

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Viewers who watched the election returns on television Tuesday night may have wondered how the networks obtained the information they put into the computers to reach a "projected" figure for the final results.

This is the way it worked, we understand: Some time prior to the election individuals in several "key" precincts throughout the country were asked by the networks to call the New York offices as soon as results in their particular boxes were known.

Then these figures were put into the computers and experts made their deductions regarding the outcome of the several different races. (As one wit observed, it was like putting a hundred different apples in a basket, shaking it up, and picking one and saying, "This is the type of apple filling the barrel!") But, and perhaps to the confusion of the skeptical, it worked! Some of the "key" boxes were big ones, other were comparatively small, with few voters. Combined, according to the experts, reports from these boxes told the story long in advance of the completion of the count.

Winters voters may be interested in learning that ballots cast in the box in the Chamber of Commerce office, Precinct 7, quickly found their way to the computers in the Election Central office of the Columbia Broadcasting Company in New York! Precinct 7 was one of about 30 boxes in the State of Texas as a "key" box, and voters in this precinct were instrumental in a way, in helping to show the "national trend" in voting.

Mrs. Max Lewis was the CBS representative for Precinct 7. At 9 p. m. after the polls closed, she called the New York office of CBS election central and reported the first figures; then at 10:15 when the count had been completed she called again. This operation was called the Voter Profile Analysis by CBS.

This shows the extent to which the big networks go to cover the nation. It also shows that even though a person may not consider that his vote is worth much it may be more important than he thinks.

Winters voters were as interested in this General Election as their brothers and sisters across the nation, as evidenced by the number of voters who turned out Tuesday. A total of 1068 voters seems to be the record; the next best would appear to be the Presidential Election in 1960, when 1032 voters cast a combined total for John F. Kennedy and Richard Nixon.

Something new was added for this election: For the first time in the memory of some who have been here for many elections, "poll watchers" were on duty at the two local voting places. This is a common practice in areas of the nation where two different political parties are active, but for areas where one party has been traditionally dominant, it was something new.

One election official commented that the practice of having "poll watchers" was not at all bad; that they can be of some help to the election officials in determining qualifications of prospective voters in many instances.

Luckily we didn't get mixed up on some of our games this week, but that didn't seem to help on the outcome — for our predictions. Missed four of the ten games picked last week, so that leaves us with a total of 41 correct out of 70 guesses. (At a deficit!)

Here's the way it looks this week:

Winters over Hamlin
Stamford over Anson
Ballinger over Colorado City
Arkansas over Rice
Texas over Baylor
Houston over Florida St.
Tex. A. and M. over SMU
Texas Tech over W. Tex. St.
New Mexico over Texas Western
UCLA over Air Force

Blizzards Travel To Hamlin Tonite

The Winters High School Blizzard football team, picked at season's start to walk away with district honors this year, will go to Hamlin Friday night in an attempt to hold their conference standing and regain some of the prestige they lost at the hands of Ballinger two weeks ago.

With a 2-2 district record, the Blizzards go into the Hamlin game again hampered by injuries which have caused changes in starting lineups. Johnny Mathis, starting center all season, will be out of action Friday night and probably for the rest of the season because of a shoulder injury received in the Ballinger game. Also Chip Puckett will be a doubtful for Friday against Hamlin, because of an injury received at Ballinger.

However, according to Coach L. G. Wilson, the situation is brighter than it appears. Denny Aldridge, who has been out of action for most games this season because of a shoulder injury received in the first game, is progressing and should be seeing more continuous action this week. He has been in the quarterback slot for the past couple of games, and for the Hamlin game should be ready for full and unhampered play.

Winters and Hamlin have like records for district competition, with 2-2 records. For the season, Winters has a 4-4 mark, while Hamlin looks better with a 6-2 score.

According to scouts who have seen the Hamlin team in action, the Pied Pipers constitute a dangerous opponent for anyone. When they are bogged down on the ground, they take to the air; they throw passes about 70 percent of the time, according to reports, and have three boys who are capable of passing, with the entire group of eligibles likewise capable of receiving and running. In the game against Colorado City, in which they won over the Wolves 41-16, the Pipers allowed C-City to score only after the Hamlin reserves were run onto the field.

Hamlin will be at full strength

Salvation Army Fund Campaign Begins Tuesday

The annual Salvation Army Campaign for funds will get underway next Tuesday, according to Mrs. W. L. Collins, who is heading the drive in Winters.

The campaign leadership along with Ted Meyer, who is chairman of the North Runtels County Salvation Army Service Unit committee, will decide Friday on the kick-off for the campaign. The goal has previously been set for $900.00.

In addition to Meyer, the volunteer committee included Mrs. B. B. Bedford, W. M. Hays, Joe Stevens, Marvin Bedford, R. F. (Phil) Anderson, W. H. Craven Jr., and Dr. H. H. McCreight of Winters, and Henry Adcock of Wingate.

Last year the local Service Unit gave help to a total of 461 people. This aid included groceries, meals, transportation, clothing, hospital care and cash assistance. Three boys attended the Salvation Army Camp near Midlothian. In addition, the local unit cooperated with the state-wide welfare services of the Salvation Army to make eleven welfare services possible, the major one of which is the disaster service.

1,068 Locals Cast Ballots In Tuesday's Election

One thousand sixty-eight voters went to the two Winters voting precincts in Tuesday's general election, a record number so far as can be determined. A total of 549 people voted in Precinct 26, with balloting at the City fire station. In Precinct 7, 519 voters cast ballots at the office of the chamber of commerce.

Voters in these two boxes followed the national trend in the presidential vote, with 710 ballots cast for the Johnson - Humphrey ticket, and 326 for the Goldwater - Miller ticket.

Winters voters also followed the state-wide trend in the senatorial race, picking Sen. Ralph Yarborough over Republican George Bush 631 - 466. Democrat Gov. John Connally also was the favorite in the race for governor, receiving 792 votes to Republican Jack Crichton's 227.

For the first time in the memory of persons who have attended elections in Winters, there were "Poll watchers" stationed at both voting places in Winters.

St. John's Lutheran To Celebrate 60th Anniversary and Annual Mission Fest

St. John's Lutheran Church will hear as speaker for the annual Mission Fest and 60th Anniversary Celebration a former pastor, the Rev. C. N. Roth. The Mission Fest will be observed during the morning worship service; the 60th Anniversary will be celebrated with a program beginning at 2:00 p. m.

REV. C. N. ROTH

Pastor Roth was called to serve the congregation in May, 1934. His tenure at the Lutheran Church lasted for 12 years, ending when he was elected president of the Texas District, American Lutheran Church. Pastor Roth became the first full-time pastor for the congregation when Salem Lutheran Church, Roscoe, called its own pastor in 1935. Now, for the first time in the history of the Winters group, they had a pastor of their very own, and could reap the fruits of his full-time ministry. Finishing the inside of the basement and landscaping were projects for 1935. Introduction of the envelope system for contributions was also begun that year. The debt which had increased to almost $2000 was cancelled in 1936. Funds for a pipe organ were started in 1938. A two-manual Moller pipe organ with 8 ranks of pipes was installed and dedicated in 1939. That year a rock fence was built around the cemetery.

At the close of his first six years at Winters, Pastor Roth was able to report that the communicant membership had increased almost 40 per cent, the voting membership 25 per cent, the Sunday School almost doubled, while the Ladies' Aid had doubled in size.

In the spring of 1942 the congregation built and dedicated a spacious 9 room, story and a half, brick veneer parsonage. In 1943 additional property was purchased to provide more parking facilities. In 1945 the congregation contributed over $3700 to the Educational Appeal for the expansion of the Church's colleges and seminaries.

Pastor Roth's service was not limited to the work in the congregation, but he also participated in many community projects. He was Chaplain of the Fire Department for 11 of his 12 years in Winters, and for 3 or 4 years headed up the Soft Ball League for the four churches. During the war years he served as director of the High School Band for 2 years. He was a member of the Lions' Club during his entire tenure.

Pastor Roth's sermon for the morning Mission Fest will be, "Marching to Greater Missions." The service will begin at 10:40 a. m. His talk for the afternoon program is entitled, "Do you remember . . ."

The afternoon 60th Anniversary celebration will begin about 2:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend both services. The offerings for the day will be used to advance the cause of missions and the benevolent work carried out by congregations of the American Lutheran Church.

Bus will leave for Abilene at 4:15 p. m., and arrive at Hamlin at about 7:10 p. m.

Winters Schools Will Dismiss Early Friday

Winters schools will dismiss at 2:30 p. m. Friday, Nov. 6, in order for buses to make regular runs and return for the trip to Hamlin for the football game.

VETERANS DAY

On Veterans Day we honor the heroic ones who gave their lives for their country. It is also an occasion to remember how much we owe to the more than twenty million men and women who have been - or who are now - in military service.

It has been a constant struggle to preserve the liberty which we so highly value. It is threatened by sinister forces from without and by subversive forces from within which work slowly but which bring destruction just as surely.

We must fight to keep principles and ideals which made this country great. It is a battle in which each one may do his part.

Independent front suspension takes the "truck" out of truck ride. It smooths rough roads, protects truck, driver and cargo from excessive jolting. It's one of the big reasons that Chevrolet is first choice with pickup users from coast to coast.

CARP LOVE WHEATIES

When fishing for carp, try using a simple bait made from Wheaties.

Simply mix the cereal with enough water to knead into a ball. It will remain on a hook for long periods. Carp really go for it.

STORING MINNOW SEINES

Use old newspapers to keep your minnow seine from rotting while in storage.

Carefully but loosely wrap the seine in an old newspaper. Paper will draw off the moisture. Mildew then never has a chance to attack the net fibers.

AROUND THE 5-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

While the Winters Blizzards rested last Friday night before plunging into their last two bouts of the season, other teams around the circuit squared off and an upset in a South Rannels County stadium marked activities.

The Stamford Bulldogs, who for some reason, failed to receive a big lot of publicity at the start of the season, then started driving in district play, outran and outpassed the chosen winners, the Ballinger Bearcats, 14-12, in the upset of the season.

Now, Stamford is out front of the pack with a 4-0 record and with two more games to play. Their status will be a little more definitely established after they play Anson this week.

Ballinger now is 3-1 for district play, and is picked to win over cellar tenant Colorado City this week.

Anson is neck-and-neck with Ballinger, 3-1, for district. Hamlin, after beating Colorado City 41-16 last week, has a 2-2 record, duplicating Winters. These two meet in Hamlin this week.

Haskell will rest this week, with a 1-4 record.

The key game this week will be the Anson-Stamford bout, and until that contest is over the leadership of 5-AA still is up in the air, more or less. As one coach has pointed out, a whole newspaper page could be written to explain the possibilities present in the fight for the championship. It all hinges on what happens this week; then you can probably pick your winner. Stamford still has to go against Winters after they take on Anson, and that game could spell the difference.

FROM LUBBOCK
Ellis Vogler from Lubbock spent the week end in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vogler and other relatives.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Who Owns Wounded Game?

Suppose you are hunting and shoot a deer or a duck, which falls mortally wounded. Before you can get it, another hunter beats you there and claims the fallen game as his own. What are your rights?

Jim had been hunting all day without success, and had headed for home when he finally saw a deer. He took careful aim and hit the deer with his first shot. Although mortally wounded, the deer managed to run a short distance, with Jim in hot pursuit.

Roy was also deer hunting. He heard Jim's shot and saw a deer running toward him. However, before it reached the spot where he was standing, the deer fell to the ground.

Although it was obvious that the deer was about to die, Roy walked to within three feet of it, delivered the finishing shot, and quickly put his tag on it.

When Jim ran up and claimed the deer, Roy said that such deer were wild animals, and belonged to no one until killed. Since he was the one that killed the deer, Roy claimed that it belonged to him.

Which hunter has legal title to the deer?

In this case the deer belongs to Jim. Jim was the first to wound it, and did so before Roy appeared on the scene. He had mortally wounded the deer, and had it in such a situation that its escape was improbable, if not impossible. The prevailing rule is that the instant a wild animal is brought under the control of a person so that actual possession is practically inevitable, a vested property interest in it accrues which cannot be divested by another's intervening and killing it, or reaching it first.

Jim had delivered the shot which so crippled the animal as to cause him to cease trying to escape, thus permitting Roy to walk up to the animal and deliver the finishing shot. Jim had effectually brought the deer under his control before Roy took a hand in the matter. The deer legally belonged to Jim, and he can enforce his claim in court.

By Vern Sanford

What advantages do different weights of line offer Texas bass fishermen?

Some anglers for bass use monofilament line in sizes as small as four or six pounds.

A goodly number — the majority, perhaps — use eight or 10 pound monofilament.

Those seeking the trophy-winning lunkers resort to 15 or 20 pound line.

Why?

It's true that you can land a prize winner on the smaller, less visible line. But you'd better be fishing in clear, deep water, free of rocks, brush, moss and duckweed. That lunker bass will give you the greatest thrill of your life on ultra - light line. Once you set a hook in his mouth he will take off like a bolt of lightning. He will go as deep as that line will let him. He will head for submerged tree tops, stumps, weeds, rock crevices, or whatever protection he can find.

That light line stretches thin. It won't hold him back for long on his wild dashes hither and yon. Even without natural obstacles to wrap your line around he will dash under and around your boat. He will foul the line on the motor prop. He will catch it in a splintered part of the boat or the paddle. Or he'll sever it on some fancy metallic trim or the sharp edge of anything.

He's a genius at getting off the hook.

If you're anchored you can count on his circling the anchor rope several times around.

They are canny critters, those bass. They love to run the obstacle course.

And, remember one thing . . . they make their living being smart. An old black bass has lots of savvy . . . else he would not have lived to lunker size.

From the day he is born his life is in danger. Even mama bass tries to eat him when he's a fresh - born babe. Pop's first job is to keep her away.

Once he's out on his own the young bass faces hundreds of enemies . . . all wanting to "gobble him up."

So, he learns fast . . . if he lives.

But the really great, fun-loving fishermen — those who seek not the meat or the trophy, but the fun of doing battle — they are the ones who go after bass with real light line.

True, they won't catch as many fish or bring home many of the lunker size, but they enjoy their fishing more.

Anglers who use eight or 10-pound line are in the majority. They enjoy a scrap. But they want a better chance at bringing home something for the skillet. And usually they do. Numerically, more of the finny tribe end up on their tables.

Then there's the lunker bass fisherman. He fishes, fishes, fishes, fishes . . . with nothing but a trophy bass in mind.

He thinks big! A three-pound black is a minnow in his eye. He won't even mention having taken anything smaller. A four pounder is more to his liking. But he's not after either of those. He's fishing all day and all night — every time he gets a chance — with nothing but a five, six or seven pound black in mind. He thinks big and he catches them big.

He's the guy who thumbs a bait - casting, spool - type reel with perfection. He's an expert at casting. He's the Ambassador of fishing. He's the fellow who uses 15 to 20 pound line and no swivels.

He finally accepted monofilament line. But first only as a leader to add stretch to his old braided line. But he still keeps a spool or two of braided line handy, in the tackle box, just in case.

One thing you can count on with this gent is a fully - equipped, extra rod and reel beside him in the boat, ready to use at all times. He rigs up one for top - water, the other for bottom fishing.

Usually he will start fishing well before daylight, using a black, top - water, popping lure, better known as a chugger.

If he varies from that, it will be to select a noise - making, propeller - equipped spinner. Often he will remove the front blade so the bait will rest in the water at an angle, the better to jump as it's twitched along. This gives it more of an injured minnow or skip - jack action.

One thing for sure, he does not use swivels. He ties his line directly to the lure as carefully as Whistler's mother performed her knitting. When he ties it on it's there to stay. More often than not he will burn the loose end of the monofilament line so that it forms a small but hard knot that will prevent the line from slipping through the knot even under the heaviest stress.

That lunker fisherman with the heavier line usually is a bronze faced angler who fishes regularly and often. His tackle box is packed with lures of all makes, shapes and colors.

Always he will have with him an assortment of small bottles filled with pork rinds. Also a liberal supply of plastic worms in all colors, including some stripped and some polkadot.

He's a hook honer, too. Only razor sharp hooks are acceptable to him. In fact seldom will he use the hooks that come on the lures he buys. He substitutes his favorite spear pointed hooks, then hones them down to an even longer and thinner point. When he sets a hook he wants it to stay. Which brings us back to his reason for the heavier line. The heavier the line, the less the stretch and the quicker the hook will become imbedded in the fish's mouth.

Once the lunker fisherman latches onto a big bass, he wants to bring that lunker into the boat.

County School Food Service Ass'n Met At Ballinger Sat.

Runnels County Chapter of the Texas Food Service Association met in regular session Saturday morning in the elementary school lunch room at Ballinger. The chapter president, Mrs. Maude Canady, presided. Mrs. Aline McCoston gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Betty Brown gave the secretary's report. Twenty eight members responded to roll call. Mrs. Margie Routh told of the meeting of the Executive Board held in Greenville October 17. She stated that the board adopted a permanent cover for the official publication of Texas

Food Service Association, "The Lunch Bell." Miles, Winters and Ballinger reported good radio and newspaper publicity for School Lunch Week. Schools displayed posters made by students. The Ballinger lunch rooms invited School Board members and their wives to be guests for lunch one day during the week and held Open House for the Junior High students one day before school and for High School students another day.

Following the business session two films were shown, one with cleaning equipment and the other with personal cleanliness of the food handler.

The next meeting will be in the Winters School Cafeteria on January 29, 1965.

VISITED SISTER

Mrs. Sid Anderson has just returned from a two week visit with her sister, Mrs. Wade Robertson in Lubbock.

USE FOIL TO REFLECT HEAT

Aluminum Foil, that all-purpose "Handy Andy" of the camper, can make you an efficient camp oven.

Also, it can double as a fire reflector in cold weather. Here's how to do it: Drive four 18 - inch stakes in a square around your campfire. Leave a side open to stoke the fire and handle the food. Fasten the foil to the stakes to cover the other three sides. Make a top of small straight, interwoven, green sticks and cover with foil. Secure top to the four stakes. Foil surfaces reflect heat, creating high, even temperatures even with a small ember fire.

State Capital Highlights— Hundreds of Press Representatives At Vacation 'White House,' Austin

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

This city once again became the seat of the executive branch of the federal government as President Johnson moved back to his home grounds for an expected prolonged post-election stay.

The President preferred to vote in person at his old box in Johnson City, rather than cast an absentee ballot.

An elaborate communications network was prepared for the election day party here. Hundreds of national press, radio and television representatives accompanied Johnson to Texas Monday night.

Major developments are anticipated at the vacation White House during days immediately following counting of the votes.

The president, while resting up from the campaign, undoubtedly will be formulating his plans for the future and staying abreast of national and international developments at this important period.

He is scheduled to entertain at least one distinguished visitor at the LBJ Ranch. Mexico's President-elect Gustavo Diaz Ordaz will visit him November 12-13, according to early reports.

Most observers predict the President will remain at least until mid-November, possibly longer.

COURTS SPEAK

Court of Criminal Appeals criticized state courts of inquiry but declined to declare unconstitutional law authorizing such procedures.

Issue came before the court in the appeal of Pasadena Attorney N. A. Smith who claimed his constitutional rights were violated in a court of inquiry into Pasadena city finances. Judges ordered Smith freed of contempt of court charges arising from his refusal to testify at a court of inquiry held on June 2.

Court of Criminal Appeals also ordered a new trial for Arthur Geter on marijuana charges in Harris County, citing a new U. S. Supreme Court decision that legal representation in trials is a constitutional right. Geter began serving a life term in 1952.

Supreme Court refused to review a dispute between City of Athens and Gulf State's Telephone Company over phone rates. It thus left standing the lower courts' decisions that the East Texas city's 1961 and 1962 rate ordinances do not permit the company a fair return on its investment. City asked higher court to review the case.

In another case the Supreme Court agreed that Connecticut General Life Insurance Company is entitled to collect $408,661 in overpayment of occupation taxes for 1952-57 and for 1959.

It left standing the lower court finding that United Press International labeled Bruce B. Mohs, a Madison, Wis., pilot in a story concerning a seaplane landing. Court of Civil Appeals has questioned the accuracy of most of the story. Mohs was awarded some $7,500 in damages.

Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools cannot negotiate a new water supply contract with the City of Big Spring, according to a ruling by 53rd District Judge Herman Jones. City attempted to have the Austin court set aside a 1937 contract under which it agreed to furnish water to the Big Spring State Hospital at a cost of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons. Estimated cost of furnishing this service now is set at 32 cents per 1,000 gallons. It is expected that the city will appeal Jones' decision.

BUSINESS CLIMBS

Texas building permits rose to a near-record level of $155,000,000 in September.

It was the 43rd month of the current Texas business expansion — second longest peacetime cyclical upswing since December 1954. Longest period was March 1933 - May 1937.

Business index as measured by University of Texas Bureau of Research was 12 per cent above September, 1963 — one per cent below all-time high of 152 per cent last July. Researchers registered an optimistic outlook for the remaining months of 1964.

CLEAN-UP

Water Pollution Control Board announces its intention to adopt and enforce stringent new regulations on all sewage treatment plants in Bexar County. Board decided that there is no point in trying to clean up the Houston Ship Channel. It will be designated for navigation and industrial use, for recreation.

ESTES JUDGMENT ENTERED

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr reports that the 108th District Court in Potter County rendered a $547,500 summary judgment against one-time West Texas financier Billie Sol Estes, winding up the state's suit against Estes and Commercial Solvents Corp.

State claimed Estes and the firm combined to unlawfully injure and drive out competition in anhydrous ammonia fertilizer in the high plains area by selling below cost and through other schemes violating the anti-trust act.

Commercial Solvents earlier paid $150,000 under an agreed judgment. But it admitted no liability.

Estes is appealing the Federal Courts' 15-year fraud and conspiracy sentence to U. S. Supreme Court.

HIGHWAY PROJECTS

A delegation from Tarrant, Wise, Parker, Johnson, Hood and Denton counties called on the State Highway Commission seeking a $72,100,000 highway development program in the Ft. Worth metropolitan area.

Emphasis was placed on construction on a 56-mile link between Fort Worth and Ennis on U. S. Highway 287 to facilitate truck traffic from Houston to Fort Worth.

Highway Comm. approval of a $40,000,000 highway construction project within the city limits of El Paso demonstrates results that can come from close cooperation between residents of a community and a state agency.

Eighteen months ago the mayor and county judge from El Paso conferred with the Commissioners on traffic problems resultant from that city's status as the third fastest-growing city in the U. S. in the decade ending in 1960.

Eighteen months ago, the mayor and county judge from El Paso conferred with the Commissioners on traffic problems resultant from that city's status as the third fastest-growing city in the U. S. in the decade ending in 1960.

Highway Department told them it could do nothing unless the people of El Paso got busy. They did — and passed a $15,000,000 road construction bond program in October.

When city officials came back to ask the Highway Commission for help, it came in a hurry, since $7,500,000 worth of local right-of-way funds were ready.

AG OPINIONS

Attorney General Carr has ruled that state law does not authorize a discount for the taxpayer for early payment of state and ad valorem taxes, even though county ad valorem taxes have a discount feature.

Attorney General's office also has ruled that savings and loan association agents cannot appraise properties on which a

Announce Engagement of Ruth Ann Spill and Airman Sam Fowler

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Spill, Winters, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Ann, to Airman Second Class Sam Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fleming, Ventura, Calif. The wedding will take place in January.

Miss Spill is a graduate of Winters High School and Shannon School of Nursing in San Angelo. She is presently employed at Shannon West Texas Memorial Hospital in San Angelo.

Mr. Fowler is a graduate of Ventura High School and attended Ventura College. He is presently stationed at Misawa, Japan, with the United States Air Force.

loan application has been made; and that no further court action is necessary to escheat funds ordered turned over to the State Treasury by state judges.

PUBLIC EMPLOYEES

Governor Connally has proclaimed November 8-15 as Texas Public Employees Week.

In his memorandum, the Governor stated that "Texas public employees have continued to become more aware of their responsibilities to provide better public service to the taxpayers of Texas while at the same time raising their professional qualifications."

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith presented the Official Memorandum, in Connally's absence from the State, to Paul W. Hancock, president of the sponsoring organization, Texas Public Employees Association.

U. S. Department of Agriculture reports these fall farming operations: high plains wheat planting has reached 93 per cent level; statewide wheat crop is 88 per cent planted; and sorghum combining is 85 per cent completed.

State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar has endorsed the "Teaching Taxes" program — an educational supplement designed to help students understand the preparation of income tax returns — made available by R. L. Phinney, District Director of the Internal Revenue at Austin.

Texas Society of Professional Engineers has endorsed Governor Connally's authorization of a state water study by the Texas Water Commission.

State Board of Health announces that $13,000,000 has been allocated for 30 hospitals, educational facilities and related medical units over the state.

PROTECT MOTOR

When transporting your outboard motor in the trunk of your auto, try placing it on a half-inflated inertube.

Tube reduced the bumps of the car to mere quivers. This helps prevent injury to the motor or parts from shaking loose.

PIPE CLEANERS USEFUL

An ordinary pipe cleaner can serve many purposes for the outdoorsman, besides cleaning his pipe.

It can be used to hold parts of a rod together when disassembled; keep line from unwinding on a reel; and as a nook and cranny oiler.
