HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

The Enterprise sent a special correspondent to cover the Texas Tech-University of Texas football game in Lubbock last Saturday night. Armed with a press card, tickets, note pads and sharpened pencil, this special sports writer jumped right into the thick of things and came out with a game report written in such a manner and style that, if adopted throughout the "industry," could well revolutionize the entire sports-writing field.

Missing nothing which happened on the field, the writer put it all down on paper; his descriptions of each important play were such that the reader can actually feel the bone-crushing impact of player against player; the long field runs were so graphically described, the reader is left breathless, as if he too had made the run himself. The passes, so explained, can be seen in the mind's-eye, sailing true and gracefully down the field into the arms of the intended receiver. Each play can be felt as the reader slips deeper and deeper into the true account of the action.

Even the roar of the crowds can be heard; the smell of the popcorn is evident in the glowing account written by this special sports writer who, if he would decide to change his career course, would be destined for a Pulitzer prize. Any reader with an ounce of imagination added to a love of the game could read this account and honestly say that he "was there when it happened!"

The written account of the Tech-UT game could be described as half Robert Frost and half Ogden Nash. It was sheer poetry! In fact, it was poetry! Two pages of single-spaced typewritten verses—about 80 of them! Each verse carrying a vivid description of a certain play or happening, perfectly synchopated and perfectly rhymed... the work of an artist!

Lack of space prevents a complete reprinting of this account of a football game; we wish it were possible to reproduce all of it, because the writer has that "something" which should be shared with the rest of the world. We will quote one verse of that account, however. If the reader will immerse himself into the idea, he will get the same feeling we got on first reading—here is described the action of an outstanding football player grabbing the pigskin, and accompanied by the roar of the crowds in the stands, swivel-hipping toward the goal line. Superb writing! The verse:

"A feller got the ball,
And everyone's agape,
He's running down field
Like a striped ape."

If the writer ever decides to give up the practice of medicine, we feel sure that a WIDE spot could be found for him in the press box.

(The Enterprise happened to have a couple of tickets to the Tech-UT game, and gave them to Dr. Henry McCright and requested a full account of the game. We were pulling his leg... instead, he started doing a little leg-pulling himself, and came through with the darndest bunch of poetry describing the action you ever saw. We're thinking about publishing it in booklet form.)

Readers who have been reading the "Dateline: Tanzania" articles written by Billy M. Pumphrey, who is with the Peace Corps in Tanzania, will be interested to know that after a lapse of a few weeks, another article appears this week. Pumphrey has been on vacation during which time he visited Mt. Kilimanjaro, Africa's highest mountain, and about which he will write an article presently. This week's article concerns the much-publicized visit to Africa by Senator Robert Kennedy.

An article a few weeks ago was accompanied by a photograph of a member of the Tanzanian Parliament, Pumphrey said he "gave the member of parliament (the copy of) The Enterprise with the story about the trip he took on. He was very thrilled and has shown the paper to everyone. We only have three papers in this country, and they are all 500 miles away in the capital."

CLINIC LUNCHEON—The group of visiting experts and local businessmen who attended the session were joined by many others for the luncheon at Huffman House, where Harry Clark, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission, gave a

Helping Existing Industry Winters' Number 1 Goal

In the process of building for a stronger economical structure for the future in the Winters commodity, the natural foundation would seem to be the attraction of new industry and the promotion of existing manufacturers. But the latter—helping existing industries to expand—seems to be the most important item facing the community at this time.

This was brought out during the day-long Economic Development Clinic held here last Friday under the sponsorship of the Winters Chamber of Commerce and conducted by the Texas Industrial Commission.

The first obligation of the community is to existing industry, Harry Clark, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission, told a group of near 50 businessmen and community leaders. By attempting to understand the problems of these industries, and offering help in any way in their promotion, the community presents an image of cooperation and progressiveness which does much in the way of attracting prospective new industry to the area, he indicated.

Several industrial development professionals conducted briefing sessions during the day and took part in an afternoon critique. They included John Perryman, director of area development for Lone Star Gas Co.; Perry Sheperd, assistant industrial economics research director at Texas A and M University; James A. Covell, economic development representative of General Telephone Co.; Bill Sayles, manager of area development for the West Texas Utilities Co.; L. W. Kieler, of the Texas Employment Commission. From the staff of the Texas Industrial Commission were Harry Clark, executive director; Larry Milner and Don R. Raburn, industrial development consultants.

After several sessions during the morning, discussions were continued during a luncheon at Huffman House, where Clark discussed "The Citizen's Role in Industrial Development." The luncheon was attended by about 80 persons.

The day's program was divided into five categories, with visiting specialists discussing individual parts: 1) Community Betterment, 2) Research, 3) Financing, 4) Sites, 5) Prospecting for New Industry.

In the afternoon session, Bill Sayles, of WTU pointed out the alarming fact that the community's young people are not returning to the area after finishing their education. He reminded the group that a high average—about 70 percent—of students graduating from Winters High School, attend college, and asked, "How many return? And what about the other 30 percent?" The community needs means to absorb those who remain, and to attract the college graduates, he indicated.

Arthur Kieler of the Texas Employment Commission said his department has information of labor forces in the area, which is available to all who need such information. He said that his studies have indicated there is a potential of 600 which could be added to the labor force in the county, if there was work available. He hastened to point out that these are not necessarily unemployed persons at the present time, but are persons such as housewives and others who could at least work part time if there was work available.

Larry Milner, Industrial Commission development consultant, urged a unified campaign of community promotion, by direct mail and in many other ways, in an effort to call attention to the area and to what it has to offer potential industry.

In the critique, it was pointed out that community appearance makes a great impression on visitors and potential new business. Businessmen were reminded that a concentrated effort should be made to improve the appearance of the downtown areas, and to clean up the rest of the city, cut weeds and high grass, and take more pride in the appearance of the town as a whole.

Local businessmen who attended the sessions were advised of a need to develop industrial site situations, maintain an inventory of site locations, and keep an up-to-date listing of all information, in the event a prospective industry seems interested in seeking a location.

One of the items discussed during the afternoon critique was vocational training. The question was asked: "What do we need to do to help train labor for existing industry?" It was suggested that the community leaders look into the possibilities of establishing vocational training programs. Clark said there were state agencies which would provide assistance in this type of program.

It was pointed out during the several sessions that, because of the great competition among the cities of Texas in attracting new and additional industry, the chances of any one community getting new industry was "700 to 1."

In view of this, it was stressed, the community which makes itself the most attractive in all ways is the community which will stand the best chance of getting the industry.

The day-long meeting began with a bus tour of the city, with visitors shown the industries, schools and churches, and other assets of the city. The discussion sessions and the critique were held in the meeting room on the second floor of the City Hall.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce steering and arrangements committees were George Garrett, chairman, Roy Crawford, James Spill, Ray Alderman and Hal Dry.

Following the meeting, it was suggested that a general meeting be held in the near future during which local businessmen can discuss what they had heard during the clinic.

Lions Club Now Selling Trick Or Treat Candy

"Trick-or-Treat" door bell ringing came early again this year, as members of the Winters Lions Club launched their door-to-door sale of Lions Halloween candy this week.

Lions Club President Z. I. Hale announced that the sale is both a convenience to housewives and a means of helping to support Lions community service projects. Proceeds from the candy sale will be used to help crippled children, buy glasses for school children who cannot buy them, and many others. One of the projects of the Winters Lions Club is a monthly contribution to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Bank Deposits Are Highest On Record At Time of "Call"

Total deposit in the Winters State Bank on Sept. 20, at the time of a "call" for statement of condition by the State Banking Department, was the highest on record at "call" time, according to officers of the bank.

As of Sept. 20, total deposits in the Winters Bank were $5,113,681.14. There have been times when there has been more on deposit in the bank, but never at the time of a "call," it was stated.

The statement of condition as of Sept. 20 shows resource total to be $5,710,833.96, with $1,672,643.00 in the loans and discounts column.

"Dateline: Tanzania" Enterprise Series Writer Dines and Visits With Senator Robert Kennedy

(This is one of a series of articles written for The Enterprise by Billy M. Pumphrey of Winters, a Peace Corps Volunteer stationed in the African nation of Tanzania. A subsequent article will be about his summer trip to the snow-capped summit of Mt. Kilimanjaro, Africa's highest mountain.)

BY BILLY M. PUMPHREY

Senator Robert Kennedy (D-NY) during his recent trip to Africa visited Mbeya, our regional seat of government, and I had the privilege of dining with him.

The Kennedy party was greeted at Mbeya airport by about 4,000 people including native dancers, government officials, school bands, and regional PC Volunteers. He arrived in the private plane of President Julius Nyerere and was preceded by a large group of television (ABC, CBS, and NBC) cameramen and press reporters in five private planes. It was possibly the largest group of planes ever to land at one time at the Mbeya airport.

The crowds which greeted the Senator and his wife throughout the day proved that the Kennedy name is still magic. From the airport, he went to the community center where he gave a short speech. A new speaker stand had been built for his visit. The Tanzanian and American flags were flying and the stars and stripes, which I hadn't seen in a long time, looked especially welcome. From the supplied materials and self-help center he visited a school where a library is being built with U. S. AID and School-to-School labor. He also visited a Baptist Tuberculosis Hospital.

At a luncheon at the Mbeya Hotel I had the honor of sitting at the headtable across from the Senator. Although he was noticeably exhausted from his travels, he maintained a constant and lively conversation with PC Volunteers around him. He asked what we felt about our work here, what the people here thought about the United States and other questions relating to our Peace Corps experiences. At the conclusion of an informal question and answer session, he said, "The Peace Corps shows what we stand for, not a selfish society but a society that's interested in other people. So if it wasn't for you, and those like you in all these other countries and parts of the world, not only would people be much less well off... but also the United States would be in a far more difficult position."

After autographing luncheon menus for the Volunteers, the Senator and his wife hurried to the airport where they left for Seronera Lodge in the famous Serengeti Game Park. They also visited government officials and PC Volunteers in Kenya and Ethiopia before returning to the States.

Down at the County Seat Blizzard-Bearcat Game Tonight

A continuation of an old rivalry between the two schools is set for Friday night, when the Winters High School Blizzards play the Ballinger Bearcats in a non-conference game on the Ballinger field.

Winters goes into the game in a slightly favored position, in view of their season's record, with one win, one loss and one tie. Ballinger has played only two games, which they dropped—one to a member of District 5-AA, Anson, and their opener, against Sonora.

However, because of the years-long continuing contest between the two schools, season's record for either school is discounted and the annual game always takes on an individuality unlike any other in the area. Long in the same district, the two schools now are in the first year of action in separate conferences. Ballinger was shifted to 8-AA this year, with Winters remaining the southern-most representative of District 5-AA.

The Winters Blizzards are on an upgrade, improving with each game. First blasted by Lake View in the opener, they began to improve in the Coleman contest, bringing that game to an 8-8 tie. Then they surprised previously undefeated 8-AA leaders, Brady, in a 16-6 overcome last Friday night.

The Bearcats have had a week's rest before going into this week's game. And they scouted to a great extent the action of the Blizzards last Friday night. Ballinger outdistanced 5-AA's Anson the week before, on the ground and in the air. But they were tripped up

Mike Magee Gets Commendation On Scholarship Test

A Letter of Commendation honoring his high performances on the 1966 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test has been awarded to Mike Magee at Winters High School. Principal Jake Joyce has announced. Mike is among 38,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two percent of those who will graduate from high school in 1967. Over 800,000 high school students took the 1966 tests.

Students receiving Letters of Commendation are recommended to other scholarship-granting agencies outside the National Merit and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices at the time they took the NMSQT. These colleges also receive reports of home addresses, test scores, anticipated college majors and career intentions of the commended students.

Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Magee of Star Route, Blackwell.

Blizzards Chopped Up Bulldogs 16-6 In Comeback Game Friday Night

The Winters Blizzards continued their comeback Friday night to run over the undefeated Brady Bulldogs by a score of 16-6 as about 2,000 fans looked on.

The Blizzards, at full strength for the first time this season, looked good both offensively and defensively as they completely bottled the Bulldogs' running attack and picked off six passes for an interception record.

The first score came as a direct result of a pass interception when Jerry Awalt grabbed a wayward Bulldog pass at the 50 yard line and scooted down the sideline to the six before being bumped out of bounds. From there Awalt carried twice to make the score 6-0. Fred Gray's point after kick was wide, leaving the score Winters 6, Brady 0, at the end of the first quarter.

In the second period, defense prevailed, broken only by a Blizzards interception on their own 14. From there, they moved downfield only to be stopped on third down on the Brady 20-yard line. At this point, kicking specialist Gray came in to kick a perfect 30-yard field goal and giving the home team a 9-0 lead at intermission.

The Blizzards continued to carry the fight to Brady in the

by a safety with 5:15 left in that game, and dropped the decision 0-2. They probably will field a team thoroughly practiced in special techniques especially designed for the contest with the Blizzards.

Meanwhile, back on the training field of the Blizzards, Coach L. G. Wilson's staff has been putting the WHS team through intense training, aiming not only toward this week's non-conference game, but with an eye on the beginning of the counter-season which begins October 14 against Haskell. The outcome of this week's game means a lot, because of the old rivalry and because every team works toward winning; but just as important is the work of smoothing out the wrinkles and getting in shape and readiness for the contests which count toward their own district standing.

Tri-captains for this week's game will be Skippy Sheppard, Terry Rives and Jerry Awalt. Probable starters for Coach Wilson's Blizzards this Friday night in Ballinger will be:

State Capital Highlights—

Big News In State Capitol Will Be Revamping State Constitution

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

A complete revision of the Texas Constitution, proposed by Gov. John Connally and endorsed by the state Democratic convention, looks like the big state capitol news of the coming years.

Republicans likewise gave approval at their state convention to the idea of modernizing the 1876 constitution. But a long row lies ahead. Already many are expressing doubt as to the wisdom of a complete revision.

It would be a long process. First, the Legislature would ask the voters to approve the calling of a constitutional convention. Then, presumably, delegates to the convention would be elected. Their final product would go to the Legislature for submission to the voters for approval or rejection.

Governor Connally's suggested route would be to set up a cabinet system like the federal government. This would give the governor responsibility for all phases of state government. Now he appoints only one major state department head the secretary of state.

BOLLWORM DEADLINE EXTENDED

Agriculture Commissioner John White granted a 10-day cotton harvest and plow-up extension (to October 5) for farmers in 13 South Texas counties under the pink bollworm control law.

Counties affected by the extension are Aransas, Brooks, Duval, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kenedy, Kleberg, Nueces, San Patricio, Webb, Zapata and portions of Hidalgo and Starr. White urged fast field clean-up to prevent a "seriously threatening" buildup of pink bollworm.

WATER PLAN RESTUDIED

Texas Water Development Board pulled back its massive $3,700,000,000 proposed statewide water plan for re-evaluation in view of strong criticism during its series of 30 public hearings.

Board announced 16 additional studies to determine reasonable "alternates" which may be put into the plan in case populations grow and water needs are higher than those originally predicted.

Among subjects scheduled for new looks are:
Alternative sources of irrigation water for West Texas, including possible diversions from surplus East Texas basins;

Reduction of water quantities from San Antonio's surface water supply, originally tagged for delivery to lower Rio Grande Valley for new irrigation;

Importing water into or above Highland Lakes in the Colorado River basin;

New sources of industrial and municipal water for Abilene, San Angelo, Odessa, Lubbock and the Trans Pecos-EI Paso areas.

Board also will cooperate with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation in determining costs of delivering water to West Texas, utilizing a pump-back system up the Colorado River channel.

COMMITTEE SYSTEM EYED

A study panel has agreed to principle on far-reaching recommendations to modernize antiquated procedures by which committees of the House of Representatives process legislation.

House Rules Study Committee, headed by Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi, concluded that the number of standing committees should be cut from 43 to 25; that membership should be based on a modified seniority system; and that committees should return detailed reports an analysis of bills with aid of professional staffs.

COLLEGE GRANTS PUSHED

Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System recommended 48 projects totalling $23,000,000 for federal grants under Title I of the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963.

Money has not yet been allocated by Congress, but the applications were recommended early to speed their processing through the U. S. Office of Education. Federal money will be matched with state and local funds for new buildings.

SHORT SNORTS

Thurman Dobbins of Austin and Mrs. Mary Margaret Perry of Houston were named to the State Commission for the Blind.

Governor Connally has approved Neighborhood Youth Corps Projects in El Paso and Mount Vernon, for grants of $194,350 and $134,080, respectively.

Application blanks for the November 18-19 Selective Service Qualification Test for college students, to be used by local boards in considering deferments, now are available to students.

Sabine River Authority will receive $120,440 from the federal government under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act, which they will match locally, to develop Wind Point Park at Lake Tawakoni.

Texas Water Development Board approved Franklin County water district application for $1,700,000 in state aid for the $3,400,000 Cypress Basin dam.

Texas Highway Commission approved the plan to purchase Dallas County right-of-way for Interstate Highway 20 between Dallas and Fort Worth.

State of Texas spent $1,860,633.769 during the fiscal year ending August 31, 1966, for its normal governmental functions, according to State Treasurer Jesse James.

Dramatic new styling marks the 1967 Ford which has received a major sheet metal change for the third time in three years. Pictured here are the X/L Convertible (above) and the X/L 2-door Hardtop, both of which offer Ford's Select Shift Cruise-O-Matic transmission as standard equipment. Featured only on the Fairlane GTA in 1966, Select Shift permits the driver to shift manually or automatically. Ford's new styling features sculptured side panels and a gull-wing design grille that is die-cast in the X/L, LTD and Country Squire series. Engineering improvements give the 1967 Ford an even quieter and smoother ride. All Ford models will be on display at Ford dealer showrooms Friday, Sept. 30.

Ford Will Offer Most Luxurious Cars In History; On Display Sept. 30

The 1967 Ford, with a major body styling change for the third consecutive year, will seek a larger share of the medium price market by offering the biggest and most luxurious cars in its history.

"With the 1967 Ford, we will offer the new car buyer the smartest, freshest styling and the most advanced mechanical and body refinements possible," said M. S. McLaughlin, Ford Division assistant general manager.

"Our new models not only have dramatic new styling, but they also ride and handle better, are even quieter than last year's cars and have the greatest number of standard safety items in Ford Division's history."

Three inches longer than its predecessor, the 1967 Ford has sculptured side panels which give the car a lower, longer silhouette. Roof lines on all models but convertibles, station wagons and 4-door hardtops are totally new with softer, more sweeping lines that create a fastback look. New grilles, tail-lights, side trim and rearend treatment add the finishing touches to the big Ford.

Interiors also are newly designed with instrument panels that feature recessed controls and new, more luxurious upholstery materials.

Already noted for its quiet ride, the Ford will reflect further advances by sound engineers to reduce noise even more for 1967. Front and rear suspensions have bigger, softer rubber "sound stoppers" attached to the chassis to isolate road noise more effectively. Drive shafts utilize a new fly-wheel-type inertia damper to reduce sound.

A new Comfort Stream Ventilation System, standard on LTD models, provides quiet, "wind-up" driving with constant, controlled fresh air movement throughout the car. Stale air is exhausted through one-way ducts in the front doors.

Radial ply tires, which prolong tire life 50 to 80 per cent, improve gasoline mileage, provide better lateral stability and a smoother ride at highway speed, are optional on all big Fords in 1967. Standard tires have a standardized pressure feature which eliminates the need to adjust pressure for varying loads or road conditions.

Carburetion and valve train re-design on 1967 engines will result in smoother performance, greater economy and dependability. Also new is the Select Shift Cruise-O-Matic transmission, which permits manual or automatic gear shifting.

The luxurious, top-of-line LTD series, which will carry the brunt of Ford's increasing penetration of the medium-price field, will include a 4-door sedan as well as 2- and 4-door hard-

Hobbies: A Deductible Expense?

You save stamps, or raise pigeons, or collect cigar-store Indians. Sometimes these sideline activities can be costly. Are your expenses deductible at income tax time?

That depends primarily upon your motive. If you are pursuing the activity as a hobby, for the sheer pleasure of it, then you cannot deduct your expenses—any more than you could deduct the expense of a family picnic.

But if you are out to make a profit, even though on a part-time basis, you are indeed entitled to take a deduction.

And what if your motive is partly pleasure and partly profit? Then, to qualify for a deduction, you must show that the profit motive is the stronger of the two.

One indication is that you have what a court called "the requisite greed." Consider this case:

A businessman — collected stamps in his spare time. But he paid scant attention to hobby groups or to the finer points of philately. Instead, relying on expert guidance, he concentrated on the dollar value of what he bought and sold.

Accordingly, a court upheld his claim to a tax deduction, finding he was really more of an investor than a hobbyist.

Another indication of a dominant profit motive is the use of professional techniques. For example:

A sometime photographer, with no studio, nevertheless sold much of his work on a professional basis. And the equipment he used was the kind used by professionals, not by amateurs. He too was allowed to deduct his expenses.

But your assertion of a profit motive is weakened if, over a long period of time, your expenses are high and your income low.

A man of means decided to try his hand at writing. For 20 long years he wrote and published books. Unhappily, almost nobody ever bought them. A court denied him tax relief, finding that, whatever his motive, it couldn't be money.

Nor can you win a right to deduct expenses by describing as a "business" what simply isn't. Thus, raising Persian cats—when only five kittens were produced during the year—was held to be less of a business than a pleasure.

Billy M. Pumphrey Is Correspondent For PC Magazine

Billy M. Pumphrey, Peace Corps Volunteer from Winters and writer of the "Dateline: Tanzania" series for The Enterprise, was recently announced as one of the charter overseas correspondents for The Volunteer, PC magazine.

The Volunteer, published in Washington, has a wide circulation among PC Volunteers throughout the world and government and educational officials throughout America. The newly established overseas reporting staff was organized to assist the Washington staff in defining, narrating and reporting the expanding role of the Peace Corps.

In addition to the Enterprise series, Pumphrey has written for The Daily Texan, University of Texas student newspaper, and various other publications. He holds a Bachelor of Journalism degree from the University and is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society. An article and photo by Pumphrey of Senator Kennedy's visit to Tanzania was printed in the August issue of The Volunteer.

IT LOOKS LIKE these soccer players are engaged in a flying battle as members of the North Korean and Italian teams pile up on each other in an effort to gain possession of the ball during the recent world championships.

Roger Babson Says—

Speculation Is That Government May Be Forced To Adopt Controls

Babson Park, Mass. As the wage-price spiral gathers steam there is rising concern in business circles and in Washington. The need for a tax boost is everywhere discussed and there is renewed speculation that the Administration may also be forced to adopt wage-price controls.

Wage Settlements Inflationary

President Johnson has repeatedly expressed the hope that voluntary wage and price restraint could be achieved through application of the guidelines of the Council of Economic Advisers. In pursuit of that goal, the President had cautioned labor to trim its demands so as not to rock the economy. Also, he had several times used the prestige of his office to persuade industry to forego or to rescind price boosts in selected industrial raw materials.

For a time it appeared that the Administration was succeeding in keeping wages and prices from upsurging too violently. However, over the last several months the White House has been fighting a losing battle with runaway wages and prices. Despite those price rises it did succeed in thwarting, quotations have been edging upward. And the final agreement between the airlines and the Machinists Union is the latest in a series of such settlements which have been clearly inflationary.

Living Costs Climbing

The effects of recent unrealistically liberal wage settlements and of climbing prices are evident in the trend of living costs. In July, the latest month for which such statistics are available, the Bureau of Labor's Cost of Living Index increased four-tenths of one per cent over June. Higher transportation costs and a somewhat smaller-than-average boost in food prices were blamed for the upturn.

The Cost of Living Index is 2.8 per cent above a year ago and promises to move still higher over the near term. It stands at 113.3. This means that it now costs the American consumer $11.33 for a typical selection of commodities which cost only $10 in the 1947-59 period on which the index is based.

Are Wage-Price Controls Coming?

You can expect the cost of food, medical care, and other services to rise alarmingly over the next couple of months. But you can also expect the President to insist that it is too soon to do anything that would definitely put a lid on wages and prices. Mr. Johnson well realizes that inflation is a problem and that it spells danger in the period ahead. But he also realizes that the strong measures needed to combat it are unpopular and that they would have little chance of clearing Congress before the November election.

So we must wait until the voting is over, — hoping that by that time the economy will not be so overheated that a recession will be its only real cure. Because of the political realities involved, there will be no attempt to impose any system of wage and price controls upon the nation this fall. Any such move would probably be deferred until after the turn of the year. Even then it is unlikely to be resorted to until after taxes have been hiked.

Tax Boost By January

To ease up-pressures on the economy stemming from record industrial activity and the escalated war in Vietnam, the Administration and Congress might have chosen, last spring, either to increase taxes or to cut federal spending. Instead, they did nothing.

We are spending so much, so rapidly, to support our effort in Vietnam that it is widely expected the President will ask Congress for an additional $12 billion for this purpose. Added to the $58 billion already budgeted for the Viet war, this would make a total of $70 billion to be expended for national security this year. It boils down to this: We cannot cut spending for the Viet war, and our leaders will not cut spending for Great Society programs. We just don't have enough cash to go around for both. So there'll be a tax boost—applying to both corporations and individuals—by January.

TO GEORGIA

Mrs. Lawrence Chapmond and Mrs. O. D. Bradford Jr., left Monday morning for Fort Benning, Georgia where they will attend the graduation of Jacky Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chapmond. Jacky will receive his Second Lieutenant bars on October 5th. Jacky will accompany them home October 7th on a two-weeks leave before reporting to his next assignment.

IN CRAWFORD HOME

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wilson of Fort Worth visited the Roy Crawford's Tuesday. They were on their way to El Paso to attend the Regimental Reunion of the 31st Engineers of World War I, with whom Mr. Wilson served.

During this meeting, each officer told what her duty was and some told what the purpose of FHA was. The old and new members sang the FHA song. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Junior Magazine Sales

The Junior class had a call meeting Wednesday in the high school auditorium in which they met with the representative of Reader's Digest to discuss annual magazine sales.

Headsponsor Mr. Schwartz divided the group into six teams with a class sponsor heading each.

Each individual selling over $25 will receive a stuffed "mascot" in school colors, $100 salesmen will receive stuffed "thangs," resembling abominable snowmen. A drawing will be held to see who receives the "big stuffed dog," with each person receiving one chance per magazine sale.

Winters High students and adults of the community are urged to help as much as possible in this activity. All commissions, incidentally ranging from 50 percent to 30 percent, will go to help sponsor various activities including the Junior-Senior Banquet.

The annual magazine sale offers this community top quality magazines at normal rates, with special mail offers included; students a chance to earn money for their class projects, and the ability to keep money circulating in the community.

Future Homemakers Meet

FHA members held their first monthly meeting Tuesday, September 20, 1966. The meeting was called to order by Linda Kay Whittenburg, president, and the business was attended to.

During the meeting, club mothers were elected. The mothers elected were as follows: Mrs. Deward Awalt, Mrs. Willis Davis, Mrs. Ruben Gehrels, and Mrs. M. E. Mathis. FHA mascots are Rancee Pierce and Chance Hall. FHA Sweetheart is Alvin Dunn.

Aurora Ruiz was elected public relations officer. Linda Kay closed the meeting and the members sang the FHA prayer song.

Sophomore Guidance

The Sophomore class had their regular guidance meeting September 12. Mrs. Harrison was the speaker. She showed a film strip called "Motivation—A Key to Achievement." The purpose of the film was to illustrate and document the adage, "Where there is a will, there is a way."

Writers Meet

The Authors Anonymous Club held its first meeting fifth period in Mrs. Kruse's room. President Randall Conner called the meeting to order and welcomed the club back for the new year. The roll was called by Sylvia Tinney, secretary-treasurer.

New members were voted on and they are Jimmy Vaughan, Sue Hoppe, Gary Pinkerton, Shelia Kraatz, Robert Moore, Jimmy Hill, Sammy Graham, Bill Modisett, John Craven, and Brenda Awalt.

Randall read and explained several articles from the constitution of the club. Committees were named and fines and dues were discussed. The Belletristic Award, the award given to the girl and boy having the most points from their manuscripts, was explained. The meeting was adjourned.

Band Birthday Calendar

Mr. Swofford, WHS band director, would like to have students submit any mistakes they have found in the Band Birthday Calendar in writing to any of the band officers, in hopes to correct these mistakes in future orders.

Pep Rally

The Blizzard gymnasium was the scene of the weekly Friday pep rally. Beginning at 3:35 p. m. Cheerleaders Maria Shaw, Jan Merck, Linda Smith, Cherylyn Beard, and Jody Hall and the Winters High School band brought spirited cheers from the faculty and student body, in anticipation of that night's game with the Brady Bulldogs.

Theatres In Texas To Celebrate Movie Month

Big movie screens throughout the state will take on a special lustre in October when theatre owners deck their theatres with finery and open their doors to a festival of entertainment in motion pictures, the likes of which is seldom seen in such a short span of time.

Joining with the movie exhibitors, major film distributors in Hollywood and New York have earmarked top attractions to be released during the period which has been tabbed "October is National Movie Month."

This is the first national movie month ever observed by the industry and the National Association of Theatre Owners predicts more than 10,000 theatres will participate in the month-long event which they hope will become a coast-to-coast annual affair. NATO affiliates handling arrangements in this area are the Texas Council of Motion Picture Organizations and the Texas Drive-In Theatre Owners Association. They report high enthusiasm for the program among their members.

After a summer that saw movie business zoom to new heights industry leaders came up with the idea to continue the flow of outstanding box-office features into the fall which in past years was an "orphan period" with fewer films being distributed due to new TV shows, football, opening of school and other factors competing for the public's time. They also reasoned that autumn marked the beginning of renewed activity in many businesses such as new cars from the automobile industry, new fall fashions in clothes for men and women and newly designed products from numerous other enterprises, thus Americans have been conditioned to expect innovations and the traditional hullabaloo that accompanies "new" programming.

A few of the big feature films scheduled for release during National Movie Month are: Walt Disney's "The Fighting Prince of Donegal" with Peter McEnery and Susan Hampshire; Columbia's "Walk Don't Run" with Cary Grant and Jim Hutton; M. G. M.'s "The Glass Bottom Boat" with Doris Day and Rod Taylor; Paramount's "This Property is Condemned" with Natalie Wood and Bob Redford; United Artists "Boy Did I Get a Wrong Number?" with Bob Hope and Elke Sommer; 20th Century Fox "Bat Man" with Adam West and Burt Ward.

Several Cub Scout Meetings Set For Next Two Weeks

Several meetings for Cub Scout organization and promotion have been scheduled for the next two weeks, according to Bill Ivey, Cubmaster.

Pack 49 Cub Scouts of Winters will have a pack meeting Tuesday night, Oct. 4, at 7:30 at the Scout Hut. At this meeting, boys interested in Cub Scouting will be registered. Age ranges are 8 through 10. Boys and parents interested in the organization are urged to be present.

Pack 49 is sponsored by the Harvester Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church. A monthly Den Mother and Den Dad meeting will be held Thursday night at 7:30 at the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. Theme for this month will be discussed.

A round table for Southern District Cub Scouts will be held the second Tuesday of October at the Scout Hut in Winters. Jimmy Driskell of Coleman, assistant district commission, will have charge of the meeting. Leadership training will be the topic of discussion. Several Scout leaders from the Southern District will take part in this round table.

ATTENDED FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bates and Jackie Redwine attended the funeral of Mrs. Bates' niece, Mrs. Merrill Henderson, who died at a hospital in Big Spring Friday. Burial was at Brownwood Sunday afternoon.

CARELESSNESS

Personal loss of cash by the people of the United States has become a large and complex matter. A national survey conducted for American Express Company found that in total such losses have reached a rate in excess of $700,000,000.00 annually.

The survey disclosed that more than nine and one-half million adults experienced losses in cash in a single year, and that the average was $75.00 per individual. How and why such losses occur needs to be better understood.

The role of carelessness on the part of individuals, and the activity of certain types of petty criminals are factors that merit more attention than they have received in the past.

The Winters State Bank has spent large sums of money throughout the years in providing a safe place for the people of this area and elsewhere to keep money. Many individuals are using the facilities we have provided but we have room for many more to follow the same course.

Frances Gaby Circle Met Tuesday In Crockett Home

Frances Gaby circle of the Methodist Woman's Society met Tuesday morning, September 27, at 9:30, in the home of Mrs. E. L. Crockett.

A short business session was held and Mrs. D. A. Dobbins led the devotional from Proverbs 3:13-19 and Psalm 68:11.

Mrs. George Rosson was leader of the program on "Participating in Joint Action for Missions," which was presented in the form of a radio broadcast. The broadcaster was Mrs. E. H. Baker, and she was assisted by Mrs. Omega Snow and Mrs. Alma Daniel.

The hostess, Mrs. Crockett, served cookies, coffee and fruit juice to those present, who were Mesdames D. A. Dobbins, Jasper Drake, W. T. Stanley, E. H. Baker, George Rosson, Roy L. Crawford, and two guests, Mrs. John Jackson and Mrs. Omega Snow from Altus, Oklahoma.

CARD OF THANKS

We are sincerely grateful to all of you for the many floral and memorial remembrances, food, cards and visits during our recent sorrow. May God richly bless each of you. Lillie and Shirley Heath.

Marks, Brownwood. Pallbearers were: J. A. Henderson, Kenneth O'Dell, Ras Gideon, Ellis Chapman, Allan Bishop, Bill Byers, of Ballinger.

Samuel E. Allison Died Friday, Funeral Monday

Funeral services were held Monday at 10 a. m. from Spill Memorial Chapel for Samuel Edgar Allison, 86, who died at Merrill Rest Home at 8 p. m. Friday. Officiating was the Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Graveside services were held at 3 p. m. Monday at the Girard

Cemeter near Jaton.

Samuel Edgar Allison was born in Arkansas Sept. 1, 1880. As a small child he moved with his parents to Alabama, later moving to North Carolina. In 1894 he came to Texas and in the early 1940's he came to Runnels County. Prior to his move to Winters, he lived for several years at Pampa where he was in the construction business. He continued his membership in the Calvary Baptist Church at Pampa where for several years he was a deacon.

He married Mrs. Lettie Isabella Pierce July 24, 1948, at San Angelo. Mr. and Mrs. Allison moved to the Merrill Rest Home in Winters in August of 1965 and had lived there since. He suffered a stroke Sept. 16.

Survivors include his wife; five sons, Dewey of San Diego, Calif., Ira of Alamogordo, N. M., Lem and E. G. of Abilene, Richard of Odessa; four daughters, Mrs. Helen Lindley of Lipan, Mrs. Louise Gray, Mrs. Lucille Tuggle and Mrs. Gladys Jamison, all of Odessa; 16 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren; and several step-children and step-grandchildren.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

Whenever I teach the poem, "Snow-Bound" by John Greenleaf Whittier, I find it necessary to stop about every other line and explain to my class how people lived over a hundred years ago.

My students seldom know, for instance, what is meant by an ox bow or a well curb, and they never, never know about a back stick.

Before matches were a common household item, fire had to be guarded and left burning from day to day. Neighbors who came to borrow a coal of fire didn't visit long.

Cooking was done on an open fireplace, and a large green log or "back stick" was always used behind the other wood that burned in the fireplace. Dry wood shavings were used to build a fire in front of the back stick until this green log finally caught fire. At night it was covered or "banked" with ashes and a good backlog would last for three or four days. In the morning it was stirred with a poker to kindle a new fire.

Today, when an editor refuses a manuscript, it is often due to the fact that he "has a backlog of similar material." The expression "backlog of material" refers to the old back stick used by our forefathers to make a long lasting fire.

For Sunday dinner at the Odas Claxtons were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cornelius of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Springer, Van, Gayla, Kyle and Penny of Paint Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cornelius, Wayne and Rita Jo of Miles, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sceivers of Zephyr.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Little of San Antonio and daughter, Mrs. Ivy Craig of Pasadena spent the week end at the Lee Littles at Winters. Sunday the Perrys', Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Lee Little and Mrs. Etta Bryan of Winters visited with the Ervin Hicks.

Around The 5-AA Loop

Card-carrying members of District 5-AA filled the air with "we won" signals this past weekend. . . chalking up 131 points among the six teams. Perhaps showing to some extent just what stuff 5-AA is made of—and bringing to mind again the old nickname of the district—Little Southwest Conference. Outsider - opponents managed only 39 points for Friday night.

Two district members, Winters and Hamlin, got into the win column for the first time—although Winters had had a tie to their credit. These two remain fifth and sixth in the standings, because of their season's record through three contests.

Probably the most surprised fans in West Central Texas Friday night were the ones who had predicted—and expected—Brady to snub Winters up short. The Bulldogs couldn't have been too surprised, however, because they had been told by their coach, Fletcher Fields, that the Blizzards were "a much improved team," and that Winters would "be after us from start to finish." He was quoted in last week's Brady paper, "I am afraid this game will be a boogert."

The Blizzards weren't too surprised, though—if they had been, it would have been impossible to hold their composure the way they did. Winters got only 11 first downs to Brady's 14. . . but—rushed for 194 against the Bulldogs' 90. Brady was ahead in passing—55 yards to Winters' 27. Again. . . but: the Blizzards hawked six of Brady's aeriels—and then took advantage of the resulting situations.

Blizzards backers got a few thrills out of boot action in the Winters - Brady contest, too. They had w a t c h e d and hoped for Fred Gray to connect with his soccer-style kicking. He finally got the range and side-toed through the uprights for a field goal. Then later used his style to mark up the PAT for the second TD. The defense squad, too, left their marks on the visitors, with Terry Rives, Ronny Gray and Skip Sheppard pacing.

The Blizzards go to South Runnels this week, to attempt to settle some old scores against the Ballinger Bearcats. Outside the regular conference games, which will not begin until Oct. 14, this should be the game of the season for the Big Blue—and Ballinger. It always is, isn't it?

Saturday morning's headlines said, "Moguls Scare Haskell, But Indians Win, 13-6." These results left Haskell at the top of the heap, with 3-0 (top because of points scored), but it took some doing. They had to come from behind in the second half to overcome a band of determined 11-A Munday Moguls. But do it they did; with a 95-yard sprint for a TD by. . . there's that man again: Tim Everett! He went again for an apparent counter—87 yards—only to have it called back and rubbed out. He went again for a 71-yard gainer with 7:09 left in the game.

Haskell hosts Seymour this week.

The other 5-AA bunch with a 3-0 record—Colorado City nipped Sweetwater 14-12 at home Friday night in a see-saw event. Sweetwater took first count in the first; C-City came back in the second for 6; then both played around in the third. Sweetwater took the lead in the last quarter, and it looked like it was all over for the night. But with about a minute left, the Wolves used the airplanes for a 37-yard counter to cork the bottle. Wolves' names keep cropping up in game accounts from Sweetwater way: Glen Nix, Steakley, Higginbotham; They'll be studied from here on in. Colorado City goes to Brady this week—so as one fellow keeps saying, we shall see what we shall see! (Winters meets C-City Nov. 4—a few rods down the line.)

Anson ain't no slouch. . . they were pre-season picked as one of the front-runners of 5-AA. . . and they keep proving it, even though they've got a tie game on their blackboard. The Tigers crossed for more counters Friday night than any other team in the loop, hitting 37 against Albany's 8. They scored in every quarter except the second, and wouldn't let the Lions have anything until the last quarter. Anson now has 2-0-1—they tied Coleman, and edged Ballinger 2-0. Cisco goes to Anson this week.

Up until Friday night, Seymour was in the undefeated ranks. But Stamford put a stop to that, 25-7—living up to some pre-season predictions that they would be tough this season. Stamford entered the contest with a 1-1 record, but romped all over their opponents—197 yards on the ground, while holding Seymour to 85. They scored in the first, again in the third, and twice in the final. Stamford gets another day of practice this week—they meet Denver City at Snyder Saturday.

Hamlin now has a 1-2-0 record this year, after hitting Cisco 26-0 Friday night, using the airplanes for most yardage, with 169, completing 9 of 16 tries. Cisco got 46 in the air, with 4 out of 20. Rushing, Hamlin chalked up 98 to Cisco's 85. But Hamlin confiscated four of Cisco's passes! The Pied Pipers drove 75 yards for their first score after receiving the opening kickoff, just 3:50 before the quarter ended, and with 22 plays. Hamlin had to run their third TD twice—first time a clipping penalty called it back; then on a pass play made it okay. Accounts say that "Cisco never seriously threatened in the game." Hamlin goes to Post this week.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

Discussions as to whether sessions of Congress should be televised have been going on ever since the advent of television.

Rules in the House of Representatives prohibit "LIVE" broadcasts of all Committee hearings, and neither the House nor the Senate television Chamber proceedings. The Rules of the Senate, however, permit the televising of Committee hearings.

The broadcasting industry advocates "LIVE" broadcasts of all Committee hearings and would even like to set up their cameras in the House and Senate Chambers. Presently, they are permitted to do so during Joint Sessions when addressed by the President or foreign dignitaries.

Radio and television people contend that they do not have the freedom of covering the news of Congress and its Committees as do newspapers and magazines.

Something can be said for their argument. The competition between the two major news media, that is, broadcasting and newspapers, would tend to demand greater accuracy of reporting on the part of both. Too many reporters and newspapers and periodicals seem to think they must sensationalize everything for it to be a saleable commodity. Unfortunately, there is an element of truth in it. There is no news in "dog bites man." News is when man bites dog. News media, however, are charged with the responsibility of reporting facts and not slanting news for the sake of selling excitement. Seemingly, in many instances, implications and innuendoes are more news worthy than the real facts and circumstances.

The case against the broadcast of proceedings of Committees and Session of the two Bodies of Congress would seem to outweigh it being permitted.

First, there are the "Hans," which any politician and, in fact, most any public figure, has to admit is practiced to some degree or other. No doubt "live" broadcasts would furnish a stage for theatrics in many circumstances.

The fact that Senate Committee hearings are permitted to be televised has left the impression with a great many people that here is where the most important things are being done. As a matter of fact, the Committees of the House of Representatives are much more thorough and knowledgeable about most legislation than the Senate ever becomes. Senators do, however, get the major part of the publicity. House Committees work for months on major legislation. When it reaches the Senate, by reason of smaller numbers, consideration of such legislation cannot be given as much time. In addition, in most instances, the groundwork is laid for the Senate after long and detailed hearings by the House of Representatives. But after televised hearings, many people seem to think that they are the principal architects of legislation. Therefore, the public relations image of the House is not projected.

It is not the role of the Congress of the United States to compete for public attention. The role of the Congress is made clear in the Constitution, and to meet that responsibility, it must do so with thorough deliberation. To operate in such a manner is hardly sensational and, therefore, it would leave up to the broadcasters as to which Sessions of a Committee they would televise. The same is true with the Sessions of both the House and the Senate. Many days of Sessions of each are filled with rather routine and nonexciting procedures. Other days may be filled with arduous debate and activities which would not portray the average operation of the Congress.

If individual members must vie with one another for public attention, it would inevitably distort the legislative function. Legislating nor legislators should not have to become a part of a show to perform the solemn obligation of the people's duly elected officials. The job is to make the best laws possible and not to become performers in what could evolve into a public circus.

The best public relations in which Congress can engage is to do its job well, without being under the pressure and clamor of publicity. No amount of publicity in the final analysis can substitute for good performance.

New Books Given To Library By Many Residents

Many new books have been received by the Winters Public Library recently, made possible by donations from clubs and individuals. The new editions include both fiction and non-fiction, and are now available to library members.

A few of the new books now available are: Flying Saucers—Serious Business; To Conquer Loneliness; Curse of the Viking Grave; The Search for Amelia Earhart; The House On the Cliff; Never Call It Loving; In Cold Blood; The Running Back; I Saw Red China; I Was A Slave In Russia; Sam Houston's Texas; The Indians of Texas.

Recent library donors include Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Pace, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alderman, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Loyd, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Christian, Mrs. Ira Brannon, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Glover, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hays, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Rives, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ledmance.

There is too much human nature in all of us not to be conscious of being in front of a camera. It would be bound to bring out the human inclination to pose and posture, to demagogue and to overstate issues. Charged purely as a performance, the result would probably be an interesting spectacle but the end product would probably not deserve a commercial.

better, David Ledbetter, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craven, Mrs. C. G. Smith, Mrs. Albert Sykes, Mrs. R. B. Leathers, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mrs. Juanita O'Connor's Weekly Home Demonstration Agent's Column

The menace of mildew is easier to prevent than cure, when it involves your clothes and household fabrics, states Mrs. Juanita O'Connor, Home Demonstration Agent of Runnels County.

If excessive moisture and humid weather are a threat in your house, consider these suggestions as ways to guard against mildew.

First of all, keep closets, dresser drawers, basements and any place where mildew is likely to grow as clean as possible. Soil can supply food for the start of mildew growth when moisture and temperature are right.

Remove the cause of dampness as a safeguard against mildew. Providing adequate ventilation is one way. Run an electric fan in places like closets, that can't be exposed to outdoor breezes. Hang clothes loosely so that air can circulate around them.

To dry the air in closets and other small areas, burn a small electric bulb in them continuously. The heat from the light is enough to prevent mildew if the space is not too large. Another solution is to place an electric heater on the floor. Heat at the bottom of the closet increases air movement and gives better drying efficiency.

Mechanical—dehumidifiers are useful whenever condensation of moisture causes damage. Keep windows and doors closed when you use the dehumidifier.

Any of these methods, or a combination of one or more, can prevent mildew and damage to your clothes and household linens.

In emergencies resulting in wet or damp fabrics, use your dryer for fast removal of the moisture. This is a safeguard against mildew and other fabric damage.

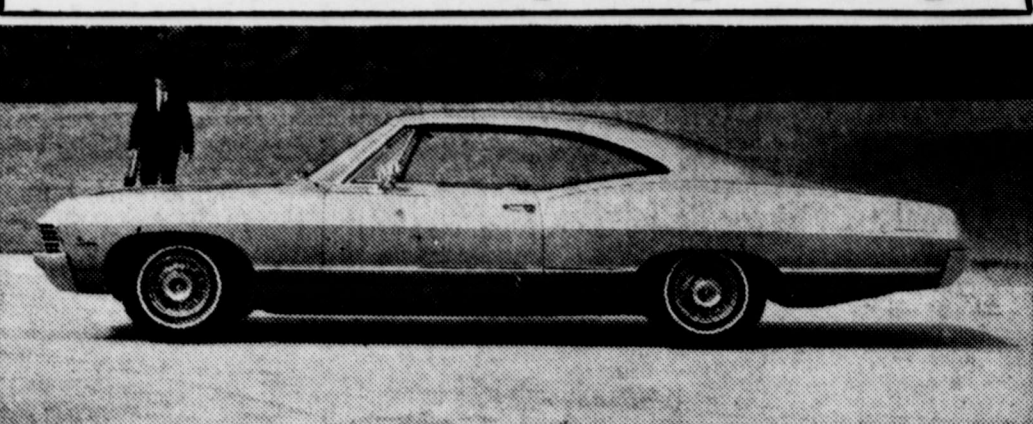

Hints For Working Mothers—Working mothers need to organize their time and energy in order to get everything done. Written schedules can improve efficiency. An extra hour in the morning can accomplish a great deal. Plan menus for the entire week to making shopping easier. And keep lists in strategic places to help jog your memory.

The New Look For College Men—College men will appear neater and more dressed up this fall. The neat look is in. Fall suits will sport more matching vests. New colors include pumpkin and golden tones. Blue, gray and olive still continue to be traditional favorites. Neat herringbones and hopsacks are the favorite fall fabrics. The classic three-button, natural shoulder suit is still preferred by most.

DASH OF DARING—Designer Veneziani of Milan created this gown. It features an accordion-pleated skirt and a crystal-encrusted top. A slash from neck to midriff adds the dash of daring.

1967 Chevrolet Impala Sport Coupe

The 19 Chevrolet models in five series for 1967 are entirely new in appearance with freshly styled fenders, hood, grille, bumpers and taillamps. Bright fender wrap-arounds extend grille styling on all models, while fender lamps are featured in the wrap-around area on Caprice models. The exclusive new sport coupe roof line (above) stresses fastback styling with the rear window blending into the deck in an unbroken line. A four-way hazard flasher is now standard equipment on all '67 Chevrolets. Dealers throughout the nation will display the new Chevrolets on September 29.

1967 Chevrolets Will Go On Sale Here Thursday, September 29th

DETROIT—For the 1967 car buyer, Chevrolet stresses choice with a capital "C". E. M. Estes, general manager, said today.

"Introduction of the Camaro as Chevrolet's sixth line of cars matches the American public's growing preference for individualized transportation," he declared.

Estes said the 48 new models of Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II, Corvair, Corvette and Camaro offer an "unparalleled variety of sizes, body styles, options and safety features." They go on sale Thursday, September 29.

Two models of the personal-size Camaro—a coupe and a convertible that Estes terms "four-passenger packages of excitement"—are built on a 108-inch wheelbase.

"Camaro offers the greatest choice of engines, trims, options and accessories Chevrolet has ever introduced with a new line of cars," Estes said. "The buyer can literally tailor his own automobile."

Also new for 1967 is a top-of-the-line Chevelle station wagon named "Concours" which has wood-grain exterior trim.

Many important new safety-related product improvements are standard equipment on all 1967 Chevrolets. They range from an energy-absorbing steering column and dual master cylinder brake system with warning light to passenger-guard door locks and a four-way hazard warning flasher.

Heading a list of more than 400 options and accessories is a new stereo tape system, an improved cruise control and a new air conditioning unit which can be dealer installed on all new Chevrolets except Corvair and on all 1964 through 1966 models of Chevrolet, Chevelle and Chevy II.

Front disc brakes are available as options on regular Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II and Camaro models. Four-wheel disc brakes are continued as standard on Corvettes.

Here are the highlights of the six Chevrolet lines for 1967:

Regular Chevrolet: The industry's top selling automobile has a longer, lower "big car" look to its 119-inch wheelbase. A wrap-around grille includes front fender identification lamps standard on luxury Caprice models, optional on all other series.

Long body lines carry to the tip of the rear fender. Rear fender skirts are available for added body smoothness. Twin horizontal tail lamps above the bumper are recessed into the rear panel.

Caprice and Impala sport sedans have a new roofline that ends in a larger, more sloping back window. An exclusive new roofline on Impala sport coupes stresses fastback styling with the rear window blending into the deck.

Extensive refinements in steering, rear suspension and body mounting give improved ride, handling, and roadability. Base trims are larger for most models and a larger 24 gallon fuel tank is standard on all models.

Granddaughter Of Local Couple Is Married In Calif.

Miss Shannon Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Davis of Santa Ana, California, and Delbert Scharffenberg were married Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Church in Santa Ana, California. Elder William A. Scharffenberg of Tacoma Park, Washington D. C. the bridegroom's grandfather, officiated.

The bride, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manchie Davis of Winters, wore a formal gown of candlelight re-embroidered Alencon lace over peau de soie designed with empire silhouette and scalloped Sabrina neckline. Her chapel train was appliqued with lace and fell from a bow in the center back. Her mantilla of lace-edged illusion was caught to a circlet pillbox and she carried stephanotis and roses.

Maid of honor Miss Sharon Ayres of La Canada wore a floor length sheath in a Persian blue shade with an attached train of re-embroidered lace which fell from a bow at the neckline.

Bridesmaids were Miss Marion Brown, Miss Ann Haymond and Miss Sheri Shelton, a cousin of the bride, who wore similar gowns in a paler blue shade and carried harmonizing nosegays. Bob Webb of La Sierra attended as best man and ushers were Dane Walters, Don Kahr, all of La Sierra, and Michael Davis, brother of the bride. Little Victoria Vineyard was flower girl and Kelly Davis, brother of the bride, acted as Bible bearer.

Mrs. David Walters was soloist and David Hegarty accompanied at the organ.

Guests were received in the church social hall following the ceremony. Assisting hostesses were Miss Linda Quillen, guest register; Misses Linda Laskey and Jolana Ward, gifts; Miss Susan Scharffenberg and Miss Sally Lewis, bride's table.

The couple will honeymoon on the Monterey Peninsula and Yosemite before returning to make their home at 11986 Knoefler, La Sierra.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Scharffenberg of Kettering, Ohio, will continue his studies at La Sierra College where he is a senior physics major. The bride attended Orangewood Academy and completed two years at La Sierra College.

With an Impala Sport Coupe you can get all the comforts of home, maybe even more.

Everything new that could happen...happened!

New styling that speaks beautifully for itself. More things to add than ever before: A new stereo tape system. Comforton automatic heating and air conditioning. Front disc brakes. A better Cruise-Master control system. Plus all the power you could want in a car: up to 427 cu. in. available in Chevrolet's exclusive Turbo-Jet V8. And, standard with every new Chevrolet, a new road feel thanks to improved Full Coil suspension. You really should see the new Chevrolets. Very soon.

And all this for your added safety: GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, energy-absorbing instrument panel, four-way hazard warning flasher, plus many others.

Everything new's happening now...at your Chevrolet dealer's
