

HOME TOWN Talk

The frost's been on the pecan tree these past few mornings, serving as a reminder of just how late it really is. We edge from summertime into early fall without too much notice or effort, and not even the noise of the crinkle of early-fallen leaves serves to arouse us from our apparent unconcern as we tread our familiar paths, day after day. Until, suddenly, we look around and fall has almost slipped into winter, the heavy frosts have begun their earnest stripping of the leaves, local football games are over, Turkey Day is here, deer hunters have gone and have returned with their tales, and the bells of the Christmas season are about to be tolled. Then, and only then, do we all break into double-time to try to catch up with the seasons; try to get things done which should have been done earlier. It's getting late.

We used to think that the Christmas season—as all other seasons—was controlled by the phases of the moon. But apparently it is controlled by advertising copy writers and tv commercial shouting, because the warnings to get it done early have been sounded for several weeks now. So we'll add our little pitch—get your shopping done early, and a good place to do it is right here in Winters, where there are no shuffling entries it is controlled by advertisements to contend with and where you can be assured personal attention to your wants and needs by your neighbors.

We don't lean toward excessive weight—but that could be changed if things keep happening the way they have these past few days. For instance, Mrs. Whitlow, who runs the school cafeteria, brought a few sample doughnuts down a few days ago—good for a lot of calories. Then this week the Lions Club was treated to the annual Thanksgiving dinner, turkey and dressing, etc. We ate so much of that cornbread dressing that the good ladies of the Home Demonstration Club, who prepare the meals, decided to make our whole afternoon an enjoyable one . . . they fixed us up a couple of dressing sandwiches for an afternoon snack.

Kathryn Duff of the Abilene Reporter-News has been discussing the various ways in which the soon-to-be-abandoned missile silos in this area can be put to use, now that Uncle Sam has decided they're not needed to help ward off the commies. Our friend out on Bluff Creek figures that one of them could be pulled up and laid under his creek. There's not much use for a tunnel under the creek at the present time, he points out, but it could become a tourist attraction—much like the old covered bridges still exploited in some of the northeastern states.

Every time we hear someone discussing the high cost of sending a kid to college, coupled with the fact they've got another payment due on the tv set, or possibly a new set of tires to buy for the car the kid drives when he's off "to college," we are reminded of an earlier year and an example of determination seldom equaled.

Back in the middle years of the Big Depression, a personal acquaintance set out to get a college education. Armed with a tuition scholarship, gained through long hours of study under a kerosene lamp, this would-be college student, who happened to be a teenage girl, packed all her extra clothing in a small paper sack and headed for college, 80 miles away. She caught a ride half-way with friends, then bought a bus ticket to ride in luxury the rest of the way.

She arrived in the college town with a heart full of hope and a half-dollar. Applying for a job in one of the college dining halls, she was told that she would have to have a white "smock" to wait on tables. A friend cut up a lodge ceremonial robe to make her a smock, so she would have a job to pay for her meals. Then she got a job helping to clean up the dormitory to pay for her bed. She later got a part-time job in a laundry. The thought of someone else bearing all the burden, or expecting the "government" to take care of her, was foreign to her. But she got an education.

Today, many years and a grown family later, this "depression" (Continued on page 8)

Fire Safety Program Presented At Local High School By Farm Bureau

"Fires don't just happen, they are caused," Joe Smetena, Safety Director of the Texas Farm Bureau, pointed out in a graphic fire demonstration held Thursday, Nov. 19, at Winters High School. He went on to name the three causes for most fires: "men, women and children."

In the 45-minute program Smetena used a variety of demonstration equipment and materials placed on tables 16 feet in length to dramatize seven basic facts about fire, its use, and control. The seven facts are: what fire is; how to control fires; the fact that nothing is fire-proof; kitchen fires and their control; fuel vapors; the power of petroleum products; and household wiring and overloaded electrical circuits.

Using a "fire triangle board," Smetena illustrated that fire is like a three legged stool—it can not work with one of the legs missing. The "legs" fire depends on are fuel, heat and air. He stated that in American homes the three things come together in a deadly and destructive combination every 57 seconds—an average of 1,500 home fires every day, causing more than 5,000 deaths in home fires every year.

Creating quite a loud explosion from one single drop of gasoline, Smetena stated that one gallon of gasoline contains approximately 155,000 drops and under ideal conditions, could produce an explosion force equal to the power of at least 30 sticks of dynamite.

After demonstrating how fire can be caused by overloaded electrical circuits and improper fusing, Smetena pointed out that many fires of this type are blamed on faulty wiring. He suggested that "faulty thinking" is more often involved more often than "faulty wiring."

The demonstration, which was brought to the Winters High School under the sponsorship of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, is part of a long-range fire prevention program now being conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department.

Roger Babson Says—

Many American Families Now Able To "Spend the Winter in Florida"

Babson Park, Mass. This column is not intended as advice to readers that this is the time to buy land in Florida. There certainly are such times, but Florida land ideally should be bought when public interest in "going to Florida" is much less keen than at present. Furthermore, the land to own is that on the seacoast or bordering large rivers or other bodies of water. For a great many years there will be plenty of land obtainable in the interior of Florida, but there can never be much more land than at present on the Florida seacoast, east or west.

The Cold Dry Summer in the North

Most of us living in the United States have spent one of the driest and coolest summers for over 30 years. Therefore many of us—especially in the eastern half of the nation—will be heading for Florida as soon as we can, by train or airplane, by bus or automobile. Unless some unexpected deterrent event occurs, Florida will have the largest influx of visitors it has ever had.

There are various reasons for this. Perhaps the foremost is the prosperity of the people of the North. "Going to Florida in the winter" continues to be an attainable luxury for a good many families. These are families who set aside a certain amount of money each month during the year for entertainment, and will use a part of this Unerringly she puts her finger on excitement and stirs it. She's discovered the freedom of living in a Total Electric Gold Medallion home. She has time for civic duties without leaving her house and family unattended. She is a member of the young married set. Dozens of reliable electric servants stand ready at all times, and with their help, her home stays fresh and clean as spring-time the whole year round.

Total Electric Gold Medallion homes may be any size, style, or price, as long as they meet electrical requirements. to go to Florida for a while this winter.

Labor Union Contracts
Also many of the labor union contracts now have "triple" benefits which favor their senior workers to the extent that they are able to take a vacation in the winter. This does not necessarily mean that they will all go to Florida, California, New Mexico, Arizona, Hawaii, and other such states also offer an attractive climate. Florida, is nearest for those in the eastern half of the country.

Practically all of the families who can enjoy such a winter vacation have automobiles. Many of them enjoy traveling by auto to a warmer climate, and will include the trip as part of their vacation. It seems certain that Florida will receive a portion—if not the major—portion of the senior labor union members. Taken all together, Florida, California, and some of the other southwestern states should have the greatest influx of winter population this year that they have ever enjoyed.

Labor Union Developments
Several of the labor unions have, with government aid, bought large tracts of land and developed them as small towns. The letter carriers, for instance, are building such a settlement about fifteen miles east of Lake Wales. Here they have constructed apartment houses which the members can rent. This particular development includes a post office, a library, a social hall, and every convenience for movies, dances, and other forms of community entertainment. This settlement is enterprising, and usually furnishes a column of news on events in the area which appears in the two Lake Wales newspapers.

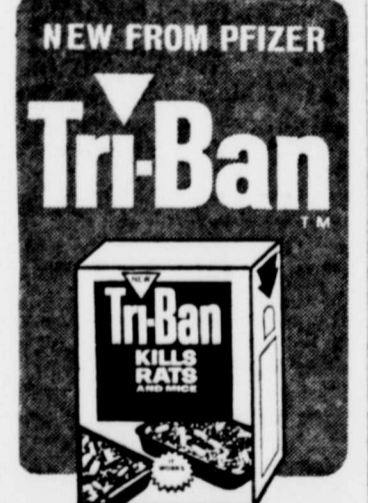

Several similar developments are being planned, especially for the west coast of Florida south of Sarasota. Improvements of this sort are healthy indications for Florida, as they bring to the state year-round citizens who are receiving pension checks from the North every month to supplement whatever they may be able to earn in the South.

Final Recommendation
Neither Florida, California, nor any other tourist state should urge people from the North to go and settle in their area unless these people have some income arriving regularly from their "home" area that they could depend upon in the event of sickness or other difficulty which would involve unexpected expense.

And certainly, any persons making their first visit to Florida, California, or other states, mentioned above should travel around and see various sections of the state—even of the nation—before making the ultimate decision and settling anywhere.

MOVIES

"Hud"
"Hud," a powerful contemporary drama concerning a family of Texas ranchers, starring Paul Newman in the title role, Melvyn Douglas, Patricia Neal and Brandon de Wilde, will show Saturday only at the State Theatre. Based on the Larry McMurty novel, "Horseman, Pass By," the Paramount production is one of that studio's major attractions — a boldly realistic story of strong personalities in conflict, set in today's rugged cattle country.

"The Lively Set"
Universal's "The Lively Set," picture blend of fascination in color is an exciting motion picture blend of fascinating young stars and fast moving cars. Showing Thursday and Friday at the State Theatre the well-plotted story, which integrates two romances, five catchy song numbers, and the thrill of fast moving automobiles in breath-taking racing sequences, proved topnotch for all.
Real people make "The Lively Set" move rapidly from the first scene between college students James Darren and Doug McClure to the final fadeout with Darren and McClure married to Pamela Tiffin and Joanie Sommers respectively, finishing their university education at Michigan Tech.

"Good Neighbor Sam"
Jack Lemmon returns to the State Theatre on Sunday in "Good Neighbor Sam," as a helpful young husband with two "wives" in what Hollywood regards as one of the most hilarious marital romps ever brought to the screen. Involved are Viennese beauty Romy Schneider as the girl next door, and lovely blonde Dorothy Provine as Lemmon's wife.
The setting is a San Francisco suburb and the reason for all the excitement—and there reportedly is an amazing, and hilarious, amount of it—is the fact that Miss Schneider will inherit a multi-million dollar fortune if she is living happily with her husband.

A SPECIAL QUINTET—This Yellowstone Park female bear gave birth recently to quadruplets, shown to the left of mom. The quadruple births are a rarity.

7655 Bales of Cotton Moved To Warehouse Here

Cotton harvesting was about at a standstill last week, with fall rains keeping pickers out of the fields. Little cotton was reported gathered the first couple of days this week.

Winters Compress and Warehouse reports receipt of 7655 bales from the 1964 crop. This cotton was ginned by the two Winters gins and the Wingate gin.

It is estimated that this year's cotton crop is about 85 percent gathered.

According to the Agricultural Marketing Service, Cotton Division, in Abilene, grades of cotton from District 2 — Coleman, Runnels, Taylor, Nolan, Mitchell, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Kent, Stonewall and Dickens Counties — were about the same as they were the two previous weeks. Eighteen percent of the samples were white, 72 percent was light spotted and 10 percent was spotted. About 2 percent of the samples were reduced in grade due to bark and grass.

Cotton market activity was steady last week. Gross price received by producers for middling light spotted cotton ranged from 40 to 75 points above loan value while strict low middling light spotted and lower grades of cotton brought 80 to 125 points premium. The demand for middling cotton was not good.

Ferdinand Hassler, a Swiss engineer, made the first coast and harbor survey for the U. S. in 1816.

State Capital Highlights—

Many Texas Military Bases To Be "Cut Back" In Economy Move

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

State Representatives who were sworn to the 1965 Legislature on Monday have military matters very much on their minds. Constituencies of those lawmakers with military bases in their districts stand to be affected by both Federal and State proposals.

Some lawmakers were sworn in with the knowledge that many Federal workers in their district stand to lose their jobs by U. S. Defense Department cut-backs. Operations will be cut out at James Connally Air Force Base in Abilene and Eagle Mountain Army maintenance facility at Fort Worth.

San Antonio bases and Carswell AFB at Fort Worth stand to gain by the big shift. And that also will present new problems for State Representatives.

Bob Johnson, executive director of the Texas Legislative Council, believes the Legislature could — if it chose — leave out military and State hospital populations in deciding the "population" of a county for redistricting purposes.

By State constitutional provision, persons in State mental hospitals cannot vote, not can persons in military service who enlisted in other states. Therefore, they could be left out of population totals if the Congressional redistricting goal of "one man, one vote" is considered paramount.

However, Johnson conceded that the mathematics involved in paring down population in communities as heavily militarized as, say, Bexar County, might become so complicated that the Legislature would choose to proceed on full population figures.

LBJ RANCH

Orders involving President Johnson's ranch home near Stonewall from the Parks and Wildlife Commission and the State Highway Commission raised the question of whether tourists from Texas and elsewhere ever will get glimpses of the President at his "little White House" as Washington, D. C.,

REDISTRICTING

Congressional redistricting, one of the major problems facing the 1965 Legislature, may cause a headache for legislators whose districts embrace bases.

THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE
Winters, Texas

visitors enjoy at the big White House.

Parks and Wildlife Commission authorized creation of a Lyndon B. Johnson State Park directly across from the LBJ Ranch. Commission said the proposed park—located on some 245 acres between Ranch Road 1 and Highway 290—would be created in cooperation with Gillespie County. Commission does not have authority to condemn land for parks but the County does.

The question came up a day later when the Texas Highway Commission granted the U. S. Secret Service's requested authority to restrict traffic on that part of Ranch Road 1 when President Johnson is there — in the interest of presidential safety.

The President returned home last Thursday and is due to remain on the LBJ Ranch until after Thanksgiving.

BORDER DISPUTE

Gov. John Connally, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler and Attorney Wilson Fox of Taylor, members of the State School Land Board, filed a protest with Louisiana's Board of Mineral Development over the Sabine River border dispute.

Area in dispute is the western half of the Sabine River and Sabine Lake and a pie-shaped wedge of the Gulf of Mexico pointed at the mouth of the Sabine and widening sharply until it reaches the line three miles out where Louisiana's offshore boundary lies. Beyond that point, the area extends to Texas' outer offshore boundary of 10.5 miles.

Controversy grew out of Louisiana's offer of two oil and gas lease tracts which lie in an area claimed by Texas, but also claimed by Louisiana. Governor Connally has requested Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr be brought into discussions, so he will be fully informed should the dispute travel to the U. S. Supreme Court.

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

A study of UT's Bureau of Business Research's monthly reports on industrial growth from January through November shows that a total of 611 plant locations and significant plant expansions were announced for Texas in those 11 months.

The Houston metropolitan area led all others with 126 new plants and expansions; Dallas with 81 was next; and Fort Worth followed with 65. However, there were dozens of little towns which boasted big industrial boosts.

COLLEGE FUNDS PLAN ADOPTED

Education has adopted a plan for distribution of $11,700,000 in federal building funds among 90 junior and senior colleges in 1965.

Forty-five per cent of points allocated to schools under the system must be based on projected enrollment increases and utilization of existing facilities.

Formal applications of schools can be submitted after the U. S. Office of Education approves the state plan — probably about December 1. January 15 is the deadline for applications.

RIO GRANDE WATER ESTIMATED

Texas Water Commission has estimated Rio Grande Valley has water supplies to irrigate up to 680,000 acres over the requirement for municipal and industrial purposes.

Commission figured 124,000 - acre feet annually would be needed for municipal and industrial uses. Report was written for the attorney general who is participating in a giant lawsuit over Rio Grande water rights involving Starr, Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy Counties.

OIL ALLOWABLE

Texas Railroad Commission set December oil allowable at 29 per cent of maximum for pro-rated wells, compared to 28.5 per cent in November.

Increase is expected to be 29,914 barrels a day higher than the estimated November average of 2,541,909 barrels a day.

TB CONTROL PLAN MAPPED

A sweeping new plan for tuberculosis control aimed at consolidating all TB services under one agency and providing treatment of patients close to home has been recommended by the Governor's Committee on TB Eradication.

Committee found the state's program, now divided among four agencies and costing some $16,200,000 a year, not equal to the job at hand. It proposes placing all related activities in the TB Services Division of the State Health Department.

Recommended treatment procedures, calling for shorter hospitalization but careful at-home treatment after the infectious period is passed and a lifetime "follow-up", would cost more but would be more effective, the committee believes.

COURTS SPEAK

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld most of a trial jury's verdict against three East Texas oilmen penalized $304,800 for slant well drilling. Court held that the production penalty was in error because the State and Railroad Commission had not established number of production days from the slanted well, and reversed that portion of a district court's ruling.

Supreme Court held lower courts were wrong in refusing Fort Worth an injunction to block an apartment structure in an area zoned for single and two-family dwellings.

Constitutionality of a 1963 law providing state regulation of Texas border liquor exporting firms was attacked in arguments before Third Court of Civil Appeals. Law set a stiff licensing fee and other requirements.

SHORT SNORTS

Uniform shell dredging regulations for Texas coastal bays may result from a Parks and Wildlife Commission decision on an application by Heldenfels Bros. of Corpus Christi to dredge for shell in Copano Bay.

School Land Board may increase royalty charged producers on mineral leases which it has extended. Attorney General Carr held in an opinion.

State Health Department reports only six cases of paralytic polio in Texas this year, five of which were children four or under.

A study released by Texas Research League recommends a new finance building to house the State Comptroller and Treasurer and close cooperation between State and City of Austin in future capitol area planning.

City of Paris application to appropriate 61,610-acre feet of water annually from Proposed Pay Mayse Reservoir on Sanders Creek in Lamar County has been set by Texas Water Commission for December 17.

Valley Mental Facility Pledged

State Hospital Board was informed that a new in-patient mental treatment facility, for the Lower Rio Grande Valley, will be provided in the near future.

Dr. C. J. Ruilmann, director of mental health and hospitals, said such a service is under consideration. It is to be patterned after the local participation "contract care" recently made available in Beaumont, El Paso and Lubbock.

Board members accepted a $225,000 grant by the Moody Moody Foundation of Galveston to construct a regional diagnostic center for mentally retarded children at new Richmond State School. Center was a claim by Board Chairman Howard T. Tellepsen as a "Major breakthrough in cooperation between state and private agencies to combat mental retardation."

SEARCH for SECURITY ...

In these times there is a longing for security. The best security on earth is the earth — especially if you have a plot of ground on which you have built a home. There you will find happiness and more real security than any other investment will provide.

The use value of a home never changes. It is a dependable anchor in good times or bad. It is always marketable, if you want to sell. But most people build a home to live in — and to enjoy. It is the biggest investment for most families — also the best.

Own your home. Let us help if you need financing. A sound financial program is the first step. And the basis of a sound financial program is to establish credit through an account in a conservative bank of dependability.

Handy Cartridge Container
An inexpensive plastic cigarette case makes a fine .22 cartridge container. It's lightweight, fits into your pocket and costs little.

Cooking Small-Boned Fish
Here's how some cooks prepare fish which have a lot of real small bones:
Cut the fish into chunks and run through a meat grinder, on coarse setting. Mix the chopped up fish in cracker meal to absorb the moisture.

*Run this through the grinder again, only this time set on fine grind.
Result will be an easily handled substance that can be shaped into patties. Dip in egg batter and fry.

Reloading the .22 Rifle
Here's a quick way to load a .22 rifle having a tubular magazine. Just pre-pack the cartridges in a large-size soda straw and twist the ends closed. In the field, tear off one end of the straw and pour the ready-stacked hulls inside the tube. Pack as many straws as you think you might need.

Shh! Quiet Man
Mr. Deer Hunter: Cover with adhesive tape keys, loose change, cartridges, anything that might clank at the wrong time. Big bucks will hate you.

Deflating Air Mattress
Deflating an air mattress takes several minutes and no small amount of work. Here's an easy way to do it:

On the morning you plan to break camp, turn the air valve as you lie in bed. Then take 40 winks while the mattress lets you down. When the air is gone, roll up the mattress and you're ready to go.

Another Use For Pipe Cleaners
Attach sinkers with a pipe cleaner cut in half and you can twist 'em off and on in less time than it takes to tell it.

Double-Duty Matches
If you cut the stems of matches in two, you can carry twice as many in your water-proof match container.

Snell Hook Holder
A good way to keep snelled hooks in your tackle box or pocket is to coil snell neatly and wrap hook and snell in masking tape.

This rig will not deteriorate, won't get damaged and won't catch and tangle in clothes or other gear.

Carpet Reduces Noise
More and more fishermen are lining the bottoms of their cutal boats with old carpet. Cutal down noise that might spook a wary fish.

Aid to Line Spooling
Wind new monofilament on your reel by putting the line spool in a bucket.

Helps a lot in cutting down tangles, snarls and knots.

Foil Increases Lantern Light
You'll be surprised how much more light a regular gasoline lantern throws out if you line half of it with aluminum foil. Then too, the light can be directed where you want it.

Corn Attracts Worms
An ear of corn buried in a moist corner of your garden will gather worms like a magnet.

Single Edge Blades Useful
Carry a single edge razor blade (in a safety wrapper of course) for quick field dressing of small game. It is sharper than a knife and easier to handle. A half dozen take up but little space.

Use Shells for Sinkers
Loop a short piece of wire into an empty .22 shell and fill with lead. Makes a good, light

GOOD SCOUT AT THE HELM—Explorer Scout Dennis Walsh takes the wheel under guidance of Joseph Cambria, New York City fireman, aboard one of the city's harbor fireboats. The fire department-sponsored program will help Dennis learn the skills leading toward a prized firemanship merit badge.

Curry Comb Scaler
There is no better fish scaler than the curry comb used to rub down horses.

Straightening Out Line
If you have trouble spooling new monofilament on your reel, try dropping the spool into a boiling pan of water first. Hot line will pay out smoothly.

Varnish With Pipe Cleaner
When refinishing a fishing rod a pipe cleaner will be just the right size to varnish under the guides where small brushes will not reach.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to express my appreciation for the flowers, cards, gifts and visits during my stay in the hospital and to the boys' who kept the business going. My wife joins me in saying thank you. Reuben Gehrels. 1tp

Psychiatrist Will Speak At Meeting Of Runnels Ass'n.

Dr. Lloyd Downing, San Angelo psychiatrist, will speak on "The Retarded Child in the Home," at the meeting of the Runnels County Association for Retarded Children in the district courtroom at 7:30 p. m. on Dec. 3.

At the meeting of the association last Thursday, Mrs. Buddy Casey, president, gave a report to the board of directors and area vice presidents on her attendance at a meeting in Midland. The Midland meeting involved a report of Governor John Connally's appointed panel to study methods and means of combating mental retardation in Texas.

In a review of the Runnels Association, the Governor's panel pointed to the strong areas: Publicity and public education; the secretary's and vice presidents' duties; membership (one of the highest in the State); 1.2 per cent of the county population, as compared for example with Midland's 2 percent of the city population; the news letter.

Weak areas in the association as pointed out by the panel, include: Not enough people working; need for leaders to delegate jobs to others; fund raising; religious training (more ministers needed).

Mrs. Casey appointed the following committee chairmen:

The Rev. Fred Campbell and the Rev. Ralph Byers, religious activities; Buddy Casey, projects; Mack West, Abilene State School representative; Dr. William Tatum, reviewer of Texas

Freshman chemical engineering enrollment at The University of Texas is up 70 per cent this fall, reports Dr. Howard Rase, Chemical Engineering Department chairman. He said 71 freshmen are registered this year, compared with 42 during the 19-63-64 fall semester. He attributes the increase to a growing demand for more chemical engineers in the process industries, which produce such basic consumer goods as chemicals, petroleum products, pharmaceuticals, synthetic fibers, foods, plastics and metals.

Coleman REA Reduces Rates First of Year

C. L. Newton, manager of the Coleman County Electric Cooperative, announced that the Board of Directors of the Cooperative approved a reduction in electrical rates as of the first of the year. This reduction includes both the farm home and commercial rate.

The minimum charge on the farm and home rate has been decreased from $2.45 to $2.00. Also, after the consumer-member passes the 200 kilowatt-hour bracket, each additional KWH used will now cost one and one-half cent per KWH as compared to the old rate of one and three-fourth cent per KWH. Members of the Cooperative will see the first effect of the rate reduction on their February 1st bill which is for electricity used during the month of January.

This is the first rate change for the Coleman County Electric Cooperative since establishing the rates by the first board of directors in 1938. The rates are so calculated that the more electricity used, the less it will cost per KWH. This is because the electric lines will last only so long and must be paid for. The first 200 KWH represents paying for the lines and setting up money to replace it as it gets old. All electricity after 200 KWH represents the smaller extra cost of delivering power.

It is because of the continuing increase in electrical consumption that the board of directors approved the rate reduction. The KWH consumption of the Cooperative more than doubles every seven years.

The Board of Directors also approved the advance payment of three notes to Rural Electrification Administration (REA) made to the Cooperative in 1946, 1949, and 1950. The total amount of the three notes was $405,730.80. The Cooperative has already paid off ten additional notes in advance of their due dates bring the total advance payments to over one million dollars.
