Commercial Feed Lot Will Be Built West of Town

Final arrangements were made Wednesday afternoon for the construction of a commercial cattle feeding operation in Winters. Officers of a corporation which is being organized to operate the feed lots completed a few details upon which the business depended, and said that construction would begin "within a few days."

The feed lots will be located about one mile west of Winters' city limits, on the Konegway farm.

At the beginning, the operation will have a capacity of 2000 head of feeder cattle, with plans to accommodate up to at least 7500 head, operators said.

Raymond R. Walston, of Menard, is president of the corporation, which will be known as the Commercial Feeders, Inc. He and J. C. Doss of San Angelo have been working with Winters people on the project. Walston will move to Winters "within a short time," and will be in charge of the operation.

According to Walston, the feeding pens will be divided into several units with a capacity of about 25 head of cattle per unit. Each unit will be provided with self-feeders.

Although Commercial Feeders Inc., already have outlets for around 1800 head of cattle per year, they will offer commercial feeding facilities to stockmen and others who are in need of such service. Their plans call for additional facilities to be built immediately, and to grow as the demand indicates.

The establishment of a commercial cattle feeding operation in Winters will affect the economy of the entire area, it was pointed out. Feed lots will provide stockmen a place to finish off cattle immediately before going to market; grain farmers will be provided a ready and local market for their grain; and the local feed mill will have a local market for their products.

Local businessmen who have been working to secure this feeding operation for Winters have pointed out that "we are lucky to be given the chance for something of this nature." Walston said that surveys had indicated that Winters is "one of the best locations in Texas for a commercial feeding operation," because of access to cattle, feed, and transportation facilities, and other important factors affect such a business.

According to Byron J. Greiman, area livestock specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, in an article in the San Angelo Standard-Times recently, grain feeding of cattle in Texas has been rapidly increasing in recent years. Texas has a surplus of grain and feeder cattle, and is now being recognized as a potential feeding area.

He said that the majority of the cattle being fed in this state are in feedlots with a capacity of 1,000 head or more. As of Oct. 1, 1961, there were 192,000 cattle on feed in lots with over 1,000 head capacity, and only an estimated 27,000 head in feedlots under 1,000 head in capacity.

Greiman went on to say that while the growth of the cattle feeding industry has been rapid in recent years, it would seem the growth in the future could well be even more spectacular since the vast potentials of grain and feeder cattle have not nearly been exhausted. Last year, he said, 1,441,746 cattle and calves were shipped out of Texas by rail and truck as tabulated by the Texas Animal Health Commission. Most of these cattle were sold out-of-state for feeding purposes. The state produces more than enough grain, over and above that already utilized, to finish all of the cattle shipped out-of-state for feeding.

It is interesting to note, according to many specialists in the field, that many of the cattle shipped out of Texas for feeding are fed on grain which has been grown in Texas, and which has followed the cattle. The finished cattle or the meat is then returned to Texas for sale and consumption, it is pointed out. Establishment of feedlots in the areas where the cattle are plentiful, and where the grain is grown, eliminated the expensive operation of shipping the cattle and the feed, and later the finished product.

Interest Gaining In 16th Annual Winters Rodeo

More and more interest is being shown in anticipation of Winters 16th Annual Rodeo, scheduled for June 21, 22 and 23, Dr. H. H. McCreight, president of Winters Round-Up Association, said this week. The association sponsors and produces the rodeo each year.

Dr. McCreight said that although the program for the complete three-day event has not been completed as yet, several details have been worked out. A drive to secure more members for the sponsoring association is currently underway.

Arrangements have been made for the rodeo clowns, one of the most important parts of any rodeo. Jim "Willie" Windsor, of Henrietta, and Jack "String Bean" Jackson, of Wichita Falls, will be the clowns for this years show, and will present five or six entirely new acts, Dr. McCreight said.

C. T. Parker, Runnels County agricultural extension agent, will be the official rodeo announcer. Livestock for the show will be furnished by Lloyd Woodley of Lampasas, who has furnished stock for several previous rodeos here.

Frederic Poe of Midland, formerly of Winters, will be the official rodeo secretary. He has held that office for several years.

Trophy buckles will be awarded riders in several events, Dr. McCreight said. He also said that the complete lists of events for the three-day rodeo had not been made yet, but expects that this will be done within the next few days.

Not Expecting Nuclear War, But Fallout Shelters Will Be Discussed

Babson Discusses Importance Of Coal
 I do not expect a nuclear war unless one starts by accident. I do expect the cold war to last for some time, during which time fallout shelters will be constantly discussed. It is not expected that such "shelters" would protect us if our city or one nearby should be bombed. But a properly constructed shelter should protect from the "fallout" accompanying nuclear war, when some—not all—of our large cities would be destroyed.

Stocking Shelters

It is one thing to build a shelter; but another thing to stock it properly with food and the many other articles needed to make it livable for two or more weeks. For details, send to the Department of Defense, Office of Civil Defense, Washington 25, D.C.—or check with your local Civil Defense officials. At best, only a few of my readers will build shelters. Therefore, I wish to write this week about what the rest of us will do. Here is some good advice.

I am urging my family and friends to seriously consider how much we all owe to electricity—our lights, oil burner, refrigerator, and often our cooking and other conveniences. Yet, whether or not we have a shelter, we would have no electricity if a nuclear war should start. Furthermore, those of us who would be compelled by law to remain indoors until the federal signal allowed us to go out should have enough food and water to care for our necessary requirements.

Have A Driven Well If Possible

Our first expenditure should be for a driven well, to give an independent water supply. This would need a modern double-action hand pump to pump up the water. This pump should be located in the cellar, as near as possible to the "water table" level. Our city or town supply of water may be available in quantity; but it probably would be contaminated and dangerous. Whether boiling this water would make it safe to drink will be told us by Civil Defense authorities via CONELRAD (either 640 to 1240 on your radio dial).

Until a comparatively few years ago, most homes had a coal bin and a coal-burning furnace in the cellar; also, a coal-burning stove in the kitchen. That coal bin, filled with coal each fall, was a real "safety deposit box." It could be more important than one at a local bank containing stocks, bonds, and our will.

Importance Of A Filled Coal Bin

Such a coal bin, filled with coal, with a small coal furnace and AGE IMPROVES—Seventy-year-old Claude Watson seems to improve with age. He recorded an Indianapolis high bowling series of 727. Watson, who didn't start bowling until he was 50, says, "I'm not an expert or anything—I'm just kind of young for my age." Nice pin toppin' at any age.

SHAPE OF '62—Travis Hudson, who'll appear in Leonard Stillman's "New Faces of 1962," wears one of the 100 costumes made for the show by Brooks Costumes.

small coal cookstove, would be a MUST for every family not near a gas reserve. At the first "shot" of a nuclear war, our electricity would be cut off. Therefore we should today determine how to get on without it. A bin full of the best small anthracite or cannel coal would be the answer—plus some lanterns and a barrel of kerosene. Both the coal and the kerosene are merely stored heat—which can be used to keep us warm, cook our food, boil our water, and supply us with the light which satisfied American families over 100 years. Readers who have no coal furnace and can buy none locally may write for free catalog to Holland Furnace Co., Holland, Michigan.

We are used to buying stocks and bonds to store in our safe deposit boxes; but during the months ahead I shall discuss stocks, bonds, and coal—with a pile of "hearts of pine" wood for starting a fire with matches. It is a shame that coal has been forgotten. Someday there will be a war from which we Americans will suffer, even if it is not a nuclear war. Just as Dr. Einstein discovered atomic energy which led to the destructive bombs, so Col. Glenn by his triple orbit of the globe showed us where the next great war will be fought—200 miles (1,000,000 feet) above our cities.

We Should Revise Our Plans
 Since February 20th we have been living in a new world. Most conclusions and measurements are useless. Even the most modern missiles may be outdated. On the other hand, those close to gas wells may see a renewed demand for property. Those of us in large cities further away may not be able to depend upon gas in case of war. I shall not count upon gas or electricity in an emergency, but only upon coal. Hence I talk about Stocks, Bonds, and Coal in my "Safe Deposit Box".

Texans Plugging For Less Federal "Aid" Spending

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

If the people in southwest Texas had their way about it there would be no medical care program under social security; no federal school aid; no UN bond purchase; no expansion of the Peace Corps and the Congress would retain its constitutional responsibilities rather than delegating some of them to the President, on a standby basis.

Results of tabulation of the questionnaires just completed reveal an aroused public interest in governmental affairs in our area. Plugging for lower federal spending, fewer controls, less government in the affairs of the people, Texans spoke out strongly and decisively in answer to the 24 questions submitted.

On the question of expanding the Peace Corps (whose mission is largely a duplication of Point 4) 79 per cent were against and only 9 per cent favored more spending on this project.

The people voted more than 4-to-1 against the medicare proposal, the adoption of which would force an increase in the social security tax.

Federal school aid was defeated more than 3-to-1. In fact, of 382 teachers who answered, 289 were opposed to federal aid for teachers' salaries.

"Right to work" laws were favored by well over 10-to-1.

Nearly 75 per cent oppose any expansion of unemployment compensation. Hundreds of citizens wrote in to cite specific instances of abuses in this program, where unemployed refuse to seek or accept gainful employment so long as they can draw unemployment benefits.

And 81 per cent favored while only 6 percent opposed a law requiring labor unions to conform to antitrust laws on the same basis as private corporations and business enterprises are now required to do.

And they take a dim view of the various new welfare programs that have been submitted to the Congress.

By a margin of nearly 5-to-1 these Texans think we should forego any raises for government employees at this time.

And by a ratio of better than 2½ to 1 the people oppose H. R. 3745, a World War I pension bill. Foreign aid should be confined to friendly countries, and it should be reduced or eliminated.

This is the voice of the people of the 21st district. Some 15,000 expressed themselves. This represents a fairly accurate cross-section of public opinion.

Shools For Cotton Gin Operators Announced

Schools designed to give operators of cotton gins practical information which will aid in the ginning of highest quality cotton consistent with efficient machinery operation have been announced for Corpus Christi and Lubbock.

The Corpus Christi schools will be held on May 8 while August 21 is the date for the Lubbock sessions, said B. G. Reeves, extension cotton ginning and mechanization specialist. Sponsors for the one-day schools are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, Continental Gin Co., The Murray and John E. Mitchell Companies, Lummus Cotton Gin Co., Hardwicke-Etter Co. and Moss-Gordin Company.

Five schools will be held simultaneously on the announced dates and each of the cooperating companies will provide meeting rooms for their students. Reeves said participants would receive instructions on the operation, maintenance and repair of each piece of machinery used in a modern cotton gin, including stands, dryers, cleaners, bur machines, extractor-feeders, lint cleaners, and other auxiliary equipment. Experienced factory engineers will serve as instructors.

Reeves said there would be no enrollment fee and added that either a letter or advance registration blank should be sent by the prospective student to the school in charge of the school to attend. The registration fee made at least a week in advance of the school.

Winters Garden Club Presented GS Program

Mrs. O. D. Bradford Sr. and Mrs. John Grohman, members of the Winters Garden Club, presented a most interesting program on garden flowers when they met with members of Girl Scout Troop 1 on Wednesday afternoon.

The girls were working on proficiency badges and the ladies presented a program enabling them to earn a Garden Flower Badge. This work included identifying twenty-five garden flowers from pictures and plants, knowing three garden flowers used medicinally, knowing what part of the world five plants are native. Being able to identify six herbs, and six plants by scent; knowing one annual plant, one perennial plant and one biennial plant.

After the program the girls were able to name three insects and five common weeds found in gardens and lawns. To improve the appearance of the Scout Hut Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. Grohman brought Siberian Iris and day lilies to plant.

In observance of Girl Scouts Fiftieth Anniversary these two yellow flowers were planted by the girls at the hut.

The garden club members exchanged plants with Beverly Briley, Sally Spill, Eileen Faubion, Mary Lou Wilkerson, Norma Jo Bates, Pauline Rozman, Glenda Cooper, Sheil Krantz, Rita Forte, Mrs. N. L. Faubion, Mrs. W. J. Briley, Mrs. J. C. Wilkerson, Jim and Joe.

As the girls were working in the yard at the hut, they were able to recognize various wild flowers blooming around the stand pipe. Mrs. Bradford pointed out that several flowers were on the Texas Wild Flower Conservation list and provided each girl with a list.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Ted Meyers will meet with members of the troop to continue working on their Skating badge. All girls are asked to meet at the hut at 2 o'clock.

Grain Prospects Look Good To County Agent

Runnels County agriculture agent C. T. Parker, said this week that prospects for small grain in this area look "pretty good" at this time. However, he pointed out that much more rain is needed to properly mature the grain. Showers within the past week have helped the situation considerably, Parker said, but the rainfall has been spotty. Some sections of the county received good rains, while others received none at all. In the immediate area of Winters, 1.2 inches of rain fell

Sunday afternoon, and another 2 inches fell Tuesday afternoon. The county agent said many farmers are planting grain sorghum at this time. Parker also reminded livestock raisers to "be on the lookout for screwworms in their livestock." If worms are found, he said, specimens should be collected and sent or brought to his office so that they can be examined to determine if they are real screwworms. If there is evidence of screwworms in the area, sterile male screwworm flies will be released to combat the menace, Parker said. This is part of the program for which livestock men made financial contributions recently. When screwworms are found in an area, he said, the Texas

Animal Health Commission will release sterile flies to cover a 10-mile radius. The flies will be released from an airplane, he said. Parker urged the cooperation of everyone in this matter. He said only close supervision can eliminate the screwworm problem in livestock.

"ONE, TWO, THREE"

For their follow up to "Some Like It Hot" and "The Apartment"

Academy Award writers Billy Wilder and L.A.L. Diamond tell the tale of a mixed up love affair that transcends the mixed up politics of East and West Germany. An heiress, U.S. type, falls for a beatnik, East German type, much to the consternation of an American soft drink executive, excitable type, in whose care the teenage girl has been entrusted—by his boss: the firing type! It's all played for rapid fire laughs and called "One, Two, Three." Starring James Cagney, Ariane Francis, Pamela Tiffin and Horst Buchholz, the snappy satire shows Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre, through United Artists release.

"DOCTOR BLOOD'S COFFIN"
The doctor in "Doctor Blood's Coffin" is aptly named, since his grisly experiments involve enough plasma to float this mysterious burial-box. What it contains is certain to provide enough excitement for all who accept United Artists' dare to look into "Doctor Blood's Coffin" which shows (no pun intended) Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre, in gory East-mancolor.

Actually there are two Doctor Bloods in this shocker, but the elder Blood, played by veteran actor Ian Hunter, is content with preserving life while his son, a brilliant bio-chemist, has succumbed to the temptation of recreating life.

James Cagney stars in Billy Wilder's new comedy, "One, Two, Three," which shows Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre, through United Artists release.

It's the Law— Property Should Be Rendered For Taxes

April 1 and May 1 are important deadlines for Texans to render their property to various taxing agencies. State laws require all real and personal property to be rendered for taxes on or before prescribed dates. Those who fail to comply can blame only themselves for the money loss they may consequently suffer.

Some Texas cities set their own tax deadlines. These are the cities of more than 5,000 population which have incorporated under the "Home Rule" provisions of our statutes. All other cities are governed by the general laws of Texas.

In towns operating under the general laws property must be rendered for taxes between January 1 and April 1 each year. A number of home rule cities set up the same requirements in their ordinances, while others prescribe different periods.

For state and county tax purposes, property must be rendered to the County Tax Assessor by April 30, and homestead exemptions must be claimed by the same time.

In some localities a third taxing unit is involved—the independent school district. In other places school taxes are collected by the city or county. In addition, some localities have water, irrigation, or levee districts which assess and collect taxes. Make inquiry as to where these various taxes are assessed, and as to applicable deadlines for rendition.

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required to render to all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own, down to the very clothing on our backs. An exception is the constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture. However, no taxing unit carries its requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render all merchandise, furnishings, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment.

If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

Remember these facts: You may need to render your property at three or more different tax offices. Ask each tax assessor if in doubt concerning the deadline or the rendering of specific personal items.

TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

Flashlight Holder
Ever have trouble keeping a flashlight beam shining where you want it when camping out and you need both hands free?

Try this: Drive an axe in a tree stump, or a rise in the ground then tape or tie the flashlight to the axe handle.

All that's necessary then is to adjust the handle to focus the beam where you want it.

Hula Hoops For Fishing
Remember those hula hoops that were popular not so long ago?

Doubtless you have one or two around your place. If so, use them in your fishing.

Tie three hooked, baited lines to a hoop, as you would a drop or trotline. Then throw the hoop in the water. When a fish takes a bite, the hoop will submerge on that side, thus signaling that there is a fish on the line.

This is a novel variant of the time-honored jug fishing.

Don't Lose Your Boat Key
It's a mighty disturbing experience to see your boat key drop overboard and sink out of sight.

A little forethought can prevent this tragedy.

With a small bolt and nut, simply secure your key between the forks of a wooden clothespin. Should the key then drop overboard, it will float on the surface of the water until retrieved.

Floats For Boat Keys
Dropping a boat key overboard leaves a boat owner in a bad predicament.

To keep keys from sinking when the unexpected happens attach an ordinary fishing float or cork to the key chain.

Cuts Cooking Time
Here's how you can do two cooking jobs at the same time, when preparing a camp meal.

Just put the eggs you plan to boil in a plastic bag. Then suspend the bag inside the pot of brewing coffee.

Make sure the bag is suspended deep enough to cover the eggs with boiling water. Top of bag can be held secure between the lid and the pot.

When eggs are cooked, remove and serve. Neither eggs nor coffee are affected by the other in any way.

Golf Club Makes Good Gaff
If you want to own a good strong gaff—latch onto an old steel-handled golf club, remove the head and weld on a standard size gaff hook.

It works swell!

Cleaning Bottoms of Boats
One of the best cleaners you can find, and certainly the handiest, for removing scum from a boat bottom, is rough sand on a wet burlap rag.

Turn the boat bottom side up and scrub with the sanded rag. It does a great job.

Red Shrimp For Bait
Shrimp are great salt water bait. Increase the potential by adding a few drops of red cake coloring, red Easter Egg dye, or mercurochrome to the water.

The red dye will stain your shrimp a strong red and add to their "appeal" when on your hook.

Real Feathers To Train A Pup
Bird-dog pups train more quickly when real bird feathers are used to train them to fetch and carry.

Skin a quail from your next bag, salt and dry skin, then roll skin around a small rag ball.

Have pup retrieve this feather covered ball to give him the feel and smell of bird feathers.

Learn Your Catfish
When you pull in your catfish, do you know what sort of critter you have on your line?

There are three principal species in Texas—the yellow cat (a big flat headed critter), the channel cat (gamiest and tastiest of the three), and the blue cat (largest of the three).

Yellows usually inhabit sluggish water. Channel cats prefer moving water, rapids, etc., and the blue cats are found in big lakes and large rivers.

All are caught on trotlines.

Modern Methods Mean Progress

One reason for our country's progress is that we have learned how to do many things quicker and better. To save time means more production with less effort. It is the American way to get each job done and to get on with the next.

It is not always that we have more efficient methods and better machinery but we put them to wider use. One way to save time and effort is to pay all bills with checks. They are used more here than in any other land. Convenience appeals to a nation where it is a rule to get things done as expeditiously as possible.

Big side-bar issues on May 5 will be the referendums on horse race betting and poll tax repeal. These will appear on both the republican and the democratic ballots. Also on the GOP ballot is the question whether Padre Island should be developed as a state park. Results of the balloting on these referendums are not binding. DANIEL BACKS IMPORTS LIMIT

Governor Daniel sent telegrams to the governors of the other 31 oil-producing states, and asked them to join him in supporting an oil imports limitation amendment. U. S. Congressman Tom Steed of Oklahoma introduced the proposal. It would require oil imports to be cut to the 1956 ratio with U. S. production.

At the 1957 Governors' Conference, Daniel was successful in getting 32 gubernatorial signa-

NEW HIGHWAY MARKERS

The 57th Legislature failed to appropriate funds for advertising Texas' tourist attractions out of the state. But the Texas Highway Commission has come up with a dazzling device for pointing out places of interest to travelers once they get in the State.

Historic sites and other spots of unusual interest will be pointed out by big, cast-aluminum markers, such as those used in Virginia. These markers will be erected at roadside park sand turn-offs, so drivers can pull over and read the legends at leisure.

Markers are three feet wide and four feet, 10 inches, high and look like they're made of Swedish steel. They'll be mounted on six-foot aluminum poles.

Two already have been erected at a cost of $1,000 each. One, placed two miles northeast of Tyler, marks the site of the largest Confederate Army prisoner of war camp west of the Mississippi. It was paid for by the grandson of a Union soldier who spent some time there.

The other was purchased by the Odessa Chamber of Commerce to point to the famous Meteor Crater near Odessa.

On May 4, a third plaque will be set up at McCamey. It will mark Castel Gap—the old Butterfield State pass.

Attorney general ruled that such markers are necessary for maximum use of modern highways, and thus okayed the expenditure of state funds for future plaques.

Cost of plaques can be reduced to $700 each in mass lots.

A committee headed by George W. Hill of the State Historical Survey Committee and composed of representatives from the Highway Department, the Parks Board and the Game and Fish Commission screens all recommended sites. About 100 spots are being considered right now.

tures on a petition to Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower, urging mandatory import controls. But he feels that nothing has been done to prevent imports from supplanting domestic production.

Daniel said that the recent schedule of eight-day allowables in Texas has resulted in a loss of more than $100,000,000 in tax revenue for the State. May will be another eight-day producing month.

AGRICULTURAL WAR ON

About 40,000 bushels of sweet potatoes worth $100,000 are in danger of being ruined by the sweet potato weevil, according to State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. Some 1,200 growers in 10 counties plan to join the state in a two-month battle against the pest.

About $15,000 will be spent to dust sweet potato crops and some 100 storage houses in Anderson, Cherokee, Houston, Leon, Madison, Nacogdoches, Rusk, San Augustine, Shelby and Trinity counties.

White says the war against the Kaphra beetle which devours grain, has been won at a cost of $100,000. But every precaution is being taken to prevent another invasion from out-of-state.

On the positive side of the planting problems, the agriculture commissioner said South Texas cotton farmers have been given a 10-day extension—to midnight

April 30—to plant or replant where seeds failed to germinate because of unusually dry weather.

NO SECRETS ALLOWED IN SCHOOLS

A Texas law that says that public school authorities can suspend or expel a student who solicits members for a fraternity, or other secret society, also prohibits other organizations from doing so. Attorney General Will Wilson has so ruled.

The law allows the formation in schools of Boy Scouts, Hi-Y, Girl Scouts, DeMolay, Rainbow Girls, Pan American clubs, scholarship societies, and other "kindred education organizations sponsored by state or national education authorities."

But any "public welfare" group which isn't on the list of specifics is forbidden.

BOAT TRAFFIC BIG PROBLEM

As warm weather inspires the owners of 177,082 motor boats to launch their crafts on Texas' lakes and streams, the problem of boat safety comes to the fore. The boat safety committee of the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas plans to study the matter with Rep. Ben Atwell on April 27.

Atwell has been directing questionnaires to all sportsmen's clubs to determine where and how boating accidents occur. Survey is to see if the Boat Safety Act passed by the 56th Legislature contains practical plans for accident prevention.

Modern industry is a complex structure. Manufacturers rely on others to supply many things, among them raw materials, machinery, power, containers, transportation.

West Texas Utilities Company is both an industry and such a supplier. The product we make—electric power—is used by other industries in our service area.

We are proud of this close relationship. It is our job to provide a plentiful supply of electric power today. It is our obligation to increase the supply as present industries expand and new ones come in. Our current expansion program anticipates continuing industrial growth. One example is our new Oak Creek generating station pictured above, with another and even larger plant already on the drawing boards.

To aid in industrial development, we will continue to tell the Nation's industrialists that "...in this area lies opportunity," as evidenced by the many industries thriving today in the CENTER OF THE SOUTHWEST.

To Study Effects Of Town, Country Developments

A group of townspeople and farming and ranching families has been organized "to study the situation that exists in regard to characteristics of the total economy of the area." The organization, to be known as the Runnels County Program Building Committee, met in Ballinger for the first time Thursday morning and elected officers. Meetings have been planned for Winters and other communities in the county within the next few weeks.

Jack Fry, Ballinger, has been named chairman of the organization, with Oran Bigby, vice chairman, Dennis Poe, Winters, is secretary, and Mrs. Claude Simmons, Ballinger, is reporter.

Fry opened Thursday's meeting by explaining to the group why such an organization and program is needed in Runnels County. Today throughout the nation, he said, "we are fast developing urban areas with more people living in town and fewer people living on the farms. Such changes certainly have tremendous influence upon our farming people, yet, in today's pattern, these changes also affect all towns." He stressed the need to study the situation that exists in regard to the economy of the area, and the characteristics of the total society, "and the level of service available to its citizens."

The program has been organized under the sponsorship of the County Agriculture and Home Economics Extension offices. C. T. Parker, county agent said that the agents "want to carry out a program for the future which will be educational and helpful to all people of the county, both rural and urban, youth and adults." He also spoke on the selection of the committee.

Miss Louise Decker, county home demonstration agent, told of the need for educational programs in "nutrition, buying family food, low cost menus, consumer buying, clothing care," and others.

The committee will be representative of all areas of the county, it was pointed out. Also, it was stated, "there is a need for work with our young farm boys. The county extension program fits the fast changing economy of the agriculture industry, and also renders a service to urban development."

Mrs. Edgar Boelsche was appointed to serve on the Texas Historical Society on the district level, to represent Runnels County.

Referendum Set On Proposed Turkey Market

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman on April 5 called for a referendum of turkey growers June 18 through June 22 on the proposed national marketing order for turkeys.

The order can be made effective by the Secretary if it is approved by two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum, by number or by volume of production.

F. Z. Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said two significant changes were noted in the proposed order as released on April 5. First, the base period—for determination of allocation bases to be used in one method of supply-management—in 1965 and thereafter will be computed by using the average marketings of the preceding 3 years rather than the average of the highest marketings of the previous 3 out of 4 years, and secondly, that producer-growers, who produced turkeys under contract with contract-producers who assume or share the risk of loss, will have as their allocation base one-half of the turkeys so marketed, and the contract-producers, regardless of number, will share the remaining half.

Eligible voters, the specialist said, will be producers, including contract-producers, whose annual volume of production is large enough to be affected by the order, and who engaged in the production of turkeys during 1961. Qualified cooperative associations are eligible to vote for their members.

Turkey growers who produced and marketed less than 3,600 pounds of turkey (live-weight) in 1961, or producer-handlers who produced and handled not more than 100,000 pounds of turkeys (liveweight) in their own handling facilities and who bought or sold not more than 5,000 pounds from or to other persons are not eligible to vote.

Voting will be for or against the proposed order and will begin on June 18 under the direction of State and County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committees. Ballots may be cast in person or by mail during the June 18-22 voting period.
