

State Capital Highlights—

Vigorous Battles Foreseen Between State's Democratic, GOP Groups

Texas Democrats and Republicans are gearing for their big clash in the November general election.

Democratic leaders are in Atlantic City, N. J., at their party national convention.

Gov. John Connally indicated both national and state campaign organizations will be put together in Texas soon after the convention.

Meanwhile, Republicans report they already have built an organization far stronger than they have fielded to date. They plan to do vigorous battle in local races, as well as national and state campaigns.

GOP assembled its candidates and campaign leaders here last week end for a special training school in practical political organization, vote-getting tactics and fund-raising activities.

OIL RISE

Texas Railroad Commission ordered a substantial increase in oil production for September.

Wells which are under proration will be allowed to produce 28 per cent of their capacity during September, compared with 26.5 per cent this month.

New production quota amounts to 2,831,583 barrels daily, compared to 2,794,312 for the month of August.

Commission also took under advisement conflicting testimony on effect of its proposed $5,000 bond requirement for drilling or reworking wells in the interest of pollution control. Fifteen days were allowed interested parties for filing for additional briefs.

APPOINTMENT ANNOUNCED

Gov. John Connally announced nine appointments to Trinity River Authority Board of Directors, three to San Jacinto Battleground Commission, and 2 to the State Board of Barber Examiners.

Reappointed to the Trinity River Board were Paul H. Catthan Jr., Trinity; Bernice Finger, Shepherd; J. D. Kirven, Waxahatchie; and O. P. Leonard of Fort Worth. New appointees are Walter Hailey, Dallas; Rex Caudle of Leon County; Dr. J. B. Heath, Madisonville; Fred F. Meridith, Terrell; and A. C. Spencer, Huntsville.

Houstonians appointed to the Battleground Commission were W. N. Blanton Sr., Chairman; Mrs. Joseph J. Sperry; and Fred Leggett.

Ed Tobala of Houston and H. D. Stewart Jr. of Big Spring were selected for the State Board of Barber Examiners.

WATER CONSERVATION
Water conservation storage in major Texas reservoirs dropped at the end of last month to the lowest point since March, 1957. The 6,400,000-acre feet storage was a decrease of 700,000-acre feet from the previous month.

Texas Water Commission said dryland crops and pastures are suffering heavily, and municipal water supply of many small towns has "reached the critical stage."

DOVE SEASONS TO OPEN
Parks and Wildlife Department announces that white wing doves can be hunted on two week ends — September 5-6 and September 12-13.

Regular mourning dove season opens in the north zone of Texas on September 1 and will run through October 30. The south zone season is September 26-November 20.

A new guide to hunting regulations, "Hunting in Texas 1964-1965," now is being distributed through Parks and Wildlife offices and licensed deputies.

PRISON LAND

Land Commissioner Jerry L. Sadler's staff has completed a series of surveys and subdivisions of 6,500 acres of prison farm land in Harris, Fort Bend and Walker Counties.

State Board of Corrections will offer the 43 tracts of land for sale on December 9-11. Land is surplus to needs of the prison system, so effort is being made to get it in private hands and on the tax rolls.

Details may be obtained from the State Department of Corrections at Sugar Land or Huntsville.

ENOUGH BANKS?

State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner thinks it is time for caution in chartering new banks.

Falkner serves as chairman of the State Banking Board that grants or turns down applications for charters for state banks. State Treasurer Jesse James, Robert Strauss, Dallas attorney, are the other two members of the board.

Sign of the slowdown is the fact that so far this year, the Board has turned down nine and granted eight applications. In 1962 it granted 18 and turned down four.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Part-time jobs are being sought and found by the Texas Employment Commission for high school students who need work to be able to stay in school.

In a drive to try to keep some 60,000 high school students from dropping out of school this fall, the Employment Commission called on employers and parents to find jobs, when the need for family income threatens to cause a drop-out.

INTEREST

Allstate Insurance Company has challenged the action of the State Board of Insurance in setting six per cent as the minimum interest rate which may be charged on notes by which payment of insurance premiums are deferred.

Board of Insurance has scheduled a public hearing for September 1 on All state's contention that such a minimum on interest should not be ordered by the Board.

Board originally applied the interest regulation to fire insurance only, but it now has extended it to all other lines of insurance.

BLOOD TESTS

Atty Gen. Waggoner Carr ruled that it is legal for the Texas Animal Health Commission to use state funds to give its employees blood tests to see if they are susceptible to poisons being used in sprays in the eradication program.

Ruling was based on the finding that discovery of the condition in advance would prevent sickness and absenteeism by the agency's employees.

LIQUOR TAX

Texas Liquor Control Board, which enforces liquor laws and collects taxes on liquor, wine and beer, has taken in $334,483, 997 more in the last 11 years than it has spent.

Its expenses during the 11 years were $18,202,089. Tax revenue is allocated by legislative act to old-age assistance, public schools, aid to the needy blind and dependent children, farm to market roads, teacher retirement, state hospitals and state employees retirement.

MANY CARS

If you find it harder to find a parking place, here's why! State Highway Department reports that it has licensed 5,632,373 motor vehicles this year — ranging from the 747,734 in Harris County to 147 in Loving County.

This is a gain of five per cent above last year.

HIGHWAYS

Virgil Patterson, Amarillo, banker and president of the Texas Good Roads Association, will head the annual observance of Highway Week, October 4-10.

"Mobility: Your Fifth Freedom" is the theme of this year's observance, held annually to call attention to the state highway system and its needs for improvement and continues attention.

Observance will include an award of $100 savings bonds to Texas newspaper editors who write the best editorials on any phase of the highway program.

SHORT SNORTS

During the year ended June 30 4,588 disabled Texans were trained by the Texas Education Agency for jobs they can hold despite their disabilities.

Governor's Committee on Aging, headed by Sen. Walter Richter of Gonzales, a former newspaperman, is putting out its own newspaper, designed to feed information to those working to improve the living conditions of older people.

A county's duty to furnish the medical care for needy residents includes the obligation to employ necessary medical specialists, Attorney General Carr ad-

HEALTH LETTER

Without the sun we all would die. But use of sun, like anything, can be carried to the extremes.

The sun is necessary for growth processes of all — man, animal and vegetable. Sunshine is a source of vitamin D, as most people know. But what apparently is misunderstood is that ordinarily healthy people can get all the D vitamin they need through routine activities such as hanging out the family wash, mowing the lawn or walking to the store.

As some of our senior citizens will tell you, the skin hue of choice fifty years or so ago was a fragile, pale white. One elderly Texas resident tells how she never went to the barn or field without protection of a sunbonnet. And she tells of spending hours trying to bleach her skin with lemon juice and butter-milk.

Today, the skin hue of choice by many is a golden brown. And many a person sweats out a frequent sun bath to attain a coat of bronze.

Ooerdoing a good thing—trying to acquire a suntan in a day's time — is where the problem begins.

The sun, as a heat source, can give the body first, second and even third degree burns. The medical term for sunburn is "erythema solaris." It's the ultraviolet light in sun rays which does the damage. Since clouds don't remove all ultraviolet rays, it is possible to get burned even on overcast days in mid-summer.

There are other dangers, too. Ultraviolet is associated in many minds with cancer. The rays stimulate cells to divide, and sometimes the cells 'forget' to stop, thus becoming cancerous. It's likely, they say, that this could happen from any ultraviolet source either the sun or sun lamps. Of course, only a person subjected constantly to large amounts of ultra violet is in danger. For example, farmers who work under sunlight are frequent victims of skin cancer.

Ultraviolet may also harm the eyes—even when they are closed. The skin of the eyelids is the thinnest on the whole body, and the light can go right through causing sunburn of the eyes. Ordinary, sunglasses offer some protection, but a thicker material, like cotton, offers more protection.

Bask in the sun, if you like, but do it with discretion.

vides Young County Attorney Ronald D. Stephens in an opinion Western Union is closing its branch office at the state Capitol, except during legislative sessions, so Miss Cornelia Nunn retired last week — after 43 years as Western Union operator there Attorney General Carr announced recovery of an additional $118,825 in a slant well suit, involving wells in Rusk, Gregg, Karnes and in Jackson Counties, which thus brings the total of recoveries to $953,595.

Linda Jean Easterly, Roy John Clark Repeat Marriage Vows Friday Evening

Marriage vows were repeated Friday evening August 21, at the Winters Church of Christ at 7 o'clock, uniting Linda Jean Easterly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Easterly, and Roy John Clark.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Clark of Winters.

Willis Jernigan, minister of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with a basket of greenery flanked with two candelabras which were entwined with greenery and ribbon. On either side of the candelabra were baskets of gladiolus.

Appropriate numbers were sung by an a cappella chorus, directed by Mrs. Homer Hodge. They were "Whither Thou Goest", "The Bridal Chorus" and "True Love".

Candles were lit by Tommy Young and David Hastly.

Susan Easterly, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a green silk organza and satin dress, fashioned similar to that of the bride with fitted bodice and full skirt, scalloped neckline and overskirt of organza. She wore a rose headpiece of green satin with brief veil of green tulle. Her flowers were miniature carnations and she carried a net basket filled with rose petals.

Grog Easterly, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Best man was Jimmy Easterly, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Johnny Hastly Jr. of San Angelo and Tommy Young of Winters. Groomsman was David Hastly of San Angelo.

Mrs. Robert Dunivan of Lubbock, was matron of honor, and Kathy Hastly of San Angelo was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of green silk organza over green satin, designed with fitted bodices, scalloped neckline and full skirts. Their headpieces were green satin with circular veils of tulle. Each carried a long stem white rose.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length bridal gown of white silk organza over satin fashioned with fitted bodice, scalloped V-shaped neckline, long sleeves, extending to a point over the

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER:

U. S. Wheat Going To Cuba Via Russia

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
Sale of wheat to Russia, which some of us opposed, has enjoyed the same export subsidy treatment that is accorded sale to other foreign countries. As applied to the wheat going to the USSR the subsidy now approximates $50 million.

Recently the skipper of an American tanker delivering grain to a Black Sea port claimed he was told by Russian sailors the product was "Going to Cuba." The skipper saw the re-loading operation, which prompted the inquiry. The Russians had promised they would not resell the American wheat to Castro. The re-sale was officially denied by the Soviets when queried about it by the State Department.

But wheat is a commodity that cannot be traced. So whether it is U. S. grown wheat or Russian-grown wheat, that the Russians ship to Cuba, the net effect is the same. It is now costing Kruschev an estimated $1 million a day to keep Castro in business, and this undoubtedly includes some wheat.

Reapportionment legislation threatens to force Congress back into session after the Democratic Convention which opens in Atlantic City on August 24. Many of us are making a determined effort to get some relief from the Supreme Court's decision of last June forcing both houses of state legislatures to be reapportioned on the sole basis of population. The liberals, as expected, who always support the Supreme Court in all decisions, are fighting any effort to correct the Supreme Court's decision of last June forcing both houses of the state legislatures to be reapportioned on the sole basis of population. IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

JURY DUTY

Jury duty is an experience everybody ought to have.

In a criminal case twelve jurors have a duty to do justice as each one sees it, and yet be unanimous. In most trials both sides have much to say, and the evidence is conflicting. The jurors vary in their ability, temperament, character, education, and their experience in the world, and in the question at stake.

Yet a jury made up of both sexes, with wide age and educational differences, jobs and origins must all come up with the same verdict. Upon their verdict much depends — the life or liberty of others, and the public good. So it may take the jury days of talking among themselves to agree.

Jury duty calls for insight, common sense, courage, tact, fairmindedness, patience, (especially toward the jurors who disagree with you), good humor, tolerance, balance, willingness to hear others out and change one's mind, readiness to go over and over the facts to find something to bring agreement. In short, jury duty demands a decent respect for the opinions of others.

More and more women share civic duties, especially as jurors.
Time was in Texas when women could not serve on juries. They still cannot in four states.

A jury finds facts. It hears and weighs evidence and then comes to a verdict. It does not make the law the legislature does; and the judge "charges" or instructs the jury concerning the law applicable to the particular case it is considering.

The judge will tell you not to find the accused guilty until he is proved so under strict rules of evidence. If you have any "reasonable doubt," — not imaginary or far-fetched — acquit the accused.

Civil cases do not demand a moral certainty, merely the "preponderance" of what you regard as reliable and believable evidence.

But this is usually only temporary. Statistics show that one out of every six persons in the 16-21 age group is unemployed. Without adequate education, a young man or woman has no access to modern jobs the economy is constantly creating.

Most dropouts will waste their lives because they cannot qualify for jobs in today's demanding world.

Look at the earning prospects of a high school graduate against that of a dropout:

On the average, a high school graduate during his working life time earns $46,000 more than a high school dropout; $76,000 more than a person who has only a grade school education.

What can be done about this problem which creates an erosion problem on the economic and social plane of the nation? Solving the problem is not a job for schools alone. It takes close cooperation on the part of parents, schools, and the individuals and organizations of the community — employers, civic groups, service clubs everybody. The solving can be done but it will not go away if we just ignore it!

"Blue Denim"

"Blue Denim," starring three of the fastest rising young members of the acting profession, Carol Lynley, Brandon De Wilde and Warren Berlinger, is a serious insight into some of the most perplexing social problems confronting teenagers today... children unable to communicate with their parents and the unfortunate consequences of teen-age promiscuity. "Blue Denim" shows Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Theatre.

"Flight From Ashiya"

The United States Air Rescue Service is depicted for the first time on the screen in "Flight From Ashiya," showing Sunday and Monday at the Fiesta Theatre, through United Artists release. Starring Yul Brynner, Richard Widmark and George Chakiris, the Panavision, Eastmancolor drama reveals how Americans in every part of the world are dedicated to saving life, even at the expense of their own.

"Looking For Love"

In one of the skylarking sequences of "Looking For Love," Connie Francis sings "Let's Have a Party." And that's exactly what this tuneful and vivacious Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer romantic comedy written by Ruth Brooks Flippen is — a happy-go-lucky party, hosted by a svelte Miss Frances dressed to the nines in a fetching wardrobe by Don Loper.

As a member of the audience you are invited to mingle with such guests as Johnny Carson, George Hamilton, Yvette Mimieux, Paula Prentiss and Danny Thomas and to enjoy the hijinks of co-stars Jim Hutton, Susan Oliver, Joby Baker, Barbara Nichols and Jay C. Flippen.

If ever there were talented performers at a party, producer Joe Pasternak and director Don Weis have rounded them up for this gay Panavision and Metrocolor cinematic affair. As a result it is a festival of song, laughter and romantic twosomes that insures everyone of a good time.

"Let's Have a Party," shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Fiesta Theatre.

Game Show To Open Soon

Even the birds and the beasts get a vacation nowadays; that is the birds and the beasts in the Parks and Wildlife Department education exhibit. They are taken off the road and harbored in the comparative comfort of the San Antonio Zoo.

But August marks the end of the time out for the miniature animal kingdom which travels about the state, appearing at various public events and directly entertaining and informing an estimated one million persons each year.

The total may go up this year, according to Harley Berg, color film game warden and exhibit supervisor, because the show is scheduled for the Texas State Fair in Dallas. This 16-day exposition now attracts more than 2,500,000 persons each October.

Berg, a veteran of 29 years with the Department, and a former dance band leader, said the birds and beasts and fishes are maintained in a "relaxed setting."

That includes the pappy of all of them, the mountain lion which gives the jungle roar for the edification of the young and old. Also, the sleek ocelot, gaudily marked smaller member of the cat family.

The javelina, or collared peccary, pig-like member of the exhibit, as well as the porcupine, badger, fox, skunk, squirrel, weasel, armadillo, raccoon and coyote have no between-session problems, said Berg.

The birds endure the summer privations as nature dictates. They include the red-tailed hawk, the chachalaca and the duck hawk alike. Owls, road-runners, quail, doves, ducks and other quietly share this "grounded period."

As usual, while on location, the fish are more of a problem because of the water crisis, on the road is sometimes crippling. Yet the fish are easier replaced if a loss does occur," said Berg. He said the purpose of the exhibit is to present representative live, wild animals and educational data about them to Texans, to foster good sportsmanship for conservation of the wildlife resources generally.

Walleye Test Results Due Before Long

The intriguing story about experimental efforts to introduce the popular walleye pike into Texas water may have a revealing chapter just as soon as the weather cools off, according to Marion Toole, coordinator in inland fisheries for the Parks and Wildlife Department.

He said, when the summer heat ends, a pond at the Possum Kingdom fish hatchery will be drained in an effort to determine the fate of walleye fry placed there last year and are known to have reached a length of ten inches.

Toole said because of previous losses experienced by draining ponds in extreme temperatures, studies of the 1963-model walleyes had been delayed until cool weather in September or later.

Just recently the hatchery technicians netted a walleye, planted last spring along with other fry obtained from the Iowa State Conservation Department, that already had grown to six and one quarter inches in length. Earlier efforts to import the fighting walleye into Texas waters were not successful, but Toole said more elaborate pains are being taken in connection with the latest experiment. Besides the pike placed in the hatchery ponds at Possum Kingdom, 100,000 were planted last spring in Possum Kingdom Lake. The result of that project will be more difficult to chart, however, Toole said recent reports that a fisherman had got six small walleyes has not been conclusively proven.

The Texas fisheries scientists are eager to determine, among other things, whether the opaque-eyed walleyes will survive long enough to spawn in their new abode. One thing they already have determined is that the popular game fish are voracious fish eaters. Of 50,000 redear sunfish placed in the Possum Kingdom hatchery tank last year with ten walleyes, only 5,000 redears survived along with four of the walleyes. This pointed up the fact that walleyes also are cannibalistic.

Toole said the predacious walleyes, which are particularly adaptable to the larger lakes or reservoirs, also are highly competitive with black bass but that the conflict has not been forbidden. He said studies in the Tennessee Valley Authority lakes show that walleyes have a higher rate in the southern areas than in the north.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

Community Development planning requires ANALYSIS of the Community Survey

Making a Community Survey of factors which influence community and economic development is the starting point for a soundly planned program.

What is done with and about such a survey is the next crucial step. We must assess and evaluate all the facts in microscopic detail, for results can come only from a thorough and realistic analysis.

We should ask ourselves... what are our advantages for economic and civic growth? How can we utilize them for community and economic development? Are there civic factors which need improvement to compete with our neighboring towns? How can we best make such improvements? And, is the entire citizenship cooperating with community organizations whose initiative and aggressive leadership can accomplish our objectives?

Analysis of a Community Survey is another PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

WTU's area development representatives will assist growth-conscious communities in planning a thorough analysis of its Community Survey for economic development. This service is available on request through your local WTU manager.
