HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Would You Believe It Department: John Edward McAdoo made a hole-in-one Sunday afternoon on No. 5 at the Winters Country Club.

Some of the new drugs developed over the past few years may not be eligible, but according to the Pharmaceutical Manufacturing Association,

Last week it was Spring... this week it is Summer! So we can't call the hot weather we're having—and that which will come—unseasonable!

Speaking of the "summer doldrums"... which we weren't, but are now... there is a movement afoot to do something about it.

The idea really was put forward by Eldredge Cox, who used to live here but now lives down "there."

We may be looking down our noses at France and certain Frenchmen these days, but it would be well to remember the prediction of one Frenchman more than one hundred years ago.

VFW Auxiliary Discusses Plans For Convention

Plans for the State Convention set for June 30-July 3 in Houston were discussed by members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Winters Post 9193.

Membership quotas of 54 members for the year has been reached, it was announced.

TWO SIDES TO AN ISSUE—Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, left, and Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen get together to meet the press in Washington after a White House meeting with President Johnson.

"Dateline: Tanzania"

PC Volunteer Was Taught To "Live Off Land;" Training Unnecessary

By BILLY M. PUMPHREY

Chunya, Tanzania—In Peace Corps training we were given such thorough home economics instruction that you might have thought we were going to the moon—not just to Africa.

Aaron, our cook, worked for European families back in the gold boom days of Chunya and he would still qualify to cook or serve at any European hotel.

Breakfast usually includes eggs on toast with bacon, blueberry pancakes, breakfast cereal, or oat meal.

Lunch is our big meal of the day. Our selection of meat includes steak (14 cents a pound), fillet (21 cents a pound), fish (28 cents for two nice "nege")

Aaron bakes our bread and we have hot bread or rolls about twice a week. Vegetables come from Mbeya by bus every Thursday.

Aaron leaves around 2 p. m. but he leaves our dinner in the oven (a tin unit set on top of the kerosene stove) and we warm it in the evening.

"Headstart" Program In Second Week, Interviews Set For Next Week

The Winters Schools' "Headstart" program for pre-school children is completing the second week of work, and interviews with parents are scheduled to begin next Monday.

George M. Beard, principal of Winters Elementary School, said that teachers are scheduling interview periods with parents for next week.

Also beginning next week, pupils will receive dental examinations, medical examinations, and have blood tests taken.

ing aids are available here. I have even tried my hand at cooking and have made some good gingerbread and a chocolate cake (thanks to Betty Crocker).

I can't believe that I almost forgot dessert—how unlike me. For dessert we have Jello, custard, pudding, fresh fruit, or a fruit cocktail (papayas, bananas, oranges, apples, and watermelon).

After reading about our meals, you may feel that we eat better than folks back at home. We may but we also have to pay for the wide variety we have in food.

Since my arrival in Africa I have lost 15 pounds (I'm down to 159 now). Jim, however, has gained about 15 pounds so it is not possible to make any generalizations about the effect of the food here.

Our diet has much variety although not as much as an American one. One thing they didn't prepare us for in training was the presence of a cook.

Stan Hill Now Employed By Food, Drug Adm.

Stan Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hill of Route 4, has recently been employed as an inspector by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

Officers Installed By Order of the Eastern Star

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Jobe were installed as worthy patron and worthy matron of Winters Chapter 80, Order of the Eastern Star, at ceremonies held at the Masonic Hall Monday night of this week.

Installing officer was Raymond Balke, and installing marshal was Mrs. Ethel Mae Clark.

Mrs. Fred Young, Winters School Nurse, has given each child a Salk polio booster, or has given the first dose of the three-part Salk polio vaccine where needed, it was stated.

Forty-five children are enrolled in this year's program, being conducted in the primary school. The project is financed by Federal funds and controlled by agencies of the Federal government, with local schools providing space and facilities.

PVT. DICKIE BELLIS "... Viet Nam Needs Us"

Soldier In VN: "What We Are Doing Is Right!"

"It's the end of another hot, miserable day. There's a whole bunch more just like it to come. But I still wouldn't come home right now if they gave me a plane ticket.

This is but one paragraph in a letter from U. S. Army Private Dickie Bellis of Winters, now stationed in Viet Nam, to his twin sister, Mrs. Orville Green of Cisco.

Comprising District 22 are posts in Winters, San Angelo, Ballinger, Eden, Rowena and Miles.

Henderson will be honored at the State VFW convention in Houston July 13 as a division winner in the district commanders' contest.

Two of the state officers this year are from Henderson's district. They are Department Commander L. N. Kirkpatrick and Department Inspector Thomas H. Parrish Jr., both of Eden.

Succeeding Henderson as a district commander July 3 will be Bob Donaldson of San Angelo.

Jill Matthews To Band School At McMurry College

Miss Jill Matthews of Winters has been accepted for the 19th annual summer vacation band and twirling school opening July 10 on McMurry College campus.

Dr. Raymond T. Bynum, director of the McMurry College Band, will head the 15-member faculty chosen from successful band directors and twirling instructors over West Texas.

Dr. Bynum said that on Sunday night, July 10, in Radford Auditorium the entire school will be together for a worship service, Monday night will be movies and dancing with music furnished by the faculty.

Classes are designed to improve concert band performance as well as marching showmanship. For mature and advanced players, a course in "reading band" will be offered again this year.

County Doctors For Resolution of Responsibility

Runnels County medical doctors this week went on record favoring support of the Resolution of the Principle of Individual Responsibility adopted by the House of Delegates of the Texas Medical Association.

In a called meeting of the Runnels County Medical Society June 20, the doctors unanimously voted to support the stand taken by the State organization.

This means, the doctors said, that physicians "will not assume responsibility for collections of insurance payments from insurance companies or any agency of State or Federal government."

Such a stand and consequent action must be made, the doctors explained, in order for physicians to devote their time to the treatment of patients instead of acting "as a cleaning house for insurance collections."

Members of the Runnels County Medical Society are C. T. Rives Jr., M. D., Henry H. McCreight, M. D., of Winters; and Louis J. Cole, M. D., John E. Green Jr., M. D., Oren Chandler, M. D., and James T. Cook, M. D., all of Ballinger.

J. A. Henderson, Jr. Won State VFW Leadership Honors

J. A. Henderson Jr. of Winters, commander of District 22 of the Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars, won his division in the state district commander contest and finished among the top 10 in the final standings of 27 districts chiefs.

The Winters man won Division 4 in competition against six other districts of similar size. His membership quota was 634 for 1966, and as of June 1, his district had 711 members.

Comprising District 22 are posts in Winters, San Angelo, Ballinger, Eden, Rowena and Miles.

Henderson will be honored at the State VFW convention in Houston July 13 as a division winner in the district commanders' contest.

Succeeding Henderson as a district commander July 3 will be Bob Donaldson of San Angelo.

Area Rains Have Painted Brighter Picture For Crops

The 1966 crop picture was a little brighter for North Runnels County growers this week following rains received in the area the last of the previous week.

Although the rains were spotty, most every community of North Runnels and the immediate area received at least some moisture.

Cotton and milo farmers were pleased with amounts of rainfall received, although reports indicate that more rain will be needed within a couple of weeks if the milo is to produce profitably.

According to unofficial records kept at Winters, a total of 14.9 inches has fallen here this year.

Every one is invited to attend.

METHODIST PASTOR — The Rev. Edward H. Otwell, formerly of Cleburne, was recently appointed pastor of the Winters First Methodist Church.

Prior to coming to Winters, the Rev. Mr. Otwell was for six years Executive Secretary of the Town and Country Committee of the Central Texas Conference, with offices in Cleburne.

He is a graduate of Texas Christian University, and attended Bright Seminary at TCU. He also attended Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University.

A native of DeLeon, he is a graduate of DeLeon High School. Shortly after his graduation from high school, he joined the U. S. Navy, serving with the amphibious forces in the Pacific during World War II.

The Rev. and Mrs. Otwell have a daughter, Cynthia, who is a 1966 graduate of Cleburne High School.

Little League Baseball Now In Second Phase

Representatives of the Winters Area Little League Association were to go to Sweetwater Wednesday night to elect new district officers and to schedule play-off games.

The season will end on about July 12, with district playoff games to follow.

In the Winters area, activity and interest has been good, with good crowds attending most of the games.

Leading team in the regular Little League was Lawn. Other teams, according to places, are Wingate, Jets, Indians, Dodgers, Yankees.

In the Minor League, the Indians led the pack at the end of the first half. Other places, in order, were Lawn, Pirates, Cardinals, Wingate and Giants.

The won-lost box score for the Teen-Age shows the Mets out front, with Wingate and Lawn just behind. The standings now are:

- Mets: Won 4, lost 2
Wingate: Won 3, lost 3
Lawn: Won 3, lost 2
Astros: Won 2, lost 3
Angels: Won 1, lost 3

There probably will be several make-up games before the second half of the season ends.

Fourth of a Series Little Town of Content Lives In Memory of Early Settlers of Area

(This is the fourth of a series of articles covering the early days of this area, written by Charlie Poe, Historian for the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee. Other articles will follow.)

Content, "the little enchanted town that has vanished," still lives in the memory of the pioneers who settled there and who return each year on the first Sunday in July for a homecoming.

Located in the northeast corner of Runnels County, a mile east of Highway 382, Content one of the earliest towns in the county was founded by Daniel W. Hale in 1881.

According to unofficial records kept at Winters, a total of 14.9 inches has fallen here this year.

There still are a few fields of wheat which have not been cut, but for all practical purposes the harvest is over for this year.

The agent for Abilene-Southern Railway, J. C. Jarrell, reports that 184 cars of grain had been shipped out of the Winters yards by Tuesday of this week.

Toni Cecile Cook and Richard William Cook Married Friday at Lake Jackson

Miss Toni Cecile Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Cook Jr. of Lake Jackson, Texas, became the bride of Richard William Cook of Winters when they recited their marriage vows at the First Methodist Church at Lake Jackson Friday evening, at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Cook of Winters.

The Rev. Carlos David, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with four candelabra lighted by 28 yellow cathedral tapers with a basket arrangement of white gladiolus and yellow mums on either side.

Traditional wedding music was played by Charles Burch, organist, of Lake Jackson.

Candlelighters were Charles Ploegsma Jr. of Lake Charles, La. and John Davidson of Lake Jackson, Texas.

K. W. Cook of Winters served his son as best man. Ushers were Steven Cherry and Larry Seiler, both of Lake Jackson. Groomsmen were Larry Cook of Winters, brother of the groom and Mike Cook of Lake Jackson, brother of the bride.

Maid of honor was Betty Duke of Dallas and bridesmaids were Beth Spill of Winters and Barbara Denny of Baton Rouge, La.

They wore identical dresses of powder blue crepe, fashioned with empire waistline, scooped neckline, long sleeves and slightly gathered skirt. Dark green velvet ribbon accented the waistline with streamers in the back. They carried Colonial bouquets of yellow Fuji chrysanthemums and ivy tied with yellow ribbon bows. They wore matching head bands with short silk illusion veils.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, wore an empire style wedding gown of satin with chantilly lace bodice and long sleeves tapering to petal points over the wrists. A-line skirt with attached train in the back which fell from the shoulders down the full length of the gown. The dress was an original design and made by the bride for her wedding. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Her finger-tip mantilla of silk illusion, hand-made by her mother, was applied with lace medallions matching the trim of the dress. Her bouquet was a crescent of yellow roses entwined with English ivy, centered with a liftout Cattleya orchid.

A reception was held in Wesley Hall at the church, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Cook Sr., Mrs. Jack Wales and Mrs. Hilton Morgan. Guests were registered by Susan Boedeker.

The bride's table laid with white net over linen and the three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with natural yellow roses and ivy. The center decoration was the brides bouquet and two candelabra holding yellow tapers. Light yellow punch was served.

Presiding at the table, Margaret Schrader served the cake and Mrs. Fred Srite ladeled punch. Mrs. Gene Dawson poured coffee and petite fours were served by Avis Morgan and Nancy Stephens.

The bridegroom's table was laid with net over linen and petite fours and coffee were served.

For her wedding trip to Austin the bride changed to a yellow linen dress fashioned with scooped neck, three quarter-length sleeves and A-line skirt with beige accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Brazosport Senior High School and attended Texas Tech. Mr. Cook is a graduate of Winters High School and also attended Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook will live in Winters for a time and both will attend college in Abilene this fall.

IT'S THE LAW

Day at the Races

Most of the danger at a horse race or an auto race involves those who are racing. But sometimes an accident involves those who are watching. To what extent is the management legally liable for that?

Your rights as a spectator are very much like your rights as a shopper. The management owes you "due care"—that is, care measured by the hazards of the occasion—but no more.

You cannot collect damages for an accident which is simply no one's fault. In one case a horse in the paddock area suddenly reared up angrily. Frightened onlookers, although outside the fence, fell back in dismay, pushing one man against a platform.

He sued the management for damages. But since the horse had never been troublesome before, the court could find no basis for liability.

Nor can you collect if you yourself are to blame. Thus:

A racing fan, on his way to the betting window, came to a mud puddle. Although it was only a quarter-inch deep, he decided to jump. He landed short, skidded, and fell down hard. A court ruled later that he could not collect damages for an accident which, by his own bravado, he had brought upon himself.

But blame was pinned on the management when a grandstand seat caved in under a spectator. Proper maintenance, ruled the court, would have revealed that the wood beneath the seat had rotted away.

In another case, numerous spectators at an auto race were hurt when a car blew a tire, smashed through a fence, and hurtled into the stands. The blowout was traced to one of several loose nails, lying in plain sight on the track but overlooked by a cleanup crew.

Of course, safety measures such as careful maintenance, adequate policing, and strong fences can be costly. But in the eyes of the law, cost is secondary. As one court put it:

"While the expense cannot be overlooked, it weighs less than human life in the balance. If a race cannot be held without inherent and extreme risk to life and limb, the command of the law is that it must not be held at all."

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

People have two feet. Count them. One . . . two. Grammarians have taught three degrees of comparison for centuries: good, better, best. One is good, two is better, but three is best.

To use correct grammar then, we would have to say, "Put your better foot forward."

Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it? It's about as ridiculous as a referee saying, "And may the better man win," when he slaps two opponents on their backs at a boxing match!

Expressions which are popular despite the fact they break every rule of grammar are called idioms. Every language has its own idioms. They cannot be translated into another language for they do not make sense when translated.

A sports announcer had been taught never to end a sentence with a preposition. In the midst of the second inning of the baseball game, there came a downpour. "Rain again!" the announcer quipped. "This is something up with which we will have to put!"

A wise English teacher will put her best foot forward if she tells her students the first day of school: "Grammar has rules we must follow, but there is also an exception to just about every rule."

In many cases, exceptions to the rules in grammar are idioms. We say we'll "get on the bus," when what we really mean is that we will "get in it." Idioms are very confusing to people who are learning English as a second language.

The World is full of people making good livings but poor lives.

State Capital Highlights—

Insurance On Texas Motorists Due To Rise Up to 17.7 Percent

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Auto insurance rates in Texas may rise an average of $2.11 a year per motorist.
State Insurance Board is weighing testimony given at a public hearing on rates last week. Decision probably will be announced soon, since new rates usually are effective August 1. Look for these rate changes if the Board follows staff recommendations:
Liability (bodily injury and property damage) up 11.9 percent.
Private passenger $50 deductible collision, up 2.4 percent. Full comprehensive coverage, up 0.3 percent.
Private passenger $50 deductible, comprehensive coverage, up 17.7 percent.
Rates, of course, will vary widely among 26 rating districts.

FRUIT FLY REPORTED

First Mediterranean Fruit Fly has been discovered in Texas in Brownsville area.
Agriculture Commissioner — John White said the dangerous pest has been positively identified. Medfly can cause economic loss by stinging or implanting eggs inside fruit, causing widespread spoilage.
Proposed watercraft regulation would require holding tanks for all-marine toilets on boats. Sewage could be removed only by pumping it into onshore facilities. Rule also would outlaw boatmen throwing garbage, rubbish and litter into waters. Aim is to prevent water pollution.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court held that Big Spring must stick by 1937 contract in which it agreed to provide as much as 300,000 gallons of water a day to Big Spring State Hospital for 10 cents a thousand gallons.
Supreme Court agreed to review a San Antonio malpractice suit involving a physician's obligation to warn a patient of all dangers of an operation. Patient in the case lost his hearing after an operation, claimed he didn't understand all dangers involved before he agreed to surgery.

HEALTH RULES ADOPTED

State Health Board has adopted tentative rules governing standards for frozen desserts sold in Texas and regulations to check disposal of wastes from boats.
Dessert rules apply to ice cream and substitutes, sherbets, water ices, ice milk and other products. A public hearing on proposals will be scheduled later.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Thomas E. Riggs of Waco and Clifton B. Drinkard of Eden will be director and assistant director of the new Veterans Administration Data Processing Center in Austin. Center will have more than $3,000,000 worth of data processing equipment to serve the nation's 165 VA hospitals and 26,000,000 veterans.

Former Winters Man Hurt On Mountain Road

George Briley, who recently moved from Winters to Colorado, was injured Thursday of last week when his car plunged off a cliff between Pueblo and Gunnison, Colo.

According to reports received here, Briley received a broken leg and other serious head and facial injuries and multiple cuts and bruises. His condition is reported as satisfactory.
Briley, who owned a house moving company here, now operates a tourist court in Gunnison, Colo.
Reports indicated that Briley was involved in the accident while attempting to avoid collision with a car and house ability to produce. This is down 1.2 per cent from June's rate and 1.7 per cent below the April high of 35 per cent.

A recalculation of the actual oil production resulting from the July cut-back produced an estimate that it will be 2,734,835 barrels a calendar day from allowable of 3,118,042 barrels a day.

Translated into actual barrels of oil in the pipelines, the new production figure is just below the 2,749,135 the wells produced in January.

SHORT SNORTS

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled that a salvage dealer must, upon demand, surrender license plates and certificates of titles to motor vehicles obtained for scrap disposal, resale or any sort of salvage.
Texas Supreme Court ruled that Texas Highway Commission may dispose of unused right-of-way and that land does not revert back to original owner.

Roger Babson Says

Inflationists in Government Have Had Upper Hand in Last Few Years

The "New Economics" theory of action and reaction famous... as applied to economics... during the early decades of this century.

Outlawing Depressions
But after World War II people began asking: "Must we have the hardship and pain of recessions?" Across the seas in England a new economics prophet emerged... Lord John Maynard Keynes. He greatly influenced the thinking of President Roosevelt before the war, and later the attitudes of Presidents Truman, Eisenhower, and Kennedy. In a word, Lord Keynes said that business cycles were not necessary, that they could be flattened out by the government's applying stimulants to a lagging economy and curbs to a booming one.

Generally, Keynesian economics held that, when conditions were depressed, government should spend more heavily to offset lack of spending by consumers. Then, however, and this is most important... the English financial wizard held that inflation should be avoided by the administration's collecting more in revenues than it paid out. Apparently, he recognized that if more and more were spent and more and more lent, prosperity would degenerate into inflation and a grand bust. So impressed were the politicians in the U. S. that they passed the Full Employment Act of 1946, making it the government's business to see that depressions would be outlawed.

Enter The Inflationists
During the terms of Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, there was a strong disposition to avoid overstimulating the economy. But, toward the end of President Eisenhower's time in office, and especially during President Kennedy's short stay, a great impatience with the nation's rate of economic growth spread thru an important group of young, "liberal" economists. They emphasized that other Free World nations were growing faster than the U. S. They blamed this on our government's habit of applying the brakes too soon.

The "New Economists," as they are now called, promoted inflation as a way of life. Claiming that a "little" price advance was far better than the sufferings of unemployment and meager profits, they preached perpetual prosperity. Growth must never cease... our economic climb must be more impressive than anyone else's.

A Rose By Any Other Name?
Under the Administration of President Johnson, the New Economists have had things pretty much their own way. U. S. growth has been admittedly phenomenal. But in the last year the price level for consumers rose almost 3 per cent. Strangely enough, the same who accepted this 3 per cent cut in their purchasing power without a whimper would have hollered to high heaven if the President had suggested a 3 per cent sales tax on all production to pay for the Viet War.

Also, it should be noted that the New Economists readily admit that some inflation is the price we must pay to avoid the hardships of recessions. But no one of them has stated flatly how much is enough and how much is too much. And that is where the big danger lies. To many of us old-fashioned economists, it looks as if the new theories are no more than the old boom-and-bust credit spree that were first made infamous by the South Seas Bubble in England and by John Law in France over two hundred years ago.

Signs of Fatigue
And while the controversy rages, we notice that it is taking more and more dollars of inflation to make a lesser addition to the dollar price of our Gross National Product. In the last five years government spending rose by 47 per cent and Federal Reserve credit climbed 50 per cent; yet GNP was able to move up only 34 per cent. If this trend continues, we may find that the medicine of the New Economists will "work" only when first applied. Like so many other stimulants, the long-run effect may turn out to be bad.

"A Big Hand for the Little Lady"

Warner Bros. "A Big Hand for the Little Lady," a Western without Indians, laced with comedy and highlighted by a surprise funny ending, opens on Friday at the State Theatre.

The Eden production for Warner release stars a galaxy of talent composed of Henry Fonda, Joanne Woodward, Jason Robards, Paul Ford, Charles Bickford, Kevin McCarthy, Burgess Meredith, Robert Middleton, John Qualen and nine-year-old Gerald Michenaud.

The Technicolor Western tells the story of a handsome couple and their young son who pass through a western town of the 1890's on their way to a new home in Texas. The husband, a compulsive gambler, stumbles on the biggest annual poker game in the territory and uses the family homesteading money for a filing at the game. The ending is a delightful surprise in every sense.

LOOK, MA, NO ENGINE—Meet Linnet, the plane that proves that man can fly without using fuel or engines. The 110-pound craft was made by students at Japan's Nihon University to determine man's capacity to generate energy in terms of horsepower. It won't fly high or far but, by using pedals and a "stick" in the cockpit, you can get it off the ground.

Roger Babson Says—

DeGaulle's Decision To Oust NATO From French Soil Surprising

Babson Park, Mass. Twice in this century, France has been laid prostrate by German conquest. Both times — at tremendous cost in men and materials — the U. S. has been a mighty help in recapturing French soil from its despoilers and in restoring French sovereignty. Why then does President de Gaulle so distrust us? Why is he so intent upon pursuing what seems to be an anti-American campaign?

The Secession From Nato

In both World Wars I and II, our efforts in behalf of France were veritable crusades, reflecting not only our horror of aggression but also our affection and our gratitude for the oldest of our nation's allies. Without French help there might have been no successful end to the American Revolution. So it is that President de Gaulle's decision to have France withdraw from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and to direct NATO officials to remove their military headquarters and bases from French soil not only surprises us, but hurts us deeply.

President de Gaulle is an ardent nationalist, a complex personality, a man of mystery. On the surface, it would appear that in his disenchantment with NATO he is obsessed with the idea of breaking up the whole alliance. Certain it is that NATO's operations will be severely crippled if France persists in her withdrawal. . . . and especially if she should forbid NATO flights over her territory.

The Pilgrimage To Moscow

While de Gaulle's government and the 14 other powers belonging to NATO are busy jockeying for position as the withdrawal of NATO forces from France is arranged and accomplished, President de Gaulle himself will go to Russia. What he expects to accomplish there is not yet clear.

Of course, France and Russia do have two things in common: (1) A mutual mistrust of German power, and (2) a mutual interest in promoting Franco-Russian trade. Some observers claim that the de Gaulle visit to Moscow is in the nature of a pilgrimage, but many others find it hard to picture the French leader as a pilgrim seeking advice, or solace, or help. For all his isolationism, de Gaulle is not stupid. He knows very well that, in the larger sense and for the longer term, there can be no broad Franco-Russian accord. But de Gaulle is a realist, too, and he will be probing for the chinks in the Russian armor and for whatever opportunities there may be to strike a short-term bargain that will at least have good propaganda value.

What Price Glory?

By and large, Americans view de Gaulle's upcoming withdrawal from NATO as stemming from the man's stubbornness. Here in the States, the popular portrayal of de Gaulle is of a leader preoccupied by his own importance and by the grandeur of France. The glory of his nation's past is said to be ever present for him. His ambition to restore that glory ought not to be scorned. Would that America had more patriots of such caliber!

No matter how you view it, de Gaulle's decision to get out of NATO and to force the military arm of NATO out of France is a failure for U. S. diplomatic policy. It marks the beginning of a split in the Western alliance that makes the Communist world rejoice and that ought to make us uneasy.

America's Opportunity

The postwar establishment of NATO was a significant diplomatic achievement. It was the right move at the right time. Also, it was eminently right that the young NATO should be dominated by the powerful U. S. since most of its other members had been sorely ravaged by the war. But the years have passed, and Western Europe — aided in great measure by the security and the opportunity provided by NATO itself — has grown strong in manpower and in resources.

De Gaulle should not be criticized for having perceived the shortcomings and the inequities of NATO in today's awakened and more sophisticated Western Europe. One day we may be glad he has now ruffled our feathers, for he has presented America with a challenge and an opportunity. NATO needs a new thrust, a new dimension, a more realistic power structure. What a chance this crisis provides for President Johnson who is so well versed in the arts of persuasion and of compromise!

Cut Light, Save Deer! —Engineer

A panoramic view of nature from a locomotive cab reflects reactions that may guide ordinary persons in their conservation opportunities.

This was indicated in a letter to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department by a Southern Pacific Railroad engineer.

The man, Richard Weynand, suggested that highway hazards created by deer might be reduced by motorists' lowering their car lights or dropping them to dim.

He wrote: "A word of safety to motorists: If a deer on or near a highway seems to be blinded by the headlights, if possible dim them or put them on park. We never hit a deer when the headlights of a locomotive are extinguished. They scat."

In reporting the toll to wildlife, Weynand estimated 125 to 175 deer are killed annually on the San Antonio to Del Rio run which he makes. He noted the casualties include turkey and quail when they are small but seldom if ever a dove.

The observing engineer said javelina frequently are killed by trains. "When the mother or mate is killed," he wrote, "the young or the other mate return to lie by it and are also killed."

Weynand said the predators—coyotes and foxes—"are out in numbers" and rattlesnakes are big, surly and even stand their ground and strike the iron horse.

"... the rascals grow big out here and are very aggressive," the engineer wrote. "It is rumored one is holding out around a side track between Uvalde and Cline named Obi. He is wearing a brakeman's cap since scaring him out from under it while he was lining the switch for his train to head in there"

A single-row mechanical picker can harvest about 1,200 pounds of cotton an hour.

The Things We Say

By Ruby Shannon

Back in the 1930s, the explorer William Beebe wrote an article for National Geographic which he entitled, "A Round Trip to Davy Jones' Locker."

Everyone has heard the expression "Davy Jones' Locker" and they know it means "at the bottom of the sea," but how did the expression originate?

My dictionary doesn't say, but it gives duppy as a West Indian word for ghost, and duffy as a variant of this word, and duffy johan as the original of Davy Jones.

One encyclopedia says that "Davy Jones" is a common Welsh name. Some have attempted to trace "Jones" to Jonah in the Bible who lived three days in the belly of a whale.

In folklore, bodies of drowned sailors and those buried at sea are said to go to "Davy Jones' Locker," and the souls of good sailors go to "Fiddler's Green."

The late Dr. B. A. Botkin, former professor of English at Oklahoma University, said that, in some respects, Davy Jones is the present-day equivalent of the mythical Roman sea god, Neptune.

The atomic submarines have done a lot of exploring of Davy Jones' Locker. Although we have no definite proof of the origin of Davy Jones, his locker is, of course, the seaman's chest.

Income Tax Tattletales

Last year, Uncle Sam collected an extra $13 million in income taxes because somebody tattled for pay.

Most tips about income tax fraud come in anonymously, from people seeking no reward beyond the satisfaction of doing their duty—or of getting even with someone they don't like.

But in 1965, a typical year, 4,000 informers filed formal claims for a reward. And the government paid out $600,000 for a reward. And the government paid out $600,000 for their information.

The practice of paying money for tax tips has existed ever since the early days of the republic. In each year's budget Congress sets aside a specific sum for this purpose.

There are those who condemn the whole idea. They argue that tattling is unsportsmanlike, not in keeping with our traditions. Certainly, generations of American readers have despised Tom Sawyer's half brother Sid for tattling on Tom to Aunt Polly.

On the other hand, tax cheaters are not as endearing as Tom Sawyer. And, as one court put it:

"It is the duty of every citizen to communicate to his government any information which he has of the commission of an offense against its laws."

The Internal Revenue Service takes no position on fine philosophical grounds. Its job is simply to collect all the money that the government has coming—and informers are a big help. Using them not only puts the IRS on the track of cheaters but also helps to keep many tempted citizen honest.

How much can an informer collect? Up to 10 percent of what the government recovers, which can be considerable. However, the exact amount is left largely to the discretion of the IRS.

As It Looks From Here

17th District, Texas

"Truth In Packaging" was a subject of this release in February of this year. Legislation beamed to the proposition that food products should not be labeled to mislead the purchasing public may be up for consideration in the near future.

The Trend Nowadays, both in the administration of Laws already on the books and those proposed, emphasizes favor and protection for the "consumer." Actually, of course, we are all consumers, and there are more of us than there are manufacturers, packagers, and so forth.

Generally The Assumption seems to be that the housewife buys a product and gets cheated. There is already a complete Department set up in Government to see that this is not done, but a majority of the Congress may decide that further Law is needed to provide machinery for greater protection. They say that there are too many items on the market and not enough information about them to permit the consumer to make an independent choice. Some apparently feel that we are unable to read the labels and tell the good from the bad. In other words, emphasis is on the assumption that we are being sold the sizzle instead of the steak.

Actually, A Product is what it does. A freezer, for instance, is not the sum of its nuts and bolts but something designed to save food, time and effort. A steak stripped of its sizzle is a bloody piece of meat from the carcass of a steer. Where the usage of a product is self-evident, such as the wood screw, little more need be said.

Probably We Have All Experienced disappointment and a feeling of being cheated with a number of things we buy and expect to get its maximum benefit. Power sprays and pressurized toothpaste which runs out of power before the can is empty is a favorite gripe of a lot of us. It is real convenient while it works but provoking that we can not get our money's worth by using it all.

Be This As It May, someone has got to decide what is adequate "information." Where does it begin and end? How thorough must it be for those of us who are not too perceiving or patient enough to find out about the product?

This Proposition might be taken a great deal further in some things other than food. Antiques could really furnish a good example. Depending on one's knowledge, today's trash might be tomorrow's treasure. The person who paid $5 for an 18-inch piece of barbed wire may really have known what he was doing. Over the years there have been several hundred different types of barbed wire and some of it has now become a collector's item under something called "industrial archeology."

Incidentally, If We Want to go in for "Gadgets" in products, we can buy soap manufactured in Yokohama with a message that remains visible down to the last siver. It is described as having messages on thin layers which are then pressed together to make the full bar. Not being sure of what the advantages are, one would suppose that youngsters might be able to do their homework while taking a bath.

Drug Labeling And Beneficial claims is a separate legislative issue from that involving food products. Scientific advances have brought so many drugs on the market recently that even the experts are unable to keep up with them. The Food and Drug Administration has grown by leaps and bounds, and Committees of Congress are constantly inquiring into the effects new drugs are having on the consuming public. In some cases it is a serious matter of health by reason of side effects—in some cases worse than the disease it is supposed to cure. All these things have to be policed and the authority for it must be furnished. The facts remain, however, that it is going to be difficult to guarantee by law that the individual is always going to get his money's worth in everything he buys. By and large there is a high integrity on the part of businessmen in our various communities and there are few who are not willing to take serious note of their customers' complaints. This may be the best answer to Truth in Packaging and labeling of products. He, too, is a buyer from his source of supplies.

Old Settlers Homecoming At Wilmeth, 3rd

There already is an indication that many people who were reared in the community and who at one time lived there will be in attendance at the all day Homecoming at Wilmeth, July 3.

Homecoming will begin with special community services at the Wilmeth Baptist Church at 10 o'clock. The Rev. John Dwiggins, pastor of the church, will be moderator of the services. W. H. Komegay will lead group singing with Mrs. W. T. Moreland as pianist. Rev. Virgil James, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church of Winters, will bring the devotional.

Musical numbers will be presented by many former members of the churches. Bill Shackelford will sing two songs he composed and a quartet of the Bellew family will be featured.

L. B. Watkins will be in charge of the recognition service. Those recognized will be former school teachers, former pastors of the community churches, charter members of the churches and the persons who gave land for the cemetery.

Edd Poehls will present gifts to the oldest couple present, the person coming the farthest distance for the homecoming and the person living longest continuously in the Wilmeth community.

The morning message will be delivered by a former pastor,

C. F. Cloud. He is associated with the Buckner Baptist Benevolence of Dallas.

Huffman House of Winters will cater a barbecue plate at the noon hour. Each plate will sell for $1.00. Anyone wanting barbecue plates may contact Mrs. E. F. Albro or Mrs. Lenord Wright, Route 1, Winters, for tickets. They must be ordered before June 27 so the number may be determined. Ladies will bring cakes or pies.

The committee making arrangements for the homecoming are Mrs. L. B. Watkins, Mrs. C. D. Tekell and Mrs. Edd Poehls. Much work is being done so the old settlers will be happy with the progress the community is making since its beginning in 1880 and early 1900.

The committee received a letter from Mr. J. A. Patterson, Route 2, Ballinger, telling how anxious he is to attend the homecoming. He tells of putting land in cultivation in 1900. He also tells in the summer of 1917, there was 40 converts baptized into the Mazeland Baptist Church. One of those boys is now Runnels County Sheriff and another Ballinger post-master. He ends his letter by saying "From Little Acorns, Trees Grow." Mr. Patterson will be pleased to know the community is still producing officers of the law. Some earlier day officers were Judge O. L. Parish, E. C. Grindstaff, Robert White, County Judge Henry Rampy and County Clerk Frankie Berryman are all from Wilmeth. Some others to become law officers are Don Atkins, W. T. Moreland, Garland Freeman, the late John Wilson and Johnny and Merle Wilson Jr.

The latest crop of place officers are Jerry Dean Watkins, city patrolman of San Angelo; Joe Frank Albro with the Liquor Control Board of Lubbock; and Ronnie Hill with State Patrol of El Paso.

Wilmeth has produced Ministers of the gospel. Some are Rev. Lester Vinson, Dr. Virtus Gedion, Rev. Earl Hord, Rev. Bill Shackelford and Rev. Eugene Robinson.

The Historical Survey committee of Runnels County notified the Old Settlers Homecoming Committee that the Wilmeth Community is eligible for a historical marker. Mrs. George Poe will meet with the group at 2 p. m. in the Baptist Church auditorium July 3, with information concerning the marker. Everyone interested in obtaining a community marker is urged to attend.

A "Speak From Your Heart" session will begin at 2:30 p. m. It has been requested that some of the old settlers tell some of their experiences during early life in the community.

The meeting will close with old favorite songs in honor of those who gave so much that the people of Wilmeth might have such a wonderful community in which to live.
