Talk

By B. C. THOMAS

A couple of outstanding football teams are going to meet together, and you're going to start a fire. That's what you're going to see in Stamford Friday night.

Friday night's football game between the Winters Blizzard and the Stamford Bulldogs is one of the most interesting contests we've seen in some time, a real show-stopper likely to be surprised, for some time to come.

There'll be the game of the year coming up next week, the Winters-Stamford encounter tonight, and the outcome of these two games in all probability will have the most to do with the outcome of the district championship.

The Winters-Ballinger game is so exciting, pitting two teams that are always expected to be in the limelight, with the habit of adding a little push, and playing all corners. A head-to-head game, with plenty of other hand, here was a new to the district, with an untied season record.

On the other hand, here was a new to the district, with an untied season record. The glamorous his-story past. Not a flashy, but a workhorse with the determination to play football and win.

Teams performed with the state breathing down their necks to speak, and came out with dignity.

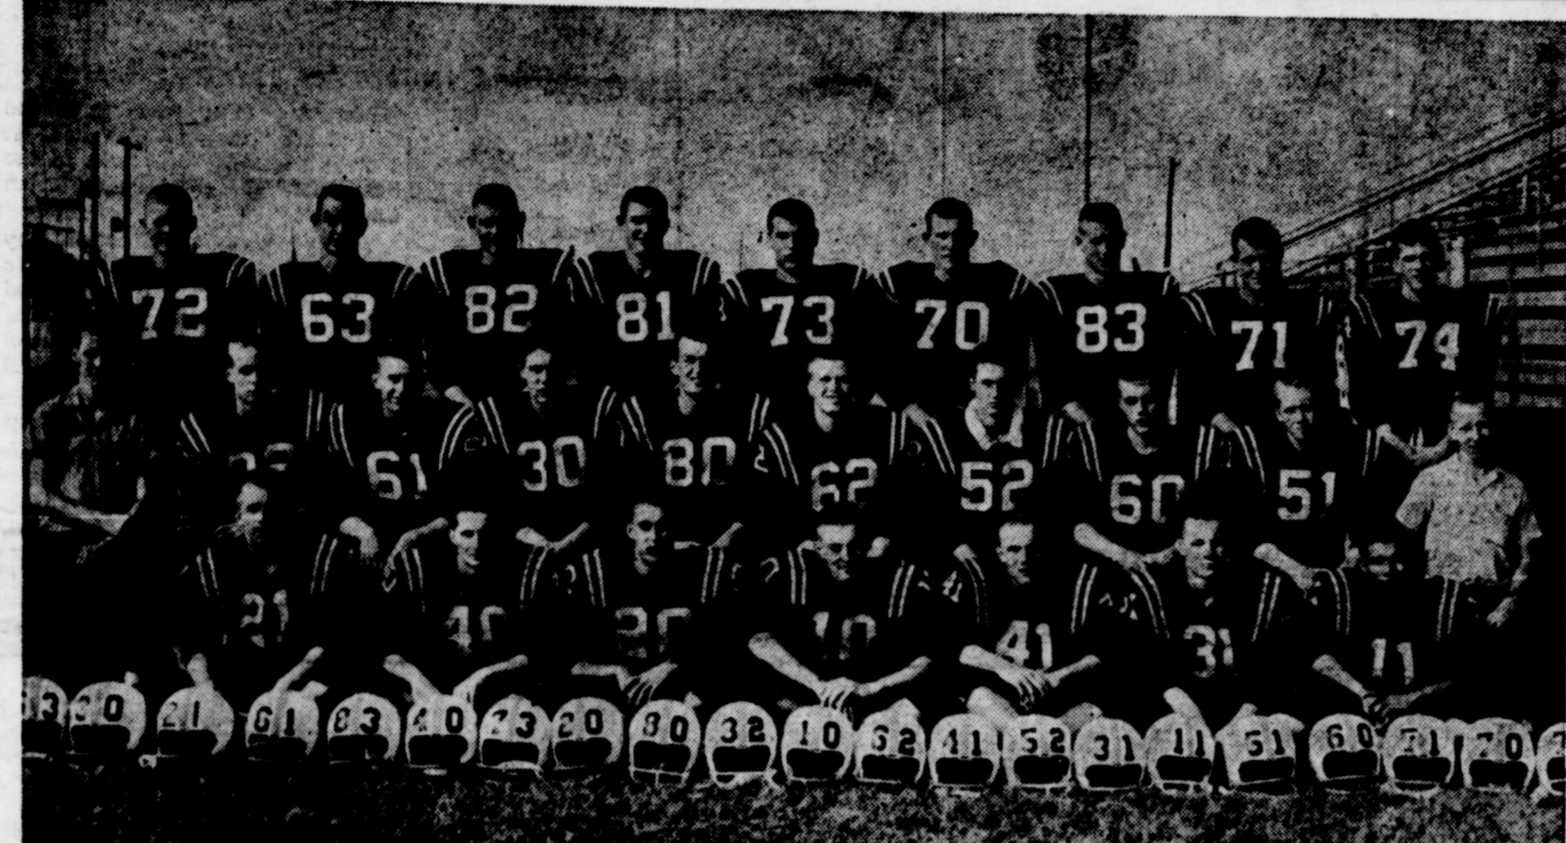

Side-note on last week's game. The pastor of the church here, received a letter from Mrs. R. R. ... a former resident of Stamford, who had the misfortune to lose a lovely hand made ...

He is the son of a preacher of 48 years service, and his mother taught in public schools in Texas for 28 years. He grew up and went through high school in Mineola and Commerce.

Methodist Church To Hold Meeting November 11-18

A series of meetings, beginning November 11 and continuing through November 18 will be conducted by the First Methodist Church of Winters. Ministers from Winters and surrounding communities will deliver the sermons each night.

Services will begin each night at 7:00 p. m. except the service on Friday night which will begin at 8:00 p. m.

DISTRICT LEADERS — The Winters High School Blizzard football team, after wrapping up all eight games for the season, is out front of the rest of District 6-AA. This team is one of three Conference 2A teams in the state to reach this point of the season undefeated and untied. They downed mighty Stamford last Friday night to take the middle of the spotlight, and will meet Anson here tonight, and Ballinger next Friday night, to end the season in the district. Outcome of the games throughout the district in the next two weeks will decide the district championship. Shown

Willis G. Jernigan New Minister At Church of Christ

Willis G. Jernigan IV, formerly of Grandview, has been named minister of the Winters Church of Christ. He will preach his first sermon in the local church Sunday.

Mr. Jernigan is a graduate of Abilene Christian College, and attended East Texas State, and University of Corpus Christi. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from ACC.

The new minister has been in Grandview since 1959, where he was active in Rotary Club, Volunteer Fire Department, Quarterback Club and was Cubmaster in Cub Scout work.

Mr. Jernigan is married, and has a son, Willis, V. age three and one-half. His wife, Harlene, is a native of Corpus Christi, and has been active in garden club work.

He is the son of a preacher of 48 years service, and his mother taught in public schools in Texas for 28 years. He grew up and went through high school in Mineola and Commerce.

San Angelo Pastor To Speak At Lutheran Mission Festival Here Sunday, Nov. 11

The Rev. W. Kensig, pastor of Calvary Lutheran Church, San Angelo, will be the guest speaker at the annual Mission Festival services of St. John's Lutheran Church, Winters. The services, beginning at 10:40 in the morning and 2:30 in the afternoon, will emphasize the cause of missions as participated in by the local congregation. A basket lunch will be held in the church basement at noon. The public is cordially invited.

St. John's Lutheran Church participates in mission work throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, in addition to twelve other countries in South America, Africa, and Asia. This work is carried on through congregations banded together in The American Lutheran Church, a church body of two and a half million Lutherans. St. John's also participates in relief work through the Lutheran World Federation in Cooperation with fifty million Lutherans in thirty-one Lutheran churches in thirty

Anson Here Tonite For District Game

Flushed with their victory over the highly-touted Stamford Bulldogs last Friday night, the Winters High School Blizzards move deeper into conference competition this week, seeking their ninth straight win of the season.

The WHSers will meet the Anson Tigers here, with kick-off at 7:30 Friday night.

The Blizzards are rated the No. 1 team in the district, following their win over Stamford, and have carved out an 8-0 season record. The Winters team also has been moved to the No. 3 spot in State Double-A standings listed by the Associated Press and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, sharing the top of the ladder with Denver City and Jacksboro.

The Winters team is one of three conference AA teams in the top ten with an undefeated, untied record.

Anson still is at the bottom of the heap, along with Hamlin, with a 1-6-1 season record, and a 0-3 district record.

The Tigers probably will field a tough, scrapping team. Two of their outstanding players are No. 10 John Sanders, quarterback, and Donny Lain, one of the best fullbacks to oppose the Blizzards this season.

The Anson team is not a big team, reportedly, but tied Coleman 6-6 in pre-conference play, and will be a dangerous team if they are given the chance. They are capable of knocking off any team in the district, given the right circumstances. They lost to Ballinger 12-10, but led the Bearcats into the last quarter of their encounter; they were ahead of Haskell at the half, but the Indians nosed ahead to win 22-14. They defeated Albany 22-20 in a thrilling pre-district scrap. Stamford has been the only team the Tigers have not led at the half.

This Friday night's game is expected to be a wide-open affair, with the Tigers expected to pass a lot in an attempt to redeem themselves, and to slow up district championship races.

Winters and Anson have played three common opponents. Winters defeated Colorado City 18-0; Anson lost to C-C, 0-18; Winters-Coleman, 7-3; Anson-Coleman, 6-6; Winters-Albany, 28-8; Anson-Albany, 22-20.

PROBABLE STARTERS

Coach L. G. Wilson is expected to field the following offense team against Anson:

End — James Burleson, Mike Mitchell

T — Mike Patterson, Eugene Mathis

G — Alvis Jackson, Dan Roberts

C — Roland Tekell or Johnny Mathis

QB — Tommy Alfrey

HB — Tommy Young and Denny Aldridge

FB — Steve Grissom

On defense, it probably will be:

E — Aldridge and Grissom

T — Johnny Hopper, Mike Mitchell

G — Eugene Mathis, Mike Patterson or Johnny Mathis

Linebackers — Alvis Jackson, Wayne Bailey

HB — Mike Bedford, Adolpho Arroyo

Safety — Tommy Young

The service unit volunteer committee has also been named in Winters for this year. Heading the committee will be W. M. Hays as chairman, and W. H. Craven Jr., treasurer, Mrs. B. B. Bedford, F. R. Anderson, Joe Stevens, Marvin Bedford and Dr. H. H. McCright.

In the Wingers community, service unit volunteers are Henry Adcock and A. Dooley.

Records show that during the past year, 413 people have been helped by the local service unit. This assistance included issuance of groceries, meals, fuel, clothing medicine, three boys to the Salvation Army summer camp, transportation, to both local and transient people.

VISITORS SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bagwell visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Burns Sunday.

Council Adds To City, Discusses Cemetery Work

The Winters City Council Tuesday night annexed additional property into the corporate limits of the City, and made plans to improve lots at Lakeview Cemetery.

In the annexation action, the Council accepted into the City Limits a section of land on North Main Street on which is located the sub-station of the West Texas Utilities Co. The company had requested this action be taken to include the land, about two acres, in the corporate limits of the City. Although there will be additional revenue forthcoming for the city in the form of taxes on the property, it was not known just how much.

In further action, the Council completed plans to improve unsold lots in Lakeview Cemetery. Plans call for construction of 30-inch sidewalks around each lot in the undeveloped section of the cemetery. Council plans to develop only eight lots at a time.

The decision to construct sidewalks in the newly-opened sections of the cemetery came as a result of an attempt to create a more uniform appearance in the new section. Also, council members pointed out, lots bordered by low sidewalks will make grass cutting and maintenance much easier and less expensive. No restriction regarding monuments has been made, it was added.

The high cost of maintenance of the cemeteries this year, and the lack of sufficient funds led the council to seek methods of improving cemetery lots for future sale, it was pointed out.

The Council also accepted an offer made by the Winters Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to purchase and install playground equipment in the City Park. The VFW will spend about $200 on the new equipment, to be placed in the park near the swimming pool.

Among other items taken up by the Council in the regular meeting was rebuilding and repairing fences surrounding the city sewer farm. No definite action was taken, but the council expects to work with owners of property which surrounds the farm in this project.

Christmas Seal Sales Will Start On November 12

Christmas Seals will be mailed on Nov. 12, according to Mrs. A. W. Libbe, chairman in Winters for the Tuberculosis Association in Runnels County.

Return envelopes are included with the seals, for use in sending contributions to the local association.

The Runnels County TB Association reported that eight new cases of tuberculosis had been diagnosed in the county during the month of October alone. This brings the total for the year to 16 new cases.

Money raised in the Seal Sale campaign goes for research and assistance to tuberculosis patients.

Polio Shots Slated Friday and Sunday

The first of the series of three Sabin oral polio vaccine doses for residents of the Winters area will be administered Friday and Sunday.

School children will receive their vaccine Friday afternoon, and adults and pre-school age children will receive it Sunday afternoon.

The doses will be administered by local doctors, who will be assisted by members of the Winters Lions Club, sponsors of the program, and nurses and others who will volunteer their time.

Administration of the first dose will be made to school children at the school cafeteria beginning about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. The adult program will begin about 1 p.m. Sunday, at the cafeteria.

Doctors and sponsors of the program have reminded residents that all persons under 18 years of age must have written consent from parents or guardians before they may receive the vaccine. Consent forms have been issued to children in the Winters school, and are to be completed by parents and returned to the school prior to Friday's program. Also, consent forms will be available at the cafeteria for those parents who bring pre-school children on Sunday.

No charge will be made for the vaccine, although those taking the vaccine will be asked to donate what they can to help pay expenses. Twenty-five cents per dose has been established as the cost of the vaccine and associated expenses.

It is being stressed by the doctors and by the sponsoring Lions Club, however, that no one will be refused the vaccine, and that everyone is urged to get the protection, regardless of financial circumstances.

Because a few people have announced that they would be unable to be present Sunday to receive the vaccine, sponsors have said that a limited number of adults would be received Friday afternoon after all school children had received the doses. They asked, however, that no one request the vaccine Friday afternoon if it is at all possible that they can attend Sunday. In view of this, they pointed out, no adult will receive vaccine prior to 4 o'clock Friday.

For the Sunday afternoon program, two processing lines will be formed at the cafeteria. Volunteer workers will take the names of all people as they come through the lines, and will fill out the necessary forms for the administration of the vaccine. It is planned to make a complete record of those receiving the vaccine, so that local doctors may have this information for their use in the future.

In order to prevent bottlenecks in administration procedures, parents are asked to have readily available all necessary information regarding minors who accompany them Sunday. It is hoped that the work can be completed as soon as possible Sunday afternoon, but workers will remain on duty until everyone has been served, it was pointed out. Residents are asked to come to the cafeteria as early as possible Sunday afternoon.

Type III Sabin Oral polio vaccine will be administered Dec. 14 and 16, and Type I, Jan. 18 and 20.

30 YEARS AGO

NOVEMBER 11, 1932

A big game was to be played that week in 1932, Coleman against Winters. The two coaches, Pratt for Winters and Brown for Coleman, were both predicting their team to win. The game was expected to be a thriller.

Carl Henslee, John W. Norman and Lyle Deffebach were on the Federal Aid Emergency Labor Committee here. That week they were taking applications for work on the construction to be done on Highway No. 4 between Winters and Bradshaw.

American Legion sold poppies that Saturday for the World War Veterans.

Winters was allotted a $5,000 Federal appropriation that week. R. L. Stokes, Mrs. M. Luther Owens and Mrs. R. H. Henslee made up the West Texas Chamber of Commerce committee that applied for it. Plans were made for the fund to be used on a clean-up and beautification program, recreational city park and memorial highway to be a means of furnishing labor for the unemployed as a relief measure in Winters.

Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner were elected to head the Nation that week in 1932.

The Buckner Orphan's Home railroad car was held up a few days to wait for late contributions. The car was loaded with clothing, canned goods and other things.

25 YEARS AGO

NOVEMBER 12, 1937

The Winters Blizzards trounced Cross Plains 18-6 that week. The opponents' only score was attributed to an intercepted pass. It sounded like a good game.

Postmaster H. O. Jones announced a census to be taken Nov. 16-20 in 1937. It was to determine the number of unemployed and partial unemployed in Winters.

From that year's crop, 14,314 bales of cotton had been ginned here. Rain totaling 1.25 inches fell the first of that week and slowed down the ginning.

Harold and Gerald Dixon and Jerry Dry entertained the Lions Club that week with a cornet trio.

Two robberies that week in 1937 netted bandits $500. The two business houses burglarized were Musser Lumber Company and the State Theatre.

Lem Nichols of Spur was transferred here to take over management of the Safeway Store. Mr. Moor, the present manager, was taking a leave of absence due to health.

In one of the biggest financial deals in the history of this area, the Winters State Bank acquired by purchase, the assets of the First National Bank which totaled $324,657.50. The vice president of the First National Bank was I. N. Wilkinson and the president of the Winters State Bank was John Q. McAdams.

Prospects of "Going to Moon" Will Be An Uplift To Business In Few Years

I find that young people are well informed with regard to going to the moon. This does not necessarily mean that they themselves expect to go, but they are very much interested in reading about others who will go. Books are being published for these young people to read,—various editions for various ages. What troubles me is that too often they get no encouragement from their parents who pretend the idea is all nonsense.

Impetus To General Business

I do not claim that preparing to go to the moon will bring about a business boom; but I do believe it will give an uplift to business within the next few years. I am thinking of the billions which will be spent in this attempt. These billions will be distributed to nearly fifty thousand contractors; the contracts will extend over five years, and may benefit every reader.

It is fair to assume that Russia and possibly other countries are working on similar programs. We will know more about this when Mr. Khrushchev comes over to make his visit. It is even rumored he will recommend that the moon project be made a joint effort. This would unite the brains of both countries as well as the money. I should not be surprised if Germany joined and made it "tripartite." Such a joint effort could be a forward step toward world peace.

The Moon And Canada

Canada is very rich in natural resources, but unfortunately, too much of this wealth is under ice as well as underground. Canada is in good financial condition but its one great liability is climate, which meteorologists believe could be greatly ameliorated by influencing the weather from the moon. If, however, the weather of Canada could be changed, so could that of other countries,—the tropics as well as the colder countries. We know what the moon does to our tides.

Wherever we were born, we have taken the climate of our fathers as something permanent and unchangeable; but this is a mistake. Practical ways will be found to adjust climate, and this will be of great advantage to all nations. It may be the one effort which will result in a useful and permanent United Nations Organization. The thought has tremendous possibilities for good. At present, it looks as if using the moon as a base of climate control may be the answer.

20 YEARS AGO

NOVEMBER 13, 1942

Figures gathered in 1942 showed, 8,719 bales of cotton ginned here. Rains and the scarcity of pickers slowed down the harvest.

Rev. W. L. Beard was the new pastor of the Methodist Church that week in 1942.

A community service was held that Sunday night honoring fathers, mothers and wives of service men. It was sponsored by the American Legion.

That day in 1942, Winters held the second Dairy Classification Show. It was sponsored by the Vocational teachers of the County, County and Home Demonstration agents, County Farm Security Director, Winters Chamber of Commerce, Dairy farmers and business men.

In 1942 cottonseed sold for $44 a ton and maize, $13 a ton and turkeys, 22 cents and 24 cents a pound.

The Bulldogs clipped the Blizzards 38-6 that year on Armistice Day. The game was played in Brady. The next game for the Blizzards was against Ballinger, Nov. 20.

Ownership of the Moon?

An astronomer stated to me, "The moon is no good; it is dusty, void of water, with rocks near the surface." When in Africa and Johannesburg, I was told that this was the natural terrain of the richest part of Africa. Most of the diamonds, gold, and now uranium, are being found in the most barren portion of that continent. It is very possible even that the moon may give us the richest discoveries of these minerals. And the expense of getting back and forth from the moon may prevent what might otherwise be a great decline in the prices of diamonds, gold, and platinum.

This discussion about going to the moon reminds me of my boyhood days in Gloucester, Mass., when I used to listen to the seafaring captains in my family. At first they went to India and China; but when gold was discovered in California, they sailed their ships around South America and up the west coast to profit from the gold rush of 1848. They went on a four-months trip from Boston to get this gold and take passengers to California. But it will take only four days to go to the moon at the speed which is being counted upon. I am told that after a port has been secured and the landing made safe, this speed can be reduced to what will seem normal to modern youth.

Psychology And Business

Mr. James P. W. Davidson, in an address given in Wellesley this week, thinks that the talk about "going to the moon" will have a stimulating influence upon general business. It will raise the hopes, expectations, and enterprise of many people,—especially young people. It should help general business as the automobile did fifty years ago, and as the discovery of gold in California did a hundred years ago. In the meantime, it certainly should indirectly increase newspaper advertising during the next year.

Misses Grenwelge and Buckner Enrolled At Mary Hardin-Baylor

Misses Elizabeth Greenwelge and Diane Buckner, sophomores, have recently enrolled in Mary Hardin-Baylor College for the 1962 fall semester.

Miss Greenwelge is a graduate of Winters High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Greenwelge, 614 North Trinity St. She is majoring in elementary education at Mary Hardin-Baylor.

Miss Buckner is a graduate of Winters High School and is majoring in home economics at Mary Hardin-Baylor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Buckner, Box 915, Winters.

For the first time in almost 15 years, the campus enrollment at Mary Hardin-Baylor has exceeded the 500 mark. More than 300 dormitory students have crowded the campus housing to its capacity and Dr. Arthur K. Tyson, president, has announced the beginning of a drive to raise funds to provide adequate dormitory space for the expected increase in students by the fall semester of 1964.

Enrollment at the school has increased every semester for the past few years over the preceding semester. The growth is attributed to an increased offering in the curriculum, to a strengthening of the faculty and to vigorous recruiting of full-time field representatives. With the erection of adequate dormitory space, the enrollment will continue to increase at a rapid pace, Dr. Tyson has said.

Allowing another to do your thinking makes you a mental flunk.

Winters Blizzards Rapped Stamford In 6-AA Thriller Last Friday Night

Each year a color is named by the fashion world as "the" color of the year, and "the" color for last Friday night, as if by some decree, was blue, as the two Big Blues of District 6-AA met in mortal combat at Stamford.

The Big Blue Blizzards of Winters became "the" blue of the night, however, as they defeated the not so big Blue Bulldogs of Stamford, 12-7.

Before the largest crowd to attend a game in Bulldog stadium in several years, and in 52 degree weather (at game time), the Blizzards racked up their eighth victory of the year, for an undefeated and untied record.

Taking advantage of an early Stamford fumble, recovered by end Wayne Bailey, the Blizzards began their drive from the Stamford 32 yard line. Tommy Alfrey, quarterback supreme, made a quick handoff to Denny Aldridge, good for one yard. Steve Grissom gained three, before Aldridge moved 17 yards to the 12. A Stamford penalty gave the Blizzards three free yards. Alfrey lateraled to Grissom who moved wide around right end for the TD with 9:08 still to go in the first quarter. Alvis Jackson's kick try for the extra point was good, but a penalty against the Blizzards called for a repeat, and the second kick was short. Score, 6-0, Blizzards.

After the teams had traded fourth down punts, the Bulldogs owned the ball on the Winters 49. In 12 plays with Paul Rider, 175-pound back, and Andy Miller, 149-pound half back, spearheading the drive, the Bulldogs moved to the Winters 8. With fourth down and 8 from the Blizzard 14, the Bulldogs decided to chance an all or nothing pass, as they had failed to penetrate the Blizzard defensive line. It was nothing, and their first touchdown attempt was foiled. After the Bulldog pass fell incomplete, the Blizzards took over on their own 15.

Aldridge was stopped for no gain; on a reverse, Tommy Young, Blizzard wingback, gave the Blizzards more breathing room, as he covered 20 yards to the Winters 35. Grissom moved to the 40, and Aldridge to the 42. Alfrey, on an option, elected to run, and carried eight yards to the 50, then lateraled to Aldridge, who moved to the Stamford 39 for a total of 19 yards. Young was stopped for no gain, but on the next play, received an Alfrey pass, in the flat, for eight yards. Grissom and Aldridge completed the first down yardage on the ground. With first and 10 from the 27, Alfrey had the ball knocked loose, but recovered on the 38. Second down, and 21, Alfrey began to pass. His first target was Johnny Hopper, but the ball fell incomplete. The second try was something else, however, as Alfrey hit Tommy Young. Young carried over for the second Winters TD. 5:19 was left in the first half, as Mike Bedford's run try for extra points was not good enough. 1-0, Blizzards.

The somewhat stunned Bulldogs came alive as they received the kickoff after the touchdown, and moved to their own 33. In four downs they moved to the 47. A completed pass (11 yards) and a 15 yard Winters penalty, gave Stamford another first down on the Winters 32. Rider claimed two, but Grissom caught QB Butch Cook behind the line, for a three-yard loss. Keith McKeever, who switched out as QB with Cook, faded and passed to Leslie Lovvern. However, Mike Bedford moved in front of Lovvern, and knocked the ball to the ground. Another incomplete pass completed Stamford's chance, and with 45 seconds left in the half, the Blizzards ran the clock out.

Receiving the after half kickoff, the Blizzards, on their fourth play, thrilled the crowd with a beautiful play and touchdown. Although the play was nullified by a penalty, it must be included in this report. Alfrey, with first down, and 10, from the Winters 49, passed to Young; Young moved to the Stamford 15, then lateraled to Aldridge who claimed the endzone for the Blizzards. An ineligible receiver down field was called, and the TD did not count on the scoreboard. Three plays later, the Blizzards kicked on fourth down.

The Bulldogs moved from their 16 to their 44 before bowing to the Blizzards' defense. It seemed as the Blizzard offense was happy to leave it to their defensive squad, as they retained possession for three plays and then kicked to the one yard line, with the toe of Mike Patterson being used for the boot. The Bulldogs were able to move only to their 22 in six plays and they kicked to the Blizzard 31.

In what appeared to be only an exchange of kicks, with the Blizzard offense trying to keep the Bulldogs' backs to their goal, the unexpected happened. With a 44-yard kick by Patterson to the Stamford, Butch Cook took the ball, and moved to the Blizzard goal line for the only Stamford TD. Cook was nearly lowered by Aldridge on the 15, but a key block by Ted Boedecker cleared the way. Rider kicked for the extra point. With no time left in the third quarter, the final score, 12-7 was reached.

The fourth quarter began with a Stamford kickoff, and with a heart-stopping 12 minutes all the way. A Winters fumble was recovered by Lovvern on the Winters 45. In 14 plays with several penalties, including a pass interference called against Winters, the Stamford Bulldogs moved to the Blizzard seven yard line. They chose to try the pass again on fourth down. It fell incomplete.

The Blizzards gained the ball on their own 14, with 4:14 left in the game. The fans were surprised, as instead of just running the clock out, the Blizzards started for another TD. Young made a 13-yard run, and Grissom got loose for 43 yards, then Aldridge claimed 6, and the Blizzards were deep in Bulldog territory. With only 2 seconds left, from the Stamford 11, Alfrey kept the ball for the last 3 plays of the game.

The Blizzards played an outstanding game. Scoring early, they contained their opponents, and brought home a victory. We repeat, win, lose, or draw, this is a team to be proud of.

Diversity Club Told That Communism Can Be Defeated If Each American Fights

"Only the personal, active participation of people like you in the affairs of the nation, the state, and the local community can keep democracy alive," Mrs. Dorothy Akins told members of the Diversity Club last Thursday, and concluded, "If we are strong enough and care enough, and maintain our national integrity, this nation will survive the terrible threat that presents itself today."

Mrs. Akins was a guest speaker on a program of "Americanism," and was introduced by Mrs. Roy Young. The regular meeting of the Diversity Club was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Kendrick. The president, Mrs. Sam Jones, conducted a short business session prior to the talk by Mrs. Akins.

In her talk, Mrs. Akins said that "during our generation a new menace, international communism, has arisen to threaten the entire world." She pointed out, however, that the communists are aware that "there is no such thing as complete success for them as long as a spark of freedom burns in the life of a single individual." The speaker stressed that the aim of communism is the extermination of all capitalist nations, and the subjugation of all free peoples. They have bragged, she said, that Russia would "surpass in power the U. S. by 1970, and be far ahead by 1975."

"When one realizes the scope and magnitude of this communist menace, he must make a decision as to what he shall do," Mrs. Akins told club members. "He must attack and oppose it calmly, rationally, and objectively. In the fight . . . it is not enough to be merely 'against' our enemy, but we must be 'for' the cause of liberty and justice."

The afternoon speaker told Diversity Club members that "America means the freedom to be industrious and the freedom to do nothing; it means the freedom to pursue happiness, the freedom to laugh and to cry; it means the freedom to pursue happiness, the freedom to earn by the sweat of our brow and to share in the fruits of our labor. It means the freedom to participate in government and the freedom to support the government through taxes."

She said that "communists have freedoms, too: the freedom to read what the Kremlin wants them to read; to vote for the candidates the Kremlin approves of; and the freedom to travel—to Siberia with a one-way ticket."

She asked the question: What can we do to combat this menace of communism? and gave some of the answers, "first, we may refuse to accept the fact that danger exists." There will always be those who believe the danger is over-emphasized. To do so is to refuse to accept the testimony of our representatives, she said.

She said that "our response to this menace must be one of action. Nothing can threaten your freedom so much as letting someone else assume your responsibilities."

Mrs. Akins pointed out ten ways in which we can work for continuance of the freedoms we have, among them to weigh decisions toward the best use of your resources; seek and accept responsibilities; refuse to accept and do not seek special privileges; combat prejudice; support education; learn all you can about the enemies of freedom; work for peace with honor.

She said that "whether we accept our responsibilities or not is dependent upon our sense of values. We have need of faith as never before in history." Mrs. Akins admonished her audience to do as the early Christian did, to "out-think the pagans, out-live the pagans, and out-die the pagans."

Better make a good thing better than a bad thing worse.

ADVISE AND CONSENT
Starring HENRY FONDA GENE TIERNEY

For the first time in her varied and successful career, Miss Maclaine does an impersonation—that of a geisha girl, a geisha translated literally is "person of the art"—a demure, cultured, precisely trained entertainer adept in subtlety, delicate song, and the gentler arts of pleasing men. This represents quite a transformation for the feisty, blue-eyed, red-headed, tall, Scots-American actress whose laugh resembles the honk of a small calliope. Compressing the exuberant Shirley into the dimensions of a geisha girl would, therefore, seem to require not only a masterful job on the part of the make-up man, but a real acting accomplishment for the star.

Funeral Services Monday Morning For Artie Bourne, 76

Crappie Hunting in Many Lakes

In the film Miss Maclaine portrays a successful American actress married to a director who goes off to Japan to make an all-Japanese picture. All of his previous films have starred his wife and he is determined to make a name for himself on his own without the assistance of her big box-office name. She, on the other hand, is just as determined to play the lead in his new film even if she has to masquerade as a geisha girl to do it. She succeeds in her purpose but almost loses her husband when, for a few lessons learned in the course of acquiring her geisha-girl know-how.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Winters Church of Christ for Artie Bourne, 76, who died at Winters Municipal Hospital at 9:35 a. m. Saturday. Mr. Bourne had been in failing health several weeks and had been hospitalized only recently. He had suffered a stroke a few hours before his death. A. Hugh Clark, of Lubbock, former minister officiated, assisted by Word Tucker of Winters. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under direction of Spill Funeral Home. Artie Bourne was born in McGregor Jan. 2, 1886, and moved to Killeen, where on Dec. 28, 1886, he married Mary Blackwell. Following their marriage, they lived on a farm at Killeen until 1915 when they moved to Rummels County, settling in the Orasco Community. In 1920, Mr. Bourne and his family moved to Winters, where he operated a grocery store for a short time. He later became the Dodge dealer in Winters, and sold the dealership in 1950. He then operated a grocery store until his retirement in 1955.

Good strings of crappie, or white perch, are now being taken from the waters of Lake Houston, Highland Reservoir and Lake Abilene (Currie Bayou), according to Billy Cooper, Inland Fisheries Supervisor, Region IV. This time of the year before the first blast of cold air arrives is an excellent time for catching the crappie, a favorite game fish in anybody's list. This holds true for all lakes where the panfish can be found. For those not familiar with some lakes, contact the various fishing camps and guides along the shores. They will be happy to steer you to the best crappie holes.

Because several counties will have legal doe deer hunting for the first time in 1962 under a permit system, the Game and Fish Commission today released instructions concerning the procedures for handling the permits. No doe may be taken unless a permit has been issued. The permits are obtained by landowners or their agents by making written application to the Game and Fish Commission. The permits will be issued to the landowners in late October and early November. Before any permits are issued, trained biologists carefully survey the condition of deer herds and determine the number of does that can safely be harvested. The number of permits issued is then determined on the basis of information gained by the survey. Once the permits are issued, hunters learn whether or not permits are available on the property where they are hunting. If the permits are available, the hunter may proceed to take the doe. When a doe is taken, the hunter must obtain one of the permits from the landowner, have it signed, and keep it with the doe until the animal is processed for consumption. At the end of the season, the landowner must turn in the unused permits and the filled-out stubs from all used permits.

Waterways Needed in Rummels SCD To Avoid Erosion

Waterways are often needed in the Rummels Soil Conservation District to carry run-off water to safe points of release without erosion, according to Glen Green, Soil Conservation Service. Green stated there are several factors to be considered when planning a waterway. First, would be the location. Usually the most satisfactory location is in a natural drainage way. Natural land slopes usually confine the water flow to the waterways and eliminate the need for a lot of construction work. Soil type, soil and moisture conditions are more favorable to vegetative growth in the natural drains. Green went on to say that another factor to be considered in building a waterway is the vegetation. The vegetation in a waterway can be the most valuable asset to the farm. He said that native grass used in waterways can and should produce more income per acre than any other part of the farm, if properly managed. There is a big demand for native grass seed. A waterway is a good place to produce these seeds. Because the extra water coming through the waterway will make the grasses produce more.

Native LAMBS are now being processed in the Center of the Southwest

Here, in the very heart of the Nation's largest sheep-producing area, a famous packer has established a lamb processing plant.

Any new industry contributes to the economy. But a new industry which processes a product of the area is doubly important.

We are convinced that this is a growing trend. It has become an important part of our continuing efforts to attract business leaders about our industrial advantages.

It is another reason why we say that we are GROWING UNLIMITED here in the Center of the Southwest.

Winters Voting Boxes Split In Governor's Race

Runnels County went the way of many other West Texas counties in Tuesday's governor's race, with Jack Cox, Republican candidate edging out Democrat John Connally by a mere 19 votes.

But the two Winters boxes, Precincts 7 and 26, were split in this race.

Voters in Precinct No. 7 preferred the Republican candidate, casting 152 votes for Jack Cox and 145 for John Connally. In Precinct No. 26, it was the other way around with Connally receiving 194 votes to Cox's 146. One ballot was cast in No. 7 for Jack Carswell, Constitution Party candidate for governor.

County-wide, Cox received 1283 votes, to Connally's 1264.

Voters in the Wingate box, Precinct No. 10, cast 35 for Connally, and 31 for Cox.

Elsewhere in North Runnels County, results were: Crews, Connally 22, Cox 26; Tokeen, Connally 15, Cox 1; Norton, Connally 32, Cox 23; Cochran, Connally 11, Cox 25; Pumphrey, Connally 18, Cox 10; Dale, Connally 23, Cox 3; Norton, Box 14, Connally 14, Cox 14; Oak Creek, Connally 4, Cox 8.

Democratic candidates for county office had no opposition in the general election.

E. H. Baker Resigns As Local Peace Justice

E. H. Baker, Justice of Peace in Precinct 5 for the past eight years, has resigned because of ill health, it was revealed this week.

Runnels County commissioners court Wednesday accepted Baker's resignation, and indicated they plan to appoint Herman Baker Sr., to fill the vacancy. He is not related to the present justice of the peace. It was reported that Herman Baker must first resign as constable of Precinct 5 and be replaced by another man before the appointment can be made. The constable's position runs out Jan. 1.

Herman Baker Sr., was elected Justice of the Peace, Precinct 5, in Tuesday's election, but would not take office until January. Billy Simpson was elected Constable of Precinct 5 in the election, but his tenure would not begin until January.

E. H. Baker was born Aug. 13, 1886 in Big Flat, Ark., and came to Texas at an early age. After his marriage in 1905, he farmed in Hill County until 1919, then moved to the Drasco community near Winters, where he continued farming until he entered the insurance business and moved to Fort Stockton.

He returned to Winters in 1948, continuing in the insurance business until he retired in 1952. He became justice of peace in 1954.

AROUND THE 6AA FOOTBALL LOOP

This is the season when heads roll. And Stamford contributed their bit to the collection last Friday night, when they were pushed from the perch by the Winters Blizzards. Basking in glory from their top spot in the district, and from the No. 3 spot in State AA, the Bulldogs came tumbling down, but they still have a chance at the District championship, all things considered.

Stamford goes to Ballinger this week, in a game which may decide in a big way which way the wind blows in the district. If they lose to the Bearcats, they will be out of the running.

Winters still is swinging high, wide and handsome, with a perfect score behind them for the season, and two more games to play. They are listed as the No. 3 team in State AA, and are leaders in their own balliwick. District-wise, the Blizzards share top billing with Ballinger. They've marked up a scoring record of 153 to 36 for the season, and 40-19 in the district.

Ballinger, called the Bearcats, have really been sleeping dogs in this AA scrap this year. They've got a 7-1 record for the season, having lost to San Saba back down the line, but have won all three of their games in the district. They have been ignored in State AA until this week, but after beating Hamlin 36-14 in Hamlin Friday night, have been placed in the No. 10 spot in the Star-Telegram rating list. If they deck Stamford Friday night, next week's encounter against the Blizzards will be a tooth-and-tail affair.

Haskell defeated Anson last week, 22-14, to cinch the No. 4 spot, and have a go at Hamlin this week. They have a 5-3 season record, and a 1-2 district total.

Hamlin, also with a 5-3 season score, and an 0-3 district record, shared bottom listing with Anson, district-wise, but is out front of Anson for the year.

Anson, 1-6, faces the Blizzards this week, and will be out to end the Winters drive for glory. They may be down, but they're not counted out, and could give someone trouble in trying to find the answer to the district championship puzzle.

Parents' Group May Be Formed In Winters

An organization which eventually could lead to the formation of some sort of Parent-Teacher organization may be the result of recent meetings of parents and others who have expressed interest in operation of the Winters Schools.

A committee of six parents was selected Monday night to formulate plans for such an organization. They include Wayne Bedford, Dr. Henry McCreight, Jack Hall, James Crockett, Mrs. Ernest Brown and Mrs. Kenneth Knapp.

Many of the approximately 40 persons attending the meeting Monday night at the City Hall had attended a meeting with the school board Oct. 26, complaining of disciplinary measures taken toward several high school students. The school board had voted to "refrain from changing any present action of administration" regarding the matter.

In discussion of the situation Monday night, Mrs. Knapp proposed formation of an organization "to bridge the gap between the parents and teachers and to inform ourselves," and to "cooperate with the schools and find out what we can do as parents." It was pointed out that the "differences of opinion had stemmed from a lack of understanding, and a lack of interest."

Wayne Bedford said the six-member panel would meet in the near future to decide upon a name for the parents organization and to determine goals of the group.

Post Office Will Count Livestock

Rural mail carriers from the Winters Post Office will leave livestock survey cards along their routes beginning Nov. 16, to gather information for the Texas and National pig crop report and inventory of livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year.

"Information reported on these cards is used to set the yearly inventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms," Postmaster Rankin Pace explained.

Rural carriers distribute the cards at random in boxes along their routes.

This means that not every box will get a card, the postmaster pointed out for everyone who gets a card. For this reason, it is important to return it filled out so that the USDA can get a true sample of the State's livestock holdings.

Carriers assisting with the survey are W. S. Cooke, Route 1; Ray L. Hollingshead, Route 2; W. L. Collins, Route 3; W. E. Little, Route 4.

WMS Will Study Book At Meeting Tuesday, Nov. 13

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church will study the book, "New Frontiers in an Old World" by Winston Crawley on Tuesday, November 13, from 6 to 9 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Introduction to the book and a biographical sketch of the author by Mrs. Loucile Roberts will begin the program, followed by the filmstrip, "World Evangelism in East Asia".

Chinese programs and a number of Chinese dishes will be introduced at the pot luck supper. Japanese flower arrangements, Korean flags, and other oriental objects will be displayed.

Following the meal, Mrs. David Carroll will discuss "Good News for Taiwan" and "Hong Kong Training Ground".

Mrs. Joe Irvin will conduct a geography class on Korea and present a feature, "Sounds of Korea", a recording.

The program will be concluded with "Convention in Japan", given by Mrs. George Poe.

Visitors are welcome.

Former Resident Is Named President Of New Delinting Plant

Gerald Proctor of Stamford, former resident of Winters, is president of the new corporation of the Stamford Delinting and Seed Company, and will be manager of the new company at Stamford, according to an item appearing recently in the Stamford American.

The plant will be located at the Stamford airport and the equipment is being manufactured in Lubbock by the man who is the originator of the chemical process for delinting which will be used at the new plant.

The delinting plant is expected to be in operation by December 1, but ample storage space is provided at the plant.

Proctor and his wife, the former Eddie Merle Voelker of Winters, went to Stamford in 1949, where he served the Stamford School as vocational agricultural teacher for two years and then was associated with the Production Credit Association. Since 1953 he has been vocational agriculture teacher at Avoca High School.

Goose Season Now Open

Get out your shotguns and ammo, the goose season is upon us. Shooting hours for this favorite of the waterfowl hunters are from sunrise to sunset on all days including opening day.

Hunters who have been disappointed over the near loss of their duck hunting should be cheered that the goose season, Oct. 31 through Jan. 13, is 15 days longer than last year's season.

The limits for geese will be the same as for 1961 with a five per day daily bag limit, and five in possession. This limit may not include, in the alternative, more than (a) two Canada geese or subspecies; (b) one Canada goose or subspecies and one white-fronted goose; or (c) one white-fronted goose. It may include, in addition, three snows or blues, or it will be possible to have five snows and/or blues with no specs and Canadas.

Fred Austin, Former Blizzard, Out of McMurry Lineup

Fred Austin, of Winters, will not see action in the McMurry-ACC football game Saturday because of an injured ankle, according to information received this week.

Austin, a graduate of Winters High School and a former member of the Blizzard football team, has been a No. 1 fullback on the McMurry Indian squad, also missed last week's game with Arlington States.

Another former Blizzard and member of the McMurry Indians is William Grissom, who plays in the guard position.

"Why Am I Here?" is the subject of next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson. The following is by Amos John Traver: It is God's divine plan to work through men. We are His stewards responsible for devoting our talents to the achievement of His loving purpose.

Paul said, "We are workers together with God." If we do not feel worthwhile purpose in our lives, we have not realized our dignity, our place in God's purpose. If we cannot see God's loving purpose in creation, we can realize it in our redemption. However small our talents and however insignificant our place in the world, each one can say, "Christ died for me, even me." The forces of the universe will be directed for the constructive good of all when with Paul we can declare, "God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Don't let any old greybeard kid you by saying that fishing was better back in the days when he was young. He's as wrong as he can be and you can prove it.

There are a number of reasons why fishing is much better now than it was in frontier times, and why it's going to keep on improving as the years go by.

These factors are contributing to the anglers' joy:

1. Construction of lakes and farm ponds.
2. Introduction of new varieties of fish.
3. Research work done by scientists in the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

When Grandpa was a boy there were relatively few lakes in Texas. Perhaps the most significant was Caddo, where the crappie were to be found.

Now there are lakes all over Texas. They have been created by dams that have been built for water and soil conservation purposes, for irrigation, and for the production of low cost electric power.

These lakes also provide more stable conditions for fish, which formerly suffered (1) when the streams and creeks dried up during drouths and (2) from floods when the rains came.

There were, in the pioneer era, only a few near-ideal places for fish to live.

Example—the spring-fed streams along the Balcones Fault, where the water flow is fairly constant out of the Edwards Plateau limestone.

When the artificial lakes came into being, crappie were introduced in them from Caddo. They flourished . . . thus to provide a new era for the fishermen's pleasure.

White Bass Expansion
Perhaps the most spectacular development has been the spread of white bass in Texas lakes. They were in Caddo Lake, as were the crappie, having reached the lake from the Mississippi drainage system via the Red River.

In 1928, fisheries introduced 28 white bass from Caddo Lake into Lake Dallas. They multiplied fast. From Dallas, they were introduced into other lakes, with the same result.

Except for Texoma, all of the white bass in Texas lakes originated with those original 28 in Lake Dallas. And there were plenty left over to give to our friends in Arizona and California for their stocking purposes.

Texoma's white bass reached there the same way they entered Caddo . . . from the Mississippi via the Red River.

White Crappie are decreasing in numbers, while the black crappie are increasing. That's due to the change in water caused by drainage differences after the construction of Texoma. The water is less alkaline now and more acid. White crappie like alkaline water. Black crappie thrive in acid water.

While we're on the subject of introducing exotic fish into Texas waters, we'd better mention the carp, although some people would rather not.

An Asiatic minnow, the carp was imported to this country in the 1870's and spread all over the nation.

It is now an important commercial fish, condemned by some anglers and blessed by others. It depends on the point of view.

Anyhow, the carp, which propagates fantastically, can get out of hand numerically. It thereby endangers the existence of other fish by consuming so much of the food.

The Texas Game and Fish Commission scientists came up with an answer to that problem in rotenone.

They worked out a system of poisoning with a rotenone solution that will kill carp and other rough fish—such as shad and buffalo—without destroying the game fish. This process has been followed on several lakes with excellent results.

Killing the shad is a fine idea as far as sports fishermen are concerned. Shad are fine food for bass, which often gorge themselves on these bait fish. Then the bass won't respond to the angler's lure.

Remove the shad and the bass have to search for something else to eat. Then they find the angler's lure.

Another fish that has moved around some is the Rio Grande perch.

This fish likes warm water. He can live in your lake or pond, unless it gets too cold. Then he gives up the ghost.

He can live perennially in places where there are springs that give the water a more or less constant temperature.

The Rio Grande perch is another fish about which there is some controversy as to whether he is desirable or not. Personally, I like him. He grows to a decent pan size. He is eminently edible. He will readily grab a worm, when he is of such a mind. And he is as full of fight as a bluegill.

Whether we like it or not, he is here to stay—having found his way from the Rio Grande to more northern waters.

Other importations to Texas have found conditions here not much to their liking.

There are a few trout that thrive in the Guadalupe Mountain streams. Smallmouth bass simply won't do in Texas waters. Northern rock bass have been tried and now live happily in one or two isolated places. Walleyes are not for us.

Everything considered, though, we are in pretty good shape as far as our fishing business is concerned.

In addition to the species mentioned above, Texas has the gallant largemouth bass, the tasty and often hefty catfish, the hard-fighting, delectable bream, and the rugged, sizeable freshwater drum.

It ought to be enough to make a fisherman happy, just to contemplate his prospects.

But to add to his contemplation, he can think about going to the Gulf Coast, where there are more than 200 kinds of fish. These include the speckled trout, the redfish, the pompano, the drum, the ling, and the mackerel.

Also there are tarpon, sails, and others . . . for the sports-man who wants something really big.

Actually—there are about 450 species of fish in Texas waters, both fresh and salt water. Two hundred or more of these are in the fresh water.

For example, there are 30 species of the sunfish, which include the basses, the crappies, and the bream. There are about eleven different kinds of catfish, including the spoonbill, or paddlefish, which is not properly a catfish at all.

The spoonbill is a relic of prehistoric ages, found in the lowlands of East Texas. It's valued for its roe, which goes into making caviar.

Also in East Texas is the little pickerel, only representative of the pike family in this state.

We haven't mentioned gars, which some fishermen pursue for sport; and we haven't said anything about the m . . . are part of the picture as bait.

Yep, we're in a fishing in Texas and—it's getting better
