

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

There probably is no greater amount of pride and satisfaction and sense of accomplishment than that of a farmer who has planted a crop, cultivated and babied it, and then reaped a better-than-usual harvest . . . the low price he gets for his product many times notwithstanding. This is not to say that today's farmer derives his livelihood from the kicks he gets from watching his crop grow and mature — far from it. But, as in most anything else, a man's pride in his work and the satisfactory result of his work goes a long way in sustaining him to meet the obstacles with which he has been confronted in getting the job done.

In this vein, there are a lot of happy farmers in the Winters area. This has been a bountiful year for wheat, with production averages way above what had been anticipated earlier in the year. When you ship out upwards of 160 carloads of wheat, to say nothing of the many thousands of bushels stored away in bins, you can say that the year has been a success — wheat-wise.

Also, those who follow such things expect that this year's milo crop will be about the best in a long time.

There's not much between planting and harvesting work to be done on a field of wheat, but the acres and acres of government red tape which farmers are forced to plow through can make up for that lack. And they haven't made a cultivator yet which can successfully plow through the tape — it all has to be manual labor.

Ray Elliott, pastor of the Winters Methodist Church, took off on a vacation this week, and presumably will begin work on a new series of sermons.

As he told his congregation a few days ago, this is the first time he has been assigned to a church for five years, and he is running out of previously prepared sermons. Now he must either write some new ones or take a cue from television and begin a series of unannounced re-runs.

Another local preacher — this Presbyterian pastor — Edgar Graham, was hiking over town last week showing off a tree he had pulled from a big in his back yard. The tree weighed, he said, in excess of four ounces, which is a lot of tree. There were two others, bigger, he said, but he ate 'em.

Judging from the size of the fruit on that tree, he said, it figures that half a dozen leaves would make a whole suit of clothes.

Calvin Holloway the friendly Borden man, was a paratrooper during the war, and also has witnessed many miracles, electronic and otherwise, so you'd think there wouldn't be much which could get him off balance. But mention "garage door" to him and he's apt to come unglued for a second.

In making his deliveries, he has to go through many attached garages to get to the refrigerator in many homes where he leaves milk. Recently he walked up to a garage door, which was closed, and was a little worried about how he was going to get in — no handles. Then suddenly, the door flew open before him, and he was caught standing there with his milk bottles rattling. He finished the delivery, but was not much good for anything else the rest of the day.

This particular garage is part of the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Funderberg, and the door is fitted with an electronic gadget which is tuned to another gadget in the car. Mrs. Funderberg, driving down the street, saw Calvin waiting to get in and pressed a button on the dashboard of her car . . . and the garage door opened.

Now Calvin eyes with suspicion all garage doors which are closed.

CARLA AND LANDA WALKER

Two Wingate Girls Are Winners In 4-H Club Dress Review

Carla, 13 and Landa, 9, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Walker of Wingate, were winners in the Junior Division of the Runnels County 4-H Club Dress Review held at Ballinger on June 6. There were 16 girls competing.

Carla, 7th grade student, who won first place with an all-occasion sleeveless dress and a jacket made of pink Jacquard print, will compete at the district contest to be held in San Angelo on August 6. Sixty-four hours of time were consumed in making the dress.

Entering the contest since she was in the third grade, Carla won a blue ribbon last year. Landa, in the third grade, was runner-up in the contest with her sister, made a two-piece sport dress, with a red blouse and multiple striped skirt. She models with a straw hat trimmed in the material and carries a piece of greenery. Her dress required 30 hours in the making. She entered the contest for the first time last year and won a blue ribbon.

Both girls play basket ball and take piano lessons. They are avid horseback riders, but are having a little trouble at present. Their horse became too old to ride and they have a new one that is a little skittish. The girls attend the Shepherd Church of Christ with their parents. Their maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Humphreys of Abilene.

FROM MIDLAND

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Williams and children Alana and Kevin of Midland were recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Irvin.

Rainfall Total Climbs To 14 Ins.

Although there is the usual longing for "more rain," total rainfall for this immediate area for the first five and one-half months this year is higher than for the first six months of the previous two years.

Showers which fell in North Runnels County during the past two weeks have helped to build up the total for the year 14.1 inches, one-tenth of an inch more than was recorded for Winters for the same period last year, and higher than the 11.4 inches recorded in 1962.

This month's best rainfall came early on June 12, when 1.8 inch was caught in gauges in Winters. Other reports indicate that more rain fell in some sections of North Runnels, while other sections received less rainfall.

W. D. Waggoner, superintendent of the City of Winters Water Department, reports that the rainfall on the watershed of the Winters Lake has raised the water level about 12 inches this month. Water level in the city's water supply now is approximately 18 - 20 inches below spillway level.

Mrs. J. D. Burnett Retiring As Cub Scout Den Mother After Several Years

BY CHARLSIE POE

Mrs. J. D. Burnett, retiring Cub Scout Den Mother, was honored with a coffee in the home of Mrs. Dennis Poe on Friday with Den Mothers assisting as hosts.

Mrs. Burnett was presented a charm for her bracelet inscribed with the dates, "9-1954-'64".

Organizing a Den when her son, Jimmy, was 8, Mrs. Burnett recalls that she did not have a full pack but that the boys were Mike Patterson, Randall Sprinkle, Floyd Grant, Jr., Tom Griffin and Jimmy. From then until now she has worked with 37 boys and has had them all of the three years.

Jimmy is now an Eagle Scout and a senior in high school. David is a freshman and recently received his Order of the Arrow at Camp Tonkawa. He needs two more merit badges to make Eagle. Tommy in the fifth grade will be a full fledged Scout.

"Any mother that doesn't want to take time to be a Den Mother is really missing something," says Mrs. Burnett. "There are so many things that you couldn't otherwise share with your son."

"I will probably miss the work," she says wistfully, but there are so many things I can do. People are needed to work with Den Mothers and in other capacities. It is not all working with boys. She has already enlisted two mothers to take her place in Den 6 and that of Mrs. John Davis who has moved.

Regular meetings will be held each third Tuesday in the month at 8:00 o'clock.

Mrs. John Gardner, manager of Spill Brothers Company, gave a report on Trends in Home Furnishings and Mrs. R. N. Clark showed colored slides as Mrs. Gardner commented.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Bobby Rodgers, Weldon Minzenmeyer, Jess Willey, Lynn Billups, R. C. Kurtz, B. J. Colburn, Robert Paschal, Edward Bredemeyer, Garland Crouch, Cecil Hambricht and Miss Eris Vogler.

Soil Conservation Practices Pay Big Dividends, Says Winters Farmer

Morris Robinson, farmer near Winters, was the first farmer in the Runnels County Soil Conservation District to make use of the Great Plains Conservation Program. The results of his program of conservation and planning now can be seen in the 278 acres which he is farming.

The farm consisted of 278 acres of bare rangeland, overgrown cropland and wind eroded roadsides, but has undergone a facelift in the past seven years, according to Duane Moss of the Soil Conservation Service in Abilene.

When Robinson purchased the 222 acres of cropland and 55 acres of rangeland near Winters in 1958, the rangeland was as bare as a road and with no grass, Robinson says.

"The cropland was grown up in sunflowers and Johnsongrass. Runoff water from an old graded terrace system was cutting a deep gully along the north side of the farm," he said.

Through the Great Plains Conservation Program, he found the financial assistance which enabled him to speed up conservation work. He contacted the SCS office in Ballinger and made application for cost-share assistance through the program. In March 1958, a complete conservation was developed and Robinson signed a GPCP contract. This contract assured him of cost-share assistance to carry out the needed work.

Robinson began to carry out the program in the spring of 1958. He dozed mesquite brush and seeded 40 acres of rangeland with grass. He also seeded 10 acres of shallow cropland to sorghum, to provide a litter for natives grasses to be seeded the following spring. The brush control work was done with cost-share assistance through the Agricultural Conservation Program.

By the end of 1961, Robinson had completed all of the conservation work that involved cost-share assistance. The remaining work to be done consisted of annual management practices.

Robinson plans to continue to rotate cotton and grain sorghum, farm on the contour and manage the crop residue for soil protection and improvement.

Management of the grassland consists of moving the livestock to give each pasture a period of rest and adjusting the stock to leave one-half of the grass on the land each year.

Now "pastures have a good cover of grass, erosion is controlled and good crops of cotton and sorghum are being harvested," it is explained, and "the farm is now an economically stable unit supporting a farm family."

MRS. J. D. BURNETT

They are Mrs. James West and Mrs. Truett Bentley.

Other Den Mothers are Mmes. Joe Delacruz, R. C. Kurtz, Joe Vicars, Al Prince, Vic Sutton, J. M. Wallen and Dennis Poe.

Mrs. Burnett grew up in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, in a family of four girls. She met Jim Burnett during the war, a Texan from Corsicana who was in the Seebes. After their marriage they came to Texas and moved to Winters from San Angelo in 1952. Burnett, the Field Superintendent for Pool Well Service had never been a Scout but became interested when Jimmy went into Scouts. He was first an assistant and has been Scout Master for the past four years.

One week recently he was on a camp out with the Scouts and she was at Tonkawa with a group. They delayed their vacation in order for David to receive his O. A.

A busy woman, Mrs. Burnett does not give up any activity that concerns her sons, she just adds another. Both older sons are in the band and she is a Band Mother. An assistant public school teacher, she teaches a Catechism class at Mt. Carmel Catholic Church and is president of the Altar Society.

Another step was taken in the project to improve U. S. Highway 83 from Hatchel to Winters when the Runnels County Commissioners Court approved the highway work program this week.

Commissioner Melvin Mapes of Winters said county approval of the project was about the final approval necessary. The State Highway Department had previously approved the proposed work on the highway.

Mapes said that it is hoped that the present right of way of the highway can be followed as closely as possible in order to save money in purchasing extra land. An additional 20 feet will be needed to bring the width of the highway to standard specifications, he said.

The Winters commissioner also said that land appraisal will be made under the supervision of the State Highway Department, which will pay half of any right of way purchase cost.

The commissioner also said that the money already is available for the highway project, which will include widening and relocation when necessary, from Hatchel north to Winters, to intersect the new location of FM 53 on the south border of Winters. He said that preliminary work probably will begin soon, and that the entire project has been scheduled for completion in 1965 - 66.

Farmers Making Best Wheat Crop In Years

Harvest of the "best wheat crop in years" in this area is about completed, with only a few patches to be cleaned up, grain men and farmers said this week.

Shipment of the grain from Winters this year has exceeded total shipments in recent years, according to J. C. Jarrell, agent for the Abilene Southern Railway. He said that he had billed 154 cars of wheat, but expects the total to be about 160 carloads for the year.

In addition, many carloads of this year's crop have been shipped out by truck, and much of the grain has been stored locally, according to local information.

Besides being a bountiful year, production-wise, the quality of the Wheat this year has been excellent, it was said. There has been little trouble with moisture, because there have been no prolonged wet periods. Moisture in the grain was noted for only a short time following scattered showers during the harvest season.

Price for local grain has held fairly steady in Winters, too, according to information, in contrast to the fluctuation and downward trend in many sections. Local grain growers have been receiving $1.50, it was stated. Too, the agricultural economy of the Winters area was bolstered by the fact that most of the wheat had been harvested before the price break became a reality throughout the grain-growing areas.

The absence of heavy rainstorms, hail or high winds in this area during the harvest period offers another reason why this year will go down in history as a good grain producing year, it was indicated.

Other small grain has had a good year in this area, it was reported. Although barley is a minor crop here, with few acres planted, there have been 7-8 carloads received locally. One local grain dealer said that the barley brought into Winters has been the heaviest he has ever seen, above the usual standards for that grain.

This has been a good year for oats, too, it was indicated. There probably has been upwards of 20 carloads of oats received in Winters from this year's crop.

More Capacity Is Being Added To City's Water Distribution System

A project which promises a considerable increase in the capacity of Winters' water distribution system is now underway, with work being performed by the Water Department.

The entire project calls for installation of almost 9000 feet of new water lines, according to W. D. Waggoner, water superintendent.

Already completed is installation of approximately 1800 feet of 3-, 4- and 6- inch lines in the Winterhaven Addition on Frisco Street and on Roberts Street. Of this, about 1400 feet of line was 6- inch line.

New fireplugs have been installed on some of the new lines Waggoner said, bringing fire protection coverage to sections of town which have not previously had adequate coverage, it was pointed out.

Also approved for future completion is installation of about 7000 feet of 6-inch line in several sections of the city. This work will be done by Water Department workmen as time permits, it was said.

City officials also have been studying improvement problems concerning the water treatment plant. Nothing concrete has been planned for this segment of the water system, however.

The new water line installation project is in conformance with a plan for improvement recommended by engineers in a survey of the city's water distribution system about four years ago. Recommendations call for completion of a main-line "loop" which would give better water service to all sections of town. It will be some time before the "loop" project can be completed, city officials said, engineers' recommendations are being followed in all new line installation and replacement.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER: Civil Rights Bill Cleared For Senate Passage

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

The Senate made history last week when by a 4 - vote margin the so - called Civil Rights bill was cleared for final passage.

Twenty battle - weary southern democrats, aided by a few from border states and only six Republicans (including Senator Goldwater), went down to defeat after holding the line against the radical measure for 2½ months.

Senator Richard Russell of Georgia, who led the southern forces, even in defeat emerged as the nation's leading champion of freedom and constitutional government.

Border state Oklahoma's two Senators voted for the bill on the cloture test. So did Senator Anderson from the border state of New Mexico. But Anderson's vote was off - set by the other rolf Wilson and son Billy and Joyce Ann Harville were to Sweetwater to the Wayne Riggs. They also visited at Merkle with the Ben Stellos. The Windford Reels of Winters spend Saturday night at the Wilsons.

Senator from New Mexico — Senator Meacham who voted with the southerners. The two Texas Senators also split — Yarborough voting for cloture and Tower lining up with Russell Co.

Early passage is now assumed. This is election year, and the Negro bloc vote has a tremendous appeal to the politicians.

Described as "the most liberal package bill ever proposed in the Congress", the measure contains 7 bills lumped into one, each advancing the philosophy of the modern day liberal. As the answer to the liberal's dream, the proposal (1) concentrates unprecedented power in the federal government; (2) restricts individual freedom in two ways; (3) expands federal bureaucracy; (4) makes a mockery of states' rights; (5) ignores constitutional restraints against invasion of private property rights to the whims of federal agents; and (7) casts Uncle Sam in the role of deciding who may be hired or fired in many stores and factories.

Regardless of what may be said for or against the bill, America will be quite a different place after its passage. For example, Mrs. Murphy, the widow who converts her small home into a guest house as a means of eking out a living, will run a dangerous risk if she refuses to rent a vacant room to a suspicious traveler who knocks on her door at 2 o'clock in the morning — provided the applicant is a Negro. If she is reported she may have to go to jail as a result.

The something - for - nothing boys; the less - work - and - more - pay gentry; the government - owes - me - a - living crowd — all got a boost the other day when a group of economists, educators, union leaders and others proposed to President Johnson that the Government pay all Americans an "adequate" income whether or not they work.

No, this is not a joke. It actually happened. "We are confronted with a paradox of managing an economy of abundance on rules devised for an economy of scarcity", a 29 - page memorandum delivered to the White House said.

Distribution should be divorced from job - holding by "an unqualified commitment to provide every individual and every family with an adequate income as a matter of right", the committee insisted. This guaranteed income would replace the present "patchwork of welfare measures", and stabilize the government's paternalism program, the group maintained.

The guaranteed income concept is the brainchild of economist Robert Theobald, and the statement was prepared by the "Ad Hoc Committee on the Triple Revolution", organized by Theobald and Robert L. Helstein, president of the CIO's United Packinghouse, food and Allied Workers, at Princeton last October.

Maybe it was the heat that did it. But this new concept proves one thing—that this triple revolution idea is one jump ahead of anything yet proposed by the anti - poverty welfare staters. The Theobald - Helstein bunch would make pikers out of the timid souls who would be content with just passing out an occasional government check.

Wherever the Greeks went, they planted vineyards.

State Capital Highlights— Texas Nearing Two-Party State, According To Recent Study

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

A study of the recent party primaries and runoff elections reveals that the number of Republican candidates on the upcoming General Election ballot, in the grassroots area, will strengthen the ever-growing trend toward a complete two-party state.

For example, 18 Democratic nominees for sheriff will face Republican opponents in November.

Also, the Republican party is engaged in one county judge race (in Lubbock County); seven races for county attorney; two for county clerk; 12 for county tax assessor; two for county superintendent of schools; and 78 for county commissioner.

GOP also has candidates for most top state posts and for more than half of the 150 House of Representative posts. In addition George Bush will carry the Republican banner in the U. S. Senate race against incumbent Democrat Ralph W. Yarborough.

WATER POLLUTION
Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr's opinion committee on the oilfield - waste disposal question may postpone its decision meeting indefinitely now that Superior Oil Company has filed suit against the Texas Water Pollution Control Board, asking for a declaratory judgment against the agency.

A decision by former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that the board has jurisdiction over the disposal of oilfield wastes under the Water Pollution Control Act passed by the 1961 Legislature.

Railroad Commission asked Carr to issue a new opinion after a group of oil companies raised strong objections to the board's regulatory actions. Superior's filing of the suit may change the picture entirely on

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED
Governor Connally named Tom Pegues of Mineola and Charles T. Wickersham of Orange to the board of directors of the Sabine River Authority. He reappointed Gus Orsborn Jr. of Emory. Appointments extend until July 6, 1969.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr. has chosen Norman V. Suarez of Austin as legal counselor for the Texas Department of Public Safety. He succeeds the late Bill Kavanaugh of Round Rock.

TRIAL PUBLICITY EXPLORED
Representatives of Texas' four major press associations met here with State Bar officials for the first of a series of discussions about news coverage of trials.

CONNALLY HONORED
Gov. John Connally returned from the national Governors Conference in Cleveland, Ohio, with an important new appointment. His selection as first chairman of the Democratic Governors Caucus was a unanimous one by the 50 Democratic state chief executives.

Reportedly, Connally also was given some consideration for chairman of the 1965 Governors Conference, although he is in his first term. The governors will hold their first major caucus just before the National Democratic Convention in Atlantic City, N. J., during August.

NATIONAL GUARD CONCERNED
Texas National Guard Association expressed concern over reports that U. S. Department of Defense would stop logistical support to the so-called "reinforcing reserve."

These units, said NGAT, would provide a mobilization base on which the country would build its force in event of large-scale war.

Farm employment rose 17,800 to reach 300,700 by mid-April as seasonal workers were hired to plant a variety of row crops. This brought the total of seasonal workers to 105,800, or 3,500 more than at this time in 1963.

Young Wildlife Needs Protection

Texans were reminded by J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department, that bird and animal life deserves protective measures during the spring fawning and nesting season.

He particularly cautioned against molesting fawn deer which often times are adopted under the mistaken belief that they have been abandoned. Watson said the Game and Fish magazine, in an early edition, will illustrate what happened to a Florida man when he was attacked by a "tame" deer which, as is natural, became belligerent in the fall. He noted a Texas law forbids "adopting" wild deer.

Watson also suggested that dogs, cats and other pets be restrained during the spring season when doe deer are heavy with fawn and when ground nesting birds are vulnerable to domestic predators.

Let's Congratulate... the parents

Although it's worth every penny, college is expensive today. To pay for it, most parents must plan in advance. So when a son or daughter graduates, we think the farsighted mother and father deserve congratulations, too!

If you have children, plan for their education now. Open a special Savings Account here for that purpose. Small, regular deposits will build a fund to ease the cost of college years.

Modern Marina Being Readied For Inks Park

A swanky, all-weather, year-round fishing marina has been authorized for Inks Lake State Park by the Parks and Wildlife Department.

The project will be operated by a private concessionaire and will not cost the state anything. In fact, according to J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department, the state will share in a modest way in the profits.

"The state park which is near Burnet, is on constant level Inks Lake and considered to be one of the best fishing lakes in the parks system," said Watson. Inks Lake is part of the Highland Lakes Chain and is about fifty miles northwest of Austin.

The overall structure will be 320 feet long and will extend from the shore line to a maximum of 100 feet over the water. The enclosed part will be 108 by 20 feet and will be heated for winter and air conditioned for summer usage.

A sixteen foot walkway on each side of the structure will be 100 feet long and will be designed for "open air" fishing. Depths up to 30 feet will be within fishermen's reach.

Watson said the facility will accommodate up to 200 persons and will cost an estimated $25,000.

The Executive Director said the marina will be in a comparatively isolated area and will not conflict in any way with the shelters and main camp grounds, but will be convenient to the main concession building.

"This will be an entirely new service for fishermen the year around," said Watson. "I understand the building will be ready sometime in August '64."

Inks Lake is famous for its black bass, white bass and crappie fishing.

Third largest meteor crater in the U. S. is ten miles southwest of Odessa, Texas.

Bighorn Boom In Black Gap

Another apparently successful restoration project by the Parks and Wildlife Department is reported by Tommy Hailey, staff biologist.

He said the original bighorn sheep brood stock, which included three rams and six ewes wild trapped in Arizona in 1958, has grown to 22 head. "Reproduction," he added, "has been beyond our expectation."

The experimental herd is contained in a 427-acre holding pasture, at the 2,800 foot level, on the Black Gap Wildlife Management Area in the Big Bend country.

Bighorn sheep originally were fairly numerous in far west Texas but they were virtually exterminated many years ago. E. A. Walker, assistant director for wildlife, said the effort to restore the trophy herd is in keeping with the Department's policy to provide a varied animal kingdom populace.

Biologist Hailey reports the Black Gap bighorns are doing so well that within another three or four years surplus sheep are expected to be trapped from the enclosure and released in the surrounding area.

The sprawling Black Gap Management Area, lying in Brewster County and comprising 100,000 acres, was established by the Department about fifteen years ago, and already has been the scene of successful fall deer hunts to harvest surplus mule deer and javelina.

Hailey's report on the Bighorn project is detailed in the June issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH, a monthly magazine published by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department devoted to Texas wildlife con-
