

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

The pre-season place-pickers have opened the grab-bag again, and have pulled out the slips which are supposed to show the standings of schoolboy football teams in their particular districts and areas.

About all that can be said for these predictions is that they provide a subject for conversation for several days.

Sometimes the predictors do come pretty close—but sometimes they are miles off. As WHS Coach L. G. Wilson told the Lions Club the other day, a few seasons ago the Blizzards were picked to be State AA champions. It didn't turn out that way, he reminded. This year, the Winters boys are picked to battle it out with a couple of other teams in District 5-AA for the bottom rung of the ladder. It may not turn out that way, either, he said.

Past performance of players, and depth and strength do have a lot to do with how teams end up the season, it is admitted. But there are many pitfalls—and much level ground, too—between the woodpile and the fireplace. A "top" team may stumble on injuries or hard luck, and come unglued; an "underdog" team may vault overnight into the limelight, by teamwork and by playing the percentages. It'll take 10 games to really find out.

The important thing most fans should remember (but we won't, will we?) is that athletic prowess in high school is not an end in itself.

Someone recently was quoted as saying: "If you pay in peanuts, you must expect to get monkeys."

The man down the street says this is nonsense. Monkeys are now demanding coconuts. With peanuts you're lucky to get ants.

A beauty contest winner in Germany recommends that girl office workers improve the beauty of their legs by sitting with feet propped on desks. She said men who have this habit have handsome legs, due to improved circulation. She did not add, however, that men who overdo the practice also get a lot of exercise walking the street looking for other jobs.

Fatality statistics on file in the Portland, Ore., Traffic Safety Commission show that 33,000 persons died in this nation last year of head injuries received in traffic accidents. The same report estimated that some 16,000 of these deaths could have been prevented by the use of seat belts.

Few Games To Be Played In Golf Contests

Several golfers have consolation games to be played before the summer golf tournament is finished. W. L. (Bill) Bean, of the tournament committee, announced this week.

A RIP-SNORTING COWBOY was just about to shoot it out when somebody slipped a ten-gallon hat on his little head. The gunfight had to be postponed until Tex could disentangle himself.

1025 Enter School On First Day

A total of 1025 students were enrolled in Winters Public School Wednesday, the first day of the 1966-67 school year.

This total is below the number enrolled for the 1965-66 school year, but Supt. Christian said he was confident the enrollment for this year would be increased once school is underway and the Labor Day holiday is over.

A breakdown of the number of students is as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Category, Grade, and Student Count. Includes Primary, Elementary, and High School sections.

Few Games To Be Played In Golf Contests

Work On New Water Plant Is Progressing

Winters residents may have noted unusually muddy water coming from the lines this week, but it is a result of work which is being done to tie the new water settling system into the old system.

Wilbur Waggoner, City Water Superintendent, said he had to drain the old settling basin this week in order to install outlets and inlets which will connect with the new system.

It was expected that inspections of the connections would be accomplished and the old basin put back into use this week, thus eliminating for the most part, the muddy water.

The water department superintendent had been waiting for rain before making the necessary connections, so that the entire water system would not be out of commission during high-use periods.

City Spraying For "Skeeters," Ask Cooperation

Crews of employees of the City of Winters have been operating spraying equipment all this week in an effort to stamp out mosquitoes, which have begun to breed following the rains.

All areas of the city will be covered, City officials said, and special care will be taken to cover sections which are likely places for mosquitoes.

Officials have asked that residents help in this fight to stop the increase of mosquitoes, by cleaning up around their own premises, cutting weeds on vacant lots, hauling away rubbish where mosquitoes are likely to breed in water-filled tin cans.

Spraying to kill mosquitoes, which is done periodically by the city, is of utmost importance now, with some areas of the state being visited with what has been called epidemic cases of encephalitis, said to be caused by mosquito bites.

Roger Babson Says

Public Sentiment Growing Against Crippling Strikes By Labor Unions

Babson Park, Mass. Peculiar counter-currents are in play in today's stream of labor events. Moving in one direction is the growing determination of workers—even in fields that affect the public welfare—to get more money and wider benefits, regardless of whether it will mean paralyzing strikes to achieve these ends. Against this tide is developing an increasing impatience on the part of business and citizens generally, strong enough to snag the attention of our legislators and move them to action.

Election-Year Reluctance

The fact that this is a Congressional election year has been the reason for the limited and wary type of action taken by the lawmakers in Washington. But sharp proof of the national concern over tie-ups that injure the public well-being as well as business lies in the fact that so many of our legislators did respond to a call for a curb on the air strike during this crucial year when the labor vote can determine many a close Congressional contest.

Once next fall's voting is out of the way, it is our opinion that both houses will give fresh committee attention to formulating a general measure that will protect us against the intense inconvenience and discomfort of large-scale, prolonged public-service walk-outs. This does not mean that labor's fundamental right to strike will be curtailed. Rather, economy-crushing shutdowns will be made less possible—and less necessary—while genuine collective bargaining will continue to receive encouragement.

Get-Tough Attitude Gaining Ground

It is not difficult to see why Congress is likely to be more disposed to reasoned constraints than in the past. The New York City transit strike, which was illegal, spurred millions of local residents to an anger and frustration that did not go unnoticed by President Johnson and the Congress. The airline strike and its almost endless repercussions on businesses large and small throughout the country, as well as its vast impact on individual travel and prearranged vacations, went farther than even the unions wanted.

Labor leaders thought they had a settlement, then the rank and file of the mechanics and ground service workers refused to accept the package. This is

Area Men Are On List of Cattle Round-Up Leaders

Charlie Morris, chairman of the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, has announced the appointment of the 1966 Round-Up Area chairmen. These men along with many others will lead the Round-Up which is the chief means of funds for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center of Abilene.

Frank K. Antilley and Conda Wylie have been named to the arrangements committee for the Round-Up.

Last year, the Round-Up raised $80,000 toward the Center's annual budget of $251,900. Other funds for the Center, which has never accepted state or federal funds, have come from United Funds, memorial, and general contributions. During the Round-Up, leading ranchers throughout Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and other Southwestern states donate livestock of all kinds to be sold at one of the special auctions. The proceeds from these sales are used to meet the needs of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

another reflection of the sharp determination of the workers themselves to get bigger pay envelopes and more fringe benefits while the bloom is still on the boom. It is showing up more and more among employees in lines that have the greatest effect on the public, such as hospitals, state and city services, transportation, farms, and utilities. Congressmen may well feel in 1967 that the time has come to shield their constituents from unwieldy or illicit labor impasses.

Whatever happens next year in terms of such labor legislation, the drive for higher wage rates and fringes will continue strong for the remainder of 1966 and well into 1967. Employers are afraid of exaggerated advances in basic labor costs, but in many instances they would prefer to give workers what they want rather than risk walk-outs while demand is high for virtually all products. Smart management officials know, of course, that the business skies are not always as blue as they are now. At least they haven't been in the past. But it's easier to give in on worker demands when profits have been on the climb for over five years.

Despite the lesson of the airline stoppage and its warning repercussions in Congress, a lot of strikes will be seen over the months ahead. There are trigger-happy conditions emerging in quite a number of important industries. There could be at least token trouble, for instance, in telephones, trucking, railroads, oil, and electrical machinery. Success of the grape-growers in California may encourage more union action on farms in some Southeast states.

and auro-boralis. She carried a white prayer book, gift of the groom, topped with a bouquet of orchid and stephanotis.

Large baskets of gladiolas were placed in the main altar and family pews were marked with white satin bows and streamers.

Mrs. O. D. Bradford of Winters, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floorlength dress of de-lustered apple green satin, styled with empire bodice. Chocolate brown Alencon lace covered the bodice and the floating Watteau panel. Miss Janice Meuth, of Austin and Miss Maria Shaw of Winters were brides maids. Their dresses were identical to the matron of honor, with the exception of the bodice. The bodice was of de-lustered apple green satin.

The attendants wore velvet petal hats of apple green with brief illusion veils. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations, stephanotis, and Japanese greenery.

State Capital Highlights—

Major Texas Cities Are Requesting Share In Any New State Taxes

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Officials from major Texas cities, beset with money problems, are calling on the Legislature to allow municipalities a 50-50 split in any new broad-based state taxes enacted next year.
Gov. John Connally pledged to recommend "very substantial new sources of revenue" for the cities after a group of metropolitan area mayors conferred with him.

Question as to whether the kind of revenue-sharing plan advocated by the mayors is permissible under the state constitution will be briefed by the Texas Legislative Council, at the request of House Speaker Ben Barnes.

Cities petitioned for a 50 per cent refund of any increase in the state sales tax or an equivalent amount of any new broad-based tax, with the state doing the collecting and apportioning half of new funds where paid.

While agreeing to ask the Legislature for financial relief for the cities, Connally declined to spell out the precise form and amount he will seek. He did promise there will be "no strings attached" to his recommendation.
Connally also reported an agreement for regular conferences on urban problems between the mayors and top state officials.

LOANS
Tight money has made it hard for Texas colleges to sell their building bonds. Some still are looking for buyers.

On a third try, buyers were found for the 4 per cent bonds of Angelo State at San Angelo ($1,200,000); Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches ($2,600,000); and Sam Houston State at Huntsville — ($2,500,000). But Southwest Texas State at San Marcos and East Texas State at Commerce still need buyers for their respective $2,400,000 and $2,300,000 bonds. Constitutional ceiling of 4 per cent makes the bonds less attractive to investors than other issues bringing higher returns.

APPOINTMENTS
Governor Connally appointed Billy Gene Compton, senior Amarillo corporation court judge, district attorney for Potter and Armstrong Counties. He is a native of Berger and attended Pampa schools. Compton replaces Dee Miller, who resigned to campaign for the Congressional seat left open when U. S. Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa decided not to run again.

Dr. Luther L. Bailey was named project director by State Interagency Policy Board, appointed by the governor to conduct statewide planning for vocational rehabilitation.

Connally named Maj. Gen. Harley B. West of Dallas to command the Texas State Guard.

SHORT SNORTS
State Health authorities last week reported 193 suspected and 65 confirmed cases of encephalitis (two strains) in Texas.

Texas Good Roads Association has warned it will oppose any move in the 60th Legislature to divert highway user taxes to other purposes.

Texas auto insurance companies are pledging "aggressive" support of highway safety measures next year.

WHS Blizzards Getting Into Shape For Season

Daily workouts for the 1966 Winters High School Blizzard football team have been cut to one per day on the first week of school, following two weeks of intensive two-a-day practice sessions. Workouts now are held at 3 p. m. each day.

With the season's first game a week away—the Blizzards vs. the Lake View Chiefs Saturday, Sept. 10—lineup of the squad is still pretty much in question. This year's team, pre-season picked to end the season near the bottom of the 5-AA heap, is undergoing a shake-down, with switching of position assignments. Within the next few days, there probably will be a pattern set which will be followed during the rest of the season. The first bout, with Lake View, will go a long way in determining the makeup of the team.

Coach L. G. Wilson says a few injuries are bothering the lineup, but no serious complications as yet have been noted. Senior Letterman Walter Morrow, defensive linback, is suffering slight injuries. Senior Jerry Fullalt, two-year letterman fullback, has been under the weather with the flu. Sophomore end Tommy Smith has an eye injury, and another sophomore, Jimmy Hill, has a broken arm.

Coach Wilson has been working the quarterback group, all of whom he says are beginning to throw good. They include Alvin Dunn, Freddy Wilder, Ronny Gray, Mike Kozelsky, Jay Hodnett, and Reese McQuiston and Glenn Hall, both freshmen.

Ends are getting more accustomed to catching the ball, and a lot of work is being done to build a passing attack. Letterman George Mostad, Skippy Sheppard, Terry Rives and Danny Kilough are foundations for the line of this year's Big Blue team.

The coach said the team will have one more scrimmage before vaulting into season play. Scrimmage opponent has not been announced.

The season opens with a non-conference bout with Lake View Saturday night, Sept. 10, at Lake View, with the Blizzards hosting a past-years' opponent, Coleman, on the following Friday night, Sept. 16.

Coach Wilson, with assistants Frank Hibbler, and ex-Blizzards C. F. Busher and William Grisom, reports this year's team is showing a lot of fire and enthusiasm, and despite the pre-season predictions may dispute some opinions.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

This is the third and last of a series of three articles in an attempt to analyze in a "down behind the garden" way some of our present economic situation and the direction of the future.

It should be pointed out again that there are all sorts of means for capturing earning assets for the Government and replacing them with paper assets as Ponzi did, who got appointed an officer of a solid conservative bank for his own corporations and replaced them with paper that no one scrutinized very carefully.

We now have what is known as "The Participation Sales Act of 1966." In essence, this provides that Government lending programs, totaling about $33 billion over the last few years, be transferred to commercial banks. In other words, commercial banks make loans for such agencies as the Office of Education, The Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Small Business Administration, Veterans Administration and others, and the Government goes on the note. These sums do not show in the President's Budget, although they are a liability of the taxpayers. It will never show as an obligation.

There is undoubtedly a weakness in industry due to dependence on the Government orders which, in turn, are dependent on the value of inflated money.

Look at the several ways the Government can bring its influence to bear on the economic activities of many segments of our American life. First, if the industries holding vast Government contracts, of which there are many, do not support the Administration, contracts can be withheld or withdrawn. Second, the Government is a stockholder of what are considered to be "strategic" materials. If those in the industry of producing these materials are considered out of line, the Government has a supply to throw on the market to depress prices. Third, manufacturers of most anything must compete with foreign imports. The Government has the advantage of opening up of goods in competition by increasing the quotas or lowering the tariffs.

The vast majority of American Institutions, including colleges and universities, receive aid in some form or other from the Federal Government. Should they be in opposition to certain policies, their grants and loans may be withheld. The public schools in several Southern States are now experiencing this treatment.

If a political decline is under way, these techniques of subsidies and other favors are a principal vehicle for it. The proponents of centralized Government seek to weld all possible voting blocs to the national Administration, until finally practically every segment of the population sees no future for itself except by dependence on Government assistance. The Federal establishment can exert a degree of political pressure with power its predecessors never enjoyed. As has been mentioned in this column before, there is a cant for Federal-ly guaranteed income for everybody, whether he chooses to work or not, forgetting the values of initiative and self-respect. This device is supposed to instill dignity in those who lack it. The opposite is bound to be the effect.

It seems our Government should be able to take advantage of the lessons of history and, in fact, a lesson from what is happening to England at the very moment.

The British have been on the downward drift for the last several years, and today they are reaching close to the bottom. The fact remains that the average Englishman has never had it so good, and seemingly can care less about his Nation's basic problems.

In England, jobs are plentiful, wages have seldom gone up so fast and everyone is earning more and more by producing less and less. The British Government provides about everything and under such circumstances, it is hard to find people who are genuinely concerned about their Country's declining role in the world. Simply put, they are living on credit.

Should we not take some lessons and ask ourselves if we aren't getting "too much nothing for sumpin'?"

America's strength is its capacity for production. Men and machines, under our free enterprise system, have turned out vast quantities of things for defense and for our daily needs. Other nations have also been aided in their fight against aggression.

On Labor Day we honor those who work to produce more and better things. Their remarkable record of progress and higher standard of living were made possible by our free institutions. In other lands we can see how the liberties of the people are lost when representative government is overthrown.

Individual freedom is a priceless asset which we must endeavor to preserve.

Plan Now For Winter Grazing

Harvey Kahlden, Soil Conservationist, with the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District, said now is the time to start planning for the type of grazing you will need this winter. He said a winter temporary pasture may be what is needed to give the native grassland a rest.

Kahlden stated, a winter temporary pasture is the only dependable source of green grazing in the late fall, winter and early spring. Green grazing will increase beef gains and milk production and, at the same time, reduces hay, grain and veterinary bills.

Small grains should be planted at the proper time to provide grazing as early as possible. Recommended planting time for winter pastures is September or early October. Kahlden said, with the recent rains it should be a good year for maximum grazing from winter temporary pastures. He said by planting more than one variety or type of small grain and—or a legume, you will be assured of maximum grazing. Some upright types of small grain provide grazing 4 to 6 weeks earlier than cold-resistant winter types. But will not give sustained production through the winter. He said a part of the planned winter pasture acreage could be seeded to an adapted early grazing variety. The rest of the acreage could be seeded to an intermediate-type to provide the bulk of the mid-winter to spring grazing.

Kahlden said that small grains should be well established before being grazed. He also said all varieties will make poor regrowth when grazed too closely. Rotation grazing to allow regrowth between grazings is recommended.

According to Kahlden, proper seedbed preparation and fertilization are needed for more successful temporary pasture production. A soil test is the best means of determining the type and amount of fertilizer needed for a given field.

MOVIES

"Out Of Sight,"

One of the most sparkling spoofs of the current secret agent rage ever to come out of Hollywood is the zany comedy, "Out Of Sight," which shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. It is a perfect blend of rollicking music, spicy wit and outstanding performances by a group of talented newcomers. It is also one of the fastest moving films since the days of Mack Sennett.

"Incident at Phantom Hill,"

While it is not his first motion picture role—he had a bit part in one almost a decade ago—Robert Fuller has his first starring feature motion lead in Universal's "Incident at Phantom Hill," co-starring with Jocelyn Lane and Dan Duryea. The picture, photographed in Technicolor and Techniscope, showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoon at the State Theatre.

The story of a group who try to recover a million dollars in gold bullion which had been captured by rebels during the just concluded civil war, it takes place in the desert wastes of Texas. This is country similar to that in which Fuller appeared as the frontier hero of television series, "Wagon Train" and "Laramie."

"Stagecoach"

With a cast that is truly all-star and in CinemaScope and De Luxe color, Martin Raskin's production of "Stagecoach" for 20th Century-Fox comes to the State Theatre Saturday night, Sunday and Monday. Filmed high in Colorado's Rocky Mountains in a setting never before used for a motion picture, "Stagecoach" stars Ann-Margret, Red Buttons, Michael Connors, Alex Cord, Bing Crosby, Bob Cummings, Van Heflin, Slim Pickens, Stefanie Powers and Keenan Wynn.

Directed by Gordon Douglas, the picture mirrors a dramatic episode in the American West around 1870, with an authentic stagecoach—which played such an important role in the development of that territory—sharing stellar honors with the ten stars. Joseph Landon wrote the screenplay which he based on a screenplay by Dudley Nichols from a story by Ernest Haycox.

The story delineates the reactions of a wide spectrum of characters under the exterior pressures of Indian attack and the interior ones developing among themselves. In its telling, tragedy is relieved by humor; the unpredictable response by action, as the fates propel the group into a brutal crucible.

Norman Rockwell, America's most famous illustrator, was commissioned by producer Raskin to create thematic material for advertising and exploiting "Stagecoach" and, as a lark, accepted a small part in the
