Cattle Feeding Field Day To Be Held Here Next Tuesday

Two of Winters' biggest industries will be visited by 500 to 800 people next Tuesday, April 16, when Commercial Feeders, Inc., and Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Co. hold a cattle feeding demonstration field day here. Also helping to sponsor the demonstration will be Ralston Purina Co.

The demonstration will include a tour of the cattle feeding pens one and one-half miles west of Winters, a tour of the milling operation of Alderman-Cave, showing of a cattle feeding film and panel discussion at the State Theatre. A barbecue lunch will be served at noon in the Alderman-Cave seed building on West Dale.

The cattle feeding demonstration will begin at 10 a. m. Tuesday with a tour of the feed lots. There, Raymond Walston, president of Commercial Feeders, Inc., will give a brief explanation of the operation. Floyd Smith, of Ralston Purina Co., will conduct a tour of the pens, and explain the mechanics of cattle feeding, applied to this operation.

Following the cattle pen tour, Ray Alderman will conduct a tour of the feed mill.

In the afternoon, Joe Scott, North Texas division sales manager for Purina, will speak briefly on the purpose of the demonstration. Floyd Smith will give a chart talk on actual practice and results of feeding in the local pens of Commercial Feeders, following which a film, the "Rumen Story," will be shown.

Principal speaker of the day, Don Plagg, Purina's western region cattle specialist of Kansas City, will talk on feeding of beef cattle, stressing nutrition and economics.

Following Plagg's talk, a panel discussion, moderated by Floyd Smith, will be held, with visitors submitting questions. Members of the panel will be Plagg, Walston and Alderman.

Tuesday's cattle feeding demonstration is expected to be the largest of its kind in the area. Cattle feeders, mill operators, and others interested in cattle feeding have been invited from over the entire state, in addition to cattlemen from the immediate area.

CATTLE FEEDING — Above is an aerial view of the cattle feeding pens of Commercial Feeders, Inc., one and one-half miles west of Winters. This will be the site of the Cattle Feeding Demonstration sponsored by Commercial Feeders and Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Co., next Tuesday, April 16. Construction of these cattle pens was started less than one year ago, with the first cattle put on feed in July. Since July, 3,000 cattle have been finished here, and have been shipped to packers. Situated on a hillside, the pens are said to be ideally located, with good drainage and access to highways and transportation facilities. There presently are about 1,000 head of cattle on feed in these pens, with a capacity of 2,000 head. Expansion of the facilities has been planned, as can be seen on the left side of the picture.

Charter For New Bank Being Sought

Confirming what has been more or less common knowledge here for some time, announcement was made this week that application has been made for a charter to open a national bank here. Several Winters area people have applied for the charter.

This announcement was substantiated by records in the office of Norman Dunn, Dallas, Chief National Bank Examiner for this area.

Seven Winters men and one Abilene man have asked for a charter for a bank that would have capital stock of $125,000, surplus of $125,000, and a reserve fund of $75,000.

Winters men seeking the national bank charter are M. E. Mathis, Floyd Sims, O. B. Raper, J. P. Davidson, Earl Burnes, George W. Poe and Walter Adami. The Abilene man is B. B. Bush.

In applying for the charter, applicants have asked that the institution be named the First National Bank, the National Bank of Winters, or the First Winters National Bank.

Application was made on March 25 and mailed to the Comptroller of Currency in Washington, D. C., and then was sent to the chief bank examiner in Dallas. The application arrived in Dallas April 5.

The bank examiner has 60 days in which to study the financial statement made in connection with the application for a charter and to make a field examination. Decision as to whether or not the charter will be granted is within the power of the Comptroller of Currency, however.

The application does not state who executive officers might be if the charter is granted, but in most instances the applicants for a charter are named to the bank's board of directors.

Mathis is an oil field operator who lives near Winters. He is interested in Mathis Bros. Construction Co., of Winters.

Sims is distributor for an oil company, service station operator, and is a former city councilman, and fire chief.

Raper is also a former member of the city council.

Walter Adami is a longtime landowner and resident of Winters.

J. P. Davidson is a gin operator and Earl Burnes is also well known in the Winters area.

George W. Poe is a former mayor and city councilman and has lived in or near Winters for many years.

Bush is now an assistant vice president of the Citizens National Bank of Abilene and a former senior examiner for the state banking department.

In the announcement, no mention was made of the probable location of the new bank, provided the charter is granted.

Winters State Bank To Split Stock, Five For One

Stockholders of the Winters State Bank, in a meeting Tuesday, agreed to a 1-to-5 stock split action, it was announced by John Q. McAdams, president of the bank.

The action increases the number of shares of each stockholder, but does not increase the total holding value, it was explained. Stock which had been listed at $100.00 per share, par value, now is listed at $20 per share, par value. This means, McAdams said, that for each share a stockholder had in his possession prior to the action, the stockholder now holds five shares. A stockholder with 20 shares will now own 100 shares, with the same total par value.

A total of 798 shares were voted at Tuesday's meeting, with a unanimous decision on the stock split.

Several days ago, directors of the bank authorized an increase of $100,000.00 in capital, and an increase of $100,000.00 in the certified surplus account. This action brought the total capital and certified surplus accounts to $400,000.

These amounts were transferred from the reserve account to capital and surplus. Reserve account will be $100,000.

Crews Community To Work Cemetery Sat.

Also, class favorites have been revealed as Lynn Mitchell and Lanny England, seniors; Gwen Caskey and Johnny Hopper, juniors; Elaine Beard and Van Spill, sophomores; Miss Grissom and Kenneth Davis, freshmen.

Miss Grissom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Grissom. She is a member of the Future Homemakers of America, "B" basketball team and the Sub Debs, girls' social club.

More Wild Events Planned For Annual Rodeo

When the chutes open June 20 on the first of three performances of the Winters Annual Rodeo, spectators will be treated to one of the roughest, toughest and fastest rodeos to be produced in this part of West Texas.

This is more or less guaranteed by the announcement this week that at least two new rodeo events will be added to the regular roster. A wild mare race, and a "Money Bull," will be added attractions for rodeo fans this year. Other regular events will be the usual bareback bronc riding, bull riding, jackpot roping, and double clovering. In addition, the girls' cloverleaf race will be featured again this year, as in past performances.

To direct all these events June 20, 21, and 22, Adrian Parker, of St. Jo, will be producer of this year's rodeo in Winters. Parker has produced the rodeo for the Stamford Cowboy Reunion for several years, and will do so again this year.

Dr. H. H. McCreight, president of the Round-Up Association, sponsors of the annual event, said that rodeo clowns this year will be John Temple of Cleburne, and Keith Anderson of Ft. Worth. Announcer again this year will be C. T. Parker, Rannels County farm extension agent.

Dr. McCreight also said that judges for this year's rodeo will be furnished by the local organization, instead of by the producer.

Electronics and Synthetics Are Two U. S. Industries With Greatest Future

Babson Discusses Speculating In "Seeds"

As earlier stated, I believe that the two industries which now have the greatest future are electronics and synthetics. Of course, another discovery may at any time occur which will put some other industry in a class with them; but I do not see much on the horizon at present unless it is in connection with seeds.

Watch The Botanists

We hear today only of the wonders of chemistry, electronics, and space travel—including "going to the moon". But we must not forget the work of humble botanists and biologists. We may now be on the verge of the discovery of an artificial origin of life cells without any human or sex contact. The elements that may very well accomplish this are referred to as DNA and RNA, about which I have previously written.

Experiments in this field often go unnoticed by the public. But scientists are working with these chemicals which have such miraculous possibilities. One of the greatest mysteries is the effect of sunlight in turning the leaves and the grass green, this process is known as photosynthesis. When its secret is discovered, this will be very revolutionary and will form the basis for many new fortunes.

The Study Of Bulbs; Vegetable, Flower, And Other Seeds

There are several concerns which today specialize in breeding, improving, and selling seeds. I have just bought a little stock in the Asgrow Seed Company of New Haven, Connecticut. It has been working in its seed laboratories for over 100 years. This Company has made slow but continual progress in improving the quality of certain vegetable seeds. I do not expect anything spectacular of the stock of any seed company for some years to come. They all are what the stock brokers call "sleepers". Those who are seriously interested in the above should subscribe to the Seed Trade News, published by Joseph C. Gregory, Editor, 222 W. Adam Street, Chicago 6, Illinois.

Make Your Own Tests

Go to a hardware store and buy a 35-cent paper envelope of onion, mustard, carrot, petunia, or snapdragon seed—which is what I play with. Empty the paper envelopes into separate salvers and even with a microscope, and the help of the bees-see if you can tell the difference between these five seeds.

Yet, given the same soil, the same water, and the same sunshine, one of these seeds will grow an onion or a carrot, while another will grow a beautiful snapdragon. But this is not all—when two snapdragon seeds are planted, one may produce a beautiful blue flower and another a beautiful red flower. I have ten colors in my garden. But note the following: Each tiny seed is full of revolving atoms.

What Of The Future?

Biologists are now using animals to make experiments as to the effect of radiation and certain chemicals on the chromosomes that determine our heredity. I understand that the Atomic Energy Commission is using seeds of vegetables to study the same effects. When their results are released, the laboratories of the important seed companies may discover how some of their seeds will develop entirely different vegetables or fruits and many valuable vegetables or flowers.

When this discovery is made, the stocks of the alert seed companies could suddenly rise greatly in price. Therefore, I urge readers of this column to read elementary books on botany and biology and inheritance. It is possible that the wonders accomplished by Professor Einstein in his Princeton laboratory—in turning the atom into energy—the scientists working in the laboratories of certain seed companies may match in importance. This may not come for many years; but I foresee that our great grandchildren will be eating vegetables and fruits of which we have never heard; if not human cells!

"DAMN THE DEFIANT"
Columbia's "Damn the Defiant" showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre, stars Alec Guinness, Dirk Bogarde and Anthony Quayle in CinemaScope and Eastman Color.

Casting on the picture reportedly is as spectacular and as dramatic as the film itself. Guinness, who won an Academy Award for his work as the martinet Colonel in "The Bridge on the River Kwai," here appears as a ship's captain in the 18th Century British Navy, when brutality and squalor were the ordinary seaman's lot. Bogarde, the handsome young romantic star of "Song Without End," plays an arrogant, sadistic first mate who does what he can to destroy Guinness' authority. Quayle, who was the badly-wounded major in "The Guns of Navarone," portrays a mutinous seaman in "Damn the Defiant," and leader of the crew which seizes control of the vessel in determined effort to end the ruthlessness to which they are subjected.

"WONDERFUL TO BE YOUNG"
Now through Saturday, the State Theatre will present "Wonderful to Be Young," the Paramount Technicolor release which introduces to American film fans Cliff Richard, international favorite of teen-agers whose record sales abroad exceed 12,000,000.

Cliff, who was born in India, started his spectacularly successful singing career in England by forming his own musical group, "The Shadows," and touring with the boys. It was while they were appearing in a London theatre that they were approached by the Columbia Recording Company's representative. A recording test followed and in no time Cliff and his group had cut their first two sides for Columbia and were off to the races.

"WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE?"

"What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?" the new suspense shocker bringing Bette Davis and Joan Crawford together on the screen for the first time, is also distinguished as the initial presentation to be sponsored by the nation's theatre owners under their "Hollywood Preview Engagement" program. The unusual Warner Bros. drama, a Seven Arts - Associates & Aldrich Production, shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre.

All of Hollywood reporters across the country who cover the Hollywood scene and Davis and Crawford fans watched in breathless anticipation of on-set fireworks as Aldrich brought together two of the screen's long-reigning, Oscar-winning queens in the bizarre story of two aging sisters, both has-been stars, living in hate and bitterness in a crumbling old mansion.

DAD GETS IN THE ACT in "Wonderful to Be Young." Technicolor musical, which shows Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. Dad (center) is portrayed by famed character actor Robert Morley; he is flanked by Carolee Gray and the new singing sensation, Cliff Richard, who makes his American film bow in the Paramount release.

SUSPENSE DRAMA — Behind the ominously barred windows of their melancholy Hollywood mansion Bette Davis turns her back on Joan Crawford's anguished appeal for release from her macabre persecutions in this stark scene from "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?," the surprise-filled Warner Bros. suspense drama showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre.

Miss Davis stars as the former child star, "Baby Jane" Hudson, who outgrew her appeal, suffered a disastrous series of flops as a young leading lady, and now clings to her memories, "cute" mannerisms and little-girl makeup while nursing weird dreams of making a comeback.

Miss Crawford stars opposite her as her sister, Blanche, who spent a bitter childhood in the shadow of Baby Jane, suddenly blooming into a beautiful film star winning dramatic acting honors, only to have her career shattered by a crippling accident.

Living in virtual isolation beneath a gathering ominous cloud of brooding violence, Jane cares for Blanche, who is confined to a wheel chair. But Blanche slowly realizes that she is a prisoner, that her eccentric sister is behind the macabre events which are threatening her own sanity.

"QUESTION 7" TO OPEN HERE AT STATE THEATRE

"Question 7," a widely-acclaimed movie about life under Communism in East Germany, is coming here. It will play at the State Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, April 17 and 18.

The film comes laden with honors. It was named "Best Film of the Year" by the National Board of Review, given the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation Mass Media award as "the Film Best Serving our National Interest," and the Vigilant Patriots Award of the All-American Conference to Combat Communism.

It also has two awards earned at the Berlin Film Festival, a special commendation from the National Council of Churches, a special accolade and A-1 rating of the National Legion of Decency and, in Assisi, Italy, was awarded the Grand Prix of the International Catholic Film Office as the best film produced anywhere in 1961.

"Question 7" tells the story of life in a small East German town as the Communists carry out their program to destroy the religious life of the community.

The title refers to a pivotal questionnaire distributed by state officials to the students in the schools of East Germany. Only those students whose answers show them to be politically reliable are allowed to pursue advanced study toward careers of their own choice. Consequently, the questionnaire becomes a test of each student's conscience forcing him to choose between answers he knows to be true and others he knows to be nothing more than party line.

Cut In Foreign Aid Recommended By Gen. Lucius D. Clay

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A SUBSTANTIAL CUT in foreign aid got a boost last week when a committee headed by retired General Lucius D. Clay, after an exhaustive study of the subject, reported that the USA has been attempting too much aid for too many and often in the wrong ways. The report called for an overhaul and a reduction.

From July 1, 1945 to June 30, 1962, our total economic and military aid to foreign countries was $97.6 billion.

Last year President Kennedy asked for $4.9 billion, but the House cut this figure to $3.9 billion, and the Senate went along. This year the President asked for another $4.9 billion plus an additional half billion in obligational authority.

In the face of this, there is a carry-over of funds appropriated in previous years, of $21.3 billion—not yet spent, but in the pipe line or waiting to be committed.

THE CLAY REPORT calls for a curb on aid to countries which use the money to build up socialistic economies, and urged that aid to such countries as left-leaning Indonesia (we have given them $670 million) be curbed. It said assistance to Latin and South America, unless there are drastic changes in local set-ups, would be wasted. And it called for a halt of our hand-outs to the vast array of mixed-up Negro Nations of Africa. That area, it insisted, should be left to France and Britain—if any aid is justified.

Announce Approaching Marriage of Miss Jo Ann Alfrey, Dr. Donald B. Bedford

Mrs. Clarence P. Alfrey announces the engagement of her daughter, Jo Ann, to Dr. Donald Brevard Bedford. Miss Alfrey is the daughter of the late Mr. Clarence P. Alfrey of Winters. The wedding will be solemnized Saturday, June 29, at the First Baptist Church of Winters.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Winters High School and a Senior Elementary Education Major at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth. She is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority.

Dr. Bedford attended school in Winters, Tyler and Lincoln, Nebraska. He graduated from the University of Texas Dental Branch in Houston. He is a member of Xi Psi Phi Dental Fraternity. Dr. Bedford served as Captain in the U. S. Army Dental Corps in Korea for two years. Dr. Bedford began his dental practice in Winters in 1960.

We have poured nearly $2 billion into Africa—including $156.5 million to Ghana—another leftist country that has been playing footsie with Khrushchev for years.

The report was acclaimed by many in Congress. It enabled some of us to say, "I told you so". For years I have been voting against the mammoth omnibus foreign aid bills because they contained too many items for more than 100 countries that simply could not be justified. Indeed, we have given in one form or another an average of $1 billion to practically every country in the world since 1945!

And now, at last, the Clay Report lays it on the line—the U.S. is attempting too much aid for too many countries—and often in the wrong ways. There should be a cut of at least $2 billion in the current foreign aid bill.

Either is produced by distillation of alcohol with sulphuric acid.

HEN LAYS GREEN EGGS

Green Easter eggs are being laid daily by a black hen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Mrs. Joe Closner of Elsa, a prosperous farming town 23 miles northeast of McAllen, says her bantam hen gets no special feed. She thinks the green eggs may be the result of pre-natal influence as the Valley is as green as grass or the proverbial gourd. The District of Columbia was named in honor of Columbus.

Ballinger and County Discuss Cost Mergers

According to information released this week, Runnels County commissioners are discussing the possibility of merging operations of the Ballinger city police and county police radio systems. Under the plan, the county would pay part of the costs of the Ballinger police radio system. County Judge W. H. Rampy, the information pointed out, said Don Atkins, Runnels County Sheriff, and

Eskell Powell, Ballinger Chief, would arrange the merger. Winters' modern radio system would not be affected by the proposed merger. At present, the Ballinger has several mobile units in city vehicles, which are available for all sorts of emergency calls. The county has a main station at the city and radio equipment on the police vehicles. The equipment has been provided by the City of Winters. Alabama succeeded in its bid for the state on January 11, 1963, after a vote of 1,100,000 to 1,000,000. Our Soil Available

People who have gardens, or are looking for a building publication by the State Soil Conservation Service will come in mighty handy. "Know Your Soil" is a new publication of the State Soil Conservation Service which maps the country and what crops mean to every survey in Runnels County. It is a three dimensional, accurate publication. It is the top by the surface on the bottom by the sides by other first job of the soil distinguish between the soils. More than 100 kinds are recorded. Here in the Runnels Conservation District, 31 have been mapped. The original purpose of the surveys was to provide information to the nation's farmers that they could better their food-producing lands. More people in all are seeing the need for water conservation, Hoffman said. Septic tanks won't work, houses that crack up might be by knowing more.

HEALTH LETTER

Water conservation and pollution invariably rank high on any expert list of current problems of modern life. More than 10 million people now call Texas home. This rapid growth and the trend toward concentrated city living has resulted in tremendous increase in the volume of waste being released into streams and lakes. Thus, water pollution has become a serious public health problem. To meet the overall needs of the average Texas community, the municipal water plant must supply 140 gallons per person per day. Approximately 50 gallons of this daily total is used in the home. An equal amount is used by industry for washing and cooling, special processing and air conditioning. Public needs—fire fighting, street cleaning, recreation and public fountains—account for 10 gallons of the daily supply. Commercial establishments use an additional 20 gallons for cleaning and service operations. Unhappily, ten gallons are lost through leaks and breaks in underground pipelines. No matter what use is made of it, it is essential that water be free of harmful bacteria and chemicals. An adequate water supply is absolutely vital to public health. It makes personal and public cleanliness inexpensive and convenient. Water-borne diseases such as typhoid and cholera have been practically eliminated by hard-working engineers and city water plant operators intent on supplying safe water to the public at the mere turn of a tap. State and local health department engineers make constant checks on community water supplies, and city water plant operators are rigorously tutored on good operational practices. Water, from the dawn of time, has been the indispensable element in fire fighting. The better the water supply, the safer the community from damaging fires and the less it costs for fire insurance. Too, water is the most elemental ingredient of some of Texas' favorite recreational pursuits—swimming, boating and fishing. They are impossible when the water is polluted by human or industrial wastes. To be passive or indifferent to clean, adequate water is to be passive and indifferent to life and community growth, for one is part and parcel of the other.

Beneficiaries Receive Checks Followed

Security beneficiaries can receive their checks by following a few simple steps, according to Floyd Ellington, social security district manager in San Angelo. A request to the Social Security Administration for a check received before the month will assure the next check at the end of the month. If a change of address is made in the month, arrangements should also be made with the office to have the next check forwarded. In any event, social security district payment center as soon as possible of any change in your name. Security beneficiaries must be signed by the person to whom the checks are made, and must always show their security claim number. Notification forms are available in all social security offices. Ellington concluded that prompt and accurate reporting by beneficiaries will result in better service in the millions of address changes received every year. Three successive Presidents occupied the White House within 30 days. They were Presidents Martin Van Buren, William Henry Harrison and John Tyler.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

Roadside Cleanup Is Being Urged By Texas Good Roads As'sn., Governor

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Clean up the roadsides is a message being delivered by the Texas Good Roads Association and the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Project is described as an "important contribution to the pleasure of Governor Connally and the Legislature to seriously and systematically promote tourist travel into and through Texas."

WATER

Final legislative action is near on the bill by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas and Rep. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen to set up machinery for the state to help out financially on big water projects.

Both Houses have adopted the bill, with a small difference. Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall added an amendment to give county commissioners courts approval power on recreation facilities planned at reservoirs built under the program. Since no county money will be involved, the House took out this provision.

Voters approved the plan last November by which the Texas Water Development Board will be allowed to use up to half of its $100,000,000 borrowing power to pay for, or contract to pay for, the building of added height on dams to be built by local or federal agencies.

Highly complicated procedures were written into the bill to safeguard the money. Cash from the future sales of water or storage space will repay the state bonds issued to finance the projects.

TAX CUT

While legislators begin consideration of tax increases to help finance state government activities, mainly the growth in higher education, two industries are about to get tax cuts.

Both Houses of the Legislature passed a bill to reduce the tax on sulphur producers.

House also has passed, and favorable Senate action is expected, on a bill to exempt state banks from the sales tax and the corporation franchise tax.

Both groups are putting up persuasive arguments. Sulphur lobbyists say that Louisiana's tax on Sulphur is only $1.03 a ton, so Texas should cut its rate to that level.

Owners of state-chartered banks argue that national banks are exempt from state sales and franchise taxes, so state banks ought to be, too.

Apparently, the tax program of Gov. John Connally for the rest of the Texans is gathering support. It calls for expansion of the new sales tax by eliminating exemptions on low-cost clothing and farm implements, and for extending the corporation franchise "surtax" which has been in effect on a "temporary" basis for four years.

CRIMINAL LAWS

Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo piloted through the Senate a 389-page revision of the code of criminal procedure—the first complete revision in a long, long time.

Purpose of the code, as drafted by a State Bar committee and revised by Hardeman, is to remove some of the loopholes and uncertainties in present criminal procedure.

House action is expected, since lawyers from all sides of criminal practice are agreed that reforms are needed.

A&M UNIVERSITY

House State Affairs Committee heard testimony on a bill to change the name of Texas A&M College to Texas A&M University.

Speaking for the bill were A&M Chancellor M. T. Harrington, President Earl Rudder, former student president and new director L. F. Peterson, student Joe Easley and Century Council Director Bob Hunt.

Only opposition was from Baylor and University of Texas at Sam Collins. He talked about Aggieland traditions.

Harrington and Rudder told the Committee that A&M could attract more outstanding faculty members if the institution were called a university.

Rep. John Allen of Longview, chairman of the State Affairs Committee and a Baylor ex, named an all-Baylor subcommittee to study the bill.

Subcommittee is composed of Reps. John Traeger of Seguin, Ben Jarvis of Tyler, J. Collier Adams of Lubbock and James Klager of Corpus Christi.

SCHOOL LAW

Texas has come a long way along the road to an attitude of normalcy on racial desegregation.

That's what Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth told the House State Affairs Committee.

Gladden's bill, co-sponsored by 40 House members, would abolish the law passed in 1957 requiring that school districts get voter approval before desegregation.

Under that law, districts which do not call elections before integrating face the loss of state funds. Bill now is in subcommittee.

PADRE ACTION

Both Houses of the Legislature have passed, and Governor Connally has signed, the bill to give the state's approval—and some of its land to the Padre Island National Seashore project.

U. S. Dept. of Interior will build the vast recreational area, designed to preserve 81 miles of Padre Island in its natural state. Texas had to give about 40,000 acres in Laguna Madre as a part of the project.

CONGRESSMEN

The House spent a long day of back-and-forth debate on the bill by Rep. Rayford Price of Frankston to reapportion Texas for congressional purposes.

Major points in the bill are the abolition of the fourth district in North Texas—long represented by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn—and the creation of a second congressional district in Dallas County.

Under the House version, a new South Texas district, with no present congressman, would be formed.

U. S. Reps. Wright Patman of Texarkana and Ray Roberts of McKinney would be placed in the same district. Otherwise, present congressmen may have their districts altered somewhat, but still will reside in their present districts.

HANDICAPPED

Lawrence R. Melton of Dallas, chairman of the Governor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped, and A.A. Alexander of Dallas, Commander of the Department of Texas Disabled American Veterans, issued a joint statement commending high school principals and teachers whose students participated in the "Ability Counts" contest has brought understanding of the handicapped much to the attention and employment of the handicapped throughout the state.

Sound Investment Program Provides Necessary Protection Against Inflation

Babson Continues Discussion Of Inflation Hedges

A sound investment program should provide protection against inflation as well as deflation. Because real estate is so commonly associated with inflation protection, it might be well to lead off with a discussion of land trusts.

Real Estate Trusts

The better-quality land companies have several advantages: (1) While some of the older companies originally garnered their land for agricultural purposes, in recent years the discovery of minerals has introduced a "kicker" to companies of this type. (2) There is usually a basic source of earnings in the form of surface leases, water rights, etc. (3) These companies operate with little in the way of plant and equipment investments. (4) Their labor and other operating costs are at a minimum.

One of the largest domestic land trusts is KERN COUNTY LAND COMPANY. It owns nearly 1 million acres in California, New Mexico, and Arizona; and participates in development of oil and gas properties in Western Canada, Louisiana and Mississippi, and even Australia.

Another large land company is TEXAS PACIFIC LAND TRUST, owner of about 1,700,000 acres in Texas. In 1954 this company transferred to TXL OIL CORP. most of its oil, gas, and other mineral rights on its then producing property. It retained title to virtually all the surface land, a small perpetual royalty interest in 45,000 producing acres, and a 1-18th royalty in future mineral production from 387,000 acres.

Established Mining Companies

Mining issues provide another hedge against inflation. In a sense, mineral deposits are sort of underground bank deposits. Improved mining techniques, development of machinery capable of massive ore extraction, and new methods of upgrading ore quality help to offset effects of rising labor costs. Best investments are in companies with large ore reserves and undeveloped acreage.

The AMERICAN METAL CLIMAX COMPANY has many attractive features. This company holds land in Africa, Mexico, Canada, and South America. Domestic properties are located in Colorado, New Mexico, and Michigan. American Metal Climax produces more than half the world's largest molybdenum mine. The company also has large investments in African copper mines. It is a large custom smelter and seller of nonferrous metals. Other lines include a potash mine and refinery in New Mexico, plus oil and gas interests.

Copper Properties

The major copper mines also hold merit for investors interested in underground mineral deposits. KENNECOTT COPPER is the world's largest copper mining company. Its Utah and Chile operations are exceptionally low-cost. Ore reserves of the company are substantial. Kennecott's investments include a 67 per cent ownership of Quebec Iron & Titanium and a 13 per cent interest in Kaiser Aluminum.

The world's second-largest copper producer is ANACONDA. More than two-thirds of its copper is mined in Chile. In addition, it has mines in Montana and Nevada, and in Mexico. Anaconda is also a leading fabricator of copper, and processes uranium and aluminum. Operating costs of its foreign mines are low.

Second-largest domestic copper producer is PHELPS DODGE, which is a favorite of mine. Nearly all of its ore output, the bulk of which is mined in Arizona, is used by its fabricating plants. It has a 15 per cent interest in Southern Peru Copper, and sizeable investments in Amerada Petroleum, American Metal Climax, and New Jersey Zinc. A very interesting article on Arizona appears in the March National Geographic.

COPPER RANGE is an important copper producer in the Lake Superior region. Though it is medium sized and a relatively high

Attempt Made To Spawn White Bass

Experiments to determine if white bass can be artificially propagated in large numbers are underway at the Game and Fish Commission's Inland Fisheries Laboratory in San Antonio, according to Biologist E. M. C. Dietz, project leader.

If successful, this work will make possible the stocking of smaller lakes with white bass where they are needed as an open water predator to help control rough fish in lakes where they do not now occur.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

COST-CUTTING IN COTTON GROWING

Cotton is still regarded as King in the south but it is one of the most expensive crops to produce. The first breakthrough of this economic barrier may have been achieved recently during experiments on the High Plains of Texas.

The first unorthodox step was in planting the rows only nine inches apart on irrigated land. Purpose of the nine inch middles was to determine how much cultivation could be eliminated. Cultivation during the growing season to get rid of weeds is a mafor cost item in cotton production. The initial tests were conducted at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock. Cotton was planted in the nine-inch rows, instead of the usual 40 inches, and then an application was made of a pre-emergence herbicide. On this first experiment, a bumper crop was taken from a one-acre plot without a single cultivation.

In another test plot, cotton planted in the usual 40-inch rows yielded 1 1-2 to 1 3-4 bales per acre. The weeds in this plot were controlled by several machine cultivations and by hand hoeing. Weeds didn't stand a chance in the narrow-row plots, according to observers. The emergence herbicide controlled the early season weed growth. As the season progressed, the closely spaced plants shaded out weeds that emerged. The narrow-row cotton was planted by grain drill like wheat. Normally, about 30,000 cotton plants are grown on an acre but on this plot were permitted to stand. Each plant produced only three or four bolls but the dense planting offset this loss and helped raise the total yield.

The close row spacing produced plants that were more ideally adapted to stripper harvesting than plants grown in 40-inch rows. The plants grown in 40-inch rows were short and had few branches and thin stems.

The experiments were conducted primarily for the High Plains of Texas and Oklahoma where stripper harvesters are in fairly common use. These machines harvest cotton by stripping both mature and immature bolls from the plant. Both the narrow-row and the wide-row plots in the experiment were sprinkler irrigated three times with three inches of water. The water activated the herbicide and aided seed germination. Both plots received the same fertilizer treatment—80 pounds of nitrogen and 40 pounds of phosphorus per acre applied before planting.

Close plantings may not work in the humid areas of Texas and the South where boll rot is a problem, however. These growing conditions may be tested by this method later. And tests have not yet been made on the harvested cotton's spinning quality.

Nevertheless, for certain areas of Texas where irrigation is available, the experiment may be a significant factor in reducing the high costs of cotton production.

Cancer Crusade Canvass Set For Tuesday, April 16

Date for the residential drive for the Cancer Crusade has been set for Tuesday, April 16. An organizational meeting was held last week at the high school building. Approximately 35 women attended the planning session.

Dr. Henry McCreight discussed the educational value of the Crusade, and Darrell Brawley of San Angelo, district representative of the American Cancer Society, discussed the drive.

Workers will meet at 6:30 P.M. Tuesday at the local Church of Christ, where materials will be distributed. The drive proper will be conducted from 7:00 to 8:30.

Leaders for the house to house canvass include Mrs. Raymond Lloyd, Mrs. George Poe, Mrs. Gattis Neely, and Mrs. W. F. Byrns.

Willis Jernigan is serving as chairman for North Runnels County, and Homer Hodge is co-chairman.

Wheat Farmers Urged To Vote In Referendum

Area wheat farmers are being urged to study the wheat problem, and to make plans to voice their opinion in the wheat referendum on May 21.

Places for balloting in the wheat referendum, along with other pertinent information, will be announced at a later date.

A special group, appointed by the ASC, called the 1964 Wheat Program County Publicity Committee, met Monday and organized to publicize the referendum.

A. W. Bronson was named chairman of the committee, with L. D. Halstead, secretary. Other members of the committee are Ray Alderman, Steve Stubblefield, Jack Fry, John Onken, Caddo Wright, Jake Presley, C. T. Parker, Buddy Gray, M. W. McChan and Barney Puckett.

Bronson said this week that the organization of the committee does not mean endorsement of the proposed wheat program by the committee. The committee will operate only to publicize the program, and enable farmers to be more informed when they go to the polls to vote in the referendum.

The plan to be voted upon next month would hold wheat acreage at about the 1962 level but 10 percent below 1963, it was said. At the same time, price support levels would be kept high.

Eighty percent of the production would receive support amounting to 80 percent of the March parity price of $2.49, which would figure out at $2.00 per bushel.

If the referendum fails, price supports would drop to 50 percent of parity, or to $1.25 per bushel, it was said.

Two-thirds of the farmers must approve the program before it can take effect. Wheat farmers will be informed of their acreage allotments for their farms before the quota referendum is held.

Two Church Groups At Crews Hold Joint Meeting Of WSCS

Meeting for the March regular session, the Crews Woman's Society of Christian Service enjoyed the afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Petrie.

The study course, "The Rim of East Asia," taught by Mrs. Hazel Mae Bragg, was completed and refreshments were served.

The Crews WSCS presented the Easter program to the Crews Baptist Church, Woman's Missionary Union and refreshments were served to a large group from both churches present and enjoyed a social meeting following the program.

Easter Services--

A service of Worship and Holy Communion will begin at 10:10 a. m. Sermon for the day will be "The Last Word: He Is Risen." Anthem for the day by the Senior choir is entitled, "Alleluiah, Christ Is Risen."

Home Town Talk--

Tourism is big business, and it is felt that if visitors are favorably impressed with the neatness of our highways, they'll be more likely to come back again.

Situated as it is on a well-travelled highway, Winters can stand to profit from such a drive. If we keep the approaches to our town and our streets and premises clean and uncluttered, people passing through are more apt to stop and spend a quarter . . . and every little two bits helps.
