HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

It's too hot and too early, isn't it, to think or talk about football? Be that as it may, the opening of the 1966 season is only a few weeks away—and when one runs out of anything else to talk about, a lively conversation of football can always be stirred up.

For instance, the annual "Texas Football" magazine is on the newsstands. This is the magazine which gives the low-down on all Southwest Conference teams, along with a good discussion of Classes 4-A, 3-A and 1-A teams about the state. Opinions are expressed on the merits of teams, and their position in the standings throughout the districts and state.

Back in the spring, teams of the SWC beat the bushes about the state for promising footballers, and the magazine lists their recruiting efforts. One graduate of Winters was recruited by Texas Tech, Roger O'Neal (6-4, 220), who carved a place for himself on the Blizzard squad and then was listed on the all-state second team. He was recruited as an interior lineman, linebacker.

Another of Tech's Raiders is Soph. Mike Patterson, also an ex Blizzard, an offensive right tackle. They made a slight mistake in Mike's statistics, though; especially his weight. They have him listed as 6-1, 26 (lbs)! Some of Mike's Ballinger, Stamford, Anson, etc., line opponents of about four years ago will probably tell you he seemed a mite bigger than that!

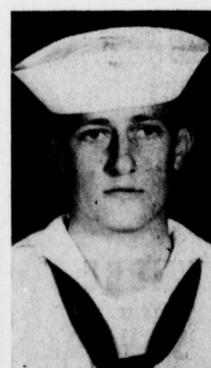

Another Blizzard ex, playing for the Longhorns of Texas, will be the WHS backfield flash of years back, Soph. Denny Aldridge, in the RH spot.

Texas Football always gets enthusiastic when introducing District 5 in the Double A bracket. This year, they've opened with: "By habit they make the races torrid and tight in 5-AA and the winner usually is one of the state's better AA elevens." They've picked Anson, Haskell and Stamford, and "not necessarily in that order," as the leaders in this circuit this year. They say that Winters is "rebuilding with only 6 letter-men, has in tackle Sim Shepard a fine name for the defense. Ends Terry Rives and Dan Killough are also prime line hopes. QB Alvin Dunn and fullback Jerry Awalt feel the attack."

So, it's really later than we think—the summer is half gone.

Anything mixed up with Federal bureaucracy usually is hip-deep in red tape and reports ad infinitum—just ask those who fill out the report forms on school programs "financed" by Federal money. The Medicare program seems to be no exception. One form, three or four pages, is to be completed by a "committee" which will review each Medicare case. In it are such questions as, substantially, "Was a diagnosis correct?", "Was patient released from hospital too soon?", and "Was patient in hospital too long?" One wag has said that another question should have been added: "Is patient member of proper political party, and if not, why not?"

As the government and the medical profession seek to discharge their duties to older people under the Medicare law. (Continued on page 6)

Light Damage So Far From Cotton Insects In County

The cotton insect picture in Runnels County seems to be basically the same as last week, with light damage and a continued build-up of beneficial insects, says a report from the Agricultural Extension Service office.

Fleahoppers seem to be making a rather large increase and are building up high enough to bear watching, the County office of the Extension Service said. Weather conditions probably will govern recommendations concerning this pest, it was said.

The only over-wintered weevil found thus far, according to the County Agent's office, seems to be on the A. W. Hoelscher farm near the Ballinger Airport. In this field, weevils appear to be moving out of an adjoining pasture and may warrant spot spraying soon in this one field.

Bollworm eggs seem to be increasing at a rather surprising rate; however, the Extension Service office continues to feel that without spraying, beneficial insects seem to be taking care of the situation.

Lone Grave In Field At Winters Is That of I. M. Barton, Civil War Vet

(The following article is one of a series being published under auspices of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee. The writer, Mrs. Charlie Poe, is historian for the committee.)

There is a lone grave in a field on the Charlie Chapman property three miles northwest of Winters. The grave is fenced and has a good marker which reads "I. M. Barton — Born Nov. 7, 1817—Died May 2, 1892."

Mrs. Jim Flynn of Ballinger, the former Carrie Patterson, was a young girl at the time living in Winters and recalls attending the funeral where she gathered some wild flowers to place on the grave.

Mr. Barton was a Civil War Veteran and is listed among the dead comrades on a Camp Roll of Henry E. McCulloch Camp No. 557, Ballinger, in 1901. But his company and regiment were unknown. He also built a one stand cotton gin, fed by hand, in the south part of Winters in 1890, the year the town was organized.

Perhaps some of those who know about the grave have wondered why the man was buried to himself. The late Mrs. August Spill, the former Lena Armbricht, recalled that Joe Vancil had to carry some of his folks to Runnels City, the closest cemetery, for burial, and it was probably Mr. Barton's wish that he be buried at home.

The man's death brought to a focus the growing town's need for a cemetery. The people held a meeting and voted to buy four acres of ground, where cows still grazed, belonging to Frederick Armbricht, Mrs. Spill's father. This first cemetery was called Northview.

Mrs. Spill recalled the first person buried there was a Wilson infant and the third was her own sister, 18-year-old Marie, who died with Typhoid fever on Oct. 17, 1902.

Mayor W. M. Hays said Wednesday that construction of the new water plant unit is "ahead of schedule."

The City Council Monday night authorized a first payment to contractors for construction of the new water settling basin. Contract calls for partial payment at specified intervals during construction. This first payment amounted to $26,275.76. Cost of construction of the clarifier will be $64,650.00, with engineers' fees bringing the total to about $69,000.00.

"Stand Up, Stand Up For Jesus" and "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee," with Mrs. Ellis Ueckert at the piano to honor members having birthdays in July.

Mrs. W. F. Minzenmayer read the minutes of the last meeting and gave the roll call with members responding with Bible verses. Mrs. Robert Gerhart gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Ellis Ueckert, secretary of stewardship, gave a report on the sewing project. The layettes have been finished and the members voted to continue sewing pajamas and making bandages for Lutheran World Relief for Viet Nam.

Mrs. W. F. Minzenmayer gave the offering meditation and the meeting closed with the group praying "The Lord's Prayer." Hostesses were Mesdames Raymond Kurtz, Fritz Lisso and A. C. Minzenmayer.

IS IT, OR ISN'T IT?—Dr. H. Allen Hynek, an expert on such subjects, has been in the field again tracking down reports of UFO sightings in Michigan. Dr. Hynek believes that what people have been seeing is the result of luminous marsh gas released by decaying vegetation in swampy areas. Asked to comment on the published photograph of a "flying saucer," he said it looked more like a chicken feeder.

Connally Wants To Enact New Traffic Laws; Hire More Patrolmen

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Everyone in the State, from Gov. John Connally on down to each rookie patrolman, did his best to hold down July 4th holiday deaths and accidents.

Now, with the long, tensioned weekend behind, the State is taking a look at what's ahead for the 1967 Legislative session. Among other things, Governor Connally wants a new, tough code of traffic laws—something like the uniform traffic code. He wants money for more highway patrolmen, the present force of 725 being about one-third the number needed.

He also wants stringent penalties for convictions of driving while intoxicated, speeding and reckless driving—and a one-year license suspension "without opportunity for redemption" on second offense.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr says the 1967 Legislature may want to take another look at the 1965 law change in college building appropriations.

As it now stands, seven state colleges will receive less revenue from the new 10-cent per 100 ad valorem tax allocation for college construction than they did under the old five-cent rate.

These are Texas A&I, Texas Southern, Texas Woman's University, East Texas State, Sam Houston, West Texas State and Sul Ross. None can start new buildings in the next two years with what's now allocated to them.

State Water Pollution Control Board approved a committee of the Cattle Feeders Division, Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, plans to ask the 1967 Legislature for a feed lot licensing law, tying in with water pollution control.

Committee members are Grady Shepard, Hale Center; James W. Witherspoon, Hereford; Alfred Negley, San Antonio; Fred Wulff, Brady; and Jack Curruethers, Friona.

Hereford Feed Yards, Inc., with which Witherspoon is associated, just received the first Water Pollution Control Board permit for disposal of wastes from cattle feed lot. It provides that the company retain waste runoff waters from all rainfalls of two inches or less in a day, and lots must provide for de-watering retention facilities between rainfalls by spray irriga-

OTHER POLLUTION PLANS

Pollution-Multiple Use Legislative Study Committee, headed by Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo, will hold public hearings in early fall to check into salt water disposal problems in oil and gas fields—and pollution problems resulting from feed lot operations, plus septic tank problems that could lead to water pollution.

LIVESTOCK WORLD HIGHLIGHTS

Animal health in Texas comes to the front ranks in agricultural livestock concern nowadays.

Screwworm eradication workers at the sterile fly plant in Mission stepped up eradication efforts in the Brooks-Goliad-Beville area where six cases were reported last week and in the stretch from Culberson County to Eddy, N. M., where 12 cases were confirmed.

Dr. B. B. Vail Jr. told the Animal Health Commission that they need more reports from ranchers.

Dr. S. B. Walker of the Commission and Dr. S. C. Gartman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Animal Health Division asked livestock producers also to report promptly any signs of sore mouth condition or blister-like sores on udders or above hooves of animals to combat a recent outbreak of vesicular stomatitis.

In similar farm reports, State Agriculture Comm. John C. White announced an emergency quarantine on movement of some fruits and vegetables from Cameron County — to prevent spread of Mediterranean Fruit Fly.

Dr. Walker recommended a more flexible program for accepting petitions for Type II control testing for brucellosis—now done only from counties next to test counties after a break from the "contiguous county" requirement has been tested. He said it worked hardships on area veterinarians.

STUDENT BONDS TOP RATED

Learning that two top national investor services rate Texas College Student Loan Bonds, authorized by voters last fall, as "triple A" investments (highest rating possible), the Coordinating Board for Texas College and University System decided to sell $10,000,000 of the $85,000,000 authorized bonds at its July 18 meeting.

Institutional agreements now are being prepared by the Board so loans will be available to students in September.

HEAD START WATCH

Regional OEO Director Bill Crook of Austin cautioned Head Start administrators that they will be under "continuous review" by his Austin offices, "to remedy any program deficiencies that might be identified by on-site evaluations."

Crook said so far not one single bad audit, case of misappropriation or mishandling of funds has been produced by Texas' program. He says he is very interested in keeping that good record.

OEO has contracted with the Texas Education Foundation, private corporation administering Camp Gary Job Corps Center for men, for $3,200,000 to develop and operate a Job Corps center for women at McKinney. First 100 women students are scheduled to enroll at McKinney in March, 1967.

SHORT SNORTS

Weldon Watson has resigned as executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department. . . . Texas Industrial Commission reports record 327 new plants located in the state last year and prospects for '67 look even better. . . . Texas Highway Department officials say it cost the State 3.4 cents of every dollar spent on highway maintenance to clean up after vandals and litterbugs last year (some $1,526,582). . . . Wm. L. Ferguson of Henderson is new Texas Liquor Control Board Assistant Administrator. . . . Texas Aeronautics Commission will hold hearings July 14 on proposed community air service between Houston and Laredo via Alice by a new firm called Houston Commuter Airlines. . . . State Land Comm. Jerry Sadler sealed bids for oil and gas leases on state-owned property will be accepted by School Land Board on August 2. . . . Attorney General Carr ruled that beer sales are illegal in four precincts of Cooke County, since State Constitutional Amendment allowing wet precincts in dry counties was passed in 1935 after the local-option elections.

U. S. Government says more than $3,000,000 is available to Texas this year for half the cost of state and local recreation proposals.

The Red River is 1,360 miles in length, exceeded only by the Rio Grande.

CARD OF THANKS

May we take this method of thanking our neighbors and friends for their kind expressions of sympathy in our bereavement. Those expressions have been deeply appreciated. For the lovely flowers, food, cards and letters we are deeply grateful and it is our sincere wish that each of you take this as a personal expression of our thanks. Mrs. Elbert

Jerry Awalt To Be Delegate At Youth Conference

Jerry Lee Awalt of Wingate has been selected as a delegate to the 4th Annual Texas Youth Conference to be held in Austin August 18-21, on the University of Texas campus.

The conference will attract more than 1200 outstanding youth leaders from throughout Texas to study projects for the prevention of juvenile delinquency in Texas communities.

Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Awalt of Wingate and is being sponsored by the Winters Lions Club. In high school, he has participated in football, basketball and track, and attended the state track meet where he was a finalist. The Texas Youth Conference was formerly the Attorney General's Youth Conference but has now become a project of the Texas Law Enforcement and Youth Development Foundation of Austin. Many outstanding programs have already resulted from the first three conferences, including Texas teen juries, programs for tutoring students to prevent 6th grade dropouts, and various other community service projects.

Delegates are selected by schools, churches and civic organizations on the basis of their proven leadership in their own communities. The unique youth led program, only one of its kind in America, is credited by many law enforcement officers with playing a major role in the reduced delinquency rate in Texas in 1965-66.

ARTIST'S CONCEPT — With the use of oil, an artist composes on one canvas some of the adventurous elements of Robert B. Radnitz' Technicolor production for Universal, "And Now Miguel." Pat Cardi projects his lamb, Jimmy, from the claws of an eagle as a wolf also bellows at the bird. Story won the Newbery Medal Award of the American Library Association.

"And Now Miguel"

At a time when family-type film entertainment is decreasing, a former school teacher and documentary film maker appears to have created an entirely new success category of feature pictures the whole family can enjoy.

The innovator is Robert B. Radnitz, New York-born graduate of the University of Virginia, and twice winner of the coveted Venice Film Festival Award.

His new enterprise is Universal's "And Now Miguel," in Technicolor and co-starring Guy Stockwell, Clu Gulager, Michael Ansara, and Pat Cardi, showing at the State Theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoon. Based on the Newbery Award winning novel by Joseph Krumgold, the story is about a small boy of a New Mexico sheepherding family, and the boy's yearning to be accepted as a man by being allowed to accompany the men of the family as they lead their flocks to the mountains for summer grazing.

"The Blob" and "Dinosaur" It crawls! It creeps! It devours! It's "The Blob," creature of the imagination that comes menacingly to life in Allied Artists' science-fiction thriller of the same name, due to frighten and entertain film-goers on the same program with the Cinemascope Color spectacular adventure "Dinosaur" showing Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

Filed in De-Luxe Color, "The Blob" stars Steve McQueen in the most exciting role of his career plus a group called The Teenagers in important featured roles.

The story told in "The Blob" will make the hottest blood run cold. It has to do with the landing on earth of what resembles a flaming shooting star, but which turns out to be a voracious people-eater. An old man who releases it from its rock case starts the cycle of horror that is discovered by a couple of teenagers who try, in vain, to arouse the town to its danger. Before the young people can convince the police that no one is safe, they themselves face the monstrous thing of insatiable appetite. How they escape it and eventually stop it dead in its murderous tracks should give science-fiction fans—and other thrill seekers—more than their money's worth of suspenseful entertainment.

"Munster, Go Home"

everyone should be reminded again that there is no such thing as a "free" service. Nothing in this world is free and nothing new has been created under medicare. By law, the taxpayers are paying some of the medical bills of a selected group of people. As time goes on, the law may be revised to include the care of other age groups. Medicare may eventually be extended until it becomes a national health service such as was adopted in Britain nearly 18 years ago.
The medical profession in the United States is going to do everything possible to facilitate the operation of medicare. It will do its utmost to preserve the all-important, doctor-patient relationship that is so vital to the high medical standards to which we have become accustomed. It is the obligation of the people, all of us, to remember that medicare does not mean "free" medical care. The more that is demanded in the way of service from hospitals and doctors, the more it is going to cost unless we wish to end up with a bankrupt medical system as Great Britain appears to have done.

HERMAN MUNSTER — The head of the family in Universal's feature-length Technicolor comedy, "Munster, Go Home," based on "The Munsters" television series, is Fred Gwynne, a kindly, quite tall, green complexioned gentleman.

Roger Babson Says— Mounting Concern About Failure To Produce Enough Food in World

The Battle Against Famine
Babson Park, Mass. There is mounting concern in our country and elsewhere because we are failing to meet the food needs of all the 3.4 billion people living on the earth. If we cannot meet those needs now, how shall we feed the 4.6 billion people expected to be on this planet in 1980.

Population Control
Right now, the worst of the hunger problem appears to be centered in India, though there is good reason to believe that many of the 700 million people of mainland China are also seriously undernourished. The immediate task in India is to get foodstuffs to the affected areas in quantities large enough to sustain the lives of the hungry. Apart from that, there are other long-range efforts being made to meet world food requirements. One of these is in the field of population control.

Birth control and family planning have been gaining acceptance gradually. As a result, birth rates are falling in such places as Hong Kong, South Korea, Singapore, and Taiwan. Also, the initial benefits of population control are expected to be felt in India and Pakistan soon. However, it will be a long time before population control really cuts back births (not birth rates alone) to more manageable proportions. It is not likely that a stationary world population can be achieved in our time... barring widespread famine or pestilence, or large-scale nuclear war.

Increased Crop Yields
In addition to population control programs, governments the world over are hoping to conquer famine and/or improve the health of their peoples by boosting crop yields. Underdeveloped nations must, of course, make new land tracts available for crop planting. But this alone will not supply the needs of the population upsurge that is expected.

Expanded crop yields will be a slow attainment. Lack of funds, lack of experts with necessary agricultural know-how, lack of education, and lack of incentives to persuade land owners to co-operate—all these will hamper and delay the effort to boost crop yields.

Wheat Reserves Are Shrinking
The need for increased crop yields is by no means centered in the overpopulated areas of Asia and Latin America. It is found also in other areas of the

The Family Lawyer

Overhanging Branches
To the man next door, that spreading elm tree in his backyard may be a thing of beauty. But to you, the branches overhanging the fence may be just an eyesore. Do you have a right to cut off those branches at the boundary line?

Generally speaking, you do indeed. As a property owner you own not only the surface of your land but also, to a reasonable extent, the airspace above it. By cutting off the overhanging branches, you are merely removing what has intruded into your property.

But the right to cut is not the same as the right to keep. Whether cut or not, those branches still belong to your neighbor. The law determines ownership of the entire tree by the location of its trunk, not of its branches or roots.

Thus, if it is an apple tree that overhangs your yard, you may pluck the apples (because they are intruding) but you may not eat them (because they are not yours).

Suppose the tree is located entirely on your neighbor's property, with no overhanging branches. Would you ever have any grounds for complaint about such a tree? You might have—if the tree is in danger of falling.

In one case a man noticed that a pine tree, planted by his neighbor, was rotting badly and leaning his way. But his warnings to the man next door went unheeded.

Sure enough, during a windstorm, the tree finally did topple over onto his house. He sued the neighbor and won damages. The court said that, even though the tree did not overhang, it posed a clear and constant danger to his safety.

One home owner complained in court that a neighbor's leafy maple tree, while not overhanging his yard, did keep his house in shadow most of the day. But the court held this complaint unjustified, saying that the neighbor had full freedom to grow whatever trees he pleased on his own property.

As a practical matter, tree law is seldom tested in the courtroom, perhaps because there is seldom enough at stake to justify the costs of litigation.

Besides, a tree—in the poet's words, "a nobler object than a prince"—usually gladdens people on both sides of the fence. If statistics were compiled, they surely would show that trees inspire more poems than lawsuits.

Five Medicare Patients In Winters Hospital

Only five patients have been admitted to the Winters Municipal Hospital under the Federal-controlled Medicare program since the program became effective July 1, Mrs. Tommy Rougas, hospital superintendent, said this week.

Mrs. Rougas said that the beginning of the program has caused no appreciable change in patient load at the local hospital; that admittance has been about normal since Medicare became effective. It was also stated that doctors still are the authority in admitting patients to the hospital.

It was pointed out, however, that although the patient load had not been increased, the amount of paper work demanded by the Federal Medicare program has increased the administrative load "tenfold." With so many forms demanded by the Federal authorities on each patient, administrative and supervisory personnel spend much of their time on trying to meet this demand, which is in a continuing state of change.

In meeting Medicare requirements, several changes and additions have had to be made in operation of the hospital, it was noted. A Utilization Review Committee, composed of two local doctors and one out-of-town doctor, and the hospital superintendent, has been formed to review each Medicare case admitted to the hospital. This committee is responsible for reports required by the Federal government. Also, the Medicare program requires that staff meetings of hospital personnel be held once each month, with minutes and reports to be forwarded to the Federal Medicare agencies.

Requirements also call for the hospital supervisory staff to meet with the "governing body"—in this case, the Winters City Council—once each month and reports and minutes of these meetings to be forwarded to the proper Federal agency. Mrs. Rougas said that it has long been a standing practice for the hospital superintendent to meet with the City Council once each month, to discuss administration of the hospital. It was indicated, however, that separate reports of these meetings must now be made to conform to Medicare regulations.

Whooping Cranes Show Increase

The Canadian Wildlife Service advised the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department by telephone that the 1966 hatch of Whooping Cranes is well underway in the far north.

W. E. Stevens, regional superintendent stationed at Edmonton, Alberta, said aerial surveys already have spotted three young cranes. He added that earlier observations located five Whooper nests. Eight young accompanied the majestic cranes southward last fall.

Stevens said checking out the new arrivals is extremely difficult. The routine has to be done by aircraft and the young Whoopers fluffy camouflage is practically perfect.

He said they have a sandy brown color, with a dark red tinge, that blends perfectly into the vegetation and the muddy areas where they feed.

The Canadian official said the young birds seldom are seen for any length of time around the nesting areas since the parents move them away just as soon as they are able to travel.

The first survey of the Sass River breeding grounds in Wood Buffalo Park, Northwest Territory, was made by a biologist stationed at Fort Smith. He found five nests in the same general area as during past years. Two eggs were found in each of four nests but an adult bird was setting on the fifth nest.

Whooping Crane later that winters on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, but arrives late and leaves late, was reported by Pilot Ernie Kuty. He said a wandering bird had been spotted May 10 about one and one-quarter miles south of the Sass River nesting site.

Wildlife authorities join countless bird watchers in following the ups and downs of the majestic cranes. The spring total of 44 was the highest in more than a decade.

The U. S. Treasury Department sells about $4 1/2 billion worth of Savings Bonds every year.

Yet no one ever tries to sell you Bonds on the phone.

Though you rarely see them, there are about 1/2 million patriotic Americans who will help you buy Bonds. Have been, since the first Series E Savings Bond was issued 25 years ago.

Your banker, for instance, he'll give you folders and facts, issue your Bonds, make certain they're properly registered, cash them when the time comes.

Your employer and thousands of other employers who have set up the Payroll Savings Plan are also on the team. So are the officials of your union who have endorsed Bonds.

There are many others. Like your neighbor, the advertising man, and the radio, TV, poster, magazine and newspaper people he works with.

All of these volunteers work for the Bond program without pay.

You can do your part, too. Buy U. S. Savings Bonds.

"God giveth His beloved sleep;" and in that peaceful sleep, realities, not dreams, come round their quiet rest, and fill their conscious spirits and their happy hearts with blessedness and fellowship. In His own time He will make the eternal morning dawn, and the hand that kept them in their slumbers shall touch them into waking, and shall clothe them when they arise according to the body of His own glory; and they, looking into His face, and flashing back its love, its light, its beauty, shall each break forth into singing as the rising light of that unsetting day touches their transfigured and immortal heads, in the triumphant thanksgiving, "I am satisfied, for I awake in Thy likeness." —Alexander Maclaren.
