HOME TOWN Talk

March truly is trying to match its reputation. Nice weather for a few days, and then WHAMMO! ... we get a cold blast from the north, accompanied by rain, sleet, hail and snow. Then the weather turns off pretty again. Spring is officially just around a week's corner, but anything can happen ... because it's March!

Sunday night's rain and windstorms were typical for this time of the year. And quite a bit of damage was done in some sections of the county. Out in the Wilmeth community, the storm did a lot of damage. A house belonging to E. A. Lancaster, two miles south of Wilmeth, was hit heavily. The top and east side of the house, and a connecting garage was blown away. Luckily no one was home at the time the damage was done.

North of Norton on the James Ash farm, three barns and a four-wheel trailer were demolished, and hail blew into the living room of the home during the storm.

Varying amounts of rainfall have been reported for the area. In Winters, the total during Sunday night was measured at .7 of an inch. This brings 1964's total to 5.7 inches.

Changes in conditions, etc., are not so noticeable under day-by-day, month-by-month observation. But stand off a few years and take a look, and there is quite a bit of difference.

Take, for instance, the changes which have taken place in this locality during the past 88 years. Hal Dry has an old history book which he picked up out of an attic down on the Mexican border a few years ago, and in it is a short description of Rannels County in 1876. The book, "Pictorial History of Texas," written by the Rev. Homer S. Thrall, A. M., was published by M. D. Thompson & Co., of St. Louis, Missouri in 1879. A title page paragraph explains that the book contains an account of Texas "From the earliest visits of European Adventurers, to A. D. 1879."

Here is the paragraph describing Rannels County: "Rannels County—Named for Hiram G. Rannels, ex-governor of Mississippi. Bounded north by Taylor, East by Coleman, South by Concho, and west by Tom Green. Was created in 1858. In 1876 the assessed value of property was $1,280. It is well watered by the Colorado River and its tributaries—Oak, Fish, Valley, Mulatto, Spring, Red, Black, and Flora Creeks—and in the South by some smaller branches of the Concho River. The Colorado is here at common stage of water—a clear (Continued on page 8)

WHS Blizzards Pace Guests To Win Invitational Track Meet Saturday

"Angel To The Papagos," Book By Mrs. Charlie Poe, Is Now Ready

While vacationing in Arizona in January of 1961, Mrs. George (Charlie) Poe visited the Papago Indian Reservation, and met Goldie Richmond, an interesting woman with an unusual background.

After hearing the story of this remarkable woman who has worked so closely with the little-known Papago Indian tribe, Mrs. Poe determined that the story should be written so that all could know. She gathered a wealth of information about this colorful tribe, and about the woman who has played such a big part in their lives, and began writing.

Her book, "Angel To The Papagos," has been published, and is on the stands of book stores throughout the country. Publication was by The Naylor Company of San Antonio.

The central character in the book, "Angel To The Papagos," is a pioneer woman, Goldie Richmond, who moves from high-spirited adventure to tragedy and back again in her relations with the Indians and apart from them, as she attempts to forge a life for herself and her family in one of the most desolate regions of the Arizona desert. From attacks by wild animals to giving the medicine man a taste of his own medicine, Goldie displays a fortitude and resourcefulness seldom found.

In the story of the Papago Indians, Goldie truly became their "Angel." Helping to replace superstition and witchcraft with hygienic practices, helping to replace fear with understanding, Goldie's devotion to the tribe links their lives in a lasting friendship. Together they are an example of a past life which continues to exist in a modern day world.

While in Arizona, the author met this fascinating woman and visited her several times to learn more about her. Mrs. Richmond is a woman who can meet any challenge and is a person Mrs. Poe believes all people would do well to emulate.

Another unusual character in the book is Colonel James Muncy who worked at the

6 Candidates For Alderman Here

There now are six candidates for the four places to be filled on the Winters City Council in the city elections scheduled for April 7.

Deadline for filing was Saturday, March 7.

Paul W. Gerlach, rental property owner in Winters, was the last candidate to file for one of the three regular slots to be filled in the election. He filed as a candidate last Thursday, bringing the number in that contest to five.

The other place, to be for one year to complete an unexpired term, will be sought by W. M. Hays. This vacancy was created by the resignation of E. E. (Blondie) Dodson.

Three places on the council will expire with this election. They now are filled by J. W. Bahlman, Hays and R. C. Thomas. Bahlman is not seeking reelection, and only Thomas is a candidate to succeed himself.

The list of candidates now includes Gerlach, Homer Hodge, James C. Colburn, Roy Austin and Thomas, incumbent. They are seeking two-year terms on the council.

The election to fill the vacancy created by Dodson's resignation will be a special election, but will be held on the same day as the regular election. Separate ballots will be used in the two elections.

City Secretary Vic Sutton said that a drawing will be held by the five candidates "sometime this week" to determine the order in which their names will appear on the ballot. He said ballots will be prepared in plenty of time for absentee voting.

The other councilman whose term has another year to run is J. C. Jarrell. Also, Mayor Harvey D. Jones has another year in office.

Farm Bureau Will Sponsor Program To "Meet Candidates"

Ben Frerich of Rowena, president of the Rannels County Farm Bureau, this week announced that voters will have an opportunity to "Measure the Candidates" at a meeting planned for April 16 in the offices of the FB in Ballinger.

The meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p. m., is sponsored by the Rannels County FB for the purpose of giving voters an opportunity to learn more about all candidates before election time, the FB president said. He emphasized the FB does not endorse any candidate for any political office.

All of the candidates for election or re-election have been invited to the meeting to state their positions on various issues of interest to agriculture, Frerich said. This information will be made public after the meeting, he said.

According to Frerich, strict rules will govern the conduct of the meeting. Each candidate will be given five minutes to present his qualifications. The candidates will then be asked to state their specific questions that are of interest to agriculture.

The Rev. W. S. Armstrong of Abilene, pastor of the church, cordially invites the public to attend the special service.

Horn Blast To Warn Of Tornadoes Here

Tornado time is upon us! So when citizens of Winters hear a series of blasts from powerful air horns which have been erected in two locations in town, they are advised to take cover immediately, no questions asked!

Because when these horns are blown, it will mean that a tornado is in the vicinity and probably headed toward Winters.

The two big air horns have been installed to take the place of the fire siren for emergency warnings. One is on the north water tower, and the other mounted on a high pole at the municipal light plant.

They are operated by compressed air; the one at the light plant will get its air from a big compressor and tank in the plant, while the one on the north water tower is supplied by a portable air pump and compressed air tank. Both are controlled by a switch in the police department at the city hall.

Fire Marshal Waggoner said that the fire sirens will not be used for tornado warning this year; only the air horns will be used for that purpose.

The two air horns were purchased recently with money donated by many people several months ago. It has taken a lot of time and work to get them both operating. The project to get the horns and install them was one of the Fire Department and the Police Department and other individuals. The two horns cost about $800.

TESTS NEXT WEEK
The two compressed air horns will be put through a series of tests next week, according to Fire Marshal N. D. Waggoner. The tests will be made to check the horns and to acquaint local residents with the sound of the horns so they will not confuse the blasts with those of air horns on trucks or locomotives.

Tests will be held at 10 a. m. each day next week, Monday through Friday, March 16-20. The horns also will be tested each Tuesday at 7 p. m., along with the fire sirens.

The two air horns were purchased recently with money donated by many people several months ago. It has taken a lot of time and work to get them both operating. The project to get the horns and install them was one of the Fire Department and the Police Department and other individuals. The two horns cost about $800.

Tornado or disaster warnings will consist of a series of short blasts on the horns, according to N. D. Waggoner, Winters fire marshal. When these horns are blown, at times other than pre-announced testing periods, people are warned to take cover immediately. They will not be blown for "scare" effect or anything of that nature, it was pointed out. Upon hearing the horn blasts, people are asked to stay out of their automobiles and off highways and streets. Also, local residents are asked to please not call the city hall, police or the fire department. The telephone lines must be kept open for emergency use, and personnel of these departments will be busy carrying out their assignments. The police department also warns people against following emergency vehicles during such periods. In the event a tornado or other disaster should strike Winters or in the vicinity, fire department and other emergency crews will be directed to the scene, and traffic congestion could be a cause for unnecessary confusion and possible loss of life.

State Capital Highlights—
Day for Congressional Reshuffle
Still Far Away, Says Gov. Connally

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

U. S. Supreme Court says the present line-up of congressional districts is unconstitutional. But the day for redistricting still is far away, according to Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Texas' 22 Congressional districts have the greatest variance in size of any state, ranging from 214,000 to 980,000 population. This, the high court said, is not fair and it must be corrected.

Because the 1964 elections already are under way the Supreme Court allowed Texas 30 days in which to ask a three-judge Federal court in Houston to delay the effectiveness of the order.

COURT SPEAKS

Texas Supreme Court, in a decision with far-reaching consequences, has ruled that holders of paid political office are ineligible to run for the Legislature during their present terms.

Specifically, the Court ordered the Taylor County Democratic Committee to remove the name of 104th Dist. Atty. Tom Todd from the ballot as a legislative candidate.

State Democratic Committee Secretary Frank Erwin Jr. said copies of the opinion will be sent to all county chairmen for their guidance. Erwin earlier had advised of the ineligibility of paid officials to run for the Legislature.

Supreme Court also ordered a new trial in a case hinging on the question of whether newspaper carriers are independent merchants or employees of the publishing company.

Suit was brought by Gerald Witt Love against Newspapers, Inc., and C. E. Cargile, contract carrier for the newspapers, following an auto collision. Lower courts found for Love. However, the new decision held the independent contractor issue had been improperly submitted to the jury. Earlier decisions have supported the position that a newspaperboy or carrier is an independent agent and not an employee of the publication.

In other action the Supreme Court:

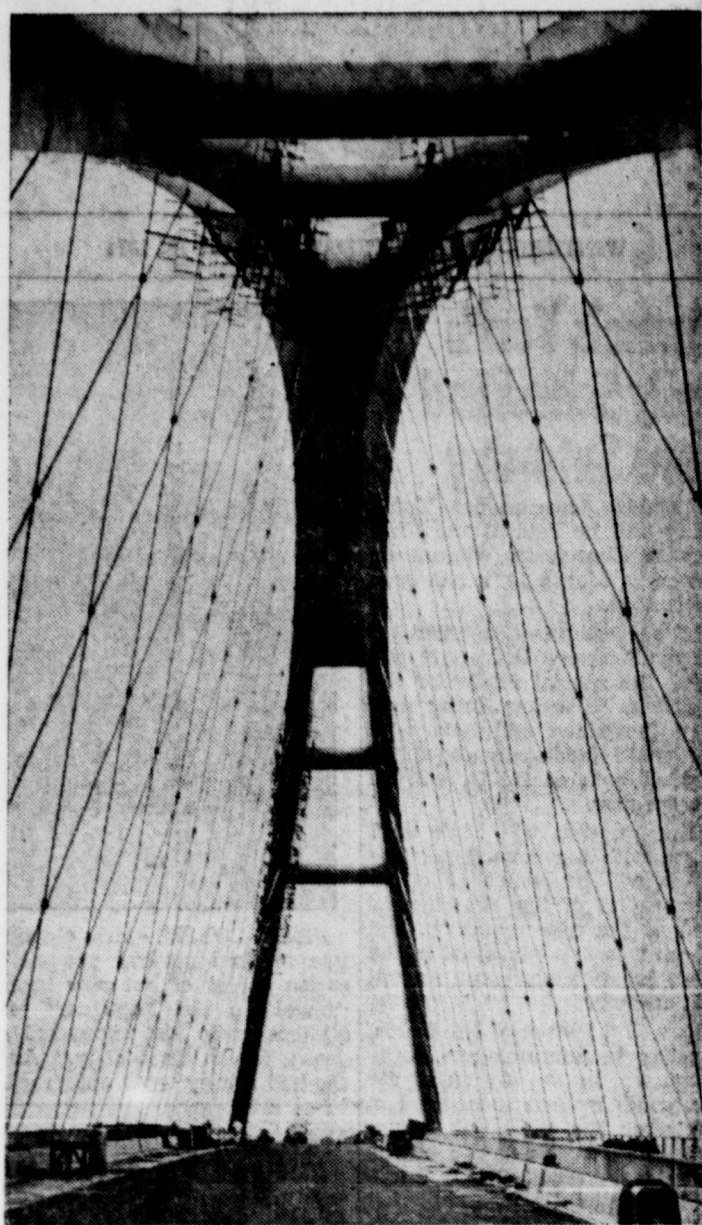

Held a legislative act cannot be nullified by a state agency's regulations. Case involved coastal fishermen absolved of violating an agency order outlawing net fishing in the Chambers County part of Galveston Bay.

For the second time refused to accept a mandamus petition aimed at keeping all who saw telecasts of the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald off the Jack Ruby murder trial jury.

Reversed lower courts and ruled that a physician hired part-time as a company doctor is not an employee of the company.

SUPER-AGENCY BACKED

To date the following candidates for state-wide offices have opened campaign headquarters in the capital city:

DON YARBOROUGH, Democrat for governor; Bill McIntyre, Navasota automobile dealer, campaign manager. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith (D), for re-election; Otice Greene, Lubbock public relations consultant, campaign manager.

U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D), for re-election; Emerson Stone Jr., Jacksonville attorney, campaign chairman. Democrat for U. S. Senator; George Sandlin, Austin realtor, campaign manager.

Congressman-at-Large Joe Pool (D), for re-election; Jack Fisk, Wharton public relations and businessman, campaign manager. Railroad Commissioner Jim C. Langdon, for re-election. Judge Jack Pope, Democrat for Supreme Court; Bob Sneed, Austin attorney, campaign manager.

TEACHING STANDARDS APPROVED

Texas Board of Education approved new standards for training of school teachers and administrators and a special in-service training linguistics course to help teachers teach students to express themselves better.

Minimum foundation school program costs were pegged at $555,000,000; the 1964-65 local fund assignment (local school district share) at $111,000,000.

A pilot program of concentrated study for migrant students now operating in Edinburg, McAllen, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, Weslaco and San Benito will be expanded to 10 districts next fall.

Board members approved a request to dissolve the Liberty County Junior College District.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Connally used some of his constitutional money-spending authority to allocate $2,350 to pay National Guard troops called to active duty on February 4 during the Panhandle blizzard. Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey of the Texas State Library reports that 42 Texas cities spent $13,100,000 on library construction during 1963. State Selective Service Director Morris Schwartz said Texas' draft call in April will be 449, against March's 610. Texas Industrial Commission's short courses on local industrial attraction, called Texas Industrial Planning Seminars or TIPS, are becoming so popular that the commission's director, Harry W. Clark, has scheduled three a week throughout the month of April and May. Air Pollution Control Association gave the State Department of Health a certificate of award for its work in educating Texans as to the need for prevention of air pollution. Governor Connally named Thomas F. Anderson, operations manager of the Alcoa plant at Point Comfort, as manufacturers' representative on the Texas Water Pollution Control Board to replace C. M. Shigley of Dow Chemical Company, Freeport, who resigned. San Antonio will be the site of the Southern Governors Conference from October 10 to 14. Kuyk Logan, city editor of the Oklahoma City Oklahoman, has resigned that position to become publicity director for Don Yarborough's campaign for governor. State Banking Board approved a charter for Quinlan State Bank in Hunt County, accepted applications for Yorktown Community Bank and Expressway Bank and Trust of Dallas. Guaranty Bank of Lubbock application was withdrawn. Texas farmers and ranchers received less for their products in mid-February than in January, United States Department of Agriculture reported. Col. A. E. Speer's Squadron Said 'Best in 8th AF'

Eighth Air Force honors have fallen on the 62nd Munitions Maintenance Squadron at Turner Air Force Base for its selection as "Best in Eighth Air Force" for 1963.

Commanded by Lt. Col. Arthur Edwin Speer, the Turner munitions maintenance organization was selected for the honor in which 15 other Eighth Air Force units competed.

Colonel Speer was reared in Winters and is the brother of H. L. (Pete) Speer and the son of Mrs. Emma Speer of Ballinger. His wife is the former Kay Lang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lang.

The title "Best in Eighth Air Force" puts the 62nd Munitions Maintenance Squadron in the running for selection as "Best in the Strategic Air Command." A team of SAC representatives is expected to tour the Turner agency at some unannounced date. On this team's decision rests the awarding of the title "Best in SAC."

Judging will be based on general appearance, quality of maintenance work, standardized training of loading and maintenance procedures, compliance with modification orders, on the job training, management control system scores and safety.

This is the second time the unit has won the Eighth Air Force honor. In 1961 the 62nd Munitions Maintenance Squadron was picked for the same award. This year's award will earn Turner an engraved trophy.

The squadron is made up of five sections—the maintenance branch, services branch, explosive ordnance disposal section, supply section and maintenance supervision section. A force of 100 men works within the unit.

Work in the squadron consists of maintaining and loading all conventional and special weapons utilized at Turner. One segment of the squadron, the explosive objects. This team is specially trained to disarm explosives. It has checked and disabled numerous such items in Turner housing and the surrounding Albany area which were picked up a souvenirs.

Second 'Task Force' Appointed To Study Killing of Eagles From Air

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A report by a task force, appointed by Secretary of Interior Udall, on Golden Eagle depredations upon livestock in the southwest, made public last week, confirms the basis for complaint that has been lodged by a number of us during the past year. The Secretary last January announced he would not approve any application for permission for the use of aircraft in protecting livestock against this predator.

The task force, composed of five experts in the Fish and Wild Life branch of Interior, was appointed by the Secretary to study the facts in the field after Congressman Poage and I protested the Secretary's policy in a conference with him.

The report was dated last April, but was not made public until last week, and then only after our repeated demands. The report completely agrees with our contention—that the only effective means of fighting the eagle menace is by the use of aircraft. The Task Force spent some 10 weeks in the field, holding public hearings, observing and investigating the problem. It confirms the seriousness of the eagle depredations on livestock, was factual, fair and impartial.

After Secretary Udall received the report he proceeded to appoint another Task Force, composed of College Professors, which he labelled an "Advisory" Commission, to make another similar investigation of predators. A report of the Professors is expected momentarily, and can be expected to disagree with the findings of the first Task Force. To us it has the earmarks of a loaded committee, since some of the members of it are known by their prior statements to be opposed to the findings of the first Task Force.

The second Task Force includes no one from the livestock industry; no public hearings have been held by it, and its findings must be based largely upon hearsay and theory.

As a result of a committee hearing last week, during which Dan Auld of Kerrville appeared and gave very convincing evidence concerning the seriousness of the problem, it is hoped the Secretary will change his attitude regarding the use of aircraft. We are continuing to urge that be done.

San Angelo Site Of Garden Club Convention

Garden Club Convention for District VIII was held in San Angelo March 5 at the Riverside Club. More than 200 women registered, including State Officers and former district Governors. Reports from Club presidents gave the scope of garden club civic and service work in District VIII. Many clubs listed therapy projects, campaigns, contests, beautification projects, litterbug campaigns, etc.

The Haskell club won first place in civic beautification. Stamford club won 1st place in landscaping design for the City Library grounds.

Three National flower show judges and a member of San Angelo Men's Garden Club gave an interesting program following the luncheon. Mrs. J. T. Holley, Mrs. R. E. Coleman and Mrs. Tom Ridgway, all well known in Texas Garden Clubs, talked on Beauty, Simplicity, Expression and Harmony. Mr. Ken Wood, a landscape Architect, discussed care and growth of trees. Mrs. S. R. Braly, 1st vice governor, San Angelo, opened the assembly for the five San Angelo host clubs.

Members of the Winters Garden club attending were Mesdames Louis Hord, delegate, E. J. Redman, C. T. Rives Sr., E. L. Bryan, O. D. Bradford, Lora Coupland. Four of the six attending won door prizes, Mrs. Redman a steam iron, Mrs. Rives a pair of pillow slips, Mrs. Bryan candles, Mrs. Hord a bathroom plaque.

District VIII voted to hold the fall meeting in Albany on November 7, and the spring convention in Stamford.

More Correct Tax Forms Going In

District Director of Internal Revenue, Ellis Campbell, Jr., said that the percentage of correctly prepared returns has increased sharply in the past few years, but numerous simple mistakes continue to show up.

Mr. Campbell said: "The best advice we can give on filing a return is when you complete it, resist the temptation to put it in the mail right away. Set it aside for a day or two, then give it a thorough review for omitted income or deductions, errors in arithmetic, printed name and current address, social security number, correct copies of W-2's, signatures."

Quite often, Mr. Campbell pointed out, the taxpayer will find that a review of his return will turn up mistakes he did not notice previously. "It's human nature to want to put the return in the mail immediately," he said, "but a careful review by the taxpayer now may prevent delays in processing your return or the issuance of a tax refund check or savings bond."

Dorcas Class Heard Reports of Officers At Meeting Thursday

Regular business and social meeting of the Dorcas Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church was held Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Gardner, 212 North Main Street.

The president, Mrs. Grover Davis, presided for the business session and reports were given by class officers. Mrs. Lora Coupland, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. W. R. Kennedy conducted the devotional entitled "It Works, I Know it Works." She used the scriptures taken from John 3:16 and Romans 6:23 to emphasize her talk.

For the diversion the hostess conducted a Bible quiz. Refreshments were served to Mesdames W. R. Kennedy, Myrtle Wilbanks, Grover Davis, W. E. Coley, Lora Coupland, R. D. Collins, Pete Davis, D. B. Thornton, J. D. Sowell, A. L. Crockett, and the hostess, Mrs. Gardner.

Roger Babson Says—

Cuba Continues To Pose Threat To Safety of United States Cities

Babson Park, Mass.—As I am dictating this column only about 350 miles from Cuba, I cannot get the problem off my mind. The only time that I ever saw Castro was after he overthrew Batista and was given a big reception in New York, with an honor guard marching along Broadway and a ticker tape demonstration. As I remember, he was later invited and accepted and opportunity to speak at Harvard University. Therefore I cannot forget that this was the same Castro who is now causing us so much trouble in Cuba.

Has Castro Changed?

As I look back upon the former years, I do not remember that Castro talked Communism or had begun to take over any property in Cuba, especially plantations owned by United States companies. Since then, he has been taking over all properties in Cuba regardless of who owned them; this applies to the city property in Havana as well. Now the question is: Has Castro changed and become thoroughly Communist, or has he simply fooled us from the start? My impression is that Castro when he was cheered in New York, but that he found Communism was the only means whereby he could control Cuba. Therefore, he turned Communist and took over all the property which he needed to carry out his plans. Personally, I feel that was the time President Kennedy should have stepped into the picture; it seems to me we made a great mistake then.

What About Russia?

When Khrushchev saw what was taking place in Cuba he sent one of his top men to visit Castro. This official representative of Russia spent two or three months with Castro and finally convinced him that he had gone so far it was necessary to adopt a purely Communist Government, similar to what existed in Russia. Here again, President Kennedy had an opportunity to argue with Castro. Meanwhile, Khrushchev saw his opportunity and shipped technicians, soldiers, and missiles into Cuba. This was really the time that our worst troubles began.

Russia's move was criticized so violently by the press of the United States and by members of both political parties that Russia agreed to withdraw all missiles which could reach our large cities. Whether this has yet been done completely, no one actually knows. We are dependent in large part on what travelers tell us, as our aerial photographers sometimes get shot down. Hence, we do not know whether all long-range Russian missiles have been withdrawn, or not.

What About Blockades?

These were attempted by the United States and were successful for a short time only. Soon Canada, England, and other countries decided it was to their advantage to sell goods to Castro and deliver them in their own ships—which, under international law, our ships could not hold up in a blockade when no war had been declared. This is the condition today.

Meantime — notwithstanding the damaging hurricane—Cuba is harvesting a fine crop of sugar, which she is able to sell at a high price. This enables Castro to buy a fleet of buses, much needed machinery, as well as wheat and other commodities—giving long-term notes in exchange. Some nations guarantee these notes payable on installments over a ten-year period. Thus, with Russia's help and that of other nations hungry for trade, Castro appears to be in good shape at present.

What About The Future?

All the above has made Cas-

Douglas Stom, 92, Died Wednesday, Funeral Thursday

Douglas Stom, 92, died at 3:17 a. m. Wednesday at Winters Municipal Hospital, where he had been a patient for two weeks.

Funeral was held at 3:30 p. m. Thursday at Spill Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. Emmit Brooks, pastor of the Baptist Church in Rochester, officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

Mr. Stom was born in Madisonville, Ky., but came to Texas at an early age, settling in Waco. He sold papers there as a boy, and later became a typesetter. He came to Winters in 1919 to live with a cousin, the late W. E. Puckett.

He later lived in the home of Mr. Puckett's daughter, Mrs. J. B. Denson of Wilmett community, and still later lived with another of Mr. Puckett's daughters, Mrs. Eunice Simons of Winters.

After Mrs. Simons died last Jan. 31, Mr. Stom moved to the Merrill Rest Home.

He was a member of the Southside Baptist Church. Survivors include several nieces, nephews and cousins. Pallbearers were Leonard Wright, Henry Rampp, Ralph Burns, Homer Tubbs, Frankie Berryman and Merle Proctor.

Repairing The Eyeglasses

A good way to ruin a fishing or hunting trip is to lose the tiny screw that fastens the ear piece to your glasses. To fix it, temporarily, remove the staple from a match book cover. It will serve as a substitute until you return to civilization. A straight pin also works quite well.

tro pretty cocky, resulting in his cutting the supply of fresh water from our base at Guantanamo. Many Americans, under the lead of Republicans, are demanding that we take aggressive action. President Johnson, however, hopes that his campaign for election can be based upon "peace and prosperity". The American public is thoroughly provoked with Castro, but they do not want to risk war with Cuba.

This is bound to be a hot question, politically. When we know who the Republican candidate will be, I will write another column on Cuba. I hope readers will remember that we believe Cuba has enough long-range missiles stowed away in her hills to annihilate not only any Florida city, but perhaps any other city on our Eastern Seaboard. My readers will be hearing much more about Cuba between now and the November elections.

Western Auto Store Now Has Catalog Order Service Here

The Winters Western Auto Associate store, owned by W. M. Hays, has announced the opening of a new catalog order center as an added service for customers in this area.

Hays said the new service is part of a nation-wide catalog order program being launched by Western Auto at this time through 438 company stores and more than 4,000 home-owned and operated dealer stores. This will constitute the largest single group of catalog order centers in the U. S., he said.

He pointed out that the new catalog order services enables him to offer literally thousands of merchandise items which space would not permit him to display in his store.

Phone Company In Middle of Big Building Program

An expansive construction program of outside plant facilities for Southwestern States Telephone Co. is currently underway in Winters.

Several sections of the city are involved in the program, designed to provide improved service to present subscribers and to extend facilities to new additions, according to spokesmen of the telephone company.

A. J. Lacy, division manager for the company, said the construction will include the setting of 13 poles and 33 anchors and the placement of 21,650 feet of aerial cable, ranging from 50 pairs to 404 pairs; 200 feet of 1212-pair underground cable; 6,850 feet of "figure 8" wire; 24,300 feet of supporting strand; and 57 terminals.

Old facilities being replaced and removed will include 21 poles, five anchors, 41 cross-arms, 4,100 feet of aerial cable ranging from 26 pairs to 200 pairs, and 13.7 single wire-miles of iron wire.

Cost of the construction program is estimated at about $30,000.

Coinciding with the announcement of the construction program was a report on the growth of the telephone company in Winters. According to Lacy, a total of 70 additional phone installations have been made by the local office since December of 1959. In 1959 there was a total of 1394 connections; in December of 1963, this had been increased to 1464. The majority of these additional installations were residential hook ups, according to the figures released by the company.

WALT BECOMES KING ARTHUR when he pulls the magic sword from the stone in Walt Disney's mirthful new cartoon adventure-fantasy, "The Sword in the Stone," showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The technicolor feature, directed by Wolfgang Reitherman, is based on the T. H. White novel. Buena Vista releases.

MOVIES

"Gunfight At Comanche Creek," Audie Murphy heads the cast of Allied Artists' "Gunfight At Comanche Creek," big-scale Western in color which will show Friday and Saturday at the State theatre.

Linked romantically with him in this action-packed film is the beautiful Colleen Miller who has returned to the screen following a four-year absence spent in Chicago.

Others who star in the picture are Ben Cooper, DeForest Kelley and Jan Merlin, while Damian O'Flynn, product of the Abbey Players in Dublin, and Susan Seaforth, 18-year-old beauty, have key featured roles.

"Gunfight At Comanche Creek," stemming from the pen of Edward Bernds, tells the suspenseful story of a detective who worms his way into a notorious band of outlaws and almost single-handedly smashes the organization. Murphy portrays the detective.

"The Sword in the Stone," When Walt Disney produces a new animated cartoon feature, it is truly an entertainment event and his newest, and probably his funniest, "The Sword in the Stone," is no exception. This mirthful, magical, musical cartoon treat shows at the State Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to delight moviegoers from six to sixty.

Based on the widely-read book by T. H. White, this amusing account of the life and times of a legendary young King Arthur and his hilarious adventures with that grand old magician, Merlin, introduces a whole new cast of wonderful Disney characters.

County Farmers Have Recently Built Waterways

Waterways are often needed in the Runnels Soil Conservation District, according to Glen Green of the local Soil Conservation Service. Farmers who have recently built waterways, and are getting ready to seed them to grass are: Willie Pokorny of the Rowena Community, H. B. Edmondson of the Blanton Community, and Paul Sturm on his farm east of Ballinger.

Green said, where a waterway is needed, several factors are to be considered. First would be the location. He said the most satisfactory location usually is a natural draw. Because here the grade and slopes are established. And too, the natural slopes confine the water flow to the waterway and eliminate the need for a lot of costly construction work. Here too, the moisture conditions are more favorable for grass growth. Green said, another factor to be considered is the use to be made of the waterway after it is established to grass. Since the vegetation in the waterway receives extra water, it can be made to be an asset to the farm. Green said, with proper management, a grassed waterway can be used for grazing, hayland or for producing grass seed. And at the same time control erosion and help the overall appearance on a farm.

Cancer Society Drive Being Planned For April

A meeting of local leaders in the work of the American Cancer Society in Winters was held Friday evening, and plans discussed the forthcoming Cancer Crusade, scheduled for April.

Willis Jernigan, minister of the Winters Church of Christ, is head of the Society in Runnels County, and discussed briefly the program for the year.

Appointment of the Memorial Division chairman will be announced within the near future, Jernigan said. In the meantime, he told the group, memorial contributions for the first two months of the year already have exceeded the entire amount contributed last year.

The service division is under direction of Mrs. Homer Hodge Jr. Numerous cancer dressings have been made during the last year by a local group, and are being used by a local victim of the disease at present. Dressings are available for any Runnels County cancer patient, and may be had by contacting Mrs. Hodge or Jernigan.

Plans are being made for educational programs which will aid in prevention of factors that encourage cancer and in early detection of symptoms. These will include work through the schools and with various groups.

All of these phases of work, Jernigan said, continue throughout the year and funds from the Crusade assist in their operation.

Plans for the Crusade itself will be under the direction of J. W. Bahlman in the business section. The residential campaign will be divided into four sections, with Mrs. A. B. Spill, Mrs. Raymon Lloyd, Mrs. Olen McGregor and Mrs. Gattis Neely serving as team captains.

"Of course funds are necessary for any group to operate," Jernigan told those present at the meeting Friday, "but we would like to stress the fact that our first goal is education that can help prevent or detect early cancer. Funds are a secondary item needed to help educate and care for victims of the disease."

Darrell Brawley of San Angelo, District IV field representative for the American Cancer Society, was present for the meeting and showed a new film dealing with "The Million Club."

Lutheran Church Ladies Aid Circle Met Last Thursday

The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid Circle of St. John's Lutheran Church was held last Thursday in the basement of the church, with the president, Mrs. Herman Frick, presiding.

Mrs. W. F. Minzenmayer gave the opening prayer, and the devotional. Witnessing With Prayer, using scripture from Acts 3.

The group sang the theme song, Breath On Me, Breath of God, and the hymn, I Lay My Sins On Jesus.

The circle was divided into four small groups for the Bible study on Acts 3. Bible study leaders were Mrs. Ellis Ueckert, Albert Walker, E. E. Thormeyer, and Walter Kratz.

The Rev. A. W. Holck read the birthday number, Spring Is Made for Little Boys, and sang the ballad, Peter Broke the Locks.

Mrs. George Pruser Sr. called the roll, and Miss Emma Henniger gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. F. O. Minzenmayer gave the offering meditation.

The ladies of the circle voted to have the president appoint a committee to purchase a clock for the church basement and a heater for the ladies' lounge. The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer recited in unison. Hostesses were Mrs. E. R. Wessels, Carl Wessels, Alfred Wessels and Fred Voss.

Activity Report Marks Observance Of Girl Scout Week

Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 3 of Winters observed National Girl Scout Week, March 8-14, by making a report of their yearly activity.

Meetings have been held weekly in members' homes, with a dinner meeting once a month. Foods of various countries and regions have been featured at these dinners.

Service projects have included volunteer work at the Winters Municipal Hospital and at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene. Plans now are underway for a summer camping and sightseeing trip.

The next meeting will be a progressive dinner on Monday, March 16. Any high school girl interested in becoming a member of this small but active group is asked to contact any of the members or leaders.

Membership is composed of Doris and Joyce Allen, Martha Hale, Virginia Smith, Sally and Beth Spill, and Lupe Torres. Adult assistants and leaders are Mrs. Jim Austin and Mrs. Walter Spill.

bold running stream; the water is slightly brackish, still not entirely unfit for use; all the smaller streams furnish plenty of pure water.

"The southern half of the county is a comparatively level prairie, whilst toward the north and northwest the surface becomes elevated and hilly. The soil varies from a red loam to dark chocolate. There is a large amount of good land, and altogether this is an excellent county for pastoral and agricultural purposes.

"Timber is plentiful, especially in the northern part, and consists chiefly of mesquite, live-oak, post-oak, blackjack, walnut, pecan, hackberry, cottonwood, etc.

"Fort Chadbourne is located upon the east bank of Oak Creek, outside, but within a short distance of the western boundary of this county."

In the brief description of Runnels County in 1876, there was no mention of population. The 1960 census reports 15,016 for the county. Top, tax values have risen just a mite since the early days—in a 1964 almanac, tax values are listed at $25,443,460!

The idea of gathering material about the early days of Winters and the area seems to be catching on. Mrs. L. B. Watkins of the Wilmet Community has forwarded to the group working on this project information that a homecoming has been planned for Easter Sunday in that community, the site of the Mazeland Baptist Church, organized in 1906, and the Mazeland School, organized in the early 1900s. She enclosed quite a bit of information on these organizations.

Better Tasting Carp

To make carp more edible, remove the backbone with a pair of pliers before cooking. This eliminates most of the muddy taste.

Protecting The Wallet

Before going fishing, place your wallet in a plastic bag and seal it tight before putting it back into your hip pocket. Then, if you get wet, contents of the wallet will remain dry.

Terrapins Good Housekeepers

If your dog is kept in a confined area such as a small pen, droppings become a major problem. One answer is to keep four or five land terrapins inside the pen. They will keep the pen cleaned nicely.

Repairing Broken Rods

To repair a broken hollow-glass fishing rod, simply purchase a steel drill-bit the exact size to fit into the rod. Glue into place and it will hold both halves securely together.

Keeping Sinkers Tight

To prevent a clinch-type sinker from slipping on monofilament line, simply put a rubber band into the groove of the sinker before putting it on the line. Clamp down tight and trim off excess rubber. Your sinker will hold its position firmly.

Mrs. Poe--

Covered Wells trading post and did his best to look like Buffalo Bill. He had never been in the army but called himself "Colonel," and had been in prison for selling "Blue Sky," (selling mines that did not exist). The Indians called him Sea-Watta-Curley, meaning the Old Billy Goat.

Other colorful people are Joshua Tracy, a prospector who sunk fortunes in the ground and died a pauper. He was responsible for Goldie and Marion being on the desert. There is also Antone Juan, the tall and handsome Indian Chief, with whom Goldie falls in love.

Described in the book are pilgrimages and legends of the Papagos, tales of harvest time, the Papago year, the state fair and the peddling route that Jim Richmond took and on which he had so much trouble.

The author herself is a woman of no little accomplishment. Always interested in civic affairs, she has been president of the Parent-Teachers Association in Winters, and of the Diversity Club. She has held, among other positions, the office of Superintendent of the Intermediate Department of the First Baptist Church for many years.

Mrs. Poe has long been on the "String" as a feature writer for the Abilene Reporter-News, and few weeks go by when there is not at least one article under her by-line in that daily newspaper. She also writes many articles for The Enterprise.

Mrs. Poe is of "early day" stock, her parents being some of the first settlers in this area. So, she is very interested in the history of this section of Texas, and presently is engaged in gathering material about the early days of the area and the birth and growth of Winters.

It is fitting that The Naylor Company, which holds the record of having published more books of Texas and the Southwest than any other publishing house, should publish Mrs. Poe's book.

Mrs. Joe O. Naylor, head of the company since the death of her husband in 1955, was born in Winters and will be remembered here as Rita Hall. Her father, the late John Hall, was a rural mail carrier and her mother, now living in San Antonio, was the former Lola Rodgers. Mrs. Naylor is a niece of Earl and C. O. Rodgers.
