Winters has come of age, when we consider all things which go into making up a modern, progressive school which is second to none and far surpassing many, well-attended churches, to name just two. The latest addition to the Winters scene is the new library, to be dedicated

There has been a library in Winters several years, but for one reason or another, even though we've all known it was there, it has been neglected, except for the efforts of a few individuals and organizations who realize its importance and place in the community. Because it has not been neglected, as far as the librarian is concerned. In the first place, Myra Glover, who started the library some years ago on North Main Street, has a touch-and-go proposition. Myra Glover, who has faced many trials and troubles in keeping the doors open and books on the shelves—or, to put it exactly, she has less fortitude, would have given up long ago, but she found a way in life, among the books and in world of books. She is determined to make the library successful, and has given more than she has received. Her struggles have been eased in recent months, because of action on the part of the people who realized the need of the library. They pitched in to begin to publicize the library, they scouted around for a home; and they carried out a campaign to move the library to a more adaptable location. The public responded, and the need was met.

The library was moved to its new location on North Main Street a few weeks ago. Since that time it was brought out under the bushel, so to speak, and interest has increased. The membership has grown from 143 since the moving. This means that more than 200 people regularly use the library. Number of volumes has increased from 3800 to 5300 on the shelves, with more to come. These include everything from simple children's books to technical and research works. Books are being used more and more by students and by business and professional men.

Winters can be proud of its library and can feel pride in the fact that there are people who see the importance—especially one who has given so much to it.

Who viewed the Johnny Carson show on television last night probably recognized the lineup of sports equipment displayed. The Porta-Camp and sports heater, a set of Dry Manufacturing Co. Winters, was prominent in the show. The Porta-Heat also was featured in a recent issue of the Times magazine. Winters is proud to gain national recognition and publicity.

The world won't be quite so full of people who build up a reputation as much publicity as one who hits it!

Farmer friend who tills the soil on Bluff Creek says there are some far-reaching results in the decision to sell wheat to the Russians. Says after all, it's kinda stay mad at a good customer.

A shellacking on our part last week—hit only half the time. Anyone should have known that TCU was going to beat us—except Arkansas, and the Eagles were cinched to whip the Raiders didn't feel any. Difference of opinion is made horse races, though, is the way it looks this week.

Some hope: Kansas over Baylor; Texas over Oklahoma; Texas over West Texas; Texas over Tex A. and M.; Texas over Texas Tech; Texas over Hardin-Simmons; Texas over N. W. La.; Texas over Marcus Over McMurry; Texas over Snyder; Texas over Anson.

NEW HOME — This building, formerly the office of the West Texas Utilities Co. in Winters, now is the Winters Public Library. The building, located on North Main Street in the main business district of Winters, was purchased from the West Texas Utilities Co. Extensive remodeling and repair was made, and the library moved from its old location in the American Legion Hall. (Photo courtesy Electric Times)

Goal For Local Salvation Army Drive Is $1,000

Goal for the annual fund drive for the Winters unit of the Salvation Army has been set at $1,000, with the campaign scheduled for the first two weeks in November.

This is the result of a meeting of local people Friday at the offices of the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

H. I. (Ted) Meyer was named as chairman of the Winters and North Runnels County Salvation Army Service Unit committee. Meyer replaces A. M. Hays, who will serve as one of the welfare secretaries of the unit.

F. R. Anderson was named campaign chairman for the 1963 campaign for funds. He said that he would name captains and teams for the project in the near future.

In addition to Hays, Meyer, Anderson, and Joe Stevens, the local unit committee includes W. H. Craven Jr., Mrs. B. B. Bedford, Dr. H. H. McCreight and Marvin Bedford, of Winters, and Henry Adcock and A. Dooley of Wingate.

Robert N. Eastus Jr., field representative from Abilene, met with the group.

In setting the campaign goal and dates, the committee reported that a total of 461 people were given aid by the Winters unit during this year. Food and transportation was furnished 128 transient people, and food, medicine, clothing, and medical care were furnished to a total of 333 local people. In addition, the local unit cooperated with the state-wide welfare services of the Salvation Army.

Joe Stevens, Winters Chief of Police, who serves on the local unit committee, was presented a plaque in recognition of his work with local boys and for enrolling boys in the Salvation Army's summer camp in June.

Work On Church Hall Nears End

Finishing touches are being completed on work on Mt. Carmel Catholic Church Hall. The project was started several years ago, but was dropped. Work was resumed several weeks ago to provide quarters for a parish priest and to complete the kitchen.

Library Open House Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon

Sunday will mark the fulfillment of a dream and a climax to a determined drive for a modern public library for Winters. The dream has been that of Miss Myra Glover; the campaign for the library was the work of many Winters citizens and friends.

Dedication and open house will be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 13, from 2:30 to 5 in the new home of the Winters Public Library, now located on North Main Street. The public has been invited to attend this dedication and open house.

Winters' Mayor Harvey D. Jones will be master of ceremonies at the short dedication service beginning at 2:30. The Rev. Edgar Graham, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will give the scripture reading and prayer, and County Judge W. H. Rampy will be the speaker.

The public has been invited to attend both the dedication services and the open house. Many out-of-town visitors are expected to be present for the event. Plans are to hold the dedication inside the building. However, committee members explained that if the number of visitors attending the dedication was too large, the service would probably be held in front of the building.

Miss Myra Glover, librarian, who started the library in 1954 as a personal endeavor to help the community, will be honored during the dedication services and open house.

In the past it has been the custom of many individuals and businesses to send flowers to open house celebrations. The committee in charge of the library open house has requested that congratulatory gifts be in the form of books or donations for books. These gifts will be displayed on a "book tree" in the lobby of the library. The committee was quick to remind residents, however, that visitors at the open house will not be expected to bring gifts; they explained that the event is primarily to exhibit to the public this addition to the cultural growth of the community.

The North Main Street location is the fourth home of the Winters Public Library since its beginning in 1954. The first location was in the corner of the Chamber of Commerce office; second was in the old City Hall building on North Church Street; third home was in the rear of the American Legion Building.

The building now housing the library was built as a Winters office by the West Texas Utilities Co. in 1928. For 34 years it served as the local office, and was vacated in December, 1962, when the office was moved to its present location just two doors south in the remodeled Lee Building.

The building is of Spanish architecture, built of tile and brick and surfaced with stucco. Bright colored tile was used in the trimming. In the days when the building was constructed, all of the WTU offices over the country were built in the same style.

Located as it was in the main business district of Winters, and vacant, the building was a perfect site for a library. This fact was noted by several local people, who had been searching about for a suitable location for the library. A committee approached Cal Young, president of the WTU, who gave them an option to purchase the building for $6,000. This seemed at first to be out of the reach of the library organization. The amount would have to be raised through public subscription, and a deadline of June 6 was set on the option. However, this amount was halved when Young pledged a $1500 contribution. And then John Q. McAdams, president of the Winters State Bank, pledged another $1500, leaving the total necessary to be raised at only $3000.

The idea was presented to the public, and response was immediate and overwhelming. Within a very few days, a total of $4990 had been given or pledged, and the goal was in sight. The next week showed an oversubscription to the fund, by more than $3,000. People who were interested in the project began sending in money, and before the end of the stepped up campaign, more than $10,000 had been given. To date, a total of $10,244.55 has been collected.

Plans were begun immediately to organize a non-profit corporation with a board of trustees to handle all transactions of the library. Board members were the Rev. Edgar H. Graham, Mrs. Noel Reid and Jerry Ward.

The building was purchased, with money left over to be spent on remodeling and insurance, books, and furniture. Many people donated furniture, or money to purchase furniture. Several clubs have pledged monthly amounts to finance the library.

Mrs. P. F. Lail Will Hold Art Show In Abilene

A solo show of paintings is scheduled at the Abilene Public Library by Mrs. P. F. Lail, former resident of the Winters area. A gallery talk by Mrs. Lail will follow the exhibit, with a reception afterward.

Mrs. Lail was an art major at Simmons College, now Hardin-Simmons University, before she was married. Later she studied art in Los Angeles, Calif., where she and her husband lived for more than 35 years.

After returning to Texas, Mrs. Lail said that she joined art clubs and studied daily. Some of her paintings have been sent as far as Panama, Hawaii and Germany, and a number of her works have been shown in juried shows. Recently, one of her pictures was selected to be exhibited over West Texas. An exhibit was held at Cisco Sept. 28, under the supervision of the West Texas Art Association.

Homecoming Event Following Game Here October 18

The Student Council of Winters High School has set Oct. 18 as the date for the 1963 homecoming tea for all ex-students of Winters.

An informal tea honoring alumni will be held in the school cafeteria immediately following the football game with the Haskell Indians.

The game will be high-lighted by the crowning of the Blizzard Queen.

The come-and-go tea will last from 9:30 until 11 p. m.

This is the first time in a number of years that Winters has had a homecoming celebration. All former students and faculty members have been invited to attend, and it is hoped that the homecoming can become a bigger event in the years to come.

Will Should Be Made and Kept Current To Protect Family, Outline All Wishes

Babson Park, Mass. Everyone should make a will, and many should now make a codicil. I give here seven reasons why. Too many people die suddenly and unexpectedly (especially in automobile accidents). While of course you may live a long life, you also may die next week. My wife, after many happy years which we had together, died suddenly a few months ago after only two days of illness. She had made her will six years ago; but I am sure she would have made many important changes but was too busy to get to it.

Appoint Your Own Executor

Reason 1. To be sure of having an executor friendly to your interests and one who would be pleased with your will, rather than having some judge perhaps appoint a friend of his as executor with whom you might not be satisfied. You can appoint your own executor when writing your will; but I would not let the executor know what it contains until after your death.

Reason 2. If you die without a will and the court has to disburse your estate, it may feel obliged to advertise for heirs you might never have heard of. Such expense and complications can be largely eliminated by making a will and appointing your own executor. You can then also provide that the executor give your beneficiaries property or securities at a fair value instead of cash.

Reason 3. By making a will you can give your executor certain discretionary powers, like determining what property to sell and deciding various other things. You can directly will certain articles of furniture, clothing, etc., to definite people and be sure things are done as you would want to do them yourself, without fear of litigation.

Reason 4. If a court should liquidate your estate, it might sell property hurriedly or during a depression. By making a will you can give your executor time and enable him to use his judgment and consult other people. This privilege could save your estate thousands of dollars.

Consider Leaving Money In Trust

Reason 5. By making a will, you can arrange to leave money in trust so that your brother or sister or spouse may thus have the full income during his or her lifetime and then have it go to the children or to others. You may wish to distribute your property in unequal proportion, especially if one beneficiary is disabled or handicapped. To do this, you must make a will or add a codicil.

Reason 6. If the estate goes to a court-appointed executor it may take two years or more before being settled and your wife and family may have nothing on which to live during this period. By making a will you can authorize your executor to pay your wife a certain amount each month pending settlement of your estate, or to give her more money if an unexpected illness or other trouble should come.

Reason 7. I hope you will have some church or charities, as well as friends, to whom you wish to make a gift. This can be done only by executing a will. The only hope of this old world is religion; and the church holds the key and is the doorway thereto.

Consult A Good Lawyer

Don't try to make your own will or codicil yourself to save a few dollars; but go to a good lawyer. I reread my will once every year—usually on my birthday—usually make a codicil as needed.

The lawyer should be a resident of your state; laws differ in different states. He will tell you how many witnesses must see you sign your will, and explain that these witnesses should be people who are NOT mentioned in the will or codicils. There also are other technicalities which your lawyer will explain to you.

Finally, let me stress the importance of letting nobody except the lawyer who draws up the will for you know its contents. Sign only the original will and original codicils, and then take these—sealed with red wax—to your bank for safekeeping, getting a receipt. Have your lawyer make only the original will and codicils, and only one carbon copy which you can keep unsigned in your safe-deposit box to reread once a year. The receipt for the original you can also keep in your safe-deposit box; but sign no duplicates of your will or codicils.

Even if you now have only a little money, you should make a will!

This world situation must work out to the advantage of women more than men. The day we saw a gray-haired teen come out of the beauty parlor,

Pork Facts

For tenderness and appetite appeal, all pork should be cooked well done. Large fresh pork cuts, including loin, shoulder and ham, are roasted at 350° F. oven temperature to 185° F. internal temperature; smoked pork cuts—ham, shoulder butt, etc.—are roasted at 300° F. to an internal temperature of 160° F. Pork chops, steaks, patties, and frenched tenderloin are best cooked by braising, since this method assures meat that is well done, tender and juicy. Smoked ham slices, bacon, Canadian-style bacon are cooked by broiling, panbroiling or pan-frying.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

Texas' Political Pot Starts Simmering; President Sets Date For Launching

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

President John F. Kennedy is expected to launch his presidential campaign off to a flying start in Texas around November 12 to help lift the 1964 Democratic presidential campaign off to a flying start in this state. Kennedy is expected to launch his presidential campaign off to a flying start in Texas around November 12 to help lift the 1964 Democratic presidential campaign off to a flying start in this state.

Jobs are threatened by an acute shortage of oyster shell in authorized areas. Dredgers supply shell to roadbuilding and concrete industries, as well as chemical, paper and other manufacturing firms in the state.

Oyster fishermen, sports fishermen and conservationists also were on hand during the two-day hearing. They claim that they would face a crisis if shell-dredging areas are expanded in the two bays. Commercial fishermen, who produced 64 per cent of the 1962 oyster crop in Galveston Bay, claimed they would be run out of business. Sportsmen said destruction of live oyster reefs, or reefs which can be revitalized, would destroy every natural attraction in the bays.

Both sides feel that the application fight is a life-or-death situation... either for the shell-dredgers or for the oyster men and the vast sporting industry on the upper Gulf Coast.

CATTLE KILLER
Agriculture Commissioner John White warned Texas farmers against the deadly danger of letting livestock graze in fields which have been defoliated by the use of certain cotton chemicals. Warning came after a Breckenridge farmer lost more than half his herd of cattle from the effects of arsenic poison.

White urged farmers to seek full information on the effects of any chemical before applying it to their fields.

HELL DREDGING WRANGLE
Coastal region crisis is being heated by the state's four largest dredging firms.

Firms are Parker Brothers, W. H. Haden Company, Horton and Horton and Bay Dredging Company.

State Parks and Wildlife Commission took under advisement application to expand dredging activities in Galveston and San Jacinto bays.

Participants claimed $1,000,000 worth of industry and 10,000 jobs are threatened by an acute shortage of oyster shell in authorized areas.

BUDGETMAKERS BALK
Legislative Budget Board declined to give its immediate consent to a new $1,000,000 conference center building at the University of Texas. Members said they feared Governor Connally might redline the item.

Board approved additional outlays for new high speed data processing equipment for the State Highway Department and a study to determine future needs of all agencies for such equipment.

Board Director Vernon McGee warned of an approaching revenue problem. He said scarce studies of smoking results might drastically cut tobacco tax income.

EDUCATION FUNDS NEEDED
The Committee of Governing Boards of State Colleges and Universities estimated $15,000,000 more will be needed by Texas' 20 tax-supported colleges and universities this fiscal period to keep up with the national pattern of teaching salaries, libraries and research.

Committee will work with the Governor's study committee and the Texas Commission on Higher Education to blueprint educational growth. Governor Connally told the college board members they should take a searching look at their own schools to see if all programs are necessary.

HAPPY WITH PARKS GIFT
Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler applauded the gift of 3,000 acres of lake property in Jefferson County to the State Parks and Wildlife Department. Gift was from the J. L. C. McFaddin Estate. He withdrew an old request to the Attorney General to push a State claim to the acreage. Sadler predicted the waters will be developed into a "sportsman's paradise."

COURTS SPEAK
Vending machine operators selling items which cost less than 25 cents each have to pay the state sales tax on their take, the Supreme Court ruled. However, the Legislature now has adopted amendments to exempt vending machines, newspapers and merchants with a majority of sales less than 25 cents.

The Supreme Court ordered the state to pay back to four utility companies in Houston, Corpus Christi, Shreveport and Abilene $335,000 plus interest in franchise taxes. It found the corporations were exempt from paying the tax on sums kept in reserve to pay deferred federal income taxes.

The high court heard new arguments over constitutionality of the 1961 dedicated reserve gas tax.

HUNTING LEASE LOTTERY
Sportsmen will cast lots for the right to hunt game on six State preserves. Applications, available from State Parks and Wildlife Department, must be returned before October 31. Winners of the drawing will be notified a few days thereafter.

Preserves open for the hunt include Kerr Wildlife Management Area; Sierra Diablo area in Culberson County; Gene Howe area in Hemphill County; Angelina area in Sabine and Cherokee counties; Black Gap area in Brewster County; and Engeling area in Anderson County.

Atwell's own operation, Coastal Transport Company, Inc., is a leader in the field of safety. Coastal has won national and other awards for accident-freedom.

TRUCK DRIVERS COMPLIMENTED
R. L. Atwell Jr. of Houston says Texas truckers have an excellent safety record because we live with safety, we breathe it, we think it all day and dream about it at night.

That's why the Texas truck driver is known and recognized as the safest man on the highway, the TMTA director stated.

His remarks were made at an Austin meeting of the Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Oil Field Haulers Council of Safety Supervisors.

High Grade Beef Not Always Highest Selling

High grades of beef do not necessarily sell for more than lower grades, says a new publication of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cattlemen know that in most cases the price for "choice" cattle is higher than the price for "standard" grade cattle, though the price ranges of each grade overlap the others. L-607, Effects of Grades, Weights, Buyers on Beef Carcass Prices," explains that this means that some lower grade cattle bring better prices than the next higher grade.

Reasons for this difference, according to the publication, include the fact that if one grade of beef is desired more than another, the price bidding for that grade increases. This desire depends on how much each type of buyer wants that particular quality carcass, it says.

The method of carcass distribution also has a tremendous effect on the final wholesale price. Beef sold through restaurants, chain stores and small butchers normally sell for different prices and though the final destination of some beef is not known, the type of buyer purchasing it gives a clue.

The weight of the carcass has an effect on the price as well, according to L-607. Buyers will pay more for top Good carcasses than for average or low Goods, and will pay more for lightweight carcasses than for the heavier ones. Also, different buyers with different needs will demand different weights and grades of beef.

In establishing the final sale price of carcasses. To the cattle producer, the packer-wholesaler and retailer, these factors are important and their final goal is providing the consumer with fresh, wholesome, high quality beef at a price as close to the actual value as possible.

Fishermen have old lures which might well fit into a museum now being assembled in

W. Moore, superintendent of the Dallas Aquarium, is displaying a museum of old lures. Those that people who own some old-timers send them to early everyone who has been to the State Fair of Texas has seen the Dallas Aquarium. If you haven't you should. It is one of the finest in the United States. It is open (free of charge) to the general public . . . and year out.

The building Superintendent hopes to establish a museum of old lures. All lures sent to him will be properly identified and displayed. However, because of the time and funds, it will be impossible for him to acknowledge the lures. But they will be displayed on proper display.

If you have an old lure or a box of lures, this would be a good place to display them. Address your package to W. Moore, Superintendent, Dallas Aquarium, 963 Rustic Circle, Dallas 18, Texas.

The aquarium on your "wish" list. It is open Monday through Saturday from 8 to 12 noon until 6. Feeding time is on Mondays and Thursdays.

The famous Aquarium was built in 1936 as a part of the Texas Centennial Celebration, which actually is a Texas heritage.

The aquarium is divided into three classifications. Division 1 are fishes native to Texas waters. Here the water temperature is kept at a constant 68 degrees throughout the year. This constant temperature has helped keep the fish in a better state of health and substantially has reduced diseases.

Division 2 consists of fishes from mountain lakes and streams. Refrigeration equipment maintains a constant temperature of 50 degrees. In this section will be found northern pike, five species of trout, blackfish from Alaska, muskies, walleyes and saugers.

In division 3, water is kept at 80 degrees for the benefit of tropical fish from around the world. Displayed are more than 3,500 individual fish of 200 species collected from Texas, New Mexico, Wyoming, Missouri, Tennessee, Arkansas and Iowa. Also on display are numerous species of turtles, salamanders, frogs, alligators and a pair of Harbor Seals.

In the Aquarium are two alligator gar fish which were caught near Dallas and placed in the museum on the day it was opened, June 6, 1936. Both are in good health, indicating something of the life span of this fish, which biologists say dates back to prehistoric times.

Water for the aquarium is supplied from a nearby well. Its flow is a crystal clear 68 degrees throughout the year. This assures ample fresh water, without minerals or pollutants that would be harmful to the fish.

Additions to the tank space are making possible a display of salt water fish from the Texas coast. By adding lures to their displays the aquarium will have another attraction appealing to the general public—but especially the anglers.

So . . . if you have a few real old lures, send them in, whether you can identify them or not. There are old-timers around who can.

Homemaking Girls To Observe School Lunch Week Here

The girls in Homemaking I class at Winters High School will visit the school cafeteria kitchens next Wednesday to observe at first hand food preparation on a large scale, and will later be guests at a tea in the cafeteria, in observance of National School Lunch week.

Girls of the class also will participate in a poster contest during the special week.

Included in their studies, girls in the Homemaking classes at Winters High School learn that few things play a more important part in achieving good health than what they eat. Through their study of foods, they are learning the importance of the essential nutrients in their diet. Sugar and starches in various forms make up a group of foods called carbohydrates which supply the body with energy, and fats are another group which furnish energy.

These are but a few of the things the girls in Homemaking, taught by Mrs. Cecil Hambright, are learning. Planning their school lunch is a chance for practical work toward better nutrition. During National School Lunch Week, the girls will discuss the nutritional advantages of the lunch-room programs and of meals served in the cafeteria.

Bye Bye Birdie

"Bye Bye Birdie," bright and breezy film version of the Broadway musical play, reportedly brings a fresh new look to the motion picture screen when it shows at the Fiesta Theatre on Saturday and Sunday. Produced by Fred Kohlmar and directed by George Sidney, the new Columbia Pictures release stars Janet Leigh, Dick Van Dyke, Ann-Margret, Maureen Stapleton and Bobby Rydell with Jesse Pearson as Birdie and Ed Sullivan as himself. It's in Panavision and Eastman Color.

A happy, zestful show which pokes gentle fun at the younger generation, the Elvis craze, television and various other American fads and follies. "Bye Bye Birdie" is especially notable in the fact that it is largely about teenagers who are not juvenile delinquents. In fact, the youngsters of "Bye Bye Birdie" are healthy, happily typical — from their soda shop meetings to their interminable telephoning, from their careless clothing to their overpowering romances.

"Bye Bye Birdie" tells the twin stories of a songwriter and his secretary, and a small-town Ohio girl. Vital to all three is the fact that Conrad Birdie, the nation's hip-swingingest songster, is about to be drafted. To the songwriter, this is a matter of financial and romantic disaster; he had been banking on royalties from Birdie's next picture, for which he had written the title tune, to enable him to wed his secretary. To the adoring Ohio girl, and her millions of fellow-fans across the country, Birdie's imminent entry into the service is complete and unadorned tragedy; of course, her own high school boy friend feels a bit differently about it.

"Flipper"

Moviegoers viewing Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's unusual new motion picture, "Flipper," are in for a delightful experience. Chuck Connors and twelve-year-old Luke Halpin, making his film debut, are the human stars of this picture but the real star is a seven-foot-long, 300-pound dolphin, playing the title role.

And what a title role! Not too many people can be aware of what ingratiating, friendly, intelligent and frolicsome creatures dolphins are, but they will have their eyes opened when they see this completely enchanting movie unfolding the story of the extraordinary friendship between a dolphin and the young son of a Florida Keys fisherman.

The story was filmed in color in the Keys, the Bahamas and the Virgin Islands with many of the sequences photographed below the surface of the ocean, giving the spectator fascinating close-ups of Chuck Connors as a Florida Keys fisherman, and Luke Halpin, as his son, sight a school of fish in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's fascinating new picture, "Flipper." The story, filmed in color in the Florida Keys, Bahamas and Virgin Islands, tells the story of the extraordinary friendship between a boy and a delightful dolphin. "Flipper," showing Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre.

Ann-Margret "belts" one of the many hit tunes in Bye Bye Birdie, showing Saturday and Sunday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre with Janet Leigh, Dick Van Dyke, Maureen Stapleton and Bobby Rydell also starred. The Kohlmar-Sidney production, based on the Broadway hit, is a Columbia release in Panavision and Eastman Color.

the mysterious finned world beneath the seas, including a scene showing a battle to the death between Flipper and a shark which has attacked Sandy, the youngster played by Halpin. Kenneth R. Wilson, chief radio-man, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Wilson of Winters, is serving aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Hornet which recently completed training exercises off the Northern coast of California.

The Hornet entered San Francisco Bay Sept. 20 and moored at Alameda before departing Sept. 23 for her operational port, Long Beach, Calif.

During World War II Hornet took part in raids on Palau, Yap, Truk, the capture of Saipan, and both battles of the Philippine Sea. After Leyte operations, she saw action in the Battle of the Surigao Strait and in the attacks on Northern Luzon and Formosa. In addition, Hornet received the Presidential Unit Citation for "extraordinary heroism in action against enemy Japanese forces in the air and afloat."

The present Hornet was launched in 1943, decommissioned in 1946 and recommissioned in 1953 for Atlantic Fleet duty. Upon completing an around-the-world cruise in 1953 Hornet rejoined the Pacific Fleet.

Administration Switches Plans From Tax Bill Passage To Civil Rights Bill

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Like the fair maiden who had to choose between two suitors, the Administration last week chose Civil Rights ahead of Tax cuts, in a popularity contest on priorities. Civil Rights, Senate whip Hubert Humphrey announced, is simply too hot to be acted upon in Congress during an election year just when people are getting ready to vote.

But tax cuts, it was reasoned, would be quite palatable in the spring, just before tax-paying time.

Humphrey's announcement, following a White House conference, made it apparent the Administration does not consider the tax bill so important, after all.

The decision probably didn't matter much, except for appeasement purposes (in response to NAACP's demands), since Senator Harry Byrd, chairman of the Senate committee that will handle the tax bill, has indicated he will take his own time in giving the tax measure a good going over. And that can hardly be completed before the end of the year.

And by January, Byrd's committee will be better able to judge how far the Congress is willing to go in reduced spending. The record for this session will have been finished. The tax cut bill, which some of us opposed because we were not convinced the promised retrenchments in spending would take place, was approved in the House only after glittering promises were made that unnecessary Government activity would be cut out, with immense savings. But not a single specific cut-back in nonessential projects

The following is by Lewis H. Chrisman: I once heard a college chapel address entitled "The Duty of Keeping Physically Fit." At first the topic impressed me as uninspiringly cut and dried, but the more I have thought of it, the more I have realized its applicability to the problems of life. Not all of us can keep in a topnotch physical condition all our days, but we can do our best to measure up to our possibilities. Sometimes we wear ourselves out doing nothing. Frazled nerves, snappy tempers, and insipid interests can cause spiritual and moral bankruptcy. Often our usefulness to others depends on what we make of ourselves.

1492-COLUMBUS DAY-1963

Columbus sailed uncharted seas to reach the East Indies which he never found. But he did discover something much greater. It was a new land which was to grow and prosper, until the whole world looked to it for leadership.

America was discovered by a man who had courage to strike out into the unknown. Others who came later to make this new land their home also had a desire for discovery which prompted them to seek new and better ways of doing things. Here they were able to live under a government which encouraged the initiative of the individual. Future years will bring us an even higher standard of living, if re- search, invention and discovery are not stifled by big government and bureaucratic decrees.

Blizzards Smother Coleman Bluecats

Bouncing back like a rubber ball, the Winters High School Blizzards painted a stripe down the back of the Coleman Bluecats as they skunked them 37-0 here Friday night.

Before a capacity crowd, the Blizzards racked up 13 first downs with 170 yards rushing and 133 yards in the air for their second victory of the season.

Because of their part in the actual carrying of the ball, we must of necessity write more about the backfield of the Blizzard football team. However, without the fine blocking of the offensive line, and the equally fine backing of the defensive, the five Blizzard touchdowns would not have been possible. Also in this short space, we should recognize the efforts of the second string who saw service in this game for the first time this season.

Receiving the opening kick off, the Blizzards moved from their own 29 to the 46 in seven plays, where the toe of Donald Parker was put into play, and the Bluecats were given a chance. The Bluecats completed a pass from their own 24 to the Winters 46, only to have it wiped out by a penalty. Again they took to the air, for 7 yards. Two incomplete passes left them shy of the first down, and they punted to the Coleman 48.

From that spot, Denny Aldridge broke loose for 17 yards to the 31. Aldridge called Steve Grissom's number on the next play, and he moved some 10 yards then lateraled to Aldridge who carried to the Coleman 9. Again a Coleman penalty—half-way to the goal line. With five yards needed for the TD, Grissom moved in with 6:45 left in the first half. Van Spill kicked his first of 4 extra points out of five tries to give the Blizzards a 7-0 lead.

The second touchdown drive began on the Winters 46 yard line, late in the first quarter. Spill carried to the mid-stripe, and Aldridge carried to the Coleman 46. With third down, Aldridge faded back to pass, but ran instead to the 17 yard line, as the first quarter ended. From the 17, Grissom carried for 1, and Spill for 2 to the 14. Aldridge was stopped, but fourth down, hit Spill to the 3. Grissom made it to the 1, and Aldridge moved across the goal with 9:06 left. Spill's kick was wide, Winters 13, Coleman 0.

Late in the second quarter the Blizzards were deep in their own end of the field after receiving a fourth down punt. From the 15 Grissom moved to the 25, and with 40 seconds left in the half, Aldridge hit Donald Parker with a long pass. Parker bobbled the ball, then recovered, and outran the Coleman defenders to claim a TD, with a 75-yard pass play. Spill's kick was good. Winters 20, Coleman 0.

Late in the third quarter, Chester Puckett recovered a Coleman fumble on the Coleman 6, to set up another Blizzard tally. Grissom was pushed back to the nine, then Spill lost to the 11. With third down and goal from the 11, Aldridge-Parker claimed another TD with only 17 seconds left in the third. The Spill kick was good.

After setting up this TD, Puckett claimed the next by intercepting a Coleman pass on the 42 yard line, and racing to the goal. Again Spill parted the uprights—Winters 35, Coleman 0.

As if to put the frosting on the cake, the Blizzards claimed just one more score—a field goal off the toe of Van Spill. Lewis Simpson intercepted a Coleman pass on the Coleman 20 to set up the field goal attempt. The Blizzards had moved to the 16, in three plays, and had a fourth down, two yards needed situation; however, the clock had only 4 seconds left. The entire Winters stands became still as they realized what was up. From the 33 yard line, Spill made a brilliant kick, usually not seen in schoolboy ball, to give 3 more points. Winters 37, Coleman 0.

Up the ladder the Blizzards come. This week, a rest, then into the real games of 6-AA. Playing as they did this week, the other teams of the "Little Southwest Conference" will have to watch out for severe weather the week they meet the Blizzards.

AROUND THE 6-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

Winters and Haskell take it easy this week, while each of the other four teams of 6-AA play their final pre-conference game before the inter-district squabes begin next week.

Only three members of the district remain in the undefeated column: Ballinger, Stamford and Hamlin. These three squads are among 26 undefeated, untied Class AA football teams in the state.

Ballinger's tilt with the Colorado City Wolves last Friday night was marked by high numbers in the yardage gained columns and in the first down statistics, but the final score of 12-0 for Ballinger reflected the trouble the Bearcats had with the Wolves. Ballinger gained 214 yards rushing and passing, to C-C's net of 10, and chalked up 11 first downs to the Wolves' 4. But the South Runnels County team came away from the contest limping, with a workhorse, Grant Lee, injured in the third stanza. He did score the last TD of the game, with two seconds left, however. Ballinger now has a 4-0 record, and will have a go against Coleman this week.

Stamford rested last week, with their 4-0 record. This week, however, they contest Class AAA Snyder at home. Snyder swamped Kermit 21-8 last week, and is calculated to give the Bulldogs a rough time Friday night. If there is danger of 6-AA dropping down another game this week, this game probably could be called the crucial one. Stamford is second in the league in total points scored, with 92 against 21 for their opposition, and are still determined to return the championship banner to the country north of Abilene. With Ballinger neck and neck with the Bulldogs this season, and the Blizzards from Winters coming stronger and still to be reckoned with, the Stamford boys are up against a real problem.

Hamlin, also undefeated and untied, still cling to the top of the totem pole, by virtue of their 135-44 game point record. They rested last Friday night, but take on Post this week for their final pre-conference game. The word has gone out that Hamlin—along with Ballinger—will have easy goes this week, but in Texas schoolboy football, the fall can come suddenly. This the Pied Pipers realize, and probably will be taking no chances of losing their hold on the leadership of the district.

Haskell rests this week, following their sinking at the hands of Wichita Falls Hirschi 26-0 last week. They've won 2 and lost 2, with an even-Steven score log, 74-74. In last week's sadness, before 2,500 homecoming fans, the Indians' deepest penetration was to the Huskies' 20-yard line just before the final gun. They were out-maneuvered on the ground, and were allowed only 9 first downs to Hirschi's 15, and netted only 37 yards rushing, to 356. Their passing accounted for the greatest gains, with 103 yards, to 54. Their first conference tilt will be against also-resting Winters on Oct. 18, in Winters.

Anson, with a 3-1 record in pre-conference contests, took a close one away from Clyde last Friday night. In that game, the Clyde Bulldogs built up a 12-0 lead with TDs in the second and third quarters. Then the Tigers came back with determination in the final period, and with 4:39 minutes left in the game, picked up a 7-counter. Grabbing the initiative, the Anson boys then pushed 92 yards for a touchdown with only 26 minutes left in the game, to grab a 14-12 decision. According to the statistics, the Tigers outplayed Clyde all over the field, accounting for 231 yards rushing and 166 in passing, to 38 and 137 for Clyde. Anson now has a .750 percentage rating, trailing opponents in total points, 36-55, for a fourth-place spot in the league. They tangle with Colorado City this week, and fans of 6-AA will have a chance to

Tri-Captains Named By '63 Blizzards

Three senior members of the 1963 Winters High School Blizzard football team have been named as tri-captains for the remainder of the season.

They are Steve Grissom, Mike Mitchell and Donald Parker. Grissom, fullback, is a three-year letterman. Mitchell, end, is a two-year letterman, and Parker, end, is a two-year letterman.

These team members will act as leaders of the Blizzard football team in action against the other five member teams of District 6-AA in conference contests.

not Miss Glover's Library," she points out, but is merely the custodian . . . the library belongs to the people of Winters." Many other people, especially within the past few months, have had a hand in building the Winters Public Library. But, without something around which to build, and without the patience and love of work on the part of the librarian, it would have been next to impossible to achieve.

So, in spite of the neat new sign on the front of the building on North Main Street, Winters Public Library, to the people of Winters, it is still Miss Glover's Library.

Rogers, August Stoecker, Carroll Stoecker, Ernest Smith, Wilbur Phelps, Ernest Thormeyer, Henry Vogler, Norbert Ueckert, Jack Whittenburg, Oma Traylor and Miss Emma Henniger and Effie Lehman. see how the fourth member of the district fares against the AAA Wolves. Winters, Ballinger and Stamford already have left their marks on the squad from the Colorado.

Winters, with a 2-2 record, remains in the cellar, so far as district standings go. They've had a rough row to hoe this season, as defenders of the 6-AA crown, and expected by many fans to match performance of last year's semi-finalists. Once a team gets that far out front—as did 1962's Blizzards—subsequent squads are expected to at least equal the early-season record, and especially is this true of the team immediately following. In addition, the defending champions are targets for deadly attacks from all quarters, with no holds barred. This has been a psychological weight 1963's Big Blue team has had to bear. They've borne up fairly well, in spite of their hard luck. Their 37-0 skunking of arch rival Coleman last Friday night should serve as a stimulant, and they'll have a week's rest before plunging into the 6-AA war. These first five games have been in preparation for the go-for-broke scramble, and don't count so far as the final outcome is concerned. The Blizzards have been rolling up experience, and a sudden explosion should not come unexpected. The rest of the district realizes this, and will tighten up when it's every man for himself. The question, who'll put their finger in the dike?, will be partly answered in a couple or three weeks, as the season progresses.
