HOME TOWN Talk

In the process of getting many projects off the ground, there is a need of direct and personal contribution, of time and knowhow, in addition to financial contribution. If this need is made known, there are many who will step up to offer this help, but many are reluctant to volunteer their services and wait to be asked.

The building of a new Little League baseball field is such a project—a community level. And the need for personal contribution is present. A good many people have been working on this project, and it is progressing rapidly—but they need some additional help.

The City of Winters leased an area from the Winters School upon which to build a baseball field. The City Light Plant Department has erected poles and installed lights. Several private concerns have pitched in to provide machinery and men to grade and level the area. Several individuals have worked during their spare time to get the site ready for the Little League season, which is closer than we think.

But there still is a lot of work to be done. There are fences to be built; a backstop to be completed; and a perimeter fence to be built; and several other things which need to be finished before the field is ready.

So . . . the Little League Association is calling for some help. They would like to see a large work force show up Saturday morning ready to donate a little of that "personal touch"—to build some fences and smooth some ground.

The Little League touches most of us, in some way or another. It has been said that the League is a combination "baby sitter, mama and daddy," during a period of the summer months. It provides a system of organized and supervised association for many youngsters of the community. It provides a meeting ground for boys and parents alike. In short and simple words, it is a good and wholesome activity.

If you are a parent of a boy who wants to take part in Little League activity, or if you are a person who sees the value of this program to the young boys of the community and would like to lend a hand, get in touch with Dale Whitecotton, president of the LL Association—and then come up to the new field Saturday morning ready to do your bit—the bit you owe to the kids of the community.

Then when game season starts, go up and back your favorite team or boy . . . and look out over the field you yourself had a hand in building and developing. (You'll have a right, then, to swell your chest in pride and pop a few buttons you'll have attained that)

Jerry Awalt Signs Intent To Play For ACC Wildcats

Jerry Awalt, graduating senior of Winters High School, this week signed a letter of intent with Abilene Christian College. He was the first track and field performer signed by ACC for 1967.

Awalt, 5-10, 164 pounds, was a four-year track letterman for the Winters Blizzards. He won the District 5-AA 440 dash championship four straight years and took the regional championship this year breezing in at 49.5.

He finished fifth in the state AA 440 with a 49.4. He ran the quarter-mile last year in 48.8 at the regional meet. This resulted in some of our best rural acreage being assessed at a lower value. This outdated method of evaluation may have had modern basis before the days of modern farm to market roads, modern

The Winters Independent School District has just completed a re-evaluation of all property located in the school district. This valuation was done by the firm of Pritchard and Abbott. Taxpayers of the District will begin receiving equalization board notices on May 19, 1967, and it is to be noted that the Winters School District will be using 48 percent of 100 percent values established by the valuation engineers, and if the Board of Equalization is able to hold values as set forth in the notices, the 1967 tax rate will be $1.55 per $100.00.

1. What is an evaluation program?

The purpose of our evaluation program is to equalize property values, within the Winters Independent School District, so that properties of equal value will appear on our tax rolls at the same amount. In this way, each taxpayer will pay his proportionate share of the tax load.

Pritchard and Abbott, our evaluation experts, have spent many hours in arriving at a reasonable 100 percent value of property in our School District. For example, residences within the city of Winters have been valued at current day market value or replacement cost less a reasonable depreciation for age. In arriving at these values they have taken into consideration the construction, whether brick, asbestos siding, or frame; square footage, number of bathrooms, and location. Whereas current sales has a great deal to do with valuing urban property, they had very little to do with placing a value on rural property. Items taken into consideration in placing a value on rural property were, soil grade (U.S.D.A.) productivity, availability of water, and income from the property over a period of years including both dry and wet years.

2. Why have an evaluation program?

In the first place, the law states that property taxes will be paid on an equal basis. In any taxing jurisdiction it is necessary to either review tax rolls on a periodic basis or maintain a continuous program on evaluation to keep values equalized. In the Winters Independent School District values have been based on 1951 100 percent values for the local people and current day values on oil properties. This was pointed out to the Winters School District by the various oil companies paying taxes in the Winters District and it was at their request that a study of this problem be made.

Our valuation on rural lands is completely outdated. For the past few years the assessed value of rural acreage has varied in accordance with the distance the property was located from town. The property close to town carried the highest assessed value. As the distance from town increased, the assessed value of the property decreased. This resulted in some of our best rural acreage being assessed at a lower value. This outdated method of evaluation may have had modern basis before the days of modern farm to market roads, modern equipment, and the modern trend of locating gins throughout the county near the farm. Today, this method of evaluation has no basis.

3. Why does the school system need more money?

The School District lost $11,600 in 1965 and $27,000 in 1966 for a total loss in revenue of $38,600 for the last two years. Due to this loss and the increase in cost of teaching materials, teaching salaries, plant maintenance, etc., it has become impossible to complete a budget with the expenditures equalling the revenue. Also, the School will be faced with additional losses in oil revenues.

The average daily attendance of the school has dropped and in order to maintain the present teaching staff it will become necessary for the school to pay for at least one, and possibly two, teaching units which the State has been paying for.

Your school is a big business. It has 98 employees with a monthly payroll of $38,377; ten bus routes with buses traveling 791 miles per day; a cafeteria staff which serves approximately 500 meals per day; and an average daily attendance of students of 1,023. Your school has an expenditure budget in the amount of $495,400 for the present school year, and presently has a bonded indebtedness of $225,000 which will be paid off December 1, 1972. This bonded indebtedness is costing the School approximately $41,000 per year in bond and interest payments which comes from your tax dollars. The school census for the school year 1967-68 is 1,073.

The chief concern of the Winters Independent School District and the equalization program is to fulfill the obligations to our boys and girls by providing them with an adequate school system.

International Mail Rates Increased Monday, May 1

An increase in international surface and air mail rates goes into effect Monday, May 1, Postmaster Rankin Pace of Winters has announced.

The new international rates, he said, will not apply to mailings for members of the Armed Forces overseas. Domestic postage rates are applicable to mail addressed through APOs and FPOs.

The rate increased for both surface and air mail-averaging 13 percent—were first proposed on January 14 and publicly confirmed March 1. The Post Office Department explained at that time that they were needed to help offset a deficit of about $16 million in international mail operations.

Specific information on the new international rates can be obtained from the service window at the post office, Postmaster Pace said.

This is the first general increase in international rates since July, 1961, it was explained.

Increases are:
—Air mail letters to Central America and the Caribbean area from 13 cents a half ounce to 15 cents.

—Air mail to the rest of the Western Hemisphere remains 15 cents a half ounce, except for Canada and Mexico.

—Air mail to Europe and Mediterranean Africa from 15 cents a half ounce to 20 cents.

—Air mail letter rates to the rest of the world remain unchanged at 25 cents a half ounce.

—Aerogrammes and air post cards increase 2 cents each from 11 cents to 13 cents.

—Items sent by air, other than letters and parcels, such as small packages, books, periodicals and other printed matter increased 10 cents per piece to all countries except Canada.

—Most letters going by surface transportation to all nations (excluding Canada and Mexico) increased from 11 cents to 13 cents. Post cards raised from 7 cents to 8 cents.

—Most printed matter, including publications, increased one cent a piece. For second class publications to Canada only, the 1-cent increase will be deferred for six months to become effective Nov. 1, 1967. Also, the present bundling rate which permits postage to be computed on the bulk weight of packages of publications addressed to Canada post offices will remain in effect until Nov. 1, 1968, at which time it will be discontinued.

—Surface parcel post rates to all nations increased 20 cents a parcel, an average of 7 cents.

—Postage rates for surface first class letters and air letters and surface third class type printed matter to Canada and Mexico correspond to U. S. Domestic rates, which are set by the Congress, and are not being changed at this time.

—Postmaster Pace said.

REVISION PLANS ADVANCED

House overwhelmingly passed a resolution proposing a method of state constitutional revision. A 20-member commission assisted by a 20-member citizens advisory committee would recommend to the next Legislature for submission to voters.

Rep. R. H. Corey of Victoria is author of the House resolution.

Senate State Affairs Committee approved a bill to establish a 45-member constitutional revision commission. Under this bill, by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, the commission would be limited mainly to recommendations. It would offer suggestions to the Legislature for eliminating obsolete and repetitive sections.

Chevrolet Impala, roomiest in its class. While extra roominess is perhaps the best reason for buying a Chevrolet wagon, consider, also, these bonuses: Body by Fisher, Chevrolet dependability, flush-and-dry rocker panels and Magic-Mirror finish. Chevelle Malibu, smoother, quieter ride. A Malibu not only gives you a Full Coil suspension ride, but the body mountings are double-cushioned. And Chevelle carries plenty. It opens wide. 54.6 inches, to be exact, 28.5 inches high. Flip the second seat down and you've got 86 cubic feet of cargo space for all your gear. Chevelle was built to take a lot. Chevy II Nova, best equipped for the money. All-vinyl upholstery is standard. Flush-and-dry rocker panels that clean themselves are standard. Separate panels beneath each fender to inhibit rust are standard.

Mono-Plate rear suspension to smooth the ride is standard. Price? Below standard.

Postal Savings Will Cease To Draw Interest

United States Postal Savings Certificates which are on deposit at Post Offices ceased earning interest for depositors April 27, Winters Postmaster Rankin Pace has announced.

Nationwide, the Post Office Department is holding more than $90 million in the now obsolete program which was discontinued by the Congress March 28, 1966.

As of April 27, a year ago, Postal Savings were discontinued, and no deposits were accepted by the Post Office Department. Certificates whose anniversary dates have been reached since last April 26 have earned their final interest payment, Pace said.

On June 30, he said, all remaining funds in the program will be turned over to the Treasury Department to be held in a trust fund account until liquidated. There they will remain available for payment without time limitation whenever proper claims are received.

Pace urged that all Postal Savings depositors close out their accounts and invest their funds in U. S. Savings Bonds or the new Freedom Shares, which on May 1 will pay 4.74 percent interest.

Holdings of Postal Savings certificates can arrange to redeem them simply by applying at the post office where the certificates were issued.

"OPEN MEETINGS"
A bill to outlaw closed-door meetings of government agencies passed the Senate unanimously.

However, an amendment would exempt departments, agencies and political subdivisions not supported by or spending tax funds.

Misdemeanor fines are provided for violations, and "any interested person" may launch court action for mandamus or injunction against closed meetings.

Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena handled the measure in the Senate. It now goes to the House where Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville is sponsor.

"Dateline: Tanzania"

Zanzibar Is Island Paradise Right Out of "Arabian Nights"

(The following is another in a series of articles written by Bill Pumphrey, a Volunteer of the Peace Corps. He is currently stationed in Tanzania, Africa, and expects to leave there sometime in September. He plans a two and a half month tour of Egypt, the Holy Land and Europe, before returning to the United States and home, and will write several articles of those countries. Pumphrey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Pumphrey of Winters.)

BY BILL PUMPHREY

Cloves, cinnamon, sultans, antique chests, ivory, white shining palaces facing emerald waters, explorers—what best symbolizes "Zanzibar"? All these things and more for Zanzibar is truly a tropical island paradise. We were fortunate in getting to spend a weekend there during our recent vacation.

Our plane left Dar es Salaam at 7:30 a. m. for the 45 mile flight to Zanzibar. The calm waters of the Indian Ocean were broken only by coral reefs until an island of palm trees appeared on the horizon. Our plane soon landed on an airstrip bordered by towering palms and were in Zanzibar at last.

During the ride from the airport to our hotel we saw an abundance of flowers, old Arab-styled houses, and green, green everywhere. Grass covered the ground and the palms lifted their green leaves in the sky. Our hotel was located in the main part of town. Soon we had engaged a Muslim boy for our guide and were walking down narrow streets discovering exotic sights of Zanzibar town.

The most beautiful part of every new or historic building was its carved Arab doors. Some of these doors are very old, dating from the time of the Sultans, but new ones are still being made by Arab craftsmen. These doors are very strong and large and their intricate woodwork is accented by massive brass hinges and door-knobs.

The markets of Zanzibar are like something from the "Arabian Nights." Small streets, 6 to 10 feet wide, are lined with shops offering goods from throughout the world. Goldsmiths, silversmiths, woodcarvers and other craftsmen can be seen at work. Silks, ivory, jewels, gold and less expensive wares can be bought in the small, fascinating shops along these streets.

Zanzibar chests are the number one tourist purchase. These chests are usually decorated with large head copper nails and sheets of copper with various designs cut from them. Antique chests are expensive but new chests identical to the old ones sell for $40 to $70, a fraction of the value they would have in America.

These interesting shops could keep you busy for several days but we went on to see the historic sights of the Isle of Cloves. The House of Wonders, the Sultan's palace in the mid-1800s, is a large, white building of Victorian design surrounded by two-story white columns. It looked like a southern plantation home. Since the Sultan's overthrow, it has been used for government offices.

Next to this palace is a Portuguese fort. The fort is not used today but it is in excellent shape considering it is three to four centuries old. In the afternoon we took a taxi on a tour of distant parts of the island. First we saw the house occupied by Dr. David Livingstone before his explorations into the interior of the Dark Continent. The house is still in use although it is more than a century old.

Next we visited the ruins of the Sultan's harem. The building was destroyed by fire in the late nineteenth century but much of its glory is visible in the ruins. Huge columns which once marked the surrounding porch show the great size of the harem. The building had an abundance of baths. Each room appears to have had a bath and some larger rooms had pools. The palace is near the ocean but fresh water was brought by viaduct from springs eight miles away.

The palace of the last sultan is also on the coast. It is of Arab design and in excellent condition as the Sultan lived there as recently as 1964. Today it is called the People's Palace and is used for diplomatic functions.

Next we saw the crops of the island. Coconuts were seen in small mountains everywhere. Cloves is the island's major export and we saw some clove trees. I was surprised to learn that cinnamon comes from the bark of the cinnamon tree. The bark is so fragrant that I almost wanted to eat it. We also saw bananas and other crops common to the mainland. One unusual plant we saw was the touch-me-not. This plant, when touched, quickly curls up and remains so for five minutes. It was fun to run my hand over a row of them and watch them curl up.

The next day before leaving we visited the museums and saw many things which formerly belonged to the Sultans or explorers such as Livingston and Stanley. Our Muslim guide also got us admitted to a Muslim mosque and a Hindu temple.

"deeper sense of satisfaction".

Our old sun-baked friend out on Bluff Creek says he's been reading with interests reports on the proposed "truth in packaging" bill in Congress. Says this might be a pretty good law, designed to protect the consuming public. But he wonders if such a "truth in packaging" bill would affect politicians and bureaucrats to protect the tax-paying public?

Webster says a "Student is a learner; scholar." Pictured by most minds, a student has always—up to now—been just that; someone earnestly trying to learn something; someone with a serious outlook on life and toward the future; someone respectable.

However, this picture may change in the very near future—in fact, it is in the process of change now, if we don't find some other means of identifying certain persons. Future dictionaries may define a Student as "a dirty, ill-clothed, foul mouthed, unkempt person who refuses to conform to decency, who insists on his 'freedom' of action and speech but who refuses to grant the same to another."

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

While attending a luncheon at the White House for General Westmoreland, pickets out front on Pennsylvania Avenue could be observed through the window.

A young man without beard, and cleaner looking than the others, dropped his sign "Get Out of Viet Nam" between his knees and cheered General Westmoreland as he passed in his car. He was just a little overcome but quickly recovered and again raised his sign.

It just might have been he was a hired marcher and "protester." There is now a business organized by three 18 and 19-year-old boys at George Washington University, called the "Proxy Pickets." Now, anyone can have his own picket. If there is something going on which we do not like, these people will do our griping and protesting for us. If the weather is too bad, if we are too busy or too lazy, Proxy Pickets will furnish the protest.

It is reported that for $17 five pickets will march anywhere, protesting anything for an hour. For $154, fifty pickets will spread the gloom. Proxy Pickets have a good location, being handy to the White House, the Capitol and other places where protesting is popular. The overhead should be fairly reasonable. Many of the signs can be used over and over again, which simply say, "I protest." Participants in some demonstrations seemingly need no reason—they just "protest" anything. We are entitled to ask who pays the expenses.

The advertisement of the organization concludes, "Exercise your Constitutional rights does have its principles because they say they will conduct only peaceful protests and that there will be no violence, no burning anything, and they will not picket for the communists."

Many "Protesters" have "Protesters." Those protesting the protesters, however, are usually not very well organized and the cause they represent is usually not as well known.

Thus far there has been no organized protest march against the inflammatory statements of Martin Luther King, Stokely Carmichael or Cassius Clay. Those which have occurred have been on the fringes of other protest demonstrations.

Legal and orderly protests can be made other than by street demonstrations. Protests have been made to the Justice Department to enforce what Laws we have against the desecration of our Flag, the burning of draft cards and the incitement of crowds by inflammatory statements. A Law is on the books against draft card burning, and legislation has been introduced to make the desecration of our Flag a clearer offense and carrying a greater punishment.

The Justice Department replies to written inquiries with the opinion that "Any individual who calls upon his fellow citizens to disobey our Country's Laws, who advocates violence or who seeks to set one race against another does his Nation and himself a grave disservice." But, they say that whether statements made by these men can be suppressed depends on whether they fall outside the protection accorded to freedom of speech by the First Amendment to the Constitution. It is pointed out by an Assistant Attorney General that "Congress shall make no Law abridging freedom of speech." Decisions involving this issue are quoted under the doctrine of freedom of speech and of the press, susceptible of restrictions only when necessary to prevent grave and immediate danger to interests which the Government may lawfully protect.

Justice Holmes stated it this way, "The question in every case is whether the words used are used in such circumstances and are of such a nature as to create a clear and present danger that they will bring about the substantive evils that Congress has a right to prevent. It is a question of proximity and degree."

The department ends its response to a written inquiry that they are appreciative of the seriousness of the matter, and with judicial principles as a guide are reviewing actions by Carmichael and others to determine whether any applicable Federal Law is violated.

HORSES GALLOP AGAIN

In less time than it takes a fast stepping thoroughbred to romp a mile, the House Committee on Counties approved, on a local-option basis, a bill to legalize pari-mutuel horse race betting in Texas.

House sponsors said they are not sure when they will ask for a floor vote.

Here's what the House bill proposes: Racing would be permitted in counties where voters want it, with 85 per cent of the betting pools going to betters, two per cent to counties where tracks are operated and 13 per cent to be split between the state and the track operators. State would, in turn, divide half of its share (on a population basis) among the counties having no tracks. Bookmaking and off-track betting with bookies would be made a felony.

Senate bill has been out of committee since February but, so far, the sponsors haven't brought it to a floor test.

Carlsbad, N. M., Mrs. Ollie Bennett of Abilene, Mrs. Carlos Walker of Wingate, Mrs. Bobbie McCasland of Buena Park, Calif., and Mrs. Pat McCellan of Midland; and six grandchildren.
