HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Word of Winters and Winters' activities gets spread around all over the country. As a result, the Winters Public Library has been "adopted" by a group of students in Bakersfield, California.

Last year, the South High School Future Teachers of America in Bakersfield, heard about the Winters Public Library and decided as a service project to collect books and send to the Winters library. When the students learned what the citizens of Winters had done in order to have a public library, great interest was shown.

Last fall, Miss Genell Wiseman, secretary of South High FTA, started corresponding with Miss Myra Glover, Winters Librarian, stating that a book drive was being conducted for the library. The first box of books arrived in Winters last week. The books are fiction and non-fiction, for both children and adults. Several are sports, history, religious and biographical.

South High School in Bakersfield is one of ten high schools in the Kern County (Calif.) Union High School District, with about 1,900 students. Because of the name "South High," the students have taken Confederate customs and have chosen the nickname "Rebel."

The South High Future Teachers of America has been active this year, collecting books for the Winters Public Library, and assisting in wrapping gifts for needy families during Christmas.

The people of Winters say "thanks" to the students of South High. We accept your gift in the manner of friendship in which it is given. And we extend you this time-honored West Texas invitation, "If you're ever down our way, get down and come in and set a spell!"

Katharyn Duff, who writes the Page One column in the Abilene Reporter-News, swings a wide loop in this area she calls the Big Country, and probably will pounce with glee on a little item in the news this week from Winters. So we're going to beat her to the punch; it isn't often a chance like this crops up: When news items in the future refer to "Alderman Alderman," it won't be the result of sticking typewriter keys. Ray Alderman was elected Alderman in Tuesday's election.

Puzzled over the purpose of the white crosses painted on Main Street? Many of us have been. Their sudden appearance last week snubbed a dozen rumors; some to the effect that the crosses mark what will be the center of the street after the reworking of Highway 83 takes place; some rumors said the west edge of the street; some said the east edge; some said the crosses were to be location of traffic lights.

A simple explanation came from the Highway Department, now in process of making preliminary surveys prior to planning the work on Highway 83 contemplated in coming months. The Department will make aerial photos of the highway—which becomes Main Street when it hits Winters. From these photos they will prepare a map. Purpose of the crosses will enable map makers to properly align right-of-way boundaries.

Our old friend who tills the red dirt of Bluff Creek notes that there has been a great furor of late regarding registration of potential voters in Texas. Says that those groups who put up such a howl about registering voters seem to fail to notice the discrepancy between the numbers reported registered and the number actually voting; that it should be obvious that there are many who are figuratively left out of the registering tables couldn't care less about exercising the right to vote. Says he next expects the howlers to start pressure to change voting procedure whereby voting can be accomplished during a long period of time instead of only one day, to give everyone the same amount of time to vote as they have to register.

Roger Babson Says Answer Must Be Found To Traffic Deaths and Injuries On Highways

Babson Park, Mass. Traffic deaths and injuries are climbing steadily. This, despite the fact that auto makers are installing new and more effective safety equipment on their cars and despite the more rigid and frequent state car inspections. The death toll on our highways—which President Johnson has termed our gravest national problem next to Vietnam—poses economic as well as moral and legal questions... for which we must find answers.

The Problem Is Acute
We are concentrating, in this column, on the topic of safety equipment for cars, because rising public concern about highway deaths and injuries has centered on the question of just how safe the cars themselves are.

The problem is acute, and in the absence of swift, decisive action by agencies of the federal government, state governments are beginning to take more of a hand in probing this field. Only a few weeks ago the Attorney General of Iowa conducted hearings to determine "whether or not traffic fatalities and serious injuries can be sharply reduced" even if the number of accidents is not lowered. The Iowa hearings, held at the State Capitol in Des Moines, centered on car safety equipment or the lack of it.

What The Car Makers Say
Except for an appearance by a spokesman for their Automobile Manufacturers Association, the leading car makers boycotted the Iowa hearings. Their position is that hearings at the state level place too great a burden on the industry. Also, the mounting costs of such insurance settlements are appalling. And no computer could accurately assess just how much brainpower and manpower the nation has lost through these traffic deaths and accidents.

More Controls In The Offing
Right now, a congressional investigating subcommittee is studying the relationship between safety equipment on cars and the accident toll. Crash-injury research projects at Cornell and Harvard suggest that safer cars could be made. The industry must, then, take its responsibility more seriously. If the manufacturers are already doing their best, perhaps they should seek the help of outside engineers and researchers.

This is a grave national problem... not merely an industry problem. If the auto makers do not solve it, they will be inviting federal and state controls. And such controls — both troublesome and costly — would be bound to eat deep into industry profits.

In an average year, Texas has 3,121 forest fires which burn 162,684 acres.

Incendiarism is classified as a felony, with fines from $300 to $1,000 and/or imprisonment up to five years in the Texas penitentiary.

Texas yellow pine lumber is actually stronger pound for pound than steel.

CONG. OMAR BURLESON . . . Seeks Relection

Omar Burleson Makes Statement In Congress Race

Omar Burleson, veteran Congressman from the 17th District, today pledged a vigorous, active campaign for the Democratic Primary nomination for re-election.

In announcing his plans to seek re-election, Burleson stated he will base his campaign on the record of nearly 20 years service in Congress.

"In that time, I have never been a 'yes man' to anyone or any group, but have fulfilled my responsibility to vote on each issue for what I thought was in the best interest of our Country, our State, and our District; people have the right to expect no less," Burleson said.

Burleson is among the senior members of the U. S. House of Representatives in point of service.

His seniority has carried him to the Chairmanship of the potent House Administration Committee, and to the second position to the Chairman on the powerful House Foreign Affairs Committee. In addition, Burleson serves on two important Joint Committees formed from senior members of the House and Senate, as Chairman of one and Vice-Chairman of the other.

"In all my years in Congress," Burleson said, "I have followed two guiding principles: First, to know the views of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest degree possible in my actions as their Representative. Second, to inform and advise as closely as I can on those issues which affect our District, our State, and the Nation."

Burleson termed his approach to government as one of "common sense," gained through his years of public service.

Burleson is a former County Attorney and County Judge of Jones County. He was appointed an FBI agent, and served in a number of assignments over the U. S. He resigned from the FBI to join the Navy in World War II, with duty in both the Atlantic and the Pacific.

As a leader in Congress, Burleson has consistently urged the return to a sounder fiscal policy and the cutting of unnecessary and extravagant federal spending.

"I have tried to see that your tax money is spent as wisely, and as judiciously, as you would have spent it had you been in my place," Burleson said. "The record will definitely show that on many occasions I have found myself in the minority — especially on needless spending of the taxpayers' money. I am proud that I have never failed to exercise the right to vote and to do as I thought best."

"At every session of Congress, I have voted for expenditures below that recommended by the Executive Department, and far below that actually appropriated by the Congress, except in the field of National Defense," Burleson said.

"When it comes to the defense of this Country, I have always voted for those things calculated to make and to keep our Nation stronger than any other in the World," he said.

Burleson said he feels there are those other things for which the Government was designed and, of course, it costs money. "Such things as the conservation of our natural resources—caring for God's gifts to people that they may be preserved for future generations," he said.

Burleson also said that the individual, groups of individuals or local governmental entities are unable to cope with matters of flood control and, in many cases, an adequate water supply. "We have got to look to the future if our area progresses. For one thing, this means water is a priority concern."

"The Federal Government has assisted our area in numerous respects in coping with some of these problems. We have our share of flood control projects and our share of attention to those now in the planning stage. An example is the effort to find an answer to the flood threat in Abilene and several other places.

"An example of other Federal activity in our area is, of course, our military installations, new Post Office buildings and other Federal interests which are proper and needed."

Further, Burleson said that he "certainly subscribes to the idea that the Government should help the elderly and those people who are unable to help themselves." Burleson has been an implacable foe of the constant encroachment of the Federal Government into the area of State and local affairs.

"As the Federal Government has grown to its colossal proportions, the threat of centralized power in Washington has increased," Burleson pointed out. "To this, I am opposed, as my actions have proved."

"Big Government and high taxes are the result of many activities of the Federal Government which should be reserved to the States. Big Government with its far-flung operations has created needless waste and extravagance."

Burleson stated he was proud of the "trust and the confidence placed in me by the people who send me to Congress—and to violate that trust in any respect would be unthinkable."

New GI Bill Will Be Effective June 1

Veterans planning to go to school under the new GI Bill do not have to rush to meet a deadline, Jack Cole, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, said today.

Although most benefits under the new Bill are effective immediately, the education benefits will not begin until June 1, 1966, Coker said.

Late in April the VA expects to have application blanks at all offices and at the admission offices in most approved schools. Veterans will have ample time to select courses and make application without losing either class time or payments from VA, Coker said.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

There are reports from various sources describing shortages of supplies to our fighting men in South Viet Nam. A number of people are writing to either state as a fact that our men are not being properly supplied, or making inquiry as to whether they are or not.

Congressman Olin E. Teague, a World War II combat veteran (and incidentally, wounded six times) has made two trips to Viet Nam and just returned from the last one recently. Teague did not sit around in Command Headquarters or in some hotel lobby in Saigon. He was out with the combat troops as near the front lines as he was permitted to go.

He has these observations: We are not short of any critical supplies such as ammunition, medical and clothing. The Department of Defense has recently issued a new type of jungle uniform with jungle boots. All men have at least one of this type of new gear and everyone will soon have two. Some prefer the old uniform since the new type is of nylon and some say it is hotter.

New pieces of electronic equipment being used by our troops are preventing many of the ambushes which occurred earlier in the fighting. For instance, one enables a man to use the light of the stars to see a far distance into the darkness. This is brand new, and although not all the troops have one, they are on the way. Teague, who is an inquisitive observer and who recognizes the quality and quantity of combat equipment, says that there is no shortage of critical supplies.

There is always a problem of getting guns, ammunition, food and other combat necessities at exactly the right place at the right time. This has always been true in all wars and will likely be true in all others. The fact remains that we have the most mobile forces in anybody's history.

Those on the spot describe a rather desperate situation with harbor facilities in South Viet Nam. Every ship must go 60 miles up the Saigon River to unload at Saigon. The harbor is jammed with ships thicker than those at the channel at Houston. This 60 miles traverses through Viet Cong Territory. A new harbor is being built near DaNang, another one in Thailand. The delivery of supplies is a real problem but will be greatly relieved when these two new facilities are ready.

Congressman Teague says that insofar as the use and effectiveness of planes is concerned, it depends on whom you talk to. There is every type of aircraft there, and the people who fly them even disagree. The old T-28, a propellered craft, seems to be the most effective because it is slow and the pilots contend that for the purpose of working over the jungle, it is best. There are the old C-47's, equipped with Gatling guns, which fire out the side doors, and the guns are controlled by the pilot. At 6,000 rounds per minute, they can cut through a lot of jungle. These aircraft are called in to protect small camps attacked by the Viet Cong, and most of the time they are quite effective.

Of course, there are the several hundred Jet F-100s, F102s and F104s which perform many types of missions, all well supplied.

Teague says that our Military Commanders are much concerned about Cambodia rather than Laos, being used as a sanctuary by the Communists. It seems to a lot of us, Teague agreeing, that it is about time this business of letting the Viet Cong hit and run to a sanctuary be ended.

Benefits from our forests which cannot be tagged with the dollar sign include tourist attractions, watershed protection, soil conservation, wildlife habitat and prevention of stream siltation.

Burleson Writes From Washington

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

This Is The Season For Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquets. Most speakers on these occasions usually refer to the need of such qualities as initiative, energy and imagination on the part of community leaders to make the community a better place in which to live.

Any One Of These Attributes may not be worth a lot without the other, but imagination has to come first.

Imagination Is An Idea Before It Is Born. It is a product before it is made. It is tomorrow and 1975 right before our eyes today.

It Is Indeed True That yesterday was ages ago; tomorrow is but seconds away. Perhaps it has ever been so, but it is definitely true in these times of rapid change. Problems come with prosperity and poverty. They come with unsettled affairs over the world and the expanding economy here at home. Population expansion is a big part of it. Evolution in Government, business science, medicine, —everything—the baker, the candlestick maker—all call for imagination in meeting problems created by it.

This Is The Same Imagination which sailed with Columbus as he steered over a dark and turbulent sea. It is a rickety plane that flew that day at Kitty Hawk and the spaceship that will probably put a man on the Moon.

It is The Method Devised By Ingenious Doctors which helps the stricken heart continue to beat. Everywhere we can see what was once someone's imagination. We can see what Alexander Graham Bell "saw" each time we use the telephone.

Thomas A. Edison Thought Of Bottling Electricity in a glass long before he invented the electric light bulb.

With Change Come Challenges. Imagination and invention without being applied would not be very profitable. Ideas of good government and community improvement are not very worthwhile without the energy and know-how of putting them into effect. Like inventions which grow into a great business, ideas must be carried forward to grow into better things for more people.

Everywhere We See New Products Which Create New Markets—establish new brands. A fairly large super market today furnishes a choice of over 8,000 items. Two-thirds are either brand new or have been basically improved in the last eight years.

More than 90,000 accidental deaths and about 45 million accidental injuries occur each year in the United States.

New Tax Tables Available Soon

New tax withholding tables and instructions for the 65 to 70 million million persons who will be affected by the Tax Adjustment of 1966 are en route to the IRS Regional Service Centers for labeling and mailing, IRS District Director Ellis Campbell of Dallas has announced. The rates at which tax is withheld have been revised to more closely approximate the rates upon which year-end liability is based.

ed. However, this is not a tax increase, since the taxpayer's total yearly liability will not be affected.

Although new withholding rates will not become effective until May 1, IRS is expediting information to give employers and employees maximum time to adjust to the new withholding system.

The Things We Say

By Ruby Shannon

At a writers' conference at the University of Oklahoma, a prominent editor was telling her audience how to write: "Some people," she said, "will tackle a subject without knowing any more about it than Adam's Off-Ox."

That night this same editor was on a question and answer panel and she was asked this question: "Who was Adam and what was his Off-Ox?" Oddly enough, the informative editor did not know. "It's just an expression my mother used," she said. "It means you don't know anything."

The expression probably originated from an older saying. "I wouldn't know him from Adam." The older expression is explained as meaning that Adam was created and did not have a navel, and since he wore a fig leaf, it would be easy to distinguish him from other men.

But that doesn't explain about the ox. I asked a friend who is somewhat older than I am, and this is what he told me: "When people used oxen to pull a wagon or a plow, a new ox was trained or broke by being hitched to the left oxen and walking along beside him."

will be required. The City of Winters reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive informalities or technicalities.

Attention is called to the fact that minimum wage rates have been established as required by law and set out in detail in the specifications.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

When John Eliot translated the Bible into the native language of the Algonquian Indians in Massachusetts, he used the word "mugkiomp" meaning "great man" or chieftain instead of "duke" in Genesis 36:15. "These were the dukes of the sons of Esau..." The word "mugwump" was being used in 1832 in an ironical sense as one who would like to be considered a chieftain or vastly important man.

In the presidential campaign of 1884, many Republicans thought themselves too virtuous to support James G. Blaine and they were called "mugwumps," which meant they were independent Republicans.

In 1936 a politician defined "mugwump" as a little bird sitting on the fence with his head on one side and his wump on the other. The newspapers made much of this definition and, since then, anyone who fails to vote according to the policies of his political party, whether it be Republican or Democrat, is considered a "mugwump," and it is said of him that his head is where is wump ought to be.

"When the Boys Meet the Girls" There is rousing, song-filled entertainment for everyone in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's exuberant Panavision and color musical, "When the Boys Meet the Girls," which has a brilliant roster of show business headliners and a foot-tapping musical score, ranging from all-time-great Gershwin song hits to Dixieland and Rock 'n' Roll.

Headed by Connie Francis, America's most popular songstress, and Harve Presnell in his first singing role since "Unsinkable Molly Brown," the talent-studded cast of this liting fun frolic also stars Herman's Hermits, Britain's sensational recording group in their screen debut; Sam the Sham and the Pharaohs, another enormously popular rock 'n' Roll combo; Liberace in his famous gold-sequined jacket, and the incomparable Louis Armstrong, celebrating his 50th year as a jazz musician.

Shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre.

"Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion" It is more exciting to see climbers conquer a mountain peak than to see them fall 5,000 feet to the valley below. It is more exciting to see a species of animal saved from extinction than to see it killed by a hunter.

This is the philosophy that has guided the 20-year motion picture career of producer Ivan Tors. One of the few men in Hollywood who devotes himself to entertainment for the entire family, Tors has been responsible for such successes as the "Flipper" films and TV series and the motion picture, "Rhino!"

His latest MGM movie is "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion," telling of the misadventures of a cock-eyed king of beasts, with Marshall Thompson, Betsy Drake, Richard Hayden and Cheryl Miller in the leading roles.

"Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion," shows Saturday night only at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

"What's New Pussycat?" Charles K. Feldman's "What's New Pussycat?," a frantic, far-out farce and free-wheeling romance, starring Peter Sellers, Peter O'Toole, Romy Schneider, Capucine, Paula Prentiss, Woody Allen and guest star Ursula Andress, will show Sunday night only at the Fiesta Theatre.

Roger Babson Says—

"Medicare" To Cause Great Impact Upon Hospital Facilities

Babson Park, Mass. Just a short while ago, Look Magazine published a very revealing article on the type of care which Americans can expect from hospitals generally throughout the land. It was frightening, to say the least. Inefficiency, ineptness and downright carelessness on the part of both nurses and doctors were featured. Many have since rushed to the defense of the profession. But what we should all be worrying about is the added coming impact of medicare.

Almost Upon Us
If the quality and the quantity of medical care are open to criticism now... what will be the situation when the avalanche of elderly patients needing treatment starts hitting the wards and nursing homes July 1st? That is less than three short months away. Studies of statistical data suggest that conditions may become chaotic in some areas.

The first wave of our senior citizens who will seek "free" hospitalization under medicare will be a big one. Naturally those who can postpone a visit until Uncle Sam will pay the bill are going to wait for July 1. But doctors look for an even bigger flood tide of the elderly to knock on hospital doors at the first cold blasts of autumn. That is the season when aches, pains, and respiratory diseases really kick up.

Subsiding Facts
Hospital beds in non-federal-government institutions are estimated to be about 750,000.

Our only close guidepost to what may be expected is the history of socialized medicine in Saskatchewan, Canada. There, reports say, demand doubled when government medicine came in... and in some areas applicants for care trebled. The feeling is beginning to grow here that any such rush in the U. S. could create a condition bordering on chaos. If this should happen, it would of course affect not only those over 65, but also everyone else—from babies on up... everyone in need of hospitalization.

Short-Changed?
One thing is certain. It will take cool heads at all medical and administrative levels to prevent a jam-up that could harm the image of the medical profession and bring down anger on the heads of politicians who voted so hurriedly for the "leap forward"... without first looking to see if the machine could carry the new load.

It is none too early to set up screening boards. These would attempt to keep the flow of senior citizens toward hospitals from becoming an engulfing flood. Unless this or similar advance moves are taken at the local level, we may find that medicare has become no care!

TO AUSTIN
Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Chapman spent the past week end visiting in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Chapman in Austin.

TO CORPUS CHRISTI
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Irvin spent last week end in Corpus Christi visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Irvin.

Right now about 76 per cent of these are occupied. But that figure is an "average." Like other "averages," it is misleading; for in many areas shortages of hospital facilities are already critical. Furthermore, there is no guarantee that big demands will not be made in precisely the spots where beds are scarcest.

But empty hospital beds would not solve the overcrowding problem. They would be of little value without an adequate nursing staff. And this is the weakest link in the medical-care chain; 100,000 job vacancies are reported in this field. The figures are broken down as follows: 75,000 openings for registered nurses and a need for 25,000 practical nurses. One of the most vexing shortages may be in the field of visiting nurses. Visiting nurses are slated to play a big part under medicare. Judging from the situation at present, it appears inevitable that the supply will be far short of needs.

How Big The Rush?
So much for the availability—or lack of it—of doctors and nurses. An even bigger question mark is the probable size of the rush of senior citizens for "free" care. Some government officials pooh-pooh the seriousness of the overcrowding threat. But the Surgeon General feels that the surge will be large. What is definitely known is that patients over age 65 now take up about one-quarter of all hospital beds. What if this figure jumps to 35 per cent, or even to 40 per cent?

Some government officials pooh-pooh the seriousness of the overcrowding threat. But the Surgeon General feels that the surge will be large. What is definitely known is that patients over age 65 now take up about one-quarter of all hospital beds. What if this figure jumps to 35 per cent, or even to 40 per cent?

HE'S REAL!—Wayne N. Farrell, a Cranston, R.I., music teacher, is right at home with his 18-foot pet python, Anderson. Farrell raised the 260-pound snake and always felt his python pal made a fine house pet. Mr. Farrell finally decided to sell the snake to the Bronx Zoo, where Andy is scheduled to be a star attraction.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

Did you ever hit the tip of your elbow on something you shouldn't have? It was a funny feeling, wasn't it? But I'll bet it hurt more than it made you laugh!

The "funny bone" is that portion of the elbow over which the ulnar nerve is drawn, and to be struck on the edge of it gives rise to a tingling pain. The term "funny bone" probably originated from a pun on the word humerus, the Latin name for the bone in the upper arm.

H. L. Mencken said the term was a variant of the expression "crazy bone."

A rhyme in an old legend published in 1840 and called "Bloudie Jacke of Shrewsburie" goes like this:
"They have pull'd you down flat on your back
"And they smack, and they thwack
"Till your 'funny bones' crack
"As if you were stretched on the rack
"At each thwack!
"Good luck! What a savage attack!"

Baptist WMS Held Meeting Tuesday In Educational Bldg.

Womans Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday morning in the educational auditorium for a study of "New Foreign Mission Fields." Mrs. R. D. Collins led the group in singing "Bringing in the Sheaves" with Mrs. Hollingshead at the piano. Mrs. W. S. Cooke read the calendar of missionary birthdays and led in prayer.

Mrs. Bobby Rogers, program leader, introduced the subject by discussing "The Field is the World." The devotional thought was the parable of the wheat and the tares by Mrs. J. E. (Buck) Smith.

Packets of flower seeds, garden implements and spring flowers formed the interest center with a map of the world in the background. Five women presented the principles of successful planning. Mrs. Leslie Alexander discussed dedication and told of new churches in Togo and Luxembourg. Cultivate struggling plants was presented by Mrs. J. F. Priddy with information concerning new fields in Austria and South West Africa. "Watch out for pests, ground hogs and moles" warned Mrs. Paul Cozby, comparing them to the political climate, in telling of Singapore as the 50th field of service for Southern Baptists.

Enlist all the help you can get, advised Mrs. H. P. Witkowski as she told of the help furnished by our servicemen in Tripoli, Libya. Outdoor Advertisers Take Swat At Highway Beautification Law

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Outdoor advertisers, motel owners, tourist attraction operators and salvage dealers at a public hearing here vigorously attacked standards for implementing new federal legislation aimed at beautifying highways by policing billboards and junkyards.

In two days of testimony before Paul E. Warren, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads Examiner, 61 witnesses hammered at the detailed standards, although many said they supported the original intent of the bill.

Most said the regulations proposed by the U. S. Department of Commerce would destroy or seriously damage their businesses.

In addition to witnesses' testimony, the examiner received 84 written statements.

Final regulations will not be adopted until hearings have been concluded in all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

Federal authorities think Texans should get two more chances to register for voting in this year's elections.

Department of Justice motion before a three-judge U. S. court requests supplemental registration periods of April 8-19 for primaries; and August 22-October 8 for the November general election.

Justice Department attorneys consider the March 3-17 registration period "inadequate."

Although federal attorneys commended Texas officials for "diligence and good faith" in meeting their responsibilities under the initial free registration, they made these complaints:

Forty-four per cent of Texas counties opened no substations for registration outside courthouses; 67 per cent of county registration offices did not remain open at night; and 47 per cent of counties added no deputy registrars.

Most of the 635,600 voters who registered last month, the Justice Department calculated, signed up during the second week of the March 3-17 period. Many more would have signed up in another week, the motion contended.

Although there are now 2,975,000 Texans registered (or 56 per cent of total potentially eligible adults), about 2,000,000 more remain unregistered, the Justice Department said.

"Frustrating harassment" or an attempt by the federal agency to destroy all state authority over voting procedures, said Gov. John Connally.

"A deliberate, shocking attempt to abuse Texas," charged Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. He plans to challenge the right of the Justice Department to delve into such details of election operation as registration dates.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court will review on May 4 a suit to force reapportionment of Midland County commissioner's precincts to require substantially equal population in each. A district court ordered the reapportionment, but El Paso Court of Civil Appeals reversed the decision.

Supreme Court refused for second time to hear on appeal from a judgment against the S. W. Richardson estate for failure to pay state, county and school property taxes on 32,750-acre St. Joseph Island in 1960 and 1961.

Austin District Court temporarily enjoined operations of Marketmakers Inc. of Beverly Hills, Calif., three Texas-organized corporations and eight individuals. Attorney General Carr has described the operations as a "pyramid club scheme" (similar to old chain-letter clubs) which has defrauded hundreds.

TEXAS GROWS

Texas is 13,151 miles bigger than anyone thought. New acreage was discovered after the first detailed study of Texas' area in 20 years was completed by Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler. Report shows the state contains 177,052,700 acres, or 276,600 square miles.

However, Alaska's 571,065-square-mile area still makes Texans live in the second largest state in the Union.

BRUCELLOSIS

Texas Animal Health Commission reports 11 more counties are testing for initial certification as control counties in the drive to eradicate brucellosis among Texas cattle.

Atascosa, Brooks, Coryell, Falls, Hamilton, Hood, Jack, Limestone, McLennan, Milam and Roberts counties are the latest to test. No counties qualified in February, but four—Comanche, Moore, Sherman and Deaf Smith—did qualify for recertification.

U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Commission list 55,676 cattle backtagged in markets during the month. There were 12,997 tagged cattle originating in Texas at slaughter and 16,326 cattle tested at markets for return to county with 258 brucellosis reactors discovered.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY UP

Texas business activity index resumed an upward trend in February after three months of "approximate stability," UT's Bureau of Business Research reports.

Hand-in-hand with business gains, non-farm employment soared to new heights with South and West Texas out in front. Overall, the state showed the smallest jobless percentage for February in 14 years—3.6 per cent.

Construction industry scored a big 16 per cent increase in February over January. Total construction for the first two months of 1966 was 24 per cent above the same period in 1965, a record year.

Major cities showing sharpest growth rates were Dallas, Beaumont, San Angelo and Amarillo.

OIL DISCOVERY PERIOD EXTENDED

Onshore oil discovery allowable period has been extended from 18 to 24 months by order of State Railroad Commission. Commission will hear proposals to increase the number of onshore wells which are given discovery allowable status. Limit now is five wells in any one reservoir.

A commission spokesman said the agency is trying to encourage exploratory drilling to increase oil and gas reserves.

In Washington, Attorney General Carr told Federal Power Commission that a proposal to import Canadian natural gas to U. S. would create unfair competition with Texas gas, particularly in the state's Permian Basin area.

STUDENT AID RECEIVED

Federal grants totaling 2,476,728 to assist 9,244 Texas college students at 70 institutions have been approved by U. S. Office of Education.

Grants are part of the work-study program under which Federal funds provide 90 per cent of payrolls for student jobs, with local colleges and agencies providing 10 per cent.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Connally has appointed these five members-at-large to a state Election Law Study Committee to serve with five senators and five representatives previously appointed: Secretary of State John Hill, State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Will D. Davis, Republican State Chairman Peter O'Donnell, Walter Sterling of Houston and Webb

Two $100.00 gifts were received this week to bring the total given to date to $2715.00.

The hospital administration has reported that much work

- Assist in forming industrial foundations and districts, in selecting plant sites, and advising on planning.
- Assist in preparing statistical data, advertising material, and in organizing and training industrial teams.
- In industrial development, we prepare market analyses for prospects, make detailed studies on factors affecting plant site location, and make personal calls on prospects for the communities.
- Conduct an active program of direct mail and personal calls on industries that might locate in our service area.
