Winters C. of C. Plans Open House For New Quarters

Directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, in regular meeting Tuesday morning, made plans to hold open house in the newly remodeled offices of the chamber of commerce on West Dale Street. Remodeling work is about completed, and plans are to return to the West Dale location next Monday.

Open house in the remodeled office will be held Friday, April 12, from 2 to 5 p. m., it was announced. Members of the board will be hosts during the afternoon of the open house.

In making plans to move back to the permanent quarters, officials of the organization pointed out that Winters Independent School District voters should remember that the office will remain on North Main Street, in the old location of the West Texas Utilities Co., through Saturday, April 6. The annual school election will be held in that building on Saturday.

Also discussed during Tuesday morning's meeting was a project which will include an electric sign of some sort to be placed on the lawn of the City Hall on which information about the city will be included. Also, welcome signs to be erected on highways leading to Winters were discussed.

The Streets and Highways committee made a report on their activities, and will have more to report at a later date, it was stated.

Jesus Fulfills His Mission is the subject for next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson. The memory selection is: For this reason the Father Loves Me, because I lay down my life, that I may take it again. — John 10:17. The following is by Lyndon B. Phifer: "In one of the stained-glass windows of the great cathedral in Cologne, West Germany, there is a representation of the descent from the cross. In this picture one of the group of bystanders has picked up the crown of thorns which had fallen from Jesus' head. He is pressing a finger upon the point of a thorn as if trying to imagine what it would be like to wear the thorny diadem on his brow. As we re-read the story of the cross, perhaps we can appreciate more fully God's love.

Mrs. W. E. Hudson Died At Stewart Nursing Home

Mrs. W. E. Hudson, 84, resident of this section of Runnels County for 63 years, died at the Stewart Nursing Home in Abilene at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. She had been ill for the past three weeks.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at Spill Memorial Chapel at 2:30 o'clock, with the Rev. Melvin Byrd, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church in Abilene, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Thomas J. Young of View. Burial was in Northview Cemetery and nephews were pallbearers.

She was born Adelia Hardy, daughter of the late Thomas M. and Sarah Kennedy Hardy, on February 21, 1879 in Limestone County. She was married there to W. E. Hudson December 19, 1895. The family moved to Taylor County in 1898, settling in the Moro Community and in 1900 they moved to Runnels County, locating in the Drasco Community where she continued to live until 1940, when she moved to Winters. Her husband died July 24, 1935.

In 1950 she went to live with her daughters, spending most of the time with Mrs. Clara Morris, who died in 1958. She then lived with Mrs. Gene Virden in the Drasco Community until moving to the Rest Home last January.

She was a member of the Winters First Baptist Church.

Farm Census Now Underway In Runnels County

About half the farms and ranches in Runnels and Tom Green Counties are being visited by census takers this week in the second and concluding phase of the special Census of Agriculture being conducted by the Bureau of the Census.

The special census is part of a search for the most effective and economical methods of gathering data, to help decide which method will be used in the nation-wide Census of Agriculture to be conducted in 1964. Runnels and Tom Green Counties are two of only six counties in the entire Nation in which tests are being conducted this month by the Bureau of the Census.

In the first phase of the test, beginning in late February, farmers and ranchers in Runnels and Tom Green Counties were mailed farm census questionnaires and were asked to fill out and return them by mail. Response to the mail phase of the test census was good, according to Mrs. Mildred Steindorf, of the Dallas Regional Office of the Census Bureau, who is supervising the special census. As explained by Census officials, the reason for having census takers visit the farms and ranches is to complete the information that is being collected. In cases where the farmer filled out his form completely, the census taker will only make sure that the farm and its operator are accurately identified. At farms from which no forms or incomplete forms were received, the census taker will ask for the information needed to complete the questionnaire.

The census takers will carry Government identification cards. The information provided to them will be confidential, as the law provides. It cannot be used for taxation or regulatory purposes. Enumerators who will visit farms in Runnels County are: Mrs. Annie L. Carlton of Maverick, Mrs. Harvey Mae Faubion of Winters, Mrs. Lydia M. Bradford of Wingate, and Mrs. Annie Mae Cox of Winters. In Tom Green County: Roy E. Bird of Knickerbocker, Claud W. Hinnant Jr., of San Angelo, and Urban D. Welch of San Angelo. The crew leader is Freddie Tidmore of Maverick.

Michigan was the first state to ratify the amendment repealing prohibition.

Watch Now For Screwworms

Spring weather over most of Texas means livestockmen are facing a busy season when calving, farrowing, shearing, dehorning and the many other animal husbandry activities are occurring. It could also mean screwworm activity may not be too far in the future, especially if producers are not careful in handling animals and treating wounds, eradication officials state.

The many open wounds, so attractive to the screwworm fly, that now exist because of the normal spring livestock activities make many areas of the state a "veritable tinderbox" for infestation, eradicators warn. They urge producers to carefully treat every wound, whether a small nick or scratch or a large open cut, making certain that the insecticide used gets down in the center of the wound and is not drained away by blood. Spraying livestock with a solution of 0.25 percent Corval or 0.5 percent ronnel (Korlan) every two or three weeks, is also recommended.

Officials warn of the danger of moving screwworm-infested animals, a practice which could help the pest spread quickly into non-infested areas. State regulations prohibit the transportation of livestock before they have been checked for infestation and certified. This applies to livestock being moved from areas south of the screwworm control line into other areas of Texas or the nation.

Every case now being detected is treated as an emergency in an attempt to quickly overwhelm the insect before it can infest other areas. This makes prompt reporting by producers imperative, officials said.

C. G. Scroggs, president of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, has stated it would be traitorous for a man not to report anything he thinks is a screwworm case. A few cases that are not treated and reported at this time could ruin and waste everything that has been done up to now, he said.

The Mississippi River is known as the "Father of Waters."

AGRICULTURE

ON THE RISE

A new crop year is underway in Texas. With it comes the increased danger of crippling accidents on the farm.

It is a paradox that although the farm population is on the decrease injuries and deaths from farm accidents are on the rise. This is partly because of the increasing average age of the people of farms, according to a recent study.

The annual mortality from farm accidents is estimated at from 60 to 70 per 100,000 farm population.

It is an alarming fact that fully one-third of our farm population suffers accidents of some type each year. Some of them are of minor nature with no time losses involved, however. But last-time injuries involved about 19 percent of the farm population and this year about three percent of our farm people will suffer permanent disabilities in accidents.

Rural environments are naturally more hazardous than urban life. Farms are relatively isolated with little supervision of work and not much opportunity for an injured person to obtain first aid promptly. Farm-to-market highways are often hazardous and, though there is less traffic, even on the most improved rural highways it is less controlled than on urban streets.

The high rate of accidents to farm people is also related to the pattern of farm work, which is more of a family job running more nearly around the clock than the job of the wage earner in town.

Accidents take a heavy toll among our farm youth, also. For the United States more than half of the annual mortality to young people between the ages of 15 to 24 is due to accidents. The motor vehicle hazard exists for both farm and city youths but the young people in rural areas are exposed to the additional hazards of farm machinery.

The tragedy is that perhaps 80 percent of our farm accidents resulted from carelessness or failure to deal with hazards safely.

But in that tragedy is the seed of hope, for more caution would cut the rate. Many of the accidents are avoidable.

Farm accidents are at their peak in June, July and August—the most active period of crop production and harvest. At this time, the farmer works long hours, becomes tired and perhaps a little careless.

Farmers are urged to inspect their premises for hazards—especially in the home and around the outbuildings. Make repairs now. Inspect and get machinery in good running order.

Texas' Padre Island Development To Become Vast Tourist Attraction

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Texas' Padre Island National Seashore project is getting closer and closer to reality.

Already approved by Congress, it now is waiting for financing by the U.S. and approval by the State of Texas. Project could become a vast tourist attraction for Texas.

Final version of the bill giving the state's submerged lands in Laguna Madre and the state's approval of the project was worked out in conference committee. It won Senate approval. House endorsement virtually is assured.

This will convert the northern 81 miles of Padre Island into a natural reservation of seashore, to be kept unspoiled for the enjoyment of future generations.

rounds likely are to come. Senate spent two tough days in debate before passing a bill which allows those who lend $1,500 or less to charge more than 10 per cent interest. It does not apply to banks, savings and loan institutions, credit unions and many types of cooperative lending organizations. But it does apply to all finance companies.

Sponsors of the bill wanted to allow more than 10 per cent interest on loans up to $3,000. But the Senate cut it down to $1,500. Rates as high as 46 per cent were permitted on loans as small as $5, under a fixed fee basis of calculating charges on loans under $100.

Further revision in the House, and probably thereafter in conference committee, is expected.

NETS
While one state agency was burning fishing nets, another was advertising for bids to buy some net. So a law change sailed through the Legislature to put a stop to that.

Old law says that when Game & Fish Commission men find an illegal net, they confiscate it, advertise for the owner, and when he does not appear to claim it, they burn it.

New law will say that when they get to the burning state, they can give it to the Marine Research agencies of the University of Texas or Texas A. & M.

BILLS KILLED
Legislators appear to have killed some hot proposals.

One is the effort to abolish the state tax on property. Senate voted 23-4 to kill a proposed constitutional amendment to do away with the smallest part of that tax—that which furnishes cash for state office buildings and pensions for old Texas Rangers and Confederate widows.

House killed a bill by Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth to prevent city councils from saying that employees of their cities must live in the cities.

Also, House killed a proposal by Rep. "Red" Berry of San Antonio to allow 18-year-olds to vote. It got a bare majority—72-71—but as a constitutional amendment, it needed a two-thirds majority. Berry abandoned his proposal to allow betting on horse races in Bexar County.

Another bill to regulate companies which sell funerals in advance on the easy payment or "lay-away" plan was killed on a point of order.

FASTER SPEEDS
The long talked-about proposal to allow 70 miles an hour speeds on open highways went to Gov. John Connally for signature. Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo was the sponsor.

Proposal sets top speed at 70, but gives State Highway Department the power to reduce that speed limit where it is not safe.

LICENSE FEES
House passed a bill to exempt anhydrous ammonia tanks from the license plate fee if they weigh less than 4,000 pounds and are on wheels. If weight is between 4,000 and 10,000 pounds, license fee will be $5.

Cotton seed trailers were given the same treatment, extending to them the exemption which already applies to stock trailers.

Senate action now is required.

HOME-TOWN TREATMENT
A program aimed to save money and do a better job on treating mental illness went to Governor Connally for signature.

Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso and Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth sponsored the plan. It allows the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools to contract with local city or county hospitals to treat mentally ill or tuberculars in their home counties.

Authorization of such a program on a statewide basis followed a test at El Paso which proved highly successful from both medical and financial standpoints.

STUDY ORDERED
Group of 25 Texans to be named by Governor Connally will take a long look at the state's system of education beyond the high school. Bill to allow him to appoint such a group went to his desk.

Group will report back to the next Legislature in 1965.

LAND FUSS
A dispute over ownership of 1,812 acres of land in Laguna Madre in Cameron County has resulted in a House resolution by Rep. Eligio (Kika) de la Garza of McAllen.

Resolution now is in a House State Affairs subcommittee. It would allow J.W. Luttes and Shell Oil Company to sue the state and establish title to the Laguna Madre tract.

WATER FOR ALICE
The city of Alice in Jim Wells County proposes to solve its water problem by creating a reservoir to capture water from Chiltipin Creek and by drawing on Lake Corpus Christi for an additional supply.

Project was approved by the Texas Water Commission. Alice has been depending on wells, but C. R. Marks, engineer for the project, said the wells are no longer sufficient. However, they will be continued in use after the Chiltipin-Lake Corpus Christi Program is completed.

SLICK OPERATORS IN LIQUOR
An illicit liquor scheme, being worked along the Texas border in such a way as to escape taxes, is the target of Rep. John E. Blaine of El Paso.

He says his bill—or the committee substitute for it—would mean thousands of additional dollars to state and federal governments.

Bill, which is in a House Liquor Regulation subcommittee, would authorize Liquor Control Board to require a bonded liquor exporter, with a state license fee of $750 per year, and eliminate a "bootlegging" operation along the border, Blaine said.

Operation, which is devious and complex would be hampered by requiring the Texas-Mexican liquor traffic to move by common carrier.

CANDY BARR
Governor Connally approved recommendation of the Board of Pardons Paroles to parole Juanita Dale Phillips, known as Candy Barr, who has been serving a sentence for narcotics violation.

SHORT, SHORT SNORTS
Governor Connally urged Congress to reject the changes in oil and gas tax laws proposed by President Kennedy . . . Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said he will send an assistant to help in the Jim Wells County grand jury investigation of last November's general election . . . Hardin, Jasper, Stonewall and Tyler Counties are among those for whom hospital district laws are being passed under a new constitutional authority. If legislators authorize them, voters in the counties can tax themselves to set up and operate hospitals . . . Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity wants to outlaw professional boxing in Texas, as an aftermath of deaths of fighters . . . A Senate committee killed a bill which would have prohibited the state or local units of government from discriminating against anyone because of sex, race, creed, color or national origin. Vote was 12-4 . . . Flying while intoxicated will be against the law if Governor Connally signs a bill to that effect by Rep. Stanford Smith of San Antonio . . . Texans who run crop-dusting services want a state licensing agency, but there is legislative resistance to setting up any new state agencies. Trend this year is to abolish them, not create them. . . Higher retirement benefits for teachers will be possible under a bill by Rep. George Hinson of Mineola awaiting the Governor's signature. Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, one of the original sponsors of the bill, voted against it on final passage because he felt it

Oak Creek Lake Now Ready For Heavy Fishing

Fishery crews recently completed an intensive survey of Oak Creek Reservoir near Blackwell, Texas, and found 56 percent of all fish present are catchable size game fish, according to Henry B. Burkett, Region 1 Director.

Immediately following a selective rough fish treatment in 1962, game and Fish Commission fish hatcheries restocked Oak Creek with several thousand game fish which have now reached catchable size. Most large catfish were in the selective treatment still present in the lake. Anglers are urged to use heavy fishing gear in Oak Creek.

Graves of Civil War Veterans Located Here

Graves of seven Civil War veterans have been located in this part of Runnels County, Mrs. George Poe, a member of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee, said this week.

Report of location of the graves was a result of an article in the Winters Enterprise on March 8, Mrs. Poe said. The Survey Committee is attempting to locate all graves of Civil War veterans, which will be of historical value to the area, and had enlisted the aid of newspapers in the search.

The seven graves thus far located and reported include: Thomas B. Debo, father of Mrs. R. O. Jeffreys, is buried in Northview Cemetery and has a Confederate marker at his grave. He was born Dec. 8, 1841 in Virginia and served four years, from 1861 to 1865. He was captured and thought dead but came walking in two months after the war was over. He died on June 27, 1930.

Captain William L. Towner, father of Mrs. John G. Key, Sr., was born Nov. 1, 1841 in Mississippi and attended Tennessee Western Military Academy where he was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant on June 2, 1860. He quit school and went to war, where he became a Captain and returned to school when the war was over. He came to Runnels County in 1880 and was the first elected county and district clerk of Runnels County, serving 24 years. He was elected Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 11 in 1910. He lived in Ballinger where he died Sept. 21, 1911 and was buried in Old Runnels Cemetery.

James Wilmet Stanley, grandfather of Mrs. Bud Eoff, served in the infantry in 1861 and 1862. He was born Dec. 13, 1843 and died in Winters Oct. 18, 1924 and is buried in Westview Cemetery.

J. L. Pumphrey, father of Frank Pumphrey and Mrs. W. W. Nance, served as a courier in the Civil War for one year. He was born Feb. 19, 1847 in Tuscaloosa, Ala., and died April 1, 1931 in Winters. He is buried in Westview Cemetery.

Harvey Taylor McPeters was sworn in the confederate army as a soldier, but was used as a Texas Ranger, says his daughter, Mrs. Maude Lewis Hay. He was born Oct. 9, 1847 near Springfield, Miss. and died Aug. 16, 1940 at Winters. He is buried in the old Ft. Chadbourne Cemetery.

Captain Andrew Franklin Smith fought under General Hood. He was the father of the late J. D. Smith and grandsons are J. E. Smith and Odis Smith. He was born in Georgia in 1840 and died at the age of 82. He is buried in the Wilmet Cemetery.

E. F. (Frank) Helderman was a soldier in the Civil War. His grandsons are Jim and Press Edwards. He was born Dec. 1, 1837 in North Carolina and died Feb. 2, 1933 in Winters and is buried in Westview Cemetery.

The Runnels County Historical Survey Committee wishes to thank everyone for his cooperation and if there are any other Civil War Veterans in this territory please notify us.

Library Continues To Grow; More Books For Children Ordered

The Winters Public Library continues to grow in number of books and library members. Nine hundred and sixty-four books were checked out during the month of March. Thirty-two new books were received in the library during the month. Several new books were bought for each age group. Donations were received by several interested people.

The library still has a need for more "easy readers" for the first and second grade children. One afternoon recently every "easy reader" had been checked out and children were asking for more. Myra Glover, the librarian, has already begun to order new books and make plans for a summer reading program for the children. A much larger program is planned this year than was offered last summer.

In the adult department new books are being checked out constantly. Just a few are, "Education of a Golfer," by Sam Snead; "Devil's Harvest," by Frank Slaughter; "A Shade of Difference," by Alan Drury; "Nine Coaches Waiting," by Mary Stewart; "Seven Tears for Appolo" by Whitney; "Nubbin Ridge," by Nordyke; and "Escape from Red China," by Loh.

Everyone has an invitation to visit the library and purchase a library card. The library is open Wednesday and Saturday afternoon, 2 until 5 o'clock.

Extension Service Names Pasture Man

Albert C. Novosad, a former county agent and since 1954 a member of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's Foundation Seed Division, has been named pasture specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service.

He began his new duties on March 16. Extension Director John E. Hutchison said, the need for additional personnel in this field has existed for some time and has been intensified since E. M. Trew is now spending practically all of his time on special work dealing with East Texas agricultural programs. Pasture improvement programs, he said, are of major importance in all sections of Texas and the requests for specialist assistance and subject matter reflects the widespread interest.

Novosad is a native of Brazos county; a graduate of Stephen F. Austin High School, Bryan; and holds both bachelor and master degrees from Texas A&M College

WHAT IS POOLING?

In spite of all the jokes about "oil-rich Texans," most Texans aren't rich. Relatively few of them have even one oil well.

All Texans have a stake in the oil business, however, because it makes jobs, puts money into circulation, and pays taxes.

Texas oil operators have to compete with those in other states and foreign countries. This competition is tough and growing tougher. Improvements in production methods for greater efficiency are necessary in Texas. It is a question as to whether Texans prefer to do this job themselves or let the federal government do it.

Many of the most responsible people in the oil industry believe the Texas Legislature can solve some of the most troublesome problems by passing House Bill 510, an oil and gas pooling bill. "Pooling" in oil field language simply means putting separately-owned pieces of acreage together, sharing costs of drilling a well, and splitting any income proportionately.

A fair pooling law would create drilling blocks of uniform and proper size (according to the spacing pattern of the field). It would help the industry to cut down on unnecessary development drilling and thus free capital for more "wildcat" drilling. It would provide a legal way for landowners to divide their minerals in proportion to their holdings.

An outcry has been raised against House Bill 510 by the professional "small-tract drillers," who for many years have enjoyed the legal sanction to produce oil and gas which rightfully belonged to someone else. Advocates of pooling do NOT think that property rights should be confused with the "right" to take another man's property — or that free enterprise should cover the FREE CONFISCATION of another's oil and gas.

Contrary to claims of persons who, for reasons of their own, want to retain the outmoded methods of the past, House Bill 510 does NOT tie up large blocks of acreage with one well; it does not affect any wells already drilled or reservoirs already developed; it does not take away the land-owner's bargaining power or change the terms of any lease except to the extent necessary to form a drilling block. House Bill 510 would merely give all landowners an opportunity to have their properties developed when some owners cannot be located or one owner seeks to obtain an unfair advantage. The rights of all would be EQUALLY protected.

Ask your Senator and Representative at Austin to support House Bill 510 — so Texas, too, will have a reasonable and legal way to assure each landowner his FAIR SHARE.

Winters FHA Marks National FHA Week With Daily Activities

Each of the 10,466 local chapters of the Future Homemakers of America is working toward four national objectives, said Mrs. Cecil Hambright, homemaking teacher in the Winters Schools, and advisor of the Winters FHA chapter, in announcing the observance this week of National FHA Week.

These objectives, Mrs. Hambright said, are: Discovering myself and my worth to others; contributing to the joys and satisfactions of family living; launching good citizenship through homemaking; and strengthening my education for future roles.

In recognition of national FHA Week, the local chapter has set up a program wherein they stress one particular objective each day. Each activity has one or more working chairmen.

Sunday—Meet and eat. Pierce's Cafeteria after church. Roses for the hospital. Chairmen, Linda White and Rosalene Scott.

Monday—Color Day and Grip Day. Chairman, Betty Jernigan.

Tuesday—Fun Day. Chairmen, Carolyn Helm and Shirley Heath.

Wednesday—Teacher's Day. Chairman, Ann Bean.

Thursday—Community Day. Friday—Arbor Day. Chairman, Sharon Johnson.

Saturday—Coke Bottle Collection. Officers.

In calling attention to the teaching and training received by the homemaking students, Mrs. Hambright said, "Naturally, I feel that FHA and homemaking education is unequalled. Where else but in the home can we hope to create a nation of well-adjusted people, able to cope with the problems they must face?"

In relating the history of the national organization, Mrs. Hambright said that prior to 1944 there had been many high school home economics clubs, but no nationally recognized group. In 1944, home economics leaders met and proposed that district meetings be held to make plans for the formation of a national organization of high school homemaking students under the joint sponsorship of the American Home Economics Association and the Home Economics Education Branch of the U.S. Office of Education.

These groups were also to receive help from the home economics section of the National Education Association and the American Vocational Association. Individual states elected representatives to attend district meetings, and the organization was on the road to formation. It was impossible to foresee at the time of the first meeting how an organization such as this could come alive and grow into the successful group it is today.

In the spring of 1945, twelve district representatives met in Chicago for the first national meeting. Their goal was to form national organization. It was their responsibility to name the organization, select a motto, decide purposes which the organization should serve, write a constitution and creed, and agree on methods of selecting national officers.

Apparently the efforts of the first twelve district representatives were not in vain. Mrs. Hambright said, for Future Homemakers of America has grown from a national organization active in 42 states with a membership of more than 92,000 in 1945, to more than half a million in 10,466 chapters throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

Norton Girl Won First In County 4-H Food Show

Anna Gottschalk, Norton High School senior, won first place, and Gloria Hoppe, also of Norton High School, won second place in county 4-H Favorite Food Show held in Bellinger March 23.

Both girls will go to the district contest at San Angelo on April 29. They are both members of the Norton 4-H Club.

All 4-H Clubs of the county participated in the contest. Each contestant set up a table with cloth, napkin, silver and dishes, suitable decorations, and presented a complete menu planned for one day. One favorite food was prepared and featured. This was judged for appearance, texture and taste. After judging, the displays were open for viewing by the public, and ribbons and awards were given. Junior and senior girls received cook books as awards.

Miss Gottschalk's winning favorite food was a French apple pie.
