HOME TOWN Talk

L. C. THOMAS
Farmers in the Winters area have been working frantically the past few days in an effort to get the wheat out of the field before more rains came. Showers which rolled in a few minutes after Thursday morning wheat harvest to a halt. Accompanied by heavy winds, there may be some damage to wheat in the fields, but no rain has been received. No cotton has been received in the immediate area, either. The cotton which was up to be re-planted because of the hard rains... an unexpected fall in about an hour morning. A lot of which had been planted destroyed by the heavy rain a few days ago, and some had been planted during the day morning's rain. The month's rainfall total was 11.8 inches for...

Teachers in the Winters area are retiring. Their compensation represents a total of $1,000,000 in the teaching profession which have been in the profession for 30 years. A long string of years in the teaching profession. There is a feeling of knowing just how long they have been in the profession. Some are in contact with their former students, but there are many people who have never seen them. Many of these people whose lives have been changed in some way or another by the personal touch of their teachers. The many howls of protest that our sources that our compensation is not adequate and that they are not receiving the same as they are receiving, the facts say that these claims had been made in this country would be the strong and progressive in it, looked to for help by countries which pointed out as having the best systems. These three years, for 96 years, had to play in the success of the American system of education. Winters salutes these teachers on the moment (Continued on page 6)

Library Fund Was Over Subscribed

The campaign to raise funds for the purchase of the former West Texas Utilities Co. building for use of the Winters Public Library has been oversubscribed by more than $3,000.

The library fund committee announced Wednesday that a total of $9,332.50 had been received in the drive, with more expected to come in within the next few days.

In a meeting Wednesday night, library committee members mapped plans to organize the Winters Library as a corporation, and a board of trustees was elected. Named as trustees were the Rev. Edgar H. Graham, Mrs. Noel Reid and Jerry Ward. The Rev. Graham, Ward, and Weldon Collins were appointed to a preparation committee.

The money received over and above the purchase price of the building will be used to purchase equipment and additional books, committee members explained.

Committee members said that the fund campaign had reached proportions totally unexpected, with several large contributions and many smaller ones received from residents and former residents and others interested in the library. They said that response to appeals for contributions indicated a growing interest in the building of the Winters Library.

Given only one month in which to raise the money to purchase the building, the fund committee said frankly they felt they were faced with formidable odds. However, once the contributions started to come in, they said, interest mounted and put the drive over the top well within the time allotted.

In talks with Cal Young, president of WTU on May 6, the library committee was granted an option to purchase the building for $6,000, with the option in effect until June 6th. Young and John Q. McAdams, a member of the committee and president of the Winters State Bank then opened the campaign by contributing $1,500 each. In the early stages of the drive, several large and small contributions were made, and then letters were sent out to residents of the area explaining the project.

Up to Wednesday of last week, a total of $4,990 had been received. Then the largest contribution was received on Saturday from G. W. Strake of Houston, oil operator with offices in Winters. Strake sent a check for $3,000. By Wednesday of this week, $9,332.50 had been received.

Committee members pointed out that the drive has been a success because of the interest of those people making contributions and due to the hard work of several individuals.

There will be sections for all children from three years of age through fourteen years of age. The Commencement will be Friday night, June 7th, at 7:30 o'clock. At that time the parents are invited to be present and observe the work that each child has done during the week.

B. T. Shoemaker, pastor, will serve as principal, and superintendents are: Nursery (3 year olds), Mrs. John McAdoo; Beginner (4 and 5 year olds), Mrs. T. I. Goodwin; Primary I (6 and 7 year olds), Mrs. Raymond Schwartz; Primary II (8 year olds), Mrs. Lee Choate; Juniors (9 through 12 year olds), Mrs. Charles Dodson; Intermediate (13 and 14 year olds), Mrs. George Poe. Parents are urged to assist their children in attending this school for the value it affords each of them.

The school is not designed to indoctrinate boys and girls in the Baptist faith but in a deeper appreciation for God's goodness; therefore, each child of Winters is not just invited to attend, but urged to do so.

Refreshments will be served each day.

Work On Paving Cryer Street Will Begin Soon

Winters City Council, in a special meeting Tuesday, passed final resolutions and completed preparation of contracts for paving of Cryer Street, from Tinkle to East Truitt Street.

Work on paving should begin within the next few days, the City announced.

Newman Brothers Paving Co. of Sweetwater will be contracted to do the paving of the some 1660 feet of street included in the project. Contract calls for the street to be graded and leveled and blade rolled. Application of paving material will consist of a two-course penetration of asphalt, with the first coat to be covered with No. 4 rock, one cubic yard of rock to cover 80 square yards. The second coat will be 3-10 per square asphalt, with one cubic yard No. 8 rock to cover 110 square yards. The City will furnish caliche for fill where needed. Contractor will survey and grade the area. Paving area will be 30 feet wide, it was said.

Cost of the project will be borne mainly by property owners, who have deposited more than $2600 to pay for the paving, with the City bearing the expense at intersections.

Quarter-Million To Be Spent On North-South Road

More than a quarter of a million dollars will be spent on 12.82 miles of construction on FM 2647, running north and south east of Winters, it was announced this week in Austin by the State Highway Commission.

E. M. Bailey, Contractor, and T. A. Seidel submitted the low bid of $258,196 on the project, it was announced.

The project includes grading, structures, base and surfacing of FM 2647 from FM 53, 4.6 miles east of Winters, south to FM 382; from FM 1770, 5.0 miles east of Winters, south to FM 53.

The project is expected to take 160 working days, according to J. A. Snell, District Highway Engineer at San Angelo.

W. B. Hoppe, resident engineer at Ballinger, will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

The boy and the girl who brings the largest number of students to school will be awarded Bibles. Awards will be made at the closing exercises Friday night.

Hot, dry weather during the past few days has been a boon to wheat farmers of the Winters area, and the entire countryside has begun to respond to the tempo of harvest time. The grain is ripening fast, and combines have been working longer and longer hours. Local elevators are now working into the night, as they receive the grain from shuttling trucks and trailers serving the combines.

After a few false starts, as farmers test-cut swaths through wheat fields, and then were delayed for several days because of rain, grain harvest began in earnest this week. Much of the grain is being trucked out of Winters, while a lot of it is being stored locally. A shortage of railroad box-cars has caused some concern among grain handlers, who have hopes that the situation will improve before the harvest reaches predictions, when a short, poor crop was forecast by some. Grain which is being received by local elevators now is of the finest quality, it is reported, and per-acre production is out front of what had been expected. Several have reported an average of around 20 bushels, with some 30-bushel production noted.

County Agent C. T. Parker said this week that this probably will turn out to be one of the "good wheat years," if present reports are any indication. Good sub-moisture is given the credit for a good crop. The northern section of Runnels County should see a very good wheat report, Parker said, but the countywide average will be lowered by the low yields expected in the south part of the county.

Tommy Alfrey Will Play In All-Star Greenbelt Classic

Tommy Alfrey, first string quarterback for the State Class AA semi-finalist Winters High School Blizzards football team, has received an invitation to play in the Greenbelt Bowl All-Star Classic football game in Childress on July 27.

Graduating seniors who do not plan to play football in college are invited to play in the Classic, it was said. Only Texas and Oklahoma are represented on the teams, and boys playing in the all-star game will receive jackets.

Alfrey, who piloted the Blizzards to the semi-final game against Jacksboro, was one of several Winters High School football team members who were named to the All-District team at the end of the last football season. He was named as the outstanding quarterback in District 6-AA.

Alfrey is a 1963 graduate of Winters High School, and it has been announced that he will attend Tulane University. While in high school, he was a co-captain of the football team, was on the golf team, secretary treasurer of the Student Council, was in the senior play, and received the coveted "W" award for his school activities.

He is the son of Mrs. C. P. Alfrey and the late Mr. Alfrey.

FHA Plans Cotton Insect Program

Due to the extensive damage caused by cotton boll weevils in the rolling plains this past year, the Farmers Home Administration has been called upon to finance a large number of farmers for their 1963 crop.

In an attempt to prevent a recurrence of last year's loss, John H. Curry, FHA supervisor serving Callahan, Coleman and Rusk counties, announced here today that several FHA borrowers have planted a few rows of cotton extremely early to be used as a trap crop in determining the extent of cotton boll weevil survival in the area.

If overwintering weevils attack the trap crops in sufficient numbers, that all FHA borrowers will apply two early season applications of poison to their regular crop in order to destroy the emerging weevils and thereby prevent the late season building which did so much damage in the area cotton crop the past year. This is the control system that has been used by successful farmers in the blackland area of Texas for a number of years.

During the weeks of May 20th and 21st a number of entomologists from the Plant Pest Control Division of the Department of Agriculture, the Texas Extension Service will conduct a survey under the direction of Dr. C. J. Guinn, Head, Department of Entomology, Texas A&M for the purpose of general survival and information overwintering weevils in crops.

C. J. Guinnman, State of Farmers Home Administration advised that FHA in some twenty-time crop have cooperated in the planting program and of entomologists find that of weevils, then all FHA will follow the early season program.

Race Riots May Be Forerunners of Serious Troubles

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

The Birmingham race riot is believed here to be but a forerunner of other explosive incidents that may erupt during the immediate future. One observer said: "This looks like a big year for the agitators." Spearheaded by Dr. Martin Luther King, the NAACP went so far as to call thousands of school children away from their classes in Birmingham to swell the ranks of the demonstrators. King, a close friend of Bobby Kennedy, proved his ability to trigger violence by his Alabama venture. Actually, most of the racial tensions, and the occasional racial clashes, are traceable to the politicians and the professionals in the NAACP. Earlier this year the Republican leaders in Congress out-did the Democrats by proposing Civil Rights legislation beyond anything the Democrats had come up with. It was a bold attempt to capture some of the negro votes and counter Bobby Kennedy's political strategy. Following that, the White House announced the Democrats would come up with something real big in this field. In the meantime, Martin Luther King and entourage moved in on Birmingham to create a crisis, followed by 3,000 anti-riot troops being ordered to the outskirts of Birmingham by the President. That dramatic act was followed by Bobby's secret meeting in New York with a group of negro leaders. The meeting, however, was leaked to the press.

Ordering troops to Alabama despite the fact that the President told his news conference no federal law had been violated, has given rise here to some serious concern about the Constitutionality of the move. One observer thinks the Attorney General may have blundered when he advised his brother such action was legal under the Constitution. It is reported, however, that Bobby is confident the Supreme Court will sustain his position and vindicate his advice.

Article IV of the Constitution permits the deployment of federal troops to deal with a local problem only "... on application of the Legislature or of the Executive — when the Legislature cannot be convened." In the Alabama case, no request was made. In fact, the troop order was protested by the Governor, who contended it was unconstitutional and might tend to encourage rioting by assuring rioters that federal protection would be provided if needed.

It is believed the Supreme Court will approve the troop order, but there remains an undercurrent of concern because of the precedent that may be established, by having the federal government, of its own volition, intervene to deal with a local problem, where no federal law is being violated. If such unsolicited federal intervention is applied in connection with a racial incident, then the question occurs: What other local incidents might inspire a future President to invoke the all-powerful military might of the federal government? It is something to think about.

Clean-Up Drive Now Completed

The cleanup drive, sponsored jointly by the City of Winters and the Chamber of Commerce, has been completed, although there still is some hauling being done. It was announced this week.

Delayed several days by the rains, a concentrated effort to clean up the town made this week, with much success. Residents had been asked to call the City Hall or the Chamber of Commerce office when they had collected all the refuse around their property. Calls were continuing to come in Wednesday, and trucks being dispatched to pick up the trash.

County precinct-owned trucks were used to help the City in hauling collected trash. Melvin Mapes, county commissioner, assigned men and machinery to the project for Monday of this week.

City officials said that several requests had been received for the city to haul away unrooted trees and rubble from construction sites. This cannot be done by the City. It was pointed out. Collection of rubble from construction sites is the responsibility of property owners or contractors, and does not come under the scope of the cleanup drive, they said. Property owners who have had construction work done on their premises have been asked not to leave the rubble in the streets, with the expectation that the City will haul it away. Piling of such rubble in the streets constitutes a restriction of traffic, and property owners and contractors will be held responsible, city officials said.

"Cairo"
Never has there been so fantastic a setting for a daring and breath-taking robbery as that depicted in "Cairo," Metro-Goldwyn Mayer's new crime-thriller starring George Sanders and Richard Johnson.

Cast as an international thief, Sanders, with the aid of Johnson and an assorted group of underworld characters, executes a plot to rob the famous museum of antiquities in Cairo of the 3,000-year-old treasures in gold, lapis lazuli and enamel of King Tutankhamun. And as they use their ingenuity in penetrating a heavily-guarded room to steal the fabulous jewels, they are observed by the uncanny gaze of the 23-foot-high white limestone statues of King Amenemhope III and his wife Tui.

What gives this film the excitement and distinction separating it from the ordinary run of crime dramas is the fact that the entire production was filmed on actual locales in Egypt, with its exotic and colorful atmosphere permeating the picture.

Showing Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre.

"It Happened at the World's Fair"
The most entertainment-packed motion picture Elvis Presley has yet made, "It Happened at the World's Fair" has something for everyone—romance, laughs, two-faced action, ten brand-new song hits and an appealing story set against a world-filled background of the Seattle World's Fair, where much of the Ted Richmond production, presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, was filmed on location.

Co-starring Joan O'Brien and Gary Lockwood, and with a captivating seven-year-old Oriental charmer, Vicky Tiu, making a scene-stealing screen debut, this story of Lothario bush pilot Mike Edwards (Presley) and his poker-playing sidekick, Danny Burke (Lockwood), starts off with a bang as the two grounded pilots hitchhike to find a job in order to reclaim their plane which a sheriff has attached as security.

Their adventures lead them to the Seattle Fair, where Mike finds himself involved in two "dates," the first with Sue-Lin (Miss Tiu), little daughter of a Chinese farmer whom he takes on a tour of the fair; the second with Diane (Joan O'Brien), attractive nurse at the dispensary, whose ministrations he solicits after paying a youngster to kick him in the shins.

A series of complications takes place when Mike unexpectedly finds himself in the role of Sue-Lin's guardian and late nemes to believe that Diane has given him a double-cross, but all comes out happily and hectically in the story's climax in which the two pilots narrowly escape being made the victims of a smuggling deal. And in a rousing finale, Mike and Diane lead a colorful parade through the Fair grounds as they enlist together in the aerospace program.

Showing now, Thursday through Saturday night at the Fiesta Drive In.

"40 Pounds of Trouble,"
Ordinarily, bringing another camera to Disneyland would be the same as bringing another sandwich to a banquet.
Since the opening, July 18, 1955, more than 30,000,000 visitors have toured the famed amusement park—and practically all of them have had the inevitable camera strapped around their necks with pockets bulging with rolls of film.
So, a camera at Disneyland is as common as five fingers on a hand. However, this was not the case with the battery of color cameras set up by Universal Pictures for the filming of location sequences there with Tony Curtis, Suzanne Pleshette, six-year-old Claire Wilcox and Tom Reese for "40 Pounds of Trouble," the new Universal - International release showing Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday on the screen.

of the Fiesta Drive In... Walt Disney, who has taken down more than 20 years' worth of motion picture companies to use Disneyland as a background for a movie, producer Stan Margulies and Norman Jewison permitted was the first time he had his famous tourist attraction be used for a major role of length film.

ROGER BABSON Drug Companies Putting $270 Million Into Research, Longer Life Foretold

Babson Park, Mass. Drug stocks, in the not too distant past, ranked high on the hit parade of glamor stocks. Since then, they have fallen on hard times as investor preference once again demonstrated its shifting characteristic. A number of pharmaceutical issues have rebounded, but, by and large, the group remains well below its lofty peak reached in late 1961. I, however, have great respect for and faith in the drug industry. It has accomplished unbelievable strides in my lifetime, and I forecast that the next ten or twenty years may see similar progress.

What The Birth And Mortality Rates Show

The public has only in recent years shown any great interest in population statistics and trends and their implications for the future. Nonetheless, the trends have been evident for several decades. For example, the death rate per 1,000 population was 17.2 in 1900. By 1960 this had been cut nearly in half, to 9.5 deaths per 1,000 population! This is a most remarkable achievement, in which the drug industry has played a prominent part.

The birth rate, on the other hand, has not decreased much during this period. In the early years of this century, the birth rate was around 27 per thousand population. Currently, it is around 23.5 per thousand. Of course, the birth rate shrank markedly during the depression, but since World War II the baby boom has more than made up for that drought. The important point is that advances in the pharmaceutical and medical fields have so drastically reduced infant and child mortality that the crop of youngsters has been indeed bountiful.

Effect Of Rising Life Expectancy

When I was a boy, a person in the "forties" was considered "old". Today, those of you readers who are in this age group constitute the bulk of the "middle age" population, and one generally doesn't become and "old fogey" until well after retirement age. This is, of course, the effect of the lengthening life expectancy. Just think, in 1900 the life expectancy was 47.3 years. But thanks to the wonder drugs, vaccines of one kind or another, vitamin pills, etc., which the drug companies have produced, the average life span today is around 70 years. In short, nearly half a generation has been added to life expectancy since 1900.

This means that the so-called "senior citizens" segment of the population is increasing significantly. My friends in the drug industry tell me that their research efforts are being trained more toward this group. They want to give the "old duffers" a longer and more comfortable life. Perhaps partly in jest, they talk of many more people than live that long today; but I suspect these research staffs may be more serious than we think. My reading of the Bible reminds me that the patriarchs lived for hundreds of years. I unhesitatingly forecast increased interest in the geriatrics field, including advances not only in drugs, surgery transplants, and medicines, but also in food, eye glasses, hearing aids, and even clothing.

Patience And Diversification

In looking back over what has been accomplished in the pharmaceutical field, my friends in that industry agree with me that no one could have forecast ahead of time exactly which company would first "strike pay dirt", or when! This still holds true for the future. The industry is pouring about $270 million a year into research, and there is no telling when there will be a big payoff. I wish investors would learn to be as patient as those engaged in the research work! Hence, while I am optimistic over the long run for the drug companies, one must be prepared to "sit a while" with the drug stocks. Ultimately, however, I believe such patience can be rewarded handsomely. Because of the tightened regulations on specifications for the release of new drugs, due to the thalidomide fiasco, research has to be even more exacting, and involves time-consuming tests and "proofs". Since it is impossible to tell in advance which company will come up with a prize discovery, investors would be wise to buy a few shares of a number of drug issues rather than to "bet on one horse". Those that "come through" could more than offset the disappointing situations.
