30 YEARS AGO

NOVEMBER 4, 1932

As of Nov. 3 of that year, 9,985 bales of cotton had been ginned here. They were paying an average of $30 per bale.

The Bang's Dragons lost a game that week to the Blizzards 31-6. Clay, Dobbins and Adami won honors in the game.

The Wilmet Cotton House was destroyed in 1932 by fire. The loss was estimated at $2,500. Carl Harkins was manager at that time.

Continuing the "Smile Week", the American Legion, Auxiliary and Scouts held clothing drives that week in 1932. The clothing was collected and then "outed for the needy of the city."

The drive for materials for Buckner's Orphan Home was still on. The two mill owners, Green and Roberts, said they would thresh a car of maize for the drive. The farmers were to donate the maize.

A report from the straw-vote over the nation held by weekly papers, stated that Roosevelt and Garner would be elected the following Tuesday for President and Vice President.

A definition we spotted in the 1932 paper was "Peace: A period during which nations prohibit the use of the weapons they intend to use in the next war." That fits our situation fairly well now, doesn't it?

In 1932 potatoes sold for 10 pounds for 17 cents; sugar, 10 pounds for 47 cents; beef roast, 15 cents a pound and bacon, 18 cents a pound.

The Hollywood Beauty Shop was opening that week. It was located in the back of Wilkerson's Barber Shop. Miss Myrtle Setser and Miss Katherine Cates were the new owners.

HEALTH LETTER

DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE HAS BEEN PROBLEM SINCE THE BEGINNING OF TIME

Thousands of years ago, the cave dwellers had a simple solution to the sanitation problem—when conditions became unbearable they simply moved to another cave. But, this presented problems. There were only so many caves to go around.

As urban complexes developed, the citizens realized that dumping trash in the streets and hoping that it would rain and wash away soon turned the city into a huge dump.

Today the problem is still with us. Cities pay out a major portion of their budgets to pick up trash and dispose of it in a sanitary manner.

To better cope with this problem the Texas State Department of Health conducts a series of demonstration short - courses on the proper disposal of refuse.

This year nine such one - day demonstrations are being conducted - one with easy travelling distance of every community in Texas.

Sponsored with the cooperation of refuse equipment manufacturers and the host cities, engineers from the State Health Department's Sanitary Engineering Division organize and conduct the demonstrations as well as notify everyone in the area who should be interested in refuse disposal procedure.

The list includes nearly everyone associated with municipal sanitation - mayors, city commissioners, city managers, health officers, sanitarians, sanitation superintendents, public works directors, city engineers, county officials, members of civic organizations and citizens interested in community sanitation and public health.

Highlight of the meetings is a demonstration of collection trucks and sanitary land-fill equipment and the correct method for using the equipment.

Sanitary landfill as opposed to other refuse disposal methods in Texas is one method which has considerable potential in making sanitary refuse - disposal practice economically feasible for many communities.

Basically the method employs three steps - the refuse is dumped in an excavated trench, it is compacted by heavy tractor equipment, and finally covered with compacted earth.

Garbage, rubbish, and ashes are disposed without nuisance, fire or public health hazards.

Sites of this fall's courses are: Plainview, Sweetwater, Weatherford, Mount Pleasant, Lufkin, Rosenberg, Temple, Kerrville, and Harlingen. (A weekly feature from Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health)

Texas Horses Fewer But Worth More

Since the days of trail drives and the walking cultivator the horse has taken on a new role in the U. S. and even in the great cattle state of Texas. According to Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A. & M. College, the number of horses in Texas and the U. S. is steadily declining and there are more and more leaving the cattle trail for the bridge trail.

In Texas, where their use for working stock is legendary, horses are becoming pleasure animals, are being placed in more shows and used more for just plain riding. Their numbers declined on Texas farms and ranches about 27 percent between 1954 and 1960, the specialist says. However, the total for the U. S. decreased some 36 percent during the same period and the Lone Star State still has more horses than any other.

But with this lessening in numbers has come an increase in the average farm value of horses. In Texas the average farm value of horses increased an amazing 187 percent between 1954 and 1960 while the U. S. average increased only 37 percent.

This makes Texas horses worth about 31 million dollars, Uvacek points out. In 1960 the state average farm value per head was $126 or about $13 higher than the U. S. average. In this year horses accounted for 3 percent of the total livestock value in Texas which was more than all the goats or all the hogs, Uvacek says.

Thus while horses are generally becoming fewer, Texas can brag that it has the most, with the largest total farm value and worth more each than the nation's average horse.

box for Buckner Orphan Home in November of 1942. It contained clothing and needed articles for the home.

America was facing a shortage of many things in War times such as rubber and steel. The new shortage was cordage and twine.

Seven schools in Rannels County were to issue Gasoline Ration Books. Winters was among the ones listed.

It seems to be a duty one owes to himself to keep you as long as possible and a duty he owes to the prejudices of others not to act it.

Week of Prayer Is Observed By Methodist WSCS

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday in the church sanctuary for an all-day session to observe the week of prayer and self-denial.

The worship center was an open Bible and a plaque of praying hands.

Mrs. M. E. Leeman played organ music for the service and the quiet hours.

Mrs. W. W. Parramore was leader for the program and Mrs. W. D. Sanders read the scriptures for the morning meditation periods. Mrs. Frank Mitchell and Mrs. George Rosson gave the program.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Garland Shook read the scripture for meditation and Mrs. F. R. Anderson took part on the program.

Those present were Mmes. Gattis Neely, Alma Daniels, Elmo Mayhew, W. D. Sanders, M. E. Leeman, Frank Mitchell, W. W. Parramore, George Rosson, M. L. Dobbins, H. O. Abbott, J. D. Vinson, F. R. Anderson, August Vater, Bob Hatcher, D. A. Dobbins, Garland Shook, E. L. Crockett and Miss Frances Stricklin.

Junior Culture Club Hears Book Review At Thursday Meet

Mrs. West Talbot of Ballinger reviewed the book, "And There Were Eight," at a guest tea held by the Junior Culture Club at the First Baptist Church Thursday.

Mrs. Jo Ann Royce was elected to membership and the Hallowe'en Carnival was discussed. Candied carnal apples and popcorn balls will be sold at the carnival.

Announcement was made about the movie, "Flying Fontaines," which was held Oct. 20 at the State Theater. All proceeds went to the Public Library to help buy new books and equipment.

Attending the tea were Mmes. James Hinds, B. J. Colburn, Cecil Hambright, Truett Bentley, Tommy Russell, Jack Schackie, Don Oakes, Weldon Minzenmayer, J. E. Smith, Jim Morrison, Bob Rogers, Bill Chapman, Wendell Holmes, Hal Dry, James Colburn, Elton Smith, John McAdoo, D. R. Thomas, Dennis Poe, and the hostesses, Mrs. Lynn Billups and Mrs. Dennis Rogers.

Birthday Party Honors Jim Wilkerson On Thursday

A football party was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilkerson on Thursday, Oct. 25, to honor their son, Jim, on his tenth birthday.

The boys played football during the party hours. Favors were Winters pennants in cup cakes. The birthday cake was decorated like a football field featuring the school colors of blue and white. Ten blue and white candles were placed on the yard lines.

FROM MIDLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edwards of Midland spent the past weekend in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Morris.

Predicts That Christmas Buying In '62 Will Top Previous Year's for Record

With the upcoming congressional elections sparking political discussions throughout the nation, one of the parties has been stressing the bad points in the business situation. One charge hurled against the "ins" is that our economy is going sour, and that Christmas trade will be disappointing this year. This the Kennedy Administration denies. Frankly, I think such pessimistic predictions are wrong. I think this is going to be a good Christmas for quite a number of reasons. For one thing, pessimistic news—both national and international—should make people more anxious to spend money for permanent things rather than for speculation. The stock market action of the "recreation stocks" illustrates this point.

Hopeful Business Barometers
The Gross National Product of the U.S. for the first three quarters of 1962 shows a gain of 7 percent over the same period a year ago. While this is not a very spectacular advance for a period of economic recovery, I expect to see some further moderate rise between now and the end of the year. This should stimulate retail trade to some extent. I anticipate at least a normal seasonal rise in employment and some decline in unemployment totals between now and December 31st. There will undoubtedly be further small gains in the factory work week, resulting in at least a mild expansion of overtime wages to supplement regular salaries and other income for many families.

A bright spot, too, is personal income, now topping a year ago by somewhat more than 5 percent. Between now and year's end I look for continued increases in personal income, probably widening the favorable margin over year-earlier figures. In spite of a heavy tax burden and other large fixed payments, disposable income will also keep on rising at least through the rest of this year.

Your Buying Starts Its Own Cycle
There is a lot more to Christmas Holiday buying than is immediately evident. When you make a purchase, for example, you start a business cycle in miniature. You not only give pleasure to the one receiving the gift, but you also help the retailer, providing him with the money to conduct his important distribution operations. Keep in mind that you not only give the retailer his percentage of profit, but you also help to send along their small cuts to many other worthy people. These include the retail clerks, the landlord, advertisers, and others either directly or indirectly involved. This means more people employed all along the line, and hence more wage earners to keep the cycle in healthy motion. It is my feeling that spending psychology will remain good at least until early 1963. At the end of December you will see my detailed "Forecast for 1963" in these pages, in which I will analyze and project major business trends, including whatever changes of atmosphere may show up between now and then. It is particularly important to note that the stock market declines of 1962 have actually had no serious effect on retail sales, even though the business community generally has perhaps become hesitant and cautious since the Cuban upset.

Another Banner Christmas For Retail Trade

I am expecting Christmas buying to top last year's record by perhaps 2 percent-3 percent; that means another historic high for the holiday season. I should emphasize that this does not represent anything like a boom, but only an upward nudging on the already elevated plateau. Get ready for an extraordinarily lively demand in such lines as toys, clothes, greeting cards, and contrary to the forecasts of some observers—even home furnishings. I advise heavy holiday promotions aimed at the enormous upper-teen-age group.

I would be somewhat more encouraged about the approaching holiday buying if it were not for

Former Bradshaw Resident Observes 100th Birthday

Mrs. J. E. Newby, resident of the Bradshaw Community and Taylor County since 1897, observed her 100th birthday October 31, in the Rosewood Nursing Home in Abilene where she has lived for the 28 months.

Born Louise Ruth Davis in the early days of the Civil War on October 31, 1862, near Leander in Williamson County, Texas, Mrs. Newby had seen her country in two World Wars and the Korean conflict. A constant reader until her eyesight failed, she had been deeply interested in the progress of her country and the current events of the times.

Mrs. Newby's mother died at her birth and she was reared by a stepmother from the time she was four years old. She attended Williamson County Schools and was married to J. E. Newby on her nineteenth birthday. The couple moved to Bell County in 1886 and to Taylor County in 1897, where they settled on a farm. After the death of her husband January 17, 1931, Mrs. Newby moved to the farm near Bradshaw where she lived alone for 18 years. Later she lived with her son in Ballinger for five years and then with a granddaughter in Abilene before going to the nursing home.

The couple had three children, one son, A. L. Newby of Ballinger and Henry A. Newby, who died in 1960 and one daughter, Mrs. W. L. (Ida) Pratt, died in 1946.

At her 99th birthday last year there were five generations present. There are nine grandchildren, ten great grandchildren and six great-great grandchildren.

W. L. Pratt, a son-in-law, of Winters was among those who attended the 100th birthday celebration in Abilene Wednesday.

Young People From Funds for CROP Two Churches Solicit

Young people from the Methodist and Lutheran Churches observed Halloween on Tuesday night by soliciting Trick or Treat funds for CROP, instead of asking for treats for themselves.

Rev. Ray Elliott pastor of the First Methodist Church, stated that the young people collected a total of $122.28 for overseas relief packages.

Those in charge of the drive for Halloween funds express their sincere thanks to all those who helped the young people in the work for others instead of for themselves.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this method of thanking all my friends and neighbors for the visits, cards, letters and gifts since I have been ill. A special thanks to Dr. Rives and the nurses for the care and kindness shown me while I was in the hospital. Mrs. J. Drake. 1tc

BACK FROM HUNT

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Bradford returned home Sunday night from Lake City, Colorado after a two weeks hunting trip. They brought in their limit. The two ladies tried their luck at trout fishing and caught 47 trout in all while on the trip.

HERE FROM FLORIDA

Mrs. Kenneth Crowe and little son of Eglin A.F.B., Florida are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Riddle and with Mrs. Lois Crowe.

GFC Stocks New Reservoir In West Texas

Over 100,000 largemouth bass fingerlings and an appropriate number of channel catfish have been released in streams feeding into the new Twin Buttes Reservoir near San Angelo. Yellow catfish have been stocked in all areas where accelerated reproduction is expected. Henry Burkett, Region 1 director for the Game and Fish Commission, reported that the South Concho River was restocked with yellowbelly sunfish, when 100,000 native minnows were released providing food for other game fish. Native blue catfish are slated for release as soon as enough of the popular species can be removed from other waters. Stocking will not be completed until next summer when over 1,000,000 game fish fry will be released as the Twin Buttes fills.

FROM CALIFORNIA

Miss Esther C. Harrell of San Diego, California, is visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Albert Afferbach, Lt. Commander Harrell, retired September 1, after 20 years service in the Navy Nurse Corps. She will also visit her brothers, Tom and Claude Harrell during a months visit in Winters.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank each and every one who has visited, brought food, sent flowers and cards and offered prayer in my behalf since I have been ill. I want all of you to know that I am truly grateful and thank God every day for such friends. My sister, Mrs. Holmes, joins me in saying "Thank You". Flora Reese. 1tc

Hints for Game Care After the Kill

What kind of reception do you receive, 'Mr. Hunter,' when you take home your bag of game? Does your wife throw up her hands in disgust?

If she does, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, the fault may rest with the hunter. The mishandling of game after the kill often makes impossible a tasty preparation job in the kitchen, and the putting of meat on the family table as you would like it.

Immediate and proper bleeding of game animals is most important in improving meat flavor, points out Cooper. The same is true, he adds, for ducks and geese and most other game species. This practice will do much Cooper says, to remove the strong, gamey flavor which some people dislike.

The specialist recommends field dressing immediately after the kill especially if the weather is relatively warm. The sooner the animal is dressed, the better for immediate dressing means fewer chances for meat spoilage or undesirable flavor or odor.

Keep the game clean, advises Cooper. Avoid letting hair, feathers, dirt or other trash or debris come into contact with the meat. Before the blood dries, wipe the body cavity clean with either a dry or slightly moistened cloth rather than by washing with water, explains the specialist.

If the weather is warm, game should be put into cold storage as soon as possible. If it is held just above freezing for several days, the meat will become more tender and have less of the undesirable 'gamey' flavor. A deer, adds Cooper, should be aged in cold storage much the same as the carcass of a beef animal. Omit the aging process, he says, and your wife will have good reason for hoping you don't bag a deer this year.

Cooper suggests that hunters contact their local county extension office for a copy of B-987, "Game Care and Cooking." Copies are also available from the Agri-

Crane Season Opens November

Soon it will be time to sandhill crane country. Season opens Nov. 3 and 30 consecutive days thereafter. These popular game birds are hunted only in a designated area of West Texas lying on a line from the International Bridge in Del Rio, Val Verde County, then northward following Highway 277 to its junction with Highway 87 to the intersection with the New Mexico state line in Pecos County.

Hunters can bag two a day. They can have only two sessions at any time. Shooting will be from sunrise to sunset all days.

"Faith is a power beyond all conception." —Grace Noll Crowell.

Funeral rites for Hood Hill, 59, who died at the Sunshine Nursing Home in Abilene early Friday, were held Saturday afternoon in the Spill Memorial Chapel.

Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor of First Baptist Church, Winters, officiated. Burial was in the Bluff Creek Cemetery. Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Maggie Hill of Winters; one brother, Lawrence of Duncan Okla.; five sisters, Mrs. F. W. McLure of Abilene, Mrs. Victor LaBoa of Cleveland, Ark., Mrs. A. D. Shelton and Mrs. T. B. LaBoa, both of Houston, and Mrs. R. M. Brewer of Fort Worth; several nieces and nephews. Pallbearers were Finis Bradshaw, Finis Bryan, Pete Higgins, Milburn Shaffer, Bill Talley and Joe Lawrence.

For the morning special Sunday at the Drasco Baptist Church pastor W. I. Taylor sang, "I Will Pilot Thee," with Mrs. Dick Bishop at the piano. For the night services the pastor sang, "How Long Must We Wait," with Mrs. Bishop at the piano.

Mrs. Calwyn Walters and two sons of Seagraves attended the morning and night services Sunday at the Moro Baptist Church. For the morning special Mrs. Walters, with Clyde Reid, sang "Come Unto Me," with Mrs. J. W. Allmand at the piano. For the night special, Mrs. Walters and Mrs. Allmand sang "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow," with Mrs. Jack Bedford at the piano.

Why the Bible? is the subject for next Sunday's Sunday School lesson. The following is by Amos John Traver: The purpose of the Bible is to communicate. The written Word reveals to us the living Word. Christ Jesus. God speaks and we must understand His message. The Bible is God's self-revelation. Its supreme purpose is stated in John 2:31: "These are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in His name." It is the means by which God's grace is revealed. "Why the Bible?" Because without revelation we could not know God. This saving knowledge does not come by human reason and research but by the gift of God's grace.

Special days next week are for: Sharon Cornelius and Rodney Little, the 4th; Mrs. Nora Ledbetter and Ronnie Grun, the 5th; Hilburn Self, Mrs. Clyde Reid, Mrs. Ed Bigham, the 6th; David Dobbins and J. "13 WEST STREET"

Story of a man who risks his marriage and his life in order to track down the teen-age thugs, who, "for kicks," had brutally attacked and nearly killed him, Columbia Pictures' "13 West Street" shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. The suspense drama reportedly marks a change of pace for Alan Ladd and Rod Steiger.

Ladd plays a mild-mannered space engineer who is the victim of a vicious, unprovoked assault; Steiger, famous for his screen work in unsympathetic roles, plays a police detective sergeant whose patient search for clues to the attackers is too deliberate for the lamed and embittered Ladd.

"13 West Street" co-stars

Michael Callan, as the psychotic leader of the teen-age gang, a youth who leads other attacks against Ladd and his wife when the former initiates a manhunt of his own. Beautiful and blonde Dolores Dorn also co-stars, as the wife who sees her marriage eaten away by her husband's corrosive bitterness.

"13 West Street" is said by Hollywood to pack a considerable amount of action and drama, as Ladd's relentless search for revenge gradually affects his personality to the point where he is unable to think clearly about anything except the youth he hunts.

"Judgment at Nuremberg"

Today's headlines, which become tomorrow's history, have a way of becoming tomorrow's stage and screen entertainment.

A brilliant case in point is Stanley Kramer's two-Academy-Award Winner "Judgment at Nuremberg," which shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre, after some triumphal two-day exclusive engagements in the larger cities. It is a United Artists release.

The film, which stars Spencer Tracy, Burt Lancaster, Richard Widmark, Marlene Dietrich, Judy Garland, Maximilian Schell (who won the Academy Award for Best Actor of '61 for his performance in this picture) and Montgomery Clift, has won unprecedented commendation from the world's press. It deals basically with human responsibility, called by its producer Stanley Kramer, "The most challenging theme of our generation."

"It is an intensely emotional drama," Mr. Kramer explained, "of a small town American judge called to sit in judgment upon former German judges, men with international legal reputations, who permitted justice to be distorted and perverted in Hitler's Germany. It examines the personal and human values of a small group of people to find out what made them tick at a critical point in their lives. This is a dramatization of what happens in human life when all moral standards collapse."
