May Rainfall Above Previous Four Years

Moderate rains the first part of the week, and the heavy fall early Wednesday sent the total rainfall for the month of May out ahead of the total for the same month during the previous four years.

A total of 5.9 inches has fallen in Winters and immediate area during this month, and with cloudy skies the middle of the week, more is expected. This is one-half inch more than that received in May of 1961, which was the highest for the year's fifth month since 1959.

May's rainfall thus far with a total of 10 inches, has made 1963 the second wettest year in the past five, for the first five months. A total of 13.9 was received through May of 1961, but the same month for the other three years lags behind that.

It was reported that the Winters City Lake east of town received about 14 inches of water from this week's rainfall in the watershed, and went over the spillway early Thursday.

Library Building Fund Reaches $4990; Need $1010 More Before June 6 Deadline

Contributions to the fund to purchase a building for the Winters Library had reached $4990 by Wednesday noon, with $1010 needed to reach the $6,000 mark by the June 6 deadline, the Rev. Edgar Graham, who is working with the fund drive committee, announced.

Up to last Wednesday, a total of $4480 had been contributed, with $510 coming in this week.

The Rev. Graham said that many out-of-town people have sent in substantial contributions to help build the fund. He said that letters were mailed to Winters area residents this week, explaining the drive for funds, and that response to those letters is expected to bring in a good amount.

Only a few more days remain in which to collect the money, the Rev. Graham said. The committee has obtained an option to purchase the building, but the option will be voided after June 6, if the total purchase price of $6,000 is not raised by that date. He expressed the belief that the total amount could be raised; however, he said that in the event it could not, checks will be returned to contributors.

Although the total purchase price of the building is $6,000, only $3,000 was needed to be collected in this concentrated drive, the committee-

One Vote In House Okays Increase in Insurance; See Many Without Liability

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Many Texas drivers who carry insurance will need to notify their agents to increase their public liability insurance after August 24. By the narrowest of margins—a single vote—the House adopted a bill by Rep. Bob Fairchild of Center to raise the bodily injury insurance or security requirements under the driver financial responsibility law from $5,000 for one person and $10,000 for two or more to double those amounts.

Estimates are that it will cost the average driver about $5 a year for the extra coverage. This will enable him to keep his driver's license and car license should he be involved in a collision in which someone is hurt.

It was a hard fought issue in the House. But Fairchild won, 68-67, with the vote of Speaker Byron Tunnell breaking the tie.

In the Senate, passage was by voice vote, with 12 Senators recording themselves as voting no.

Argument for the bill is that it would bring requirements up to a more modern figure. Court judgments in personal injury cases, resulting from auto collisions, often exceed $5,000.

Argument against it, voiced by Rep. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen, was that 25 per cent of the drivers cannot afford to carry liability insurance at present rates.

So there will be even more uninsured motorists on the highways after the Fairchild law takes effect.

WIND UP

Regular session of the 56th Legislature ends Friday. That's three days earlier than the constitutional requirement.

Hundreds of the 1,500 proposed new laws submitted by the 131 legislators were left to die in committees and on the crowded calendars of both houses.

Other hundreds will become law when Gov. John Connally signs them. Rust of business at the session's end is pouring them into his office by the score.

All legislative proposals are important to someone. In a few cases, it is a single person.

One proposal would allow a newspaper editor to practice law. It was killed on the floor.

Another would permit the practice of architecture, by a qualified person who failed to apply for a license before the deadline arrived. It died in committee.

But the major issues of the session appear to be fairly well settled.

JUDGING TEAM—Members of the Winters FFA judging team won sixth place in state competition recently, with 88 teams in the contest. These 88 teams were the top teams of more than 1900 such groups in the state. The local team also won fourth in area judging, and were sixth in judging at Texas Tech, placing first in the sheep division. Team members shown are, standing, Kenneth Adams, Jimmy Simpson, and Kenneth Durst, vo-ag teacher and FFA advisor; sitting, J. W. Aley and Ronald Colburn. Colburn was among the top ten judges in state competition. (Little photo)

COURTS

An exception is judicial redistricting.

Rep. Henry Stollenwerk, a Republican from Dallas, mainly tried to move some rural district courts to the cities. This to follow the people who have moved into the population centers.

Stollenwerk presented statistics showing that some courts are handling only 130 cases a year, while others in major cities have over 1,000 cases even after disposing of five times that many cases a year. Bill was killed in committee.

Rep. Bob Johnson of Dallas persuaded the House to pass a bill under which a judicial redistricting board, made up of the Lieutenant Governor, House Speaker and Attorney General, would reapportion district courts if the Legislature did not. Bill died in the Senate.

HOUSE MINORITY LEADER

In the waning days of the session, House Republicans ceremoniously announced their 8-member delegation leader, Rep. Horace B. Houston of Dallas.

Houston has some sort of seniority since he previously served a term when he ran as a Democrat. Speaker Byron Tunnell quipped, "From now on, when you folks have complaints about your bills, you can take your troubles to the House minority leader."

Houston then cast his first vote as G. O. P. leader in favor of extending the Veterans Land Program, while his followers cast votes against it.

MORE JUNIOR COLLEGES

State Board of Education named a committee to study Snyder's request for a junior college. Appointees were Penrose B. Metcalfe of San Angelo, Herbert O. Willborn of Amarillo, and Paul Mathews of Greenville. Committee will meet on May 31, in San Angelo.

Recently, the board authorized a junior college election for Travis County voters. Claim is that even though the University of Texas is in Travis County, entrance requirements are too stiff for many local youngsters to enroll.

POLICEMEN'S PENSIONS

On its way to becoming law is S. B. 444 by Sen. William Moore of Bryan. It would make policemen in 150 towns of less than 250,000 population eligible for social security benefits, if their councils agreed.

Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon, House sponsor, said, "This is the first policemen's bill that policemen's associations and the Texas Municipal League have agreed on."

A statewide bill by Rep. Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio, to increase longevity pay for policemen and firemen in all towns, was killed.

BILLS SIGNED

In recent days Governor Connally has signed into law bills that make San Angelo and Pan American colleges state-supported, senior colleges; authorize commissioners courts to appropriate monies for historical markers and monuments; provide for annexation by municipalities; authorize a 70-mile speed limit; and allow weekly newspapers to miss two issues a year and still retain their legality.

Also, change the name of A & M College to Texas A & M University; authorize counties to issue bonds to establish homes for the needy; and provide for emergency succession to state offices in the event of an attack or a disaster.

ROAD RACE

Texas and Oklahoma are running a friendly race to close the gap between Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City.

Texas highway builders are aiming for an early-June, 1964, completion date on the Red River Valley Expressway between Wichita Falls and the Red River. Oklahoma has set the same target for completion of a Southwestern Turnpike project between Oklahoma City and the terminal point of the Texas expressway.

TEXAS LEADS

This state has led all others in road-building progress since 1954. Highway engineers from other states and 19 Latin American countries who want to know how it has been done heard State Highway Department Engineer D. C. Greer speak on the subject in Washington, D. C.

A pay-as-you-go plan has been one secret of success, Greer says, in building a highway network of 65,000 miles. Some other states run into road delays because of bond elections and sales.

HEALTH LETTER

Last week's strong and vigorous 36-year-old Central Texas dairyman suddenly crumpled unconscious to the floor of his dairy barn while going about his routine chores. The doctor's diagnosis was quick and sure: Stroke. That's one of the most ominous words in the language today. What does it really mean?

The medical term is cerebral vascular system is the brain's network of blood vessels. Thus, cerebral vascular disease refers to diseases of blood vessels in the brain.

Brain cells require a good blood supply in order to work properly—more so than most other body cells. When something happens to that blood supply, the brain itself is impaired.

That something could be the result of a hemorrhage, thrombus, embolus, compression, or a spasm. Each one of those key words is a major cause of paralysis.

A hemorrhage (bleeding) is the result of a break in a brain artery which allows blood to escape and damage surrounding brain tissue. Apoplexy or stroke is this type of a hemorrhage.

A thrombus is caused by a clot of blood forming in a brain artery, stopping the flow of blood to the part of the brain it supplies. When a clot is formed in a diseased heart or elsewhere in the body and pumped to the brain to plug up an artery, it is called an embolus.

A tumor, swollen brain tissue, or a large clot in another vessel may press upon a brain vessel to stop the flow of blood. This is called compression. A spasm is caused when a brain artery temporarily constricts or tightens up, reducing the flow of blood to a particular brain area.

With present medical knowledge it is not possible to prevent the majority of cerebral accidents, except—high blood pressure, for example—can often be helped by modern treatment.

Too, several conditions associated with blood clot formation responds to anti-clotting drugs, and blood vessel defects with which some children are born can sometimes be corrected by surgery, thereby eliminating some types of paralysis.

The Boy Scouts of America was founded in 1910.

Winters Student Helps UT School of Journalism Win

The University of Texas School of Journalism is winner of the $1,000 second prize in the third annual William Randolph Hearst Foundation Journalism awards program.

Officials said the prize will be used in the Journalism Development Fund to provide special educational opportunities for students.

During the year, the school has already received $2,300, an amount equal to the total awards won by individual students in monthly contests. Bill Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Little of Winters, was one of six students winning awards.

The contest offers seven competitions in different categories in seven months, with prizes each month to the winner and his schools with the greatest number of points, based on the number of places won by their students.

Jaycee-Ettes Had Dinner At Zentners Monday Evening

Holding the last meeting of the club year, members of the Jaycee-Ettes had dinner Monday evening at Zentners Steak House. The group has disbanded for the summer months and will resume activities again in the fall.

Mrs. J. E. McAdoo presided for the business session and the club pledged their support to the Winters Library. Those attending were Mesdames James Buxkemper, Bill Sharpes, James West, Floyd Sims, John McAdoo, James Crockett, J. P. Durgan and Harold Poe.

Late Spring and Early Summer Pasture Reminders

It is not too late in most areas of Texas to provide for temporary summer pasture. Of course, points out A. C. Novosad, extension pasture specialist, moisture conditions are a primary consideration and until very recently soil moisture deficiencies were widespread. Recent rains, however, have been received in many areas and have made planting possible.

He says four groups of plants, Sudangrass, including Common, Sweet, Tift, Greenleaf and Piper; Sudan-Johnsongrass types such as sorghum alnum and perennial sweet sorghum; Sudan-sorghum hybrids which include a large number of commercially available hybrids and Pearl millet, including Gahi-1, Starr, Texas No. 7 and Common, are the most satisfactory for temporary summer grazing.

Sudan-sorghum hybrids have generally ranked first in yield tests followed by the Sudan-Johnsongrass types and Sudan varieties. The Sudan hybrids and types generally have a larger stalk than the varieties, however, this characteristic does not seem to create a palatability problem, says Novosad.

Pearl millet will produce more forage than Sudan varieties on acid soils in East Texas, on severely eroded soils in Central Texas and on soils where Sudan and other sorghums yellow-out.

Pastures should be mowed if forage growth gets ahead of grazing, says Novosad. This keeps the plants producing new growth of high quality forage if moisture and fertility are available. The excess forage should be utilized as hay or silage, he says.

Top dressing with nitrogen is especially important after moisture is cutting or grazing if moisture is needed and more forage is needed. If weeds are a problem, and a chemical such as 2,4-D is used for control, be sure the weeds are young, succulent and growing fast and that the chemical is used with care to prevent injury to susceptible crops.

Novosad suggests that plans be started now for fall grazing crops and that the county agent be contacted for local recommendations and other information.

Workers Coring On Dam Sites Of Valley Creek

Hugo Vogelsang, chairman of the Valley Creek Water Control District, announced this week that the Soil Conservation Service core drill party had started coring site number three on Frank Antille's ranch in Taylor County. He said they will core sites seven and eight on W. L. Murphy's place in Taylor County and site number eighteen on Ralph Burns' farm in Runnels County in the next few weeks.

Roy C. Cunningham, geologist for the Soil Conservation Service, is in charge of the core drill party. Other members of the crew are John H. Griener, Victor Reynolds, Dan Day, C. O. Moore, Richard Ferguson and John Rudloff.

They will drill for sample cores in each structure location to determine what sort of base material will be needed for each dam and the manner of placement of the soil in the structures.

Vogelsang said that the four sites being cored now are part of 20 planned floodwater retarding structures to be constructed in the Valley Creek Watershed. Three dams have been planned for the Runnels County Soil Conservation District portion of the watershed, and eleven for the Taylor County portion of the watershed.

When these 20 floodwater retarding structures are completed along with the necessary conservation land treatment practices applied the annual flood damages will be reduced by about $95,558. The total installation cost for the 20 structures will be $2,143,991.

Vogelsang also said that he and the other directors of the VCWA-CD hope to sign a project agreement with the Soil Conservation Service on Sites 3, 7, 8 and 18 within the next few weeks.

This agreement will set up the money for construction of these four sites. He said the directors' present plan calls for the construction of four structures each year over a five year period.

Changes Pose Problems Stockmen

Station, May—Beef cattle have been on dry ranges for six months or more, says U. D. Thompson, animal husbandman. Of serious nutritional deficiency is the lack of range grass or forage. He adds, "The phosphorus and vitamin B12 are difficult to make available to the animal. An attempt is being made to balance live-weights and forage supplies may be weaned early to relieve grazing pressure and improve cow conditions. Placement of cattle should be done in advance of the breeding season, slow breeders and cows that produce lower weight calves should be culled. Thompson recommends that cows be palpated for pregnancy and to sell pregnant cows. Conditions of extreme dryness may be advisable to cull a herd to a small number of high energy feeds such as high protein supplements in limited amounts for forage. Forage is the critical factor, and is usually the most digestible. A protein supplement with the forage will help. The most likely deficiency is a mineral supplement in phosphorus should be chosen or in controlled water and salt should be chosen. The special...

Big Percentage of Money In Stock Market From Government Payrolls

Business—The Federal Government is supporting annually $4 billion for Wall Street.

What is seen on Wall Street? During 1942 the average of daily transactions on the New York Stock Exchange was about 1,500,000 shares. If an average price per share is assumed to be $20, this means that $30,000,000 was traded. It is estimated that only about 10 per cent represented new commitments, or balance. That is, at an average price of only $10 million of new money was needed to keep Wall Street rolling. Multiply this by 20 days, and we have $2.5 billion of new money needed each year.

From where does it come? Of course it comes from a great many sources, mostly from "larger" individual investors, pension funds, trust funds, and investment or mutual funds. But if to this is added 1 per cent of the Federal Government payroll, estimated above at $4 billion, this means that a substantial amount would be coming annually from Washington.

The Shoe of Champions

IT'S THE LAW—IN TEXAS

DANGER SIGNALS

There is no surrier person than one who has been victimized by a phony deal. Unfortunately, once the buyer has signed an order or contract, little can be done to get him out of the hook. "But I didn't realize..." are words often heard by lawyers who are usually unable to help at that point.

Despite the complete disavowance of "clever engineer" (let the buyer beware) by ethical merchants, there are still some businesses that thrive on high promotion deals. Buyers are contacted by direct mail, over the telephone, or by "come on" advertisements. These contacts all resort to flattery, claims and a high pressure approach.

How can you avoid such sales tactics? There is no sure way, outside of dealing with reputable, established merchants, in common sense in reading. But here are certain details that should ring the bell. Here are a few:

"Buy now or lose the chance."

"You have been specially selected."

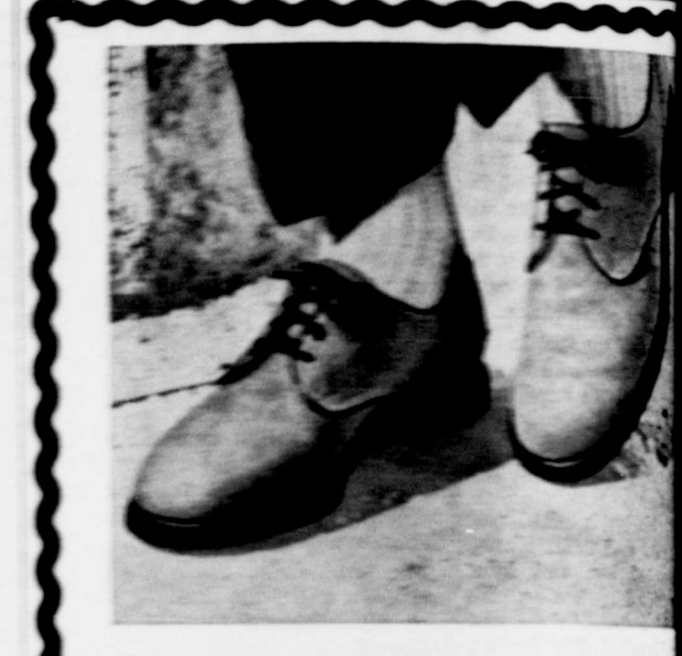

"It's only a legal form."

"You can save up to..."

"You are unusually free."

These signals do not indicate a bad deal, but frequently used by promoters. Be read carefully. Over compare prices for information from a you know, or from a friend.

Remember, in this world of business competition, you get anything for nothing. You have signed an order, the law may not be able to help you. No matter how the deal may be for you, unless the seller is doing something illegal, the law is helping him to enforce a deal that you made. So, signals and look before you sign!
