Taxes On Outer Clothing, More Auto Sales Taxes, Passed By Legislature

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

On July 1 every article of outer clothing that costs less than $10 will go up two per cent.

That is the date the extended state sales tax law goes into effect. All outer clothing now exempt will become taxable.

Smart shoppers will take advantage of the last days of June to stock up on clothing for the family. Buying of school togs may take place earlier than ever before.

Legislature made many changes in the sales tax law. Most changes affect reporting procedures of merchants. An important one, however, raises the state sales tax on automobiles from 1-1/2 to 2 per cent.

As of July 1, if you buy a new car costing $3,000, for example, you will pay a state tax of $60.

If you trade in an old car the salesman will deduct the trade-in amount from the total, then figure your tax on the difference. In other words, if your trade-in came to $1,000 toward a $3,000 car, you would pay two per cent—or $40—on the difference.

"LAYAWAY PLAN"

At the last minute Gov. John Connally signed the $3,000,000,000 state budget bill. He criticized the bill for emphasizing "bricks rather than brains." But he knocked out $12,400,000 worth of "bricks"—i.e. construction items—before he affixed his signature.

Connally said he would guard the $12,400,000 as a "layaway plan" for higher education.

Hopes that his decision on the 1964-65 appropriations bill would decide the special session question fell through. He said he does not want to call a special session, but will not hesitate to do so if he becomes convinced that excellence in higher education is threatened by a shortage of funds for teaching salaries, research and

VETOES

When the governor's deadline for signing bills arrived, he inked into law most of the 554 measures passed by the Legislature.

But he vetoed a few, including: SENATE BILL 270, revising the antiquated 1856 Code of Criminal Procedure. Connally mixed the controversial code revision, after learning that the copy sent him for signature was not the one passed by the Legislature.

HOUSE BILL 769 exempting from jury service "all owners or operators of milk-producing farms where this operation is the exclusive means of earning a living." Connally said, "I believe that dairy farmers occupy an important role in our society and can serve a valuable function as jurors."

HOUSE BILL 1053, providing for election of directors of the Upper Guadalupe River Authority, rather than appointment by the governor. Connally said he vetoed this since there was a technical conflict in its legal language which might jeopardize the district.

HOUSE BILL 975, repealing the requirement that the Angleton Drainage District get approval of the Texas Water Commission before spending bond money for improvements in all water districts.

MURRAY FILE—Income tax reports made by William J. Murray from 1946 to 1962 have been studied by Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. Murray resigned in April as a member of the Railroad Commission, following a conflict-of-interest charge.

After noting that Murray's taxable income from oil, gas and allied operations during those 17 years exceeded $1,700,000, Carr stated, "This report does raise a serious question of a conflict-of-interest between the official duties of Mr. Murray and his private interests."

Carr recommended a Legislative Council study for an improved Code of Ethics for State officials. Such a code, co-authored by Reps. Jim Nugent of Kerrville, Bob Eckhardt of Houston and Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi, passed the House during the legislative session but was killed in the Senate.

Study of Murray's finances was made for a Travis County Grand Jury, which will attempt to determine whether Murray violated any laws.

SCREW WORM PROGRESS PROVEN

Up to now estimates of state and federal animal health authorities that the 1-1/2 year-old screw-worm eradication program has resulted in anywhere from a 75 to 95 per cent decline in the disease have been pure guess work.

But the joint report of the Texas Animal Health Commission and the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the five-week period ending June 1 confirmed a 93 per cent decline as compared to the same weeks in 1962.

The clear comparison picture was the result of reporting cooperation on the part of livestock producers.

Animal health report showed that during the period April 28 to June 1, 1963, research workers confirmed 486 samples as screw-worm infestations and 1,281 as non-screw-worm. In the same period in 1962 there were 7,012 screw-worm cases confirmed and 597 termed non-screw-worm.

PROGRAM IN JEOPARDY?

Members of the Texas Screw-worm Eradication Committee considered Governor Connally's veto of a $300,000 appropriation for the eradication program a matter of "serious concern."

They said more than 100,000 livestock producers raised $1,000,000 toward its $1,000,000 goal this spring in a 30-day period on the governor's word that the State would carry its share of the $11,000,000 program.

Committeemen said that unless the $300,000 vetoed by Connally is restored, the entire program is in jeopardy, and possibly the loss of the huge investment producers already have made in the program.

LAND SALE POSTED

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler announced the sale of several South Texas tracts of forfeited land on which bonafide Texas veterans are invited to submit bids until 11 a. m. on July 1.

Each eligible veteran will be allowed to purchase only one of the 13 available tracts, but he may submit bids on as many as he desires.

Sadler, chairman of the Veterans Land Board, said, "The board strongly recommends that each bidder personally contact all taxing agencies to satisfy himself as to the exact amount of taxes and charges due and take those into consideration in making his bid."

Further information about the land sale may be obtained by writing the Land Commissioner at the Veterans Land Board, General Land Office, Archives and Library Building, Austin, Texas.

House Beats Down Plan To Spend Millions on Welfare

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

By A Cliff-Hanging Margin of 5 votes the House last week reared up on its hind legs and smacked down a half-billion dollar bill to increase and expand the Area Re-development program—the New Frontier's version of the old WPA.

The coalition vote was regarded as a victory for sanity and moderation in spending.

I joined with 12 other Texans in applying the brakes to this free-spending frenzy which has already pumped a billion dollars into so-called "depressed areas." Nine Texas members, however, voted the other way.

Capitol observers trace this spending orgy back to the presidential primary contest in West Virginia in 1960 between Senator John Kennedy and Senator Hubert Humphrey. One of the first of the presidential primary popularity contests that year, both candidates tried to out-promise each other in appeals for the votes of depressed West Virginia, then suffering from inactive coal mines and an over-burdened state welfare program, and a business slowdown. Newsmen at the time commented: "If either of them gets elected President the unemployment problem will be solved because it will take all the Nation's facilities running full time to produce enough to make good on what Jack and Hubert have promised to do for West Virginia alone!"

Later it was decided that what was good for West Virginia was good for the entire nation, and New Frontiersmen enacted legislation that enabled them to designate more than 1,000 communities over the country as "depressed," and therefore entitled to receive federal WPA checks in the form of grants and loans.

24,809 in April to 28,131 last month, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

But elsewhere, there was little change in the job picture. Non-farm placements increased only one per cent on the workday basis.

FIRE PROTECTION RULING

That part of a 1961 law which provides that counties could provide rural fire protection to residents of adjoining counties was ruled unconstitutional by Attorney General Carr.

Carr declared that a county can only contract to provide rural fire protection for residents of the same county living outside incorporated limits. He said his ruling did not negate the rest of the rural fire protection contract law, however.

If you listen to the pleas of the partisans you'd think this Nation is today bogged down in the thrall of a deep depression, something like the 1930s.

Because of the closeness of the vote last week, sponsors are already making plans for another effort. Whether the coalition can maintain this majority on this and other measures now pending—including the President's half billion dollar mass transportation aid plan—will depend upon the amount of public interest that is brought to bear upon the Congress in the weeks ahead. Among recent visitors been J. H. Martin of Texas including the daughter who will work in our office and Mr. and Mrs. David Mann of Mason.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pile of Custer, Kentucky.

The Rev. Ray Elliott, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony. Tall floor candelabras holding cathedral tapers formed the background for the wedding party and baskets of white gladioluses were at either side.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Tommy Russell, organist, who also accompanied Deanna Kozelsky, soloist, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Matron of honor was Mrs. Connie Mac Gibbs, maid of honor Miss Ernestine Scott of Abilene and bridesmaid was Margaret Ellen Stoecker of Winters. Profit Shrinkage, Soaring Taxes Called Main Reason for Unemployment Surge

Babson Park, Mass. This is the time of year when young people graduating from high school and college face the big task of finding a job. Not just any job to secure spending money, but one which can lead to a useful career. For many, this looms as the biggest hurdle of their adult life. Success can mean a rewarding life, but failure may take away enthusiasm and initiative. Hence, I feel that this is an appropriate time to devote a column to some fundamental population trends which may determine future employment patterns and opportunities.

The Current Employment Treadmill

One of the Kennedy Administration's biggest headaches is the problem of reducing unemployment. Since the current upward phase of the business cycle began in 1961, personal income from salaries and wages has risen by $35 billion to a new record rate, up 12 1/2 per cent. Industrial production has advanced 18 percent. Despite these impressive gains, employment has been able to post only a 3 per cent rise and unemployment shows little real improvement.

Automation is often blamed for our unemployment difficulties. The real truth is, however, that work crews have had to be trimmed down to efficient proportions because of such factors as the shrinkage of profit margins, costs of higher wage and fringe benefits, and soaring taxes which employers must pay for their workers.

The Changing Population Structure

Another factor which has kept unemployment at an uncomfortably high level is the rising tide of young people entering the labor force. What we are contending with now is only the frontal wave of the upturn in the birth rate of the late thirties. A more sizeable increase in job seekers still lies ahead when the baby boom of the 'forties makes itself felt on the labor scene.

This mushrooming of the reservoir of manpower is the primary reason for the sticky rate of unemployment. That the economy is now barely able to absorb the influx of new workers into the labor force is a symptom of poor economic health, considering the fact that business has been enjoying two years of high activity.

The Vulnerable Group

Projections of population trends indicate that between now and 1970, especially after 1965, two age groups should show the largest increase. These are the 15-19 year-olds and the 20-24 bracket. This means that in the second half of this decade, the economy will face a big task in finding jobs for these newcomers.

These statistics seem to me to be advising students to take their education seriously. Unskilled and uneducated workers are finding it progressively more difficult to find jobs. And the odds will be mounting against them in the years ahead. Since the new-worker group lacks high skills and experience, we have the makings of a chronic sore spot which could cause serious economic and sociological headaches later on.

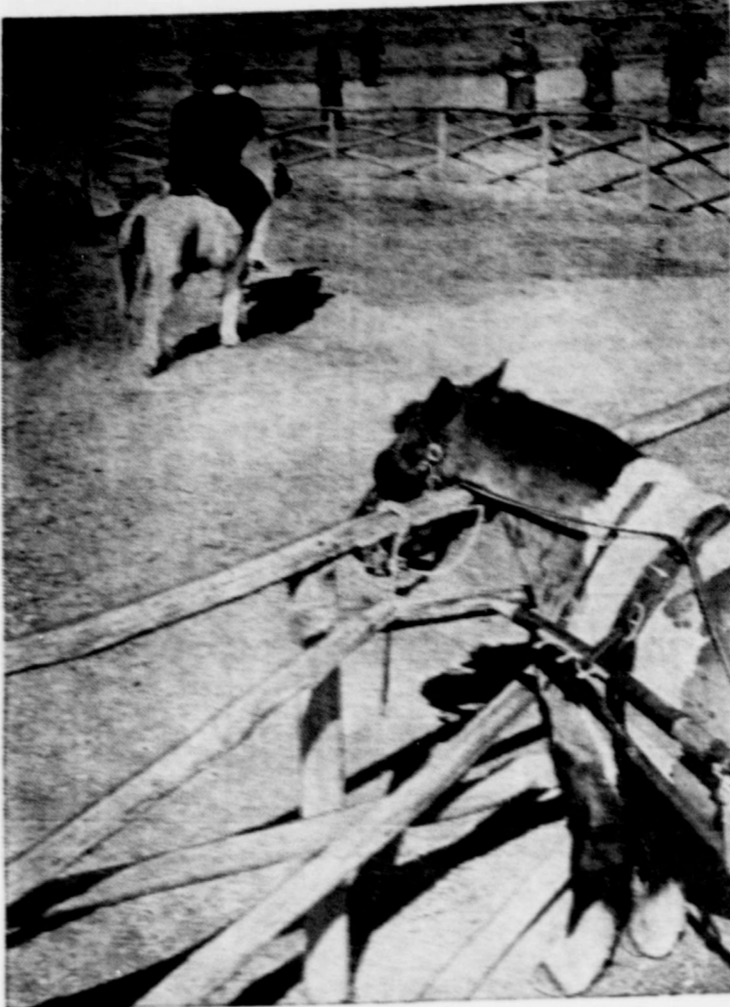

What Population And Employment Figures Say

These young adults may, however, hold the key to further prosperity. Not only do they constitute a mighty potential for lifting demand and consumption, but they could "beef up" the productive portion of the population. However, this potential can be realized only if these young adults can find suitable employment. I am certain that there will be opportunities, and attractive ones at that, for those prepared for careers in science, engineering, medicine, commerce, and education.

Those lacking the aptitude or funds to attend college need not get discouraged. There is a trend toward scarcity of skilled and semi-skilled technical help. This mechanical and scientific age is opening up many opportunities for "blue collar" workers. Those who are willing to pursue the proper training can earn a good week's pay, but only after they have acquired that training. This means postponing marriage to a later date. I am optimistic of young people. They are our nation's best asset. My plea is that they be told of the conditions ahead and reminded that employment is a "two-way street."

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Donica of Wrigate have been Mr. and Mrs. Tooter Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burton and children of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burton and sons of Texas City; Mrs. Lewis Hilton and children of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Burton, Tommy Burton and Yvonne Pierce of Winters.

WHOA IS ME—With his head hung over the rail, the harnessed horse seems to dream of the day when he was young, too. Perhaps a few children at the Borgheese Gardens in Rome would ride in his cart if he looked sad enough.

RSCD Enters Annual Soil Competition

Rumpels Soil Conservation District has entered the 17th annual Goodyear competition to select the nation's top 52 conservation districts, according to Jake Presley, Route 2, Winters, District Chairman.

Activities of the district will be weighed against the performance of other districts in the state in determining the outstanding district in the annual event sponsored by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio.

Key agricultural leaders will serve as judges and will select the state winner. Soil conservation efforts from May 1, 1962 through December 31, 1962 will be considered.

Grand award for the 12 districts selected nationally will be an expense paid, work-study trip to Arizona in December, 1964, for one member of the district governing body and the outstanding farmer-cooperator in each winning district. The 124 men selected will be guests at Goodyear Farms, a 14,000-acre general farm operation near Phoenix.

Rumpels District has taken part in the competition seven times in the past and was a member of the state's first district in 1942. Other district supervisors are W. DeSecke, Jr., Ballinger; Arthur Eggemeyer, Rt. 1, Miles; Kirby Ransomson, Rt. 1, Winters; and Bill Minzenmayer, Rt. 1, Winters.

Presley said the district's outstanding cooperators will be selected from among the 67 farm operators enrolled in the district program. Nationally about 1,000,000 farmers in 1,200 districts will be eligible for the grand award trip.

Soil Surveys Help Farmers Plan Operations

Soil surveys are used in many ways by many people, states James Barnhill of the local Soil Conservation Service. The primary use of the soil survey is to help farmers plan their operations.

Soils differ from one another just as people differ. Some have a high potential for production, while others have varying degrees of limitations. Some of these limitations can be corrected, but others are beyond correction. These we must recognize so that we can live with them.

In making a soil survey a soil scientist determines the characteristics of soils by both field and laboratory studies. He determines the thickness of the soil, its texture, structure, color, acidity or alkalinity, slope, stoniness, and drainage or flooding. From a study of these characteristics the soils are classified and named. Each kind is indicated by a symbol on the map and in the legends. With a soil and capability map of his land, a farmer has the opportunity to add greatly to his own knowledge about his soils. A soil conservationist uses the map

 Jackie Gleason's role in the new Paramount comedy is a far cry from his two previous parts: that of a deaf mute in "Gigot", and the crooked fight manager in "Requiem For A Heavyweight". In "Papa's Delicate Condition" he plays the title role of "Papa", a flamboyant railroad man who is a constant source of embarrassment to his family because of his inability to pass a saloon without stopping in for a friendly drink. When Papa has been drinking, he is said by his family to be in that "delicate condition".

Distress Signal

A simple distress signal that can be used by the lost-in-the-woods person—or lost anywhere outdoors for that matter—is the toy balloon.

Keep several brilliant colored ones in your knapsack or boat or tackle box, along with a roll of heavy nylon line and some strong string. A balloon attracts attention and helps point out the spot. In case it breaks away—attach a note telling of your approximate whereabouts and outlining your predicament, needs, etc., if possible.

JACKIE GLEASON'S FAMILY in the new Paramount comedy "Papa's Delicate Condition" consists of his wife, Glynis Johns; his oldest daughter, Laurel Goodwin; and his little daughter, Linda Eruhl. In technicolor, "Papa's Delicate Condition" showing now through Saturday night at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.
