HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Once a person has served on any kind of official body, he retains a certain amount of interest in the affairs of that body. This was graphically illustrated last Thursday night when recently-elected members of the Winters City Council were installed in office and the Council was organized for the year.

Mayor W. M. Hays invited all former mayors and former members of the council who had served in office during the past ten years to attend installation ceremonies of the new council members. The response was heartening; the two former mayors and every former member of the council from 1955 to 1966, with the exception of three, were on hand for the installation.

These men represent 60 years of public service to the City of Winters. Several have served multiple terms, and the two former mayors present probably served with more individuals than anyone.

Former Mayor D. Jones says he has served, either as mayor or as an alderman, with every man who has served Thursday night, with the exception of Alderman Wade White, now in his second year of a first term.

Prior to the installation ceremonies, the former Mayors, George Poe and Harvey Dale Jones, were seated at the council table and photographed with the several councils over which they presided. These photos will be retained so that a valuable pictorial record of previous governing bodies may be available through the coming years, and so that each former city official may have pictures of the groups with which they served, if they so desire.

All former officials expressed a pleasure at having a chance to meet as a group; and there was even talk of making this an annual affair. Such an event would tie the community even closer together, because all are interested in what is going on in the city.

Eddie Little, of Little Studio, reports that pictures of the several different council groups are now available for viewing.

Hi School Honor Roll For Fifth Six Weeks Period

Eighteen Winters High School students made "A's" in all subjects and a total of 67 students made at least one "A" and no grade lower than a "B" according to a report on the fifth six-weeks grades from the principal's office.

CITY COUNCIL—Mayor W. M. Hays says goodbye to two outgoing council members, R. C. Thomas and James C. (Mutt) Colburn, at reorganization ceremonies at the City Hall Thursday evening of last week. The new councilmen, Ray Alderman and W. L. (Bill) Bean, and Homer Hodge, re-elected April 5, were sworn into office during ceremonies attended by all but three of the members of the council during the past ten years. Seated around the table are, left to right, hold-over Councilmen Wade White, J. C. Jarrell, City Secretary Buford Baldwin, Homer Hodge, Ray Alderman and W. L. Bean. Thomas and Colburn were presented plaques by the new council in appreciation of their service on the city board. Colburn has completed two years on the council and Thomas has completed four years. Former Mayors and Aldermen Watch New Council Members Take Office

Two former mayors of Winters and all but three men who have served as aldermen for the City of Winters since 1955 were on hand Thursday night for installation ceremonies for incoming members of the city's governing body.

Homer Hodge, who was re-elected to a second two-year term of office, and Ray Alderman and W. L. (Bill) Bean, were regularly sworn into office. The two new members replace James C. (Mutt) Colburn and R. C. Thomas, who stepped down.

Members of the council who have another year on present terms are Mayor W. M. Hays and Aldermen Wade White and J. C. Jarrell.

Upon reorganization, Wade White was elected mayor pro tem for the next year.

According to some of those present this was the first time that a majority of men who had served on the council at any time during the previous ten years have been present for installation ceremonies. Only three men who have served at some time during the past ten years were not present: Bob Loyd, who served as an alderman from 1955 through 1958 was unable to be present; John Griffin Brown, who served from 1961 through 1962, was unable to be present. The other former member was August Spill, deceased.

Mayors and aldermen who have served since 1955 are: 1955: Mayor George Poe; Aldermen E. Z. Moore, Harvey D. Jones, O. B. Raper, Bob Loyd, J. C. Martin. 1956: Mayor George Poe; Aldermen J. C. Martin, Joe Irvin, A. B. Spill, Elzie Cox, Bob Loyd. 1957: Mayor George Poe; Aldermen Joe Irvin, A. B. Spill, Elzie Cox, Bob Loyd, O. B. Raper. 1958: Mayor George Poe; Aldermen O. B. Raper, Lee Harrison, Elzie Cox, A. B. Spill, Bob Loyd. 1959: Mayor Harvey D. Jones; Aldermen Elzie Cox, A. B. Spill, Ralph Lloyd, B. G. Bryant, Lee Harrison. 1960: Mayor Harvey D. Jones; Aldermen Ralph Lloyd, B. G. Bryant, A. B. Spill, J. F. Richie, J. E. Smith. 1961: Mayor Harvey D. Jones; Aldermen J. E. Smith, Ralph Lloyd, O. B. Raper, John Griffin Brown, J. F. Richie, and W. M. Hays, who filled an unexpired term vacated by Richie. 1962: Mayor Harvey D. Jones; Aldermen John Griffin Brown, W. M. Hays, J. W. Bahlman, R. C. Thomas, Ralph Lloyd. 1963: Mayor Harvey D. Jones; Aldermen Ralph Lloyd, R. C. Thomas, J. W. Bahlman, W. M. Hays, E. E. Dodson and J. C. Jarrell, who filled an unexpired term vacated by Dodson. 1964: Mayor Harvey D. Jones; Aldermen J. C. Jarrell, Homer Hodge, James C. Colburn, R. C. Thomas, W. M. Hays. 1965: Mayor W. M. Hays; Aldermen J. C. Jarrell, R. C. Thomas, Homer Hodge, Wade White, James Colburn.

Bullard Gin Co. Sold This Week To Ronnie Graham

Announcement was made this week of the sale of the Bullard Gin Co., operated by Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bullard, to Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Graham. The business will be known as Winters Gin Co.

Graham has been associated with Bullard Gin Co. for several months, coming here from Roscoe last year. Formerly the Glenn Gin, the business was sold last summer to Bullard by James Glenn.

Winters Gin Co. will buy wheat and grain for the Winters Grain Co., Graham announced. Mr. and Mrs. Graham have been living in Winters for several months, and have a daughter, two and a half years old, and are members of the Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. Bullard have not announced plans for the future. Mr. and Mrs. Graham have invited all former patrons and friends of the gin to come by and get acquainted.

Wingate School Hires Teachers For 1966 - 1967

James Williams, superintendent of the Wingate School, announced this week that the school board has re-hired all present faculty members for the 1966-67 school year.

They include Mrs. Rita Alcorn, Mrs. Lena O. Dunn, Mrs. Kathleen Shedd, Mrs. Dolly D. Dean and Lou Awalt. Supt. Williams also said the Wingate school will have a preschool day, May 6, for pupils who will be in the first grade next year for the first time. It will be an all day event, and parents of first-graders are urged to bring their children to the school on that date.

Recording Star "Comes Home" To Winters, Program At School Monday

Winters High School students Monday morning heard a performance of an artist who has been described as "one of the most amazing musicians in the world; a virtuoso without an instrument—an instrument, that is, in the generally accepted sense."

Fred Lowery, recording artist and TV personality, known as the "King of Whistlers," presented a program on the stage of the high school auditorium in a Southern Assembly Monday morning.

Well-known in Winters, where he visited periodically since he was a boy, Lowery, now a grandfather, received applause of approval for his rendition of several musical numbers, including the "theme" song of Winters High School, "Winter Wonderland."

In his Monday morning program at the school, instead of following his usual admonition of students to continue to work "for higher goals in education and life," Lowery paid tribute to a Winters man who had been a personal friend since boyhood—the late Merrick Spill. Merrick and Fred met and became fast friends when they were young boys at the Texas School for the Blind in Austin. In the ensuing years, they became "as brothers," Lowery said, and he spent "many happy days" visiting in the home of Merrick's father, the late Albert Spill. "Albert Spill was like a father to me," he said.

While in school, Lowery said, he discovered and developed a talent for whistling. He joined the "Early Bird" band, and broadcast over WFAA, Dallas, for about three years. Then he went to New York to seek the big time! Before a try-out appearance on radio he received only lukewarm encouragement—a "whistler" seeking a career.

Eden Site Of VFW Dist. 22 Meet April 30

John Paul Keelan of Navasota, senior vice commander of the Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will represent the department commander at a convention of District 22 in Eden April 30 and May 1. J. A. Henderson Jr., of Winters, is commander of District 22. Mrs. J. A. Henderson Jr. is president of the district Ladies Auxiliary.

Delegates to the convention will register at Phillip-Miller Post 8549, Eden, from 4 to 6 p. m. Saturday. On Sunday, a commander's club breakfast will be held from 7:30 to 8:30, followed by registration and coffee. A joint meeting of the VFW and Auxiliary will be held at 9:30 Sunday morning, with Vice Commander Keelan as the featured speaker. Delegates will attend services at the Eden First Baptist Church, and will have luncheon at the Post Home at 12:30.

Co. Agent Parker Will Present Pecan Program

A pecan program, sponsored by the office of C. T. Parker Jr., Runnels County agricultural agent, has been scheduled for May 5 at 9:30 a. m. in the conference room on the third floor of the court house in Ballinger. B. G. Hancock, horticulturist from College Station, will present the program emphasizing fertilization, rosette, case bearer control, when and how to spray for insects, different varieties, budding, and particularly grafting. Anyone interested in gaining information concerning pecans is welcome and invited to attend the program.

VFW, Auxiliary Will Host Open House May First

In observance of Loyalty Day, May 1, officers and members of Winters Post No. 9193, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary, will host open house Saturday, April 30, at the Post Home. The observance will be held on Saturday because Loyalty Day, May 1, falls on Sunday. Open house will be from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. The public is invited to attend.

City Water Plant Bids Termed "Too High"

Winters' City Council Monday night opened bids for construction of a new water treatment plant; took a look at what three different contractors offered to build the plant for; then asked engineers to reappraise the situation and come up with a plan which would more nearly meet the immediate requirements of the City and also come within the budgetary limitations of the municipality.

All three bids which were opened Monday night called for a sum approximately double what City officials said engineers had estimated it would cost to build the new system. Low bid for the project was $174,000; middle bid was $191,300; and top bid was $218,680. Officials said that engineers had estimated to the Council that the project should cost "between $90,000 and $100,000—$110,000 at the most."

Mayor W. M. Hays said that if bids for the basic improvements had been "reasonably near engineers' estimates," it would have been "something the City could live with, by cutting corners here and there." But the bids for construction of even basic units of the proposed plant were so far from original estimates, the mayor said, that the cost would be "unreasonable and unrealistic." Other members of the Council also expressed disappointment in the quoted bids, and stated that if they had even thought, after talking with

Winters Schools Again Approved For Summer School Headstart Program

Winters Independent Schools again have been approved for the Federal-financed pre-school summer Headstart program, according to information from Senator Ralph Yarborough and Congressman Omar Burleson this week.

In a telegram to The Enterprise Monday, Sen. Yarborough said that he had been notified that the Office of Economic Opportunity "has approved a grant of $10,107" to the Winters School District for the Headstart project. "for 45 pre-school, underprivileged children." Grant will enable children to enter first grade next fall "on a par with more fortunate children," Sen. Yarborough said.

Cong. Burleson, also in a telegram to The Enterprise, announced the grant of Federal funds to serve "45 children, 3 volunteers working on program, 12 paid members on staff, for three classes, for an eight-week program." The headstart project is designed to prepare pre-school children for entry into the first grade. Requirements are that 90 percent of the classes be in a Federal-described poverty status. George M. Beard, Elementary Principal, who will be Project Director, said that 38 pupils already have been enrolled for this summer's project, which is scheduled to begin June 13 and continue through August 5. He has asked that parents whose children can qualify for the program contact him for enrollment information if they have not already done so.

Paid staff members will include a director, three teachers, a nurse, and a director of nutrition, and others. Teachers for this year will be Mrs. Velma Hart, Miss Sarah Parker and Mrs. Orbie Harrison. Mrs. Fred Young will be the project nurse, and Mrs. J. B. Whitlow, director of nutrition. Classes will be on a five-day per week basis, beginning at 8:30 a. m. and lasting until about 1:30. Children will be served a mid-morning snack and lunch at noon.

About 10 percent of the cost of the summer program must be borne by the local school district, but may be "in kind" participation. This will include providing space and other facilities needed in the program. "In-kind" participation by the Winters School District will amount to $1,548.

WHERE THE ACTION WAS — There was a lot of action here Saturday, April 17, when the Winters High School Blizzards took first honors in the District 5-AA track and field meet. These photos were taken during some of the contests; they are not necessarily of winning participants, but display some of the activities. For a change, the weather was fine and although a slight breeze was blowing, there was no sand and dust in the air, as has been the case in so many track meets in the past.

ROLLING BLIZZARD (Top left) — That looks like a pile of bricks this Blizzard is going to land on after he clears the bar in the high jump event. It isn't, however — just a bunch of foam, rubber blocks to cushion the shock of landing.

HUFFIN', PUFFIN' (Top right) — This Blizzard seems to be trying to blow that 16-pound shot just a little further in the shot put event.

GERONIMO! (Lower left) — Without a parachute, yet! This Blizzard hangs suspended in mid-air in the pole vault contest. He has released the pole, and in the picture gives the impression of wondering just how he is going to land. He had had luck on this try, because he kicked the bar off the standards.

"SHE" adventure, fantasy, spectacle and romance are the ingredients of one of the world's most famous novels, H. "How to Murder Your Wife" Claire Trevor, famed screen dramatic actress of yesterday, returns to the screen as a comedienne in "How to Murder Your Wife," a George Axelrod original directed by Richard Quine and co-starring Jack Lemmon, Virna Lisi, Eddie Mayehoff, Terry-Thomas and Miss Trevor, showing Sunday night only at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre in Technicolor and under United Artists release.

"The Lost World of Sinbad" Fiction's greatest sailor hero, fabled Sinbad, originated in Arabic travel stories dating from the 8th Century and today is better known in the Western world than in his native Near East.

Brought to life once more in motion pictures in American International's "The Lost World of Sinbad," showing Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre, the swashbuckling mariner's adventures parallel older maritime tales from other cultures. Research by scholars has revealed that Sinbad's experiences are based partly on those of Oriental navigators of the period, partly on ancient Greek poetry and partly on stories from India and Persia.

"Moment To Moment" "Moment To Moment," Universal's suspense drama in Technicolor, showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre, is the 75th film to bear Mervyn LeRoy's signature, and he is about to celebrate his 40th anniversary as a producer and director.

"This film, "Moment To Moment," is about an American psychiatrist's wife who lives with her husband and their 8-year-old son on the Riviera," LeRoy said. Her husband is called away by his practice and she meets and falls in love with a young Navy Ensign.

Brother of Local Residents Died In Dallas Sunday

William H. (Bill) Kittrell, 71, brother of Mrs. Rankin Pace and Miss Lucy Kittrell of Winters, died at 6:30 p. m. Sunday at his home in Dallas.

Funeral was held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the George Brewer Funeral Home in Dallas.

Mr. Kittrell, nationally-known Democratic leader, had been in ill health since suffering a stroke in 1962 while serving as a consultant in the Office of Civilian Defense Mobilization. He was appointed to the post in February, 1961.

He also was former executive secretary of the Texas Democratic Executive Committee. Born in Alexander, Tex., April 29, 1894, he married Frances Louis Wasson Dec. 17, 1916, in Dallas.

He grew up in Cisco, graduated from the high school there in 1911, and worked on the Cisco newspaper.

Mr. Kittrell was in the public relations business and had operated the Texas Press Clipping Bureau in Dallas for more than 40 years. But a great deal of his time and energy went into politics.

He was secretary of the Texas delegation to the Democratic convention in 1932 when Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for president the first time. Eight years later he managed Roosevelt's campaign in the Dallas area.

He served at the request of Roosevelt on a mission to North Africa dealing with the lend-lease program and was a consultant to the Office of Emergency Planning under President John F. Kennedy.

Survivors are his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Louise Corey and Miss Laura Kittrell, both of Dallas; a brother, Frank of Kingsland and formerly of Abilene; his two sisters of Winters; and two grandchildren.

Refreshments were served to Dora Snell, Gayla Beall, Marsha Hays, Glenda Cooper, Gwen Hoppe, Jo White, Beverly Sprinkle, Ginger Ivie, Susan Roberts, Theresa Meyer, Beverly Foster, Cindy Antilley, Jean Mostad, Eileen Faubion, Sue Hodnett, Babs Tatum, Ida Martin, and the sponsors, Mrs. Donald Parker and Mrs. George Davis.

The club was dismissed with the benediction.

CARD OF THANKS

With deepest gratitude we extend this word of thanks for the many acts of sympathy, expressed by thoughtful friends. We wish to express our special thanks to Drs. Rives and McCreight, the staff at the hospital and the Merrill Nursing Home, to our pastor, Rev. Walter Probst, the ladies of the Lutheran Church for the food, and to those who sent the flowers and the cards. The family of Mrs. Anna Gerhart. Itp

Late Planting Helps Kill Boll Weevils

Weather and management largely determine the profit a grower gets out of his cotton crop. A dryland cotton farmer is more dependent upon weather than a farmer who irrigates but weather has a tremendous effect on cotton yields, whether irrigated or not.

Climatic Data, showing weather behavior for a 31 year period, has been prepared for numerous stations within the Rolling Plains by the Cotton Research Committee of Texas. When a cotton grower knows how local weather conditions influence production, he can use practices needed to minimize hazards. In other words he can utilize weather as a management tool especially regarding the planting dates.

Selecting a planting date that will produce the highest yield of the best quality at the greatest profit is one of the most important managerial decisions growers make each year. Climatic Data offers no specific guarantee but, as one elderly farmer in Jones County remarked last year: "It is the first thing in 25 years I have heard that really made sense." Jones County farmers who utilized the data last year to plant after May 24 are sold on the fact that it is sound judgment 9 out of 10 years. These are odds most farmers like to work with.

(1) By planting in late May or early June, cotton fields are left bedded and dammed during heavy May rainfall in order to store valuable moisture for cotton production during low rainfall periods of July and August.

(2) By planting in late May or early June, cotton would have a better chance of making growth during the hot, dry months and not start its peak bloom period until after mid-August when cool nights begin and chance of rain is better.

(3) Virtually no replanting.

(4) Cultivation and hoeing costs greatly reduced.

(5) Weevils must have one-third grown squares in which to lay eggs. By planting late, the majority of the boll weevils are out of hibernation 2-3 weeks before squares are one-third grown. Weevils can be more easily controlled by community wide spray programs during the period. Natural control is also increased.

(6) Delayed uniform planting eliminates 1 to 2 generations of weevils every year.

If there is anything that makes a husband angrier than his wife's refusal to tell him where the money goes, is to tell him...

Your Odds On A Tax Audit

What are your odds on an income tax audit? Despite the use of computers by the Internal Revenue Service, the chance that your tax return will be audited is about the same as it has been.

But if IRS does flag your return for a check, it could cost you more, says Mrs. Elsie P. Short, Texas A. and M. University Extension home management specialist.

There were 4 percent fewer audits made in 1965 than in 1964, but the audits produced more additional revenues and penalties than ever before, according to the annual report released by IRS Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen.

One out of three returns got at least a quick look-see. Only one of 23 were audited, which is slightly less than in recent years.

The IRS checks the arithmetic on almost every return, however. This has become a matter of importance, for the taxpayer's benefit here as well as the government's. As the laws keep changing, more people are prone to make mistakes.

The annual report disclosed that there were 49 percent more errors made in 1965 than in 1964. And in 3 out of every 4 of the additional errors, the taxpayer made mistakes which cost him more.

It's important to double check your arithmetic and to know the new rules for deductions. Many taxpayers also should use the new minimum standard deduction, according to the annual report.

According to the 1965 annual report, some 2 million taxpayers erred in their own favor. Nearly as many, or 1.9 million, erred in favor of the government last year.

If there is anything that makes a husband angrier than his wife's refusal to tell him where the money goes, is to tell him...

Jerri Ann Hardin of Dallas and Bobby Glenn Anderson Wed April 23

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Glenn Anderson of Dallas are on a wedding trip to Mexico City and Acapulco, Mexico, following their marriage at High Noon Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church in Irving.

The bride, Jerri Ann Hardin is the daughter of Mrs. James F. Burns, 1910 West Trauwiler, Irving. Bobby Glenn Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Anderson, 101 West Roberts Street, Winters.

The Rev. Robin D. Moffatt, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with white roses and Dutch irises.

Mrs. David Jones, organist, played bridal music throughout the ceremony.

Richard L. Spears of Dallas, served the groom as best man, and the bride's attendant, was her sister, Mrs. L. W. Carlyle of Houston.

The matron of honor, was dressed in an Italian green silk street-length dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was green Cymbidium orchid. The bride, presented in marriage by her brother, James W. Hardin, wore a petal pink Italian silk street length dress, fashioned with three-quarter length lantern sleeves and mock rolled collar, designed with seams extending the full length of the dress to form a sheath effect. She wore matching accessories and carried a white orchid atop a white mother of pearl Bible.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was given at the Holiday Inn Central, in Dallas, with wedding guests and members of the wedding party attending.

For her wedding trip and flight by American Air Lines to Mexico City, the bride wore a pink wool Boucle coat with her wedding dress.

The bride, a graduate of Irving High School, attended Draughon's Business College and Arlington State. She is employed by Oil Well Supply Division of the United States Steel in Dallas.

Mr. Anderson is a graduate of Winters High School, Texas Technological College at Lubbock and American University in Washington D. C. He is employed by Texas Instruments in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be at home after April 30, in the Fountain Apartments, 10010 Regal Park Lane, Apartment 206 in Dallas.

Guests attended the wedding from Houston, Winters and Dallas.

FOUL WEATHER FRIENDS

Wonderful in fair weather, too. When the weather is foul, as it is so often in winter, an automatic washer and flameless electric dryer guarantee a constant supply of fresh-smelling, fluffy-dry clothes. With your own automatic electric laundry, you just pop the family wash in the washer, set the dial and go about your other chores. Drying clothes is no problem either—pop them in—set the dial—then do some other little chore for the family, you have been "putting off." So remember, in fair weather or foul, your best friends are an automatic washer and flameless electric dryer.

Lions Get First Hand Knowledge About U. S. Air Defense Command

The Winters Lions Club took a trip to Colorado this week. They sat in the eerie blue light of the air Defense Command's combat operations center watching airman draw colored lines on a huge glass map to control and guide fighter-interceptor aircraft.

They saw two of the world's largest electronic computers processing information which was being beamed from jet aircraft in flight.

They walked up and down America's 5,550-mile distant early warning radar chain, from the tip of the Aleutian Islands to the coast of Iceland.

They explored passages under a mountain beneath 1,500 feet of solid granite, where workmen are building the world's greatest fallout shelter—the new North American Air Defense Command Underground operations center.

Then they talked personally with NORAD's briefing officer about America's first line of defense.

The Winters Lions were taking part in a program developed by NORAD and being presented to audiences by many commercial telephone companies, including Southwestern States Telephone Company.

The program has been seen by more than a million people throughout the United States. It features a presentation of 47 color slides along with narration by telephone communications experts.

But the highlight of the show was a live conversation between persons in the audience and the NORAD briefing officer in Colorado Springs. The conversation is handled by two-way telephone amplification equipment and is carried over actual NORAD communications links.

In West Texas the program is presented by Carroll Rowbotham, service consultant, for Southwestern States Telephone Company. Rowbotham says he'll present the program to any group — education, industrial, civic, or otherwise—wanting to see it.

It's free, and the only restriction is that the audience must be at least high school age.

The Winters Lions came away from Tuesday's presentation with a more thorough understanding of the intricate plans and details of the system which provides protection for the United States against any surprise enemy attack.

IN AKEMAN HOME

successes. He plans to record another album this summer.

In addition to recording to public consumption, he has recorded the whistling scores for television programs and movies and for TV commercials. He scored the whistling theme on the "Andy Griffith Show."

He currently is working the "circuit," appearing at schools all over the country during the school season. In "off" season, the summertime, he makes albums.

Even when he is not on-stage before an auditorium filled with high school students, Lowery constantly is encouraging young people to explore every avenue toward a good education, and if possible, "get a college education." The future will demand the best of all men, he says, and the only way to be prepared is to learn and keep on learning.

Mrs. Lowery—Gracie. Fred calls her—travels with him on the "circuit," living in a self-propelled mobile home. They have a son, another Fred Lowery, who recently resigned a position on the Wall Street Journal to return to college.

"Whistling gets a man's mind off his troubles," Fred Lowery says. "You seldom find a man with ulcers who has a habit of whistling."

And that's not "whistling in the dark," as Fred Lowery goes merrily whistling through life. "Walking Along Kicking the Leaves," (a Fred Lowery album), and making people happy.

Water Toll Reaches 16 To Top 1965

Water recreation fatalities are running ahead of last year when 200 persons perished, according to reports to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The 1966 total increased to fifteen on statistics dated April 4. The 1965 total on April 14 was thirteen.

The grim rate was hiked by five deaths for the last two weeks period as state authorities pushed ahead with the new boating safety code, to tighten regulations.

The Department noted that life preservers might have spared some of the victims.

Two drowned while swimming. The other three were victims of fishing accidents.

A Baytown man gave his life in futilely trying to rescue a total stranger thrown into the San Jacinto river when a boat overturned. He was Richard Fellers, 24.

Authorities said this tragedy reflected risks taken by fishermen around dam spillways in the state's many impoundments. The victim's boat apparently was upset in turbulent waters just below the Lake Houston dam.

Two other men in the boat were pulled from the swirling waters by fishermen who jumped in from where they were angling on the shore.

Reportedly, none of the boat occupants wore life preservers.

A 77 year old Brazoria fisherman drowned in the Intracoastal Canal. A life preserver saved his 67 year old companion who reported that the victim had a life preserver but did not have it around his body and that the belt floated away as the victim thrashed about in the water.

A 17 year old Alice boy drowned in a local reservoir. A 16 year old Camp Gary Job Corpsman drowned in the San Marcos river.

NOTICE

Following the custom of other petroleum marketers in this area, and in order to create better working conditions and allow our employees more time at home with their families, beginning in May, 1966, we, the following Winters and Ballinger firms plan to discontinue our truck delivery of Petroleum Products and Butane on Saturday Afternoon by closing our wholesale office at noon. We will, however, make emergency deliveries as usual, but would appreciate our customers cooperating with us on this by helping keep emergency telephone orders to a minimum.
