Valley Creek Watershed Work Plan Approved

A watershed work plan agreement for the Valley Creek watershed was signed by representatives of the seven sponsoring organizations in a meeting in Wingate Tuesday night.

Signing of the agreement took place following an explanation of the highlights of the work program by L. J. Land of San Marcos, supervisor of the Soil Conservation Service planning party that drew up the plan, and Cy Richmond of San Angelo, area conservationist of the SCS.

Sponsoring organizations are the Runnels County, Middle Clear Ford and Upper Clear Fork Soil Conservation districts; Runnels, Taylor and Nolan County Commissioners courts.

Representing the sponsoring organizations were Bill Minzenmayer, Winters, chairman of the Runnels SCD; Ernest Brady, Hamby, chairman of the Middle Clear Fork SCD; Glen Webb, Sweetwater, chairman of the Upper Clear Fork SCD; Runnels County Judge W. H. Rumpy, Nolan County Judge Lea Boothe, and Jake McMillon, commissioner of Taylor County Precinct. 4, who represented his county.

Representatives of several governmental agencies and political subdivisions were present for the review. Agencies represented were the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers; District 7 State Highway Department; the Farmers Home Administration state office; Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of Taylor County; Taylor County Extension Service; the City of Ballinger and others.

Hugo Vogelsang, chairman of the Valley Creek Water Control District, outlined development of the program for the Valley Creek watershed and flood prevention program, which came into being following a disastrous flood along the creek April 10, 1956. In that flood, nearly $1 million damage was done to farm lands, livestock, county and state roads, fences and other property.

The 1956 flood was described as the most disastrous of the 25 years. However, the planning party found that since 1921 there had been nine major floods on the creek, causing direct damages which average $93,777 annually at long-term price levels.

The work plan calls for 20 structures to be built on the watershed in Nolan, Taylor and Runnels counties. Total cost of the structures is estimated at $2,143,991. The local share of this amount runs to $120,000, and the Public Law 566 share is $2,023,991, it was said. Local share of the cost of structures includes land, easements and rights-of-way, 91.7 percent and administering contracts, 8.3 percent.

The water control district is four years old. Taxpayers in the district voted bonds to finance planning and survey work, which has cost $41,000 to date, it was said.

The next step is to forward the signed work plan agreements to the Texas office of SCS, and then to be submitted by the state conservationist to the SCS administrator in Washington, D. C. He will submit it to the heads of federal agencies and to the governor of Texas, who must endorse the plan. The plan then goes to proper budgetary committee for approval.

Chairman Vogelsang is hopeful that all details will be worked out so that letting of contracts can take place some time this year.

The watershed has a drainage area of 235.1 square miles, or 150,464 acres.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS—

Eight Candidates for State Office Have Eyes Set On June 2 Primaries

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Eight weary candidates who fought their way into the final of the democratic primaries now have June 2 as their next immediate target.

John Connally and Don Yarborough, two men who never have held an elective office, battled their way into the runoff for govern-

Gov. Price Daniel ran third and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson fourth. Marshall Formby, former chairman of the Highway Commission, was next and ex-Gen. Edwin A. Walker came in last.

It was clear that Texas democrats were ready for a change, and that they felt experience in state government was not the most important factor.

Jack Cox won the Republican primary and will take on the Democratic nominee on November 4. Speaker Jimmy Turman of the Texas House of Representatives led five candidates in the race for lieutenant governor. State Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock faces Turman in the runoff.

Bill Hayes of Temple won the republican nomination for this important office.

The GOP will have to runoff for state office on June 2.

County Judge Woodrow Bean of El Paso and former Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas went into the runoff for Congressman-at-Large on the democratic ticket.

Former Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock and Tom Reaviey of Austin are in the runoff for attorney general.

No matter how the four top races come out—Texas will have an entirely new set of top state officials starting next January.

Some 114,000 Texans felt it was time to change parties and cast their ballots in the republican primary. State republican officials were "amazed and delighted" at the vote, and felt it will grow to many times that by November 4.

TEXTBOOKS BACK IN LIMELIGHT

After seven months of hot controversy in Board of Education and House Investigating committee hearings over textbooks recommended by the 1961 State Textbook Committee, a new cycle of interest began Friday as the newly-appointed 1962 committee held its first meeting.

The committee, made up of 13 educators from various congressional districts in Texas, has the awesome task of studying every book offered by textbook publishers. Five books on each public school course due for new material will be submitted to local school boards for selection.

Committeemen will study the books with the aid of some 700 advisers and readers during the summer months. Hearings on objections from organizations and individuals are set for September.

According to adoption procedures, anyone may protest a book. But no one can defend a protested book, except the publisher. He can file a written rebuttal after applications for hearing objections are received in August.

One step toward blanket censorship was taken by the Board itself when it refused to accept Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar's recommendation to re-adopt five high school economics texts. Some board members felt the books were anti-capitalist.

R. W. Byram of Austin ignored Rep. W. T. Dungan's request to hold action on the matter until the House Textbook Investigating Committee, which he leads, has time to evaluate the disputed books more carefully.

$4 BILLION QUESTION

Officials at the Texas Highway Department started tossing statistics around like confetti as Governor Price Daniel proclaimed the week of May 28-29 as "Highway Week." State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer called Highway Week "an appropriate time to pose the $4-billion-a-mile question," which means he's worried about meeting expected needs of Texas motorists who will travel 84 billion miles over state highways in 1970.

Today owners of Texas' five million vehicles drive about 43 billion miles a year. Ten years ago, they traveled on 27 billion miles.

The department began paying the way for the anticipated increase this week as Highway Commissioner Herb Petry Jr. announced approval of the 1962 Farm-to-Market Road program.

A total of 1,218 miles of new FM roads will be built at a cost of $22,500,000. Bids were received on 389 miles of highway repair which will run about $18,700,000.

COSTLY CARELESSNESS

Highway Department figures it could build a lot more road mileage—72 miles of farm-to-market roads or 24 miles of two-lane primary highways—if the $2,000,000 that was spent to remove highway litter and repair vandalism damage last year was available for construction.

Motorists toss everything from beer cans, to watermelon rinds, to milk cartons and cigarette packages along the state's 62,000-mile road system. Then the highway workers have to do the pick-up job.

Department officials compared this to a man throwing trash in his own yard and then paying someone else to pick it up. Damage to road signs accounted for $283,900 of the super cleaning bill.

fiscal year ending August 31 to keep up the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation at Livingston. The reservation is managed under the direction of the State Hospitals and Special Schools Board.

The advent of eight poposes during the year helped increase the number of reservation dwellers in the tribes from 672 in 1960 to 835 in 1961. It's impossible to keep an accurate count of the number of Indians who are eligible to live on the 4,351-acre reservation, since the Alabamas and Coushattas are free to leave and return at will and many choose to live off the allotted land.

In spite of an annual legislative appropriation, the Indians are self-sustaining to a considerable degree.

fishing has received the recognition and official approval it so well deserves. The Governor of Missouri, Warren E. Hearnes, in the following proclamation describes fishing as a sport so aptly describing it as being yet exhilarating and relaxing.

Game and Fish Commission reported heavy runs of white bass and crappie in most all of the Texas lakes. This, along with the early-year-catches of some prize-size blacks, makes the picture look pretty favorable.

Along with the good must always come a little bad. Namely, water pollution.

The 1960 report of fish kills from the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare showed that a little over 6,000,000 fish bobbed to the surface. Most were killed by industrial waste.

The 1961 report gives a little more complete outlook but shows a disgusting massacre of 15,000,000 fish.

Most prevalent killer was agricultural poisons. Next came industrial wastes. Mining operations and sewage discharge also took their toll.

Texas' reports didn't look too bad. But, they were incomplete reports.

If the fish-kill problem doesn't worry you, one thing is sure to do so. It's the drinking-water problem!

In a sense, these floating fish are like the canaries that coal miners take down into the mine. When the canary dies, it is a warning to the miners that there is danger of deadly gas. Actually the fish are warning us of deadly waters.

It's difficult for a sportsman to do much about this problem by himself. But, collectively they have great power.

Some business firms need to be more careful with their industrial wastes.

Local governmental units should take steps to improve sewage disposal systems.

The many good sportsmen's groups in Texas can do much to correct the evils of pollution.

If pollution problems exist in your community, call on your local fishing club. If you don't have a club—then organize one.

AS fishing is the most popular of activities, as all men engaged in it almost entirely free of charge (a fact which to countries totally fail to appreciate) we can expect to see to a world-wide display of the mailed fist by nations who made a gentle MAY DAY; THEREFORE, I, John G. P. (Snap) Williams, Governor of Missouri, proclaim as our annual observance the world day, May 4, 1962 is Fishing in Missouri.

who may, go forth into the world's great outdoors and enjoy the angling pleasure many waters, declare the world that while they bedevil themselves and rumors of war, we, for this day at least, the peaceful pursuit of fishing.

Texas—not Missouri. We like we'll have many fishermen this year. The first of 1962 we saw make their runs, the dove the quail call. With all this we can look forward to a glorious year for Texas sportsmen.

Bobwhite Quail Are Available For 4-H Clubs and FFA

Hatchery raised bobwhite quail, by agreement with the Texas Game and Fish Commission, are available to 4-H Clubs for quail management demonstrations, reports Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

The objectives of the program are to provide brood stocks of birds to qualified clubs which in turn can use them for the purpose of restocking suitable bobwhite habitat created through club activities and supervision and instruction in quail management to participating clubs through facilities available from the Commission and 4-H and FFA sponsors, Cooper said.

He advised 4-H Clubs and FFA Chapters interested in the program to contact the game warden or conservation officer serving the area for details on the program. To be eligible, the application for birds must be for a club or chapter project; the club must have available as much as 160 acres upon which to carry out their habitat improvement work and the land must be pledged for a period of at least three years.

The property will be inspected by a game warden or conservation officer to determine its suitability and habitat improvement is to be carried out by the club based on recommendations by the inspecting official. After the suggested improvements have been made, the warden will ask for the needed brood stock of bobwhites. Periodic inspections will be made by Commission personnel to check the progress and make further suggestions for the continued improvement of the project.

Cooper said that since time was now a major factor, that interested clubs should begin work immediately if they wish to participate in the program during the current year. Local county agents have detailed information on the program.

Senate Has Killed Month Debating "Civil Rights"

By a margin of 53 to 43 the Senate voted against cutting off debate on a bill to outlaw literacy tests for voters by the various states. It is considered likely that will end the fight for this "civil rights" measure at this session.

The literacy test bill (a brainchild of Bobby Kennedy) was bad for two reasons. First, it was of very doubtful constitutionality because the Constitution says the States determine the qualification of voters. Secondly even if constitutional it proposed to establish the 6th grade as the test, which would be highly speculative. Some 6th graders would be well qualified as voters, others might not be.

Already this year the Senate has killed a month debating "civil rights" measures, and this may mean a long, weary session, which could and should end in July this year. But the politicians are prone to develop election-year jitters when they see a chance to capture a batch of gullible colored and liberal votes by grabbing the "civil rights" torch and trying to start a parade. They exploit that old issue to the limit. Last year—not being an election year—there was little said or done on the subject. But this year—being an election year—it's a different story.

Speed is still the No. 1 killer on the Nation's highways, according to an analysis of 1961 traffic accidents. Fast driving caused 33.3 per cent of the deaths and 37.5 per cent of the injuries last year. And approximately 83 per cent of the accidents were the result of driver recklessness, carelessness or mistakes. Thus, the human factor in highway safety remains the big problem to be reckoned with. A total of 10,260 men, women

ROGER BABSON SAYS—

'Reason Investors Should Be Shy of Railroads Is Attitude, Power of Labor'

Investors are like flocks of sheep. They run all together and blindly follow a leader. It was not many years ago that investors were enthusiastic about railroad stocks; now they are dumping such stocks indiscriminately. They are putting their money into armament stocks that are largely dependent upon government contracts which must come toward

Importance of Diversification
The wise investor will not only diversify among many industries—railroad, chemical, oil, gas, and public utilities, etc., but should keep his investments fluid and remember that each classification is growing either better or worse. Hence a few airplane stocks are advisable; and a few shipping stocks. Certainly Greyhound should not be forgotten. But don't have too much invested in any form of transportation.

Without doubt the passenger business of railroads is coming to a virtual end, except where subsidized by the Government. Short lines should be avoided; also lines subject to severe water competition. Certain of the rich railroads, such as Union Pacific, are still advertising passenger business; but they are paying for the loss from their passenger business by their oil, gas, and other mineral investments along the right of way which they own.

Many More Mergers Are Ahead
This is because if the automobiles and good roads had come before the railroads, only about a third of the present railroad mileage would have been built. It is one thing to argue in favor of mergers, and it is another thing to reason with labor. Labor appears to have no regard for the nation's welfare.

The basic reason why investors should be shy of railroad investments is because of the attitude and power of labor. It is not only necessary to eliminate "featherbedding," which everyone, except the politicians, believe to be wrong; but labor insists on dictating as to mergers, passenger rates, pullman equipment, and even train schedules.

Bangor & Aroostook Experiment
I believe the most forward-looking railroad president in the country is W. Gordon Robertson, head of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, which runs from northern Maine southerly to tidewater. It once prospered greatly by hauling wood and pulp, and later newsprint. It also prospered from the great potato industry of Northern Maine. President Robertson realized that he must have the most efficient rolling stock to make a profit during the seasons when this freight was hauled, but he also devised a plan of renting the road's most modern diesel engines in the off seasons.

Even under the most efficient operation, his railroad could not compete with trucks. He therefore turned to a very original plan: He organized the Bangor & Aroostook Corporation, which owns 90 percent of the stock of the railroad company. This new corporation, however, is able to carry on any kind of business which shows a profit. An investor can keep his old Bangor & Aroostook Railroad stock if he desires, or he can exchange it for the stock of the new business corporation. I believe President Robertson will make a success of his new corporation and many other railroads will follow his example.

The Kansas City Southern Program
The Kansas City Southern Railroad also has a progressive forward-looking president, W. N. Deamus, who operates this road most efficiently notwithstanding water competition. However, he has now come to the same conclusion, and has formed a separate corporation—Kansas City Southern Industries, Inc.—which will be able to do anything from running supermarkets to operating oil wells along the line of the Kansas City Railroad. Too many railroad stockholders have forgotten the great value of the rights-of-way and adjoining property.

The stockholders of the K. C. Railroad are to be given the opportunity of exchanging their stock for stock of the new corporation. The management will substitute good bus service for all passenger travel; it will develop a fast door-to-door freight business. But, most important, it will enter into other growing industries and should be very successful. This experiment is being watched by many of the railroads, and may result in their stocks again becoming valuable. In the past month though the market for all stocks has gone off sharply, Kansas City Southern has gone up 10 points.

Law In Texas—Amicus Curiae, Friend of Court

Since ancient Rome, an amicus curiae is a friend of the court. He plays a vital part in presenting a court with arguments which help it to reach a just decision. A pending case may well affect many people besides the parties.

A court often welcomes outsiders into a lawsuit who cannot present evidence or question witnesses. Their main role is to inform the court, to write briefs, to tell the court of likely outcomes of its decision.

There are many types of friends of the court.

1. Court appointed Amici. The court may ask a professor of law or a public spirited group to help the court find facts, present the law, or supply other helpful information.

2. Special interest Amici are the largest group. Private commercial interest, trade and similar groups, have money at stake. They too might help the court—but their main purpose is to have the court set a precedent favorable to them.

3. Governmental Amici. The district attorney, Attorney General, or other lawyer for a public agency or the state or U. S. can present a public view of the case—often without a special interest. Such agencies can often inform the court how the outcome of a particular case is likely to affect the public.

Sometimes a government agency can represent a state's special interest. For example, California may join Texas in a dispute between Texas and the U. S. over off-shore oil. Or a principle in a water dispute between two eastern states may affect Texas' stake in Rio Grande river water. Though in such a case Texas would speak in the public interest it also has a special interest motive for Texas.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Months Ahead Will See Large-Scale Bargaining Between Labor, Industry

Babson Discusses Labor Outlook

Most manufacturers, many merchants, and even some investors with whom I talk are disturbed about the labor unions. They fear labor will ruin our export trade which we need to stabilize our dollar,—and reduce the profits of our businessmen upon whom our Federal Government depends for tax money.

Strikes Now Being Threatened
Union leaders are facing into the spring bargaining season with every intention of bettering the gains made for their members during the recent recession. The AFL-CIO is keenly aware of the restraining influence of joblessness in some areas; the fact that the consumer price index has remained practically unchanged over the past four months; and the growing reluctance on the part

Figures Show 1961 Record Harvest On Antlerless Deer

More antlerless deer were killed during the 1961 season in Texas than for the eight years prior, according to a harvest summary of A. J. Springs, wildlife coordinator of the Game and Fish Commission. The figures have been released by H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Commission, and show that last year 49,661 antlerless deer were bagged by hunters, and only 42,966 were harvested prior to that time.

Llano County led, with 7089 antlerless deer taken by hunters. There were 12,653 permits issued to 175 landowners, involving 291,410 acres of land. Hunters also received 3296 bonus deer tags, but used only 1979.

In Gillespie County, there were 12,067 permits issued to 859 landowners on 555,500 acres of land, and 4239 antlerless deer were killed. There were 4651 bonus tags issued, but only 1258 used.

Mason County ranked third, with 11,254 permits issued to 287 landowners on 291,226 acres, and 4070 deer were killed. There were 3848 bonus tags, but only 865 used. In the Edwards Plateau counties, under regulatory authority of the Game Commission, there were 79,861 permits issued to 2637 landowners, involving 3,896,343 acres of land, with a total kill of 29,352. There were 23,585 bonus tags issued, but only 8897 used. These bonus tags were issued to landowners where there was an over-abundance of doe deer.

In the South Central zone, Medina County led with 10,426 permits to 798 landowners on 499,683 acres of land, with 4140 deer killed, and bonus tags were issued to 4882 with only 1814 used.

Bexar County, with San Antonio one of the largest cities in Texas, is in this area. In that county, there were 6624 permits issued to 562 landowners, involving 198,259 acres for a kill of 2727 antlerless deer. There were 3208 bonus permits issued, with 1189 bonus deer harvested.

The South Central regulatory area issued 25,808 permits to 1418 landowners on 1,202,452 acres, with 8976 antlerless deer killed. There were 12,778 bonus permits, 4179 bonus tags used.

In Trinity County, in the Southeast regulatory area, there were 225 permits issued to one landowner, involving 23,000 acres of land, and 186 antlerless deer were killed.

In the Possum Kingdom area, Jack County led with 2653 permits to 113 landowners on 332,136 acres, with 1944 deer harvested. In the area there was a total of 6280 permits issued to 1,148 landowners, involving 1,138,404 acres of land, with 3267 deer killed. In this area, only Bosque County received bonus tags. There were 170 issued and 49 bonus tags used.

In Hutchinson County, in the Panhandle area, there were 30 doe permits issued to one landowner, involving 2840 acres of land, and 26 antlerless deer were killed.

In the Trans-Pecos area, on mule deer there were 540 antlerless permits issued to 38 landowners, covering 1,784,856 acres, with 208 deer harvested.

In the Trinity-Brans regulatory area, there were 12,544 permits issued to 1226 landowners on 701,482 acres, with a harvest of 6165. In this area there were 2308 bonus tags issued with 832 used.

In all of Texas there were 128,580 antlerless deer permits issued to 1770 landowners, covering 8,752,849 acres with 61,661 antlerless deer harvested. There was a total of 41,808 bonus tags issued with 14,143 used. In a breakdown, these figures show there was one antlerless deer harvested for every hunter in 174 acres of land.

The heaviest previous year of antlerless harvest was 24,548 in 1960, involving only 30 counties. There were 49 counties involved in the 1961 season. The antlerless deer program started in 1953 in two counties, with 546 deer harvested.

of employers to permit gains in labor costs. Labor also recognizes the problems emerging from the spread of automation and its reshuffling of manpower needs. Heavily stressed will be productivity and the upturn in corporate profits. Both these factors will be exaggerated considerably beyond their true significance. Laborites have already given their members the impression that productivity from early 1961 and on into 1962 has increased at a record-smashing rate in many nonmanufacturing lines. Actually, even the most optimistic estimates do not place the current rise per year at more than 2 and one-half per cent.

Labor Leaders Resent Government Interference
Labor's distaste for intervention by the Administration was once again quickly revealed when Labor Secretary Goldberg stated that the government should define the national interest involved in labor-industry disputes and help settle any differences accordingly. Union leaders indicate they are going to push for wage gains and fringes that the White House may consider inflationary, and they do not intend to be curbed. Many union negotiators will be seeking raises this year of as much as 9 per cent on the basis of productivity gains. Where employers clearly recognize that this is a misrepresentation of the actual rise in productivity, firm resistance may mean strikes. The Federal Government appears sympathetic to 2 and one-half per cent wage increases instead of the 5 per cent demanded with costly "fringe" benefits. A wage hike of 2 and one-half per cent equals from 4 cents to 7 cents per hour according to the industry involved.

Effects Of Secretary Goldberg
Over the months ahead, large-scale bargaining is slated in aircraft, airlines, aluminum, communications, petroleum, textiles, paper, and railroads. Of particular importance are the current steel negotiations, since an agreement long in advance of contract expiration would encourage similar government pressure in other fields. If Secretary Goldberg is successful in achieving an early settlement in steel, it will be met by union leaders as a kind of intrusion into free collective bargaining. It would not be surprising, in fact, if some of the more radical unionists refused to co-operate in future proposed premature bargaining sessions to avoid last-minute disputes.

What A U.S. Agency Has Just Done!
While the above negotiations have been going on, a U. S. Government Agency has, for the first time, granted exclusive bargaining rights to a labor union to negotiate on grievances, safety, vacations, etc.; but not on wages or the total hours in a work-week. The government is also "asking" for a no-strike pledge and no restrictions on "race, color, or creed".

This important precedent was established in connection with a Department of Agriculture decision on March 9 that its 2,472 meat inspectors would be represented by a unit of the American Federation of Government Employees, AFL-CIO. The Department's action is in accordance with an executive order issued by President Kennedy on January 17, providing for government recognition of unions representing federal employees. When we consider that—in addition to those in the military—there are several million U. S. workers in ordinary clerical and industrial jobs, we see what this ruling could mean. But whether

Red Angus As'n. Met In Santone May 3 Thru 5

The Red Angus Association of America, with National Headquarters office in Ballinger, held their annual convention in San Antonio May 3rd through 5th.

Mrs. C. T. Parker, of Ballinger, Executive Secretary of the national organization, attended the convention, along with Mr. Parker, Susan Parker, Mrs. Eldon Holley, and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Fivessah. The Red Angus Association is a fairly new organization, having been organized in March of 1964, in Fort Worth, with seven charter members (or families). The states represented in starting the organization were Oklahoma, Wyoming, Louisiana, Alabama, Kansas, and two members from Texas.

Mrs. Parker was elected Executive Secretary of the organization on March 1, 1961, at which time the National Headquarters office was moved to Ballinger. Mrs. Eldon Holley is office secretary.

Papers on all registered Red Angus cattle in the United States, Canada, and Mexico are processed through the Ballinger office, along with records of all registered Red Angus being on file in the office. Information is mailed daily to people inquiring about Red Angus cattle throughout the three countries.

The Red Angus Association is a growing thing, having increased in membership by 64 percent since the office moved to Ballinger 14 months ago. To date there are 28 states of the United States, as well as Canada, Guatemala and Mexico, represented in the organization. Forty-six percent of the entire membership is in Texas.

At the San Antonio convention, Joe Pi Givhan of Mobile, Ala., was elected president of the Association, succeeding Walter A. Henshaw of San Antonio. Directors elected were Roy G. Beeby, Marshall, Okla.; Walter A. Henshaw, Garmet, W. White, Spokane, Wash.; E. P. Ruhmann III, Kenady, Tex.; Norman E. Peeters, Springfield, Ill.; J. E. Brown, Kyle, Tex.; Dr. S. Braswell Locker, Brownwood, Tex.; and Bert Crane, Merced, Calif.

The next annual meeting will be held in the spring of 1963 in Mobile.

Livestock Survey Will Be Made By Rural Mail Men

Postmaster Rankin Pace has reminded rural patrons of the Winters Post Office to be on the lookout for June Livestock Survey cards. Next week, mail carriers will leave survey cards in a sample of boxes along their routes.

"USDA bases livestock and poultry estimates of replies to this survey," Pace said. "It's important for everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the carrier. This way, USDA gets a representative sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are Sam Cooke, Rt. 1; Ray Hollingshead, Rt. 2; W. L. Collins, Rt. 3; and W. E.

Survey cards will be sent to Cary D. Palmer, cultural Statistician in charge, to estimate the State's production, calf and pig and of hens and poultry. "Information from the survey will guide livestock producers in making business decisions," Palmer said.
