

HOME TOWN

Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

There probably are many people in Winters and the surrounding area who have items and historical documents linked to the early days of the city and the community.

Mrs. B. B. Bedford, secretary of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. George Poe, and others, now are trying to gather all manner of historical material, and would appreciate any assistance from anyone who has knowledge or possession of such items or documents.

Old newspapers, magazines, articles, clippings—these may be valuable. And overlooked many times are entries in family Bibles, which have become acceptable by many as authentic documents. These documents could be reproduced by photostats, to prevent loss.

In fact, the collection of such things could well be a good start toward the establishment of some sort of historical center, a sort of museum, if you please. It would be of great interest to most everyone, and a project worthy of effort.

So, if you have something which you think would be of some value in such a project, you are invited to contact these people.

We've just heard about a town which bears that it cannot be classified as a "one-horse town," because there are several hitching racks in the town. Which brings us to comment that Winters probably would be called a "one-horse town," because the only hitching device we know of in town is a hitching ring on the curb in front of John Norman's insurance office on West Dale St.

Did you ever notice, in reading the news of the world, that in spite of the fact that there are almost daily reports of riots and demonstrations described as "Anti-American," that there never are reports of "Anti-American Money" riots and demonstrations? That no one ever hangs an effigy of Uncle Sam's Dollar Bill?

Fishing stories continue to come in, but we've grown a mite cautious in recording them for posterity. Take for instance a tale brought in by two fishermen this week. They were fishing in a place called "McGee's Tank," and the story becomes quite hairy. (Ed. note: for those who do not follow the day-by-day activities of fishermen, "McGee's Tank" is a fictitious fishing hole, so named to prevent a sudden rush to its banks, and could be any one of many such fishing sites.)

According to this latest story, a bass hit one of the lures, broke the line and took the hook, sinker and bobber with it. Later they said, it returned and tried to get the pole. It was, in the first version of the story, at least a "foot long," then it grew to "two feet long," and the last we heard it was "bigger than your leg."

So you can take it from there, and build it anyway you want it. Although, if you're an amateur, you might get some good pointers on the development of a good fish story if you drop by the Watering Hole of The Thinkers, down at Harrison's Auto Parts.

$200 Collected In Heart Fund Drive Just Completed

A total of $200.00 has been collected in the Heart Fund drive which has just been completed here. The Winters post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies' Auxiliary sponsored the drive.

Members of the Goal Diggers Club assisted in the fund raising campaign by conducting a balloon blockade Saturday on Winters streets to complete the drive.

Also assisting in the campaign were Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Wilkerson, John Gardner, F. R. Anderson and Mrs. E. E. Dodson. Mrs. W. L. Collins was chairman of the drive for the VFW and Auxiliary.

SALES FORCE—Members of Winters High School Alpha Chi chapter of Future Teachers of America are observing Dental Week this week, and one of their projects is the sale of toothbrushes. Profits from the sale will be used to finance a substantial educational scholarship to the outstanding senior chapter member and to send delegates to the State FTA convention in Austin.

District President On Official Visit To VFW Auxiliary

Mrs. Bob Donaldson, of San Angelo, president of District 22 of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars made an official visit to the Winters auxiliary Monday night at the post home.

Mrs. James Crockett, president of the local group, presided for the meeting, and several reports were heard on the past year's activities.

DON YOUNGBLOOD

Revival Begins At Methodist Church Sunday

The Rev. Ray Elliott, pastor of the First Methodist Church, has announced that the Rev. Don Youngblood of Electra will be the preacher for a week-long revival to be held March 8 through 13.

Appointment of the Rev. Youngblood to fill the pulpit during the area-wide "Mission To People" being conducted by Methodist Churches was made by Bishop William C. Martin and the district superintendents in a joint session of the superintendents of the Central and North Texas Conferences over which Bishop Martin presides.

Services will be held each day, Sunday through Friday, at 7 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The early morning service will not be held on Saturday and Sunday mornings. Sunday morning services will be at the usual time.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served following the early morning services each day, the pastor said.

Various organizations will be responsible for telephone committees to invite the general public to the services and encourage membership attendance.

The Rev. Youngblood is a native of Mississippi. He received a bachelor of arts in psychology from Millsaps College, Jackson, Miss., and a bachelor of divinity from Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University. He has served as pastor at Sanger, Bridgeport, Jacksboro and Electra.

Rep. Ben Barnes Will Speak At Maverick Event

Appreciation day honoring early day settlers has been planned for Sunday, March 22 at the Maverick church.

The program will begin at 2:30 p. m. Sponsoring the event will be the Runnels County Historical Survey committee. Speaker will be Ben Barnes, state representative from De Leon, who will speak on Samuel A. Maverick, for whom the community was named.

He will also pay tribute to other early settlers of the county.

The committee is preparing a historical marker to be placed on the highway at Maverick this summer.

One of the oldest cemeteries in the county is the one at Maverick. It contains the grave of the last man killed by Indians in 1875.

The Survey Committee has announced that a two-volume edition of the Handbook of Texas, to be used as a research volume, is now at the office of Judge W. H. Rampy.

Winters members of the committee are Rankin Pace, Mrs. Loyd Roberson and Mrs. George Poe.

Pace has announced that he has bought fixtures for the Blue Gap postoffice and they will be installed soon.

HERE FROM GEORGIA

Mrs. Vernon E. Bowman and children, Beth and Jana of Rome, Georgia are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mapey. They made the trip to Dallas by plane and were met at Love Field by Mr. Mapey.

Runnels SCD Will Get $155,384 For Land Conversion

The United States Department of Agriculture has earmarked $155,384.00 to be paid in cost-share to the 52 Great Plains Conservation Program participants in Runnels Soil Conservation District.

The primary purpose of the program is the conversion of cropland unsuited for cultivation to permanent grass. To assist producers in making needed conversions from cropland to grassland, the Government shares 80 percent of the cost.

From an original cropland acreage of 10,849 acres, land use conversions have been planned for 2,770 acres on the contracts in Runnels County Soil Conservation District.

The program also provides cost shares for other conservation practices varying from 50 to 80 percent. To participate in the program, a producer enters into a contract for a period of not less than three years nor more than ten years, during which time he agrees to carry out all needed conservation measures with the cost-share assistance provided through the program.

The program is administered by the Soil Conservation Service, and anyone desiring information should contact the local Soil Conservation Service office at Ballinger, Texas.

Pvt. Lonnie Pounds Assigned To Nike Base In Illinois

Army Pvt. Lonnie R. Pounds, son of Mrs. Laura B. Pounds, 109 Spill, Winters, was assigned to the 62d Artillery, a Nike-Hercules missile unit in Hecker, Ill., late in January.

This unit, part of the nationwide U. S. Army Air Defense Command, provides air defense in the St. Louis, Mo. area.

The 18-year-old soldier, assigned to Battery B of the 62d Artillery's 1st Missile Battalion, entered the Army in October 1963 and completed basic combat training at Fort Polk, La.

He is the son of Wesley L. Pounds, Ruidisid, N. M.

WILL ATTEND SCHOOL

Jo Ann Switzer, secretary of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, will attend a secretary's school in Waco March 9-14. The school is scheduled to begin on Sunday, March 8, and continue through March 14.

DRIVE AWAY—Roger (Spec) Robinson is back on the job at Waddell Chevrolet Co. after attending a spectacular mass driveaway of new Corvairs at Arlington, sponsored by the Dallas Zone of Chevrolet Motor Division.

Along with 157 other Chevrolet dealers, Robinson made an extensive tour of the General Motors assembly plant which recently added Chevrolet passenger car assembly to its responsibilities.

The factory inspection trip preceded a business session where the growing opportunities of the expanding youth market, multi-car families and the influence of woman in today's marketing were reviewed for visiting dealers.

The opportunities for Corvair sales in these markets were stressed since it is the only economical, rear engine, fun to drive car made in America.

Pvt. Frank O. Deike To 101st Ordnance In Germany

Army Pvt. Frank O. Deike, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz F. Deike, Route 3, Winters, was assigned to the 101st Ordnance Company near Heilbronn, Germany, Feb. 13.

Deike, a security guard, was last stationed at Fort Polk, La., where he received his basic training.

The former Winters High School student was engaged in dairy farming before entering the Army in September 1963.

Five Candidates For City Council

E. E. Dodson Resigns From City Council

E. E. (Blondie) Dodson, alderman for the City of Winters the past year and a retired employee of Humble Oil Co., Monday night submitted his resignation to the mayor, and announced he would be moving from Winters in the near future.

The councilman's resignation was accepted by the mayor, and will become effective April 20.

Dodson was elected last April for a two-year term, and his resignation leaves a vacancy on the City Council. This vacancy will have to be filled by a special election, according to Mayor Harvey D. Jones.

A special election was ordered by the council during the Monday night meeting, and will be held at the same time the regular city election is held, April 7. A special ballot will be prepared for this election, the mayor said.

Dodson has announced that he will move to Albany, where he will be associated with a water-flood enterprise. Mr. and Mrs. Dodson have no children. Mrs. Dodson, a registered nurse, has been working relief shifts at the Winters hospital.

Cemetery Working Set At Pumphrey

A cemetery working at Pumphrey Cemetery has been scheduled for Friday, March 13.

Those who will participate in the cemetery working are reminded to bring their tools, plows and other equipment.

VISITED IN SWEETWATER

Mrs. W. J. Yates, Mrs. John Sowers and little daughter, Johnita, Mrs. Charles Yates, Sharon and Gina visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Egger in Sweetwater.

Through Wednesday afternoon of this week, five candidates had filed for the office of alderman for the City of Winters, with one of them filing to fill a vacancy which will be created by the resignation of one member of the council. The other four have filed for three two-year terms, which expire this year.

Prior to this week, two men had announced their candidacy and had filed officially. They were Roy Austin and James C. Colburn.

On Monday, R. C. Thomas, incumbent, announced as a candidate for reelection, and filed with the City Secretary.

Tuesday, Homer Hodge filed as a candidate. Wednesday morning, W. M. Hays, incumbent, filed as a candidate to complete the unexpired term of E. E. (Blondie) Dodson, who submitted his resignation Monday night. The resignation will become effective April 20. Dodson's term of office has another year to go.

Terms of office of J. W. Bahlman, Hays and Thomas expire this year. They were elected for two-year terms in April of 1962. Hays had previously been named in a special election in August of 1961 to complete the few months unexpired term of J. F. Richie, who had resigned and moved from the city.

The other alderman on the council is J. C. Jarrell, who has another year in office. Mayor Harvey D. Jones also has another year in office.

March 7 is the deadline for prospective candidates to file for the regular city election April 7.

March 7 also is the deadline for filing for the special election, in accordance with State statute, city officials pointed out. They said statutes provide that special elections be treated similarly to regular elections.

On Monday night, during the regular meeting, the City Council voted to call a special election to fill the vacancy created by Dodson's resignation. The special election will be held on the same date as the regular election, April 7, but a separate ballot will be provided for this voting.

The special election was called to coincide with the regular election in order to prevent additional expense of a special election at a later or different date, city officials said.

Mayor Jones said this week that ballots will be printed and ready in time for absentee voting prior to the date of the election.

FROM PLAINVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh E. Ritch of Plainview, enroute to Austin Tuesday to visit their son, Dr. Hugh L. Ritch, stopped in Winters for an overnight visit with his sister, Mrs. Lora Coupland.

Check On Local Utility Connections Indicates Winters Is Still Growing

Census figures throughout the nation during the past several national counts have shown a definite shift of population from rural to urban centers. In count-leasing communities all over the country, smaller towns which had grown up with and become dependent upon the agricultural countryside for their existence have come face to face with the hard reality that there is no hope for growth and progress where the future is pinned entirely on farming and ranching. Where this is happening, towns are dying by the dozens.

For many decades, Winters was strictly an agricultural community—the economy of the town was linked directly to that of the farms and ranches which it served. If this had continued, Winters now would be faced with the prospect of becoming a ghost town.

However, less than 20 years ago something happened to keep the town on a forward, progressive road. Oil activity became more pronounced in this area, and industrial development started to make inroads on a sagging agricultural economy. Agriculture still is a main factor in the economy of the town, but with rural populations dwindling because of the growth in size of farms and ranches, it is no longer the primary force.

This is underlined by the loss in population in the county as a whole, and a steady increase in the population of Winters.

In 1940, the population of Winters was listed at 2335. There was a fair increase in the next 10 years, and the census showed a growth to 2671 in 1950. Then came a definite surge and the last census, in 1960, showed a population of 3266 for Winters. This figure only took into account those people living within the city limits, and did not list those who lived in the several residential developments on the fringe of the city. These were listed as "rural" population.

Runnels County as a whole was listed in 1960 as having a population of 15,016. Estimates indicated that there would be a decline in county population during the next few years, with a drop to 14,405 in 1962. Estimates also figured that Winters would experience a drop in population from 1960 to 1962, with a decline to 3200. This estimated drop probably was in line with the national and state trend.

However, this has not been the case for Winters. In fact, estimates, which are substantiated by the steady growth of the local industrial complex, and the continued building of new homes, now indicate that the population of Winters has climbed to approximately 3600 within the city limits, with near 3900 people in what could be termed the entire metropolitan area.

These estimates are based on a standard formula used in many areas throughout the country—calculating population on the number of utility installations. For example, index figures universally accepted are 3.37 persons for each natural gas installation; 3.48 persons for each water connection; and 2.98 persons for each electrical connection. Installation figures obtained from the three utility divisions were collected as nearly as possible as of the same date, to make the calculations more accurate.

The figures which are used in these calculations do not include commercial installations of gas, water and electricity, but only those in residential areas. They have been broken down to divide those installations within the corporate city limits of Winters, and list separately those in the fringe additions, and then figured for the entire metropolitan area, and then averaged.

Gas installations, within the city limits, indicates there would be 3488 persons, using the index figure of 3.37; or water connections, the figure would indicate 3901 for inside the city limits; and electrical connections, 3412. Average for the three would show a total of 3600 within the city limits, and 3892 in the metropolitan area.

UTILITY CONNECTIONS

Inside City Gas: 1035 x 3.37—3488 Water: 1121 x 3.48—3901 Elec: 1145 x 2.98—3412 Average: 3600

Outside City Gas: 60 x 3.37—202 Water, 110 x 3.48—382 Elec: 98 x 2.98—292 Average: 293 Total Metropolitan: 3892

SCHOOL CENSUS

There has been a considerable increase in school attendance figures, to further substantiate the estimates of the growth of the city. This despite the steady drop in rural population, also served by the Winters Independent Schools. Figures furnished by the school show that in 1949, a daily average for students riding school buses was 460. This has dropped to 378 for the 1963-64 school year. And yet, the school census has increased during that time.

Prior to the consolidation of several rural schools in 1942 to make up the present school district, the Winters schools had a daily attendance of 712. This increased to 994 following consolidation, and attendance has grown steadily during the past few years, with only one or two exceptions where the average for a given year was below that of a prior year.

The following figures have been obtained from the Winters Independent Schools, and indicates a good growth:

1953 — 1065 1954 — 1018 1955 — 1049 1956 — 1005 1957 — 1061 1958 — 1104 1959 — 1062 1960 — 1090 1961 — 1069 1962 — 1106 1963 — 1160

NICKI EOFF

Winters High School Student Council Names February Girl, Boy of Month

Nicki Eoff and Mike Mitchell, both seniors, have been named as "Girl and Boy of the Month" for February by the Winters High School Student Council.

Miss Eoff, an honor student, has been in the National Honor Society for two years and is a member of the Future Teachers of America for two years. She played tennis four years, on the varsity team for two years, and has played volleyball two years. She is presently secretary of the senior class.

She also was a member of the girl's basketball team, finishing the season with 400 points, an average of 16 points per game. Mike also is an honor student, and has been in the National Honor Society two years. He has been president of his class for three years and was class treasurer for one year. He also has been a member of the Council for two years.

Mike is on the GALE staff and also is a member of Quill and Scroll. He was in Future Teachers of America for one year and Future Farmers for one year.

It has been said that a black bass by any other name would still be a heckuva fighter. No doubt this is true. And surprisingly, you don't find black bass by many other names. Just plain bass seems to satisfy most everyone.

But in this respect, the black bass is in a select class. Other fish are burdened with aliases and nicknames. A man not familiar with local jargon might be catching one of his hometown favorites and never realize it.

For example, in the Highland Lakes of Central Texas he might take himself a mess of crappie. But over in East Texas he'll be catching white perch, although it is one and the same fish.

In North Texas, anglers take an astronomical number of sand bass. But in Central Texas it is the white bass, and in parts of East Texas the striper.

The bullhead catfish seldom goes by its true moniker. Rather it is called either a mud cat or a polywig.

King mackerel are better known as kingfish and Spanish mackerel as simply mackerel.

Spotted weakfish are called spotted trout and channel bass are redfish.

The bowfin in East Texas is known as a grindle, and the pickrel as a jack or pike.

Flathead catfish are more commonly known as yellow cat, and channel cat frequently are called forktails.

Even though a fish may sometimes go by the same spelled name, pronunciation will vary with different areas. Crappie are called "crap-pie" in some places and "crop-pie" in others.

This is bad enough just within the boundaries of Texas. But get outside the state and the misinterpretation is compounded.

On the Texas coast, for instance, we catch a catfish-like creature which we call the ling. But over in Mississippi, natives refer to it as the lemonfish. In Florida it goes by its true handle, cobia.

Aliases for the common crappie are endless, being different with almost every area and state. Parts of Texas are among the few places where it goes by its true name.

The more a person travels, the more he meets this confusing overlapping of nicknames. In the Far West, a man might catch a Mackinaw. But in Canada he will be taking a lake trout. That's its true name.

The redfish of the Texas coast

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER:

Congress Must Hold The Line On Spending

By O. C. Fisher Congressman
Taxpayers got a break last week when the House voted down a bill, which had previously passed the Senate, to authorize $312 million for what is known as the International Development Association. This vote was taken the very next day after the $11.6 billion tax reduction bill was cleared.

This Association is composed of 17 Nations, and has been in business for three years. Each member nation contributes money to it, and an international board then dishes the money out in the form of loans or gifts. Repayments would go into a revolving fund.

The current target is to raise $750 million in contributions, with Uncle Sam putting up the $312 million-or 41 percent of the total. Loans can be made, practically interest-free, with up to 50 years for payment. Since we would have to borrow the $312 million and start paying interest at about 4 percent, it was estimated by the time it is over the $312 million would, with interest added, cost the American taxpayers over a billion dollars.

Actually, this is a foreign aid program, pure and simple. By putting the $312 million additional into it, we would lose all control over how it would be spent. There would never be any repayment to us. Thirteen of the 17 nations which compose the Association, and which make contributions to the fund, now receive some form of foreign aid from us.

As I see it, if we are to dish out $312 million of the taxpayers' money we should at least keep control over to whom it is given and under what terms. Moreover, we cut a billion off of foreign aid last fall, and this is no time to be restoring that reduction.

I joined with eight other Texas members in voting against the bill; eight Texans voted for it, with 5 absent. The House defeated it by a majority of 208 to 188.

If the recent tax cut is not to magnify our financial woes, the Congress must hold the line against this sort of nonessential spending. There will be many tests in the months ahead on who is willing to vote as well as talk in terms of belt tightening. This victory was not impressive, and we can expect some close battles between now and adjournment.

Other officers of the club are Tab Hatler, vice president, and Gayland Robinson, secretary-treasurer.

often is called the red drum along the Atlantic seaboard. And the Texas skipjack is better known by its true name, the ladyfish, in other parts of the United States.

Over in Florida, people call it the mudfish, although its real name is bowfin. And there the crappie are called speckled perch.

In Texas the common sunfish is better known as perch or brim, while in other areas it probably will be called a bream.

The spotted bass which is found in plentiful numbers in Central Texas, particularly in streams like the Llano and Guadalupe, frequently is referred to as the smallmouth bass. But it certainly isn't a true smallmouth bass. Actually it's a distinct specie of its own.

In some areas the bigmouth black bass might be called a trout or green trout, but generally just the handle "bass" will suffice.

There is one fish, however, that seems to carry just one name no matter where you might find it. That's the carp. Fishermen everywhere have called the carp many impolite names which can't be repeated here, but when it gets right down to facts, the fisherman probably will admit that he's just caught himself a carp.

Same can be said for the gar. It goes by the simple handle of gar just about anywhere you find it.

But the carp and gar are in the minority. Most of our gamefish are showered with nicknames and aliases.

Still, it is as the man said, a black bass by any other name . . . still remains the black bass.

Sportsman Club Will Meet On Thursday, March 13

Melvin Talley, president of the Winters Sportsman's Club, announced this week that the regular monthly meetings of the organization will be held on the second Thursday of each month.

The March meeting will be held next Thursday, March 12, in the Hatler-Robinson Barber-shop. Meeting time will be 7:30 P. M.

A diamond will burn if heated to 1600 degrees F.

New Lab Building For Matador Area

A new laboratory and office building is scheduled to be built on the Matador Wildlife Management Area in Cottle County, according to J. Weldon Watson, executive director for the Parks and Wildlife Department.

A $13,510 bid by Thaten Brothers of Childress was accepted by the State Board of Control and a work order has been issued.

At the present time three employee residences exist on the area. "The new building will be used by biologists to conduct deer and quail research and handle much of the laboratory work on the spot," said Watson. "Several of our other wildlife management areas have similar facilities."

Elisha Gray of Chicago and Alexander Graham Bell of Boston, acting independently, both applied for patents on the telephone on the same day in 1876.

Texas Schools To Receive Chicken Allotment

Who would be absent from school when fried chicken is on the menu?

And fried chicken will be on the menu often in Texas school cafeterias taking part in the National School Lunch Program for they will receive 2,430,000 pounds of frozen young chicken from the Agricultural Marketing Service.

This allotment is part of the 50,100,000 pounds of chicken purchased by the U. S. Department of Agriculture with National School Lunch Act funds. About 1,470,000 pounds of this chicken was bought from Texas processors.

The purchase program ended December 18 and all shipments will be completed by about February 1, according to the AMS southwest area food distribution office, Dallas.

Total USDA purchases represent about 7 1/2 servings of chicken per child for the 16 million school children participating in the National School Lunch Program.

Baptist Church Document Indicates Winters Established As Early As 1890

By Charlsie Poe

In spite of the fact that there is controversy over the beginning of Winters it did begin.

Minutes of the organization of the first church in Winters say, "The brethren and sisters of Winters community met at Winters school house on March 22, 1890 to organize a Baptist Church under the name of Bethel." The name was later changed to First Baptist.

A baby is named when it is born, or soon after, so Winters was born before the church was organized. There was also a Winters School.

As early as 1880 there were families living in the fertile farming country of the Winters area, calling it Bluff Creek Valley, but it wasn't until 1889 that any definite steps were taken to organize a town.

J. N. Winters, land agent, who lived at Runnels City and later near Ballinger promoted the sale of lots in this area and contributed some lots for public buildings. A one room school building was begun and finished in time for the people to meet in it in January of 1890 and select the name of the town. The two names under consideration were Winters and Wintersville. Voting was by ballot and Winters was chosen. There were about 25 families living here then.

Winters is probably the only town in existence that never had a town site, but the J. W. Murray addition was laid out on Oct. 30, 1899. Although it was not recorded there had to be a town site before there could be an addition. This information came from the Texas Land Office in Ballinger.

A general merchandise store was built in 1890, and a one stand cotton gin, fed by hand, was built south of town by a Mr. Barton whose lone grave lies in a field northwest of town. The same year a road was laid off which is now Main Street. In 1891 the post office was moved in from Bluff Creek and housed in the corner of the general merchandise store. A blacksmith shop was added to the general store and run by a Mr. Higdon.

Another group met in the school building on August 2, 1891 and organized the First Methodist Church. The Church of Christ was organized by the late John Eoff in 1898. The next church group to organize was the Presbyterians on July 23, 1901. The Lutherans built a church in 1903 although they were not organized until 1904.

Dr. Fred Tinkle came to the new town in 1900 and located his office just south of the general store. Prior to that, Dr. Robert Cook came to Winters in 1889. He sold out to Dr. Rubottom in 1894.

(Since Winters did not have what could be called a formal beginning, but like Topsy "just grew," there has never been a

Wildlife Entertain Park Visitors

Nature lovers get bargains at Inks Lake State Park, reports Park Manager E. W. Dickinson. This is because assorted varmints tour the area at night and sometimes become very inquisitive, especially if they are hungry.

He cautions guests to make their food supplies secure and generally the little forbearers do more good than harm by disposing of table scraps and discarded food.

But when the visitors call for "Mr. Bill" to rescue them from a skunk or such, he has the combination. He said a few slaps of his britches with a switch effectively routs the intruders which, he added importantly, leave politely. And that includes the skunks.

"Even deer join the varmints touring the camp area at night," said Dickinson.

A similar bonus can be enjoyed at Possum Kingdom State Park. Park Manager B. G. Rogers reports deer may be seen around the headquarter's area every day. The Rogers family save table scraps and throw them over the yard fence to the deer.

Recently two big bucks, one small buck, three does and three yearlings came to feed when Rogers gave the signal. The bucks had shed their antlers but appeared about as proud as any well-antlered deer.

Mrs. Don Marks Hosted Meeting of Chat and Sew Club

Mrs. Don Marks was hostess Tuesday afternoon for the regular meeting of the Chat and Sew Club. Members spent the afternoon sewing.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Louie Ernst, J. A. Henderson, Ed Conica, Lonnie Burton, Alvis Jobe, O. D. Bradford, Carson Easterly, and B. D. Jobe.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Bradford.

Machines and Men Prepare Parks For '64 Season

Clanking machinery and the characteristic noises of carpenter tools are routing the drowsy silence of dormant state parks. For improvements are being pushed and new installations hurried as the freshly animated setting presages the hustle and bustle of the coming summer season.

J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department, reports all 58 state parks are engaged in the preparatory program. "We're pretty well strapped down fund wise," he said, "but something is being done all along the line, if it's nothing more than re-painting."

"The park staffs everywhere are checking their water systems, and other installations. Those with boating, fishing or bathing facilities are readying the routine sets. Signs, so essential to guide patrons, are being repainted or relocated. Roads are under repair, parking and camping areas are being cleared of brush, and small buildings are being re-roofed."

"Much interest naturally is coming from capital improvement projects," said Watson. Construction of a large equipment building already has been finished at Falcon State Park, scheduled for expenditure of $279,415 by September 1965, when the new park will be completely activated.

But some loud sounds rumble through the tall pines at Tyler State Park where the dam is being repaired to restore the lake, drained when a section of the impoundment collapsed last fall.

Headquarters buildings are being rebuilt and relocated at three major parks—Inks, Fort Parker and Lake Corpus Christi.

At Lake Brownwood, another popular state park, the State Highway Department has installed a large boat ramp and built a new road leading to it.

At Goose Island State Park, the only Gulf Coast park area with even limited accommodations, a badly needed shower house is being built.

"Parks at Lake Whitney and Dam "B", the other major capital improvement sites, are currently getting extensive treatment by architects and engineers. Actual construction will begin there before long," said Watson.

At Buescher State Park, where Bastrop County contributed substantial funds and equipment to repair the dam for the 13-acre lake, the contrasting silence marks the vigilant wait for a heavy rain to finish the job.

"We're painting, patching and generally cleaning up for the summer visitations," said Watson. "We are stretching our meager funds to contribute the maximum parks effort behind the new tourism movement."

The executive director said communities adjacent to the parks "have been contributing tremendously to the overall renovation program." He cited as a "prime public-spirited example" the Bastrop County share in the Buescher State Park dam repair and as a "typical local gesture" the work of Big Spring Boy Scouts in

Field Trials Being Run At State Park

Field trails now being run at Lake Whitney State Park are drawing fine crowds according to the various groups participating.

Game Warden Louis Clymer said on a recent Sunday, 102 dogs were entered and that although it was a rainy day more than 1,000 dog "fans" attended.

FROM HOBBS, NEW MEX.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sowers and little daughter, Johnita of Hobbs, New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Del Gunn, Ronnie, Debra and Jana of San Antonio were week end visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Yates.

Storing 'Hoppers

To keep frogs, grasshoppers and the like alive for a long period, put them in a mason jar with a few handfuls of grass. Be sure to punch breathing holes in the lid. Place the jar in the refrigerator where it is cold but not freezing. When you are ready to go fishing, remove the bait. The 'hoppers and frogs soon become active again.

Roger Babson Says—

Tax Cut Not To Be Bonanza Some Expect, Living Standards Rising

Babson Park, Mass. Soon millions of Americans will be receiving sizable amounts of "extra" cash as federal withholding taxes are cut. Some of my friends who own retail stores figure they are sure to get the lion's share of this money. But I think these people may be counting their chickens before they are hatched. Here are my reasons.

Consumers Today Have More Freedom of Choice

During the 1950's and the early 1960's, fairly steady increases in personal income brought a great many of the nation's households up to an adequate standard of living. Hence, the substantial additions to spending power which many families will get from the tax cut will represent discretionary income.

This means people will have more freedom of choice as to what they will buy than they have usually had. Their attitudes and their buying patterns may determine to what extent retail stores will benefit from the tax cut—and from the economic growth that lies ahead.

Service Businesses Will Prosper

Retail stores should certainly do better in 1964 because of the tax cut. But it is not going to be the bonanza some storekeepers are expecting. Living standards are high and rising. This means people are going to spend an increasing percentage of their incomes for such things as insurance, household and personal services, and recreation and travel. The old-line merchant who expects customers will continue to fill their shopping baskets with the same types of goods they bought when they were not so well off may be in for an awakening.

I forecast further gains in service business in 1964. Best gains will be in private education and research, foreign travel and money-lending. I predict that private spending for educational purposes in 1964 will top 1963's figures.

What consumers Will Buy
Today food, shelter, and clothing take about one-third of all family income; but the ratio is declining every month. In another ten years, these items may use a much smaller share. From now on people will be able to spend more for wants, instead of needs. Consumers will become better educated, more choosy, and more spoiled.

They will still purchase food, shelter, and clothing items in good volume, but they will also buy a great many other things besides. These will mostly be comforts and semi-luxuries. The average work week in America has not shortened very much in the past twenty years, but emphasis on leisure time and making the most of it has increased. The desire to travel and to enjoy to the full holidays and vacations is a powerful force influencing buyers' attitudes and behavior. I predict a good increase in dollars spent for travel in 1964 versus 1963. In addition, I look for big boosts in spending for sports clothes, boats, fishing tackle, and many other recreational wants.

Markets Of Tomorrow

The amount of installment debt contracted to help finance expensive vacations and other services, and to pay debts accumulated as people have sought a higher standard of living, is not yet large in relation to total income. But I forecast it will grow fast and that it will be important in shaping the markets of tomorrow.

More liberal unemployment and social security payments—along with more generous pensions from private employers—will encourage people to spend more. Their spending habits will be based increasingly on aspirations and expectations, instead of on current income. You can expect consumers to be more selective from now on; for they are going to have more and more money to spend as they please, and they know what they want. On the other hand, those who do succeed in selling them will be very well rewarded.

Chevelle balanced performance is best!

Passing, cornering, threading through traffic, sudden stops—Chevelle excels all around! Chevrolet's new surprise package has what it takes to meet any driving challenge: Six or V8 engines, hefty brakes, Full Coil suspension—and a trim size that makes the most of them!

Chevelle means performance aplenty—standard 120-hp Six or 195-hp V8—and optional at extra cost, a 155-hp Six, a 220-hp V8, a new 327-cu.-in. V8! But Chevelle's performance means more. Chevelle's a foot shorter than the big cars. And the space Chevelle saves in size comes off the ends, not the middle. So it rides like you want a car to ride.

Chevelle lets you choose Powerglide*, 4-speed manual* or 3-speed manual transmission. Knowing how people like the custom touch, we wrote out a long list of extra-cost options. Knowing all this, what's keeping you from a test drive? Certainly not your Chevrolet dealer!

88 WHS Students Will Take 1964 Scholarship Test

Eighty-eight students at Winters High School plan to take the 1964 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Robert F. Christian, principal, announced today.

The test will be administered at the school at 9 a. m. Tuesday March 10. All students who wish to be considered for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1965 should take the test at that time.

The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development. The test is the first step in the tenth annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, colleges, associations, unions, trusts, and individuals.

The number of scholarships awarded in any year depends upon the extent of sponsor participation. In 1963, 1528 Merit Scholarships were awarded; 951 were provided by 179 sponsors and 577 by the Merit Corporation. There are 4118 Merit Scholars attending 425 colleges in the current academic year.

The test scores of students who are examined in March will be reported to their schools before May 15. The scores are used by counselors in many high schools to help students make decisions about college attendance and field of study. Many students who do not expect to win a scholarship take the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses in the areas measured by the test.

Some 14,000 Semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Names of Semifinalists are published in a booklet which is distributed to all colleges and to other sources of financial aid for undergraduates. Further, their names and test scores are sent to the colleges they express an interest in attending as their first and second choices. The order of preference is not shown.

An additional 35,000 students, selected on a national basis, receive Letters of Commendation for their high performance on the qualifying test. These students are considered for special awards made through the Merit Corporation, and their names and test scores are also sent to their first- and second-choice colleges.

Each Semifinalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance will become Finalists in the Merit Program. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from the Finalist in the Merit Program. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from the Finalist group on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, extracurricular activities, leadership ability, and accomplishments outside the classroom. Each Finalist is awarded a Certificate of Merit attesting to his outstanding performance.

The scholarship stipends are based on financial need. The minimum award is $100 and the maximum is $1500. The average stipend awarded to freshman Merit Scholars in 1963 was $796 annually, or $3184 for the four years of college. Each scholarship constitutes a form of educational insurance, since the stipend may be increased at any time if the student's financial situation changes during the four-year term of the scholarship.

Supplementary grants are usually made to the colleges that the scholars attend.

Mary Young Hostess To Sub Deb Club Held Monday

Sub Deb Club held their regular meeting Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Young with their daughter, Mary, serving as hostess.

Charlotte Dooley Is 'Homemaker' For Winters High

Charlotte V. Dooley has been named 1964 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Winters high school, Winters. She achieved the highest score here in a written homemaking examination taken by senior girls throughout the country on Dec. 3, and now becomes eligible for one of 102 scholarships totaling $110,000.

Her paper has been entered with those of other school winners in the state in competition for the title, State Homemaker of Tomorrow. The winner of this honor will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual program. The second-ranking girl in the state will receive a $500 educational grant. The school of the state winner will be awarded a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc.

Late in April, the first-place winners from each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia, together with school advisors, will gather in Colonial Williamsburg, Va., to start an expense-paid educational tour of the East. The week-long tour, which will include Washington, D. C., and New York City, will culminate with the naming of the 1964 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Chosen on the basis of original test score, plus personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will have her scholarship increased to $5,000. Grants of second, third, and fourth-place winners will be $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively.

Job Opportunities In Agribusiness

The opportunities for employment in agriculture have increased despite the reduction in rural farm population, according to Dan Davis of the Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department, Texas A & M. He points out that as agriculture has become more scientific, many of the new jobs are performed in the city. These, having to do with the business side of agriculture, are concerned with industrial processing, marketing, transporting and financing agricultural products.

On the other side of the agribusiness picture, farmers and ranchers buy from agribusiness about everything that goes into raising their product. They buy seed, fertilizer, chemicals, fuel, equipment, medicine, and all types of services. In fact, Davis says, they rely on the agribusiness man for about everything except the land and their own labor.

Professor Davis suggests that high school students find out more about training needed for the many jobs in agribusiness through their high school counselors, vocational agriculture teachers, county agents or by writing to the College of Agriculture, Texas A & M University, College Station, Texas.

Runnels Co. Food Service Assn. Met In Ballinger

Mrs. Josie Boswell presided for the meeting of the Runnels County Food Service Association held in Elementary School cafeteria in Ballinger Saturday beginning at 9:00 o'clock. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Betty Brown and Mrs. Carolyn Nelson gave the opening prayer. How to Get Along With Others' was the topic of the program and speaker for the meeting was the Rev. Fred Campbell, pastor of the Ballinger First Presbyterian Church. Films were shown from banquets of the Ballinger school cafeteria and of Lone Star Gas Company in Winters cafeteria. During a short business session new officers were elected for 1964-65.

The next meeting of the association will be held the last Saturday in April in the Winters Homemaking Cottage when officers will be installed. Statistics show that about half the traffic fatalities occur in accidents involving a drinking driver.

ON HONOR ROLL
Roger Stanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stanford, and a sophomore student at the University of Texas, was listed on the honor roll due to his outstanding scholastic record. He was president of the National Honor Society during his senior year in Winters High School.

FB Directors To Hold Special Meeting March 14

Directors of the Runnels County Farm Bureau will hold a special called meeting Saturday, March 14, at the office in Ballinger.

The meeting has been called by Ben J. Frerich, president of the farm organization, to discuss remodeling of the office building. The Texas Department of Public Health was established in 1903. First municipal public library in Texas was chartered in 1874 at Galveston.
