

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Since the early days of the wall-mounted, hand-cranked, long and short signal telephones, telephone operators have become famous as a group because they have given just a bit more than the expected ordinary day-by-day service. They've been personal contacts with the outside world for lonely people; they've helped find kids; they've given warning of floods; and they've stuck by their switchboards in the face of fires, tornadoes and hurricanes. Some have even refused to leave their assigned posts in the face of disaster and have given their lives so the calls might go through.

Now that most long-phon-ing, and much of the long-distance calling, is done by simply dialing a number, the personal contact between caller and operator has been reduced to a big and important extent. A person may go for months, using the phone every day and many times a day, and not speak to an operator. But that is no sign that those watchers of the blinking lights are not there, ready to offer their services. However, many towns now are without a local switchboard, their "centrals" having been moved to other locations in a consolidation of facilities and by use of electronics devices which can relay a call more rapidly than human hands.

But just because we don't talk to them each day, as was pointed out, is no sign that those faithful operators are not of the same breed as their mothers. Take for example an incident which happened some time ago. The small son of a friend of ours somehow got hold of and swallowed a quantity of vitamin pills. Naturally worried about the results, the mother called the operator and asked to be connected with the "antidote center," to find out what could be done to help the boy, and if there was a great amount of danger. The operator acted immediately, and several clicks later a voice answered "Antidote center." The mother told the voice what had happened, and after getting all the information, the voice told her not to worry, that those certain vitamin pills were harmless in this instance. Then he asked, "Where are you calling from?" "Winters, Texas," was the reply. Then the voice said, "This is the Antidote Center in New York City!"

So what happened, we understand, that the operator was unable to find a line open to an antidote center in the area, so plugged into a line which carried the information hundreds of miles across the nation.

The little item above provides us with some information about a subject we had never thought of — not only that the operators still are ready and willing to give service above and beyond, but that there are such places known as "Antidote Centers" where a person may receive advice in a hurry, possibly helping to save a life. It is a good thing to know, for anyone.

All young men, upon reaching 18 years of age, must register with the draft board. Mrs. B. B. Bedford, secretary-manager of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, reminds that they may register in her office.

If, after the stores close some night, you find yourself short of breakfast eggs, you might contact Elzie Cox. At the Scout fund kick-off breakfast Monday morning Elzie was presented with a year's supply of eggs. He'll divide with you — if the two of you can get the old hen to cooperate.

A lady in the neighborhood, who admittedly is not too familiar with all the forms of plant life, dropped by the other day to inquire "what kind of tree is that in the yard with all the doo-dads on it?" Well, we're not an expert, but we do admit to having studied some about the flora and fauna, and we'd say without fear of contradiction that that particular tree is a doo-dad tree!

Whatever happened? We don't know, but when the dust finally settled over ten stadiums last week end we found that we'd been covered with anything but glory! Out of the ten games we picked, only three of the teams read our advance notice — so we missed seven out of ten! But (Continued on page 8)

10,000 DRUMSTICKS — Ray Alderman, of Alderman - Cave Milling and Grain Co., and J. L. Hicks, are shown with a flock of 5,000 turkey toms which were fed by the milling company on the Hicks place at Wintgate. The turkeys, only half of the 10,000 fed, were finished off and shipped out last week. The other 5,000, all hens, were shipped several days before. Alderman said that to the best of his knowledge this was the largest flock of turkeys in the county. They were kept 26 weeks, and when shipped the toms weighed over 27 pounds. He also said that the turkey project this year was only a pilot project, and that a much larger number probably would be fed next year. This is just another project aimed at by the milling company to take advantage of locally-grown grain and facilities to feed livestock or poultry. (Staff photo)

Livestock Association Reorganized, Officers Elected At Monday Meeting

The Winters Livestock and Agricultural Association, which has been inactive since 1957, was reorganized and officers were elected in a meeting in the vocational building at Winters High School Monday night of this week. Twenty-nine persons attended the meeting and made preliminary plans for future activities.

Lions Club To Hold Candy Sale This Saturday

Funds used by the Winters Lions Club to help the blind, crippled children and in other projects, will receive a shot in the arm Saturday when dozens of Lions hit the streets of Winters to "give away" candy rolls in the club's annual Candy Day sale.

Club members will pass out candy rolls to everyone they meet on the street, and accept donations in any amount to help build and maintain the project fund. The sale will begin at 10 a. m. Saturday, and continue until at least 4 p. m., it was understood. F. R. (Phil) Anderson is chairman of the Candy Day campaign.

Lions Club members will be assisted by groups of high school girls who will work the car stops, it was announced.

attended the meeting and made preliminary plans for future activities.

Officers elected for the reorganized association include Erwin Schroeder, president; F. R. (Phil) Anderson, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. R. P. Penny, reporter.

The president will appoint a corresponding secretary, and also will appoint committees and directors to serve temporarily until another meeting can be held and all reorganization details worked out.

The Winters Livestock and Agricultural Association is made up of persons who are interested in promoting and encouraging the livestock and agricultural work among the FFA and 4-H Club boys and girls of the Winters School District. Because this area is primarily dependent upon livestock and agriculture, the need for training of the young people has been recognized for some time, members pointed out. The Association helps by raising funds to stage the annual livestock shows.

A membership drive will be conducted within the next few weeks, to be climaxed by a barbecue, it was announced. Details regarding the drive will be made public soon. Also, plans for the livestock show, to be held shortly after the first of the year, will be announced soon.

Homecoming Planned Here On November 13th

A homecoming committee met recently in the City Hall and planned activities for the homecoming of all ex-students of Winters High School on Friday, November 13, at the Winters-Stamford football game.

Sponsored by the Student Council, the event was held for the first time last year and was so well received, with more than 200 ex-students attending, that more extensive plans are being made for this year.

The committee formulating plans is composed of B. B. Bedford, president; Mrs. Don Oakes secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. James Colburn, reporter. They are assisted by a board of directors which includes Mrs. Gayland Robinson, Joe Baker, Don Oakes and Mrs. Frank Brown.

Beginning in 1923, two people have been contacted from each class in an effort to secure the names and addresses of all former students.

A meal will be served at the school cafeteria on the day of the homecoming from 5 to 6:30 p. m., and those attending will then go directly to the field for a pre-game ceremony.

A queen, selected from four delegates provided by the senior class, will be crowned at this ceremony. This affair will be handled by the Student Council.

Further plans will be announced later.

Boosters Will Pay Half of Grid Film Cost

The Winters Blizzard Booster Club will pay half of the cost of the film used to take movies of each football game played by the Winters team, it was announced following the regular meeting Monday night.

Coach Jerry Cunningham gave a scout report on the Colorado City football team, the team facing the Blizzards, this week. He called attention to No. 21, Lindsey, a fast backfield man who will bear watching against Winters. Coach Cunningham said that Colorado City, although the low-point team in District 5-AA, must not be taken lightly, as the team members have a lot of fire and desire to play.

A film of the Winters - Haskell game was shown.

Midway CB Club Changes Meeting To October 24

Because the regular meeting date of the Midway Citizens Band radio club falls on Halloween, the meeting for October has been changed to Saturday night, Oct. 24.

The meeting will be held in the Crews gymnasium, and will begin at 7:30 p. m. Members and non-members who own and operate citizens band radios are asked to send call letters and address to Arnold Alcorn, Talpa, so that a complete directory may be compiled.

C-City Gridsters Here Friday Nite

For the first time since the opening game with Lakeview, the Winters High School football team will take to the field full-strength Friday night in their third conference game, going against the Colorado City Wolves in Blizzard Stadium.

Coach L. G. Wilson said Wednesday that Denny Aldridge, quarterback who received a broken collarbone in the Lakeview game, will see limited service in the game against Colorado City Friday night, but will not be listed as one of the starters. The coach also stated that others who had been injured or ill during the first few weeks of the season will be on the field this week. Ivan Smith, who has been listed as ill this season and who was not expected to return to the lineup, will be ready to go, the coach said.

With a 1-1 record for district play, and 3-3 record for the season, Winters will go into Friday night's game as a favorite against Colorado City. A win over the Wolves could keep the Blizzards in good standing in the league, with a good chance at the district 5-AA crown. Following the Colorado City game, the Blizzards will go to Ballinger, and then to Hamlin, and host Stamford for the district windup here.

The Colorado City Wolves, who have remained in the cellar all the season, have an 0-2 record in district play, and a 1-5 record for the season.

Their only win has been against Merkel, 8-0, before entering conference play.

This is the first year for the Colorado City team to be included in the lineup of the Double A district which, because of its strength, has been dubbed the "Little Southwest Conference." Prior to this year, Colorado City has been listed in the AA classification, but have played Winters and others teams of this district in recent years.

As with the Winters team, Colorado City Friday night will field a full squad for the first time this year. Injuries and other things have dogged the heels of the Wolves during the first few weeks of the season.

Regardless of their season's record, the Wolves could prove to be a dangerous opponent, according to scouts who have seen them play. They are primarily a defensive team, as evidenced by the fact that they held unbeaten Anson to only six points last week. On defense, their lineman Dee Dearden, who is a team captain, has been a stand-out all season. On offense, Quarterback David McKay, wearing No. 11, and Halfback Dornie Lindsey, wearing No. 21, have shown great promise in past games and could provide some problems for a hepped-up Blizzard eleven Friday night.

Another point in favor of Colorado City, although they have gotten only one win this season, is the fact that at least two of their opponents have been strong teams — Phillips and Monahan — who have not played any of the other District 5-AA membership.

In going over the statistics of games played by the two teams, it must be noted that there is a wide gap in performance in most departments. The only place where Colorado City has outclassed Winters is in passing yardage. They have rolled up 310 yards in the air, 108 of them against State No. 1 Phillips. Winters has written down 238 yards in the air, the greatest number in the Brady game when they passed for 65 yards.

In first downs during the season, Winters has an edge, with 76-69. For comparison, Winters scored 16 first downs against Anson's 7, and lost the game 7-6; Colorado made 6 first downs to Anson's 15, and lost 0-6.

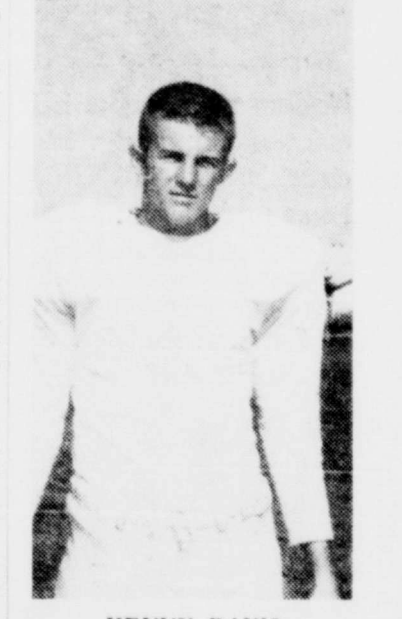

The Blizzards have outrun Colorado City on the ground all season, gaining 1950 yards while the Wolves have gained only 654. In the Winters - Anson game, the Blizzards gained 220 yards on the ground (Anson 98); Colorado City gained 36 against Anson (Anson 213). Against Haskell, Colorado City gained 96 on the ground and 60 in the air (Haskell 153-10). Winters went 230 against Haskell's 144, and passed for 38 to Haskell's 35.

The results of the Winters - Colorado City blast this week is bound to have some bearing on the outcome of the tussle for district honors.

Coach Wilson said Wednesday that there will be no changes in the probable starting lineup for Friday night's game; the same offensive and defensive teams which were listed for the Haskell game will take the field against Colorado City, barring last-minute changes in tactics for some reason or other.

TOUCHDOWN! — Jimmy Adams gathers in a touchdown pass from Quarterback Richard Puckett to put a 14-0 cushion on the score against Haskell in the third quarter of the football game here Friday night. Ken Rogers, No. 72, Indian tackle, failed in his attempt to reach Adams before the football. (Little photo)

Three More Games Blizzards Whip Haskell Indians To Make It 1-1 In District Race

As though to pay homage to their chosen football sweetheart Mary Youngs, the Big Blue Blizzards came up with a team effort Friday night for their first district win, over Haskell. The point previously stated in this space that there is no such thing as a one-man team was clearly demonstrated by the Blizzards to the tune of the 17-6 victory over the Indians.

Winters kicked to Haskell to start the fray. The teams exchanged fourth down punts, as though sizing each other up. With the second series of downs the Blue began to drive from the Haskell 35 only to see an Adams pass intercepted on the 20 by a Haskell Indian.

Determined to regain the ball, the Blizzard defense forced the Indians to punt on fourth down giving the Blizzards possession on their own 43.

In 13 ground plays the Blizzards moved 37 yards to pay dirt. A fine exchange of the back field was used in this drive with Larry Awalt chalking up 24 yards, Jimmy Adams 16; Richard Puckett 4; and Van Spill 11 yards and the TD. A new extra point play, the pass from Puckett to big Richard Shade was good for the two and the Blizzards held an 8-0 lead with 10:28 left in the second quarter.

The Indians tried to return the complement, moving from their own 37 to the Blizzard 21 before the Blizzard defense stepped the drive. Winters then moved from their 27 to the Haskell to, but bogged down and surrendered the ball on downs.

The take-over did the Indians no good, however, and very late in the second quarter the Blizzards owned the ball on their own 27. Puckett carried to the Winters 45, and then unleashed one of the two completed passes of the evening for the Blizzards, hitting big brother Chip (Puckett) to the Haskell 21. With seconds left in the quarter, Puckett completed a pass to Adams in the end zone, only to see it nullified by a penalty as the time ran out.

The second half began as the first, with a quick exchange of fourth down punts. Mike Patterson, who came up with an evening's average of 36.2 per punt, booted the ball to the Haskell 12. On the first play the Indians lost the ball and the Big Blue recovered and made the most of the advantage with six more points. Four plays later a Puckett passed to Adams for the TD. The run try for extra points failed and the score stood at 14-0 with 4:41 left in the third.

A Haskell threat was broken up six plays later when Adams intercepted a Haskell pass after they had moved from their own 27 to the Blizzard 35. The Blizzards, deep in their own territory after the interception, chose to punt on third down. A nice runback left the ball on the Winters 27. Taking advantage of the excellence of their QB, Joe Josseloff, Haskell scored early in the fourth quarter. The PAT was a run try, but was stopped and the Blizzards still had a nice cushion of eight points.

Six plays later another Haskell pass interception, this time by Chip Puckett, gave the Blizzards the ball on their own 49. Kettler moved to the Haskell 46, and Awalt to the 39. Kettler carried twice in a row to the 19. Kettler three times to the 15. With fourth down and six needed, Van Spill just tied the game in a near package with a 25-yard field goal. (He kicked from the 15, but the goal posts are 10 yards back.) The last 4:55 minutes of the game were played in the middle of the field. The Blizzards line was headed by two Blizzards supreme this week, Hank McCreight and Darrell Colburn.

With one loss and one win in district play, the Blizzards are definitely not out of the district race.

AROUND THE 5-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

Tiger fur and Bearcat fur will fly in this week's 5-AA classic, as Anson and Ballinger, the league's two top rated teams, scrap to see who nails whose hide to the smokehouse door. Although the other games around the circuit stand to make a difference in the final outcome in this year's ratrace for district championship honors, the Ballinger - Anson game takes the spotlight.

Ballinger will go into this game slightly the favorite, although Anson has a better district record. The Bearcats have played only five games this season, one of them a district tilt, while the Tigers have played and won six, two of them conference games.

Anson chased Colorado City all over the gridiron last Friday night, but managed to total up only six points. The winners rushed 213 yards and passed 79 while C-City rushed only 36 and passed 79. Tailback Jerry Andrus again sparked the Anson team to keep their district and area standing, carrying most of the time for the Tigers. At one time in that game, one scout reported, an attempted pass to a C-City man out in the open threatened to tilt the scoreboard a bit but the catcher could not hold on to the ball. Of such happenings are games won and lost.

Although C-City has been in the cellar the entire season, there should not be a tendency to count them off. The Wolves have been up against some pretty tough teams — teams which many of the other 5-AA members can thank their lucky stars they didn't have to play — teams such as state No. 1 Phillips, just to open the season, and Monahans. The Anson - C-City game points out that a good defense can mean a lot in a football game.

Anson has already edged Winters 7-6, and then dined C-City 6-0, to write a district record of 13 scored points. Ballinger, playing in the district only one time, has 31 points to 6 for their opponent — they defeated Hamlin last week.

Anson probably will be relying on their old standby Andrus to take them over the hump against the Bearcats Friday night. Ballinger probably will specialize with backmen Ronnie Smith and Milford Wiley. Wiley scored three touchdowns and rushed 148 yards on 19 carries last week against Hamlin, while Smith counted two scores and ran 115 yards in 16 carries. Smith also completed 10 passes out of 13 attempts for 126 yards last week.

In Winters country, the Blizzards are back in stride again, after whipping a strong and smart Haskell Indian tribe 17-6 last week. The Big Blue team now has a 1-1 record in district play, and a 3-3 record for the season.

In last Friday night's game, fans were treated to many thrills, as Haskell's Joe Josseloff

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER: Too Much Government Stifles Business

Argument over poverty goes on and on. Indeed there has been a war against poverty ever since the Republic was established. Only recently has the poverty label been applied to all family men who make less than $3,000 a year, and the Government has taken over the chief role of ending poverty.

In the past Government has played a secondary part in this war. Heretofore the chief weapons against poverty have been a free and unregulated society, featuring our competitive, free enterprise system, as a means of uplifting people in their efforts to help themselves in the quest for the better life.

That is to say, Government traditionally has been most effective in this war by encouraging incentives thereby helping to create more jobs within the framework of free enterprise. Here's an example of how Government can stifle business, interfere with incentives, and promote failure and reduced income of those who strive to get ahead, create new jobs, and make ends meet:

A Ballinger small businessman, by working hard and making use of family labor and ingenuity, managed to get ahead, pay taxes, create a few new jobs for people, and enjoy a small net profit.

Then recently, a Labor Department Wage and Hour inspector came to town. He bluntly told the businessman he was violating the Federal law in many respects. A 14-year-old boy, a part-time employee, was time and again broke loose behind quality interference to add to his running yardage for the season. The Blizzards looked like the Big Blue teams of past seasons, stacking up 230 yards rushing to Haskell's 172. Two fairly evenly matched teams.

Haskell now has a 1-1 district record, and 5-1 season record. Winters goes against Colorado City this week, while Haskell invites Stamford . . . another game which could turn the wind in the district. Stamford rested last week, after whipping Hamlin 31-0 the week before, and should be ready for the Blizzard bruised Indians. The Bulldogs have a 1-0 record for district, and a 3-2 mark for the season, and have plenty of time to threaten a turnover of the 5-AA apiece.

Hamlin, following the beating they took from the Ballinger Bearcats, steps out of the district this week to play Cisco, a district 7-AA team with a 2-3 record for the season. Hamlin now occupies the district cellar with Colorado City, with no wins and two losses on the slate. However, they have a 3-2 season's record, and having played only Ballinger and Stamford, could give someone some trouble yet.

First Baptist YWA Begins New Year

Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church have met and completed plans for the coming year. The girls voted unanimously to call their group the Vera Schwartz Y. W. A.'s. This is to honor Mrs. Schwartz for her past help with the girls. Until ill health forced her to retire from Y. W. A. work, she was their sponsor for several years. Co-directors for this year are Mrs. Dalvin Awalt and Mrs. Bob Jackson.

New officers are as follows: President, Betty Jernigan; Vice President, Betty Shoemaker; Sec. Treasurer and Parliamentarian, Karen Pierce; Program chairman, Donna Gehrels; Prayer chairman and pianist, Glenda Sims; Community Mission chairman, Jo Crouch; Social Chair-should be hard to corral.

It has just been disclosed that one of the wild-trapped game birds decided it hadn't had enough flying, eluded its guardians and dive bombed the enclosed shipping quarters for fifteen minutes, scratching and clawing several interceptors before recapture.

The pheasant was from the same shipment that created a scene at Parks and Wildlife Department headquarters in Austin. A cock fled its crate and vainly sought refuge among the granite canyons on the State Capitol grounds.

The last month of the North Zone mourning dove season may mark the peak of migration of these birds through the State and shooting may pick up, according to A. J. Springs, wildlife coordinator for the Parks and Wildlife Department.

He said a build up of birds already been reported by hunters even in the South Zone.

The Northern Zone dove hunt which opened September 1 ends October 30. The South Zone which opened September 26 continued through November 24 except in counties which had a whitening season. In these counties the season in the South Zone closes November 20.

Hunters Return Few Duck Bands

From a total of 2,148 waterfowl trapped, banded and released by the Parks and Wildlife Department at Sheldon Reservoir in 1962 and 1963, 28 bands have been returned by hunters.

Twenty-one of the recoveries were made in Texas while seven were from birds killed out of state.

The highest rate of returns was from mallards, 13 recoveries from 720 banded.

what are you gonna do when even our armed forces can't win 'em? We picked all three as winners last week — Air Force, Navy and Army. That's 40 picks, with 16 misses in the bunch — almost half of them in one week end!

We're going to get closer to home this week with our predictions — and may come up with a perfect score before the season ends. This week it looks like this:

Texas Tech over Baylor
Rice over SMU
A. and M. over TCU
Texas West, over Wyoming
Missouri over Air Force
