

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

There are only eleven days left to pay your poll tax. Deadline is Jan. 31, and tax offices will be closed on Saturdays and Sundays.

Travis Jordan, deputy county tax collector for the Winters area, said Wednesday that his sub office had issued only 240 poll tax receipts. The potential for this section is much greater than that, and time is growing short.

There will be elections from the precinct and city level through national levels this year. There also will be school elections, and there is no way of knowing just when a special election will be called to settle some matter or fill some vacancy.

It has been said that our system is more than just a "government" — it is "self government." It can remain thus only so long as the people show the necessary interest to qualify themselves to vote in each and every election.

The quail hunting season is over, and there are some who figure it is just as well. In fact, getting a bag limit has not been worth the effort involved. For instance, Ed Roller likes to take to the fields with a faithful dog, but it usually takes almost a complete daily bag limit to fill up the dog, and Ed has been left with only a handful of birds.

Comes now a clipping from the Big Lake Wildcat, which records the experiences of R. W. Balke, former Winters resident, during a deer hunt. It seems that Balke took a shot at a deer down in the Davis mountains. According to the clipping, the shot entered the head to blind and paralyze the forelegs of the buck, and from what we could get out of the article, the "still agile and fighting hind legs" presented a problem to the hunter, and he wrestled with the deer for over two hundred yards down a mountainside.

Another deer story, not necessarily a hunting story, is the one being told by Doyle Newcomb of Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Co. A few days ago he was in the London area—down in the Hill Country—and ran across a yearling doe. He had to pull it out of a fence, so it seems, and then finally was forced to throw a rope on it to get it out of a stock tank.

If a few more cities take the same action supposedly taken by Eastland, this country will be dotted with "smoke-easies."

Work Gets Underway On Building Of Valley Creek Flood Control Dams

Hugo Vogelsang, chairman of the Valley Creek Water Control and Improvement District, turned the first shovel of dirt Monday when actual construction work was begun on the watershed flood control project. Vogelsang is a farmer in the Norton community.

The first control dam is being constructed on the ranch of W. L. Murphy, located 4.5 miles north of shep. O. B. Baker, Burnet contractor, will do the construction work on the first of two water retaining structures for which contracts have been let. These two are the first of 20 planned in the counties through which Valley Creek flows.

The project has been in the planning and dreaming stage for a number of years, and Vogelsang has devoted much time and energy to the development of the flood control project. When the entire project is completed, it is anticipated that hundreds of thousands of dollars will be saved by control flood water on the creek and its tributaries.

Also taking part in Monday's ground-breaking ceremony were Bill Minzenmayer, Win-

Parents Urged To Report Six-Year-Olds For Census

The Winters School census trustee will continue to enumerate scholastics through the month of January, Superintendent of Schools James Nevins said this week.

Census blanks have been sent to homes of all pupils in school. However, the superintendent said, it is most important that parents of children who will be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1964, sign a census blank listing these pupils.

Six-year-old pupils must be enumerated in order to determine state financial assistance and in setting up first grade sections for 1964. If parents or friends have or know of six-year-old children who have not been enumerated, they are asked to telephone the school office and the census trustee will call with the census blank to be completed. Phones at the school business office or superintendent's office are PL4-1353 and PL4-3711.

WHS Band Members Named To All-Region Band Last Saturday

Two Winters High School bandmen won places in the select 110-piece All-Region Band Saturday in Abilene.

In competition with more than 400 musicians from 55 schools in Region 2, Bobbie Sue Gans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gans, and Judy Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith, were chosen to represent the city of Winters and the Blizzard Band in the All-Region Band.

F. R. Anderson Chairman For Local MOD Drive

F. R. (Phil) Anderson, manager of the Winters office of West Texas Utilities Co., has been named chairman for Winters for the annual March of Dimes drive. Jay Garret of Ballinger is county chairman.

Anderson will name his committee members within a few days.

No quota has been set for this year's drive, according to campaign chairman. A total of $6,558 was collected in the county in the 1962 drive. There was no MOD drive in Runnels County last year.

Campaign committee members pointed out that the March of Dimes drives were originally organized to raise money to combat infantile paralysis. Since the introduction of the Salk polio vaccine and the Sabin oral vaccine, and the resulting decrease in the number of new polio cases, the fund-raising organization has turned its attention on fighting birth defects and arthritis.

However, it was noted, there still are cases of polio within the county, and some of the funds collected will be used to help them. One-half of the money collected in the county will remain in the county, it was said.

Winters Mfg. Co. Changes Name To Pan-American Industries, Inc.

There is a new name on the Winters industrial scene: Pan-American Industries, Inc.

The new corporation, which was formed and chartered effective January 1, will consolidate the activities of four other companies, including Winters Manufacturing Co., Pan-American Sales, Thermoil Lubricants Corp., and Funderburg Investments.

The corporation, with a present monthly payroll of approximately $30,000, will manufacture and distribute several metal products of their own. Locally manufactured products, which are sold throughout the 50 states and in several foreign countries, include evaporative air conditioners, metal merchandise shelving, metal desks, metal lockers, steel cabinets, and other miscellaneous metal items.

In the consolidation of the four companies under one corporation, it was pointed out, no change in ownership or control has been made. The move was made to place the entire process from manufacture to sales, under one company.

Prior to the formation of the new corporation, the manufacture was done by Winters Manufacturing Co., and sales and distribution was handled by Pan-American Sales and Thermoil Lubricants Corp.

Officers of the new corporation are Mrs. Irene L. Funderburg, president, and O. O. Funderburg Jr., vice president and secretary-treasurer. O. O.

Funderburg Jr. also is general manager of the company.

Thermoil Lubricants Corp. was established in Elk City, Okla., in 1934, by the late O. O. Funderburg. The company was primarily a supplier of oil and grease products, but a gradual change saw them take on distributors and sales of air conditioners and other products.

The main office of Thermoil Lubricants was moved to Winters in September of 1962.

Pan-American Sales was organized in Wichita Falls during World War II. This company handled all types of janitor supplies, chemicals and also distribution and sales of evaporative air conditioners and other products. Offices of this company also were moved to Winters in September of 1962.

Winters has long been one of the main centers for the manufacture of evaporative air conditioners. Originally, the manufacturing of air conditioners was begun by J. R. Dry & Sons in Winters in about 1948. That company was sold in 1958, and became the Winters Manufacturing Co.

In recent years several other metal products have been added by Winters Manufacturing Co., to include a new line of merchandise shelving which, according to company spokesmen, promises to become a main item of manufacture, and put activity at the plant on a more continuous year-round basis.

whom the merchandise shelving is made, recently has organized a branch, called the Medallion Division, for the purpose of distributing the product. They said that production of the shelving will be in excess of $1 million, and this is expected to continue to increase. The company has spent an entire year in tooling for the new item, and production is now underway.

Also, the company expects to increase production on their other metal products, such as desks, lockers, cabinets and the like. Machinery has been developed and installed to handle all of these items with a minimum of down time for changing of dies, etc. Spokesmen said that some of the large stamping machines will be equipped to handle roll steel, instead of only flat sheets, which will increase production possibilities.

The company is now in the throes of expansion. They have added 20,000 square feet of manufacturing space. This will be built on the site of the building which was destroyed by fire last July 10.

In addition to the home plant facilities, the company maintains 18 other warehouses in other sections of the country. They have nine sales representatives with their own territories encompassing several states, and a fleet of trucks to move their products from manufacturing site to distribution points.

There are about 125 people working in all departments at the present time, but the company expects to have as many as 200 on the job by midsummer and to increase this to 300 sometime in the fall of this year.

New models of evaporative air conditioners already are coming off the assembly line, and production of the merchandise shelving item is expected to reach $50,000 per month within the next few months. Within a year, it was calculated, production in this line should reach $100,000 per month.

Dale Whitecotton is manager for the air conditioner division. He moved to Winters from Wichita Falls in September of 1962.

James Hinds, who has been with Winters Manufacturing Co. for several years, is manager of the division producing the shelving and other products.

Eldon Gray is plant superintendent, and Jimmy Chaney is air conditioner sales manager. Herman Hollowell is sales manager of the shelving division. Bill Wilson, who also has been with the Winters company for many years, is chief engineer.

O. O. Funderburg Jr., who also moved to Winters in 1962, said he was pleased with the interest in the growth of the company, shown by all the people of the Winters area. He said that labor problems have been nil, and that the company expects to continue a steady growth, and maintain its place in the industrial picture of the area.

State Capital Highlights—
Governor John Connally Announces
His Candidacy For Re-Election

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

With less formality than he would display in warning his wife he was inviting guests to dinner at the Mansion, Gov. John Connally announced he is running for a second term. Actually the announcement was no great surprise, although rumors continued that he was going to go to Washington, retire or run for the Senate. But the informality of it did leave some reporters wondering if they heard him right.

When are you going to announce? a newsmen asked at the start of Connally's first press conference since he was wounded by the same assassin who killed President Kennedy.

"What's wrong with right now?" the Governor shot back. "Well, are you announcing now?" stammered another reporter.

"Good a time as any," shrugged the Governor nonchalantly. "I have no prepared statement, but I'll announce right now for re-election as Governor."

And that's the way it happened. Before the conference was over, a half-hour later, Connally also predicted the Democratic national ticket, which he expects will be headed by his old friend President Lyndon Johnson, will beat the Republicans in Texas by a 60-40 margin.

HEADED TWO WAYS—What's this, a two-headed giraffe with two different directions on his mind? No, it's just an illusion created by two different giraffes—one behind the other—on a Catskill, N.Y., game farm which they call home.

Yarborough do not necessarily include him. Said Connally: "My thoughts are my own."

He is recovering his strength, has regained lost weight, has given up smoking, and has a collection of tailored slings for his shattered right arm—including a blue serge, a red velvet for sport, and a black formal with a silk "lapel" and covered buckle in the back, all from a lady in Kentucky.

Dan Lester, Jefferson civic leader; and Charles R. Woodburn, Amarillo businessman.

Connally appointed Judge Wendell Odom to the Harris County Criminal District Court No. 2; William M. Hatten to Harris County Court of Domestic Relations No. 2; and George E. Cire to the new 165 District Court of Harris County. Appointment dates are effective April 15 for Odom and Hatten and June 1 for Cire.

Good Neighbors— Good Friends

A much traveled lane or trail between two farms indicates that the families are neighborly. There is much going back and forth. They see one another often. Each family to the other is ever ready to lend a helping hand.

This bank has grown because it has been a good neighbor to the many families and individuals it serves. Through the years, its business has been built on friendliness, helpfulness and ready cooperation. New friends are given a cordial welcome.

The people of Runnels County no longer need to go away from home to get interest on their savings. We, in this bank, have perfected a plan through which a nominal amount of interest will be paid on Time Certificates of Deposit. We will be glad to explain the plan to those who are interested.

Again, why leave home to get interest on deposits? Let's build our own county and towns by dealing all we can with a home institution such as The Winters State Bank, known almost everywhere as a dependable financial institution.

Mrs. Bradford Hosted Garden Club Thursday

Winters Garden Club held their first meeting of the New Year in the home of Mrs. O. D. Bradford in Wintgate Thursday, January 9th.

Mrs. E. J. Redman, the president, presided for the meeting. The roll call "response" was a helpful garden hint.

The club voted to buy some shrubs or rose bushes for the new Merrill Nursing Home, and help put them out on Arbor day if the manager agrees.

Mrs. Lora Coupland was program leader, and the topics for the meeting were "Conservation of Home Gardens" and "Plant Propagation." Mrs. Bradford presented a very interesting program on Plant Propagation, explaining how dahlia bulbs and plants should be planted and cared for. She gave each member present some bulbs, plants and Indian corn seed.

Mrs. E. L. Bryan and Mrs. Doggett won the door prizes. The hostess served banana nut cake and coffee to Mesdames, E. J. Redman, C. T. Rives, Sr., J. W. Walker, E. L. Bryan, Mrs. Louis Hord, Lora Coupland and a visitor, Mrs. Doggett.

Next regular meeting will be February 13th, in the home of Mrs. Lora Coupland.

CLYDE SIMMONS

Clyde Simmons Is Candidate For Assessor-Collector

To the Voters of Runnels County
I wish to announce my candidacy for Runnels County Tax Assessor-Collector in the Democratic Primary Elections in 1964.

Most of my life has been spent working with the public. I feel that I am well qualified to perform the duties of this office.

I was born and reared in Runnels County, and was graduated from Ballinger High School. My college education was in the field of government, having been awarded a bachelor of arts in Government from Texas Technological College at Lubbock. I have studied the administration and structure of national, state, and county government, including every phase of the department of taxes and assessments. In addition, I have had courses in bookkeeping at Draughon's Business College in Lubbock.

During World War II I served three years with the U. S. Navy. While in service I attended the University of Arizona and Harvard University, taking courses qualifying me for office duty, and received office experience while serving in the Atlantic and Mediterranean Areas.

For seven years I taught school in Runnels County. I have had four years experience with the Federal Crop Insurance Office, and nine years experience with the Runnels County A.S.C. office. Presently I am engaged in farming.

I am married and have three children, Wilton, Sharon and Karen. My family and I are members of First Methodist Church in Ballinger.

I will endeavor to contact each of you personally before the election. However, if I am unable to do so, please accept this method of soliciting your vote and influence.

If elected, I will exert every effort to serve you to the best of my ability.

Clyde Simmons

Friendship Class Held Meeting In Elmer Phillips Home

Mrs. Elmer Phillips was hostess Monday evening for the regular meeting of the Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church in her home, 306 Bishop Street.

Mrs. Gayland Robinson, president, opened the meeting with prayer and the roll was called by the secretary, Mrs. Charles Dodson. One guest, Mrs. T. J. Davis, was recognized and welcomed.

The minutes of the last two meetings were read by the secretary and approved by the class. The treasurer, Mrs. Wayne Solomon, gave the financial report and the group leader report was given by Mrs. Ronnie Brooker.

Mrs. Bob Blackwood told of a new prospective member for the class, Mrs. Don Vinson. Mrs. Jessie Bailey asked that every one who possibly could, go visiting from now on.

New business was discussed and the group decided the need of an associate teacher. Mrs. Gayland Robinson and Mrs. Jessie Bailey were appointed to discuss the matter with the teacher, Mrs. E. E. Dodson.

Mrs. Robinson read a note of thanks from Mrs. Dennis Rodgers, past president of the class, for the gift presented her.

The class voted to start a scrapbook, with Mrs. Elmer Phillips, reporter, as the custodian. Mrs. Wayne Solomon gave a very inspiring devotional on "The Old Tree."

The love offering was taken and the meeting closed by singing "What a Friend," followed by a short sing song. Secret pals were exchanged.

Roger Babson Says—

Retailers Should Be Able To Help Housewives Balance Budget

Babson Park, Mass. Last week, I set forth a series of tips for housewives who do the family buying, trying to show them how to hold their budgets within reasonable bounds. At that time it occurred to me that retailers themselves need tips just as much as housewives if they are to balance their budgets. Seldom before has there been such bitter competition on the retail scene as there is today. So here are some suggestions for tradesmen, based upon my many years of observation.

never reorder haphazardly. Clear out slow-selling items by placing them where they will get immediate attention. Employees Can Make Or Break Profits

An astute store manager will screen employee aspirants himself. I can assure you it is worth the time. If you ask a man whether he can use a cash register and he says "Yes," that is not enough. Use his references to find out whether or not he (or she) will use the register honestly, or you may find some of your profits going down the drain before you have a chance even to count them. Be sure, too, that employees, after you hire them, show a real interest in the work. If they appear to be using the job as a fill-in or if they stand around wasting time between paydays, replace them at once.

Great Opportunities Ahead

First of all, I want to say that Christmas business over the coming weeks should exceed previous records. Earning power is good, and employment has risen. Even more important, however, is the fact that I foresee a continuation of a good retail turnover well into 1964. So it is not a matter of retailer's preparing for just a few weeks of peak business. But during these bright times, competition will be the bugaboo. Only those retailers who are really on their toes will come out with healthy profits.

Whether you operate a regular store or a discount house, honest and efficient help will make it possible for you to pay such workers more money because you will need fewer clerks. Never forget that a well-paid employee is a long-term asset. Nothing irritates a customer more than to be handled abruptly or discourteously. Even an unintelligent reply to a question can bring bad publicity. Because bad publicity travels much faster than good publicity, just one dissatisfied customer can do your store an awful lot of harm.

Never Ignore Advertising

I have long been a hearty booster of advertising in all its phases. Start your advertising with a tidy, well-arranged store and eye-catching window displays. Concentrate on things likely to cause people to mention your store favorably, such as friendly help, extra attention, and unusual shopping conveniences. Take full advantage of promotion material provided by many national brands, placing them where they will attract the customer and bring him inside rather than in some out-of-the-way corner where their advertising value is wasted.

You will notice that the most successful merchants use a lot of newspaper space to stay in the public eye. Never underestimate the value of this type of advertising; it can often mean the difference between spectacular success and near-failure. In selecting a location, what seems to be the highest rent may be the least expensive in the long run. Get close to a parking lot. Also don't worry if you are close to a large store with a vast number of customers. A small outlet near a supermarket can count upon getting a lot of the passing traffic; but check on the supermarket's lease. In conclusion, I urge you to draw up a long lease if you have a good spot, a year-by-year lease if your location seems doubtful for you. In short, "Play ball with your supermarket."

Babson Park, Mass. My very good friend, Fred Conn of Tampa, has sent me an interesting little book entitled "The Cat Can Yield But Its Skin". This was written by Currie B. Witt and Lavania Lee Witt. Its purpose appears to be to change the present tendency in Washington to help more people in this country "get something for nothing". The book is based on the life and days of Benjamin Franklin. Its authors seem to feel that the nation could turn back to the time of Franklin; but the history of all nations shows that this is impossible, or at least improbable. History and governments have always changed in cycles, not "turned turtle" and reversed.

Edison E. Shrum Of Scott City Missouri

Today I would like to tell readers about another important work in which I am interested. For many years Mr. Skrum has been studying ancient history, going back to the Persians, covering in detail the history of the European countries. His book is only mimeographed, but it represents very careful and impartial studies.

It shows that the trend with people in every nation has been to get something for nothing; but they have never long succeeded. In fact, no man, not Aristotle, or Alexander, or Caesar, has succeeded even in making permanent reforms.

The Typical Government Cycle

Nearly all nations have started with a race which was natural to the soil, like the Indians of our country. Gradually they divided into tribes, with born rulers. In a way, China and portions of Africa are now emerging from this Tribal Era, with natural-born leaders having exceptional courage, energy, and intelligence.

Gradually these tribal leaders combine and we have the beginnings of a nation. At this point, some stronger power from abroad comes in to take possession. In the case of the United States, it was the English who took the eastern portion as a British colony; Spain, the southwestern portion; and Mexico, the southwest and what is now California. This was the Colonial Era.

The Beginning Of Our Republic

George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and the Adamses formed a republic in the United States. This consisted originally of thirteen colonies which gradually got their independence from England. This republic, organized under the original Constitution, was far different from the form of government we have today. Voters had to be property owners; and color, sex, and religion also entered into qualifications for voters. Congress consisted of two houses: (1) the House of Representatives, theoretically elected by the people; and (2) the Senate, made up of members chosen by the legislatures of the various States.

The Last Hundred Years

Ever since the Civil War, railroads, public utilities, and all other corporations in which people invest their money have been getting exclusive franchises or privileges. This applies to doctors, lawyers, and "Indian Chiefs" as well. There are nearly a thousand separate "offices" in Washington which offer, directly or indirectly, these special privileges. This is a long, long way from the freedom of which Washington and Jefferson dreamed. The point of my article is that these laws granting special franchises or privileges by the Federal Government or by the separate States will not be cancelled by legislation. The clock cannot be turned in reverse.

Mr. Shrum shows, in his careful study, that the only way other countries have gotten rid of special franchises and privileges has been by the appointment of a Dictator. I do not mean that Mr. Kennedy will become a dictator; but I do mean that he can cancel what is already in operation only by being a dictator. History shows that dictators finally lose their powers and a Republic is started again—to be followed by a repetition of what this country has gone through via amendments to our Constitution and other legislation which have brought us to our present condition. Then we will start over again and experience another two hundred years of similar changes.

HEALTH LETTER

Did you know that it's possible for perfectly good teeth, with absolutely no decay, to simply fall out?

Teeth in excellent condition are often lost because the structure on which they rest gives way.

Teeth are not locked in the jaw, contrary to some beliefs, they rest in a springy hammock of gums and bone.

When this support becomes diseased and gives way, the teeth become loosened and may fall out if treatment is not started early.

Gum disease precipitating tooth fall-out is popularly known as pyorrhea. But the term is misused. Dentists apply pyorrhea to only one stage of a sequence of events grouped under the general heading of periodontal diseases.

While tooth decay is the chief cause of tooth loss in young people, periodontal disease takes a greater toll in people over age 35.

Add ten more years or by age 45-one of every two men is afflicted with periodontal disease.

Years ago, the disease was thought incurable. Now, however, dentistry saves many teeth if gum tissues are treated in time.

Periodontal diseases usually start with gingivitis, or inflammation of the gums. Bleeding is a frequent symptom. Bleeding gums may be shrugged off as a fairly common occurrence. But dentists point out that this is a symptom calling for attention.

Bleeding gums grow progressively worse if untreated, as a general rule, and lead to more

The Crawling Hand!
The weird theory behind the jolting space shocker "The Crawling Hand" which shows Friday and Saturday at the State theatre might be proved true in the near future. Marvin Miles, Aero-Space editor of the Los Angeles Times, recently stated that man might conceivably contaminate the moon. "The Crawling Hand," a Joseph F. Robertson production, is based on a weird space-life that is created in flight and returns to menace the earth.

"For Love or Money"
Universal has another smash comedy! A witty and engaging romantic affair, packed with hilarious situations, and liberally dashed with surprise, this one bears the intriguing title "For Love or Money." Happily for movie-goers, it continues in the succession of superior comedies from Universal, and the laughter which will rock the State theatre Sunday and Monday, boisterous proof that the film more than lives up to the promise of its title.

And with this film, a new sophisticated romantic comedian has come upon the screen. That new comedian is Kirk Douglas, and in his first role as a romantic face, he emerges so impressively, he opens up a whole new area for the deployment of his capable histrionic gifts. Of course, he is aided magnificently by a stellar cast which is composed of past masters of lighter entertainment such as

GLENN R. LEWIS

Glenn R. Lewis Announces For District Judge

Glenn R. Lewis, long-time San Angelo attorney has stated that he will make the race for 119th District Judge to succeed Judge Parish. The 119th Judicial District includes Tom Green, Runnels, Coleman and Concho Counties. Judge O. L. Parish has announced that he will not seek re-election.

Mr. Lewis was graduated from Trinity University with an A. B. degree in 1922, received his L.L.B. degree from the University of Texas, and was admitted to the bar in 1925. In the fall of the same year he came to San Angelo at the age of 23 years to practice his profession. He has lived and practiced there since that time except for the years 1929 to July 1, 1942, when he was Assistant Attorney General of Texas under Gerald C. Mann, followed by some three years in the U. S. Navy. Lewis served three terms as District Attorney of the 51st Judicial District, 1931-1936.

The District Court is the Court in which major civil cases must be tried and in which felony indictments are returned and tried.

"It is the most important trial court in the State's judicial system," Mr. Lewis observed, and it goes without saying that the public should make every effort to elect the man who is best qualified by nature, education and experience to preside over that court. "Neither I nor anyone else has the right to expect a vote on any other basis. I trust my candidacy will be acceptable generally," he concluded.

Lone Star Gas Co. Has All-Time High Building Budget

Lone Star Gas Company and wholly-owned subsidiaries — Lone Star Producing Company and Lone Star Gathering Company — have announced a new all-time high initial construction budget of $47,237,000 for 1964.

The 1964 budget figure exceeds the companies' last all-time high budget, which was for 1962, by about $11,806,000, according to L. T. Potter, Lone Star president. The initial budget was slightly less than that of 1962, he noted.

Mr. Potter said the total budget will be divided as follows: Lone Star Gas Company, $21,349,000; Lone Star Producing Company including its Chemical Division, $25,729,000; Lone Star Gathering Company, $159,000.

The Lone Star Gas expenditures may be broken down into its two main functions, distribution and transmission, he explained. A total of $12,264,000 has been allocated for distribution facilities and $9,085,000 to transmission facilities.

The distribution expenditures will be used for all types of customer service facilities including warehouse and office building construction and remodeling.

Mr. Potter pointed out that Lone Star Gas has three distribution divisions. One is called the General Division, which serves more than 425 cities, towns and communities in Texas and Southern Oklahoma.
