TOWN

Talk

the end of the rainbow for those who have longed for a modern, well-built school building. This has long been a dream of those who see in such means to a well-planned program for our town. However, it is just a little beyond the reach of that is, unless the WHS football team could make a name for itself by drawing with them a large number of fans. A group of young men—many of them are of the point they did not have been far below the level of the town. It has not been enough to get the town to plan and build a cinder track as has been planned.

Winters school's share of the receipts for the season reached an astronomical $25,806.59 ... $10,973.37 for the four extra expenses. Of course, not all that is clear profit, because there were many expenses to be met. But the remainder was assigned to the athletic department, and enough was left to pay for the expenses of the new facility.

It is in view of the fact that the 1962 football team is largely a relic of the chance to build a facility, a suitable connection could be found for the town. It has already got a "Blizzard Field."

Improvement of approximately 100 inches in this area came as a surprise to most of us. We weren't quite prepared for a blanket of snow on the ground. It also brought some much needed moisture to the farms and roads. About one-half inch, it has been estimated.

A sudden snowfall caught many people unprepared, too. Several people were stopped cold ... when their cars slid the road or refused to budge use of the snow and ice-covered streets and roads. Local business is a landlocked business in this area. The roads were closed for two days ... it was next to impossible to get the buses through snow on icy roads. Some people are stranded, too, until the roads are cleared to their farms. Many in the Victory community ... and wanted to express appreciation to County Commissioner Marvin Mapes and his staff.

Heart Fund Drive Postponed To Friday, Monday

Because of bad weather last Monday, the start of the Heart Fund Drive, scheduled to begin on that day, was postponed to Friday, Feb. 15, and Monday, Feb. 18, according to Mrs. W. L. Collins, chairman.

The drive is being sponsored in Winters by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the VFW Ladies Auxiliary.

Co-chairman for the drive is John Gardner. Other workers who will make the canvass for funds will be Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. James Crockett, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilkerson, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Watson, Mrs. W. E. Arnold, Mrs. La Dola Bates and Mrs. Bernice Mitchell.

The American Heart Association has been able to utilize money collected through the various Heart Fund Drives to finance a great amount of research in the treatment of heart disease.

The most spectacular progress has been in the field of heart surgery and rehabilitation of people who were just recently regarded as hopeless cripples. However, due to the fact that local and district as well as state Heart Fund Agencies keep certain percentages of money collected in each area, local needy citizens who meet certain qualifications will be able to be seen, examined and treatment instituted by representatives of their district Heart Association. If more advanced medical or surgical treatment is indicated in any case, an effort will be made to direct the patient to the proper medical center—as economically as possible.

Heart Fund Drive sponsors here said that it is well for the local citizens to be aware of the fact that at least a percentage of our contributions (about 40-45 percent) do stay in this general area and help to finance treatment to people of this area rather than to people in other parts of the state or nation.

Since the various diseases of the heart and arteries are the leading causes of death from disease in this country contributions to the Heart Fund would be money well spent, it was pointed out, and could easily represent a partial payment on the life of anyone of us or the life of one of our family.

WHS CAGERS — The Winters High School Blizzard basketball team, with a District 6-AA record of 8-1, go into the windup game of the conference tonight (Friday) against the Anson Tigers. If they win, they will have the district championship title; should Anson win, there will be a tie for top place, and a play-off will be necessary. Coached by Jerry English, the WHS basketballers are, left

In Anson Tonight!

Blizzard Cagers Go For 6-AA Title

The Winters High School Blizzard basketball team, and the Anson High School Tiger team, will battle it out on the Anson court for the District 6-AA championship tonight (Friday), with the Blizzards holding a slight edge over the Tigers.

The edge claimed by the Blizzards is a result of a possible tie situation in which the two teams find themselves. The Blizzards, with an 8-1 record, will have another chance at the title, should they lose this game. On the other hand, the Tigers must win this one, or they are out in the cold, already sporting a 7-2 record.

If the Blizzards take tonight's game, they will advance to bi-district play against District 5AA Seymour, with a chance of entering regional contests in Lubbock.

If the Anson team wins tonight, the two squads will be tied, and a play-off will be held to determine the District 6-AA representative for further competition. Coach Jerry English of the Blizzards said he did not know if a possible play-off would be a single "sudden death" game, or a best-two-out-of-three series.

Winters' only loss in district play was to Stamford, which team upset the Blizzards 57-49 on January 18. One of Anson's losses was to Stamford, 48-38 in the early days of district competition. The Tiger's other loss was to the Blizzards 46-44 in their first encounter in the mid-term of the season.

Sailing out front for most of the season, the Blizzards won their seventh, against Hamlin 55-49 last Friday night. In that game, Herbie Russell's 17 points led for Winters; Bedford was 6 0 12; Sneed, 3 3 9; Dunnam 2 2 6; Young 3 5 11; totals 20 15 55.

Winters did it again Tuesday night, polishing off Haskell 58-45. Against the Indians, Herbie Russell again paced the victors with 33 points. Others were Bedford 2 3 8; Sneed 1 3 5; Dunnam 4 3 11; Young 0 2 2; totals 21 16 58.

In Anson last Friday night, the ever-hard-to-kill Tigers came from behind to clip Stamford 51-49, hanging onto their place in the District 6-AA sun.

While Winters was finishing off Haskell Tuesday night, Anson rolled past the cellar-bound Ballinger Bearcats 60-46.

Blizzard Coach Jerry English said that attendance at homestand games this season has been very encouraging, and that the team has received much help from fans. He said that he hoped to see many Winters fans in the bleachers for the Winters-Anson game at Anson Friday night. "This team is deserving of the best support Winters fans have," he said, "and we'd like to see all of them in Anson for the season's crucial game."

Athletics Pay Off!

Contract Signed For Cinder Track

The athletic program pays for athletic facilities in the Winters Independent School system.

Monies which poured into the coffers of the athletic fund during the past football season, from the high school football team went to semi-finals, will be used to finance a project which has been needed in the athletic department of the Winters school for a long time.

The Winters School Board has contracted with Bontke Brothers Construction Co. of Abilene, to build a modern cinder athletic track on the location of the present dirt track on the school-owned property just north and across the highway from the football stadium.

According to Superintendent of Schools James B. Nevins, plans call for a six-lane circular track with an eight-lane straightaway to be constructed between curbs. The entire construction will consist of grading, a four-inch layer of base material of crushed rock, and a three-inch topping of cinders.

Construction is expected to be begun within two weeks and be completed within 30 days.

Cost of construction will be approximately $14,000, which will be borne primarily by the athletic fund.

The whole track area will be enclosed with a five-foot, 9-gauge cyclone fence, construction of which has been contracted by Winters Lumber Co., Supt. Nevins said.

When construction of the cinder track is completed, the Winters

Schools can boast of facilities adequate to handle most any large track meet, even some college track events if the opportunity arises, Supt. Nevins said. It will be one of the most modern athletic tracks in the area, he said.

McMurry Trio Will Sing At Banquet Here

A trio of girls from McMurry College, Abilene, will present a musical program at the annual Sweetheart Banquet at the First Methodist Church Saturday evening. It has been announced.

The girls are Karen Striebel, a sophomore from Abilene; Mollie Bynum, a sophomore from Carlsbad, N. M., and Martha Webb, a junior from Abilene.

Ex-WHS Student Wins Track Event

Bill Miller, student at McMurry College, Abilene, and a graduate of Winters High School, won his third straight broad jump title with a record-breaking leap of 24-7 1/4 Saturday night in the third annual Will Rogers Indoor Games in Fort Worth.

Miller, jumping for the first time this year, cleared 23-6 1/2, 24-1 1/2, 24-7 1/4, and 24-3 on his four jumps, breaking his old record of 24 feet on three of the four attempts.

Miller was prominent in high school athletics while a student at Winters High School.

February 19 Date Set For Winters Pre-School Roundup

Tuesday, Feb. 19, has been set as the date for the annual pre-school clinic for all students planning to attend school for the first time next September, James B. Nevins, superintendent of schools, has announced. The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

All parents are urged to attend their child in a smooth start in next year's first grade, Supt. Nevins said. The meeting has been scheduled earlier than usual in order to help verify any six year olds omitted from the recent census rolls.

Parents who have previously enumerated six year olds will receive a card of invitation. However, those who are omitted or new in this district are urged and invited to attend and bring their children, Supt. Nevins said.

The Rannels County School Nurse, Mrs. Fred Young, will schedule examinations during the same week, and parents will receive announcements and bulletins that will assist next year's first grade pupils.

All children who will be six years of age on or before next September 1 are invited to visit the school at this pre-school roundup, and become acquainted with the cafeteria, playgrounds and school rooms for next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bridwell of Fort Worth spent last week-end here visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bridwell.

New Salesman For A-C Milling & Grain Co.

Charles E. Sewell, of Abilene, has been named to the Sales Staff of Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Co., of Winters, it was announced this week.

Sewell will serve the eastern part of the territory of the company. Sewell is well known to farmers and stockmen in this area. For several years he was district salesman for Purina Mills, and worked with the Extension Service in Bexar County. He attended school in Abilene, and is a graduate of Texas A. and M. College.

Record Crowds Visit Displays Of Industries

An estimated 3,000 persons visited the lobby of the Winters State Bank Friday and Saturday to view the displays of the many "Made-In-Winters" items. The event was a joint undertaking of the bank and the several local manufacturing concerns.

John Q. McAdams, president of the bank, who sponsored the idea of presenting to the local public a sample of Winters' manufacturing, said he was very "satisfied with the cooperation received from all concerned" in the presentation of the exhibits.

McAdams said that many people visiting the exhibit exclaimed that they "had no idea of what Winters was doing" in the way of manufacturing. He said that that was the main reason behind the exhibit event, to "show the people what is being done, and what can be done, on a local level to promote the progress of Winters."

Many people from out of town visited the exhibit during the two-day showing. Among them were Harold M. Falkner and E. A. Thaxton, both of the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas, and Joe Kennedy and Gerald W. McCoy, both of the First National Bank in Dallas.

Visitors to the exhibit were asked to register, and a drawing was held at the end of each day, with a $100 U. S. Saving Bond presented to the person whose name was drawn. Mrs. Lewis M. Mitchell won the bond for the Friday drawing, and Neal Oakes won the bond Saturday.

Exhibiting products during the two-day showing were Winters Manufacturing Co., Dry Manufacturing Co., Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Co., Sparkle-Life, Inc., A. B. Spill Machine Shop, Kozelsky Cabinet Shop, Bill Wilson's Fiddle Shop, Pan-American Sales Co., and Commercial Feeders, Inc.

Benefit Cage Game To Feature Faculty Versus Footballers

A benefit basketball game, introducing the best men the Winters High School faculty has to offer, versus the senior 1962 Blizzard football team semi-finalists, has been scheduled for next Thursday night, Feb. 21, in the High School gymnasium.

The game is being sponsored by the Winters High School track team, with proceeds going to buy equipment for track. Admission will be 50 cents for adults, and 25 cents for students.

Game will begin at 7:30 p.m., preceded by an intersquad seventh grade game at 6:30.

An attempt will be made by Weldon Middleton to coach the faculty team; he also will play. Faculty team will be composed of Coaches L. G. Wilson, Jerry English, Robert James and Bill Bryant, and faculty members, Edwin Robbins, Lon McDonald, Kenneth Durst, David Ledbetter, Clifford Irvin, Jim Jones, James Powers.

The Footballers squad will be made up of Alvis (Killer) Jackson, Tommy (Slick) Alfrey, Eugene (Big Daddy) Mathis, Wayne (Boom Boom) Bailey, Roland (Punchey) Tekell, Tommy (Goose) Burton, Johnny (Happy) Hopper, Adolpho (Tricky) Arroyo, Willie (Freckles) Green, James (Lover Boy) Burleson, and Richard (Rich) McMullan.

ATTENDED FUNERAL

Mrs. Charles Chapman spent the week end in Fort Worth and Dallas with her sisters, Mrs. W. A. Welsh of Fort Worth, Mrs. H. J. E. Drummond of San Antonio. They all spent the day in Dallas in the home of Dr. W. A. Welsh, pastor of the East Dallas Christian Church and attended the funeral of his wife.

INDUSTRY EXHIBIT—The lobby of the Winters State Bank was overrun by visitors who came to view the many "Made-In-Winters" products on display during the two-day Industrial Exhibit last Friday and Saturday. It was estimated that approximately 3,000 people visited the exhibit, the first of its kind for Winters. Many out-of-town visitors were present during the showing. Shown in the lobby of the bank are, seated, John Q. McAdams, president of the bank and promotor of the event, Gattis Neely, vice president of the bank, Homer Hodge, of Sparkle-Life, Inc., one of the exhibitors, behind the desk, Bill Wilson, of Bill's Fiddle Shop, also one of the exhibitors. (Photo by Little)

Question Legality of Constitutional Amendment On Women's Rights

By Vern Sanford, Texas Press Association

Lawyers are wondering if the Texas Senate really passed a constitutional amendment resolution proposing that the voters give women equal rights.

Records show that this resolution passed the Senate 26-5. But it also shows that the Senate voted down an amendment which would have made it clear that the purpose of the proposal was to repeal all laws on the statute books which treat women differently from men.

When courts interpret the laws and the constitution, legislative intent is what they must determine. Records now show that the legislative intent of the Senate was not to repeal all the discriminatory laws about women.

This proposal by Sen. William T. Moore of Bryan, has been defeated in the Senate many times before.

tax may be on its way to extinction.

Committee gave a non-to-two approval of Laredo Sen. Abraham Kazen's bill to submit to the people a constitutional amendment that would kill the poll tax as of February 1, 1965.

The two "no" votes in committee came from Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas and Sen. Gallo-way Calhoun Jr. of Tyler.

"Ayes" came from Sens. Kazen, Charles Herring of Austin, Roy Harrington of Port Arthur, Don Kennard of Fort Worth, Culp Krueger of El Campo, Walter Richter of Gonzales, Aaron Schwartz of Galveston, Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Jack Strong of Long-view.

If Kazen's bill passes the full legislature, voters would make the final decision in the 1964 general election. So far, every state that has voted on the federal constitutional amendment to do away with poll taxes, except Mississippi has voted to drop it.

'COLOR-BLIND' TAX

Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth introduced a bill to make the poll tax "color blind."

Green called the race notation on voter registration forms useless and outmoded. Furthermore, "It is an additional bar to full citizenship."

He believes his bill will pass with little opposition, but there are many who consider the race notation a necessary aid to voter identification.

ANTI-POLLUTION BILL

A bill to give a county health officer the power to enter and check business establishments and manufacturing plants "to discover threats to the public health" from air or water pollution was revived by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston. He failed to get it passed in previous sessions.

Governor Connally is supporting the new bill.

ATTORNEY GENERAL DONATIONS OPPOSED

Contributions from oil companies to finance investigations by the attorney general to see if competitor's oil wells are slanted would be outlawed under a bill introduced by Rep. Ben Barnes of De-Leon.

Nearly $300,000 in contributions from major—and some minor—oil companies was used by former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to make such surveys in East Texas. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr told Representative Barnes that the $300,000 recently appropriated by the legislature will be sufficient for his investigations.

So Barnes filed a proposal which would make it illegal for the attorney general to accept money from anyone to investigate or prosecute anything.

PARENTAL PAY PLAN

Fifty per cent of a man's weekly wages could be attached to pay child support if Tyler Rep. Ben Jarvis' bill becomes a constitutional amendment.

COUNTY UNIT CHANGE PROPOSED

Rep. George T. Hinson of Mineola thinks it's time someone started doing something about "modernizing county government." So he has introduced a bill to require county commissioners to be elected by the county at large. Each county precinct would have to put up resident candidates, which, Hinson explained, would assure continued local representation through pooled knowledge of each precinct's problems, and prevent the largest community from filling a commissioners court with its own residents.

Hinson believes his county-at-large election plan would get commissioners from all precincts to work at all times for the best interests of the entire county.

If his bill becomes law, Hinson sees it as a forerunner to eventual, economical pooling of the resources—capital, road machinery, manpower and equipment—of all a county's precincts into one central unit.

DO 'EYES' HAVE IT?

A proposal by Rep. Bill Walker of Cleveland that the state song be changed from "Texas, Our Texas" to "The Eyes of Texas" has been referred to a study committee which includes no Texas eyes.

Subcommittee chairman Gene Hendryx of Alpine is a Sul Ross graduate. One member, Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth, finished at T.C.U., and the third member is an ex-Aggie—Rep. Richard C. Slack of Pecos.

Some interested legislators have suggested that the "Eyes of Texas" might be made more palatable if the opening bars of the "Aggie War Hymn" were added.

But a state association of music clubs has indicated that the Aggies aren't the only ones opposed to a change of the state anthem.

A & M DIRECTORS NAMED

An ex-Aggie, a "Harvard man," and a graduate of Case Institute of Technology were named by Governor Connally to six-year terms on Texas A & M College's board of directors.

L. F. (Pete) Peterson of Fort Worth, recently named president of A & M's Former Students Association; Gardiner Symonds, head of Tennessee Gas Transmission Company of Houston, who received a master's degree from Harvard; and Case graduate Dr. A. P. Beutel, director of Dow Chemical Company, are Connally's nominations.

Senate will vote on seven other college board appointments this week. But the date it will consider the A & M appointments has not been set.

BEACH BEHAVIOR

"We have a terrible situation in regard to littering on Padre Island," says Nueces County Judge Noah Kennedy.

Kennedy and two other Corpus Christi officials appeared before a House committee to speak in favor of a bill by Rep. James Lattimore of Corpus Christi which would allow Gulf Coast counties to regulate speeding and littering on public beaches.

Notched Crow Caller

It's a ring-tail nuisance to drop your caller every time you lift your gun to shoot.

Crow hunters will find it very convenient if they notch the top and the bottom of the caller mouthpiece. When it comes time to shoot you can clamp the caller between your teeth. Then you do not have to drop the caller when you use your gun.

Flashbulb Fishing Corks

These days most fishermen carry a camera and flashgun with them on fishing trips. When you snap flash pictures don't throw away the used bulbs. Save them. They make great fishing corks.

No matter whether you use M5's, Press 25's or the little M2's, the bulbs are easily attached to the line by the grooves. With the little M2's three or four split shot used as sinkers are ideal. Use more sinkers with the larger bulbs.

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt's hobby was stamp collecting.

Andrew Jackson's home was called "The Hermitage."

Damage Done By Shot

Many hunters are either too lazy, too negligent, or don't care enough to clean their game promptly after shooting it. This holds doubly true in warm weather.

Failure to promptly clean birds or other game can result in flavor-spoilage of meat due to shot bruising.

Field dressing is messy, it's inconvenient, but it sure means better meat on the table after you get home.

When Outboards Get Wet
One of the greatest gripes on a fishing trip is when your outboard motor gets drowned out by another boat's wake.

For just such emergencies carry a small quantity of carbon tetrachloride with you at all times. Then, should your ignition system get wet, whether from immersion or just plain water condensation, pour a little of the solution over the plugs and connections.

It's not dangerous to use and it dries out the ignition system pronto.

BABSON Population Growths Based On Natural Resources, Man's Determination

The key to two important economic indicators, population and trend, for the tremendous growth of California, Arizona, and Texas, makes us wonder if the available natural resources are approaching the point where further growth and development is hindered. However, the recent history of the heartland states, he will find the reasons for impressive growth.

History of Oklahoma

Less than 1870, Oklahoma (Indian Territory) was a white residents. In 1890, the population of Oklahoma was 11,000. By 1960 this "wild west" state had grown from a few hundred to over 200 million people. Petroleum and natural gas have been discovered in Oklahoma. The state is now producing more than 1,123 million barrels of oil and 7,456 million cubic feet of natural gas.

Increase in Profits Hinged To Stock Reduction

Reduce stocking rates to increase profits. Sounds impossible? It has been proved to be correct by research and field experience, according to Maynard Hill, Range Conservationist, with the local Soil Conservation Service.

Heavy stocking produces a higher total income, but a lower net income when compared to moderate or proper stocking. Proper stocking increases net income by reducing expenses and increasing production. Practically all operating costs are reduced due to fewer animals. Research and experience have shown that moderate stocking increases production through better weight gains and larger lamb and calf crop.

Proper stocking rates are variable, depending upon climatic conditions, soils, topography and numerous other factors. They vary from ranch to ranch and from year to year. Not more than half of the current year's growth of grass should be used because research has found that 90 percent of the food value is in the top half of a grass plant. And, too this leaves enough of the grass cover to protect the soil from wind and water erosion. This cover also will help make efficient use of the rain when it does come.

Time To Get Ready To Seed Pasture

Now is the time to get ready to seed that pasture, says Jake Presley, Chairman of the Runnels Soil Conservation District. He said a lot of the native grassland in the District can be improved, if needed, by seeding adapted grasses.

Beer Can Target

If you can't afford a commercial beer can hurler, how about improvising one of your own?

This can be done by tying a can to the line of your spin casting rig, or bait casting outfit. Stand behind the shooter and cast the can forward over his shoulder into the air. Change the direction of cast for variety. Casts of over 100 feet can be made this way. You'll find it lots of fun.

National Honor Society Induction At School Feb. 7

"A Time For Greatness" provided the central idea for Winters High School's National Honor Society induction Thursday, Feb. 7. Large glittered letters on the apron of the stage, "A Time For Greatness," made the theme of the coming program apparent.

After the parents and students were assembled and seated, the National Honor Society program was introduced. The curtain rose on a dimly lighted stage, predominantly cast with hues of blue. Four stylized symbols for telling time suspended from "trusters" ranged from up-stage right to down-stage, left.

The first of the symbols was a large brightly colored sun with extending rays. Beneath the sun stood an Indian in native costume. The scene was symbolic of man's beginning method of telling time from the position of the sun. It emphasized the era when men excelled in traits of service, as the tribesmen rendered his service to the tribe. The second of the stage features was a toga-clad scientist standing beneath a large sun dial. This was symbolic of the period when time telling took on the precision which has helped scientists to advance as leaders in our age. It centered attention on the quality of leadership.

A third symbol gave emphasis to the era of learning and scholarship. A colonial girl, costumed appropriately, stood below a large colorful hour glass which marked the moments of his study. The quality of good scholarship revealed itself during the speech of this era.

Down left stage marked the final, all-important point of emphasis. A large modern metallic clock hung above a student of today, dressed in graduation cap and gown, symbolizing the era when the character of a student must excel in order for our country's success and survival.

As key speeches were presented, a spotlight fell on the indicated symbol and student. After the speeches were given: One on leadership; character; service; and scholarship, the list of candidates were read by the secretary of the organization and called to the stage. The candidates were given the pledge along with the old members and were duly installed as members of the Winters' chapter of the National Honor Society. The ceremony was concluded with a prayer.

Parents of the new members and old members were honored with a tea in the Home Economics cottage after the ceremony.

Students elected to membership were Lynn Mitchell, Judy Smith, Charles Bahman, Barbara Baldwin, Russell Bedford, Alan Benson, Andres Bishop, Linda Easterly, Nicki Erf, Earl Green, Mike Hill, Ronald Kratz, and Mike Mitchell.

Billy M. Pumphrey, junior journalism student at the University of Texas, was recently initiated into the undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national men's professional journalism fraternity.

Initiation ceremonies were held in the Journalism Building Sunday evening. Following the initiation ceremony the chapter attended a banquet at El Toro Restaurant.

Sigma Delta Chi is the oldest, largest, and most select professional organization in journalism. It was founded at DuPauw University in 1909 and the Texas Chapter was founded in 1913.

HEALTH LETTER

Despite the fact that an effective diphtheria toxoid has been available to everyone for many years, there is still an undercurrent of diphtheria cases occurring in Texas.

At the end of September, 1962 there had been seven deaths in Texas attributed to diphtheria. In 1961, because of a series of isolated outbreaks, the death toll from this disease reached 23.

By the end of the first week in December, 1962, 80 cases had been reported to the State Health Department's Communicable Diseases Division.

For the same period in 1961, the total was more than doubled—201 cases.

State Health Department authorities speculate that the reason for this undercurrent of diphtheria cases is the fact that victims had not been immunized.

Most pediatricians suggest as a matter of course that their very young patients receive the diphtheria toxoid in combination with other vaccines and that periodic boosters be administered according to a schedule prescribed by your family doctor.

Immunity against the disease can be determined with the Schick test—developed by Dr. Bela Schick, but scheduled boosters are often used in place of Schick testing.

The disease occurs most frequently among children between the ages of one and 10, but can strike an entire family unprotected with diphtheria toxoid.

It is spread from sneezing and coughing of a convalescent or other carrier, or less frequently, from contaminated articles. Diphtheria may develop within two to seven days following exposure.

Common symptoms include a sore throat, fever, drowsiness, headache, and vomiting. If such symptoms occur, and there is a chance that the person had been exposed, a physician should be called immediately.

The disease is not only dangerous and sometimes fatal, but damaging after effects can be serious and long lasting, or even permanent.

Immediate treatment is necessary to avert possible disaster. Medical care under close supervision of a doctor should be maintained until the patient is pronounced well.

Use Reel As Rod-Winder

Rods need attention once in a while. Especially the windings.

You probably won't do too much rod-winding, but when you do, be it either as an emergency job, or just in the general order of repairs, your spinning reel will make a mighty good rod-winder.

Add to the line on your spinning reel enough thread to do the job at hand. Clamp reel to your bench and slip the thread behind the ball. Set the anti-reverse. Then set the tension to whatever you like.

Untangling "Birdsnests"

Monofilament that stubbornly resists finger picking when you get a "birdsnest" in the line usually yields to a toothpick.

Use the round kind with tapered ends.

Carry a few of these toothpicks with you when you go spin fishing. Seldom do you get such a bad line tangle that you can't free it with this useful little stick of wood.

Today hogs go to market 2 weeks sooner, at 12 lbs. heavier weight—and on 10% less feed than they did just 10 short years ago.

Time they need much to a hog, but it does to the farmer. It's easy to figure—that 10 lbs. of pork and 10 lbs. of feed costs a month. These savings are a result of continuous research with thousands and thousands of hogs. Every Purina hog feed is research-proved and self-sustaining for 100 months.

Most of us believe in thrift, but many of us don't save more than is necessary—thinking that by more we get more. But sometimes this is not true. You can make a most natural-looking blind by planting mulch in a fast-growing shrub. It will grow around a wooden frame and make a stream bank that improves later.

Miller is a fast grower, but it must have a spring rise and summer drying.

If planting is done about three months before duck season, you'll have a thick growth of grasses and staff that's just right in height, ready for the fall shooting.

Car-Top Boat Storage

Outdoorsmen often have a problem storing their car-top boats. This can be done easily if the hunter or fisherman will mount a 400 or 500 pound capacity block and tackle to the center beam of his garage.

Then simply drive the car into the garage, hook on the tackle and raise the boat off the top of the car high enough to be out of the way.

This safely stores the boat out of the way until the next trip.

Texas Cotton Men Increase Use of Cost Cutting Practices

The 7-Step Cotton Program, initiated 17 years ago by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, continues to play an important role in the agricultural economy of the state. The program brings together on the county and state levels committees representing every segment of the cotton industry and all have worked together for needed improvements, says Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist.

A summary of Elliott's annual report points out a few of the outstanding results of the 1962 educational program. More than 44,000 growers were assisted in fitting cotton into a balanced farming program. A 7-Step or similar program building committee was used by 139 counties to carry cotton information to growers. More than 1,650 meetings attended by over 36,000 producers were held by county agents, committeemen and extension specialists at which latest information on production, harvesting and processing were discussed and field tours numbered well over 500 were attended by almost 11,500 persons.

Elliott estimates that about three-fourths of the cotton acreage was harvested in 1962 by machines. He said, 6,777 spindle-type pickers were used in 103 counties and 37,540 stripper-type machines were used in 156 counties. The use of spindle pickers was up considerably from 1961.

A very noticeable jump in lateral oiling for grass and weed control from about 86,000 acres in 1961 to 283,388 acres in 1962 was listed as a major achievement. Other practices which aided in cutting production costs were listed by Elliott as 65,710 rotary-hoe equipped tractors; spot oiling for Johnsongrass control; dalapon was used on 122,000 acres to spot treat the same grass and defoliant or desiccants were used on more than 82,000 farms in 164 counties as an aid to mechanical harvesting.

Moisture meters were used in 37 counties as an aid to improve harvesting and ginning. The use of flame cultivators increased and more than 3,300 were used in 77 counties to control weeds and grass and pre-emergence chemicals were used on more than 46,800 acres in 68 counties.

Meeting On Screw Worm Drive Set For Today, 2 P. M.

A meeting to explain the current drive to raise funds for the eradication of screwworms in livestock has been planned for 2 p.m. this afternoon (Friday), in the district court room in Ballinger, it was announced this week. Elliott Kemp of Ballinger is county chairman of the screwworm eradication program.

The eradication program, designed to protect the stockman from the expensive damage done to livestock by the screwworm, is a "self-help" program, with livestock owners contributing to the fund.

Early reports indicate that livestock producers and sportsmen are giving their all-out support to the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation's drive to prevent the screwworm Eradication Program from having to be terminated because of the exhaustion of funds. Even some California livestockmen have sent in their contribution for $500.

The Foundation has set its sights on collecting the remaining $1 million of their $3 million goal by March 1 and is conducting an intensive campaign to achieve that goal. By that date, the $2 million already collected will be practically expended and the program may have to be stopped, if no other collections are made. Federal funds cannot be used unless they are at least matched by State and private money.

Stockmen have been asked to contribute as much as 50 cents per head of cattle owned, and 10 cents per head for sheep. Response was very encouraging last year when the program was initiated, it was reported, but more money is needed if the program is to continue.

C. T. Parker, Runnels County farm extension agent, has been working with stockmen in this program, and has asked that local stockmen make their contributions to the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation. Any bank in the county will accept the money or it can be sent directly to the county committee.

Marvin J. Bridges, executive director of the Foundation, said he had personally talked to the majority of the county animal health chairmen during recent weeks, and judging from their comments, he is confident the livestock industry will rise to the challenge that is facing it. Bridges said some of the counties have already collected up to 50 percent as much as they had in the previous drive.

Governor John Connally recently stated he would await the result of the fund drive before considering an emergency appropriation by the State Legislature. He said he believes the livestock producers and sportsmen have an obligation to fulfill their commitment, and to demonstrate that belief he gave a personal contribution, the second as a Texas rancher.

The Foundation's president, C. G. Scruggs, said the Governor's statement makes it imperative that the money be raised by March 1. Every livestock producer, regardless if he had donated before or not, will be asked to contribute again.

"We cannot afford to let this valuable program die just when its success is so readily apparent," Scruggs remarked. He pointed out that screwworms in 1962 has been almost totally confined to the Southwestern states, whereas in the previous year, 17 states reported infestation. He urges livestockmen to contact their local county animal health committee and make their donation immediately.

Bridges, the executive director of the Foundation, said that "the chips are down, and we all realize the terrific job that lies ahead. The eyes of the nation are upon Texas watching if it will succeed or fail in one of its most ambitious undertakings."

Runnels County Agent Parker said that millions of dollars are lost each year by stockmen because of the damage done by the screwworm. The eradication program will pay its own way once the program is underway, he pointed out.

Narrow Row Cotton Planting Shows Much Promise

What could prove to be a major break through in more efficient cotton production has been demonstrated at the Lubbock sub-station of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The new production technique is narrow-row planting and the use of chemicals for weed control.

Elmer Hudspeth, Jr., of USDA's Agricultural Research Service, stationed at the Lubbock Station planted cotton, under irrigation, in nine-inch rows and applied a pre-emergence herbicide for weed control. He harvested more than two bales from the one-acre plot without a single cultivation. A check planted in the usual 40-inch rows produced from one and a half to one and three-quarter bales an acre.

Further tests will determine whether narrow-row planting of irrigated cotton can help farmers cut production cost by increasing yields and eliminating cultivation.

Hudspeth said weeds didn't have a chance in the narrow-row plots. The herbicide controlled their early growth and the plant shading took care of later growth.

The narrow-row planting was done with a grain drill. Hudspeth grew more than 200,000 plants on the acre compared with about 30,000 in 40-inch rows. Each plant produced only three or four bolls, but the dense planting helped raise the total yield. The closely spaced plants were short with few branches and thin stems, and were more ideally adapted to stripper harvesting than normal spaced plantings.

Both the narrow and wide-row plots were sprinkler irrigated three times with three inches of water. The water activated the herbicide and aided seed germination. Both received the same fertilizer treatment—80 pounds of nitrogen and 40 pounds of phosphorus per acre applied before planting. A stripper harvester was used on both plots.

Hudspeth said close plantings may not work in humid areas of the cotton belt where boll rot is a problem. Quality tests, he added, are being made on the cotton harvested from the narrow-row planting and will be announced later.

crew for their work in clearing the roads in that community. Others are equally appreciative.

About four or five years ago, a couple visiting us from one of the northern states were treated to a spectacle of Texas weather: Within a few hours they witnessed a sand storm, sunshine, rain, sleet, and snow. To clinch it, this past weekend another couple from the same state—the first visitors' parents—saw the same kind of weather, except for the sand storm.

We certainly hope they don't return to their native state with the idea that we can pull weather out of the hat on a moment's notice . . . the effort the first two times was far too exhausting.

The warm weather before the snowstorm was excuse for some of the most daring to take off for the hills on a snake hunt. Dee Waggoner, Al Scates and Van Whittenburg poked around on Table Top Mountain, north and east of Winters, Saturday, and returned with five big rattlers. They were big 'uns, too . . . from 4 to 5 feet long, as thick as a man's arm, sporting from 7 to 11 rattles. The hunters said that there are plenty more where they came from, and they are going back to bring 'em in.

We're forced to recall, back a good many years ago, when we were a streamlined-built-for-speed 125-pounder, we roamed the hills and canyons of Dickens County with Cecil Fox of Spur, before he became a game warden, catching snakes. In those days, we used a long stick with a wire loop on the end to catch the critters and bring 'em back alive. Of course we'd hesitate doing that now . . . they don't seem to build snake-catching sticks as long these days. In fact, it'd take two hefty men with big sticks to persuade us to get out and hunt rattlers these days.

The Enterprise has received the following from Odell Denton, a member of the Ballinger Fire Department:

"The Ballinger Volunteer Fire Department and the citizens of Ballinger would like to thank everyone involved in the (recent) rescue work at the Valley Creek Lake at Ballinger. Thanks to (the Winters) Emergency and Rescue Squad for their assistance in manpower and equipment used in the rescue work.

"If at any time the Ballinger Fire Department and Emergency Squad can be of assistance to your city, let us know and we will be at your aid as soon as possible."
