Winters To Meet Hamlin Here Tonite

The Winters High School Blizzards football team, still sitting tall in the saddle in District 6-AA, will host the Hamlin Pied Pipers here tonight (Friday).

With a 6-0 record behind them, the Blizzards will be fighting one of the stronger teams in the district, to keep their position in the standings. They defeated Haskell 14-6 in last week's conference opener, while Hamlin suffered their loss of the season to Stamford.

The old flu bug has hit several of the Blizzards team, but Coach L. G. Wilson said their recovery has been rapid and that they probably will be on the field Friday night. One team member Alvis Jackson, who missed last week's action against Haskell, probably will be out of the Winters-Hamlin encounter because of an injury.

The Blizzards are hoping to copy the results of 1960 and 1961, against Hamlin. In 1960, they defeated Hamlin 8-6, and again in 1961, 8-0.

The Blizzards and the Pied Pipers have played no common opponents this season. Winters has chalked up 127 points in six games, against opponents' 23. Hamlin, undefeated until last week, has scored 150 to 56, in six games.

Hamlin will field one of the best backfields to go against the Blizzards this year. The Newberry twins, Van, quarterback, No. 16, and Dan, fullback, No. 16, have been opponents to reckon with this season. Also, Halfback Pierce, No. 12, and Halfback Butler, No. 13, will be in there pitching against the Blizzards. These four Pipers composed Hamlin's sprint relay team last spring, and are known for some speed on the gridiron.

The Pied Pipers, although they lost to stout Stamford last week, have been the only team to hold Stamford behind for any length of time this year. Up on top for most of the season, they have been dropped to the No. 9 position in statewide ratings, because of their loss to Stamford. The Hamlin High Schoolers are a medium weight team, with fast ends and a well-balanced line.

The Winters-Hamlin encounter will be the feature game this week in District 6-AA.

Winters High School Offering A Full Academic Schedule, Steady Growth

In keeping abreast of changing demands, the Winters schools have continually strengthened the high school academic offering. The schedule calls for seven full periods beginning at 8:30 a.m. and ending at 3:57 p.m. and requires all students to take a minimum of four solid subjects.

The seven-period schedule will allow students to take more subjects during their school career and also allows the gifted to take additional work.

The high school has a faculty of 21 teachers assigned to the top four grades with a complete course offering that is acceptable work for any college-bound student. The academic aspect of the school is in good standing and a requirement before participation in any activity. It is impossible for a student to take as many subjects as are offered and a comparison of this school offering with others might be of interest to all parents.

Listed below are the number of classes that meet daily during the school year:

Lutherans Observe Reformation Day With Special Events

The celebration of Holy Communion, a meeting of the Women of the Church, and a showing of the full length movie film, "Martin Luther," will highlight the Reformation Sunday activities at St. John's Lutheran Church, Winters. On the 31st day of October, 1517, a young monk by the name of Martin Luther nailed 95 propositions for debate on the church door of Whittenberg, Germany. Little did he realize at that moment what was beginning. The "debate" aroused by those 95 theses still continues, and the largest Protestant Church on this earth is distinguished by his name, "Lutherans."

The public is cordially invited to see the film, "Martin Luther." There will be no offering collected. The Luther League of St. John's congregation is making it possible for this film to be shown. The film is a two hour feature film, and will be shown in the St. John's church beginning at 7:00 p.m. Sunday night.

The lessons for the day to be read during the morning service stress basic truths recovered through the Lutheran Reformation. In the Old Testament text, 1 Samuel 3:19-4:1a, the importance of the Word of the Lord is emphasized. Also stressing the "Word only" is the Gospel for the day, John 8:31-36. Here the key thought, "If you continue in my word..." points out that through continuing in the Word freedom from sin comes. The Epistle for the day, Roman 3:21-18, stresses the familiar Reformation principle of justification by grace through faith. God declares all to be just, or righteous, who accept the gift of redemption in Christ Jesus and with Christ the forgiveness of their sins. The authority of the word and the principle of faith in Christ contain the doctrines necessary for the salvation of man. That the church lost a clear vision of these great truths was a great tragedy; that God restored them to the church through the Reformation is one of our greatest blessings.

The Rev. A. W. Holck, pastor of St. John's, will bring the message Sunday. Miss Emma Henniger will be the organist. The Senior Choir will sing under the direction of Mr. Keith Uecker. Mr. Liburn Kettler will assist in the distribution of the Holy Communion. The morning worship will begin at 10:40 a.m.

A kickoff breakfast at Pierce's Cafeteria at 6:30 Tuesday morning will herald the opening of the annual campaign to raise funds for the Winters Boy Scouts.

Chairmen of the fund drive will be F. R. Anderson and Ted Meyer. Fund campaigners have said that a goal of $2,000 is being sought this year to put the drive over the top and provide funds for a more complete Scouting program for the Winters community.

Campaign workers will be divided into several teams, with team "majors" to pick their captains and workers. Team leaders include A. W. Libbe, Jerry Ward, Riley Brooks, Mrs. J. A. Henderson, Mrs. W. L. Collins and W. D. Parish.

All persons interested in the Boy Scout movement are invited and urged to attend the kick-off breakfast next Tuesday morning.

WHS Will Present American Heritage Programs This Year

In keeping with the American Heritage Program of the Winters Independent Schools, the Winters High School will present a series of assemblies during the school year to stress the importance of our American Heritage.

Each organization in the school is responsible for the presentation of one assembly. The schedule of programs is as follows:

November 15, Student Council
December 20, Band and Choir
January 17, Quill & Scroll and Library Club
February 28, Future Homemakers

March 21, Future Teachers.
April 18, Future Farmers.

Members of the National Honor Society presented a pageant entitled "Let Freedom Ring" as their American Heritage Assembly program. The pageant was based on the eight basic principles of freedom as set up by the Winters Independent Schools. These principles are: We believe in the dignity and the freedom of the individual; we believe in the dignity of work; we believe in God and in every person's right to worship according to his own conscience; we believe in the freedoms as guaranteed by the first ten amendments to the constitution; we believe in the private enterprise system; we believe in providing adequate educational opportunities; we believe in the individual's providing for his personal welfare; we believe in each person's assuming his civic and national duties and responsibilities.

Music and patriotic songs provided background for the reading of the entire pageant. Panels and tableaux depicting the principles were used to further emphasize the basic freedoms of our American Heritage.

Jerrel Elliot is president of the National Honor Society, and the organization is sponsored by R. F. Christian, high school principal.

West Texas Utilities Dist. Manager, R. E. Rubie, today announced plans for the construction of a new West Texas Utilities Company office building in Winters, Texas. The architect's perspective of the building is pictured here. The growth of Winters and the service West Texas Utilities Company wants to offer the public is the reason given for the proposed construction.

Exterior of the proposed new building will be gray brick with aluminum trim. A four foot self-supporting awning is to extend along the front of the building, with a wide expanse of mist green metal above. The front brick column will be illuminated by a popular "Jo Jan" yard light mounted on the wall.

The interior of the office building will be completely modern with an all electric heat pump supplying year-round air conditioning. The building will have 2700 square feet of floor space.

Storm Cotton Not Just For Storms

Even if a storm never hits your cotton field the tight-bolled varieties can be useful to you. These storm resistant cottons hold the lint and prevent preharvest losses due to cotton falling from plants before they are picked.

Storm resistant cottons are not new but some promising new strains have been tested. They retain their lint relatively undamaged under Texas storm conditions. Developed for South Texas by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the test strains have good pickability and can be harvested by spindle pickers.

Dr. G. A. Niles, of the Texas Station, and Dr. T. R. Richmond, of USDA's Agricultural Research Service, said that five strains were promising enough in preliminary tests to warrant further testing. In the total yield of lint, the commercial variety had a slightly better average than the storm resistant strains but lost 16.3 per cent of the total yield in lint fall before harvesting compared to the 3.3 to 6.9 per cent loss for the test strains.

Storm resistance in cotton comes from structural characteristics that produce a boll in which the cotton is held tight. Wrinkles or a sticky substance on the bur wall or a cup shaped bur hold the lint in the boll.

Dr. Niles believes that further research will produce storm resistant strains that will yield higher and spindle pick very successfully.

When Lights Go Off On The Farm

When the electric power fails on the modern farm many essential operations are halted. Because much of the work of dairymen, poultrymen, sheep producers and many others depend on electric power, farsighted farmers today are preparing for such emergencies by installing stand-by generating equipment.

According to W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, suppliers are constantly improving their systems and power failures are becoming less frequent. But hurricanes, ice storms and other catastrophes of nature cannot be predicted and still cause interruptions in service.

When choosing a generator the farmer may select a completely automatic engine driven one or a model powered by a farm tractor. The tractor driven type is the most popular because it is less expensive and the farmer has less money invested in a piece of equipment that he will use only occasionally. These generators may be belt or power-take-off driven, according to Allen.

The size of the generator can be determined by estimating the amount of power needed to run equipment that must be operated at all times and selecting one that will handle this load. It is usually not practical to install a generator that will handle the entire electrical load of the farm, as this would call for a large investment, says Allen.

Generators are usually rated in watts, or in kilowatts, Allen explains, and if it is to be powered by a tractor, allow two horsepower per kilowatt capacity of the generator. If your generator has a 10 kilowatt rating you need a 20 horsepower tractor to operate it.

Allen reminds that for safety and good service the generator should be installed properly and a transfer switch should be part of the installation. Farmers should consult their electric power supplier for help in safe and satisfactory installation, Allen states.

Blizzards Won First District 6-AA Game

The Big Blue Blizzards of Winters High School exhibited a will to win Friday night at Haskell that gave them a 14-6 victory over the Indians in their first conference encounter.

Recovering from a slump the last game, the Blizzards took the lead early in the first quarter with a dash by Steve Grissom, then five plays later upped their lead as Tommy Young scored from the 47. With a 14-0 margin, the Blizzard defense strutted their stuff for the rest of the game, yielding only to the bruising attack of 200 pound John Kimbrough, who spearheaded the Haskell scoring drive.

Receiving the initial kick-off, the Blizzards began their first touchdown drive from their own 41-yard line. Grissom carried for two yards, and Young for one before Tommy Alfrey connected with a pass to end Mike Mitchell for a 17-yard gain to the Haskell 39. From the 39, Grissom claimed three yards, and Alfrey passed to Young for four. Denny Aldridge moved two yards to the 32. With fourth down and one needed for the all-important first down, Grissom took the handoff, moving through left tackle, pushing hard for the needed yardage, only to discover that he had an open field before him. Thus, with 9:05 left in the first quarter, Grissom scored from the 30 yard line. With Alvis Jackson sidelined with an injury, the Blizzards surprised the home fans, as they lined up for a kick for the extra point. The formation was only a deception as Alfrey, back to hold, ran with the ball, but was tackled just outside the goal line, and the score was 6-0.

The Haskell Indians, who entered the game with a 4-1 record, began their first offensive drive on their own 25. Joe Thigpen carried three times for only six yards, and the Indians kicked out to the Haskell 45. Alfrey, back to pass, fumbled the ball, but Aldridge recovered with only a 2-yard loss. From the Haskell 47, Tommy Young moved wide around left end and claimed the second and final TD for the Blizzards with a 47-yard run. Young also claimed the extra two points as he received a pass from Alfrey, leaving the score 14-0 with six minutes left in the first quarter.

The Indians again had the ball and elected Thigpen to do the honors again. Carrying five out of eight times, Thigpen and the Indians moved from their own 36 to the Blizard 35. Johnny Hopper, Eugene Mathis, and Denny Aldridge led the Blizard defense, and the Blizzards took over on downs on the Winters 30. Grissom carried for three, then Aldridge, on a draw, moved 11 yards to the Winters 44.

Grissom, Aldridge, Alfrey and Young, in ground plays, moved to the Haskell 13 in 10 plays. With second down and nine from the Haskell 13, Alfrey carried to the three, but John Kimbrough, big gun for the Indians, hit him hard, and he fumbled, with Kimbrough recovering on the six.

The break was short-lived however, as the Indians came up against the strong Blizard defense led by Hopper and Grissom this time, and were forced to kick out from the 14.

From the Haskell 42, again Alfrey had the ball knocked loose, and Indian Joe Joeslet recovered. Almost a complete repeat was done, as the Indians were unable to take advantage of the fumble, and in four plays kicked to the Blizzards. The Blizzards had moved from their own 16 to the Haskell 20, as an Alfrey pass, intended for Young, was intercepted just as the half was over.

The only sustained drive made by the Indians came at the beginning of the second stanza as they received the kickoff and moved from their own 36 to the Winters 1 in 16 plays. Kimbrough, who was listed as 200 pounds of half back, but about whom a fan bragged before the game as being at least 240 pounds, carried eight times for 56 yards and Thigpen claimed 24 yards as the Indians marched 64 yards through the Blizard line.

Mathis, Grissom and Adolpho Arroyo led the defense, but were just overpowered by the big Kimbrough. From the Blizard one, QB James Davis claimed the only Haskell tally with 3:50 left in the third quarter. The try for extra points was broken up by Mike Bedford as he blocked a pass try by Davis.

The teams traded fourth down kicks to finish the third stanza.

The fourth quarter was defensive football supreme. The Indians moved from their own 23 to the Blizard 40, then bogged down. Big Blue carried across the mid-stripe from their 38 to the Haskell 33, but Aldridge fumbled, and Haskell claimed the ball on their 30.

Again, defense was the key-note, and the Indians punted to the Winters 35.

The Blizzards had Grissom and Aldridge take turns carrying the ball from their own 35 to the Haskell 43, but were forced to kick on fourth down.

With less than four minutes left in the game, Haskell for the first time in the game took to the air, completing five of seven passes. Davis and Jerry Kreger alternated at quarterback to toss the ball. Davis hit David Anderson with a jump pass from the Haskell 10 to the 25; Davis again threw, this time to Kenneth Conner, good to the 33. Kreger chose Conner for his receiver to the Winters 49.

Kreger hit Anderson down to the Winters 33. Both quarterbacks then threw an incomplete pass, before Davis hit Anderson from the Blizard 33. Anderson carried to the Blizard 12, but fumbled as he was hit, and Arroyo recovered on the Winters 12.

Heart Attack Fatal To Mrs. Stanfield Sunday Night 8:50

Mrs. Laura Elaine Stanfield, 36, familiarly known as "Penny," died Sunday night at 8:50 at the Winters Municipal Hospital. She had surgery on Friday and death was attributed to an unexpected heart attack.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at Spill Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Ray Elliott, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in Lakeview Cemetery.

Mrs. Stanfield was born at Goldthwaite August 26, 1926. She came with her parents to Winters in 1940, and had lived here since, with the exception of a short time. She was a member of the Methodist Church and the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kelly of Winters; three sons, Alan Ray, Terry and Kelly; two sisters, Mrs. Gordon Williamson, Big Spring and Mrs. LaDola Bates of Winters.

Pallbearers were James Crockett, E. J. Bishop, Max Lewis, J. T. Sprinkle, Jr., Buck Lindley, and Billy Joe Robinson.

Goal Diggers Club Meeting Held In Caskey Home

Gwen Caskey was hostess for the regular weekly meeting of the Goal Diggers Club held Monday evening in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guin Caskey.

Barbara Baldwin presided for a short business session and the program on "Skin Care" was given by Russell Bedford, Barbara Baldwin, Gwen Caskey and Kathryn Clark.

Refreshments were served to Barbara Baldwin, Russell Bedford, Kathryn Clark, Lynda Parks, Leonia Daniels, Gwen Caskey, Ann Bean, Elaine Beard, Zannette Moore, Brenda Parrish, Yvonne Pierce, Doris Rice, Carolyn Helm, Betty Shoemaker, Lynn Mitchell, Becky Brown, Judy Hogan, and Barbara Carroll.

The benediction closed the meeting. The game was almost over on the clock, but not on the field, as Grissom moved on first down from the Winters 12, to the 42. Alfrey carried to the midfield strip, as the final gun sounded.

The Blizzards hold a 6-0 season record and are 1-0 for the conference play. This perhaps is why they were rated this week by the Associated Press as fifth in Class AA school-boy football.

BRADSHAW NEWS

Man heart has despaired of God, whether it be deep despair." Grace

Visitors at the night services at the Wilmeth Church were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tharp of Winters.

"The Counselor Within" is the subject for next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson. The following is by Francis E. Kearns. All of us know how difficult it is to find the will of God for our lives. Usually we want a blueprint or a precise set of rules to follow. Therefore we need to ask, How does God guide us?

In His farewell discourse in the upper room Jesus said to His disciples, "When the Spirit of truth comes, He will guide you into all the truth."

In His keen desire to help people, however, Jesus never gave them rules; rather, He pointed directions. Through the presence of the Holy Spirit in our lives Jesus Christ is our eternal contemporary, a daily guide to bring the truths of God to us in a fresh and living way.

To help us test whether a particular course of action is God's will for us, we need always to ask ourselves one simple question, Is it Christlike?

MOVIES

"Lad: A Dog"

Finding a dog with the talent to become a film star is as big a gamble as finding a race horse, capable of winning the Kentucky Derby. But in both instances the payoffs are handsome.

The efforts of Pat LaCoss to find a collier for the title role in the Warner Bros. Technicolor production of "Lad: A Dog," showing Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre, spanned several months, but LaCoss was outstandingly successful.

The assignment was a particularly difficult one since Producer Max J. Rosenberg not only required a beautiful collier closely resembling the Lad once owned by author Albert Payson Terhune, but also a dog capable of performing the wide variety of feats credited to Lad in real life and in the beloved dog classic.

After months of searching for the right dog, LaCoss, who began his dog coaching career training sled dogs in Alaska, spent many more months training the collier. The talented canine is in virtually every scene with his bi-ped co-stars Peter Breck, Peggy McCay and Angela Cartwright.

"The Hellions"

An adventure drama set in pioneer South Africa, when life in its frontier communities closely resembled that of America's lawless west, Columbia Pictures' "The Hellions" shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre in Technirama and color by Technicolor. The new film stars Richard Todd as the lone lawman in a town terrorized by an outlaw band, and Anne Aubrey, Jamie Uys, Marty Wilde, James Booth and Lionel Jeffries.

Jeffries, soon to be seen with Kim Novak, Jack Lemmon and Fred Astaire in "The Notorious Landlady" in which he plays a hapless Scotland Yard sleuth, appears in "The Hellions" as the domineering leader of the renegade family. A man who hates barbed wire and lawmen, he rides into town with his trouble-making sons determined to rid the community of both. Todd, as the lone defender of law and order, is unable to obtain help until Jeffries makes a play for the wife of a storekeeper; the man, who had taken a beating from Jeffries earlier for selling barbed wire, joins

AROUND THE 6AA FOOTBALL LOOP

The six football teams of District 6-AA, after rolling heads around the area during the past 6-7 weeks in pre-conference tilts, slammed into one another last week and have backed off to take another look.

The squabble for the district championship takes on new meaning this week, with second games planned for Friday night, and the outcome of the season's already-joined battle is still up in the air. Anything can happen—and many times does, in school-boy football—and the meetings for the rest of the season are sure to be enough to test the mettle of each team.

Hamlin, which had sailed through the pre-conference schedule without a defeat, met their Waterloo on the field against Stamford last Friday night, and now are holding down third place with Ballinger for the season standing, win-wise.

Stamford and Winters still are 0; Anson lost to C-C, 0-18; Stamford holding a slight edge because of points scored. The Bulldogs found themselves in a jam for the first time this season last Friday night, trailing their opponents for a while, but finally pushed Hamlin to the side for a 20-7 win.

Stamford meets Anson this week, at home. Anson is the only team in the district to lose more games than they've won, with a 1-4-1 record.

Common pre-district opponents: Stamford over Colorado City, 43-0; Anson lost to C-C, 0-18; Stamford over Seymour, 40-0; Anson to Seymour, 16-22.

Winters, after downing Haskell last week, will meet Hamlin here Friday night. Hamlin, smarting from their tumble from near the top of the poll, is not likely to be taking their loss to Stamford lightly, and a free-for-all can be expected. This probably will be the spot-lighted game of the district this week.

Winters and Hamlin have not played the same teams this year, so no comparison basis exists in this area.

The Ballinger Bearcats were forced to make a comeback in their encounter with Anson last week, and squeezed a 12-10 win. Ballinger is the third team in the district, with a 1-0 district game record, and a 12-10 point record. The Bearcats will be out to hold their place in the lineup, by attempting to hand Haskell their second district loss. These two teams have played no common opponent this season.

Girl Scout Fund Campaign Over, Less Than Quota

J. C. Wilkerson, chairman of the Girl Scout Fund Drive, announced this week that the drive has been about completed, but that the goal which had been set had not been attained. He said that a goal of $750 had been set earlier, but contributions were short of that figure. However, he said, contributions are still coming in.

The chairman said that workers in the fund drive have expressed "appreciation and the appreciation of each Girl Scout in our community for the public support evidenced in your response to our appeal for funds to continue our work with the girls of this area. With the increasing need for youth programs today, Girl Scouting offers wholesome recreation, regarding friendships, and a chance to develop practical skills and healthy attitudes that may well determine the direction their lives will take."

Lambs From Flock Bobby Penny Many Awards

Lambs from the flock raised by Bobby Penny of Winters have taken many spotlights in livestock shows throughout the state, and have proved no exception during the Dallas State Fair Junior Lamb Show on Wednesday, Oct. 24.

Southdown lamb, from Pennington, owned and showed by Bobby Penny, a 4-H Club lamb from Girven, was judged champion lamb of the show. It was a repeat performance as the Rutledge showed the Grand Champion lamb at the Dallas Fair in 1961, also a lamb which Bobby Penny's breeding.

Records show that in the past years, feeders from Upton have shown three grand champion lambs, one reserve champion, all of which were from the same flock, that of young Southdown breeder, Bobby Penny, from Winters.

This year, for the first time, lambs were picked from each of the classes shown at the fair, and one grand champion of each class was shown.

The Junior Lamb Showman contest, which is held each year, is the close of the lamb show. A $25.00 U. S. prize, a trophy and a trophy are awarded. This contest was judged by R. P. Penny of Winters.

Penny also judged the class two years previous to this year. This year was begun four years ago and has created much interest among the exhibitors, and inspires boys or girls to do their best in raising their lambs in the

Many of the smaller fishing lakes of Texas are Chamber of Commerce projects built for multiple uses.

Typical is Oak Creek Lake in Central West Texas near Bronte. Actually, this lake was planned by the Sweetwater Board of City Development, a tax supported Chamber of Commerce.

It was undertaken when the Gulf Oil Company, which had a refinery at Sweetwater at that time, told of its future water needs.

Already there were several small lakes around Sweetwater, mainly the city's municipal water supply. But Sweetwater is in the low rain belt. So it was evident that this lake, plus Lake Trammel and the Santa Fe lakes—all small impoundments—could not take care of future water needs.

Besides that, Sweetwater residents had to travel too far for their fishing! Accordingly, in the late 40s, right after the end of World War II, talk began about a new lake, and engineers were brought in. They said the best chance was on Oak Creek.

But Oak Creek was on the other side of the Callahan Divide and in the Colorado watershed. Sweetwater was in the Brazos watershed. Naturally some of the local residents protested that it would be too costly to pump the water up over the divide.

Engineers, however, soon proved this was a wrong philosophy. And work began! The dam was completed in the early 50s. It was still a small lake, compared with Whitney or Buchanan, but its 2,000 surface acres, backed up into dry creeks and canyons, provided a lot of good fishing water.

The city offered leases around the lake for campsites, and developed several recreational areas. Texas Game & Fish Commission stocked the lake. The city then charged a small fee for fishing, having an understanding with the state that this money would be plowed back into lake development.

As a result, Oak Creek today is one of the better fishing lakes in the state. It is particularly good in the old Oak Creek bed, where huge pecan trees still stand.

The Game & Fish Commission has done some selective fish kills on the lake to rid it of rough fish that usually take over a lake after a few years.

During the past year the water level of the lake suffered greatly because of the lack of rain. But now there is plenty of water and during the winter months Oak Creek Lake will afford excellent fishing and duck hunting.

Although black bass are mostly sought after in this lake, it also is a good catfish lake, and has plenty of bream. Still remaining is some of the structure of the old highway bridge across the Oak Creek portion of the Lake. Here of course, is a good spot for fishermen to operate.

"Boos and Bouquets" Was Topic of Program For Sub Deb Club

"Boos and Bouquets" was the topic of the program by the Sub Deb Club when they met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hancock with LaRoss serving as hostess.

Refreshments were served to Thelma Hendrix, June Puckett, Wanda Powers, Carolyn Scott, Judy A. Smith, Ginger Gardner, Judy Williams, Jan Byrd, Katherine Grissom, Sherry Stanford, Judy Kettler, Karen Knapp, Mary Young, Linda E. Smith, Sharon Denson, Judy White, Susan Roberts, Louise Davis, and Virginia Brown. Club was adjourned with the benediction.

This is an interesting lake to fish. There are numerous access spots around its shores.

There are several oil wells pumping on the banks of the lake, but every care has been taken to prevent pollution of the waters.

Boaters can go several miles back up Oak Creek when the lake is filled, fish among the fallen trees and have excellent luck on ball. The channel also is fine for catfishing.

There are good camp sites around the lake. For this reason many families from West Texas use the area as their recreation grounds.

Although most of the permanent type camps around the lake are owned by Sweetwater residents, many of them have been built by other West Texans. Here is a good lake in a West Texas area where there are no larger lakes. Thus it becomes virtually an ocean.

So the activities of a civic organization, with the help of the municipality and industry, have created another West Texas playground.

Oak Creek Lake can be reached over paved highways from Sweetwater, Abilene, San Angelo and Coleman.

It is a real nice place to spend a very pleasant week end, and to enjoy some good fishing.

Enrollment in Texas' State Colleges, Universities Almost Doubled in Decade

Vern Sanford, president of the Texas Press Association, said that enrollment at the 19 colleges and universities which are fully accredited almost exactly doubled during the past decade. The Commission on Higher Education reports that registrations increased from 53,634 to 109,480 from 1952 to 1962.

Per capita gain per school was: University of Texas, from 12,480 to 15,800;

Western College, 2,334 to 2,800;

McMurry College, 627 to 812;

State College, 1,258 to 1,500;

State College, 663 to 800;

View A. & M., 2,491 to 2,800;

Texas Tech, 5,160 to 11,181;

Texas State University, 2,504 to 7,090;

of A. & L., 1,928 to 3,517;

Woman's University, 1,100 to 1,500;

Southern University, 2,100 to 2,500;

University, 1,235 to 1,500;

Texas State College, 1,816 to 2,200;

University of Texas, 1,603 to 5,270;

West Texas State, 1,562 to 2,000.

3,463; West Texas State, 2,019 to 3,733; Stephen F. Austin, 1,217 to 2,797; Sul Ross, 541 to 1,199.

PAROLE SYSTEM

Confidence is expressed by officials that delinquents are being rehabilitated under the Texas parole system which was set in motion in 1957.

Program provided for an eventual organization of 70 parole officers which is now coming into being on schedule.

Last 30 trainees, studying to take up their tasks, will complete the group whose activities are expected to reduce the work load for each parole officer in the field from 100 to 75 cases.

Parole system is under the direction of Ray W. Williams, acting in the absence, on leave, of Vincent O'Leary who is serving with the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

Officials of the Pardon and Parole office feel the public doesn't fully appreciate the fact that, if Texas didn't have a parole system, prisoners would serve their time and be released without any supervision whatever.

LIBRARY JOB TAKEN

New assistant director of the rural library services division of the State Library is H. Kenneth Jackson of Fort Worth, former head of the Kiogore Public Library. Jackson will be assisting Mrs. Emily H. Weity in promoting library development in areas not served by a public library.

CONGRATULATING COL. HOMER GARRISON, JR.—On winning the coveted Paul Gray Hoffman award for distinguished professional service in highway safety are Governor Price Daniel, left, and D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, right, who nominated Col. Garrison for the award. The Governor commended Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, for "his crowning achievement in a lifetime career of outstanding police administration and public service." Col. Garrison is the sixth U.S. traffic safety official to receive the award from the Automotive Safety Foundation.

POLIO COUNT

Latest polio count by the State Health Department showed 229 cases in Texas so far this year, with 174 of them paralytic.

Last year at the same time there were 29 paralytic cases on record. One new case each was recorded in Bexar and Coryell counties.

A-G RULINGS

Rep. Don Kennard, chairman of the Texas House interim committee on migrant labor, has been advised by the attorney general that members serving on the committee may not receive State funds for travel reimbursement.

Kennard had asked for a legal opinion on the subject.

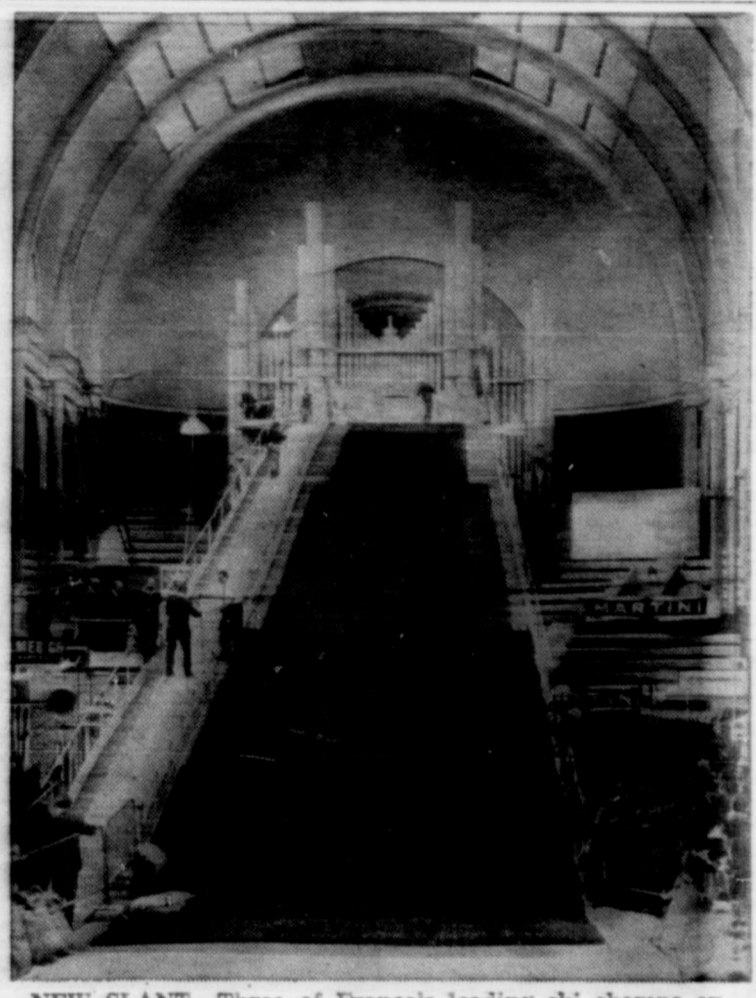

In another opinion, requested by Jerry Deilana, county attorney of Travis County, the attorney general held that motor boats are not permitted to be sold on Sunday.

TRUCK HEARING

Truck operators who have applied for permits to haul fruit and vegetables over the State were cross-examined by attorneys for common carriers at a hearing before a Railroad Commission examiner here.

Some felt the hearing would last until Christmas. It is a continuation of similar sessions held earlier at San Antonio, Lubbock and McAllen.

More than 130 operators are seeking the permits authorized by the Legislature in 1961. Common carriers oppose granting the permits or the ground that there is no need for them.

NEW SLANT—Three of France's leading ski champs exhibit their skill on a man-made ski run, which forms the centerpiece of the International Winter Sports Exhibition that's being held in England's Alexandra Palace in London.

ESCHEAT LAW

Reports to the State treasury department indicate there is approximately $3,140,000 in personal property in Texas subject to the new escheat law.

So far the State has collected $108,000 through three suits. But 346 reports of this kind of property have been certified to the attorney general. Involved is $678,724 more.

It may turn out that the $3,140,000 estimate is too high so far as the state's expectations of getting the money are concerned. This since a lot of owners of the property are being found.

In other instances it was discovered that some property is not subject to escheat, or at least not yet.

Seven years have to elapse before the State can make a claim. At this stage, it appears that the best "mining" country will be old meter deposits.

TEXAS GROWTH

Industrial growth of Texas in the next 15 years is being projected by the State Industrial Commission in a brochure called "Goals for Texas."

It will be several weeks before the brochure is finished and ready for distribution. But Commission officials feel it can be adapted to the needs of any area or community with benefits for all.

Commission based its plan on National Planning Association studies and get assistance also from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

HONOR FOR TEXAN

DeWitt C. Greer, State highway engineer, is one of the "top ten public works men-of-the-year" for 1962.

Announcement of his selection was made by Kiwanis International and the American Public Works Association, co-sponsors of the annual awards.

A plaque was presented to Greer at a meeting of the Austin Kiwanis Club at which John S. Redditt of Lufkin, former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, described the engineer's accomplishments which won him the national honor.

With characteristic humor, Greer accepted the award "with all the humility that a Texan can muster."

Greer has been an employee of the State Highway Department for 35 years, the last 22 of them as the No. 1 engineer. He is a past president of the American Association of State Highway Officials, and in 1953 received the George S. Bartlett Award for outstanding contributions to highway progress.

CRUDE DEMAND UP

Texas Railroad Commission reports that purchasers' nominations for Texas crude oil in November have increased.

November requests average 2,524,186 barrels daily. This is 35,853 more than for October.

Commission is expected to keep its 8-day schedule for prorated wells in November. This would increase the daily average permissible by almost 50,000 barrels.

LABORATORY FOR ELECTRICAL POWER

West Texas Utilities Company maintains a laboratory and a full time chemist in each of the power plants to check the chemical content of water used by WTU. Chemical content of the water helps to determine the frequency of equipment overhauls.

Boilers, turbine blades, cylinders, piping, steam inlet valves, condensers, water pumps, and much other operational equipment is impaired by chemicals in the water. Close laboratory control of water conditions can prevent equipment breakdown before it happens. This is just one of the many maintenance procedures by WTU to assure you a continual flow of electrical power!

Demonstrating new '63 Chevrolet truck features the hard way!

When we came to a river we got wet. This river bed was paved with rocks the size of melons. What a test for new light- and heavy-duty suspension systems this was!

Conventional light-duty units have coil-spring independent front suspension—easier on truck, load and driver.

New engines, suspensions, frames and narrower front ends show their stuff on Mexico's tough Baja Run!

With months of proving-ground tests under their belts, why did new Chevrolet trucks take on the rugged Baja (bah'bah) Peninsula?

This is the toughest line of trucks Chevrolet has ever built. Sending them over the most punishing terrain in North America (a road totally unlike the fine highways on the Mexican mainland) was double proof of this fact. Frames, engines, suspension systems were subjected to stresses far greater than trucks normally encounter. You can be sure that trucks that can handle this kind of beating can handle any kind of work.

A quick glance at the outdoors magazines should satisfy your yen for the latest gadgets.

Take for example this little item: An electric fish scaler! Snazzy, eh?

On another page is a fish Skinner. But shucks, men, it's not electric.

Anyway, here's a dandy! It's an electrically-powered worm-gatherer. Just what you wanted! All you have to do is stick a metal rod in the ground, turn on the current and out crawl the worms.

For years you have been urged to use fish oil to attract your quarry. Newest twist is a preparation that will remove from any odor that might be displeasing to the fish.

Throw away your oars, men! They're no longer needed. Here's a paddle fin that you attach to the stern of your boat. You operate it with one hand. That leaves the other hand free for trolling, sipping a coke, or scratching your back.

Anyone can keep worms alive by putting them in moist decayed leaves. But if you're on the ball you must buy this newly advertised special moss. It cleans the worms and makes them transparent (So a fish can't see 'em). Also removes any odor (so a fish can't smell 'em). That should fix up the situation generally.

Of course, you wouldn't dream of going fishing without an outfit that permits you to see underwater; just as you wouldn't buy a pen that wouldn't write on butter.

Maybe you think you know how to tie knots. But, shucks, you're just fooling around if you don't have this vise that holds the line and leaves both your hands free to do the tying. You say you don't have one? Man, how primitive can you get?

Another concoction is a spray that you can apply to your clothes, shoes, hat, and other accoutrement. It's invisible, odorless and stainless. Manufacturer says it makes your clothes so weather-proof that you can "almost" laugh at rain and water. What do you mean—"almost"? It either keeps off the rain or it doesn't. Anyway, go ahead and spread it on!

One wonders how anyone ever caught fish before the inventors came along to produce such items as this new sonar outfit that actually locates fish for you. It also tells you how many are in the school, what the depth is, and whether the bottom is muddy, rocky, or brushy. This machine, which also aids you in navigation in foggy weather or unfamiliar waters, is even "transistorized."

Home Town Talk--

old days of the real turkey shoot are gone, when a turkey would be tied behind a log and a marksman had only a split second in which to fire when the gobbler raised his head above the log. When man depended on his gun and his good marksmanship to put meat on the table, that sort of shooting may have been necessary; these days, however, it would be difficult to find many men who could equal the old long-barrel boys in shooting.

Rapidly developing events seem to have a slowdown effect in many areas, and no less in this department. So we decided to present a discourse on the "Migrating Flights of the Monarch Butterfly." These butterflies are now passing over south central Texas, enroute to wintering areas in Mexico. Au-

Surely that ought to be the sales clincher!

Are you the sleepy type when you fish? Okay—who isn't? There's a small, new invention that sets the hook automatically as soon as the fish touches the bait.

Sounds fine, but what about the fish that nibble around, shove the bait with their noses, or slap it with their tails, before taking it in their mouths? What do we do then?

Oh yeah—fish callers. If you don't have one of these, you just aren't fishing.

One of the advertisers tells us that "There's nothing mysterious about a fish caller. Fish scientists and conservation men know that fish respond to sound vibrations," says the ad. "Indians used to put a live bee in a bottle and lower it into the water... then the buzzing of the bee would call the fish right up to the canoe." Works too—so they say.

Better buy one—or get you a bee and a bottle.

What's the matter? . . . You didn't catch fish the last time out? Chances are your line was the wrong color! Perhaps you were using green line when you should have been using coral. Let that be a lesson to you.

If you're going out again today put on some blue line. If it rains, try rose. But if it doesn't rain enough to affect the water much—make it green.

Of course, if that doesn't work you'll have to switch to another color. In fact if I were you I'd use gray . . . with just a tinge of violet. Anyway that's what the advertiser said.

"You haven't fished," and here I quote the advertiser, "until you have tried float fishing. You do this by fixing an inertube type article around your middle and attaching a pair of fins to your feet. Now you can move thru the water like a duck."

Okay, okay! Go ahead if you want to act like a duck. But if you do—don't go fishing during the duck-hunting season.

A new worm container solves an age-old problem.

As every fisherman knows, worms go to the bottom when you put them in a can of dirt. So this container has lids on both top and bottom. When you want a bait, just turn the can upside down, open it, and there are the worms.

Sure it's a dirty trick to play on the worms. But who's more important, the worms or you? Think a minute before you answer that question!

Surely you want one of the new life preservers that folds up to the size of a cigarette pack and then, inflated, will support a 250-pound man in the water.

Obviously, if the man weighs more than 250 pounds, he should either (1) reduce, (2) carry two of the gadgets, or (3) stay at home.

Look, fellows . . . we're only kidding. All of the products mentioned are helpful and can be used profitably by you . . . when, as, and if your fishing conditions warrant same.

The advertiser won't mind if we tease him a little bit. After all, we've mentioned his product, haven't we? Well, at least in a round-about way!

tumn flights of butterflies are yearly happenings, but in many instances their colorful flight is unobserved because of weather conditions.

The Monarch butterfly begins life in the form of a green larva which feeds almost exclusively on milkweed plants. Their diet causes an acrid body taste offensive to their many enemies, and this protection afforded by their bad tasting properties no doubt insure that some of their numbers will reach winter quarters in Mexico. In the spring, flights of sizeable magnitude return to northern states.

The expectation that a team will continue to win because they have been winning, or continue to lose because they have been losing, is a trap which many fall into. Thus, Hardin-Simmons' win of last week caught us napping, as it did many others. If they had lost that game, our score for last week's game guessing would have been perfect; we picked 'em to lose to Trinity, but they turned the tide, and we got only nine out of ten right.

Here's the way it looks this week:

Arkansas over Hardin-Simmons
Texas over Rice
Baylor over A & M
Houston over Boston College

SMU over Texas Tech
Stamford over Anson
Ballinger over Haskell
Arizona over West Tex. State
New Mexico State over North Texas State
