four years our overseas spending and investing exceeded the inflow of our dollars at the average rate of nearly $3 and one-half billion a year.

Today we have a little less than $17 billion in gold reserve, and our overseas obligations are equal to that. We would be in trouble if all those creditors suddenly demanded full payments in gold. That will not happen now, but the fact that it could happen is enough to shock us into drastic corrective actions.

Among possible remedies that have been suggested are these: having our western allies assume more of the foreign aid burden both military and economic; stepping up every facet of our trade in foreign markets; eliminating such spending as is used to finance such projects as the Peace Corps; discouraging Americans from so much foreign travel; and getting our own financial house in better order here at home.

Because of extremely high wages being paid in some American industries, our foreign competitors have been able to under-sell us in many markets which we formerly dominated. That is true both at home and abroad. With many tracing countries now enjoying high levels of production and efficiency, and with the development of the European Common Market, our competitive position is becoming increasingly difficult.

The dismal results of the wage-price spiral is being felt more and more every day. We are now at the cross-roads where American industry and labor must do some adding and subtracting. The chickens are coming home to roost. And it is imperative that we face up to the gravity of the situation with which we are confronted.

Child Guidance: Parental Responsibility

Many a father appears to be actually proud of placing his children in one "fine" school after another, so that he can give all his time to his executive work. One man told me not long ago that he has "never had to bother bringing up his children, that a series of good prep schools taught them all they would ever need to know." I asked if the schools taught his youngsters family love, understanding, and the marvel of mutual need during the growing-up time.

There is no question but that we are moving through a difficult dog-eat-dog business period. But let us not forget that our responsibility to our family is at least as important as our loyalty to our occupation. Guidance centers and mental hospitals are filled with girls and boys who are emotionally unstable because their parents never played with them enough, never shared their recreations enough, never taught them the religious and moral truths that alone can build a strong family unit. When the home ceases to be the focal center of a family, we may well be heading into social anarchy or to a heart attack!

Is "Big Business" To Blame?

It is a bad sign when a business executive says he does not want his kids to work as hard as he worked. It means, first, that he must have worn himself to a frazzle to get where he is, or he would not be so vehement about it. Second, it undoubtedly means that he is giving his youngsters fat allowances, a fancy education and each an automobile. He feels better that way; it saves his conscience. He can then say that he has given his children "everything". But ask the children. They will tell you that he has not given them what they want most,—understanding and companionship.

He has, in fact, paid somebody else to do what he should have done himself, with the loving help of his wife. And this wet-nursing can develop a whole generation of young people who are emotionally undeveloped and self-centered, and who think the world owes them a living. Who is to blame? It is my honest feeling that the pace of today's business has something to do with the situation. I would like to start a move that may prevent high-tension business from wrecking home life. Unless evenings, week ends, holidays, and vacations are devoted, in large measure, to family responsibilities and pleasures, we may yet see a real business depression as people give up the struggle.

"Holiday In Hawaii" Theme of MYF Sweetheart Event

"Holiday in Hawaii" was the theme of the Methodist Youth Fellowship Sweetheart Banquet, Saturday night, in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

The Rev. Ray Elliott gave the invocation.

The welcome and introduction of the guests, speaker and his family, the Rev. and Mrs. Alvis Cooley and daughter, Ruth, was given by Jimmy Johnson, president of the MYF.

The crowning of the king and sweetheart was the moment the youth had waited for all year. They are chosen for their outstanding work done for the local MYF. Mary Jane Matthews was crowned sweetheart from Winters and Marion Burrow was the sweetheart from Wingate, Kenneth Elliott was crowned the king.

Entertainment for the evening was given by the Rev. Ray Elliott who played several guitar numbers.

The speaker, the Rev. Alvis Cooley, pastor of the Merkel Methodist Church challenged the youth with "A FORMULA" as his message. He said "Formula" spells JOY—Jesus, Others, Yourself. "If we have no 'Joy' in our lives, we have failed in our Christian living, if we put Jesus first in our lives, the others with whom we come in contact will be influenced to be better persons. By putting Jesus first, others second, ourselves last, our decisions and activities can be based on whether or not it is God's way."

He stated that this was a time as never before for young people to face problems of today and when a decision is made to stick to it. The decisions they make today will influence the lives of their children tomorrow. He brought out that two things were eternal—personality and christian fellowship between people.

The banquet closed with the MYF benediction.

"KING OF THE ROARING 20'S"—The Story of Arnold Rothstein—Diane Foster, as the wife of Arnold Rothstein (David Janssen), king of the gamblers during the roaring 20's, does not seem overjoyed by her husband's lucky streak in this scene from Allied Artists' "King of the Roaring 20's"—The Story of Arnold Rothstein—at the State Theatre Sunday only. Eight other top Hollywood stars, including Mickey Rooney, have starring roles.

"BACHELOR IN PARADISE"—Bob Hope offers to share the last remaining chicken in a supermarket with Lana Turner in this scene from "Bachelor in Paradise," in which they co-star for the first time. Also playing leading roles in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer CinemaScope and color comedy are Janis Paige, Jim Hutton, Paula Prentiss, Don Porter, Virginia Grey and Agnes Moorehead. Showing Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday at the State Theatre.

MOVIES

"KING OF THE ROARING 20'S"

That glittering "lost world," the 1920s, with its Charlestoning flappers, forbidden booze, quick fortunes, and blazing guns, is all to be found again at the State Theatre, where "King of the Roaring 20's"—The Story of Arnold Rothstein—will show Sunday only.

Dominating it is the fascinating but sinister figure of Arnold Rothstein, that man of mystery, power, and the golden touch, who became a legend in his own lifetime. For this is his story, as the New York of that vanished era was his oyster, his town, until the poker game at the old Park Central Hotel one night when he drew that royal flush with the inverted ace of spades.

"BACHELOR IN PARADISE"

Bob Hope and Lana Turner together for the first time, teamed for love and laughs, provide captivating entertainment in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's romantic comedy, "Bachelor in Paradise." Showing Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday at the State Theatre.

Bob is the bachelor; Paradise is the name of the modern housing development in which he lives in order to observe how America's young marrieds behave—and misbehave.

He not only lives there, but lives it up with the help of career girl Lana, whose house he has rented, and three neighboring wives. Bob tries to help them rekindle the spark that first set fire to their respective husbands' hearts—only to find himself named correspondent in three simultaneous divorce suits!

There are all sorts of daffy doings in this whirlpiced comedy in which Hope faces the vicissitudes of super-markets, freeways, baby sitting and step-saving household appliances that go berserk the moment he touches them. It adds up to one laugh after the other.

"THE MASK"

"The Mask," a Warner Bros. motion picture fantasy thriller that is the first feature-length film to include sequences in the new depth-dimensional process, will un-jade jaded movie-goers as it assails the eyes of audiences with flaming arms, hurtling skulls and balls-of-fire that seemingly shoot from the screen. The thriller shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre.

Approximately 15 minutes of the total film will be depth-dimensional and, to see these sequences, members of the audience will don special masks supplied by the Theatre. Viewers will know when to put on their masks: whenever a character on the screen does. The movie-goer thereby will be able to share with the actor various nightmarish and hallucinatory scenes that rival Dali, the Grand Guignol and fantasies induced by too much lobster Thermidor.
