

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

The week of Nov. 20 through Nov. 26 has been announced and proclaimed as Farm-City Week, a time, according to proponents of the special "week", urban people and farmers should get together and work out their differences and "eliminate the gulf of misunderstanding" which has resulted from the ever-increasing "complexities of their problems and the divergence of their activities."

This "widening gulf of misunderstanding" is obviously present, when the line of comparison is drawn between those who live in the big, teeming cities and those who live in the rural areas. Perhaps it also is present, to a small extent, in the smaller cities of the rural areas, but not to the degree which reveals a complete "misunderstanding" between the two areas of living.

Those of us who live and make our livelihood in the so-called "rural" areas like to think that we are all one - and - alike; we like to think that we are a part of the land; that our desires and dislikes parallel those of the men and women who actually dip their hands into the soil. Their problems are our problems, and our problems have an effect in many ways on their lives. In fact, in this age, there is little difference in the thinking and actions of the actual "agriculturist" and the rural - area - city businessman. Many times a man is both farmer and businessman, in the strictest form. This is not true when the comparison is made of those peoples in the large cities and those in the rural areas. Therein lies the problem of "misunderstanding," if it is present - not in "our" country, try.

For example some proof of the above statements is the ready acceptance and enthusiasm displayed by most everyone toward the re - organization of the Livestock and Agricultural Association, and toward the membership drive which is now underway. There is no question of which side of the line we're on - we're all on the same team, working toward a betterment of all segments of our local economy. And the main project of the Association, the production of a Junior Livestock Show, is an example of working together as the same unit, not as a consolidation of two different walks of life.

Incidentally, if you haven't signed up in the Livestock and Agricultural Association, there is only one more week to get your name in the pot - and the pot (in addition to promotion of the livestock show) will be a big barbecue Saturday night, November 21!

Police Chief Joe Stevens has something good to say about our youth: Following the Halloween observances a couple of weeks ago, he said that he was very well pleased with the behavior of our young people. Very little vandalism was displayed, evidence of a growing consideration on the part of the young people of our community.

The spotted deer shot by Billy Joe Walker of Wingate, a picture of which was published in the Enterprise a couple of weeks ago received a lot of publicity around the country. Pictures were taken of the rare animal at Norwood, Colo., right after it was brought in from the wilds. A sports writer for the San Diego (Calif.) Union was on hand to get a picture and a story, which ran in that newspaper. A picture also was run in the Denver Post, and reportedly in several other newspapers throughout the country.

One amusing anecdote came from the slaying of that spotted deer. It seems that while the animal was being displayed on the street of Norwood, a fellow emerged from a bar after taking a "few for the road," and stood looking at it, saying not a word. He returned to the bar, probably for fortification, and came back out with a friend, and they both stood silently, looking at the deer. This happened two or three times, but the fellow obviously was not going to cause someone to think he'd been drinking - it just wouldn't have looked good - especially if the deer was not actually what he thought he was seeing.

Eighty down, twenty to go!

WHS Homecoming To Be Held Here Friday Evening

Committee members working on preparations for the Homecoming celebration Friday are expecting the largest crowd of ex-students ever to "come back home" to visit Winters High School and take part in homecoming activities. At least 600 are expected to be here for the event, with many from out of town confirming plans to be present.

The big event of the day will be the Winters - Stamford football game beginning at 7:30. Prior to the game, a Homecoming Queen will be presented in pre - game ceremonies at Blizzards stadium at 7 p. m. Four senior girls are candidates for Homecoming Queen. They are Shirley Lindsey, June Puckett, Elaine Beard and Ann Bean. The Queen will be escorted by the present president of the student council, Larry Rives, and former presidents, including Ronald Kraatz and A. L. Mitchell.

A pep rally will be held at 3 p. m. Friday. Winters' Mayor Harvey D. Jones, himself an ex, will give a welcome address at pre - game ceremonies, and B. B. Bedford, president of the Ex - Students Association, will also speak.

Ex-students will register at the high school from 4 to 7 p. m., and will be invited to eat supper in the school cafeteria from 5 to 6:30 Friday. All ex-students and their friends are invited for the supper.

There will be a fellowship period in the cafeteria immediately following the football game, and ex-students will elect officers to head the association for 1965. Coffee and doughnuts will be served. More than 1200 letters have been mailed to ex-students all over the country, and response has been encouraging. Mrs. Don Oakes secretary of the association, said. She said many people who have attended school here have shown interest in the association's effort to promote a homecoming event. Mrs. Oakes also said that to be a member of the association it is not necessary that a person is a graduate of the Winters High School - anyone who has at one time attended Winters schools is eligible.

Willie Kraatz Heads Senior Honor Society At Texas Lutheran

Kraatz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kraatz, is a senior accounting major at T.L.C.

Membership Drive For Livestock And Agricultural Ass'n. Has Week To Go

Little more than a week remains in the current drive to sign up members in the recently re-organized Livestock and Agricultural Association, with a total of 226 signed by the middle of this week. Goal is at least 300, drive committee members report.

The drive will continue until Saturday, Nov. 21, and will be climaxed with a big barbecue for members and their families on that night at the livestock barn.

Work crews this week are

Winters Students Will Attend Fire Demonstration By Co. Farm Bureau

Students of Winters schools will have an opportunity to see for themselves how fire can be man's best friend or his worst enemy by observing a graphic fire demonstration to be presented Thursday, Nov. 19, Robert F. Christian, high school principal, has announced.

The demonstration, in seven parts, will be given under the direction of Joe Smetena, safety director of the Texas Farm Bureau.

A variety of demonstration equipment will be placed on tables 16 feet in length to illustrate seven basic points: 1. What fire is; 2. How to control fires; 3. The fact that nothing is fire-proof; 4. Kitchen fires and their control; 5. Fuel vapors; 6. The power of petroleum products; 7. Household wiring and overloaded electrical circuits.

Smetena will point out that fire is like a three - legged stool.

AROUND THE 5-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

It's all wrapped up - all that remains is knotting the string. Stamford, regardless of what happens this week end, will represent District 5-AA in post - conference competition.

Of course to win the absolute championship crown - when figured in games won and lost - the Bulldogs will have to defeat Winters Friday, but everything else is anti - climatic. Ballinger will have to defeat Haskell this week to earn a tie for the championship, but couldn't really claim the honor because of their defeat at the hands of Stamford two weeks ago.

Anson, with a 3-2 record for district play, meets Hamlin, and if they should win, and Winters should win over Stamford, and Haskell should win over Ballinger, there would be a three-way tie for second place in the loop.

Of course this game of football is made up of "ifs." Winters, pre - season picked as a powerhouse unit to go toward State playoffs, hit a snag the first of the season. Things may have been different - IF Ballinger has gone strong all season, and three weeks ago were picked as the team to beat even as far as the semi - finals - but they hit Stamford, and lost. Stamford has been dubbed the "cinderella team" this season. Although they already have a 7-2 record for the year and a 5-0 record for district. For some reason they weren't recognized as a threat early in the season, and this "image" has somehow remained - with their vanquished opponents standing on the sidelines wondering what hit 'em.

Anson also has a 7-2 record for the season, but only a 3-2 for a district. They have held their own this year, and defeated at least one of the favorites, Winters.

Hamlin and Haskell have played average football this year, and have proved to be worthy competitors in this district. Colorado City, entering double A football for the first time this year, hit a streak of bad luck and have won only one game all year. They've played their last game, and now can sit back and watch the others scrapping over the remaining bones.

There's probably not a coach in the district - now anywhere in the area for that matter - who has not already started thinking about his team assignments for next year. This was the year that was - it probably will be different next.

TO AUSTIN
Larry Rives and Richard Cooke, Winters High school seniors, spent the past week end in Austin on the campus at Texas University. They visited Charles Bahlman, student in the University.

TO SAN ANTONIO
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vogler have returned from a short visit with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Newby Brown and family at San Antonio.

On the postcard ballot, which members are asked to return to the Chamber of Commerce as soon as possible, are George R. Hill, J. C. Wilkerson, W. L. (Bill) Bean, Dale Whitecotton, Joe Baker, Nelan Bahlman and Willis Jernigan.

Outgoing directors include Gattis Neely, president, and Homer Hodge, James Hinds, John Gardner and Don Oakes.

The girls and boys are entered in another tournament this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

New Number System Slated For Winters Telephones In June of '65

The most modern system of telephone numbers in use today will be introduced in Winters when new telephone directories are delivered in June, 1965.

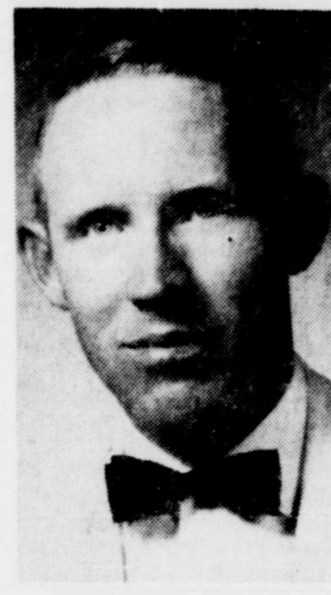

Known as ALL NUMBER CALLING - or ANC - the system substitutes numerals for the two letters now being used, making a total of seven numerals rather than two letters and five numerals.

A. J. Lacy, division manager for Southwestern States Telephone, explained that although many other advantages have been realized from the use of the ANC the system was developed as the result of a need for providing more workable telephone numbers.

"Just as all previous steps in our telephone numbering plan have been taken as the result of a 'need' our latest step is being made to insure the availability of a supply of numbers to meet the growth and demand for telephone numbers," Lacy stated. Changing to ANC will result in no actual change in the dialing of Winters telephone numbers, Lacy pointed out. For example, the number PLYmouth4-2161 or PL4-2161 would be changed to 754-2161. An examination of the telephone dial will reveal that the "7" corresponds with the "P" on the dial and the "5" corresponds with the "L". Actually the method of dialing remains unchanged.

New telephone directories to be delivered in June, 1965 will list all Winters telephone numbers under the ANC system, appearing as the following example: Winters, 754-2161 (PL4-2161).

Through the actual use of ANC telephone companies have discovered other advantages. Lacy cited some of them. ANC eliminates the confusion between the figure zero and the letter "O"; between the figure one and the letter "I".

Against Champion Stamford

Final Grid Game Here Friday Nite

The Winter Blizzards will play their last game of the season Friday night, meeting the Stamford Bulldogs before what is expected to be an overflow crowd of fans and ex-students celebrating a homecoming event.

Results of the game this week between the Bulldogs and the Blizzards will have no bearing on the outcome of the six-weeks-long fight for the District 5-AA championship - Stamford already has it sewed up - but that lack of necessity to win probably will not make a particle of difference in the action on the field.

Stamford, sailing along before a no-loss-in-district-wind, will be determined to keep their record intact, while the Blizzards, who lucked out this year, will be just as determined to break a few records which the Bulldogs have set up.

According to information, Stamford has not, in about 30 years, lost to the same team three times in a row. This could be a chance for the Blizzards to blur that image - the Big Blue has defeated Stamford two years running.

As for the locals, Coach L. G. Wilson reports that they are in fine shape for this last get - together of the season. Johnny Mathis, who received a shoulder injury in the Ballinger game, will be out of action, of course, but the rest of the team will be bearing down for this one. Several of the boys will be playing their last game of high school football, and indications are they would like to leave a lasting impression before a huge homecoming crowd.

Stamford, with a 7-2 record for the season and a 5-0 record for district, has taken District 5-AA by storm this year. The Bulldogs have allowed only 12 points to be scored against them by district opponents in the five games they have played - those 12 points were racked up by the Ballinger Bears, erstwhile candidates to go past district action. Otherwise, District 5-AA members have taken licks from the strong Stamford squad.

Scouting reports indicate that the Stamford club is mainly a ground - play outfit, set to grind out each football game. In Fullback Kainer they have a good runner, backed by Tailback Harrison Cole, who has caught eyes of coaching staffs when thoughts turn to All - District team memberships. Rusty Kelly, Bulldog quarterback, with good passing and ball handling ability, has provided the leadership which has pushed the Stamford team out ahead of opponents. On the line, the Blizzards will face such outstanding players as End Lovorn, who likes to snag passes, Tackle Costa, good offensively and defensively, and a big center, Buddy Box.

Stamford in not a flashy glory - hunting squad, but a down-to earth bunch of football players.

Comparison of the two teams shows that Stamford has been stronger on defense as well as offense this season. Stamford has allowed only 66 points this season, with Winters allowing 76.

In district play, Winters has allowed opponents 48 while the Bulldogs have allowed only 12. Common opponent comparisons show:
Winters 15 - Ballinger 33
Stamford 14 - Ballinger 12
Winters 17 - Haskell 6
Stamford 22 - Haskell 6
Winters 22 - Hamlin 0
Stamford 31 - Hamlin 0
Winters 6 - Anson 7
Stamford 14 - Anson 7
Winters 29 - C-City 0
Stamford 27 - C-City 0

PROBABLE STARTERS
Coach Wilson said there probably would be little change in the lineups for this last game, with Chip Puckett going into end position on offense and perhaps filling a corner linebacker spot on defense.

Offense
Ends: Chip Puckett, Paul Jones

County Judge Spoke To RCARC Group Thursday

County Judge W. H. Rampy spoke to The Runnels County Association for Retarded Children at the Winters City Hall on Nov. 5.

W. H. Rampy explained the "Laws of the State relating to the Retarded, Rights and Privileges, Protections and Restrictions under the Laws".

He said our State Hospitals today are doing a splendid job of caring for the retarded, in comparison to thirty years ago when the senile, the mentally ill, and the retarded were all grouped together in an eleemosynary institution, without adequate care of proper treatment.

The judge stated that the younger the child, who is uneducatable, is placed in a State School the better his adjustment. The Abilene and Denton State Schools are the only ones who will take a child under six years of age.

He explained the proper court procedures to place a child into these schools.

Since these children can never handle their own affairs, the parents, may set up trust funds for them or designate a guardian in their wills. The guardian must be responsible to the Probate Court. Foster home care is also available.

There are 17 students in the Abilene State School from Runnels County, said Mrs. Walter Spill of Winters, program director of the School.

A bake sale will be held in Winters Nov. 25 with proceeds going to the Runnels County Association.

Pork Facts

For tenderness and appetite appeal, all pork should be cooked well done. Large fresh pork cuts, including loin, shoulder and ham, are roasted at 350° F. oven temperature to 185° F. internal temperature; smoked pork cuts—ham, shoulder butt, etc.—are roasted at 300° F. to an internal temperature of 160° F. Pork chops, steaks, patties, and frenched tenderloin are best cooked by braising, since this method assures meat that is well done, tender and juicy. Smoked ham slices, bacon, Canadian-style bacon are cooked by broiling, panbroiling or pan-frying.

Roger Babson Says— Aluminum Co. of America Started With Only $20,000 Investment

Babson Park, Mass., From 1825 — when aluminum was first separated by Oersted, and again by Wohler in 1827 — until 1886, the metal was a laboratory curiosity costing some $160 a pound. In that year Charles Martin Hall, then only 22 years old, discovered the first practical electrolytic method for reducing the metal.

In Its Beginnings
Even as a youngster Charles Martin Hall had determined to be an inventor. While he was an undergraduate in Oberlin College, he was spurred on by a remark by Frank F. Jewett — professor of chemistry and mineralogy at Oberlin — that great benefits and financial success would come from devising a method of producing aluminum on a commercial scale. Over a span of five years he conducted

How $20,000 Started The Business
Young Hall had his troubles in expanding his discovery into a successful business. Most businessmen he approached were not interested, or offered to take all the profits and leave him on the glory. Finally a group of Pittsburgh businessmen raised the necessary $20,000 to form the Pittsburgh Reduction Company. Further difficulties were encountered in trying to sell the metal to firms that would fabricate it.

Hall and his associates learned to cast, roll, forge, draw, and stamp the metal in order to sell it as a finished product. Thus the traditional method of expanding the use of aluminum took shape as the primary manufacturer first showed the way and then passed his knowledge along the manufacturers.

Subsequent Growth
The most popular form of aluminum sold in the early years was sheet aluminum. Then around the turn of the century the extrusion process was introduced. This was to have a profound effect on fabrication of aluminum products. In the early 1900's it was realized that to increase the use of aluminum it must be strengthened. Hence methods for making the aluminum alloys were introduced.

Most of the early supply of bauxite came from France. A big step forward occurred when the ore was discovered in Arkansas. Later discoveries were made in the Caribbean, in Canada, South America, and Australia. On January 1, 1907 the Pittsburgh Reduction Company changed its name to the Aluminum Company of America.

Becomes Big Business
World War I saw great growth in the uses of aluminum by both the Allies and the Germans. During the 1920's there was rapid expansion in its use for foil, auto bodies, pistons, furniture packaging, and home products. Steady growth followed in the 1930's. It took World War II, however, to produce the "Aluminum Revolution", which enabled the Allies to win final victory over Hitler's Germany.

Although more than 75 years have passed since Hall's discovery of the electrolytic method of reducing aluminum, the basic process used today is the same as that discovered in his woodshed in Oberlin. From one single plant producing 20,000 pounds of aluminum in 1889, the industry has grown to an annual capacity of nearly six billion pounds.

Billions In Ideas
All major markets greatly increased their use of aluminum in 1963, when U. S. shipments were up 11.5 per cent to set a new record. I forecast still wider use of aluminum in container packaging and in the building and electrical industries. U. S. shipments in 1964 could easily total 7,390,000,000 pounds. And our rapidly expanding economy will use much larger amounts than that in the years immediately ahead.

This story of the Aluminum Company of America — major factor in the aluminum success story — should encourage a 11 young people who have an IDEA. Starting with a modest capital of $20,000 scraped together to found the company, ALCOA has multiplied that original investment a fantastic 100,000 times with gross properties valued at close to $2 billion today!

Winters Blizzards Whip Pied Pipers From Hamlin 22-2 In Fast Tilt Friday

After being chewed up and spit out by the Ballinger Bearcats two weeks ago, the Big Blue Blizzards of Winters High School regrouped and came out as a team to defeat the Hamlin Pied Pipers 22-2 in Hamlin Friday night. Hamlin's only score was really no credit to their efforts, as guard Mike Patterson killed the ball behind the Hamlin goal giving Hamlin the points, instead of giving them the chance for a touchdown by running out of the goal zone into a flock of Hamlin defenders.

The game began with Hamlin receiving the initial kickoff on their own 34 yardline. Using the ground play and severe Winters penalties they moved for two first downs to the Winters 41 before kicking. Thus began the first Winters touchdown drive from their own 34.

QB Denny Aldridge called on Van Spill for the first ball carry, and Van moved to the 36. Larry Awalt was next, moving to the Winters 48. Aldridge carried to the Hamlin 43 then attempted a pass to Adams. The pass fell incomplete and Spill carried to the 37. Awalt again to the 28, then Aldridge to the 22. Awalt carried to the 19. Spill for no gain, then Aldridge to the 10. With first down and goal Aldridge passed to Adams in the end zone and the TD with 4:40 left in the quarter. The point after touchdown was the same thing, but with a different pattern — Aldridge to Adams for two points. Winters led 8-0.

Hamlin had their turn at the ball for the next few plays, but were allowed only a short run before kicking to the Winters team. Again the Blizzards were touchdown bound. From the

THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE Winters, Texas Page 4 Friday, November 13, 1964

Hamlin 35, Aldridge broke loose for 21 yards to the 14. The last play of the first quarter saw Leroy Kettler move the ball to the six. With second down and three needed, again Kettler was the ball carrier, this time to the three. Aldridge then carried over the goal for the teepee with 11:20 left in the half. QB Richard Puckett ran the ball over for the PAT and the Blizzards had a 16-0 margin.

The Hamlin safety happened with seven minutes left in the second quarter. Hamlin, with the aid of a pass interference all against Winters moved to the Winters 21 before the fine defensive unit led by Hank McCreight and Derrall Colburn gained the ball for the Blizzards on downs. The Blizzards moved to the 40, but were forced to kick on third down.

The Pipers took to the aid, and on their second pass Richard Puckett intercepted. However, Winters had a pass intercepted on their first play and the Pipers had moved to the Winters three as the half ended.

The third quarter was strictly defensive on both sides as the Blizzards' Derrall Colburn recovered a Hamlin fumble on the Winters 44.

The Blizzards moved to the Hamlin six but were contained, losing the ball on downs. The Pipers had moved to the 39 and punted as the quarter ended.

With Puckett in as QB, the Blizzards were again homeward bound. Spill carried to the Winters 48, and Awalt completed the first down to the Hamlin 42.

Kettler lost four yards and Awalt carried for two. With third down and 12 needed, Richard Puckett hit brother Chip for an 18-yard pass play, putting the ball on the Hamlin 26. Kettler again, losing two, then R. Puckett carried for five. With third down, Richard again took to the air, this time Van Spill as the receiver, in the end zone. The Spill kick was not good and the final score of 22-2 was reached with 9:18 left in the game.

Late in the game Adams intercepted another Hamlin pass. But on the first play, Puckett lost the ball on a fumble. With 29 seconds left the Pipers threw two passes which were not complete, then returned the fumble to Larry Awalt on the Winters 29, and Awalt tried to run with the fumble as the game ended.

The Blizzards played as a team and won, hands down. This writer sat by a Stamford coach who was scouting the Blizzards at the Hamlin game. His comment, "We have won district, but we still have to try to get by Winters."

Governor John Connally Remains Dominant Figure In Texas Politics

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Gov. John Connally remains the dominant figure on the statehouse scene. He has received over 1,800,000 votes in the general election, to lead the Democratic ticket.

An overwhelming majority of Texas voters liked the Democratic ticket headed by native son Pres. Lyndon Baines Johnson.

Republicans were left with little to be encouraged about. However, GOP leaders insisted their party has "the zeal and spirit to make a fast comeback" and will begin the 1966 campaign immediately.

Statisticians for the two political parties have gone to work to explain the tremendous Democratic sweep of Texas. One logical explanation of Johnson's landslide simply was that 400,000 more Texans than ever before appeared at the polls. And apparently they were about all Democrats. Turnout was some 88 per cent of the qualified voters, also a new record in this century in Texas.

President Johnson received 64 per cent of the 2,700,000 Texas votes cast (to 36 per cent for Sen. Barry Goldwater). This represented the largest total in a presidential race since the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's 71 per cent margin for a fourth term in 1944.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough defeated GOP candidate George Bush by carrying nearly 56 per cent of the total. But Bush got more votes than any previous Texas Republican candidate for senator. The Houston oilman was the first GOP candidate to rack up more than a million votes.

Republicans, although better organized and financed than ever, lost every statewide and congressional race and all legislative races except one. GOP Frank Cahoon of Midland won. In the scramble the Republicans lost two congressmen, Ed Foreman of Odessa, and Bruce Alger of Dallas, and nine members of the Texas Legislature.

Makeup of the Legislature in general remains conservative-moderate. Leadership will continue in the hands of Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Byron Tunnell. The latter is assured another term as speaker on strength of member pledges.

Texas voters also approved all three state constitutional amendments on the ballot.

In so doing they knocked out legislative authority to transfer one per cent of the permanent school fund to the available medical aid to the aged not on welfare rolls but having difficulty paying their doctor bills; and required bills creating or substantially altering conservation and reclamation districts to be published in newspapers and cleared by Texas Water Commission.

LBJ AT HOME

President Johnson closed out his campaign and celebrated his landslide victory in the Central Texas congressional district where he got his political start.

Final speech of his nationwide vote hunt was made to 100,000 at an Austin rally in front of the State Capitol.

He voted at his old precinct in Johnson City on election day. Johnson returned to Austin to make his first statement to the nation after the election—a call for American unity and a pledge to work for a government offering equal opportunities to all.

CHANGES

Some Texans learned to their dismay that, if they had moved from one county to another within the last six months, they lost their right to vote.

Others found that if they had moved from one precinct to another in the same county, but had failed to transfer their poll taxes by the Thursday before election, they had lost the right to vote.

The situations naturally led to talk of making changes in the law or of lawsuits to set aside the laws which cut off rights to vote on technicalities.

SALT WATER

District Judge Herman Jones heard three days of evidence as to whether the Texas Railroad Commission or the Texas Water Pollution Control Board should regulate the disposal of the salt water which comes to the surface in oil and gas wells.

Oilmen contend it should be wholly under the Railroad Commission. Users of surface and ground water contend that the new Pollution Control Board has the authority, and should exercise it, to prevent pollution.

After filing on briefs and oral arguments, Jones will reach a decision about November 20.

COURTS SPEAK

National chain loan companies got the work they wanted from the Texas Supreme Court.

It upheld lower court decisions that an effort by the Legislature to restrict non-Texas companies from opening new loan offices in Texas clearly was unconstitutional.

Small Texas firms had convinced the Legislature that loan licenses should be issued only to companies owned at least 51 per cent by Texans. But the court said that is not valid, under both state and federal constitutions.

On request of Upshur Rural Electric Cooperative and Southwestern Electric Power Company of Shreveport, Supreme Court dismissed appeals in a dispute involving construction of a $9,000,000 rural power generating plant near Ore City in East Texas. Southwestern claimed the Upshur Coop, serving 10 North East Texas counties, had no authority to discontinue buying power and to start generating its own. All matters in dispute reportedly were settled.

An Austin district court refused the Houston House of Tobacco's request for a temporary restraining order to retain its distributor's permit. But it set a November 12 hearing on an injunction to keep the State Comptroller from revoking the permit. Firm's operator was charged with participating in cigarette tax stamp fraud scheme said to run into millions of dollars.

El Paso Electric Company is challenging constitutionality of state gross receipts tax on its energy sales in El Paso, Van Horn and Anthony. It seeks a $300,000 refund in appeal to the Third Court of Civil Appeals here.

COLLEGE GROWTH

The 32 junior colleges which are supported in part by state money gained 16.7 per cent in enrollments this fall.

Growth of community colleges was even greater than state colleges and universities, which checked in 144,309 students, a gain of 9.4 per cent over last year.

New emphasis on the need for higher education, plus the simple fact that the bumper "war baby crop" is reaching college age, accounts for growth.

Community colleges, to give vocational and technical courses, are a major part of the recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School. Need for at least a dozen new community colleges is indicated.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said a section of the state driver responsibility law requiring "immediate" surrender of driver licenses when accident liability requirements are not met is unconstitutional. Department of Public Safety said it still is unlawful for anyone to refuse to surrender a suspended or revoked license.

In other opinions, Carr held that El Paso Commissioners have no authority to lease the county coliseum to individuals for a furniture sale; construction of a highway bridge with fender system which may interfere with a landowner's access to a navigable stream is not unconstitutional seizure of property; the State Board of Plumbing Examiners has authority to set minimum apprenticeship period for license applicants and to adopt necessary rules.

A committee of legislators and citizens headed by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake is considering a recommendation to the Legislature in the field of soil and water conservation.

A daylong hearing revealed that oil and water regulatory bodies don't mix. Spokesmen for oil companies want the law clarified so their salt water disposals are regulated only by the Railroad Commission. Bill Abington, counsel for the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, outlined that view.

But J. W. Buchanan of Dallas, pollution control chairman of the Texas Water Conservation Association, felt differently. He thought the Texas Water Commission should be given the power to veto applications for salt water disposal in to the ground, as a means of making sure that underground water supplies are not polluted.

Committee will meet again to reach decisions on this and other proposals before it.

For a while last week end it looked like we might just get a perfect score — but Houston tied Florida State (a loss for us) and Air Force took UCLA. All local predictions were correct, leaving us a score of 8 out of 10 for the week, and 49 out of 80 for the season. At least our head is above the water.

This week is looks like this: Anson over Haskell; Ballinger over Stamford; Winters over Stamford; Arkansas over SMU; Baylor over Kentucky; Houston over Penn State; Rice over A. and M.; Texas over TCU; Tex. Tech over Wash. State; Arizona over Texas Western.

Saturday Hunt Aids Sportsmen

Providing hunters with convenient week end opening times has been a major accomplishment of the Parks and Wildlife Department this fall, according to J. Weldon Watson, executive director.

The Department acted to get the nimrods on location on Saturdays. Some privileges are controlled by state law and, in that area, the Department could not act, he said.

A leading provision within the purview of the Department was in ordering the deer season open on Saturday, November 14, in most of the 152 counties under regulatory authority of the Department.

The remaining counties are controlled directly by the general law and the deer season, in most of them, opens on the traditional November 16, which this year falls on a Monday. Therefore in some adjoining counties the openers may differ by two days or more.

Other breaks for the week end hunters included:

Geese and brant, October 31; Mourning doves, South Zone, September 26;

White-winged doves, on successive Saturdays, September 5 and 12;

Wild turkeys, in most counties with open season under regulatory authority, November 14; Quail, where under regulatory authority, November 14;

Antelope, began on a Saturday, October 3;

Elk season, under regulatory authority, November 28;

Public deer hunts on wildlife areas, Kerr, November 14; Black Gap, November 28; Engeling, last of two hunts, January 2; and Sierra Diablo, November 28. The Matador quail hunt opened on Saturday, October 31.

The sandhill crane season in parts of West Texas, opened on October 31.

IN DEIKE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Winford Carey and daughters, Janet and Janice and Cathy of Baytown left Friday after a few days visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Deike.

Take a small Gulf Coast fishing village rich in historical lore, boasting miles and miles of attractive public beaches, the magic lure of the open sea, and an abundance of year-round sunshine, combine these with an area population fired with unbounded enthusiasm — and what do you have?

You have Brazosport, Texas, U. S. A. — an industrial vacation playground on the Texas Gulf Coast.

Brazosport is no single town. It is an area composed of Freeport, Lake Jackson, Clute, Lake Barbara and Richwood, plus residential areas of Jones Creek, Oyster Creek, Surfside Gulf Park and historic Quintana, which are drawn together by a giant industrial complex and many luring attractions provided by nature.

It also is a dream! In fact it is many individual dreams fostered by enthusiasm and the push of several gifted individuals and interwoven into one giant dream designed to improve, build and create a large, more attractive area. But here in the Brazosport area a dream is coming true!

Brazosport did not develop into what it is today without hard work and the vision of individuals combined with the enthusiasm and belief of an area people. They knew what they had to offer both industry and pleasure-seeking visitors.

Stephen F. Austin landed his first Texas colonists at Quintana in 1822. Since that date people have converged on the area to settle and enjoy vacation visits.

Commerce became a vital artery in the life-blood of Brazosport in 1824 when Mexico recognized Quintana as the Port of Entry. Since then boats have piled the mighty Brazos River, the Intracoastal Canal and the open sea, joining inland Texas and the years industry located there to take advantage of the natural transportation facility. Today, the new, modern facilities of Brazos Harbor accommodate the largest ships afloat.

Brazoria County is rich in Texas History. Texas' first capitol was built in West Columbia in 1836. In the same year, Gen. Santa Anna signed the Treaties of Peace with the Republic of Texas at Velasco, four years after the famous "Battle of Velasco."

Today Brazosport is a bustling, dynamic area comprising industry, shipping and the varied attractions of the Gulf. It provides excellent river, bay and deep sea fishing, swimming, boating, skiing and beach camp outs.

Industrial giants include the Texas Division of the Dow Chemical Company, whose two plants employ some 5,500 persons; Phillips Petroleum Company's Sweeny refinery; E. J. Lavino and Company; and Nalco Chemical Company. In 1960 these giants were joined by the U. S. Office of the Saline Water's first demonstration plant to produce fresh water from sea water.

Deep sea fishing off Brazosport is indeed as "fabulous" as described by the Chamber of Commerce.

It knows no "season." Party boat fishing fleets — provided by such concerns as Raymond Muchowich's Party Boats, Inc., and Crosby's Party Boats — operate the year-round. Deep sea catches of red snapper, the taking of King Mackerel in the bays, and the thrill of landing the Brazos River's flashing tarpon have spread the fame of the area around the globe.

Coastal housing development are providing more interest in the area "living quarters." The Breeze Harbor Marina, a new $1,000,000 development, furnishes the utmost in marine service and luxurious channel-side homes!

South of Freeport is Bryan Beach Development offering sea homes on an intricate canal and lake system which has been described by Texas Parade as "An American Venice."

Far to the north of Freeport, at San Luis pass, the Treasure Island Development Corporation has opened a vast area of homes and beach to sea-lovers.

If all of this is the present, what is left for the future? More development is the answer — thanks to an enlightened and enthusiastic public.

Soon to be started — within the next two years — will be a mammoth steel bridge spanning San Luis Pass. It will join Galveston County and Brazoria County.

Galveston County will erect a huge structure as a toll bridge. Brazoria County residents will meet their half of the obligation by voting a bond issue to build a 14 mile hardtop road connecting Brazosport with the bridge.

When completed, this road and bridge network will provide a straight-shoot access from

Ronald Dunnam Assigned To San Diego Duty

Ronald C. Dunnam, seaman apprentice, USN son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady L. Dunnam of Winters, reported Oct. 22 for duty with the Commissary Department of the Naval Administrative Command, Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The two thousand Navy men and women assigned to the Administrative Command carry out its role of providing support services to the center's Service School and Recruit Training Commands, which together train 68,000 sailors annually.

The services include many functions which would be found in a city of 20,000 people, the present military population of the center. In addition to providing food, clothing and shelter, the Administrative Command provides police and fire protection, educational facilities, communications, utilities, and religious services to the Naval Training Center community.

Venison Tips Provided By Game Expert

Deer hunters are urged by the Parks and Wildlife Department to be sure their deer reaches the table in top condition.

Field care and proper storage are essential, said E. A. Walker, assistant director for wildlife. Often hunters are so enthusiastic about the thrill and excitement of the hunt they neglect the meat.

"Now is the time to plan ahead to be sure you know what to do after the shot," said Walker.

Recommended equipment for the deer hunter includes a sharp, suitable knife, a length of rope for hanging the deer, some string or a rubber band to attach your license tag, and a good supply of salt if you plan to keep the hide for leather.

Immediate field dressing of deer right where it falls is very important to protect the flavor of the meat. Not only will this keep the gastric juices from getting into the meat but it will allow the carcass to cool faster.

Temperature of venison is very critical. It should never be hung in direct sunshine and it should be placed in refrigeration as soon as possible, especially during the warmer days of the season.

The hunter who drives into town with a deer draped over his hood or fender is shouting to all that he has had a successful hunt, but he may end up with poor quality venison. Heat from the sun and the car's engine can ruin meat in a short time. The trunk offers much cooler storage.

Skinning is not necessary in the field unless the weather is especially hot or the hunter is planning to stay several days in the field.

If you plan to keep your venison in a home freezer rather than take it to a commercial plant, wash the carcass thoroughly after skinning. While washing and skinning, be sure to cut out all discolored areas around the impact point of the bullet.

Aging venison is a recommended procedure since it makes the meat more tender and adds flavor to the meat. Best aging is in a controlled temperature of 34 degrees to 36 F. for three to seven days, depending on the time your deer was kept out of refrigeration and your individual taste.
