The Things We Say

By Ruby Shannon

"John says what he thinks and makes no bones about it," my friend remarked. She was quoting a semihumorous cliché which at one time involved a serious matter . . . that of swallowing bones.

In olden times, cooking utensils were hard to come by, and quite often several food items would be cooked in the same pot. A chicken's neck or back was often thrown into a pot of stew and once it was cooked the bones fell apart and became mixed with the vegetables. The person eating the stew had to pick with care in order to find the bones and not swallow them. The saying was, originally, "I hope you find no bones in the stew"; or "try to make no bones in the stew."

In time the expression which originated in eating became associated with speaking. When two people did not see a situation in the same light, they were said to have "a bone of contention." If they did agree, they accepted a situation as it was and "made no bones about it." Later, "to make no bones about it," meant to speak frankly.

There are other expressions associated with eating which are frequently heard. "I won't swallow that" or "That sticks in my craw," are two examples.

Bones have a lot to do with our lives. "Bone dry" means prohibition of liquor traffic is strictly enforced, and "I have a bone to pick with you" means that two people have had a cause of disagreement and one has registered a complaint. In college, students "bone up" on a subject before taking a test and in court "to have a bone in the throat" means that someone declines to answer a particular question, or is unwilling to talk.

Cemetery.
Mrs. Sam Harter and family of Abilene were here and visited with Leila Harter, Rawleigh Harter of Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Harter of Odessa were also here.

To compliment Velma Jewel Broadstreet, bride elect of Neil Brown of Cross Plains, a bridal shower was given in the David Bryan home. An arrangement of blue and yellow flowers were decorations for the register table, where about 90 gifts were registered.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served. Hostesses were Mesdames David Bryan, Eva Byrd, Smoky Crawford, Hays Doggett, Verg Awalt, O. I. Phillips, Duncan Hensley, George Cathey, Carl Green, Raymond Lindsey, and W. W. Wheat.

Joyce Ann Allen and Hugh Darr Huckaby Married Saturday In Winters

Joyce Ann Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Allen, became the bride of Hugh Darr Huckaby in a ceremony performed at the Main Street Church of Christ in Winters. The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Z. Huckaby of Stanton.

Willis Jernigan, minister of the church, officiated, for the ceremony.

Johnny Allen, brother of the bride and Jay Hodnett lighted the candles. Randy Huckaby of Stanton served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Lynn Huckaby of Hereford, also a brother of the bridegroom and James Jones of Abilene and Roger O'Neal, Elvin Allen and Jim Self, both of Abilene, seated the guests.

Doris Allen of San Angelo, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cindy Coward, Beth Spill and Dianne Caffey of Stanton.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a taffeta gown, designed with bell skirt and lace jacket. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a white organza hat and she carried a bouquet of white carnations on a white lace-covered Bible.

The maid of honor wore a rose-colored gown of bonded lace, and bridesmaids wore identical gowns in pink. Matching headresses held short circlet veils, and flowers were single pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bellis were hosts for the reception at their home.

The bride was graduated from Winters High School and Glen and Lottie's School of Beauty, Abilene.

Huckaby is a graduate of Stanton High School and Texas Barber College, Abilene.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Skates.

Rolling Plains Insect Survey Teams At Work

The Rolling Plains Cotton Insect Survey will begin June 1 and continue through August 31. The survey is a part of the overall effort of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers to achieve control and possible eradication, of the boll weevil from the Rolling Plains of Texas. The cost of the survey is estimated at $30,000.00. Funds are provided on a matching basis by the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers and the Texas Department of Agriculture. The survey will be conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with Emory Borner, Area Entomologist, as coordinator. County agents in each of the 31 counties involved are responsible for local survey coordination.

Ten 2-man teams will be involved. The teams are composed of Agriculture students from Texas A and M, Texas Tech and Sul Ross. Each of the twenty boys has had some entomology courses and all have been thoroughly trained to conduct the insect counts. Each team will check 34 fields per week, checking the same field at approximately the same time each week.

The team members have been instructed not to make insecticide recommendations. Farmers with questions regarding the advisability of spraying are urged to contact their local county agent.

The number of fields checked in each county is based on the county. Throughout the Rolling Plains one field will be checked per 2,300 acres of Cotton. In counties where small acreages are concerned, Wilbur Gruben, field advisor and entomologist with the RPCG, will be assisting with local insect scouting. Gruben

Cats Grow Where Cash Won't-TIP

Dean Hitt admitted snickeringly he hasn't needed to make money grow on trees because (joke) channel and blue catfish will if you have the right kind of tree. And he has 500 of them.

Hitt's catpala tree orchard, with half a thousand trees producing bait in the spring, furnish bait to spare via refrigeration for later use.

Catpala worms, grown only on the catpala tree, resembles nothing so much as a common army worm or a bad dream, but channel and blue catfish find them irresistible. One tree may produce hundreds of the worms, and Hitt has dedicated himself to seeing that not one single worm goes to waste.

It's a rare fishing trip when he doesn't catch his limit in channel and blue catfish.

One large group of anglers, using his worms, caught 458 channel catfish in 22 hours of fishing using 13 throwlines. And they didn't keep all of them.

ben will also work closely with Hot Spot areas when they occur, and with counties that have organized for early season control.

It is hoped that farmers will quickly learn the fields being surveyed so they can keep up with the insect situation in their community this summer. Regular reports will be issued by your county agent and farmers are urged to contact them.

The Insect Survey is a fine example of what can be accomplished when farmers band together and the results will be one long step toward control of the boll weevil in the Rolling Plains.

Dale Sewing Club Met In Home of Mrs. Tip McKnight

Members of the Dale Sewing Club met for their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. C. C. (Tip) McKnight, Tuesday afternoon.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Mesdames Ernest Thormeyer, I. W. Rodgers, Leeland Hoppe, Ernest Smith, Carroll Stoecker, Charlie Adams, Jesse Jenkins, Reese Jones, Herman Spill, Bill Mayo, Clifford Lehman and the hostess.

Funeral Held On Saturday For Mrs. Stanley Harter

Mrs. Stanley Harter, 74, died at 11:40 p. m., Thursday in Cogdell Hospital in Snyder. She had been hospitalized since an automobile accident, May 20.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Saturday at Wingate Baptist Church with the Rev. Virgil James, pastor of Southside Baptist Church, Winters, officiating. Burial was in Wilmeth Cemetery under the direction of Spill Funeral Home. Born Ethel Lee Renshaw, June 20, 1891 in Hill County near Itasca, she came to Bell County with her family and in 1908 moved to Runnels County and the Wingate community.

She was married to Stanley Harter on May 31, 1911 in Wingate. Mr. Harter died in 1953; also a son preceded her in death.

In 1958 she moved to Muleshoe and in October of 1964 to Winters.

Mrs. Harter was a member of the Baptist Church. Surviving her are four daughters: Mrs. Hugh Shackelford of Levelland, Mrs. Garland Freeman of Friona, Mrs. Lawrence Campbell and Mrs. Chester Campbell, both of Winters; one sister, Mrs. J. J. Low of Wingate; six grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Palbearers were Earl Broadstreet, Leeland Robertson, Buck Gregory, J. B. Denson, E. F. Albro, Kenneth Sneed, Earl Roach and Leldon Overman.

ONLY THE BEGINNING—Cornel Wilde and Gert Van Den Berg with members of their ambushed safari are made prisoners of warrior tribesmen and then brought to the chief's kraal for disposition in "The Naked Prey," a Paramount Pictures release, in Technicolor and Panavision showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

★ MOVIES ★

"Ride Beyond Vengeance,"

"Ride Beyond Vengeance," new Columbia Pictures release which shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoon at the State Theatre, is a hard hitting, hard-riding outdoor action drama with Chuck Connors starred as a buffalo hunter who finds all the cards stacked against him—from losing his wife to another man, to the added loss of a $17,000 stake. It is a rough assignment for any actor and Connors again proves his versatility by a very professional performance.

"Ride the Wild Surf"

A thrilling, breathtaking and beautiful screen adventure can be found in "Ride the Wild Surf," the new Columbia Pictures release in color at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre, Friday night only. Story of the surfers who pit their skill and courage against the awesome 40-foot waves which race at express-train speed towards the beach at Oahu Island, in Hawaii, the Jané production not only is memorable in its powerful visual impact, but in its dramatic story of the men and women who come from all over the world to enjoy Hawaiian surboarding, as participants or as spectators.

"The Bedford Incident"

"The Bedford Incident," at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre, is surely more than an "incident." It is an event, a motion picture of breathless, nerve-tingling consequence; it is entertainment that is spectacular and dramatic; it is conflict that rages from the mind and manner of a single man, to the nerve-torn crews of two vessels embattled with each other and with the elements.

"The Bedford Incident," starring Richard Widmark and Sidney Poitier, is a drama of emotion, showing Saturday night only.

"The Naked Prey"

"The Naked Prey," a Paramount Picture in Technicolor and Panavision, which shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre, is set in Africa a century ago and tells the story of one man's ordeal to survive the ravages of man and nature in a hostile environment. This amazing film and taut saga of human trail, centered about a relentless and ferocious hunt, stars Cornel Wilde, who also proved himself a versatile talent by serving, in addition to his acting, as the producer and director of this daring and unusual motion picture.

Roger Babson Says Keep Your Guarantee When You Buy From Any Company

Babson Park, Mass. When you buy almost any standard article—from a wrist watch to a yacht—there is an implied guarantee that the product is as represented. That is a basic fact of purchasing overseen by the Federal Trade Commission. But usually a new, or even a more costly second-hand, product brings with it a specific guarantee or warranty not only to help clinch your sale but to specify what you can do about it if anything goes wrong.

Keep Your Guarantee And Sales Slip

Even though the liability of a company or store for any defectiveness in the goods bought may spur a buyer to complete the purchase, he is as likely as not to forget the guarantee almost before he gets home. The certificate may kick around his desk for a while, then be thrown out with the newspapers. Or a housewife may keep her guarantee on the kitchen shelf, intending to hold onto it for the year or whatever its length of duration. But often, if she does need it some time later, it's gone, nobody knows where or when. So, the first thing to do when you are given a guarantee or warranty on any article is to put it— with the accompanying sales slip—in one spot specifically assigned for such papers. A manila folder in a desk drawer or on an out-of-the-way shelf is probably the safest and best place. Legally, a warranty is considered to be a manufacturer's statement of liability for his product and how far it goes. A guarantee, on the other hand, may be issued by somebody else along the line—such as the assembler, distributor, or retailer—who must answer for any lapse on the part of the maker.

Find Out Just How You Are Covered

If you are completing a purchase of any article supplied with a warranty or guarantee, take the time to go over it with your retailer and find out just how you are covered. Ask questions. Who is responsible in case of failure, the manufacturer or the place of purchase? How long are you protected against product default? If a lifetime proviso is given, does it mean your lifetime, or the usual lifetime of such an article, or specifically what? If a retailer hesitates to answer such questions, take your business somewhere else.

If you are required to send in a filled-in blank at the time of purchase, do so at once,— then place the stub with date and other related information in your chosen file. If there is a breakdown or malfunction in any product that you may have bought relatively recently, and check right off whether that particular item is under guarantee, and for how long. To hesitate or put it off may mean that the expiration date will have passed while you wait.

You May Save A Lot Of Money

If you build a new home or do a big renovation job on your old one, be sure you add all the warranties and guarantees to your file. New stoves, refrigerators, washing machines, hot water heaters, electric dish washers, and a multitude of other household items come with liability certificates. These appliances can go on the blink, and sometimes they do. If you know just what your protection is, you can save a lot of money.

A soap dispenser in an electric dish washer can jam. If you don't know the terms of your guarantee or don't bother about its duration, you may end up paying $15 or $20 for a homewhit, plus the cost of labor and parts. Your guarantee would have covered it all. A color tube in a TV set has been known to blow out short of the usual year's warranty. This can mean as much as $150 out of your own pocket if you haven't your certificate date on hand. An auto guarantee may run for two-to-five years or 24,000-to-50,000 miles, whichever is sooner. Many a man has simply forgotten that he might still have coverage, and he has laid out large sums for repairs or replacement.

Manufacturers and reputable outlets give such certificates because they believe in the quality and durability of their products. If something goes wrong, it is their fault, not yours. And they are usually prompt to see that the wrong is righted. Take full advantage of this way of assuring top value for your outlay.

Successful men are optimists—they look for and expect the best from their associates. That is what they get and that is why they are Leaders in their field.

Methodist WSCS
Had Covered Dish
Luncheon Tuesday

Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the Methodist Church Tuesday morning at 11:30 for a covered dish luncheon.

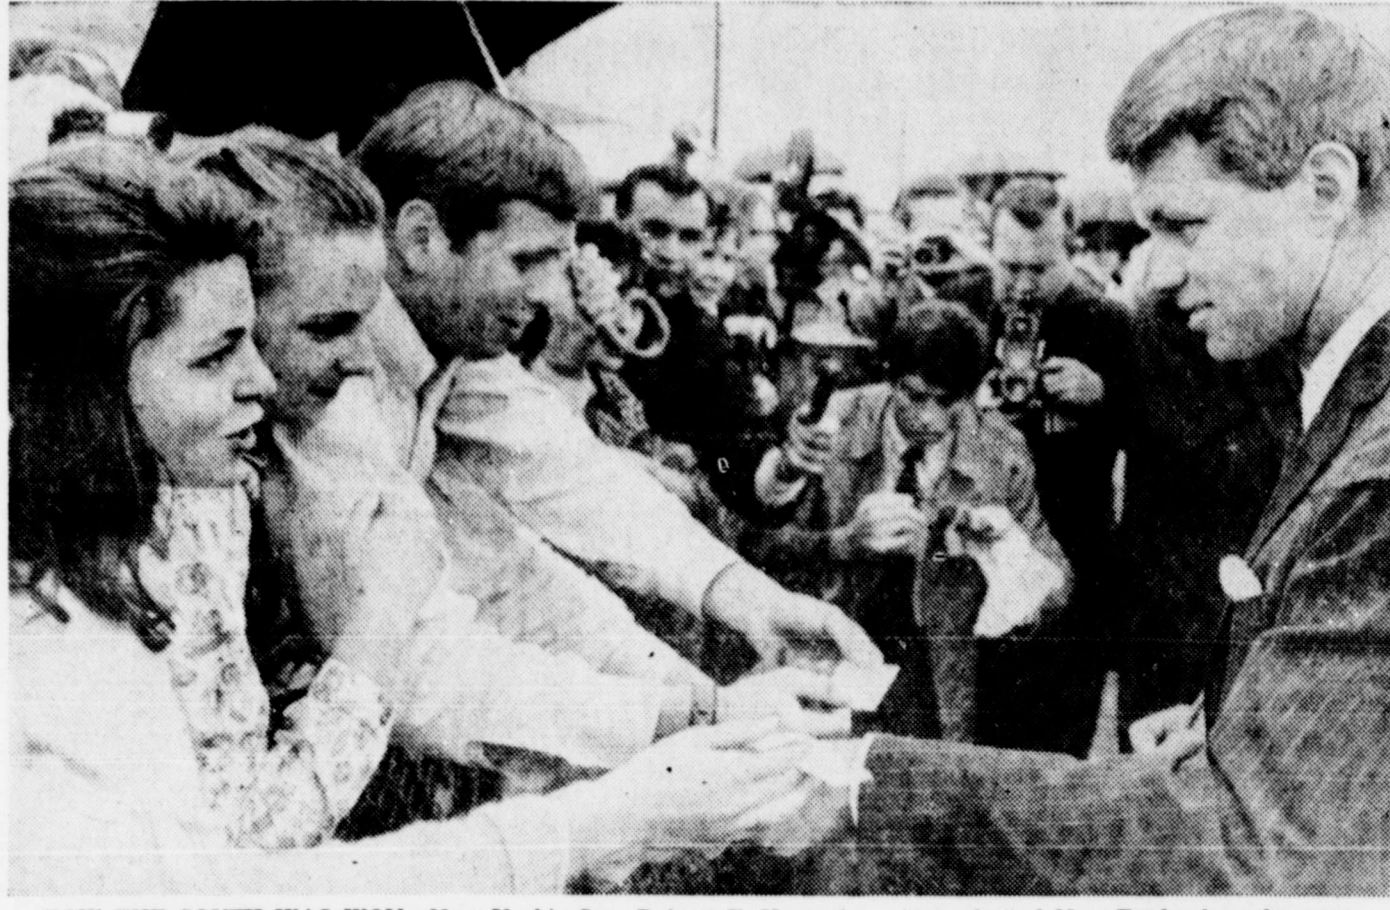

Mrs. H. O. Abbott presided for a short program. The hymn "Love Divine" was sung and Mrs. Robert W. Walker led in prayer. "How Great Thou Art" was sung by Mrs. Roy L. Crawford with Mrs. M. E. Leeman accompanying.

Mrs. Abbott's devotional used a Scripture from the Psalms and the subject "Joy, Gladness and Praise." The group sang "Brighten the Corner Where You Are."

Mrs. Roy L. Crawford presented gifts from the three circles of the Society to Mrs. C. R. Willey and Mrs. C. E. Briley in appreciation for their loyalty and service who will soon be moving away and living elsewhere.

Mrs. E. H. Baker gave the invocation for the meal. Table favors had Scripture quotations on gladness, joy and praise, and were read by each one.

Those present were: Meadams, M. E., Leeman, Frank Mitchell, W. T., Stanley, W. T., Nichols, C. R., Willey, E. H., Baker, C. E., Briley, Alma Daniel, Gattis Neely, Robert W. Walker, Vada Babston, E.
