HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

In the early days of this country, settling of a new area or territory was followed quickly by religious organization; in many instances, the opening of a new territory for settlement and the founding of religious centers and beginning of religious activities coincided; in many instances, religious organization was the direct cause of settlement.

Thus it is that the civic history of an area parallels so closely that of religious organization—one is built upon the other. In fact, without the foundation provided by religion few territories, communities and towns could have survived. That truth remains today—were it not for the foundation provided by the various religious organizations—churches—our towns—this town—Winters—could scarce survive.

The First Methodist Church of Winters will celebrate the 75th anniversary of its beginning next Sunday. The First Baptist Church celebrated its 75th anniversary about two years ago. The Lutheran Church in Winters has a long history. The Presbyterian Church, the Church of Christ, in fact, all of Winters' churches and religious congregations have had a hand in the growth and prosperity of Winters. Without the presence of these churches, there would have been no reason, no meaning, and the town itself would have ceased to exist even before it started.

Although there is a traditional and necessary and carefully defined dividing line between religious activities and civil organization and administration, the very fact of our republic is dependent upon the existence of basic belief. We need to remember that; to remember that without our support our churches cannot exist; without our churches, our very system cannot and will not exist and flourish.

Winters has a well-organized and uniform method of displaying flags on special days. Special flagstaff holders have been installed on parking meters on downtown streets; on the special days when the flags are to be displayed, members of the American Legion and others bring the flags from a central storage, where they are kept and protected, and placed in the holders along the streets. The system makes for a very attractive display.

The flags were put out on a recent designated "flag" day. At the end of the day, the special covers were put over them, because it was planned to have them on display the very next day, at half-staff, in honor of an area youth who was killed in action in Vietnam.

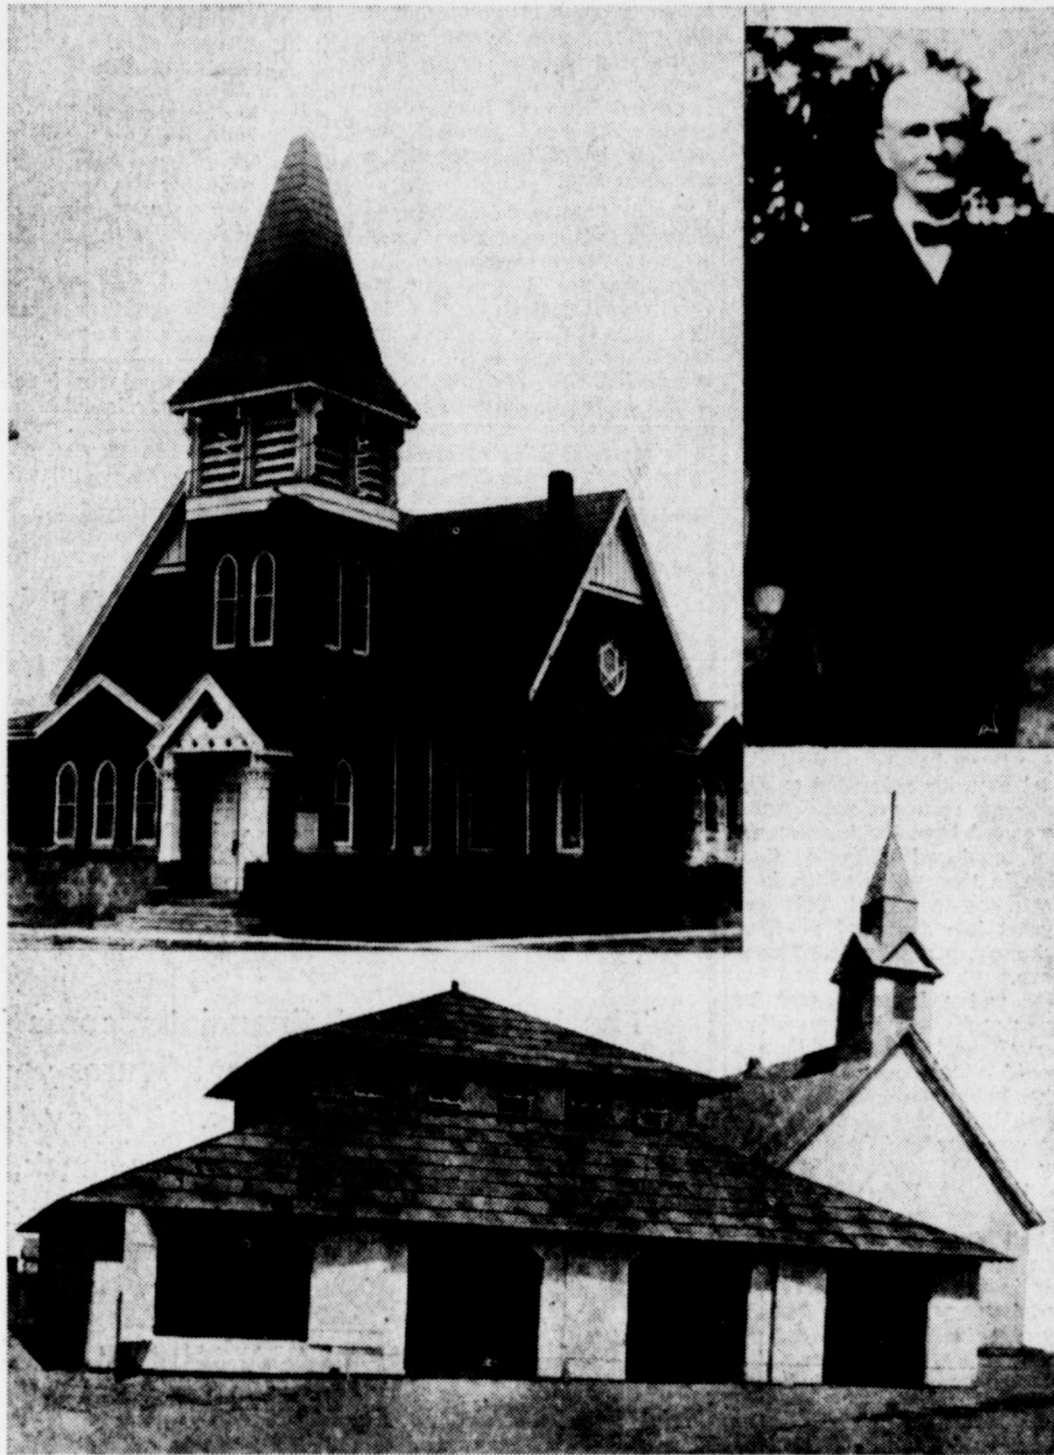

When the flags were taken in at the end of the second day, it was discovered that two of them were missing. Someone had helped themselves to a flag. There is no way of knowing, of course, who would go to the trouble of taking down a flag—two of them in fact—along with the staffs; and trouble it had to be, because walking down the street with two flag staffs would be some trouble—and stashing them in a car would be difficult. It can only be hoped that whoever took those two flags will put them to good use and not dump them in a ditch some place. After all, what can a thief hope to gain by stealing a couple of flags?

Our old friend out on Bluff Creek suggests that those who are loudly advocating cessation of bombing in Vietnam on the grounds that it is doing no good or that it is cruel, be handed a rifle and asked to stand in the mud alongside an American soldier and watch the North Vietnamese and Cong go by.

Schools To Close Friday, March 10

Winters schools will observe a holiday Friday, March 10, in order that teachers may attend the annual meeting of District XI, Texas State Teachers Association in Brownwood, Robert Christian, superintendent of schools, has announced.

Regular schedules will be resumed Monday, March 13.

CHURCH—The lot where the First Methodist Church stands is an historic site. The first church building of any denomination in Winters was the Methodist Church erected on the corner of Church and Parsonage streets in 1899.

The site is the oldest site continuously occupied by a Methodist house of worship in Runnels County. All Methodist church buildings before it have either been torn down, ceased to be used as churches, or the congregations have moved to different locations.

Four buildings have stood on the corner now occupied by the Winters First Methodist Church. Each building continued in use until the new one was occupied. The first church (background, lower picture) was built during the pastorate of the Rev. J. W. Bowen (upper right) in 1899. Then in 1911 a tabernacle (bottom picture, foreground) was built just south of it, on the same lot. The Rev. J. W. Patton was pastor at that time. The first building was sold to the Hatchel Methodist Church and moved to Hatchel.

The tabernacle was used for all church purposes. It was so built that it could be closed and heated in winter and the sides opened for ventilation in summer.

In 1913 while the Rev. John M. Neal was pastor, a red brick church with a tall spire (upper left) was built on the corner about where the first one stood. The tabernacle continued to be used for extra Sunday School rooms, summer revivals, and the like.

In 1924 the Rev. P. T. Stanford led the congregation in building the church which is in use today. The red brick church came torn down and the congregation used the tabernacle until the new church was ready.

On Sunday, October 12, 1924, the congregation marched in procession from the tabernacle to the new building for the formal opening. Later the tabernacle was removed.

The congregation raised over $41,000.00 in cash in a little over a year and paid off the debt March 6, 1925. The Rev. Gid J. Bryan was the pastor in 1925. He announced that the church owed $8,500.00, and that on a certain Sunday the congregation would be given an opportunity to put the cash "on the barrel head." When the Sunday came he had a barrel sitting at the front of the sanctuary. The people came and put their money on the barrel head. When the building committee counted it, there was $8,500.50 in cash.

The congregation of the First Methodist Church will celebrate the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Methodist Church in Winters, with special services Sunday, March 12. The (Continued on page 2, plus related story)

Methodist Church Will Observe Anniversary

The First Methodist Church of Winters will observe the 75th anniversary of the founding of the church with a special evening service and celebration Sunday, March 12.

Ben Barnes, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives and member of the DeLeon Methodist Church, will be the principal speaker for the 6 p. m. services at the church.

A full program has been planned for both the morning and evening services on Sunday, but the evening service will be the anniversary service.

The Rev. Edward H. Otwell is pastor of the church and heads the anniversary committee which planned the special event.

The Rev. Roy Crawford, retired Methodist minister who was an early member of the Winters church, will present a history of the church during the evening services. W. M. Hays, a member of the Board of Stewards of the church, will introduce the principal speaker, and Rankin Pace will introduce the visitors. The church choir, under the direction of Wesley M. Hays Jr., will present special numbers at both the morning and evening services. The Rev. Chester Wilkerson, a retired Methodist minister, will take part in the evening services.

It is expected that several of the former pastors of the church will be in attendance, along with many former members of the church who now live elsewhere.

A large and impressive group of photos and other items depicting the history of the Winters Methodist Church will be on display in the Fellowship Hall immediately following the evening services.

Members of the 75th Anniversary Planning Committee are: the pastor, the Rev. Crawford, A. W. Libbe, Rankin Pace, M. L. Dobbins and Gattis Neely.

Invitations have gone out to many former members of the church who now live in other cities, in addition to the entire public, to attend this special 75th Anniversary Celebration of the First Methodist Church.

City Council Okay Franchise For Gas Company

Winters City Council, at a meeting February 20, approved an ordinance granting to Lone Star Gas Company, a franchise to furnish and supply natural gas to the general public in the City of Winters and environs.

The franchise is for an additional 20 years, to expire Feb. 28, 1987. It calls for a tax of two percent of gross receipts for customers within the city limits, and gives to the company the right to use the streets, alleys and public ways of the city.

The ordinance as passed by the Council specifically states that it shall not affect the existing rates and charges presently being charged for natural gas and natural gas service in Winters. The City of Winters has the authority, subject to State statute, to set rates, and this authority is separate from franchise allotment.

H. D. Jones Filed Friday As Mayor Candidate

H. D. Jones, manager of Foxworth-Gailbraith Lumber Co., Friday filed as a candidate for the office of mayor of the City of Winters.

Mr. Jones is a former three-term mayor of Winters and also served as an alderman. The City election will be held Tuesday, April 4.

There now are two candidates for the office of mayor; Wade White, presently an alderman, whose term expires in April, filed some time ago as a candidate.

Two other vacancies will be filled on the City Council at the April 4 election. J. C. Jarrrell, who is completing his second two-year term in office, will step down, and the place filled by White will be open.

Two candidates have filed for the two places on the council: E. E. Vaughan and Nelan Bahlman have filed as candidates.

Deadline for filing for the three offices was Friday, March 3.

City Council Orders Street Seal Coating

The Winters City Council Monday night authorized a seal coating treatment for portions of several streets in the city. Cost of this project will be $3750.00, an amount which had been set aside in this year's budget for repair and maintenance of the city's streets.

Streets involved in this spring's project are those which were seal coated about five years ago. All paved streets in the city have received seal coating within that five-year period, and the second cycle is beginning with present project.

Streets and number of feet on specified streets to receive a seal coating are as follows:

- State Street, 2620 feet.
- Roselane Street, 645 feet.
- Magnolia Street, 310 feet.
- Floyd Street, 415 feet.
- Arlington Street, 1385 feet.
- Rogers Street, 450 feet.
- Enterprise Street, 420 feet.
- Cryer Street, 1667 feet.

In addition, the front parking area at the hospital, which is offset from the street proper, will receive a seal coat application.

Work is expected to begin on this project within the next two or three weeks, depending on the weather, according to Buford Baldwin, City Secretary.

Other business transacted by the City Council in the regular meeting Monday night included appointment of Hans Gerhart as election judge for the city election to be held April 4.

Council also approved employment of Jerry G. Chambliss to work as a lineman for the City Light Plant department. He is to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Alvin Scates. Chambliss was formerly employed by Lone Star Gas Co. in San Angelo.

Elm Creek Water District Bill Will Go To State Legislature This Week

The steering committee working toward formation of the proposed Elm Creek Water Control District this week is making final preparations and will submit a request to the State Legislature for passage of a local bill for creation of the district.

A draft of the local bill is being prepared, and it will be accompanied by the necessary descriptions of the area which will be included in the proposed district. This is expected to be in the hands of State representatives who will sponsor it and pilot it through passage within a few days.

Local hearings have been held in the area within the past two weeks with discussions and question-and-answer programs conducted. A meeting was held in Bradshaw last week, and another was held Tuesday night in the high school auditorium in Winters. It was planned to have another public hearing in Balinger Thursday night of this week.

The proposal, which would combine into a water control district most of the eastern half of Runnels County, parts of South Taylor County, along with the two towns of Winters and Ballinger, has received the en-

Rev. Shoemaker Resigns, Will Go To Spearman

The Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor of Winters First Baptist Church, has submitted his resignation to the congregation of the church and has announced he will go to Spearman where he will pastor a church.

The Rev. Shoemaker, who has been pastor of the Winters First Baptist Church 16 years, made the announcement Sunday. He will leave March 15 to take over his new pastorate.

Mrs. Shoemaker has been a teacher in the Winters schools for several years.

A farewell tea honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Shoemaker will be held in Fellowship Hall of the church from 2 to 4 p. m. Sunday, March 12. Members of the church and friends of the couple have been invited to attend.

While in Winters, the Rev. Shoemaker has been active in many community affairs. He has been a member of the Winters Lions Club for several years.

Plans for the U. S. Highway 83 project south of Winters to Hatchel call for widening and rebuilding and, in some places, straightening the north-south arterial highway. Right-of-way presently is 100 feet; additional right-of-way will be 120 feet. Commissioner Mape said. Possession of required right-of-way has been obtained. Mape said, although there is one portion of the right-of-way probably will require additional litigation.

In the work on Highway 83, Runnels County will pay 50 percent of the cost of obtaining right-of-way, rebuilding of fences and relocation of utility lines, with the State Highway Department paying 50 percent. Entire cost of construction will be paid by the Highway Department.

Rebuilding of Highway 83 from Hatchel north to Winters will be the same as was done to the stretch of the highway from Hatchel to Ballinger some years ago, it was understood.

FM 53 PROJECT

Plans for the FM 53 project call for rebuilding the road surface from Crews to the Coleman County line. No additional right-of-way is necessary for this project. All bridges have already been rebuilt, it was said. Also, it was understood that work on FM 53 will be in accordance with State Highway specifications. When this project is completed, there will remain only a short distance on FM 53 from Winters to the Coleman County line which will require reworking to bring the entire highway up to specifications.

U. S. 83 THRU WINTERS

Work still is going on in making preliminary surveys and drawing up plans for rebuilding the portion U. S. Highway 83 which goes through Winters.

No definite announcement has been made on this proposed project because of the large amount of work required in making the plans, it has been said by Winters City officials and others.

Gen. Davy Jones Given Permanent Two-Star Rank

The rank of Major General Davyd M. Jones, who "adopted" Winters as his home several years, has been made permanent and confirmed by the U. S. Senate. Gen. Jones was one of three Air Force generals to receive permanent rank through action by the Senate. The other two generals were formerly stationed at Dyess AFB, Abilene.

Gen. Jones, the son-in-law of Mrs. Roy C. Maddox of Winters, is assigned with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington. He was a B-25 pilot on the famed "flight over Tokyo" in April, 1942, in the early stages of World War II, and later was a prisoner of the Germans after his aircraft was shot down over North Africa.

Gen. Jones was honored by the citizens of Winters at a "Davy Jones Day" in August, 1965.

HOST RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown and daughters, Carolyn and Barbara were hosts Sunday at Open House in Abilene honoring her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Corpian on their 25th wedding anniversary.

Work is expected to begin "within the next few weeks" on widening and straightening about nine miles of U. S. Highway 83, from Hatchel north to the intersection of FM 53 at the south city limits of Winters, it was announced this week.

The same announcement, by the State Highway Commission in Austin this week, included announcement of work on FM 53 from Crews east to the Coleman County line. The two projects will total 11.460 miles.

The Highway Commission announced that J. H. Strain & Sons, Inc., and T. M. Brown & Sons, Inc., construction firms of Tye, had been awarded the contract. The low bid for the two projects was $635,446.47.

Grading, structure, base and asphalt concrete paving on the highways, which is understood to be included as one project, is expected to take 250 working days, according to J. A. Snell, District Highway Engineer at San Angelo. W. B. Hoppe, Resident Engineer at Ballinger, will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

Meanwhile, according to Melvin Mape, County Commissioner, preliminary survey and planning work is going ahead for a project to rebuild the section of U. S. Highway 83 from the north Winters city limits to the Taylor County line. No appropriations have been made on this project, the County Commissioner said, but plans are being made toward that end.

VFW and Auxiliary To Sponsor "Get Out and Vote"

Members of Winters Post 913 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and its Ladies Auxiliary will sponsor a "Get out and vote" program for the City election to be held April 4, it was announced by Mrs. W. L. Collins, community service chairman for the two organizations.

A car pool will be operated by the organizations to transport people, who have no means of transportation, to the polls at the City Hall.

Methodist Church Was Organized in 1891; One Charter Member Still Living

By Rev. Roy L. Crawford
The Methodist Church at Winters had its beginning in 1891. According to the late Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Yeats, a group of Methodists met in their home on a Sunday in August, 1891. From that meeting grew regular meetings of Methodists. The exact date of the official organization and election of officers is not known, as all original records before 1899 have been lost.

The Rev. George D. Wilson, pastor of the Ballinger Circuit in 1891, was the preacher who organized the church at Winters. In the following November the annual conference made Ballinger a full time appointment. At the same time the Ballinger Mission was formed; this included Winters and other churches in the northern part of the county, but not Ballinger.

In 1897 a parsonage was built at Winters. The location was where the Magnolia Service Station and Higginbotham Lumber Company are today. The Winters Circuit was formed, including several neighbor churches and the pastor lived at Winters.

In 1909 the Winters church became a full time appointment. The following year the Northwest Texas annual conference was divided and Winters fell in the part that was called the Central Texas Conference.

The original roll of charter members has been lost. From various sources a list of the charter members has been pieced together. The following were among them. There may have been others.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Yeats, Miss Viola Yeats, Robert H. Yeats, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bell, Miss Mamie Bell, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rodgers, Ollie Meek, Mrs. A. F. Adams, L. N. Pike, Mrs. O. M. Pike, Dr. and Mrs. Rubottom and Miss Leola Rubottom, Robert H. Yeats is the only known charter member still living, and now resides at Artesia, N. M. He was an electrician and wired the third church building for electricity. He also played a flute in the church.

ROBERT H. YEATS

The congregation worshipped in the school house until 1899, when the first church was built.

The pastor today is Rev. Edward H. Ottwell, being the 37th pastor of the church. He is a native of DeLeon. Just prior to his coming to Winters last June he had been for six years the conference director of Town and Country Work with his office at Cleburne. He and Mrs. Ottwell (Willie) and daughter Cynthia live in the parsonage at 705 State Street. Cynthia is a freshman at Texas Wesleyan College at Fort Worth.

Commendation For Safety

Borrowed eyeliner pencils were tracked down as the carriers responsible for two outbreaks of trachoma in high schools in the nation. More than a hundred cases of the eye disease, blinding if untreated, developed in the outbreaks. In each instance, the outbreak was due to interchange among school girls of mascara pencils employed to outline their eyes by drawing a line close to the eyelashes.

The cases were reported by Dr. Phillips Thygeson of the University of California's Proctor Foundation. The disease, an infection of the eyelids caused by a virus-like germ, affects approximately one-sixth of the world's population. The disease is linked to poor hygiene, flies and inadequate water supplies. Trachoma is the world's leading cause of blindness.

No permanent eye damage occurred in any of the high school cases as a result of early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

There are instances of proven disease transmission from borrowing one type of cosmetic. But how many girls borrow other types such as powder puffs and lipstick? Sometimes a lipstick will be passed around freely, perhaps to try the shade. The creamy lipstick often carries more than color from one person to another. Even combs and hairbrushes are often used interchangeably in schools, by both boys and girls.

When it comes to any such used too personally, there is only one safe rule: Neither a borrower nor a lender be.

TFTA State Convention

Ten Winters High students and their sponsors attended the Texas Future Teachers of America (TFTA) State Convention held in San Antonio, February 24-25. The delegation, all members of the Alpha Chi chapter of Winters, included Gary Pinkerton, Mike Pumphrey, Lanny Bahlman, Mike Magee, Jimmy Vaughan, Cindy Antilley, Jan Merck, Janis Gray, Theresa Meyer, Sally Spill, and the sponsors, Mrs. Charles Kruse, Jr. and Mr. David Ledbetter. Six of the attending students were selected to go, because they had worked the greatest number of hours on approved activities.

The delegates and sponsors were warmly welcomed Friday by the Honorable Walter W. McAllister, mayor of San Antonio. Mr. R. L. Ashworth, superintendent of Amarillo Public Schools, presented the keynote address, "Education: World's Torch for Peace," the theme of the convention. In his speech, he expressed the importance of education to maintain world peace.

Various workshops, conducted by the Amarillo delegation, were attended by the Winters members. Many new ideas for the improvement of the chapter were obtained.

Representing District XI, to which the Winters Chapter belongs, were Mike Pumphrey, Jan Merck, and Lanny Bahlman. Recently chosen as district Mr. FTA, Mike Pumphrey competed with other district Mr. FTA's for the state title.

Jan Merck represented the district as financial secretary and Lanny Bahlman, as vice-president, was runner-up for the state office.

The TFTA officers for 1967-68 are as follows: President, Eileen McClintock of Midland; Vice-president, Nell Fisher of Temple; recording secretary, Pam Rodgers of Anson; Financial secretary, Ann Glasson of Amarillo; Ray Green, parliamentarian; and Historian, Sam Martinez of Brownsville. The elections took place Saturday, February 25.

The convention was held in the municipal auditorium. Several of the groups stayed in the El Tropicano Motor Hotel, among them the Winters members. Sightseeing trips to the Alamo, the San Fernando Cathedral, the Spanish Governor's Palace, and the LBJ Ranch were taken by the mem-

This office will probably average six to eight long distance telephone calls a day from people in our 24-County Congressional District. Sometimes more, sometimes less.

Usually, when it is the other person's nickel, an inquiry is made about the weather back home. As everyone knows, weather is always an important subject in West Texas.

Unfortunately, reports in the last several weeks describe a drought situation which is becoming more acute by the day.

This is one thing we can not do very much about by legislation, although Government has tried to cure about everything else. Even weather control is receiving a great deal of scientific attention.

Conditions of drought bring to mind a friend, Judge Frank Wilson, who relates a story about a trip he made with his father from Dallas to the Texas Panhandle where they owned a ranch.

It was a hot summer day and their model T Ford was suffering severely from the lack of water when they reached Anson. At that time we had one of the finest horse troughs to be found anywhere, located on the Northwest corner of the Square. It was fed from the town stand-pipe, equipped with a float valve in the center which kept it at a constant level. This was a great invention and no finer equipment could be found anywhere.

The water, however, was for horses and not for automobiles, so my friend, who was then a boy of seven, remembers his father being advised by the City Marshal.

It was dry and hot and this new fangled automobile from the big city had no business using up our water.

That horse trough has long been gone, having been paved over in the early 1920's. There must be very few horse troughs any place now, except Washington, D. C., where you can find just about anything, including a horse trough.

The very last one, however, is soon to be the victim of "Mr.

bers and sponsors. Sunday morning, the students and sponsors attended the churches of their choice before returning to Winters.

Monahans Choir Presents Assembly

The Monahans high school choir gave an assembly for the WHS student body Wednesday, March 1 in the auditorium. Mr. Kenneth Mills, a graduate of Winters High School, is the director of the choir. The choir presented a varied program of sacred and popular music. The program was concluded with an excellent version of "God's Trombone." WHS students enjoyed the program immensely.

Clean." Ever since the mid 1800's, the Nation's Capital was equipped with horse troughs, but now they have all been removed except one because it was decided they were a health menace. The one remaining is deep in Rock Creek Park and the purpose of it is explained to children.

No inquiry has been made as to where the horses of the mounted Park Police are going to get a drink of water, but it will probably be frowned upon if they try to drink from fountains provided for people. They could drink out of Rock Creek but the water in it is not fit for man or beast because of its contamination.

The original cast iron troughs were placed around Washington in 1870 by the Washington Humane Society. The present 70-year old President of the Society says that the organization, bought the troughs and the City installed them. The ownership is still in the Society, and feeling no choice, they permitted their removal. Five or six may be up for sale soon from $35 to $40. One very fancy trough was located in the downtown business area adjacent to the site of the new F.B.I. building soon to be constructed. It was also donated to the City in the early 1800's. Pictures show it to be quite elaborate, designed as a fountain to serve horses, birds and humans. It was only removed last year and is now in storage in the City warehouse. It is the property of the City of Washington, and the District of Columbia being the property of all the people of the United States, everybody owns a little bit of a horse trough. No disposition has been made of it and there is a question whether it will be put in a museum. If so, it will probably be equipped with the same valves, pipe and other paraphernalia that originally made it work.

If not put to use, we may try to get it for the Northwest corner of the Square in Anson.

State Capital Highlights—

Three Major Legislative Measures Pass the House And Go to Senate

By—Vern Sanford Texas Press Association

Three pieces of major legislation passed by the House now have landed on the Senate's doorstep.

These include: Local option authority for financially and distressed Texas cities to levy a one-per-cent sales tax. (Vote: 85-63)

A stiff code of ethics for legislators and other state officials and employees. (Vote: 140-6)

Repeal of "emergency purchase" provisions to put teeth in Sunday closing laws. (Vote: 132-14)

Before passing the city sales tax bill, sponsored by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin, the House spent nearly three hours of continuous debate and waded through more than 30 amendment attempts.

Advocates predict a majority vote in the Senate, too. But no action is expected across the rotunda until after rules suspension eases with passage of the session's 60 day mark.

Code of ethics bill, by Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville, made its third trip through the House. Substantially the same bill has been approved by representatives in two prior sessions but died in the Senate. Same fate is anticipated this time for what advocates term "one of the strictest codes in the United States."

Measure would require lawmakers to disclose personal interest in legislation, force legislators and state officials and employees to reveal substantial interests in private businesses and require identification of relatives on the state payroll.

Surprisingly, the strengthened Sunday closing law, introduced by Rep. Willis J. Whitley of Houston, cleared the House in seven minutes. Only one comment was made. Smooth sailing also is anticipated in the Senate. (What this law will do to tourist spending has never been mentioned.)

TIME OUT

First big break in one of the session's closet-fought contests—over whether Texas should go on Daylight Saving Time—came when the Senate state affairs committee approved the exemption bill.

Theater owners, restaurant operators and farmers backed the bill, by Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, to continue Texas on

The District will have a Board of Directors and will be empowered to levy taxes, issue bonds and generally to provide a system of flood-retardation structures; to provide domestic and municipal water; to cooperate in watershed protection and flood prevention projects; to fully cooperate with the federal government, its agencies, departments and representatives thereof in taking advantage of, and in securing and getting assistance, aid, benefits, grants, loans, credit and money as provided in Public Law 566, 83rd Congress, Chapter 656, 2nd Session, H. Central Standard Time. (After April 1 the new federal Uniform Time Act goes into effect everywhere except where state legislators vote otherwise. Only one state, South Dakota, so far has passed an exemption act.)

Panel was unimpressed with arguments of television broadcasters, railroad and airline spokesmen that the state must stay in time with the rest of the nation.

Same bill, heard in House state affairs committee, was referred to subcommittee and has not yet emerged.

VETERINARY LABORATORY Bill to create a Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory for Texas farmers and ranchers at Texas A&M University has been sent to the Governor for his signature.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria and Sen. Bill Patman of Gando, sponsors of the bill, said the laboratory will be located on property which will be given to the state by the A&M Board of Regents. Purpose of the laboratory is to give speedy and accurate analyses of samples from possibly diseased animals to help local veterinarians diagnose and treat the animals.

MIGRANT LIVING

House Public Health Committee—considering a bill to set up state standards for farm-worker housing—heard testimony last week from state officials of the 162,000 migrant farm workers in Texas.

Committee sent the bill along to a sub-committee, after such officials as Col. Egon Tausch of the migrant section of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission gave case studies of migrant conditions and pointed out that cases of infant dysentery often range as high as 30 per cent among the children of farm workers.

FEED LOT BILL MOVES

A feed lot license bill was approved by the House agriculture committee. Sponsor is Rep. Tom Holmes of Granbury. It sets standards of sanitation in livestock feeding operations under authority of the Texas Animal Health Commission and fixes these annual licensing fees: $25 for lots that feed under 1,000 head; $100 for 1,000 to 3,000 head; $150 for 3,000 to 10,000 head; and $200 for over 10,000 head. Licenses are optional for lots feeding under 1,000.

Under amendments, the Commission would have to act in 30 days on license applications. Water Pollution Control Board and Air Control Board regulations would prevail in "matters falling within their jurisdiction."

Committee also approved a bill to raise fines and penalties (up to $200 per head) for improperly transporting animals from fever tick quarantine areas.

LOCAL OFFICIALS' RAISE

County auditors and precinct officials would make substantial monetary gains under a pair of bills being sponsored in the House by Reps. Vernon Beckham of Denison and Dick Cory of Victoria.

Beckham's bill would let county commissioners courts pay mileage reimbursement to the county auditors for travel in their line of duty. House Committee on Counties referred that measure to a sub-committee for further consideration.

Cory's bill would allow commissioners courts to raise the salaries of justices of the peace and constables up to 20 per cent over what they now earn. Committee favorably reported this one back to the House floor where it now is awaiting action.

LIVESTOCK MARKETS

Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville and Rep. Charles Jungmichel of La Grange have introduced legislation to place greater emphasis on encouraging the construction, development and expansion of services and facilities of livestock markets in Texas.

Connally's bill would establish a charter-fee system to govern livestock markets and to create a seven-member Public Livestock Board in the state government to grant charters and supervise the markets where livestock are auctioned.

"We have seen in the last 10 to 15 years a vast improvement in bank facilities and an expansion of their services," the Senator said. "The same results can be obtained by providing the proper basis for establishing and developing livestock markets."

MOVIE REGULATION

Every incorporated city and town in Texas would be required to set up a "Motion Picture Classification Board" to preview every movie to be shown in that city and classify it as "suitable" or "not suitable" for persons under age 18 by a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Cordell Hull of Fort Worth.

Hull said that cities now have the authority for such regulation, but his bill would make the board mandatory and would provide guidelines for classifying movies. Board would be composed of nine members appointed by the city's governing body for two-year terms.

TEACHING OF SPANISH

Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainview has introduced a bill requiring public schools to offer courses in Spanish to students in the second, third and fourth grades.

Wayne's bill, now in the House Education Committee, would require that within five years after passage of the bill, every elementary school in the state begin teaching Spanish to students in at least those three grades.

It also provides that the State Board of Education furnish textbooks and recorded Spanish exercises to the school districts without cost to the students.

COURTS SPEAK

U. S. Supreme Court rejected

a challenge of the Texas law which provides penalties up to $1,000 a day for operating slant hole oil wells.

High court wrote no opinion in ruling that it would not hear arguments on the state law dealing with violators of the prohibition against angle drilling across another property owner's or lease holder's boundary.

A total of $304,800 in fines are involved in appeal. But petitioners claimed the state is seeking fines and penalties ranging into millions of dollars in 100 similar cases.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS

A $5,000,000 appropriation for the Institute of Texas Cultures at San Antonio's HemisFair '68 can be spent any time up to February 19, 1969, and may be used for operating expenses, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held in an official opinion.

In other opinions, Martin concluded: Legislature may authorize a grant or loan of state funds to a governmental entity for sewer facilities and water quality control program planning and facilities.

Board of Registration for Professional Engineers does not have the power to amend rules to permit the licensing of persons with degrees other than engineering.

McLennan County commissioners court may permit an applicant for a county depository contract to replace a cashier's check (required in bidding) and award the contract to the applicant.

No exemptions from an inheritance tax on bank accounts in Texas where account belongs to a non-resident citizen can be allowed under the unconstitutional retroactive provision of a 1959 law.

MUSEUM FUND RAISED

A $200,000 private contribution was turned over to Governor Connally for a museum at Washington State Park near Brenham. This releases $500,000 more previously appropriated by the legislature under a matching arrangement.

Museum plans will begin immediately at the state's first capitol site. Sponsors hope to completely restore the old city of Washington-on-the-Brazos as it was in 1836.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Connally has appointed Sherman Birdwell of Austin as chairman of the Governor's Committee on the Status of Women and Mrs. Mary Ann Faust of Beaumont as vice-chairman.

Department of Public Safety is reminding Texas motorists that only six weeks remain before the April 15 deadline on the 1967 vehicle inspection stickers.

House Parks and Wildlife Committee favorably recommended a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Leroy Wieting of Portland authorizing the Parks and Wildlife Department to negotiate with the federal government for the eradication of vegetation in Texas streams and lakes. Water Development Board withdrew a $15,000,000 bond offering because of an "unsatisfactory" market.

Lindsey Enderby of Gainesville has been designated chairman of "Opportunities, Unlimited," a career-political education conference set for April 22 on the UT campus. Sen. John Tower and GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss are sponsors of the conference.

Sen. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio has proposed constitutional amendments to make Texas either "all wet" or "all dry" for liquor sale.

Bills by Rep. Joe Allen of Baytown would ban the use of oyster shell in road construction and restore the old shell dredging line at 1,500 feet from live reefs; Allen also recommends enlarging Parks & Wildlife Commission from three to six members.

CARD OF THANKS I would like to extend my sincere thanks and gratitude to my friends who were so kind to us following the death of my grandfather, W. T. Cox of San Angelo. For the many words of condolence, food, beautiful flowers and cards, I am deeply grateful. Mrs. Wayne (Loyce) Solomon. 1tp

Lutheran Ladies Aid In Regular Meeting Thursday

Mrs. Walter Krantz presided for the regular meeting of the Ladies Aid Circle of St. John's Lutheran Church, Thursday afternoon, with 30 members present.

Mrs. E. E. Thormeyer was in charge of the program for the month of February. She gave the devotional, and the group sang a hymn, followed by a Bible study. The Hymn "Nailed To The Cross" was sung by Mrs. Erwin Ueckert with Mrs. W. H. Minzenmayer at the piano, honoring members who have birthday anniversaries in Mar.

A short business meeting was held in which Mrs. Ueckert gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Robert Gerhart gave the treasurer's report. The Circle voted to become a contributing member of the Trinity Lutheran Home Auxiliary for the Aged at Round Rock.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer, and refreshments were served by Mesdames Walter Gerhart, Bill Ahrens and Ted Hantsche.

Western Film of 30's Is Big Hit, When Dialogue Is In Swahili

BY BILL PUMPHREY

Last Friday we had a movie in our town. A small van equipped with a projector and portable generator, which recently began a monthly schedule of visits to our town, was set up at the town market. The movie, held in the evening, was free but it contained nearly as many commercials as an equally long television program.

The forty boarder students at our school were told that they could go if Jim and I accompanied them. Unfortunately it started raining in the afternoon and was showering at the time we should have started the two mile walk to town. The students volunteered to wear raincoats or do anything which would make us go. Their enthusiasm must have been heard up there somewhere, too, as it stopped raining for awhile.

At the market a large crowd was gathered in the bus stop area as the movie flickered on a small square screen about fifty feet from the projector van. The people were laughing at the comedy when we arrived. The first film was a Laurel and Hardy classic that needed no translation.

The second film was a western from the early 30's. A man standing beside the projector van, talking over a small address system, provided a running translation of the action into Swahili. Although the English soundtrack was only allowed to play part of the time, I could guess the age-old lines from the corny actions. Many of the scenes were in a saloon and there was the usual number of riots, gunfights and gallons of liquor consumed. Jim and I felt frequent embarrassment at such a coarse portrayal of the American frontier. I don't know as if I feel that the U.S. government should permit such films to be sent overseas. Surely there are more representative films of our country. The people here think that these movies are as real about America as we think the Tarzan movies are real about Africa. We are both being deceived though.

I have seen a lot of westerns with the legendary wagon-trains heading into the sunsets but I believe this was the first time that I really understood the heroism of those men and women — our forefathers — who opened up the west. The scenes showing the wagontrains rolling across the plains really made me feel a surge of patriotism. Seeing American movies abroad makes one more critical of the details whereas in America we could overlook weaknesses or fail to grasp the full meaning of oft-repeated scenes such as the wagon trains.

The movie was a big event here. There will be another one on March 10th and although I won't hope for rain I will hope for a better film. Movies are still the best entertainment — in the world.

Fish scoules in turkey diets
Recent feeding trials at Texas A&M University have shown that fish scoules fed to turkey hens can improve egg hatchability and growth rate of poults. The fish scoules significantly improved hatchability during the latter part of the laying season. No effect on egg production, fertility, feed consumption, feed efficiency or body weight loss was noted, said Dr. R. L. Atkinson, Poultry Science Department.

Six Flags Over Texas Sets April Opening

Six Flags Over Texas will begin its 1967 season on Saturday, April 29.

Announcement came from Angus G. Wynne, Jr., President of Great Southwest Corporation, owner-operator of the famed 115-acre, historical-theme entertainment park located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

During the Spring, Six Flags Over Texas will be open on Fridays from 5:00 p. m. to 11 p. m. and on Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Starting May 26 and continuing through Labor Day, the Park will be open seven days a week from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Following Labor Day and until the season closes October 29, Six Flags will operate on Saturdays and Sundays only from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

The Run-A-Way Mine Train ride, key project in the $1,000,000 expansion of the Boom Town Section of the Park which was begun last season, has been completed over the winter months. The ride, one of the most exciting ever developed, was introduced to visitors on a limited basis near the end of last season, while work continued on the project.

An attendance milestone will also be reached during the forthcoming season, as Six Flags anticipates welcoming its ten-millionth visitor sometime time during the month of August. The Park, which opened in 1961, has already counted over 8.5 million visitors.

Roger Babson Says—

Workers Want a Much Bigger Cut In Profits and Will Work to Get It

Big Labor Demands Despite Business Slowdown

Babson Park, Mass. President Johnson has called for restraint in upcoming 1967 labor negotiations. But union plans are not heading in that direction. Workers want a much bigger slice of the profits pie, and labor leaders are going to do their best to get it for them.

All Guidelines Are Out The Window

The 3.2 per cent productivity guideline that has been ignored since it was proposed during the Kennedy Administration was finally given the official heave-ho. It was felt that each individual bargaining situation should be worked out in line with existing conditions. This is more or less of an idealistic approach, and it is not holding back union strategists from hard drives to get all the market will bear. . . and more, if possible.

Also, the President's Council of Economic Advisers said that it would not be excessively inflationary if wage increases were kept to around 5 per cent. That's the non-official stand at present. But even the most naive observer knows it would take a tremendous amount of resistance from management and more pressure than the government now appears able to wield to hold the line at or close to the 5 per cent-raise level.

Labor Is After Gains Of 8 Percent-10 Percent

Employers should prepare for demands of at least 8 per cent - 10 percent in a great many activities. Union statisticians have been busy lining up their artillery, and they are going to use it. The bombardment will seem reasonable and worth serious consideration to many of the nation's employees, and union officials hope the drive for big wage and fringe-benefit advances will gain widespread popular support.

They point out that the new or reopened contracts should provide 3.2 percent pay gains just to cover the general productivity trend. Then they argue that raises should be given to cover the 3.3 percent living-cost climb of the past year. And, for the final basic shove, they propose that another 3 percent or so should be included to cover the anticipated 1967 jump in the cost of living. And that represents a 9.5 percent boost in across-the-board wages, not taking into consideration the inevitable demands for ever-widening fringe concessions.

Fine For The Workers, But. . . All informed, thinking men of this day and age want employees to get their portion of profits, healthy working conditions, and the "extras" that have become part of our business way of life. The danger is, of course, that if labor costs are driven too high, unrealistically high, the results can be damaging to all concerned. The President and his advisers know this. That is why they have asked for restraint, especially at this critical time.

Auto production, residential building, and even retail buying have sounded a warning. Heavy inventories in many lines indicate that output in many other fields may be facing a cutback. Plans for capital expansion have become more tentative along a broad front. Inflationary costs of labor and materials tend to hold down expansion. This can mean an upturn in the unemployment barometer, and in turn can put a checkrein on retail purchasing and the use of services.

Higher Labor Costs Mean Price Jumps

If profits are squeezed dangerously, the only answer is price advances. Particularly at a time when a six-year-old boom is feeling its age, price hikes can intensify buyer resistance. Chances are that excessive demands from labor during 1967 could bring about such a situation. The government, and the public, will be watching. Crucial wage-price upspiral could prod Congress into legal restraints, ones that will work if voluntary restraints do not. Hence, 1967 may well be the year of decision for labor-management relations. He will shoot higher who shoots at the sun than he who aims at a tree.

RABBITS GOOD "PROPS" TO TEACH GUN SAFETY

Cottontail rabbit hunting, says Biologist Dan Lay of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, is a good place to begin teaching Texas youth the fundamentals of gun safety.

Rabbits, with their high reproduction potential, and their ability to adapt to many types of habitat, just seem to be where they are needed most when a boy gets his first sub-bore shotgun. If not there, small plants planted with grain or green vegetation will soon draw in cottontails like a magnet.

Lay said in such areas the adult has an ideal opportunity to supervise a youngster and his gun handling, train him in marksmanship, as well as provide a lot of happy hunting and meat for the table.

There are people so addicted to exaggeration that they can't tell the truth without lying.

CAFTISH ROMANCE CAUSES BIG FLAP

Mysterious death of three-fourths of the brood channel catfish at the Huntsville State Fish Hatchery sent Texas Parks and Wildlife Department personnel hustling to catch the needed 300 replacements.

Trotlines, hoop nets and seines were used in futile efforts to quickly round up the required two pounders, or better, in size. Now with the May catfish squawking season approaching, even supervisory staffers are working the cold waters to get those required 150 romantic pair of the popular cats.

Meanwhile, technicians are trying to determine what killed the brood stock to begin with.

OLD STONE FORT
Nacogdoches

The Old Stone Fort standing on the campus of the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College at Nacogdoches is generally believed to have been built during 1779 or 1780.

It has been held and garrisoned at various times by Spain, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States.

It was truly an outpost in the wilderness!

Nacogdoches itself, one of the four oldest civilized settlements in Texas, was named for the Nacogdoches Indians. Here in 1716 the Spaniards established Mission Nuestra Senora de Guadalupe around whose deserted buildings Nacogdoches was permanently established in 1779.

Brussels sprouts are a different kind of cabbage. Brussels sprouts young plants look much like cabbage plants, but as they mature tiny buds form on the stalk. These buds develop into miniature heads similar to common cabbage. Dozens of these sprouts cluster on a stalk shaded by large spreading leaves at the top. When the sprouts are about one inch in diameter, they are ready for harvest. The best sprouts have a bright green color, compact leaves, and are small and uniform in size.

They often receive the same abuse as overboiled cabbage, but they are deserving of more thoughtful treatment. To be at their very best, they should be cooked the shortest possible time to tenderize them. To shorten cooking time, cut crisscross slashes in the base of each.

The green color Brussels sprouts indicates the presence of Vitamin A. Since they are in the cabbage family, they are also a good source of Vitamin C, calcium and iron.

Salmon—If you're looking for a bargain package of powerful nutrition, an extra plentiful supply of canned salmon is available this season.

Commercial grades of canned salmon are established by five species. Canned, these species will differ in color, texture of flesh, and flavor, but show little variation in food value.

Canned salmon also varies in price depending on kind. Chum and Keta the least expensive salmon and are lighter in color. They are suitable for casseroles and other cooked dishes.

The low priced salmon is not inferior or less carefully prepared.

It's just a different variety than the more expensive pink salmon. If you're looking for less calories, you'll be glad to know that salmon has only 37 calories per serving.

MRS. JOHN SHULTZ . . . 105

Mrs. John Shultz, Great-Aunt of Local Resident, Notes 105th Birthday

Mrs. John (Gertrude) Shultz celebrated her 105th birthday with a family dinner at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sam Adkins of Groesbeck. Although her birthday was February 22, the celebration was February 26.

An open house was held in her honor.

Mrs. Shultz is a great-aunt of Mrs. E. F. Albro of Winters, and an aunt of F. E. Berryman of Winters, and great-nephew of Frankie Berryman of Ballinger.

Granny Schultz was born Gertrude Unfried at Reil, Germany on Feb. 22, 1862. She came to America with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Pete Unfried in 1870.

The family, which included her three sisters and two brothers, traveled by steamship and came by way of France and Cuba. They first saw the United States at New Orleans, La., then landed at Galveston.

From there they came to Limestone County by train to a farm where they settled. Mr. Unfried died the first year the family was in America. Mrs. Unfried lived to be 75.

Mrs. Shultz is a spry, active and alert person with soft white hair. She is able to recall many of the early experiences of the move to America, among them dances held on the ship's decks.

After the death of Unfried, Mrs. Unfried sold the farm for a bale of cotton and a wagon and moved to another.

Gertrude Unfried was married to John Shultz near Hubbard in Limestone County on Jan. 11, 1888, and lived on a farm near there until his death in November 1934. She then went to live with her daughter.

Mrs. Shultz also has two sons, F. J. and John Shultz. Serving at the reception were granddaughter, Mrs. Raymond Adkins of Grand Isle, Fla., and great-granddaughter, Mrs. James Adkins of Elgin AFB, Fla.

The table was laid with white linen cutwork cloth centered by an arrangement of pink gladiolas and stock with appointments of crystal and silver.

The four-tiered cake was made by Mrs. Ellis Ueckert of Winters.

Mrs. Shultz is a member of the Methodist Church.

She says one of the bright spots in her life is that she has never spent any time in a hospital.

Among those attending from this area were Mrs. E. F. Albro of Winters, F. E. Berryman of Ballinger, great-nieces Mrs. L. R. Lay, Mrs. F. G. Abbott, and great-nephew Louis Berryman, all of Midland.

Some of the prized greetings came from President Johnson, Governor John Connally, Senator Ralph Yarborough, many of the state representatives and one from the bishop of the Methodist Church.

CARD OF THANKS

We are deeply grateful to our friends and relatives and want each of you to take this as a personal message of thanks for the many kindnesses you showed us when I was in Hendrick Hospital and since I have been home. Your many prayers, visits, cards, flowers, food and gifts have meant so very much to us; also a special thanks to the blood donors. May God richly bless each of you and may we prove as true a friend to you as you have been to us. Edna, Bede England and family.

Texas has a new lake to be proud of. . . Sam Rayburn Reservoir in East Texas. It was completed just a little more than a year ago and already is filled with water and fish.

This is the largest of all man-made lakes in Texas. It covers 114,300 acres of surface at power-pool level and 144,300 acres at flood-stage level.

Sam Rayburn Reservoir is located in the colorful Angelina National Forest. It is surrounded by such towns as Nacogdoches, Lufkin, Zavalla, Broadus, San Augustine and Jasper.

The lake is named in honor of the late Sam Rayburn of Bonham, who served as speaker of the lower house of Congress for some 20 years. He died in 1961 before completion of the impoundment.

In a state that boasts of more inland water than any of the 48 states, this one is being developed as a real recreational center. It will be a play spot of the entire southwest—especially Texas, Louisiana and possibly Oklahoma.

Its proximity to metropolitan Dallas and Houston means it will have heavy traffic from both of those places.

Sam Rayburn is a beautiful lake. Situated as it is . . . in the Angelina Forest . . . the Forest Service and Corps of Engineers, which built the dam at McGee Bend, will provide recreational features not presently found in any other lake area of the state.

Already some 20 recreational sites are being developed and more than 50 are planned around the lake.

Its water already is bassy. Most of the fish, however, are just yearlings. You may have to catch 50 to keep 10. But that's a lot of fun, too. Don't think there aren't any lunkers in the lake . . . because there are. The big dam was constructed across a stream well known for its fishing potentials in black bass, black and white crappie, spotted bass and catfish.

Bass were planted in the lake by the Parks and Wildlife department hatcheries and there has been a heavy spawn. In a few months now they will be catchable, too.

It's fun to sit in a boat, cast out across clean water that looks about like thin iced tea and watch a dozen small bass follow your lure back to the boat.

Sometimes the lure is larger than the fish, but they'll hit it anyway.

The Corps of Engineers has cleared 63,000 acres of land. Most of it was done with a huge tree crusher, which knocked over trees and flattened underbrush to provide boat roads throughout the impoundment.

These boat roads are several hundred feet wide.

There is a huge, open expanse in the middle of the lake. Here water sports can be held without bothering the fishermen who will be back in the literally thousands of pockets almost hidden by standing brush.

The lake heads on the upper Angelina River, between Lufkin and Nacogdoches. It is 40 miles to the dam, in some of the most beautiful country in East Texas. Tall pines and spreading oaks border the shores and wild vegetation contains more than 1,000 species of plants.

Facilities already provided include perhaps the finest boat ramps in Texas. They are double width, of reinforced concrete with a grid surface to prevent slippage. Near each ramp is ample parking space for both trailers and automobiles.

Campsites are being developed with all facilities, including water, rest rooms, trailer connections and just-cleared spots to pitch the family tent or park the family pickup camper.

Sam Rayburn Reservoir is destined to be filled with many large boats, particularly of the pontoon type. These big boats, with great powerheads, will be capable of taking the rough water that comes with a mammoth lake.

However, there are literally thousands of sheltered coves where fishing boats, either the semi-V or john boats, will be popular.

Several large marinas also are in the making and should be ready in time for this season.

Sam Rayburn Reservoir is a beautiful lake any time of the year. But the spring months, with the blooming shrubs and abundant trees, will attract many sightseers.

NUTTY ABOUT SQUIRRELS is Bobby Bauer, 6, of St. Petersburg, Fla. The two guests getting into his hair were knocked out of their nest by bluejays, and adopted by Bobby and his brother Frank, 13.
